THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICIAL ORGAN CENTRAL LABOR UNION, WASHINGTON BRANCH, AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Vol. VIII. No. 1. WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, JUNE 18, 1903. Price, 3 Cents.

THE CENTRAL LABOR UNION

Labor Day Committee Recommend a Morning Parade on That Day.

YALE LAUNDRY MATTER AGAIN

Allied Building Trades Council Report on Unfair Firms—Communication from President Roosevelt—The Milk Wagon Drivers Want Sharon Dairy Product Left Alone—Other Important Business.

The regular meeting of the Central Labor Union was held at Typographical Temple last Monday evening, President Hamerstrom in the chair.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

CREDENTIALS.

Credentials were received from Local Union No. 190, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, certifying G.W. Crocker, vice F. J. Neidomanski.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From the Council of Allied Building Trades, inclosing communication referring to action taken by the Building Trades Section in placing H. W. Merriam and Eugene Tabscott on the unfair list.

From J. L. Bristow, Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General, stating that it had been found impossible to take up certain charges for investigation now before that Department.

From the Council of Allied Building Trades, stating that the Council had placed Eugene Tabscott, contractor for hoisting brick, mortar, etc., on unfair list. Referred to Grievance Committee.

From the Council of Allied Building Trades, stating that H. W. Merriam, contractor for lathing, 1419 P street northwest, had been declared unfair by that body. Referred to Grievance Committee.

From the Council of Allied Building Trades, stating that a committee had been appointed by that body to assist the Central Labor Union in making Labor Day celebration a success.

From Washington Lodge, No. 193, I. A. M., certifying that Fred. Pletcher had been appointed business agent to represent Nos. 174 and 193 in this city.

From Columbia Lodge, No. 174, I. A. M., calling attention to unfair attitude of the Carborundum Company, of Niagara Falls, N. Y. Referred to Allied Label League.

From William Loeb, secretary to President Roosevelt, inclosing copy of Executive Order of June 6, 1903, closing the Navy-Yard and the Government Printing Office during July and August on Saturday at 3 p. m.

From J. N. Breen, inclosing circular in the interest of union-made cigarettes, and asking for indorsement of Tobacco Workers' Label. Referred to Allied Label League.

CALL OF UNIONS.

Engineers, No. 77, stated that where an engineer was caught running an engine without a license it was found difficult to get support from local police force. The secretary was directed to communicate with the Commissioners and superintendent of police relative to the matter.

Federal Labor Union, No. 8193, called attention to their excursion to River View, July 3.

Milk Wagon Drivers called attention to Corbin Thompson still being on the unfair list.

The list of delinquent unions on excursion tickets for 1902 was read, and, on motion, the secretary was directed to send a bill for balance due on account of tickets when next dues are sent out.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Grievance Committee reported that they had secured a contract from R. F. Carroll and settled all differences with him and Bartenders' League.

The committee further reported that they saw no reason why Yale Laundry case should be reopened. In connection with this matter, a statement was read from Mr. Walker, giving a history of the case. A motion being made to submit the statement of Mr. Walker to the Lanis Association of Steam Fitters for the purpose of allowing that organization a chance to refute certain portions of the statement, it was so ordered.

NEW BUSINESS.

On motion of Delegate Ratigan, a committee of five was appointed to interpret the law on the subject of placing a firm on the unfair list and taking a firm from said list.

The Labor Day Committee reported that the committee recommended a parade and an excursion on Labor Day. They further recommended that the matter of a parade be referred to the local unions for action. Recommendation concurred in.

The Labor Day Committee was instructed to prepare a circular letter bearing on the celebration of Labor Day and send it to all local unions.

The Chapin & Sacks matter was then taken up for discussion. A point of no quorum being raised, the meeting adjourned.

Hot Tamales and Chile, at 503 Thirteenth street northwest. Open all night

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

LONG PRIMER SORTS.

A PRACTICAL PRINTER'S IDEAL.

You may rave of the girl with the dainty waist
And a face like the lily pale,
Who daintily munches her daily food
To nourish a body frail;
Who delights to tinkle the ice-cream spoon,
And goes back on the food de bean;
Who languidly smiles when she smiles at all
And whose laugh can't be heard or seen.
She will do very well for a summer girl,
But not for the winter I ween.

The girl for my eye and the girl for my heart
Is the girl with the buxom pose,
Who is jolly and stout from the crown of her head
To the tips of her wootsie toes.
She shall rear me a family healthy and strong
Of ruddy-cheeked girls and boys,
And greet me with big, broad hearty smiles
And laugh with a beautiful noise,
And her animal spirits shall buoy me up
When the demon of care annoys.

Oh, that is the girl who takes my eye,
And the girl I'd like to take,
Who can wash and iron and scrub and mend,
And tend to the children and bake,
And make the coffee to suit my taste,
And fry the flapjacks in glee,
And broil the steak to an angelic turn,
Besides marketing when she is free,
And get up mornings and build the fire.
Ah, that is the girl for me!

***

Arthur F. Bloomer's sketch in the Typographical Journal is one of the best things which has yet come from his versatile and fecund pen. The wonder is how he finds time to do so much hard work. What with chasing commas in the Night Proof Room, contributing a big breezy budget to THE TRADES UNIONIST every week, and furnishing the Washington Post with more or less good stuff, besides the sketches for the Typographical Journal and other publications, he might reasonably be expected to have a careworn look. And yet he is always wideawake and genial; and far from having the lean and hungry look of "them literary fellers" is the picture of good health, and in personal appearance is more like a good liver than like the high thinker which we know him to be.

***

Among the many friends of George Halsey, of the Record Division, there are doubtless few who know him as a poet. Every one is aware that George is one of the brightest members of Columbia Typographical Union, and has sound judgment combined with wit; but that he can ride Pegasus in and out and aroundabout among the iridescent clouds of Fancyland will be startling news to those who have only met him on the sober side. Yet one day, during a heated argument with one of his alleymates—Adam Bugg, in fact—he wrote the following as proof of his assertion that anyone with a teaspoonful of brains can write "that stuff called poetry":

Oh, speak to me darling!
Oh, speaky, spicky, spoky!
Why are those tears
On your cheeky, chicky, choky?

Give me the answer
I seeky, sicky, soky,
Or I will jump into
The creeky, cricky, croky.

***

Another popular member of the Record force—in fact, none other than our genial friend Robert H. Griffith—inspired no doubt by Bloomer's limericks, handed up the following one day just by way of demonstrating that old Missouri is not altogether left behind in the march of modern civilization and culture:

A girl whose cognomen was Taliaferro
Was wooed by a fellow named Aliaferro,
And when they were wed
The newspapers said
They would live in the town of Baliaferro.

***

LOVE'S SOPHISTRY.

He.

Oh, dear one, listen to my plea!
Although the thing you say be true,
That you've, alas, no love for me,
Yet I have love enough for two.

Oh, darling, listen, listen, pray!
I've love for me; I've love for you.
Give my tired heart a holiday
And let me cease to suffer, do.

She.

Believe me, sir, your words are chaff
And idly float as chaff from view;
For I will not accept my half,
And so you haven't love for two.

***

WAILS FROM THE RECORD.

The way of the transpesser is hard.

If you lose your nerve, you're gone.

The Spess is what General Sherman said war is.

The man with the O. K. is entitled to fling a bouquet at himself.

Oh, for a judge to hand down an injunction against Spess railroad mergers.

A gentleman who has as yet failed to master the style says the successful Spesser should be a good guesser.

The Record force has been working on specifications long enough to get some insight into the style, and yet now and then a proof comes back, which indicates that some one hasn't the insight by a blankety blank sight.

I want to be a Spesser
And with the Spessers stand,
A good long take before me,
A style-book close at hand.
My breakfast food I'd pepper
With commas on the sly,
And lunch on copper spaces,
And dine on hyphen pie.

It is rather wearing on the ordinary man to struggle vainly to catch up with his average during the day and then go to bed and dream that he sees pink-tailed commas chasing many-legged hyphens around an unspecified perpetual-motion machine.

ADAM BUGG.

Hot Tamales and Chile at The Ranch, 507 F street n. w. Near Pension Office.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Specification Notes.

THE HAS BEEN.

His is the deepest, sharpest woe,
Who labors well and long;
And then is thrust aside, and so,
Beholds affairs go on, as though
No single thing were wrong.

One of our gentleman compositors found the above lines, in a lady's handwriting, on his frame.

C. C. Conlee was the winner of a mandolin recently.

I am informed that Lee Hartley was reinstated recently.

Mr. Typeman, let us have a larger nick in that new font of type.

When distributing, don't overlook the first column. It is full of good sorts.

J. D. Ligon and Harry F. Wilson have been serving as proofreaders on the extra force.

Harvey Southwick has been at the desk, in the absence of J. W. Carter, giving out copy.

A. J. Arnold has the honor of being the present Worshipful Master of Federal Lodge, F. A. A. M.

W. L. Gutelius has been acting as timekeeper in place of Dan Beach, on leave, who returned Monday.

Miss Nellie Theaker, of the Gazette, is spending her vacation in Chicago. She will be gone two months.

F. W. Street, who has been ill with typhoid fever, visited the office Monday and will soon be at his case.

The Inland Printer recently contained specimens of Wm. O'Brien's skill as an amateur photographer.

W. A. Marschalk writes from Greenup, Ky., that he is under medical treatment for his injury, and hopes to return here July 1.

J. W. Schmaling returned from New Orleans Monday. Joe took an extra 10 days and enjoyed the New Orleans duck dinners immensely.

Frame 38 used to have a reputation as a hoodoo, but our present chairman chased the hoodoo. For further particulars ask Paul Gable.

Charles Payne Smith, who will be remembered by many of the Gazette people, is at Denver, Colo., where he went on account of ill health.

Miss Margaret Evans received a handsome notice in an Ohio paper as having sent flowers to be placed on the tomb of the martyred President McKinley.

Mrs. Mary E. Hoffman, of the press-room, had the misfortune to lose her son, aged about 15, from meningitis last week. Her associates remembered her with flowers.

No one deserves more credit than "Cycle," who represented this division as correspondent for a number of years. His terse paragraphs and pungent utterances were read with interest.

Compositors transferred from the main office last week were; E. H. Andrew, W. L. Bateman, W. T. Sherard, E. E. Wear, Wm. M. Edmunds, J. O'Connell, E. W. Morcock, L. C. Johnson, M. G. House, and D. L. Sansom.

In correction of a statement last week I will say that Mrs. Josephine Simpson intends to sail on the steamer Breslau from Baltimore July 8, and will tour England, Germany, and Switzerland, three of the most beautiful countries of the Old World.

There are two Kings in this office and many queens. E. J. King is the gentleman mentioned in last week's issue as the happy father of a new baby girl. The other King, J. L., was congratulated by some of the ladies, which, of course, caused some embarrassment.

An association of base ballists was formed Sunday for the purpose of playing teams representing other cities during the week of the International Convention. Those interested should consult T. J. Fitzwilliam, Job Room; Wm. C. Beddow, Third Division, and Geo. H. Healey, Fifth Division.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Fifth Division.

A. W. Bowen, our foreman, is off on leave.

E. H. Andrew went to the Spess Friday.

George H. Healey is working in the ring alley.

W. J. Dow is acting foreman, with George Boone as assistant.

J. G. Boss lost a Spanish dictionary in the wash room last Friday.

C. B. Huse was transferred to the Agricultural Branch last Thursday.

James A. Morrow was absent the first of the week, showing his cousins from South Carolina the wonders of Washington.

Baltimore union printers will play ball with the all union card Columbia team on August 13, convention week. The Columbia team is not yet made up, there being about thirty candidates for places.

Slug 23 was busy on a "dead horse" the other day, setting a six-point table in eight. Slugs 26 and 28 came up and sympathized with him, but on returning to their cases found that they were setting ten-point "takes" in eight. Luckily slug 29 escaped this catastrophe, though the unfortunates tried to implicate him, too.

Mr. Corless, of Scranton, Pa., Union No. 112, and foreman of the Scranton Truth, and Charles A. Keller, of the Scranton Times, who were on their way home from the meeting of the Heptasoph convention at Richmond, spent Saturday and Sunday here. They were the guests of Joseph W. Fritz and Charles E. Dietrich, old friends and associates of long standing. They went home very much pleased with the courtesies shown them.

The Fifth and Job Room ball teams have not met up to this date, both of the schedule games having been prevented by rain. It is probable they will meet Saturday of this week.

Following is the percentage:

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Fifth Division	6	0	1.000
Job Room	4	0	1.000
First Division	1	3	.250
Third Division	1	4	.200
Fourth Division	1	3	.200
Second Division	1	3	.250

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Post Pencilings.

Otis is getting trimmed at every turn
By the boycott we put on him so strong,
And prospects are, unless he has money to burn,
He and his rats won't last very long.

Go to the union meeting Sunday and see the winners all in a bunch.

Mr. Burdick, who has been for some weeks operating a machine at the Globe, is now subbing on the Post.

I saw the assertion somewhere that a $100 bill would sustain the weight of forty-seven pounds. I am going to experiment.

For some unknown reason the fault finders have neglected to lay the blame for the epidemic of floods and cyclones on the trades union.

From now until October first we have only to work four extra hours per week before we get the 90 cents per. We get very little 90-cent time—and want less.

Foreman Thompson was passing around a new brand of union-made cigars last week which will soon be placed on the market. Its a good smoker.

Some Baltimore correspondent of the Journal calls Washington a suburb of Baltimore. Well, Washingtonians don't have to go out in their back yards to turn around.

The prevailing opinion downtown seems to be that the unions composed of skilled workers in Chicago who refused to go on a sympathy strike with the hotel help did the right thing.

The "Mergenthaler" printer, with his easy "touch,"
Thinks he's the only one in the game,
But the "Guttenberg" man, while he has no "touch,"
Has a "lift" that gets there just the same.
And these two belong to an organization
That knows no such thing as demoralization.

Dame Rumor seems to be going to make good for once. Architects and others interested have been looking the building over preparatory to starting the new addition. However, they'll have to show me.

My suggestion last week that we have a grand Labor Day parade and attend our picnics, etc., afterward, seems to have met with popular approval outside the printing fraternity. What do you printers think of the idea?

From present indications we won't have to do any persuading to get candidates for delegate downtown next year. I understand that three men have already declared themselves, with prospects of a four-cornered race.

The remark about the union label being "a badge of slavery" is certainly a new one. Did you ever notice that about election time persons addicted to such remarks are forever trying to force their employer's political views onto you?

I received a call down for not mentioning in my list of improvements last week that our water cooler had been moved from the doorway leading into the make-up room to the center of the composing room, so I mention it now to square myself.

Business men know if they will advertise
And tell the people what they have to sell,
To prosperity and prominence they will rise,
So they use the press in which to tell
The public of their wares so nice,
Where to find, and at what price.

We praise those spending money this way,
And think them wondrous wise,
For they are up to date—men of to-day—
And know when and how to advertise.
Thus treat our label, give it a chance,
It will lead the rats a merry dance.

A New Lunch Room.

Chas. A. Moulden, late with Otto Wehner, 941 D street northwest, has taken charge of The Modern Dairy Lunch Room, 409 Tenth street northwest, and will be pleased to see old friends at his new place. The key has been put aside and the room will be found open at all hours.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

The next convention of the United Hatters of North America will be held in Manhattan on the second Monday in May, 1907. The annual salaries of these national officers of the organization have been increased: President, $1,500 from $1,000; vice-president, $1,200 from $250; treasurer, $1,200 from $25.

Eight thousand barbers in Chicago threaten to strike unless paid more and given shorter hours.

Allied Building Trades Council.

The regular meeting of the Council of Allied Building Trades of the Central Labor Union was called to order at the regular hour by Chairman Meitzler.

Roll call disclosed the presence of 27 delegates from 17 unions.

Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved.

CREDENTIALS.

From Brotherhood of Carpenters, No. 884, certifying to R. K. Revell, vice W. F. Zirkle.

From Brotherhood of Carpenters, Local Union 1651, certifying to E. F. Kailor, George D. Herder, and W. A. Davidson.

The delegates were seated.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Washington Lodge of Machinists, certifying to the appointment of Business Agent Fred Pletcher.

From Steam Fitters, Machinists, and Steam Fitters' Helpers, stating the number of cards required for the next quarter.

From Steam Fitters' Helpers, certifying to Fred. Heitmueller, vice A. Bissett.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

From Central Labor Union, that the committee having in charge the celebration of Labor Day had recommended that a parade be had, as well as an excursion. It was unanimously decided that the Council of Allied Building Trades indorse the proposition for a parade and pledge the support of the delegates towards making it a success.

Entertainment Committee reported progress, and asked for a prompt settlement of tickets.

Executive Committee reported in favor of admitting Painters' Union 368. Agreed to.

They also reported that they had considered the communication from the Employers' Association of the Building Trades of the District of Columbia, and had asked for a meeting with the committee.

ROLL CALL OF UNIONS.

Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers called attention to Joseph Mathy Company. Referred to Executive Committee.

Stone Laborers asked assistance of Business Agent on job at 1720 Rhode Island avenue.

Granite Cutters reported no union granite cutters at church, Sixteenth and Madison streets; also that stonemasons were cutting granite on same job. Referred to Business Agent.

Electrical Workers, Steam Fitters, and Slaters reported that they were holding meetings with their employers looking to the signing of new agreements.

Machinists called attention to E. H. Catlin Company and also to Chapin & Sacks Manufacturing Company. Referred to Business Agent.

Paperhangers presented grievance against the Eastern Wall Paper Company. It was stated that the manager had a contract with the Central Labor Union, and the grievance was referred to the central body.

Adjourned.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

A Successful Excursion.

The second annual excursion of the Bartenders' International Union, No. 75, was held at Marshall Hall on Monday last. An interesting race for a fine silk parasol, donated by Kann, Sons & Co., was won by Mabel Stevens. The dressing case, donated by D. J. Kaufman, was won by Guy Bowie. Parker, Bridget & Co. supplied a valuable umbrella, which fell to the possession of R. Dixon. The excitement of the day, however, was centered on the baseball match between the Center Market team and Bartenders' International League, in which both sides showed to advantage. The excellent playing of John O'Dea and "Mott" De Atley, for the Bartenders, tended much to their success, the result being 11 to 6 in their favor.

The success of the excursion was, however, due to the efforts of the popular secretary, Jere McCarthy; Joseph Crowley, manager of the Bartenders' Union Club; the assistant secretary, James H. Howard, and Tom Bresnahan. The vice-president of the Bartenders' Union Club, T. V. Brown, rendered splendid aid, together with the other members of the committee.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Official Organ Central Labor Union and Allied Building Trades, A. F. of L.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

The Trades Unionist Publishing Company

E. W. PATTON.....President
A. J. E. HUBBARD.....Vice-President
T. M. RING.....Secretary

Office: 441-443 G Street Northwest.

TELEPHONE EAST 15 Y.

SUBSCRIPTION

One year (in advance) - - - - $1.00
Six months (in advance) - - - - .50

Entered at the Post-Office, Washington, D. C. as Second-Class Matter.

THE TRADES UNIONIST is heartily and unqualifiedly indorsed by the Central Labor Union and the Allied Building Trades as well as by the various locals connected with the two central bodies.

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL WASHINGTON. 2

Only Eight-Hour Union Office in Town.

THURSDAY, JUNE 18, 1903.

The Trades Unionist.

With this issue we pass into the eighth year of our existence as a labor paper.

There has been many changes for the better in the labor movement since the launching of the first issue of this paper, as it was during a period of depression in all lines of trade that marked the advent of THE TRADES UNIONIST.

In the last five years the trade-union movement has taken great strides, and the betterment of the conditions of the wage earner is one of the results accomplished by it.

With the work carefully mapped out by the various International, National, and central organizations, aided by the great moral force contributed by the American Federation of Labor, through its able and efficient officers, we have seen results attained that in times past could never have been anticipated under methods then in vogue.

The strong sense of conservatism that actuates the trade-union movement to-day is the result of years of education in the movement and has been the means of enlisting to the aid of trades unionism many publicists who in the past differed widely with the tenets of trades unionism.

The local conditions from a trade-union standpoint have improved materially, the Central Labor Union being a power now to be reckoned with in considering all questions of labor. With nearly one hundred unions affiliated with it, the Central Labor Union has shown marked ability and good judgment in controlling the elements that make up its composition. With the work done by the central body, no one not conversant with its affairs can realize what a force it is to-day as a conservator for good in the material progress of the city and an aid to the organizations represented in it. To its officers and standing committees the unions affiliated with it owe in a great measure the results accomplished during the past year and preceding years, for it can be said without fear of contradiction that no city in the country has been as free from so-called labor troubles of great magnitude as the city of Washington.

If this paper has aided in the endeavor to make conditions better for the wage-earner during the period of its existence, it feels that its mission has been filled, and takes this occasion to extend its thanks to its supporters on its roll of subscribers and its advertisers, who at all times we commend to our readers and ask that they be given their hearty support.

THE recent arrest of a walking delegate of the housesmith's union in New York City, on the charge of accepting a bribe, has brought out in strong relief the writers in the daily press who look after the welfare of the workingman. The following, from the "rat" Philadelphia Bulletin, is a sample:

The accusations which have been made by the district attorney of New York against two labor leaders, or "walking delegates," ought not to be cried down or pooh-hooed by the honest friends of labor.

There can be no conduct on the part of a labor leader that is more infamous and detestable than to make private profit for himself out of their difficulties or their strikes, or to betray them for spot cash to their employers.

Such a greedy and mercenary sneak ought to be branded as a renegade and traitor and driven out forever from the companionship of decent and self-respecting workingmen. It is to the interest of every labor organization which is true to itself and its welfare to assist and not to obstruct the attempts to ferret out the scoundrels who thus abuse their confidence and play the part of Benedict Arnolds to the cause of labor.

It appears from the statements made by the unions involved in the matter that a corporation having trouble with the steam fitters, agreed to pay, in settlement of the trouble, for the time lost by the men on account of the strike, and gave a check for the amount, which was divided among the men who were called out. On the information based on the arrest of the walking delegate, the representative of the corporation now claims that the check was paid to the walking delegate for his personal use to aid in settling the difficulty. What gulls the members of unions must be considered by the writers of such stuff as the article quoted above? The walking delegate is the employe of the union, not the employer of it. His job is hard enough as it is without attempting to make him out a crook.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM.

The Typographical Journal for June announced the death of D. W. (misprinted "S. C." in THE TRADES UNIONIST last week) Sloan, at Charlotte, N.C., May 12, of softening of the brain, aged 38 years. "Kid" Sloan worked in the G. P. O. during Defrees's last administration, which ended in 1882, and though a journeymen, was but a boy in years and appearance. I have told the story how Public Printer Defrees, strolling through the composing room, saw the "Kid" at work and stopped and gazed at him in supreme astonishment. Sloan did not know the Public Printer any better than the P. P. knew him, so he resented being stared at in this fashion:

"If you've got anything to do, you'd a d—d sight better be doing it, instead of standing there gaping at me!"

Mr. Defrees must have remembered something he had to do, for he went away without saying anything.

Sloan served part of his apprenticeship in a printing office in the Masonic Home of North Carolina, but, running away from there, he completed his time in an office in Raleigh in which P. W. Wiley, of the G. P. O. Night Proof Room, was interested.

After leaving here, some time in the '80's, he "toured" for several years, and came back here for a short time about ten years ago. He had become a morphine fiend, but was subsequently cured, I understand. He returned to North Carolina, and a year or so ago I heard that he was married. And now he is dead.

* * * *

I received a letter last week from C. B. ("Shorty") Ratcliffe, dated at Waterville, N. Y., which he says is about 22 miles from Utica, working on a weekly paper and a book for the Episcopal Diocese of Central New York. He has been away from Washington about seven years, but expects to be here at the convention. At Syracuse he met George A. Somarindyck, superintendent, and George A. Calvert, make-up on the Post-Standard, who are both also coming to the convention. I had heard that "Shorty" was rambling somewhere out West.

Ratcliffe served his apprenticeship in the G. P. O. and was one of eight who passed an examination held by Ben Swan, Charlie Schell, and Allen Coffin to fill the places made by the Union when it increased the number of apprentices from 12 to 20. Swan died more than twenty years ago, Schell about seven or eight years ago, but Allen Coffin is still living, practicing law at Nantucket, Mass.

"Shorty," who earned his nickname by being between 6 and 7 feet high, worked in various parts of the office at different times for several years. I well remember an incident along back about 1876 which George Hutton, then a Record man, was trying to tell the rest of his roommates in the big room over Livermore's store about a ball. Ratcliffe and his wife were present, and, as Hutton told it, "Shorty" introduced a friend who wanted to dance with Mrs. Ratcliffe. She pleaded fatigue.

"Shorty told her if she didn't dance with him she was no friend of his'n," said Hutton.

"I thought it was the friend who wanted to dance with her," said "Jos" Allison.

"That's what I said, and if she didn't dance with him she was no friend of his'n," said Hutton.

"That is, if she didn't dance with his friend, she was no friend of his friend," said "Hick."

"No, if she didn't dance wirh him she was no friend of his'n," repeated Hutton.

"If Shorty's wife didn't dance with Shorty, then Shorty's wife was no friend of Shorty's friend," I put in.

"Say, you fellers all go to h— Helen Brown's mules," roared Hutton, and sulked off to bed.

* * * *

The last Typographical Journal told of a charter (No. 613!) that had been issued to Bellefontaine (Ohio) printers, namely, Joseph C. Berry, P. W. Carter, J. B. Mohr, Nellie Royer, Jennie Barringer, Will L. Stiarwalt, Harry F. Bower, D. W. Ellis, W. J. Ditzler, Frank Roof, James Ackels, F. J. Gibbard, William Garwood, and H. H. Good. I am acquainted with but two of these, but several others have a good Bellefontaine sound. As first on the list I suspect that Joe Berry is president, and among the list of secretaries of subordinate unions I find the name of (Miss or Mrs.?) Nellie Royer.

I knew Joseph Coffin Berry—now, Joe didn't like the "Coffin-Berry" combination a little and used to swell up about it—as long ago as 1870, and in 1872 we did some "touring" together. When I was in Boston in 1893 he was on the Herald, but the machines superseded him. He roomed at the same place I did—John Douglass's—and I have related in this great moral engine how, when he fell and hurt himself, I refused to go out and get him a half pint of whiskey—that being the only known measure there—but offered to go and get him a quart, in order to avoid making four trips for what I knew he needed to allay his pain during the evening. From there he returned to his old home, Bellefontaine, though I heard that he was for a time in the Soldiers' Home at Sandusky. Joe was always falling and hurting himself, but he was a good fellow for all that. (Have you ever read the thrilling story, "Freckled, But Good"?)

James Ackels is the other name in the list with which I am familiar. I ran across him first about January, 1874, in Atlanta, Ga., and he, "Texas" Smith, and I promenaded together from there to Macon and thence to Savannah, later going to New York by steamer, where we separated, since when I have not seen, but have heard from him, the last time from Sioux City, Iowa. Shortly after leaving Macon we boarded a gondola loaded with cotton bales, getting down between the bales—a dangerous thing, by the way, for a shifting of the bales might have squeezed the life out of us. "Texas" and I would stow ourselves out of sight, but Ackels had about 18 inches more legs than we had, and they, sticking out, speedily betrayed us to the crew. But the conductor was a good-natured Irishman and he carried us through any way. Jim was a nifty hand at poker in those days and with a shoestring to start with he managed to stake the party out of a game he got into in William street, New York, where we had landed practically broke, of course.

* * * *

F.C. Roberts (our own "Funny"), who is now employed as an organizer of the International Association of Machinists, was the subject of a column interview in the Wheeling (W. Va.) Telegraph of June 11, and he talked on International Association of Machinists and a variety of subjects, speaking of the advantages of organization and of shorter hours of labor. He has been in the field before for the A. F. of L. and is a valuable man. The Telegraph flies the union label.

* * * *

Messrs. William Corless and Chester A. Keller, of Scranton, Pa., the former editor of the Labor Herald and foreman of the Republican, and the latter assistant foreman of the Times, spent Saturday and Sunday in the city, on their way home from the national convention of the Heptasophs, held at Richmond. Mr. Corless was a delegate from Scranton to Cincinnati last year. I had the pleasure of showing them the sights of the city last Saturday, and as we had but little time we went on the Monument and looked at them all at once, having previously visited the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, the minute workings of which, though close at hand, we were unable to inspect from the Monument. We subsequently went to the offices of the Post and Star, the latter of which was thoroughly inspected and highly enjoyed by the visitors, the employees of which are always glad to show their magnificent conveniences to members of the craft. I left them with pressing invitations to visit us during the convention and sent my strongest appeal to my old friend Mike Walton, the foreman of the Times, to spend his vacation with us at the same time. And speaking of vacations, they were astonished to learn that our newspaper foremen and others have their salaries continued during vacations, Corless almost collapsing when Richard A. McLean, of the Star, told them he is about to start on a three months' vacation, during which his salary will go on, of course.

I met Mike Walton in Savannah, Ga., in the winter of 1872-73, when we were both youngsters. The late Wash Chew and I had gone to Savannah from Baltimore, and when we landed we were the only "subs" in the town, and we were almost worked to death when along came Mike Walton and Pat O'Connor, and they took part of the burden off our shoulders. After working three straight weeks I had run a proof press on a finger and so became disabled; but I was never able to convince the boys that I did not do it on purpose. Along in March Wash and I jumped to Nashville, leaving Walton and O'Connor behind, and the former, after quite an extensive tour, returned to Scranton and settled down, and has since raised another Mike Walton, who is also a printer. Walton was a candidate for delegate at the recent election, but was defeated, Scranton having a copper-bottomed unwritten law against electing a man as delegate who has ever had the honor, which had been given Mike some years before. After my pressing invitation to him to come, I fully expect to see him here in August.

Mr. Corless, as a delegate to Cincinnati was a firm friend of Washington, and though quite a number of his union were in favor of Newark and threatened to have the union instruct its delegates to that effect, he told them to instruct and be calm—he would vote for Washington any way. Both he and Mr. Keller are very agreeable gentlemen and I enjoyed my afternoon with him.

* * * *

The New England Printing Trades Journal for June states that "Samuel P. West, a well-known printer, had one leg cut off and the other badly crushed at Norwood, Mass., on May 31." Sam West, whom I knew well in Boston, formerly worked in this city and has friends here who will be grieved to hear of his misfortune.

* * * *

William Tipton Talbott had a poem on "The Intelligent Proofreader" in last Sunday's Times that is well up to his mark. By the way, the Times has had some editorials lately on various phases of the labor question that show the writer not only as having a clear idea of conditions, but as being perfectly fair-minded toward those who toil and who organize into unions in order to ameliorate the conditions of workingmen.

* * * *

A printer was heard to comment on the hoggishness and unreasonableness of the bricklayers because it is alleged that they threaten to demand $6 a day, not stopping to think that at $6 a day a bricklayer will earn less in a year than a printer at $4. If it rains, the bricklayer can't work; if it is too cold, he can't work; if the job is not quite ready for him, he can't work; if he is delayed by want of material, he can't work; if other workmen are not up with their work, he can't work. All this time Mr. Comfortable Printer is pulling in his $4 per, whether it rains or snows, and he doesn't have to wait for material or on anybody else. It is easy to remark on the unreasonableness of people who only want to be as comfortably situated as we are, when we can watch their struggles without having any troubles of our own. No bricklayer can average over two-thirds time, year in and year out, and no four-dollar printer could afford to exchange jobs with a six-dollar bricklayer if each were qualified to do the other's work. Don't be a mushy, selfish, wooden-headed clam!

* * * *

Henry S. Sutton ("Maud S.") had a poem in the Post on Tuesday, entitled "Long Live Our Loyal Hearts," in honor of "Flag Day," that was well up to the Suttonian standard, which is not a low one. He does not often break out into poetry, but when he does, he does it in a manly, courageous way that one must admire; and one doesn't have to wonder whether he meant it or not.

* * * *

The National Union for June contained portraits of Senator William Barnum, Joseph Dierken, James E. Bright, and Joseph E. Borland—all exceedingly well executed. These are the gentlemen who represent the District of Columbia in the national body of the National Union.

A. F. BLOOMER.

FOR THE BEST--
READY-TO-WEAR
—FOR—
Man, Woman and Child
AT THE MOST REASONABLE PRICES,
CONSULT—
Parker, Bridget & Co.,
Washington's Leading Outfitters, ...
Pa. Ave. and 9th St. N. W.

Union Made Cigars
OF THE FINEST QUALITY.
Pluck 5¢ | OFFTE'S BOUQUET 10¢
AFTER DINNER 5¢ | DEER HEAD 10¢
Henry T. Offterdinger, Manufacturer
504 Ninth St., N.W.

Independent Oil Company
ONE OF WASHINGTON'S NEW INDUSTRIES
We own an interest in a large Refining Plant which enables us to keep in stock at all times large quantities of Oil and Gasoline and other Products of Petroleum. Lubricating Oils and Greases is our specialty. Give us a call.
Phone East 879-M
R. C. BAUCHMAN
MANAGER

ARLINGTON BREWING CO.
ROSSLYN, VA.
BEER ALE PORTER
The Finest Productions of Skilled Union Labor. Union Label on Every Bottle and Keg of Our Goods.

DULIN & MARTIN CO.
FORMERLY BEVERIDGE'S
1215 F St. N. W. and 1214, 1216 and 1218 G St. N. W.
TEN PER CENT REDUCTION
on all cash purchases to reduce stock, prior to moving into our annex building. This reduction applies to all departments of the store, including cut glass, sterling silver, bric-a-brac, ornaments, lamps and globes, and over a hundred patterns of foreign and domestic china.
We make this reduction now that it may be a saving to those furnishing a summer home or who wish to replenish any household necessities, such as are commendable for the summer season. Profitable savings realized on the already low price at which we are selling the Eddy refrigerator as well as ice cream freezers, water coolers, and a long list of summer requisites. Goods that are already marked down 25 to 33⅓ per cent are also subject to this cash discount.

R. B. BUCKLEY
Merchant Tailoring
POPULAR PRICES!
1343 F ST. N. W.

THE UNION STORE
On Easy Street in Thrifty Town
There lives a grocer of renown;
From dawn of day 'till six at night
His store presents a busy sight.
The reason's plain—the unions know,
His goods are clean, that makes them go—to
H. I. MEADER'S MODEL MODERNIZED MARKET
535-37 EIGHTH ST. SOUTHEAST
TELEPHONE MAIN 908-A

The Savings possible at
S. Kann, Sons & Co.
8th St.—THE BUSY CORNER—Pa. Ave.
are such as may be counted in the pocket. At the same time styles and qualities are unexcelled.

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES
OF
Columbia Typographical Union,
No. 101.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, 423 G ST. N. W.
Office Hours: 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.; 5 to 7 P. M.

OFFICERS.

JOE M. JOHNSON.....President
EDGAR B. MERITT.....Vice-President
WM. M. GARRETT.....Secretary
JOHN R. BERG.....Treasurer
FRANK BATES.....Sergeant-at-Arms
N. C. STOOPS.....Doorkeeper

TRUSTEES—J. E. Bright, chairman; Charles W. Otis, W. L. Gutelius, Joe M. Johnson, and Wm. M. Garrett.

DELEGATES TO CENTRAL LABOR UNION—J. H. Babcock, chairman; J. B. Dickman, H. F. Sauter, Hugh Everett, and T. M. Ring.

DELEGATES TO ALLIED TRADES COUNCIL—E. E. Calhoon, chairman; T. F. Hall, and Joseph W. Fritz.

AUDITORS—C. W. Radley, chairman; H. G. Brown, and J. W. Carter.

COMMITTEES.

BUSINESS—Zach T. Jenkins, chairman; C. B. Yater, M. J. Maher, T. C. Parsons, and R. W. Burnside.

NOMINATIONS—George F. Halsey, chairman; E. F. Geyer, W. N. Brockwell, F. A. Kidd, and H. O'Donnell.

LAWS—Chas. H. Ennis, chairman; Raymond Gery, and Dexter S. Hussey.

FINANCE—John A. Huston, chairman; J. M. McLaughlin, and R. F. Chisholm.

PRINTING—T. A. Bynum, chairman; Milo Shanks, and Ed. J. Hall.

GRIEVANCE—J. A. Onyun, chairman; R. E. Stenner, P. S. Steele, Clint O. Price, and Ray Lancaster.

ENTERTAINMENT—T. L. Jones, chairman; J. R. Purvis, T. J. Fitzwilliam, Miss Nellie Theaker, Philip Nachman, T. F. Harris, and B. E. Harrison.

CONFERENCE—J. L. Holland, chairman; D. J. Hegarty, and F. H. Long.

LIBRARY—Clyde J. Sheriff, chairman; A. E. Ogg, and Harry Essex.

RELIEF—Joseph G. Stelle, chairman; Wm. S. Schinnerer and E. P. Cummins.

EIGHT-HOUR—F. C. Roberts, chairman; F. B. Crown, F. D. Seiffert, Jeff Newlon, and S. H. Willey.

CHAIRMEN.

First Division—R. L. Mabrey.
Second Division—W. N. Goldstein.
Third Division—D. J. Snyder.
Fourth Division—Charles H. Gove.
Fifth Division—Charles E. Dietrich.
Sixth Division—E. M. Nevils.
Job Room—J. K. Davison.
Record Clerks' Division—H. G. Brown.
First Division. Night—Will E. Burchfield.
Night Proof Room—E. H. Thomas.
Specification Room—E. A. Hutchison.
Official Gazette—Jerry Walsh.
Document Proof Room—Jas. R. Armstrong.
Treasury Division—W. Brice Coston.
Interior Division—C. K. Stribling.
State Division—J. B. Dickman.
Navy Department Division—Albert E. Ogg.
War Department Division—Wm. K. Miller.
Agricultural Division—Henry P. Slaughter.
Literary Division—H. V. Bisbee.
Weather Bureau—L. H. Emmons.
Morning Post—H. J. Broderick.
Evening Star—Harry F. Sauter.
Evening Times—T. C. Parsons.
Law Reporter—J. R. Johnson.
Globe Printing Co.—R. A. Wilson.
Judd & Detweiler's—J. B. Stahl.
Wilkens Printing Co.—T. N. Surguy.
Pearson's—T. F. Monahan.
National Publishing Co.—E. C. Owen.
McGill & Wallace's—J. M. Watts.
Byron S. Adams'—R. B. Boucher.
Army and Navy Register—C. H. Draeger.
General Postoffice—Joseph Williams.
Sudwarth's—Thomas Maloney.

AROUND THE PRINTERIES.

Down Town.

Union meeting Sunday.

Emile Himmighoefferer, a G. P. O. employe, is enjoying his leave.

Last Monday, June 13, 1903, at Runnymede, 688 years ago, Magna Charta began to follow the flag.

Dave Pollock returned from Roanoke, Va., last Saturday. He reports the Washington contingent all O. K.

Dr. C. Vaughan, dentist, 310 East Capitol street, begs to announce to his friends that he will be out of the city during July and August. He will be glad to wait on his friends before then. Dr. H. D. Kirkpatrick will be in charge during his absence.

Robert Town, a carpenter employed on the new Trumbull street pumping house, was viciously assaulted last Monday by Walter Wright, a laborer, who struck him with a hammer, and had a narrow escape from death. Mr. Town is a brother of H. C. ("Tommy") Town, a well-known printer of this city.

Carlos Tomlin, who essayed tent life on Knob Hill last week, came back to civilization after two days' trial. A. J. E. Hubbard, who with his wife went tenting at the same time, had a cook stove and more sand. He has been busy trying to take an observation of the sun.—Labor News, Colorado Springs, Colo.

Not the First of Its Kind.

Kansas City Journal.

"It Happened Once Before," was the title of the only editorial in the Ottawa (Kan.) Republic of last week. And the editorial was taken bodily from the seventh chapter of Genesis, wherein is given a description of Mr. Noah's flood.

Third Division.

Off at 3 o'clock on Saturdays during July and August. Cheer up.

Our room was very appropriately decorated Monday in honor of Flag Day.

Will A. Morris was off several days last week with a sprained wrist. He came back Monday.

Marcy M. Mitchell, one of our Spanish War Veterans, was off one day last week on account of sickness.

George A. Seaman, slug 48, was called to Millerton, N. Y., Saturday night, by the illness of his wife.

From the way the list is filling up for annual leave, our room will be pretty well thinned out during the summer.

President Johnson, of Columbia Union, was mingling with our people the other day selecting committeemen for the coming year.

Copy has been very shy with us for the past month, but now that contested elections are running it looks as if there will be "something doing" for a while.

Our "sym" closed last week paying $32.80 to its members—$6.80 interest. It was immediately reorganized and the old officers, Beddow and Allen, president and secretary-treasurer, reelected.

Edgar Alphabet Hazle is with us once more after an absence of one week, nursing a peeled shin. He fell into a sewer hole while carrying a wagon load of joists out to his suburban home.

A few weeks ago a "warning to employees" was hung up around the office about crowding down the stairs. If some of the rushers hereabout don't get wise soon they may find themselves minus their meal ticket this summer.

In the W. H. Collins Council of the National Union that was formed recently, this division was honored by the election of Mr. E. S. Moores, our postmaster as president, and J. H. Heslet, assistant foreman, as one of the trustees. With such hustlers as these to conduct the business the new council should prosper from the start.

In years gone by, when Titus F. Ellis of this division, and Jesse Burkett, the St. Louis outfielder, played ball together on the sand lots of "Kerry Patch" in St. Louis, they were boon companions, but Jesse spoiled it all the other day. He was riding by the office with his team on the way to the ball park, and seeing Titus' head out the window yelled, "Hello, Baldy!" He will never be forgiven.

Our baseball team played the First Division team last Friday and was defeated, 9 to 8. The umpire performed remarkably well for one totally ignorant of the game. The feature of the game was the playing of Si. Phelps in center field accidently catching three long flies out of four that came his way. Clyde Sheriff was very busy his second time up, looking for the bat, he got his base on balls with the first time. If you enjoy comedy it is well worth the price of a car ride to go out and see a game.

W. J. Gould and August Paland exchanged frames one day last week and Poet McPike thus laments the loss of his side partner "Augie":

With sighs of large size and tears mighty wet,
We rise to express our stupendous regret
At the absence of "Augie," who has gone from the fold,
And left in his stead only a big lump of Gould
Which fails to console us, though quite gentle and kind,
Since "Augie's" average we'll miss, that was always behind.

Have you joined the Millinium Club yet? The "dreamer" was around the other day giving the last call for charter members. The best information he could give out as to the object of his club was that members were to pay him $5; he would buy what they wanted, then give them the money back (provided he did dream in the meantime that it would be wrong to give it back.) From present indications it seems that the "dreamer" was christened rather early in life and some of the water leaked through into his think tank.

HOOSIER.

Money's Worth or Money Back
$16.50 and $18.50 Summer Suits at

$13.75
Small lots, but some of the nobbiest suits in the store, in fancies and a sprinkling of good staple blacks and blues. $16.50 and $18.50 is what they are actually worth; selling like hot cakes at $13.75
D. J. KAUFMAN, 1005-7 Pa. Ave.

Dorsch Bros.' Bread
Bears the Union Label
Insist on Dorsch Bros.' Bread because—first, it carries the Badge of Labor; second, there is None Better; and third, it is sold at a workingman's price—Four Cents.
SOLD EVERYWHERE AT
4c THE LOAF 4c

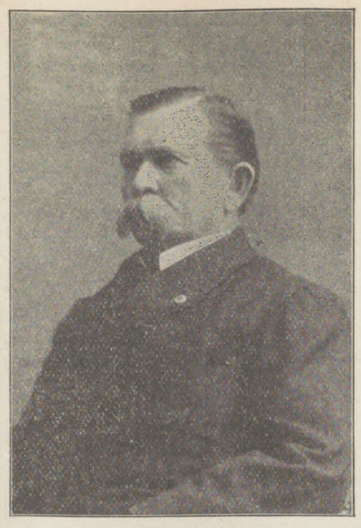
Melville Club Old Rye Whisky
It's Pure and Fine. $1 Full Quart
"Driver's Rye Cordial" cures coughs and colds, composed of old rye whisky and pure rock candy, $1 per bottle. Driver's Favorites, the best 5c. cigar obtainable. Union hand-made cigars a specialty. At the bar try Driver's Famous Cocktails. Melville Club Whisky at the bar, 10c.
Geo. W. Driver
605 PENNA. AVE.

T. E. Gilbert
When a Blue Serge Suit is made by Gilbert, and is the product of Union Labor, and is put on the market at $25, it means value in style, cut, material and wearing qualities.
818 F Street N. W.

When in doubt buy at
HOUSE & HERRMANN,
FURNITURE, CARPETS, DRAPERIES, ETC.
N. E. Corner Seventh and I Streets N. W.

T. E. Gilbert
Good Clothes must be seen, worn, and lived with to be fully appreciated. Try one of our $25 business suits and you will get the best results.
818 F STREET NORTHWEST

CLEANING PANAMAS
And restoring original color without the use of injurious chemicals and giving that flexibility characteristic of them in their native clime is
A SCIENCE
in which we are thorough masters. We will charge you no more than what you will pay for ordinary work.
Empire Hat Company
629 F St. N. W. Send postal or phone E. 524-y



A. & P. BEST ELGIN BUTTER, 27 CENTS.
Finest Grades of Teas and Coffees.
Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, Cor. 7th and E.

Our Motto—Prompt and Polite Attention.
The Modern Dairy Lunch Room
CHAS. A. MOULDEN, Mgr.
409 TENTH STREET N. W.
Open day and night. Unsurpassed Coffee Our Specialty

"Everyone knows how to find fault." No one has yet found fault with the
RELIABLE
The Gas Range for Summer Use
Washington Gas Light Co.
GAS APPLIANCE EXCHANGE

J. GEORGE SMITH
(Formerly a member of the firm of R. P. Andrews & Co.)
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
PAPER AND STATIONERY
My old friends and patrons from J. C. Addison's time to the present will be welcome. I can supply all your needs at lowest prices consistent with quality.
626 E STREET NORTHWEST

President Strobel, of the Toledo baseball club, has released pitcher Carrick as the result of an edict of the Central Labor Union, placing the Toledo club on the unfair list as long as Carrick was carried on the pay roll. The Metal Polishers' Union has a grievance against the pitcher, claiming that he acted as a spy for the National Cash Register Company at the time of the strike in Dayton. Carrick will probably retire from the baseball business.

Healthy, Beautiful Homes in
FAIRMOUNT HEIGHTS
On Columbia Electric R. R. extended, near the northeast corner of the District, at the junction of Columbia, Washington & Annapolis, and Baltimore Electric and Chesapeake Beach R. R.
LOTS $50 TO $150
In Maryland or District. Small monthly or weekly payments.
Two Mineral Springs and Fine View of City.
ONE LOT FREE
To builders, or purchasers of four lots.
Special terms to Labor Organizations, Manufacturers, Military Posts, Fraternal Orders, Churches, and Schools.
5c. CAR FARE
To All Parts of the City.
Call or address W. N. NEWBOLD, Manager
Fairmount Heights Land and Development Co.
Room 7, 602 F St. N. W.

THE RIGGS NATIONAL BANK
Of Washington, D. C.
Capital - - - $1,000,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits, 1,000,000
Exchange on England, Ireland, France and Germany. Letters of credit available in all foreign parts. Bank Collections. Orders for investments. Stocks and Bonds.

T. E. Gilbert
Special sale of
Striped Trouserings to Order for $6.50
818 F STREET NORTHWEST

Societies and Fraternal Orders, Book Your Excursions to
CHESAPEAKE BEACH
Only salt water resort near Washington
Opens May 30
HALEY'S BAND
SOME GOOD DATES LEFT
GENERAL OFFICE:
1420 New York Avenue

Telephone 3662-Y
AMREIN'S
FAMOUS ICE CREAM
HAS NO EQUAL
Stores, 1426 and 1810 7th St. N. W.

SIMMS' GERMAN CORN CURE
Better than all other corn remedies, 15c.
Try Simms' Liver Pills, only 10c.
G. G. C. SIMMS,
New York Ave. and Fourteeth St. N. W.
Telephone 2673 Main.

Are You Thinking of Life Insurance
If So Consult
FRANK K. RAYMOND
General Agent
Union Central Life Insurance Co.
BOND BUILDING
Phone 2069 Main

SAMUEL C. PALMER
Manufacturer of
Soda and Mineral Waters
IN FOUNTS, SYPHONS AND BOTTLES
SODA WATER SYRUPS
OF ALL FLAVORS
Phone West 190
Depot, 1066-8 32d Street N. W.

Woodward & Lothrop,
DEPARTMENT STORE.
TENTH, ELEVENTH, AND F STS. N. W.

WHERE THE HALF-TONES ARE MADE
THE NATIONAL ENGRAVING COMPANY.
INCORPORATED.
14th St. and Pa. Ave. Phone 1679 Main.

ANDREW B. GRAHAM,
Lithographer, Photo-Lithographer.
1230 Penn. Ave., Washington, D. C.
Telephone 1031.

C. F. BROWNE
Watch Mainsprings, 50c
904 F ST. NORTHWEST

Floor Coverings Exclusively
We sell nothing but high-grade floor coverings—goods of a kind and quality that this house has been famed for for two generations and more.
Carpets and Rugs cleaned and stored
Giddings & Steele, 813 Pa. Avenue

J. E. BONINI'S
BUFFET AND CAFE,
727-729 N. Capitol Street.
MAERZEN BEER ON TAP.
A first-class Lunch Counter. Sea food in season. Union throughout.

D. STRAUSS,
Clothier, Hatter and Furnisher
441 Seventh Street N. W.,
Washington, D. C.

HOTEL FRITZ REUTER
Rathskeller and Restaurant
COR. PA. AVE. AND JOHN MARSHALL PLACE
Phone: East 388.

Ebbitt House
Washington, D. C. H. C. BURCH, Mgr.
HEADQUARTERS
International Typographical Convention

Order a Pair of
Striped Trousers For $6.50
They are a Bargain
T. E. GILBERT 818 F STREET N. W.

T. HOLLANDER
Men's Furnishings
Hats and Shoes
COR. N. CAPITOL AND H STS.
Opposite Government Printing Office

HUDSON'S
Variety Store
423 7th ST. N. W.
China, Crockery, Glass, Tin, Wooden, and Granite Ironware, Cutlery and Silverware Bric-a-Brac and Toys.
Special reductions to laboring people and boarding houses.

DO YOU USE TOILET PAPER?
If so, investigate the service furnished by
R. P. Andrews & Co.,
INCORPORATED
627-629 LOUISIANA AVE. N. W.
THE WHOLESALE PAPER HOUSE
IT WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

M. S. JOHNSON
Merchant Tailor
UNION EMPLOYER
1435 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest

THOMAS WALSH
Formerly "Steve" Caldwell's.
BILLIARDS AND POOL,
WHISKIES AND CIGARS.
MELVALE and SHERWOOD } Specialties.
Cool Lager Beer on Draught
BILLIARDS 40c. PER HOUR.
POOL 2½c. PER CUE.
THOMAS WALSH,
407 Tenth Street Northwest.

E. F. PRICE & CO.,
BOOKBINDER.
1108 E Street Northwest.
Ruling and Binding of every description.
Strongest flat opening blank book made
A Specialty of Fine Bank Work.

H. BURKHART'S SON
Furniture, Carpets, Mattresses, Oil-Cloths, Mattings, Rugs.
Moving and Storage a Specialty.
1023 Seventh Street N. W.

G. P. O.
BICYCLE REPAIR CO.
Salesroom, 33 H st. n. w
Wheels stored, cleaned and repaired $1 per mo.
" " and cleaned.....75 " "
" " .....50 " "
BICYCLE REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.
BICYCLE SUNDRIES.
ARTHUR D. BENNETT, Manager.

300 1-lb. Loaves to the Barrel.
Every Laboring Man
—requires pure, wholesome, nourishing food such as is made of—
Cream Blend Flour
It not only makes THE BEST Bread, Rolls, Cake and Pastry, but more of them than other brands—therefore it's the cheapest that money can buy.
Your Grocer will supply you.
B. B. EARNSHAW & BRO., Wholesalers,
1105, 1107, 1109 11th Street S. E.
1000 and 1002 M Street S. E.

A Union House Patronized by Union Printers You Will Meet The Craft Here.
HAIGHT'S
HOTEL AND RESTAURANT
1008-10-12 E Street Northwest
One block from Columbia Theater
Rooms Newly Furnished For Men Only

Ladies and Gentlemen's Dining Rooms
HENRY ALSCHWEE'S RESTAURANT
No. 512 Twelfth Street N. W.
Opposite Columbia Theater

BESSLER'S
HOTEL AND RESTAURANT
922 Pennsylvania Avenue.
GEORGE J. BESSLER, Prop
Phone: Main 2177-Y

EQUITABLE INDUSTRIAL INSURANCE COMPANY,
605 F Street N. W.
Life Insurance for Industrial Classes.
Claims paid to date, $221,187.00.
Wm. A. BENNETT, Gen'l Supt.

B. F. WARNER,
Fine Wines and Liquors.
BLUE LABEL CIGARS.
1219 E Street Northwest.

FOR LUNCH
TRY THE
Pure Dairy Lunch,
935 D St, nw.

American Ice Co.
1437 Penna. Ave. N. W.

Pabst beer is always pure

THE UNION SAVINGS BANK.

BOND BUILDING

Cor. 14th St. and New York Ave. N.W.

Three Per Cent Interest on Savings Accounts.

Branch Deposit Agency at T. A. ROVER'S STORE,

Cor. North Capitol and H Sts.

OPEN EVERY MONDAY AND TUESDAY FROM 4 TO 5 P. M.

Don't Buy a Hat Without the Label. .

And See that It Is Sewed In.

Don't Patronize a Dealer Who Has Loose Labels on Hand and Offers to Put One in Your Hat.

LOOSE LABELS

In Retail Stores

ARE COUNTERFEITS.

The John B. Stetson Co., of Philadelphia, Pa., is a non-union concern.

St. Asaph Commission Rooms,

Old Established and Reliable.

Trains leave Thirteen and one-half street and Pennsylvania avenue—Alexandria, Mt. Vernon, and Washington Railway—daily at 12.45, 1.05, 1.25, 2, 2.30, 3.02, and 3.30. Return 3.39, 4.24, 5.02, 5.58, and at various intervals.

The Hub Furniture Co., The Stores that Save You Money.

OUR MOTTO—The Best Values in Furniture and Carpets at the Lowest Prices.

Cash or Credit.

HUB FURNITURE CO.,

(Formerly Wash B. Williams)

Corner Seventh and D Streets N. W.

Celtic Club Whiskey—

Our Specialty. Never Changes. Once Tried You'll Always Use It. Take no Substitute. Ports and Sherries for Family Use—Quarts, 50 and 75c. All Makes of Beer. Leading Brands of Cigars. Ales and Porters on Draught all the Year Round.

JOHN CONNOR,

New Jersey Ave. and G Streets N. W.

Bartlett's Cure-All Salve

IS A CERTAIN CURE FOR

Ringworm, Tetter, Eczema, Barber's Itch, Red Nose, Chronic Chafes.

IN SHORT

FOR ANY CHRONIC OR VIRULENT SORE. PRICE 25 CENTS.

PREPARED BY W. G. DUCKETT, PA. AVE. AND 22D ST.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

Ask your Druggist. Mailed to any address on receipt of price. Telephone: West 208.

J. WILLIAM LEE,

Undertaker and Livery, . . .

322 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

HECHT & CO.,

515 and 517 Seventh street N. W.

ARE

UNFAIR

TO

Organized Labor.

Retail Clerks, No. 262.

Yale Laundry

DECLARED UNFAIR

BY THE R. A. LANIS ASSOCIATION

The "Yale Steam Laundry" prefers "scabs" to do their steam fitting. Where do you and your friends have your washing done? Help the Union Steam Fitters by refusing your patronage to the Yale Laundry.

R. A. LANIS ASS'N OF STEAM FITTERS

March 10, 1903. L. B. No. 10, N A

HERO-PAINTING.

What matter whether eyes of brown or blue
Or eyes of gray
Lit up his face? What matter if a frown
King-like upon it lay?

What matter if he dressed with seemly care
And with calm grace
Could win a lady's "Thank you," or a name
Back through the past could trace?

Such touches truly lend a softer glow
To portraiture
Of him whose entity the jailor Time
Strives vainly to immure.

Useful accessories are they indeed;
But what he did—
His triumph over self, his war for truth—
Is what should not be hid.

And if he stooped to soothe the wretchedness
Of hearts that bleed,
And pitied deeper than his words could reach,
That matters much indeed.

And much it matters if he proudly dared
To speak his mind
When men in fury strove to damn the truth
With selfish passion blind.

But most it matters if he toiled in vain
Through lonely years,
Heart sick, and yet at last achieving fame
Despite the cold world's sneers.

Oh, you who linger in the night of toil
And long for day,
Take heart—the grandest hero is the man
Of whom the world shall say

That from the roadside of defeat he plucked
The flower success,
Bravely and with a modesty sublime,
Not in blind eagerness.

—WILLIAM TIPTON TALBOTT.

Hot Tamales and Chile at The Ranch, 507 F street n. w. Near Pension Office.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Job Room Notes.

Mr. Donaldson, our venerable pressman and poet, will spend his vacation in Canada.

Mr. Jeff Smith, for many years a citizen of the District, has moved to Hyattsville.

Messrs. Calhoon, Fitzwillam, Broas, and Graham are laying new type for the Job Room on the seventh floor of the new building.

Jno. F. McGinness is enjoying a few days leave this week and getting acquainted with a little stranger that has arrived at his home.

"Uncle" John Goodrich still plays his part well in the "Menagerie," and the other players continue to contribute rubber for the baby's mammoth ball.

The Job Room fans are enjoying the ball season now, but they are not very enthusiastic this year as the Washington club stands at the wrong end of the list.

The sad news of the death of Mr. Willis G. Brown's daughter, age 15 years, was a shock to friends and acquaintances, who sympathize with the parents in their great loss.

The Job Room Relief Association has added a death-benefit feature to its Constitution and By-Laws, but only members of the Relief Association are eligible. The association is in a flourishing condition.

SMART ALEX.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Bindery Notes.

George Williams lost several days last week as a result of getting hold of the hot end of a bee.

Explain this if you can: Why is the Baltimore "push" so quiet and thoughtful on Monday mornings?

Patsy Finnigan has used almost everything to induce his hair to grow, and has at last decided to use "Force."

Gene Paetsch is going to move again. He will soon publish a neatly bound volume entitled, "Boarding Houses I Have Tried."

The live stock on Jim Kearney's farm has greatly increased this spring, and so has his family. Jim believes in keeping busy.

Billy Kelly and Joe Gillen tried to qualify as Germans, so they could participate in the twentieth annual Sangerbund held in Baltimore.

One of the best ball players in the office is Jack Quinlan. He plays some of his best games while at work. Kukart is a strong second, with Jake Wiedman close behind.

It has just been reported that the beautiful roses that Bill Lang has been presenting the ladies within the Bindery were pulled early in the morning while his neighbors slept. The early bird catches the first rose.

Gus Baur has busted the Coffee Coolers Club by appropriating the funds in the treasury. The amount involved is 5 cents, and he is supposed to have been caught in the recent "slump" in post holes, as he is supposed to be a heavy investor.

Charley Benker had only the sum which some people look like when he started on the "run" of the I. O. L. T.'s to Dickey's, Sunday, but on the return the roll he carried made him lopsided. Where did you get it, Charley?

Jack Walsh, of the folding room, was telling a number of his admirers about the new Irish man-of-war named the Bridget, the largest boat in the Irish navy which had arrived. "Shorty" Van Horn, who was listening, inquired where the boat was anchored. Jack informed him at the Navy-Yard. "Shorty" borrowed a quarter, and boarded a Navy Yard car, and when last seen was still looking for the Bridget.

Charley McEnaney took a bottle of family trouble with him on the "run" Sunday, and he was liberal with it. Oscar Nelson also had some of the same kind of fuel, but it was in a Sheboygan water bottle. Charley's "lamps" are not of the best, so he thought it a good idea to use the contents of Nelson's bottle as a chaser. He did—with disastrous results. Charley declares that his tongue felt like that of Dives when he prayed that Lazarus would cause only a drop of water to fall from Heaven.

There was a unique celebration of Flag Day in the Bindery during the lunch hour Monday. Billy Hyde sang "America;" Fred. Seyfferth, the "Boy in Blue;" Bill Reese recited his favorite, "Barbara Fritchie," while Ben Spellbring and John Weidman did their little duet, Ben playing the guitar and John the little instrument with an unpronounceable name. The exercises were brought to a close by a good rendition of the "Star Spangled Banner," in which nearly 150 voices, male and female, joined. The Bindery was tastefully decorated with flags and bunting by Wells Harrell. The committee in charge of the arrangements included Capt. Dennis Toomey and Prof. Edward F. McCarthy.

COWBOY.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Flag Day.

The Nonpariel Quartet, of the Job Room, celebrated Flag Day on last Monday in a very interesting manner. The room was decorated with the Stars and Stripes, and was crowded with ladies and gentlemen from several of the other divisions. All participants in the exercises done well and received the applause of all present.

The following is the program:

Reading, "Old Glory".....James H. Platt
Singing, "The Star-Spangled Banner"
.....Nonpariel Quartet
Violin solo.....Miss Katharine C. Radcliff
Mandolin solo.....Mr. C. W. Burkhardt
Guitar solo.....Mr. Edward L. Howes
Singing, "America".....Nonpareil Quartet

Miss Radcliff was presented with a bouquet.

The Nonpariel Quartet is composed of the following members of the Job Room, and often during lunch hour they render some very fine selections: First tenor, Charles E. Thompkins; second tenor, Charles W. Bridwell; baritone, Allen C. Clough; bass, Ben. A. Lineback.

At the close of the program all who took part were congratulated, and "well done" was said by all who were present.

A Printer Prospector.

The following, taken from an Idaho newspaper, refers to a recent employe in the G. P. O.:

Robert G. Bailey, who represents the interests of the Nonpariel Mining and Developing Company, of Washington, D. C., is here outfitting for a trip into the Thunder Mountain and Marshall Lake districts. Mr. Bailey will spend the entire summer in the hills prospecting, and it is the intention of his company to push ahead with development work during the coming winter with a force of men sufficient to fully demonstrate the value of the company's holdings. The company is an energetic one, and is backed by eastern parties. Mr. Bailey spent a number of years in the mining camps of Montana in the capacity of newspaper publisher, but was more recently employed in the Government service at Washington, D. C. Technically, he is not a mining man, but has had quite a varied career in actual mining operations, and with the assistance of competent men under his direction the affairs of the Nonpareil Mining and Developing Company will soon be in a flourishing condition.

Bricklayers' Executive Committee.

The following is the list of members of the Executive Committee of Bricklayers' Union, No. 1: John G. Wolfe, chairman, 1023 New Jersey avenue; W. Cronin, 1415 Thirty-sixth street northwest; Samuel Haslett, 221 South Lee street, Alexandria, Va.; John Shanahan, 2352 Eighth street northwest; John McCarten, 1237 Maryland avenue northeast.

Delegates-Elect.

Philadelphia, No. 2—B. F. Bodine, G. W. Clifton, Walter Faries, and Ernst Kreft.

Cincinnati, No. 3—Frank Kochman, Sid Fleming, and Eugene Streck.

Albany, N. Y., No. 4—W. H. Mahan and T. J. Sheehy.

Columbus, Ohio, No. 5—C. J. Kroettinger and John A. Moessner.

New York, No. 6—Charles M. Carter, James J. Kenny, Andrew Werth, and G. W. Morris.

Pittsburg, No. 7—John C. Higgins and Wm. F. Schultz.

St. Louis, No. 8—George H. Buerkle, George Deppert, and Samuel E. Randall.

Baltimore, No. 12—George P. Nichols and Charles S. Bastian.

Boston, No. 13—William J. Thomas, P. B. S. Thayer, Charles W. Ussher, and George H. Melvin.

Rochester, N. Y., No. 15—B. C. Backus and G. E. Faulkner.

Chicago, Ill., No. 16—John M. McGowan, Conrad Mueller, J. I. Leigh, and L. A. Hornstein.

New Orleans, No. 17—H. S. Hudspeth and Oscar Schumert.

Galveston, Texas, No. 28—Guy C. Harris.

Peoria, Ill, No. 29—A. H. Anderson.

Norfolk, No. 32—Ed. J. Dowling.

St. Joseph, Mo., No. 40—Carrie Cathcart.

Denver, Colo., No. 49—John Keating and George E. Easterling.

Troy, N. Y., No. 52—John Brown.

Cleveland, Ohio, No. 53—Max Hayes and James Hoban.

Raleigh, N. C., No. 54—T. O. Faucett.

Los Angeles, Cal., No. 74—A. A. Hay and T. D. Fennessey.

Terre Haute, No. 76—Wm. Terrell.

Colorado Springs, Colo., No. 82—H. A. Scholton.

Houston, No. 87—Earl Eaton.

Macon, Ga., No. 93—W. T. Anderson.

Columbia (Washington), No. 101—Harry O'Donnell, Frank S. Lerch, Edgar B. Meritt, and John R. Purvis.

Scranton, Pa., No. 112—Anthony Langan and J. M. Collins.

Charlestown, W. Va., No. 146—L. P. Goodrich.

San Antonio, Texas, No. 172—M. J. Williams.

Dallas, Texas, No. 173—A. C. Sutherland.

Pueblo, Colo., No. 175—Fred Duvall.

Akron, Ohio, No. 182—Montague Beckwith.

Omaha, No. 190—I. J. Copenharve and Herman Matthes.

Seattle, No. 202—H. F. Krelle.

Council Bluffs, Iowa, No. 203—George W. Gorman.

Decatur, Ill., No. 215—F. O. Thompson.

Cripple Creek, Colo., No. 227—*Frank Foster and *E. J. Gribben.

Binghamton, N. Y., No. 232—Frank W. Wood.

Niagara Falls, No. 233—William Mayers.

Victor, Colo., No. 275—Judge Kean.

Champaign-Urbana, Ill., No. 444—T. D. Parker.

Norwich, N. Y., No. 483—L. D. Haight.

Newspaper Writers, No. 3—C. F. Wilson.

*Tie.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Found in Missouri River.

E. B. Corbett, who was employed in this office for a short period last March, was found floating in the Missouri River, at Sioux City, Iowa. From the appearance of the body it was supposed that Corbett was assaulted and thrown in the river while unconscious. It may be that he fell from a bridge. Corbett was not very well known here, as his stay in this city was very limited. On the finding of the body a March working card issued by Columbia Typographical Union, No. 101, was found, and the Secretary of Sioux City Union telegraphed Secretary Garrett, asking if he was a member of this union. He had evidently taken a traveling card out in another union and lost it. The remains were sent to his home in Chicago for interment.

Emrich Beef Co. "Beefing."

C. J. Pfau, business agent for the Clerks Union, was cited to appear in the civil court of the District last Monday to show cause why he should not be restrained from keeping a wagon on the streets without legal permit, calling attention to the unfair attitude of the Emrich Beef Co. The case was dismissed on the ground that the code only applies to permanent structures, the contention being that a wagon does not come under the law as a structure. Mr. Pfau was immediately cited to appear again on the 18th inst., on information of the District Attorney, who took an appeal. The case promises to be a cause celebre, as it is a new question and one of considerable interest to the Emrich Beef Co., who again have called attention to their attitude against organized labor.

Death of Mrs. S. C. Koons.

The friends of Mr. S. C. Koons will be pained to learn of the death of his wife, Mrs. Ethel Lee Koons, which occurred on Friday morning last, the 12th instant. The interment was in Union Cemetery, Alexandria, Va., on Sunday last.

Mrs. Koons parents are residents of Alexandria, which was her home previous to her marriage with Mr. Koons, some two years ago. Her death occurred after a very short illness, and the day previous to her demise it was thought that she would recover. Mr. Koons has the heartfelt sympathy of a large circle of friends and acquaintances in his bereavement

Representative Business Houses.

OF WASHINGTON, D. C.

The following wholesale and retail firms and professional men are friendly to Union Labor and are entitled to its patronage:

BANKS.

THE LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK, Safe Deposit Vaults, $2.50 up

CAPITAL LOAN GUARANTEE COMPANY, 602 F Street Northwest. Every one can borrow money without security.

BAKERS.

HOLMES & SONS, Celebrated Home-Made Pies and Milk Bread. First and E Streets N. W. Phone Main 1564.

BOOTS AND SHOES.

CROCKER'S SHOES, 939 Pennsylvania Ave. N. W.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.

DANIEL LOUGHRAN, 1347 Pennsylvania Ave.

LUCHS & BRO., Wholesalers. Tom Keene 5c. Cigar. Phone E 755.

COACH FINDINGS.

J. B. KENDALL, 485-87 Missouri avenue N. W.

COAL TAR PRODUCTS AND PAPER.

E. B. WARREN & CO., 27th and H Sts. N. W.

CUTLERY AND SPORTING GOODS.

D. N. WALFORD, 477 and 909 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

DRY GOODS.

LANSBURGH & BROTHER, 420 to 426 7th St. N. W

DYER.

E. E. WHEATLEY, 1068 Jefferson Ave. N. W. Phone, West 117-Y.

ENGRAVERS.

THE MAURICE JOYCE ENGRAVING CO. Cuts and Illustrations. 418 11th street N. W

FIRE INSURANCE.

FIREMEN'S INSURANCE COMPANY, Seventh St. and Louisiana Ave. Insure with THE RIGGS FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.

FLORIST.

Z. D. BLACKISTONE, 14th and H Sts. N. W Telephone, 2180.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.

JULIUS LANSBURGH, Interocean Building, 512 Ninth St. N. W.

FURNACES.

WILLIAM MINNIS, 1023 H st. N. E. Residence: 1501 H st. N. E.

GROCERIES.

LITTLE & PAGE, "Good things to eat." 1210 F St. N.W

W. C. ERGOOD, "Good goods at Ergoods." Corner Ninth and H Streets Northwest.

GROCER AND COFFEE ROASTER.

SOMERSET R. WATERS. 1342 Seventh Street Northwest, Corner O.

HARDWARE AND TOOLS.

RUDOLPH, WEST & CO., 1332 New York avenue northwest.

HATTERS AND FURRIERS.

JAMES Y. DAVIS' SONS, 1201 Pennsylvania Ave.

A. H. BURDINE, Union Overalls, Hats, and Gloves. Seventh Street and Virginia avenue southwest.

LIME, SAND, GRAVEL, CEMENT.

NATIONAL MORTAR COMPANY. Office: Room 9, Ralston Bldg., 612 F St. N. W. Office telephone: East 688.

LUMBER AND MILL WORK.

THOMAS R. RILEY, 13th St. and Ohio Ave.

LEE L. HERRELL & BRO., 1311 Eleventh St. S. E. Phone Main 402.

THE WASHINGTON WOOD WORKING CO., 12th and B Streets N. W. Telephone 2119-3.

MACHINISTS AND ENGINEERS,

FORSBERG & MURRAY, Pumps and Elevators. Engines and Boilers, 8th and Water Sts. S. W.

MERCHANT TAILOR.

W. A. SLADEN, 419 East Capitol Street.

PHARMACISTS.

LOUIS F. BRADLEY, Prescription Druggist. 8th and E Sts. S. E

PHOTO-LITHOGRAPHERS.

THE NORRIS PETERS CO., 458 and 460 Pennsylvania avenue N. W

PIANO AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS

E. E. DROOP & SONS, 925 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

PRINTING SUPPLIES.

NATIONAL PRINTER'S SUPPLY CO., Machine-made Rollers. 414 10th St. N. W.

RESTAURANT AND WINE ROOM.

JOHN M. BECKER, Opp. Navy Yard., Cor. 8th and Georgia Ave. S.E

SHOES.

DAVE WOLF. SHOES FOR EVERYBODY. 432 Seventh Street N. W.

SHAVING PARLORS

VINCENT R. CILENTO, 805 North Capitol Street.

TITLES TO REAL ESTATE.

LAWYERS' TITLE & GUARANTY INS. CO. 412 5th St. N. W.

TOBACCO AND NEWS STAND.

WM. H. LIVERMORE 101 H St. N. W

WINES AND LIQUORS.

SAMUEL G. STEWART, Heurich Brewing Co's. beers and popular brands of whiskies. 1141 Seventh st. northwest between L and M.

WILLIAM DIETZ, 1203 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest

DO NOT WANT OUR PATRONAGE.

Following brands of cigars: Cinco, Cremo, George W. Childs, Henry George, Tom Moore, Robert Burns, and General Arthur.

The following firms have declared against the interest of Organized Labor and are not regarded as deserving their patronage:

NAME.	BUSINESS.	LOCATION.
Chevy Chase Railway and circle.	Street railway	Chevy Chase and Circle.
Keenan Bros	Gents' furnishers	Pa. ave. bet. 14th and 15th sts., and 523 Seventh st. n. w.
B. Solomon	Gents' furnisher	708 Seventh street n.w.
Rufus H. Darby	Printer	508 Fourteenth street n.w.
H. L. McQueen	Printer	1108 E street n.w.
N. Sickles (Nat'l Cigar Factory).	Cigar manufacturer	1011 Penna. avenue n.w.
E. Gundershiemer	Baker	516 Second street n.w. and stalls in Center Market.
Peter Grogan	Carpet dealer	817 to 823 Seventh street n.w
John H. Fitzgerald	Horseshoer	443 Prather's alley n.w.
S. S Daish	Coal and wood	Florida ave. and Third st. n.e.
Wilbur F. Nash	Meat dealer	Center and O st. Markets.
C. E. Hencke	Electrician	711 G street n.w.
F. J. Wheelock	Electrician	1215 G street n. e.
James A. Bennett	Tinner	2008 H street n.w.
National Mosaic Company	Mosaics	207 Fourth st. n.w.
M. Minster	Gents' furnisher	1343 F st. n.w.
A. Minster	Gents' furnisher	499 and 501 Penna. ave. n. w.
Cyrus B. Reese	Employing steamfitter	1519 Fourteenth street n. w.
C. A. Schneider & Sons	Union Iron Works	212 Twelfth street n. w.
Minster & Paterson	Gents' furnishers	1109 Pennsylvania ave. n. w
The Famous	Gents' furnishings	437 Seventh street n. w.
Chas. A. Muddiman & Co	Gas fixtures	1204 G and 616 Twelfth st. n. w.
Conrad Becker	Trunks and harness	1328 F st. n. w.
Chapin & Sacks	Dealer in butter	924 Louisana ave. n. w.
Home Ice Company	Ice	Twelfth and V sts. n.w.
Emil Wagner	Restaurant	210 Ninth st. n. w.
W. E. Carney	Cigar manufacturer	921 G st. s. w.
Morgan & Co	Wall papers	Fourteenth and Pa. ave. n. w
L. Rosenberg	Gents' furnishings	911 Eighth st. s. e.
Corbin Thompson	Dairyman	Sharon Dairy, 324 B st. s. w.
S. D. Houck	Dealer in harness	301 Tenth street n. w.
M. Eisemann & Bro	Dry goods	1924-26 Pa. ava. and 806 7th n.w
Elite Steam Laundry	Laundry	1205 G street n.w.
Benjamin Schwartz	Gents' furnisher and tailor	337 Pa. ave. s. e.
Emrich Beef Co	Meat Dealers
John Coleman	Horseshoer	1300 36th street n. w.
Hecht & Co	Dry Goods, etc	517-519 Seventh street n. w.
Charles Rauscher	Caterer	Conn. ave. and L st. n. w.
Academy of Music	Theatre	Ninth and D streets n. w.
J. S. Farrell	Grocer	Second and G streets n. e.
E. H. Snyder & Co	Tailors	1111 Pa. ave n. w
Owen Owen	Tailor	423 Eleventh street n. w.
L. A. Downey	Tailor	433 Eleventh street n. w.
J. M. Stein & Co	Tailors	413 Eleventh street n. w.
J. D. Burns & Co	Tailors	701 Ninth street n. w.
J. F. Gatchel	Tailor	604 Thirteenth street n. w.
G. Warfield Simpson	Tailor	1208 F street n. w.
E. H. Catlin & Co	Machinists	407 13½ street n. w.
Thomas Somerville & Sons	Steam Fitters' Supplies	816 Thirteenth street n. w.

Labor Notes.

Kansas City freight handlers' demand for 25 per cent raise was refused.

The convention of the International Typographical Union will be held in this city.

The strike of the diecutters of the Attlebores has been settled, the employers having agreed to a nine-hour wage.

Over sixteen organizations of wage-workers are represented in the newly formed Union Label League, of Manhattan.

Pittsburg street car men had the wage rate fixed at 22, 23, and 24 cents an hour, according to length of time employed, and the union has been recognized.

The International Union of Team Drivers has been in existence only four years and already has 575 local organizations and a total membership of almost 40,000.

The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, in convention at Denver, has increased its protection fund $100,000 to $300,000.

Honolulu, Hawaii, Federation of Trades has passed a resolution against the proposal to permit Asiatic labor to enter Hawaii to engage in agricultural pursuits only.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICIAL ORGAN CENTRAL LABOR UNION, WASHINGTON BRANCH, AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Vol. VIII. No. 2. WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, JUNE 25, 1903. Price, 3 Cents.

THE CENTRAL LABOR UNION

Fight for Union-Label Bakery Goods to Be Pushed Vigorously.

LABOR DAY PARADE ASSURED

The Chapin & Sacks Matter Up Again. Union-Label Clothing to Be Made an Issue—Three More Union Drug Stores. Trade Rights to Be Defined Before the Elevator Constructors Are Admitted.

The regular meeting of the Central Labor Union was called to order last Monday evening at the regular hour, President Hamerstrom in the chair.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

CREDENTIALS.

From Columbia Typographical Union, No, 101, certifying to J. H. Babcock, J. B. Dickman, Hugh Everett, Theodore Gerber, and C. E. Dietrich.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Delegate Babcock, from Contract Committee, being requested to report on the Chapin & Sacks matter, a motion was made that it be referred back to the Bricklayers' Union. It was finally disposed of by instructing the Contract Committee to endeavor to secure a contract from the Chapin & Sacks Manufacturing Company.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Tannery Workers, No. 57, Milwaukee, Wis., asking aid in their strike on in that city. Placed on file.

From F. H. Harzbecker, secretary of Journeymen Bakers and Confectioners' International Union, calling attention to the fact that the boycott on National Biscuit Company is still in force. To Allied Label Committee.

From Federal Labor Union, No. 10434, calling attention to Sandusky-Portland Cement Company in their unfair treatment of employees. All union men are requested to refuse to work this cement until this firm recedes from its present attitude. Placed on file.

From United Garment Workers of America, asking that the label of that organization be aided, and "sweat" shop goods condemned, by purchasing goods bearing the label. The firms of Friedlander & Bro., M. Goldenberg, and I. Grosner, of this city, are quoted as handling union-made label goods, and all union men are urged to insist on the label in buying clothes.

From Local No. 190, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, stating that they favor a Labor Day parade. Referred to Labor Day Committee.

From R. A. Lanis Association of Steam Fitters, No. 10, stating they also voted in favor of Labor Day parade. To Labor Day Committee.

From Local No. 240, Drug Clerks' Association, stating that G. W. Emerson, First and K streets northwest; C. C. Hornung, Seventh and M streets northwest, and W. G. Gentner, Fourteenth and U streets northwest, had signed contracts with the Association.

From William F. Reed, agent for Austin Young & Co., Chelsea, Mass., bakery products, stating that he will be prepared to put union-label goods in grocery stores in this city. Referred to Label League.

From Local No. 10, National Union of Elevator Constructors, stating that they have received a charter from the American Federation of Labor, and ask admission for delegates from that body. Referred to special committee to define the trade rights.

CALL OF UNIONS.

Delegate Schmidt, from Bakers' Union, No. 118, calling attention to the unfair attitude of National Biscuit Company, and asked that all union men demand the union label on such products.

Engineers, No. 99, presented contracts for indorsemen.. Referred to Contract Committee.

Sheet Metal Workers requested that Milk Wagon Drivers refuse to handle milk cans made by unfair firm of Joseph Mathy.

Pointed Paragraphs

Chicago Times.]

Hope buds eternally but it seldom comes to full bloom.

Where there's a will there's a chance for a lawyer to butt in.

Night Bill Force.

Messrs. Fitzgerald and Onyun are on leave.

The lameness of Acting Foreman Ross is easily detected. Rheumatism the cause.

Because of illness, Delegate-elect Purvis has not reported for duty for some nights.

Mr. Lyon was transferred to day work Saturday night. We notice that his name appears on the First Division "slip."

J. J. O'Hern has been summoned to the bedside of his mother who is very seriously ill. Little hope is entertained for her recovery.

J. Greene, Jr., is spending a part of his vacation at Harpers Ferry. He is in excellent company—Mrs. John Greene.

It is difficult to decide whether the market or the races prospers most from the salaries of that part of the force who are apparently anxious for others to accumulate a fortune on the "get-rich" system.

Saturday night was flavored with a little more than the usual excitement, but no one suffered further than the tongue lash. But 'tis said that much tongue and much judgment seldom are in company.

The literary talent of the office continues to assert itself. Not with some, however, until conditions urge them with immovable firmness to improve the qualities which have been hidden in the napkin, woven by the threads of success in other affairs, and furnish the public the benefit of same. O. C. McCardell, our latest author, has invitingly and cleverly prepared a book entitled "Reform in the Jungle; or the History of Chimmie Panzee MDCIV." While the quantity is limited to sixty pages, its quality is more boundless. It is scintilated with wit and humor, interesting and entertaining.

UCM.

Fifth Division.

An oversight of last week was the failure to mention Lee Hartley's reinstatement about ten days ago.

According to Monday's Post, the historic old mansion at foot of Seventeenth street, known as the Van Ness property, has been purchased by Columbian University, and will soon be torn down to make room for educational buildings. Camera artists should take notice of this if they want a picture of the oldest building in the District.

In his selection of committeemen President Johnson favored three men of this room, namely, C. E. Dietrich, delegate to Central Labor Union; Charles S. Gunn, on Grievance Committee; and T. J. Rowe, chairman Amos Cummings Memorial Committee. They are all regular attendants at union meetings, Mr. Gunn, for one, never having missed a meeting since he came to Washington.

The new quota of leave will be due next week, which, of course, is looked forward to with great anticipation. Some will join the throngs at the watering places, while others, more quietly disposed, with the poet sigh——

Oh, for a life in the country free,
Where the neighing calves go frisking free;
While the milkmaid busily skips about,
Milking the milkweed with many a spout;
The swallows cackle at sunset hour,
As they sip the dew from the whole-wheat flour;
And early to roost the ravens go,
For at noon they must flap their wings and crow.

The G. P. O. baseball league schedule, with the exception of several postponed games, closed last week. The Job Room is yet to play four games two each with the First and Fifth. One game with the Fifth was played Wednesday, too late to get the score in this issue. The Fifth defeated the Bindery last Thursday by the score of 15 to 14. The Binders scored 13 runs the first inning, but only one man crossed the plate after that. W. J. Dow knocked a home run with crowded bases in the last inning, tying the score, and the Fifth won in the extra inning. Challenges accepted. Following is the percentage:

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Fifth Division	7	0	1.000
Job Room	4	1	.800
Third Division	2	4	.333
Fourth Division	1	3	.250
First Division	1	4	.200
Second Division	1	4	.200

RAN.

Delegates-Elect.

1, Indianapolis, Ind.—J. G. Marshall and C. F. Betz.
2, Philadelphia, Pa.—B. F. Bodine, G. W. Clifton, Walter Faries, and Ernst Kreft.
3, Cincinnati, Ohio—Eugene Streck, Frank Kochman, and J. S. Fleming.
4, Albany, N. Y.—W. S. Mahan and T. J. Sheey.
5, Columbus, Ohio—J. A. Moessner and C. J. Kroettinger.
6, New York, N. Y.—C. M. Carter, J. J. Kenny, Andrew Werth, and G. W. Morris.
7, Pittsburg, Pa.—J. C. Higgins and W. F. Schultz.
8, St. Louis, Mo.—Sam Randall, G. W. Buerkle, and George Deppert.
9, Buffalo, N. Y.—Thomas Hickey and C. E. Kinskey.
10, Louisville, Ky.—F. W. Bonte and J. W. Owen.
11, Memphis, Tenn.—W. M. Holmes and W. H. Barnes.
12, Baltimore, Md.—G. P. Nichols and C. S. Bastian.
13, Boston, Mass.—G. H. Melvin, C. W. Ussher, P. B. S. Thayer, and W. J. Thomas.
14. Harrisburg, Pa.—L. B. Wanbaugh.
15, Rochester, N. Y.—G. E. Faulkner and B. C. Backus.
16, Chicago, Ill.—J. M. McGowan, J. I. Leigh, C. A. Mueller, and L. A. Hornstein.
17, New Orleans, La.—H. S. Hudspeth and Oscar Schumert.
18, Detroit, Mich.—J. E. Finn and E. C. Thrift.
19, Elmira, N. Y.—H. C. Miller.
20, Nashville, Tenn.—Robert Hallum and David Hanly.
21, San Francisco, Cal.—W. J. French, L. A. Bickell, and J. J. O'Neill.
23, Milwaukee, Wis.—G. R. Foster and C. J. Shurr.
24, Jackson, Tenn.—Z. E. Weatherly.
27, Mobile, Ala.—J. J. Caine.
28, Galveston, Tex.—G. C. Harris.
29, Peoria, Ill.—A. H. Anderson.
30, St. Paul, Minn.—J. P. F. Sanders and George Zeh.
32, Norfolk, Va.—E. B. Downing.
39, Grand Rapids, Mich.—R. L. Thacker.
40, St. Joseph, Mo.—Carrie E. Cathcart.
41, Augusta, Ga.—J. J. McCarthy.
42, Minneapolis, Minn.—C. M. Snow and J. W. Hays.
43, Charleston, S. C.—G. A. Steck.
44, Rome, Ga.—W. H. Guernsey.
47, New Haven, Conn.—J. J. Reilly.
48, Atlanta, Ga.—W. P. Harding and W. S. Wardlaw.
49, Denver, Colo.—J. W. Keating and G. E. Easterling.
50, Saginaw, Mich.—George Steet.
52, Troy, N. Y.—J. W. Brown.
53, Cleveland, Ohio—J. J. Hoban and M. S. Hayes.
54, Raleigh, N. C.—T. O. Faucett.
55, Syracuse, N. Y.—James McCormick and J. L. Bett.
57, Dayton, Ohio—W. D. Coghill and W. S. Osbon.
58, Portland, Oreg.—J. T. Johnson.
60, Roanoke, Va.—A. J. McCurdy.
61, Cambridge, Mass.—T. A. P. Bordley.
63, Toledo, Ohio—C. S. Brown and C. F. Sniffin.
64, Lafayette, Ind.—E. C. Bryant.
70, Lancaster, Pa.—Christian Flick, jr., and J. D. Rider.
71, Trenton, N. J.—W. P. Wilson.
72, Lansing, Mich.—J. E. Willis.
75, Burlington, Iowa—C. M. Schwinn.
76, Terre Haute, Ind.—W. H. Terrill.
77, Erie, Pa.—Herman Gerecke.
78, Fort Wayne, Ind.—H. D. Keller.
79, Wheeling, W. Va.—J. A. Weitzell.
80, Kansas City, Mo.—G. E. Loulk and R. M. Hartley.
81, Bay City, Mich.—Melvin Hodgins.
82, Colorado Springs, Colo.—H. A. Scholton.
83, New York Hebrew-American—N. Drosher.
86, Reading, Pa.—H. F. De Gour.
87, Houston, Tex.—G. S. Smith and E. V. Aten.
89, Chattanooga, Tenn.—W. H. Martin.
90, Richmond, Va.—Henry Meyer and A. B. Evans.
91, Toronto, Ont.—M. J. O'Grady.
92, Little Rock, Ark.—O. V. Shomo.
93, Macon, Ga.—W. T. Anderson.
95, Helena, Mont.—John Baker.
96, Glens Falls, N. Y.—Livingston Sherrill.
99, Jackson, Mich.—C. C. Worch.
100, Norwich, Conn.—John Trankla.
101, Washington, D. C.—F. S. Lerch, Harry O'Donnell, Edgar B. Meritt, and J. R. Purvis.
102, Ottawa, Ont.—Michael Powell.
103, Newark, N. J.—Edward Ashton and P. H. Baldwin.
104, Birmingham, Ala.—G. H. Atkinson.
107, Rock Island, Ill., etc.—G. E. Morgan and T. F Wheelan.
110, Union Hill, N. J.—R. J. Heuston.
111, Knoxville, Tenn.—D. L. Million.
112, Scranton, Pa.—A. J. Langan and J. M. Collins.
114, Annapolis, Md.—G. R. Tydings.
115, Salt Lake City, Utah—J. E. Bosch.
117, Springfield, Ohio—J. L. Johnson and H. H. Morley.
118, Des Moines, Iowa—J. W. Warfel and E. O. Ashley.
119, Jefferson City. Mo.—J. B. White.
120, Lynn, Mass.—C. H. Reed.
121, Topeka, Kans.—C. O. Hovatter.
123, Wilmington, Del.—A. O. H. Grier.
125, Durham, N. C.—J. T. Christian.
126, Butte, Mont.—Robert Shields.
127, Hartford, Conn.—J. G. Bacon.
129, Hamilton, Ont.—David Hastings.
132, Camden, N. J.—J. H. Waters.
135, Oneonta, N. Y.—W. J. Mason.
136, Duluth, Minn.—C. E. Brown.
137, Johnstown, Pa.—C. W. Shaffer.
138, Austin, Tex.—C. L. Leache.
141, Williamsport, Pa.—S. Gerstenlauer.
143, Danbury, Conn.—C. T. Peach.
146, Charleston, W. Va.—L. P. Goodrich.
148, Wichita, Kans.—A. B. Sykes.
150, Elizabeth, N. J.—H. L. Howard.
153, Meridian, Miss.—S. O. Wilson.
155, Shreveport, La.—A. L. Williams.
159, New London, Conn.—Robert Tarring.
160, Columbia, Mo.—E. E. Mahaffey.
162, Jacksonville, Fla.—Charles Leidy.
163, Superior, Wis.—M. M. Turnbull.
167, Schenectady, N. Y.—Wm. F. McGrath.
168, Muskegon, Mich.—W. H. Stewart.
170, Tacoma, Wash.—C. P. Taylor.
172, San Antonio, Tex.—M. J. Williams.
173, Dallas, Tex.—A. C. Sutherland.
174, Los Angeles, Cal.—A. A. Hay and T. D. Fennessy.
175, Pueblo, Colo.—F. B. Duvall.
176, Montreal, P. Q.—W. H. Edsell and Wm. Gilmour.
177, Springfield, Ill.—T. E. Bland.
180, Sioux City, Iowa—H. C. Colley.
182, Akron, Ohio—M. Beckwith.
183, Savannah, Ga.—A. L. Collins.
187, Wilkes Barre, Pa.—J. C. Kaufer.
188, Waco, Tex.—J. J. Hutchison.
189, Lexington, Ky.—F. C. Leaming.
190, Omaha, Neb.—I. J. Copenharve and Herman Matthes.
191, Winnipeg, Man.—A. M. Gossell.
193, Spokane, Wash.—John Anderson.
195, Paterson, N. J.—Henry Vandeveld.
199, Zanesville, Ohio—E. B. Longhead.
200, Youngstown, Ohio—W. C. Flower.
202, Seattle, Wash.—H. F. Kreele.
203, Council Bluffs, Iowa—G. W. Gorman.
209, Lincoln, Neb.—Fred Ihringer.
213, Rockford, Ill.—F. W. Geng.
215, Decatur, Ill.—F. P. Thompson.
218, Sioux Falls, S. D.—F. T. George.
219, Canton, Ohio—W. H. Horn.
222, Montgomery, Ala.—M. L. Tucker.
224, Brockton, Mass.—J. H. West.
227, Cripple Creek, Colo.—F. R. Foster.
229, Crawfordsville, Ind.—W. T. Ash.
230, Danville, Ill.—O. E. Harper.
232, Binghamton, N. Y.—Frank Wood.
235, Rahway, N. J.—A. L. Chase.
238, Steubenville, Ohio—G. W. Hunt.
239, Carbondale, Pa.—B. F. Parry.
240, Altoona, Pa.—C. Will Koch.
241, Hanover, Pa.—William Anthony.
242, York, Pa.—James Rudisill.
249, Fort Smith, Ark.—E. A. Scogins.
250, Beaver Falls, Pa—C. L. McClain.
251, Muscatine, Iowa—Nathan Hoefflin.
253, Holyoke, Mass.—J. B. Edwards.
255, Anaconda, Mont.—J. L. Chrystal.
262, Uniontown, Pa.—C. S. Bryner.
266, Elkhart, Ind.—William Newman.
269, Peekskill, N. Y.—T. P. Brown.
270, New Castle, Pa.—W. J. Wolford.
272, Chicago Norwegian-Danish—G. A. Martin.
273, Fairmont, W. Va.—M. L. Jones.
275, Victor, Colo.—H. P. Keane.
279, Alexandria, Ind.—G. R. Browning.
283, Oklahoma City, Okl. Ter.—M. Fahey.
285, Ansonia, Conn.—J. G. Baylis.
288, Galesburg, Ill.—C. F. Calson.
290, Hamilton, Ohio—R. L. Kinsey.
291, Aurora, Ill.—George Eames.
298, Massillon, Ohio—G. M. Higginbotham.
299, Tampa, Fla.—H. H. Regener.
300, Port Huron, Mich.—H. J. Beam.
302, Quebec, P. Q.—R. J. Edwards.
307, New Brunswick, N. J.—Chas. H. Morris.
308, Watertown, N. Y.—F. H. Lewis.
314, Meriden, Conn.—H. C. Maydwell.
315, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—A. F. Ostrander.
318, East Liverpool, Ohio.—F. L. Trump.
324, Racine, Wis.—Miss Ursula Rawson.
328, Streator, Ill.—W. R. Bean.
331, Elwood, Ind.—R. M. Yelvington.
332, Muncie, Ind.—B. A. Smith.
338, Charlotte, N. C.—R. L. Harris.
345, Olean, N. Y.—C. H. Rafferty.
346, Burlington, Vt.—F. H. Whitman.
349, Waterloo, Iowa—A. J. Rosgen.
350, Joplin, Mo.—Frank Rector.
354, Edwardsville, Ill.—J. R. Sutter.
355, Whatcom, Wash.—J. L. Starck.
361, Tuskaloosa, Ala.—Carl Summer.
363, Jackson, Miss.—William Swalwell.
369, Taylorville, Ill.—W. P. Overand.
371, Rome, Ga.—J. B. Roser.
372, Clarksburg, W. Va.—W. H. Johnson.
377, Atlantic City, N. J.—J. H. Price.
380, Augusta, Me.—J. A. Brennan.
387, Mount Vernon, N. Y.—J. G. Hoctor.
388, Walla Walla, Wash.—H. L. Caulking.
393, Brockville, Ont.—F. A. Row.
395, Vincennes, Ind.—John Mallett.
397, Greensboro, N. C.—A. J. Williams.
401, Hazleton, Pa.—Otto Person.
405, Santa Fe, N. M.—R. H. Bowler.
409, Lorain, Ohio—L. H. Hawley.
413, Sayre, Pa.—L. E. Keyser.
418, Lebanon, Ohio—C. N. Comley.
419, Anniston, Ala.—J. H. Church.
426, Bristol, Tenn.—J. L. Nave.
435, Bluffton, Ind.—H. E. Bartlemay.
436, Clarksville, Tenn.—Nate Otterbein.
442, Lasalle, Ill. etc.—J. P. Murtaugh.
444, Champaign, Ill. etc.—T. D. Parker.
449, Calgary, Alberta, N. W. T.—M. C. Costello.
450, Columbus, Ind.—W. F. Behrman.
453, Norwich, N. Y.—L. D. Haight.
456, Washington, Pa.—W. G. McWilliams.
466, West Chester, Pa.—A. W. Elliott.
469, Greenfield, Ind.—Ed. McCaddon.
474, Ashtabula, Ohio—R. E. Wright.
486, Gloucester, Mass.—Clara F. Poole.
490, Shawnee, Okla. Ter.—W. K. Barrett.
498, Lead, S. D., etc.—O. F. Grant.
500, Lebanon, Pa.—R. N. Tarkington.
510, Lynchburg, Va.—T. G. Spradlin.
511, Batavia, N. Y.—H. A. Clark.
517, Beloit, Wis.—J. S. Hubbard.
520, Mattoon, Ill.—E. R. Starkwether.
523, Tarrytown, N. Y.—W. W. Sherwood.
525, Benton Harbor, Mich.—Leo Ranger.
528, Eugene, Ore.—H. M. Shaw.
529, Norwalk, Conn.—W. A. Tolles.
530, Eau Claire, Wis.—G. J. Nash.
531, Hudson, N. Y.—J. W. Prentiss.
532, Lewiston, Me.—W. H. Stewart.
533, Huntington, W. Va.—J. L. Boswell.
538, Washington, Ind.—J. T. Harris.
542, Shelbyville, Ind.—W. L. Wingate.
547, Greenfield, Mass.—W. C. Olds.
548, Lancaster, Ohio—F. G. Benadum.
552, Long Branch, N. Y., etc.—J. F. Knox.
554, Hinton, W. Va.—A. F. Craven.
566, Salida, Colo.—C. F. Coleman.
575, Greensburg, Pa.—H. T. Snively.
590, Park City, Utah—Ed. Walker.
591, Pekin, Ill.—W. G. Fair.
595, Athens, Ga.—J. R. Williams.
601, Kankakee, Ill.—A. B. O'Flaherty.

GERMAN-AMERICAN.

3, St. Louis, Mo.—August Graeff.
8, Newark, N. J.—G. J. Wolber.
12, Louisville, Ky.—Humphrey Knecht.
14, Indianapolis, Ind.—Hugo Miller.

MAILERS.

1, Boston, Mass.—E. F. Murphy.
2, Chicago, Ill.—Charles Hedrick.
3, St. Louis, Mo.—J. C. Roehl.
6, New York, N. Y.—D. J. McCullough and W. F. Keating.
7, Kansas City, Mo.—C. F. Masters.
14, Detroit, Mich.—Ed. Pokorny.
15, St. Joseph, Mo.—W. F. Hudnall.
17, Cincinnati, Ohio—Edward Eby.
18, San Francisco, Cal.—F. E. Raubinger.
19, Utica, N. Y.—J. G. Reed.

PHOTO-ENGRAVERS.

3, Boston, Mass.—J. C. Cutler.
28, Newark, N. J.—Walter Jones.
29, Utica, N. Y.—E. H. Barnum.

TYPEFOUNDERS.

3, Chicago, Ill.—James Payne and George Rettig, Jr.
5, St. Louis Mo.—J. P. Murphy.

NEWSPAPER WRITERS.

3, Cripple Creek, Colo.—C. F. Wilson.

IRREGULARLY ELECTED.

MAILERS.

4, Minneapolis, Minn.—A. W. Johnson.
195, Paterson, N. J.—D. O. Stoddard.

Hot Tamales and Chile, at 503 Thirteenth street northwest. Open all night

Specification Notes.

THE HAS BEENS' REJOINDER.

The eyes of youth grown dim with age,
The change of countenance betrays the sage.
Yet masked behind the wrinkles grim
The mirthful mind betrays the self of him
Who once was young, and in self-conscious pride
Looked forth to manhood's conquests wide.
Yet still there lurks within the eyes
Youth's idle folly in but thin disguise.

J. W. Carter returned to his desk this week.

D. J. Marvin is temporarily reading proof.

F. C. Barker, of the proof room, has been away on his vacation.

T. H. Gosorn has been on leave, and returned to duty this week.

The book and job men down town got their half holiday Saturday.

Miss Hattie M. Jewett, recently absent, returned from her vacation this week.

Messrs. McCann and Handiboe are individually the inventors of a compositor's copyholder.

Assistant Foreman Hodes, who has been absent from duty enjoying his vacation, has returned to his desk.

George T. Weaber, who has been ill in a hospital five weeks with typhoid fever, returned to his case Tuesday.

Harvey Southwick received from J. B. Dickman last week for the benefit of John P. Stout, a deceased fellow-compositor, the sum of $23.75.

There is one thing about Bloomer. He draws vivid pictures of a life almost forgotton by the artists typographical of to-day, or we are too high-toned to acknowledge it. Lay on, MacDuff!

Transfers from this division Monday to the First Division of the main office were: Messrs. Davis, Weaver, Drayton, Nesbitt, Divine, George A. Tuttle, McKnight, Fuhrmann, Smith, and Piehoff.

B. W. Butler, who was called away by a telegram stating his sister was dying, returned Tuesday. Mr. Butler lost his mother recently, and his sister did not survive her affliction—rheumatism of the heart.

Those who will be absent on vacation, dating Thursday, are: Messrs. Conner and W. C. Wood, Miss Lizzie Higgins and Miss Anna Wilson, who will go to her home in Chicago for sixty days.

As a class, there is no more courteous set of men than the street railway conductors and motormen of this city. Sunday a child's hat blew off on the line going to Chesapeake Junction, the car was promptly reversed, and the hat recovered.

I have it on the authority of a member of this chapel that previous to the drenching storm Saturday night of last week a cloud formed itself into a perfect likeness of Washington, the hero of all time to come, the cloud a moment later changing to the figure of a lion.

The Spess baseball team will play the Bookbinders Sunday morning at Rupert's. The admission fee will be 10 cents. A car will leave North Capitol street and New York avenue at 8.15 a. m. The game will commence at 9 o'clock. Members of the team will be Messrs. Estabrook, Wolfe, Duffy, Kautenberg, Giles, Maloney, Koehl, J. L. King, McKean, Buzhardt, and Berringer. A change or two may occur in the list.

A. J. Benton, recently transferred to this division, had the misfortune to lose his wife last week. She was cremated Sunday, a quartet from Waugh Chapel rendering vocal selections during the ceremonies. Flowers were sent by this chapel as a tribute of sympathy to Mr. Benton. One of his children, a boy, was run over Saturday, and his little daughter was taken ill with typhoid fever, obliging him to place her in a hospital.

Hot Tamales and Chile at The Ranch, 507 F street n. w. Near Pension Office.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Bindery Notes.

J. A. B. Espey has returned from his vacation, and from appearances has enjoyed it.

Will Conger has the largest and finest field of cultivated blackberries around the District of Columbia.

Ben Spellbring, better known as "King of the West," pays a visit every Sunday to the Zoo, where he is greatly interested in the monkey house.

After the heavy rains the other night there were several rivers formed in Bloomingdale. Mr. Willis, of the press room, went down the street on a raft, and Jim Feeney, of the Bindery, was appointed light-house keeper by the citizens. Jim will keep himself in a prominent position.

The case-making division of the Bindery was greatly shocked at the sudden death of one of their number, William H. McLanahan, last Friday morning. Mr. McLanahan was at his work as usual, when suddenly he felt a sharp pain around the heart, and in a few moments was dead. He was born in Baltimore forty-seven years ago and worked in the Government bindery for a number of years. He was a light-hearted, good-natured fellow, and I can not recall a single instance where he was not entirely affable and pleasant to everyone. His agreeable manners made him one of the most popular members of the Bookbinders' Society. His loss will be mourned by a wife and four children. Interment, June 22, at Greenmount, Baltimore, Md. It is not within our power to utter words that can bring comfort to a stricken wife at a time like this. We can say to her that while he has passed from sight he still lives in memory.

There is no death!
The stars go down
To rise upon some fairer shore,
And bright in Heaven's jeweled crown
To shine for evermore.

The pallbearers from International Brotherhood of Bookbinders, Local No. 4, were W. B. Hyde, H. F. Ashion, James F. McDonald, James Kearney, and John Gantley.

COWBOY.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Retail Clerks' Union, No. 262.

At the last meeting of Retail Clerks' Union, No. 262, the following officers were elected: B. T. Davis, president; Mrs. J. Thompson, first vice-president; J. Jacoby, second vice-president; J. Moser, recording secretary; J. Flynn, financial secretary; J. W. Ridenour, treasurer; W. Harvey Gelback, guide; H. Sondheim, guardian; E. A. Bachrach, C. A. Pfau, J. T. Mimms, H. Sanger, and Sol Breslau, delegates to the Central Labor Union.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Suburban Homes.

We would like to remind our readers that in securing a suitable site for a suburban home, not to overlook the property controlled by the Fairmount Heights Improvement Company. Our old friend, Major W. N. Newbold, well known as a consistent worker for the good of all mankind, is the manager of this splendid property. See him before going elsewhere.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Official Organ Central Labor Union and Allied Building Trades, A. F. of L.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

The Trades Unionist Publishing Company

E. W. PATTON.....President
A. J. E. HUBBARD.....Vice-President
T. M. RING.....Secretary

Office: 441 443 G Street Northwest.

TELEPHONE EAST 15 Y.

SUBSCRIPTION

One year (in advance) - - - - $1.00
Six months (in advance) - - - - .50

Entered at the Post-Office, Washington, D. C. as Second-Class Matter.

THE TRADES UNIONIST is heartily and unqualifiedly indorsed by the Central Labor Union and the Allied Building Trades as well as by the various locals connected with the two central bodies.

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL WASHINGTON. 2

Only Eight-Hour Union Office in Town.

THURSDAY, JUNE 25, 1903.

"The Evening Glimmer."

Nowhere in this broad land is there a more proud-pursed, money serving, abject creature than the Evening Glimmer, which makes daily observations from its tall tower on Pennsylvania avenue. One will search its record in vain to find where it has yet taken the initiative in advocacy of a just termination of matters in dispute as between employer and employe. Nothing, apparently, affords the Glimmer greater pleasure than to chronicle the fact that a body of operatives have been starved into submission and made to bow to the merciless will of the operators, and whenever a concession is gained promising a betterment of conditions for the industrial masses the announcement is made in under tones, indicating only a surly acquiescence. It will lose a great opportunity for real service if on Labor Day the management, through its artist, fails to represent the Glimmer in its true light, fawning and prostrate and bellying its way nearer and nearer to the point of full and precious favor in the sight of those who rule as by Divine right while by the decrees of fate all others are as truly the subjects. From those dark hours at Homestead to this the Glimmer has persistently stabbed labor in the back and its professions of friendship or good will should no longer find lodgment in honest hearts. The Glimmer seeks the tithe which is grudgingly doled out to the sons of toil, but contemptuously spurns the hand that earns it.

"The Walking Delegate."

The comments of the daily press on matters relating to organized labor are frequently and exasperatingly "diplomatic" that we quote with especial pleasure the following extract from an editorial in the Washington Times on "The Walking Delegate." After calling attention to the action of the Building Trades' Employers' Association in insisting upon the elimination of the so-called walking delegate, the Times, among other pertinent comments, says:

So long as the walking delegate is fair and honest in his dealings no objection to him will stand. In the end it must be solely a question of his personal character, just as it must be a question of the character of the agent or representative of the employer and his association. In the integrity and efficiency of its business agent the trades union has the largest stake, for the danger of betrayal or defeat of its cause through his incapacity is always to be considered. As a matter of self-protection the employees need for this delicate duty the best equipped men in their organizations. Nothing is more unlikely than that they will willfully select as walking delegates men who they have reason to think will hurt their interests. The walking delegate is a legitimate outgrowth of trades unionism. For the employers to deny his right to serve after proper appointment to office by his associates is to deny the fundamental right of labor to organize.

Perhaps it is unnecessary to explain to our esteemed contemporary that, through the unfairness of newspaper writers in holding the "walking delegate" up to ridicule and making the whole class suffer for the faults of the unworthy few, the term "business agent" is now generally in use. It is true that in the past "the walking delegate" may have been a legitimate object of the funnyman's satire and the great editor's wrath, but the tendency among all labor organizations has been toward improvement in this connection, until to-day the "business agents" of organized labor rank in character with those of the employers themselves and are doubtless sometimes superior to the heads of business establishments with which they have to deal. The Times is therefore to be congratulated on its timely utterance, and in this instance at least deserves the thanks of organized labor everywhere.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM.

John L. Kennedy wrote me a brief note from Boston the other day, inclosing messages from a couple of friends of mine whom he met there. One was William A. Robertson, foreman of Frank K. Foster's labor paper, the name of which I have forgotten, but which used to be the Labor Leader. He and I roomed at the same house when I was there and I have had letters from him occasionally since. The other was Vivian Allen, whom I knew in Savannah thirty years ago. To bring himself to mind he mentions John Ackerly, Tom Fell, Henry Middleton, and others, but I do not need any reminders. He is as fresh in my memory as Shad Walch, Dave Updegraff, Mike Devine, John Blatz, Jeff Taylor, Colonel Hazzard, Fred and Theodore Singer, Bill Pittman, "Old Man" Manucy and his son Sylvester, Sabate, Pappy, John Parr, John A. and John F. Britton, "Cooper" Nelson, Silvy, Wiley, Johnson, Ben Kappell, Ben and John Marshall, Dave Clohessy, and a host of others, some of whom I was sorry to learn afterwards "went to the bad" and grew tails for themselves. These messages verify the report as to the accident to Sam West, saying that he is in the hospital with both legs off, but doing well. He was hurt in a railroad accident at Norwood, where the immense printing plant of J. S. Cushing & Co. is located. Allen is working on the Boston Herald.

Manucy, Sabate, and Pappy, mentioned above, were Floridians and descendants of Minorcans who settled a part of Florida in the old Spanish days. Pappy had at some previous time sent a dollar in answer to an "ad" promising to tell how to get rich for that amount, and when the answer came it was the ancient but always excellent advice, "Mind your own business." So whenever he got gay and inclined to butt in somebody was sure to ask: "Pappy, what did you pay a dollar for?" which always settled him.

* * * *

"Reform in the Jungle; or, The History of Chimmie Panzee MDCIV. Translated from the Simian. By Oliver C. McCardell," is the title of a very entertaining little book by our own O. C. McCardell, of which I have a copy before me—an autograph copy from the author. It is published by the Neale Publishing Company, of this city, and in typography and binding is well executed. The chapter headings give a good idea of the adventures of the hero: "The Kidnaping of Chimmie;" "Chimmie's Adventures in America;" "Chimmie's Escape from Captivity;" "The Return to the Jungle;" "Work of Reform Begun;" "Effectiveness of Army's New Weapon;" "City of Jungleton Built;" "Pleasure Park Established;" "Unique Bridge at Pleasure Park;" "The Shoot the Chute;" "Chimmie Panzee Wedded;" "Grand Exhibition of Games." It is a book that will be enjoyed by boys and girls everywhere.

* * * *

Franklin Rogers, who has been sick for a long time, passed away last Thursday, at Brightwood. He was a son of Hon. William F. Rogers, who represented the Buffalo district in Congress some twenty years ago, who was also a printer and was much spoken of for Public Printer in Cleveland's first administration. The deceased had been in the Government Printing Office about twenty years ago, I think, for many years as a compositor, but latterly as a clerk. He was a whole-souled, good-natured gentleman, quiet and unobtrusive, whose death is sincerely mourned. He was about 60 years old. His funeral was on Monday.

* * * *

William Tipton Talbott had a poem in last Sunday's Post—"The Talker"—that describes so well people whom we all know that one almost feels as though Talbott had stolen his ideas in describing him.

* * * *

The Evening Star is running a very interesting department of fraternal-society news in its mammoth Saturday issues—interesting to printers, so many of whom are "j'iners.,' The Masonic, Pythian, and Odd Fellow fields were well covered, with quite a notice of the report of the Grand Chapter of the District, of which Grand Secretary A. W. Johnston, a former printer, is the author.

* * * *

A most interesting letter from William A. Wilkinson, now of Austin, Tex., came to me one day last week, and as he has some friends here, I will give an epitome of it, as well as some other things. Though he made his initial appearance on the metropolitan stage at Indianapolis in the '60's, Texas has been the scene of his labors for about twenty-five years. Something over twenty years ago he was corresponding secretary of the I. T. U. (an office long ago abolished), with headquarters at Galveston. About a year ago he left Texas and went to St. Louis, where he was night editor at Kellogg's, an establishment the equivalent of which is called "The Sawmill" in New York, where they boil down, set up, and plate the Associated Press dispatches for the country papers. Last December he resigned and returned to Texas, where he was married, in which move he was so fortunate that he has already a 17-year-old daughter, and he is now settled for life at Austin. He admits that the town is slow and that Old Conrad, "doomed the long aisles of Sidney Cove to see," had a Delhi durbar weekly, and Captain Dreyfuss on Devil's Island had a monthly convention of the I. T. U., compared with life in Austin, but he is happy in having substituted a brindle cow for the brewery and taking his corn from the ear instead of the bottle.

Speaking of a trip which he and I made together from Cleveland to New York in 1870, he says: "We were in our salad days then, and with me the present must ever be vassal to the past. Like the young bears, we had all our troubles in front of us then; now they are all behind us," which certainly shows a contented condition of mind at the present time. He winds up thus:

How is F. N. Whitehead? Doubtless he is up to his ears in business, and doubtless he will make the next meeting a howling success. I frequently think of the lavish expenditure of impoverished wit by himself and Bert Granger in that town by the Mexic Sea on my hermit proclivities on certain occasions. They would have a wider field now. Curfew has been ringing for me at 5 p. m. since March 25. They are both forgiven; and tell Whitey you will nominate him for St. Louis next year, if it is not already arranged. * * * Very few of your old acquaintances who originated elsewhere have come to Texas to degenerate: you probably had a faculty of selecting friends with more sense. Billy Moorhead was in San Antonio (where Whitey got his first chile con carne) for some time, but is now lariated somewhere on the rim of the Staked Plains, where I presume he is enjoying the pastime of roping steers on his brother's ranch. Regards, etc.

* * * *

It is very generally reported that Charles B. Buchanan ("Buck"—of course he is called "Buck;" there never was a man named Buchanan who was not), of the Night Proof Room, who is now on his leave, will be married before he returns. (It is to be hoped that the substitution of this language for the usual "will bring back a fair bride" will be tolerated for its novelty.)

* * * *

On next Sunday at the meeting of the Ex-Delegates' Association the programme for the entertainment during convention week will have to be definitely and finally determined upon, and it is hoped that every member will be present. That means you, Mr. Ex, who have never attended a meeting, and you, Mr. Ex, who have attended but few, as well as you, Mr. Ex, who have been present at all of them—of course, if you please. There is no way of dragging members there.

* * * *

With both Senator Platt, of New York, and Senator Depew behind him, as well as some members of the lower House, Waudby is not so weak politically as some of his opponents think him. But, best of all for a position pertaining peculiarly to labor, he has the great army of organized labor pressing his claims and theirs.

* * * *

The portion of the entertainment of the I. T. U. left to the Ex-Delegates' Association by the Convention Committee reminds me of the two negroes, one of whom challenged the other to name with him the best things to eat.

"You say fust, Mose," said Pomp.

"Roas' possum an' sweet 'taters, fried chicken, good ol' sweet ham, hog face an' greens," said Mose.

Pomp was silent.

"Why don't you say good things to eat, Pomp? It's yore turn," said Mose.

"Yo' fool niggah," said Pomp, "yo' done say all the good things an' don't leave me nuffin."

* * * *

The Exes can promise the convention that if they will be good boys and girls they will be taken to the cemetery to see papa's grave. True, the cemetery is Mount Vernon and the grave is that of the Father of his Country, but——

However all this may be changed yet.

* * * *

I hear that George D. Colquitt, lately on Spess, is undergoing a new treatment for incipient tuberculosis, which he has developed recently, which I hope may be eminently successful.

* * * *

Henry Askew, here some years ago, is reading proof on a New Orleans newspaper. He was recently on the Times, but is now on an evening paper, as a kindly message from him to me indicates.

* * * *

The International Printer, of Philadelphia, for June, is a splendid number and its specimens of three-color cut work amount to high art. This is the Typothetæ number, in honor of the annual international convention of that body, and in its literary matter as well as in its art work it is a feast. I suppose it is the proper thing to "cuss" the Typothetæ, but there is a streak of orneryness in me that induces me to concede to others the rights that I demand for myself, among which is the right to organize for the advancement of their own interests. We know what printers' wages were before they organized, what they are where they are not organized, and what the wages and conditions are among those outside of the organization who might be in, and so, realizing the advantages of organization, we must concede the right to organize to others. There is no reason why there should be any antagonism between the American Typothetæ and the International Typographical Union, and as a rule there is none. Low wages are as disadvantageous to employer as to employed, the customer only reaping the advantage in low-priced work.

* * * *

Gen. George H. Harries is one of those whom success and the achievement of high position and standing have not spoiled, and in whom interest in his former fellow-workmen has not lessened. Through his influence a son of the late Wilbur G. Brower recently obtained employment on the street railway of the Washington Railway and Electric Company, and this is but one of the many acts of kindness he has done for those with whom he was formerly associated. The General's career is one in which every union printer rejoices.

* * * *

My mean-minded friend is still worrying over six-dollar bricklayers, but he does not mean it. He is not as mean as he means to be.

A. F. BLOOMER.

THE OLD OFFICE TOWEL.

Of course you have heard of that towel of yore,
Which was hung near the stove to dry when 'twas wet,
With color dark brown, like the dirt on the floor—
A real printer mixture of oil, ink, and sweat.

And of course you have heard how just like a bone
This towel grew stiff after once it was dry,
That it stood by itself, unaided, alone
By the old hand-press, near the big pot of lye.

These new-fangled towels of Ching-Chang or Lee
Are good enough towels; but, ah, as for me
I'll take the old towel which served as a mop
And would break when dry if by chance it should drop.

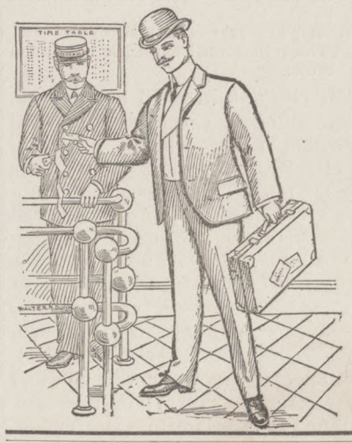
—CYCLE.

She's "A Bird."

The wife of a Methodist preacher has been married three times. Her maiden name was Partridge, her first husband was named Robin, the second Sparrow, and the third Quayles. There are two young robins, one sparrow, and two quayles, and the family lives on Jay street. The lady is evidently "a bird."—Exchange.

FOR THE BEST--
READY-TO-WEAR
—FOR—
Man, Woman and Child
AT THE MOST REASONABLE PRICES,
CONSULT—
Parker, Bridget & Co.,
Washington's Leading Outfitters, ...
Pa. Ave. and 9th St. N. W.

Union Made Cigars
OF THE FINEST QUALITY.
Pluck 5¢ | OFFTE'S BOUQUET 10¢
AFTER DINNER 5¢ | DEER HEAD 10¢
Henry T. Offterdinger, Manufacturer
504 Ninth St., N.W.



Independent Oil Company
ONE OF WASHINGTON'S NEW INDUSTRIES
We own an interest in a large Refining Plant which enables us to keep in stock at all times large quantities of Oil and Gasoline and other Products of Petroleum. Lubricating Oils and Greases is our specialty. Give us a call.
Phone East 879-M
R. C. BAUGHMAN
MANAGER

ARLINGTON BREWING CO.
ROSSLYN, VA.
BEER ALE PORTER
The Finest Productions of Skilled Union Labor. Union Label on Every Bottle and Keg of Our Goods.

DULIN & MARTIN CO.
FORMERLY BEVERIDGE'S
1215 F St. N. W. and 1214, 1216 and 1218 G St. N. W.
TEN PER CENT REDUCTION
on all cash purchases to reduce stock, prior to moving into our annex building. This reduction applies to all departments of the store, including cut glass, sterling silver, bric-a-brac, ornaments, lamps and globes, and over a hundred patterns of foreign and domestic china.
We make this reduction now that it may be a saving to those furnishing a summer home or who wish to replenish any household necessities, such as are commendable for the summer season. Profitable savings realized on the already low price at which we are selling the Eddy refrigerator as well as ice cream freezers, water coolers, and a long list of summer requisites. Goods that are already marked down 25 to 33⅓ per cent are also subject to this cash discount.

R. B. BUCKLEY
Merchant Tailoring
POPULAR PRICES!
1343 F ST. N. W.

THE UNION STORE
On Easy Street in Thrifty Town
There lives a grocer of renown;
From dawn of day 'till six at night
His store presents a busy sight.
The reason's plain—the unions know,
His goods are clean, that makes them go—to
H. I. M EADER'S ODEL MODERNIZED MARKET
535-37 EIGHTH ST. SOUTHEAST
TELEPHONE MAIN 908-A

In preparing for your vacation do not overlook the fact that one of our Blue Serge, Homespun, or Scotch Cheviot Sack Suits is indispensable if appearance and comfort is to be considered. We are showing a very large line of fabrics selected especially for outing purposes. Remember, we rank second to none in tailoring. Our garments have individuality and expression that stamps them as being "High-Grade." Get acquainted with our way of making clothes by ordering one of our Celebrated $25 Suits, made by Union Tailors.
Special sale of Trousers, $6.50 to Order.
T. E. Gilbert
IMPORTER AND TAILOR
818 F St. Northwest

Steam Cleaning and Dye Works
(Formerly New York Dye House)
I do the most perfect Cleaning and Dyeing at most reasonable rates. Goods called for and returned. C. W. MARGRAF, Proprietor
Telephone 3483 Main
907 9th St. N. W., and 631 D St. N. W.

PRINTERS and Union Members.—For First-Class Meals, Eat at
VICTOR CAFE, 3 H St. N. W.
ALBION, Eleventh and E Sts. N. W.
ERIN, Cor. N. J. Ave. and D St. N. W.
U. S. LUNCH ROOM, 320 12th St. N. W.
ALBERT T. SCANLAND, Prop.
Open Day and Night. Best Service.

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES
OF
Columbia Typographical Union,
No. 101.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, 423 G ST. N. W.
Office Hours: 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.; 5 to 7 P. M.

OFFICERS.

JOE M. JOHNSON.....President
DAN C. VAUGHAN.....Vice-President
WM. M. GARRETT.....Secretary
JOHN R. BERG.....Treasurer
FRANK BATES.....Sergeant-at-Arms
N. C. STOOPS.....Doorkeeper

TRUSTEES—J. E. Bright, chairman; W. L. Gutelius, Chas. C. Thompson, Joe M. Johnson, and Wm. M. Garrett.

DELEGATES TO CENTRAL LABOR UNION—J. H. Babcock, chairman; J. B. Dickman, Hugh Everett, Theodore Gerber, and C. E. Dietrich.

DELEGATES TO ALLIED TRADES COUNCIL—E. E. Calhoon, chairman; T. F. Hall, and J. P. Garner.

AUDITORS—C. W. Radley, chairman; H. G. Brown, and J. W. Carter.

COMMITTEES.

BUSINESS—Zach T. Jenkins, chairman; C. B. Yater, M. J. Maher, T. C. Parsons, and R. W. Burnside.

NOMINATIONS—W. N. Brockwell, chairman; F. A. Kidd, H. O'Donnell, Frank M. Hatley, and R. E. Stenner.

LAWS—Chas. H. Ennis, chairman; Raymond Gery, and Dexter S. Hussey.

FINANCE—John A. Huston, chairman; J. M. McLaughlin, and R. F. Chisholm.

PRINTING—T. A. Bynum, chairman; Milo Shanks, and Ed. J. Hall.

GRIEVANCE—Clint O. Price, chairman; Chas. S. Gunn, Philip Nachman, David J. Snyder, and E. Y. Fisher.

ENTERTAINMENT—T. L. Jones, chairman; J. R. Purvis, T. J. Fitzwilliam, Miss Nellie Theaker, Miss Anna Wilson, B. E. Harrison, and W. J. Harris.

CONFERENCE—J. L. Holland, chairman; D. J. Hegarty, and W. B. Shaw.

LIBRARY—Clyde J. Sheriff, chairman; A. E. Ogg, and Harry Essex.

RELIEF—Joseph G. Stelle, chairman; Wm. S. Schinnerer and E. P. Cummins.

EIGHT-HOUR—F. C. Roberts, chairman; F. B. Crown, F. D. Seiffert, Jeff Newlon, and S. H. Willey.

MEMORIAL SERVICE—S. J. Gompers, chairman; Philip S. Steele, J. E. Goodkey, J. B. Dickman, and C. B. Yater.

AMOS J. CUMMINGS MEMORIAL—J. T. Rowe, chairman; Charles T. Graff, and T. A. Bynum.

CHAIRMEN.

First Division—R. L. Mabrey.
Second Division—W. N. Goldstein.
Third Division—D. J. Snyder.
Fourth Division—Charles H. Gove.
Fifth Division—Charles E. Dietrich.
Sixth Division—E. M. Nevils.
Job Room—J. K. Davison.
Record Clerks' Division—H. G. Brown.
First Division. Night—Will E. Burchfield.
Night Proof Room—E. H. Thomas.
Specification Room—E. A. Hutchison.
Official Gazette—Jere Walsh.
Document Proof Room—Jas. R. Armstrong.
Treasury Division—W. Brice Coston.
Interior Division—C. K. Stribling.
State Division—J. B. Dickman.
Navy Department Division—Albert E. Ogg.
War Department Division—Wm. K. Miller.
Agricultural Division—Henry P. Slaughter.
Library Division—H. V. Bisbee.
Weather Bureau—L. H. Emmons.
Morning Post—H. J. Broderick
Evening Star—Joseph C. Whyte.
Evening Times—T. C. Parsons.
Law Reporter—J. R. Johnson.
Globe Printing Co.—R. A. Wilson.
Judd & Detweiler's—J. B. Stahl.
Wilkens Printing Co.—T. N. Surguy.
Pearson's—T. F. Monahan.
National Publishing Co.—E. C. Owen.
McGill & Wallace's—J. M. Watts.
Byron S. Adams'—R. B. Boucher.
Army and Navy Register—C. H. Draeger.
General Postoffice—Joseph Williams.
Sudwarth's—F. R. Adams.

AROUND THE PRINTERIES.

Ex-Delegates.

There will be a meeting of the Ex-Delegates' Association of Columbia Union, No. 101, at Typographical Temple, Sunday, June 28, 1903, at 3 o'clock p. m. All ex-delegates are cordially invited to be present.

The Finance Committee will meet at 2.30 p. m.

WM. R. RAMSEY, President.
J. T. HERBERT, Secretary.

The Woman's Auxiliary.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held at Typographical Temple, Tuesday evening, June 30, 1903, at 8 o'clock. In addition to the usual business, dues for the coming quarter will be collected. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance. Anyone desiring to join the Auxiliary should send their application in writing.

Down Town.

Ex-delegates Sunday at 3 p. m.

Are you willing to parade on Labor Day?

The corrected list of chairmen and committeemen appear on page 3 of this issue.

The only change in our official list was Dan C. Vaughan's elevation to the vice-presidency.

The Women's Auxiliary will hold their regular monthly meeting Tuesday next, at 8 o'clock, at the Temple.

James E. Fitzgerald returned from the Union Printers' Home Tuesday. "Fitz" reports Charley Smith, J. W. ("Shad") Campbell, and Jimmy McGill all doing nicely.

James R. Nickerson, of Cincinnati No. 3, and James Fitzgerald of Washington (Columbia) No. 101, the former having been a resident since December 2, 1899, and the latter since November 25th of last year, vacated the home on Thursday last. Mr. Fitzgerald's reasons for leaving was that he had not improved in health. Mr. Nickerson went to Indianapolis, Ind.—Colorado Chronicle.

Hot Tamales and Chile at The Ranch, 507 F street n. w. Near Pension Office.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

First Division.

Sam T. Hanlon, formerly of the S.-G. Cat., is now at the Printers' Home.

The First Division Baseball Club beat the Job Room by a score of 10 to 4 and the Third Division by a score of 8 to 7.

Have you examined Nelson Moyer's apron? The apron men are having quite a controversy about who spoke to him about getting the design first.

Charles Groome is shooting twice a week at the range for a place on the team to go to Sea Girt and at present stands No. 1 out of about 60 shooting.

S. F. McDonough will leave Saturday for Fulton, N. Y., to attend the marriage of his sister, and after a few days stay at his home will take a fishing trip, accompanied by his family, to the Thousand Islands.

Harry Gunn, our popular and general bank man, was married to-day by the Rev. Dr. J. J. Muir, 513 Third street northwest, to Mrs. Fannie S. Perry, daughter of Mr J. P. Morse, of the Specification Room. Mr. and Mrs. Gunn, after the ceremony, went to Atlantic City to spend their honeymoon, and on their return will reside at 94 Bates street northwest, where they will be pleased to see their many friends after July 15. They were the recipients of many valuable and beautiful presents, among which was a very handsome solid silver service from the employes of this division.

Fred F. Moore, of the First Division, leaves Saturday for Rockwell City, Iowa, where he will visit relatives and friends. He owns a half interest in a law business there. The original cost of the library was over $3,000. He was once a resident of that county, having located on the wild prairies in 1879. Mr. Moore came from St. Paul just three years ago this month as a clerk in the Census Office. He was soon promoted to the responsible position of special examiner of the printing and publishing industry, in the manufactures division, and prepared the report for the Twelfth Census, a position held in the Eleventh Census by the present Director of the Census. Rumor has it that he will not return if the crops are not too much of a failure. The rains of the spring may have ruined crops so as to cause him to return for a while longer. Coming here as a lawyer he soon acquired the degree of Master of Law, and this month Columbian University conferred on him the degree of Master of Patent Laws. This, together with ten years experience as a newspaper writer, fits him well for his chosen profession.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Second Division.

Mr. W. D. Morgan's family is visiting in Pennsylvania.

Mr. Frank T. Hall attended a class reunion of his alma mater at Rochester, N. Y., last week.

Hoyt Holton was very busy all last week assisting at the Spanish war veterans lawn fete.

Mr. F. C. Kemon is enjoying nine day's leave superintending improvements on his home.

Tommy Travis' wife is spending a few weeks in Ohio. His friends are now showing him the town.

We regret to learn that Mr. E. J. Scanlon left for New York Monday on account of the death of his sister.

Mr. J. W. Belcher is proud to announce, that his wife and children have recently removed from Providence, R. I., to join him here.

Max Knoble is now a bicycle enthusiast. He should ask "Windy" for some pointers as to the best liniments, etc., to use for bruises.

"Feeble from inanition, inert from weariness." This was probably the condition of the Second's baseball team. Anyway, it is no more.

Mr. A. K. Williamson, of Alabama, now has a months leave (his first) and we suspect that he laid off Tuesday to look up the sailing days of European steamers.

After a siege in the hospital of some time Warner L. Wilmoth is able to be at work. He will take his leave as soon as possible and go South to recuperate. His acquaintances wish him speedy recovery.

President Johnson made a wise selection in naming Theodore Gerber of this room as a delegate to Central Labor Union. Mr. Gerber is well fitted for this position, having held such a position in the St. Louis central body.

The entente cordiale between "Jimmy" and "Benny" is under a severe strain. The "shutters" are up and Benny has placed a stiff price on taking them down. Jimmy will "neither deny nor affirm" any of the rumors in this connection.

Mrs. President Johnson, Miss Gordon, president, and Miss Wilson, sergeant-at-arms, of the Ladies Auxiliary, attended the Union meeting Sunday. Miss Gordon delivered an interesting speech. Welcome, ladies. Mutual benefit will result from a more general attendance by them.

NEWS.

Look out for the ax a man has to grind when he begins to jolly you.

Any man who refuses to argue with a woman possesses Solomon's brand of wisdom.

The wise man who is looking for a job never gives his next-door neighbor as reference.

Money's Worth or Money Back

$16.50 and $18.50 Summer Suits at

$13.75

Small lots, but some of the nobbiest suits in the store, in fancies and a sprinkling of good staple blacks and blues. $16.50 and $18.50 is what they are actually worth; selling like hot cakes at $13.75

D. J. KAUFMAN, 1005-7 Pa. Ave.

The Savings possible at

S. Kann, Sons & Co.

8th St.—THE BUSY CORNER—Pa. Ave.

are such as may be counted in the pocket. At the same time styles and qualities are unexcelled.

Melville Club
Old Rye Whiskey
It's Pure and Fine. $1 Full Quart

"Driver's Rye Cordial" cures coughs and colds, composed of old rye whisky and pure rock candy, $1 per bottle. Driver's Favorites, the best 5c. cigar obtainable. Union hand-made cigars a specialty. At the bar try Driver's Famous Cocktails. Melville Club Whisky at the bar, 10c.

Geo. W. Driver
605 PENNA. AVE.

Our Motto—Prompt and Polite Attention.

The Modern Dairy Lunch Room
CHAS. A. MOULDEN, Mgr.
409 TENTH STREET N. W.
Open day and night. Unsurpassed Coffee Our Specialty

"Everyone knows how to find fault." No one has yet found fault with the
RELIABLE
The Gas Range for Summer Use
Washington Gas Light Co.
GAS APPLIANCE EXCHANGE

EDWIN F. PRICE
(Late member of the firm of E. F. Price & Co.)
Bookbinder
Ruling and Binding of every description. Strongest Flat-Opening Blank Book Made. A Specialty of Fine Bank Work.
Darby Bldg., 506-508 Fourteenth St. N. W.

GUNDLACH
Fireworks
Flags and Badges
813 SEVENTH STREET N. W.

Healthy, Beautiful Homes in FAIRMOUNT HEIGHTS

On Columbia Electric R. R. extended, near the northeast corner of the District, at the junction of Columbia, Washington & Annapolis, and Baltimore Electric and Chesapeake Beach R. R.

LOTS $50 TO $150
In Maryland or District. Small monthly or weekly payments.
Two Mineral Springs and Fine View of City.
ONE LOT FREE
To builders, or purchasers of four lots.
Special terms to Labor Organizations, Manufacturers, Military Posts, Fraternal Orders, Churches, and Schools.
5c. CAR FARE
To All Parts of the City.
Call or address W. N. NEWBOLD, Manager
Fairmount Heights Land and Development Co.
Room 7, 602 F St. N. W.

THE RIGGS NATIONAL BANK
Of Washington, D. C.
Capital - - - $1,000,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits, 1,000,000
Exchange on England, Ireland, France and Germany. Letters of credit available in all foreign parts. Bank Collections. Orders for investments. Stocks and Bonds.

Societies and Fraternal Orders, Book Your Excursions to
CHESAPEAKE BEACH
Only salt water resort near Washington
Opens May 30
HALEY'S BAND
SOME GOOD DATES LEFT
GENERAL OFFICE:
1420 New York Avenue

Telephone 3662-Y
AMREIN'S
FAMOUS ICE CREAM
HAS NO EQUAL
Stores, 1426 and 1810 7th St. N. W.

SIMMS' GERMAN CORN CURE
Better than all other corn remedies, 15c.
Try Simms' Liver Pills, only 10c.
G. G. C. SIMMS,
New York Ave. and Fourteeth St. N. W.
Telephone 2673 Main.

Dorsch Bros.' Bread
Bears the Union Label

Insist on Dorsch Bros.' Bread because—first, it carries the Badge of Labor; second, there is None Better; and third, it is sold at a workingman's price—Four Cents.

SOLD EVERYWHERE AT
4c THE LOAF 4c

J. GEORGE SMITH
(Formerly a member of the firm of R. P. Andrews & Co.)
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
PAPER AND STATIONERY
My old friends and patrons from J. C. Addison's time to the present will be welcome. I can supply all your needs at lowest prices consistent with quality.
626 E STREET NORTHWEST

Woodward & Lothrop,
DEPARTMENT STORE.
TENTH, ELEVENTH, AND F STS. N. W.

WHERE THE HALF-TONES ARE MADE
THE NATIONAL ENGRAVING COMPANY.
INCORPORATED.
14th St. and Pa. Ave. Phone 1679 Main.

ANDREW B. GRAHAM,
Lithographer,
Photo-Lithographer.
1230 Penn. Ave., Washington, D. C.
Telephone 1031.

C. F. BROWNE
Watch Mainsprings, 50c
904 F ST. NORTHWEST

Floor Coverings Exclusively
We sell nothing but high-grade floor coverings—goods of a kind and quality that this house has been famed for for two generations and more.
Carpets and Rugs cleaned and stored
Giddings & Steele, 813 Pa. Avenue

J. E. BONINI'S
BUFFET AND CAFE,
727-729 N. Capitol Street.
MAERZEN BEER ON TAP.
A first-class Lunch Counter. Sea food in season. Union throughout.

D. STRAUSS,
Clothier, Hatter and Furnisher
441 Seventh Street N. W.,
Washington, D. C.

T. HOLLANDER
Men's Furnishings
Hats and Shoes
COR. N. CAPITOL AND H STS.
Opposite Government Printing Office

HUDSON'S
Variety Store
423 7th ST. N. W.
China, Crockery, Glass, Tin, Wooden, and Granite Ironware, Cutlery and Silverware Bric-a-Brac and Toys.
Special reductions to laboring people and boarding houses.

DO YOU USE TOILET PAPER?
If so, investigate the service furnished by
R. P. Andrews & Co.,
INCORPORATED
627-629 LOUISIANA AVE. N. W.
THE WHOLESALE PAPER HOUSE
IT WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

M. S. JOHNSON
Merchant Tailor
UNION EMPLOYER
1435 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest

Are You Thinking of Life Insurance
If So Consult
FRANK K. RAYMOND
General Agent
Union Central Life Insurance Co.
BOND BUILDING
Phone 2069 Main

SAMUEL C. PALMER
Manufacturer of
Soda and Mineral Waters
IN FOUNTS, SYPHONS AND BOTTLES
SODA WATER SYRUPS
OF ALL FLAVORS
Phone West 190
Depot, 1066-8 32d Street N. W.

THOMAS WALSH
Formerly "Steve" Caldwell's.
BILLIARDS AND POOL,
WHISKIES AND CIGARS.
MELVALE and SHERWOOD } Specialties.
Cool Lager Beer on Draught
BILLIARDS 40c. PER HOUR.
POOL 2½c. PER CUE.
THOMAS WALSH,
407 Tenth Street Northwest.

E. F. PRICE & CO.,
BOOKBINDER.
1108 E Street Northwest.
Ruling and Binding of every description.
Strongest flat opening blank book made
A Specialty of Fine Bank Work.

G. P. O.
BICYCLE REPAIR CO.
Salesroom, 33 H st. n. w
Wheels stored, cleaned and repaired $1 per mo.
" " and cleaned..... .75 " "
" " ..... .50 " "
BICYCLE REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.
BICYCLE SUNDRIES.
ARTHUR D. BENNETT, Manager.

300 1-lb. Loaves to the Barrel.
Every Laboring Man
—requires pure, wholesome, nourishing food such as is made of—
Cream Blend Flour
It not only makes THE BEST Bread, Rolls, Cake and Pastry, but more of them than other brands—therefore it's the cheapest that money can buy.
Your Grocer will supply you.
B. B. EARNSHAW & BRO., Wholesalers,
1105, 1107, 1109 11th Street S. E.
1000 and 1002 M Street S. E.

A Union House Patronized by Union Printers You Will Meet The Craft Here.
HAIGHT'S
HOTEL AND RESTAURANT
1008-10-12 E Street Northwest
One block from Columbia Theater
Rooms Newly Furnished For Men Only

BESSLER'S
HOTEL AND RESTAURANT
922 Pennsylvania Avenue.
GEORGE J. BESSLER, Prop
Phone: Main 2177-Y

HOTEL FRITZ REUTER
Rathskeller
and
Restaurant.
COR. PA. AVE. AND JOHN MARSHALL PLACE
Phone: East 388.

Ebbitt House
Washington, D. C. H. C. BURCH, Mgr.
HEADQUARTERS
International Typographical Convention

EQUITABLE INDUSTRIAL INSURANCE COMPANY,
605 F Street N. W.
Life Insurance for Industrial Classes.
Claims paid to date, $221,187.00.
Wm. A. BENNETT, Gen'l Supt.

B. F. WARNER,
Fine Wines and Liquors.
BLUE LABEL CIGARS.
1219 E Street Northwest.

FOR LUNCH
TRY THE
Pure Dairy Lunch,
935 D St, nw.

American Ice Co.
1437 Penna. Ave. N. W.

Pabst beer is always pure

THE UNION SAVINGS BANK.

BOND BUILDING

Cor. 14th St. and New York Ave. N.W.

Three Per Cent Interest on Savings Accounts.

Branch Deposit Agency at T. A. ROVER'S STORE,
Cor. North Capitol and H Sts.

OPEN EVERY MONDAY AND TUESDAY FROM 4 TO 5 P. M.

When in doubt buy at HOUSE & HERRMANN,

FURNITURE, CARPETS, DRAPERIES, ETC.

N. E. Corner Seventh and I Streets N. W.

CLEANING PANAMAS

And restoring original color without the use of injurious chemicals and giving that flexibility characteristic of them in their native clime is in which we are thorough masters. We will charge you no more than what you will pay for ordinary work.

A SCIENCE

Empire Hat Company

629 F St. N. W. Send postal or phone E. 524-y

Don't Buy a Hat Without the Label. .

And See that It Is Sewed In.

Don't Patronize a Dealer Who Has Loose Labels on Hand and Offers to Put One in Your Hat.

LOOSE LABELS

In Retail Stores

ARE COUNTERFEITS.

The John B. Stetson Co., of Philadelphia, Pa., is a non-union concern.

St. Asaph Commission Rooms,

Old Established and Reliable.

Trains leave Thirteen and one-half street and Pennsylvania avenue—Alexandria, Mt. Vernon, and Washington Railway—daily at 12.45, 1.05, 1.25, 2, 2.30, 3.02, and 3.30. Return 3.39, 4.24, 5.02, 5.58, and at various intervals.

The Hub Furniture Co., The Stores that Save You Money.

OUR MOTTO—The Best Values in Furniture and Carpets at the Lowest Prices.

Cash or Credit.

HUB FURNITURE CO.,
(Formerly Wash B. Williams)
Corner Seventh and D Streets N. W.

Celtic Club Whiskey—

Our Specialty. Never Changes. Once Tried You'll Always Use It. Take no Substitute. Ports and Sherries for Family Use—Quarts, 50 and 75c. All Makes of Beer. Leading Brands of Cigars. Ales and Porters on Draught all the Year Round.

JOHN CONNOR,
New Jersey Ave. and G Streets N. W.

J. WILLIAM LEE,
Undertaker and Livery, . . .
322 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

HECHT & CO.,

515 and 517 Seventh street N. W.

ARE

UNFAIR

TO

Organized Labor.

Retail Clerks, No. 262.

Yale Laundry

DECLARED UNFAIR

BY THE R. A. LANIS ASSOCIATION

The "Yale Steam Laundry" prefers "scabs" to do their steam fitting. Where do you and your friends have your washing done? Help the Union Steam Fitters by refusing your patronage to the Yale Laundry.

R. A. LANIS ASS'N OF STEAM FITTERS
March 10, 1903. L. B. No. 10, N A

MEETING OF COLUMBIA UNION

Installation Sunday Brings Out Only an Average Attendance.

THE YEARBOOK DISCONTINUED

President Makes a Splendid Report—Grievance Committee Report—The Convention Committee Report—Printing Committee Report—Goodkey Resolution—Officers Installed—New Committees Appointed.

The regular monthly meeting of Columbia Typographical Union was held last Sunday afternoon at Typographical Temple, President Johnson calling the meeting to order at 2.30 p. m.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The traveling cards deposited since the last regular meeting were read and received.

The Nominations Committee, having reported favorably on applications for membership of C. E. Greenwood and W. W. Conn, they were duly elected and obligated, with E. Z. Fought, of Carlisle, Pa., on request of Harrisburg (Pa.) Union, No. 14.

The decision of President Lynch, of the I. T. U., on the appeal of T. C. Parsons and others, representing the Washington Times chapel, against the action of Columbia Typographical Union, in the matter of request of proprietor of that paper to use matrices on said paper, was read. The decision sustains the Union in its action. Placed on file.

The Printing Committee made its final report on the publication of the Yearbook for 1902. It shows that its total receipts from all sources were $1,523.45, while its expenditures were $1,516.60, leaving a balance of $6.85, with assets from sale of cuts, etc., of $112, making a showing of $119.35 for the publication. The committee recommended a discontinuance of the publication, which was concurred in.

The Grievance Committee reported that after some time they had failed to bring the Academy of Music to see the advisability of settling their grievance with Stage Employers' Alliance, and recommend that they be placed on our unfair list. They also recommended the same action be taken in regard to the Emrich Beef Company at the action of Grocery Clerks' Union, No. 533. Committee recommendations adopted.

The Relief Committee, through its chairman, J. G. Stelle, asked for $100, which was duly appropriated.

Delegate Hall, from the Allied Printing Trades Council, reported that literature advertising the label had been printed and was ready for distribution.

Delegate Babcock, from the Central Labor Union, reported verbally that Central Labor Union had in contemplation a street parade for Labor Day, and he desired to know the sentiment of the various unions in the matter. He moved that Columbia Union participate in the parade. It was further amended that a chapel vote be taken on the matter, which was carried.

Mr. Whitehead, chairman of the Committee of Arrangements for the coming convention of the I. T. U., submitted a report, which was adopted. The report outlined the work of the committee and gave the programme so far as prepared by the committee for the entertainment of the guests of the Union during the convention.

The President submitted his report for the past month. It states that four deaths have taken place since previous meeting, being J. Harmon Smith, E. C. Crump, Grant E. Price, and Franklin Rogers; that the officers of the Union had joined with the officers of other unions represented in the G. P. O. and presented a memorial asking for extension of 3-o'clock closing on Saturday for G. P. O. when the same becomes effective in the Departments; that the officers had also called on Hecht & Co. in the effort to adjust the difficulty between that firm and Retail Clerks' Union, No. 262, but efforts so far have been without success; that they also called at the Post-Office Department and filed a protest against the letting of contracts for printing and supplies to nonunion firms. The President recommended that Frank K. Raymond be placed upon the honorary roll of the Union for his advocacy of the union label in business life and his warm friendship to the members of the Union personally.

The Union then unanimously adopted the report of the officers of the Union and the recommendation of the President in the placing of Mr. Raymond on the honorary roll.

The President then read the report of the canvassing board at their recent election and announced the result.

The officers elected to serve during the ensuing year were then obligated, Ex-President John B. Dickman administering the obligation to President Johnson

The amendment presented by J. E. Goodkey, disciplining the members of chapels for an attempt to hold a chairman in contempt, was then taken up. On motion it was laid on the table.

The secretary was directed to notify all chairmen that the law in reference to the election and payment of tellers must be enforced.

J. E. Goodkey offered the following resolution, which was laid over to next meeting:

Resolved, That this Union endow a bed at the Garfield Memorial Hospital, of Washington, D. C., and that the sum of $5,000 is hereby appropriated, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to accomplish the purpose intended.

The President announced certain changes in the standing committees for the ensuing year.

President Johnson then introduced Miss Laura B. Gordon, president of the Woman's Auxiliary of Columbia Union, who spoke on the work so far accomplished by the Auxiliary, and desired the cooperation of all members in building up the Auxiliary by inducing the members of their family eligible for membership to join the Auxiliary.

Mr. Hall asked that the Union indorse the candidacy of W. S. Waudby for the position of Commissioner of Labor. The Chair ruled that by a prior resolution of the Union a motion to indorse any one for a political office was out of order.

Adjourned.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Funeral of Franklin Rogers.

The funeral of Mr. Franklin Rogers, whose death occurred on the 18th inst. at his late residence, 1501 Ingraham street, Brightwood, took place at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon under the auspices of Meade Post, G. A. R. Services were conducted by Rev. Richard P. Williams, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, at the Chapel of Lee's undertaking establishment.

Franklin Rogers died of dropsy and heart disease, after an illness of many months' duration, aged sixty years. He was the eldest son of Gen. Wm. F. Rogers, of Buffalo, N. Y., who represented that district in Congress at one time; he was first lieutenant and adjutant of the second New York Mounted Rifles, and received a severe shell wound at the charge on Petersburg; came to this city about twenty years ago, and has been employed ever since in the Government Printing Office as compositor and clerk, his last position being in the Record Clerks' Division.

The interment was made at Arlington National Cemetery, where Chaplain Stevens, of the G. A. R., officiated. The pallbearers were selected from Meade Post, of which Mr. Rogers has been a member. Among the floral tributes was a handsome wreath, sent by employes of the Government Printing Office.

Baseball.

Arrangements having been perfected with the baseball team of Baltimore Typographical Union for a game in this city during convention week, the manager of the baseball team of Columbia Union requests that all those who desire to try for a position on the team will report for practice on Tuesday, June 30, on the commons, Seventeenth and Gales street northeast.

The rumor that the team had been selected is most emphatically denied by the manager. Not a single position has been assigned. All are open, and every applicant will be given a thorough trial. Come out and practice, and if you do not make the team you will be benefited by the open air exercise. Your efforts will be fully appreciated, and it is hoped that all members of Columbia Union who possess any talent whatever will rally to the assistance of the manager. Columbia Union must win that game.

A New Lunch Room.

Chas. A. Moulden, late with Otto Wehner, 941 D street northwest, has taken charge of The Modern Dairy Lunch Room, 409 Tenth street northwest, and will be pleased to see old friends at his new place. The key has been put aside and the room will be found open at all hours.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

ALLIED BUILDING TRADES.

Proposed Arbitration Agreement to Be Prepared by Next Meeting.

The regular weekly meeting of the Council of Allied Building Trades of the Central Labor Union was called to order at the regular hour by Secretary Ratigan, H. W. Sherman being called to the chair.

Roll call disclosed the presence of 27 delegates from 18 unions.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

CREDENTIALS.

From Washington Lodge of Machinists, certifying to F. Pletcher, vice J. H. Burkholder.

From Steam Fitters' Helpers, certifying to J. H. Reichard, vice P. A. Gilhooley.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, Steam Fitters, and Tile Layers, stating that their unions had voted in favor of amendment to Constitution.

From Henry White, general secretary of United Garment Workers, calling attention to Garment Workers' label, and stating that label goods could be found in stores in Washington.

From Walter J. Costello, making proposal to lease building at Sixth and G streets northwest.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

From Central Labor Union, relative to credentials from Elevator Constructors, Engineers' contract, and asking all delegates to get busy for Labor Day.

From the Employers' Association, on agreement to be entered into in forming arbitration and conciliation committees.

CALL OF UNIONS.

Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, No. 102, called attention to Joseph P. Mathy Company. Referred to Executive Committee.

Stone Laborers called attention to job at 1720 Rhode Island avenue. Referred to Business Agent.

Granite Cutters called attention to work on new Foundry Church.

Steam Fitters accepted action taken by the Central Labor Union on receiving contract, but asked all unions to hear their side of the case before patronizing Yale Laundry.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

Committee to meet Employers' Association to prepare form of arbitration which would be suitable to cover all unions affiliated and submit same for approval at the next meeting.

Adjourned.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Carpet Upholsterers' Smoker.

The members of Carpet Upholsterers' Union gave a smoke talk at their hall last Tuesday evening that was an enjoyable affair.

John Hamerstrom, president of the Central Labor Union, gave a pleasant talk on trades unionism, and Milford Spohn followed him with a stirring address on the general good of organization.

President Harry Sherer spoke of the formation of the carpet upholsterers into a union, and dwelt upon the good results attained since the institution of their union.

David Streets, on behalf of the union, presented Harry Wells, business agent of Paperhangers' Union, No. 420, with a token as an appreciation in which he is held by the members of Carpet Upholsterers' Union.

During the evening Mr. F. Steele, of Giddings & Steele, made some timely remarks, showing the uniform good feeling existing between that firm and its employees.

Among the guests of the evening were A. J. Smith and Watson Miller, of W. B. Moses & Son.

The entertainment comprised illustrated songs by Moore and Martin; musical sketch, by Vickemeyer and McCloud, and the Congressional Quartet, in songs.

Refreshments were served, and at a late hour the smoker came to a close.

The committee in charge, under George Pinckney, were untiring in their efforts to make the evening enjoyable, and fully succeeded.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Bricklayers' Executive Committee.

The following is the list of members of the Executive Committee of Bricklayers' Union, No. 1: John G. Wolfe, chairman, 1023 New Jersey avenue; W. Cronin, 1415 Thirty-sixth street northwest; Samuel Haslett, 221 South Lee street, Alexandria, Va.; John Shanahan, 2352 Eighth street northwest; John McCarten, 1237 Maryland avenue northeast.

Representative Business Houses.

OF WASHINGTON, D. C.

The following wholesale and retail firms and professional men are friendly to Union Labor and are entitled to its patronage:

BANKS.
THE LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK, Safe Deposit Vaults, $2.50 up
CAPITAL LOAN GUARANTEE COMPANY, 602 F Street Northwest. Every one can borrow money without security.

BAKERS.
HOLMES & SONS, Celebrated Home-Made Pies and Milk Bread. First and E Streets N. W. Phone Main 1564.

BOOTS AND SHOES.
CROCKER'S SHOES, 939 Pennsylvania Ave. N. W.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.
DANIEL LOUGHRAN, 1347 Pennsylvania Ave.
LUCHS & BRO., Wholesalers. Tom Keene 5c. Cigar. Phone E 755.

COACH FINDINGS.
J. B. KENDALL, 485-87 Missouri avenue N. W.

COAL TAR PRODUCTS AND PAPER.
E. B. WARREN & CO., 27th and H Sts. N. W.

CUTLERY AND SPORTING GOODS.
D. N. WALFORD, 477 and 909 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

DRY GOODS.
LANSBURGH & BROTHER, 420 to 426 7th St. N. W

DYER.
E. E. WHEATLEY, 1068 Jefferson Ave. N. W. Phone, West 117-Y.

ENGRAVERS.
THE MAURICE JOYCE ENGRAVING CO. Cuts and Illustrations. 418 11th street N. W

FIRE INSURANCE.
FIREMEN'S INSURANCE COMPANY, Seventh St. and Louisiana Ave. Insure with THE RIGGS FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.

FLORIST.
Z. D. BLACKISTONE, 14th and H Sts. N. W Telephone, 2180.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.
JULIUS LANSBURGH, Interocean Building, 512 Ninth St. N. W.

FURNACES.
WILLIAM MINNIS, 1023 H st. N. E. Residence: 1501 H st. N. E.

GROCERIES.
LITTLE & PAGE, "Good things to eat." 1210 F St. N. W
W. C. ERGOOD, "Good goods at Ergoods." Corner Ninth and H Streets Northwest.

GROCER AND COFFEE ROASTER.
SOMERSET R. WATERS. 1342 Seventh Street Northwest, Corner O.

HARDWARE AND TOOLS.
RUDOLPH, WEST & CO., 1332 New York avenue northwest.

HATTERS AND FURRIERS.
JAMES Y. DAVIS' SONS, 1201 Pennsylvania Ave.
A. H. BURDINE, Union Overalls, Hats, and Gloves. Seventh Street and Virginia avenue southwest.

LIME, SAND, GRAVEL, CEMENT.
NATIONAL MORTAR COMPANY, Office: Room 9, Ralston Bldg., 612 F St. N. W. Office telephone: East 688.

LUMBER AND MILL WORK.
THOMAS R. RILEY, 13th St. and Ohio Ave.
LEE L. HERRELL & BRO., 1311 Eleventh St. S. E. Phone Main 402.
THE WASHINGTON WOOD WORKING CO., 12th and B Streets N. W. Telephone 2119-3.

MACHINISTS AND ENGINEERS.
FORSBERG & MURRAY, Pumps and Elevators. Engines and Boilers, 8th and Water Sts. S. W.

MERCHANT TAILOR.
W. A. SLADEN, 419 East Capitol Street.

PHARMACISTS.
LOUIS F. BRADLEY, Prescription Druggist. 8th and E Sts. S. E

PHOTO-LITHOGRAPHERS.
THE NORRIS PETERS CO., 458 and 460 Pennsylvania avenue N. W

PIANO AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
E. E. DROOP & SONS, 925 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

PRINTING SUPPLIES.
NATIONAL PRINTER'S SUPPLY CO., Machine-made Rollers. 414 10th St. N. W.

RESTAURANT AND WINE ROOM.
JOHN M. BECKER, Opp. Navy Yard., Cor. 8th and Georgia Ave. S.E

SHOES.
DAVE WOLF, SHOES FOR EVERYBODY. 432 Seventh Street N. W.

SHAVING PARLORS
VINCENT R. CILENTO, 805 North Capitol Street.

TITLES TO REAL ESTATE.
LAWYERS' TITLE & GUARANTY INS. CO. 412 5th St. N. W.

TOBACCO AND NEWS STAND.
WM. H. LIVERMORE 101 H St. N. W

WINES AND LIQUORS.
SAMUEL G. STEWART, Heurich Brewing Co's. beers and popular brands of whiskies. 1141 Seventh st. northwest between L and M.
WILLIAM DIETZ, 1203 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest

DO NOT WANT OUR PATRONAGE.

Following brands of cigars: Cinco, Cremo, George W. Childs, Henry George, Tom Moore, Robert Burns, and General Arthur.

The following firms have declared against the interest of Organized Labor and are not regarded as deserving their patronage:

NAME.	BUSINESS.	LOCATION.
Chevy Chase Railway and circle.	Street railway	Chevy Chase and Circle.
Keenan Bros	Gents' furnishers	Pa. ave. bet. 14th and 15th sts., and 523 Seventh st. n. w.
B. Solomon	Gents' furnisher	708 Seventh street n.w.
Rufus H. Darby	Printer	508 Fourteenth street n.w.
H. L. McQueen	Printer	1108 E street n.w.
N. Sickles (Nat'l Cigar Factory).	Cigar manufacturer	1011 Penna. avenue n.w.
E. Gundershiemer	Baker	516 Second street n.w. and stalls in Center Market.
Peter Grogan	Carpet dealer.	817 to 823 Seventh street n.w
John H. Fitzgerald	Horseshoer	443 Prather's alley n.w.
S. S Daish	Coal and wood	Florida ave. and Third st. n.e.
Wilbur F. Nash	Meat dealer	Center and O st. Markets.
C. E. Hencke	Electrician	711 G street n.w.
F. J. Wheelock	Electrician	1215 G street n. e.
James A. Bennett	Tinner	2008 H street n.w.
National Mosaic Company	Mosaics	207 Fourth st. n.w.
M. Minster	Gents' furnisher	1343 F st. n.w.
A. Minster	Gents' furnisher	499 and 501 Penna. ave. n. w.
Cyrus B. Reese	Employing steamfitter	1519 Fourteenth street n. w.
C. A. Schneider & Sons	Union Iron Works	212 Twelfth street n. w.
Minster & Paterson	Gents' furnishers	1109 Pennsylvania ave. n. w
The Famous	Gents' furnishings	437 Seventh street n. w.
Chas. A. Muddiman & Co	Gas fixtures	1204 G and 616 Twelfth st. n. w.
Conrad Becker	Trunks and harness	1328 F st. n. w.
Chapin & Sacks	Dealer in butter	924 Louisana ave. n. w.
Home Ice Company	Ice	Twelfth and V sts. n.w.
Emil Wagner	Restaurant	210 Ninth st. n. w.
W. E. Carney	Cigar manufacturer	921 G st. s. w.
Morgan & Co.	Wall papers	Fourteenth and Pa. ave. n. w
L. Rosenberg	Gents' furnishings	911 Eighth st. s. e.
Corbin Thompson	Dairyman	Sharon Dairy, 324 B st. s. w.
S. D. Houck	Dealer in harness	301 Tenth street n. w.
M. Eisemann & Bro	Dry goods	1924-26 Pa. ava. and 806 7th n.w
Elite Steam Laundry	Laundry	1205 G street n.w.
Benjamin Schwartz	Gents' furnisher and tailor	337 Pa. ave. s. e.
Emrich Beef Co	Meat Dealers
John Coleman	Horseshoer	1300 36th street n. w.
Hecht & Co.	Dry Goods, etc.	517-519 Seventh street n. w
Charles Rauscher	Caterer	Conn. ave. and L st. n. w
Academy of Music	Theatre	Ninth and D streets n. w.
E. H. Snyder & Co	Tailors	1111 Pa. ave. n. w
Owen Owen	Tailor	423 Eleventh street n. w.
L. A. Downey	Tailor	433 Eleventh street n. w.
J. M. Stein & Co	Tailors	413 Eleventh street n. w.
J. D. Burns & Co	Tailors	701 Ninth street n. w.
J. F. Gatchel	Tailor	604 Thirteenth street n. w.
G. Warfield Simpson	Tailor	1208 F street n. w.
E. H. Catlin & Co	Machinists	407 13½ street n. w.
Thomas Somerville & Sons	Steam Fitters' Supplies	316 Thirteenth street n. w.
Joseph Mathy	Stove dealer and tin worker.	1918 Pennsyvania avenue.

Homesickness in the Orient.

Kansas City World.]

Nostalgia—that is what the doctors call it. In ordinary phrase it is known as homesickness. It is a real disease. Strong men die of it in the Philippine Islands. To all ordinary diagnosis they are well. No organic trouble is apparent. The patient is literally sick for home and unless he is sent home he grows worse and often dies. Officers of the army, private soldiers, civilians, old, middle-aged, and young—all these are subject to the illness. It is no boy's malady.

The man who is satisfied with himself doesn't want much.

I. P. P. and A. U. Convention.

The convention of the International Union of Printing Pressmen will meet next year in St. Louis.

Among the resolutions almost unanimously adopted at the recent convention was one for a propagating committee of twenty-five to communicate with all other labor unions, "that the masses shall have a proper champion in the next Presidential campaign." The vote on this resolution was claimed as a victory for the Socialists.

A woman who gushes over a man when he is tired and hungry is due for a term in a padded cell.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICIAL ORGAN CENTRAL LABOR UNION, WASHINGTON BRANCH, AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Vol. VIII. No. 3. WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, JULY 2, 1903. Price, 3 Cents.

THE CENTRAL LABOR UNION

Not Much Enthusiasm Shown in Interest of Labor Day Parade.

ELECTION AT NEXT MEETING

Amalgamated Carpenters' Protest—Chapin & Sacks Matter in Committee—Colored Bricklayers Want a Charter—The Woodworkers Get Eight-Hour Day.

The regular weekly meeting of the Central Labor Union was called to order at 8.15 p. m. last Monday, President Hamerstrom in the chair.

CREDENTIALS.

From Local No. 368, Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators, and Paperhangers of America, certifying that Wm. Lewis had been duly chosen to represent that union, vice E. E. Hancock.

From Local No. 10523, Mail Bag Repairers, certifying Charles Green, Geo. Emmons, Thomas Farrell, Charles Nueman, and L. W. Kearney.

From Local No. 262, Retail Clerks, certifying E. A. Bachrach, C. A. Pfau, J. T. Minns, Harry Sanger, and Sol. Breslau.

From Local No. 63, Stationary Firemen, certifying Newton A. James, John Hartley, Richard K. Murray, J. J. O'Connor, and Louis F. Crown.

From Local No. 77, Steam Engineers, certifying Charles Talbush, William Rohde, John Norton, and William Herbert.

From Local 8810, Steel and Copper Plate Cleaners' Union, certifying Geo. L. Dant, Wm. McAleer, C. W. Charter, Michael Morgan, and John Reding.

From Columbia Lodge, No. 174, I. A. M., certifying Robert H. Cowan, Wm. J. O'Brien, Harry Severn, E. L. Tucker, and C. C. Thomas.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From San Francisco Labor Council, asking that an effort be made to secure a wider scope of influence for central bodies by attendance of a representative at sessions of the American Federation of Labor. Referred to special committee.

From Branch No. 779, Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners, protesting against action of Central Labor Union in refusing admittance to that organization, and calling attention to Article XXII, section 8, of Constitution of the American Federation of Labor. Laid on table.

From Branch No. 780, Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners, making same protest as above, and quoting same section of law. Laid on table.

From Local No. 99, Steam Engineers, asking that in settlement of Chapin & Sacks matter, that the Contract Committee take cognizance of the fact that the two engineers now employed by that firm are not union men, and further requesting that the interests of the Engineers be considered in the settlement. Referred to Contract Committee.

From Edward T. Mundy, representing colored bricklayers of Washington, asking aid in securing a charter from American Federation of Labor. Referred to Bricklayers Union, No. 1.

From Local No. 262, R. C. I. P. A., stating that in view of the fact that a large part of their membership will be compelled to work on the morning of Labor Day, that that organization would vote no on question of parade. Referred to Labor Day Committee.

From Local No. 26, Electrical Workers, voting no on Labor Day parade. Referred to Labor Day Committee.

From Local No. 1103, Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, stating that they had secured an eight-hour day without reduction in wages from the following firms: Joseph L. Crupper, Maddox & Hayden, W. H. Dyer, Washington Woodworking Company, A. E. Wurdeman & Co., Thomas W. Smith, Lee Herrell & Son, Thomassen & Son, Martin Wiegand & Co., and the Woodruff File Company. They also report that the firm of W. B. Moses & Sons have so far refused to comply with the request for an eight-hour day, and the assistance of the Central Labor Union is asked to help in bringing this firm around. Referred to Contract Committee.

From Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, Local No. 148, asking that action of that union be indorsed in placing Roslyn Packing Company on the unfair list. Referred to Grievance Committee.

From Local No. 65, Shirt, Waist, and Laundry Workers, quoting an article from a trade journal, showing the effect of work done in behalf of label of that organization. Referred to Allied Label League.

From Union Collar Company, Troy, N. Y., calling attention to "Labor" brand as being strictly union, and quoting special prices for Labor Day. Referred to Executive Committee.

From Norwich Trades Assembly, Norwich, N. Y., calling attention to condition of Hammermakers, Local No. 232, on strike against the David Maydole Hammer Company. Referred to Allied Label League.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

The Grievance Committee reported progress.

The Contract Committee recommended that Chapin & Sacks be taken from the unfair list. Nonconcurred in.

CALL OF UNIONS.

Local No. 190, Brotherhood of Carpenters, requested that secretary ask the American Ice Company to employ a local man as superintendent of construction in proposed improvements. Request granted.

Retail Clerks called attention to Hecht & Co. being still on the unfair list.

Grocery Clerks reported that John S. Farrell had signed their contract, and asked that he be taken from the unfair list. Granted.

Grocery Clerks also asked for the appointment of a special committee to visit the establishments where Central Labor Union contracts have been signed, but who do not employ union clerks. Request granted.

After announcing that at the next meeting of the Council election of officers will be held, the president declared the Council adjourned.

Hot Tamales and Chile, at 503 Thirteenth street northwest. Open all night

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Bindery Notes.

Dame Rumor has it that Bob Stack contemplates a trip to Milwaukee when he takes his leave. Anything doing, Bob?

"Little Ikey," the Hebraic philosopher of the stamping room, claims Johnny Burns as a cousin. Ye gods, Irish and Hebrew!

John Burns does not pay any more Sunday morning visits to Bob Stack since the latter gave John Dwyer his bottle of Paul Jones.

Gus Bauer and Wilson Clark went on a fishing trip Saturday, but the amount of their catch was out of all proportion to the quantity of "bait" they carried.

After a tremendous struggle Harry Figg has succeeded in taking his last day's leave on Saturday. His trip "down the line" Saturday night was truly an exciting one.

Tim McKenna brought to the office the other day a pair of brown overalls beautifully adorned with brass buttons. He has not yet screwed up sufficient courage to get into them, however.

Having sent his family away to the country, Joe Gillen has abandoned Baltimore for a couple of months and has taken up his residence in Washington. He will doubtless soon be posing as a gay young widower.

Charlie Benker took a chance on a pillow for 10 cents and attended the raffle. His share of the plunder was seven beers and two sausage sandwiches. He also had the pleasure of hearing Bill Lang perform on the bones. He now recommends to Bill that he muffle his bones and confine his performances to Mahone's lot.

Evangelist Barnes.

All loyal Kentuckians are cordially invited to attend the services at the Christian Church, Ninth and D streets northeast, next Sunday. Rev. George O. Barnes, the mountain evangelist, and one of the best pulpit orators of the day, will speak. His name is a household word in Kentucky, and he will no doubt have a good representation from the old Commonwealth to greet him next Sunday.

A BIT OF ALL SORTS.

The Spess Division will have an entire new outfit—type, presses, and everything else, so it said—when it is removed to the Swamp.

The daily papers are raising a fund to give the poor boys of this city a chance to see the Washingtons play ball on the Fourth. That's about the only way Foxy Tom Loftus will ever get a crowd out there again.

The bound volume of Specifications for June makes a nice little booklet of only 5,936 pages, exclusive of the index and other embelllshments. Wonder if Andy Carnegie has room in his libraries for these books?

The number of Buckeye delegates to the next convention is pretty good evidence that the people of that State are sure enough hustlers for office. The Bucks are booked strong enough to hold a pretty good-sized convention by their lonesome.

The 1904 Convention of the International Pressmen's Union will be held in St. Louis, the I. T. U. is pretty apt to go there, too, and so will the Bookbinders, all of which will have a tendency to make the race here for delegate the hottest ever.

"Pard" Bloomer, like Silas Wegg, dropped into poetry in the Sunday Post, and his "Scum Is on the Frog Pond" recalls familiar scenes of boyhood days to many. Keep it up, "Pard," and you may yet attain to that dignity when they publish you in double column with a border all around, and then you are It.

The binders of the Union Branch are much pleased at the promotion of Peter Frank to the foremanship. He's only a young fellow, but he has not increased the size of his hat nor swelled any other way, knows his business thoroughly, the men say, treats everybody impartially and respectfully, and gives every evidence of being a fit man for the place.

I have no sympathy with these attacks on the daily papers for their editorial attitude toward organized labor. I think that so long as a publisher pays the union scale and employs union labor to do his work it is none of our business whether he favors unions or not any more than it is our business what his religious belief is. No one is obliged to buy a paper he don't like; so let it go at that.

The Ex-Delegates are going to take the Convention people to Arlington and Mount Vernon, and then return to Alexandria, where the historic points of interests will be visited and a banquet held in the the Armory building. I hope my friend Donath gets a chance to make a speech under a little more favorable auspices than on an occasion some years ago when we were trying to work up some interest in labor matters in Alexandria.

July 1 will see Washington with a sure-enough fire-fighter at the head of its Fire Department in the person of William T. Belt, one of the best fellows in the world, whom to know is to admire. There is no better way to get a line on a man than through the people under him. Of course, the truckler and the sycophant abounds everywhere, but the great majority are honest and faithful, and when they all say a man is O.K., you can gamble he is pretty near the right kind. And that class all speak highly of Billy Belt.

My friend Charlie Schulte, of the Night Press Room, returned from the late convention in Cincinnati with so many laurels or something of that sort that he has not entirely recuperated as yet. Rumor says he was the most popular man in the Queen City, and they offered to make him Burgomeister of the Rhine if he would remain, but Boss Cox got onto the fact that Schulte in six days' had made friends of and knew personally 375,450 of the 376,000 inhabitants, and that he was apt to develop into a dangerous rival of Mark Hanna, so they loaded Charlie and his laurels on the Fast Flying Virginian of the C. & O. and sent him back to the vicinity of Rockville, Md.

I ran across "Judge" Hollahan, a broth of a boy of some seventy years, the other day. I had not seen the Judge for some years, and we had quite a match over "ould times" in "the Poodle," as he termed it. The Judge is a fine old fellow, with the same brogue with which he landed many years ago, and as fond of a joke and a good story as the people from the little green isle generally. I recalled seeing him play a game of pinochle with a well-known physician one time and melding 1,000 with seven aces, the doctor having the other ace in his own hand and never noticing it, and asked him if he remembered it, but he only said, "Gwan now; you always would have your joke."

One of the New York dailies, noted for its friendship toward organized labor, had a story recently of a gentleman rushing frantically into a Broadway tailor shop to have the "badge of bondage," as he termed the tailors' label, removed from his garment. That might be so; but no one but a fool would get ruffled about such a thing. I don't suppose the tailors put the label on the clothing of people who don't want it on any more than we put the label on printing unless requested. I also saw where the committee conducting one of those prize contests for one of the printers' journals turned down one of the exhibits because it "was disfigured by the badge of servitude." There are a few of this class of people, but, like the dodo, they are d—d few.

I venture the prediction that another smooth article has come to the front in this Mr. Paul Herman, who is contesting for the work of the money-order division of the Post-Office Department. This rooster was a clerk for the Wynkoop-Hallenbeck Company, New York, and held his position with that firm until he learned the figures they would bid for the coming four years, and then resigns and puts in a much lower bid himself. He has, no doubt, roped in some suckers with the coin, and will win no matter whether the prices he has bid are too low or not. That is a game that has been played very successfully more than once, but Josiah Quincy and a few more of Cleveland's Department chiefs got about the rawest deal of that kind on the Patent Office Gazette contract in the early 90's.

There is a good, true story going the rounds of one of these Government division chiefs, who goes into seclusion himself at certain periods of the year, but requires all his subordinates when they remain away to furnish a doctor's certificate as to the cause, etc. Quite recently one of the employees of this fellow's division turned up after a short absence with a certificate from a well-known physician that his absence had been due to illness. The chief was in one of his tantrums that morning and turned the employee down, with the assertion that he would not believe that doctor on oath, and that doctor went to the head of that Department, had Mister Chief called before him, and made him almost get down on his knees and beg for mercy, as all such creatures will do when they are confronted by a man.

Anent the appointment of Mr. "Smooth" Watson to the position he ably filled in the District auditor's office, a friend of mine informs me that, on the advice of one of the Commissioners, he also filed an application for the same position, accompanied by indorsements of the highest character, and with a number of others spent a whole day at the Civil Service Commission going through the very rigid examination supposed to be necessary to get the place. So far as he is concerned, he says, he never heard whether he passed high, low, or any other way, and one or two others have informed him they were similarly treated. The first information my friend had in regard to the result of the examination was Brother Petty's statement in his elaborate defense that Watson passed No. 1, but as Brother Petty confesses that he thought he was obliging Mr. Commissioner Beach in the choice of Watson, the inference is that it made no difference how he was rated—he would have been appointed anyway. What a humbug this Civil Service is!

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Sometimes a man is willing to remain at the foot of the ladder for the purpose of pulling others down.

Hot Tamales and Chile at The Ranch, 507 F street n. w. Near Pension Office.

AN ARBITRATION AGREEMENT

To Be Entered Into by Employers and Allied Building Trades.

FULL TEXT OF THE AGREEMENT

Splendid Work Done by Special Committee. Harmonious Conclusion of all Difficulties. No Doubt of Its Ratification by the Unions Interested—Arbitration Board Selected.

The Council of Allied Building Trades of the Central Labor Union took a progressive step Tuesday night by going on record as being in favor of conciliation committees between the unions affiliated with the Council and their employers, and with that end in view elected five delegates to serve with a like number from the Association of Employing Contractors of the Building Trades of the District of Columbia as a board of arbitration. This is a move in the right direction, and the Council of Allied Building Trades is to be commended in taking such action, and the affiliated unions should feel that they have accomplished more than some of the largest and most strongly organized cities are now striving hard to secure. Too much can not be said in praise of the Council and its efficient officers for their conservative methods of doing business, and the gains that have been made in harmonizing the crafts engaged in the building line. The outline for agreement is as follows:

AGREEMENT FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A BOARD OF ARBITRATION.

This agreement made the —— day of ——, in the year one thousand nine hundred and ——, by and between the Employers' Association of the Building Trades of the District of Columbia, a voluntary association having its usual place of business in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, party of the first part, and the Council of Allied Building Trades of the Central Labor Union of the District of Columbia, a voluntary association having its place of business in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, party of the second part—

Witnesseth: For the purpose of establishing a method of peacefully settling all questions of mutual concern, the said parties of the first and second parts, severally and jointly, agree that no such question should be conclusively acted upon by one body or association independently, but should be referred for settlement to a Joint Conciliation Committee, consisting of an equal number of representatives from each association concerned, and also agree that earnest endeavor should be made to settle all such questions by their own trade, without intervention of any other trade whatsoever; but in the event of failure of Joint Conciliation Committee to agree upon any question the matter shall be referred to a Board of Arbitration composed of an equal number of representatives from the Employers' Association of the Building Trades of the District of Columbia and the Council of Allied Building Trades of the Central Labor Union of the District of Columbia, and an umpire who is not connected with the building trade.

Therefore, The parties hereto mutually agree that the Board of Arbitration hereinbefore referred to, consisting of five representatives from the Employers' Association of the Building Trades of the District of Columbia and five representatives of the Council of Allied Building Trades of the Central Labor Union of the District of Columbia, is hereby created and established and the following rules adopted for its guidance:

1. This Board shall consist of ten members, equally divided between the associations represented. The members of the Board shall be elected annually by the respective associations at their regular meetings for the election of officers. Whenever any matter is referred to the Board by either of the parties forming a conciliation committee representing a building trade in the District of Columbia and before considering the case, they, the Board, shall agree upon an umpire, and the umpire thus chosen must not be connected with the building trade. He may act as presiding officer, and shall have the casting vote as provided in Rule 6.

2. The duty of this Board shall be to consider such matters of mutual interest and concern to the employers and the workmen as may be regularly referred to it by either of the parties concerned, transmitting its conclusions thereon to each association concerned for its government.

3. Special meetings shall be held when either of the parties hereto desire to submit any question to the Board for settlement.

4. For the proper conduct of business a chairman shall be chosen at each meeting, but he shall preside only for the meeting at which he is chosen. The duty of the chairman shall be that usually incumbent on a presiding officer.

5. A clerk shall be chosen at the annual meeting, to serve during the year. His duty shall be to call all regular meetings, and to call special meetings when officially requested so to do by either party hereto. He shall keep true and accurate record of the meetings, transmit all findings to the associations interested, and attend to the usual duties of the office.

6. A majority vote shall decide all questions. Three members of the Board representing each party hereto shall constitute a quorum, and in no case shall any matter be considered with an unequal representation. Should any member be directly interested in a matter to be considered, he shall not be eligible to serve on the case, and the president of the association he represents shall appoint a substitute in his place. In case of the absence or inability of any member, the president of the association by which he was appointed shall have the right to appoint a substitute in his place. The umpire shall have the casting vote in case of tie upon any question, and his decision shall be final and binding.

In witness whereof, The parties hereto, duly authorized by their respective associations, have caused these presents to be subscribed, and their respective seals to be affixed, by officials hereunto duly and specially authorized and empowered.

The Board of Arbitration of the Allied Building Trades Council, selected for the ensuing term, is Edward Stevens, George A. Malone, Charles W. Winslow, Eugene M. Van Ness, and Edward J. Ratigan.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

ALLIED BUILDING TRADES.

Arbitration Committee Appointed to Act On Proposed Agreement.

The regular weekly meeting of the Council of Allied Building Trades of the Central Labor Union was held Tuesday evening at 719 Sixth street northwest. In the absence of the chairman and vice chairman, Delegate Winslow, of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, was called to the chair.

Roll call disclosed the presence of 32 delegates from 18 unions.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

CREDENTIALS.

From Local Union No, 368, Painters, certifying to W. M. Lewis, George W. Seiben, and Daniel Lear.

From Local Union No. 77, Engineers, certifying to William Bowman, D. P. McCracken, and William Rhodes.

The delegates were seated.

A communication was received from Brotherhood of Carpenters, No. 884, asking information as to a reduction in the price of working card. Laid on table.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

From W. J. Costello, submitting a second proposition to rent hall corner of Sixth and G streets northwest. Referred to Hall Committee with power to act.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Delegate Winslow reported from Central Labor Union relative to Chapin & Sacks.

The minutes of the Executive Committee meetings of June 24 and 28 were read, and as the recommendation called for the election of an arbitration committee to act with a like committee from the Association of Employing Contractors, it was agreed that the order of business be suspended and the matter discussed. After considerable debate the recommendation of the committee, which called for the election of five delegates, to be known as the Arbitration Committee, was concurred in, and the following delegates elected: Ed. Stevens, George A. Malone, C. W. Winslow, E. M. Van Ness, and E. J. Ratigan.

CALL OF UNIONS.

Steam Fitters reported that the arbitration and conciliation had been agreed to by their union at their last meeting.

Steam Fitters' Helpers stated that their demands had not as yet been acceded to, but that they would hold meetings with employers and thought that the matter would be adjusted.

Adjourned.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Lake-Dietz.

On Tuesday, June 30, at St. Aloysius Rectory, Rev. E. X. Fink officiating, Vivian E. Lake was married to Miss Lillian L. Dietz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sydenham B. Dietz.

TO THE FAIR YOUNG BRIDE.

As the sun shone bright on the day that you wed,
So may joy shine ever on the pathway you tread;
May your life be serene (for your own worthy sake),
As unrippled waters on your own placid Lake.

—H. A. McP.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Official Organ Central Labor Union and Allied Building Trades, A. F. of L.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

The Trades Unionist Publishing Company

E. W. PATTON.....President
A. J. E. HUBBARD.....Vice-President
T. M. RING.....Secretary

Office: 441 443 G Street Northwest.

TELEPHONE EAST 15 Y.

SUBSCRIPTION

One year (in advance) - - - - $1.00
Six months (in advance) - - - - .50

Entered at the Post-Office, Washington, D. C. as Second-Class Matter.

THE TRADES UNIONIST is heartily and unqualifiedly indorsed by the Central Labor Union and the Allied Building Trades as well as by the various locals connected with the two central bodies.

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL WASHINGTON 2

Only Eight-Hour Union Office in Town.

THURSDAY, JULY 2, 1903.

Washington Navy Yard.

The effort to have the scale of wages now in force at the Washington Navy Yard increased for the machinists and patternmakers ought to be successful. There is no branch of Government work that calls for an equal amount of skill as in the Gun Factory; neither is there another branch of the service that smacks so much of bureaucracy as the Navy Yard in this city.

That the conditions surrounding the employment of skilled artisans in this branch of the service should remain without a change looking to the bettering of the conditions of the men in the Gun Factory shows clearly that without organized effort on the part of the men no improvement can be expected through the bureau in charge. True, the wage board meets semi-annually to fix the rate of pay for the men employed in the various parts of the yard, but to look for anything like a substantial increase in pay would be a matter of considerable speculation when it is considered that the board is composed of officers of the Navy, who may want to be fair in their estimate, but who have no interest in common with the men, as their practical experience is confined solely to the yard they are connected with.

By all means let the men have their increase. Every other trade has been advanced with the increased cost of living, and the men at the Navy Yard should be given like consideration.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM.

At a meeting of the Union League Club, of Rochester, N. Y., on June 23, W. S. Waudby was indorsed for Commissioner of Labor and elected an honorary member. This is pretty good evidence of his standing where he is best known. The Union League of Rochester is the largest club in Western New York.

Some one having charged that Waudby is a Socialist, he states that he never belonged to anything more socialistic than the Typographical Union. He gives the following as his platform, without claiming to be its author:

A legal workday of not more than eight hours.

The abolition of the contract system in all public work.

Direct legislation through the initiative and referendum.

Repeal of all conspiracy and penal laws affecting seamen and other workmen incorporated in the Federal and State laws of the United States.

The abolition of the sweating system.

Sanitary inspection of workshop, mine, and home.

The abolition of the monopoly system of land-holding, and substituting therefor a title of occupancy and use only.

Compulsory education.

The nationalization of telegraph, telephone, railroads, and mines.

The abolition of the monopoly privilege of issuing money and substituting therefor a system of direct issuance to and by the people.

The municipal ownership of street cars, water works, and gas and electric plants for public distribution of light, heat, and power.

Liability of employers for injury to health, body, and life.

There does not appear to be anything desperately socialistic in this programme. In fact, I have heard people denounce the Socialists who I know subscribe to these dogmas.

* * * *

The following appeared in the Ohio State Journal, of Columbus, of recent date. Are they not a pair o' lies to paralyze one?

DEMANDS FISH ON FRIDAY.

Perhaps the Government Printing Office produces some of the most freaky cats to be found in the city. One, a large, black fellow, was taken in hand by a young man named Newsom, and he says he succeeded in training him to that point where he would not eat meat on Friday. On this day the cat expected fish, and if he didn't get it, he would refuse meat and content himself with milk. Another cat makes his home in the proof room—the "brainery"—and will not associate with the cats of the composing and press rooms. He seems to be afflicted with a severe case of swelled head, and does not wish to associate with the common herd.

A COSTLY CAT FIGHT.

It is related that a costly cat fight occurred in the Government "printery" several years ago. Then, as now, there was a large force employed at night during the session of Congress.

One night, about 11 o'clock, when everything was rushing along and the click, click, click of the type as they dropped in the sticks made music at the rate of 60 cents an hour for the compositors, suddenly there was a wild caterwauling in the center of the main room, and the cats went together at a lively rate, making the fur fly in every direction. Printers dropped their sticks and rushed out of the alleys to see the fun, and for ten minutes or thereabouts there was no work; but the worst part of the fight was that in the general stampede a form just ready for the press was pied the worst way.

When the battle was over it was figured up that the loss of time, the pieing of the form, and the hilarity which followed had cost Uncle Sam about $400.

* * * *

Johnny Hogan, of the Night Bill Force, demonstrated that he is an able hero at the Royal Arcanum excursion last week, and he was none the less a hero that he was interested in the beneficiary of his heroism. He was fishing off the wharf and had just caught and was reasoning with a large eel when a commotion arose and he saw a child in the river. Without a moment's hesitation, "accoutered as he was," he sprang in to the rescue, caught the struggling child, and it was only when he was handing it up to others on the wharf that he discovered that it was his own boy. Neither was the worse for the ducking.

* * * *

Last week I chanced to mention Dave Updegraff as being in Savannah when I was there, some years ago, and now F. W. Gist tells me that he is running a job office in Montgomery, Ala. I remember a circumstance that caused a good deal of amusement among printers in Savannah, and among other people, too, in which Dave was concerned. There was a carnival in January, 1873, in which everybody cut loose, as is usual on such occasion in the South, and Dave, who was exceedingly tall and thin, was a conspicuous figure. He had a very long nose and a moustache with a spread of about 14 inches, and with a long tailed coat and a stovepipe hat he was a pretty good ready-made Mephistopheles. He had a seat that night well down to the front at the theatre, and during the most interesting part of the play he put on his hat, rose, and looked around at the audience, a false nose adding to the ridiculousness of his make-up. The audience roared, yelled, and shrieked with laughter until two able-bodied policemen dragged Updegraff out and off to the station-house, though he had not said a word. He was let out with a lecture and a warning the next day.

* * * *

I received a 16-page pamphlet full of argument in favor of District suffrage, from my friend E. W. Oyster, the other day. While all the "law and the gospel"—the principles of American liberty and the genius of republican institutions—are in accord with the aims and objects of the "suffrage shriekers," there is not yet that demand from an "outraged people" that is necessary to attract the attention of the country at large. An outraged people who don't kick about it stand little show of having their wrongs righted. The principle is all skeegy; it is the practice, the results, that the vast majority are leary of. In principle, every man should have a vote; in practice, about half of those who now have votes should be disfranchised.

When I read of the political frauds, rascality, and rottenness of great cities it is a conundrum in my mind whether the inhabitants of all cities should not be disfranchised—not that city people are innately more dishonest than country people, but their opportunities are so much greater. In the country everybody knows everybody else and there is little chance for fraud except by absolute sale of votes, but in the city nobody knows one-half even of the people on his own block and fraud is easy. If we could have measurably honest city elections and government, I would be for the change; but I would not be willing to change our "absolute despotism" for the worse and rottener despotisms that rule New York, Philadelphia, and Chicago, and the only reason that these are worse than the others is that they are larger. How much ice does the ordinary, average honest voter cut in these cities? Not a little bit. Every ward bummer is his equal, and often many times his equal in voting strength, and the ward bummer may not have any more right to vote even once than a brindle pup. We've too much suffrage already, Brother Oyster.

I may have expressed myself differently on this subject at some time in the past, and I will probably change my mind two or three more times before the time comes when it will make any difference what anybody thinks about it.

* * * *

I've never known
Tentative stone
Thrown into unknown dark
But what a yell
From pup would tell
That it had hit the mark.

* * * *

D. L. ("Denny") Moynihan, having graduated in the law a year or so ago, recently took the examination for law clerk and received and accepted an appointment in the Post-Office Department. As he graduated high and is studious, not to mention that he is naturally a very bright man, I predict for him a successful career and rapid advancement in position.

* * * *

Charles L. Spencer, who was in charge of the plate vaults (Chief of the Bureau of Solidified Intelligence) during the last administration, and who has been working on the New York Press recently, underwent an operation for hydrocele at Bellevue Hospital, New York, last Saturday, and though the result was feared, it was highly successful and the patient was doing well at last accounts.

* * * *

The Ex-Delegates' Association met last Sunday afternoon, with an unusually good attendance. The programme was settled on for Ex-Delegates' Day, being a trolley trip to Arlington and thence to Mount Vernon, stopping at Alexandria on the return trip, where the sights will be seen and a lunch eaten. The association is counting on 600 people, and will make its arrangements accordingly. A handsome souvenir invitation and programme was decided upon. The association adjourned to meet on the second Sunday in July.

* * * *

Dr. De Witt C. Chadwick will be starting on an extensive summer outing trip about the time this paper goes to press, which will extend somewhat beyond the civilization line in Canada. He will be one of a party who are going to camp for a month on the shores of Lake Nipissing, and the time will be spent in hunting and fishing. The Doctor, who needs this recreation because of the great demands which have been made on his strength, will return in time for the convention.

* * * *

The McGregor Herald, published at McGregor, McLennan County, Texas, is the name of the paper that Benjamin L. Stidham, recently of the Night Bill Force, is connected with. It is a 6-column 8-page paper, with an advertising patronage that is a guaranty of prosperity, and Mr. Stidham's many friends will be glad to learn that his lines have fallen in such pleasant places.

* * * *

I received a letter from R. C. Hardesty the other day, containing nothing of general interest, and I only mention the fact to say that the stationery he uses shows that his Berthoud (Colo.) Bulletin office is capable of a class of job work equal to that done anywhere. Mr. Hardesty will be remembered as a proofreader in the G. P. O. five or six years ago.

* * * *

If we have voted to take part in the celebration of Labor Day as an organization—I say "if," for at this typewriting I have not heard the result of the vote—let us do it as though we meant it. I know we are a swell lot, but we are workingmen for all that and work at so much per hour. We are members of a labor union—if we were not we would be working at so much less per hour—and we should take advantage of this opportunity to show what a figure we cut numerically. These labor parades and demonstrations impress people exactly in proportion to their magnitude, and the community will have a wholesome respect for an organization that can turn out several hundred strong on the day set apart in its honor. Let us exhibit to the public that we are a great combination of workingmen who are banded together in our own interest, that we are a unit in our objects, and that we propose to stand by our friends and against our enemies.

* * * *

Owen L. Carter, lately of the Night Bill Force, has opened a grocery store at the northeast corner of North Capitol and M streets, where he promises to keep the best goods in the market at "prices that are right." Those who know Mr. Carter have no doubt that he will carry out his promise, and as a printer trying to break away from the business he deserves the patronage of his fellow-craftsmen.

A. F. BLOOMER.

Fifth Division.

A. W. Bowen returned from a fifteen days' vacation last Monday, and resumed his place at the head of this division.

For the first time in many a day our timekeeper checked off a full attendance last Monday, not an absentee on account of sickness or otherwise.

C. E. Morton left for Albany, Ohio, Thursday morning, accompanied by Mrs. Morton, for a thirty days' stay. During his absence E. F. Geyer will have charge of the time alley.

One day last week, while playing tag with the children, Charles Dietrich discovered at the cost of a hat that a tree box will not serve for a hat tree very well, especially when the hat is left out over night.

At the election for chairman for the ensuing quarter, held last Wednesday, C. E. Dietrich was re-elected, receiving 49 votes against 28 of his opponent, H. J. Smith. A feature of the election was the delicate position in which Morrow was placed, with a candidate on each side of him. His fine diplomacy, however, smoothed it over very nicely.

While Simon Pocher was out enjoying a lunch the other day some one fond of a practical joke took the opportunity to fix his apron for him. When Pocher returned and donned his apron he felt a crawling sensation in the region of his stomach which did not exactly correspond with the lifeless material he had tucked away under his belt. Investigation discovered a live crab in his apron pocket.

The Job Room ball team failed to appear on the field last Friday, thus forfeiting the game to the Fifth. This winds up the G. P. O. League for this year, with the Fifth as the winner of the pennant, which now decorates the wall of this room. The Fifth had good material to work with, and played excellent ball the entire season. The champion team is still open for engagements with any division team.

The Government Printing Office Baseball League finished the series of games this week, The First, Third, and Fifth division teams showed great improvement during the last of the series, and it is probable that another league along different lines will be organized. The Second, Fourth, and Job Room teams were unable to play their full quota of games and forfeited a number in this way. Following is the standing:

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Fifth Division	10	0	1.000
First Division	6	4	.600
Third Division	5	5	.500
Job Room	2	8	.200
Second Division	1	9	.100

RAN.

Foreign Newspapers.

France has 6,733, daily papers and other periodicals. Of these Paris issues 2,865, and the provinces 3,888. Paris has 147 dailies, 781 weeklies, 968 monthlies, and 409 semi-monthlies. Outside of Paris there are in France 338 dailies, 1,045 weeklies, 661 monthlies, 242 semi-monthlies, and 1,602, appear every two or three months. In Russia during the past year there were issued 872 newspapers and periodicals in Russian, Finnish, Swedish, Polish, Lettlandish, Armenian, and French.—Buchdrucker Zeitung.

FOR THE BEST--
READY-TO-WEAR
—FOR—
Man, Woman and Child
AT THE MOST REASONABLE PRICES,
CONSULT—
Parker, Bridget & Co.,
Washington's Leading Outfitters, ...
Pa. Ave. and 9th St. N. W.

Union Made Cigars
OF THE FINEST QUALITY.
Pluck 5¢ | OFFTE'S BOUQUET 10¢
AFTER DINNER 5¢ | DEER HEAD 10¢
Henry T. Offterdinger, Manufacturer
504 Ninth St., N.W.

Independent Oil Company
ONE OF WASHINGTON'S NEW INDUSTRIES
We own an interest in a large Refining Plant which enables us to keep in stock at all times large quantities of Oil and Gasoline and other Products of Petroleum. Lubricating Oils and Greases is our specialty. Give us a call.
Phone East 879-M
R. C. BAUCHMAN
MANAGER

ARLINGTON BREWING CO.
ROSSLYN, VA.
BEER ALE PORTER
The Finest Productions of Skilled Union Labor. Union Label on Every Bottle and Keg of Our Goods.

DULIN & MARTIN CO.
FORMERLY BEVERIDGE'S
1215 F St. N. W. and 1214, 1216 and 1218 G St. N. W.
TEN PER CENT REDUCTION
on all cash purchases to reduce stock, prior to moving into our annex building. This reduction applies to all departments of the store, including cut glass, sterling silver, bric-a-brac, ornaments, lamps and globes, and over a hundred patterns of foreign and domestic china.
We make this reduction now that it may be a saving to those furnishing a summer home or who wish to replenish any household necessities, such as are commendable for the summer season. Profitable savings realized on the already low price at which we are selling the Eddy refrigerator as well as ice cream freezers, water coolers, and a long list of summer requisites. Goods that are already marked down 25 to 33⅓ per cent are also subject to this cash discount.

R. B. BUCKLEY
Merchant Tailoring
POPULAR PRICES!
1343 F ST. N. W.

THE UNION STORE
On Easy Street in Thrifty Town
There lives a grocer of renown;
From dawn of day 'till six at night
His store presents a busy sight.
The reason's plain—the unions know,
His goods are clean, that makes them go—to
H. I. MEADER'S ODEL MODERNIZED MARKET
535-37 EIGHTH ST. SOUTHEAST
TELEPHONE MAIN 908-A

In preparing for your vacation do not overlook the fact that one of our Blue Serge, Homespun, or Scotch Cheviot Sack Suits is indispensable if appearance and comfort is to be considered. We are showing a very large line of fabrics selected especially for outing purposes. Remember, we rank second to none in tailoring. Our garments have individuality and expression that stamps them as being "High-Grade." Get acquainted with our way of making clothes by ordering one of our Celebrated $25 Suits, made by Union Tailors.
Special sale of Trousers, $6.50 to Order.
T. E. Gilbert
IMPORTER AND TAILOR
818 F St. Northwest

Steam Cleaning and Dye Works
(Formerly New York Dye House)
I do the most perfect Cleaning and Dyeing at most reasonable rates. Goods called for and returned. C. W. MARGRAF, Proprietor
Telephone 3483 Main
907 9th St. N. W., and 631 D St. N. W.

PRINTERS and Union Members.—For First-Class Meals, Eat at
VICTOR CAFE, 3 H St. N. W.
ALBION, Eleventh and E Sts. N. W.
ERIN, Cor. N. J. Ave. and D St. N. W.
U. S. LUNCH ROOM, 320 12th St. N. W.
ALBERT T. SCANLAND, Prop.
Open Day and Night. Best Service.

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES
OF
Columbia Typographical Union,
No. 101.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, 423 G ST. N. W.
Office Hours: 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.; 5 to 7 P. M.

OFFICERS.

JOE M. JOHNSON.....President
DAN C. VAUGHAN.....Vice-President
WM. M. GARRETT.....Secretary
JOHN R. BERG.....Treasurer
FRANK BATES.....Sergeant-at-Arms
N. C. STOOPS.....Doorkeeper

TRUSTEES—J. E. Bright, chairman; W. L. Gutelius, Chas. C. Thompson, Joe M. Johnson, and Wm. M. Garrett.

DELEGATES TO CENTRAL LABOR UNION—J. H. Babcock, chairman; J. B. Dickman, Hugh Everett, Theodore Gerber, and C. E. Dietrich.

DELEGATES TO ALLIED TRADES COUNCIL—E. E. Calhoon, chairman; T. F. Hall, and J. P. Garner.

AUDITORS—C. W. Radley, chairman; H. G. Brown, and J. W. Carter.

COMMITTEES.

BUSINESS—Zach T. Jenkins, chairman; C. B. Yater, M. J. Maher, T. C. Parsons, and R. W. Burnside.

NOMINATIONS—W. N. Brockwell, chairman; F. A. Kidd, H. O'Donnell, Frank M. Hatley, and R. E. Stenner.

LAWS—Chas. H. Ennis, chairman; Raymond Gery, and Dexter S. Hussey.

FINANCE—John A. Huston, chairman; J. M. McLaughlin, and R. F. Chisholm.

PRINTING—T. A. Bynum, chairman; Milo Shanks, and Ed. J. Hall.

GRIEVANCE—Clint O. Price, chairman; Chas. S. Gunn, Philip Nachman, David J. Snyder, and E. Y. Fisher.

ENTERTAINMENT—T. L. Jones, chairman; J. R. Purvis, T. J. Fitzwilliam, Miss Nellie Theaker, Miss Anna Wilson, B. E. Harrison, and W. J. Harris.

CONFERENCE—J. L. Holland, chairman; D. J. Hegarty, and W. B. Shaw.

LIBRARY—Clyde J. Sheriff, chairman; A. E. Ogg, and Harry Essex.

RELIEF—Joseph G. Stelle, chairman; Wm. S. Schinnerer and E. P. Cummins.

EIGHT-HOUR—F. C. Roberts, chairman; F. B. Crown, F. D. Seiffert, Jeff Newlon, and S. H. Willey.

MEMORIAL SERVICE—S. J. Gompers, chairman; Philip S. Steele, J. E. Goodkey, J. B. Dickman, and C. B. Yater.

AMOS J. CUMMINGS MEMORIAL—J. T. Rowe, chairman; Charles T. Graff, and T. A. Bynum.

CHAIRMEN.

First Division—R. L. Mabrey.
Second Division—W. N. Goldstein.
Third Division—D. J. Snyder.
Fourth Division—Charles H. Gove.
Fifth Division—Charles E. Dietrich.
Sixth Division—E. M. Nevils.
Job Room—J. K. Davison.
Record Clerks' Division—H. G. Brown.
First Division. Night—Will E. Burchfield.
Night Proof Room—E. H. Thomas.
Specification Room—E. A. Hutchison.
Official Gazette—Jere Walsh.
Document Proof Room—Jas. R. Armstrong.
Treasury Division—W. Brice Coston.
Interior Division—C. K. Stribling.
State Division—J. B. Dickman.
Navy Department Division—Albert E. Ogg.
War Department Division—Wm. K. Miller.
Agricultural Division—Henry P. Slaughter.
Library Division—H. V. Bisbee.
Weather Bureau—L. H. Emmons.
Morning Post—H. J. Broderick
Evening Star—Joseph C. Whyte.
Evening Times—T. C. Parsons.
Law Reporter—J. R. Johnson.
Globe Printing Co.—R. A. Wilson.
Judd & Detweiler's—A. B. Barringer.
Wilkens Printing Co.—T. N. Surguy.
Pearson's—T. F. Monahan.
National Publishing Co.—E. C. Owen.
McGill & Wallace's—J. M. Watts.
Byron S. Adams'—R. B. Boucher.
Army and Navy Register—C. H. Draeger.
General Postoffice—Joseph Williams.
Sudwarth's—F. R. Adams.

AROUND THE PRINTERIES.

Down Town.

Cheer up.

Saturday the Fourth.

Summer arrived June 30.

J. W. Lynch, assistant foreman of the Baltimore Herald, was in town Tuesday calling on friends.

D. C. Williams, an old timer to men who have been on the road, was in the city Monday en route to Scranton, Pa. Dave is an all round printer, and at present is receiving a pension for services rendered in the Philippines. Mr. Williams will be a visitor in the city during convention week next August.

B. F. Williams, one of the most popular men on the bicycle squad of the police force, and a well-known member of Columbia Typographical Union, No. 101, having worked in the G. P. O. and down town, was the recipient of one of the two gold watches given by the S. P. C. A. to each precinct for zeal displayed in taking in custody drivers and others who were cruel to animals during the past year. Ben takes his honors with due modesty.

The Washington TRADES UNIONIST began the eighth year of its useful existence last week. Here is hoping that ever welcome sheet, with its corps of clever and entertaining contributors, will continue in business for many years to come. May the Lord preserve A. F. Bloomer's health. I always read his department twice. I would like to see Messrs. Patton & Ring turn their staff loose on the convention with full power to act.—Western Laborer..

First Division.

W. A. Mitchell is going to Hot Springs, Ark., while on his vacation.

Sergt. C. E. Groone has been selected as one of the team to go to Sea Girt.

The vote in this division as to whether we should parade or not resulted as follows: For, 37; against, 67.

Harry Gunn has returned from his wedding trip and received the hearty congratulations of the entire room.

The First Division baseball team will play the team that expects to represent the Union during the coming convention to-day.

The election for chairman took place last Tuesday, and after a spirited contest "Judge" Mabrey was elected over "Commodore" Love by a vote of 70 to 69.

W. E. Cobb is called the silent man on account of an important engagement he contemplates keeping in the near future. Congratulations will now be in order.

The following compositors will start on their vacation beginning Thursday: William McFarlane, W. A. Mitchell, L. A. Wisener, H. E. Faust, Samuel Ferrier, W. E. Young, W. J. Fuhrman, R. P. Piehoff, N. P. Moyer, A. J. Campbell, and J. T. Haskins.

The First Division baseball team defeated the strong team of the Third Division last Tuesday by a score of 8 to 3. The battery work of Wisener and McConnell, of the First, was the feature of the game, as only three hits were made off of Wisener's delivery.

The following letter received by Chairman Mabrey explains itself:

Mr. Mabrey, Chairman, and Gentlemen of the First Division:

The testimonial of good will in the form of an exquisitely fine silver service, sent us by you on the occasion of our marriage, challenges our admiration and thanks, and will be a lasting reminder of your generosity.

Trust we may be pardoned in the future for so natural a pride in such a distinguished and dainty gift, accompanied at it was by the hearty good wishes of Mr. Gunn's coworkers, an act most generous and greatly appreciated by us both.

We will be most happy to see you at our home, 94 Bates street, after the 15th of July.

Sincerely and cordially yours,
MR. AND MRS. H. S. GUNN.

JUNE 29, 1902.

CLOTILDE.

Hot Tamales and Chile at The Ranch, 507 F street n. w. Near Pension Office.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Second Division.

J. C. Keelan took his final day's leave Monday.

HE called time Monday—and then the whistle blew.

J. W. Childress is now understudy for Razey over in the new building.

Geo. Sherman took his final leave Monday and Tuesday—only two days left.

The old symposium triumvirate seem to be renewing their activity of late—wonder why.

W. V. Parshall takes a month's leave commencing to-day. He will spend the time at his home in Detroit.

E. N. Bunker, ("whissy") will spend his month's leave up in Martha's Vineyard (his home county), Mass.

Mr. John Garner and wife caught 102 crabs in three hours and a half at Chesapeake Beach last Wednesday.

Now that the whistle blows again those who take the fresh air at noon do not worry about getting in on time.

"Skipper" (Newt.) McFadyen says he will sail his yacht against Lipton's if Thomas will take a handicap of 21 miles out of 23.

On Wednesday Mr. W. G. Saltzman, the Second's postmaster, departed for a day's trip to Brookland, D. C. Fervent were the good bys and handshakes he received from his many admirers, who wished him a safe return to our midst.

The correcting alley has earned the title of Puzzle Alley. Being so accustomed to working out the proof-sheet puzzles they are always ready to try any other kind of old puzzle sprung on them. If you have anything new in this line, take it down there.

At the meeting for election of chairman Tuesday the present incumbent was unanimously re-elected. John W. Belcher was selected as secretary. The only incident of note was the fining of a former chairman $1.00 for not having carried out the instructions of the chapel when he was acting as chairman.

Among the campaign rumors for next year is that a lady candidate will run. She would undoubtedly receive a solid complimentary vote. It is also said Mr. Garrett will have determined opposition. It was rumored that some of the stalwarts had already arranged the entire ticket and there was no use for outsiders to enter the race.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Third Division.

There is no telling when that moving will commence.

Charles Read finished up his leave Saturday and Monday.

Joe Stelle takes defeat so serene that he should be elected next year.

If we take that nickel off "South Carolina" Martin will be happy.

Will Morris sprained his wrist last week, trying to lift to heavy a load.

We have a floater in this division who has worked on seven frames in one month.

Titus F. Ellis was out Saturday fixing things to entertain the delegates to the convention.

The candidates for chairman on Monday were Burr Williams, John Williams, Trainham, Trudgian, Nace, Tuck, and W. Lum Ang Lin.

"Deacon" Wright, Dr. Trudgian, Jesse Morgan, Mr. Colton, and J. H. Williams, are striving to revise the chapel rules this week.

You can all talk about your poets all you want to, but there is but one poet. "Daddy" McPike is the only poet, and this division will back him against all comers.

"Do your neighbor as he would do you, and do him first," is the maxim that the man should have followed who met the "colored gemman" with the hammer last week.

The teacher in the Washington public schools who sends the children on errands to pay her rent, to the grocery, the bank, to whitewash her yard, to the washerwoman, and other places too numerous to mention, and fails to transfer them, should be dealt with, and the case is not isolated either.

J. W. Carter returned Wednesday, after an absence of three weeks, dividing his time between Baltimore, Washington Grove and the mountains. During his absence H. J. Southwick officiated at the copy desk, and pronounces running copy for one hundred and thirty-five primer hands and about forty english a rather "strenuous" task.

If the Union says that the chapel shall not pay more than the scale, why would it not be as possible to say that a proprietor should not pay more than the scale? If the members of the chapel shall not do as they please with their money, how can they buy banners without the union's sanction? If the chapel can't do as the majority sees fit in holding elections, suppose the union send a committee to hold the election? Suppose no member of the chapel will serve on the election board, or the chapel refuse to pay them, what then?

HOOSIER.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Chesapeake Beach.

The question where to spend the heated term by Washingtonians of moderate means has always been a perplexing one, but now that the mercury is exploring the higher figures of the thermometer the problem is again presented and a solution sought. There is no place like Chesapeake Beach, and certainly none which can compare in inducements. Within an hour's ride of the Capital it is possible for Department people and business men to spend the evenings with their families at this beautiful resort and reach the city in time for business in the morning—this feature, alone, should enable them to decide the matter. The management has spared neither pains nor expense in bringing the resort up to its present state of perfection, and the credit is largely due to the personal efforts of Mr. Paul Y. Waters, the general manager of the Chesapeake Beach Railway. The train service is unequaled, and the company is particularly fortunate in having in its employ a corps of gentlemanly conductors and trainmen who take special pains to make the trip pleasant for its patrons. EM.

The "Man's Store."

A Suit Sale that's getting more popular every day.

All 2-piece and Fancy 3-piece Suits, worth up to $15..... $9.75
All 2-piece and Fancy 3-piece Suits, worth up to $18..... $13.75
All 2-piece and Fancy 3-piece Suits, worth up to $22.50..... $16.75
All $25 2-piece and Fancy 3-piece Suits..... $19.75

Money's Worth or Money Back

D. J. KAUFMAN, 1005-7 Pa. Ave.

The Savings possible at
S. Kann, Sons & Co.
8th St.-THE BUSY CORNER-Pa. Ave.
are such as may be counted in the pocket. At the same time styles and qualities are unexcelled.

Melville Club Old Rye Whiskey
It's Pure and Fine. $1 Full Quart
"Driver's Rye Cordial" cures coughs and colds, composed of old rye whisky and pure rock candy, $1 per bottle. Driver's Favorites, the best 5c. cigar obtainable. Union hand-made cigars a specialty. At the bar try Driver's Famous Cocktails. Melville Club Whisky at the bar, 10c.

Geo. W. Driver
605 PENNA. AVE.

Our Motto—Prompt and Polite Attention.
The Modern Dairy Lunch Room
CHAS. A. MOULDEN, Mgr.
409 TENTH STREET N. W.
Open day and night. Unsurpassed Coffee Our Specialty

"Everyone knows how to find fault." No one has yet found fault with the
RELIABLE
The Gas Range for Summer Use
Washington Gas Light Co.
GAS APPLIANCE EXCHANGE

EDWIN F. PRICE
(Late member of the firm of E. F. Price & Co.)
Bookbinder
Ruling and Binding of every description. Strongest Flat-Opening Blank Book Made. A Specialty of Fine Bank Work.
Darby Bldg., 506-508 Fourteenth St. N. W.

GUNDLACH
Fireworks
Flags and Badges
813 SEVENTH STREET N. W.

THE RIGGS NATIONAL BANK
Of Washington, D. C.
Capital - - - $1,000,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits, 1,000,000
Exchange on England, Ireland, France and Germany. Letters of credit available in all foreign parts. Bank Collections. Orders for investments. Stocks and Bonds.

Dorsch Bros.' Bread
Bears the Union Label
Insist on Dorsch Bros.' Bread because—first, it carries the Badge of Labor; second, there is None Better; and third, it is sold at a workingman's price—Four Cents.
SOLD EVERYWHERE AT
4c THE LOAF 4c

A. & P. BEST ELGIN BUTTER, 27 CENTS.
Finest Grades of Teas and Coffees.
Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, Cor. 7th and E.

J. GEORGE SMITH
(Formerly a member of the firm of R. P. Andrews & Co.)
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
PAPER AND STATIONERY
My old friends and patrons from J. C. Addison's time to the present will be welcome. I can supply all your needs at lowest prices consistent with quality.
626 E STREET NORTHWEST

Woodward & Lothrop,
DEPARTMENT STORE.
TENTH, ELEVENTH, AND F STS. N. W.

WHERE THE HALF-TONES ARE MADE
THE NATIONAL ENGRAVING COMPANY.
INCORPORATED.
14th St. and Pa. Ave. Phone 1679 Main.

Spend the Fourth at
CHESAPEAKE BEACH
Only Salt Water Resort Near Washington
Finest Bathing, Fishing, Crabbing, Sailing, Dancing
HALEY'S BAND
Grand Display of Fireworks
Columbia Electric Cars will leave Treasury Building every two minutes, going direct to trains without transfer.

C. F. BROWNE
Watch Mainsprings, 50c
904 F ST. NORTHWEST

Floor Coverings Exclusively
We sell nothing but high-grade floor coverings—goods of a kind and quality that this house has been famed for for two generations and more.
Carpets and Rugs cleaned and stored
Giddings & Steele, 813 Pa. Avenue

J. E. BONINI'S
BUFFET AND CAFE,
727-729 N. Capitol Street.
MAERZEN BEER ON TAP.
A first-class Lunch Counter. Sea food in season. Union throughout.

D. STRAUSS,
Clothier, Hatter and Furnisher
441 Seventh Street N. W.,
Washington, D. C.

T. HOLLANDER
Men's Furnishings
Hats and Shoes
COR. N. CAPITOL AND H STS.
Opposite Government Printing Office

DO YOU USE TOILET PAPER?
If so, investigate the service furnished by
R. P. Andrews & Co.,
INCORPORATED
627-629 LOUISIANA AVE. N. W.
THE WHOLESALE PAPER HOUSE
IT WILL SAVE YOU MONEY
M. S. JOHNSON
Merchant Tailor
UNION EMPLOYER
1435 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest

Are You Thinking of Life Insurance
If So Consult
FRANK K. RAYMOND
General Agent
Union Central Life Insurance Co.
BOND BUILDING
Phone 2069 Main

SAMUEL C. PALMER
Manufacturer of
Soda and Mineral Waters
IN FOUNTS, SYPHONS AND BOTTLES
SODA WATER SYRUPS
OF ALL FLAVORS
Phone West 190
Depot, 1066-8 32d Street N. W.

THOMAS WALSH
Formerly "Steve" Caldwell's.
Whiskies and Cigars
Specialties: MELVALE AND SHERWOOD
COOL LAGER BEER ON DRAUGHT.
BILLIARDS AND POOL
Billiards, 40c. per hour. Pool, 2½c. per cue.
THOMAS WALSH
407 Tenth St. Northwest

E. F. PRICE & CO.
Strongest flat opening blank book made.
Ruling and Binding of every description.
A Specialty of FINE BANK WORK.
BOOKBINDERS 1108 E St. N. W.

G. P. O. BICYCLE REPAIR CO.
ARTHUR D. BENNETT
MANAGER
Wheels stored, cleaned, and repaired (per month)..... $1.00
Wheels stored and cleaned (per month)..... .75
Wheels stored (per month)..... .50
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty
Bicycle Sundries
Salesroom, 33 H St. N. W.

300 1-lb. Loaves to the Barrel.
Every Laboring Man
—requires pure, wholesome, nourishing food such as is made of—
Cream Blend Flour
It not only makes THE BEST Bread, Rolls, Cake and Pastry, but more of them than other brands—therefore it's the cheapest that money can buy.
Your Grocer will supply you.
B. B. EARNSHAW & BRO., Wholesalers,
1105, 1107, 1109 11th Street S. E.
1000 and 1002 M Street S. E.

A Union House Patronized by Union Printers You Will Meet The Craft Here.
HAIGHT'S
HOTEL AND RESTAURANT
1008-10-12 E Street Northwest
One block from Columbia Theater
Rooms Newly Furnished For Men Only

HOTEL FRITZ REUTER
Rathskeller and Restaurant.
COR. PA. AVE. AND JOHN MARSHALL PLACE
Phone: East 388.

Ebbitt House
Washington, D. C. H. C. BURCH, Mgr.
HEADQUARTERS
International Typographical Convention

SIMMS' GERMAN CORN CURE
Better than all other corn remedies, 15c.
Try Simms' Liver Pills, only 10c.
G. G. C. SIMMS,
New York Ave. and Fourteeth St. N. W.
Telephone 2673 Main.

Telephone 3662-Y
AMREIN'S
FAMOUS ICE CREAM
HAS NO EQUAL
Stores, 1426 and 1810 7th St N. W.

Equitable Industrial Insurance
COMPANY
Life Insurance for Industrial Classes
Claims paid to date, $221,187.00
WM. A. BENNETT, General Superintendent
605 F STREET NORTHWEST

B. F. WARNER
FINE WINES and LIQUORS
BLUE LABEL CIGARS
1219 E Street Northwest

FOR LUNCH
TRY THE
Pure Dairy Lunch
935 D Street Northwest

American Ice Co.
1437 Penna. Ave. N. W.

Pabst beer is always pure

THE UNION
SAVINGS BANK.
BOND BUILDING
Cor. 14th St. and New York Ave. N.W.

Three Per Cent Interest
on Savings Accounts.

Branch Deposit Agency at
T. A. ROVER'S STORE,
Cor. North Capitol and H Sts.
OPEN EVERY MONDAY AND TUESDAY
FROM 4 TO 5 P. M.

When in doubt buy at
HOUSE & HERRMANN,
FURNITURE, CARPETS,
DRAPERIES, ETC.
N. E. Corner Seventh and I Streets N. W.

CLEANING PANAMAS
And restoring original color without the use of injurious chemicals and giving that flexibility characteristic of them in their native clime is
A SCIENCE
in which we are thorough masters. We will charge you no more than what you will pay for ordinary work.
Empire Hat Company
629 F St. N. W. Send postal or phone E. 524-y

Don't Buy a Hat
Without the Label. .
And See that It Is Sewed In.

Don't Patronize a Dealer Who Has Loose Labels on Hand and Offers to Put One in Your Hat.
LOOSE LABELS
In Retail Stores
ARE COUNTERFEITS.

The John B. Stetson Co., of Philadelphia, Pa., is a non-union concern.

St. Asaph Commission Rooms,
Old Established and Reliable.
Trains leave Thirteen and one-half street and Pennsylvania avenue—Alexandria, Mt. Vernon, and Washington Railway—daily at 12.45, 1.05, 1.25, 2, 2.30, 3.02, and 3.30. Return 3.39, 4.24, 5.02, 5.58, and at various intervals.

The Hub Furniture Co.,
The Stores that Save You Money.
OUR MOTTO—The Best Values in Furniture and Carpets at the Lowest Prices.
Cash or Credit.
HUB FURNITURE CO.,
(Formerly Wash B. Williams)
Corner Seventh and D Streets N. W.

CELTIC CLUB WHISKY
Our Specialty. Never Changes. Once Tried You'll Always Use It. Take No Substitute.
Ports and Sherries for family use, Quarts, 50 and 75 cents. All makes of Beer. Leading brands of Cigars. Ales and Porters on draught the year round.
JOHN CONNOR
New Jersey Ave. and G Sts. N. W.

J. WILLIAM LEE,
Undertaker and
Livery, . . .
322 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

HECHT & CO.,
515 and 517 Seventh street N. W.
ARE UNFAIR
TO
Organized Labor.
Retail Clerks, No. 262.

Yale Laundry
DECLARED UNFAIR
BY THE R. A. LANIS ASSOCIATION
The "Yale Steam Laundry" prefers "scabs" to do their steam fitting. Where do you and your friends have your washing done? Help the Union Steam Fitters by refusing your patronage to the Yale Laundry.
R. A. LANIS ASS'N OF STEAM FITTERS
March 10, 1903. L. B. No. 10, N A

Specification Notes.

Zip! Boom! S—s—s!

Don't take things too seriously.

J. M. Castell is operating a machine on the Star.

Ella M. Wallace is acting as a copyholder at present.

H. J. Redfield returned from a tendays' leave Tuesday.

By the time this is published we will have a new chairman.

Maj. J. H. Stone has had an injured foot resulting from an abrasion, obliging him to cut his shoe open.

Alfy Barringer called on us Saturday. Barry looks fine, and received a popular welcome, as, indeed, he should.

Those window-washers did stunts in the acrobatic line swinging from window to window on the outside.

W. T. Menard tells a good story with the pen, and in the field of fiction, as a representative writer, should win fame.

They do say that every lady on those inquiry blanks appears as 21 years of age. Bless their souls! Why shouldn't they?

J. P. Morse's daughter was married last week. Mr. Morse was at one time a school teacher, and is possessed of a remarkable memory.

Colonel Burgess (the tall one) sounds the bugle call, and the boys down the line promptly keep time till the Colonel gives the command—Halt!

There are no harder working men, or more deserving in this city than the ice men. Tugging a big chunk of ice is no easy task on a hot day.

W. A. Marschalk, who has been under treatment at Greenup, Ky., for strain of the sciatic nerve, has recovered sufficiently to return to his case.

Please don't play practical jokes. A visit from several irate companions is not conducive to equanimity, and, incidentally, interferes with the average.

The Woman's Auxiliary held a meeting Tuesday evening. Quarterly dues were paid and new members given an opportunity for admittance on written application.

Joe Walsmith, son of W. F. Walsmith, and formerly a proof-reader on the Washington Times, has just been made assistant foreman of the Wilkesbarre (Pa.) Record.

The Specification baseball team did not play Sunday, the weather and other circumstances interfering. The statement that an admission fee would be charged was an error.

J. W. McCann has invented a copyholder for typewriters. Being a practical stenographer and typewriter operator myself, I can speak for the worth of McCann's invention.

G. D. Colquitt is ill in bed, at his residence on H street, with tuberculosis. His physician states that he must remain quiescent for one or two months in order to be cured.

E. A. Tondee was taken ill Friday directly after working hours. A physician was summoned and worked over him two hours before recovery. A difficulty of the heart was the cause.

Harry Giles took Billy Gutelius to ride a goat Thursday night of last week. The goat must have been a mule. Any way the goat took advantage of Harry's childlike countenance and demolished it.

Harstin and Melick are checker experts, and Chairman Hutchison watches each player warily, taking in new points of the game. We have other good players also, Sam Gompers and A. J. Benton taking first rank.

Through an error I credited J. H. Handiboe with an invention of a copyholder. Instead, Mr. Handiboe has patented a neat device to take the place of page cord. It was placed on exhibition Saturday, and was viewed with much interest.

The wife of Geo. G. Wilson, who has been ill for about five weeks, with typhoid pneumonia, is on the road to recovery. Mr. Wilson has been in constant attendance. Mr. Wilson received a telegram late Saturday night stating his father had died at Savannah, but was unable to proceed there by reason of his wife's illness.

It is said that the $3 20 schedule is still in effect in a certain compositor's household, and a good story is told that the Union dues were stretched to six dollars by a new arrival; but one evening at a party, comparisons were made, and the printer's wife said: "Why, that Union is a highway robber; John pays six dollars dues." Of course the others said the dues were one-sixth or less that amount, and the curtain falls.

A PLAY ON NAMES.

The Membership of Columbia Union No. 101 in Panoramic Effect.

There will be many pleasures given the visitors and delegates to the August convention. The general committee might consider a novel entertainment. It is a sort of a panoramic effect, and it runs something like this:

Place of action: The Typographical Temple.

At the tap of the Bell at Noone a Whitehead lad Leeds a party to the Garrett of the Hall. It doesn't take Long to explore that portion of the building. A Mann stationed there deals out Trimble—not a Strange stunt. Then the Way to the Street is led by a Smart Kidd. A distinguished person, known as Surguy, goes up to the King, and a moment later the latter says: "Pryor to leaving this Castle, let us go into the inner Chambers. There is much to be seen, but I caution you do not make any Noyes, and there will be something Doing."

Accordingly they enter, and a Major and a Sargeant act as ushers. The scene is a Beach, with a Fisher-man in a boat, who is fishing for Bass, Hering, and White fish. The boat gives a Lerch and the disciple of Walton falls overboard and must Wade to the shore.

The scene changes and a Hunter is observed with a Winchester Gunn. Not a Shott is fired, but there is plenty to shoot at—the Crow, Wild Duck, Gray Fox, Hawk, Heron, Koon, Martin, Lyon, Partridge, Robbins, Reed birds, Thrush, Wolfe. The Hunt is much enjoyed.

Then speaks a Wise, Tallman in a Lowd voice: "There is a Groome among us and his True Love is a Curley haired Irish lass. They will be married with a Ring, amid Flowers and Ivey. One of the Parsons present will tie the knot and the other will say the Blessing. The bride will Ware a White silk with one Tuck. The Honeymoon, let it be hoped, will last forever."

Another scene shows a Stretch of Hay-Field and a Lane leading to the West, from which Gates open into the Holmes of the Stewarts. A Brooke runs through the field which has a Wall of Brown Stone on either side and a broad walk. This seems to be a regular thoroughfare, notwithstanding the fact that it is an out-of-way place. Among the many you see are a Baker serving his customers, and a Barber shaving. The Brewer is defending his case before a Burgess, while an Elder is the plaintiff. The Butler is talking to the Cook, and a Carpenter is repairing a hen coop. A Carter is delivering the work of a Carver, and the Slater is trying to hire him to do some hauling. The Sheriff is trying to convince a Torrey that the work of the Plummer and the Taylor in this country must be paid for, and the Dyer, Tanner, and Weaver are evidently discussing the benefits that trusts are to the individual manufacturers. The Millers are evidently talking about the probability of dollar Wheat. All are soon attracted by a large and beautiful Peacock feasting on an Onyun and some Kail.

The next scene shows the morning sun shedding its Rays on a Pool of water on the outskirts of a Town. The Gable end of a Glass building Towers above the other structures, and the Green fields seem most beautiful at the Light of day. Soon there is activity in the little village. A young man is seen leaving his home with his Collar in his hand and an Axe across his shoulder. A Gardiner is sprinkling with a Ruff Hose.

Then is shown the interior of a Booth, wherein Musick lessons are given. The instructor is in a Huff, because Hannah, the daughter of a Knoble, will not play on the Knabe. The young miss relents and begs Humble pardon, which act softens the Hart of the Cross professor, and she is forgiven.

Another scene shows an immense ice Berg in the distance and a dozen men with their Coates closely buttoned Manning a small boat in a stream swollen by flood, which has obliterated the Ford.

Then speaks another King: "It may be Weeks and Summers before we are again together, but the Sparks of friendship kindled here will not be subdued, Although Miles separate us, we will never unbend the Shanks of fellowship that bind us in strong organization. The Webb of Sweet unity, so closely woven among us, can not be shattered by the Sharp practices of the Wiley and unscrupulous. That the Morrow may bring forth many pleasures is our hope, our wish, our desire."

JAMES MONROE KREITER.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

A NATIONAL FIGHT.

Los Angeles Times Being Fought all Over the United States.

[Special Correspondence.]

LOS ANGELES, CAL., June 26, 1903.

Labor organizations in every section of the United States are helping the fight being waged against the notorious scab Los Angeles Times. As a result of this widespread activity it is almost certain that not one out-of-town advertisement now in the Times will be renewed at the expiration of present contracts. Every week thousands of letters are pouring into the offices of those who advertise their commodities in the Times, and, as a natural consequence, that paper will be eliminated when new contracts are made. If the readers of THE TRADES UNIONIST could realize the good effect the letters they have written have had they would set aside a few cents each week for stamps, and make it a practice to devote a portion of one night each week in writing to advertisers in the Times. Here is a revised list of manufacturers who, so far, have refused to recognize organized labor and who persist in patronizing the scab Times. Write each a letter, calling attention to the fact that the patronage of union men and their families is worth considering.

Castoria—The Centaur Company, 77 Murray street, New York, N. Y.

Cuticura—Potter Drug and Chemical Corporation, Boston, Mass.

Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate—D. Ghirardelli, San Francisco, Cal.

Peruna—Peruna Medical Company, Columbus, Ohio.

Philo-Hay Specialties Company, Newark, N. J.

Postum—Postum Cereal Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company. Lynn, Mass.

Scott's Emulsion—Scott & Bowne, 409 Pearl street, New York, N. Y.

Wright's Indian Vegetable Pill Company, New York, N. Y.

Fellow unionists, if there is a paper in the United States that Baer and Parry would fall in love with, that paper is the mean, contemptible, union-hating Los Angeles Times, which daily slanders men because they have the manhood to stand up for their rights and organize that they may make the condition of those who toil more endurable.

Write a letter to each of the above advertisers. Every ad. withdrawn from the scab Times is a victory for unionism.

Cigar Makers' Union, No. 110.

At the regular meeting of Cigar Makers' Local Union, No. 110, held June 27, 1903, the following officers were elected for the ensuing six months, beginning July 1, 1903: President, Peter Hahn; vice-president, F. R. Hall; recording and corresponding secretary, Henry Wissner; financial secretary, Charles J. Heuter; treasurer, C. A. Cook; sergeant-at-arms, Jas. Hughes; trustees, John Buechling, John Bradengeyer, and John Wingate. The above officers constitute the executive board.

Beard–McCahill.

The wedding is announced of Mr. Charles W. McCahill, a well-known printer of this city, to Miss Ada F. Beard, of Columbus, Ohio.

Fight Against Labor Unions.

The Employers' Association of Kansas City, with a membership of nearly 8,000, including most of the business men in Kansas City, has started a movement to repeal all city laws that discriminate between union and independent labor.

Several of these laws favor the product of union labor exclusively, the most obnoxious to the Employers' Association being that which forbids the letting by the city printing contracts to any but unionized shops. It also will oppose the eight-hour law now enforced by the city adminstration, as well as the ordinance regarding an applicant for engineer's license to be examined by a board composed entirely of union men.

About the Limit.

Judge Gray, of the Hennepin County district court at Minneapolis, Minn., granted a temporary injunction against the Electrical Workers' Union, in which he lays down some principles of law applicable to unions and strikes.

Ho holds it to be illegal for strikers: First, to conspire to injure contractors' business; second, to interfere with such business by threats directed against customers or prospective customers; third, to notify customers that contractors are "unfair;" fourth, to go on premises where contractors are employed to interfere with their business; fifth, to order union men to quit work on premises because certain contractors may be employed thereon.

Many a man goes to the bad because he attempts to pose as a good fellow.

Representative Business Houses.
OF WASHINGTON, D. C.

The following wholesale and retail firms and professional men are friendly to Union Labor and are entitled to its patronage:

BANKS.
THE LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK,
Safe Deposit Vaults, $2.50 up
CAPITAL LOAN GUARANTEE COMPANY,
602 F Street Northwest.
Every one can borrow money without security.

BAKERS.
HOLMES & SONS,
Celebrated Home-Made Pies and Milk Bread.
First and E Streets N. W. Phone Main 1564.

BOOTS AND SHOES.
CROCKER'S SHOES,
939 Pennsylvania Ave. N. W.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.
DANIEL LOUGHRAN,
1347 Pennsylvania Ave.
LUCHS & BRO.,
Wholesalers.
Tom Keene 5c. Cigar. Phone E 755.

COACH FINDINGS.
J. B. KENDALL,
485-87 Missouri avenue N. W.

COAL TAR PRODUCTS AND PAPER.
E. B. WARREN & CO.,
27th and H Sts. N. W.

CUTLERY AND SPORTING GOODS.
D. N. WALFORD,
477 and 909 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

DRY GOODS.
LANSBURGH & BROTHER,
420 to 426 7th St. N. W

DYER.
E. E. WHEATLEY,
1068 Jefferson Ave. N. W. Phone, West 117-Y.

ENGRAVERS.
THE MAURICE JOYCE ENGRAVING CO.
Cuts and Illustrations. 418 11th street N. W

FIRE INSURANCE.
FIREMEN'S INSURANCE COMPANY,
Seventh St. and Louisiana Ave.
Insure with
THE RIGGS FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.

FLORIST.
Z. D. BLACKISTONE,
14th and H Sts. N. W Telephone, 2180.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.
JULIUS LANSBURGH,
Interocean Building, 512 Ninth St. N. W.

FURNACES.
WILLIAM MINNIS,
1023 H st. N. E. Residence: 1501 H st. N. E.

GROCERIES.
LITTLE & PAGE,
"Good things to eat." 1210 F St. N.W
W. C. ERGOOD,
"Good goods at Ergoods."
Corner Ninth and H Streets Northwest.

GROCER AND COFFEE ROASTER.
SOMERSET R. WATERS.
1342 Seventh Street Northwest, Corner O.

HARDWARE AND TOOLS.
RUDOLPH, WEST & CO.,
1332 New York avenue northwest.

HUDSON'S VARIETY STORE.
B F. HUDSON,
423 Seventh Street Northwest.

HATTERS AND FURRIERS.
JAMES Y. DAVIS' SONS,
1201 Pennsylvania Ave.
A. H. BURDINE,
Union Overalls, Hats, and Gloves.
Seventh Street and Virginia avenue southwest.

LIME, SAND, GRAVEL, CEMENT.
NATIONAL MORTAR COMPANY,
Office: Room 9, Ralston Bldg., 612 F St. N. W.
Office telephone: East 688.

LUMBER AND MILL WORK.
THOMAS R. RILEY,
13th St. and Ohio Ave.
LEE L. HERRELL & BRO.,
1311 Eleventh St. S. E. Phone Main 402.
THE WASHINGTON WOOD WORKING CO.,
12th and B Streets N. W. Telephone 2119-3.

MACHINISTS AND ENGINEERS.
FORSBERG & MURRAY,
Pumps and Elevators. Engines and Boilers
8th and Water Sts. S. W.

MERCHANT TAILOR.
W. A. SLADEN,
419 East Capitol Street.

PHARMACISTS.
LOUIS F. BRADLEY,
Prescription Druggist. 8th and E Sts. S. E

PHOTO-LITHOGRAPHERS.
THE NORRIS PETERS CO.,
458 and 460 Pennsylvania avenue N. W
ANDREW B. GRAHAM
Lithographer, Photo-Lithographer, and Half-Tones. 1230 Pa. Ave. Phones: 1031-M, 1679-M,

PIANO AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
E. E. DROOP & SONS,
925 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

PRINTING SUPPLIES.
NATIONAL PRINTER'S SUPPLY CO.,
Machine-made Rollers. 414 10th St. N. W.

RESTAURANT AND WINE ROOM.
JOHN M. BECKER,
Opp. Navy Yard., Cor. 8th and Georgia Ave. S.E

SHOES.
DAVE WOLF.
SHOES FOR EVERYBODY.
432 Seventh Street N. W.

SHAVING PARLORS
VINCENT R. CILENTO,
805 North Capitol Street.

TITLES TO REAL ESTATE.
LAWYERS' TITLE & GUARANTY INS. CO.
412 5th St. N. W.

TOBACCO AND NEWS STAND.
WM. H LIVERMORE
101 H St. N. W

WINES AND LIQUORS.
SAMUEL G. STEWART,
Heurich Brewing Co's. beers and popular brands of whiskies. 1141 Seventh st. northwest between L and M.
WILLIAM DIETZ,
1203 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest

DO NOT WANT OUR PATRONAGE.

Following brands of cigars: Cinco, Cremo, George W. Childs, Henry George, Tom Moore, Robert Burns, and General Arthur.

The following firms have declared against the interest of Organized Labor and are not regarded as deserving their patronage:

NAME.	BUSINESS.	LOCATION.
Chevy Chase Railway and circle.	Street railway	Chevy Chase and Circle.
Keenan Bros	Gents' furnishers	Pa. ave. bet. 14th and 15th sts., and 523 Seventh st. n. w.
B. Solomon	Gents' furnisher	708 Seventh street n.w.
Rufus H. Darby	Printer	508 Fourteenth street n.w.
H. L. McQueen	Printer	1108 E street n.w.
N. Sickles (Nat'l Cigar Factory).	Cigar manufacturer	1011 Penna. avenue n.w.
E. Gundershiemer	Baker	516 Second street n.w. and stalls in Center Market.
Peter Grogan	Carpet dealer.	817 to 823 Seventh street n.w.
John H. Fitzgerald	Horseshoer	443 Prather's alley n.w.
S. S Daish	Coal and wood	Florida ave. and Third st. n.e.
Wilbur F. Nash	Meat dealer	Center and O st. Markets.
C. E. Hencke	Electrician	711 G street n.w.
F. J. Wheelock	Electrician	1215 G street n. e.
James A. Bennett	Tinner	2008 H street n.w.
National Mosaic Company	Mosaics	207 Fourth st. n.w.
M. Minster	Gents' furnisher	1343 F st. n.w.
A. Minster	Gents' furnisher	499 and 501 Penna. ave. n. w.
Cyrus B. Reese	Employing steamfitter	1519 Fourteenth street n. w.
C. A. Schneider & Sons	Union Iron Works	212 Twelfth street n. w.
Minster & Paterson	Gents' furnishers	1109 Pennsylvania ave. n. w
The Famous	Gents' furnishings	437 Seventh street n. w.
Chas. A. Muddiman & Co	Gas fixtures	1204 G and 616 Twelfth st. n. w.
Conrad Becker	Trunks and harness	1328 F st. n. w.
Chapin & Sacks	Dealer in butter	924 Louisana ave. n. w.
Home Ice Company	Ice	Twelfth and V sts. n.w.
Emil Wagner	Restaurant	210 Ninth st. n. w.
W. E. Carney	Cigar manufacturer	921 G st. s. w.
Morgan & Co	Wall papers	Fourteenth and Pa. ave. n. w
L. Rosenberg	Gents' furnishings	911 Eighth st. s. e.
Corbin Thompson	Dairyman	Sharon Dairy, 324 B st. s. w.
S. D. Houck	Dealer in harness	301 Tenth street n. w.
M. Eisemann & Bro	Dry goods	1924-26 Pa. ava. and 806 7th n.w
Elite Steam Laundry	Laundry	1205 G street n.w.
Benjamin Schwartz	Gents' furnisher and tailor	337 Pa. ave. s. e.
Emrich Beef Co	Meat Dealers
John Coleman	Horseshoer	1300 36th street n. w.
Hecht & Co	Dry Goods, etc	517-519 Seventh street n. w
Charles Rauscher	Caterer	Conn. ave. and L st. n. w
Academy of Music	Theatre	Ninth and D streets n. w.
E. H. Snyder & Co	Tailors	1111 Pa. ave n. w.
Owen Owen	Tailor	423 Eleventh street n. w.
L. A. Downey	Tailor	433 Eleventh street n. w.
J. M. Stein & Co	Tailors	413 Eleventh street n. w.
J. D. Burns & Co	Tailors	701 Ninth street n. w.
J. F. Gatchel	Tailor	604 Thirteenth street n. w.
G. Warfield Simpson	Tailor	1208 F street n. w.
E. H. Catlin & Co	Machinists	407 13½ street n. w.
Thomas Somerville & Sons	Steam Fitters' Supplies	316 Thirteenth street n. w.
Joseph Mathy	Stove dealer and tin worker.	1918 Pennsyvania avenue.

Bricklayers' Executive Committee.

The following is the list of members of the Executive Committee of Bricklayers' Union, No. 1: John G. Wolfe, chairman, 1023 New Jersey avenue; W. Cronin, 1415 Thirty-sixth street northwest; Samuel Haslett, 221 South Lee street, Alexandria, Va.; John Shanahan, 2352 Eighth street northwest; John McCarten, 1237 Maryland avenue northeast.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

R. A. Lanis Association.

At the last regular meeting of the R. A. Lanis Association of Steam Fitters, L. B. No. 10, the following officers were elected: F. C. Luce, president; H. T. Rogers, vice-president; T. L. Hess, secretary; Geo. Meitzler, financial secretary; C. A. Schmidt, treasurer; W. Hamacher, inspector, and S. D. Zea, guard.

For Rent.

Furnished room—bright, cool, clean; for gentlemen; $2 per week; 222 G st. nw.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICIAL ORGAN CENTRAL LABOR UNION, WASHINGTON BRANCH, AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Vol. VIII. No. 4. WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, JULY 9, 1903. Price, 3 Cents.

THE CENTRAL LABOR UNION

Unanimity of Sentiment Is Shown in the Election of Officers.

SHERMAN ELECTED PRESIDENT

Morgan & Co., Wall Paper, Taken from the Unfair List—Hod Carriers Have a Grievance—National Roller Bearing Company Placed on the Unfair List.

The regular meeting of the Central Labor Union was called to order at 8 p. m. Monday evening, President Hamerstrom in the chair.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

CREDENTIALS.

From Local No. 64, International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, Inside Arch, certifying W. J. Foy, Charles Hartung, Henry A. Miller, Charles Mattfeld, and Charles Dean as delegates from that union.

From Local No. 190, Brotherhood of Carpenters, certifying J. M. Heisley, Ed. McClelland, G. W. Crocker, J. Dinean, and F. J. Neidomanski.

From Beer Drivers and Stablemen's Union, No. 234, certifying A. D. Manger, William Schaeffer, George Shuey, A, Broacker, and Harry Sears.

From Washington Lodge, No. 193, I. A. M., certifying John Hamerstrom, J. H. Rice, Fred Pletcher, W. S. Brubaker, and L. A. Sheetz.

From Local No. 102, Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, certifying R. G. M. Ross, Daniel M. Desmond, Joseph A. Daly, Joseph H. Pratt, and William Girard.

From Cigar Makers' Union, No. 110, certifying Joseph B. Hart, C. H. Cook, John H. Brahler, Charles A. Hall, and Abe Berman.

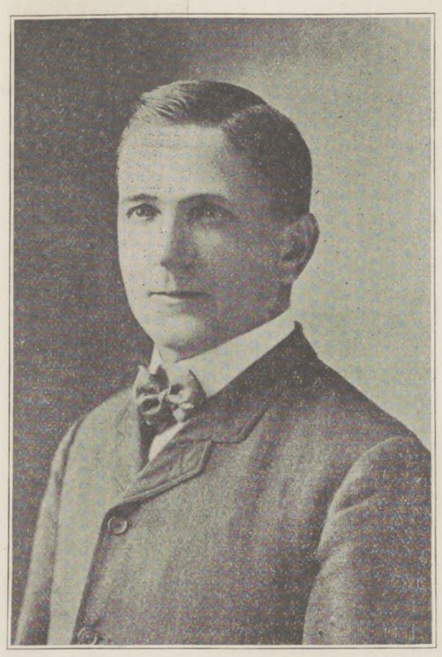
COMMUNICATIONS.

From Hod Carriers, Brick and Mortar Wheelers' Union, No. 9468, stating that they endeavored to secure an increase in pay on July 6, but failed to make it universal. They ask the assistance of the Council in the matter. Referred to Allied Building Trades Council.

From Bartenders' League, No. 75, notifying the Central Labor Union that their union had voted favorably on Labor Day parade. Referred to Labor Day Committee.

From Council of Allied Building Trades, stating that C. W. Butler, manager of the Eastern Wall Paper Company, refuses to employ union paperhangers, and asking that the Contract Committee be directed to call upon Mr. Butler and endeavor to have him live up to his contract. Referred to Contract Committee.

From John H. Breen, calling attention to a prior communication from him in the interest of union-label tobacco, and asking that the ban of organized labor be placed on the product of the American Tobacco Company, being all nonunion made goods, and that the local body follow the lead of the A. F. of L. in driving the sale of the trust goods from the market in the interest of union-label goods, principally union-made cigarettes. Placed on file.



From Local No. 240, Registered Drug Clerks' Association, reporting that that organization would parade on Labor Day. Referred to Labor Day Committee.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

The Grievance Committee reported that all differences with Morgan & Co., dealers in wall papers, having been adjusted, they asked that they be taken from unfair list. Request granted.

The Grievance Committee asked that the National Roller Bearing Company be placed on unfair list, they being unfair to members of the Machinists' Lodge, No. 193. Request granted.

The Contract Committee reported favorably on indorsing the contract of Local No. 63, International Brotherhood of Stationary Fireman. They also asked that the contract of Local No. 99, International Union of Stationary Engineers, be returned to that union for revision of Articles IX and XII, to conform with agreements with trades rights of machinists and steam fitters. The report of the committee was agreed to.

H. W. SHERMAN, President Central Labor Union.

H. W. Sherman, president of the Central Labor Union, has served as vice-president during the past year, and was unanimously chosen president for the ensuing year. Mr. Sherman is an able parliamentarian, an admirable presiding officer, and possesses tact and discretion, qualities that are absolutely necessary to preside over an assemblage containing upward of 100 unions, and whose delegate roll at full count average nearly 500. Mr. Sherman was born in Richmond, Va., November 3, 1857; he became a resident of this city in 1870, leaving here in 1879, locating in Rochester, N. Y., where he took an active part in the labor movement; served six terms as president of the Central Trades and Labor Council of Rochester; was elected grand president of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers in 1893; served two terms as president, when he was chosen general secretary, which position he now holds, having general headquarters in this city.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The Chair announced that the next order of business would be the election of officers for the ensuing year, under a suspension of the rules. Nominations were declared in order.

H. W. Sherman, of the Electrical Workers, being nominated for president, and no further nominations being made, the secretary was directed to cast the ballot for Mr. Sherman. The election was therefore declared unanimous.

J. C. Lynch was unanimously elected vice-president, the secretary casting the ballot for the Council.

C. W. Winslow, the present incumbent, was reelected recording secretary without opposition.

Joseph A. Daly was reelected financial secretary without opposition.

J. M. Heisley was reelected treasurer without opposition.

W. T. Trippitoe was reelected sergeant-at-arms without opposition.

J. H. Babcock, J. M. McCarthy, and M. Peyton were elected trustees for the ensuing year.

CALL OF UNIONS.

Columbia Typographical Union, No. 101, reported that they had voted not to parade.

Bakers and Confectioners' Union reported that they had succeeded in having union-label goods placed on sale in this city.

Retail Clerks denied a rumor that Hecht & Co. were again fair to organized labor.

Steam Fitters' Helpers reported that they have been on strike since July 1 for advance of 25 cents per day.

Stage Employees stated that Lafayette Square Theater was on their unfair list.

Adjourned.

Hot Tamales and Chile, at 503 Thirteenth street northwest. Open all night

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Chesapeake Beach.

Visitors to this popular resort who desire to secure sail boats, rowing boats, or who may want to put in a few hours fishing, can be supplied by A. E. Beitzell, well known as a caterer to lovers of oysters and clams at his old stand in this city, Twenty-first street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. He will be found opposite the Bathing Beach.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

CONCENTRATING PATRONAGE.

Labor Organizations of Los Angeles Inaugurate a Sensible Movement.

[Special Correspondence.]

LOS ANGELES, CAL., July 2, 1903.

On account of the bitter hostility toward organized labor by a number of business men of Los Angeles, under the leadership of the notorious Los Angeles Times, the Council of Labor appointed a committee to canvass the business district of the city and ascertain the attitude of all business men. As a result of this canvass the council has issued a "Friendly List," containing the names of all merchants who expressed their friendliness for unions. The list is in the form of a vest-pocket order, and several copies will be mailed on the 15th of every month to each union member in Los Angeles. The roster of every union has been secured and a mailing machine purchased. Naturally, the merchants whose names do not appear on the "Friendly List" have rained a vigorous howl, but they will howl in vain, as the union men and women of Los Angeles have decided to quit giving their dollars to business men who use a portion of this very money in an effort to destroy the unions and lower the wages of working men and women. The "Friendly List" is stirring up the union-haters, as they have never been stirred before, and their antics prove conclusively that the way to touch the hearts of such persons is to touch their pocket-books. The union-wreckers are on the run.

With the assistance of the "Friendly List" the hosts of organized labor in Los Angeles expect to thrash the Los Angeles Times to a frazzle, and union men and women everywhere will aid materially in this good work by writing letters to each of the following advertisers in that paper, requesting that the advertisements be withdrawn and notifying the advertisers that until such time the working people will not patronize any product advertised in the notorious scab paper.

Royal Baking Powder Company, 100 Williams street, New York, N. Y.

Philo-Hay Specialties Company—Newark, N. J.

Castoria—The Centaur Company, 77 Murray street, New York, N. Y.

Cuticura—Potter Drug and Chemical Company, Boston, Mass.

Postum—Postum Cereal Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

Peruna—Peruna Medical Company, Columbus, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

Scott's Emulsion—Scott & Bowne, 409 Pearl street New York, N. Y.

Wright's Indian Vegetable Pill Company, New York, N. Y.

Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate—D. Ghirardelli, San Francisco, Cal.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Specification Notes.

[Understood in the Side Show.]

The bliss, the bliss of Fatty's kiss
Has set us all awhirl;
But, oh, to think he'd go amiss
And blight each other girl.
—By sanction of Charlie Duffy.

The hand that rules the cradle rocks the world. Same thing either way.

W. H. Beringer has seen the cloud bursts down in New Mexico, and says they don't look funny.

E. A. Hutchison was re-elected chairman for the ensuing three months, July, August, and September.

E. P. Murray has been acting as clerk in the absence of J. R. McBride, who has been ill for two weeks.

Jere Walsh was re-elected chairman of the Official Gazette Chapel Monday for the ensuing term of three months.

I did not know till a few days ago that Ned Kerrott had resigned from the proof-room to go into business with his brother at Chicago.

Lo! the poor Indian, whose untutored mind (now tutored) sees his way to Washington once a year on business with the Government.

Captain W. R. Ramsey, foreman of this division, was taken ill with pleurisy Tuesday evening, and on Wednesday was unable to be at his desk.

The clerical division of the Patent Office was allowed off after 3 o'clock Friday of last week. Query: Why was not the mechanical division also?

Transfers from the Record force July 2, to this division were: Sheehan, Elliott, Young, Kauffman, Euler, Desmond, Tappan, Galvin, O'Connell.

Charlie Koehl, our able and obliging messenger, has the distinction of carrying a printer's working card. Charlie is a young man and came here when a boy, and is well liked by everybody.

Tom Collins has bought a house out at Brightwood. Tom realized handsomely on his M street place. He received a legacy some time ago and made his first investment at Langdon.

Mr. Schley, of the proof-room, reached his seventy-sixth birthday Wednesday, and received congratulations. He is extremely active for his age, and at one time was a publisher at Indianapolis.

Mrs. Woolford, one of the helpers, picked up a pocketbook belonging to one of the bookbinders, and laid it on Mr. Carter's desk for identification. The helpers are distinguished for their sterling integrity.

J. W. McCann, the noted "swift" compositor, with his other talents, is a good writer, prose and verse. One of his best productions was the conditions surrounding hand typesetting in former days, and the evolutions of the Linotype in the Year Book.

Simeon Johnston hit it again on the Fourth. Simmy gave it out and stuck up a notice on the water cooler, that rain would appear on that potential day. It rained. Once before Simmy beat the weather man on the Fourth of July. Simmy is the weather prophet of this division and is duly recognized as such.

J. R. McBride, one of the clerical force of this division, has been ill since Sunday before last at his residence on I street northeast. He took a heavy cold which settled on his lungs, and his physician has been in constant attendance. Mr. McBride won a silver stick in a type-setting match in this city a number of years ago.

The Labor Day parade proposition was turned down in this division by a vote of approximately 130 to 50, or nearly two to one. This is a disastrous defeat, and the question is why? Of course, the ladies constitute an important item, numbering forty-five or fifty, and cannot be expected to vote affirmatively, but there must be other reasons, and perhaps there may be those who will rise to explain.

Leave of absence, I am informed, is easily obtainable. More at a time are allowed their vacation, and extended terms of absence can be had, which several are taking advantage of in this division. Those not on duty are: Colestock, Miss Hampson, Miss Evans, Minnie A. Aylward, Nellie Theaker, Simpson (S. M.), Colquitt (ill), Burkhart, Miss Wilson, Sherard, Kochl, Buzhardt, Tondee, King (J. L.), Miss Stagge, Benton, Wilson (Geo. G.), Menard, and Bryant.

The earliest industrial parade of importance was held in Philadelphia, 1787, when Benjamin Franklin exerted his influence to secure the adoption of the Constitution of the United States. Franklin's verses were scattered right and left from a printing press on a car, a verse of which reads:

Each tradesman turn out with his tools in his hand,
To cherish the arts and keep peace in the land;
Each 'prentice and journeyman join in the song,
And let the brisk chorus go bounding along.

The genial Walsmith, of the proof-room, relates a good joke on himself. It seems when he first entered the office, and was booked for the Record, a friend of his distantly located, mailed him a paper or package addressed to Foreman W. F. Walsmith. The word "Foreman" attracted it to the presiding man's desk, and, as no one called for it, there it lay for several days. Of course, the boys were quickly "on," and Wally's persuasive eloquence was of no avail to assure them he had not posed as that functionary among his fellow citizens at home, so he was roasted to a turn.

It would be gratifying to know how many of our members have sons and daughters, or others closely related, in various high-class professions and positions. Personally, I know of several. J. C. Kauffman has a son whose handiwork as an illustrator may be seen in certain metropolitan magazines; O. S. Webster has a son or daughter who is tutor in a high school; S. H. Bell has one son, at least, who is a lawyer in good practice; W. A. Marschalk's son holds a responsible position in the Indian Office; C. J. Duffy's sister is a teacher in a public school, and so on, which shows that the typographical profession is productive of ability.

Wilson Whisky—That's All.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

Several weeks ago I noticed in the Typographical Journal that the Wilson Distilling Company was one of the concerns that continued to advertise in the notorious rat newspaper, the Los Angeles Times. I wrote to Mr. G. Hector Clemes, a personal friend of mine, who is the general representative of the firm, concerning the matter of dropping their ad. from that paper. I wrote a rather strong appeal for trades unionism and demonstrated how the one could help the other. In reply Mr. Clemes said that their ad would be discontinued immediately. I requested Secretary Garrett, of Columbia Union, to ascertain the exact date of its last appearance in the Los Angeles Times, and a response to his letter to the Los Angeles Union brought the response that the Wilson company discontinued their advertising with Otis's paper on May 10.

I wish you would print this to show that there is one more good advertiser taken from the Los Angeles Times, and a personal appeal such as I made to this firm very often brings the desired results. Try it. I did, and one more friend has been won to our side.

GEORGE S. MCCURDY.

The Richmond (Va) Strike.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

I notice again in the orders of a chief civil executive to the military in a time of a labor disturbance, the expression "to preserve the peace against the strikers and their sympathizers." That is about as partisan a command as could be issued. It occurs this time in the case of the street car strike in Richmond. What right has the Governor of Virginia to assume that the strikers are the ones causing the disturbance? Suppose that they are right in their demands that the cars shall not be run until certain matters shall be straightened out? Suppose that they have the sympathy of the people? If they have, then the Governor of Virginia is using the civil and military authority of the state for the protection of oppressive capital and in offense to the people of the State—a servant rising against his master. If it is necessary to preserve order let it be against the aggressor, whether it be capital or labor. If it is going to cause a riot to run out a street car the military should be instructed to see that no car is run out until the authorities are satisfied that the railroad owners and operators are right and the strikers are wrong. Then, and then only, would it be time to use force against the strikers and sympathizers.

The world has grown too old and too wise for that ancient idea to obtain that the employer has all the rights. It is the prevalence of this idea that has caused labor unions in some instances to forbid their men belonging to the militia of the States, and nobody can blame the workingmen. The Governor of Virginia can not be too strongly condemned for that unfortunate order. I ask the question: Does he wish to preserve peace or only to suppress labor?

R. C. STARR, JR.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

ALLIED BUILDING TRADES.

Sheet Metal Workers Request That Gregory & Son Be Declared Unfair.

The regular meeting of the Allied Building Trades Council of the Central Labor Union was held Tuesday evening, the meeting being called to order by Delegate Sheetz, and Delegate Van Ness acting as secretary.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

CREDENTIALS.

From Local No. 884, Brotherhood of Carpenters, certifying as delegates Messrs. Revell, Johnson, and Dean from that union.

From Local No. 102, Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, certifying R. G. M. Ross, Joseph A. Daly, and Daniel M. Desmond.

From Local No. 190, Brotherhood of Carpenters, certifying Ed. McClelland, William Martin, and E. M. Van Ness.

The credentials were duly received and delegates seated.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Paperhangers, Local No. 420, stating that an affirmative vote had been cast in that union relative to status of unions on withdrawing or seceding from the central body.

From Hod Carriers, Brick and Mortar Wheelers' Union, No. 9468, reciting that they had endeavored to put into effect an increased scale of prices, but had failed in many instances, and asking assistance of the Council. Referred to the Business Agent.

From Local No. 102, Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, calling attention to the firm of H. I. Gregory & Son, doing business at 912 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, being unfair to that union, and asking that the said firm be placed on the unfair list. Request indorsed, and referred to Central Labor Union.

CALL OF UNIONS.

Hod Carriers detailed the facts governing the recent demand for an increase in their wages, which matter had been referred to this body by the Central Labor Union.

Steam Fitters' Helpers stated that their strike was still on, and asked cooperation of other trades in assisting them.

NEW BUSINESS.

Hod Carriers stated that they were locked out of several shops. Referred to Business Agent.

On motion, it was voted that a quarterly password be adopted for the Council.

The Hall Committee reported that the lease for Costello Hall, the proposed meeting place of the Council, was being prepared and would be signed in a few days. The report of the committee was accepted.

The privilege of the floor was granted to Delegate Flanagan, of the Steam Fitters' Helpers, to discuss matters of interest to that union.

Adjourned.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Labor Notes.

In Paris 256,000 families occupy but one room each.

Minneapolis mill owners will fight the carpenters' union.

Japan's shipyards turned out forty-one steamers last year.

Toronto labor unions will elect labor candidates for city offices.

Twelve hotels in New York City have more than 300 telephones each.

The wages of the laborers at the Bethlehem Steel Company's plant have been increased from $4.75 to $5 a ton.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Official Organ Central Labor Union and Allied Building Trades, A. F. of L.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

The Trades Unionist Publishing Company

E. W. PATTON.....President
A. J. E. HUBBARD.....Vice-President
T. M. RING.....Secretary

Office: 441-443 G Street Northwest.

TELEPHONE EAST 15 Y.

SUBSCRIPTION

One year (in advance) - - - - $1.00
Six months (in advance) - - - - .50

Entered at the Post-Office, Washington, D. C. as Second-Class Matter.

THE TRADES UNIONIST is heartily and unqualifiedly indorsed by the Central Labor Union and the Allied Building Trades as well as by the various locals connected with the two central bodies.

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL WASHINGTON. 2

Only Eight-Hour Union Office in Town.

THURSDAY, JULY 9, 1903.

I would as soon think of doing business without clerks as without advertising.
—JOHN WANAMAKER.

Nothing, except the mint, can make money without advertising.
—GLADSTONE.

When you pay more for the rent of your business house than for advertising your business, you are pursuing a false policy. If you can do business, let it be known.
—FRANKLIN.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM.

I am going to take issue with my very good friend who writes "A Bit of All Sorts," and who is always entertaining, in his position where he says he has "no sympathy with these attacks on the daily papers for their editorial attitude toward organized labor." Whenever a newspaper makes false and malicious attacks on union men I feel that it is our duty to defend ourselves and refute falsehood and misrepresentation, and it is only falsehood and misrepresentation, and the more cowardly and cruel practice of suppression of the truth, that I would resent. I have never questioned their right to their opinions and to express them whenever they wished, at the same time claiming for myself the right to combat them, show their falsity and the malicious self-interest that generated them, and to demonstrate that the opposite is true. The fact that a publisher pays the union scale and employs union men does not give him the right to go unchallenged in his assaults on unionism, nor even guarantee him from criticism for his religious belief, if anybody desires to criticise it. When we sell an employer our services we sell him nothing else. He is at liberty to rip our unions up the back all he pleases, but we are also at liberty to tear the hind quarters off of him for doing so, altogether without reference to the fact that he is an employer of the kind of labor that he denounces. But I would never consent to putting him or anyone else under any kind of a ban for his opinions, and I should undoubtedly continue to read his paper, for in no other way can I be made aware of his misrepresentations and suppressions and so be in position to do my share toward righting ourselves against his malice. Over my own signature I have had occasion to criticise the statements and opinions of every paper in Washington at different times, and they are all legitimate objects of criticism. "It is none of our business whether he favors unions or not," but it is strictly our business to call him to the account of as much of public opinion as we can reach when he misrepresents the principles and practices of unionism—not with the desire or intent to injure his business, any more than if he misrepresented the facts of a dog fight, but to prevent him from injuring our standing among men as law-abiding, well-behaved citizens. But I can't get away from the conviction that the employer of union labor who never misses an opportunity to denounce unionism lacks the courage of his convictions, and I am mighty glad that he does.

* * * *

Congressman William O. Smith, of Punxsutawney, Pa., a brother of Frank D. Smith, of the Night Bill Force, and himself a compositor in old "Document Room" from about 1878 to 1884, before the office was divided up into "divisions," spent a day in the city last week, but the urgency of his business did not permit him to get around to see many of his old friends. Mr. Smith is the editor and publisher of the Punxsutawney Spirit, a business of such proportions that he did not need the salary of a Congressman to put him on Easy street. Frank was also formerly the publisher of a paper, but he thought he was foxy enough to make money faster than that way, so now he is putting the nicks next to his thumb. But he is young enough to spit on his hands and make a fresh start. Columbia Union has a staunch friend in Congressman Smith, not alone because of old associations, but because he is a true union man at heart.

* * * *

The Ex-Delegates' Association adjourned at their last meeting to meet next Sunday, at 3 o'clock p. m., at Typographical Temple, and a full meeting is desirable. There are a number of matters to be decided upon yet, though the general programme is mapped out. Use your influence to have your dinner hour so arranged that you can come; you will probably not be detained more than an hour or so.

* * * *

Be careful to whom you relate your griefs and troubles, for by carelessness therein you may be putting a weapon in your enemy's hands for your own undoing.

"Hello, Jarretson," said a man on entering a cigar store recently, "how are you coming on? How is the world using you?"

"Oh, I can't complain," said the tobacconist, "except that that d—d scoundrel who keeps the drug store on the next corner is selling cigars at nine for a quarter that I am selling six for a quarter."

"What kind of cigar is he selling at nine for a quarter?" asked the customer. "Must be pretty funky cigars."

"The regular trust brands—'Onion,' 'Old Rubber,' 'Pure Garbage Filler,' 'Vici Kid,' 'Pride of Cabbage Alley'—the cigars you have been smoking right along," said Jarretson.

"Well, what a sneaking horse thief he must be," said the customer. "Give me an 'Odorless Excavator' this morning—no, I won't take but one—I don't feel much like smoking to-day," and he poled off down to the scoundrelly druggist and got nine "Zephyrs from the Tanyard" for his quarter, and Jarretson probably lost a customer forever.

By the way, it seems to be the scheme of the tobacco trust to drive union-made 5 cent cigars out of the market by selling a double-handful of their villianous counterfeits for a quarter—a price at which no decent union-made cigar can be sold. All danger of aiding their nefarious scheme may be avoided by always smoking label cigars.

* * * *

Mr. Alexander McKenzie has many friends among the members of Columbia Union who will be gratified to hear of his promotion to the office of District Auditor. Though he never had any connection with the Government Printing Office himself, he has so many acquaintances and friends there that he would not feel lonesome if he were to get a job in it. A brother, David McKenzie, who was accidentally killed by falling over a stair railing about six years ago, was an engineer in the G. P. O. at the time of his death.

* * * *

Joseph Gibson, of the Night Bill Force, is going to make a trip to Europe during his vacation, which he will get extended for a month or so. He is a son of the late William Gibson, of the firm of Gibson Brothers, for fifty years book and job printers of this city.

* * * *

Last Sunday evening I went up to Cabin John's Bridge. Some time ago I believe we had a boycott on the hotel located there, but the proprietors saw the error of their way (probably after they had accomplished their purpose) and made their peace with the labor organizations. It won't require a boycott to keep me away from that hotel—their scale of prices does the trick. There is not a restaurant in Washington, with the exception of a few that do not cater to anything below Congressmen, that has such outrageous prices for the ordinary eatables, though booze is at about the usual figure unless you want it served in the dining room, when about 100 per cent is added. I hear that the electric railroad company is going to fit up Glen Echo and make it a first-class resort. I hope that it is true, for the ride up the river is a delightful one, but not sufficiently so to make one satisfied to be plundered on arrival. It is also stated that the company will charge an additional fare from Glen Echo on up to the bridge. If so somebody will wish they hadn't done as they have.

* * * *

We are now bang up against the heated term, when gifted people tell you how you should diet yourself—eat very little meat, and all that sort of thing—which is probably very good advice for those it suits, but it doesn't suit me. The summer season—"the good old summertime"—is my time to do a large lot of very robust eating, and I believe I do rather better in that line than I do at other seasons, when my record is not a contemptible one. A well-nourished body is as necessary to enable one to endure heat as well as cold, and a body can't be well nourished on the namby pamby, sloppy, wishy-washy stuff that is so frequently recommended—shredded horse fodder, rolled baled hay, etc.—but wants bacon and eggs, roast beef and potatoes, corn beef and cabbage, and such solids. At least mine does, and I'm a regular salamander when it comes to standing hot weather. There is no better guide as to what one needs than what one wants, what his appetite craves—except whisky.

* * * *

Among the delegates who will come to Washington this year who are known here by having formerly worked here are Oscar V. Shomo, coming from Little Rock, Ark., and Richard N. Tarkington, of Lebanon, Pa. Mr. Shomo was for a number of years a compositor in the G. P. O., and Tarkington was what "Jos" Allison used to call "copy herder" on the Record one session about nine years ago.

* * * *

The Typographical Journal for July is such an excellent number as to merit especial mention. I am constrained to believe that he who does not read the Journal, and all of it, does not read at all or else he feels himself above or below the sphere in which his lot has been cast. In its special articles, editorial notes, and correspondence it is interesting from cover to cover. President Lynch's two-page "Page" alone is worth the price of admission. Gentlemen, read your Journal and you will know more, and then you will be a great deal less trouble to the already educated.

* * * *

Capt. Nathaniel S. Paul, the watchman who died so suddenly last Monday from sunstroke, was a genial gentlemen who had a pleasant word for every one. He had a genius for remembering names and seemed to be able to call almost every employee by name as he passed him. His funeral was from Lee's undertaking establishment on Thursday.

A. F. BLOOMER.

Treasury Division.

Misses Mary B. O'Toole and Laura V. Boss are each on two weeks' leave.

John Mulroy, C. C. Semmes, and James Willis are each on fifteen days' leave.

Dr. W. J. Manning is on fifteen days' leave, and H. L. Murray is making up during his absence.

Charles S. Willis, our accommodating and obliging paper cutter, took several days' leave last week.

F. E. Williamson, who has been absent from the office six weeks on leave without pay, returned to work last week.

At the chapel meeting held Tuesday of last week, W. Brice Coston, chairman, and T. F. McKeon, secretary, were reelected for another term.

There were several new subscribers to THE TRADES UNIONIST during the past month. All of the pressmen and several compositors have handed in their names.

Among the promotions made in the Treasury Department and published this week are two well-known printers, namely: John S. Mills, from $1,600 to $1,800; E. W. Oyster, $1,400 to $1,600.

James B. Williamson (Uncle Jimmie) celebrated the eighty-fifth anniversary of his birth last Saturday, he having been born July 4, 1818, He is still hale and hearty and always at his post of duty.

H. D. Langdon was called to the bedside of his mother at Albany, N. Y., about ten days ago on account of her sudden illness. He returned five days later, her condition having greatly improved.

The bonds are running this month, and the following compositors from the main office were sent here to help us out: S. R. Wall, Daniel J. Hegarty, John W. Martin, W. H. Anglin, George O. Atkinson, and Benedict Kirsch.

SUBSCRIBER.

FOR THE BEST--
READY-TO-WEAR
—FOR—
Man, Woman and Child
AT THE MOST REASONABLE PRICES,
CONSULT—
Parker, Bridget & Co.,
Washington's Leading Outfitters, ...
Pa. Ave. and 9th St. N. W.

Fifth Division.

Wm. A. Uber is enjoying eighteen days of respite from his toil.

Griffith Evans is assisting W. H. Wright during the absence of Mr. Petrie.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Diers and family left last Friday for a month's visit to their old home in Natchez, Miss.

John Quinn returned to work Monday, having recovered from an injury caused by a baseball bat striking his nose one day last week.

Shaved heads are becoming numerous, and it would seem that the street merchant might advantageously add flynets to his stock in trade.

George Healey was absent several days the past week experimenting with chemicals and poison ivy applied to the human skin. Agricultural Bulletin No. — will appear in due time.

L. Petrie is taking a fifteen days' leave. Mr. Petrie's service in the office pertains to work astronomical (Nautical Almanac), and while rusticating he may give some attention to pisces as viewed from the banks of the Potomac, but as for Capricornus, Sagittauris, and the like, why they will be left to the labors of Hercules.

PICTURE NO. 1.

[From Correspondence in THE TRADES UNIONIST.]

A PRACTICAL PRINTER'S IDEAL.

You may rave of the girl with the dainty waist
And a face like the lily pale,
Who daily munches her daily food
To nourish a body frail;
Who delights to tinkle the ice-cream spoon,
And goes back on the food de bean;
Who languidly smiles when she smiles at all
And whose laugh can't be heard or seen.
She will do very well for a summer girl,
But not for the winter I ween.

The girl for my eye and the girl for my heart
Is the girl with the buxom pose,
Who is jolly and stout from the crown of her head
To the tips of her wootsie toes.
She shall rear me a family healthy and strong
Of ruddy-cheeked girls and boys,
And greet me with big, broad hearty smiles
And laugh with a beautiful noise,
And her animal spirits shall buoy me up
When the demon of care annoys.

Oh, that is the girl who takes my eye,
And the girl I'd like to take,
Who can wash and iron and scrub and mend,
And tend to the children and bake,
And make the coffee to suit my taste,
And fry the flapjacks in glee,
And broil the steak to an angelic turn,
Besides marketing when she is free,
And get up mornings and build the fire.
Ah, that is the girl for me!

Picture No. 2.

So the wasp-like "waist" is not to his taste
Nor a girl with a face pale "white,"
Who "daintily munches" the noonday lunches
That keeps her body from blight;
And if she seems to prefer "ice creams,"
And pork and "beans" eschews,
And her "smile" is faint she's not the saint
The "practical printer" would choose.

The girl of his "heart" must be "jolly" and smart
Beyond a suspicion of doubt,
Her hands must be tootsey, her "toes" all "wootsey,"
Yet she must be "buxom" and "stout,"
For she must agree that the family tree
Shall spread, and flourish, and grow,
And still all the while she must chuckle and "smile"
To lighten her printer-man's woe!
The head-splitting noise of a house full of boys
Will make her sweet-tempered you know!!!

"Oh, that is the girl" that our "practical" churl
Would have for a "wife" and a "scrub"—
His wants to attend and his old clothes to "mend"
And to break her back over the tub;
With hilarious glee to "make coffee" and tea,
"Broil steaks," and be ever at work,
And go to the market and build all fires
Which he, lazy lummox, would shirk.
Such a wife, you can see, angelic would be,
But what would you call such a Turk?

—"YOU KNOW."

WHAT NEXT?

We have boiled the hydrant water,
We have sterilized the milk,
We have strained the prowling microbe
Through the finest kind of silk:
We have bought and we have borrowed
Every patent health device,
And at last the doctor tells us
That we've got to boil the ice.

—Selected.

Union Made Cigars
OF THE FINEST QUALITY.
Pluck 5¢ | OFFTE'S BOUQUET 10¢
AFTER DINNER 5¢ | DEER HEAD 10¢
Henry T. Offterdinger, Manufacturer
504 Ninth St., N.W.

Independent Oil Company
ONE OF WASHINGTON'S NEW INDUSTRIES
We own an interest in a large Refining Plant which enables us to keep in stock at all times large quantities of Oil and Gasoline and other Products of Petroleum. Lubricating Oils and Greases is our specialty. Give us a call.
Phone East 879-M
R. C. BAUGHMAN, MANAGER

ARLINGTON BREWING CO.
ROSSLYN, VA.
BEER ALE PORTER
The Finest Productions of Skilled Union Labor. Union Label on Every Bottle and Keg of Our Goods.

DULIN & MARTIN CO.
FORMERLY BEVERIDGE'S
1215 F St. N. W. and 1214, 1216 and 1218 G St. N. W.
TEN PER CENT REDUCTION
on all cash purchases to reduce stock, prior to moving into our annex building. This reduction applies to all departments of the store, including cut glass, sterling silver, bric-a-brac, ornaments, lamps and globes, and over a hundred patterns of foreign and domestic china.
We make this reduction now that it may be a saving to those furnishing a summer home or who wish to replenish any household necessities, such as are commendable for the summer season. Profitable savings realized on the already low price at which we are selling the Eddy refrigerator as well as ice cream freezers, water coolers, and a long list of summer requisites. Goods that are already marked down 25 to 33⅓ per cent are also subject to this cash discount.

R. B. BUCKLEY
Merchant Tailoring
POPULAR PRICES!
1343 F ST. N. W.

THE UNION STORE
On Easy Street in Thrifty Town
There lives a grocer of renown;
From dawn of day 'till six at night
His store presents a busy sight.
The reason's plain—the unions know,
His goods are clean, that makes them go—to
H. I. M. READER'S ODEL ODERNIZED ARKET
535-37 EIGHTH ST. SOUTHEAST
TELEPHONE MAIN 908-A

In preparing for your vacation do not overlook the fact that one of our Blue Serge, Homespun, or Scotch Cheviot Sack Suits is indispensable if appearance and comfort is to be considered. We are showing a very large line of fabrics selected especially for outing purposes. Remember, we rank second to none in tailoring. Our garments have individuality and expression that stamps them as being "High-Grade." Get acquainted with our way of making clothes by ordering one of our Celebrated $25 Suits, made by Union Tailors.
Special sale of Trousers, $6.50 to Order.
T. E. Gilbert
IMPORTER AND TAILOR
818 F St. Northwest

Steam Cleaning and Dye Works
(Formerly New York Dye House)
I do the most perfect Cleaning and Dyeing at most reasonable rates. Goods called for and returned. C. W. MARGRAF, Proprietor
Telephone 3483 Main
907 9th St. N. W., and 631 D St. N. W.

PRINTERS and Union Members.—For First-Class Meals, Eat at
VICTOR CAFE, 3 H St. N. W.
ALBION, Eleventh and E Sts. N. W.
ERIN, Cor. N. J. Ave. and D St. N. W.
U. S. LUNCH ROOM, 320 12th St. N. W.
ALBERT T. SCANLAND, Prop.
Open Day and Night. Best Service.

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES
OF
Columbia Typographical Union,
NO. 101.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, 423 G ST. N. W.
Office Hours: 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.; 5 to 7 P. M.

OFFICERS.

JOE M. JOHNSON.....President
DAN C. VAUGHAN.....Vice-President
WM. M. GARRETT.....Secretary
JOHN R. BERG.....Treasurer
FRANK BATES.....Sergeant-at-Arms
N. C. STOOPS.....Doorkeeper

TRUSTEES—J. E. Bright, chairman; W. L. Gutelius, Chas. C. Thompson, Joe M. Johnson, and Wm. M. Garrett.

DELEGATES TO CENTRAL LABOR UNION—J. H. Babcock, chairman; J. B. Dickman, Hugh Everett, Theodore Gerber, and C. E. Dietrich.

DELEGATES TO ALLIED TRADES COUNCIL—E. E. Calhoon, chairman; T. F. Hall, and J. P. Garner.

AUDITORS—C. W. Radley, chairman; H. G. Brown, and J. W. Carter.

COMMITTEES.

BUSINESS—Zach T. Jenkins, chairman; C. B. Yater, M. J. Maher, T. C. Parsons, and R. W. Burnside.

NOMINATIONS—W. N. Brockwell, chairman; F. A. Kidd, H. O'Donnell, Frank M. Hatley, and R. E. Stenner.

LAWS—Chas. H. Ennis, chairman; Raymond Gery, and Dexter S. Hussey.

FINANCE—John A. Huston, chairman; J. M. McLaughlin, and R. F. Chisholm.

PRINTING—T. A. Bynum, chairman; Milo Shanks, and Ed. J. Hall.

GRIEVANCE—Clint O. Price, chairman; Chas. S. Gunn, Philip Nachman, David J. Snyder, and E. Y. Fisher.

ENTERTAINMENT—T. L. Jones, chairman; J. R. Purvis, T. J. Fitzwilliam, Miss Nellie Theaker, Miss Anna Wilson, B. E. Harrison, and W. J. Harris.

CONFERENCE—J. L. Holland, chairman; D. J. Hegarty, and W. B. Shaw.

LIBRARY—Clyde J. Sheriff, chairman; A. E. Ogg, and Harry Essex.

RELIEF—Joseph G. Stelle, chairman; Wm. S. Schinnerer and E. P. Cummins.

EIGHT-HOUR—F. C. Roberts, chairman; F. B. Crown, F. D. Seiffert, Jeff Newlon, and S. H. Willey.

MEMORIAL SERVICE—S. J. Gompers, chairman; Philip S. Steele, J. E. Goodkey, J. B. Dickman, and C. B. Yater.

AMOS J. CUMMINGS MEMORIAL—J. T. Rowe, chairman; Charles T. Graff, and T. A. Bynum.

CHAIRMEN.

First Division—R. L. Mabrey.
Second Division—W. N. Goldstein.
Third Division—D. J. Snyder.
Fourth Division—Charles H. Gove.
Fifth Division—Charles E. Dietrich.
Sixth Division—E. M. Nevils.
Job Room—J. K. Davison.
Record Clerks' Division—H. G. Brown.
First Division. Night—Will E. Burchfield.
Night Proof Room—E. H. Thomas.
Specification Room—E. A. Hutchison.
Official Gazette—Jere Walsh.
Document Proof Room—Jas. R. Armstrong.
Treasury Division—W. Brice Coston.
Interior Division—C. K. Stribling.
State Division—J. B. Dickman.
Navy Department Division—Albert E. Ogg.
War Department Division—Wm. K. Miller.
Agricultural Division—Henry P. Slaughter.
Library Division—H. V. Bisbee.
Weather Bureau—L. H. Emmons.
Morning Post—H. J. Broderick
Evening Star—Joseph C. Whyte.
Evening Times—T. C. Parsons.
Law Reporter—J. R. Johnson.
Globe Printing Co.—R. A. Wilson.
Judd & Detweiler's—A. B. Barringer.
Wilkens Printing Co.—T. N. Surguy.
Pearson's—T. F. Monahan.
National Publishing Co.—E. C. Owen.
McGill & Wallace's—J. M. Watts.
Byron S. Adams'—R. B. Boucher.
Army and Navy Register—C. H. Draeger.
General Postoffice—Joseph Williams.
Sudwarth's—F. R. Adams.

AROUND THE PRINTERIES.

First Division.

RUBBER, Hey! Bob.

J. N. Cobb and wife have gone to New York for a short visit.

Chairman Mabrey, who has been off sick for the past few days, has returned to work.

Steve Wall and Daniel J. Hegarty were transfered to the Treasury Branch last Friday.

Louis Vogt is spending his leave at his old home in Eustis, Fla., accompanied by Mrs. Vogt.

Chas. Warren is the proud possessor of a Caloimeter and is always willing to tell you about the beauty of it.

M. N. Serrano is acting in Murray Hackett's place, as foreman of the correcting alley during his absence.

Nelson Moyer has become the proud grandfather of a 15-pound, baby boy; and he says, "He's just as young as he use to be."

The First Division baseball team would like to hear from any team in the G. P. O. or branches. Address W. A. Love, First Division.

Bob Hale, assisted by Messrs Morgan, Etchberger, Mayers, and Jones, are moving over all the English cases and type to the new building. They are still on the compositors roll.

Geo. W. Wetmore will spend his vacation by a round about trip to Whitehall, N. Y., by way of Norfolk, New York City, and up the Hudson, accompained by his wife and sister.

To correct a false impression, Sergt. Tony Garner wishes it to be stated that he was not riding a horse at the head of the Second Division of the National Guard during the parade on Saturday last.

The following compositors started on their vacation to-day: Geo. W. Wetmore, H. A. Nesbitt, F. C. Jones, Murray Hackett, Oscar Nelson, J. A. West, S. H. Ellis, Wallace Brewer, and E. D. King.

President Johnson favored this division with six appointments on committees, as follows: J. H. Babcock, delegate to Central Labor Union; J. P. Garner, delegate to Allied Trades Council; Frank M. Hatley, Nomination Committee; Philip Nachman, Grievance Committee; D. J. Hegarty, Conference Committee, and Philip Steele, Memorial Services.

Robert P. Piehoff won an important suit last week from a loan company on a note for $42.45, Piehoff having received only $33. The company contended that no usurious interest had been charged, that the over charge was for services tendered in negotiating the loan. Mr. Piehoff's attorney resisted this contention and read a decision of the District Court of Appeals which declares such contracts usurious. The court took the same view of the case and gave the loan company judgment for $33, the amount orginally loaned.

CLOTILDE.

Hot Tamales and Chile at The Ranch, 507 F street n. w. Near Pension Office.

Second Division.

E. J. Hall is on a few days' leave.

Joe Lenhart spent the Fourth at Virginia Beach.

Ben A. Wolfe commences seventeen days' leave to-day.

Fred G. Nobles enjoyed the late holiday at Virginia Beach.

C. P. Brown, the long-time title-page artist, is on thirty days' leave.

E. J. Wood has been absent several days on account of sickness in his family.

F. W. Claflin takes fifteen days' leave. He intends to rest up and incidentally angle in the Potomac.

Foreman Hickman goes on thirty days' leave Thursday. Part of the time will be spent at Atlantic City.

The pie business must be a bonanza. Our pie man was seen with his basket being whisked to his home in an automobile this week.

The boys are eagerly looking forward to the good times while on leave. But, oh, what a difference the first month after their return trying to recover financially.

Charles H. Davis, the slug man, left last week for his leave. He will attend the National Educational Association convention at Boston, July 6 to 10. He is a member of that body, having been a member of the faculty of the Kansas State College.

NEWS.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Bindery Notes.

Billy Parry wears a happy smile since the new arrival in the family.

Be prompt in paying your bills, and your credit will be good and you will be respected.

Ferd Hofmann has worked hard all spring to have the prettiest flower beds in Brookland, and he has been successful.

William C. Connor and Hamilton Roy spent several days in the Orange Mountains, New Jersey, and had a very enjoyable trip.

Bill Johnston is very interesting when he relates his travels in the Far West, and also his experiences in the South shark fishing.

Tom Berkley bought 100 incubator chickens. Tom is not a chicken farmer and lost them all. The boys all sympathize with him.

If you visit New York this summer do not fail to see Luna Park, Coney Island. The electrical display is dazzling and bewildering—a perfect fairy land.

The Government Printing Office Immediate Relief Association is a great benefit to its members. M. S. Paul, a member of said association, died July 6, and his wife received funeral benefits the same day.

Harry Ashion, on a recent visit to Hall's chop house, Baltimore, demanded six clean plates while eating. The colored waiter gave him several severe looks and expected a big tip. Harry handed him a nickel.

The printing of the money order blanks has brought out the fact that the lowest bidder for the work cut the old contract price to $45,000, and with a good profit on the transaction. The printing is simple, and to avoid scandal, cheap paper, and scab labor in future should be done in the plant owned by the Government and erected for that purpose.

COWBOY.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Southland Stops.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 6, 1903.
EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

Your editorial in the issue of June 25, 1903, in reference to the Evening Glimmer (Star) I consider most unjust and uncalled for.

The Evening Star has always paid to its many employees the full union scales, and for a long time it paid to its operators and compositors $1.50 a week over and above the scale, and it has for years and is now giving each of its employees a week's leave, with pay, instead of sliding, without pay, as is the custom in many offices during the dull season. And the Star Company has spent hundreds of dollars in providing shower baths, lockers, and many other conveniences for members of our union working in the Glimmer composing room.

To me, it seems only reasonable and just that the Star should have some rights to speak its mind editorially. As a newspaper it is supposed to give all sides of a question. Neither have I any sympathy with the frequent attacks on the Star by one of your correspondents, who never lets an opportunity go by to "knock" the Star.

I have been a constant paying subscriber to THE TRADES UNIONIST, but in view of the above-cited facts you will please discontinue my subscription.

Respectfully,
H. K. SOUTHLAND.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

The Goodkey Resolution.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

As a great majority of the members of Columbia Typographical Union, No. 101, do not thoroughly understand the proposition to endow a bed at Garfield Memorial Hospital for $5,000, which will give the privilege of always maintaining a patient there for a lifetime, it might be well to consider what some of our sister unions are doing in this matter.

New York Typographical Union, No. 6, maintains several beds in St. Vincent's, St. Mary's, St. Mark's, and New York hospitals at a cost of $300 each one a year, but it has no beds endowed.

St. Louis Typographical Union, No. 8, has just began to put the scheme into practice there. It has two beds in the Centenary Hospital there. The union furnished the rooms in which the beds are located (one bed in a room) at an expense of $112 25, in return for which it is entitled to the use of the beds for thirty-seven days each year, or seventy-four days each year for both, as long as the hospital is in existence, which also includes medical attendance, etc. After the seventy-four days are up it pays reduced rates for each patient. It also provides a set of eight rules governing the use of the rooms.

From the above it can be seen that Columbia Union can well afford to spend any amount in like proportion to put into practice the plan in this city.

At Garfield Hospital we can maintain patients there at from $12 to $25 per week as they occur.

At Providence Hospital we can maintain a bed in a ward annually for $300, or $5,000 for life.

Thus it will be seen that the best plan would be to endow a bed for $5,000, which could be paid in suitable installments each month, and in this way have a place for our sick and needy members. As the Union now has the Temple fully paid, a monument to its credit, it could use the revenue therefrom temporarily to cover the cost of the proposed endowment and still have a balance on hand in four or five years. It is a good proposition and one that every member ought to vote for, as it will be a credit to the Union.

JOS. E. GOODKEY.

The "Man's Store."

A Suit Sale that's getting more popular every day.

All 2-piece and Fancy 3-piece Suits, worth up to $15..... $9.75
All 2-piece and Fancy 3-piece Suits, worth up to $18..... $13.75
All 2-piece and Fancy 3-piece Suits, worth up to $22.50..... $16.75
All $25 2-piece and Fancy 3-piece Suits..... $19.75

Money's Worth or Money Back

D. J. KAUFMAN, 1005-7 Pa. Ave.

The Savings possible at

S. Kann, Sons & Co.
8th St.—THE BUSY CORNER—Pa. Ave.

are such as may be counted in the pocket. At the same time styles and qualities are unexcelled.

Melville Club
Old Rye Whiskey
It's Pure and Fine. $1 Full Quart

"Driver's Rye Cordial" cures coughs and colds, composed of old rye whisky and pure rock candy, $1 per bottle. Driver's Favorites, the best 5c. cigar obtainable. Union hand-made cigars a specialty. At the bar try Driver's Famous Cocktails. Melville Club Whisky at the bar, 10c.

Geo. W. Driver
605 PENNA. AVE.

Indian Head Trips | Marshall Hall

STR. CHARLES MACALESTER
EVERY THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY AT 6.30 P. M.
Appointments first-class. All amusements.
MARSHALL HALL:
Daily at 10 a. m., 2.30 and 6.30 p. m.
Sundays, 11 a. m., 2.30 and 6.30 p. m.
Fare (Round Trip), 25 Cents.
FOR MOUNT VERNON,
(Home and Tomb of Washington). Daily, 10 a. m. and 2.30 p. m. (Sundays excepted).

Cole & Swan
Large assortment of Watches, Diamonds, and Jewelry (we make and repair anything in this line).
"Square Dealing" our motto.
21 H Street N. W.

CARL E. WILSON
Late Palmer House Barber Shop, Chicago, Ill.
White Union Barbers | 315 G ST. N. W. | Cooled by Electric Fans
H. A. POLAN
Late Manila, Philippine Islands

A. & P. BEST ELGIN BUTTER, 27 CENTS.
Finest Grades of Teas and Coffees.
Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, Cor. 7th and E.

Dorsch Bros.' Bread
Bears the Union Label
Insist on Dorsch Bros.' Bread because—first, it carries the Badge of Labor; second, there is None Better; and third, it is sold at a workingman's price—Four Cents.
SOLD EVERYWHERE AT
4c THE LOAF 4c

J. GEORGE SMITH
(Formerly a member of the firm of R. P. Andrews & Co.)
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
PAPER AND STATIONERY
My old friends and patrons from J. C. Addison's time to the present will be welcome. I can supply all your needs at lowest prices consistent with quality.
626 E STREET NORTHWEST

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

New York union plasterers will receive $5.50 a day from July 1.

Woodward & Lothrop,
DEPARTMENT STORE.
TENTH, ELEVENTH, AND F STS. N. W.

WHERE THE HALF-TONES ARE MADE
THE NATIONAL ENGRAVING COMPANY.
INCORPORATED.
14th St. and Pa. Ave. Phone 1679 Main.

C. F. BROWNE
Watch Mainsprings, 50c
904 F ST. NORTHWEST

Floor Coverings Exclusively
We sell nothing but high-grade floor coverings—goods of a kind and quality that this house has been famed for for two generations and more.
Carpets and Rugs cleaned and stored
Giddings & Steele, 813 Pa. Avenue

J. E. BONINI'S
BUFFET AND CAFÉ,
727-729 N. Capitol Street.
MAERZEN BEER ON TAP.
A first-class Lunch Counter. Sea food in season. Union throughout.

D. STRAUSS,
Clothier, Hatter and Furnisher
441 Seventh Street N. W.,
Washington, D. C.

T. HOLLANDER
Men's Furnishings
Hats and Shoes
COR. N. CAPITOL AND H STS.
Opposite Government Printing Office

DO YOU USE TOILET PAPER?
If so, investigate the service furnished by
R. P. Andrews & Co.,
INCORPORATED
627-629 LOUISIANA AVE. N. W.
THE WHOLESALE PAPER HOUSE
IT WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

Our Motto—Prompt and Polite Attention.
The Modern Dairy Lunch Room
CHAS. A. MOULDEN, Mgr.
409 TENTH STREET N. W.
Open day and night. | Unsurpassed Coffee Our Specialty

"Everyone knows how to find fault." No one has yet found fault with the
RELIABLE
The Gas Range for Summer Use
Washington Gas Light Co.
GAS APPLIANCE EXCHANGE

EDWIN F. PRICE
(Late member of the firm of E. F. Price & Co.)
Bookbinder
Ruling and Binding of every description. Strongest Flat-Opening Blank Book Made. A Specialty of Fine Bank Work.
Darby Bldg., 506-508 Fourteenth St. N. W.

THE RIGGS NATIONAL BANK
Of Washington, D. C.
Capital - - - $1,000,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits, 1,000,000
Exchange on England, Ireland, France and Germany. Letters of credit available in all foreign parts. Bank Collections. Orders for investments. Stocks and Bonds.

Are You Thinking of Life Insurance
If So Consult
FRANK K. RAYMOND
General Agent
Union Central Life Insurance Co.
BOND BUILDING
Phone 2069 Main

SAMUEL C. PALMER
Manufacturer of
Soda and Mineral Waters
IN FOUNTS, SYPHONS AND BOTTLES
SODA WATER SYRUPS
OF ALL FLAVORS
Phone West 190
Depot, 1066-8 32d Street N. W.

THOMAS WALSH
Formerly "Steve" Caldwell's.
Whiskies and Cigars
Specialties: MELVALE AND SHERWOOD
COOL LAGER BEER ON DRAUGHT.
BILLIARDS AND POOL
Billiards, 40c. per hour. Pool, 2½c. per cue.
THOMAS WALSH
407 Tenth St. Northwest

E. F. PRICE & CO.
Strongest flat opening blank book made.
Ruling and Binding of every description.
A Specialty of FINE BANK WORK.
BOOKBINDERS 1108 E St. N. W.

G. P. O. BICYCLE REPAIR CO.
ARTHUR D. BENNETT
MANAGER
Wheels stored, cleaned, and repaired (per month)..... $1.00
Wheels stored and cleaned (per month)..... .75
Wheels stored (per month)..... .50
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty
Bicycle Sundries
Salesroom, 33 H St. N. W.

300 1-lb. Loaves to the Barrel.
Every Laboring Man
—requires pure, wholesome, nourishing food such as is made of—
Cream Blend Flour
It not only makes THE BEST Bread, Rolls, Cake and Pastry, but more of them than other brands—therefore it's the cheapest that money can buy.
Your Grocer will supply you.
B. B. EARNSHAW & BRO., Wholesalers,
1105, 1107, 1109 11th Street S. E.
1000 and 1002 M Street S. E.

M. S. JOHNSON
Merchant Tailor
UNION EMPLOYER
1435 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest

A Union House Patronized by Union Printers You Will Meet The Craft Here.
HAIGHT'S
HOTEL AND RESTAURANT
1008-10-12 E Street Northwest
One block from Columbia Theater
Rooms Newly Furnished For Men Only

HOTEL FRITZ REUTER
Rathskeller and Restaurant.
COR. PA. AVE. AND JOHN MARSHALL PLACE
Phone: East 388.

Ebbitt House
Washington, D. C. H. C. BURCH, Mgr.
HEADQUARTERS
International Typographical Convention

Telephone 3662-Y
AMREIN'S
FAMOUS ICE CREAM
HAS NO EQUAL
Stores, 1426 and 1810 7th St. N. W.

Equitable Industrial Insurance
COMPANY
Life Insurance for Industrial Classes
Claims paid to date, $221,187.00
WM. A. BENNETT, General Superintendent
605 F STREET NORTHWEST

B. F. WARNER
FINE WINES and LIQUORS
BLUE LABEL CIGARS
1219 E Street Northwest

FOR LUNCH
TRY THE
Pure Dairy Lunch
935 D Street Northwest

American Ice Co.
1437 Penna. Ave. N. W.

Pabst beer is always pure

THE UNION SAVINGS BANK

BOND BUILDING

Cor. 14th St. and New York Ave. N.W.

Three Per Cent Interest on Savings Accounts.

anch Deposit Agency at T. A. ROVER'S STORE,

Cor. North Capitol and H Sts.

OPEN EVERY MONDAY AND TUESDAY FROM 4 TO 5 P. M.

When in doubt buy at HOUSE & HERRMANN,

FURNITURE, CARPETS, DRAPERIES, ETC.

N. E. Corner Seventh and I Streets N. W.

CLEANING PANAMAS

And restoring original color without the use of injurious chemicals and giving that flexibility characteristic of them in their native clime is in which we are thorough masters. We will charge you no more than what you will pay for ordinary work.

A SCIENCE

Empire Hat Company

629 F St. N. W. Send postal or phone E. 524-y

Don't Buy a Hat Without the Label. .

And See that It Is Sewed In.

THE UNITED HATTERS OF NORTH AMERICA — UNION MADE — REGISTERED

Don't Patronize a Dealer Who Has Loose Labels on Hand and Offers to Put One in Your Hat.

LOOSE LABELS

In Retail Stores

ARE COUNTERFEITS.

The John B. Stetson Co., of Philadelphia, Pa., is a non-union concern.

St. Asaph Commission Rooms,

Old Established and Reliable.

Trains leave Thirteen and one-half street and Pennsylvania avenue—Alexandria, Mt. Vernon, and Washington Railway—daily at 12.45, 1.05, 1.25, 2, 2.30, 3.02, and 3.30. Return .39, 4.24, 5.02, 5.58, and at various intervals.

The Hub Furniture Co., The Stores that Save You Money.

OUR MOTTO—The Best Values in Furniture and Carpets at the Lowest Prices.

Cash or Credit.

HUB FURNITURE CO.,

(Formerly Wash B. Williams)

Corner Seventh and D Streets N. W.

CELTIC CLUB WHISKY

Our Specialty. Never Changes. Once Tried You'll Always Use It. Take No Substitute.

Ports and Sherries for family use, Quarts, 50 and 75 cents. All makes of Beer. Leading brands of Cigars. Ales and Porters on draught the year round.

JOHN CONNOR

New Jersey Ave. and G Sts. N. W.

J. WILLIAM LEE,

Undertaker and Livery, . . .

322 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

HECHT & CO.,

515 and 517 Seventh street N. W.

ARE

UNFAIR

TO

Organized Labor.

Retail Clerks, No. 262.

Yale Laundry

DECLARED UNFAIR

BY THE R. A. LANIS ASSOCIATION

The "Yale Steam Laundry" prefers "scabs" to do their steam fitting. Where do you and your friends have your washing done? Help the Union Steam Fitters by refusing your patronage to the Yale Laundry.

R. A. LANIS ASS'N OF STEAM FITTERS

March 10, 1903. L. B. No. 10, N A

Book Your Excursions to

CHESAPEAKE BEACH

Only salt water resort near Washington

HALEY'S BAND

Finest Bathing, Fishing, Crabbing, Sailing, Dancing

GENERAL OFFICE:

1420 New York Avenue

Union Directory.

TO SECRETARIES: Please notify this office of any change in officers' addresses, time or place of meeting. Corrections will be made quarterly.

American Federation of Labor—Headquarters, Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Sam'l Gompers, President. Frank Morrison, Secretary.

Allied Printing Trades Council meets last Thursday in the month at Typographical Temple. J. A. Wiedman, Secretary-Treasurer, 15 I street northeast.

Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, Local No. 148, meets second and fourth Thursday evenings at 922 Pa. avenue northwest. Geo. Bakersmith, Secretary, 3315 Brightwood avenue northwest.

Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, Local Union No. 102, meets first and third Wednesdays at Loehl's Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. Wm. H. Whiting, Secretary, 639 K street southwest.

American Society Plate Engravers meets first Saturday in each month at Grand Army Hall. A. C. Ruebsam, Secretary, 1307 Third street northwest.

Bakers Union, No. 118, meets first and third Saturday in each month at 430 Eighth street northwest. John G. Schmidt, Secretary and Business Agent, 333 I street s w.

Bakers' Drivers' L. U. No. 33, T. D. I. U. meets first and third Thursday evening of each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Thomas C. Fox, Secretary, 922 Fourth street northeast.

Bartenders' League Local No. 75, meets first and fourth Sunday of each month at 2 p. m. at Macabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. Jere F. McCarthy, Secretary, 1017 Maryland avenue southwest.

Beer Drivers' and Stablemen's Union, No. 234, meets first Sunday of each month at 314 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. A. D. Manger, Secretary, 209 Sixth street southwest

Bookbinders' Union, No. 4, meets first Tuesday in each month at Typograhical Temple. James A. Stockman, Secretary, 735 North Capitol street.

Brewery Workers' Union, No. 118, meets second and last Sunday of the month at 314 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. Frank Rom, Secretary, 818 New Hampshire avenue n. w.

Bricklayers' Union, No. 1, meets second and fourth Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Milford Spohn, Secretary, Typographical Temple.

Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators, and Paperhangers, Local Union, No. 368, meets every Friday night at 430 Eighth street northwest. G. J. Murray, Secretary, 1107 South Carolina avenue southeast.

Cab and Carriage Drivers' Union, No. 486, meets first and third Sundays, at Butler's Hall, 609 C street northwest. W. B. Nelson, Secretary, 922 I street northwest.

Carriage and Wagon Workers' International Union, Local No. 72, of Washington, D. C., meets first and third Fridays at 902 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. John H. Brinkman, Secretary, 1729 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Carpet Upholsterers, No. 85, U. I. U., meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at 516 Ninth street northwest. John Devlin, Secretary, 363 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

Central Labor Union meets every Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Typographical Temple. Charles W. Winslow, Secretary, 425 G street northwest. Residence, 3206 Wisconsin avenue northwest.

Ceramic, Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers and Helpers' International Union, No. 2, meets first and third Thursdays at 609 C street northwest. W. F. Miller, Secretary, 1228 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Cigarmakers' Local Union, No. 110, meets every Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Bielig's Hall, 737 Seventh street northwest. Henry B. Wissner, Secretary, 3143 Dumbarton avenue.

Columbia Lodge, No. 174, International Association of Machinists, meets every Wednesday night at McCauley's Hall, 209 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. E. L. Adams, Secretary, 600 Ninth street northeast.

Columbia Typographical Union meets third Sunday in each month in Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. W. M. Garrett, Secretary.

Council Allied Building Trades of Central Labor Union meets every Tuesday night at Room 10, Typographical Temple. E. J. Ratigan, Secretary.

Douglass Association of Steam Engineers, I. S. U. E., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of the month at 609 F street northwest. J. W. Webb, Secretary, 341 Maryland avenue southwest.

Electrotype Molders and Finishers' Union, No. 17, I. S. and E. U. Charles W. Dean, Secretary.

Federal Labor Union No. 8193, meets fourth Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Miss Emma A. Miller, Secretary, 1011 First street n. w.

Fire Department Employees. P. and B. Union No. 8846, meets every Wednesday morning at 11 a. m., at Union Veterans' Hall, 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. G. Achstetter, Secretary, 206 N. Y. ave. northwest.

Gas Workers' Union No. 10343, Samuel H. Walker, Secretary, 735 Thirteenth street s. e.

Glass Bottle Blowers' Association, Branch 68, Alexandria, Va., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Serepta Hall. Frank Michelbach, Secretary, 803 King street, Alexandria, Va.

Hospital Attendants' Protective Union No. 8097, meets first and fourth Saturday nights of each month at Masonic Hall, Anacostia, D. C. C. W. Teates, Secretary, 434 Jackson street, Anacostia, D. C.

Hodcarriers, Brick and Mortar Wheelers' Union No. 9468, meets first and third Monday evenings in each month at Cadets' Armory, 708 O street northwest. Dennis Brown, Secretary, 1237 Fourth street northwest.

Ice Wagon Drivers meets first and third Tuesdays in each month at 910 Pennsylvania ave. (third floor). B. DeAtley, Secretary, 329 C street southwest.

International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, Local Union No. 5, meets every Friday night at Seventh and N streets northwest. Charles E. Barbour, Secretary, 1212 Potomac street northwest.

International Association of Machinists, Headquarters, rooms 82-85 Corcoran Building, Fifteenth and F streets northwest. James O'Connell, president; D. Douglass Wilson, vice-president and editor of the Journal; George Preston, Secretary-Treasurer.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.—Headquarters, Rooms 103-104 Corcoran Building. H. W. Sherman, Secretary.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 26, meets every Thursday night at Hotel Royal Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. S. F. Adams, Secretary, 724 Eighteenth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 148, meet every Monday night at 430 Eighth street northwest. H. B. Anderson, Secretary, 807 Eighth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, No. 257, meets every Friday evening at 719 Sixth street n. w. M. G. Bundick, Secretary, 1107 Tenth street n. w.

Interior Marble and Slate Cutters' and Setters' Association, No. 5, meets first and third Wednesday of each month at Arion Hall, 430 Eighth street northwest. George Edmonds, Secretary, 423 Queen street, Alexandria Va.

International Association of Marble Workers No. 33, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at 106 I street northwest. Lew Davis, Secretary, 106 I street northwest.

International Union of Steam Engineers— Local Union No. 99, meets every Wednesday evening at 419 Tenth street northwest. A. W. Leeke, Recording Secretary, Twelfth and B streets northwest.

Iron Molders' Union, Local No. 215, meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at Masonic Hall, Fourth street and Pennsylvania avenue southeast. Joseph Stewart, Secretary, 3413 N street northwest.

I. U. S. E., Hoisting and Portable, Local 77, meets every Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, Heare's Hall. 404 Eighth street northwest. W. H. Radcliffe, Secretary, 812 Four-and-a-Half street southwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 239, meets first and third Wednesdays in each month at 737 Seventh st. northwest. Theo. A. Leckert, Secretary, 1210 Florida avenue northwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 305, meets first and third Monday evenings at 503 G street northwest (barber shop). Charles A. Thomas, Secretary, 517 E street northwest.

Journeymen Horseshoers' Union, No. 17, meets first and third Wednesday of each month at Costello's Hall, Sixth and G streets northwest. W. S. Lusby, Secretary, 708 Eighth street southwest.

Journeyman Tailors of America, No. 188, meets first and third Saturdays of each month at 8 o'clock p.m., Labor Bureau Hall. Ignatius Geraci, Secretary, 917½ E street northwest.

Journeyman Plumbers and Gas Fitters' Local Union, No. 5, meets second and fourth Tuesday evening of each month at Maccabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. A. E. Anderson, Secretary, 1312 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Journeymen Stone and Marble Cutters' Union, meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Irondall Hall. Harry Bouche, Secretary, 72 H street northeast.

Laundry Wagon Drivers No. 467, W. W. Foster, Secretary, 95 Myrtle street northwest

Mail Bag Workers' Union, 10504, meets every Saturday at 721 Sixth street northwest Miss A. Cross, Secretary, 321 Lincoln street, Anacostia, D. C.

Marble Mosaic and Granito Workers No. 8902, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at 1400 D street northwest. G. B. Cinotti, secretary.

Metal Trades Federation of North America, Room 134 Corcoran Bldg., James O'Connell, President. E. J. Lynch, Secretary.

Milk Wagon Drivers' Union, No. 349, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at 8 p. m., at Hotel Royal (second floor), Seventh and N streets northwest. W. T. Trittipoe, 1359 U street northwest.

Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers' Helpers, Local Union, No. 12, meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Arion Hall, 430 Eighth street northwest. S. Becket, Secretary, 401 E Street southeast.

Musicians' Protective Union, No. 161. meets first and third Sundays at 2 p. m., at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Linden, Jr., Secretary, 1364 E street southeast.

National Alliance Theatrical Stage Employes meets first and third Sunday in each month at southwest corner of Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, third floor. J. P. Shilling, Secretary, 1208 Bladensburg Road.

Negative Cutters Union, meets second Wednesday in each month at 921 F street northwest. Clarence W. Schroeder, Secretary, 640 E street southeast.

Oil Wagon Drivers, No. 296, meets first and third Friday evenings at 304 B street southeast. A. J. Dixon, Secretary, 1234 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Operative Stonemasons' Union, No. 2, meets first and third Monday evenings at 609 C street northwest. James Lanigan, Secretary, 930 G street southwest.

Paperhangers' Local Union No. 420, B. of P., D., and P., meets every Wednesday evening, 625 Louisiana avenue, n. w. J. Franklin Page, Secretary.

Pattern Makers' League meets at Weller's Hall, Eighth and I streets southeast. first and third Wednesday. James B. McAlwee, Secretary, 907 E street southeast.

Photo-Engravers' Union, No. 17, meets first Monday in each month at 417 Eleventh street northwest. F. C. Betts, Secretary, Kensington, Md.

Printing Pressmen Union, No. 1, meets first Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. W. C. Deane, Secretary. 19 Grant Place.

Plate Printers Union, No. 2, meets at Maccabee Temple, Ninth street n. w., the fourth Tuesday in each month. J. P. Murphy, Secretary, 1416 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

Post-Office Clerks, No. 9834, meets the second Saturday of each month at Twelfth and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. B. Corridon, Secretary, 1733 North Capitol street.

Registered Drug Clerks' Union, District of Columbia, meets second and fourth Fridays at Jolly Fat Men's Hall, 933 D street northwest. Fred T. Hafelfinger, Secretary, 1110 Fourteenth street northwest.

Retail Clerks' Union, No. 262, meets second and fourth Mondays of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Joseph Moser, Recording Secretary, 624 I street northwest.

Retail Grocery Clerks' Union, No. 533, meets every Thursday evening at Society Temple, 5th and G streets N. W. Alfred Fuss, Secretary, 802 D street s. e.

Slate and Tile Roofers' Union, No. 10421, meets every Monday night at 922 F street northwest. J. C. Huddleson, Secretary, 2147 Pennsylvania avenue northwest,

Soda and Mineral Water Wagon Drivers, No. 372, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at Bessler's Hall, 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. P. Connor, Secretary, 1111 Sixth street southwest.

Steam Fitters, R. A. Lanis Association, L. B. No. 10, N. A., meets every Thursday night at 902 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. S. D. Zea, Secretary, 2108 G street northwest.

Steam and Hot Water Fitters and Helpers, Local Branch, No. 28, N. A., meets every Friday at 8 o'clock p. m., at 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Thomas F. Flanagan, Secretary, 38 G street northeast.

Stereotypers' Union, No. 19, of Washington D. C., meets second Monday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. D. J. Murray, Secretary, 35 R street northwest.

Stone Laborers' Union, No. 9013, meets first and third Friday of each month at Eleventh and Q streets northwest. Daniel Lahey, Secretary, 1003 A street southeast.

Telephone Operators, No. 9914, meets third Saturday of each month at Schmidt's Hall, 516 Ninth street northwest Edna Earl Bobb, Secretary, 924 Pennsylvania avenue southeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, Local Union. No. 190, meet every Friday evening at the Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. C. H. Scherer, Secretary, 936 Fourth street northeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 884, meets every Monday night at 904 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Torney, Secretary, 141 Jefferson street, Anacostia, D. C.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 1103, Mill and Bench Hands, meets every Friday at 8 p. m., at 514 Ninth street northwest. Peyton Wilkerson, Secretary, 816 G street southeast.

United Brotherhood of Leather Workers on Horse Goods, No. 87, meets every second and fourth Tuesday, 513 Twelfth street northwest. H. J. Laubach, Secretary, 72 H street northeast.

Upholsterers' Local Union, No. 58, meets second and fourth Thursdays of each month at 416 (fourth floor) Ninth street northwest. T. R. Bowie, Secretary, 1306 Riggs street northwest.

Washington Branch, Granite Cutters' National Union, meets every second and fourth Mondays in each month at 1204 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Wm. Silver, Secretary, 49 Massachusetts avenue northwest.

Washington Feeders and Assistants' Union, No. 42, meets the first Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street n. w. D. I. Leane, Secretary, 702 H street northeast.

Washington Lodge of Machinists, No. 193, meets every Thursday night at southwest corner of Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. Herbert Wyatt, Secretary, 111 Seventh street southeast.

Wood, Wire, and Metal Lathers' Local Union, No. 9, meets every Monday night at Hare's Hall. Eighth and D streets northwest. J. C. Maloney, Secretary, 124 G street n. w.

LOOKING BACKWARD.

A Retrospective Glance at First Division, G. P. O., Five Years Ago.

A time slip of the first division, G. P. O., bearing date of July 21, 1898, was unearthed recently, and a member of that division has taken the opportunity to check up the names on the slip, showing the whereabouts of the survivors and locating as near as possible the remainder. The slip shows that the total number of printers were 148. Among those in the division at this time are Harding, Leeds, Major, Bright, Hale, Burnside, Gunn, McFarlane, Alexander, Garrette, Brewer, Mabrey, Howle, Haworth, McCormick, Lesher, Dowell, Gray, Young, Lawlor, Thompson, Cranford, Montgomery, Williams, Nelson, Fiesse, Rhodes, Serrano, Taylor, Latham, Pinkston, Robinson, Bellinger, Faust, Barton, Waterman—36. Among others whose names are on the time slip were William H Fisher, now foreman of the Library branch; Charles E Young, foreman of the first division night; James M. Maloney, reviser in the day proof room; Martin Brosnahan, dead; Donn, imposer, first division; Chisholm, proof room; H. B. Billings, specifications; McConnell, practicing dentistry; W. F. O'Brien, night proof room; Joseph V. Murray, dead; S. C. Hanlon, Union Printers' Home; E. S. B. Eubank, died at Denver, 1902; U. S. Lowdermilk, dead; J. J. McCarthy, on the Chronicle, Augusta, Ga.; James Kane, imposer, night force; William H. Lentz, night force; George H. Hayden, lives in Alexandria, when he is not in Washington; R. A. Greene, publishing a newspaper in Tennessee; D. W. Bushnell, working in a job office in Chicago; M. F. Kerwan, practicing dentristry in Albany, N. Y.; Ed. B. Horen, night force; W. C. Wood, specification; Noel Nichols, successfully engaged in farming in Maryland; J. W. Cross, specification; R. E. Bragg, second division; Charles D. Watts, at his home in Lewistown, Pa.; B. H. Swain, fourth division; J. J. Fenton, third division; James J. Cooney, attorney-at-law, Philadelphia, Pa.; Elias Gray, dead; L. B. Cooley, night force; O. G. Stacey, out West; A. L. Huss, night force; E. S. Wild, imposer, night force; C. M. Sizer, Library branch; William Schmidt, third division; W.V. Smith, Post; Charles A. Sheldon, job room; J. Harmon Smith (Tom Reed), dead; George H. Ogle, specification; C. E. Harward, out; A. C. Yates, dead; George McCutcheon, job room; W. F. Crump, night force; Charles Abernethy, fifth division; J. K. Seagraves, holds a lucrative position with the Lanston Machine Company in Phliadelphia, Pa.; Frank R. Rynex, Interior branch; J. J. Foster, enjoys a lucrative law practice at Waco, Tex.; John O'Neill ("Honest John"), out; Charles Spencer, out; Joseph W. Fritz, fifth division; C. J. Sheriff, third division; A. M. Allison, compositor Government office in the Philippine Islands; Sam G. Wise, fourth division; W. W. Handley, a successful business man in South America; A. J. Bartels, out; J. L. Harper, night; A. C. Gibbs, night force; G. Merlin Hull, a practicing lawyer at Des Moines, Iowa; John D. Van Scoten, Weather Bureau, Columbus, Ohio; A. E. Surguy, proofreader; Martin Schram, specification; Arthur Jacobs, sixth division; H. J. Redfield, specification; J. J. Murray, Baltimore; A. L. Parker, specification; Timothy O'Sullivan, a prosperous citizen, Kansas City; W. B. Johnson, second division; W. H. Cornish, third division; Louis R. Lippincott, sixth division; M. P. Connelly, specification; Edward S. Moores, timekeeper, third division; Wm. G. Glenn, third division; William McCabe, New York Herald; T. M. Ring, with THE TRADES UNIONIST; E. D. McKenna, down town; Albert Reid, proofreader; J. M. Thompson, sixth division: C. J. Unger, third division; W. E. Philes, practicing physician; R. L. Townsend, third division; Andrew McGarraghy, specification; D. A. ("Doc") Welles, out; George D. Colquitt, specification; Thomas C. Easterling, out West; Ed. J. Scanlon, specification; John H. Hogan, specification; Stephen T. Walton, sixth division; L. B. Clark, job room; James G. Brown, New York City; Arnold Reef; W. D. Morgan, second division; E. M. King, night force; Isaiah Cox, member of the Metropolitan Police, Washington, D. C.; James E. Brooke, sixth division; J. M. Wood, down town; Edwin Collar, Treasury branch; N. Sardo, dead; Zimri V. Rogers, Dayton, Ohio; Edgar W. Hopkins, dead; John E. Sullivan, dead; D. J. McCarty, specification; F. W. Street, specification; Shelby Smith, Philadelphia, Pa.; O. L. Carter, grocer; M. M. Dutcher, up home in Pennsylvania, and William A. Ball, out.

Representative Business Houses.

OF WASHINGTON, D. C.

The following wholesale and retail firms and professional men are friendly to Union Labor and are entitled to its patronage:

BANKS.
THE LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK, Safe Deposit Vaults, $2.50 up
CAPITAL LOAN GUARANTEE COMPANY, 602 F Street Northwest. Every one can borrow money without security.

BAKERS.
HOLMES & SONS, Celebrated Home-Made Pies and Milk Bread. First and E Streets N. W. Phone Main 1564.

BOOTS AND SHOES.
CROCKER'S SHOES, 939 Pennsylvania Ave. N. W.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.
DANIEL LOUGHRAN, 1347 Pennsylvania Ave.
LUCHS & BRO., Wholesalers. Tom Keene 5c. Cigar. Phone E 755.

COACH FINDINGS.
J. B. KENDALL, 485-87 Missouri avenue N. W.

COAL TAR PRODUCTS AND PAPER.
E. B. WARREN & CO., 27th and H Sts. N. W.

CUTLERY AND SPORTING GOODS.
D. N. WALFORD, 477 and 909 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

DRY GOODS.
LANSBURGH & BROTHER, 420 to 426 7th St. N. W

DYER.
E. E. WHEATLEY, 1068 Jefferson Ave. N. W. Phone, West 117-Y.

ENGRAVERS.
THE MAURICE JOYCE ENGRAVING CO. Cuts and Illustrations. 418 11th street N. W

FIRE INSURANCE.
Insure with THE RIGGS FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.
FIREMEN'S INSURANCE COMPANY, Seventh St. and Louisiana Ave.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.
JULIUS LANSBURGH, Interocean Building, 512 Ninth St. N. W.

FURNACES.
WILLIAM MINNIS, 1023 H st. N. E. Residence: 1501 H st. N. E.

GROCERIES.
LITTLE & PAGE, "Good things to eat." 1210 F St. N.W
W. C. ERGOOD, "Good goods at Ergoods." Corner Ninth and H Streets Northwest.

GROCER AND COFFEE ROASTER.
SOMERSET R. WATERS, 1342 Seventh Street Northwest, Corner O.

HARDWARE AND TOOLS.
RUDOLPH, WEST & CO., 1332 New York avenue northwest.

HUDSON'S VARIETY STORE.
B F. HUDSON, 423 Seventh Street Northwest.

HATTERS AND FURRIERS.
JAMES Y. DAVIS' SONS, 1201 Pennsylvania Ave.
A. H. BURDINE, Union Overalls, Hats, and Gloves. Seventh Street and Virginia avenue southwest.

LIME, SAND, GRAVEL, CEMENT.
NATIONAL MORTAR COMPANY, Office: Room 9, Ralston Bldg., 612 F St. N. W. Office telephone: East 688.

LUMBER AND MILL WORK.
THOMAS R. RILEY, 13th St. and Ohio Ave.
THE WASHINGTON WOOD WORKING CO., 12th and B Streets N. W. Telephone 2119-3.

MACHINISTS AND ENGINEERS,
FORSBERG & MURRAY, Pumps and Elevators. Engines and Boilers 8th and Water Sts. S. W.

MERCHANT TAILOR.
W. A. SLADEN, 419 East Capitol Street.

PHARMACISTS.
LOUIS F. BRADLEY, Prescription Druggist. 8th and E Sts. S. E

PHOTO-LITHOGRAPHERS.
THE NORRIS PETERS CO., 458 and 460 Pennsylvania avenue N. W
ANDREW B. GRAHAM Lithographer, Photo-Lithographer, and Half-Tones. 1230 Pa. Ave. Phones: 1031-M, 1679-M.

PIANO AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
E. E. DROOP & SONS, 925 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

PRINTING SUPPLIES.
NATIONAL PRINTER'S SUPPLY CO., Machine-made Rollers. 414 10th St. N. W.

RESTAURANT AND WINE ROOM.
JOHN M. BECKER, Opp. Navy Yard., Cor. 8th and Georgia Ave. S.E

SHOES.
DAVE WOLF, SHOES FOR EVERYBODY, 432 Seventh Street N. W.

SHAVING PARLORS
VINCENT R. CILENTO, 805 North Capitol Street.

TITLES TO REAL ESTATE.
LAWYERS' TITLE & GUARANTY INS. CO. 412 5th St. N. W.

WINES AND LIQUORS.
SAMUEL G. STEWART, Heurich Brewing Co's. beers and popular brands of whiskies. 1141 Seventh st. northwest between L and M.
WILLIAM DIETZ, 1203 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest

DO NOT WANT OUR PATRONAGE.

Following brands of cigars: Cinco, Cremo, George W. Childs, Henry George, Tom Moore, Robert Burns, and General Arthur.

The following firms have declared against the interest of Organized Labor and are not regarded as deserving their patronage:

NAME.	BUSINESS.	LOCATION.
Chevy Chase Railway and circle.	Street railway	Chevy Chase and Circle.
Keenan Bros	Gents' furnishers	Pa. ave. bet. 14th and 15th sts., and 523 Seventh st. n. w.
B. Solomon	Gents' furnisher	708 Seventh street n.w.
Rufus H. Darby	Printer	508 Fourteenth street n.w.
H. L. McQueen	Printer	1108 E street n.w.
N. Sickles (Nat'l Cigar Factory).	Cigar manufacturer	1011 Penna. avenue n.w.
E. Gundershiemer	Baker	516 Second street n.w. and stalls in Center Market.
Peter Grogan	Carpet dealer	817 to 823 Seventh street n.w.
John H. Fitzgerald	Horseshoer	443 Prather's alley n.w.
S. S Daish	Coal and wood	Florida ave. and Third st. n.e.
Wilbur F. Nash	Meat dealer	Center and O st. Markets.
C. E. Hencke	Electrician	711 G street n.w.
F. J. Wheelock	Electrician	1215 G street n. e.
James A. Bennett	Tinner	2008 H street n.w.
National Mosaic Company	Mosaics	207 Fourth st. n.w.
M. Minster	Gents' furnisher	1343 F st. n.w.
A. Minster	Gents' furnisher	499 and 501 Penna. ave. n. w.
Cyrus B. Reese	Employing steamfitter	1519 Fourteenth street n. w.
C. A. Schneider & Sons	Union Iron Works	212 Twelfth street n. w.
Minster & Paterson	Gents' furnishers	1109 Pennsylvania ave. n. w.
The Famous	Gents' furnishings	437 Seventh street n. w.
Chas. A. Muddiman & Co	Gas fixtures	1204 G and 616 Twelfth st. n.w.
Conrad Becker	Trunks and harness	1328 F st. n. w.
Chapin & Sacks	Dealer in butter	924 Louisana ave. n. w.
Home Ice Company	Ice	Twelfth and V sts. n.w.
Emil Wagner	Restaurant	210 Ninth st. n. w.
W. E. Carney	Cigar manufacturer	921 G st. s. w.
Nat'l Roller & Ball Bearing Co.	Machinery	33rd and K sts. n. w.
L. Rosenberg	Gents' furnishings	911 Eighth st. s. e.
Corbin Thompson	Dairyman	Sharon Dairy, 324 B st. s. w.
S. D. Houck	Dealer in harness	301 Tenth street n. w.
M. Eisemann & Bro	Dry goods	1924-26 Pa. ava. and 806 7th n.w
Elite Steam Laundry	Laundry	1205 G street n.w.
Benjamin Schwartz	Gents' furnisher and tailor	337 Pa. ave. s. e.
Emrich Beef Co	Meat Dealers
John Coleman	Horseshoer	1300 36th street n. w.
Hecht & Co	Dry Goods, etc	517-519 Seventh street n. w
Charles Rauscher	Caterer	Conn. ave. and L st. n. w
Academy of Music	Theatre	Ninth and D streets n. w.
E. H. Snyder & Co	Tailors	1111 Pa. ave n. w.
Owen Owen	Tailor	423 Eleventh street n. w.
L. A. Downey	Tailor	433 Eleventh street n. w.
J. M. Stein & Co	Tailors	413 Eleventh street n. w
J. D. Burns & Co	Tailors	701 Ninth street n. w.
J. F. Gatchel	Tailor	604 Thirteenth street n. w.
G. Warfield Simpson	Tailor	1208 F street n. w.
E. H. Catlin & Co	Machinists	407 13½ street n. w.
Thomas Somerville & Sons	Steam Fitters' Supplies	316 Thirteenth street n. w.
Joseph Mathy	Stove dealer and tin worker	1918 Pennsylvania avenue.

Bricklayers' Executive Committee.

The following is the list of members of the Executive Committee of Bricklayers' Union, No. 1: John G. Wolfe, chairman, 1023 New Jersey avenue; W. Cronin, 1415 Thirty-sixth street northwest; Samuel Haslett, 221 South Lee street, Alexandria, Va.; John Shanahan, 2352 Eighth street northwest; John McCarten, 1237 Maryland avenue northeast.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Cincinnati last week raised horse shoeing prices from $1.75 to $2 per set.

Hot Tamales and Chile at The Ranch, 507 F street n. w. Near Pension Office.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICIAL ORGAN CENTRAL LABOR UNION, WASHINGTON BRANCH, AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Vol. VIII. No. 5. WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, JULY 16, 1903. Price, 3 Cents.

THE CENTRAL LABOR UNION

Navy-Yard Employees Desire Action on Saturday Early Closing.

NEW STANDING COMMITTEES

Credentials Received from Ten Unions. Mail Bag Repairers Want New Jurisdiction—Steam Fitters' Helpers' Strike Indorsed by the Central Body.

The regular meeting of the Central Labor Union was called to order at 8 p. m. on Monday, President Sherman in the chair.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

CREDENTIALS.

From Local No. 884, Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, certifying that Messrs. Holden, Richardson, Beall, Morris, and Revell had been selected as their delegates to this body.

From Local No. 26, Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, certifying H. W. Sherman, S. F. Adams, R. Dixon, W. R. Cook, and A. B. Collison.

From Local No. 240, R. C. I. P. A., Drug Clerks, certifying H. T. Dodge and S. J. T. Wells, vice A. J. Hussey and W. C. Sparks.

From Local No. 430, Ice Wagon Drivers and Helpers, certifying W. W. Donaldson, vice Benjamin F. De Atley.

From Local No. 420, Paperhangers, certifying H. J. Wells, G. H. Yost, E. C. Bissett, H. E. Webb, and H. W. Geety.

From Columbia Lodge, No. 174, I. A. M., certifying John O. Montague, vice Harry Severn, resigned.

From Brewery Workmen's Union, No. 118, certifying John Keller, Frank Rom, C. Schroeder, Nic. Graef, and George Miller, jr.

From Local No. 338, Journeymen Tailors, certifying Ignatius Geraci, vice H. Berg.

From Local No. 1651, Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, certifying as delegates from that union Messrs. Eichelberger, Mowat, Wilson, Seibold, and Kailor.

From Local No. 1103, Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, certifying Messrs. Huggins, Burns, Bennett, Ketner, and Watt.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, inclosing an application for charter of Canvas Workers (Sailmakers), being employed on mail pouches. He also inclosed an application for change of name in charter of Mail Bag Repairers' Union, No. 10523, and said union's protest against the granting of a charter to the Canvas Workers. Referred to the Organization Committee.

From Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, calling attention to the Whiting Lumber Company, of Elizabethtown, Tenn., where members of the union had been recently locked out, and also asking cooperation of the Council to have local dealers withdraw patronage from this company while unfair to organized labor. Referred to special committee.

From the Journeymen Horseshoers' Union, No. 17, stating that Merchants Transfer and Storage Company had been declared unfair by that union and asking that said firm be placed on the unfair list. Referred to Grievance Committee.

From Brewery Workmen's Union, No. 118, reporting that they would participate in Labor Day parade. Referred to Labor Day Committee.

From Beer Drivers and Stablemen's Union, No. 234, stating that they regret the occasion makes it necessary that they must work on Labor Day and can not participate in the parade. Referred to Labor Day Committee.

From Local No. 1103, Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, stating that they had voted negatively on the Labor Day parade. Referred to Labor Day Committee.

From Columbia Lodge, No. 171, I. A. M., stating that they had voted against the Labor Day parade. Referred to Labor Day Committee.

From the Council of Allied Building Trades, stating that the Council had placed H. I. Gregory & Son, 912 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, on the unfair list, and ask that their action be indorsed. Referred to Grievance Committee.

From Local No. 110, Cigar Makers, reporting that they had voted in the negative on Labor Day parade. Referred to Labor Day Committee.

From Local No. 190, Brotherhood of Carpenters, inclosing communication from George H. Maxwell on the subject of forestry and homestead lands. Referred to Legislative Committee.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Contract Committee reported on the Engineers' contract. After a general discussion, the contract was sent back to the committee for purpose of defining trade rights with machinists and steam fitters, the contract to be finally reported on at next meeting.

CALL OF UNIONS.

Machinists reported that a notice was posted last week at the navy-yard that the yard would close at 3 p. m., but that it did not close. They requested that the secretary correspond with the President of the United States and inform him that last year the short work day was granted on Saturday, but this year it was not conceded. Request granted.

R. A. Lanis Association, No. 10, Steam Fitters, presented a form of agreement entered into with the employing firms in that trade.

Steam Fitters' Helpers, No. 28, presented the following resolution, which was indorsed:

WHEREAS, The Steam and Hot Water Fitters' Helpers, Local Branch No. 28, did, on December 31, 1902, notify the Master Steam Fitters' Association that on and after July 1, 1903, they would request $2 per day; and

WHEREAS, The same was not granted, and the Steam and Hot Water Fitters' Helpers, Local Branch No. 28, did go out on strike July 1, 1903, and have been on strike since that time; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Central Labor Union, in meeting assembled, extend their moral support to the Steam and Hot Water Fitters' Helpers, Local Branch No. 28, in their struggle for the betterment of their condition; and be it

Resolved, further, That we request all delegates to call the attention of their local unions to this resolution.

Washington Lodge of Machinists requested permission to issue circulars relative to certain firms they have on the unfair list. Request granted.

The special committee on communication from San Francisco Trades and Labor Council, urging attendance of all central bodies at sessions of A. F. of L., reported progress.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

Grievance—J. B. Dickman, N. C. Sprague, C. W. Winslow, and J. F. McCarthy.

Contract—C. E. Dietrich, J. Hamerstrom, S. F. Adams, J. Gates, and W. Running.

Organization—E. J. Ratigan, R. H. Cowan, C. A. Pfau, H. J. Wells, and J. C. Lynch.

Legislative—Milford Spohn, R. G. M. Ross, J. H. Babcock, F. Pletcher, and E. J. Roche.

Credentials—J. M. Heisley, S. Becket, and P. H. Shughrue.

The Union Man's Wife.

Just a word to the female members of the union man's family: As a rule you handle most of his wages. As a rule you spend the greater portion, not on yourself, perhaps, but for the support of all members of the family. You buy the clothes, the dresses, the shoes for the children and for yourself. You oftentimes even buy his clothes and shoes and furnishing goods. You buy the groceries, the meats, and you order the coal. But do you always keep an eye out for the union label? Do you always ask for a clerk with a union card? Do you always buy your meats and groceries of union stores? Do the shoes and garments you buy bear the union label? Ask yourself these questions. If you can not answer every one of them in the affirmative you are doing the cause of organized labor just as much harm as if the man of the household were "scabbing." You are supporting "scab" labor when you buy "scab-made" goods. All goods are "scab-made" that do not bear the union label.—St. Paul (Minn.) Union Advocate.

Hot Tamales and Chile, at 503 Thirteenth street northwest. Open all night

Death of David Shaw.

A telegram was received in this city on Wednesday stating that David Shaw, a former well-known printer, had died at Albany, N. Y. Mr. Shaw came here from Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1889 and was employed in the G. P. O. in the Specification and old Second Division for several years. He left Washington some six years ago and went to Albany, N. Y., where he has been employed on State work at the Wynkoop-Hallenbeck-Crawford office.

Under a gruff exterior Dave Shaw had a heart for those who were in distress, and his many acts of kindness to the unfortunate were done in an unostentatious manner, as he was unduly sensitive where publicity was given to any act of his in relieving distress. He was a devoted son to a widowed mother and a loving brother to his only sister, and had the esteem of a large circle of acquaintances in this city.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

For Rent.

Furnished room; bright, cool, clean; for gentlemen; $2 per week. 222 G street northwest.

At the Beach.

Perhaps to Mr. T. A. Wickersham, more than anyone else connected with the management of Chesapeake Beach, is due the credit of contributing to the pleasure of the hundreds who flock to this ideal summer resort. He has greatly improved the approach to the bathing beach, and the impulse to take a dip upon arrival can now be indulged without fear of coming in contact with the festive sea nettle.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Labor Notes.

Boston cigarette makers have organized.

Tropical agriculture in Mexico has absorbed $28,000,000 American capital.

An airbrake for automobiles has been perfected.

The mines and quarries of the world employ 4,500,000.

The United States lighthouse service cost $4,500,000 a year.

The call has been issued for the general convention of the Brotherhood of Electric Workers, which will meet in Salt Lake City, beginning September 14.

The school teachers of Santa Clara County, Cal., have organized a union with jurisdiction over all schools outside of the city of San Jose, where a similar union already exists.

The quarterly bulletin issued by the New York State department of labor shows unparalleled prosperity for the first quarter of this year and an increase in trade union membership in that State of 357,234 in 2,365 unions. Greater New York has 216,000 of the unionists.

In a few weeks' time the German Emperor will open the only suspended electric railway to be found in the whole world. It has been built between Barmen, Elberfeld, and Vohwinkei, and for part of the way it runs over the River Wupper, and for part through these three busy towns.

The Employers' Association of Kansas City has started a movement to have all city ordinances in favor of union labor repealed. One of the laws objectionable to the employers is that requiring the union label to be placed on printed matter paid for by the city and the letting of printing contracts only to firms employing union labor exclusively. The employers also want the eight-hour law now enforced by the city administration repealed, as also the law requiring engineers to pass an examination before a board composed of union men before they can receive a license.

Chesapeake Beach.

Visitors to this popular resort who desire to secure sail boats, rowing boats, or who may want to put in a few hours fishing, can be supplied by A. E. Beitzell, well known as a caterer to lovers of oysters and clams at his old stand in this city, Twenty-first street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. He will be found opposite the Bathing Beach.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

STEADY GROWTH OF A. F. OF L.

Wonderful Advance in Labor Movement in the Past Six Years.

LABOR PAPERS ON INCREASE

Contrast with the Year 1897—Secretary Morrison Interviewed—President Gompers Highly Commended—Views of the President of United Mine Workers.

There are few who have more than a faint idea of the wonderful growth and present magnitude of the great American Federation of Labor. Organized November 15, 1881, its progress was gradual until 1897, since when it has come to the front "by leaps and bounds.' Its headquarters were removed to Washington in 1897, and to its present location in the Typographical Temple in 1898, where it occupies eleven rooms, and suffers from lack of room. I had a talk with Mr. Frank Morrison, the Secretary, the other day.

"Yes," he said, in response to my greeting, "it is hot; but notwithstanding the heat the work of organization is booming. The untiring efforts of the officers of the various international unions are producing unusual results in the matter of increased numbers of local unions, marked increase in membership, shorter hours, and higher wages."

"With the assistance of the American Federation of Labor," I suggested.

"Certainly," he replied. "The American Federation of Labor, through its organizers, is doing yoeman service by organizing locals for international unions, forming unions of crafts and callings that in years past have refused to organize. International organizations of such crafts and callings must be formed in the near future."

"Give me some idea of the recent growth of the Federation," said I.

"Here are some comparisons that will probably furnish you the data from which to form conclusions," he replied. "In 1897 there were 55 international unions; now there are 110. In 1897 there were 51 central bodies; now there are 573. In 1897 there were 10 State branches; now there are 28. In 1897 there were 444 local trade and federal labor unions; now there are 2,214."

"What is the growth in membership?" I asked.

"The average paid membership of the American Federation of Labor by years, commencing in 1897, is as follows: 1897, 265,600; 1898, 279,000; 1899, 350,400; 1900, 550,300; 1901, 789,500; 1902, 1,025,300; 1903, which is but nine months old yet, as our fiscal year does not end until September 30, 1,457,593."

"Organizations that have stood aloof are gradually coming in, are they?" I asked.

"They are coming right along," he answered. "The Bricklayers and Masons' International Union are expected to affiliate with us soon, and that will be an addition of 50,000 members."

"What is the income of the Federation?"

"In 1897 the income for the full twelve months was $18,600. During the first nine months of this fiscal year the income amounted to $173,700.11. So you see we have had a marked increase in funds as well as number of unions and membership. Without the slight increase in per capita tax from the international unions from one-fourth to one-third of a cent in 1897 and from one-third to one-half a cent per member per month in 1901 the work of the Federation could not have been carried on so successfully."

"This has not been your only source of revenue?"

"No," he said; "the increase of per capita tax from 1 cent in 1896 to 2 cents in 1897, to 5 cents in 1898, and to 10 cents per member per month in 1901 for local trade and federal unions has been a source of considerable revenue, notwithstanding that 5 cents is set aside each month to be used for the defense of the members of the local trade and federal unions in case of strike or lockout. There is now $55,894.50 in this defense fund."

"How are you pushing the work of organization?" I asked.

"There are in the field at the present time thirty-six paid organizers, who are devoting all of their time to the work of settling grievances and organizing unorganized wage-workers. Besides these, we have over eleven hundred district organizers constantly at work. These organizers, of both kinds, work under the personal direction of President Samuel Gompers."

"Mr. Gompers is here now, is he?" I asked.

"Just at this moment, yes," replied Mr. Morrison," though he has just returned from Ashland, Ky., where he has been in connection with a strike of the woodworkers, and he is about to start to attend the convention of the Retail Clerks' International Protective Association, at Zanesville, Ohio."

"You employ a large force here, Mr. Morrison," said I.

"We have a force of over thirty employes," said he, "and occupy eleven rooms. In one room we have sixteen stenographers and twenty typewriters—machines, I mean. In January, 1897, two stenographers and one clerk were able to do all the work."

"You are satisfied with the prospects?" I asked.

"Yes," said he, "the outlook is satisfactory. In nine months of the year 1902 we organized 798 local unions, and in the corresponding period of the present year the number has been 1,121, besides forming five or six international unions out of existing locals. The international unions are making rapid headway. The general success of the labor movement along the lines of organization has been phenomenal. The officers of international organizations are directing their efforts to protecting the rights of their members. They advise and assist the officers of their local unions and strengthen their position in every possible manner."

"The public is beginning to realize the strength of organized labor," I suggested.

"There is no doubt of it," said Mr. Morrison. "The employers are awaking to the fact that organized labor is truly a power, and, fearful of what is to follow—that is, a more pronounced desire for shorter hours and an increased scale of wages—they are organizing for the purpose of resisting the efforts of the unions to accomplish these results; but the employers' efforts will be futile. The constant vigilance of the officers and members of all of the unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor will more than offset their hostility, and the great labor movement will march steadily forward."

"What has been the general result of strikes recently?" I asked.

"The history of strikes and lockouts," he said, "can be stated in one word—success. It is true that in a few spots the members of the unions have not been able to secure all their demands, but such instances are not numerous. We hear of strikes that are successful, strikes that are partial failures and strikes that are complete failures, but little note or mention is made of the shorter hours and increased wages conceded to our members without strikes of lockouts."

Mr. Samuel Gompers, who has been for so many years President of the American Federation of Labor, is surely a wonderful man. Under his masterful administration it has grown from a small, weak, struggling body until now it has a constituency of nearly 20,000 local unions and 1,500,000 individual members. In his capacity as President he has been brought in contact, and sometimes in antagonism, with the ablest lawyers, jurists, legislators, and others, and under any and all circumstances he has been able to meet their arguments and charges in defending his organization and its principles from the assaults of those interested to destroy it. He has an able lieutenant in Mr. Frank Morrison, whose executive ability and encyclopedic knowledge of labor matters make him an invaluable officer of the American Federation of Labor.

* * * *

Mr. John Mitchell, who has recently been in Kansas in connection with threatened coal-mining troubles, is most hopeful of a settlement of all differences on terms that will bring permanent peace. He expressed himself regarding the outlook as follows:

This is, in my estimation, the most important labor conference ever held in any part of the West. If it works out as successfully as we have reason to hope, it will establish a basis of wage adjustment which will be taken up by labor industries and do very much to minimize the number of strikes and lockouts if it does not entirely eliminate them. The prospects, as I view them, are very good for a satisfactory settlement with a substantial increase in wages and improvement in other conditions.

Such leaders as Mr. Mitchell look further than the gaining of immediate advantage and always have in view the permanent improvement of the surroundings of the members of the unions of which they are the heads. Too frequently ability and its attendant success, such as have characterized Mr. Gompers and Mr. Mitchell, engender jealousy and lead to such half-hearted support and actual distrust as to neutralize their efforts. So far these great leaders have had loyal adherence from their subordinates and constitutents, and the magnificent results that have attended their adminstration have been the direct outcome of this loyal support. But we have had great leaders before whose failures might have been successes had they been as loyally supported. Discipline is necessary wherever concert of action is required to accomplish results.

* * * *

But a few years ago the number of periodicals devoted to labor and its interests could have been "counted on the fingers of one hand." Now there is scarcely a city that has not one, and some have more. The latest "Labor Press and Official Journals received at Headquarters of the American Federation of Labor" leaflet shows 111 purely labor papers in the United States, 5 in the British Possessions and 64 "official and trade journals," and as this list is six months old a number have probably sprung into existence since, and another considerable number may not send their papers to the A. F. of L. Thirty years ago almost the only labor paper was The Workingman's Advocate, published in Chicago by Andrew Cameron, and it was devoted principally to the cigarmakers. I was employed on it for a few weeks, and have reason to recollect that at least in that day the publishing of a labor paper was not enormously profitable. The list before me shows that 31 States, 1 Territory, and the District of Columbia have labor papers, but I am satisfied that the list is incomplete, for I personally know of a number that are not contained in it. Among the purely trade journals nearly all trades are represented and the various railway employees are represented eight or nine times, none of the other occupations seeming to have more than one. Pennsylvania looms up with 15 "straight" labor papers, Ohio with 13, Illinois with 8, California and New York with 7 each, Indiana with 6, while 5 is the largest number that any other State has, according to this list. More power to the labor press! It has come to be respected as one of the institutions of this country which has to be reckoned with in any proposition that concerns the workingman, and the politicains long ago learned that it was worth coquetting with. The wily politician and those who are weak enough or venal enough to help him in his selfish schemes to influence the labor press are enemies against whom the labor publicist must ever be on guard.

A. F. BLOOMER.

AFTER-DINNER DILATIONS.

If all the Baers and Baeresses
Would take a ship and skip,
And if the Parry-Parryses
Would likewise take the tip
And go
Where Kings
Divinely reign
And never Come back
Here again

—the favor would be appreciated by every fair-minded person in this country.

***

In the catalogue of great American privileges the one which accords to every disgruntled individual the right to stop his paper is recorded in bold black type, first page.

***

Those newspapers which find a ready solution to all labor troubles through arbitration by the use of the gatling gun contend that there is perfect propriety in their scheme, which provides that the workers shall be trained and equipped and shoot each other down by order of those who, when peaceful arbitration is called for, declare that there is nothing to arbitrate.

***

Jim Alburtis, of the "Spess" proof room, did not wear pants of the regulation length for a soldier during the civil war, but as he lived at Martinsburg he saw considerable of the movements of the armies, especially at about the time of Lee's invasion into Pennsylvania. Some five or six years ago Jim visited Gettysburg to familiarize himself with the location of the town and pick up some nuggets of information. It so happened that General Bachelder and others of a party who had participated in those three days' engagements had met by appointment on the day of Jim's arrival to locate special and now historic points of interest. Carriages were provided, and when the party started from the hotel Alburtis was assigned a place with the distinguished few, and was greatly the gainer by what he saw and heard. He remained at the hotel after the party left, and next morning when he called for his bill he was informed that there were no charges, that the Battlefield Association had settled everything. Jim let it go at that and carried away with him only the most pleasing recollections of time well spent and money saved.

***

Now the Dago with his cart
Gets an early morning start,
And as he shoves his load along
We hear that old familiar song:
"Nice ripe banan!"
"Nice cheap banan!"

If you are not in the habit of patronizing these people, let not another day go by.

***

IT HAS BEEN OBSERVED

That labor is best paid where it is best organized.

That elderly people are seldom afflicted with river chills.

That more people speak well of the dead than of the living Delehanty.

That some people who go away for a rest have little to do when at home.

That a growing interest is manifest as the date of the I. T. U. convention approaches.

That those people who are not afraid of lightning are glad for others when the storm is over.

That some people are less annoyed by the bark of a dog than by the laughter of a child.

That some newspapers and some people are friendly to labor so long as labor is unorganized.

That the Woman's Auxiliary is doing effective service under the direction of its energetic and competent President and a corps of able assistants.

That the privileges of an occasional "shower bath" cover or wash away a multitude of sins and that well-paid floor space is a "locker" against exposure of gilt edge tenants.

CYCLE.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Armour Institute of Technology, Chicago, has instituted a four-years' course in fire protection engineering, leading to the degree of bachelor of science.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Official Organ Central Labor Union and Allied Building Trades, A. F. of L.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

The Trades Unionist Publishing Company

E. W. PATTON.....President
A. J. E. HUBBARD.....Vice-President
T. M. RING.....Secretary

Office: 441-443 G Street Northwest.

TELEPHONE EAST 15 Y.

SUBSCRIPTION

One year (in advance) - - - - $1.00
Six months (in advance) - - - - .50

Entered at the Post-Office, Washington, D. C. as Second-Class Matter.

THE TRADES UNIONIST is heartily and unqualifiedly indorsed by the Central Labor Union and the Allied Building Trades as well as by the various locals connected with the two central bodies.

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL WASHINGTON. 2

Only Eight-Hour Union Office in Town.

THURSDAY, JULY 16, 1903.

The "Post" Is Pessimistic.

The Washington Post estimates that there has been a great loss resulting from the recent strikes in New York City—that capital has suffered some, but what operates to stir the Post's bowels of compassion to a degree unusual is the fear that the wives and little children of the poor, if not now, then, sometime in the future, will suffer for the temporary sacrifice the husbands, fathers, and sons have made in an honest effort for better conditions. While the laboring people of New York City may not get everything they ask for now we are advised that liberal concessions have been made in many instances and that the way to arbitration and the settlement of differences of the future is more promising than at any time prior to this, and as this is proven by future developments we shall expect the Post to recognize the fact that the present misunderstandings were helpful as a warning, not to labor alone, but to capital as well, for there will be strikes and trouble never ending until a spirit of conciliation takes possession and amicable relations are entered into; and, by the way, the "wives and children" have an equal interest with the husbands and sons who are to-day contending for conditions which means more comfortable hours and those advantages which are made possible only as the doors of opportunity are opened and a more equitable portion is accorded as a reward for labor. The Post may aim to be fair, but it is not always fair in its aim. Is it possible that the Post is not aware that the women of this country are seconding the efforts of husbands and sons in their struggle for better conditions, and may we not suppose that any sacrifice they are willing to make and share in the promise of a brighter future—not for themselves alone but for their little ones as well, is as sincere as is the Post in its expression of dismal apprehension? The future has better things in store, but much effort and self-sacrifice will be required in the accomplishment.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM.

I am inclined to think that my friend H. K. Southland did himself an injustice by his letter last week in which he stopped his subscription to THE TRADES UNIONIST because of an article which he supposed reflected on his employer, the Evening Star. He is employed on that paper to set type or something of that sort, and I have no idea that it is any condition of his employment that he shall boycott everybody who chooses to take exception to the editorial course of that paper. I am annoyed at many things that I read in the Star, but I continue to take and pay for it, because it is a good paper, even if I don't always like all of its opinions. I feel like getting into this because I suspect that I am the "one of the correspondents" with whom Mr. Southland has no sympathy, though I have let lots of opportunities go by when I might have "knocked" the Star. As a matter of fact, I am proud of the Star—that is, of those features of it of which every union printer should be proud, the magnificent comforts it has provided for its employees—and recently, when some friends of mine were visiting the city, I took them to the Star office and exhibited it to them as one of the sights of the city, and Mr. McLean treated them and me most hospitably, without the slightest reference to the fact that I had at times made faces at the Star. In a recent letter to the Post a couple of correspondents took exception to an editorial article headed "This Won't Do," winding up with the ever stunning threat, "If this continues you can stop my paper." The Post didn't seem to shrivel much under the dire threat, and I expect that THE TRADES UNIONIST will continue its issues notwithstanding the executed threat of Mr. Southland. I also took exceptions to the Post's article, but I can take exceptions and a paper too. There is such a thing as a man carrying his loyalty to his employer further than even his boss expects him to, savoring a little of that displayed by the late Wm. L. Jones—"Old Bill Jones" we lovingly called him, now happily dwelling in Paradise, I hope—who cut Capt. Mart Barringer off of his list of acquaintances because "he's a bad man; he talked about my fohman." The fact that his "fohman" had fired Barringer out with what would have always been a stigma on his character if anybody had believed it was no extenuation for talking about his foreman in loyal "Old Bill's" mind. There is nothing in the world that is so proper a subject of criticism, when anybody wants to criticise, as a newspaper, which constitutes itself the critic of everybody and everything. Now, on my own responsibility I say, Bring your things back, like a good boy, Harry, and let's play.

* * * *

The Ex-Delegates' Association had a quorum last Sunday notwithstanding the downpours of rain that occurred with astonishing frequency all day. The arrangements, by the adoption of the report of the Committee on Entertainment, are now completed and a day of perfect enjoyment is provided, consisting of a trolley ride to Arlington, thence to Mount Vernon, stopping in Alexandria on the return trip for a lunch and a look at the sights of the town. The number that can be entertained is 600, and if there shall be any falling off from the number of delegates and visitors calculated upon the Exes may be able to include some of their local friends, that being a matter that can not be determined upon until the convention meets. Jimmy Platt and his associates on the Entertainment Committee have demonstrated President Ramsey's wisdom in their selection. The president, by the way, was prevented by illness from attending this meeting.

* * * *

Editor Albert E. Hill, of the Nashville Labor Advocate, writes me that he will be with us at the convention. He can feel sure of a warm welcome and a renewal of old acquaintances, which is always pleasant. The prospect is that the labor press will be more largely represented than at any previous convention.

* * * *

The Ex-Delegates' Association extended an invitation to Mr. and Mrs. William S. Waudby, of Rochester, N. Y., to be its guests on Ex-Delegates' Day, as well as to "Uncle John" Griffin and one or two other Alexandrians.

* * * *

A friend of mine sent me a poem to reconstruct and print. Gentlemen, I don't claim much for this poem, but if you could see the original I am sure that I would rise in your estimation.

Some were born 'way down in Georgia,
Where the hills, like blood, are red;
Some in mountains of Dakota,
Where the streams by snow are fed;
Some were "bred in old Kentucky,"
Where the grass is rich and blue,
But all think it very lucky
To be born a Yankee, too.

Chorus:

Be he Jerseyman or Texan,
Or an Oregonian;
Mississippian or Kansan,
Or an Arizonian;
Marylander, Michigander—
Each one's ready for the fray;
And will show their Yankee "dander"
If you stroke them the wrong way.

When we're at peace in ev'ry zone
And there are none to tease us,
Then all alone we gnaw our bone—
It's easy quite to please us.
But no old rip our skin can nip
And think result is for-e-gone;
She'll find each man a battle ship—
A ring-tailed, roaring Oregon.

I assure you that I am to blame for no more of this than I have admitted.

* * * *

The Grand Master of Masons of the District of Columbia, George H. Walker, assistant to the Attorney-General of the United States, and Grand Secretary Arvine W. Johnston, who is also Grand Secretary of the Grand Chapter and Grand Recorder of the Grand Commandery of the District of Columbia, are reformed printers, but I don't believe either of them ever printed within this jurisdiction. There is hope for all of us.

* * * *

Mr. Hunter, the most capable new paragrapher of the Post, is a printer. John Berg knew him out in the wet and windy West when he stood around and waited for a day's work as so many others of us have done. I find new reasons for hopefulness every day.

* * * *

Never have the newspapers of any city made so much preparation to give an International Typographical Union convention prominence and full reports as our Washington papers are doing. The Times is to devote an entire page of its Sunday issue of August 9 to it, the editor of the Post long ago promised for that paper all that a newspaper could do to make it a conspicuous success, and the Star can be depended not to be behind in the procession. But our Washington papers are great on all occasions.

* * * *

There will be three lady delegates to the convention—Miss Carrie E. Cathcart, of St. Joseph, Mo.; Miss Ursula Rawson, of Racine, Wis., and Miss Clara F. Poole, of Gloucester, Mass. Perhaps their presence will give some of our own most capable lady members courage to make the race for St. Louis next year. I here and now commit myself to any one of them who will announce herself when announcing time comes.

* * * *

I hear that Bob Youngblood is coming to the convention. There will be dead oodles of the old timers who will avail themselves of the opportunity to revisit their old haunts.

* * * *

From a copy of the Colorado Chronicle, of Denver, a particularly well-gotten-up and prosperous looking labor paper, sent me by some friend, I learn that Adrian M. Jones, formerly hereof, is now in charge of the Pueblo (Colo.) Chieftain job room. A. J. E. Hubbard and wife and a lady friend of Mrs. Hubbard are living in "Camp Columbia Union, No. 101," near Colorado Springs, a sign, "Strictly Union," decorating the tents. My old Chicago friend O. B. Williams is mail carrier at the Home. At the Home Fourth-of-July celebration my Boston friend John McKillop and his partner, O'Brien, created great enthusiasm as the "Katzenjammer Kids." Denver Union voted to take part in the Labor Day parade and to fine every member $5 who did not turn out, if not excused by the committee. I. T. U. Delegates Keating and Esterling were voted $212.50 each for per diem and expenses at the convention.

* * * *

Charles H. Ennis—our own Lawyer Charlie Ennis—has been appointed one of the receivers of the News, a proceeding made necessary by dissolution of the partnership of the proprietors, Watson & Lapham, presumably on account of difficulties in which Mr. Watson has been involved—some misunderstanding regarding money matters. I am glad to see Ennis receiving recognition, for he deserves it.

A. F. BLOOMER.

Specification Notes.

A MID-SUMMER PHANTASY.

The earth spins 'round,
The sky hangs high,
The stars seem tumbling down;
The sun and moon are ever in a chase,
They'd better stop short in their wild mad race—
And take thirty days off during the hot spell.

Curtains are up in the new building. Looks like business.

J. R. McBride is convalescing and hopes to be at his desk on Monday.

Harry E. Giles is at Ellston, Cecil County, Md., spending his vacation.

Sam Kirby has been laid up with rheumatism for the past week or two.

Mortgage, (Mort-gage), a very expressive term when you can't liquidate.

Brodnax, the irrepressible—the irresistible Brodnax, is with us, and we rejoice in our hearts.

Carney (slug 120) hasn't been with us long, but he is an adept in making one case of type look like two.

Recent arrivals: Breen, Stanley, Brodnax, Sauls, Johnson, Christian, Hinsmelman, Kinneard, Abernethy.

Those pretty summer dresses are refreshing to the eyes of the gentlemen and pleasing to the hearts of the ladies.

J. G. Jameson has a cottage at Colonial Beach for his family, and will spend his Sundays at that delightful Summer resort.

The savage beating his tom-tom and the civilized soldier thumping the base drum are not so very many grades removed.

E. W. Oyster, foreman of this room under Mr. Benedict, has been promoted from $1,400 to a $1,600 clerkship in the Treasury.

E. W. Edmonston reports that his residence at Eckington was entered by petty thieves and his wardrobe rifled of personal effects.

N. M. Light bought the house recently owned by S. S. English, and Mr. English has purchased a flat or apartment house on Capitol Hill.

Fred Griffin, formerly of the Treasury Branch, is now a publisher in the West. His father died in this city, and Mr. Griffin came on to pay his respects.

The daughter of W. A. Dodge, head proofreader of specifications, was stunned by lightning Sunday, but regained consciousness in a few moments.

Captain W. R. Ramsey, who has been ill since Tuesday of last week, is improving, and his physician states that he may be able to be at his desk the first of next week.

On leave July 9: Andrew, Miss Mary Blore, Brandon, Collins, Dunne, Easterbrook, Grady, Giles, Handiboe, Hogan, Halpenny, Johnson, Morse, Mrs. A. W. Potter, and Smoot.

It sounds like a cross between a Scotch ballad and a Moody and Sankey revival hymn as it melodiously echoes through the room, but this is really it:

Oh, I'm Jersey Sam,
The farmer's man,
Hooray! hooray! hooray!

Tommy Esterling, formerly a compositor in the G. P. O., called on this division Tuesday. Tommy is pushing the pencil on, I believe, the News and Courier, of Charleston, N. C., and if he is as swift in that art as he was at the case he will succeed.

Austin looks funny when he brings a proof around to the short gentleman recently arrived from the main office. If the said gentlemen is standing up, Austin bends double to reach him; if perched on his stool, Austin still towers aloft, and the room is asmile.

The Union Mutual Relief Association at its meeting July 3, adopted resolutions empowering the Secretary-Treasurer to submit bids for printing its Annual for 1894-95; bids to be accepted from members only, and to be in the hands of the board of directors and opened August 3.

S. M. Bell, who, if I am not mistaken, was at one time president of Rochester (N. Y.) Typographical Union, and who is an able writer, having filled the responsible position of editor of one of Washington's prominent dailies, has been elected secretary of a new manufacturing company.

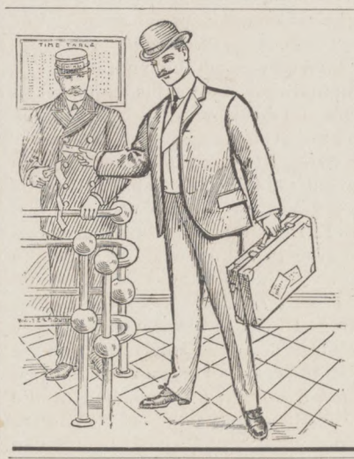
That is a queer tale all around that Greenwood tells. He says Sam English's father-in-law sent two horses into town to Sam and gave him stipend to feed the quadrapeds. Sam pocketed the finance and turned the horses into Greenwood's back yard to feast. Greenwood took them out of his yard and landed them in a station-house, and English had to deposit $5.00 apiece with the stern police. Rogers says, however, that Greenwood stole the equines. Puzzle—Who is Ananias?

Alburtis tells of a laughable incident on the car line going to Cabin John's Bridge. A passenger refused to pay extra fare from the District line. "You'll have to pay or get off," said the conductor. "It will take a bigger man than you to put me off!" retorted the recalcitrant disturber of the peace. A huge motorman loomed up at this juncture, displayed a pair of brawny fists, and in stentorian tones exclaimed: "Here he is!" The car roared, as the man paid the fare, and laughed with the crowd.

The Connecticut State board of mediation and arbitration has been organized. The members are J. Hurburt White, of Hartford; Hiram H. Fox, of New Haven, and Joseph H. Hubbard, of Middletown.

FOR THE BEST--
READY-TO-WEAR
—FOR—
Man, Woman and Child
AT THE MOST REASONABLE PRICES,
CONSULT—
Parker, Bridget & Co.,
Washington's Leading Outfitters, ...
Pa. Ave. and 9th St. N. W.

Union Made Cigars
OF THE FINEST QUALITY.
Pluck 5¢ | OFFTE'S BOUQUET 10¢
AFTER DINNER 5¢ | DEER HEAD 10¢
Henry T. Offterdinger, Manufacturer
504 Ninth St., N.W.



Independent Oil Company
ONE OF WASHINGTON'S NEW INDUSTRIES
We own an interest in a large Refining Plant which enables us to keep in stock at all times large quantities of Oil and Gasoline and other Products of Petroleum. Lubricating Oils and Greases is our specialty. Give us a call.
Phone East 879-M
R. C. BAUCHMAN
MANAGER

ARLINGTON BREWING CO.
ROSSLYN, VA.
BEER ALE PORTER
The Finest Productions of Skilled Union Labor. Union Label on Every Bottle and Keg of Our Goods.

DULIN & MARTIN CO.
FORMERLY BEVERIDGE'S
1215 F St. N. W. and 1214, 1216 and 1218 G St. N. W.
TEN PER CENT REDUCTION
on all cash purchases to reduce stock, prior to moving into our annex building. This reduction applies to all departments of the store, including cut glass, sterling silver, bric-a-brac, ornaments, lamps and globes, and over a hundred patterns of foreign and domestic china.
We make this reduction now that it may be a saving to those furnishing a summer home or who wish to replenish any household necessities, such as are commendable for the summer season. Profitable savings realized on the already low price at which we are selling the Eddy refrigerator as well as ice cream freezers, water coolers, and a long list of summer requisites. Goods that are already marked down 25 to 33⅓ per cent are also subject to this cash discount.

R. B. BUCKLEY
Merchant Tailoring
POPULAR PRICES
1343 F ST. N. W.

THE UNION STORE
On Easy Street in Thrifty Town
There lives a grocer of renown;
From dawn of day 'till six at night
His store presents a busy sight.
The reason's plain—the unions know,
His goods are clean, that makes them go—to
H. I. M EADER'S ODEL ODERNIZED ARKET
535-37 EIGHTH ST. SOUTHEAST
TELEPHONE MAIN 908-A

In preparing for your vacation do not overlook the fact that one of our Blue Serge, Homespun, or Scotch Cheviot Sack Suits is indispensable if appearance and comfort is to be considered. We are showing a very large line of fabrics selected especially for outing purposes. Remember, we rank second to none in tailoring. Our garments have individuality and expression that stamps them as being "High-Grade." Get acquainted with our way of making clothes by ordering one of our Celebrated $25 Suits, made by Union Tailors.
Special sale of Trousers, $6.50 to Order.
T. E. Gilbert
IMPORTER AND TAILOR
818 F St. Northwest

Steam Cleaning and Dye Works
(Formerly New York Dye House)
I do the most perfect Cleaning and Dyeing at most reasonable rates. Goods called for and returned. C W. MARGRAF, Proprietor
Telephone 3483 Main
907 9th St. N. W., and 631 D St. N. W.

PRINTERS and Union Members.—For First-Class Meals, Eat at
VICTOR CAFE, 3 H St. N W.
ALBION, Eleventh and E Sts. N. W.
ERIN, Cor. N. J. Ave. and D St. N. W.
U. S. LUNCH ROOM, 320 12th St. N. W.
ALBERT T. SCANLAND, Prop.
Open Day and Night. Best Service.

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES
OF
Columbia Typographical Union,
No. 101.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, 423 G ST. N. W.
Office Hours: 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.; 5 to 7 P. M.

OFFICERS.

JOE M. JOHNSON.....President
DAN C. VAUGHAN.....Vice-President
WM. M. GARRETT.....Secretary
JOHN R. BERG.....Treasurer
FRANK BATES.....Sergeant-at-Arms
N. C. STOOPS.....Doorkeeper

TRUSTEES—J. E. Bright, chairman; W. L. Gutelius, Chas. C. Thompson, Joe M. Johnson, and Wm. M. Garrett.

DELEGATES TO CENTRAL LABOR UNION—J. H. Babcock, chairman; J. B. Dickman, Hugh Everett, Theodore Gerber, and C. E. Dietrich.

DELEGATES TO ALLIED TRADES COUNCIL—E. E. Calhoon, chairman; T. F. Hall, and J. P. Garner.

AUDITORS—C. W. Radley, chairman; H. G. Brown, and J. W. Carter.

COMMITTEES.

BUSINESS—Zach T. Jenkins, chairman; C. B. Yater, M. J. Maher, T. C. Parsons, and R. W. Burnside.

NOMINATIONS—W. N. Brockwell, chairman; F. A. Kidd, H. O'Donnell, Frank M. Hatley, and R. E. Stenner.

LAWS—Chas. H. Ennis, chairman; Raymond Gery, and Dexter S. Hussey.

FINANCE—John A. Huston, chairman; J. M. McLaughlin, and R. F. Chisholm.

PRINTING—T. A. Bynum, chairman; Milo Shanks, and Ed. J. Hall.

GRIEVANCE—Clint O. Price, chairman; Chas. S. Gunn, Philip Nachman, David J. Snyder, and E. Y. Fisher.

ENTERTAINMENT—T. L. Jones, chairman; J. R. Purvis, T. J. Fitzwilliam, Miss Nellie Theaker, Miss Anna Wilson, B. E. Harrison, and W. J. Harris.

CONFERENCE—J. L. Holland, chairman; D. J. Hegarty, and W. B. Shaw.

LIBRARY—Clyde J. Sheriff, chairman; A. E. Ogg, and Harry Essex.

RELIEF—Joseph G. Stelle, chairman; Wm. S. Schinnerer and E. P. Cummins.

EIGHT-HOUR—F. C. Roberts, chairman; F. B. Crown, F. D. Seiffert, Jeff Newlon, and S. H. Willey.

MEMORIAL SERVICE—S. J. Gompers, chairman; Philip S. Steele, J. E. Goodkey, J. B. Dickman, and C. B. Yater.

AMOS J. CUMMINGS MEMORIAL—J. T. Rowe, chairman; Charles T. Graff, and T. A. Bynum.

CHAIRMEN.

First Division—R. L. Mabrey.
Second Division—W. N. Goldstein.
Third Division—Burr Williams.
Fourth Division—Charles H. Gove.
Fifth Division—Charles E. Dietrich.
Sixth Division—E. M. Nevils.
Job Room—J. K. Davison.
Record Clerks' Division—H. G. Brown.
First Division, Night—Allen Cowles.
Night Proof Room—E. H. Thomas.
Specification Room—E. A. Hutchison.
Official Gazette—Jere Walsh.
Document Proof Room—Jas. R. Armstrong.
Treasury Division—W. Brice Coston.
Interior Division—C. K. Stribling.
State Division—J. B. Dickman.
Navy Department Division—Albert E. Ogg.
War Department Division—Wm. K. Miller.
Agricultural Division—Henry P. Slaughter.
Library Division—H. V. Bisbee.
Weather Bureau—L. H. Emmons.
Morning Post—H. J. Broderick
Evening Star—Joseph C. Whyte.
Evening Times—T. C. Parsons.
Law Reporter—J. R. Johnson.
Globe Printing Co.—R. A. Wilson.
Judd & Detweiler's—A. B. Barringer.
Wilkens Printing Co.—T. N. Surguy.
Pearson's—T. F. Monahan.
National Publishing Co.—E. C. Owen.
McGill & Wallace's—J. M. Watts.
Byron S. Adams'—R. B. Boucher.
Army and Navy Register—C. H. Draeger.
General Postoffice—Joseph Williams.
Sudwarth's—F. R. Adams.

AROUND THE PRINTERIES.

First Division.

R. A. Johnson is off with a sprained ankle.

W. T. Heritage was transferred last Monday to the Library Branch.

A. H. McKnight and John J. Heron are holding copy in the Record room.

Frank H. Rose, C. E. Etchberger, jr., and L. W. Baldwin received their regular appointments last Monday.

The sympathy of the baseball team of this division is extended to Mr. Quinn in the sad death of his brother.

John B. Miller started to-day for his home at Sumter, S. C., where he intends to spend 15 days of his vacation.

Winslow Lewis, accompanied by his wife, left this morning for a thirty-days trip through Virginia and West Virginia.

Nelson Moyer had the misfortune to lose his grandson last Saturday morning. The little one was only five days old.

The "Sweet Singer" of Pennsylvania, H. W. Templar, was reinstated last Monday and assigned to this division.

Chairman Mabrey is again home sick.

A. W. Sefton and wife intends spending his vacation at Harpers Ferry and Quantico.

Frank H. Rose who received his regular appointment last Monday did the "grand" by passing out a box of UNION-made cigars.

Charles Irey and family have rented a cottage at Colonial Beach and have left for that place where they intend spending the summer.

M. A. Bodenhamer will spend his vacation at his home at Dalton, Ga. Rumor has it that there will be something doing before he returns.

Secretary Lillard and wife will spend 15 days at Colonial Beach. During Secretary Lillard's absence, Philip Nachman will act as secretary.

The Fifth Division baseball team, looking for something easy, took on the Specification Room last Saturday evening and was saved from an ignominous defeat by rain.

CLOTILDE.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Second Division.

A. M. Willingham is spending his leave in Georgia.

W. L. Washburne and Robert E. Bragg go on leave this week.

Tommy McEnany is on the slug rack during Mr. Davis's absence on leave.

Miss Nellie Shipman is back at work after spending some weeks in the mountains.

With so many on leave, the Third helps us out on copyright days. Those detailed do not seem to enjoy it.

W. F. Simon goes on leave in August. He says he wants to be in New York State during the hop-picking season.

Harry Bradley, formerly of this division, was reinstated in the Record Monday, after being out over two months.

Wolfe is on leave, but why the frequent visits to the office? His position will not be spirited away in his absence.

R. H. Griffith, of the Record, well known in this division, accepted a position last week in the Civil Service Commission.

Mr. Sherman is now acting as foreman, Joe Lenhart is giving out copy, Saltzman is taking up time, and Geo. C. Sparks is on the bank.

With four vacant frames in his alley, the average has no terrors for A. K. Williamson—regardless of "horse" and "contested election" copy.

Slug 13 seems to have no terror for George R. Merriam. He smilingly sets O. K. proofs right along. A hoodoo is not in a number, but in the individual.

Max Knoble has persuaded his side partner, McUmber, to buy a wheel also. As they ride down the street they look like "a streak of lean and a streak of fat."

E. W. Brobst, who left this division three years ago to take a temporary position in the Civil Service Commission, received a permanent appointment there last week.

Frank O. Sanders contemplates a trip next month to the Blue Grass Region of Kentucky. Look out, Frank, their good whisky, fast horses, or pretty women may get the better of you.

After listening to one of Camp's sneezes, Mr. Jos. W. Belcher handed in the following:

The larynx with a slam
Ejects a note
From the throat
Pushed by the diaphragm.

NEWS.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Bindery Notes.

You ought to see Capt. Frederick's promanade with his corsage bouquet on. He is the dream of the Bindery.

The matrimonial fever has caught a number of binders the last few weeks. A partial list of the gentlemen are: William Norbeck, Major B. Collins, Harry Frahm, Jim Pepper, and Jack Farrell.

Messrs. Patterson, Salmon, Meredith et al., of the Union Building, have placed their suit at law for the recovery of bindery association investments in the hands of the popular young attorney Mr. Alex. Tosh. We have no doubt that having employed such an able and aggressive young barrister they are assured of success.

The Roof Gardeners and Blank Boys played a game of baseball last Saturday afternoon which resulted in a victory for the Blanks by a score of 10 to 2. The Roofers were badly handicapped by the absence of Charlie Cassidy and Bill Haslett, two of their best players. Ham Adams, all decked out in baseball toggery, pitched for the Skylights. He would have won his game only that Paudert could not throw, Pepper could not catch, Kelly could not run, and Sweatman could not hit a watermelon. The umpire who was an enemy of Ham's, let Bill Reese decide all close decisions. There was so much hot air exhausted that the rain chased the gang home at the end of the fifth inning.

COWBOY.

Hot Tamales and Chile at The Ranch, 507 F street n. w. Near Pension Office.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Money Has Disappeared.

The following clipping, taken from the Manila Times, refers to a former employee of the G. P. O. Bindery, and recently of the Philippine Bureau of Printing:

There is a mystery connected with the death of Herman J. Niedfeldt, who died recently at the San Juan de Dios Hospital.

According to Mr. Niedfeldt's friends there has been a mysterious and inexplicable disappearance of a considerable sum of money between the time in which he was last seen by his friends and the announcement of his death at the hospital.

Mr. Niedfeldt, on the evening before his death, had been driving with a fellow employee on the Luneta when he complained of feeling sick. The pair at once drove to the office of an American physician in the Walled City where the physician wrote a prescription and advised Mr. Niedfeldt to go home and go to bed at once. Mr. Niedfeldt's friend accompanied him home. Previous to this Mr. Niedfeldt had stated that he expected to go home very shortly on account of the condition of his health, and stated that he had $300 in gold with him.

On arriving at his room on Calle Jolo he produced a roll of American bills and wanted to pay the expenses of the drive, which his friend refused to allow, as he had proposed the outing.

Finding that Mr. Niedfeldt felt better on reaching his room his friend left him. Another friend dropped in shortly afterward and stated that Niedfeldt was in his room and that he knows that he had in his pocket a check for $121 gold and a considerable amount in bills. How Mr. Niedfeldt got to the hospital is not known, but the hospital people say that he came there late at night very sick and died at three o'clock in the morning.

They report that he had no money when he came in.

Careful search among his effects failed to discover the missing money and where it went to is a mystery.

Hot Tamales and Chile at The Ranch, 507 F street n. w. Near Pension Office.

For Sale.

A six-room and attic brick, eastern and southern exposure, near Brightwood, beyond Petworth, $2,800; $75 down and $25 per month, including interest; lot 25 by 116.

J. F. MCCORMICK,
Real estate and insurance,
717 Fourteenth street (basement).

Fifth Division.

J. W. Mathers down the river while on his leave.

William F. Ashley is spending a few days in New York.

J. A. Openshaw left Thursday for Birmingham, Ala., his home, to spend three weeks of his leave.

J. C. Himmelman, Charles Abernethy, and John A. Kinneard were transferred to the Specifications last Thursday.

H. P. McKevitt is off on a fifteen days' vacation, a day of which will be spent in enjoying the scenery along the Delaware Canal.

Daniel Prosser took a peck of potatoes from one hill in his garden in East Hyattsville. "Pios" knows how to make phat on potatoes.

Judging from the number of phat takes that find their way into alley 4, the boys must have an x-ray machine trained on the copy machine.

John J. Quinn buried his brother last Monday. His brother saw active military service in the Philippines. He was employed in the printing office of W. F. Roberts at the time of his death, which occured last Saturday.

Suggestion has been made that the Spanish students in the office make an effort toward having some Spanish literature added to the printers' library. The suggestion is a good one, as the office is doing considerable printing in Spanish, and the more familiar the printers are with that language the better work they will be able to do. Those interested may see slug 49 of this division.

RAN.

The "Man's Store."

Our Midsummer Trade-Making Sale

High-Grade Suits Honestly Reduced
The One Sale of the Year

Suits worth $10.....$7.75
Suits worth up to $15.....$9.75
Suits worth up to $18.....$13.75
Suits worth up to $22.50.....$16.75
Suits worth $25.....$19.75

D. J. KAUFMAN, 1005-7 Pa. Ave.

The Savings possible at

S. Kann, Sons & Co.

8th St.—THE BUSY CORNER—Pa. Ave.

are such as may be counted in the pocket. At the same time styles and qualities are unexcelled.

Melville Club
Old Rye Whiskey
It's Pure and Fine. $1 Full Quart

"Driver's Rye Cordial" cures coughs and colds, composed of old rye whisky and pure rock candy, $1 per bottle. Driver's Favorites, the best 5c. cigar obtainable. Union hand-made cigars a specialty. At the bar try Driver's Famous Cocktails. Melville Club Whisky at the bar, 10c.

Geo. W. Driver
605 PENNA. AVE.

Indian Head Trips | Marshall Hall

STR. CHARLES MACALESTER
EVERY THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY AT 6.30 P. M.

Appointments first-class. All amusements.

MARSHALL HALL:
Daily at 10 a. m., 2.30 and 6.30 p. m.
Sundays, 11 a. m., 2.30 and 6.30 p. m.
Fare (Round Trip), 25 Cents.

FOR MOUNT VERNON,
(Home and Tomb of Washington), Daily, 10 a. m. and 2.30 p. m (Sundays excepted).

Cole & Swan

Large assortment of Watches, Diamonds, and Jewelry (we make and repair anything in this line). "Square Dealing" our motto.

21 H Street N. W.

CARL E. WILSON
Late Palmer House Barber Shop, Chicago, Ill.

White Union Barbers | 315 G ST. N. W. | Cooled by Electric Fans

H. A. POLEN
Late Manila, Philippine Islands

NOTICE!

This space reserved by the Tribe of Ben Hur for a weekly announcement. Watch it—it may interest you.

Dorsch Bros.' Bread
Bears the Union Label

Insist on Dorsch Bros.' Bread because—first, it carries the Badge of Labor; second, there is None Better; and third, it is sold at a workingman's price—Four Cents.

SOLD EVERYWHERE AT
4c THE LOAF 4c

A Communication.

The following letter was received at the home of Mr. Theo. Gerber, of the Second Division, G. P. O., in answer to inquiries sent as to the advertising of the Peruna Drug Company in the Los Angeles Times:

COLUMBUS, OHIO, July 6, 1903.

MRS. THEO. GERBER,
517 F street northeast, Washington, D. C.

DEAR MADAM: We have yours of the 22d ult., and in reply beg to state we feel it is not equitable for you to withdraw your patronage from Peruna, as we are great friends of union labor. We employ union labor here in our establishment; we give all of our large printing contracts to union labor firms; we confine our advertising, as a rule, to papers that employ union labor. * * * We are great believers in fulfilling our obligations with all firms and all men. * * * We expect to discontinue our announcements in the Times as soon as our contract has terminated. * * *

We hope you will not continue in your present attitude towards us when all these facts are before you.

Yours truly,
THE PERUNA DRUG MFG. CO.
Per J. E. C.

Woodward & Lothrop,
DEPARTMENT STORE.
TENTH, ELEVENTH, AND F STS. N. W.

WHERE THE HALF-TONES ARE MADE
THE NATIONAL ENGRAVING COMPANY.
INCORPORATED.
14th St. and Pa. Ave. Phone 1679 Main.

Floor Coverings Exclusively

We sell nothing but high-grade floor coverings—goods of a kind and quality that this house has been famed for for two generations and more.

Carpets and Rugs cleaned and stored

Giddings & Steele, 813 Pa. Avenue

J. E. BONINI'S
BUFFET AND CAFÉ,
727-729 N. Capitol Street.
MAERZEN BEER ON TAP.
A first-class Lunch Counter. Sea food in season. Union throughout.

T. HOLLANDER
Men's Furnishings
Hats and Shoes
COR. N. CAPITOL AND H STS.
Opposite Government Printing Office

DO YOU USE TOILET PAPER?

If so, investigate the service furnished by

R. P. Andrews & Co.,

INCORPORATED
627-629 LOUISIANA AVE. N. W.
THE WHOLESALE PAPER HOUSE
IT WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

Our Motto—Prompt and Polite Attention.
The Modern Dairy Lunch Room
CHAS. A. MOULDEN, Mgr.
409 TENTH STREET N. W.
Open day and night. | Unsurpassed Coffee Our Specialty

"Everyone knows how to find fault." No one has yet found fault with the
RELIABLE
The Gas Range for Summer Use
Washington Gas Light Co.
GAS APPLIANCE EXCHANGE

EDWIN F. PRICE
(Late member of the firm of E. F. Price & Co.)
Bookbinder
Ruling and Binding of every description.
Strongest Flat-Opening Blank Book Made.
A Specialty of Fine Bank Work.
Darby Bldg., 506-508 Fourteenth St. N. W.

THE RIGGS NATIONAL BANK
Of Washington, D. C.
Capital - - - $1,000,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits, 1,000,000
Exchange on England, Ireland, France and Germany. Letters of credit available in all foreign parts. Bank Collections. Orders for investments. Stocks and Bonds.

Are You Thinking of Life Insurance
If So Consult
FRANK K. RAYMOND
General Agent
Union Central Life Insurance Co.
BOND BUILDING
Phone 2069 Main

J. GEORGE SMITH
(Formerly a member of the firm of R. P. Andrews & Co.)
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
PAPER AND STATIONERY
My old friends and patrons from J. C. Addison's time to the present will be welcome. I can supply all your needs at lowest prices consistent with quality.
626 E STREET NORTHWEST

SAMUEL C. PALMER
Manufacturer of
Soda and Mineral Waters
IN FOUNTS, SYPHONS AND BOTTLES
SODA WATER SYRUPS
OF ALL FLAVORS
Phone West 190
Depot, 1066-8 32d Street N. W.

THOMAS WALSH
Formerly "Steve" Caldwell's.
Whiskies and Cigars
Specialties: MELVALE AND SHERWOOD
COOL LAGER BEER ON DRAUGHT.
BILLIARDS AND POOL
Billiards, 40c. per hour. Pool, 2½c. per cue.
THOMAS WALSH
407 Tenth St. Northwest

E. F. PRICE & CO.
Strongest flat opening blank book made.
Ruling and Binding of every description.
A Specialty of FINE BANK WORK.
BOOKBINDERS 1108 E St. N. W.

G. P. O. BICYCLE REPAIR CO.
ARTHUR D. BENNETT
MANAGER
Wheels stored, cleaned, and repaired (per month)..... $1.00
Wheels stored and cleaned (per month)..... .75
Wheels stored (per month)..... .50
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty
Bicycle Sundries
Salesroom, 33 H St. N. W.

300 1-lb. Loaves to the Barrel.
Every Laboring Man
—requires pure, wholesome, nourishing food such as is made of—
Cream Blend Flour
It not only makes THE BEST Bread, Rolls, Cake and Pastry, but more of them than other brands—therefore it's the cheapest that money can buy.
Your Grocer will supply you.
B. B. EARNSHAW & BRO., Wholesalers,
1105, 1107, 1109 11th Street S. E.
1000 and 1002 M Street S. E.

M. S. JOHNSON
Merchant Tailor
UNION EMPLOYER
1435 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest

D. STRAUSS,
Clothier, Hatter and Furnisher
441 Seventh Street N. W.,
Washington, D. C.

A Union House Patronized by Union Printers
You Will Meet The Craft Here.
HAIGHT'S
HOTEL AND RESTAURANT
1008-10-12 E Street Northwest
One block from Columbia Theater
Rooms Newly Furnished For Men Only

HOTEL FRITZ REUTER
Rathskeller
and
Restaurant.
COR. PA. AVE. AND JOHN MARSHALL PLACE
Phone: East 388.

Ebbitt House
Washington, D. C. H. C. BURCH, Mgr.
HEADQUARTERS
International Typographical Convention

Telephone 3662-Y
AMREIN'S
FAMOUS ICE CREAM
HAS NO EQUAL
Stores, 1426 and 1810 7th St N. W.

Equitable Industrial Insurance
COMPANY
Life Insurance for Industrial Classes
Claims paid to date, $221,187.00
WM. A. BENNETT, General Superintendent
605 F STREET NORTHWEST

B. F. WARNER
FINE WINES and LIQUORS
BLUE LABEL CIGARS
1219 E Street Northwest

FOR LUNCH
TRY THE
Pure Dairy Lunch
935 D Street Northwest

American Ice Co.
1437 Penna. Ave. N. W.

THE UNION
SAVINGS BANK
BOND BUILDING
Cor. 14th St. and New York Ave. N.W.

Three Per Cent Interest
on Savings Accounts.

anch Deposit Agency at
T. A. ROVER'S STORE,
Cor. North Capitol and H Sts.
OPEN EVERY MONDAY AND TUESDAY
FROM 4 TO 5 P. M.

When in doubt buy at
HOUSE & HERRMANN,
FURNITURE, CARPETS,
DRAPERIES, ETC.
N. E. Corner Seventh and I Streets N. W.

CLEANING PANAMAS
And restoring original color without the use of injurious chemicals and giving that flexibility characteristic of them in their native clime is
A SCIENCE
in which we are thorough masters. We will charge you no more than what you will pay for ordinary work.
Empire Hat Company
629 F St. N. W. Send postal or phone E. 524-y

Don't Buy a Hat
Without the Label. .
And See that It Is Sewed In.

Don't Patronize a Dealer Who Has Loose Labels on Hand and Offers to Put One in Your Hat.
LOOSE LABELS
In Retail Stores
ARE COUNTERFEITS.
The John B. Stetson Co., of Philadelphia, Pa., is a non-union concern.

St. Asaph Commission Rooms,
Old Established and Reliable.
Trains leave Thirteen and one-half street and Pennsylvania avenue—Alexandria, Mt. Vernon, and Washington Railway—daily at 12.45, 1.05, 1.25, 2, 2.30, 3.02, and 3.30. Return .39, 4.24, 5.02, 5.58, and at various intervals.

The Hub Furniture Co.,
The Stores that Save You Money.
OUR MOTTO—The Best Values in Furniture and Carpets at the Lowest Prices.
Cash or Credit.
HUB FURNITURE CO.,
(Formerly Wash B. Williams)
Corner Seventh and D Streets N. W.

CELTIC CLUB WHISKY
Our Specialty. Never Changes. Once Tried You'll Always Use It. Take No Substitute.
Ports and Sherries for family use, Quarts, 50 and 75 cents. All makes of Beer. Leading brands of Cigars. Ales and Porters on draught the year round.
JOHN CONNOR
New Jersey Ave. and G Sts. N. W.

J. WILLIAM LEE,
Undertaker and
Livery, . . .
322 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

HECHT & CO.,
515 and 517 Seventh street N. W.
ARE UNFAIR
TO
Organized Labor.
Retail Clerks, No. 262.

Yale Laundry
DECLARED UNFAIR
BY THE R. A. LANIS ASSOCIATION
The "Yale Steam Laundry" prefers "scabs" to do their steam fitting. Where do you and your friends have your washing done? Help the Union Steam Fitters by refusing your patronage to the Yale Laundry.
R. A. LANIS ASS'N OF STEAM FITTERS
March 10, 1903. L. B. No. 10, N A

Book Your Excursions to CHESAPEAKE
BEACH
Only salt water resort near Washington
HALEY'S BAND
Finest Bathing, Fishing,
Crabbing, Sailing, Dancing
GENERAL OFFICE:
1420 New York Avenue

Union Directory.

TO SECRETARIES: Please notify this office of any change in officers' addresses, time or place of meeting. Corrections will be made quarterly.

American Federation of Labor—Headquarters, Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Sam'l Gompers, President. Frank Morrison, Secretary.

Allied Printing Trades Council meets last Thursday in the month at Typographical Temple. J. A. Wiedman, Secretary-Treasurer, 15 I street northeast.

Allied Label League meets every Friday night at 8 o'clock at 905 E street northwest. C. A. Pfau, Secretary, 905 E street northwest.

Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, Local No. 148, meets second and fourth Thursday evenings at 922 Pa. avenue northwest. Geo. Bakersmith, Secretary, 3315 Brightwood avenue northwest.

Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers. Local Union No. 102, meets first and third Wednesdays at Loehl's Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. Wm. H. Whiting, Secretary, 639 K street southwest.

American Society Plate Engravers meets first Saturday in each month at Grand Army Hall. A. C. Ruebsam, Secretary, Bethesda, Montgomery County, Md.

Bakers Union, No. 118. meets first and third Saturday in each month at 430 Eighth street northwest. John G. Schmidt, Secretary and Business Agent, 333 I street s w.

Bakers' Drivers' L. U. No. 33, T. D. I. U. meets first and third Thursday evening of each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Thomas C. Fox, Secretary, 922 Fourth street northeast.

Bartenders' League Local No. 75, meets first and fourth Sunday of each month at 2 p. m. at Macabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. Jere F. McCarthy, Secretary, 1017 Maryland avenue southwest.

Beer Drivers' and Stablemen's Union, No. 234, meets first Sunday of each month at 314 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. A. D. Manger, Secretary, 209 Sixth street southwest.

Bookbinders' Union, No. 4, meets first Tuesday in each month at Typograhical Temple. James A. Stockman, Secretary, 735 North Capitol street.

Brewery Workers' Union, No. 118, meets second and last Sunday of the month at 314 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. Frank Rom, Secretary, 818 New Hampshire avenue n. w.

Bricklayers' Union, No. 1, meets second and fourth Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Milford Spohn, Secretary, Typographical Temple.

Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators, and Paperhangers, Local Union, No. 368, meets every Friday night at 430 Eighth street northwest. G. J. Murray, Secretary, 1107 South Carolina avenue southeast.

Cab and Carriage Drivers' Union, No. 486, meets first and third Sundays, at Butler's Hall, 609 C street northwest. W. B. Nelson, Secretary, 922 I street northwest.

Carriage and Wagon Workers' International Union, Local No. 72, of Washington, D. C., meets first and third Fridays at 902 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. John H. Brinkman, Secretary, 1729 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Carpet Upholsterers, No. 85, U. I. U., meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at 516 Ninth street northwest. John Devlin, Secretary, 363 Pennsylvania avenue northwest

Central Labor Union meets every Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Typographical Temple. Charles W. Winslow, Secretary, 425 G street northwest. Residence, 3206 Wisconsin avenue northwest.

Ceramic, Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers and Helpers' International Union, No. 2, meets first and third Thursdays at 609 C street northwest. W. F. Miller, Secretary, 1228 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Cigarmakers' Local Union, No. 110, meets every Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Bielgk's Hall, 737 Seventh street northwest. Henry B. Wissner, Secretary, 3143 Dumbarton avenue.

Columbia Lodge, No. 174, International Association of Machinists, meets every Wednesday night at McCauley's Hall, 209 Pennsylavenue southeast. E. L. Adams, Secretary, 600 Ninth street northeast.

Columbia Typographical Union meets third Sunday in each month in Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. W. M. Garrett, Secretary.

Council Allied Building Trades of Central Labor Union meets every Tuesday night at Room 10, Typographical Temple. E. J. Ratigan, Secretary.

Douglass Association of Steam Engineers, I. S. U. E., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of the month at 609 F street northwest. J. W. Webb, Secretary, 341 Maryland avenue southwest.

Electrotype Molders and Finishers' Union, No. 17, I. S. and E. U. Charles W. Dean, Secretary.

Federal Labor Union No. 8193, meets fourth Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Miss Emma A. Miller, Secretary, 1011 First street n. w.

Fire Department Employees P. and B. Union No. 8846, meets every Wednesday morning at 11 a. m., at Union Veterans' Hall, 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. G. Achstetter, Secretary, 206 N. Y. ave. northwest.

Gas Workers' Union No. 10343, Samuel H. Walker, Secretary, 735 Thirteenth street s. e.

Glass Bottle Blowers' Association, Branch 68, Alexandria, Va., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Serepta Hall. Frank Michelbach, Secretary, 803 King street, Alexandria, Va.

Hospital Attendants' Protective Union No. 8097, meets first and fourth Saturday nights of each month at Masonic Hall, Anacostia, D. C. C. W. Teates, Secretary, 434 Jackson street, Anacostia, D. C.

Hodcarriers, Brick and Mortar Wheelers' Union No. 9468, meets first and third Monday evenings in each month at Cadets' Armory, 708 O street northwest. Dennis Brown, Secretary, 1237 Fourth street northwest.

Ice Wagon Drivers and Helpers, Local No. 430, meets first and third Tuesdays in each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest (third floor). William Donaldson, Secretary, 812 Seventh street southwest.

International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, Local Union No. 5, meets every Friday night at Seventh and N streets northwest. Charles E. Barbour, Secretary, 1212 Potomac street northwest.

International Association of Machinists, Headquarters, rooms 82-85 Corcoran Building, Fifteenth and F streets northwest. James O'Connell, president; D. Douglass Wilson, vice-president and editor of the Journal; George Preston. Secretary-Treasurer.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.—Headquarters, Rooms 103-104 Corcoran Building. H. W. Sherman, Secretary.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 26, meets every Thursday night at Hotel Royal Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. S. F. Adams, Secretary, 724 Eighteenth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 148, meet every Monday night at 430 Eighth street northwest. H. B. Anderson, Secretary, 807 Eighth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, No. 257, meets every Friday evening at 719 Sixth street n. w. M. G. Bundick, Secretary, 1107 Tenth street n. w.

Interior Marble and Slate Cutters' and Setters' Association, No. 5, meets first and third Wednesday of each month at Arion Hall, 430 Eighth street northwest. George Edmonds, Secretary, 423 Queen street, Alexandria Va.

International Association of Marble Workers No. 33, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at 106 I street northwest. Lew Davis, Secretary, 106 I street northwest.

International Union of Steam Engineers— Local Union No. 99, meets every Wednesday evening at 419 Tenth street northwest. A. W. Leeke, Recording Secretary, Twelfth and B streets northwest.

International Brotherhood of Firemen, Local No. 63, meets every Tuesday night at J. F. Beare's Hall, 404 Eighth street northwest. Louis S. Crown, Secretary. 637 K street northeast.

International Alliance Stage Employees, Local No. 22, meets first and third Sundays of every month at 625 Louisiana avenue northwest. J. Shilling, Secretary, 1208 Bladensburg Road.

Iron Molders' Union, Local No. 215, meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at Masonic Hall, Fourth street and Pennsylvania avenue southeast. Joseph Stewart, Secretary, 3413 N street northwest.

I. U. S. E., Hoisting and Portable, Local 77, meets every Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, Heare's Hall. 404 Eighth street northwest. W. H. Radcliffe, Secretary, 812 Four-and-a-Half street southwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 239, meets first and third Wednesdays in each month at 737 Seventh st. northwest. Theo. A. Leckert, Secretary, 1210 Florida avenue northwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 305, meets first and third Monday evenings at 503 G street northwest (barber shop). Charles A. Thomas, Secretary, 817 E street northwest.

Journeymen Horseshoers' Union, No. 17, meets first and third Wednesday of each month at Costello's Hall, Sixth and G streets northwest. W. S. Lusby. Secretary, 708 Eighth street southwest.

Journeyman Tailors of America, No. 188, meets first and third Saturdays of each month at 8 o'clock p m., Labor Bureau Hall. Ignatius Geraci, Secretary, 917½ E street northwest.

Journeyman Plumbers and Gas Fitters' Local Union, No. 5, meets second and fourth Tuesday evening of each month at Maccabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. A. E. Anderson, Secretary, 1312 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Journeymen Stone and Marble Cutters' Union, meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Irondall Hall. Harry Bouche, Secretary, 72 H street northeast.

Laundry Wagon Drivers No. 467, W. W. Foster. Secretary, 95 Myrtle street northwest

Mail Bag Workers' Union, 10504, meets every Saturday at 721 Sixth street northwest Miss A. Cross, Secretary, 321 Lincoln street, Anacostia, D. C.

Marble Mosaic and Granito Workers No. 8902, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at 1400 D street northwest. G. B. Cinotti, secretary.

Metal Trades Federation of North America, Room 134 Corcoran Bldg., James O'Connell, President. E. J. Lynch, Secretary.

Milk Wagon Drivers' Union, No. 349, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at 8 p. m., at Hotel Royal (second floor), Seventh and N streets northwest. W. T. Trittipoe, 1359 U street northwest.

Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers' Helpers, Local Union, No. 12, meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Arion Hall, 430 Eighth street northwest. S. Becket, Secretary, 401 E Street southeast.

Musicians' Protective Union, No. 161. meets first and third Sundays at 2 p. m., at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Linden, Jr., Secretary, 1364 E street southeast.

National Alliance Theatrical Stage Employes meets first and third Sunday in each month at southwest corner of Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, third floor. J. P. Shilling, Secretary, 1208 Bladensburg Road.

Negative Cutters Union, meets second Wednesday in each month at 921 F street northwest. Clarence W. Schroeder, Secretary, 640 E street southeast.

Oil Wagon Drivers, No. 296, meets second Wednesday of each month at Oppenheimer's Hall, 514 Ninth street northwest. A. J. Dixon, Secretary, 1234 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Operative Stonemasons' Union, No. 2, meets first and third Monday evenings at 609 C street northwest. James Lanigan, Secretary, 930 G street southwest.

Paperhangers' Local Union No. 420, B. of P., D., and P., meets every Wednesday evening, 625 Louisiana avenue, n. w. J. Franklin Page, Secretary.

Pattern Makers' League meets at Weller's Hall, Eighth and I streets southeast. first and third Wednesday. James B. McAlwee, Secretary, 907 E street southeast.

Photo-Engravers' Union, No. 17, meets first Monday in each month at 417 Eleventh street northwest. F. C. Betts, Secretary, Kensington, Md.

Printing Pressmen Union, No. 1, meets first Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. W. C. Deane, Secretary. 19 Grant Place.

Plate Printers Union, No. 2, meets at Maccabee Temple, Ninth street n. w., the fourth Tuesday in each month. J. P. Murphy, Secretary, 1416 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

Post-Office Clerks, No. 9834, meets the second Saturday of each month at Twelfth and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. B. Corridon, Secretary, 1733 North Capitol street.

Pressfeeders and Assistants' Union, No. 42, I. P. P. and A. U., meets the first Thursday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. D. I. Leane, Secretary, 702 H street northeast.

Registered Drug Clerks' Union, District of Columbia, meets second and fourth Fridays at Jolly Fat Men's Hall, 933 D street northwest. Fred T. Hafelfinger, Secretary, 1110 Fourteenth street northwest.

Retail Clerks' Union, No. 262, meets second and fourth Mondays of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Joseph Moser, Recording Secretary, 624 I street northwest.

Retail Grocery Clerks' Union, No. 533, meets every Thursday evening at Society Temple, 5th and G streets N. W. Alfred Fuss, Secretary, 802 D street s. e.

Slate and Tile Roofers' Union, No. 10421, meets every Monday night at 922 F street northwest. J. C. Huddleson, Secretary, 2147 Pennsylvania avenue northwest,

Soda and Mineral Water Wagon Drivers, No. 372, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at Bessler's Hall, 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. P. Connor, Secretary, 1111 Sixth street southwest.

Steam Fitters, R. A. Lanis Association, L. B. No. 10, N. A., meets every Thursday night at 902 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. S. D. Zea, Secretary, 2108 G street northwest.

Steam and Hot Water Fitters' Helpers, Local Branch, No. 28, N. A., meets every Friday at 8 o'clock p. m., at 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Thomas F. Flanagan, Secretary, 38 G street northeast.

Stereotypers' Union. No. 19, of Washington D. C., meets second Monday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. D. J. Murray, Secretary, 35 R street northwest.

Stone Laborers' Union, No. 9013, meets first and third Friday of each month at Eleventh and Q streets northwest. Daniel Lahey, Secretary, 1003 A street southeast.

Telephone Operators, No. 9914, meets third Saturday of each month at Schmidt's Hall, 516 Ninth street northwest Edna Earl Bobb, Secretary, 924 Pennsylvania avenue southeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, Local Union. No. 190, meet every Friday evening at the Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. C. H. Scherer, Secretary, 936 Fourth street northeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 884, meets every Monday night at 904 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Torney, Secretary, 141 Jefferson street, Anacostia, D. C.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 1103, Mill and Bench Hands, meets every Friday at 8 p. m., at 514 Ninth street northwest. Peyton Wilkerson, Secretary, 816 G street southeast.

United Brotherhood of Leather Workers on Horse Goods, No. 87, meets every second and fourth Tuesday, 513 Twelfth street northwest. H. J. Laubach, Secretary, 72 H street northeast.

Upholsterers' Local Union, No. 58, meets second and fourth Thursdays of each month at 416 (fourth floor) Ninth street northwest. T. R. Bowie, Secretary, 1306 Riggs street northwest.

Washington Branch, Granite Cutters' National Union, meets every second and fourth Mondays in each month at 1204 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Wm. Silver. Secretary, 49 Massachusetts avenue northwest.

Washington Feeders and Assistants' Union, No. 42, meets the first Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street n. w. D. I. Leane, Secretary, 702 H street northeast.

Washington Lodge of Machinists, No. 193, meets every Thursday night at southwest corner of Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. Herbert Wyatt, Secretary, 1111 Seventh street southeast.

Wood, Wire, and Metal Lathers' Local Union, No. 9, meets every Monday night at Hare's Hall. Eighth and D streets northwest. J. C. Maloney, Secretary, 124 G street n. w.

A HEAVY BLOW.

The Largest Out-of-Town Advertiser Withdraws From The Times.

[Special Correspondence.]

LOS ANGELES, CAL., July 8, 1903.

The Peruna Drug Company, of Columbus, Ohio, has notified labor unions that, on and after October 1, it will not advertise in the Los Angeles Times, the present contract expiring on that date. Pe-ru-na is the largest out-of-town advertiser the scab Times has, and the withdrawal of its patronage will be a heavy blow to the organ of Parry and Baer and that ilk. Otis, who is the most despised person in California, realizes he will be whipped by the men and women whom he has slandered for thirteen years, and every day the notorious Times makes frantic appeals to the public to come to his rescue and aid him in his fight against the hosts of organized labor. But the public is engaged in other and better business, hence Otis is receiving no encouragement outside of the little gang composing the Employers Association.

A committee will soon be appointed in every city where there is an advertiser who patronizes the Times, and a vigorous campaign will be instituted in the home city of each advertiser. In this way there is no doubt that the union-hating sheet will be stripped of every ad. After that, the panic.

Every reader of the TRADES UNIONIST can render valuable assistance in this fight against a deadly enemy of unionism by writing one letter to each of the following advertisers, asking them to withdraw from the Times, and stating that union men and women, no matter where located, will not purchase any commodity advertised in the Times. Here is the list:

Munyon, H. H.—Remedy Company, 53rd and Jefferson street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Royal Baking Powder Company, 100 Williams street, New York, N. Y.

Philo-Hay Specialties Company—Newark, N. J.

Castoria—The Centaur Company, 77 Murray street, New York, N. Y.

Cuticura—Potter Drug and Chemical Company, Boston, Mass.

Postum—Postum Cereal Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

Scott's Emulsion—Scott & Bowne, 409 Pearl street New York, N. Y.

Wright's Indian Vegetable Pill Company, New York, N. Y.

Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate—D. Ghirardelli, San Francisco, Cal.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Several Muncie, Ind., window glass workers have started a project, which, if successful, will serve in a measure to fight the glass-blowing machines and incidentally the trust. It is proposed to erect a factory in Muncie and make Louis Mambourg, now connected with the Federation Glass Company's offices at Columbus, Ohio, president and general manager.

The highest point for wages reached before the panic of 1893 has now been regained or passed practically and in all lines of work. Labor unions have increased in strength and number in a distinctly surprising way. It is asserted, for example, that in Chicago the list of unions has lengthened from 327 to 550 during the past year, and that the membership has advanced from 120,000 to twice that number in the same period.

Representative Business Houses.
OF WASHINGTON, D. C.

The following wholesale and retail firms and professional men are friendly to Union Labor and are entitled to its patronage:

BANKS.
THE LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK, Safe Deposit Vaults, $2.50 up
CAPITAL LOAN GUARANTEE COMPANY, 602 F Street Northwest. Every one can borrow money without security.

BAKERS.
HOLMES & SONS, Celebrated Home-Made Pies and Milk Bread. First and E Streets N. W. Phone East 864.

BOOTS AND SHOES.
CROCKER'S SHOES, 939 Pennsylvania Ave. N. W.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.
DANIEL LOUGHRAN, 1347 Pennsylvania Ave.
LUCHS & BRO., Wholesalers. Tom Keene 5c. Cigar. Phone E 755.

COACH FINDINGS.
J. B. KENDALL, 485-87 Missouri avenue N. W.

COAL TAR PRODUCTS AND PAPER.
E. B. WARREN & CO., 27th and H Sts. N. W.

CUTLERY AND SPORTING GOODS.
D. N. WALFORD, 477 and 909 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

DRY GOODS.
LANSBURGH & BROTHER, 420 to 426 7th St. N. W

DYER.
E. E. WHEATLEY, 1068 Jefferson Ave. N. W. Phone, West 117-Y.

ENGRAVERS.
THE MAURICE JOYCE ENGRAVING CO. Cuts and Illustrations. 418 11th street N. W

FIRE INSURANCE.
Insure with THE RIGGS FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.
FIREMEN'S INSURANCE COMPANY, Seventh St. and Louisiana Ave.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.
JULIUS LANSBURGH. Interocean Building, 512 Ninth St. N. W.

FURNACES.
WILLIAM MINNIS, 1023 H st. N. E. Residence: 1501 H st. N. E.

GROCERIES.
LITTLE & PAGE, "Good things to eat." 1210 F St. N.W
W. C. ERGOOD, "Good goods at Ergoods." Corner Ninth and H Streets Northwest.

GROCER AND COFFEE ROASTER.
SOMERSET R. WATERS. 1342 Seventh Street Northwest, Corner O.

HARDWARE AND TOOLS.
RUDOLPH, WEST & CO., 1332 New York avenue northwest.

HUDSON'S VARIETY STORE.
B. F. HUDSON, 423 Seventh Street Northwest.

HATTERS AND FURRIERS.
JAMES Y. DAVIS' SONS, 1201 Pennsylvania Ave.
A. H. BURDINE, Union Overalls, Hats, and Gloves. Seventh Street and Virginia avenue southwest.

LIME, SAND, GRAVEL, CEMENT.
NATIONAL MORTAR COMPANY, Office: Room 9, Ralston Bldg., 612 F St. N. W. Office telephone: East 688.

LUMBER AND MILL WORK.
THOMAS R. RILEY, 13th St. and Ohio Ave.
THE WASHINGTON WOOD WORKING CO., 12th and B Streets N. W. Telephone 2119-3.

MACHINISTS AND ENGINEERS,
FORSBERG & MURRAY, Pumps and Elevators. Engines and Boilers 8th and Water Sts. S. W.

MERCHANT TAILOR.
W. A. SLADEN, 419 East Capitol Street.

PHARMACISTS.
LOUIS F. BRADLEY, Prescription Druggist. 8th and E Sts. S. E

PHOTO-LITHOGRAPHERS.
THE NORRIS PETERS CO., 458 and 460 Pennsylvania avenue N. W
ANDREW B. GRAHAM Lithographer, Photo-Lithographer, and Half-Tones. 1230 Pa. Ave. Phones: 1081-M, 1679-M.

PIANO AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
E. E. DROOP & SONS, 925 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

PRINTING SUPPLIES.
NATIONAL PRINTER'S SUPPLY CO., Machine-made Rollers. 414 10th St. N. W.

RESTAURANT AND WINE ROOM.
JOHN M. BECKER, Opp. Navy Yard., Cor. 8th and Georgia Ave. S.E

SHOES.
DAVE WOLF. SHOES FOR EVERYBODY. 432 Seventh Street N. W.

SHAVING PARLORS
VINCENT R. CILENTO, 805 North Capitol Street.

TITLES TO REAL ESTATE.
LAWYERS' TITLE & GUARANTY INS. CO. 412 5th St. N. W.

WINES AND LIQUORS.
SAMUEL G. STEWART, Heurich Brewing Co's. beers and popular brands of whiskies. 1141 Seventh st. northwest between L and M.
WILLIAM DIETZ, 1203 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest

UNION HEADQUARTERS.
ARION HALL, 430 Eighth Street N. W. Headquarters for organizations. Strictly union. JIM STEVENS, Proprietor.

DO NOT WANT OUR PATRONAGE.

Following brands of cigars: Cinco, Cremo, George W. Childs, Henry George, Tom Moore, Robert Burns, and General Arthur.

The following firms have declared against the interest of Organized Labor and are not regarded as deserving their patronage:

NAME.	BUSINESS.	LOCATION.
Chevy Chase Railway and circle.	Street railway	Chevy Chase and Circle.
Keenan Bros	Gents' furnishers	Pa. ave. bet. 14th and 15th sts., and 523 Seventh st. n. w.
B. Solomon	Gents' furnisher	708 Seventh street n.w.
Rufus H. Darby	Printer	508 Fourteenth street n.w.
H. L. McQueen	Printer	1108 E street n.w.
N. Sickles (Nat'l Cigar Factory).	Cigar manufacturer	1011 Penna. avenue n.w.
E. Gundershiemer	Baker	516 Second street n.w. and stalls in Center Market.
Peter Grogan	Carpet dealer	817 to 823 Seventh street n.w.
John H. Fitzgerald	Horseshoer	443 Prather's alley n.w.
S. S Daish	Coal and wood	Florida ave. and Third st. n.e.
Wilbur F. Nash	Meat dealer	Center and O st. Markets.
C. E. Hencke	Electrician	711 G street n.w.
F. J. Wheelock	Electrician	1215 G street n. e.
James A. Bennett	Tinner	2008 H street n.w.
National Mosaic Company	Mosaics	207 Fourth st. n.w.
M. Minster	Gents' furnisher	1343 F st. n.w.
A. Minster	Gents' furnisher	499 and 501 Penna. ave. n. w.
Cyrus B. Reese	Employing steamfitter	1519 Fourteenth street n. w.
C. A. Schneider & Sons	Union Iron Works	212 Twelfth street n. w.
Minster & Paterson	Gents' furnishers	1109 Pennsylvania ave. n. w
The Famous	Gents' furnishings	437 Seventh street n. w.
Chas. A. Muddiman & Co	Gas fixtures	1204 G and 616 Twelfth st. n.w.
Conrad Becker	Trunks and harness	1328 F st. n. w.
Chapin & Sacks	Dealer in butter	924 Louisana ave. n. w.
Home Ice Company	Ice	Twelfth and V sts. n.w.
Emil Wagner	Restaurant	210 Ninth st. n. w.
W. E. Carney	Cigar manufacturer	921 G st. s. w.
Nat'l Roller & Ball Bearing Co.	Machinery	33rd and K sts. n. w.
L. Rosenberg	Gents' furnishings	911 Eighth st. s. e.
Corbin Thompson	Dairyman	Sharon Dairy, 324 B st. s. w.
S. D. Houck	Dealer in harness	301 Tenth street n. w.
M. Eisemann & Bro	Dry goods	1924-26 Pa. ava. and 806 7th n.w
Elite Steam Laundry	Laundry	1205 G street n.w.
Benjamin Schwartz	Gents' furnisher and tailor	337 Pa. ave. s. e.
Emrich Beef Co	Meat Dealers
John Coleman	Horseshoer	1300 36th street n. w.
Hecht & Co	Dry Goods, etc.	517-519 Seventh street n. w
Charles Rauscher	Caterer	Conn. ave. and L st. n. w
Academy of Music	Theater	Ninth and D streets n. w.
Lafayette Square Theater	Theater	16th st. and Pa. ave. n. w.
E. H. Snyder & Co	Tailors	1111 Pa. ave n. w
Owen Owen	Tailor	423 Eleventh street n. w.
L. A. Downey	Tailor	433 Eleventh street n. w.
J. M. Stein & Co	Tailors	413 Eleventh street n. w
J. D. Burns & Co	Tailors	701 Ninth street n. w.
J. F. Gatchel	Tailor	604 Thirteenth street n. w.
G. Warfield Simpson	Tailor	1208 F street n. w.
E. H. Catlin & Co	Machinists	407 13½ street n. w.
Thomas Somerville & Sons	Steam Fitters' Supplies	316 Thirteenth street n. w.
Joseph Mathy	Stove dealer and tin worker.	1918 Pennsyvania avenue.

Merely a Yarn.

From Judge.]

"Yew are crewel," sighed the swain.

"Is that sew?" giggled the damsel.

"Darn it!" he cried, his temper rising. "Are you never going to stop breaking the thread of my discourse?"

"Knit," she retorted.

Realizing that he was worsted, he stifled the impulse to say something knotty, and wound himself up.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Few people realize that the trade unions are among the greatest temperance organizations on earth.

Bricklayers' Executive Committee.

The following is the list of members of the Executive Committee of Bricklayers' Union, No. 1: John G. Wolfe, chairman, 1023 New Jersey avenue; W. Cronin, 1415 Thirty-sixth street northwest; Samuel Haslett, 221 South Lee street, Alexandria, Va.; John Shanahan, 2352 Eighth street northwest; John McCarten, 1237 Maryland avenue northeast.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Boston's Central Labor Union has indorsed demands of the 'longshoremen's union which call for a ten-hour day and $14 a week.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICIAL ORGAN CENTRAL LABOR UNION, WASHINGTON BRANCH, AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Vol. VIII. No. 6. WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, JULY 23, 1903. Price, 3 Cents.

THE CENTRAL LABOR UNION

Decided Interest in Labor Day Parade Seems To Be On the Wane.

CONTRACT COMMITTEE REPORT

Musicians Would Make Exceptions During Certain Hours on Using Chevy Chase Circle Railway—Plumbers Want Full Jurisdiction.

The regular meeting of the Central Labor Union was called to order at 8 o'clock last Monday evening at Typographical Temple, President Sherman in the chair.

CREDENTIALS.

From Carriage and Wagon Makers' Union, No. 72, certifying Francis Willcocks, R. F. Jouscher, John H. Brinkman, C. B. Wandel, and Henry C. Stein.

From Local No. 9, Wood, Wire, and Metal Lathers, certifying W. C. Cherry, J. L. Ainsworth, and H. Mace.

From Local No. 28, Steam and Hot Water Fitters and Helpers, certifying W. E. Mastin, B. T. Harris, J. H. Aue, Charles Krause, and Thomas F. Flanagan.

From Local No. 486, Team Drivers' International Union, certifying Harry Beasley, W. E. Thomas, Oliver Jones, W. B. Nelson, and William Grove.

From Local No. 148, Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, certifying George Bakersmith, Martin Hellmuth, John Minnough, Charles Bowman, and Robert Kuhn.

From Local No. 11003, A. F. of L., Draftsmen and Computers, certifying J. W. Fraley, C. C. Ennis, H. P. Simpson, J. D. Cleary, and R. F. Barnes.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Local No. 237, Journeymen Barbers' Union, stating that owing to the fact that their members must work on Labor Lay, that union can not join in parade on that day.

From Local No. 99, Steam Engineers, calling attention to fact that the N. Auth Provision Company are not living up to contract with this body. Referred to Contract Committee.

From Local No. 99, Steam Engineers, stating that owing to fact that their members will be compelled to work on Labor Day, that they can not participate in parade. Referred to Labor Day Committee.

From Local No. 5, Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, stating that they would join in Labor Day parade to help to "show the strength of unionism" in this city. Referred to Labor Day Committee.

From the Council of Allied Building Trades, stating that Robert Low & Co. and W. H. Barstow had been placed on unfair list at request of Stone Laborers' Union. Referred to Grievance Committee.

From Virginia State Federation of Labor, copy of resolutions adopted by that body indorsing W. R. Hearst as a friend of labor. Placed on file.

From Local No. 884, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, stating that a negative vote has resulted in their union on Labor Day parade. Referred to Labor Day Committee.

From Hallock D. Day, representing Whitehead & Hoag Company, asking as to need of badges, etc., for Labor Day. Referred to Labor Day Committee.

From Local No. 161, Musicians' Protective Union, stating that owing to the fact that as musicians they would be a necessary adjunct of a parade, that union desired to be excused from voting on the proposition of a parade owing to business interests therein, preferring to have other unions decide. They also reported that owing to the fact that it has been called to their attention that considerable hardship has been entailed on members of unions living beyond Chevy Chase Circle in being required to walk to and from work beyond that point, that exemption be given to those members in using the cars to the Lake. Laid over to next meeting to hear from delegates of No. 161.

From Secretary-Treasurer L. W. Tilden, of United Association of Journeymen Plumbers, Gas Fitters, Steam Fitters, and Steam Fitters' Helpers, stating that the plan of amalgamation of the National Association of Steam Fitters with their organization has finally been agreed upon and sanctioned by the A. F. of L., and asking local recognition to steam fitters carrying a card in the United Association.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

The Contract Committee reported the Engineers' contract, with a recommendation that trade rights be defined between engineers and steam fitters and machinists. Recommendation lost. Amendment to Article IX defining duties of engineer also lost. Machinists asked permission to place on file of the Central Labor Union a series of paragraphs defining trade rights in an engine room. The Engineers' contract was then indorsed.

CALL OF UNIONS.

Retail Clerks reported that boycott on Hecht & Co. had been indorsed by their recent International convention.

Steam Fitters' Helpers reported that they were still on strike.

Sheet Metal Workers reported that they had voted to parade on Labor Day.

NEW BUSINESS.

Delegate Everett submitted the following amendment:

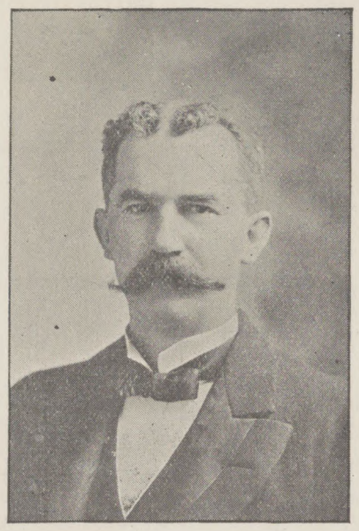
SEC. 43. Where a grievance has been submitted to the Central Labor Union and a settlement secured by them, such settlement shall be binding on all parties to the grievance.

Laid over to next meeting.

Adjourned.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

The Union Printers' Home.



Superintendent Deacon's report for the month of June shows a total expenditure of $4,043.03. Of this amount $2,274.34 was expended for table supplies. The average number of inmates for the month was 113, and maintenance per inmate was $30.68. During this period six inmates were admitted, four vacated, one was expelled, and one died.

The Denver room has been refurnished by the union of that city (No. 49), making a change that is appropriate and artistic in effect.

The State Land Board has reduced the rental on the 240 acres of State land used by the Home for grazing purposes, through the efforts of Trustee McCaffery and Superintendent Deacon, the reduction being from $100 to $12, which is the minimum rate made by law. The superintendent should be commended for his zeal in looking after the financial interests of the Home, in thus making a saving of over 80 per cent in this one item of expense.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

New York's Musical Mutual Protective Union has allied itself with the American Federation of Labor.

FRANK K. RAYMOND, General Agent of Union Central Life Insurance Co.

Among the number of printers who have left the case to take up pursuits in other professions and business, Frank K. Raymond may be counted among the number who has not lost the good feeling and fellowship of his late coworkers. Mr. Raymond is an Ohioan, coming to this city in 1889, where he was employed on specifications in the Government Printing Office, resigning to take up life insurance business as general agent for the Union Central Life Insurance Company, of Cincinnati, Ohio. As a member of the Business Men's Association he has been active in advancing the interests of the city of Washington, and as a printer has been zealous in his advocacy of label printing on all literature sent out by that association. He is an energetic Mystic Shriner, being the recipient of a handsome badge from its members for services in the order. While he has been devoted to the interests he represents, he has never faltered in his devotion to his union, being an honorary member of Columbia Typographical Union, No. 101.

ALLIED BUILDING TRADES.

New Quarters Secured for Permanent Headquarters.

The regular meeting of the Allied Building Trades Council was called to order by Chairman Meitzler at the usual hour last Tuesday evening.

The minutes of the last two meetings were read and approved.

CREDENTIALS.

From International Marble Workers' Helpers, No. 33, certifying to Jesse Wells, George Walker, and James Garvey.

From Carpenters, No. 1651, certifying W. F. Wilkinson, vice G. F. Heider, resigned.

From Stone Laborers, certifying D. Lahey, W. Hardy, and J. E. Campbell.

From Electrical Workers, No. 26, certifying G. A. Malone, H. W. Sherman, and T. J. Fagan.

The credentials were received and delegates seated.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Delegate Sheetz reported that Central Labor Union had indorsed Engineers' contract.

The Auditing Committee reported that they had examined the books of the secretary and found them correct. They also reported that they deem it inadvisable to change cost of cards. The report was received and recommendation adopted.

The Arbitration Committee submitted minutes of meeting of the Board of Arbitration, which were read and placed on file.

The Hall Committee submitted lease with Costello Brothers, and the secretary was directed to notify all members to be present at next meeting to ratify the same.

NEW BUSINESS.

On motion, it was agreed that an interchange of union membership lists be made for use of the unions.

Adjourned.

Labor Notes.

San Francisco, Cal., union pie bakers have secured a reduction in working hours from sixty-two to sixty a week.

The conference between the Brotherhood and Amalgamated Carpenter's national organizations will be held at New York July 27.

There are probably 1,000 women in the United States to-day who make their living as insurance solicitors. The idea is becoming very popular.

It is estimated that nearly all the pine timber growing in Minnesota (about 30,000,000 feet) will be cut and marketed within the next fifteen years.

The executive committee of the A. F. of L. has recommended that silk workers be thoroughly organized and attached to the United Textile Workers of America as a distinct branch of the textile workers.

PRESIDENT LYNCH'S REPORT

International Typographical Union in a Good Condition.

PROGRESS MADE DURING YEAR

An Exhaustive Report on All Subjects. Statistics Showing Growth of the Organization—The Secession of Photo-Engravers—The Apprentice Question.

The report of President Lynch, of the I. T. U., has been placed in the hands of every delegate-elect to the coming forty-ninth session, to be held in this city the week of August 10 15. The report is exhaustive on all subjects that come within the scope of the International body, and contains many valuable suggestions and recommendations.

Speaking of the progress made by the organization in late years, President Lynch says:

Our field is necessarily somewhat circumscribed, and in the main lies in the smaller cities and towns. The locality of any considerable importance without a typographical union is rare. But the avenue open to us for added membership contains, nevertheless, almost unlimited possibilities. It is bounded only by the confines of our immense jurisdiction. There are in towns and hamlets, countless in number, thousands and tens of thousands of printers who would make valuable and useful members of our great fraternity. It is from these small centers of population that the city printer is now, and will be in the future, to large extent, recruited. It is our duty, therefore, both to ourselves and our organization, as well as a benefit to those whom we seek to enroll, that full effort be put forth to carry knowledge of and belief in the International Typographical Union to every eligible printer on the North American continent. Tremendous as this task may seem, surrounded as it is with obstacles in method and money, it can and must be accomplished. Machinery is reaching every section, and for very safety sake we must be ahead of the machine. During the year we organized nearly one hundred and sixty unions. To accomplish this a large outlay in money was necessary, and was coupled with the energy, loyalty, and ability put forth by our agents. In this work your president has attempted to continue the working out of the idea imbuing him when first honored as your executive—that, despite the great strength of the union, there were new fields that should be given attention. The benefit accruing from thorough organization has been repeatedly made apparent where employers seeking to secure non-unionists, in order to defeat union activity, have failed. This was especially true in the Atlanta strike, the only affair of magnitude occurring during the year. In the furtherance of the work of organization let us make effort to devise some plan whereby we can reach the isolated printer, working in localities supporting from one to six of our brother artisans, or not enough to warrant organization. It has not been found practicable, in fact, to organize unions of less than ten members. What would seem to be desirable would be to attach the printers, working where it is not possible to organize, direct to the parent body. It may be said that we can do that now through what is termed provisional membership, but during the time that such a membership has been available it has failed to attract new material in any appreciable quantity. With a proper system of insurance and other benefits the provisional scheme would have undoubtedly been a greater success as an organizing agent.

After going into the subject of employers' organizations, and thoroughly analyzing their method of procedure, the president takes up the work of the future for the organization. Of this subject he says:

The extension of the work and scope of the International Typographical Union can take the course of added benefits to its members in the way of financial relief; the renewal of the demand for better sanitary conditions of the workroom; insistence on the proper instructions for apprentices; the advancement of the union label; but above all, there should be an effort to encourage a system of education that will bring to our membership a knowledge of the conditions which surround them, and enable them to defend their position as trades unionists and members of a great international organization. That effort to interest, to educate, to uplift, will bring with it a realizing sense of the problems that confront trade unions to-day, and the conviction that progress must be made along scientific lines; that economic fallacies and methods, with force as their impelling power, and lacking in reason and justice, are invariably followed by a reaction that makes the last condition infinitely worse than that to which the false methods were applied.

Taking into consideration the fact that for more than fifty years we have been actively organizing the followers of our craft, and that because of that activity our field for new work is necessarily restricted, we are yet in a position to assert that we have at least kept pace with the magnificent general advance made by organized labor during the past year. In the month of June sixteen unions were chartered; July, nine; August, ten; September, seventeen; October, twenty; November, seventeen; December, six; January and February, twenty-three; March, nine; April, eleven, and in May, twenty-one. A total for the year of 159. We now have more than 600 typographical unions.

The President presents statistics to show comparison by last three years of the remarkable growth of the International, as follows:

During the twelve months ending May 31, 1903, there were organized 159 unions, with an aggregate charter membership of 2,281. Eighteen unions, with a membership of 235, have surrendered charters. Two unions, with a membership of 25, have been suspended. One union, with a membership of 10, has been reinstated.

The average paying membership for the twelve months ending May 31, 1903, has been 42,436, and for the previous year it was 38,364, a net gain of 4,092. Were the average to be made for the year 1903 alone, it would be much larger. It will approximate at the present time 45,000 members. For the third time it is my privilege to say in a report that we have more unions and more members than at any previous period in the history of the International Typographical Union.

During the eleven months ending May 31, 1901, there were organized seventy-five unions with an aggregate charter membership of 1,006; twelve unions with a membership of 238 surrendered charters; eight unions with a membership of 84 were suspended, and the charter of one union with a membership of 14 was revoked. The average paying membership for the eleven months ending May 31, 1901, was 34,948, and for the previous year it was 32,105, a net gain of 2,843.

During the twelve months ending May 31, 1902, there were organized 113 unions with an aggregate charter membership of 1,653; twenty unions with a membership of 202 surrendered charters; nine unions with a membership of 98 were suspended, and the charter of one union with a membership of 10 was revoked. One union with a membership of 8 was reinstated. The average paying membership for the twelve months ending May 31, 1902, was 38,364, and for the previous year it was 34,948, a gain of 3,416.

These comparative paragraphs make clear that during the last three years we have gained more than 10,000 members. During the last year the gain was more than 10 per cent.

On the subject of affiliated unions, President Lynch takes up the photo-engravers' secession in a conservative vein, and his recommendations to the convention, no doubt, will be given due consideration. He says:

The secession movement in the photo-engraving trade became so strong that, contrary to the convictions of the International officers as to solidarity in the printing trade, it was deemed the part of wisdom to encourage a consolidation of the factions. It is not believed by the International officers that small, independent unions of the printing trade will be a success. However, the photo-engravers seem determined to make the experiment, and, if sanctioned by this convention, an international union of photo-engravers, embracing all of the organized workers of this craft, will be launched.

Touching on subjects of a general nature, he has the following good advice to give regarding the apprentice question:

Another idea that is gaining ground is that the apprentice should be taught the trade. Our membership realizes that if the standard of workmanship is lowered, wages and conditions are sure to deteriorate. We owe it to ourselves to see that the boy is taught the trade, and to put a stop to the turning out of makeshift printers and alleged specialists. Maintaining a high standard of efficiency we can continue a system of proper compensation and conditions. If we aid the apprentice to become a capable printer he will in turn become a bulwark for our organization and an important factor in its continuance.

Hot Tamales and Chile, at 503 Thirteenth street northwest. Open all night

Labor Notes.

New England street railway men are being organized.

Of 1,200 locomotives in use in Japan 500 are American made.

Oakland, Cal., electrical workers won their strike for $4 a day.

The Order of Railway Conductors of America will meet at Portland, Ore., in 1905.

The Montana legislature has passed a law requiring the union label on all text books.

Street car men at New Orleans, La., have been granted a minimum wage of $1 a day.

Garment workers will hold their national convention in Indianapolis, Ind., beginning August 10.

The free employment bureaus of Chicago are to be abandoned as the result of a recent court decision.

San Francisco Cigarmakers' Union will inaugurate most vigorous warfare against the products of Eastern sweatshops, tenement-house, and Chinese-made cigars.

COLUMBIA UNION MEETING

A Record-Breaking Session of the Union Made on Last Sunday.

TRUSTEE C. W. OTIS COMMENDED

President Appoints Convention Reception Committee—Mr. Goodkey Will Take an Appeal—The Pierce Amendment to Come Up Next Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of Columbia Typographical Union, No. 101, was called to order at 2 p. m. last Sunday, President Johnson in the chair.

The union established a new record for completing business, adjournment being declared at 3.05 p. m.

The reading of the minutes of the last meeting being dispensed with, the traveling cards received during the month was read.

The Nominations Committee, reporting favorably on H. F. Montgomery for apprentice membership and Wm. H. Welch for complete membership, they were duly elected.

Mr. Whitehead, chairman of the Committee of Arrangements on I. T. U. Convention, made a verbal report.

The report of the Business Committee on the appeal of J. E. Goodkey against the action of the Second Division chapel in collecting a fine of $1 from him for alleged failure to perform a duty imposed upon him while serving said chapel as chairman, was read, and the committee sustained the chapel in its action. Mr. Goodkey giving notice of appeal.

President Johnson reported that the chapel vote on proposition to parade on Labor Day resulted: For, 451; against, 835.

The president appointed the following members to serve as a reception committee during the coming session of the I. T. U.:

Z. T. JENKINS, Chairman.

W. G. Glenn.	A. W. Bowen.
T. J. Fitzwilliam.	D. J. Roberts.
F. W. Stretton.	D. V. Chisholm.
Chas. A. Sheldon.	A. M. Butler.
Chas. T. Graff.	Clint. O. Price.
E. A. M. Lawson.	George F. Halsey.
O. J. Ricketts.	T. J. Shober.
T. A. Bynum.	L. C. Hover.
Wm. H. Bailey.	Alexander Gordon.
Dexter S. Hussey.	W. F. Crump.
T. C. Parsons.	Robt. E. Stenner.
Joseph G. Stelle.	Jesse F. Grant
W. S. Schinnerer.	John O'Donoghue.
Joseph C. Whyte.	Chas. M. Robinson.
Chas. Dunn.	C. J. Sheriff.
I. Walter Sharp.	Chas. H. Gove.
James A. Healy.	Wm. M. Garrett.
Thomas Healey.	Hugh Everett.
Frank M. Hatley.	W. F. O'Brien.
Walter V. Smith.	John A. Onyun.
E. F. Geyer.	Fred L. Davis.
Michael J. Maher.	Wm. M. Bass.
Thomas L. Jones.	C. H. Ennis.
B. A. Lineback.	J. L. Holland.

E. H. Thomas.

Mr. Gutelius, from the Board of Trustees, announced that at the last meeting of the Board a resolution was passed commending Charles W. Otis, the retiring member of the Board, for the able and efficient manner in which he had attended to his duties as a member of the Board of Trustees.

Mr. Goodkey asked that the resolution introduced by him at the last meeting of the Union be laid over for another month, which was agreed to.

Mr. O. T. Pierce introduced the following amendments, which were ordered printed on the call:

Amend section 1, Article IV, Constitution, by inserting after the word Secretary, the words, "Assistant Secretary."

Strike out at the end of section 4, Article V, By-laws, the amendment of March 16, 1902, reading: "And is authorized to employ necessary clerical assistance," and insert thereafter the following new section:

SEC. 3½. Assistant Secretary.—The Assistant Secretary shall attend all meetings and act as reading clerk. He shall assume charge of the office and perform the duties of Secretary when the Secretary, through any cause, shall be absent from said office. He shall act as general assistant to the Secretary, and give bond in the sum of $1,000. His office hours shall be from 10 to 12 a. m. and from 1 to 5 p. m.

Amend section 1, Article VII, By-laws, by inserting after the word Secretary, "Assistant Secretary."

The Union, at 3.05 p. m., adjourned.

A request will be made by President Gompers to the Western Federation of Miners, asking them to reaffiliate with the A. F. of L.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Official Organ Central Labor Union and Allied Building Trades, A. F. of L.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

The Trades Unionist Publishing Company

E. W. PATTON.....President
A. J. E. HUBBARD.....Vice-President
T. M. RING.....Secretary

Office: 441-443 G Street Northwest.

TELEPHONE EAST 15 Y.

SUBSCRIPTION

One year (in advance) - - - - $1.00
Six months (in advance) - - - - .50

Entered at the Post-Office, Washington, D. C. as Second-Class Matter.

THE TRADES UNIONIST is heartily and unqualifiedly indorsed by the Central Labor Union and the Allied Building Trades as well as by the various locals connected with the two central bodies.

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL WASHINGTON. 2

Only Eight-Hour Union Office in Town.

THURSDAY, JULY 23, 1903.

The Miller Case.

The action of the Civil Service Commission, acting under authority of President ROOSEVELT, in reinstating W. A MILLER, recently discharged from the bindery of the Government Printing Office, was somewhat of a surprise to the members of Bookbinders' Union, No. 4, and the affiliated unions in the Government Printing Office. MILLER was tried by his union and found guilty of conduct unbecoming a union man and expelled. His discharge from his position as foreman in the bindery followed. In reporting the discharge of MILLER to the Civil Service Commission the reason for the discharge was given that he was an expelled member of Bookbinders' Union. The Civil Service Commission and the President hold that charge is not sufficient to warrant his separation from the service.

Without entering into that phase of the controversy it can readily be seen MILLER'S usefulness as an employe is impaired while he can not command the respect of his co-laborers. There has been innumerable cases of discharges from the public service of men and women who, on account of being obnoxious to other employes, had to leave good positions. The mistake made in the MILLER case was in making the issue direct with the union. The fault lies with the executive force of the Government Printing Office. The trouble leading up to the expulsion of MILLER was made public through the daily press, and his character as a union man was in question before he was expelled from the union.

From the presentation of the case to the Civil Service Commission there is no reason to believe they could have taken any other course than to reinstate MILLER. It would have been better to allow the officers of the union to have made a statement in advance of the action of the Commission, but given an ex parte hearing the case was naturally decided in favor of the appellant.

There is no organization working under the Government that insists on membership in the union being a prerequisite for employment, but it has always been a principle with unions that a nonunion man or an unfair man can not work where members of the union are employed. It is a matter of choice with the employer. And as it has been demonstrated that organized labor is the best and most reliable service, it follows that the best results can be looked for where it is employed.

The officers of Bookbinders' Union, No. 4, feel that on their presentation of the case the reinstatement of MILLER will be followed by his discharge. The union has taken a determined stand in the matter, and should MILLER present himself for work there is no doubt that the binders will refuse to work with him.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM.

A new use of the injunction has been sought in Toronto, Canada, where one was asked to enjoin the advertisement in a newspaper that there was a strike on in a wagon-making establishment. The employers advertised in the Toronto Globe for wagon makers, and the union advertised the fact that a strike existed, whereupon an injunction was asked to forbid the insertion of the latter. The court withheld its decision. The injunction business is being carried to such lengths that I expect to hear of courts being enjoined from issuing injunctions next.

* * * *

New problems arise every day. The latest is presented by the application of Japanese sugar-factory workers at Los Angeles for a charter under the American Federation of Labor. The Jap employees of the Oxnard Beet Sugar Company had struck and won their fight, and their application for a charter will probably find many advocates, though I do not see how it could be granted. It is the national policy, and laws have been enacted to exclude Mongolian people from this country, and they are refused citizenship. Membership in the A. F. of L. should be confined to those who are citizens of or eligible to citizenship in the countries within its jurisdiction, and I am under the impression that that is the position which the Executive Council will take.

* * * *

The greatest peril to organized labor is that of schism and division in its ranks, and, whatever may have been the grievance or fancied grievance which led to the organization of the American Labor Union, its existence is one of the misfortunes and furnishes one of the problems presented to the the American workingman. Failure to concentrate efforts under capable and discreet leadership has been the cause of weakness and lack of success in the past and must ever be as long as it exists—a fact on which no one counts more confidently than do the declared enemies of organized labor. But, aside from the American Labor Union being a seceding and rebellious institution, its avowed socialistic position and its political aspirations would be a source of great weakness in the Eastern and other older sections of our country, where trades unionism and socialism are not recognized as synonymous terms.

Whatever may be one's belief as to the tendency of the age—and I have heard it argued that organized capital and organized labor are the advance agents, the direct beginning of a condition the logical and only outcome of which is socialism—and however gratifying such a consummation would be to many, there are a few things to be considered. The radical promoters of desired conditions are not the ones wo accomplishh results. The Abolitionists did not abolish human slavery. That was accomplished by a vast army most of whom would never have enlisted if they had been told that that was the object of raising armies. The teetotalers, the prohibitionists, are not those who have made headway toward repressing the liquor traffic. Their violent measures and radical laws have resulted in their own defeat, and the real progress has been made by the conservative element, who, realizing their inability to suppress, have been satisfied to repress. If the tendency of the times—the socialism of capital and the socialism of labor—is toward a universal socialism, it is a process of evolution and is not to be hurried. On the contrary, violent and uncompromising advocates and propagandists do more to retard than to hasten results. Instead of the workingman "going into politics," he would accomplish more for himself and his interest if he went entirely out of politics and let politics and the politician seek him. If he did so, the politicians would soon be coming bearing substantial gifts. As it is now, the politician knows that at the utmost he has to try to placate but a few of the workingmen—the majority "bite at the bare hook," as they used to tell us the profane swearer did when the devil was the fisherman.

* * * *

It would simplify matters much if a universal union label could be agreed upon—say the A. F. of L. label—to be placed on all union-made goods. As it is, every individual industry has its own distinctive label, and there being so many different designs there is none to which the mind instinctively turns as the union label except as applied to a particular kind of goods. I am aware that some organizations have valuable assets in their labels, and that if an A. F. of L. label were adopted it would necessarily be the property of the American Federation of Labor; but if a universal label were feasible they could be reimbursed in some way. It is the great advantage of having a single union label to keep in mind that appeals to me.

* * * *

There is something doing in the way of organizing the firemen—the fire fighters—of the cities, with a view of ameliorating the almost intolerable conditions that surround their employment. The fireman is on duty all of the twenty-four hours seven days a week, with the privilege of one day off every two weeks, provided nobody is sick, but with orders to go to all fires in his district on his off day if he hears the alarm. It is true that he does not work all the time, but he must keep himself in readiness to answer calls all the time, so that he is practically employed all of the twenty-four hours. Senator Mason, in the Senate, and Representative Mudd, in the House, introduced bills last winter to reduce the firemen's duties to a twelve-hour shift, but they were still-born.

* * * *

The organization of the Chicago post-office employees into a union affiliated with the American Federation of Labor was effected to compel the execution of the laws, I am told, with regard to the hours of employment, which had been violated so greatly as to call for some remedy. But for whatever reason these American citizens saw fit to form an organization, it is their right to do so, and a right which no one can take away.

* * * *

It was a business-like and straight-forward indorsement of Waudby for Commissioner of Labor that the Horse Goods men sent in:

Mr. President: We, the General Executive Council of the International Brotherhood of Leather Workers on Horse Goods, in session assembled this day at Kansas City, Mo., do hereby respectfully request the appointment of William S. Waudby to the office of United States Commissioner of Labor upon the retirement of Hon. Carroll D. Wright. Mr. William S. Waudby's long connection with the Department of Labor, his faithful service and sterling qualities, make him a candidate par excellence for the office of Commissioner of Labor, and his appointment is earnestly solicited.

* * * *

George P. Sullivan, the trades union mayor of Derby, Conn., has been giving the enemy great consolation by denouncing the walking delegate, which forces my mind to one of three conclusions—(1) that the walking delegate is all that his enemies have painted him, instead of being simply the servant of his union, obeying its orders; (2) that Sullivan has been captured early; or (3) that "the little boy lied"—that is, that "Sully" never said anything of the sort.

* * * *

As the outcome of the Richmond (Va.) street railroad strike, a line of automobiles is to be established to compete with the railroad. As the result of the Charleston (W. Va.) street railroad strike the entire population are boycotting the road and the cars are running empty. The facts show where the sympathies of the people are.

* * * *

The New York Mail and Express weeps over the $3,000,000 a week in wages lost in the building trades strike in that city. If the workingmen lost that amount, their employers lost at least three times that much. If it be said that the employer did not lose, but was only delayed in making money, the same may be said of the workman. If the contractors' profits are still waiting for him, so are the workmen's wages. It is probable that the bosses' losses amount to ten times as much as the amount at issue. If so, how much wiser they would have been had they yielded in the first place!

* * * *

Mr. George B. Cortelyou, Secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor, takes great interest in the formation of a local arbitration board and has consented to act as arbitrator. There are great possibilities in arbitration with people who are fair enough to realize that they have something to arbitrate.

* * * *

Charlie Otis handed me a copy of The Big Horn County Rustler, of Basin, Wyo., the other day, saying that it is the paper with which A. W. Sefton, jr., is now connected. It is a well-printed, well-fed, neat-looking long-primer country paper, published in the cattle district, judging from the name and the advertisements of stock brands.

* * * *

There will be a meeting of the Ex-Delegates' Association next Sunday, at 3 o'clock, at Typographical Temple—probably the last before the convention meets—and it is desirable that all should be present. Some of the financial officers of the association have requested me to call the attention of those who have not made all their payments to the fact that it is very necessary that they should do so at once. This is not a dun, but merely a hint.

* * * *

A newspaper was received at the office the other day containing the announcement of the death of Benjamin Drew, a proofreader in the G. P. O. in the '80's, at Plymouth, Mass., his birthplace, and where he has resided for the past fifteen years. Mr. Drew was in his ninety-second year. He spent a number of years of his life as an educator, being at one time principal of the public schools at St. Paul, Minn., and was a cyclopedia of knowledge of the art of printing. His book, "Pens and Types," is an authority and is to be found in all reference libraries. I may have more to say of him hereafter.

* * * *

George A. Somarindyck, superintendent of the mechanical department of the Syracuse (N. Y.) Post-Standard, spent a few hours in the city last Saturday, being in attendance on the Elks' fest at Baltimore and especially in charge of a train load of lager beer—a beverage much used in the ceremonials of the order. Somarindyck spent several years in this city as an employee of the Government Printing Office and was for a time connected with the Times during its struggling early history. He has read proof on nearly all of the New York newspapers and toured most of the weird and wicked West years ago. He is comfortably located in Syracuse, which he says is becoming a great manufac turing city, and he promises to be with us during the convention. Somarindyck, George A. Calvert, and Clarence Adams are all who are left of the "Washington colony" which accompanied Mr. Palmer when he established the Syracuse Post, nine years ago, one of the number, Arthur E. Grinnell, having died of consumption about a year ago.

Inquiring of Somarindyck as to sundry gentlemen who were in Syracuse when I went there with Billy Wilkinson, thirty-three years ago, none of them seem to be in harness. There were Ed (foreman) and Pat Hall, Bob Southard, Johnny Costello, Ed and Charlie Jeudevine, Bob Cornell, Pat Cahill, Jake Goldstein, and Aaron Levy whom I remember well, all on the Courier, which is as dead as its former working force. Strange that a little matter like thirty-three years should be productive of such great changes.

* * * *

Lewis Petrie, who passed away peacefully and painlessly from paralysis last Saturday morning, was one of the most interesting men in the Government Printing Office to those who had the pleasure of knowing him intimately, which perhaps but few did. A Scotchman by birth, he had acquired his trade in the thorough manner in which it is taught in the British Isles, or was when Mr. Petrie learned it, more than half a century ago—for he was well into his seventies—and he was nearly always kept employed on complicated mathematical work. His one recreation was fishing, as to which he was an authority and in which he was an adept.

* * * *

My fellow-poet, O. S. Webster, had a pretty little thing in last Sunday's Post about a seed that grew to be a vine, in which two little birds built a nest, being assisted in their vocal efforts by neighboring birds, and intimating that every evening he loafs in the bower made by the vine for an hour, probably smoking a black pipe that would chase a yellow dog out of a tanyard, but which is a more healthful and restful occupation than getting full of "sots and slops," as "Jos" Allison used to designate the commoner articles of commerce in wet goods emporiums.

* * * *

A letter reached me from Mike Walton, of Scranton, the other day, in which he states that he will not be able to be with us during the convention because—oh, what a "because"—the Washington Base Ball Club is scheduled to play somewhere else during that week, and a vacation to him without base ball is unendurable. Imagine a man pining to see our dopey club burlesquing base ball! But he falls down when he imagines that my information regarding transactions in Scranton which I have depicted, "all of which I saw and part of which I was," along about 1874, came from Bob Hale, who he says will tell the truth if he knows it, but who had not then gone at the printing business; but he admits the correctness of my reports, as do all witnesses of matters which I undertake to describe. Well, we'll have Jy Ross, if we can't have Mike. But I wanted both.

* * * *

I received a communication a few days ago from Joe D. Miller, of Mechanicsburg, Pa., an old-timer, expressing his interest in my "reminiscences" and promising his aid in working up more of them. Among the old stagers of the G. P. O. there are probably a number who knew Mr. Miller in the days when they too were hunting hand-outs and jumping the blind baggage, but I never had the pleasure of meeting him.

* * * *

A letter from H. Herbert Steele, of Albany, N. Y., informs me that David Shaw, whose death was announced in THE TRADES UNIONIST last week, committed suicide on the night of July 14 by taking chloroform. Saturating a sponge and binding it tightly to his nostrils with a towel, he laid down and awaited death. Mr. Shaw was a man of the best habits, neither drinking nor using tobacco, but was an inveterate stock speculator, and it was disappointment and disaster in stock deals that led him to commit the deed. He worked in the G. P. O. for several years, coming here from Caldwell, Ohio, where he retained his membership as a Mason and an Odd Fellow. He went to Albany from New York in 1895, not long after leaving here. He had no relatives in Albany except a sister, Miss Bertha Shaw, with whom he lived. The Masons of Albany held a service over the remains, which was attended by the members of the office in which he was employed, and the body was taken to Ohio for interment.

* * * *

Friend Goodkey himself moved that his proposition to appropriate $5,000 to endow a bed in Garfield Hospital go over for a month at last Sunday's Union meeting. A month is no time at all to lay over such a hot propositian. A year would have been little enough. With a $5,000 bed at Garfield we could provide for just one sick member at a time—I believe it is proposed to pay this $5,000 at the rate of $300 a month—while at an outlay of never more than $100 a month we have taken care of several at the same time. I'm agin it.

A. F. BLOOMER.

The Laws Committee.

President Lynch, of the I. T. U., will announce the following delegates-elect to the next convention as members of the Laws Committee: Max Hayes, of Cleveland; R. L. Thacker, of Grand Rapids; T. D. Fennessy, of Los Angeles; G. W. Morris, New York City, and Wm. Gilmour, of Montreal.

Death of Howard Pennock.

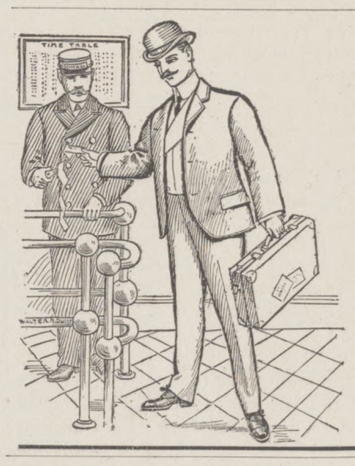
Howard Pennock, formerly a member of Columbia Topographical Union No. 101, died in Newark, N. J., July 10, of apoplexy. Mr. Pennock was a compositor in the Second Division, G. P. O., in 1897, leaving in 1898, when he received an appointment as superintendent of printing in the New York City post-office, and held that position until his death. He was buried at Urbana, Ohio, where the Union in that city attended the funeral in a body.

Progressive Bakers.

An object lesson in industry, perseverance, and square dealing is evidenced by the gigantic bread-baking industry of Dorsch Brothers, who, but a few years ago, began business baking but 15 loaves a day in an ordinary range, while to-day an output of 5,500 loaves is of daily occurrence. Of course such a quantity of bread can be turned out only with the assistance of the most improved machinery and the highest skilled workmen. A visit through the well-lighted, well-ventilated, and scrupulously clean workrooms, amid the high-tiered flour and sugar sacks, with the small army of well-paid and cheerful employees smiling upon you, is well worth the while. Mr. Peter Dorsch, the business manager, is such a thorough union man that he insists upon the union label's appearance on every loaf leaving the shop.

Actors' National Protective Union now has a membership of 5,000, an increase of more than 100 per cent during the past year.

FOR THE BEST--
READY-TO-WEAR
—FOR—
Man, Woman and Child
AT THE MOST REASONABLE PRICES,
CONSULT—
Parker, Bridget & Co.,
Washington's Leading Outfitters, ...
Pa. Ave. and 9th St. N. W.



Union Made Cigars
OF THE FINEST QUALITY.
Pluck 5¢ | OFFTE'S BOUQUET 10¢
AFTER DINNER 5¢ | DEER HEAD 10¢
Henry T. Offterdinger, Manufacturer
504 Ninth St., N.W.

Independent Oil Company
ONE OF WASHINGTON'S NEW INDUSTRIES
We own an interest in a large Refining Plant which enables us to keep in stock at all times large quantities of Oil and Gasoline and other Products of Petroleum. Lubricating Oils and Greases is our specialty. Give us a call.
Phone East 879-M
R. C. BAUGHMAN
MANAGER

ARLINGTON BREWING CO.
ROSSLYN, VA.
BEER ALE PORTER
The Finest Productions of Skilled Union Labor. Union Label on Every Bottle and Keg of Our Goods.

R. B. BUCKLEY
Merchant Tailoring
POPULAR PRICES
1343 F ST. N. W.

THE UNION STORE
On Easy Street in Thrifty Town
There lives a grocer of renown;
From dawn of day 'till six at night
His store presents a busy sight.
The reason's plain—the unions know,
His goods are clean, that makes them go—to
H. I. MARKET
READER'S MODERNIZED
535-37 EIGHTH ST. SOUTHEAST
TELEPHONE MAIN 908-A

In preparing for your vacation do not overlook the fact that one of our Blue Serge, Homespun, or Scotch Cheviot Sack Suits is indispensable if appearance and comfort is to be considered. We are showing a very large line of fabrics selected especially for outing purposes. Remember, we rank second to none in tailoring. Our garments have individuality and expression that stamps them as being "High-Grade." Get acquainted with our way of making clothes by ordering one of our Celebrated $25 Suits, made by Union Tailors.
Special sale of Trousers, $6.50 to Order.
T. E. Gilbert
IMPORTER AND TAILOR
818 F St. Northwest

DO YOU USE TOILET PAPER?
If so, investigate the service furnished by
R. P. Andrews & Co.,
INCORPORATED
627-629 LOUISIANA AVE. N. W.
THE WHOLESALE PAPER HOUSE
IT WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

PRINTERS and Union Members.—For First-Class Meals, Eat at
VICTOR CAFE, 3 H St. N. W.
ALBION, Eleventh and E Sts. N. W.
ERIN, Cor. N. J. Ave. and D St. N. W.
U. S. LUNCH ROOM, 320 12th St. N. W.
ALBERT T. SCANLAND, Prop.
Open Day and Night. Best Service.

Steam Cleaning and Dye Works
(Formerly New York Dye House)
I do the most perfect Cleaning and Dyeing at most reasonable rates. Goods called for and returned. C. W. MARGRAF, Proprietor
Telephone 3483 Main
907 9th St. N. W., and 631 D St. N. W.

Our Motto—Prompt and Polite Attention.
The Modern Dairy Lunch Room
CHAS. A. MOULDEN, Mgr.
409 TENTH STREET N. W.
Open day and night. Unsurpassed Coffee Our Specialty

"Everyone knows how to find fault." No one has yet found fault with the
RELIABLE
The Gas Range for Summer Use
Washington Gas Light Co.
GAS APPLIANCE EXCHANGE

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES
OF
Columbia Typographical Union,
No. 101.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, 423 G ST. N. W.
Office Hours: 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.; 5 to 7 P. M.

OFFICERS.

JOE M. JOHNSON.....President
DAN C. VAUGHAN.....Vice-President
WM. M. GARRETT.....Secretary
JOHN R. BERG.....Treasurer
FRANK BATES.....Sergeant-at-Arms
N. C. STOOPS.....Doorkeeper

TRUSTEES—J. E. Bright, chairman; W. L. Gutelius, Chas. C. Thompson, Joe M. Johnson, and Wm. M. Garrett.

DELEGATES TO CENTRAL LABOR UNION—J. H. Babcock, chairman; J. B. Dickman, Hugh Everett, Theodore Gerber, and C. E. Dietrich.

DELEGATES TO ALLIED TRADES COUNCIL—E. E. Calhoon, chairman; T. F. Hall, and J. P. Garner.

AUDITORS—C. W. Radley, chairman; H. G. Brown, and J. W. Carter.

COMMITTEES.

BUSINESS—Zach T. Jenkins, chairman; C. B. Yater, M. J. Maher, T. C. Parsons, and R. W. Burnside.

NOMINATIONS—W. N. Brockwell, chairman; F. A. Kidd, H. O'Donnell, Frank M. Hatley, and R. E. Stenner.

LAWS—Chas. H. Ennis, chairman; Raymond Gery, and Dexter S. Hussey.

FINANCE—John A. Huston, chairman; J. M. McLaughlin, and R. F. Chisholm.

PRINTING—T. A. Bynum, chairman; Milo Shanks, and Ed. J. Hall.

GRIEVANCE—Clint O. Price, chairman; Chas. S. Gunn, Philip Nachman, David J. Snyder, and E. Y. Fisher.

ENTERTAINMENT—T. L. Jones, chairman; J. R. Purvis, T. J. Fitzwilliam, Miss Nellie Theaker, Miss Anna Wilson, B. E. Harrison, and W. J. Harris.

CONFERENCE—J. L. Holland, chairman; D. J. Hegarty, and W. B. Shaw.

LIBRARY—Clyde J. Sheriff, chairman; A. E. Ogg, and Harry Essex.

RELIEF—Joseph G. Stelle, chairman; Wm. S. Schinnerer and E. P. Cummins.

EIGHT-HOUR—F. C. Roberts, chairman; F. B. Crown, F. D. Seiffert, Jeff Newlon, and S. H. Willey.

MEMORIAL SERVICE—S. J. Gompers, chairman; Philip S. Steele, J. E. Goodkey, J. B. Dickman, and C. B. Yater.

AMOS J. CUMMINGS MEMORIAL—J. T. Rowe, chairman; Charles T. Graff, and T. A. Bynum.

CHAIRMEN.

First Division—R. L. Mabrey.
Second Division—W. N. Goldstein.
Third Division—Burr Williams.
Fourth Division—Charles H. Gove.
Fifth Division—Charles E. Dietrich.
Sixth Division—E. M. Nevils.
Job Room—J. K. Davison.
Record Clerks' Division—H. G. Brown.
First Division, Night—Allen Cowles.
Night Proof Room—E. H. Thomas.
Specification Room—E. A. Hutchison.
Official Gazette—Jere Walsh.
Document Proof Room—Jas. R. Armstrong.
Treasury Division—W. Brice Coston.
Interior Division—C. K. Stribling.
State Division—J. B. Dickman.
Navy Department Division—Albert E. Ogg.
War Department Division—Wm. K. Miller.
Agricultural Division—Henry P. Slaughter.
Library Division—H. V. Bisbee.
Weather Bureau—L. H. Emmons.
Morning Post—H. J. Broderick
Evening Star—Joseph C. Whyte.
Evening Times—T. C. Parsons.
Law Reporter—J. R. Johnson.
Globe Printing Co.—R. A. Wilson.
Judd & Detweiler's—A. B. Barringer.
Wilkens Printing Co.—T. N. Surguy.
Pearson's—T. F. Monahan.
National Publishing Co.—E. C. Owen.
McGill & Wallace's—J. M. Watts.
Byron S. Adams'—R. B. Boucher.
Army and Navy Register—C. H. Draeger.
General Postoffice—Joseph Williams.
Sudwarth's—F. R. Adams.

AROUND THE PRINTERIES.

Ex-Delegates!

There will be a meeting of the Ex-Delegates' Association of Columbia Union, No. 101, at Typographical Temple, Sunday, July 26, 1903, at 3 o'clock p. m. All ex-delegates are cordially invited to be present.

WM. R. RAMSEY, President.
J. T. HERBERT, Secretary.

Down Town.

O. C. McCardell, of the Night Bill Force, G. P. O., left Thursday for New York City, where he will be stationed with the Weather Bureau Service.

Nate Newman, a member of Big Six and prominent in its affairs, being an employe of the New York Journal, passed through here last Tuesday en route to Asheville, N. C., where he was to take charge of the remains of a Mr. Nelson, who died there last Monday, after a prolonged illness.

THE TRADES UNIONIST has been favored with the Wiley tympan gauge square, manufactured by the Wiley Manufacturing Company, of this city, for regulating margins and securing register on job presses, which is worth many times a day its cost—25 cents—to any office doing job work. It is for sale by all type founders and dealers in printers' supplies.

Wm. P. Duffy, of the United States Pension Agency, Indianapolis, Ind., was a visitor in the city last week. Mr. Duffy was at one time secretary of Fort Wayne (Ind.) Typographical Union, and has pleasant memories of the days before the Merganthaler came into use. He was well known to the tourist printer of the late 70's and early 80's, and while not at the business actively, has a wide circle of acquaintances among the craft.

Hot Tamales and Chile at The Ranch, 507 F street n. w. Near Pension Office.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

First Division.

F. E. Chapin goes on leave to day.

R. C. Starr, jr., received his regular appointment last Monday.

David T. Lloyd and W. S. Evans were reinstated last Monday.

Frank M. Thompson will spend his leave on his farm at Falls Church, Va.

B. C. Wright intends to spend his leave at Tunnelton, W. Va., and among the Blue Ridge Mountains.

E. R. Sprague has brought his family on from Kansas, and the bowling alley will now suffer a severe loss.

Philip S. Steele leaves Thursday, accompanied by his wife, for Hampton, Va., Bethany Beach, and Arundel-on-the-Bay.

L. M. Devine has gone to Niagara Falls and Atlantic City, and on his return will spend a few days at Leesburg with the soldier boys.

The following were transferred to the Spess during the past week: R. H. Miller, D. R. Lyons, E. E. Coates, W. L. Mattox, and R. L. Davidson.

George P. Dowell has gone to Atlantic City, where he will spend his summer vacation. Before returning he will go to Boston, returning by boat.

Robert P. Piehoff, W. A. Mitchell, Bruce Bielaski, R. H. Mayers, Sergt. J. P. Garner, Sergt. Charles Groome, A. J. Campbell, and Charles F. Miller, our soldier boys, goes to camp to day for ten days at Leesburg, Va.

CLOTILDE.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Second Division.

W. D. Branham will spend his leave in Georgia.

J. M. Lenhart is on a fifteen days' sick leave. Daniel Hallock is now acting as postmaster.

Wednesday we were shocked when some of us were drafted to go to the Record to help on Spess.

W. D. Morgan and family will spend two weeks at Asbury Park for the benefit of his little son's health.

A member of this division acted as pallbearer at the funeral of Mr. Petrie, of the Fifth Division, who was buried Tuesday.

J. E. Goodkey has bought a lot at Ellaston Terrace, North Langdon, and is preparing to erect a house thereon immediately.

W. L. Wilmeth, W. J. Phillips, Frank R. McFadyen, and H. Newsom left Thursday to attend the National Guard encampment.

There is a well authenticated rumor that one of our trusties of great stature is to become a Benedict in the fall. We wish him unalloyed happiness.

Mr. C. F. Cooke, of North Carolina, received his permanent appointment last Wednesday. To-day he takes his leave to rest up from his late activity as a probationer. His wife will return with him.

Mr. Johnson missed an elegant opportunity of showing his appreciation of the fine vote this division gave him two years ago, when he lately ignored this room in the Convention Committee appointments.

It has been suggested that when the present administration made the Convention Committee appointments the Second Division was ignored because we had such an overwhelming majority of ability in the delegatorial representation.

E. J. Wood returned to work Tuesday after being on fifteen days' sick leave, part of which time he was in Ogdensburg, N. Y., at the bedside of his mother, who died last Sunday. Mr. Wood has the sincere sympathy of all the members of this division in his sad bereavement.

The Northeast Men's Club excursion to Chesapeake Beach Tuesday had a large delegation from this office. From this room went Messrs. T. Frank Hall (candidate for delegate next year), Elmer Dement (expert fisherman), R. A. Julian (the western plainsman and scout), W. F. Simons (one of the two wits of Alley 7), Tommy Travis (Beau Brummel of Alley 8), and W. J. Phillips (the official photographer of the occasion).

NEWS.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Fifth Division.

L. P. Kenney is at the copy desk.

George Boone is "in the swim" at Atlantic City.

F. M. Werneke received his regular appointment yesterday a week ago.

Charles S. Gunn is manipulating the proof press during the absence of C. E. Williams.

Balsey Sauter went to Baltimore last Wednesday to attend the grand lodge meeting of the Elks.

The sparkling brilliancy of Ed Connor's heirloom has affected the eyes of his neighbors at the case.

George Clark is having a logrolling time in Michigan, his old home, where he is spending a month's vacation.

Thomas Burns went to Michigan last week. Whether he will bring Clark home or return in his protection can not be determined beforehand.

George R. Boone, Ed Nash, Carl R. Tegethoff, George E. Clark, C. E. Williams, F. M. Werneke, George L. Schoeneman, and Thomas Burns are gentlemen of leisure for fifteen days or more.

W. A. Roberts, residing at Langdon, hurt his arm last Saturday morning while coming to the office. In throwing a paper out of the window his arm came in contact with a trolley pole, incapacitating him for work.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Tegethoff went to Niagara Falls last Friday for a few days, and on their turn will stop over in the mountains of West Virginia a week or more, where Carl expects to enjoy the solid comforts of absolute rest for a week before returning to work.

Louis Petrie, the oldest member of this division and chapel, died Saturday, July 18, at 2.30 in the morning from a stroke of paralysis which affected the throat. His sudden illness and death, for he was sick but five days, was a sad surprise to his many friends in the office. At a special meeting of the chapel last Saturday noon resolutions were passed, which appear elsewhere in these columns, and the chairman was instructed to send a floral emblem to the bereaved family as a token of sympathy from the chapel of which Mr. Petrie was so long a member. The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, and Charles E. Dietrich and W. H. Wright, of this division, were among the pallbearers.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted by the Fifth Division Chapel, G. P. O., at a regular meeting held on last Saturday:

WHEREAS, The oldest member of our chapel has been claimed by death and taken from his earthly abode to one of rest; therefore

Resolved, That in the death of our fellow-printer, Lewis Petrie, we have lost a faithful member, a devoted friend of unionism and of his fellow-men, a good counselor, and an honest advocate of truth and justice. We deplore his death.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the official organ of our Union, and that a copy be transmitted to the family of the deceased.

W. H. WRIGHT.
D. S. WALTON.
J. W. SHERMAN.
RAN.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Bindery Notes.

George J. Arnold is now on a visit to his old home in dear old England.

Joe Glenn is at the seaside, and will have a few fish yarns on his return.

It is reported that Lewis Hart contemplates a trip to Europe next year.

Louis W. Stolp headed a delegation of bookbinders, who visited the Elks convention at Baltimore this week.

Adam Sommers now visits a lady at the German Legation. He must have dazzled her with his diamond cluster.

Charlie Ecker and Philip Deakins talk baseball all day, but never see a pay game. The boys on the lot are good enough for them.

On the return of Major B. Collins from his wedding tour a pleasant surprise awaited him. His place in the office was tastefully decorated, and he felt highly honored.

Dr. D. H. Binkert cools off every Sunday in the Picturesque Blue Ridge Mountains, and week days plugs teeth and finishes books. They say he is pretty good at both.

Mrs. V. B. Brown, who furnished aprons for the bookbinders, has opened Roosevelt Cottage, Ocean avenue, second house from the beach, Atlantic City. She would be pleased to have your patronage.

Our musical artist, King of the West and the wonder of the G. P. O., is greatly swelled up since he received a letter from Covington, Ky., addressed Mr. Ben Spellbring, Public Printer, Washington, D. C.

The All Americans and Swedes, of the blank book department, played a game of baseball last Saturday afternoon at Ruppert's farm, which resulted in a tie by playing ten innings, the score being 12 to 12. The umpire, who was not an expert at the business, gave some very rank decisions, and seemed to favor the Swedes, with the assistance of Charles Eckert in the left field. His voice could be heard for miles around. The features of the game were a double play made by Ryberg. Kukart made a home run, which brought in four runs, and it took the whole nine of the Swedes to find the ball. As usual, Bill Reese was doing all the kicking. The surprise of the day was Andy Bergerson fanning out the wonderful Dan Chute three successive times. Come and see the game next Saturday.

Hot Tamales and Chile at The Ranch, 507 F street n. w. Near Pension Office.

In a New Field.

Mr. A. J. E. Hubbard, of THE TRADES UNIONIST, now sojourning in Colorado for his health, has taken charge of the Labor News, of Colorado Springs, Colo. With the experience Mr. Hubbard has had in the conduct of this paper he will bring to his new charge methods that will prove advantageous to the paper and the unions that support it. We wish him success in his new venture.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

New York has the largest apartment house in the world in the Ansonia. It is seventeen stories high, and has sixteen elevators, 1,800 people can live in it, and the building alone cost $4,000,000.

The "Man's Store."

Our Midsummer Trade-Making Sale

High-Grade Suits Honestly Reduced
The One Sale of the Year

Suits worth $10.....$7.75
Suits worth up to $15.....$9.75
Suits worth up to $18.....$13.75
Suits worth up to $22.50.....$16.75
Suits worth $25.....$19.75

D. J. KAUFMAN, 1005-7 Pa. Ave.

The Savings possible at

S. Kann, Sons & Co.
8th St.—THE BUSY CORNER—Pa. Ave.

are such as may be counted in the pocket. At the same time styles and qualities are unexcelled.

Manhattan Table Lunch, 12 to 1, 10c

ED. E. WALSH
All leading brands of
Whiskies, Wines and Cigars
309 G STREET NORTHWEST
Clark's Maryland Rye and Heurich's Beers a Specialty

Why was it that the Tribe of Ben Hur stood third in amount of insurance written in competition with the fifty largest fraternal orders? Write for the no-assessment plan

HENRY E. CROUCH, Deputy, 424 Fourth St. N. E.
ALBERT P. E. DOYLE, Scribe, 21 O St. N. E.

Dorsch Bros.' Bread
Bears the Union Label

Insist on Dorsch Bros.' Bread because—first, it carries the Badge of Labor; second, there is None Better; and third, it is sold at a workingman's price—Four Cents.

SOLD EVERYWHERE AT
4c THE LOAF 4c

Woodward & Lothrop,
DEPARTMENT STORE.
TENTH, ELEVENTH, AND F STS. N. W.

WHERE THE HALF-TONES ARE MADE
THE NATIONAL ENGRAVING COMPANY.
INCORPORATED.
14th St. and Pa. Ave. Phone 1679 Main.

Floor Coverings Exclusively
We sell nothing but high-grade floor coverings—goods of a kind and quality that this house has been famed for for two generations and more.
Carpets and Rugs cleaned and stored
Giddings & Steele, 813 Pa. Avenue

J. E. BONINI'S
BUFFET AND CAFE,
727-729 N. Capitol Street.
MAERZEN BEER ON TAP.
A first-class Lunch Counter. Sea food in season. Union throughout.

T. HOLLANDER
Men's Furnishings
Hats and Shoes
COR. N. CAPITOL AND H STS.
Opposite Government Printing Office

Cole & Swan
Large assortment of Watches, Diamonds, and Jewelry (we make and repair anything in this line).
"Square Dealing" our motto.
21 H Street N. W.

CARL E. WILSON
Late Palmer House Barber Shop, Chicago, Ill.
White Union Barbers | 315 G ST. N. W. | Cooled by Electric Fans
H. A. POLEN
Late Manila, Philippine Islands

Indian Head Trips | Marshall Hall

STR. CHARLES MACALESTER
EVERY THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY AT 6.30 P. M.
Appointments first-class. All amusements.
MARSHALL HALL:
Daily at 10 a. m., 2.30 and 6.30 p. m.
Sundays, 11 a. m., 2.30 and 6.30 p. m.
Fare (Round Trip), 25 Cents.
FOR MOUNT VERNON,
(Home and Tomb of Washington). Daily, 10 a. m. and 2.30 p. m. (Sundays excepted).

THE RIGGS NATIONAL BANK
Of Washington, D. C.
Capital - - - $1,000,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits, 1,000,000
Exchange on England, Ireland, France and Germany. Letters of credit available in all foreign parts. Bank Collections. Orders for investments. Stocks and Bonds.

J. GEORGE SMITH
(Formerly a member of the firm of R. P. Andrews & Co.)
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
PAPER AND STATIONERY
My old friends and patrons from J. C. Addison's time to the present will be welcome. I can supply all your needs at lowest prices consistent with quality.
626 E STREET NORTHWEST

SAMUEL C. PALMER
Manufacturer of
Soda and Mineral Waters
IN FOUNTS, SYPHONS AND BOTTLES
SODA WATER SYRUPS
OF ALL FLAVORS
Phone West 190
Depot, 1066-8 32d Street N. W.

Melville Club
Old Rye Whiskey
It's Pure and Fine. $1 Full Quart
"Driver's Rye Cordial" cures coughs and colds, composed of old rye whisky and pure rock candy, $1 per bottle. Driver's Favorites, the best 5c. cigar obtainable. Union hand-made cigars a specialty. At the bar try Driver's Famous Cocktails. Melville Club Whisky at the bar, 10c.
Geo. W. Driver
605 PENNA. AVE.

THOMAS WALSH
Formerly "Steve" Caldwell's.
Whiskies and Cigars
Specialties: MELVALE AND SHERWOOD
COOL LAGER BEER ON DRAUGHT.
BILLIARDS AND POOL
Billiards, 40c. per hour. Pool, 2½c. per cue.
THOMAS WALSH
407 Tenth St. Northwest

E. F. PRICE & CO.
Strongest flat opening blank book made.
Ruling and Binding of every description.
A Specialty of FINE BANK WORK.
BOOKBINDERS 1108 E St. N. W.

G. P. O. BICYCLE REPAIR CO.
ARTHUR D. BENNETT
MANAGER
Wheels stored, cleaned, and repaired (per month)..... $1.00
Wheels stored and cleaned (per month)..... .75
Wheels stored (per month)..... .50
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty
Bicycle Sundries
Salesroom, 33 H St. N. W.

300 1-lb. Loaves to the Barrel.
Every Laboring Man
—requires pure, wholesome, nourishing food such as is made of—
Cream Blend Flour
It not only makes THE BEST Bread, Rolls, Cake and Pastry, but more of them than other brands—therefore it's the cheapest that money can buy.
Your Grocer will supply you.
B. B. EARNSHAW & BRO., Wholesalers,
1105, 1107, 1109 11th Street S. E.
1000 and 1002 M Street S. E.

M. S. JOHNSON
Merchant Tailor
UNION EMPLOYER
1435 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest

D. STRAUSS,
Clothier, Hatter and Furnisher
441 Seventh Street N. W.,
Washington, D. C.

A Union House Patronized by Union Printers You Will Meet The Craft Here.
HAIGHT'S
HOTEL AND RESTAURANT
1008-10-12 E Street Northwest
One block from Columbia Theater
Rooms Newly Furnished For Men Only

HOTEL FRITZ REUTER
Rathskeller
and
Restaurant.
COR. PA. AVE. AND JOHN MARSHALL PLACE
Phone: East 388.

Ebbitt House
Washington, D. C. H. C. BURCH, Mgr.
HEADQUARTERS
International Typographical Convention

Telephone 3662-Y
AMREIN'S
FAMOUS ICE CREAM
HAS NO EQUAL
Stores, 1426 and 1810 7th St. N. W.

Equitable Industrial Insurance
COMPANY
Life Insurance for Industrial Classes
Claims paid to date, $221,187.00
WM. A. BENNETT, General Superintendent
605 F STREET NORTHWEST

B. F. WARNER
FINE WINES and LIQUORS
BLUE LABEL CIGARS
1219 E Street Northwest

FOR LUNCH
TRY THE
Pure Dairy Lunch
935 D Street Northwest

American Ice Co.
1437 Penna. Ave. N. W.

THE UNION
SAVINGS BANK
BOND BUILDING
Cor. 14th St. and New York Ave. N.W.

Three Per Cent Interest
on Savings Accounts.

anch Deposit Agency at
T. A. ROVER'S STORE,
Cor. North Capitol and H Sts.
OPEN EVERY MONDAY AND TUESDAY
FROM 4 TO 5 P. M.

When in doubt buy at
HOUSE & HERRMANN,
FURNITURE, CARPETS, DRAPERIES, ETC.
N. E. Corner Seventh and I Streets N. W.

Don't Buy a Hat
Without the Label. .
And See that It Is Sewed In.

Don't Patronize a Dealer Who Has Loose Labels on Hand and Offers to Put One in Your Hat.
LOOSE LABELS
In Retail Stores
ARE COUNTERFEITS.
The John B. Stetson Co., of Philadelphia, Pa., is a non-union concern.

EDWIN F. PRICE
(Late member of the firm of E. F. Price & Co.)
Bookbinder
Ruling and Binding of every description. Strongest Flat-Opening Blank Book Made. A Specialty of Fine Bank Work.
Darby Bldg., 506-508 Fourteenth St. N. W.

St. Asaph Commission Rooms,
Old Established and Reliable.
Trains leave Thirteen and one-half street and Pennsylvania avenue—Alexandria, Mt. Vernon, and Washington Railway—daily at 12.45, 1.05, 1.25, 2, 2.30, 3.02, and 3.30. Return .39, 4.24, 5.02, 5.58, and at various intervals.

The Hub Furniture Co.,
The Stores that Save You Money.
OUR MOTTO—The Best Values in Furniture and Carpets at the Lowest Prices.
Cash or Credit.
HUB FURNITURE CO.,
(Formerly Wash B. Williams)
Corner Seventh and D Streets N. W.

CELTIC CLUB WHISKY
Our Specialty. Never Changes. Once Tried You'll Always Use It. Take No Substitute.
Ports and Sherries for family use, Quarts, 50 and 75 cents. All makes of Beer. Leading brands of Cigars. Ales and Porters on draught the year round.
JOHN CONNOR
New Jersey Ave. and G Sts. N. W.

J. WILLIAM LEE,
Undertaker and Livery, . . .
322 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

HECHT & CO.,
515 and 517 Seventh street N. W.
ARE UNFAIR
TO
Organized Labor.
Retail Clerks, No. 262.

Yale Laundry
DECLARED UNFAIR
BY THE R. A. LANIS ASSOCIATION
The "Yale Steam Laundry" prefers "scabs" to do their steam fitting. Where do you and your friends have your washing done? Help the Union Steam Fitters by refusing your patronage to the Yale Laundry.
R. A. LANIS ASS'N OF STEAM FITTERS
March 10, 1903. L. B. No. 10, N A

CHESAPEAKE BEACH
Only Salt Water Resort Near Washington
MAMMOTH BOARD WALK
LINED WITH AMUSEMENTS
Finest Salt-water Bathing, Fishing, Crabbing, Sailing, Dancing.
HALEY'S BAND
See Schedule under Railroad Time Tables in all Daily Papers.

Union Directory.

TO SECRETARIES: Please notify this office of any change in officers' addresses, time or place of meeting. Corrections will be made quarterly.

American Federation of Labor—Headquarters, Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Sam'l Gompers, President. Frank Morrison, Secretary.

Allied Printing Trades Council meets last Thursday in the month at Typographical Temple. J. A. Wiedman, Secretary-Treasurer, 15 I street northeast.

Allied Label League meets every Friday night at 8 o'clock at 905 E street northwest. C. A. Pfau Secretary, 905 E street northwest.

Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, Local No. 148, meets second and fourth Thursday evenings at 922 Pa. avenue northwest. Geo. Bakersmith, Secretary, 3315 Brightwood avenue northwest.

Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, Local Union No. 102, meets first and third Wednesdays at Loehl's Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. Wm. H. Whiting, Secretary, 639 K street southwest.

American Society Plate Engravers meets first Saturday in each month at Grand Army Hall. A. C. Ruebsam, Secretary, Bethesda, Montgomery County, Md.

Bakers Union, No. 118, meets first and third Saturday in each month at 430 Eighth street northwest. John G. Schmidt, Secretary and Business Agent, 333 I street s w.

Bakers' Drivers' L. U. No. 33, T. D. I. U. meets first and third Thursday evening of each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Thomas C. Fox, Secretary, 922 Fourth street northeast.

Bartenders' League Local No. 75, meets first and fourth Sunday of each month at 2 p. m. at Macabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. Jere F. McCarthy, Secretary, 1017 Maryland avenue southwest.

Beer Drivers' and Stablemen's Union, No. 234, meets first Sunday of each month at 314 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. A. D. Manger, Secretary, 209 Sixth street southwest.

Bookbinders' Union, No. 4, meets first Tuesday in each month at Typograhical Temple. James A. Stockman, Secretary, 735 North Capitol street.

Brewery Workers' Union, No. 118, meets second and last Sunday of the month at 314 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. Frank Rom, Secretary, 818 New Hampshire avenue n. w.

Bricklayers' Union, No. 1, meets second and fourth Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Milford Spohn, Secretary, Typographical Temple.

Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators, and Paperhangers, Local Union, No. 368, meets every Friday night at 430 Eighth street northwest. G. J. Murray, Secretary, 1107 South Carolina avenue southeast.

Cab and Carriage Drivers' Union, No. 486, meets first and third Sundays, at Butler's Hall, 609 C street northwest. W. B. Nelson, Secretary, 922 I street northwest.

Carriage and Wagon Workers' International Union, Local No. 72, of Washington, D. C., meets first and third Fridays at 902 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. John H. Brinkman, Secretary, 1729 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Carpet Upholsterers, No. 85, U. L. U., meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at 516 Ninth street northwest. John Devlin, Secretary, 363 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

Central Labor Union meets every Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Typographical Temple. Charles W. Winslow, Secretary, 425 G street northwest. Residence, 3206 Wisconsin avenue northwest.

Ceramic, Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers and Helpers' International Union, No. 2, meets first and third Thursdays at 609 C street northwest. W. F. Miller, Secretary, 1228 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Cigarmakers' Local Union, No. 110, meets every Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Bielig's Hall, 737 Seventh street northwest. Henry B. Wissner, Secretary, 3143 Dumbarton avenue.

Columbia Lodge, No. 174, International Association of Machinists, meets every Wednesday night at McCauley's Hall, 209 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. E. L. Adams, Secretary, 600 Ninth street northeast.

Columbia Typographical Union meets third Sunday in each month in Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. W. M. Garrett, Secretary.

Council Allied Building Trades of Central Labor Union meets every Tuesday night at Room 10, Typographical Temple. E. J. Ratigan, Secretary.

Douglass Association of Steam Engineers, I. S. U. E., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of the month at 609 F street northwest. J. W. Webb, Secretary, 341 Maryland avenue southwest.

Electrotype Molders and Finishers' Union, No. 17, I. S. and E. U. Charles W. Dean, Secretary.

Federal Labor Union No. 8193, meets fourth Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Miss Emma A. Miller, Secretary, 1011 First street n. w.

Fire Department Employees P. and B. Union No. 8846, meets every Wednesday morning at 11 a. m., at Union Veterans' Hall, 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. G. Achstetter, Secretary, 206 N. Y. ave. northwest.

Gas Workers' Union No. 10343, Samuel H. Walker, Secretary, 735 Thirteenth street s. e.

Glass Bottle Blowers' Association, Branch 68, Alexandria, Va., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Serepta Hall. Frank Michelbach, Secretary, 803 King street, Alexandria, Va.

Hospital Attendants' Protective Union No. 8097, meets first and fourth Saturday nights of each month at Masonic Hall, Anacostia, D. C. C. W. Teates, Secretary, 434 Jackson street, Anacostia, D. C.

Hodcarriers, Brick and Mortar Wheelers' Union No. 9468, meets first and third Monday evenings in each month at Cadets' Armory, 708 O street northwest. Dennis Brown, Secretary, 1237 Fourth street northwest.

Ice Wagon Drivers and Helpers, Local No. 430, meets first and third Tuesdays in each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest (third floor). William Donaldson, Secretary, 812 Seventh street southwest.

International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, Local Union No. 5, meets every Friday night at Seventh and N streets northwest. Charles E. Barbour, Secretary, 1212 Potomac street northwest.

International Association of Machinists, Headquarters, rooms 82-85 Corcoran Building Fifteenth and F streets northwest. James O'Connell, president; D. Douglass Wilson, vice-president and editor of the Journal; George Preston, Secretary-Treasurer.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.—Headquarters, Rooms 103-104 Corcoran Building. H. W. Sherman, Secretary.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 26, meets every Thursday night at Hotel Royal Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. S. F. Adams, Secretary, 724 Eighteenth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 148, meet every Monday night at 430 Eighth street northwest. H. B. Anderson, Secretary, 807 Eighth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, No. 257, meets every Friday evening at 719 Sixth street n. w. M. G. Bundick, Secretary, 1107 Tenth street n. w.

Interior Marble and Slate Cutters' and Setters' Association, No. 5, meets first and third Wednesday of each month at Arion Hall, 430 Eighth street northwest. George Edmonds, Secretary, 423 Queen street, Alexandria Va.

International Association of Marble Workers No. 33, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at 106 I street northwest. Lew Davis, Secretary, 106 I street northwest.

International Union of Steam Engineers—Local Union No. 99, meets every Wednesday evening at 419 Tenth street northwest. A. W. Leeke, Recording Secretary, Twelfth and B streets northwest.

International Brotherhood of Firemen, Local No. 63, meets every Tuesday night at J. F. Beare's Hall, 404 Eighth street northwest. Louis S. Crown, Secretary. 637 K street northeast.

International Alliance Stage Employees, Local No. 22, meets first and third Sundays of every month at 625 Louisiana avenue northwest. J. Shilling, Secretary, 1208 Bladensburg Road.

Iron Molders' Union, Local No. 215, meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at Masonic Hall, Fourth street and Pennsylvania avenue southeast. Joseph Stewart, Secretary, 3413 N street northwest.

I. U. S. E., Hoisting and Portable, Local 77, meets every Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, Heare's Hall. 404 Eighth street northwest. W. H. Radcliffe, Secretary, 812 Four-and-a-Half street southwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 239, meets first and third Wednesdays in each month at 737 Seventh st. northwest. Theo. A. Leckert, Secretary, 1210 Florida avenue northwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 305, meets first and third Monday evenings at 503 G street northwest (barber shop). Charles A. Thomas, Secretary, 817 E street northwest.

Journeymen Horseshoers' Union, No. 17, meets first and third Wednesday of each month at Costello's Hall, Sixth and G streets northwest. W. S. Lusby, Secretary, 708 Eighth street southwest.

Journeyman Tailors of America, No. 188, meets first and third Saturdays of each month at 8 o'clock p m., Labor Bureau Hall. Ignatius Geraci, Secretary, 917½ E street northwest.

Journeyman Plumbers and Gas Fitters' Local Union, No. 5, meets second and fourth Tuesday evening of each month at Maccabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. A. E. Anderson, Secretary, 1312 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Journeymen Stone and Marble Cutters' Union, meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Irondall Hall. Harry Bouche, Secretary, 72 H street northeast.

Laundry Wagon Drivers No. 467, W. W. Foster, Secretary, 95 Myrtle street northwest

Mail Bag Workers' Union, 10504, meets every Saturday at 721 Sixth street northwest Miss A. Cross, Secretary, 321 Lincoln street, Anacostia, D. C.

Marble Mosaic and Granito Workers No. 8902, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at 1400 D street northwest. G. B. Cinotti, secretary.

Metal Trades Federation of North America, Room 134 Corcoran Bldg., James O'Connell, President. E. J. Lynch, Secretary.

Milk Wagon Drivers' Union, No. 349, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at 8 p. m., at Hotel Royal (second floor), Seventh and N streets northwest. W. T. Trittipoe, 1359 U street northwest.

Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers' Helpers, Local Union, No. 12, meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Arion Hall, 430 Eighth street northwest. S. Becket, Secretary, 401 E Street southeast.

Musicians' Protective Union, No. 161. meets first and third Sundays at 2 p. m., at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Linden, Jr., Secretary, 1364 E street southeast.

National Alliance Theatrical Stage Employes meets first and third Sunday in each month at southwest corner of Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, third floor. J. P. Shilling, Secretary, 1208 Bladensburg Road.

Negative Cutters Union, meets second Wednesday in each month at 921 F street northwest. Clarence W. Schroeder, Secretary, 640 E street southeast.

Oil Wagon Drivers, No. 296, meets second Wednesday of each month at Oppenheimer's Hall, 514 Ninth street northwest. A. J. Dixon, Secretary, 1234 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Operative Stonemasons' Union, No. 2, meets first and third Monday evenings at 609 C street northwest. James Lanigan, Secretary, 930 G street southwest.

Paperhangers' Local Union No. 420, B. of P., D., and P., meets every Wednesday evening, 625 Louisiana avenue, n. w. J. Franklin Page, Secretary.

Pattern Makers' League meets at Weller's Hall, Eighth and I streets southeast. first and third Wednesday. James B. McAlwee, Secretary, 907 E street southeast.

Photo-Engravers' Union, No. 17, meets first Monday in each month at 417 Eleventh street northwest. F. C. Betts, Secretary, Kensington, Md.

Printing Pressmen Union, No. 1, meets first Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. W. C. Deane, Secretary. 19 Grant Place.

Plate Printers Union, No. 2, meets at Maccabee Temple, Ninth street n. w., the fourth Tuesday in each month. J. P. Murphy, Secretary, 1416 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

Post-Office Clerks, No. 9834, meets the second Saturday of each month at Twelfth and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. B. Corridon, Secretary, 1733 North Capitol street.

Registered Drug Clerks' Union, District of Columbia, meets second and fourth Fridays at Jolly Fat Men's Hall, 933 D street northwest. Fred T. Hafelfinger, Secretary, 1110 Fourteenth street northwest.

Retail Clerks' Union, No. 262, meets second and fourth Mondays of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Joseph Moser, Recording Secretary, 624 I street northwest.

Retail Grocery Clerks' Union, No. 533, meets every Thursday evening at Society Temple, 5th and G streets N. W. Alfred Fuss, Secretary, 802 D street s. e.

Slate and Tile Roofers' Union, No. 10421, meets every Monday night at 922 F street northwest. J. C. Huddleson, Secretary, 2147 Pennsylvania avenue northwest,

Soda and Mineral Water Wagon Drivers, No. 372, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at Bessler's Hall, 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. P. Connor, Secretary, 1111 Sixth street southwest.

Steam Fitters, R. A. Lanis Association, L. B. No. 10, N. A., meets every Thursday night at 902 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. S. D. Zea, Secretary, 2108 G street northwest.

Steam and Hot Water Fitters' Helpers, Local Branch, No. 28, N. A., meets every Friday at 8 o'clock p. m., at 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Thomas F. Flanagan, Secretary, 38 G street northeast.

Stereotypers' Union. No. 19, of Washington D. C., meets second Monday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. D. J. Murray, Secretary, 35 R street northwest.

Stone Laborers' Union, No. 9013, meets first and third Friday of each month at Eleventh and Q streets northwest. Daniel Lahey, Secretary, 1003 A street southeast.

Telephone Operators, No. 9914, meets third Saturday of each month at Schmidt's Hall. 516 Ninth street northwest Edna Earl Bobb, Secretary, 924 Pennsylvania avenue southeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, Local Union No. 190, meet every Friday evening at the Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. C. H. Scherer, Secretary, 936 Fourth street northeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 884, meets every Monday night at 904 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Torney, Secretary, 141 Jefferson street, Anacostia, D. C.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 1103, Mill and Bench Hands, meets every Friday at 8 p. m., at 514 Ninth street northwest. Peyton Wilkerson, Secretary, 816 G street southeast.

United Brotherhood of Leather Workers on Horse Goods, No. 87, meets every second and fourth Tuesday, 513 Twelfth street northwest. H. J. Laubach, Secretary, 72 H street northeast.

Upholsterers' Local Union, No. 58, meets second and fourth Thursdays of each month at 416 (fourth floor) Ninth street northwest. T. R. Bowie, Secretary, 1306 Riggs street northwest.

Washington Branch, Granite Cutters' National Union, meets every second and fourth Mondays in each month at 1204 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Wm. Silver, Secretary, 49 Massachusetts avenue northwest.

Washington Feeders and Assistants' Union, No. 42, meets the first Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street n. w. D. I. Leane, Secretary, 702 H street northeast.

Washington Lodge of Machinists, No. 193, meets every Thursday night at southwest corner of Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. Herbert Wyatt, Secretary, 111 Seventh street southeast.

Wood, Wire, and Metal Lathers' Local Union, No. 9, meets every Monday night at Hare's Hall, Eighth and D streets northwest. J. C. Maloney, Secretary, 124 G street n. w.

OTIS IS THEIR GOD.

Employers' Association of Los Angeles Preparing a "Testimonial."

[Special Correspondence.]

LOS ANGELES, CAL., July 15, 1903.

The assertion has often been made that the man who works hardest for unionism is the man who is "knocked" hardest by those whom he is seeking to benefit. Whether this is true will not be discussed in this letter. But it is true that the employers of labor do not do business in this manner. Right here in Los Angeles at this very moment every labor tyrant is attaching his signature to a "testimonial of esteem" to be presented to H. G. Otis, editor of the Los Angeles Times, for the outrageous manner in which he slanders organized labor. The presentation will be made in the name of the Employers' Association. No doubt this "slight token of appreciation" will meet the hearty approval of Parry and Baer.

Union men and women everywhere can help their fellow-unionists on the Pacific Coast by writing one letter to each of the following advertisers in the notorious Los Angeles Times, asking that they no longer patronize that enemy of working people:

Munyon, H. H.—Remedy Company, 53rd and Jefferson street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Royal Baking Powder Company, 100 Williams street, New York, N. Y.

Philo-Hay Specialties Company—Newark, N. J.

Castoria—The Centaur Company, 77 Murray street, New York, N. Y.

Cuticura—Potter Drug and Chemical Company, Boston, Mass.

Postum—Postum Cereal Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

Scott's Emulsion—Scott & Bowne, 409 Pearl street New York, N. Y.

Wright's Indian Vegetable Pill Company, New York, N. Y.

Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate—D. Ghirardelli, San Francisco, Cal.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

A Card.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

Without any desire to monopolize space usually devoted to the regular departments of your paper, and only wishing to set myself right before your readers, I beg the privilege of a few lines.

In the last issue of THE TRADES UNIONIST I was made to appear as claiming authorship for a little verse published many years ago in the Harvard Lampoon. I never made such a claim. Your correspondent from the Second Division assures me that he put the verse in quotation marks; and yet it appeared without the quotations and with a word omitted in the third line. In justice to the Harvard Lampoon and the undersigned, the lines should be given correctly. They are as follows:

The larynx, with a slam,
Ejects a note
From out the throat
Pushed by the diaphragm.

Yours very truly,
JOSEPH W. BELCHER.

Union Labor Wants Waudby.

Many of the labor unions of the great industrial centers, such as New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Boston, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Pittsburg, Buffalo, etc., through their unions, have indorsed W. S. Waudby for Commissioner of Labor to succeed Carroll D. Wright. Probably more than a thousand labor unions in both large and small cities have sent to President Roosevelt a request that he be appointed.—The Western Laborer.

Representative Business Houses.
OF WASHINGTON, D. C.
The following wholesale and retail firms and professional men are friendly to Union Labor and are entitled to its patronage:

BANKS.
THE LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK, Safe Deposit Vaults, $2.50 up
CAPITAL LOAN GUARANTEE COMPANY, 602 F Street Northwest. Every one can borrow money without security.

BAKERS.
HOLMES & SONS, Celebrated Home-Made Pies and Milk Bread. First and E Streets N. W. Phone East 864.

BOOTS AND SHOES.
CROCKER'S SHOES, 939 Pennsylvania Ave. N. W.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.
DANIEL LOUGHRAN, 1347 Pennsylvania Ave.
LUCHS & BRO., Wholesalers. Tom Keene 5c. Cigar. Phone E 755.

COACH FINDINGS.
J. B. KENDALL, 485-87 Missouri avenue N. W.

COAL TAR PRODUCTS AND PAPER.
E. B. WARREN & CO., 27th and H Sts. N. W.

CUTLERY AND SPORTING GOODS.
D. N. WALFORD, 477 and 909 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

DRY GOODS.
LANSBURGH & BROTHER, 420 to 426 7th St. N. W

DYER.
E. E. WHEATLEY, 1068 Jefferson Ave. N. W. Phone, West 117-Y.

ENGRAVERS.
THE MAURICE JOYCE ENGRAVING CO. Cuts and Illustrations. 418 11th street N. W

FIRE INSURANCE.
Insure with THE RIGGS FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.
FIREMEN'S INSURANCE COMPANY, Seventh St. and Louisiana Ave.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.
JULIUS LANSBURGH, Interocean Building, 512 Ninth St. N. W.

FURNACES.
WILLIAM MINNIS, 1023 H st. N. E. Residence: 1501 H st. N. E.

GROCERIES.
LITTLE & PAGE, "Good things to eat." 1210 F St. N.W
W. C. ERGOOD, "Good goods at Ergoods." Corner Ninth and H Streets Northwest.

GROCER AND COFFEE ROASTER.
SOMERSET R. WATERS, 1342 Seventh Street Northwest, Corner O.

HARDWARE AND TOOLS.
RUDOLPH, WEST & CO., 1332 New York avenue northwest.

HUDSON'S VARIETY STORE.
B. F. HUDSON, 423 Seventh Street Northwest.

HATTERS AND FURRIERS.
JAMES Y. DAVIS' SONS, 1201 Pennsylvania Ave.
A. H. BURDINE, Union Overalls, Hats, and Gloves. Seventh Street and Virginia avenue southwest.

LIME, SAND, GRAVEL, CEMENT.
NATIONAL MORTAR COMPANY. Office: Room 9, Ralston Bldg., 612 F St. N. W. Office telephone: East 688.

LUMBER AND MILL WORK.
THOMAS R. RILEY, 13th St. and Ohio Ave.
THE WASHINGTON WOOD WORKING CO., 12th and B Streets N. W. Telephone 2119-3.

MACHINISTS AND ENGINEERS.
FORSBERG & MURRAY, Pumps and Elevators. Engines and Boilers 8th and Water Sts. S. W.

MERCHANT TAILOR.
W. A. SLADEN, 419 East Capitol Street.

PHARMACISTS.
LOUIS F. BRADLEY, Prescription Druggist. 8th and E Sts. S. E

PHOTO-LITHOGRAPHERS.
THE NORRIS PETERS CO., 458 and 460 Pennsylvania avenue N. W
ANDREW B. GRAHAM Lithographer, Photo-Lithographer, and Half-Tones. 1230 Pa. Ave. Phones: 1031-M, 1679-M.

PIANO AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
E. E. DROOP & SONS, 925 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

PRINTING SUPPLIES.
NATIONAL PRINTER'S SUPPLY CO., Machine-made Rollers. 414 10th St. N. W.

RESTAURANT AND WINE ROOM.
JOHN M. BECKER, Opp. Navy Yard., Cor. 8th and Georgia Ave. S.E

SHOES.
DAVE WOLF. SHOES FOR EVERYBODY. 432 Seventh Street N. W.

SHAVING PARLORS
VINCENT R. CILENTO, 805 North Capitol Street.

TITLES TO REAL ESTATE.
LAWYERS' TITLE & GUARANTY INS. CO. 412 5th St. N. W.

WINES AND LIQUORS.
SAMUEL G. STEWART, Heurich Brewing Co's. beers and popular brands of whiskies. 1141 Seventh st. northwest between L and M.
WILLIAM DIETZ, 1203 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest

UNION HEADQUARTERS.
ARION HALL, 430 Eighth Street N. W. Headquarters for organizations. Strictly union. JIM STEVENS, Proprietor.

DO NOT WANT OUR PATRONAGE.

Following brands of cigars: Cinco, Cremo, George W. Childs, Henry George, Tom Moore, Robert Burns, and General Arthur.

The following firms have declared against the interest of Organized Labor and are not regarded as deserving their patronage:

NAME	BUSINESS.	LOCATION.
Chevy Chase Railway and circle.	Street railway	Chevy Chase and Circle.
Keenan Bros	Gents' furnishers	Pa. ave. bet. 14th and 15th sts., and 523 Seventh st. n. w.
B. Solomon	Gents' furnisher	708 Seventh street n.w.
Rufus H. Darby	Printer	508 Fourteenth street n.w.
H. L. McQueen	Printer	1108 E street n.w.
N. Sickles (Nat'l Cigar Factory).	Cigar manufacturer	1011 Penna. avenue n.w.
E. Gundershiemer	Baker	516 Second street n.w. and stalls in Center Market.
Peter Grogan	Carpet dealer	817 to 823 Seventh street n.w.
John H. Fitzgerald	Horseshoer	443 Prather's alley n.w.
S. S Daish	Coal and wood	Florida ave. and Third st. n.e.
Wilbur F. Nash	Meat dealer	Center and O st. Markets.
C. E. Hencke	Electrician	711 G street n.w.
F. J. Wheelock	Electrician	1215 G street n. e.
James A. Bennett	Tinner	2008 H street n.w.
National Mosaic Company	Mosaics	207 Fourth st. n.w.
M. Minster	Gents' furnisher	1343 F st. n.w.
A. Minster	Gents' furnisher	499 and 501 Penna. ave. n. w.
Cyrus B. Reese	Employing steamfitter	1519 Fourteenth street n. w.
C. A. Schneider & Sons	Union Iron Works	212 Twelfth street n. w.
Minster & Paterson	Gents' furnishers	1109 Pennsylvania ave. n. w.
The Famous	Gents' furnishings	437 Seventh street n. w.
Chas. A. Muddiman & Co	Gas fixtures	1204 G and 616 Twelfth st. n. w.
Conrad Becker	Trunks and harness	1328 F st. n. w.
Chapin & Sacks	Dealer in butter	924 Louisana ave. n. w.
Home Ice Company	Ice	Twelfth and V sts. n.w.
Emil Wagner	Restaurant	210 Ninth st. n. w.
W. E. Carney	Cigar manufacturer	921 G st. s. w.
Nat'l Roller & Ball Bearing Co.	Machinery	33rd and K sts. n. w.
L. Rosenberg	Gents' furnishings	911 Eighth st. s. e.
Corbin Thompson	Dairyman	Sharon Dairy, 324 B st. s. w.
S. D. Houck	Dealer in harness	301 Tenth street n. w.
M. Eisemann & Bro.	Dry goods	1924-26 Pa. ava. and 806 7th n.w
Elite Steam Laundry	Laundry	1205 G street n.w.
Benjamin Schwartz	Gents' furnisher and tailor	337 Pa. ave. s. e.
Emrich Beef Co	Meat Dealers
John Coleman	Horseshoer	1300 36th street n. w.
Hecht & Co	Dry Goods, etc.	517-519 Seventh street n. w
Charles Rauscher	Caterer	Conn. ave. and L st. n. w
Academy of Music	Theater	Ninth and D streets n. w.
Lafayette Square Theater	Theater	16th st. and Pa. ave. n. w.
E. H. Snyder & Co	Tailors	1111 Pa. ave n. w
Owen Owen	Tailor	423 Eleventh street n. w.
L. A. Downey	Tailor	433 Eleventh street n. w.
J. M. Stein & Co	Tailors	413 Eleventh street n. w
J. D. Burns & Co	Tailors	701 Ninth street n. w.
J. F. Gatchel	Tailor	604 Thirteenth street n. w.
G. Warfield Simpson	Tailor	1208 F street n. w.
E. H. Catlin & Co	Machinists	407 13½ street n. w.
Thomas Somerville & Sons	Steam Fitters' Supplies	316 Thirteenth street n. w.
Joseph Mathy	Stove dealer and tin worker.	1918 Pennsyvania avenue.

Chesapeake Beach.

Visitors to this popular resort who desire to secure sail boats, rowing boats, or who may want to put in a few hours fishing, can be supplied by A. E. Beitzell, well known as a caterer to lovers of oysters and clams at his old stand in this city, Twenty-first street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. He will be found opposite the Bathing Beach.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Chicago Typographical Union, No. 16, will purchase ground and build a home of its own in the business district of the city.

Bricklayers' Executive Committee.

The following is the list of members of the Executive Committee of Bricklayers' Union, No. 1: John G. Wolfe, chairman, 1023 New Jersey avenue; W. Cronin, 1415 Thirty-sixth street northwest; Samuel Haslett, 221 South Lee street, Alexandria, Va.; John Shanahan, 2352 Eighth street northwest; John McCarten, 1237 Maryland avenue northeast.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

About 17,000 operatives were involved in the Lowell, Mass., textile strike, which has cost in wages about $1,300,000.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICIAL ORGAN CENTRAL LABOR UNION, WASHINGTON BRANCH, AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Vol. VIII. No. 7. WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, JULY 30, 1903. Price, 3 Cents.

THE CENTRAL LABOR UNION

The Action of Bookbinders' Union in the Miller Case Approved.

NO SHORT DAY FOR NAVY-YARD

Delegate Babcock in the Chair—Reply from the Navy Department on Saturday Early Closing at Navy-Yard—Resolutions Commending Course of Bookbinders Adopted.

The regular meeting of the Central Labor Union was called to order by the secretary last Monday evening, in the absence of the president and vice-president. Delegate Babcock was selected to fill the chair for the evening.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

CREDENTIALS.

From Local No. 58, Upholsterers' International Union, certifying J. N. Volz, T. R. Bowie, J. A. Morris, J. W. Kyer, and H. Nolda.

From Stone Laborers' Union, No. 9013, certifying William Hardy, Daniel Lahey, Frank Henson, Edward Campbell, and James Tate.

From Local No. 94, Steam Engineers, certifying to William A. Miller, John W. Ross, James W. Hardy, Geo. Greason, and John W. Stockton.

From Local No. 33, Marble Workers, certifying to Messrs. White and Barnitz.

From Local No. 102, Sheet Metal Workers, certifying M. Morris, vice R. G. M. Ross, resigned.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Tri-City Central Trades and Labor Council, Granite City, Ill., asking for assistance for flood sufferers. Placed on file.

From Local No. 68, Metal Polishers, Buffers, and Platers' Union, Cincinnati, Ohio, calling attention to unfair attitude of the Cincinnati Coffin Company to that organization. Placed on file.

From Western Federation of Miners, making an appeal for an eight-hour fund for that organization. Placed on file.

From Executive Mansion (White House), acknowledging receipt of letter in reference to early-closing on Saturday at Navy-Yard. Placed on file.

From International Association of Allied Metal Mechanics, stating that all differences with Clauss Shear Works, Fremont, Ohio, had been settled in their trade, and commending their product to all union workers. Placed on file.

From Charles H. Darling, Acting Secretary, Navy Department, in reply to letter from this body of July 18, citing order of the President of June 6, as applied to early closing of the Government Printing Office and Navy-Yard for all "who can properly be spared." The communication states that the commandant and officers to whom the matter was referred "are unanimous in the opinion that none of the men can properly be spared at 3 o'clock, stating that the ships already authorized by Congress permit the Yard authorities to know with accuracy the demand for work at the gun factory for several years to come, and reporting that it would be detrimental to the Government interest to excuse the men on the day shift at 3 o'clock on Saturday." Referred to Columbia Lodge of Machinists.

From J. J. Decker, publisher of the Labor Day Journal, calling for prompt action in placing photos for illustration and copy for the Journal in hands of printer by the 10th prox. Referred to Labor Day Committee.

From Local No. 148, Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, asking for approval of new contract, which being referred to Contract Committee, and being favorably reported, was indorsed.

From W. J. O'Donnell, druggist, Thirty-second and M streets northwest, asking if there is any charge of unfairness against him in the Central Labor Union. Referred to the secretary.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Grievance Committee reported that they had failed to come to an understanding with William Meehan, saloonist, 943 B street northwest, and recommended that he be placed on the unfair list on request of Bartenders' League. Report concurred in.

CALL OF UNIONS.

The Bookbinders presented the following resolution, which was adopted:

WHEREAS, A serious difficulty having arisen between Local Union No. 4, I. B. of B., and the constituted authorities of the Government Printing Office because of the reinstatement of W. A. Miller, an expelled member of that organization; therefore be it

Resolved, By the Central Labor Union of Washington, D. C., at a meeting assembled, that we heartily indorse the wise and conservative action of Bookbinders' Union and tender them our hearty support, and also urge prompt consideration of the charges now in the possession of Hon. F. W. Palmer, Public Printer, affecting W. A. Miller's unfitness for the public service; and

Be it further resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the Hon. Geo. B. Cortelyou, Secretary of Commerce and Labor, and the Hon. F. W. Palmer, Public Printer.

Meat Cutter and Butcher Workmen reported that they understood that nonunion men were working on the new abattoir. Referred to Business Agent of the Allied Building Trades Council.

Milk Wagon Drivers called attention to fight being still on with Corbin Thompson.

The privilege of the floor being accorded to Frank Devlin, representing the Textile Workers of Philadelphia, he made a presentation of the struggle now on with the mills in Philadelphia.

The sum of $15 was donated to the cause of the textile workers, and the secretary was requested to ask affiliated unions to contribute to the cause.

The Labor Day Excursion Committee reported the appointment of committees for the excursion.

Adjourned.

Benefit Baseball Game.

Tickets are now on sale for the baseball game to be played during convention week for the benefit of inmates of the Union Printers' Home at Colorado Springs, Colo., and it is hoped that the members of the Union will loosen up on their purse strings when approached by the chairman of their chapels. The object is a worthy one and merits the support of all union men. The proceeds will be forwarded to the Home with the express stipulation that it shall be divided pro rata among the inmates.

All arrangements have been completed, and both teams are hard at work preparing for the fray. The Baltimore team, who are making the trip at their own expense, under the capable management of Andy Wagner, will be accompanied by a large and enthusiastic body of rooters who are past masters in the gentle art of rooting. Manager Wagner stated that Messrs. Pandemonium and Bedlam would in all probably head the Baltimore delegation. As these gentlemen have world-wide reputations, it behooves the Washington printer to stir about and make his presence felt at the game. Your hearty support will be greatly appreciated by the members of the team.

The Washington mascot will be present during the contest accoutered in the full regalia of his high and mighty office. This gentleman has been doing some serious thinking of late and feels assured that his labor has not been in vain. He believes he has evolved a charm that will win for the team the genial smile of the fickle jade—Fortune.

Manager Loftus, of the Washington Baseball Club, has generously donated the use of the American League grounds for the occasion.

The game will be called at 8 p. m. No extra charge for children.

Labor Day Excursion Committees.

The following committees have been appointed to serve on the Labor Day excursion:

Executive Committee (red badge)—H. W. Sherman, president; E. J. Ratigan, secretary; J. M. Heisley, treasurer; N. C. Sprague, C. A. Cook.

Athletic Sports (blue badge)—John McVey (chairman), John Hamerstrom, W. Silver, R. H. Cowen, and John S. Kelly.

Committee on Order (tri-color badge)—J. M. Heisley (chairman), J. C. Lynch, S. F. Adams, and C. W. Winslow.

Committee on Donations—C. E. Dietrich (chairman), J. B. Dickman, E. J. Roche, D. Lear, J. H. Brinkman.

Ticket Committee (purple badge)—E. J. Ratigan (chairman), H. J. Wells, W. E. Thompson, D. M. Desmond, and Charles E. Deitrich.

Floor Committee (white badge)—J. A. Daly (chairman), H. J. Laubach, D. D. Zea, E. J. Roche, and C. A. Pfau.

Printing Committee—J. B. Dickman (chairman) and M. Spohn.

NEW YORK AT FIRST SIGHT.

A Visitor from This City Deeply Impressed.

NEW YORK, July 27, 1903.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

When Ex-Minister Wu shall write his promised book on the United States, entitled "The Wonderful Nation," he may well include in it a chapter on the city of New York as the most marvelous exemplification of those traits of the American people which have made the America of to-day. Interest in New York does not lie in the mere magnitude of the city, but is found rather in the boundless enterprise, the bold conception, and the amazing achievement which have reared the mighty fabric of this metropolis. The theme is one which might well challenge the pen of him who would celebrate the America of the opening Nineteenth Century. In describing New York, none other than superlatives will suffice. It is in area the largest city in the world, and in population is exceeded only by one—London. Its boroughs are linked together with the greatest of suspension bridges and pierced throughout their length and breadth by the most extensive of subway systems, Its Broadway, extending from the Battery and old Castle Garden north to Yonkers, is the longest street in the world. The system of parks is the largest and costliest in extent and in the sums devoted to maintain them unapproached in America or Europe. The gigantic office buildings of the business districts are among the modern wonders of the world. There are none to compare with them. Their foundations are sunk deeper toward the center of the earth; their summits are uplifted higher toward the Heavens. The largest steamships afloat make New York their port, and from the deck of the incoming ship the world-traveler beholds the towering bulk of Manhattan with amazement.

The city's hotels and apartment houses are peerless in size and appointment; and each year witnesses their development—story added to story, luxury to luxury, magnificence to magnificence.

The building operations characteristic of the day are audacious. New York is the only city in the world to tear down a ten-story modern office building to rebuild with one of twenty story; to destroy a $400,000 clubhouse to make room for a $1,000,000 residence; to demolish a $3,000,000 plaza hotel that there may be reared on its site a new hotel to cost $10,000,000; to plan the removal of the present Fifth Avenue Hotel that there may rise in its place a modern structure of twenty-five stories.

The post-office handles an average of 10,000,000 pieces of mail matter daily, and the city contributes $12,000,000 annually to the postal revenues.

The surface cars carry 452,000,000 people in a year, and I am informed by a gateman, who has kept the record, that 160,000 persons cross the Brooklyn bridge by the elevated line every day. Of course thousands cross the East River by ferry, while many thousand pedestrians go over the bridge daily to and from their work.

The skyscrapers of New York constitute one of the most impressive and interesting features of the city. The high building is distinctly a modern, end-of-the-century creation. It has grown out of the concentration of business and the ever-insistent demand for business office room in the closely congested business centers. The skyscraper provides business opportunity for a thousand, two thousand, three thousand, where without it there would be room only for as many hundreds. Two factors have made it possible—the passenger elevator, which gives immediate access to the upper stories, and the steel cage system of construction, which enables the architect to design his building of any desired height. The steel cage is a framework of steel beams, bolted together with hot rivets; in effect it is a bridge set on end. The steel frame goes up first, and the walls are put on afterwards. Sometimes the upper stories are walled in before the lower ones. The steel-cage system, moreover, has reduced the cost of construction from $5 a cubic feet under the old methods to 37 cents under the new. In some instances the foundations of these buildings go 100 feet below the surface.

The prevailing rental for offices in the buildings below Chambers street is $2 per square foot per year above the fifth floor, and for the lower floors it goes as high as $11 a foot. The rent includes light, heat, and janitor service. The Park Row, St. Paul, World, Times, and other buildings are open day and night every day in the year. The cost of maintenance of the largest buildings approximate $100,000 a year. The single item of water supply amounts to $5,000.

The elevators in the high buildings are divided into local, which stop at every floor, and express, which stop only above certain stories. A fine illustration of the spirit of hurry which possesses the average down-town New Yorker is the impatience with which he resents a delay of a five-second elevator stop before he gets to his own floor. In some buildings there are two sets of elevators, one above the other, so that one must "change cars" to go to top. They are supplied with automatic brakes to stop the descent of the car in case of accident, and air-wells at the bottom of the shaft to serve as air cushions if the car should fall. The "high-speed" elevators have a possible speed of 500 to 700 feet per minute, and in practice are run at 500 to 600 feet. Under direction of the superintendent of the building is a host of employees—uniformed police, elevator conductors, engineers, sweepers, scrub women, and window cleaners. The men who clean windows hundreds of feet in the air wear belts with straps, which are fastened to hooks on the outside of the window, so that if one should lose his footing on the window sill he could not fall.

I visited a section of the city yesterday—about Forty-second street—where a suite of three small rooms, with board, costs from $150 to $500 per week, and where a modest little dinner breaks a $50 bill. I did not remain in that neighborhood very long; I was afraid I might be charged for breathing space.

I enjoyed my visit and dip in the Atlantic at Coney Island hugely. However, my visit to this celebrated and far-famed resort did not extend over three and one-half hours. The beach stretches for about five miles, and has been so far divided equally among the rich and the poor. Coney Island seems to be the seaside playground for the people of Greater New York.

CHARLES W. IREY.

Pointed Paragraphs

Chicago Times.]

The proudest moment in a succesful man's life is when he tells how he got there.

One reason women can't keep secrets is because they don't know what to do with them.

Some men are like razors; its impossible to tell how sharp they may be until they are strapped.

Men laugh at trouble and women cry over it, or at least that's the way they usually act at a wedding.

"Know thyself," says the old adage. A man can find out quite a good deal about himself by running for office.

If there is nothing in a man, it is useless for him to wait at home for fortune to call and knock at his door.

Doubtless the angels smile when they see a fisherman with a $15 outfit yanking a two-inch sucker from the water.

Good advice has a monetary value. It's the other kind that is handed out by those who are running a gift enterprise.

A bibulous man who speaks by the card says there is always room at the top—after the foam has been blown off.

People don't worry half as much about what the Lord thinks of them as they do about what their neighbors say of them.

Every girl wants a man to know some things about her, but she doesn't want him to know that she wants him to know them.

It sometimes happens that the world thinks a man is wise simply because he doesn't take the trouble to explain his mistakes.

While the easy-going individual is trying to figure out which is the best foot to put forward the strenuous man gets there with both feet.

Ex-Delegates!

There will be a meeting of the Ex-Delegates' Association of Columbia Union, No. 101, at Typographical Temple, Wednesday, August 5, at 8 o'clock p. m. All ex-delegates are cordially invited to be present.

WM. R. RAMSEY, President.
J. T. HERBERT, Secretary.

Labor Notes.

Labor Day, September 7.

Our lifesaving service costs $1,700,000 a year.

An electrical typesetting machine is the latest.

Glass models of mines are now made showing all the workings.

The Brotherhood of Railroad Freight and Baggagemen of America has been chartered.

The German Catholic societies of the State of New York have declared in favor of the union label.

A barber's strike may be inaugurated in Cleveland, commencing August 1. They want $12, with half over every $20 taken in.

The Boxmakers and Sawyers' National Union has decided to have a national headquarters and offices in Chicago.

Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' International Alliance has decided to establish a national defense fund of at least $100,000.

At the recent convention of the Georgia State Federation of Labor a resolution was adopted demanding that the Democratic party insert in its platform a child-labor plank.

At a meeting of the Pittsburg Master Builders' Association a committee was appointed to secure subscriptions for stock of a company organized to build an exchange to cost about $100,000.

It is stated that Tonapah, Nev., is the strongest labor union camp of its size in the United States. Everybody there who works either belongs to the Miners' Union or the American Labor Union.

The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen is taking in the employes of the third-rail electric system in the West despite the protest of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees, who claim jurisdiction.

Miss Mabel McDonald, a waitress, and the candidate of organized labor in Duluth for queen of the carnival, was elected by a majority of 560 votes. Mayor Hugo presented her the freedom of the city and a $500 piano.

A colored man was elected as international vice president at the convention of the lengshoremen at Bay City last week. The longshoremen's national, with more than 140,000 members, is the third largest trade union in the country.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Second Division.

Doc Scanlon is busy writing a new book.

Wellington F. Simons left for Mt. Vernon, N. Y., to visit relatives.

Rumor has it that we will be the Third Division in the new building.

Ben Wolfe returned Tuesday after a pleasant rest of fifteen days at home.

W. H. Bright, our tragedian, will take fifteen days studying Shakespeare's works.

Chaplain Hoyt Holton and wife will be at the "Mapleton," Galloway P. O., Md., for thirty days.

As our regular correspondent is at Leesburg "soldiering," we will try to fill his "preferred sit" here.

Frank Keman, our make-up, had the misfortune to lose his "bank" the other day, but later he got another one.

As we had twenty-five off in this division last week, we still got the old Catalogue out in record time, with the Third's help. Thanks.

Joseph E. Goodkey will entertain for convention week Mrs. John F. Lee, delegate from the Ladies' Auxiliary of Louisville No. 10. Mr. Lee was beaten just two votes for I. T. U. delegate.

X. Y. Z.

ALLIED BUILDING TRADES.

H. J. Wells, of Paperhangers' Union, No. 420, Elected Chairman.

The regular weekly meeting of the Council of Allied Building Trades of the Central Labor Union was called to order at the usual hour by Chairman Meitzler.

Roll call disclosed the presence of 45 delegates from 21 locals.

Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved.

CREDENTIALS.

From Interior Marble Workers, Local Union No. 5, certifying to John Fanning.

From Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, Local Union No. 102, certifying to M. Morris, vice R. G. M. Ross, resigned.

From Tile Layers' Helpers, Local Union No. 12, certifying to Gideon Walsh, Samuel Beckett, and Fred Oliver.

From Slate and Tile Roofers, certifying P. H. Loftus, vice D. Lentz, who has left the city.

The credentials were accepted and the delegates seated.

The matter of leasing the property of Costello's, which had been made a special order at the previous meeting, was then taken from the table, and after considerable discussion the recommendation of the report of the committee was concurred in, and the secretary instructed to file a bond for the sum of $1,000 and the chairman and secretary sign lease.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The regular order was then resumed and communication from Tile Layers' Helpers, No. 12, stating that their union had voted in favor of a parade on Labor Day was read, and referred to Labor Day Committee of Central Labor Union.

From Tile Layers' Union, No. 2, stating that contract for tile at Colorado Building had gone to an unfair firm. Referred to Business Agent.

From International Marble and Slate Cutters and Setters, inclosing form of agreement for working and shop rules. Referred to Executive Committee.

From J. J. Weed, inclosing bill for services. Ordered paid.

CALL OF UNIONS.

Stone Laborers called attention to church at South Capitol and M streets, being constructed by W. E. Speirs, and stated that nonunion stone laborers were being employed. Referred to Business Agent.

Granite Cutters called attention to stonemasons doing granite work at Foundry Church, Sixteenth and Madison streets, and asked that the facts be presented to Central Labor Union. Granted.

Hoisting Engineers reported nonunion engineers at work on jobs at Catholic University and Second and R streets northwest. Referred to the Business Agent.

Steam Fitters' Helpers gave an account of their trouble with the Master Fitters' Association.

Minutes of meeting of Board of Arbitration of the Building Trades, under date of July 22, read, concurred in, and and ordered placed on file.

The regular order was suspended and election of officers was proceeded with.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Chairman, H. J. Wells; Vice Chairman, C. W. Winslow; Secretary-Treasurer and Business Agent, E. J. Ratigan; Sergeant-at-Arms, Moses Peyton.

Delegate Ratigan tendered his resignation as member of the Board of Arbitration. It was accepted and H. W. Sherman was chosen in his place.

Committee consisting of D. M. Desmond, E. McClelland, and H. J. Wells were appointed to revise the by-laws.

Adjourned.

Favors the Amendments.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

I think the amendments introduced at the last regular meeting of Columbia Union by O. T. Pierce, providing for an assistant secretary, is a step in the right direction. Columbia Union is certainly large enough and has business sufficient to require the presence of an official representative in the secretary's office at all times during business hours, and the small additional expenditure would be more than compensated for by the added efficiency of the office.

J. H. BRODERICK.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Official Organ Central Labor Union and Allied Building Trades, A. F. of L.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

The Trades Unionist Publishing Company

E. W. PATTON.....President
A. J. E. HUBBARD.....Vice-President
T. M. RING.....Secretary

Office: 441-443 G Street Northwest.

TELEPHONE EAST 15 Y.

SUBSCRIPTION

One year (in advance) - - - - $1.00
Six months (in advance) - - - - .50

Entered at the Post-Office, Washington, D. C. as Second-Class Matter.

THE TRADES UNIONIST is heartily and unqualifiedly indorsed by the Central Labor Union and the Allied Building Trades as well as by the various locals connected with the two central bodies.

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL WASHINGTON. 2

Only Eight-Hour Union Office in Town.

THURSDAY, JULY 30, 1903.

District Printing.

In a recent letting of contracts for District printing the Globe Printing Company was the successful bidder for printing machine-sweeping schedules. In submitting a bill for the first lot of work done a charge of $130.80 was made for the same work done last year for $64 without a contract. Naturally, the superintendent of the street cleaning department demurred to the payment of the bill. The Globe Printing Company explained the excess charge by stating that the work was done on a piece basis, and that under the rules of the union full charge had to be made for the first setting of the job.

This may be a rule in the trade for the purpose of securing the first cost on a job, but it is hardly fair for a firm to put the onus on the union, when it is well known that the office where the work was done is a strictly time office, and the piece basis does not obtain as far as paying the scale on double-price work is concerned. It is presumed that even if it were considered a job to be rated as double-price work to the compositor, that the time scale would be paid on it and the difference accrue to the employer between the cost of the work for labor and the charge to the customer. It is another case where the contract system is not shown to be the best, for it leaves too many chances for dishonesty in the charge for material and work, even to the lowest bidder. The lowest bidder takes the work to make a profit on it, and he must make it, either by hook or crook.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM.

The recent threatened trouble at the Government Printing Office over the case of the dismissed binder foreman, Miller, is but one of several clashes that have taken place within the history of the office between somebody in authority and the unions into which the different trades employed in the office are divided, and some of them have presented very serious aspects before they were settled. It was long ago realized that the unions must have absolute control of that which affects their members, within the purview of the union, or that they would have no control whatever. Abraham Lincoln said, "This country can not exist half slave and half free," and the unions early recognized that the Government Printing Office must be wholly union or wholly non-union. With the bars down, and the powerful enemies which the unions have, every unfair man in the country would make application for employment there, backed by irresistible influences interested in the destruction of all unions connected with the printing business, until the unions here would be entirely destroyed. It is unfortunately true that there are some already employed there who would take immediate advantage of the fact that they were no longer compelled to belong to the union and at once sever their relations with it from no more noble motive than to save the miserable pittance which they pay to the unions as dues; but these are happily as few in number as they are contemptible in motive.

All the facts in this Miller case have been given to the public by the daily newspapers as they have developed and there is little more to be said than has already been printed concerning it. But there have perhaps never been sufficient pains taken to explain to the public why union men will not work with non-union men, which is a motive based entirely on self-preservation. Given the right to introduce non-union men among the union workmen and the power of the union is gone, and if a union has no power it is a farce as a union; for if one non-union man is permitted to work, many may be, until, if the union could hold its own men in line in the face of temptation to desert, it might soon be outnumbered by bringing in non-unionists, who could be thus used to nullify demands in one establishment and then passed on to others, wherever their nefarious services might be in demand.

On one or two occasions in the period during or immediately succeeding the civil war there was a strike in the Government Printing Office. The rates of wages and practically everything else were within the sole control of the Public Printer, and every strike of which I ever heard was immediately successful. But when, in February, 1877, Congress arbitrarily reduced wages 20 per cent, adjourning within a few days, leaving no power on earth that could undo what they had done, though a strike was discussed, its futility was conceded. The most that any existing authority could have done would have been to shut the office up for want of men to do the work, and probably not that if sufficient numbers of unfair men had applied for work—supposing that all union men would have remained true to their colors.

In 1883 a concerted attempt was made by certain Senators of the United States, probably provoked by individual grievances of their own, to legislate a provision into an appropriation bill which would have had the effect of throwing open the office to non-union men; but the prompt and intelligent action of the then president of the union, E. C. Grumley, in telegraphing to all the noted unions of the country for help, on his own motion and at his own expense, brought to our aid Senators Conger, Voorhees, and others, who succeeded in killing the obnoxious measure, for which they were thanked and presented with gold-headed canes by the union.

Whatever the outcome of the affair, there are undoubtedly those who will make all the political capital possible out of the incident, which is one of the unfortunate features of such misunderstandings. While it is well to remember at the polls those who have shown enmity to organized labor, the greatest care should be taken that unscrupulous men who have no real sympathy with workingmen are not permitted to use for their own interests the capital that none may legitimately make out of unpleasant incidents but trades unionists themselves.

* * * *

A recent dispatch from Newport News, Va., says that a strong effort is being made by organized labor there to organize the negroes in the shipyards, but that the negroes do not want to organize, and goes on to say that the shipbuilding companies there have been able to bid lower on work by reason of "the splendid negro labor at their command." If the negroes do not want to be organized there is no power to compel them to do so, and if they do want to organize there should be no power to prevent them from doing so. By reason of their being unorganized, and consequently working for a wage that amounts to robbing them of a part of their legitimate earnings, their employers are not only robbing them but are robbing other employers of contracts which they would otherwise get, and are robbing union workmen of employment which they should have. Whenever the negro is willing to work for less wages than the white man and to take his place when he is seeking to improve his condition the negro has plenty of philanthropists anxious for his welfare.

* * * *

The Women's Auxiliary of the Rochester (N. Y.) Typographical Union recently elected Mrs. William S. Waudby as delegate to the International Women's Auxiliary, which meets here at the same time as the International Typographical Union. Mrs. Waudby, prior to her marriage to Mr. Waudby three years ago, was register to the Rochester Board of Health, and demonstrated her capacity for business matters. She is much interested in the Women's Auxiliary work, which, through the growth and development of but a year or so, gives promise of being a most valuable adjunct to trades unionism. While this is a movement inaugurated by and confined to women who are connected with the printing trade through ties of blood or marriage, there is every reason to believe that it will extend to those similarly associated with other trades unionists until it becomes a vast auxiliary army scarcely less potent than the unions themselves. On occasions of strikes the devotion of women to the cause of their male relatives has been exhibited in thousands of instances, and as trades unionists themselves they are as firm and steadfast as their brothers. By the enrollment of every female relative of trade unionists in these auxiliaries—and there is no reason why they should be divided by the trades and occupations of their male relatives into separate organizations—pledged to work in every way for the interest and success of organized labor, as the purchase of none but union-made goods, and the avoidance (so many don't like the word "boycott") of all enemies of trades unions, they would win victories where the strike is at times ineffective. It is a movement that needs but to be inaugurated to "leap like wildfire" in popularity and if the good work has not already been begun it probably will be soon. It would be worthy of the consideration of the great American Federation of Labor, with its superb machinery for organization, and the prestige of its indorsement and countenance would be all the encouragement needed to start the movement on its conquering mission. I commend these suggestions to Mr. President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, and to Mrs. Frank Kennedy, president of the National Woman's Auxiliary.

* * * *

When all the expenses of living are increased from 25 to 50 per cent the wage-earner is sometimes granted an increase of 10 per cent—perhaps not voluntarily, but he occasionally gets it. As the result of the Pittsburg (Kans.) conference the wages of the coal miners were increased 7 cents per ton, which the coal operator says necessitates an increase of $1 per ton in the price of coal, as the increased cost of a ton of coal, owing to increase of all wages connected with its production, is 25 cents. An increase of 25 cents in the selling price of coal would seem to cover it in the mind of anyone but a coal baron. How naturally that word "baron" associates itself in one's mind with all form of oppression, robbery, and extortion.

* * * *

In connection with the Richmond (Va.) street railway strike it seems that several members of the militia who were used to preserve order and enable a foreign-owned corporation to break the strike with imported labor lost their positions while so engaged. As they were all employes of large corporations, it is not chargeable to organized labor, but is probably due to neglect of their regular employment to play at soldiering. As the strike breakers have all been sent to their homes, it is to be presumed that a regular corps of strike breakers are kept in reserve to be sent here and there as they are wanted.

* * * *

A "sympathetic" strike is a measure that should never be resorted to until the most careful calculation has demonstrated that it will be of real service to the cause and practically and actually assist in crippling the enemy. The failure of a voluntary and unasked sympathetic strike of teamsters in Chicago causes this reflection. The sympathies of the general public are more and more enlisted in favor of trades unions every year, and as it has not yet been educated up to understand the merits of sympathetic strikes, and as its indorsement is often a valuable aid to accomplishing results, it is worth catering to.

* * * *

"Do you know what I would do with you fellows and your unions if I was Public Printer?" said a fierce-looking man on the rear platform of a Brookland car to a couple of printers who were discussing the Miller episode.

Though they turned their startled gaze upon him, neither answered.

"I say, do you know what I would do with you ducks?" he repeated, bent upon getting an answer.

"No, sir," timidly replied one; "but I've been wondering for the last three blocks what you would do. Visions of files of marines came before my mind, with double-shotted artillery, plunging cavalry, infantry with bristling bayonets, behind which were stationed men preparing cauldrons of boiling oil, others erecting gibbets, and some driving stakes in the ground to which men could be tied and burned; but these are only suggestions as to what you would do. No, sir; I can't rightly say I know what you would do."

"Well, what the hell would you do?" asked the other, feeling that he might as well put on a bold front.

"I don't know what I would do, boys," said the fierce looker, "but I thought you might know. Well, here's where I get off. So long."

* * * *

Fred Powers, who went to the Philippines nearly two years ago as an electrician connected with the Philippine government printing office, returned last week, while without any "kick," entirely satisfied as to any longings for employment in the Tropics. He looks in the finest health and says that he had no trouble from the climate at any time. Mr. Powers is a fine electrician and he will undoubtedly be a welcome addition to the force and needed for the augmented electrical work rendered necessary by the occupancy of the new building.

* * * *

The Ex-Delegates' Association met last Sunday, pursuant to adjournment, all the officers and a good attendance of members present. No action was taken further than to confirm the acts of the entertainment committee. There is every reason to think that Ex-Delegates' Day will be one of the most enjoyable of the magnificent programme laid out for the week. The itinerary comprises a trolley ride to Arlington, where the sights will be seen and a brief address listened to; then away to Mount Vernon, where the tomb and mansion of the Father of His Country will be shown to our visitors and another brief address made; then back to Alexandria, where a lunch will be served, an address by the mayor of the city, and the sights of the ancient city taken in; then back home. And that is enough for any one day.

* * * *

Persons who have been in the habit of doing business of any kind with W. F. P. White, of the Night Bill Force, will learn with some satisfaction that Will E. Burchfield, of the same force, is his representative during his absence on leave and will attend to all their wants.

* * * *

I have received a copy of the Colorado Springs Labor News, lately purchased by A. J. E. Hubbard, for some years connected with THE TRADES UNIONIST. It is a well-printed, newsy paper, with a good advertising patronage, and under the capable management of Mr. Hubbard will undoubtedly prove a valuable ally of the workingman in his battle for better conditions.

* * * *

The other day I received by mail the advertisement of Somebody's Old Cooperative Turf Sucker Association—I, who gave the alarm on the Arnold steal in time for the boys to escape if they had had sense enough, only to be laughed at for my pains and almost licked by some of the ranker Reubens. I won't give the real name of the concern, for there are a lot of yaps who would rush to get their money down before the grafters get their addresses—the class of haweaters who enable large numbers of Jimmy Slicks to be pretty boys, while the suckers imagine that they are "sports." As a great and profound friend of mine says, "Excuse me while I puke."

* * * *

Delegate Esterling, of Denver, I hear is coming to the convention with something in the way of a card that will discourage those from getting any who have not already ordered. I give this out so that everybody may be prepared for the treat in store. They know how to do these things out in the wind-swept and wondrous West.

A. F. BLOOMER.

The Spokane Strike.

The trouble over the new scale for newspapers at Spokane, Wash., terminated in a strike on Sunday night last. The scale had been submitted to arbitration, but President Lynch refused to abide by the findings of the local arbitration board, claiming that they had exceeded the limits of their duties in passing upon rules and regulations in the offices instead of considering the scale of prices. The strike was the result of the refusal of the union to abide by the findings of the local board. The evening papers suspended publication, pending a settlement. The morning paper came out with a single sheet and an article claiming that the union had violated its agreement.

FOR THE BEST--
READY-TO-WEAR
—FOR—
Man, Woman and Child
AT THE MOST REASONABLE PRICES,
CONSULT—
Parker, Bridget & Co.,
Washington's Leading Outfitters, ...
Pa. Ave. and 9th St. N. W.

Millerinktums.

A good union man would have avoided all this trouble.

Miller is welcome to all the notoriety he gets out of the case.

If justice does not miscarry the W. A. may stand for Was Assistant.

In this particular case there are mighty few who care to be known as Millerites.

Miller's declared aversion to unionism may have suggested the propriety of transferring him from the Union Building.

There are others who have left a good home and marched on to Washington to instruct those in authority, only to be turned down.

The jury in this case are unanimous in their opinion that the accused is guilty of pernicious activity and conduct unbecoming.

The notches on the tally-stick to date show eminent fairness on the part of Washington daily newspapers in handling the Miller incident.

Miller's request of the Public Printer to assert himself may be complied with in a way not looked for by Mr. Miller, and yet meet with the hearty approval of everybody else.

We do not just now recall the name of the individual who, on a public occasion, declared himself a "bigger man than old Grant," but we do remember that the little he got for the expression was the laugh. Men are estimated for their real and not for their assumed worth.

The indignities which the binders of the Government Printing Office now submit to, under protest, speaks volumes for their faith in the ultimate success of their cause, and nothing could better demonstrate their esteem for Public Printer Palmer and their present confidence in President Roosevelt.

A representative of the Employers' Association of St. Louis has written to the President to thank him for his grand stand in the Miller case. The association claims a membership of 7,000. There are several hundred thousand employes affiliated with labor and other organizations throughout the country who are watching the progress of this case, but who can see nothing in what the President has done to provoke a spasm or to offer a reasonable excuse why any one of the little band of 7,000 should throw a real genuine fit.

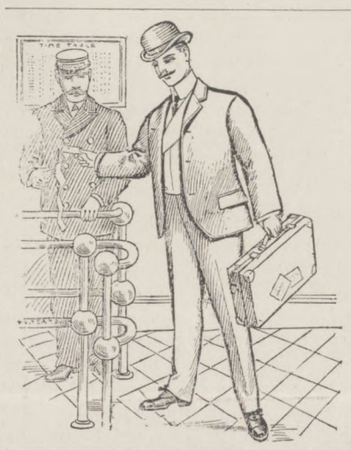
WINSOME WAISTS AND POROUS PLASTERS.

There's a waste of the muscles and a waste of the brain,
A woful waste of cold cash, always foolish and vain;
There is a waste in all things of which man is possessed,
Yet there's one waist alone, it may as well be confessed—
In encompassing which a young man is prone to believe
That queen of hearts is the trump, with the ace up his sleeve;
And that waist is the waist of the dear girl he loves best,
In hugging which waist he hours'll waste without food or rest.
Aud the writer admits that in inditing this rot
There's a waste of brain power, if b. p. he has got.

The man who invests in a porous plaster, you bet,
Forms an alliance he isn't very apt to forget;
For squirm and scratch tho' he may, he finds out pretty quick
That the cussed plaster means biz, and knows how to stick.
And as with the plaster so with the victim of rum,
Who clings to his dope like dirt and foul stench to a bum.

—H. A. McP.

Typewriters with Arabic letters are now being used in Egypt.



Union Made Cigars
OF THE FINEST QUALITY.
Pluck 5¢ | OFFTE'S BOUQUET 10¢
AFTER DINNER 5¢ | DEER HEAD 10¢
Henry T. Offterdinger, Manufacturer
504 Ninth St., N.W.

ARLINGTON BREWING CO.
ROSSLYN, VA.
BEER ALE PORTER
The Finest Productions of Skilled Union Labor. Union Label on Every Bottle and Keg of Our Goods.

THE UNION STORE

On Easy Street in Thrifty Town
There lives a grocer of renown;
From dawn of day 'till six at night
His store presents a busy sight.
The reason's plain—the unions know,
His goods are clean, that makes them go—to

H. I. MARKET — HEADER'S ODEL ODERNIZED
535-37 EIGHTH ST. SOUTHEAST
TELEPHONE MAIN 908-A

In preparing for your vacation do not overlook the fact that one of our Blue Serge, Homespun, or Scotch Cheviot Sack Suits is indispensable if appearance and comfort is to be considered. We are showing a very large line of fabrics selected especially for outing purposes. Remember, we rank second to none in tailoring. Our garments have individuality and expression that stamps them as being "High-Grade." Get acquainted with our way of making clothes by ordering one of our Celebrated $25 Suits, made by Union Tailors.
Special sale of Trousers, $6.50 to Order.

T. E. Gilbert
IMPORTER AND TAILOR
818 F St. Northwest

Our Strictly One-Price Methods Insure Legitimate Reductions
Our Annual Mid-Summer Half-Price Clearance Sale
IS NOW IN FULL BLAST

Twice a year—mid-summer and mid-winter—we make a clean sweep of all except solid blues and blacks Men's and Boy's Suits. We do this in order to prevent any possibility of an accumulation of out-of-date patterns or styles, and we insure an absolute clearance by cutting prices CLEAN IN TWO. The sale this summer is more important than usual, as the long delayed warm weather left us with a larger stock on hand than we have had for many years. Thus you have a fuller and more complete assortment of patterns to select from at exactly half the proper prices. That you may be sure there is no exaggeration about this reduction we have left the original price tickets on every garment. The stock includes every variety of fashionable clothing for men and boys, in medium and light weights, all well-made goods, properly tailored and of correct cut.

Men's $ 7 50 Suits now.....	$3 75	All $2 50 and $3 Trousers...	$1 90
Men's 10 00 Suits now.....	5 00	All 3 50 and 4 Trousers....	2 90
Men's 12 50 Suits now.....	6 25
Men's 15 00 Suits now.....	7 50	Boys' $15 00 Long Pants Suits	$7 50
Men's 17 50 Suits now.....	8 75	Boys' 12 50 Long Pants Suits	6 25
Men's 20 00 Suits now.....	10 00	Boys' 10 00 Long Pants Suits	5 00
Men's 22 50 Suits now.....	11 25	Boys' 7 50 Long Pants Suits	3 75
Men's 25 00 Suits now.....	12 00	Boys' 5 00 Long Pants Suits	2 50

No Goods Charged at Sale Prices. Alterations, if any, will be charged at cost.
Our Guarantee back of every garment on sale.

THE BIEBER-KAUFMAN CO.
Masculine Outfitters from Childhood to Age
901-909 EIGHTH STREET S. E.

"Everyone knows how to find fault."
No one has yet found fault with the
RELIABLE
The Gas Range for Summer Use
Washington Gas Light Co.
GAS APPLIANCE EXCHANGE

Our Motto—Prompt and Polite Attention.
The Modern Dairy Lunch Room
CHAS. A. MOULDEN, Mgr.
409 TENTH STREET N. W.
Open day and night. Unsurpassed Coffee Our Specialty

PRINTERS and Union Members.—For First-Class Meals, Eat at
VICTOR CAFE, 3 H St. N. W.
ALBION, Eleventh and E Sts. N. W.
ERIN, Cor. N. J. Ave. and D St. N. W.
U. S. LUNCH ROOM, 320 12th St. N. W.
ALBERT T. SCANLAND, Prop.
Open Day and Night. Best Service.

Steam Cleaning and Dye Works
(Formerly New York Dye House)
I do the most perfect Cleaning and Dyeing at most reasonable rates. Goods called for and returned. C. W. MARGRAF, Proprietor
Telephone 3483 Main
907 9th St. N. W., and 631 D St. N. W.

At the beginning of the year there were 16,000 women members of labor unions in New York State.

Detroit lighting commission laborers had their pay increased from $1.60 to $1 75 per day.

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES
OF
Columbia Typographical Union,
NO. 101.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, 423 G ST. N. W.
Office Hours: 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.; 5 to 7 P. M.

OFFICERS.

JOE M. JOHNSON.....President
DAN C. VAUGHAN.....Vice-President
WM. M. GARRETT.....Secretary
JOHN R. BERG.....Treasurer
FRANK BATES.....Sergeant-at-Arms
N. C. STOOPS.....Doorkeeper

TRUSTEES—J. E. Bright, chairman; W. L. Gutelius, Chas. C. Thompson, Joe M. Johnson, and Wm. M. Garrett.

DELEGATES TO CENTRAL LABOR UNION—J. H. Babcock, chairman; J. B. Dickman, Hugh Everett, Theodore Gerber, and C. E. Dietrich.

DELEGATES TO ALLIED TRADES COUNCIL—E. E. Calhoon, chairman; T. F. Hall, and J. P. Garner.

AUDITORS—C. W. Radley, chairman; H. G. Brown, and J. W. Carter.

COMMITTEES.

BUSINESS—Zach T. Jenkins, chairman; C. B. Yater, M. J. Maher, T. C. Parsons, and R. W. Burnside.

NOMINATIONS—W. N. Brockwell, chairman; F. A. Kidd, H. O'Donnell, Frank M. Hatley, and R. E. Stenner.

LAWS—Chas. H. Ennis, chairman; Raymond Gery, and Dexter S. Hussey.

FINANCE—John A. Huston, chairman; J. M. McLaughlin, and R. F. Chisholm.

PRINTING—T. A. Bynum, chairman; Milo Shanks, and Ed. J. Hall.

GRIEVANCE—Clint O. Price, chairman; Chas. S. Gunn, Philip Nachman, David J. Snyder, and E. Y. Fisher.

ENTERTAINMENT—T. L. Jones, chairman; J. R. Purvis, T. J. Fitzwilliam, Miss Nellie Theaker, Miss Anna Wilson, B. E. Harrison, and W. J. Harris.

CONFERENCE—J. L. Holland, chairman; D. J. Hegarty, and W. B. Shaw.

LIBRARY—Clyde J. Sheriff, chairman; A. E. Ogg, and Harry Essex.

RELIEF—Joseph G. Stelle, chairman; Wm. S. Schinnerer and E. P. Cummins.

EIGHT-HOUR—F. C. Roberts, chairman; F. B. Crown, F. D. Seiffert, Jeff Newlon, and S. H. Willey.

MEMORIAL SERVICE—S. J. Gompers, chairman; Philip S. Steele, J. E. Goodkey, J. B. Dickman, and C. B. Yater.

AMOS J. CUMMINGS MEMORIAL—J. T. Rowe, chairman; Charles T. Graff, and T. A. Bynum.

CHAIRMEN.

First Division—R. L. Mabrey.
Second Division—W. N. Goldstein.
Third Division—Burr Williams.
Fourth Division—Charles H. Gove.
Fifth Division—Charles E. Dietrich.
Sixth Division—E. M. Nevils.
Job Room—J. K. Davison.
Record Clerks' Division—H. G. Brown.
First Division, Night—Allen Cowles.
Night Proof Room—E. H. Thomas.
Specification Room—E. A. Hutchison.
Official Gazette—Jere Walsh.
Document Proof Room—Jas. R. Armstrong.
Treasury Division—W. Brice Coston.
Interior Division—C. K. Stribling.
State Division—J. B. Dickman.
Navy Department Division—Albert E. Ogg.
War Department Division—Wm. K. Miller.
Agricultural Division—Henry P. Slaughter.
Library Division—H. V. Bisbee.
Weather Bureau—L. H. Emmons.
Morning Post—H. J. Broderick
Evening Star—Joseph C. Whyte.
Evening Times—T. C. Parsons.
Law Reporter—J. R. Johnson.
Globe Printing Co.—R. A. Wilson.
Judd & Detweiler's—A. B. Barringer.
Wilkens Printing Co.—T. N. Surguy.
Pearson's—T. F. Monahan.
National Publishing Co.—E. C. Owen.
McGill & Wallace's—J. M. Watts.
Byron S. Adams'—R. B. Boucher.
Army and Navy Register—C. H. Draeger.
General Postoffice—Joseph Williams.
Sudwarth's—F. R. Adams.

AROUND THE PRINTERIES.

Down Town.

M. W. Longfellow, enroute to Pittsburg from New York, stopped over in the city on Sunday.

Chas. J. Duke, of Pittston, Pa., organizer of the A. F. of L., and an old newspaper man, was in the city during the week on business with the duties of his office as organizer.

Steve Caldwell, of Albany, N. Y., was in the city on Monday, showing his wife the beauties of Washington. Steve is now proprietor of one of the finest saloons and billiard parlors in the State of New York, and an invitation is extended to all old friends and acquaintances to call on him when in Albany.

The following item from the Cape Vincent (N. Y.) Eagle, shows how two absentees are putting in time:

Ambrose O'Keefe and Sumner McDonough, of the Government Printing Office, Washington, who are making a tour of the lake and river resorts, made the Eagle office a pleasant call on Thursday. These gentlemen say that bass fishing at the Cape is the best they have ever seen.

Andy Wagner was over from Baltimore last Saturday, making final arrangements with John F. Luitich, the manager of the team here that is to play ball with the team that Mr. Wagner will bring over from Baltimore on Wednesday, August 12. Mr. Wagner is an enthusiast on amateur sports and is quite a ball player.

Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, was at his desk last Monday, after an absence of a week, during which time he was confined at home with an aggravated case of malaria. The duties of the office which Mr. Morrison holds has so multiplied in the past few years that close attention to business has affected his health, and an enforced vacation will be necessary to restore him to health.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Hot Tamales and Chile at The Ranch, 507 F street n. w. Near Pension Office.

Fifth Division.

A. N. Goebel was reinstated last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Leighton went to the mountains of Virginia to escape the hot days in the city.

Stephen Th. Westdal went with the artillery to Leesburg last Thursday to enjoy a ten-days' outing with the militia.

P. H. McCallum, Wm. H. Hamilton, Charles H. Leighton, Baulsey F. Sauter, and N. H. Lytle went on leave last week.

Al Cowles, at one time a member of this division, was recently elected chairman of the night force. His many friends in this room send congratulations.

"Charlie's" friends were out in full force last Monday night to see that he did his part well. He thinks the only thing that saved his hide was the presence of his superior officer.

H. P. McKevitt returned to work last Friday, and reports having been sick during all his vacation. He is afflicted with malaria and cold, and after working three days he went home for the remainder of his leave, not feeling sufficiently strong to be at work.

The following letter was received by our chairman:

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23, 1903.

MR. C. E. DIETRICH, Chairman Fifth Division Chapel, Government Printing Office:

DEAR SIR—On behalf of the family of Lewis Petrie, deceased, I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your kind letter of July 20, inclosing copy of resolutions passed by the Fifth Division Chapel of the Government Printing Office relative to the death of our father, Lewis Petrie, and thank them, through you, for the words of sympathy and sorrow and for the kindly sentiments expressed in said resolutions.

We also desire to thank the Chapel for the floral emblem sent us.

Believe me, very truly yours,

JOHN R. PETRIE,
For the family.

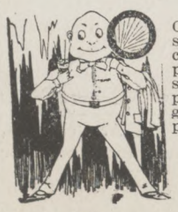
Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Women's Auxiliary.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Women's Auxiliary was held Tuesday evening, July 21. Two new members were received, Mrs. Wm. M. Garrett and Mrs. C. E. Abernethy. After the routine business was transacted, there was a good deal of discussion of plans for convention week. A reception committee was appointed as follows: Mrs. C. E. Abernethy, Mrs. John McCormick, Mrs. Jos. C. Goodkey, Mrs. C. L. Nace, Mrs. Clara L. Bennett, Mrs. H. J. Redfield, Miss Carrie L. Whitehead, Mrs. C. H. Slack, Mrs. R. E. Stenner, Mrs. Clair C. Barnes, Mrs. J. A. Huston, Mrs. A. W. Bowen, Mrs. Joe M. Johnson, Miss D. E. Cummins, Mrs. Wm. M. Garrett, Mrs. J. T. Rowe, Mrs. Carrie L. Kidd, Mrs. O. D Hyler, and Mrs. E. H. Thomas.

A special meeting will be held Thursday evening, August 6, at which plans will be completed. It is hoped that every member who can do so will attend this meeting.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c



Hot Tamales and Chile at The Ranch, 507 F street n. w. Near Pension Office.

A New Labor Paper.

S. A. Beadle, formerly an employe of the Government Printing Office, where he filled his last assignment in the First Division, has launched The Labor Inquirer, at Tacoma, Wash. Mr. Beadle has made a success of everything he has undertaken before, and we feel assured he will make a go of his new venture.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

The "Man's Store."
We Close at 5 p. m. Saturdays, 9 p. m.
"Like buying Government Bonds below par."

"M. S. M." Summer Clothing is the best possible investment you could make at regular prices—and buying these suits at trade-making prices is just like buying government bonds below par.

Suits worth $10....$7.75
Suits up to $15.....$9.75
Suits up to $18....$13.75
Suits up to $22.50..$16.75

D. J. KAUFMAN, 1005-7 Pa. Ave.

AN INNOCENT ABROAD.

One of Our Staff Writes of Conditions in Stogieville.

WHEELING, W. VA., July 23, 1903.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

I found on arriving here that every machinist in this district was out on a strike, and I have been endeavoring to get a settlement for the strikers, having been sent here by the I. A. M. to look out for the strikers' end of it.

The machinists in this section have to deal on the one hand with the wealthy iron and steel manufacturers and on the other the great powerful railroad combinations, and the rapid growth of their organization and the great improvements they have brought about in trade conditions speaks volumes for those who are at the head of the union. Striking in one of the big trust mills is far different than "walking out" of a print shop.

The Wheeling typos have just been given an increase of 2½ cents per hour. Machine men work 8 hours; book and job men 8½ hours. The new scale went into effect on July 12, and on and after January 1, 1905, 8 hours will constitute a day's work in all branches of the business. The new scale also gave the job men a raise of 50 cents a week. I had the pleasure and honor of addressing the members of No. 79, at which meeting I met Organizer T. H. Dolan, of Pittsburg, Pa., who was sent here by President Lynch to meet the publishers. He succeeded in getting a compromise, both sides being apparently willing to make concessions. There are four daily papers here, two morning and two evening, and they all rank with the average daily papers. There are about 100 typos here, and every man in the city is a card man. W. T. G. Miller (who by the way was defeated for delegate by one vote at the last election) is the president, his father being a well-known G. P. O. employe. Elmer Carlin, who represented Wheeling Union at Boston convention, is foreman of the Register. Of course I lost no time in making myself acquainted with the foremen. I. N. Wycoff, who represented Wheeling at Milwaukee, Wis., is holding down a machine on the News, and Joe A. Weitzel, who is the delegate-elect from here, also works on the News. R. R. Johnson, who went from here to the Birmingham convention, is a machine man on the Register. He requested me to remember him to the Birmingham delegation, and especially my old friend, Charley Graff. J. W. White, who is now nearly 70 years of age, and who worked in the old Second Division under "Colonel" Drake, during Benedict's first administration, desires to be remembered to all the old timers in the G. P. O.

Now a word or two about the city of Wheeling as an industrial city. Pittsburg, Pa., is known as the greatest city for iron and steel industries, still Wheeling holds her own for a small city, the population of Wheeling being somewhere in the neighborhood of 50,000. The city is situated in the valley of the Upper Ohio, which, while not famed as are the valleys of the Rhine and Hudson, not characterized by the placid beauty of the St. Lawrence, or the rugged and wild picturesqueness of the Colorado or the Columbia, yet the valley of the upper Ohio possesses charms of scenery peculiarly its own, and one who travels by rail along the river's edge, or makes his journey by water south from the confluence of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers, is at once inclined to admit that the appellation of "La Belle Riviere" bestowed by the early French explorers was not given in any outburst of fulsome flattery, but was rather a moderate recognition of the natural charms of the great valley. This part of the country is the "Switzerland of America." Industries of every character are located here—iron and steel (which are now a part of the United States steel corporation, one of their largest plants being located here), glass factories, potteries of every description, and tobacco factories. In a word, Wheeling is enjoying her portion of the general good times, there being plenty of work in all the great manufacturing industries for every man who wants to work. Coal mining is also one of the industries carried on here to a large extent. I went down in one of the mines recently, and saw how and under what conditions the poor miner had to work. Next to getting up that deadly average on the "Spess," it was the hardest kind of work I ever saw—cold, damp, dark, and sometimes knee deep in water. But if I had to write the history of Wheeling, I would simply say, "a great manufacturing city, horrible drinking water, very dirty streets, and beautiful women."

F. C. ROBERTS.

The Savings possible at
S. Kann, Sons & Co.
8th St.—THE BUSY CORNER—Pa. Ave.
are such as may be counted in the pocket. At the same time styles and qualities are unexcelled.

Manhattan Table Lunch, 12 to 1, 10c

ED. E. WALSH
All leading brands of
Whiskies, Wines and Cigars
309 G STREET NORTHWEST
Clark's Maryland Rye and Heurich's Beers a Specialty

YOU KNOW
Just what you have to pay in the Tribe of Ben Hur—$15 per year on a policy ranging from $500 to $1,500. Half certificate for $7.50 annually. A postal will bring literature.

HENRY E. CROUCH, Deputy, 424 Fourth St. N. E.
ALBERT P. E. DOYLE, Scribe, 21 O St. N. E.

GEO. W. BARRY COAL CO.
Coal in any quantity at the right price and Wood also.
14-16 H N.E. One minute from G. P. O. Telephone East 234.

D. STRAUSS,
Clothier, Hatter and Furnisher
441 Seventh Street N. W.,
Washington, D. C.

Dorsch Bros.' Bread
Bears the Union Label
Insist on Dorsch Bros.' Bread because—first, it carries the Badge of Labor; second, there is None Better; and third, it is sold at a workingman's price—Four Cents.
SOLD EVERYWHERE AT
4c THE LOAF 4c

A. & P. BEST ELGIN BUTTER, 27 CENTS.
Finest Grades of Teas and Coffees.
Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, Cor. 7th and E.

Cabin John Bridge
MOST BEAUTIFUL PLEASURE RESORT IN AMERICA
A Wealth of Amusements
Band Concerts Every Evening and Sunday Afternoons
Beauty Health Pleasure
Union Men Only Engaged
TAKE METROPOLITAN CAR

Where Are We At?

Labor Editor—That daily never loses a chance to find fault with labor organizations and their methods.

Thoughtful Subscriber—But it employs union men and pays the scale, and you have no right to find fault with its opinions. An editor should have the right to think as he pleases so long as he pays the scale.

Labor Editor—Well, I hire union men and pay the scale, yet I think this daily should be fair in talking about unions as it is in dealing with them.

Thoughtful Subscriber—I have been a constant paying subscriber to your paper, but in view of the way you treat this daily for its attacks on organized labor you may stop my paper.

Woodward & Lothrop,
DEPARTMENT STORE.
TENTH, ELEVENTH, AND F STS. N. W.

WHERE THE HALF-TONES ARE MADE
THE NATIONAL ENGRAVING COMPANY.
INCORPORATED.
14th St. and Pa. Ave. Phone 1679 Main.

Floor Coverings Exclusively
We sell nothing but high-grade floor coverings—goods of a kind and quality that this house has been famed for for two generations and more.
Carpets and Rugs cleaned and stored
Giddings & Steele, 813 Pa. Avenue

J. E. BONINI'S
BUFFET AND CAFÉ,
727-729 N. Capitol Street.
MAERZEN BEER ON TAP.
A first-class Lunch Counter. Sea food in season. Union throughout.

T. HOLLANDER
Men's Furnishings
Hats and Shoes
COR. N. CAPITOL AND H STS.
Opposite Government Printing Office

Cole & Swan
Large assortment of Watches, Diamonds, and Jewelry (we make and repair anything in this line).
"Square Dealing" our motto.
21 H Street N. W.

CARL E. WILSON
Late Palmer House Barber Shop, Chicago, Ill.
White Union Barbers | 315 G ST. N. W. | Cooled by Electric Fans
H. A. POLEN
Late Manila, Philippine Islands

Indian Head Trips | Marshall Hall
STR. CHARLES MACALESTER
EVERY THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY AT 6.30 P. M.
Appointments first-class. All amusements.
MARSHALL HALL:
Daily at 10 a. m., 2.30 and 6.30 p. m.
Sundays, 11 a. m., 2.30 and 6.30 p. m.
Fare (Round Trip), 25 Cents.
FOR MOUNT VERNON,
(Home and Tomb of Washington). Daily, 10 a. m. and 2.30 p. m (Sundays excepted).

THE RIGGS NATIONAL BANK
Of Washington, D. C.
Capital - - - $1,000,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits, 1,000,000
Exchange on England, Ireland, France and Germany. Letters of credit available in all foreign parts. Bank Collections. Orders for investments. Stocks and Bonds.

J. GEORGE SMITH
(Formerly a member of the firm of R. P. Andrews & Co.)
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
PAPER AND STATIONERY
My old friends and patrons from J. C. Addison's time to the present will be welcome. I can supply all your needs at lowest prices consistent with quality.
626 E STREET NORTHWEST

SAMUEL C. PALMER
Manufacturer of
Soda and Mineral Waters
IN FOUNTS, SYPHONS AND BOTTLES
SODA WATER SYRUPS
OF ALL FLAVORS
Phone West 190
Depot, 1066-8 32d Street N. W.

Melville Club
Old Rye Whiskey
It's Pure and Fine. $1 Full Quart
"Driver's Rye Cordial" cures coughs and colds, composed of old rye whisky and pure rock candy, $1 per bottle. Driver's Favorites, the best 5c. cigar obtainable. Union hand-made cigars a specialty. At the bar try Driver's Famous Cocktails. Melville Club Whisky at the bar, 10c.
Geo. W. Driver
605 PENNA. AVE.

THOMAS WALSH
Formerly "Steve" Caldwell's.
Whiskies and Cigars
Specialties: MELVALE AND SHERWOOD
COOL LAGER BEER ON DRAUGHT.
BILLIARDS AND POOL
Billiards, 40c. per hour. Pool, 2½c. per cue.
THOMAS WALSH
407 Tenth St. Northwest

E. F. PRICE & CO.
Strongest flat opening blank book made.
Ruling and Binding of every description.
A Specialty of FINE BANK WORK.
BOOKBINDERS 1108 E St. N. W.

G. P. O. BICYCLE REPAIR CO.
ARTHUR D. BENNETT
MANAGER
Wheels stored, cleaned, and repaired (per month)..... $1.00
Wheels stored and cleaned (per month)..... .75
Wheels stored (per month)..... .50
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty
Bicycle Sundries
Salesroom, 33 H St. N. W.

300 1-lb. Loaves to the Barrel.
Every Laboring Man
—requires pure, wholesome, nourishing food such as is made of—
Cream Blend Flour
It not only makes THE BEST Bread, Rolls, Cake and Pastry, but more of them than other brands—therefore it's the cheapest that money can buy.
Your Grocer will supply you.
B. B. EARNSHAW & BRO., Wholesalers,
1105, 1107, 1109 11th Street S. E.
1000 and 1002 M Street S. E.

DO YOU USE TOILET PAPER?
If so, investigate the service furnished by
R. P. Andrews & Co.,
INCORPORATED
627-629 LOUISIANA AVE. N. W.
THE WHOLESALE PAPER HOUSE
IT WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

A Union House Patronized by Union Printers You Will Meet The Craft Here.
HAIGHT'S
HOTEL AND RESTAURANT
1008-10-12 E Street Northwest
One block from Columbia Theater
Rooms Newly Furnished For Men Only

HOTEL FRITZ REUTER
Rathskeller and Restaurant.
COR. PA. AVE. AND JOHN MARSHALL PLACE
Phone: East 388.

Ebbitt House
Washington, D. C. H. C. BURCH, Mgr.
HEADQUARTERS
International Typographical Convention
Telephone 3662-Y

AMREIN'S
FAMOUS ICE CREAM
HAS NO EQUAL
Stores, 1426 and 1810 7th St. N. W.

Equitable Industrial Insurance
COMPANY
Life Insurance for Industrial Classes
Claims paid to date, $221,187.00
WM. A. BENNETT, General Superintendent
605 F STREET NORTHWEST

B. F. WARNER
FINE WINES and LIQUORS
BLUE LABEL CIGARS
1219 E Street Northwest

FOR LUNCH
TRY THE
Pure Dairy Lunch
935 D Street Northwest

American Ice Co.
1437 Penna. Ave. N. W.

THE UNION
SAVINGS BANK
BOND BUILDING
Cor. 14th St. and New York Ave. N.W.

Three Per Cent Interest
on Savings Accounts.

anch Deposit Agency at
T. A. ROVER'S STORE,
Cor. North Capitol and H Sts.
OPEN EVERY MONDAY AND TUESDAY
FROM 4 TO 5 P. M.

When in doubt buy at
HOUSE & HERRMANN,
FURNITURE, CARPETS, DRAPERIES, ETC.
N. E. Corner Seventh and I Streets N. W.

Don't Buy a Hat
Without the Label. .
And See that It Is Sewed In.

Don't Patronize a Dealer Who Has Loose Labels on Hand and Offers to Put One in Your Hat.
LOOSE LABELS
In Retail Stores
ARE COUNTERFEITS.
The John B. Stetson Co., of Philadelphia, Pa., is a non-union concern.

EDWIN F. PRICE
(Late member of the firm of E. F. Price & Co.)
Bookbinder
Ruling and Binding of every description.
Strongest Flat-Opening Blank Book Made.
A Specialty of Fine Bank Work.
Darby Bldg., 506-508 Fourteenth St. N. W.

St. Asaph Commission Rooms,
Old Established and Reliable.
Trains leave Thirteen and one-half street and Pennsylvania avenue—Alexandria, Mt. Vernon, and Washington Railway—daily at 12.45, 1.05, 1.25, 2, 2.30, 3.02, and 3.30. Return .39, 4.24, 5.02, 5.58, and at various intervals.

The Hub Furniture Co.,
The Stores that Save You Money.
OUR MOTTO—The Best Values in Furniture and Carpets at the Lowest Prices.
Cash or Credit.
HUB FURNITURE CO.,
(Formerly Wash B. Williams)
Corner Seventh and D Streets N. W.

CELTIC CLUB WHISKY
Our Specialty. Never Changes. Once Tried You'll Always Use It. Take No Substitute.
Ports and Sherries for family use, Quarts, 50 and 75 cents. All makes of Beer. Leading brands of Cigars. Ales and Porters on draught the year round.
JOHN CONNOR
New Jersey Ave. and G Sts. N. W.

J. WILLIAM LEE,
Undertaker and Livery, . . .
322 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

HECHT & CO.,
515 and 517 Seventh street N. W.
ARE UNFAIR
TO
Organized Labor.
Retail Clerks, No. 262.

Yale Laundry
DECLARED UNFAIR
BY THE R. A. LANIS ASSOCIATION
The "Yale Steam Laundry" prefers "scabs" to do their steam fitting. Where do you and your friends have your washing done? Help the Union Steam Fitters by refusing your patronage to the Yale Laundry.
R. A. LANIS ASS'N OF STEAM FITTERS
March 10, 1903. L. B. No. 10, N A

CHESAPEAKE BEACH
Only Salt Water Resort Near Washington
MAMMOTH BOARD WALK
LINED WITH AMUSEMENTS
Finest Salt-water Bathing, Fishing, Crabbing, Sailing, Dancing.
HALEY'S BAND
See Schedule under Railroad Time Tables in all Daily Papers.

Union Directory.

TO SECRETARIES: Please notify this office of any change in officers' addresses, time or place of meeting. Corrections will be made quarterly.

American Federation of Labor—Headquarters, Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Sam'l Gompers, President. Frank Morrison, Secretary.

Allied Printing Trades Council meets last Thursday in the month at Typographical Temple. J. A. Wiedman, Secretary-Treasurer, 15 I street northeast.

Allied Label League meets every Friday night at 8 o'clock at 905 E street northwest. C. A. Pfau, Secretary, 905 E street northwest.

Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, Local No. 148, meets second and fourth Thursday evenings at 922 Pa. avenue northwest. Geo. Bakersmith, Secretary, 3315 Brightwood avenue northwest.

Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, Local Union No. 102, meets first and third Wednesdays at Loehl's Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. Wm. H. Whiting, Secretary, 639 K street southwest.

American Society Plate Engravers meets first Saturday in each month at Grand Army Hall. A. C. Ruebsam, Secretary, Bethesda, Montgomery County, Md.

Bakers Union, No. 118, meets first and third Saturday in each month at 430 Eighth street northwest. John G. Schmidt, Secretary and Business Agent, 333 I street s w.

Bakers' Drivers' L. U. No. 33, T. D. I. U. meets first and third Thursday evening of each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Thomas C. Fox, Secretary, 922 Fourth street northeast.

Bartenders' League Local No. 75, meets first and fourth Sunday of each month at 2 p. m. at Macabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. Jere F. McCarthy, Secretary, 1017 Maryland avenue southwest.

Beer Drivers' and Stablemen's Union, No. 234, meets first Sunday of each month at 314 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. A. D. Manger, Secretary, 209 Sixth street southwest.

Bookbinders' Union, No. 4, meets first Tuesday in each month at Typograhical Temple. James A. Stockman, Secretary, 735 North Capitol street.

Brewery Workers' Union, No. 118, meets second and last Sunday of the month at 314 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. Frank Rom, Secretary, 818 New Hampshire avenue n. w.

Bricklayers' Union, No. 1, meets second and fourth Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Milford Spohn, Secretary, Typographical Temple.

Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators, and Paperhangers, Local Union, No. 368, meets every Friday night at 430 Eighth street northwest. G. J. Murray, Secretary, 1107 South Carolina avenue southeast.

Cab and Carriage Drivers' Union, No. 486, meets first and third Sundays, at Butler's Hall, 609 C street northwest. W. B. Nelson, Secretary, 922 I street northwest.

Carriage and Wagon Workers' International Union, Local No. 72, of Washington, D. C., meets first and third Fridays at 902 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. John H. Brinkman, Secretary, 1729 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Carpet Upholsterers, No. 85, U. I. U., meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at 516 Ninth street northwest. John Devlin, Secretary, 363 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

Central Labor Union meets every Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Typographical Temple. Charles W. Winslow, Secretary, 425 G street northwest. Residence, 3206 Wisconsin avenue northwest.

Ceramic, Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers and Helpers' International Union, No. 2, meets first and third Thursdays at 609 C street northwest. W. F. Miller, Secretary, 1228 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Cigarmakers' Local Union, No. 110, meets every Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Bielig's Hall, 737 Seventh street northwest. Henry B. Wissner, Secretary, 3143 Dumbarton avenue.

Columbia Lodge, No. 174, International Association of Machinists, meets every Wednesday night at McCauley's Hall, 209 Pennsylvavenue southeast. E. L. Adams, Secretary, 600 Ninth street northeast.

Columbia Typographical Union meets third Sunday in each month in Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. W. M. Garrett, Secretary.

Council Allied Building Trades of Central Labor Union meets every Tuesday night at Room 10, Typographical Temple. E. J. Ratigan, Secretary.

Douglass Association of Steam Engineers, I. S. U. E., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of the month at 609 F street northwest. J. W. Webb, Secretary, 341 Maryland avenue southwest.

Electrotype Molders and Finishers' Union, No. 17, I. S. and E. U. Charles W. Dean, Secretary.

Federal Labor Union No. 8193, meets fourth Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Miss Emma A. Miller, Secretary, 1011 First street n. w.

Fire Department Employees, P. and B. Union No. 8846, meets every Wednesday morning at 11 a. m., at Union Veterans' Hall, 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. G. Achstetter, Secretary, 206 N. Y. ave. northwest.

Gas Workers' Union No. 10343, Samuel H. Walker, Secretary, 735 Thirteenth street s. e.

Glass Bottle Blowers' Association, Branch 68, Alexandria, Va., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Serepta Hall. Frank Michelbach, Secretary, 803 King street, Alexandria, Va.

Hospital Attendants' Protective Union No. 8097, meets first and fourth Saturday nights of each month at Masonic Hall, Anacostia, D. C. C. W. Teates, Secretary, 434 Jackson street, Anacostia, D. C.

Hodcarriers, Brick and Mortar Wheelers' Union No. 9468, meets first and third Monday evenings in each month at Cadets' Armory, 708 O street northwest. Dennis Brown, Secretary, 1237 Fourth street northwest.

Ice Wagon Drivers and Helpers, Local No. 430, meets first and third Tuesdays in each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest (third floor). William Donaldson, Secretary, 812 Seventh street southwest.

International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, Local Union No. 5, meets every Friday night at Seventh and N streets northwest. Charles E. Barbour, Secretary, 1212 Potomac street northwest.

International Association of Machinists, Headquarters, rooms 82-85 Corcoran Building Fifteenth and F streets northwest. James O'Connell, president; D. Douglass Wilson, vice-president and editor of the Journal; George Preston. Secretary-Treasurer.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.—Headquarters, Rooms 103-104 Corcoran Building. H. W. Sherman, Secretary.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 26, meets every Thursday night at Hotel Royal Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. S. F. Adams, Secretary, 724 Eighteenth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 148, meet every Monday night at 430 Eighth street northwest. H. B. Anderson, Secretary, 807 Eighth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, No. 257, meets every Friday evening at 719 Sixth street n. w. M. G. Bundick, Secretary, 1107 Tenth street n. w.

Interior Marble and Slate Cutters' and Setters' Association, No. 5, meets first and third Wednesday of each month at Arion Hall, 430 Eighth street northwest. George Edmonds, Secretary, 423 Queen street, Alexandria Va.

International Association of Marble Workers No. 33, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at 106 I street northwest. Lew Davis, Secretary, 106 I street northwest.

International Union of Steam Engineers— Local Union No. 99, meets every Wednesday evening at 419 Tenth street northwest. A. W. Leeke, Recording Secretary, Twelfth and B streets northwest.

International Brotherhood of Firemen, Local No. 63, meets every Tuesday night at J. F. Heare's Hall, 404 Eighth street northwest. Louis S. Crown, Secretary. 637 K street northeast.

International Alliance Stage Employees, Local No. 22, meets first and third Sundays of every month at 625 Louisiana avenue northwest. J. Shilling, Secretary, 1208 Bladensburg Road.

Iron Molders' Union, Local No. 215, meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at Masonic Hall, Fourth street and Pennsylvania avenue southeast. Joseph Stewart, Secretary, 3413 N street northwest.

I. U. S. E., Hoisting and Portable, Local 77, meets every Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, Heare's Hall, 404 Eighth street northwest. W. H. Radcliffe, Secretary, 812 Four-and-a-Half street southwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 239, meets first and third Wednesdays in each month at 737 Seventh st. northwest. Theo. A. Leckert, Secretary, 1210 Florida avenue northwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 305, meets first and third Monday evenings at 503 G street northwest (barber shop). Charles A. Thomas, Secretary, 817 E street northwest.

Journeymen Horseshoers' Union, No. 17, meets first and third Wednesday of each month at Costello's Hall, Sixth and G streets northwest. W. S. Lusby, Secretary, 708 Eighth street southwest.

Journeyman Tailors of America, No. 188, meets first and third Saturdays of each month at 8 o'clock p m., Labor Bureau Hall. Ignatius Geraci, Secretary, 917½ E street northwest.

Journeyman Plumbers and Gas Fitters' Local Union, No. 5, meets second and fourth Tuesday evening of each month at Maccabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. A. E. Anderson, Secretary, 1312 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Journeymen Stone and Marble Cutters' Union, meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Irondall Hall. Harry Bouche, Secretary, 72 H street northeast.

Laundry Wagon Drivers No. 467, W. W. Foster. Secretary, 95 Myrtle street northwest

Mail Bag Workers' Union, 10504, meets every Saturday at 721 Sixth street northwest Miss A. Cross, Secretary, 321 Lincoln street, Anacostia, D. C.

Marble Mosaic and Granito Workers No. 8902, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at 1400 D street northwest. G. B. Cinotti, secretary.

Metal Trades Federation of North America, Room 134 Corcoran Bldg., James O'Connell, President. E. J. Lynch, Secretary.

Milk Wagon Drivers' Union, No. 349, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at 8 p. m., at Hotel Royal (second floor), Seventh and N streets northwest. W. T. Trittipoe 1359 U street northwest.

Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers' Helpers, Local Union, No. 12, meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Arion Hall, 430 Eighth street northwest. S. Becket. Secretary, 401 E Street southeast.

Musicians' Protective Union, No. 161. meets first and third Sundays at 2 p. m., at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Linden, jr Secretary, 1364 E street southeast.

National Alliance Theatrical Stage Employes meets first and third Sunday in each month at southwest corner of Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, third floor. J. P. Shilling, Secretary, 1208 Bladensburg Road.

Negative Cutters Union, meets second Wednesday in each month at 921 F street northwest. Clarence W. Schroeder, Secretary, 640 E street southeast.

Oil Wagon Drivers, No. 296, meets second Wednesday of each month at Oppenheimer's Hall, 514 Ninth street northwest. A. J. Dixon, Secretary, 1234 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Operative Stonemasons' Union, No. 2, meets first and third Monday evenings at 609 C street northwest. James Lanigan, Secretary, 930 G street southwest.

Paperhangers' Local Union No. 420, B. of P., D., and P., meets every Wednesday evening, 625 Louisiana avenue, n. w. J. Franklin Page, Secretary.

Pattern Makers' League meets at Weller's Hall, Eighth and I streets southeast. first and third Wednesday. James B. McAlwee, Secretary, 907 E street southeast.

Photo-Engravers' Union, No. 17, meets first Monday in each month at 417 Eleventh street northwest. F. C. Betts, Secretary, Kensington, Md.

Printing Pressmen Union, No. 1, meets first Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. W. C. Deane, Secretary. 19 Grant Place.

Plate Printers Union, No. 2, meets at Maccabee Temple, Ninth street n. w., the fourth Tuesday in each month. J. P. Murphy, Secretary, 1416 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

Post-Office Clerks, No. 9834, meets the second Saturday of each month at Twelfth and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. B. Corridon, Secretary, 1733 North Capitol street.

Registered Drug Clerks' Union, District of Columbia, meets second and fourth Fridays at Jolly Fat Men's Hall, 933 D street northwest. Fred T. Hafelfinger, Secretary, 1110 Fourteenth street northwest.

Retail Clerks' Union, No. 262, meets second and fourth Mondays of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Joseph Moser, Recording Secretary, 624 I street northwest.

Retail Grocery Clerks' Union, No. 533, meets every Thursday evening at Society Temple, 5th and G streets N. W. Alfred Fuss, Secretary, 802 D street s. e.

Slate and Tile Roofers' Union, No. 10421, meets every Monday night at 922 F street northwest. J. C. Huddleson, Secretary, 2147 Pennsylvania avenue northwest,

Soda and Mineral Water Wagon Drivers, No. 372, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at Bessler's Hall, 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. P. Connor, Secretary, 1111 Sixth street southwest.

Steam Fitters, R. A. Lanis Association, L. B. No. 10, N. A., meets every Thursday night at 902 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. S. D. Zea, Secretary, 2108 G street northwest.

Steam and Hot Water Fitters' Helpers, Local Branch, No. 28, N. A., meets every Friday at 8 o'clock p. m., at 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Thomas F. Flanagan, Secretary, 38 G street northeast.

Stereotypers' Union. No. 19, of Washington D. C., meets second Monday of each month at Typographical Temple. 423-425 G street northwest. D. J. Murray, Secretary, 35 R street northwest.

Stone Laborers' Union, No. 9013, meets first and third Friday of each month at Eleventh and Q streets northwest. Daniel Lahey, Secretary. 1003 A street southeast.

Telephone Operators, No. 9914, meets third Saturday of each month at Schmidt's Hall. 516 Ninth street northwest. Edna Earl Bobb, Secretary, 924 Pennsylvania avenue southeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, Local Union. No. 190, meet every Friday evening at the Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. C. H. Scherer, Secretary, 936 Fourth street northeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 884, meets every Monday night at 904 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Torney, Secretary, 141 Jefferson street, Anacostia, D. C.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 1103, Mill and Bench Hands, meets every Friday at 8 p. m., at 514 Ninth street northwest. Peyton Wilkerson, Secretary, 816 G street southeast.

United Brotherhood of Leather Workers on Horse Goods, No. 87, meets every second and fourth Tuesday, 513 Twelfth street northwest. H. J. Laubach, Secretary, 72 H street northeast.

Upholsterers' Local Union, No. 58, meets second and fourth Thursdays of each month at 416 (fourth floor) Ninth street northwest. T. R. Bowie, Secretary, 1306 Riggs street northwest.

Washington Branch, Granite Cutters' National Union, meets every second and fourth Mondays in each month at 1204 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Wm. Silver, Secretary, 49 Massachusetts avenue northwest.

Washington Feeders and Assistants' Union, No. 42, meets the first Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street n. w. D. I. Leane, Secretary, 702 H street northeast.

Washington Lodge of Machinists, No. 193, meets every Thursday night at southwest corner of Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. Herbert Wyatt, Secretary, 111 Seventh street southeast.

Wood, Wire, and Metal Lathers' Local Union, No. 9, meets every Monday night at Hare's Hall. Eighth and D streets northwest. J. C. Maloney, Secretary, 124 G street n. w.

A FIGHT TO A FINISH.

Organized Labor Will Not Let Up on the Scab Los Angeles Times.

[Special Correspondence.]

LOS ANGELES, CAL., July 20, 1903.

On August 10 the International Typographical Union will meet in annual convention at Washington, D. C. No doubt one of the chief topics of discussion will be the fight that is now being so successfully waged against the notorious Los Angeles Times. As is generally known, every union printer in the United States and Canada is paying a per capita assessment of 5 cents a month, the fund thus raised being used to conduct the fight against the Times. It is believed that the mere fact that organized labor is prepared to fight the Times indefinitely will have a tremendous effect on that paper, which is now making a losing fight, with the battle just begun. Since the International Typographical Union took charge of the contest 137 advertisements have been withdrawn from the Times.

Union men and women all over the country have rendered magnificent service by writing letters to advertisers asking that they withdraw their patronage from the notorious Times. They can continue the good work by writing a letter to each of the following advertisers:

Munyon, H. H.—Remedy Company, 53rd and Jefferson street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Royal Baking Powder Company, 100 Williams street, New York, N. Y.

Philo-Hay Specialties Company—Newark, N. J.

Castoria—The Centaur Company, 77 Murray street, New York, N. Y.

Cuticura—Potter Drug and Chemical Company, Boston, Mass.

Postum—Postum Cereal Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

Scott's Emulsion—Scott & Bowne, 409 Pearl street New York, N. Y.

Wright's Indian Vegetable Pill Company, New York, N. Y.

Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate—D. Ghirardelli, San Francisco, Cal.

Write letters to the above firms, telling them that it is useless to expect working men and women to patronize any advertizer in the anion-hating Los Angeles Times.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Union Printers' Home.

The financial report of Secretary-Treasurer Bramwood to the International Typographical Union relative to the Home, and which will be read at the convention in August, shows the following receipts and expenditures, between June 1, 1902, and May 31, 1903: Total receipts, $68,002.07; of which sum there has been expended on buildings, $14,883.21; furnishings, $4,678.63; employers' salaries, $11,217.79; food supplies, $12,545.65; pensions to inmates, $2,387.50. Among other expenditures are the following very necessary items: Heating and lighting, $2,579.02; hay and grain, $1,919.22; clothing for residents, $2,223.34; fire insurance, $1,735.71. Other items mentioned are drugs, telephone rents, telegrams, ice, postage, transportation of inmates, dentistry, books and stationery, farm implements, etc., leaving an unexpended balance of $7,168.58. The major portion of this outlay, $60,833.49, was paid out in Colorado Springs.—Colorado Chronicle.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

The Indiana legislature has made it a misdemeanor for a railroad to permit men in the operating departments to work more than sixteen hours continuously.

Representative Business Houses.
OF WASHINGTON, D. C.

The following wholesale and retail firms and professional men are friendly to Union Labor and are entitled to its patronage:

BANKS.
THE LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK,
Safe Deposit Vaults, $2.50 up
CAPITAL LOAN GUARANTEE COMPANY,
602 F Street Northwest.
Every one can borrow money without security.

BAKERS.
HOLMES & SONS,
Celebrated Home-Made Pies and Milk Bread.
First and E Streets N. W. Phone East 864.

BOOTS AND SHOES.
CROCKER'S SHOES,
939 Pennsylvania Ave. N. W.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.
DANIEL LOUGHRAN,
1347 Pennsylvania Ave.
LUCHS & BRO.,
Wholesalers.
Tom Keene 5c. Cigar. Phone E 755.

COACH FINDINGS.
J. B. KENDALL,
485-87 Missouri avenue N. W.

COAL TAR PRODUCTS AND PAPER.
E. B. WARREN & CO.,
27th and H Sts. N. W.

CUTLERY AND SPORTING GOODS.
D. N. WALFORD,
477 and 909 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

DRY GOODS.
LANSBURGH & BROTHER,
420 to 426 7th St. N. W

DYER.
E. E. WHEATLEY,
1068 Jefferson Ave. N. W. Phone, West 117-Y.

ENGRAVERS.
THE MAURICE JOYCE ENGRAVING CO.
Cuts and Illustrations. 418 11th street N. W

FIRE INSURANCE.
Insure with
THE RIGGS FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.
FIREMEN'S INSURANCE COMPANY,
Seventh St. and Louisiana Ave.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.
JULIUS LANSBURGH,
Interocean Building, 512 Ninth St. N. W.

GROCERIES.
LITTLE & PAGE,
"Good things to eat." 1210 F St. N.W
W. C. ERGOOD,
"Good goods at Ergoods."
Corner Ninth and H Streets Northwest.

GROCER AND COFFEE ROASTER.
SOMERSET R. WATERS.
1342 Seventh Street Northwest, Corner O.

HARDWARE AND TOOLS.
RUDOLPH, WEST & CO.,
1332 New York avenue northwest.

HUDSON'S VARIETY STORE.
B. F. HUDSON,
423 Seventh Street Northwest.

HATTERS AND FURRIERS.
JAMES Y. DAVIS' SONS,
1201 Pennsylvania Ave.
A. H. BURDINE,
Union Overalls, Hats, and Gloves.
Seventh Street and Virginia avenue southwest.

LIME, SAND, GRAVEL, CEMENT.
NATIONAL MORTAR COMPANY,
Office: Room 9, Ralston Bldg., 612 F St. N. W.
Office telephone: East 688.

LUMBER AND MILL WORK.
THOMAS R. RILEY,
13th St. and Ohio Ave.
THE WASHINGTON WOOD WORKING CO.,
12th and B Streets N. W. Telephone 2119-3.

MACHINISTS AND ENGINEERS,
FORSBERG & MURRAY,
Pumps and Elevators. Engines and Boilers
8th and Water Sts. S. W.

MERCHANT TAILOR.
W. A. SLADEN,
419 East Capitol Street.

PHARMACISTS.
LOUIS F. BRADLEY,
Prescription Druggist. 8th and E Sts. S. E

PHOTO-LITHOGRAPHERS.
THE NORRIS PETERS CO.,
458 and 460 Pennsylvania avenue N. W
ANDREW B. GRAHAM
Lithographer, Photo-Lithographer, and Half-Tones. 1230 Pa. Ave. Phones: 1031-M, 1679-M.

PIANO AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
E. E. DROOP & SONS,
925 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

PRINTING SUPPLIES.
NATIONAL PRINTER'S SUPPLY CO.,
Machine-made Rollers. 414 10th St. N. W.

RESTAURANT AND WINE ROOM.
JOHN M. BECKER,
Opp. Navy Yard., Cor. 8th and Georgia Ave. S.E

SHOES.
DAVE WOLF,
SHOES FOR EVERYBODY.
432 Seventh Street N. W.

SHAVING PARLORS
VINCENT R. CILENTO,
805 North Capitol Street.

TITLES TO REAL ESTATE.
LAWYERS' TITLE & GUARANTY INS. CO.
412 5th St. N. W.

WINES AND LIQUORS.
SAMUEL G. STEWART,
Heurich Brewing Co's. beers and popular brands of whiskies. 1141 Seventh st. northwest between L and M.
WILLIAM DIETZ,
1203 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest

UNION HEADQUARTERS.
ARION HALL, 430 Eighth Street N. W.
Headquarters for organizations. Strictly union.
JIM STEVENS, Proprietor.

DO NOT WANT OUR PATRONAGE.

Following brands of cigars: Cinco, Cremo, George W. Childs, Henry George, Tom Moore, Robert Burns, and General Arthur.

The following firms have declared against the interest of Organized Labor and are not regarded as deserving their patronage:

NAME.	BUSINESS.	LOCATION.
Chevy Chase Railway and circle.	Street railway	Chevy Chase and Circle.
Keenan Bros	Gents' furnishers	Pa. ave. bet. 14th and 15th sts., and 523 Seventh st. n. w.
B. Solomon	Gents' furnisher	708 Seventh street n.w.
Rufus H. Darby	Printer	508 Fourteenth street n.w.
H. L. McQueen	Printer	1108 E street n.w.
N. Sickles (Nat'l Cigar Factory).	Cigar manufacturer	1011 Penna. avenue n.w.
E. Gundershiemer	Baker	516 Second street n.w. and stalls in Center Market.
Peter Grogan	Carpet dealer	817 to 823 Seventh street n.w.
John H. Fitzgerald	Horseshoer	443 Prather's alley n.w.
S. S Daish	Coal and wood	Florida ave. and Third st. n.e.
Wilbur F. Nash	Meat dealer	Center and O st. Markets.
C. E. Hencke	Electrician	711 G street n.w.
F. J. Wheelock	Electrician	1215 G street n. e.
James A. Bennett	Tinner	2008 H street n.w.
National Mosaic Company	Mosaics	207 Fourth st. n.w.
M. Minster	Gents' furnisher	1343 F st. n.w.
A. Minster	Gents' furnisher	499 and 501 Penna. ave. n. w.
Cyrus B. Reese	Employing steamfitter	1519 Fourteenth street n. w.
C. A. Schneider & Sons	Union Iron Works	212 Twelfth street n. w.
Minster & Paterson	Gents' furnishers	1109 Pennsylvania ave. n. w.
The Famous	Gents' furnishings	437 Seventh street n. w.
Chas. A. Muddiman & Co	Gas fixtures	1204 G and 616 Twelfth st. n. w.
Conrad Becker	Trunks and harness	1328 F st. n. w.
Chapin & Sacks	Dealer in butter	924 Louisana ave. n. w.
Home Ice Company	Ice	Twelfth and V sts. n.w.
Emil Wagner	Restaurant	210 Ninth st. n. w.
W. E. Carney	Cigar manufacturer	921 G st. s. w.
Nat'l Roller & Ball Bearing Co.	Machinery	33rd and K sts. n. w.
L. Rosenberg	Clothing and shoes	911-913 Eighth st. s. e.
Corbin Thompson	Dairyman	Sharon Dairy, 324 B st. s. w.
S. D. Houck	Dealer in harness	301 Tenth street n. w.
M. Eisemann & Bro	Dry goods	1924-26 Pa. ava. and 806 7th n.w
Elite Steam Laundry	Laundry	1205 G street n.w.
Benjamin Schwartz	Gents' furnisher and tailor	337 Pa. ave. s. e.
Emrich Beef Co	Meat Dealers
John Coleman	Horseshoer	1300 36th street n. w.
Hecht & Co	Dry Goods, etc	517-519 Seventh street n. w
Charles Rauscher	Caterer	Conn. ave. and L st. n. w
Academy of Music	Theater	Ninth and D streets n. w.
Lafayette Square Theater	Theater	16th st. and Pa. ave. n. w.
E. H. Snyder & Co	Tailors	1111 Pa. ave n. w
Owen Owen	Tailor	423 Eleventh street n. w.
L. A. Downey	Tailor	433 Eleventh street n. w.
J. M. Stein & Co	Tailors	413 Eleventh street n. w
J. D. Burns & Co	Tailors	701 Ninth street n. w.
J. F. Gatchel	Tailor	604 Thirteenth street n. w.
G. Warfield Simpson	Tailor	1208 F street n. w.
E. H. Catlin & Co	Machinists	407 13½ street n. w.
Thomas Somerville & Sons	Steam Fitters' Supplies	316 Thirteenth street n. w.
Joseph Mathy	Stove dealer and tin worker.	1918 Pennsyvania avenue.
William Meehan	Saloon	943 B street n. w.

Chesapeake Beach.

Visitors to this popular resort who desire to secure sail boats, rowing boats, or who may want to put in a few hours fishing, can be supplied by A. E. Beitzell, well known as a caterer to lovers of oysters and clams at his old stand in this city, Twenty-first street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. He will be found opposite the Bathing Beach.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Glens Falls, N. Y., labor unions contemplate organizing a company to manufacture shirts and collars. The factory will be run on a co-operative plan.

Bricklayers' Executive Committee.

The following is the list of members of the Executive Committee of Bricklayers' Union, No. 1: John G. Wolfe, chairman, 1023 New Jersey avenue; W. Cronin, 1415 Thirty-sixth street northwest; Samuel Haslett, 221 South Lee street, Alexandria, Va.; John Shanahan, 2352 Eighth street northwest; John McCarten, 1237 Maryland avenue northeast.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

One of the great railroads of the world will be built in China from Canton to Hankow, 600 miles, through a teeming population.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICIAL ORGAN CENTRAL LABOR UNION, WASHINGTON BRANCH, AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Vol. VIII. No. 8. WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, AUGUST 6, 1903. Price, 3 Cents.

THE GOVERNMENT PRINTING

Some Misleading Statements in the New York Tribune Refuted.

BUSINESS METHODS PURSUED

The Tribune Makes Some Extravagant Assertions—The Printing Division and Its System—Machines Not Kept Out by the Unions—Hand Work a Necessity.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

In an endeavor by the New York Tribune, in its issue of July 30, to bring the Government Printing Office before an investigating committee, using the Miller incident as a pretext, a number of unwarranted and extravagant assertions are made. The article in question states that regulations of the union have resulted in making the Government Printing Office the most expensive institution, when compared with the returns, that the Government has to maintain. Being only a printer, I can not speak authoritatively for the entire plant. However, I can say, without fear of contradiction, that the printers give full return, and more too, for the compensation received. And my judgment leads me to believe that the other branches of the trade are equally as efficient, for they are all under the same management.

To be more explicit, it is necessary to go into details of the workings of an institution like ours, and I will give the routine of the typesetting branch. With each "take" that the compositor sets he turns in a slip like the following, properly made out:

[STAMP HERE WHEN FINISHING.]

SLUG.....

NAME .....

FIFTH DIVISION.

[Fill out blank, personally measuring each take, and turn this slip in with copy. In "Remarks" note unfinished take and distribution.]

Take .....

No. of ems (straight): .....

No. of ems (tabular): - .....

[Under this head state nature of time work. Distribution is not to be noted here, except by order of the Foreman.

Time Work.....

Remarks .....

He puts his slug number (for each compositor is identified by a number to facilitate reference, and which he places in type at the head of each piece of work he accomplishes), name, number of take, amount of ems that it measures, either straight matter or tabular, and stamps the slip on a time-clock to show when the take was finished. The copyman notes the time the take was handed out, so that a little calculation will ascertain the time consumed in setting it. It has long been the custom for each man to average not less than 6,400 ems a day for the "turn-in" (two weeks), besides keeping his cases replenished with type, a good day's work for any man on "solid" or straight matter, and no man can do his daily task by noon, as the Tribune writer asserts. When "phat" is running, such as tabular work, the printers do more than double that amount.

To use the same "instance" by which the Tribune illustrated that Government work costs from 100 to 200 per cent more than the same product in a union shop under private mangagement, I will also call attention to the census work. This work is all tabular, and records will show that the men each averaged more than a page a day (20,000 ems), which if paid by the piece would have given them twice the wages they received.

So much for quantity. Now a word as to efficiency. Proof revisers are required to make a record of exceptionally "dirty" proofs and the number of errors the compositor fails to correct. This is filed against him. Every printer strives to do the best he can, not only because he takes pride in his work, but he realizes that the most efficient is the most desirable man, the same as in private life.

Further, the Tribune says: "The continued fight of Typographical Union against the introduction of typesetting machines is another glaring example of what are termed the 'fossilized' demands of the labor organizations which have dominated the Government Printing Office heretofore." The installation of mechanical pressfeeders, folding machines, and other modern inventions refutes the idea of the unions dominating this large plant of the Government. And as for the typesetting machines, they too will be installed whenever the service will be benefited thereby. When that time comes radical changes will take place, not only in the system of work in the office, but also in the demands made upon it by the "heads of other Government departments, who are the principal customers of the big printing office," and who, the Tribune asserts, called attention to this "most expensive institution." When copy at times comes to the printing office in such condition that the copy preparer, compositor, and a proof reviser can not even guess what is wanted, to say nothing about positive knowledge, so that the Department return the proofs covered with correction marks, which necessitate much time and labor to remedy, I think that "Department heads" have little room for complaint. But, rather, I think the Public Printer ought to be the one to complain. Instead of the copy always coming thoroughly prepared from the Departments so that it can be clearly understood by the printers, much is sometimes left for conjecture. This frequently results in Department printing funds being exhausted in making departmental corrections, and also unjustly casting reflections on the business methods of the Government Printing Office. Typesetting machines on such work would only aggravate the evil, for machines such as Whitelaw Reid, who is materially interested in both the Tribune and the Mergenthaler Machine Company, would have established in the Government Office, require the resetting of the entire line that contains a correction. In other words, the whole work in some cases would have to be done over.

Not all of the Government work can be done on machines to advantage. Tabular matter, which plays such an important part in Government reports, and the facilities the great printing office has for making "pickups" on the same, can not effect a saving by being done on machine. And when it comes to setting scientific works, with small caps, italics, black type, equations, and characters foreign to the font, there may be more truth than humor in the Tribune's statement that "the introduction of typesetting machines in the modern offices of the country has completely demonstrated that as a result more men are employed in the business than before."

RAN.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

That Base Ball Game.

Our attention has been called to the error that slipped through last week, announcing the calling of the game next Wednesday, between &dy Wagner's Baltimore team and Luitich's Washington team of printers. The type made the time of calling game at "8" o'clock. It should have read "4" o'clock. Don't forget the game.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Amos Cummings Memorial Association, No. 1.

The members of the Washington Post chapel have organized an auxiliary branch of the Amos Cummings Memorial Association, for the purpose of aiding the general committee in charge of that project to secure funds for the memorial to the late Amos J. Cummings. The first meeting was held last Monday afternoon, at which time a committee on rules, consisting of H. J. Broderick, O. T. Pierce, J. T. Deloe, F. S. Lerch, and George Fleishell, were appointed. The officers chosen on that occasion were as follows: J. T. Herbert, president; John McCormick, vice president, and Chas. I. Willey, secretary-treasurer.

It is the desire of the organization to create interest in the memorial and endeavor to induce other chapels to take this matter up, and assist the general committee in its work.

GLUE AND ROLL GO SHOPPING

Labor Being a Commodity, It Should Be Treated as Such in Trade.

THE EMPLOYE HAS NO RIGHTS

The Binder and the Cigarmaker Compare Notes—The Grocer Does Not Agree with Them—A Question of Books—The Rule Does Not Work Both Ways.

Mr. Glue, a bookbinder, and Mr. Roll, a cigarmaker, live side by side. Both are union men and hard workers; so each is overburdened with wealth. A week or so ago Mr. Glue, in talking to Mr. Roll, said:

"It's a great discovery they've made at the Government Printing Office, that our union constitution and regulations are against the United States law."

"How so?" asked Roll.

"Well, according to newspaper and other opinions, it's unlawful for us as anyone else to set a limit to the amount of work a man shall do for a day's wages. All we are to do is to hammer away hard as we can all day long, do all we can, and get a certain amount of pay for it. That's the thing."

"I don't see as that's a sensible idea," said Roll. "With us we say when a cigarmaker has made so many smokes he's got to stop for the week, and he can't work more than eight hours in any day, either."

"Well, according to the wise men, that's a violation of United States law. What the law is I don't know, but I suppose they must be onto what they are talking about. But what strikes me hard is the way that discovery is going to work with other people."

"How's that?"

"Well, you see, they all claim labor is a commodity, subject to laws of supply and demand, fluctuation of prices, etc., just the same as corn, wheat, or anything else. Now, if it's the law that a laborer for a certain amount of money agreed on as a day's wages must not set any maximum limit upon the amount he produces for the money, I take it that the seller of any other commodity is likewise prohibited from putting any maximum limit on the quantity he will sell for any given sum.

"This is how it works. Say I am paid $4 a day and we in our union decide that 40 books is a good day's work. Now, I am a little livelier than some others and can make 50 while the others make 40. Our union law says I shall make only 40, and outsiders claim I should make 50, without getting a cent more money. That's the law, they say. I'm going to take advantage of that in a hurry. My grocer has been selling me 20 pounds of sugar for a dollar. I'm going to make him give me 25 pounds for the same money. If I've got to make 10 books for nothing, he'll have to give me 5 pounds of sugar for nothing. What's fair for me is fair for him."

"Bet you don't get your extra sugar."

"Well, if I don't I'll have the law on him. I don't propose to be forced to do what other people avoid, if it's the law. Anyhow, as I've taken a few days off, I'm going to test this thing all along the line. We have plenty of money, so let's go out together tomorrow and demand our legal rights."

"All right," said Roll, and they separated for the night.

Next morning after business opened up they went down in the retail section. The grocer was the first man tackled. Mr. Glue, with sober earnestness, asked for the dollar's worth of sugar, and was told 20 pounds would be the quantity.

"But I want 25 pounds for my money. You have barrels of it and can easily put in the other 5 pounds, because I want it."

"I see no reason why I should give you 5 pounds of sugar," said the grocer.

"Well, you are violating the law if you don't," replied Mr. Glue.

"How so?" asked the grocer.

"Well, it's this way. Out at the shop we agreed to make 40 books for a day's wages, but as I can make 10 more a day, it seems to be the universal opinion that I should make them and not get a cent more for it. They argue that it is wrong, un-American, and contrary to United States law for me or anybody else to set a mark on the amount of work to be done for a day's wages and not allow anyone to go beyond it. If that is unlawful it strikes me that you are violating the law in refusing to give me 25 pounds of sugar for $1 when you have it on hand and can do so as well as not."

The grocer looked at Mr. Glue with a sidewise glance, as if doubting the sanity of his customer. Having had dealings with him for a long time and heretofore having found him a sensible sort of individual, he could hardly believe his senses. However, he came back:

"Oh, that's different. That rule you speak of applies only to labor and not to business transactions. Why, you know as well as I do that I can't get more than a certain amount of goods for a given sum of money, and when I sell again I must add a percentage to the cost price to cover my expenses and profit. So I am compelled to put a maximum limit on the amount of goods I sell for a dollar. I couldn't run my business any other way. But when you give your extra work you don't lose anything, so you can afford to do it."

"Well, I can't understand that," answered Mr. Glue. "You say I can give extra and lose nothing, while you can't; that if I refuse to give the extra I violate the law, while you are strictly within your legal rights in the same sort of refusal. I'll have to study this matter over."

Glue and Roll left the grocery considerably disappointed. Their first effort at enforcement of legal rights was evidently a rank failure. Discussing the matter they came to a newspaper office.

"Here's where I get action on my rights," said Glue. "Every day lately this paper has been hammering away at the iniquity of our constitution and limitation regulation. I want to see how it goes here. Let's go in and talk advertising."

They entered the business office and called for the advertising manager. He received them courteously.

"I want some advertising space in your paper for the next month, and came in to get your rates," he said.

The prices were given him for the various classes of advertising.

"Well, I see you want $100 for 40 lines daily for a month. I want 50 lines for the same money."

"That's impossible," said the man behind the counter. If you want more lines you will have to pay more money."

"But don't you know you are violating the United States law in making such a demand?" asked Mr. Glue.

"I can't see it," said the advertising man.

"Well, then, read this in your own paper. Here it is said regarding the bookbinders that they are violating the law when they say a man shall do only so much work in a day; that it is contrary to common sense and good citizenship to say a worker shall not do more than a certain amount. I have had it dinned into my ears for years that labor is a commodity the same as your advertising space. At one time I believed it was right to place a limit on the amount of work I would do for a day's wages, but I must have been wrong in that, for your paper says the general public will not consider it for a minute and that it is against law and common sense. If it's the law that I must make 50 books instead of 40, just because I can, then it strikes me you are compelled to give me 50 lines instead of 40 for the same money, because there is no question of your ability to do so."

The advertising man generally has no time for anything but business. He gave Mr. Glue a queer look, and then simply turned and left him. "I wonder how long since he got away from Anacostia?" he asked himself.

Mr. Glue was considerably taken back at this direct snub. However, in his career he had taken many others, so he calmly walked out of the office.

"Seems like that law don't apply anywhere but to you," remarked Roll when they reached the street.

"Well, I'm going to make another try. I've always wanted to speculate some, and as the stock market is pretty well down I think it's a good time to buy. We'll call and invest our surplus wealth with a broker."

Accordingly they wandered up on F street and entered the office of a busy man of affairs. He greeted them pleasantly, and they at once entered upon the object of their visit.

"I have $1,000 I wish to place and have come to you to have the business done. As stocks are down I want to get some at the low prices."

"Very well, I will be pleased to execute any orders you may wish to give, and charge the usual commission."

They discussed several stocks and finally reached a decision. It was agreed the broker's commission should be $40. When this had been decided Mr. Glue said:

"I guess I may as well make it $1,250, as I have the extra money to put it."

"That will cost you $10 more commission."

"How's that?"

"Very simple. You pay 4 per cent on all business I handle for you."

"But it won't take you any longer to handle the $1,250 deal than one for $1,000, and your extra charge is illegal, contrary to common sense, and un-American."

"Sir, how can you make such unwarranted assertions?"

"I only give you what I get. Out at the Bindery we say 40 books is a day's work, but the general public and newspapers say if a man can make 50 books in a day he should do so without any greater pay, and any union regulation to the contrary is illegal and un-American. On the same principle you can carry through this $1,250 deal as easily as one for $1,000. Now, if I am not to be paid any more for making 50 books than for 40, why should you receive more for the $1,250 deal than the $1,000 transaction? If my limitation is illegal, contrary to public policy, etc., why isn't yours?"

"Pardon me, but I really think you have most perverted ideas of business transactions. Labor regulations and business rules are two things which are not for a moment considered together. I couldn't remain in business a week if I was to follow the line you propose. It is utterly opposed to business principles. You must always bear in mind that for a certain sum of money you can not rightfully demand more than a certain amount of goods; likewise you can not expect to get more than a certain amount of service from a broker or other professional man for a fixed sum of money. That's business."

"But a workingman must not set any limit on the amount of service he renders for a day's wages? Does that go while everyone else can fix his limit according to pay?"

"Certainly. You see, the employer takes all the risk, and if he can secure more than the minimum amount of product from any considerable number of his employees he makes that much greater profit. The employee loses nothing, and the general public is the gainer in increased product and lower cost."

"Don't the employee lose anything? It occurs to me this way that he does: Say there are 5,000 books to be made. At the rate of 40 a day that would employ him for 125 days. If he works at great speed and makes 50 a day he will reduce the working time to 100 days, and he thus loses 25 days' work and pay. If the employer has figured on the 40 books a day basis at a profit (and they always do), it give him those 25 days' labor absolutely for nothing. The customer gets no lower price, and the only person to gain is the employer, entirely at the expense of the employee. Yet it is contended that the union is acting illegally in prohibiting the binder from making more than 40 books a day. I can't understand these things."

The broker was twisting uneasily in his chair and didn't care to reply. Finally he said: "Well, are you going to make your investment?"

"Not today. I want to get the basis of things straight. You won't work for me the same as I am to be compelled by law to work for others, and yet it seems you are right in your refusal and I am wrong. When I get straightened out in this I'll call and see you again."

"I wanted to call on more people today and try this new scheme, but I guess it's no good," said Glue. "I'm going back to my old idea. If everyone else can set a limit I believe we must also. We can get only a limited amount of anything for our money, that's sure. Hereafter I'll give only the proper portion of work for the money I get. My labor will be sold strictly on the commodity basis."

WILLIS L. HALL.

THE CENTRAL LABOR UNION

The R. A. Lanis Association of Steam Fitters to Be Disciplined.

EVERETT AMENDMENT ADOPTED

Credentials Received—Communications—Labor Day Reports—Hecht & Co. Are Still Unfair—Delegate Brinkman Denies a Report—Yale Laundry Matter.

The regular meeting of the Central Labor Union was called to order at 8 o'clock last Monday evening, President Sherman in the chair.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

CREDENTIALS.

From Local Union No. 1021, Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators, and Paperhangers of America, certifying M. Streus, S. Levy, and W. E. Sedgwick.

From Local Union No. 99, International Union of Steam Engineers, certifying Jas. M. Nessmith, Milton Snelling, James J. Breen, John Houchen, and Joseph McCrink.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Pattern Makers' Association relative to sending delegates to this body. Favorable action.

From George B. Cortelyou, Secretary Department of Commerce and Labor, acknowledging receipt of copy of resolutions adopted by this body.

From Local No. 188, Journeymen Tailors' Union, reporting favorable vote on participating in Labor Day parade. Referred to Labor Day Committee.

From Local No. 305, Journeymen Barbers' Union, stating that owing to parade occurring on morning of Labor Day, it will be impossible to participate in parade. Referred to Labor Day Committee.

From Local No. 280, Registered Drug Clerks' Association, asking that J. W. Jennings, druggist, 1142 Connecticut avenue northwest, be declared unfair. Referred to Grievance Committee.

From Local No. 240, Registered Drug Clerks' Association, stating that they would participate in the parade Labor Day. Referred to Labor Day Committee.

From Local No. 75, Bartenders' International League, reporting that favorable action was taken on question of participating in Labor Day parade. Referred to Labor Day Committee.

CALL OF UNIONS.

Delegate Brinkman, from Carriage Workers, denied that he had written to Musicians' Union, or any other union, requesting the privilege of members of the Carriage and Wagon Workers to use Chevy Chase cars from Circle to the Lake.

Grocery Clerks requested all delegates to carry back to their respective organization the fact that the Emrich Beef Company was still on unfair list.

Retail Clerks called attention to Hecht & Co., and stated that said firm was still unfair.

The amendment offered by Delegate Everett, known as section 43, was adopted.

The Contract Committee reported progress on case of Eastern Wall Paper Company, and that the case of N. Auth Provision Company had been referred to Engineers' Union, No. 99.

The R. A. Lanis Association of Steam Fitters was directed to remove its advertisement from the columns of THE TRADES UNIONIST, obey the mandates of the Central Labor Union, or withdraw its delegates.

Adjourned.

A Convention Cigar.

In almost every first-class cigar store can be seen the highly ornamented boxes bearing the union label and the green and gold inscription "I. T. U. Convention Cigar." The cigar is none other than the celebrated "Deer Head" manufactured by H. T. Offterdinger, which is sufficient recommendation as to its merits. This house, noted for its good will toward organized labor, pays a tribute to the International Typographical Union which will be appreciated by the rank and file.

In Germany 453 piano factories make 80,000 instruments annually.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Official Organ Central Labor Union and Allied Building Trades, A. F. of L.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

The Trades Unionist Publishing Company

E. W. PATTON.....President
A. J. E. HUBBARD.....Vice-President
T. M. RING.....Secretary

Office: 441-443 G Street Northwest.

TELEPHONE EAST 15 Y.

SUBSCRIPTION

One year (in advance) - - - - $1.00
Six months (in advance) - - - - .50

Entered at the Post-Office, Washington, D. C. as Second-Class Matter.

THE TRADES UNIONIST is heartily and unqualifiedly indorsed by the Central Labor Union and the Allied Building Trades as well as by the various locals connected with the two central bodies.

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL WASHINGTON 2

Only Eight-Hour Union Office in Town.

"I would as soon think of doing business without clerks as without advertising.
—JOHN WANAMAKER.

Nothing, except the mint, can make money without advertising.
—GLADSTONE.

When you pay more for the rent of your business house than for advertising your business, you are pursuing a false policy. If you can do business, let it be known.
—FRANKLIN.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 6, 1903.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM.

The American Labor Union, the organ of the American Labor Union, published in the Rocky Mountain section of the West, announces with much satisfaction that its members are absolved from purchasing union-label shoes, probably because the great American Federation of Labor has succeeded in bringing about such a state of affairs that if a manufacturer wants to sell shoes he must have the label in them. This was a part of the policy of the Knights of Labor, an organization composed of large numbers, with small cohesiveness, that made some noise about 1886 and chiefly distinguished itself by its efforts to disintegrate the legitimate trade unions. Such organizations, invariably controlled by a few who are seeking their own advancement only, always fight organized labor with more zeal than they do the real enemy, and the fate of the American Labor Union will be that of the Knights of Labor—destruction by its own bad faith and treachery.

* * * *

From Mr. Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, I get the news that at last the educators of the country are learning the value of organization and already unions of school-teachers have been formed in Indiana, Illinois, California, and Texas, on practically the same lines as those of mechanics and handicraftsmen, with a view to more remunerative compensation, better facilities, and improved conditions generally. This is indeed a conversion from the ranks of the opposition, for by none in the past has the criminality of workingmen organizing for their own advantage been more generally condemned than by those who have devoted their lives to the profession of teaching—and I speak now not of college professors of the President Eliot stamp, but the under strata, whom a policy of non-organization has kept working for $20 to $50 a month where union mechanics have been receiving nearly that much per week. The acquisition of the school-teachers in the ranks of organized labor will mean more than the mere addition of their numbers, for it often takes years of effort to eradicate the seeds of scabbery sown in the impressionable soil of youth by mistaken enemies, and union teachers will teach a love of unionism with ten times the enthusiasm they taught a horror of it in the days of their own ignorance.

* * * *

Newly organized union men often permit their zeal to outrun their discretion and too frequently the ink is not dry on their charter nor half their fellow-artisans enrolled and obligated before they vote to strike, with the not infrequent outcome that they fail and go back to work with a greatly diminished ardor for unionism. "What have we got a union for if we don't strike?" they cry, not realizing that true unionism needs years of education until the unionist permits nothing to take precedence of his union in controlling his actions. President Gompers recently received a letter from the secretary of a newly formed union which had gone on strike without the advice or consent of the parent body, making demand that another organization should strike with them or they would scab them out, to which he made response in part as follows:

* * * If your use of foul epithets and your veracity are on a par with your declaration of one of your purposes they must be at a low mark. You say that unless a certain thing is done "the boys will go to scabbing on the molders." * * * A writer has said that "one who is a scab in his trade would prove a traitor to his country and is an enemy of mankind." Do you mean to tell me that the members of your union feel inclined to occupy such a position? That may satisfy your notion of it, but I hope and believe not theirs. In fact, I have still some hope that after you come to your sober senses you yourself will repudiate that you had any such thing in your mind. As far as your threat is concerned that you will do all in your power to "have the boys give you (me) the worst of it," I take that to mean that you will do all in your power to secure my retirement from the position of president of the American Federation of Labor. Let me say to you that this is the privilege of every union member, whether he is conscientious, honest, and straightforward, or whether he be a weakling, a common scold, a libeler, or one who threatens that he will become a scab. Let me add that even though in the future I may not occupy the position of president of the American Federation of Labor I shall still have the distinguished honor of being a union man, with all that it implies.

You will read this letter to Union No. —— at its next regular meeting, for I have taken such a course that if you decline some one else will read it.

The president of the A. F. of L. has manifestly lost none of his ability to express himself in forcible English. The letter was read in the union, but the members did not "go to scabbing on the molders."

* * * *

The New York Sun and New York Tribune have both been getting great satisfaction out of the Miller affair in the Government Printing Office, both having had controversies with the Typographical Union and getting the worst of it. The Tribune had a lengthy editorial one day last week, in which it facetiously and sarcastically spoke of the Bookbinders' Union as considering itself the dog, of which the Government is the tail, and otherwise waxed exceeding merry over the situation. From the fact that the Tribune is held responsible for the defeat of two Republicans for President of the United States by reason of its non-union record—in 1884, when the cry of "Boycott the Tribune and James G. Blaine," as blameless as Mr. Blaine unquestionably was for the sins of the Tribune, changed enough votes to defeat him, and in 1892, when Whitelaw Reid, its editor, was the millstone that swamped Mr. Harrison—the only defeats the Republican party has suffered since 1856—that paper will scarcely be held as a valuable adviser in political matters where the allegiance of the workingman may be endangered. As for the Sun, it has been so long an Ishmaelite in all the affairs of life that its commendation is a stigma and its censure true praise.

* * * *

The Canadian enemies of organized labor are working hard to foment dissatisfaction and discontent among the labor organizations there with the present federation of the United States and Canadian labor interests, and a few Canadian workingmen are, ignorantly or corruptly, aiding their nefarious efforts, though the overwhelming majority of Canadian unionists appreciate the community of interest of the two countries, and are loyal to the international combination. It is not anticipated that serious disaffection can be produced, and especially not by such a short-sighted policy as to attempt to make it a crime for American labor leaders to advocate movements in Canada looking to increase of wages, shortening of hours, etc. Our Canadian brothers are too far advanced to heed the advice or the suggestions of the enemy.

* * * *

The city papers are still devoting a column or so a day to the Miller case at the Government Printing Office, though probably willing enough to let the matter rest if some one of them would set the example by letting a day go by without referring to it. "The machine" is held in terrorem over the heads of the employees as the condign punishment that will be visited upon them unless they show a disposition to be good. The office authorities are well aware that there is no machine that can be used economically there, or it would have been adopted long ago, for they have never hesitated to employ any machinery in any department of the office that could be used to advantage.

Type-bar machines of the Mergenthaler class can be used profitably only on work where everything can be sacrificed to economy of time—proofreading, workmanship, everything must give way to the getting together of the greatest number of lines—and no monotype machine has as yet been brought to the necessary state of perfection. As I said before, if "the machine" were feasible in the Government Printing Office, it would be put in, and would have been long ere this. The union does not oppose the use of machinery.

* * * *

Nearly all the subordinate unions having indorsed William S. Waudby for Commissioner of Labor, the International Typographical Union undoubtedly will be asked to do so also next week, and that it will do so is beyond question. Mr. Waudby has made an enviable record for himself during a quarter of a century of membership in the typographical union, continuing his active membership notwithstanding the fact that for more than eighteen years of that time he has not been engaged at the printing trade, and might with perfect propriety have withdrawn from the oganization. As an official of the Department of Labor he has never forgotten that he is a union man, and all his work in that department has been with the one purpose of advancing the interests of unionism. With the indorsements of thousands of labor organizations filed in the Department of Commerce and Labor he has the satisfaction of knowing that not one body of organized labor opposes his appointment, nor anyone prominently connected with the labor movement—in that regard, so far as it has expressed itself, labor is a unit for him, and it has expressed itself in a manner to be characterized as "the greatest labor petition that ever was sent to the White House." It is not believed that the capitalistic influences desire his appointment, and if there is any open opposition manifested to him it can come from no other source. It may be safely relied upon that if Mr. Waudby becomes Commissioner of Labor it will be made a bureau of practical use to the workingmen, as was the intention of Congress in creating it, as it was created as the result of agitation upon the part of workingmen. The Bureau of Labor should be made what it was intended to be or it should be abolished as a worse than useless expenditure of money.

* * * *

Among the celebrated men who will be in attendance on the I. T. U. next week is Col. Joe Jackson, of St. Louis, an ex-president and an ex-delegate of St. Louis Union, and who is known to every man who ever worked in his town. (I say "his town" for obvious reasons, and for equally obvious reasons I call him "Colonel.") What a meeting there will be between him and Col. William H. Bailey, both war horses of many a convention. Along with Colonel Jackson will come Charlie Knisely and a couple of carloads of other St. Louisans.

From Chicago, in the delegation will be "Circus" McGowan, known wherever the English language is spoken (or Irish either). Among the visitors from the same city will be William Mill, who has been known as "Kicker" Mill for thirty-three and one-third years that I know of, and who used to live up to his name, but who has been in a political job for so long that I doubt whether he would know how to call a chapel meeting now.

At least two of Boston's delegates have a national fame so far as wide acquaintance goes—Percy B. S. Thayer and W. J. Thomas, of the Herald—and among the Boston visitors will be John Douglass, known in the long past as "Black Doug," to distinguish him from his cousin, also a John Douglass, surnamed "Red Doug." Mr. Douglass, who could much more appropriately have been called "White Doug" any time in the last twenty years, will be accompanied by his charming daughter, Miss Gertie.

From Baltimore we will have as delegate George P. Nichols, who has been so often a delegate that he knows all the prominent printers in the United States, and has no superior in engineering beneficial legislation—of course he would not touch any other kind—through conventions. As associate he will have Charles S. Bastian, well known in this city, and by the two Baltimore will be very ably represented. The rest of Baltimore is expected to be here from day to day during the convention.

Among the able labor editors who will be in attendance is A. E. Hill, of the Nashville (Tenn.) Labor Advocate, who publishes one of the neatest appearing and best edited papers in the whole labor field. He has many acquaintances among us who will welcome him.

Of former employees of the Government Printing Office there will be at least two among the delegates—Oscar V. Shomo, of Little Rock, Ark., and Richard N. Tarkington, Lebanon, Pa.—while among the alternates is Tom K. McNeir, of Annapolis, who will be here whether his principal comes or not.

We will undoubtedly have a bunch from New York, some of them formerly employed here (to call them "former Washingtonians" might "queer" them in New York), who know where to go to expect a good time, and Philadelphia will also contribute of her membership to swell the joyous throng.

The prospect is better than ever that we will have the greatest convention in the history of the I. T. U.

* * * *

The Washington Mirror seems to have almost lost its patience with both Columbia Typographical and the Bookbinders' unions. It is a terribly enervating thing to be scolded by the Mirror.

* * * *

Let us be real charitable toward this man Miller and forgive and forget him—till we get a good chance.

* * * *

Johnny Hinkel, who used to print here, is cutting a wide swath at Ripley, Okla., from where he sent Ed Thomas a boom book the other day. He went out there to grow up with the country, and the town at which he first located getting its full growth before he did, he moved.

* * * *

The Raleigh (N. C.) Harbinger wants the citizens to cut the weeds off the sidewalks and give the rattlesnakes a chance to sun themselves. That is true unionism for you.

* * * *

Physically, President Lynch and Secretary-Treasurer Bramwood might be considered the greater and the less, the long and the short of it, but in conducting the affairs of the I. T. U. they are both great, and, regardless of his stature, as the financial officer Bramwood is never short, while Lynch is as much a mental as a physical giant.

* * * *

From what I hear, the Washington papers are going to "throw themselves" on typographical matters next week, for the benefit of the visiting printers, and those who appreciate and want others to also appreciate good things will send copies home. As the only morning paper, the Post will have a large advantage over the others in giving reports of the proceedings, much of which will occur too late in the day for evening papers; but the Star and the Times will probably have much interesting preliminary matter and as full reports as time will permit.

* * * *

Everybody who is off duty next week should appoint himself a committee of one to help make the convention enjoyable for our visitors, whether he has been officially designated or not. The delegates and exes will have recognition because of their official standing, but there will probably be many mere sight-seers to whom we can be of much service. Every man and woman who comes here because of the convention pays a compliment to our union and should be shown all attention. They will want to see the sights and have them explained to them, and those of us who have no official duties to perform can not better employ ourselves than by becoming their guides.

* * * *

The misguided employee of the Government Printing Office—it is asserted that there are such—who wants it made an "open office" so that he can avoid paying dues probably is too short-sighted to foresee that the reduction in wages that will then occur will many times exceed the pittance that he pays in dues. The present wages there are the work of the union, and the moment there is no union favor to be sought by maintaining them there will be plenty in Congress to move to reduce and none to oppose it.

* * * *

It is well understood, of course, that printers excel in whatever they undertake, but few have followed that fact through all its ramifications. The instances of noted doctors, lawyers, and preachers, not to mention politicians, who have graduated from the case are too numerous to keep a record of and too well known to excite comment, but that we have sent out into the world successful professional baseball players may not be so well known, and so I will mention a few of them. Arthur A. Allison, now an estimate clerk at the Government Printing Office, who has worked in almost every department of the office as a compositor, in the early days of baseball was a member of the famous Forest City team of Cleveland, Ohio. Billy Hart was also for several years one of Cleveland's winning pitchers. Con Lucid, who won his spurs in the New England League about a decade ago, and who later joined the Brooklyn team, also a printer, is still connected, owning the Beaumont club, in the South Texas League.

"Speaking of baseball," you don't want to forget the game next Wednesday, at the American League Park, for the benefit of the Union Printers' Home, between the Baltimore Crescents and the G. P. O. team.

* * * *

William S. Waudby, of Rochester, N. Y., a special agent of the Bureau of Labor and a candidate for Commissioner of Labor, to succeed Carroll D. Wright, will arrive in the city this (Thursday) evening, with Mrs. Waudby. They will be domiciled at The Orleans, corner Twelfth and F streets, during the convention.

* * * *

Dr. De Witt C. Chadwick has returned from his outing at Lake Nipissing looking like a bronze statue. He was one of a party of eight, and where they were located, at the head of Lake Nipissing, there was no communication with the world except by a steam launch that brought them supplies weekly. They had all the fishing heart could long for and to pull in as many as they wanted was easy at any time. There are 40-pound muscallongs, pickerel, black bass, etc., in the greatest profusion. The Doctor visited Buffalo, where he saw Johnny Hurley, now of the Weather Service, formerly of the G. P. O.; Toronto, the Thousand Islands, etc. After August 15 Dr. Chadwick will be located at 1102 L street northwest, where his patients will find him ever attentive—a characteristic that is rapidly making him one of the most popular physicians in Washington.

* * * *

While a good deal has been written about the entertainment the Ex-Delegates are to furnish their guests on next Tuesday, but little has been said about the music on that occasion. At the lunch at Alexandria we will have the Convention Quartette, consisting of J. A. Finnegan, first tenor, who is winning an enviable reputation; Thomas L. Jones, second tenor, who is well known as a fine singer; John R. Purvis, barytone, who will not permit his delegatorial honors to prevent us from hearing his splendid work, and Ben A. Lineback, basso, whose fame is already established. We will also have several selections by the Rebew Brass Band, an organization that, under the careful and artistic training of Henry W. Weber, of the main proof room, has made a name for itself among the musical organizations of Washington. These two aggregations insure an enjoyable evening, with the brief addresses to be made by the mayor of Alexandria and others, not to mention a menu of eatables and drinkables that will make every one glad that he is there.

A. F. BLOOMER.

By the Way.

What chumps we mortals be!

In times of prosperity prepare for the other thing.

A perfectly cloudless sky would become monotonous in time.

A Government bond is a fairly good labor saving device—to the owner.

If only each contractor would turn office seeker, how easy it would be for labor to get reasonable concessions.

Andrew Carnegie has declared his purpose to die poor, and as a means to that end he is talking of starting a newspaper.

If by elastic currency is meant a currency with a string to it, and the string is not too short or does not hang too high, then we see no objection.

Isn't it a little strange that the most objectionable work or that where much drudgery is attached receives the least thanks and is most grudgingly recompensed?

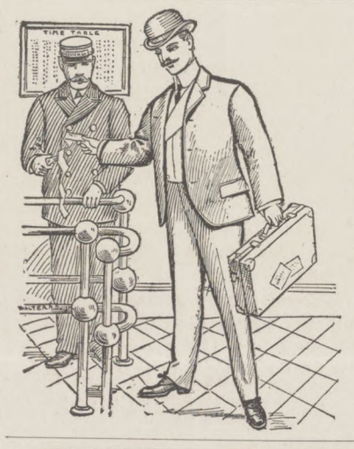
It is reported that John D. Rockefeller recently dropped $100,000,000 by a decline in stocks. We can see John now as he presses the button to indicate how that amount may be replaced.

It is one of the tricks of the trade for politicians to pay much attention to the "rank and file" until the result of the election is declared, after which the other fellows are given audience and a chance to join in the laugh.

CYCLE.

The forces being brought to bear against the Iron Molders' Union, on strike at the Canada Foundry, are largely in the hands of one man.

FOR THE BEST--
READY-TO-WEAR
—FOR—
Man, Woman and Child
AT THE MOST REASONABLE PRICES,
CONSULT—
Parker, Bridget & Co.,
Washington's Leading Outfitters, ...
Pa. Ave. and 9th St. N. W.



Union Made Cigars
OF THE FINEST QUALITY.
Pluck 5¢ | OFFTE'S BOUQUET 10¢
AFTER DINNER 5¢ | DEER HEAD 10¢
Henry T. Offterdinger, Manufacturer
504 Ninth St., N.W.

ARLINGTON BREWING CO.
ROSSLYN, VA.
BEER ALE PORTER
The Finest Productions of Skilled Union Labor. Union Label on Every Bottle and Keg of Our Goods.

THE UNION STORE

On Easy Street in Thrifty Town
There lives a grocer of renown;
From dawn of day 'till six at night
His store presents a busy sight.
The reason's plain—the unions know,
His goods are clean, that makes them go—to

H. I. MARKET
HEADER'S ODEL ODERNIZED
535-37 EIGHTH S'T. SOUTHEAST
TELEPHONE MAIN 908-A

In preparing for your vacation do not overlook the fact that one of our Blue Serge, Homespun, or Scotch Cheviot Sack Suits is indispensable if appearance and comfort is to be considered. We are showing a very large line of fabrics selected especially for outing purposes. Remember, we rank second to none in tailoring. Our garments have individuality and expression that stamps them as being "High-Grade." Get acquainted with our way of making clothes by ordering one of our Celebrated $25 Suits, made by Union Tailors.
Special sale of Trousers, $6.50 to Order.
T. E. Gilbert
IMPORTER AND TAILOR
818 F St. Northwest

Our Strictly One-Price Methods Insure Legitimate Reductions
Our Annual Mid-Summer Half-Price Clearance Sale
IS NOW IN FULL BLAST
Twice a year—mid-summer and mid-winter—we make a clean sweep of all except solid blues and blacks Men's and Boy's Suits. We do this in order to prevent any possibility of an accumulation of out-of-date patterns or styles, and we insure an absolute clearance by cutting prices CLEAN IN TWO. The sale this summer is more important than usual, as the long delayed warm weather left us with a larger stock on hand than we have had for many years. Thus you have a fuller and more complete assortment of patterns to select from at exactly half the proper prices. That you may be sure there is no exaggeration about this reduction we have left the original price tickets on every garment. The stock includes every variety of fashionable clothing for men and boys, in medium and light weights, all well-made goods, properly tailored and of correct cut.

Men's $ 7 50 Suits now.....	$3 75	All $2 50 and $3 Trousers...	$1 90
Men's 10 00 Suits now.....	5 00	All 3 50 and 4 Trousers....	2 90
Men's 12 50 Suits now.....	6 25
Men's 15 00 Suits now.....	7 50	Boys' $15 00 Long Pants Suits	$7 50
Men's 17 50 Suits now.....	8 75	Boys' 12 50 Long Pants Suits	6 25
Men's 20 00 Suits now.....	10 00	Boys' 10 00 Long Pants Suits	5 00
Men's 22 50 Suits now.....	11 25	Boys' 7 50 Long Pants Suits	3 75
Men's 25 00 Suits now.....	12 00	Boys' 5 00 Long Pants Suits	2 50

No Goods Charged at Sale Prices. Alterations, if any, will be charged at cost.
Our Guarantee back of every garment on sale.
THE BIEBER-KAUFMAN CO.
Masculine Outfitters from Childhood to Age
901-909 EIGHTH STREET S. E.

"Everyone knows how to find fault." No one has yet found fault with the
RELIABLE
The Gas Range for Summer Use
Washington Gas Light Co.
GAS APPLIANCE EXCHANGE

THE RIGGS NATIONAL BANK
Of Washington, D. C.
Capital - - - $1,000,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits, 1,000,000
Exchange on England, Ireland, France and Germany. Letters of credit available in all foreign parts. Bank Collections. Orders for investments. Stocks and Bonds.

PRINTERS and Union Members.—For First-Class Meals, Eat at
VICTOR CAFE, 3 H St. N. W.
ALBION, Eleventh and E Sts. N. W.
ERIN, Cor. N. J. Ave. and D St. N. W.
U. S. LUNCH ROOM, 320 12th St. N. W.
ALBERT T. SCANLAND, Prop.
Open Day and Night. Best Service.

Steam Cleaning and Dye Works
(Formerly New York Dye House)
I do the most perfect Cleaning and Dyeing at most reasonable rates. Goods called for and returned. C W. MARGRAF, Proprietor
Telephone 3483 Main
907 9th St. N. W., and 631 D St. N. W.

Within a year the United States has sold 253,983 pairs of shoes to British subjects.

There are in use in the United States 1,640,220 railway cars and 41,228 locomotives.

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES
OF
Columbia Typographical Union,
NO. 101.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, 423 G ST. N. W.
Office Hours: 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.; 5 to 7 P. M.

OFFICERS.

JOE M. JOHNSON.....President
DAN C. VAUGHAN.....Vice-President
WM. M. GARRETT.....Secretary
JOHN R. BERG.....Treasurer
FRANK BATES.....Sergeant-at-Arms
N. C. STOOPS.....Doorkeeper

TRUSTEES—J. E. Bright, chairman; W. L. Gutelius, Chas. C. Thompson, Joe M. Johnson, and Wm. M. Garrett.

DELEGATES TO CENTRAL LABOR UNION—J. H. Babcock, chairman; J. B. Dickman, Hugh Everett, Theodore Gerber, and C. E. Dietrich.

DELEGATES TO ALLIED TRADES COUNCIL—E. E. Calhoon, chairman; T. F. Hall, and J. P. Garner.

AUDITORS—C. W. Radley, chairman; H. G. Brown, and J. W. Carter.

COMMITTEES.

BUSINESS—Zach T. Jenkins, chairman; C. B. Yater, M. J. Maher, T. C. Parsons, and R. W. Burnside.

NOMINATIONS—W. N. Brockwell, chairman; F. A. Kidd, H. O'Donnell, Frank M. Hatley, and R. E. Stenner.

LAWS—Chas. H. Ennis, chairman; Raymond Gery, and Dexter S. Hussey.

FINANCE—John A. Huston, chairman; J. M. McLaughlin, and R. F. Chisholm.

PRINTING—T. A. Bynum, chairman; Milo Shanks, and Ed. J. Hall.

GRIEVANCE—Clint O. Price, chairman; Chas. S. Gunn, Philip Nachman, David J. Snyder, and E. Y. Fisher.

ENTERTAINMENT—T. L. Jones, chairman; J. R. Purvis, T. J. Fitzwilliam, Miss Nellie Theaker, Miss Anna Wilson, B. E. Harrison, and W. J. Harris.

CONFERENCE—J. L. Holland, chairman; D. J. Hegarty, and W. B. Shaw.

LIBRARY—Clyde J. Sheriff, chairman; A. E. Ogg, and Harry Essex.

RELIEF—Joseph G. Stelle, chairman; Wm. S. Schinnerer and E. P. Cummins.

EIGHT-HOUR—F. C. Roberts, chairman; F. B. Crown, F. D. Seiffert, Jeff Newlon, and S. H. Willey.

MEMORIAL SERVICE—S. J. Gompers, chairman; Philip S. Steele, J. E. Goodkey, J. B. Dickman, and C. B. Yater.

AMOS J. CUMMINGS MEMORIAL—J. T. Rowe, chairman; Charles T. Graff, and T. A. Bynum.

CHAIRMEN.

First Division—R. L. Mabrey.
Second Division—W. N. Goldstein.
Third Division—Burr Williams.
Fourth Division—Charles H. Gove.
Fifth Division—Charles E. Dietrich.
Sixth Division—E. M. Nevils.
Job Room—J. K. Davison.
Record Clerks' Division—H. G. Brown.
First Division, Night—Allen Cowles.
Night Proof Room—E. H. Thomas.
Specification Room—E. A. Hutchison.
Official Gazette—Jere Walsh.
Document Proof Room—Jas. R. Armstrong.
Treasury Division—W. Brice Coston.
Interior Division—C. K. Stribling.
State Division—J. B. Dickman.
Navy Department Division—Albert E. Ogg.
War Department Division—Wm. K. Miller.
Agricultural Division—Henry P. Slaughter.
Library Division—H. V. Bisbee.
Weather Bureau—L. H. Emmons.
Morning Post—H. J. Broderick.
Evening Star—Joseph C. Whyte.
Evening Times—T. C. Parsons.
Law Reporter—J. R. Johnson.
Globe Printing Co.—R. A. Wilson.
Judd & Detweiler's—A. B. Barringer.
Wilkens Printing Co.—T. N. Surguy.
Pearson's—T. F. Monahan.
National Publishing Co.—E. C. Owen.
McGill & Wallace's—J. M. Watts.
Byron S. Adams'—R. B. Boucher.
Army and Navy Register—C. H. Draeger.
General Postoffice—Joseph Williams.
Sudwarth's—F. R. Adams.

AROUND THE PRINTERIES.

Notice to Reception Committee, I.T.U. Convention.

Badges for the Reception Committee will be distributed on Thursday and Friday, August 6 and 7, at Typographical Temple, and on Saturday, August 8, at the Ebbitt House. Should any members of subcommittees be unable to go to either of the above places, the badges will be furnished by the chairmen of the subcommittees.

It is desired that all members of the Reception Committee when not on detail at the depots or steamboat wharf be present as much as possible at the Ebbitt House on Saturday, August 8, from 7 a. m. until midnight.

Z. T. JENKINS,
Chairman.

Down Town.

If you are going on the Baltimore excursion, take 8 a. m. train on B. & O. Boat leaves at 9 a. m.

Nathan Newman and Chas. L. Kojan were in the city this week making arrangements for the proper care of the members of Big Six who will be in attendance on the convention next week.

R. K. Youngblood, now with the Wynkoop-Hallebeck-Crawford Company, of Albany, N. Y., and better known as an employe of the Government in the G. P. O. under the administration of Mr. Benedict, passed through the city last Monday en route home and a visit to Bristol, Tenn.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

First Division.

Come in, delegates, and make yourselves at home. You'll find the jug, with the corn-cob stopper, behind the door.

Our "sojer boys" returned on Saturday evening from Leesburg. The line-up on Monday morning was a sunburned lot of warriors. The boys all speak well of the encampment.

After a strenuous season among the bowling alleys and on the diamond, Phil Nachman is enjoying a much needed rest (so are his alley mates) along the banks of the historic Potomac. In awhile ago he come pretty quick back again.

N. J. Lillard and M. A. Bodenhamer returned to work Saturday morning after a two weeks' vacation, spent by the former, together with his better half, at Colonial Beach, and by the latter visiting his parents at Dalton, Ga. Both report pleasant trips.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Hot Tamales and Chile at The Ranch, 507 F street n. w. Near Pension Office.

FOR RENT—Neatly furnished rooms; with or without board; free bath. 515 F street northwest.

Second Division.

Pay the lunch lady.

Max Knoble is off sick.

A. M. Le Merle is on leave.

W. L. Wilmeth will spend his leave at his home in Dallas, Tex.

Colonel Drake is still in the proof room holding copy. He likes it.

George R. Merriam left for the Green Mountains to rest up for a month.

Jack Childress will spend his leave out in the country near Washington.

Bob Doering is assisting on "rings" during Branham's absence on leave.

W. L. Washburne spent last week in Baltimore among friends of his youth.

J. S. Garner left for his home town, Hackensack, N. J., to rest up thirty days.

W. R. Branham is enjoying his leave at Fort Valley, Ga., his summer residence.

George Sparks has been given special sick leave on account of sickness in his family.

F. T. Razey and L. C. Richards are laying the new type for our use in the new building.

N. C. Hawley will have his daughter from Cleveland to visit him during convention week.

Goldstein, our worthy chairman, will leave next week for New York to be gone thirty days.

The boys subscribed liberally for base ball tickets, and hope they will be able to defeat Baltimore.

We are glad to note that Lloyd, Moler, and Bradley, all late of this division, have "caught on" again.

Frank L. McUmber, one of the most gentlemanly fellows of the division, will spend his leave out in Maryland.

H. C. Shearer, our "objectionable" distributor, was off the past two weeks sick, but is at his old place again.

Our soldier heroes, McFadyen, Newsom, Phillips, and Wilmeth returned safe to us on Monday from Leesburg.

There are still twenty-seven members in this room out of eighty-one who do not take this paper. Come, boys, subscribe.

Mr. Hickman is enjoying himself hugely in the Blue Ridge Mountains in Maryland, and is in good health and spirits.

If we are to have a new assistant secretary of the union, we are a unit for C. C. Hipkins, of this division, to fill the office.

Present line-up is as follows: Sherman, foreman; Lenhart, copy cutter; Saltzman, timekeeper; Soult, press; Hallock, bank.

Delahunty is turning into a good job hand since Mr. Brown is on leave. He says it is easy to get up an an average setting title pages.

E. N. Bunker returned from Edgartown, Mass., where he spent his leave, as brown as a Filipino, so that his many friends hardly recognized him.

Chester E. Johnson, age 22, editor of the Headland (Ala.) Post, is one of the youngest editors in the State of Alabama, and a brother of W. B. Johnson, of this room.

Our regular correspondent arrived home safe from the battle of Leesburg, and says he feels good, but that he is not quite ready to take up correspondence, so we will continue in his stead.

Rev. J. W. McGarvey, president of Bible College, Lexington, Ky., and wife, are visiting their nephew, H. Newsom. Rev. McGarvey preached an able sermon at Ninth Street Christian Church Sunday evening last.

X. Y. Z.

ROOMS—Furnished and unfurnished; convenient to G. P. O.; rent reasonable. 51 Massachusetts avenue northwest.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Third Division.

W. H. Sweeney is on leave.

Watch the Big Chief for the next week.

Bill Dorsey is still cutting pie for the lunch woman.

Bill Schmidt took a day off last week and went to Pittsburg.

The Second Division has a kick coming. No representation.

The Sea Serpent will, in all probability, be in town next week.

Saw Billy Gardiner last week. He has been anchored at Judd's.

There is something doing when Sam Davies is called to the elevator.

Ed. Coleman has just returned from a visit to Arkansas on his leave.

One row of frames out of this division was sent over to the new building.

This division has several representatives on the Reception Committee.

Mr. Puckett has returned from leave spent down at his old home in Florida.

W. H. Anglin got off the other day and got married. Good luck to you, Bill.

Tom Jones has gone on leave. After the convention he will go to Atlantic City.

Frank Wright has returned from the Detroit convention of the Epworth League.

Henry Webber got back from the seashore last week looking considerably better.

Colonel Cady is on leave. He comes down every morning to see that the office has not moved.

Percy Rhodes arrived in town last week and went to work Monday. He has not moved since he got back.

Dud Fleming, of the Morgue, has gone on leave. He is the Big Chief's bodyguard during the convention.

Kelly has not sent word whether he got there or not. When he comes back he will have all seven of them with him.

Some of our men have been detailed to the Record to set "Spess," and some to the Second to set Catalogue. Only a few of us left.

Maj. William H. Bailey is the chairman of the Reception Committee at the B. & O. station. Bill has to be there to meet Joe Jackson and the Western contingent.

Sam Edmunds, Jim Henesy, and E. F. G. Hazle are on leave out of one alley. Henesy is fishing at Arundel-on-the-Bay, and Hazel is digging the foundation to his new house at Langdon.

Bill Brockwell has been seen around the Swamp in daylight for several days. Bill Dorsey will have a leg broken or Percy will have to move. Something always happens when Brocky shows up in daylight.

HOOSIER.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Hot Tamales and Chile at The Ranch, 507 F street n. w. Near Pension Office.

Fifth Division.

Ed Connor is spending his leave in Baltimore, his home.

With racks, stands, etc., disappearing, it looks as though we will soon be in the new building.

Edw. E. Connor, James A. Morrow, H. J. Smith, Frank M. Lloyd, and William E. Lewis are off on a vacation.

W. J. Dow, after an absence for some weeks from his old position, resumed his place at the copy desk last Wednesday.

C. E. Dietrich and C. S. Gunn, on the entertainment committee for next week, will assist in giving the delegates a carriage ride.

The White House has its Blue Room and this division has its blue alley. The Nautical Almanac cases were appropriately painted sky blue, as the Almanac has so much do with the heavenly bodies.

George Robey returned last Saturday from a ten days' military life with the District National Guards at Leesburg. One of the stories he related was how he and a comrade, returning to camp late one night, tried to evade the guards, but both were captured by a colored soldier and marched to the guardhouse.

Delegates to the I. T. U. convention, which will be held in this city next week, are beginning to arrive, and as the Washington membership is of a very cosmopolitan character, drawn from all parts of the Union, there will be many interesting meetings of old friends. From this division there are three on the reception committee, namely, A. W. Bowen, E. F. Geyer, and W. S. Schinnerer.

A ball game will be played at the American League Park next Wednesday, August 12, at 4 p. m., Columbia Typographical Union vs. Baltimore Typographical Union, for the benefit of the inmates of the Union Printers' Home. On the Washington team will be Messrs. Luitich, Scott, and Atkinson, of the Fourth Division; La Vigne, Geo. Healey, Skeen, and Dow, of the Fifth; Beddow, of the Third; Templar, of the First; Young, of the Spess; and Elliott and Woods, from down town.

RAN.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Bindery Notes.

Dr. S. O. Graser intends this fall to raise a full crop of whiskers. He claims that all professional men should wear them.

Francis Ryder held his annual cleaning-up a short time ago. His attention was called to it, and he spent several hours removing several pounds of hard glue which had accumulated.

The Keg Socials are called off for awhile. A number of the pink tea members are summering at water resorts. Of course, there are other liquids purchasable at these resorts besides water.

John Burns will apply shortly for his leave, and expects to spend it in a town on the shore of the Potomac called Alexandria. The town is noted for quiet retreats, where a person seeking rest can be accommodated.

It is reported that sharks have been seen off of Ocean City. Capt. Jack Walsh, with his friends, Godman and Sheehan, are preparing to go down and have some sport with them. We can put the captain on some sharks on F street. They take notes.

"The Little Doctor," Bobby Hewlett, the indefatigable, fascinating, and persistent little beau of the Union Building, contemplates taking a month's sojourn at the "spot" (Philadelphia), on August 6. Like Alexander the Great, he sighs for other fields to conquer.

Bill Reese was recommended a new soap, and secured several cakes and gave himself a good lather and bath. Bill enjoyed the luxury, but was so affected he was unable to get to work the next day, and explained to the foreman there was something in the soap. Bill has promised never to use that brand again.

George Barnes asked to be wrote up and have all his friends, especially Shad Burns, know that he was out of the Capitol. He engaged a berth on the boat for Baltimore, stopping at all the small towns en route, and was greatly delighted with his trip and the scenery. George never was so far away from home, and his friends are pleased at his safe return.

COWBOY.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

The "Man's Store."
We Close at 5 p. m. Saturdays, 9 p. m.
"Like buying Government Bonds below par."

"M. S. M." Summer Clothing is the best possible investment you could make at regular prices—and buying these suits at trade-making prices is just like buying government bonds below par.

Suits worth $10....$7.75
Suits up to $15....$9.75
Suits up to $18....$13.75
Suits up to $22.50..$16.75

D. J. KAUFMAN, 1005-7 Pa. Ave.

CARL E. WILSON
Late Palmer House Barber Shop, Chicago, Ill.

White Union Barbers	315 G ST. N. W.	Cooled by Electric Fans

For a Short While

The entire cost to join the Tribe of Ben Hur will be $2.50—$1.00 to the medical examiner and $1.50 for your certificate. A postal for further information.

HENRY E. CROUCH, Deputy, 424 Fourth St. N. E.
ALBERT P. E. DOYLE, Scribe, 210 St. N. E.

The Savings possible at
S. Kann, Sons & Co.
8th St.—THE BUSY CORNER—Pa. Ave.
are such as may be counted in the pocket. At the same time styles and qualities are unexcelled.

Woodward & Lothrop,
DEPARTMENT STORE.
TENTH, ELEVENTH, AND F STS. N. W.

WHERE THE HALF-TONES ARE MADE
THE NATIONAL ENGRAVING COMPANY.
INCORPORATED.
14th St. and Pa. Ave. Phone 1679 Main.

J. E. BONINI'S
BUFFET AND CAFE,
727-729 N. Capitol Street.
MAERZEN BEER ON TAP.
A first-class Lunch Counter. Sea food in season. Union throughout.

Cole & Swan
Large assortment of Watches, Diamonds, and Jewelry (we make and repair anything in this line).
"Square Dealing" our motto.
21 H Street N. W.

Indian Head Trips	Marshall Hall

STR. CHARLES MACALESTER
EVERY THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY AT 6.30 P. M.
Appointments first-class. All amusements.
MARSHALL HALL:
Daily at 10 a. m., 2.30 and 6.30 p. m.
Sundays, 11 a. m., 2.30 and 6.30 p. m.
Fare (Round Trip), 25 Cents.
FOR MOUNT VERNON,
(Home and Tomb of Washington). Daily, 10 a. m. and 2.30 p. m. (Sundays excepted).

SAMUEL C. PALMER
Manufacturer of
Soda and Mineral Waters
IN FOUNTS, SYPHONS AND BOTTLES
SODA WATER SYRUPS
OF ALL FLAVORS
Phone West 190
Depot, 1066-8 32d Street N. W.

Phone Main 2132
THE HUB
OUTFITTERS AND HATTERS
Penna. Avenue and 14th Street
C. H. REIZENSTEIN, Washington, D. C.

Manhattan Table, Lunch, 12 to 1, 10c
ED. E. WALSH
All leading brands of
Whiskies, Wines and Cigars
309 G STREET NORTHWEST
Clark's Maryland Rye and Heurich's Beers a Specialty

D. STRAUSS,
Clothier, Hatter and Furnisher
441 Seventh Street N. W.,
Washington, D. C.

Cabin John Bridge
MOST BEAUTIFUL PLEASURE RESORT IN AMERICA
A Wealth of Amusements
Band Concerts Every Evening and Sunday Afternoons
Beauty Health Pleasure
Union Men Only Engaged
TAKE METROPOLITAN CAR

THOMAS WALSH
Formerly "Steve" Caldwell's.
Whiskies and Cigars
Specialties: MELVALE AND SHERWOOD
COOL LAGER BEER ON DRAUGHT.
BILLIARDS AND POOL
Billiards, 40c. per hour. Pool, 2½c. per cue.
THOMAS WALSH
407 Tenth St. Northwest

E. F. PRICE & CO.
Strongest flat opening blank book made.
Ruling and Binding of every description.
A Specialty of FINE BANK WORK.
BOOKBINDERS 1108 E St. N. W.

G. P. O. BICYCLE REPAIR CO.
ARTHUR D. BENNETT
MANAGER
Wheels stored, cleaned, and repaired (per month)..... $1.00
Wheels stored and cleaned (per month)..... .75
Wheels stored (per month)..... .50
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty
Bicycle Sundries
Salesroom, 33 H St. N. W.

300 1-lb. Loaves to the Barrel.
Every Laboring Man
—requires pure, wholesome, nourishing food such as is made of—
Cream Blend Flour
It not only makes THE BEST Bread, Rolls, Cake and Pastry, but more of them than other brands—therefore it's the cheapest that money can buy.
Your Grocer will supply you.
B. B. EARNSHAW & BRO., Wholesalers,
1105, 1107, 1109 11th Street S. E.
1000 and 1002 M Street S. E.

T. HOLLANDER
Men's Furnishings
Hats and Shoes
COR. N. CAPITOL AND H STS.
Opposite Government Printing Office

DO YOU USE TOILET PAPER?
If so, investigate the service furnished by
R. P. Andrews & Co.,
INCORPORATED
627-629 LOUISIANA AVE. N. W.
THE WHOLESALE PAPER HOUSE
IT WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

A Union House Patronized by Union Printer You Will Meet The Craft Here.
HAIGHT'S
HOTEL AND RESTAURANT
1008-10-12 E Street Northwest
One block from Columbia Theater
Rooms Newly Furnished For Men Only

HOTEL FRITZ REUTER
Rathskeller and Restaurant.
COR. PA. AVE. AND JOHN MARSHALL PLACE
Phone: East 388.

Ebbitt House
Washington, D. C. H. C. BURCH, Mgr.
HEADQUARTERS
International Typographical Convention

Telephone 3662-Y
AMREIN'S
FAMOUS ICE CREAM
HAS NO EQUAL
Stores, 1426 and 1810 7th St. N. W.

B. F. WARNER
FINE WINES and LIQUORS
BLUE LABEL CIGARS
1219 E Street Northwest

FOR LUNCH
TRY THE
Pure Dairy Lunch
935 D Street Northwest

American Ice Co.
1437 Penna. Ave. N. W.

THE UNION
SAVINGS BANK
BOND BUILDING
Cor. 14th St. and New York Ave. N.W.

Three Per Cent Interest
on Savings Accounts.

anch Deposit Agency at
T. A. ROVER'S STORE,
Cor. North Capitol and H Sts.
OPEN EVERY MONDAY AND TUESDAY
FROM 4 TO 5 P. M.

When in doubt buy at
HOUSE & HERRMANN,
FURNITURE, CARPETS,
DRAPERIES, ETC.
N. E. Corner Seventh and I Streets N. W.

Don't Buy a Hat
Without the Label. .
And See that It Is Sewed In.

Don't Patronize a Dealer Who Has Loose Labels on Hand and Offers to Put One in Your Hat.
LOOSE LABELS
In Retail Stores
ARE COUNTERFEITS.

The John B. Stetson Co., of Philadelphia, Pa., is a non-union concern.

J. GEORGE SMITH
(Formerly a member of the firm of R. P. Andrews & Co.)
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
PAPER AND STATIONERY
My old friends and patrons from J. C. Addison's time to the present will be welcome. I can supply all your needs at lowest prices consistent with quality.
626 E STREET NORTHWEST

GEO. W. BARRY COAL CO.
Coal in any quantity at the right price and Wood also.
14-16 H N.E. One minute from G. P. O. Telephone East 234.

EDWIN F. PRICE
(Late member of the firm of E. F. Price & Co.)
Bookbinder
Ruling and Binding of every description. Strongest Flat-Opening Blank Book Made. A Specialty of Fine Bank Work.
Darby Bldg., 506-508 Fourteenth St. N. W.

St. Asaph Commission Rooms,
Old Established and Reliable.
Trains leave Thirteen and one-half street and Pennsylvania avenue—Alexandria, Mt. Vernon, and Washington Railway—daily at 12.45, 1.05, 1.25, 2, 2.30, 3.02, and 3.30. Return .39, 4.24, 5.02, 5.58, and at various intervals.

The Hub Furniture Co.,
The Stores that Save You Money.
OUR MOTTO—The Best Values in Furniture and Carpets at the Lowest Prices.
Cash or Credit.
HUB FURNITURE CO.,
(Formerly Wash B. Williams)
Corner Seventh and D Streets N. W.

CELTIC CLUB WHISKY
Our Specialty. Never Changes. Once Tried You'll Always Use It. Take No Substitute.
Ports and Sherries for family use, Quarts, 50 and 75 cents. All makes of Beer. Leading brands of Cigars. Ales and Porters on draught the year round.
JOHN CONNOR
New Jersey Ave. and G Sts. N. W.

J. WILLIAM LEE,
Undertaker and
Livery, . . .
322 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

Yale Laundry
DECLARED UNFAIR
BY THE R. A. LANIS ASSOCIATION
The "Yale Steam Laundry" prefers "scabs" to do their steam fitting. Where do you and your friends have your washing done? Help the Union Steam Fitters by refusing your patronage to the Yale Laundry.
R. A. LANIS ASS'N OF STEAM FITTERS
March 10, 1903. L. B. No. 10, N A

CHESAPEAKE BEACH
Only Salt Water Resort Near Washington
MAMMOTH BOARD WALK
LINED WITH AMUSEMENTS
Finest Salt-water Bathing, Fishing, Crabbing, Sailing, Dancing.
HALEY'S BAND
See Schedule under Railroad Time Tables in all Daily Papers.

Union Directory.

TO SECRETARIES: Please notify this office of any change in officers' addresses, time or place of meeting. Corrections will be made quarterly.

American Federation of Labor—Headquarters, Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Sam'l Gompers, President. Frank Morrison, Secretary.

Allied Printing Trades Council meets last Thursday in the month at Typographical Temple. J. A. Wiedman, Secretary-Treasurer, 15 I street northeast.

Allied Label League meets every Friday night at 8 o'clock at 905 E street northwest. C. A. Pfau, Secretary, 905 E street northwest.

Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, Local No. 148, meets second and fourth Thursday evenings at 922 Pa. avenue northwest. Geo. Bakersmith, Secretary, 3315 Brightwood avenue northwest.

Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, Local Union No. 102, meets first and third Wednesdays at Loehl's Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. Wm. H. Whiting, Secretary, 639 K street southwest.

American Society Plate Engravers meets first Saturday in each month at Grand Army Hall. A. C. Ruebsam, Secretary, Bethesda, Montgomery County, Md.

Bakers Union, No. 118, meets first and third Saturday in each month at 430 Eighth street northwest. John G. Schmidt, Secretary and Business Agent, 333 I street s w.

Bakers' Drivers' L. U. No. 33, T. D. I. U. meets first and third Thursday evening of each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Thomas C. Fox, Secretary, 922 Fourth street northeast.

Bartenders' League Local No. 75, meets first and fourth Sunday of each month at 2 p. m. at Macabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. Jere F. McCarthy, Secretary, 1017 Maryland avenue southwest.

Beer Drivers' and Stablemen's Union, No. 234, meets first Sunday of each month at 314 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. A. D. Manger, Secretary, 209 Sixth street southwest.

Bookbinders' Union, No. 4, meets first Tuesday in each month at Typograhical Temple. James A. Stockman, Secretary, 735 North Capitol street.

Brewery Workers' Union, No. 118, meets second and last Sunday of the month at 314 Pennsylvania ave. southeast. A. D. Manger, Secretary, 209 Sixth street southwest.

Bricklayers' Union, No. 1, meets second and fourth Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Milford Spohn, Secretary, Typographical Temple.

Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators, and Paperhangers, Local Union, No. 368, meets every Friday night at 430 Eighth street northwest. G. J. Murray, Secretary, 1107 South Carolina avenue southeast.

Cab and Carriage Drivers' Union, No. 486, meets first and third Sundays, at Butler's Hall, 609 C street northwest. W. B. Nelson, Secretary, 922 I street northwest.

Carriage and Wagon Workers' International Union, Local No. 72, of Washington, D. C., meets first and third Fridays at 902 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. John H. Brinkman, Secretary, 1729 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Carpet Upholsterers, No. 85, U. I. U., meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at 516 Ninth street northwest. John Devlin, Secretary, 363 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

Central Labor Union meets every Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Typographical Temple. Charles W. Winslow, Secretary, 425 G street northwest. Residence, 3206 Wisconsin avenue northwest.

Ceramic, Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers and Helpers' International Union, No. 2, meets first and third Thursdays at 609 C street northwest. W. F. Miller, Secretary, 1228 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Cigarmakers' Local Union, No. 110, meets every Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Bielgk's Hall, 737 Seventh street northwest. Henry B. Wissner, Secretary, 3143 Dumbarton avenue.

Columbia Lodge, No. 174, International Association of Machinists, meets every Wednesday night at McCauley's Hall, 209 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. E. L. Adams, Secretary, 600 Ninth street northeast.

Columbia Typographical Union meets third Sunday in each month in Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. W. M. Garrett, Secretary.

Council Allied Building Trades of Central Labor Union meets every Tuesday night at Room 10, Typographical Temple. E. J. Ratigan, Secretary.

Douglass Association of Steam Engineers, I. S. U. E., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of the month at 609 F street northwest. J. W. Webb, Secretary, 341 Maryland avenue southwest.

Electrotype Molders and Finishers' Union, No. 17, I. S. and E. U. Charles W. Dean, Secretary.

Federal Labor Union No. 8193, meets fourth Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Miss Emma A. Miller, Secretary, 1011 First street n. w.

Fire Department Employees, P. and B. Union No. 8846, meets every Wednesday morning at 11 a. m., at Union Veterans' Hall, 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. G. Achstetter, Secretary, 206 N. Y. ave. northwest.

Gas Workers' Union No. 10343, Samuel H. Walker, Secretary, 735 Thirteenth street s. e.

Glass Bottle Blowers' Association, Branch 68, Alexandria, Va., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Serepta Hall. Frank Michelbach, Secretary, 803 King street, Alexandria, Va.

Hospital Attendants' Protective Union No. 8097, meets first and fourth Saturday nights of each month at Masonic Hall, Anacostia, D. C. C. W. Teates, Secretary, 434 Jackson street, Anacostia, D. C.

Hodcarriers, Brick and Mortar Wheelers' Union No. 9468, meets first and third Monday evenings in each month at Cadets' Armory, 708 O street northwest. Dennis Brown, Secretary, 1237 Fourth street northwest.

Ice Wagon Drivers and Helpers, Local No. 430, meets first and third Tuesdays in each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest (third floor). William Donaldson, Secretary, 812 Seventh street southwest.

International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, Local Union No. 5, meets every Friday night at Seventh and N streets northwest. Charles E. Barbour, Secretary, 1212 Potomac street northwest.

International Association of Machinists, Headquarters, rooms 82-85 Corcoran Building Fifteenth and F streets northwest. James O'Connell, president; D. Douglass Wilson, vice-president and editor of the Journal; George Preston, Secretary-Treasurer.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.—Headquarters, Rooms 103-104 Corcoran Building. H. W. Sherman, Secretary.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 26, meets every Thursday night at Hotel Royal Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. S. F. Adams, Secretary, 724 Eighteenth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 148, meet every Monday night at 430 Eighth street northwest. H. B. Anderson, Secretary, 807 Eighth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, No. 257, meets every Friday evening at 719 Sixth street n. w. M. G. Bundick, Secretary, 1107 Tenth street n. w.

Interior Marble and Slate Cutters' and Setters' Association, No. 5, meets first and third Wednesday of each month at Arion Hall, 430 Eighth street northwest. George Edmonds, Secretary, 423 Queen street, Alexandria Va.

International Association of Marble Workers No. 33, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at 106 I street northwest. Lew Davis, Secretary, 106 I street northwest.

International Union of Steam Engineers— Local Union No. 99, meets every Wednesday evening at 419 Tenth street northwest. A. W. Leeke, Recording Secretary, Twelfth and B streets northwest.

International Brotherhood of Firemen, Local No. 63, meets every Tuesday night at J. F. Heare's Hall, 404 Eighth street northwest. Louis S. Crown, Secretary. 637 K street northeast.

International Alliance Stage Employees, Local No. 22, meets first and third Sundays of every month at 625 Louisiana avenue northwest. J. Shilling, Secretary, 1208 Bladensburg Road.

Iron Molders' Union, Local No. 215, meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at Masonic Hall, Fourth street and Pennsylvania avenue southeast. Joseph Stewart, Secretary, 3413 N street northwest.

I. U. S. E., Hoisting and Portable, Local 77, meets every Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, Heare's Hall, 404 Eighth street northwest. W. H. Radcliffe, Secretary, 812 Four-and-a-Half street southwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 239, meets first and third Wednesdays in each month at 737 Seventh st. northwest. Theo. A. Leckert, Secretary, 1210 Florida avenue northwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 305, meets first and third Monday evenings at 503 G street northwest (barber shop). Charles A. Thomas, Secretary, 817 E street northwest.

Journeymen Horseshoers' Union, No. 17, meets first and third Wednesday of each month at Costello's Hall, Sixth and G streets northwest. W. S. Lusby, Secretary, 708 Eighth street southwest.

Journeyman Tailors of America, No. 188, meets first and third Saturdays of each month at 8 o'clock p. m., Labor Bureau Hall. Ignatius Geraci, Secretary, 917½ E street northwest.

Journeyman Plumbers and Gas Fitters' Local Union, No. 5, meets second and fourth Tuesday evening of each month at Maccabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. A. E. Anderson, Secretary, 1312 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Journeymen Stone and Marble Cutters' Union, meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Irondall Hall. Harry Bouche, Secretary, 72 H street northeast.

Laundry Wagon Drivers No. 467, W. W. Foster, Secretary, 95 Myrtle street northwest.

Mail Bag Repairers' Union, No. 10523, meets first and last Saturdays of every month at Stolpp's Hall 721 Sixth street northwest. L. W. Kearney, Secretary, 406 First st. n.w.

Mail Bag Workers' Union, 10504, meets every Saturday at 721 Sixth street northwest Miss A. Cross, Secretary, 321 Lincoln street, Anacostia, D. C.

Marble Mosaic and Granito Workers No. 8902, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at 1400 D street northwest. G. B. Cinotti, secretary.

Metal Trades Federation of North America, Room 134 Corcoran Bldg., James O'Connell, President. E. J. Lynch, Secretary.

Milk Wagon Drivers' Union, No. 349, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at 8 p. m., at Hotel Royal (second floor), Seventh and N streets northwest. W. T. Trittipoe 1359 U street northwest.

Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers' Helpers, Local Union, No. 12, meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Arion Hall, 430 Eighth street northwest. S. Becket, Secretary, 401 E Street southeast.

Musicians' Protective Union, No. 161, meets first and third Sundays at 2 p. m., at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Linden, Jr Secretary, 1364 E street southeast.

National Alliance Theatrical Stage Employes meets first and third Sunday in each month at southwest corner of Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, third floor. J. P. Shilling, Secretary, 1208 Bladensburg Road.

Negative Cutters Union, meets second Wednesday in each month at 921 F street northwest. Clarence W. Schroeder, Secretary, 640 E street southeast.

Oil Wagon Drivers, No. 296, meets second Wednesday of each month at Oppenheimer's Hall, 514 Ninth street northwest. A. J. Dixon, Secretary, 1234 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Operative Stonemasons' Union, No. 2, meets first and third Monday evenings at 609 C street northwest. James Lanigan, Secretary, 930 G street southwest.

Paperhangers' Local Union No. 420, B. of P., D., and P., meets every Wednesday evening, 625 Louisiana avenue, n. w. J. Franklin Page, Secretary.

Pattern Makers' League meets at Weller's Hall, Eighth and I streets southeast, first and third Wednesday. James B. McAlwee, Secretary, 907 E street southeast.

Photo-Engravers' Union, No. 17, meets first Monday in each month at 417 Eleventh street northwest. F. C. Betts, Secretary, Kensington, Md.

Printing Pressmen Union, No. 1, meets first Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. W. C. Deane, Secretary. 19 Grant Place.

Plate Printers Union, No. 2, meets at Maccabee Temple, Ninth street n. w., the fourth Tuesday in each month. J. P. Murphy, Secretary, 1416 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

Post-Office Clerks, No. 9834, meets the second Saturday of each month at Twelfth and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. B. Corridon, Secretary, 1733 North Capitol street.

Registered Drug Clerks' Union, District of Columbia, meets second and fourth Fridays at Jolly Fat Men's Hall, 933 D street northwest. Fred T. Hafelfinger, Secretary, 1110 Fourteenth street northwest.

Retail Clerks' Union, No. 262, meets second and fourth Mondays of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Joseph Moser, Recording Secretary, 624 I street northwest.

Retail Grocery Clerks' Union, No. 533, meets every Thursday evening at Society Temple, 5th and G streets N. W. Alfred Fuss, Secretary, 802 D street s. e.

Slate and Tile Roofers' Union, No. 10421, meets every Monday night at 922 F street northwest. J. C. Huddleson, Secretary, 2147 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

Soda and Mineral Water Wagon Drivers, No. 372, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at Bessler's Hall, 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. P. Connor, Secretary, 1111 Sixth street southwest.

Steam Fitters, R. A. Lanis Association, L. B. No. 10, N. A., meets every Thursday night at 902 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. S. D. Zea, Secretary, 2108 G street northwest.

Steam and Hot Water Fitters' Helpers, Local Branch, No. 28, N. A., meets every Friday at 8 o'clock p. m., at 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Thomas F. Flanagan, Secretary, 38 G street northeast.

Stereotypers' Union, No. 19, of Washington D. C., meets second Monday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. D. J. Murray, Secretary, 35 R street northwest.

Stone Laborers' Union, No. 9013, meets first and third Friday of each month at Eleventh and Q streets northwest. Daniel Lahey, Secretary, 1003 A street southeast.

Telephone Operators, No. 9914, meets third Saturday of each month at Schmidt's Hall. 516 Ninth street northwest. Edna Earl Bobb, Secretary, 924 Pennsylvania avenue southeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, Local Union. No. 190, meet every Friday evening at the Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. C. H. Scherer, Secretary, 936 Fourth street northeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 884, meets every Monday night at 904 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Torney, Secretary, 141 Jefferson street, Anacostia, D. C.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 1103, Mill and Bench Hands, meets every Friday at 8 p. m., at 514 Ninth street northwest. Peyton Wilkerson, Secretary, 816 G street southeast.

United Brotherhood of Leather Workers on Horse Goods, No. 87, meets every second and fourth Tuesday, 513 Twelfth street northwest. H. J. Laubach, Secretary, 72 H street northeast.

Upholsterers' Local Union, No. 58, meets second and fourth Thursdays of each month at 416 (fourth floor) Ninth street northwest. T. R. Bowie, Secretary, 1306 Riggs street northwest.

Washington Branch, Granite Cutters' National Union, meets every second and fourth Mondays in each month at 1204 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Wm. Silver, Secretary, 49 Massachusetts avenue northwest.

Washington Feeders and Assistants' Union, No. 42, meets the first Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street n. w. D. I. Leane, Secretary, 702 H street northeast.

Washington Lodge of Machinists, No. 193, meets every Thursday night at southwest corner of Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. Herbert Wyatt, Secretary, 111 Seventh street southeast.

Wood, Wire, and Metal Lathers' Local Union, No. 9, meets every Monday night at Hare's Hall, Eighth and D streets northwest. J. C. Maloney, Secretary, 124 G street n. w.

STEREOTYPERS-ELECTROTYPERS

Annual Convention of the International Organization.

The International Stereotypers and Electrotypers' Union will hold their annual convention here concurrently with the International Typographical Union. On Monday next, at Maccabee Temple, the delegates from all the unions of the stereotypers and electrotypers will begin their sessions, to continue until Friday. The International officers are James J. Freel, of New York, president; L. P. Straube, of Chicago, vice president, and George H. Williams, of Boston, secretary-treasurer. The local officers are: Electrotype Molders and Finishers' Union, No. 17, R. L. Thixton, president; Paul Schulz, vice president; and Chas. W. Dean, secretary-treasurer. Stereotypers' Union, No. 19, W. S. Whitmore, president; Frank L. Larkin, vice president, and D. J. Murray, secretary-treasurer. R. L. Thixton is the electrotypers' delegate and J. S. Briggs the stereotypers' delegate.

The joint convention committee are: John E. Parker, chairman; F. L. Tarbox, secretary; W. S. Whitmore, treasurer; W. J. Hart, chairman printing committee; C. O. Buckingham, chairman entertainment committee; M. J. Shea, chairman reception committee; J. S. Briggs, chairman finance committee; R. L. Thixton, George H. Thayer, C. J. Kirby, F. S. Larkin, P. J. Eckels, R. L. Christian, J. G. Buck, and A. M. Herd.

The National Hotel has been selected as headquarters, where a reception will be held on next Sunday evening. The convention will be opened on Monday by Commissioner H. B. F. Macfarland, and after adjournment carriages will be taken to the Zoo and Soldiers' Home. Tuesday "Seeing Washington" cars will take the delegates and visitors over town and out to Cabin John's Bridge in the late afternoon and evening. Wednesday, Arlington and Mt. Vernon by rail, with a lunch at Alexandria, will be the entertainment. A banquet on Thursday night to the officers, delegates, visitors, and the press, at Carroll Institute Hall, and a visit on Friday to the new Government Printing Office will wind up a splendid week's entertainment.

The souvenir programme of the convention, issued from the press of George E. Howard & Co., is one of the finest specimens of typography that has ever been printed in Washington, consisting of about eighty pages of text, illustrations, and advertisements.

Still Very Sick.

Louis L. Lippincott, of the Record force, G. P. O., who was taken sick the latter part of June and submitted to an operation for adenitis, has had a relapse and is suffering from an inflammation of the wound. He is at his home, 111 Fifth street northeast, and his many friends hope to hear of his speedy recovery.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

The Brooklyn plumbers union men's wages for an eight-hour day will be raised to $4.25 a day on August 10 and continue at that rate until the end of the year. On January 1, 1904, the wage scale is to be raised to $4.50 a day. The $4.50 a day wage scale is to last until June 30, 1904. About 1,200 Brooklyn mechanics will be benefited by the increase. The present wage scale calls for $4 a day.

Representative Business Houses.
OF WASHINGTON, D. C.

The following wholesale and retail firms and professional men are friendly to Union Labor and are entitled to its patronage:

BANKS.
THE LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK, Safe Deposit Vaults, $2.50 up
CAPITAL LOAN GUARANTEE COMPANY, 602 F Street Northwest. Every one can borrow money without security.

BAKERS.
HOLMES & SONS, Celebrated Home-Made Pies and Milk Bread. First and E Streets N. W. Phone East 864.

BOOTS AND SHOES.
CROCKER'S SHOES, 939 Pennsylvania Ave. N. W.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.
DANIEL LOUGHRAN, 1347 Pennsylvania Ave.
LUCHS & BRO., Wholesalers, Phone E 755.

COACH FINDINGS.
J. B. KENDALL, 485-87 Missouri avenue N. W.

COAL TAR PRODUCTS AND PAPER.
E. B. WARREN & CO., 27th and H Sts. N. W.

CUTLERY AND SPORTING GOODS.
D. N. WALFORD, 477 and 909 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

DRY GOODS.
LANSBURGH & BROTHER, 420 to 426 7th St. N. W

DYER.
E. E. WHEATLEY, 1068 Jefferson Ave. N. W. Phone, West 117-Y.

ENGRAVERS.
THE MAURICE JOYCE ENGRAVING CO. Cuts and Illustrations. 418 11th street N. W

FIRE INSURANCE.
Insure with THE RIGGS FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.
FIREMEN'S INSURANCE COMPANY, Seventh St. and Louisiana Ave.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.
JULIUS LANSBURGH, Interocean Building, 512 Ninth St. N. W.

GROCERIES.
LITTLE & PAGE, "Good things to eat." 1210 F St. N.W
W. C. ERGOOD, "Good goods at Ergoods." Corner Ninth and H Streets Northwest.

GROCER AND COFFEE ROASTER.
SOMERSET R. WATERS. 1342 Seventh Street Northwest, Corner O.

HARDWARE AND TOOLS.
RUDOLPH, WEST & CO., 1332 New York avenue northwest.

HUDSON'S VARIETY STORE.
B. F. HUDSON, 423 Seventh Street Northwest.

HATTERS AND FURRIERS.
JAMES Y. DAVIS' SONS, 1201 Pennsylvania Ave.
A. H. BURDINE, Union Overalls, Hats, and Gloves. Seventh Street and Virginia avenue southwest.

LIME, SAND, GRAVEL, CEMENT.
NATIONAL MORTAR COMPANY. Office: Room 9, Ralston Bldg., 612 F St. N. W. Office telephone: East 688.

LUMBER AND MILL WORK.
THOMAS R. RILEY, 13th St. and Ohio Ave.
THE WASHINGTON WOOD WORKING CO., 12th and B Streets N. W. Telephone 2119-3.

MACHINISTS AND ENGINEERS,
FORSBERG & MURRAY, Pumps and Elevators. Engines and Boilers 8th and Water Sts. S. W.

MERCHANT TAILOR.
W. A. SLADEN, 419 East Capitol Street.

PHARMACISTS.
LOUIS F. BRADLEY, Prescription Druggist. 8th and E Sts. S. E

PHOTO-LITHOGRAPHERS.
THE NORRIS PETERS CO., 458 and 460 Pennsylvania avenue N. W
ANDREW B. GRAHAM Lithographer, Photo-Lithographer, and Half-Tones. 1230 Pa. Ave. Phones: 1031-M, 1679-M.

PIANO AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
E. E. DROOP & SONS, 925 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

PRINTING SUPPLIES.
NATIONAL PRINTER'S SUPPLY CO., Machine-made Rollers. 414 10th St. N. W.

RESTAURANT AND WINE ROOM.
JOHN M. BECKER, Opp. Navy Yard., Cor. 8th and Georgia Ave. S.E

SHOES.
DAVE WOLF. SHOES FOR EVERYBODY. 432 Seventh Street N. W.

SHAVING PARLORS
VINCENT R. CILENTO, 805 North Capitol Street.

TITLES TO REAL ESTATE.
LAWYERS' TITLE & GUARANTY INS. CO. 412 5th St. N. W.

UNION HEADQUARTERS.
ARION HALL, 430 Eighth Street N. W. Headquarters for organizations. Strictly union. JIM STEVENS, Proprietor.

WINES AND LIQUORS.
SAMUEL G. STEWART, Heurich Brewing Co's. beers and popular brands of whiskies. 1141 Seventh st. northwest between L and M.
WILLIAM DIETZ, 1203 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest
GEORGE W. DRIVER, 605 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

DO NOT WANT OUR PATRONAGE.

Following brands of cigars: Cinco, Cremo, George W. Childs, Henry George, Tom Moore, Robert Burns, and General Arthur.

The following firms have declared against the interest of Organized Labor and are not regarded as deserving their patronage:

NAME.	BUSINESS.	LOCATION.
Chevy Chase Railway and circle.	Street railway	Chevy Chase and Circle.
Keenan Bros	Gents' furnishers	Pa. ave. bet. 14th and 15th sts., and 523 Seventh st. n. w.
B. Solomon	Gents' furnisher	708 Seventh street n.w.
Rufus H. Darby	Printer	508 Fourteenth street n.w.
H. L. McQueen	Printer	1108 E street n.w.
N. Sickles (Nat'l Cigar Factory).	Cigar manufacturer	1011 Penna. avenue n.w.
E. Gundershiemer	Baker	516 Second street n.w. and stalls in Center Market.
Peter Grogan	Carpet dealer	817 to 823 Seventh street n.w.
John H. Fitzgerald	Horseshoer	443 Prather's alley n.w.
S. S Daish	Coal and wood	Florida ave. and Third st. n.e.
Wilbur F. Nash	Meat dealer	Center and O st. Markets.
C. E. Hencke	Electrician	711 G street n.w.
F. J. Wheelock	Electrician	1215 G street n. e.
James A. Bennett	Tinner	2008 H street n.w.
National Mosaic Company	Mosaics	207 Fourth st. n.w.
M. Minster	Gents' furnisher	1343 F st. n.w.
A. Minster	Gents' furnisher	499 and 501 Penna. ave. n. w.
Cyrus B. Reese	Employing steamfitter	1519 Fourteenth street n. w.
C. A. Schneider & Sons	Union Iron Works	212 Twelfth street n. w.
Minster & Paterson	Gents' furnishers	1109 Pennsylvania ave. n. w.
The Famous	Gents' furnishings	437 Seventh street n. w.
Chas. A. Muddiman & Co	Gas fixtures	1204 G and 616 Twelfth st. n. w.
Conrad Becker	Trunks and harness	1328 F st. n. w.
Chapin & Sacks	Dealer in butter	924 Louisana ave. n. w.
Home Ice Company	Ice	Twelfth and V sts. n.w.
Emil Wagner	Restaurant	210 Ninth st. n. w.
W. E. Carney	Cigar manufacturer	921 G st. s. w.
Nat'l Roller & Ball Bearing Co.	Machinery	33rd and K sts. n. w.
L. Rosenberg	Clothing and shoes	911-913 Eighth st. s. e.
Corbin Thompson	Dairyman	Sharon Dairy, 324 B st. s. w.
S. D. Houck	Dealer in harness	301 Tenth street n. w.
M. Eisemann & Bro	Dry goods	1924-26 Pa. ava. and 806 7th n.w
Elite Steam Laundry	Laundry	1205 G street n.w.
Benjamin Schwartz	Gents' furnisher and tailor	337 Pa. ave. s. e.
Emrich Beef Co	Meat Dealers
John Coleman	Horseshoer	1300 36th street n. w.
Hecht & Co	Dry Goods, etc	517-519 Seventh street n. w
Charles Rauscher	Caterer	Conn. ave. and L st. n. w
Academy of Music	Theater	Ninth and D streets n. w.
Lafayette Square Theater	Theater	16th st. and Pa. ave. n. w.
E. H. Snyder & Co	Tailors	1111 Pa. ave n. w
Owen Owen	Tailor	423 Eleventh street n. w.
L. A. Downey	Tailor	433 Eleventh street n. w.
J. M. Stein & Co	Tailors	413 Eleventh street n. w
J. D. Burns & Co	Tailors	701 Ninth street n. w.
J. B. Gatchel	Tailor	604 Thirteenth street n. w.
G. Warfield Simpson	Tailor	1208 F street n. w.
E. H. Catlin & Co	Machinists	407 13½ street n. w.
Thomas Somerville & Sons	Steam Fitters' Supplies	316 Thirteenth street n. w.
Joseph Mathy	Stove dealer and tin worker	1918 Pennsylvania avenue.
William Meehan	Saloon	943 B street n. w.

Chesapeake Beach.

Visitors to this popular resort who desire to secure sail boats, rowing boats, or who may want to put in a few hours fishing, can be supplied by A. E. Beitzell, well known as a caterer to lovers of oysters and clams at his old stand in this city, Twenty-first street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. He will be found opposite the Bathing Beach.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

The call has been issued for the annual convention of the Indiana State Federation of Labor, to meet in South Bend Monday, September 14.

Bricklayers' Executive Committee.

The following is the list of members of the Executive Committee of Bricklayers' Union, No. 1: John G. Wolfe, chairman, 1023 New Jersey avenue; W. Cronin, 1415 Thirty-sixth street northwest; Samuel Haslett, 221 South Lee street, Alexandria, Va.; John Shanahan, 2352 Eighth street northwest; John McCarten, 1237 Maryland avenue northeast.

New York hodcarriers demand an increase of 37½ cents from 35.

The German imperial board of trade has requested all chambers of commerce to report minutely all facts for or against the organization of trusts.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICIAL ORGAN CENTRAL LABOR UNION, WASHINGTON BRANCH, AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Vol. VIII. No. 9. WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, AUGUST 13, 1903. Price, 3 Cents.

THE CENTRAL LABOR UNION

Labor Day Parade Abandoned on Account of Lack of Interest.

ENTERTAINMENT TO VISITORS

Resolutions on Meat Cutters' Lockout—The Grievance Committee Makes a Report. The Ratigan Amendment—Kernan Asked to Employ Union Men.

The regular meeting of the Central Labor Union was held last Monday evening, President Sherman in the chair.

CREDENTIALS.

From Journeymen Horseshoers' Union, No. 17, certifying A. H. Lockhead, vice M. Walsh, resigned.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Amalgamated Rubber Workers Union of America, calling attention to Monarch Rubber Co. being unfair. Placed on file.

From Journeymen Horseshoers' Union, No. 17, asking America Ice Co. be declared unfair, that company having refused to employ union horseshoers. Referred to Grievance Committee.

From San Francisco Labor Council, relative to recent communication seeking to secure fuller representation in the conventions of the A. F. of L. from the central bodies. Referred to special committee having the matter in hand.

From International Ladies Garment Workers' Union, stating that Schiff & Bloom, of Baltimore, shirt manufacturers, have refused to employ women members of that organization, causing a strike in that trade. As this firm sells its goods in this city it is requested that a special committee visit the stores of the city and endeavor to withdraw orders from said firm. Request granted.

From Steppacher & Stern, Baltimore, in reference to union-label shirts for Labor Day parade. Referred to Labor Day Committee.

From American Society of Plate Engravers, stating that they had decided not to participate in the proposed Labor Day parade. Referred to Labor Day Committee.

AMENDMENT.

Delegate Ratigan submitted the following amendment:

Amend Article 34 by striking out all after the word "and" and insert: "The secretary shall notify each affilated union, and any union refusing to indorse the action of the Central Labor Union within 30 days shall be dropped from the roster and all support denied them."

GRIEVANCE COMMITTEE.

Delegate Dickman, from the Grievance Committee, reported that the committee recommends that Robert Lowe, stone yard and mill, 115 Third street southwest, be placed on unfair list, and also that same course be pursued with H. Vonderheide, saloonist, 205½ Seventh street northwest.

CALL OF UNIONS.

The delegates from Retail Clerks' Union introduced the following resolution, which was adopted:

"WHEREAS, The International Typographical Union and the Electrotypers and Stereotypers International Union are in annual session in this city this week in Washington; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Central Labor Union of this city hereby extends to the above organizations the fraternal greetings of its 85 affiliated local trades unions; be it further

"Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be transmitted under seal of this body to said International unions by our secretary.

Engineers No. 77 called attention to a violation of the eight-hour law. Referred to a special committee.

Delegate Silver, of Granite Cutters' Union, called attention to a certain job which was unfair to that organization. The matter was referred to Allied Council of Building Trades.

Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen called attention to lockout on the part of their employees. In this connection Delegate Dietrich introduced the following resolution, which was adopted:

"WHEREAS, The beef combine of this city, composed of N. Auth Provision Co, Benning Abbattoir, Roslyn Packing Co., Golden, Love & Co., A. Loeffler Co., Hillman & Co., Chris. W. Botch, and Columbia Packing Co., have, without cause or provocation, locked out all members of the Butchers Workmen's Local Union, No. 148; therefore be it

"Resolved, That the Central Labor Union of Washington, D. C., does hereby pledge itself to support and aid morally, financially, and otherwise, Local Union, No. 148, Butcher Workmen, in their struggle against the beef combine."

Sheet Metal Workers' stated that J. A. Bennett, tinner, 2008 H. northwest, was fair to that organization, and asked that he be taken from the unfair list. Referred to Contract Committee.

Stage Employees stated that the Academy of Music was unfair and the Musicians were still working in the Academy. The secretary was directed to correspond with the officers of the American Federation of Musicians and request that they instruct the Washington local to indorse the boycott on the Academy of Music. Carried.

Stage Employees requested that the secretary correspond with J. T. Kernan and request that he employ union men in his Washington theater. Request granted.

Excursion Committee reported that the idea of a parade on Labor Day had been abandoned.

Delegate Spohn called attention to a public anti-trust meeting at National Theater, on Thursday evening, and invited all to be present.

NEW BUSINESS.

On motion, the president appointed a committee to devise ways and means to entertain the delegates in attendance on the International Typographical Union and International Union of Electrotypers and Stereotypers Unions, on next Friday evening.

On motion of Delegate Pfau the secretary was directed to have 100 placards bearing the unfair list printed and distributed to the various locals.

The resignation of Delegate Winslow as a member of the Grievance Committee was accepted and Delegate Roche appointed a member of the committee. Delegate Tucker was also appointed a member of the Grievance Committee.

Adjourned.

Letter from F. E. Buckland.

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO.,
August 8, 1903.

Editor TRADE UNIONIST:

Hoping a few lines from this city may be of interest to your readers, I take the liberty of telling my comrades that I had the pleasure (in company with my wife) of visiting the Printers' Home to-day. While Superintendent Deacon was absent in Washington, we were conducted through the Home by Mr. Hunter and the superintendent's son, a bright little fellow.

The greatest pleasure of all was in meeting dear old Jack Robinson, whom all Washington printers know. He is in good health, and is going to live to be a hundred years old. He embraced me on our departure, and said he would be happy to make a visit to his old home again before he dies. He wishes to be remembered to his friends in No. 101. He speaks in high terms of the Home and its management.

On coming out of the grounds we had the pleasure of meeting Mrs. Hubbard, who, with her husband and Miss Foley, are camping out in a tent just outside the entrance to the Home. Their camp is called "Columbia, No. 101," and they are all deriving much pleasure and health in their new home.

We also met Adrian Jones, who is foreman of the Gazette, as well as Mr. Tallman, who came out here last fall.

After a day in Chicago and two days in Denver we came down to this beautiful country this morning, and then went over to Manitou, intending to ascend Pike's Peak, but a storm of tremendous proportions put an end to that proposed trip.

We start for Salt Lake to-morrow, and after a couple of days in Zion go on to Los Angeles, and then to San Francisco, Portland, Tacoma, Seattle, and the Yellowstone, and home.

We had the pleasure of meeting acquaintances from Philadelphia that we saw in Rome a year ago, another illustration of how small the world is growing. Yours, faithfully,

T. E. BUCKLAND.

ROOMS—Furnished and unfurnished; convenient to G. P. O.; rent reasonable. 51 Massachusetts avenue northwest.

CRUISE OF THE EMMA GILES

A Thrilling Story of Her Capture By Pirates on Chesapeake Bay.

SEA SERPENT "BACKS BACK."

A Faithful Log of the Cruise—Doubt as to Its Accuracy—Annapolis As an Antique—Storming of Fort Carroll—Tolchester Beach—Homeward Bound.

What follows is a record of the eventful trip made by the good ship Emma Giles, of Baltimore, Md., to Annapolis and Tolchester, on Sunday, August 9, 1903, during which trip the captain and crew of the vessel were overpowered and made prisoners by a band of pirates, headed by one James M. Lynch, who had secured passage on the vessel by representing themselves to be delegates to the Forty-ninth session of the International Typographical Union, which was at that time being held in Washington, D. C. Lynch, "The Terror of the Seas," being in one of his genial moods, refused to allow his men to seriously injure any of the captured crew, and brought the vessel back to port on the night of the same day on which it was stolen. He then delivered himself and his men into the hands of the authorities. This record is taken verbatim from the log of the Giles, which was faithfully kept by Lynch's first lieutenant, and may therefore be accepted—for what it is worth. It is arranged in chapters in order to give the reader time to revive.

CHAPTER I.

"Emma Giles, ahoy," shouted a boy standing on Pier 9, Light street wharf, as the Giles was about to pull out.

"Ahoy," replied the man at the wheel, wondering whether a passenger had fallen overboard or some other calamity had occurred to delay the vessel's departure.

"What's yer cargo?" yelled the boy.

"Live stock," answered the pilot, thus proving his possession of a sense of humor. Then, as the awfulness of the insult forced its way through the understanding of the men who paraded as members of the Typographical Union, there was a series of blood-curdling whoops, and a magnificent rush. For a moment the upper deck of the steamer resembled a Rugby football field. Then the excited stevedores, who lined the edge of the dock, saw the witty occupant of the pilot house, surrounded by a shouting, gesticulating band of savages, seven of whom were attempting, simultaneously, to force as many glasses of lemonade down his throat. A noble revenge.

CHAPTER II.

As the vessel neared Fort Carroll, traveling on the port tack, with the jib-mizzen companion-way and bilge sails set, a sail was descried on the horizon. Captain Lynch borrowed an eye shield, and after a few minutes close scrutiny, made her out to be a schooner. A council of the officers was called, and after a half-hour's discussion, by which time the schooner had approached to within a few hundred yards of the Giles, it was decided that the vessel was already provided with a sufficient number of schooners. Having decided to allow the schooner in question to escape, the captain announced his intention of taking Fort Carroll by storm, which plan was accordingly carried out.

AUTHOR'S NOTE.—Diligent inquiries have failed to disclose whether this statement is a prevarication outright, or simply a dream.

CHAPTER III.

At 11:13 o'clock (meridian of Ecuador) a sea serpent was sighted on the port bow. The relic of the age of mammoths was proceeding in a northerly direction and took only a passing glance at the passing Giles. It is supposed that the serpent possessed a high moral sense and was ashamed to be seen in the neighborhood of a vessel harboring Lynch's band. At any rate, when the genial pirate attempted to make friends, and threw several ham sandwiches into the bay, at the same time inviting the serpent to eat, the latter politely turned up its nose and then turned on its heel and disappeared in the neighborhood of Canton avenue. Captain Lynch refused to be comforted.

AUTHOR'S NOTE No. 2.—It needed little investigation to prove this entry in the log untrue.

CHAPTER IV.

Annapolis wa discovered a few minutes after noon. The lieutenant was the first to land. Planting the banner of local No. 1208, of the I. T. U. in the sand of the shore, he cried three times, "Sic Semper Tyrannus," and ordered cheese sandwiches all around. A few moments were spent inspecting the now fast-decaying homes of the race which at one time inhabited this portion of the earth (probably the mound-builders).

The guide books inform us that these structures were known as the State House, the Naval Academy, etc., etc. But the crowd soon tired of the mild amusement furnished by the inspection of these places, and returning on board the vessel, set sail for Tolchester.

CHAPTER V.

Caterer Harris approached, bearing a flag of truce, and announced that dinner was served. An hour was spent in punishing the various viands which had been sent in as tribute by the conquered tribes.

CHAPTER VI.

Arrived at Tolchester, the band was treated to a sign of a rare and exceedingly dangerous substance, i. e., water, a liquid to be used only "on the side" or "after."

Several of the men donned bathing suits and took a dip while the balance amused themselves by crabbing.

CHAPTER VII.

At 6.30 the vessel was headed for Baltimore. During the trip up the bay the passengers indulged in various mild forms of amusement such as "ring-around-a-rosy" and "puss in a corner." The festivities were led by the author of the pamphlet entitled "The Workingman's Friend," which so nearly precipitated a strike among the waiters in the lunch rooms when it appeared four years ago.

CHAPTER VIII.

Arrived in Baltimore, visiting members were carted around to the various newspaper offices to be shown how things are done in "Our town." Then said "good-bye," and ordering "full steam ahead" set sail for Washington. On the way over they treated the crew of the train to a harmonious rendition of "The Sailor's Life is the Life for Me," and to carry out the idea, three-fourths of the delegates as they alighted from the train walked with a sailor's roll and at intervals hitched their trousers in true man-o'-warsman style.

THE END.

N. B.—The delegates to the International Typographical Union, and their wives and daughters, journeyed to Tolchester and Annapolis on the Emma Giles last Sunday as the guests of Baltimore Union, No. 12. About 400 came from the Capital City, and in all 900 people made the journey.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Personal Mention.

William McEnaney, formerly of the Third Division, was make-up and one of the ad men on the Convention Trade Book.

F. A. Kennedy ("Sadie Maguire") paid this office a visit during the week. Mr. Kennedy is in attendance at the I. T. U. convention and is a regular at all sessions.

Mr. Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, has returned from a vacation in which business of the office and a return to health from recent illness, accounted for absence.

Warren C. Browne, now of Buffalo, N. Y., late of the New York Union Printer, is a visitor at the I. T. U. convention, renewing friendships formed at the Colorado Springs session and subsequent conventions.

A. J. Watson, now of Philadelphia, Pa., where he went as a delegate to Syracuse in 1898; serving on the law committee at that session. is visiting the city this week. Mr. Watson is one of the "Old Second" Division, G.P.O., contingent of the days of the piece work and "phat."

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

FORTY-NINTH SESSION I. T. U.

Businesslike and Progressive Body of Delegates at Work.

ST. LOUIS NEXT MEETING PLACE

Dan C. Vaughan Makes Address for Columbia Union—Resolution of Sympathy to President Johnson—Per Capita Tax Increased—Section 66 Repealed.

The forty-ninth session of the International Typographical Union was convened at the Columbia Theater on Monday morning last.

After prayer by Rev. George E. Maydwell, E. N. Whitehead, chairman of convention committee of Columbia Union, No. 101, introduced Hon. H. B. F. Macfarland, who tendered the freedom of the city in an address which was replete with good words for the organization.

Prof. Willis L. Moore, of the Weather Bureau, made an address appropriate to the occasion, and referred to his connection with the printing trade in his early manhood, closing by paying a high tribute to the International Typographical Union for its conservatism and wise administration of affairs.

Vice President Dan C. Vaughan, of Columbia Union, 101, welcomed the delegates and visitors on behalf of No. 101.

Mr. Vaughan had been called on to fill the place of President Johnson, who was in Tennessee, on account of the recent death of his father. That Mr. Vaughan acquitted himself with satisfaction to his friends on such short notice speaks well for his ability as a ready speaker. He received congratulations all around after the reception had concluded.

President Lynch, on behalf of the convention, thanked the previous speakers for the reception accorded the delegates, and declared the convention open for business.

Secretary Bramwood read his report of credentials received and the delegates present were then obligated.

President Lynch announced his committees, after which Mr. Nichols (Baltimore) offered the following resolution:

"Resolved, That this convention sincerely sympathizes with Mr. Joe M. Johnson, president of Columbia Typographical Union, No. 101, in the death of his father, which occurred suddenly at Fayetteville, Tenn."

The resolution was adopted by a rising vote.

The report of the laws committee was then taken up for consideration.

The per capita per month from members is to be be placed at 35 cents, subject to an affirmance by the referendum.

Section 65, general laws, was amended by adding a proviso giving apprentices in machine offices an opportunity to work on machines during the last three months of their apprenticeship.

A proposition to mail copies of the Journal to all country papers for the purpose of education was defeated.

A proposition debarring any member from being seated as a delegate who has been guilty of non-union conduct at any time in his career, was rejected.

An attempt to further amend section 98, general laws, relating to priority in situations on newspapers, was defeated

The choice for next place of meeting for the convention went to St. Louis, there being no other city put in nomination.

A proposition to create a defense fund in each subordinate union by setting aside an amount sufficient for $10 per capita, was recommended to the laws committee, the report having been unfavorable.

A further attempt to amend section 98, general laws, relating to priority in situations, was defeated.

A proposition creating a vice-president who shall be a member of the International Union in Canada, was reported unfavorably by the laws committee, but afterwards recommitted to the committee.

Section 66, general laws, being up for amendment of a minor nature, which was reported unfavorably by the committee, after debate, resulted in the entire section being struck out, the argument being that it was a dead letter. The section referred to the prohibition of any device or clock to register the amount of type set on typesetting machines

ENTERTAINMENTS.

During the week the convention committee of Columbia Union and the Ex-Delegates Association prepared a series of entertainments that have now passed into history. That the time was spent in a pleasant and entertaining manner is evidenced by the comments of the visitors, who fully appreciated each form of entertainment that followed in succession. The convention will adjourn Saturday morning, and while not kept as busy as some past sessions, will be remembered as a thorough going business one.

CONVENTION ECHOES.

The Mount Vernon turnstile on Tuesday registered 658 ex-delegates guests.

"Private" Broderick, of the Post, has a card suggestive of the "double-cross".

M. M. Turnbull, delegate from Superior, Wis., is a guest of Albert Reid, G. P. O.

Among the ex-Washingtonians present was J. J. McCarthy, representing Augusta, Ga.

J. M. McGowan ("Mac"), the credential-bearer from Chicago, was employed in the G. P. O. about eight or ten years ago.

Joe Jackson, of St. Louis, pays a compliment to 101, saying that "Old Saint Loo' will have to hustle to beat Washington."

St. Louis was unanimously chosen as the ideal place for the next convention. This will bring the boys out in great numbers.

Al Randall, besides having a big write up in the Post has the further honor of entertaining Ex-Delegate Palmer, of Providence, R. I.

Frank O. Martin, of St. Joseph, Mo., and wife (the latter an enthusiastic member of the Woman's Auxiliary), were very much in evidence.

Frank Kidd's announcement, "You may do the same thing for me next year," was taken to mean that gentleman's entry into the delegatorial race.

The Woman's Auxiliary evidently have no time to give to the women's suffrage question, as they voted as a unit to listen to Mrs. Belva Lockwood's speech when the convention is held at Woonsocket, R. I.

The Post cartoonist neglected to give the name of "the girl in the picture hat." It was Miss Pearl E. Martin, of St. Joe, Mo., an enthusiastic disciple of printerdom. Miss Martin was also a belle at Cincinnati last year.

President Lynch rushes the proceedings through with the utmost dispatch. His remarks in inviting Commissioner Driscoll, of the Publishers Association, to address the convention, criticising his action, proves him an openhanded, fearless officer.

Delegate Esterling, of Denver, has the distinction of carrying the most unique card seen at the convention. Our own Miss Anna B. Wilson is not an ace behind, however, as her card, on the same order, bears views of Washington that are valuable as souvenirs, at least.

In the Cumming's Memorial Committee report they say: "Putting a monument in Washington is equivalent to dropping a grain of sand in the ocean." In this diplomatic piece of flattery can be seen that the committee are observant as well as intelligent. We can well spare, even at a sacrifice, a monument or two to the Printer's Home.

Reception to the Delegates of the I. T. U. and E. and S. I. U.

The Central Labor Union will tender a reception, followed by an entertainment and supper, to the visitors at the convention this week. President Sherman, of the Central Labor Union, will make the address of welcome on behalf of the 85 affiliated organizations in that body. A short musical program will be rendered, and addresses by prominent labor leaders will be given, The hall of Typographical Temple has been handsomely decorated for the occasion. The committee in charge are E. J. Roche, H. W. Sherman, E. J. Ratigan, and C. E. Dietrich.

Hot Tamales and Chile at The Ranch, 507 F street n. w. Near Pension Office.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Official Organ Central Labor Union and Allied Building Trades, A. F. of L.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

The Trades Unionist Publishing Company

E. W. PATTON.....President
A. J. E. HUBBARD.....Vice-President
T. M. RING.....Secretary

Office: 441-443 G Street Northwest.

TELEPHONE EAST 15 Y.

SUBSCRIPTION

One year (in advance) - - - - $1.00
Six months (in advance) - - - - .50

Entered at the Post-Office, Washington, D. C. as Second-Class Matter.

THE TRADES UNIONIST is heartily and unqualifiedly indorsed by the Central Labor Union and the Allied Building Trades as well as by the various locals connected with the two central bodies.

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL WASHINGTON. 2

Only Eight-Hour Union Office in Town.

I would as soon think of doing business without clerks as without advertising.
—JOHN WANAMAKER.

Nothing, except the mint, can make money without advertising.
—GLADSTONE.

When you pay more for the rent of your business house than for advertising your business, you are pursuing a false policy. If you can do business, let it be known.
—FRANKLIN.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 13, 1903.

HEARD AND SEEN.

From now on a working-card or a Union permit will be a requisite to those desirous of learning to operate machines.

Billy Garrett is as busy as a hen with a brood of chickens. Almost everybody wants to shake the hand of our genial secretary.

The "Among the Printers" column in one of the city's dailies, bears all the well-known and highly commendable ear-marks of J. Monroe Kreiter.

The Washington delegation are very punctual in their attendance at the sessions. Delegate Meritt's name is very much in evidence on the minutes.

"Funny" Roberts, whose interesting letter, from West Virginia appeared in a recent issue of the TRADES UNIONIST, is in town for a few days shaking hands with his many friends.

F. A. Kennedy, Esq., editor, statesman, and scholar, seems to have run away from his dreaded "Red button" contributions, as he is now enjoying himself with his many friends in Washington. His paper, the Western Laborer, is a credit to unionism.

Frank Morrison (our Frank) who has been away from A. F. of L. headquarters for a brief period, but is now around again, seems to be in great demand by the delegates and exes. This hard-working, conscientious secretary of the A. F. of L. is deservedly popular.

While a great many expressed surprise at the masterly, dignified and eloquent speech of our vice-president, Dan C. Vaughan, those who are closest to this talented young gentleman knew that he could handle whatever he undertakes with credit to himself and the union.

Delegate Smith, of Houston, in opposing the reduction of strike benefits of married men from $7.50 to $5 said, "A single man can go out and get a glass of beer and a plate of soup for a nickel, but you can't take the old lady into a saloon." This insures him the Ladies Auxiliary vote.

Miss Myrtle Jacoby, who has been an indefatigable worker on the entertainment committee of the Ladies Auxiliary rendered a piano solo, "The Shepherd's Dream" at the Ebbitt House reception Saturday evening, with such feeling and expression that the entire assemblage was vociferous in its praise. Miss Jacoby's modesty may keep her name from the dailies, but the TRADES UNIONIST feels that it can not overlook this talented young artist's part in the program.

While the daily papers have devoted abundant space to the convention, and covered the field in splendid shape, still they overlooked the most attractive and best known character, from a printer's standpoint, residing in the District—old "Tip" Hoy. Robert Hoy is known to every tourist of the old days from "Iceland's cragged mountains to India's coral strands"—yea, from the "Icy shores of Halifax to the sun-kissed Honolulu," and his experiences would make interesting reading. "Tip" is now the prosperous owner of a first-class hostelry.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

THAT BALL GAME.

Outs and Doublets Make Pink-Slip Man Work Overtime.

Those who journeyed to American League Park went away well satisfied with the day's sport, even if the local team could not down the Baltimore "cracks". All in all, with due credit to the Baltimore contingent, hard luck and the foul-strike rule was a decided element in the result. Healey pitched a very good game, considering, but the palm goes to Sinclair, who struck out twice as many.

When the time-keeper passed by he assigned Luitich, Beddow, Templar, and a few of the more "dependables" to the ring alley. Then Anderson was detailed to the first division by Healey. Palmer gave some "hot copy to Elliot which would have been up on time if manager Luitich had Hank Allen to assist the soldier. Wizad gave his "take" to Wood, but it was by no means a "pick-up." Stubb's "slug" was the cause of Wiard going on leave; he was accompanied by H. Miller. Patterson, W. Miller, Mackessy, Difendall, Sinclair, and the "Filipino" all were promoted and after 8 Baltimore men had passed the civil service examination the first half of the session adjourned.

Lavinge received a temporary appointment (scarcely on merit) to the Third Division by a pull with Stubbs, but he received "permanent papers" when Senator Atkinson went personally to the same division after Congressman Cotter had tried in vain to assist him. Lehman and Atkinson were responsible for the adjournment of the last half of the first session.

After the first inning the locals settled down and put up a first class article. The visitors held their lead to the end, in the face of a steady up-hill game by G. P. O. players. It is hoped manager Luitich will arrange a return game in the near future, as all who witnessed the game claim that they received full value for time and expense.

THE SCORE:

W'shingt'n	R	H	O	A	E	Baltimore	R	H	O	A	E
Lavinge, 1...	1	2	1	0	0	Ander'n, ss	3	4	3	1	1
Cotter, 2b...	1	1	2	2	2	C. Palmer, c	1	1	13	2	2
Atkinson, c	0	2	5	1	1	Wiard, 2.....	1	3	0	1	2
Lehman, m	0	0	2	0	0	Stubbs, r	1	0	0	0	0
Dow, 1.....	0	0	9	0	3	H. Miller, 3..	0	1	3	4	1
Elliot, ss....	3	0	3	1	4	Patterson, 1	1	1	7	1	1
Woods, 3.....	2	1	2	2	4	W. Miller, m	2	1	0	0	0
Skeen, r.....	0	1	0	0	0	M'kessey, m	0	0	0	0	0
Healey, p...	1	1	0	6	0	Diffendal, l..	4	2	1	0	1
						Sinclair, p...	1	0	0	2	0
Totals	8	8	24	12	14	Totals	14	13	27	11	8

Washington.....	1	1	1	2	0	1	0	0	2—8
Baltimore.....	8	0	1	0	1	1	1	0	2—14

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Bindery Notes.

Gus Weigand is at Toronto.

Chute and Duffy are at Boston.

H. C. Wasson is touring the West.

Julius Greibel will summer at Hyattsville.

T. Mahoney has just left for Kansas City.

George Barnes visited Wildwood this week.

Jno R. Hanlon is at the Golden Gate, California.

George Arnold is abroad making a tour of Europe.

Dr. D. A. Binkert is up in the Blue Ridge Mountains fishing.

James L. Feeney is making short excursion trips to Atlantic City.

Charles A. Thurston: address, Douglas House, Rehoboth Beach, Del.

Ham Roy is en route for Niagara Falls and the Thousand Islands.

Joe Mitchell has just returned from a short leave and seems pleased to be at work.

John Nolan has removed his moustache and was last seen on the C. & O. Canal in the neighborhood of Great Falls.

Chas. McEnaney, with his mother, is spending his leave and is stopping at the Roosevelt Cottage, Mrs. Brown's, Atlantic City.

Fred Hofmann is in charge of the stamping room at the G. P. O. while M. Harris is spending his vacation at Atlantic by the sea.

Billy Kelly has just returned from Baltimore, and his friends are pleased to know he is none the worse from coming in contact with an electric car.

Captain Fredericks is somewhere on the Jersey coast. It is reported he is looking for Tommy Songster. It would be wise to give the captain a pension and let him enjoy the rest of his life.

Billy Hyde, with the assistance of his friend, Eddie Ryan, is selecting some dreams in neckwear, and his tailor has a rush order on. Billy expects to be the real thing on the sand and be there at the finish of the season.

The irrepressible Jimmie Coogan has finally turned in in the G. P. O. and is holding down a tub in the Union Building. We are patiently waiting for him to open his flood of oratory and deluge us with his store of information on organized labor. We can assure him that we will have the "guys" in the back part of the room remove "der dices."

John C. Hodges (The Grand Old Man) of the Union Building firmly maintains that the assertion that he borrowed Tom May's false teeth to go to a relative's funeral is absolutely false and without foundation. We are inclined to believe "Jackey's" side of the controversy from the fact that no one except those owning a good set of teeth in their own right could so successfully chew the proverbial rag.

COWBOY.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

ALLIED BUILDING TRADES.

Resolutions Adopted Relative to Local No. 9468.

The regular meeting of the Council of Allied Building Trades was called to order by Chairman Wells on Tuesday evening.

Roll call disclosed the presence of 38 delegates from 22 local unions.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

CREDENTIALS.

From Washington Lodge, No. 193, I. A. M., certifying H. K. Wood, Fred Pletcher, and L. H Sheetz.

From Local Union No. 77, I. U. S. E., certifying C. B. Falbush, vice J. W. Rhodes, resigned.

From Interior Marble and Slate Cutters and Setters' Association, Local No. 5, certifying F. Nelson and Clyde Cummings.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Washington Lodge, No. 193, I. A. M., placing certain firms unfair to that organization before the Council for the purpose of securing the aid of the Board of Arbitration.

From R. A. Lanis Association, Steam Fitters, No. 10, stating that they had indorsed the arbitration agreement.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Delegate Winslow, from Central Labor Union, reported on a job claimed to be unfair to Granite Cutters.

Delegate Thompson made a report on the Steam Fitters' Helpers' case. The report was received and committee discharged.

Delegate Daly, from the Arbitration Board, reported that the Steam Fitters' Helpers had agreed to finding of the Arbitration Board and had been given $2 per day.

Delegate Daly also reported that W. E. Speir had agreed to see that union stone laborers would be employed on his work.

The Hall Committee reported progress.

The Excursion Committee made a report of the progress made in the Labor Day excursion, and that all members of committees are asked to meet at Room 10, Typographical Temple, every Friday night at 8 o'clock.

The report of the Business Agent for the past week was received.

The following resolution from Hod Carriers, Brick and Mortar Wheelers' Union, No. 9468, was read and indorsed:

To the officers and members of the Council of Allied Building Trades of the Central Labor Union:

WHEREAS, Hod Carriers, Brick and Mortar Wheelers' Union, No. 9468, did, on April 30, 1902, present to this Council trade jurisdiction claimed by them, viz., the preparation of mortar, cement, etc., and the delivery of all material direct to the bricklayer, and this Council did indorse such trade jurisdiction as belonging solely to members of Hod Carriers, Brick and Mortar Wheelers' Union, No. 9468; and

WHEREAS, Hod Carriers, Brick and Mortar Wheelers' Union, No. 9468 did, on May 1, make a demand on their employers for an advance of 25 cents per day, to go into effect the first Monday in July, complying with all constitutional laws of this Council; and

WHEREAS, The Master Brick Layers' Association have ignored all communications from Hod Carriers, Brick and Mortar Wheelers' Union, No. 9468, and from July 3, 1903, have refused to employ the members of said union except at a scale of wages less than the one adopted by said union; and

WHEREAS, The members of said Master Bricklayers' Association subcontract their work from members of the Master Builders' Association, and said Master Bricklayers' Association has refused to arbitrate said scale of wages; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Council of Allied Building Trades, in regular session, do denounce the action of the Master Bricklayers' Association in refusing to arbitrate their differences with Hod Carriers, Brick and Mortar Wheelers' Union, No. 9468, as being unmanly and unfair; and be it further

Resolved, That the secretary be directed to request the Master Builders' Association and each individual member of same to refrain from considering estimates on work from members of the said Master Bricklayers' Association until such time as they shall agree to arbitrate present difficulties.

ROLL CALL.

The Sheet Metal Workers reported that they were satisfied with arbitration board.

Stone Laborers reported employment of nonunion men at Rock Creek Cemetery.

Granite Cutters asked for information on schoolhouse where Mt. Arius stone was being used.

Tile Layers reported that members of Master Builders' Association still continued to let work to National Mosaic Company. Referred to Business Agent.

Steam Fitters' Helpers extended thanks to Board of Arbitration and to the Council of Allied Building Trades for the assistance rendered them in effecting settlement of their difficulty.

Painters, No. 368, reported that Steam Fitters and Steam Fitters' Helpers were doing bronzing at St. Elizabeth's Asylum.

Trade agreement submitted by Slate and Marble Cutters and Setters' Union, No. 5, was indorsed, subject to approval of Tile Setters' Union.

Chairman Wells appointed W. E. Thompson, R. L. Johnson, J. A. Daly, John Fanning, and Fred Pletcher to act as substitutes for the members of the Arbitration Committee.

The Council then adjourned.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

The Labor Day Journal.

The solicitors applying for advertisements on the Labor Day Journal are in possession of an authority bearing the seal of the Central Labor Union and duly signed by President H. W. Sherman and Secretary Chas. W. Winslow, of the Central Labor Union. This issue is no way connected with one presumably an extra labor number to be published by the Times newspaper.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Agriculture Division.

Claude E. Haines served as proofreader during the absence of the foreman.

W. J. McEvoy is off on fifteen days' leave, and C. B. Huse has just returned from a like vacation.

Foreman Frank Wallace has returned from a fifteen days leave, well scorched and much benefited.

Maker up Chas. W. Bell, last week made a flying trip to New York, and the boys are yet wondering what's up.

Harry O'Donnell, the division's proofreader, is "getting in his inning" this week as delegate to the I. T. U. convention.

Chas. M. Wright and family took in Luray Cave last Sunday. He returned to work Monday morning feeling that he had gotten his money's worth.

Dr. Eric A. Abernethy was made the recipient of a token, in the shape of an elegant frame for his "license to practice," before leaving this division to engage in the practice of medicine. The chapel vored him its good will and best wishes for success.

Anti-Boycott Association.

A new association of employers, the aims and objects of which have been made public during the past week, has been formed for the purpose of combating the effects of the boycott and protecting the interests of the non-union workman. The new organization is officially known as the Anti-Boycott Association, and is national in its scope.

It is expected that fully 3,500 members of the painters, decorators, paperhangers, and sign painters of Boston, Lynn, Winchester, Waltham, Newton, Somerville, Quincy, Brookline, Cambridge, Malden, Hingham, Chelsea, Medford, Natick, Beverly, New Bedford, Hyde Park, Salem, Manchester, Norwood, and Lawrence will parade Labor Day with the trades unionists of Boston.

FOR THE BEST--
READY-TO-WEAR
—FOR—
Man, Woman and Child
AT THE MOST REASONABLE PRICES,
CONSULT—
Parker, Bridget & Co.,
Washington's Leading Outfitters, ...
Pa. Ave. and 9th St. N. W.

Union Made Cigars
OF THE FINEST QUALITY.
Pluck 5¢ | OFFTE'S BOUQUET 10¢
AFTER DINNER 5¢ | DEER HEAD 10¢
Henry T. Offterdinger, Manufacturer
504 Ninth St., N.W.

ARLINGTON BREWING CO.
ROSSLYN, VA.
BEER ALE PORTER
The Finest Productions of Skilled Union Labor. Union Label on Every Bottle and Keg of Our Goods.

In preparing for your vacation do not overlook the fact that one of our Blue Serge, Homespun, or Scotch Cheviot Sack Suits is indispensable if appearance and comfort is to be considered. We are showing a very large line of fabrics selected especially for outing purposes. Remember, we rank second to none in tailoring. Our garments have individuality and expression that stamps them as being "High-Grade." Get acquainted with our way of making clothes by ordering one of our Celebrated $25 Suits, made by Union Tailors.
Special sale of Trousers, $6.50 to Order.
T. E. Gilbert
IMPORTER AND TAILOR
818 F St. Northwest

Our Strictly One-Price Methods Insure Legitimate Reductions
Our Annual Mid-Summer Half-Price Clearance Sale
IS NOW IN FULL BLAST
Twice a year—mid-summer and mid-winter—we make a clean sweep of all except solid blues and blacks Men's and Boy's Suits. We do this in order to prevent any possibility of an accumulation of out-of-date patterns or styles, and we insure an absolute clearance by cutting prices CLEAN IN TWO. The sale this summer is more important than usual, as the long delayed warm weather left us with a larger stock on hand than we have had for many years. Thus you have a fuller and more complete assortment of patterns to select from at exactly half the proper prices. That you may be sure there is no exaggeration about this reduction we have left the original price tickets on every garment. The stock includes every variety of fashionable clothing for men and boys, in medium and light weights, all well-made goods, properly tailored and of correct cut.

Men's $ 7 50 Suits now.....	$3 75	All $2 50 and $3 Trousers...	$1 90
Men's 10 00 Suits now.....	5 00	All 3 50 and 4 Trousers....	2 90
Men's 12 50 Suits now.....	6 25
Men's 15 00 Suits now.....	7 50	Boys' $15 00 Long Pants Suits	$7 50
Men's 17 50 Suits now.....	8 75	Boys' 12 50 Long Pants Suits	6 25
Men's 20 00 Suits now.....	10 00	Boys' 10 00 Long Pants Suits	5 00
Men's 22 50 Suits now.....	11 25	Boys' 7 50 Long Pants Suits	3 75
Men's 25 00 Suits now.....	12 00	Boys' 5 00 Long Pants Suits	2 50

No Goods Charged at Sale Prices. Alterations, if any, will be charged at cost.
Our Guarantee back of every garment on sale.
THE BIEBER-KAUFMAN CO.
Masculine Outfitters from Childhood to Age
901-909 EIGHTH STREET S. E.

"Everyone knows how to find fault." No one has yet found fault with the
RELIABLE
The Gas Range for Summer Use
Washington Gas Light Co.
GAS APPLIANCE EXCHANGE

PRINTERS and Union Members.—For First-Class Meals, Eat at
VICTOR CAFE, 3 H St. N. W.
ALBION, Eleventh and E Sts. N. W.
ERIN, Cor. N. J. Ave. and D St. N. W.
U. S. LUNCH ROOM, 320 12th St. N. W.
ALBERT T. SCANLAND, Prop.
Open Day and Night. Best Service.

THE RIGGS NATIONAL BANK
Of Washington, D. C.
Capital - - - $1,000,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits, 1,000,000
Exchange on England, Ireland, France and Germany. Letters of credit available in all foreign parts. Bank Collections. Orders for investments. Stocks and Bonds.

Steam Cleaning and Dye Works
(Formerly New York Dye House)
I do the most perfect Cleaning and Dyeing at most reasonable rates. Goods called for and returned. C W. MARGRAF, Proprietor
Telephone 3483 Main
907 9th St. N. W., and 631 D St. N. W.

Hewke, PHOTOGRAPHER
56 of the ex-delegates and committees patronized me for good work.
Studio,
430 7th St., N. W. Washington, D. C.

John Mitchell's Book
"ORGANIZED LABOR."

AGENTS WANTED!
Every phase of this tremendous problem discussed by the greatest labor leader in the world. Every Union man buys at sight; also employers and all reading people. Big terms; also $1500 in cash prizes for agents. Workers clearing $5.00 to $15.00 daily. We are the exclusive publishers. Address quick for terms and territory
American Book and Bible House, 146 N. Tenth St., Phila., Pa.

The proposed federation of the trades unions of all Australasia has been found impracticable, as where the compulsory arbitration act is in force united action would be impossible.

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES
OF
Columbia Typographical Union,
No. 101.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, 423 G ST. N. W.
Office Hours: 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.; 5 to 7 P. M.

OFFICERS.

JOE M. JOHNSON.....President
DAN C. VAUGHAN.....Vice-President
WM. M. GARRETT.....Secretary
JOHN R. BERG.....Treasurer
FRANK BATES.....Sergeant-at-Arms
N. C. STOOPS.....Doorkeeper

TRUSTEES—J. E. Bright, chairman; W. L. Gutelius, Chas. C. Thompson, Joe M. Johnson, and Wm. M. Garrett.

DELEGATES TO CENTRAL LABOR UNION—J. H. Babcock, chairman; J. B. Dickman, Hugh Everett, Theodore Gerber, and C. E. Dietrich.

DELEGATES TO ALLIED TRADES COUNCIL—E. E. Calhoon, chairman; T. F. Hall, and J. P. Garner.

AUDITORS—C. W. Radley, chairman; H. G. Brown, and J. W. Carter.

COMMITTEES.

BUSINESS—Zach T. Jenkins, chairman; C. B. Yater, M. J. Maher, T. C. Parsons, and R. W. Burnside.

NOMINATIONS—W. N. Brockwell, chairman; F. A. Kidd, H. O'Donnell, Frank M. Hatley, and R. E. Stenner.

LAWS—Chas. H. Ennis, chairman; Raymond Gery, and Dexter S. Hussey.

FINANCE—John A. Huston, chairman; J. M. McLaughlin, and R. F. Chisholm.

PRINTING—T. A. Bynum, chairman; Milo Shanks, and Ed. J. Hall.

GRIEVANCE—Clint O. Price, chairman; Chas. S. Gunn, Philip Nachman, David J. Snyder, and E. Y. Fisher.

ENTERTAINMENT—T. L. Jones, chairman; J. R. Purvis, T. J. Fitzwilliam, Miss Nellie Theaker, Miss Anna Wilson, B. E. Harrison, and W. J. Harris.

CONFERENCE—J. L. Holland, chairman; D. J. Hegarty, and W. B. Shaw.

LIBRARY—Clyde J. Sheriff, chairman; A. E. Ogg, and Harry Essex.

RELIEF—Joseph G. Stelle, chairman; Wm. S. Schinnerer and E. P. Cummins.

EIGHT-HOUR—F C. Roberts, chairman; F. B. Crown, F. D. Seiffert, Jeff Newlon, and S. H. Willey.

MEMORIAL SERVICE—S. J. Gompers, chairman; Philip S. Steele, J. E. Goodkey, J. B. Dickman, and C. B. Yater.

AMOS J. CUMMINGS MEMORIAL—J. T. Rowe, chairman; Charles T. Graff, and T. A. Bynum.

CHAIRMEN.

First Division—R. L. Mabrey.
Second Division—W. N. Goldstein.
Third Division—Burr Williams.
Fourth Division—Charles H. Gove.
Fifth Division—Charles E. Dietrich.
Sixth Division—E. M. Nevils.
Job Room—J. K. Davison.
Record Clerks' Division—H. G. Brown.
First Division, Night—Allen Cowles.
Night Proof Room—E. H. Thomas.
Specification Room—E. A. Hutchison.
Official Gazette—Jere Walsh.
Document Proof Room—Jas. R. Armstrong.
Treasury Division—W. Brice Coston.
Interior Division—C. K. Stribling.
State Division—J. B. Dickman.
Navy Department Division—Albert E. Ogg.
War Department Division—Wm. K. Miller.
Agricultural Division—Henry P. Slaughter.
Library Division—H. V. Bisbee.
Weather Bureau—L. H. Emmons.
Morning Post—J. H. Broderick.
Evening Star—Joseph C. Whyte.
Evening Times—T. C. Parsons.
Law Reporter—J. R. Johnson.
Globe Printing Co.—R. A. Wilson.
Judd & Detweiler's—A. B. Barringer.
Wilkens Printing Co.—T. N. Surguy.
Pearson's—T. F. Monahan.
National Publishing Co.—E. C. Owen.
McGill & Wallace's—J. M. Watts.
Byron S. Adams'—R. B. Boucher.
Army and Navy Register—C. H. Draeger.
General Postoffice—Joseph Williams.
Sudwarth's—F. R. Adams.

AROUND THE PRINTERIES.

First Division.

For the past week alley 18 has only had two frames occupied.

Judge Holeman is entertaining the I. T. U. with the Ex-Delegates Association, and will spend the balance of his leave in the mountains.

E. M. Root is enjoying the mountain dew in and around Staunton, Va.

Oscar Nelson is sick again, but will be back in a few days.

Willis Young who has been sick for about ten days, has returned to work, but is not thoroughly recovered.

W. R. Love is off. The lapels of his coat are ablaze with numerous badges and souvenirs.

George Ellis has returned from a visit to his home in Vermont. He reports having had a fine time.

William Meyers has been sick for several days, but is out again.

Several of John J. McCarthy's friends were pleased to see him on Monday. He represents Augusta, No 41, and is now day foreman on the Augusta Chronicle.

John B. Miller has returned to his frame after a very pleasant sojourn among friends at Sumpter, S. C., his home.

Frank O. Jones, spent his vacation at Onawa, Iowa. He visited Sioux City during the firemans' convention held in that city. Frank was one of the boys that "run wid the machine" in his halcyon days.

To the First Division belongs the honor of doing the first composition in the new building. On Saturday, August 9, 1903, Foreman Roberts detailed Messrs. Waterman, Montgomery, Faust, Etchberger, Williams, Devine, Radley, Butler, Purdy, Ingalls, Turner, Evans, and West, to get out some work in the big "printery". The detail was in charge of R. J. Hale, maker-up, Scott was the laborer. We are sorry the entire division could not share in the honor.

Charley Irey is again among us, after spending several weeks at Colonial Beach and New York City. While at the latter place, accompanied by his son, who is in the U. S. Marine Service, at present stationed in New York, he visited all the places of interest in and about the city, visited the battleship Iowa, which is undergoing extensive repairs, Rockaway and Coney Island. Charley would like to go again.

Abner W. Bentz is visiting his mother at Carlisle, Pa.

The convention souvenir Year Book was distributed this week. It is without doubt the finest work ever turned out, and great credit is due the committee who had charge of the publication.

SUBSTITUTE.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Second Division.

Alleys in this room were somewhat abbreviated in length last week. The end frames of each alley were removed to the new building. Slug numbers are somewhat mixed up now.

During "Windy's" stay at Asbury Park (?) T. Frank Hall hourly receives "telepaths" or thought messages from him. Frank is besieged for the latest bulletins. Yachting with Lipton, rescuing beautiful heiresses, and lunching with Pierpont Morgan are common occurrences.

Belcher is anxiously awaiting the time he will act as chairman during Goldy's absence. How he will straighten out some of the boys he now has his eye on.

Prediction for 1904: St. Louis, the I. T. U. convention city; Miss Wilson presenting credentials from No. 101.

Only one member of this chapel "butted in" on the Baltimore select excursion Sunday.

All who participated in the Baltimore excursion Sunday highly praise that union for the lavish entertainment provided.

We are sorry to learn of the bereavement of President Joe M. Johnson in the death of his father, last Saturday, in Tennessee.

If a vice-president of No. 101 ever was elected with a view to his fitness for the presidency on occasion, the present incumbent is one. The occasion arose and he was all there.

In point of numbers and entertainment the River View outing was a great success. What a powerful example for good would it be, though, if some labor organization would veto the sale of liquor on such occasions. Why shouldn't the printers set this example? They boast of being the most conservative and intelligent of unions.

A. C. Martin, of the First Division, and W. J. Phillips of this room, spent Sunday at Harper's Ferry taking pictures. They secured some fine views.

"Doc" E. J. Scanlon leaves for his home, Saratoga, N. Y., today, to spend his vacation.

W. N. Goldstein goes on leave today.

Mr. L. C. Richards and family have departed for Ocean City, Md., to spend the remainder of the summer.

Frank R. McFadyen left Thursday for his home, Waynesville, N. C., which is quite a health resort up in the mountains.

Twenty-two persons are on leave today from this division.

Mr. Geo. R. Merriam departs for his vacation this week.

The "Man's Store."
We Close at 5 p. m. Saturdays, 9 p. m.
"Like buying Government Bonds below par."

"M. S. M." Summer Clothing is the best possible investment you could make at regular prices—and buying these suits at trade-making prices is just like buying government bonds below par.

Suits worth $10....$7.75
Suits up to $15.....$9.75
Suits up to $18....$13.75
Suits up to $22.50..$16.75

D. J. KAUFMAN, 1005-7 Pa. Ave.

Mr. M. V. B. Stevens goes on leave this week.

Theodore Gerber's 7-year-old daughter has been critically ill with typhoid fever but is now slightly improving.

Mr. J. W. L. Dillman's superior on the makeup bank informs us that a girl baby arrived at Mr. Dillman's house last week. We have not yet seen the cigars passed around.

NEWS.

Hot Tamales and Chile at The Ranch, 507 F street n. w. Near Pension Office.

FOR RENT—Neatly furnished rooms; with or without board; free bath. 515 F street northwest.

Fifth Division.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Guthridge and children went to Atlantic City for an outing.

R. E. King exhibited a souvenir several days ago of a previous convention of printers in Washington city. It is not such an elaborate affair as the handsome book just issued by our union, but the document is interesting in that it was printed for the Typographical Society in 1868, and bears a set of resolutions adopted by the Society thanking 101 for courtesies shown the delegates and the perfect arrangements made for holding the convention that year in this city. The relic will make an interesting addition to our exhibits at the Temple, for which Mr. King intends it.

Amos Irving, for many years laborer in the G. P. O., when there were no divisions, but now deputy marshal in Oklahoma, and on his way east with prisoners, came through the building shaking hands with the oldtimers. When he came to John Sherman he "'lowed" they were all getting fat.

Columbia team won the ball game played at River View last Monday. The score was 8 to 10. Their opponents, a picked nine from among the delegates, played well and led till near the finish, when several of Columbia's men made home runs, which inspired new life, and saved them the day.

George Hayden, slug 2 in this room several years ago, is running a daily in Alexandria.

James G. Boss made a trip to New York to visit two of his sons, who are employed in that city.

W. S. Schinnerer, W. A. Roberts, H. B. Barnhart, F. E. Klopfer, T. J. Rowe, S. G. Boss, W. H. Guthridge, and W. Miles, passed from labor to rest last Thursday, to be absent a fortnight or more.

Wm. M. Hamilton underwent an operation for appendicitis last Monday at the Sibley Hospital. He is reported doing well.

H. B. Barnhart went to Indiana last week to spend his vacation at home.

John J. Quinn has been sick for nearly three weeks, suffering with typhoid fever.

An amusing incident occurred at the I. T. U. excursion last Monday. An ex-delegate, not being able to remain for dinner, gave his tickets to a couple of messengers from the Spess, Austin and his brother, who were on the grounds. They sat down to the table and partook of the delicacies thereon with much gusto. When finished, they presented their tickets, which were not accepted, and they had to pay a dollar each. Austin was very much put out about it. as he "wasn't very hungry, anyway." He said, "Those must have been 'stiff' tickets."

RAN.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Treasury Division.

Chas. S. Willis returned from a two-weeks' vacation Monday.

Albert K. Mundheim was on the sick list several days last week.

Ex-delegate A. L. Randall is on leave this week helping to entertain the boys.

George O. Atkinson, of this division, caught for the Washington printers Wednesday.

Raymond E. Gery, of the proof room, is spending a month's leave at his old home in Indiana.

Wm. M. Holeman and E. E. Coates, former employees of this division, were visitors last week.

Chester Hassel, from the main office, has been running a ruling machine here for several weeks.

Misses Annie F. Leonard, Ellen A. Featherstone, and Bertie Martin, of the press room, are on leave.

Ed. L. Winne had the misfortune to be stung on the elbow by a hornet while on leave, and consequently he spent most of the time with his arm in a sling. He is now on a three-day fishing trip at Colonial Beach.

F. E. Williamson was transferred to the main office August 1st. He is located in the folding room.

H. J. Gaylor and family are rusticating for three weeks in the Blue Ridge Mountains, near Hagerstown, Md.

Messrs. Martin Flynn, Daniel J. Hegarty, and W. H. Anglin were transferred to the main office about ten days ago.

B. F. Hasson is spending a month visiting relatives and friends in Ohio and Pennsylvania. All wish him a pleasant trip.

Miss Mary L. Bergin, a popular young lady of the folding room, returned to work last week after an absence of fifteen days on leave.

Theophilus McClure and wife are spending their month's vacation with relatives and friends at Indianapolis, Ind., and Chicago, Ill.

Chas. M. Evans is absent for a month, visiting friends at his old home in Annapolis. He expects to spend part of his time at Ocean City, Md.

T. F. McKeon and wife left Washington Thursday for a trip to Boston by sea. They will return by rail, visiting New York and other cities en route.

The excursion to River View Monday, in honor of the International Typographical Union, was well attended by employees of this division.

Chas. A. Williams, accompanied by his wife, spent several weeks in Atlantic City last month. The trip was highly beneficial to him, as he was not feeling well when he left.

Howard Branson, who was discharged from this division about nine years ago, is living at Atlantic City, N. J., and is working in a job office on Michigan avenue, near Pacific.

W. Brice Coston returned to work the latter part of last week after an absence of twenty days on leave. He and his wife spent the time very pleasantly at Atlantic City, N. J., and Mt. Pocono, Pa.

SUBSCRIBER.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

The Anti-Trust Meeting.

The meeting held this evening at the National Theater under the auspices of the organized unions of the city was presided over by President H. W. Sherman, of the Central Labor Union. Among the speakers were Congressman Shober, of New York; Congressman Van Duzen, of Nevada; Owen J. Kindelon, of New York Typographical Union, No. 6, and several local speakers of prominence in the labor movement.

The meeting was very enthusiastic, and the large assembly present listened attentively to the addresses made. It was clear to all those present that the audience was in hearty accord with the sentiments expressed by the eloquent speakers.

A concert by Haley's band preceded the addresses, and enlivened the scene made brilliant by red fire and an air of enthusiam prevalent everywhere.

The result of the meeting developed that a strong sentiment was created for William R. Hearst on account of his attitude on trusts in his newspapers, and he was indorsed in a set of resolutions for President of the United States. The meeting was carried away on the mention of his name, and his endorsement followed.

John Mitchell, President of the United Mine Workers of America, has about completed a book on the labor question. Those who have seen advance sheets pronounce it a remarkable work, and a masterly defense of the rights of organized labor.

San Francisco carpenters are once more in harmony. President William D. Huber, of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, whose mission to the Coast was to adjust the differences under which brotherhood carpenters were smarting in San Francisco and in Oakland, spoke in favor of unions affiliating with the Building Trades Council, and cautioned his hearers against permitting personal interests to disrupt or destroy the harmony of the brotherhood. He predicted that the Amalgamated Society of Woodworkers and the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners would join with the brotherhood in the near future in one organization.

Is your wife
a member of the Tribe of Ben Hur? Ask about a policy for her, costing but 19 cents per week, paying at age 30, $650; ten-year annuity after age 70.

HENRY E. CROUCH, Deputy, 424 Fourth St. N. E.
ALBERT P. E. DOYLE, Scribe, 210 St. N. E.

The Savings possible at
S. Kann, Sons & Co.
8th St.—THE BUSY CORNER—Pa. Ave.
are such as may be counted in the pocket. At the same time styles and qualities are unexcelled.

Woodward & Lothrop,
DEPARTMENT STORE.
TENTH, ELEVENTH, AND F STS. N. W.

WHERE THE HALF-TONES ARE MADE
THE NATIONAL ENGRAVING COMPANY.
INCORPORATED.
14th St. and Pa. Ave. Phone 1679 Main.

J. E. BONINI'S
BUFFET AND CAFÉ,
727-729 N. Capitol Street.
MAERZEN BEER ON TAP.
A first-class Lunch Counter. Sea food in season. Union throughout.

Cole & Swan
Large assortment of Watches, Diamonds, and Jewelry (we make and repair anything in this line).
"Square Dealing" our motto.
21 H Street N. W.

Indian Head Trips | Marshall Hall

STR. CHARLES MACALESTER
EVERY THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY AT 6.30 P. M.
Appointments first-class. All amusements.
MARSHALL HALL:
Daily at 10 a. m., 2.30 and 6.30 p. m.
Sundays, 11 a. m., 2.30 and 6.30 p. m.
Fare (Round Trip), 25 Cents.
FOR MOUNT VERNON,
(Home and Tomb of Washington). Daily, 10 a. m. and 2.30 p. m. (Sundays excepted).

SAMUEL C. PALMER
Manufacturer of
Soda and Mineral Waters
IN FOUNTS, SYPHONS AND BOTTLES
SODA WATER SYRUPS
OF ALL FLAVORS
Phone West 190
Depot, 1066-8 32d Street N. W.

GEO. W. BARRY COAL CO.
Coal in any quantity at the right price and Wood also.
14-16 H N. E. One minute from G. P. O. Telephone East 234.

Manhattan Table — Lunch, 12 to 1, 10c
ED. E. WALSH
All leading brands of
Whiskies, Wines and Cigars
309 G STREET NORTHWEST
Clark's Maryland Rye and Heurich's Beers a Specialty

D. STRAUSS,
Clothier, Hatter and Furnisher
441 Seventh Street N. W.,
Washington, D. C.

Cabin John Bridge
MOST BEAUTIFUL PLEASURE RESORT IN AMERICA
A Wealth of Amusements
Band Concerts Every Evening and Sunday Afternoons
Beauty Health Pleasure
Union Men Only Engaged
TAKE METROPOLITAN CAR

THOMAS WALSH
Formerly "Steve" Caldwell's.
Whiskies and Cigars
Specialties: MELVALE AND SHERWOOD
COOL LAGER BEER ON DRAUGHT.
BILLIARDS AND POOL
Billiards, 40c. per hour. Pool, 2½c. per cue.
THOMAS WALSH
407 Tenth St. Northwest

E. F. PRICE & CO.
Strongest flat opening blank book made.
Ruling and Binding of every description.
A Specialty of FINE BANK WORK.
BOOKBINDERS 1108 E St. N. W.

G. P. O. BICYCLE REPAIR CO.
ARTHUR D. BENNETT
MANAGER
Wheels stored, cleaned, and repaired (per month)..... $1.00
Wheels stored and cleaned (per month)..... .75
Wheels stored (per month)..... .50
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty
Bicycle Sundries
Salesroom, 33 H St. N. W.

300 1-lb. Loaves to the Barrel.
Every Laboring Man
—requires pure, wholesome, nourishing food such as is made of—
Cream Blend Flour
It not only makes THE BEST Bread, Rolls, Cake and Pastry, but more of them than other brands—therefore it's the cheapest that money can buy.
Your Grocer will supply you.
B. B. EARNSHAW & BRO., Wholesalers,
1105, 1107, 1109 11th Street S. E.
1000 and 1002 M Street S. E.

T. HOLLANDER
Men's Furnishings
Hats and Shoes
COR. N. CAPITOL AND H STS.
Opposite Government Printing Office

DO YOU USE TOILET PAPER?
If so, investigate the service furnished by
R. P. Andrews & Co.,
INCORPORATED
627-629 LOUISIANA AVE. N. W.
THE WHOLESALE PAPER HOUSE
IT WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

A Union House Patronized by Union Printer You Will Meet The Craft Here.
HAIGHT'S
HOTEL AND RESTAURANT
1008-10-12 E Street Northwest
One block from Columbia Theater
Rooms Newly Furnished For Men Only

HOTEL FRITZ REUTER
Rathskeller and Restaurant.
COR. PA. AVE. AND JOHN MARSHALL PLACE
Phone: East 388.

Ebbitt House
Washington, D. C. H. C. BURCH, Mgr.
HEADQUARTERS
International Typographical Convention

Telephone 3662-Y
AMREIN'S
FAMOUS ICE CREAM
HAS NO EQUAL
Stores, 1426 and 1810 7th St. N. W.

B. F. WARNER
FINE WINES and LIQUORS
BLUE LABEL CIGARS
1219 E Street Northwest

FOR LUNCH
TRY THE
Pure Dairy Lunch
935 D Street Northwest

American Ice Co.
1437 Penna. Ave. N. W.

THE UNION
SAVINGS BANK
BOND BUILDING
Cor. 14th St. and New York Ave. N.W.

Three Per Cent Interest
on Savings Accounts.

anch Deposit Agency at
T. A. ROVER'S STORE,
Cor. North Capitol and H Sts.
OPEN EVERY MONDAY AND TUESDAY
FROM 4 TO 5 P. M.

When in doubt buy at
HOUSE & HERRMANN,
FURNITURE, CARPETS,
DRAPERIES, ETC.
N. E. Corner Seventh and I Streets N. W.

Don't Buy a Hat
Without the Label..
And See that It Is Sewed In.

Don't Patronize a Dealer Who Has Loose Labels on Hand and Offers to Put One in Your Hat.
LOOSE LABELS
In Retail Stores
ARE COUNTERFEITS.
The John B. Stetson Co., of Philadelphia, Pa., is a non-union concern.

Phone Main 2132
THE HUB
OUTFITTERS AND HATTERS
Penna. Avenue and 14th Street
C. H. REIZENSTEIN Washington, D. C.

J. GEORGE SMITH
(Formerly a member of the firm of R. P. Andrews & Co.)
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
PAPER AND STATIONERY
My old friends and patrons from J. C. Addison's time to the present will be welcome. I can supply all your needs at lowest prices consistent with quality.
626 E STREET NORTHWEST

EDWIN F. PRICE
(Late member of the firm of E. F. Price & Co.)
Bookbinder
Ruling and Binding of every description. Strongest Flat-Opening Blank Book Made. A Specialty of Fine Bank Work.
Darby Bldg., 506-508 Fourteenth St. N. W.

St. Asaph Commission Rooms,
Old Established and Reliable.
Trains leave Thirteen and one-half street and Pennsylvania avenue—Alexandria, Mt. Vernon, and Washington Railway—daily at 12.45, 1.05, 1.25, 2, 2.30, 3.02, and 3.30. Return .39, 4.24, 5.02, 5.58, and at various intervals.

The Hub Furniture Co.,
The Stores that Save You Money.
OUR MOTTO—The Best Values in Furniture and Carpets at the Lowest Prices.
Cash or Credit.
HUB FURNITURE CO.,
(Formerly Wash B. Williams)
Corner Seventh and D Streets N. W.

CELTIC CLUB WHISKY
Our Specialty. Never Changes. Once Tried You'll Always Use It. Take No Substitute.
Ports and Sherries for family use, Quarts, 50 and 75 cents. All makes of Beer. Leading brands of Cigars. Ales and Porters on draught the year round.
JOHN CONNOR
New Jersey Ave. and G Sts. N. W.

J. WILLIAM LEE,
Undertaker and
Livery, . . .
322 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

Yale Laundry
DECLARED UNFAIR
BY THE R. A. LANIS ASSOCIATION
The "Yale Steam Laundry" prefers "scabs" to do their steam fitting. Where do you and your friends have your washing done? Help the Union Steam Fitters by refusing your patronage to the Yale Laundry.
R. A. LANIS ASS'N OF STEAM FITTERS
March 10, 1903. L. B. No. 10, N A

CHESAPEAKE BEACH
Only Salt Water Resort Near Washington
MAMMOTH BOARD WALK
LINED WITH AMUSEMENTS
Finest Salt-water Bathing, Fishing, Crabbing, Sailing, Dancing.
HALEY'S BAND
See Schedule under Railroad Time Tables in all Daily Papers.

Union Directory.

TO SECRETARIES: Please notify this office of any change in officers' addresses, time or place of meeting. Corrections will be made quarterly.

American Federation of Labor—Headquarters, Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Sam'l Gompers, President. Frank Morrison, Secretary.

Allied Printing Trades Council meets last Thursday in the month at Typographical Temple. J. A. Wiedman, Secretary-Treasurer, 15 I street northeast.

Allied Label League meets every Friday night at 8 o'clock at 905 E street northwest. C. A. Pfau, Secretary, 905 E street northwest.

Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, Local No. 148, meets second and fourth Thursday evenings at 922 Pa. avenue northwest. Geo. Bakersmith, Secretary, 3315 Brightwood avenue northwest.

Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers. Local Union No. 102, meets first and third Wednesdays at Loehl's Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. Wm. H. Whiting, Secretary, 639 K street southwest.

American Society Plate Engravers meets first Saturday in each month at Grand Army Hall. A. C. Ruebsam, Secretary, Bethesda, Montgomery County, Md.

Bakers Union, No. 118, meets first and third Saturday in each month at 430 Eighth street northwest. John G. Schmidt, Secretary and Business Agent, 333 I street s w.

Bakers' Drivers' L. U. No. 33, T. D. I. U. meets first and third Thursday evening of each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Thomas C. Fox, Secretary, 922 Fourth street northeast.

Bartenders' League Local No. 75, meets first and fourth Sunday of each month at 2 p. m. at Macabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. Jere F. McCarthy, Secretary, 1017 Maryland avenue southwest.

Beer Drivers' and Stablemen's Union, No. 234, meets first Sunday of each month at 314 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. A. D. Manger, Secretary, 209 Sixth street southwest.

Bookbinders' Union, No. 4, meets first Tuesday in each month at Typographical Temple. James A. Stockman, Secretary, 735 North Capitol street.

Brewery Workers' Union, No. 118, meets second and last Sunday of the month at 314 Pennsylvania ave. southeast. A. D. Manger, Secretary, 209 Sixth street southwest.

Bricklayers' Union, No. 1, meets second and fourth Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Milford Spohn, Secretary, Typographical Temple.

Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators, and Paperhangers, Local Union, No. 368, meets every Friday night at 430 Eighth street northwest. G. J. Murray, Secretary, 1107 South Carolina avenue southeast.

Cab and Carriage Drivers' Union, No. 486, meets first and third Sundays, at Butler's Hall, 609 C street northwest. W. B. Nelson, Secretary, 922 I street northwest.

Carriage and Wagon Workers' International Union, Local No. 72, of Washington, D. C., meets first and third Fridays at 902 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. John H. Brinkman, Secretary, 1729 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Carpet Upholsterers, No. 85, U. L U., meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at 516 Ninth street northwest. Geo. A. Pinckney, Secretary, 363 Pennsylvania ave. northwest.

Central Labor Union meets every Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Typographical Temple. Charles W. Winslow, Secretary, 425 G street northwest. Residence, 3206 Wisconsin avenue northwest.

Ceramic, Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers and Helpers' International Union, No. 2, meets first and third Thursdays at 609 C street northwest. W. F. Miller, Secretary, 1228 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Cigarmakers' Local Union, No. 110, meets every Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Bielgk's Hall, 737 Seventh street northwest. Henry B. Wissner, Secretary, 3143 Dumbarton avenue.

Columbia Lodge, No. 174, International Association of Machinists, meets every Wednesday night at McCauley's Hall, 209 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. E. L. Adams, Secretary, 600 Ninth street northeast.

Columbia Typographical Union meets third Sunday in each month in Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. W. M. Garrett, Secretary.

Council Allied Building Trades of Central Labor Union meets every Tuesday night at 610 G street notthwest. E. J. Ratigan, Secretary, Room 2, 626 Sixth street northwest.

Douglass Association of Steam Engineers, I. S. U. E., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of the month at 609 F street northwest. J. W. Webb, Secretary, 341 Maryland avenue southwest.

Electrotype Molders and Finishers' Union, No. 17, I. S. and E. U. Charles W. Dean, Secretary.

Federal Labor Union No. 8193, meets fourth Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Miss Emma A. Miller, Secretary, 1011 First street n. w.

Fire Department Employees, P. and B. Union No. 8846, meets every Wednesday morning at 11 a. m., at Union Veterans' Hall, 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. G. Achstetter, Secretary, 206 N. Y. ave. northwest.

Gas Workers' Union No. 10343, Samuel H. Walker, Secretary, 735 Thirteenth street s. e.

Glass Bottle Blowers' Association, Branch 68, Alexandria, Va., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Serepta Hall. Frank Michelbach, Secretary, 803 King street, Alexandria, Va.

Hospital Attendants' Protective Union No. 8097, meets first and fourth Saturday nights of each month at Masonic Hall, Anacostia, D. C. C. W. Teates, Secretary, 434 Jackson street, Anacostia, D. C.

Hodcarriers, Brick and Mortar Wheelers' Union No. 9468, meets first and third Monday evenings in each month at Cadets' Armory, 708 O street northwest. Dennis Brown, Secretary, 1237 Fourth street northwest.

Ice Wagon Drivers and Helpers, Local No. 430, meets first and third Tuesdays in each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest (third floor). William Donaldson, Secretary, 812 Seventh street southwest.

International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, Local Union No. 5, meets every Friday night at Seventh and N streets northwest. Charles E. Barbour, Secretary, 1212 Potomac street northwest.

International Association of Machinists, Headquarters, rooms 82-85 Corcoran Building Fifteenth and F streets northwest. James O'Connell, president; D. Douglass Wilson, vice-president and editor of the Journal; George Preston, Secretary-Treasurer.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.—Headquarters, Rooms 103-104 Corcoran Building. H. W. Sherman, Secretary.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 26, meets every Thursday night at Hotel Royal Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. S. F. Adams, Secretary, 724 Eighteenth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 148, meet every Monday night at 430 Eighth street northwest. H. B. Anderson, Secretary, 807 Eighth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, No. 257, meets every Friday evening at 719 Sixth street n. w. M. G. Bundick, Secretary, 1107 Tenth street n. w.

Interior Marble and Slate Cutters' and Setters' Association, No. 5, meets first and third Wednesday of each month at Arion Hall, 430 Eighth street northwest. George Edmonds, Secretary, 423 Queen street, Alexandria Va.

International Association of Marble Workers No. 33, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at 106 I street northwest. Lew Davis, Secretary, 106 I street northwest.

International Union of Steam Engineers—Local Union No. 99, meets every Wednesday evening at 419 Tenth street northwest. A. W. Leeke, Recording Secretary, Twelfth and B streets northwest.

International Brotherhood of Firemen, Local No. 63, meets every Tuesday night at J. F. Heare's Hall, 404 Eighth street northwest. Louis S. Crown, Secretary. 637 K street northeast.

International Alliance Stage Employees, Local No. 22, meets first and third Sundays of every month at 625 Louisiana avenue northwest. J. Shilling, Secretary, 1208 Bladensburg Road.

Iron Molders' Union, Local No. 215, meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at Masonic Hall, Fourth street and Pennsylvania avenue southeast. Joseph Stewart, Secretary, 3413 N street northwest.

I. U. S. E., Hoisting and Portable, Local 77, meets every Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, Heare's Hall, 404 Eighth street northwest. W. H. Radcliffe, Secretary, 812 Four-and-a-Half street southwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 239, meets first and third Wednesdays in each month at 737 Seventh st. northwest. Theo. A. Leckert, Secretary, 1210 Florida avenue northwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 305, meets first and third Monday evenings at 503 G street northwest (barber shop). Charles A. Thomas, Secretary, 817 E street northwest.

Journeymen Horseshoers' Union, No. 17, meets first and third Wednesday of each month at Costello's Hall, Sixth and G streets northwest. W. S. Lusby, Secretary, 708 Eighth street southwest.

Journeyman Tailors of America, No. 188, meets first and third Saturdays of each month at 8 o'clock p.m., Labor Bureau Hall. Ignatius Geraci, Secretary, 917½ E street northwest.

Journeyman Plumbers and Gas Fitters' Local Union, No. 5, meets second and fourth Tuesday evening of each month at Maccabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. A. E. Anderson, Secretary, 1312 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Journeymen Stone and Marble Cutters' Union, meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Irondall Hall. Harry Bouche, Secretary, 72 H street northeast.

Laundry Wagon Drivers No. 467, W. W. Foster. Secretary, 95 Myrtle street northwest

Mail Bag Repairers' Union, No. 10523, meets first and last Saturdays of every month at Stolpp's Hall 721 Sixth street northwest. L. W. Kearney, Secretary, 406 First st. n.w.

Mail Bag Workers' Union, 10504, meets every Saturday at 721 Sixth street northwest Miss A. Cross, Secretary, 321 Lincoln street, Anacostia, D. C.

Marble Mosaic and Granito Workers No. 8902, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at 1400 D street northwest. G. B. Cinotti, secretary.

Metal Trades Federation of North America, Room 134 Corcoran Bldg., James O'Connell, President. E. J. Lynch, Secretary.

Milk Wagon Drivers' Union, No. 349, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at 8 p. m., at Hotel Royal (second floor), Seventh and N streets northwest. W. T. Trittipoe 1359 U street northwest.

Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers' Helpers, Local Union, No. 12, meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Arion Hall, 430 Eighth street northwest. S. Becket, Secretary, 401 E Street southeast.

Musicians' Protective Union, No. 161, meets first and third Sundays at 2 p. m., at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Linden, Jr Secretary, 1364 E street southeast.

National Alliance Theatrical Stage Employes meets first and third Sunday in each month at southwest corner of Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, third floor. J. P. Shilling, Secretary, 1208 Bladensburg Road.

Negative Cutters Union, meets second Wednesday in each month at 921 F street northwest. Clarence W. Schroeder, Secretary, 640 E street southeast.

Oil Wagon Drivers, No. 296, meets second Wednesday of each month at Oppenheimer's Hall, 514 Ninth street northwest. A. J. Dixon, Secretary, 1234 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Operative Stonemasons' Union, No. 2, meets first and third Monday evenings at 609 C street northwest. James Lanigan, Secretary, 930 G street southwest.

Paperhangers' Local Union No. 420, B. of P., D., and P., meets every Wednesday evening, 625 Louisiana avenue, n. w. J. Franklin Page, Secretary.

Pattern Makers' League meets at Weller's Hall, Eighth and I streets southeast, first and third Wednesday. James B. McAlwee, Secretary, 907 E street southeast.

Photo-Engravers' Union, No. 17, meets first Monday in each month at 417 Eleventh street northwest. F. C. Betts, Secretary, Kensington, Md.

Printing Pressmen Union, No. 1, meets first Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. W. C. Deane, Secretary, 19 Grant Place.

Plate Printers Union, No. 2, meets at Maccabee Temple, Ninth street n. w., the fourth Tuesday in each month. J. P. Murphy, Secretary, 1416 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

Post-Office Clerks, No. 9834, meets the second Saturday of each month at Twelfth and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. B. Corridon, Secretary, 1733 North Capitol street.

Registered Drug Clerks' Union, District of Columbia, meets second and fourth Fridays at Jolly Fat Men's Hall, 933 D street northwest. Fred T. Hafelfinger, Secretary, 1110 Fourteenth street northwest.

Retail Clerks' Union, No. 262, meets second and fourth Mondays of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Joseph Moser, Recording Secretary, 624 I street northwest.

Retail Grocery Clerks' Union, No. 533, meets every Thursday evening at Society Temple, 5th and G streets N. W. Alfred Fuss, Secretary, 802 D street s. e.

Slate and Tile Roofers' Union, No. 10421, meets every Monday night at 922 F street northwest. J. C. Huddleson, Secretary, 2147 Pennsylvania avenue northwest,

Soda and Mineral Water Wagon Drivers, No. 372, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at Bessler's Hall, 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. P. Connor, Secretary, 1111 Sixth street southwest.

Operative Stonemasons' Union, No. 2, meets first and third Monday evenings at 609 C street northwest. James Lanigan, Secretary, 930 G street southwest.

Paperhangers' Local Union No. 420, B. of P., D., and P., meets every Wednesday evening, 625 Louisiana avenue, n. w. J. Franklin Page, Secretary.

Pattern Makers' League meets at Weller's Hall, Eighth and I streets southeast, first and third Wednesday. James B. McAlwee, Secretary, 907 E street southeast.

Photo-Engravers' Union, No. 17, meets first Monday in each month at 417 Eleventh street northwest. F. C. Betts, Secretary, Kensington, Md.

Printing Pressmen Union, No. 1, meets first Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. W. C. Deane, Secretary, 19 Grant Place.

Plate Printers Union, No. 2, meets at Maccabee Temple, Ninth street n. w., the fourth Tuesday in each month. J. P. Murphy, Secretary, 1416 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

Post-Office Clerks, No. 9834, meets the second Saturday of each month at Twelfth and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. B. Corridon, Secretary, 1733 North Capitol street.

Registered Drug Clerks' Union, District of Columbia, meets second and fourth Fridays at Jolly Fat Men's Hall, 933 D street northwest. Fred T. Hafelfinger, Secretary, 1110 Fourteenth street northwest.

Retail Clerks' Union, No. 262, meets second and fourth Mondays of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Joseph Moser, Recording Secretary, 624 I street northwest.

Retail Grocery Clerks' Union, No. 533, meets every Thursday evening at Society Temple, 5th and G streets N. W. Alfred Fuss, Secretary, 802 D street s. e.

Slate and Tile Roofers' Union, No. 10421, meets every Monday night at 922 F street northwest. J. C. Huddleson, Secretary, 2147 Pennsylvania avenue northwest,

Soda and Mineral Water Wagon Drivers, No. 372, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at Bessler's Hall, 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. P. Connor, Secretary, 1111 Sixth street southwest.

Steam Fitters, R. A. Lanis Association, L. B. No. 10, N. A., meets every Thursday night at 610 G street northwest. Thomas L. Hess, Secretary, 913 New York avenue northwest.

Steam and Hot Water Fitters' Helpers, Local Branch, No. 28, N. A., meets every Friday at 8 o'clock p. m., at 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Thomas F. Flanagan, Secretary, 38 G street northeast.

Stereotypers' Union. No. 19, of Washington D. C., meets second Monday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. D. J. Murray, Secretary, 35 R street northwest.

Stone Laborers' Union, No. 9013, meets first and third Friday of each month at Eleventh and Q streets northwest. Daniel Lahey, Secretary, 1003 A street southeast.

Telephone Operators, No. 9914, meets third Saturday of each month at Schmidt's Hall, 516 Ninth street northwest. Edna Earl Bobb, Secretary, 924 Pennsylvania avenue southeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, Local Union. No. 190, meet every Friday evening at the Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. C. H. Scherer, Secretary, 936 Fourth street northeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 884, meets every Monday night at 904 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Torney, Secretary, 141 Jefferson street, Anacostia D. C.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 1103, Mill and Bench Hands, meets every Friday at 8 p. m., at 514 Ninth street northwest. Peyton Wilkerson, Secretary, 816 G street southeast.

United Brotherhood of Leather Workers on Horse Goods, No. 87, meets every second and fourth Tuesday, 513 Twelfth street northwest. H. J. Laubach, Secretary. 72 H street northeast.

Upholsterers' Local Union, No. 58, meets second and fourth Thursdays of each month at 416 (fourth floor) Ninth street northwest. T. R. Bowie, Secretary, 1306 Riggs street northwest.

Washington Branch, Granite Cutters' National Union, meets every second and fourth Mondays in each month at 1204 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Wm. Silver, Secretary, 49 Massachusetts avenue northwest.

Washington Feeders and Assistants' Union, No. 42, meets the first Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street n. w. D. I. Leane, Secretary, 702 H street northeast.

Washington Lodge of Machinists, No. 193, meets every Thursday night at southwest corner of Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. Herbert Wyatt, Secretary, 111 Seventh street southeast.

Wood, Wire, and Metal Lathers' Local Union, No. 9, meets every Monday night at Hare's Hall, Eighth and D streets northwest. J. C. Maloney, Secretary, 124 G street n. w.

Leaves the Case to Practice Medicine.

Dr. Eric A. Abernethy, erstwhile a compositor in the Agricultural Division, has left the service of Uncle Sam's Printery, and will devote his time and talents to the practice of medicine. The Doctor is a good printer and an ardent union man, but training, experience, and temperament better him to follow his chosen profession, and if these commendable qualities count for anything his success is already assured. After completing his academic studies at the University of North Carolina he was graduated from the College of Medicine of the University of Virginia. For some time after receiving the degree of Doctor of Medicine from his Virginia alma mater he practiced in North Carolina. Appreciating the advantage of post-graduate study and the superior inducements in hospital work, he came came to Washington to further perfect himself. Since coming here he has earned and has had conferred on him by Columbian University Medical School the degree of Doctor of Medicine, and for the past eighteen months has been in the various hospitals of the District.

"NEARLY AS BAD AS KANSAS."

The Scab Los Angeles Times Gets Itself Into a Tangle.

[Special Correspondence.]

LOS ANGELES, CAL., July 28, 1903.

During the past few months the scab Los Angeles Times has been devoting considerable space to advertising an alleged "shortage of labor" in Southern California, the purpose of the Times being to flood Los Angeles, especially, with idle workingmen, in the hope that they would work for any wages offered and thus disrupt the unions, which are waging an aggressive fight on that notorious paper. Several days ago the Times contained an article saying that labor is so scarce in Kansas that the farmers in the Sunflower State are stopping trains and trying to induce passengers to work in the fields. The Times added that the local situation is "nearly as bad as Kansas." The very next day every paper published dispatches from Kansas showing that there is an oversupply of labor in that State. If there is no need of workingmen going to Kansas in search of work, the Times for once told the truth when it said Los Angeles is "nearly as bad as Kansas." Surely, there is little use of workingmen coming this way.

Union men and women all over the country have rendered magnificent service by writing letters to advertisers asking that they withdraw their patronage from the notorious Times. They can continue the good work by writing a letter to each of the following advertisers:

Munyon, H. H.—Remedy Company, 53rd and Jefferson street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Royal Baking Powder Company, 100 Williams street, New York, N. Y.

Philo-Hay Specialties Company—Newark, N. J.

Castoria—The Centaur Company, 77 Murray street, New York, N. Y.

Cuticura—Potter Drug and Chemical Company, Boston, Mass.

Postum—Postum Cereal Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

Scott's Emulsion—Scott & Bowne, 409 Pearl street New York, N. Y.

Wright's Indian Vegetable Pill Company, New York, N. Y.

Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate—D. Ghirardelli, San Francisco, Cal.

Write letters to the above firms, tell them that it is useless to expect working men and women to patronize any advertiser in the union-hating Los Angeles Times.

Representative Business Houses.
OF WASHINGTON, D. C.
The following wholesale and retail firms and professional men are friendly to Union Labor and are entitled to its patronage:

BANKS.
THE LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK, Safe Deposit Vaults, $2.50 up
CAPITAL LOAN GUARANTEE COMPANY, 602 F Street Northwest.
Every one can borrow money without security.

BAKERS.
HOLMES & SONS,
Celebrated Home-Made Pies and Milk Bread. First and E Streets N. W. Phone East 864.

BOOTS AND SHOES.
CROCKER'S SHOES, 939 Pennsylvania Ave. N. W.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.
DANIEL LOUGHRAN, 1347 Pennsylvania Ave.
LUCHS & BRO., Wholesalers. Phone E 755.

COACH FINDINGS.
J. B. KENDALL, 485-87 Missouri avenue N. W.

COAL TAR PRODUCTS AND PAPER.
E. B. WARREN & CO., 27th and H Sts. N. W.

CUTLERY AND SPORTING GOODS.
D. N. WALFORD, 477 and 909 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

DRY GOODS.
LANSBURGH & BROTHER, 420 to 426 7th St. N. W

DYER.
E. E. WHEATLEY, 1068 Jefferson Ave. N. W. Phone, West 117-Y.

ENGRAVERS.
THE MAURICE JOYCE ENGRAVING CO. Cuts and Illustrations. 418 11th street N. W

FIRE INSURANCE.
Insure with THE RIGGS FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.
FIREMEN'S INSURANCE COMPANY, Seventh St. and Louisiana Ave.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.
JULIUS LANSBURGH, Interocean Building, 512 Ninth St. N. W.

GROCERIES.
LITTLE & PAGE, "Good things to eat." 1210 F St. N.W
W. C. ERGOOD, "Good goods at Ergoods." Corner Ninth and H Streets Northwest.

GROCER AND COFFEE ROASTER.
SOMERSET R. WATERS. 1342 Seventh Street Northwest, Corner O.

HARDWARE AND TOOLS.
RUDOLPH, WEST & CO., 1332 New York avenue northwest.

HUDSON'S VARIETY STORE.
B. F. HUDSON, 423 Seventh Street Northwest.

HATTERS AND FURRIERS.
JAMES Y. DAVIS' SONS, 1201 Pennsylvania Ave.
A. H. BURDINE, Union Overalls, Hats, and Gloves. Seventh Street and Virginia avenue southwest.

LIME, SAND, GRAVEL, CEMENT.
NATIONAL MORTAR COMPANY. Office: Room 9, Ralston Bldg., 612 F St. N. W. Office telephone: East 688.

LUMBER AND MILL WORK.
THOMAS R. RILEY, 13th St. and Ohio Ave.
THE WASHINGTON WOOD WORKING CO., 12th and B Streets N. W. Telephone 2119-3.

MACHINISTS AND ENGINEERS.
FORSBERG & MURRAY, Pumps and Elevators. Engines and Boilers 8th and Water Sts. S. W.

MERCHANT TAILOR.
W. A. SLADEN, 419 East Capitol Street.

PHARMACISTS.
LOUIS F. BRADLEY, Prescription Druggist. 8th and E Sts. S. E

PHOTO-LITHOGRAPHERS.
THE NORRIS PETERS CO., 458 and 460 Pennsylvania avenue N. W
ANDREW B. GRAHAM Lithographer, Photo-Lithographer, and Half-Tones. 1230 Pa. Ave. Phones: 1031-M, 1679-M.

PIANO AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
E. E. DROOP & SONS, 925 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

PRINTING SUPPLIES.
NATIONAL PRINTER'S SUPPLY CO., Machine-made Rollers. 414 10th St. N. W.

RESTAURANT AND WINE ROOM.
JOHN M. BECKER, Opp. Navy Yard., Cor. 8th and Georgia Ave. S.E

SHOES.
DAVE WOLF. SHOES FOR EVERYBODY. 432 Seventh Street N. W.

SHAVING PARLORS
VINCENT R. CILENTO, 805 North Capitol Street.

TITLES TO REAL ESTATE.
LAWYERS' TITLE & GUARANTY INS. CO. 412 5th St. N. W.

UNION HEADQUARTERS.
ARION HALL, 430 Eighth Street N. W. Headquarters for organizations. Strictly union. JIM STEVENS, Proprietor.

WINES AND LIQUORS.
SAMUEL G. STEWART, Heurich Brewing Co's. beers and popular brands of whiskies. 1141 Seventh st. northwest between L and M.
WILLIAM DIETZ, 1203 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest
GEORGE W. DRIVER. 605 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

DO NOT WANT OUR PATRONAGE.

Following brands of cigars: Cinco, Cremo, George W. Childs, Henry George, Tom Moore, Robert Burns, and General Arthur.

The following firms have declared against the interest of Organized Labor and are not regarded as deserving their patronage:

NAME.	BUSINESS.	LOCATION.
Chevy Chase Railway and circle.	Street railway	Chevy Chase and Circle.
Keenan Bros	Gents' furnishers	Pa. ave. bet. 14th and 15th sts., and 523 Seventh st. n. w.
B. Solomon	Gents' furnisher	708 Seventh street n.w.
Rufus H. Darby	Printer	508 Fourteenth street n.w.
H. L. McQueen	Printer	1108 E street n.w.
N. Sickles (Nat'l Cigar Factory).	Cigar manufacturer	1011 Penna. avenue n.w.
E. Gundershiemer	Baker	516 Second street n.w. and stalls in Center Market.
Peter Grogan	Carpet dealer	817 to 823 Seventh street n.w.
John H. Fitzgerald	Horseshoer	443 Prather's alley n.w.
S. S Daish	Coal and wood	Florida ave. and Third st. n.e.
Wilbur F. Nash	Meat dealer	Center and O st. Markets.
C. E. Hencke	Electrician	711 G street n.w.
F. J. Wheelock	Electrician	1215 G street n. e.
James A. Bennett	Tinner	2008 H street n.w.
National Mosaic Company	Mosaics	207 Fourth st. n.w.
M. Minster	Gents' furnisher	1343 F st. n.w.
A. Minster	Gents' furnisher	499 and 501 Penna. ave. n.w.
Cyrus B. Reese	Employing steamfitter	1519 Fourteenth street n. w.
C. A. Schneider & Sons	Union Iron Works	212 Twelfth street n. w.
Minster & Paterson	Gents' furnishers	1109 Pennsylvania ave. n. w.
The Famous	Gents' furnishings	437 Seventh street n. w.
Chas. A. Muddiman & Co	Gas fixtures	1204 G and 616 Twelfth st. n. w.
Conrad Becker	Trunks and harness	1328 F st. n. w.
Chapin & Sacks	Dealer in butter	924 Louisana ave. n. w.
Home Ice Company	Ice	Twelfth and V sts. n.w.
Emil Wagner	Restaurant	210 Ninth st. n. w.
W. E. Carney	Cigar manufacturer	921 G st. s. w.
Nat'l Roller & Ball Bearing Co.	Machinery	33rd and K sts. n. w.
L. Rosenberg	Clothing and shoes	911-913 Eighth st. s. e.
Corbin Thompson	Dairyman	Sharon Dairy, 324 B st. s. w.
S. D. Houck	Dealer in harness	301 Tenth street n. w.
M. Eisemann & Bro	Dry goods	1924-26 Pa. ava. and 806 7th n.w.
Elite Steam Laundry	Laundry	1205 G street n.w.
Benjamin Schwartz	Gents' furnisher and tailor	337 Pa. ave. s. e.
Emrich Beef Co	Meat Dealers
John Coleman	Horseshoer	1300 36th street n. w.
Hecht & Co	Dry Goods, etc	517-519 Seventh street n. w
Charles Rauscher	Caterer	Conn. ave. and L st. n. w
Academy of Music	Theater	Ninth and D streets n. w.
Lafayette Square Theater	Theater	16th st. and Pa. ave. n. w.
E. H. Snyder & Co	Tailors	1111 Pa. ave n. w
Owen Owen	Tailor	423 Eleventh street n. w.
L. A. Downey	Tailor	433 Eleventh street n. w.
J. M. Stein & Co	Tailors	413 Eleventh street n. w
J. D. Burns & Co	Tailors	701 Ninth street n. w.
J. B. Gatchel	Tailor	604 Thirteenth street n. w.
G. Warfield Simpson	Tailor	1208 F street n. w.
E. H. Catlin & Co	Machinists	407 13½ street n. w.
Thomas Somerville & Sons	Steam Fitters' Supplies	316 Thirteenth street n. w.
Joseph Mathy	Stove dealer and tin worker	1918 Pennsylvania avenue.
William Meehan	Saloon	943 B street n. w.

Chesapeake Beach.

Visitors to this popular resort who desire to secure sail boats, rowing boats, or who may want to put in a few hours fishing, can be supplied by A. E. Beitzell, well known as a caterer to lovers of oysters and clams at his old stand in this city, Twenty-first street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. He will be found opposite the Bathing Beach.

Toronto, Ont., proposes to affiliate all local bodies with the District Labor Council on a basis of representation to be agreed upon, present plan of section councils being represented (by three delegates each) to be dispensed with. Unions engaged in work of a common nature to be formed into sections, such as "building trades section," "printing trades section," "metal trades section," "woodworking section," a "miscellaneous section," to be composed of locals not eligible for any of the preceding sections, and a "label section," to be composed of delegates from all unions having a label.

Bricklayers' Executive Committee.

The following is the list of members of the Executive Committee of Bricklayers' Union, No. 1: John G. Wolfe, chairman, 1023 New Jersey avenue; W. Cronin, 1415 Thirty-sixth street northwest; Samuel Haslett, 221 South Lee street, Alexandria, Va.; John Shanahan, 2352 Eighth street northwest; John McCarten, 1237 Maryland avenue northeast.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICIAL ORGAN CENTRAL LABOR UNION, WASHINGTON BRANCH, AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Vol. VIII. No. 10. WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, AUGUST 20, 1903. Price, 3 Cents.

THE CENTRAL LABOR UNION

Textile Workers of Philadelphia Extended Aid in Their Struggle.

SOME MORE UNION DRUG STORES

The Musicians' Union and the Academy of Music—The Beer Drivers Get New Contract Signed—Meat Cutters Are Still Out. The Yale Laundry Matter.

The regular meeting of the Central Labor Union was called to order at 8 o'clock on Monday evening, President Sherman in the chair.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

CREDENTIALS.

From Local No. 99, I. U. S. E., certifying J. C. Wheeler, vice Joseph McCrink.

From Local No. 22, Theatrical Stage Employes, certifying Edward A. Fleming, vice James B. Fenton.

From Local No. 12, Tile Layers and Helpers, certifying S. Beckett, G. Crause, E. Rhodes, T. Hillery, and W. C. Ball.

From Local No. 190, United Brotherhood of Carpenters, certifying G. Luebkirt, vice E. L. McClelland.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Washington Press Feeders and Assistants' Union, No. 42, stating that they were in favor of a Labor Day parade. Referred to Labor Day Committee.

From R. A. Lanis Association of Steam Fitters, No. 10, N. A., stating that they had complied with instructions of communication of August 12, in removing the Yale Laundry from their unfair list and removing an advertisement to that effect in THE TRADES UNIONIST.

From Local No. 240, R. C. I. P. A., stating that E. J. Bastable, Nineteenth and M streets northwest; Wood & Co., Connecticut avenue and L street; F. A. Van Reuth, Twentieth and K streets; E. H. Hooper, Fifth and G streets; Portman & Hoyle, Fourteenth street and Rhode Island avenue, and W. J. O'Donnell, Thirty-second and M streets northwest, have signed contracts, and are recommended as friends of organized labor. They also reported that, through a conference with employers, they have been permitted to choose the hours of 10 and 12 o'clock in the morning for a semi monthly meeting, which is considered a recognition of the mutual interests of the employer and employe, and commendatory on the part of the proprietors.

From Local No. 28, Steam and Hot Water Fitters, stating that J. H. Reichard was chosen secretary, vice Thomas F. Flanagan.

From Shingle Weavers' Union, No. 9891, Tacoma, Wash., placing St. Paul and Tacoma Lumber Company and Far West Lumber Company on the unfair list, and asking indorsement of the stamp used on all shingles. Placed on file.

From United Neckwear Cutters' Union, New York City, asking aid in strike now on with manufacturers in that trade in New York City. Placed on file.

From Local No. 161, Musicians' Protective Union, calling attention to certain matters sent to that union by this body, and making rather caustic comment on the methods pursued by the Central Labor Union in its attitude on the placing of business houses on the unfair list. The communication also states that No. 161 is as loyal as any other representative in the central body, and desires that attacks made upon it should cease on the floor of the Central Labor Union. Placed on file.

From Federal Labor Union, No. 8139, of McSherrystown, Pa., stating that a strike has been in progress in that city in the cigar-box industry, and asking for aid. Placed on file.

CALL OF UNIONS.

Beer Drivers and Stablemen reported that the breweries had signed their contracts.

Engineers, No. 99, stated that the Chr. Heurich Brewing Company had signed their contract.

Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers' Workmen stated that the lockout in their trade was still on.

Musicians stated that they would indorse the boycott on the Academy of Music when the Stage Alliance withdrew its own members from that house.

Milk Wagon Drivers called attention to Corbin Thompson (Sharon Dairy) being still on the unfair list.

Retail Clerks reported Hecht & Co. as still being on unfair list.

Grocery Clerks reported Emrich Beef Company as still unfair to that union.

Theatrical Stage Employes requested that Contract Committee endeavor to secure a contract from the Empire Theater, as that house had changed ownership. They further called attention to Academy of Music as being unfair.

Stage Employes requested that secretary notify affiliated locals that the Academy of Music was still unfair. Request granted.

The Contract Committee reported that Bottlers' Protective Association had signed contracts with soda and mineral water wagon drivers.

The special committee on reception to delegates of I. T. U. and I. S. and E. U. reported that the entertainment had been a success. They requested that the secretary write the business houses that made donations on that occasion, expressing thanks for the same. Carried.

At the request of the Mail Bag Repairers, the Organization Committee reported that they had no meeting since last Monday evening, and requested that the matter be taken up from the Organization Committee and acted upon at once. On motion, the request of the Mail Bag Repairers to change the name of their organization was granted.

NEW BUSINESS.

Delegate Dietrich introduced the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Central Labor Union, of Washington, D. C., indorses the stand taken by the Textile Workers, of Philadelphia, in an effort to obtain concessions of hours and wages, and expresses its hearty sympathy for those of their struggling brethren in an effort to ameliorate conditions which have been nearly intolerable in the past, and pledge them our heartiest support.

Resolved, That locals belonging to this body be requested to pass resolutions of similar import and transmit same to Dennis Nolan, 2825 Lee street, Philadelphia, for publication in the Philadelphia papers.

Delegate Silver moved an appropriation of $15 for the benefit of the Textile Workers. It was further amended to await such time as the secretary can communicate with headquarters in Philadelphia.

Adjourned.

Carpet Upholsterer's Union.

Carpet Upholsterer's Union held the largest attended meeting of their craft Tuesday evening at 516 Ninth street northwest. Twelve new members were admitted. The initiation fee was raised to $15. The union voted $10 to assist the women mattress makers of Birmingham, Ala. Reports were made that all the leading houses in the line in the city were unionized.

The following officers were elected: President, Harry Shearer; vice president, John Devlin; recording secretary, George Pinckney; financial secretary, Joseph Slagle; treasurer, W. P. Cooney; guardian, Frank Daily; delegates to Central Labor Union: F. P. Maguire, D. B. Sheets, W. P. Cooney, Thomas Pearsall, and James McKee. The financial condition of the union is gratifying to its members.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Personal Mention.

Dr. C. Vaughan, 310 East Capitol street, has returned from his vacation, spent at Virginia seashore and country resorts.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

The Souvenir Book.

Extra copies of the Souvenir Book of the I. T. U. Convention can be secured at Secretary Garrett's office on payment of 50 cents.

A Card.

I desire to return thanks to my friends for the many acts of kindness shown me in my recent bereavement.

H. C. TOWN.

August 20, 1903.

I. T. U. CONCLUDES ITS WORK

The Photo-Engravers' Agreement Indorsed by the Convention.

PRESIDENT LYNCH SUSTAINED

An Increase in Per Capita to Be Submitted. Apprentices on Machines to Get Learner's Scale—Waudby Indorsed for Labor Commissioner—Resolutions Adopted.

The forty-ninth session of the International Typographical Union has passed into history. As a representative convention of the craft it will take precedence over all other previous gatherings in point of numbers, the credentials of 237 delegates having been received as against 215 received at the forty-eighth session, which up to that time was the largest convention ever held.

The business of the convention was handled expeditiously, President Lynch and Secretary-Treasurer Bramwood again demonstrating what masters they are in the performance of their several duties in connection with a convention containing so many equally bright minds, ever eager to make a record for themselves as lawmakers for the membership at large.

The adoption of President Lynch's recommendation permitting the photo-engravers to withdraw from the International Typographical Union and join with the independent organization of that trade in the formation of an international organization was a wise proceeding. The new organization will adopt the plan of affiliation similar to that now in effect between the International Typographical Union and the International Stereotypers and Electrotypers' Union. This will create a feeling of harmony, and good results may be expected from the agreement.

President Lynch's course in the conduct of the provisions governing the arbitration agreement with the American Newspaper Publishers' Association was indorsed. The special committee to which the matter was referred having reported unanimously to sustain President Lynch, the convention was a unit in the adoption of their report.

The changes in the Constitution that will be submitted to the membership at large for a referendum vote comprise about ten sections, the principal one being an increase of the per capita tax from 30 to 35 cents.

The changes in the by-laws and general laws go into effect at the same time as the laws that are voted on by the membership, which is sixty days after the canvass of the vote, but require no ratification by the membership.

Resolutions adopted by the convention, carrying action for future guidance of the membership, likewise go into effect at same time as the laws.

The following amendments to the Constitution will be submitted to a referendum vote.

CONSTITUTION.

Sec. 1, Art. II, is further amended by adding "that nothing shall be enacted relative to the internal affairs of printing offices."

Sec. 1, Art. VIII, amended by giving the mailer vice-president $50 per annum.

Sec. 1, Art. VIII, further amended requiring local secretaries to pay per capita before the twentieth of each month, and failure to do so will debar delinquent unions from all benefits.

Sec. 1, Art. IX, to increase per capita tax from 30 to 35 cents. Should this amendment fail in the referendum a special vote on the Los Angeles assessment of 5 cents per capita for one year will be submitted.

Sec. 3, Art. IX, amended contingent on adoption of section 1, increasing the per capita tax. Should section 1 be adopted the apportionment of the funds shall be as at present under the law, the increase of 5 cents per month going into a special defense fund, which will be used at the discretion of the Executive Council, the latter provision being covered in a new section.

Sec. 6, Art. IX, increases the I. T. U. death benefit from $65 to $70.

Sec. 3, Art. XVI, adopts the use of a label for unorganized towns, known as the provisional union label, where proprietors comply with certain laws of the I. T. U.

Certain amendments are to be voted upon in compliance with agreement granting the I. T. U. Photo-Engravers permission to withdraw and amalgamate with the independent organization. The amendments are necessary to clear the laws of all reference to the photo-engravers as an element in the I. T. U.

The amendments to the by-laws, requiring no further action, are in force and effect on the adoption of the Constitution.

BY-LAWS.

Sec. 4, Art. I, is further amended by prohibiting any one from appearing on the floor at sessions of the I. T. U. who is not an accredited delegate or has not been granted the privilege of the floor by the convention.

Sec. 1, Art. III, by making the April issue of The Journal as time for publishing names of nominees and nominators for elective officers in the referendum.

Sec. 3, Art. VIII, was amended by striking out that part of the proviso granting power to the I. T. U. president or the executive council to issue a temporary order, while holding a decision on an appeal in abeyance until such time as a full hearing could be obtained.

Sec. 3, Art. VIII, was amended to give The Journal to apprentices at the rate of 60 cents per annum.

GENERAL LAWS.

Sections 23, 47, 59, 81, 108, 109, and 167, were stricken out. These sections covered a wide scope, but were mainly local in character, and practically dead as far as enforcement could be considered.

Section 40 is further amended requesting secretaries to credit all payments of dues shown on a traveling card when presented.

Section 44, further amended leaving a holder of a traveling card liable to suspension on failure to deposit card in a new jurisdiction on receiving work.

Section 45, further amended granting membership on deposit of traveling card instead of the reception of it by the union.

Section 55, further amended by striking out provision making it necessary to deposit traveling card in nearest union, where a reissue of card is given to a member of a suspended union.

Sec. 58 has been amended by permitting the local union to reissue a traveling card to a member for one lost by said member on payment of a fee of 25 cents.

Sec. 65, referring to apprentices on machines, permits them to get the "learner's" scale during the three last months of their apprenticeship.

Sec. 66, referring to prohibition of a task or stint in newspaper or job offices, was stricken out, after an attempt had been made to further amend it.

Sec. 71 was further amended prohibiting local unions from issuing labels to printing offices outside of their jurisdiction without first securing an extension of such jurisdiction.

Sec. 78 was further amended requesting local unions to pass laws defining the grade and class of work that apprentices shall be taught from year to year during their apprenticeship.

Sec. 114, relating to charges and trials, was further amended, defining course of procedure, and a new section was adopted, inflicting a penalty on any member bringing charges and failing to substantiate them.

Sec. 140 was amended to make all hand-set type measure on the body where the body is smaller than the face.

A new section was created requiring the secretary-treasurer to publish in the January number of The Journal, certain statistical matter to be secured from local secretaries in reference to scales of prices, etc.

RESOLUTIONS.

The following resolutions were adopted by the convention and are in full force and effect from their passage:

Creating a special organizer in the South for three months.

Requesting the Executive Council to renew their efforts to unionize the newspaper writers.

Giving moral aid and support to the telegraphers of the country.

Reciting that it is not contrary to the spirit of the I. T. U. to prohibit type casters to work in union composing rooms, provided such caster deposits his card with the local union.

Granting the right of women to use the ballot.

Indorsing W. S. Waudby for Commissioner of Labor.

That local unions be asked to put the eight-hour workday in effect January 4, 1905.

That local unions should endeavor to have their members learn the operation of typesetting machines by the purchase or rental of machines for that purpose.

Calling on the Executive Council to aid in the endeavor to get the label on the New York section of the Royal Arcanum and the A. O. U. W. printing.

Indorsing the label of the Paper Makers, and to demand it on all paper.

Asking local unions to take up the discussion of the labor question as an order of business.

Indorsing the Textile Workers of Philadelphia in their struggle against the manufacturers.

Indorsing the Retail Clerks' card and asking all members to give them aid support.

Indorsing the Boot and Shoe Workers' label.

Requesting that subordinate unions in making agreements endeavor to secure an eight-hour workday in preference to taking a forty-eight-hour week.

That local unions should commence the accumulation of a defense fund of $10 per capita, such fund to be created in such manner as the union may elect.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The following recommendations, indorsements, and findings of the convention were adopted:

It is recommended that local unions take up the question of appointing committees to advocate the use of the label on all school books.

The agreement permitting I. T. U. Photo-Engravers to withdraw and amalgamate with the Independents in an International was adopted by the convention.

The Type Founders Trade District Union was given an assurance of moral and financial aid in their effort to secure recognition from the employing typefounders.

The Executive Council was sustained over the appeal of Cincinnati Union, No. 3, in their refusal to insist on members of Typographia No. 2, ceasing work in an establishment where No. 3 had men on strike.

The Executive Council was directed to have subordinate unions make an aggressive fight for the label by appointing local committees for that purpose.

President Lynch was sustained by the convention for his course in the controversy between the Newspapers Publishers' Association.

The report of the Committee on Arbitration sustains President Lynch in his stand on the Spokane and Seattle cases, and the report of the committee was adopted. They further reported an amendment making 30 days the limit on acceptance or rejection of a contract. They further sustained President Lynch in his decision on question of employment of non-union foremen in New York in dispute with New York Typothetæ.

DECISION.

President Lynch being asked to construe section 83, general laws, replied:

"The construction is that a member, having worked seven days in one week, shall put on the first available substitute for one day, or more at his option, and the member has the right, under International law, to choose from the remaining days of the second week the day necessary to bring the average within a maximum of six days per week."

PROPOSITIONS DEFEATED.

A resolution favoring suffrage was defeated.

A resolution indorsing the Washington Linotype School was defeated.

A proposition to create a life membership certificate for members in good standing for 35 years and over was defeated.

A proposition to require the secretary-treasurer to mail to country printing offices a copy of The Journal for educational purposes among the country printers was defeated.

An attempt to further amend section 98, general laws, known as the "priority law," by making it read that a foreman in selecting a man from the floor, must give out the situation to the oldest "sub" on the floor, was defeated.

An effort to further amend section 66, by prohibiting the use of any device, clock, or other means of measuring the output on machines, was defeated and resulted in the entire section being repealed.

ALLIED BUILDING TRADES.

Unauthorized Use of Device on Card to Be Investigated.

The regular weekly meeting of the Council of Allied Building Trades of the Central Labor Union was called to order at the regular hour by Chairman Wells.

Roll call showed the attendance of 39 delegates from 22 unions.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

CREDENTIALS.

From Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 190, certifying to C. C. Clark and E. S. Ryan, vice E. M. Van Ness and E. L. McClelland, resigned.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Interior Marble and Slate Cutters' Union, reporting a partial settlement of their differences with the plumbers. Placed on file.

From Painters' Union, No. 368, stating that R. A. Golden, dealer in oysters, fish, and game, at Ninth and D streets northwest, was employing non-union painters. Referred to Central Labor Union, with request that it be referred to Grievance Committee.

From Tile Layers' Union, stating that they would ask for an increase of 50 cents per day in wages, to go into effect October 19, 1903. Referred to Executive Committee.

From Stone Laborers' Union, No. 9013, stating that Jacob Veihmeyer was unfair to their union. Referred to Central Labor Union, with the request that it be referred to the Grievance Committee.

From Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 190, containing an appeal for aid from Building Trades Council, of Charleston, S. C. Referred to Bricklayers, Plasterers, Carpenters, Painters, and Lathers' Unions.

From Steam Fitters, stating that their union had indorsed plan of arbitration and inclosing copy of arbitration agreement entered into between their union and the Master Steam Fitters' Association.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

From Central Labor Union: The secretary read communication from the Chr. Heurich Brewing Co. relative to S. J. Prescott & Co. The secretary was directed to inform the Central Labor Union that the signing of a Central Labor Union contract by Prescott & Co. would be acceptable to the Council of Allied Building Trades, and to notify the Chr. Heurich Brewing Co. of that fact.

By-Laws Committee reported progress. Delegate Ratigan was placed on By-Laws Committee, vice E. L. McClelland, resigned.

Hall Committee stated that matters were progressing, and asked further time. Granted.

CALL OF UNIONS.

Stone Laborers called attention to Barr job on I street, near Fourteenth, and that the job was finished as far as their union was concerned, and stated that, in their opinion, the Business Agent had not displayed sufficient energy in their behalf.

Granite Cutters stated that a Philadelphia firm was cutting granite at Holy Cross College with stone masons. Referred to Business Agent.

Hoisting Engineers reported the employment of non-union engineers at the Catholic University. Referred to Business Agent.

Hod Carriers reported W. E. Speir as employing non-union men to attend bricklayers, and asked that the matter be put before the arbitration board. It was so ordered.

Steam Fitters, No. 10, reported having complied with the request of the Central Labor Union relative to withdrawing their advertisement in the TRADES UNIONIST, which stated that the Yale Laundry was unfair to the Steam Fitters' Union.

NEW BUSINESS.

Delegate Lahey, of the Stone Laborers, produced a card of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' Helpers, which carried the same device as the Council of Allied Building Trades, and asked if authority had been given to any person to use such a device. After considerable debate, the Chair appointed Delegates Silver, Lahey, and Allison as a committee to investigate the use of device, and report at next meeting.

Adjourned.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Official Organ Central Labor Union and Allied Building Trades, A. F. of L.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

The Trades Unionist Publishing Company

E. W. PATTON.....President
A. J. E. HUBBARD.....Vice-President
T. M. RING.....Secretary

Office: 441-443 G Street Northwest.

TELEPHONE EAST 15 Y.

SUBSCRIPTION

One year (in advance) - - - - $1.00
Six months (in advance) - - - - .50

Entered at the Post-Office, Washington, D. C. as Second-Class Matter.

THE TRADES UNIONIST is heartily and unqualifiedly indorsed by the Central Labor Union and the Allied Building Trades as well as by the various locals connected with the two central bodies.

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL WASHINGTON. 2

Only Eight-Hour Union Office in Town.

I would as soon think of doing business without clerks as without advertising.
—JOHN WANAMAKER.

Nothing, except the mint, can make money without advertising.
—GLADSTONE.

When you pay more for the rent of your business house than for advertising your business, you are pursuing a false policy. If you can do business, let it be known.
—FRANKLIN.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 20, 1903.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM.

The convention is over, and from all that I can hear it was a success legislatively as well as socially. I had a great many friends in attendance and did not get time last week to inflict my usual dose on my patient constituency; but a week's respite will the better enable you to endure what is in store for you in the future—not in regard for this convention, for I do not expect to get down to that for about nineteen years; but I have other things to tell you. However, I will tell a little story that J. H. ("Jy") Ross, of Scranton, told me about W. M. Camp, of the Second Division.

A great many years ago Camp ("Mickey" they called him in those days) was working in Rochester, and on this particular occasion on a paper that published a lot of religious matter on Sunday. It was their practice to precede the religious matter with a hymn or poem, and this time it was the familiar "Stand Up for Jesus." Camp got the hymn and set it up "leaded," which not being proper the proofreader marked it "solid." Somebody caught it before the paper went to press, and the heading then read "Stand Up for Jesus Solid." Of course "Mickey" will swear that this is a —— lie, and maybe it is, but Ross told me so.

"Mickey" was a member of the gang in Scranton of what would now be called "hoboes," but the term had not then been invented. They were known as the "Modocs," and they had a camp out about two miles, at a railway tunnel. Occasionally one of them would come into town and work a day, and, "cashing in," would take the value of his day's work to the gang in provisions—principally whisky and tobacco. Rus McQuillen was mistaken for a paleface on one occasion and all the preparations were made for burning him at the stake before they discovered that he was of their own tribe. They at times "carried the banner" in the Times office, of which "Jy" Ross was foreman, and one night there were so many of them lying on the floor that the business manager, A. A. Chase, was unable to get into the composing room, a fact that he alluded to rather petulantly, whereupon those of the gang who happened to be at work decided that they had been insulted. A chapel meeting was called and a strike ordered unless Mr. Chase would apologize, which he promptly did, as there was no way to get out the paper without it. This was in the old, bad days, and Mr. Camp and all the others have entirely reformed. This is not all that Mr. Ross told me about Mr. Camp, but I won't tell any more at present.

* * * *

The handsome manner in which the delegates showed their appreciation of the work of the entertainment committee, by presenting a gold watch to Chairman F. N. Whitehead and appropriate remembrances to the other members, speaks more eloquently than mere words. There was much hard work to be done, and loyally did the committee work to bring about the grand success that Columbia Union has to her credit. If one delegate went away disappointed or dissatisfied with the entertainment provided he never indicated it. Nothing but praise for all connected was heard on every hand, and those who did the work deserve the credit.

* * * *

While every one felt the deepest sympathy with President Joe Johnson in the bereavement that called him away the day before the delegates began to gather, all were glad that his duties fell into such capable hands as those of Vice-President Dan. C. Vaughan, who acquitted himself in such a manner as to gain the highest praise. His speech of welcome to the delegates at the opening of the convention was in excellent taste and well delivered, and if those who heard him had any doubt as to his ability they have none now.

* * * *

Among my personal friends of the long ago who were in attendance at the convention were William ("Kicker") Mill, of Chicago; John Douglass, Percy B. S. Thayer, and Charles W. Ussher, of Boston; "Jy" Ross, of Scranton; William S. Waudby, of Rochester; and John S. Douglass, and "Nick" Buckley, of Bradford, Pa. But I received hosts of kind words and messages from friends in all parts of the country, some of whom I have not seen in more years than the average life of man. But very many of that good old time have passed behind the veil.

* * * *

As there was a very unpleasant misunderstanding of the facts in the Star regarding the convention, resulting in some severe criticism of that paper by President Lynch and others, I hope no one connected with the Star will feel that loyalty to his employers demands that he shall withdraw from the Typographical Union on account of it.

* * * *

At the Atlanta convention, in 1890, the young men were "in the saddle," with an expressed determination to retire the "old spavs," and they had the votes to do it, but lacked the political skill and acumen of the old fellows. They were at the disadvantage of being divided on the presidency between three men, while the "old spavs" apparently had no candidate. The ground was worked over for several days, and two of the "old spavs," G. Harry Stone, a delegate from St. Louis, at present an employee of the Specifications Division of the Government Printing Office, and a member of the local Ex-Delegates' Association, and Joe Jackson, of St. Louis, then reading clerk of the convention, since regarded as "one of the proprietors," and at present president of St. Louis Union, and who was in attendance at the recent convention, got together to see what could be done. Edward T. Plank, then president of the I. T. U., had refused to be a candidate for re-election, but nevertheless on him Stone and Jackson centered their hopes. As a preliminary move, Stone drew up a paper indorsing the past administration of Plank, and generally complimentary in its tenor, and Jackson went around among the delegates asking them to sign it, which they did to a man. When the nominations were made there were three nominees by the young element—one from New Haven, one from Indianapolis, whose names I do not now remember, and Vic Williams, the latter of whom was altogether the strongest of the three. Then Harry Stone rose and placed Plank in nomination for re-election, a move that produced consternation in the ranks of the youngsters, for they had all indorsed him by signing the paper.

"Mr. President, when I signed that paper indorsing Mr. Plank's administration," said one of the delegates, rising in his place, "I did it with the understanding that he was not a candidate for re-election."

"The gentleman has a right to withdraw his name from the paper," said Joe Jackson. "Shall I erase his name? And if any other gentleman wishes to withdraw his indorsement of Mr. Plank's administration, I now offer him the opportunity to do so."

Nobody withdrew his indorsement and Mr. Plank was re-elected on the first ballot. It is due to Mr. Plank to say that he really did not want a re-election, and he only consented to serve on being given a month's leave of absence in which to recuperate his waning strength.

"Harry," said Vic Williams, "by that little move of yours you beat me out of being elected president."

"Vic," said Harry Stone, "we did not want you to be president."

* * * *

One of the older generation of printers dropped into a book office the other day and stopped for a chat with the foreman, who invited him to be seated.

"Oh, I can't sit down," he said, "for I've got a jaw full of tobacco and you have no spittoon."

"Well, this is a printing office," said the foreman, which was a hint that he could spit anywhere.

"There but few of them that are, then, in that sense," said the visitor. "Do you remember the old days when cuspidors were unknown luxuries in printing offices, and when, as often as otherwise, if we had a quid to get rid of, by a twist of the wrist we hung it on the ceiling, where it had plenty of company?"

"Yes, yes," said the foreman. "A circumstance of that kind got me into trouble down in Rhode Island when I was an apprentice. We had a foreman who would not stand for that sort of thing, and when he came in one day and saw an immense 'old soldier' standing out on the otherwise immaculate ceiling he had a paroxysm. 'If I knew the dirty hog who did that he would not work here a minute longer,' he roared, and he then directed me to take a broom and sweep it down. I rebelled, and he said, 'You must do what I tell you to do while I am foreman or you can't work here.' I reached for my coat, when he came over to me and in milder language asked me to obey him, saying that I would later see the wisdom of it, and the result was that I swept down the offending filth, but I put my coat on immediately afterwards and left the office, and it was two weeks before the foreman induced me to go back to work."

"Old Sid Bennett, out West," said the visitor, "had a practice of laying his 'old soldiers' up in his cap case and using them over again."

"The worst place I ever knew," said the foreman, "was the old Intelligencer office here in Washington. I believe there was a carpet of tobacco an inch deep all over the floor. One old fellow, who was an inordinate tobacco chewer, had such piles of old quids around his frame, into which he had worked tracks for his feet, that there was no other room for a man to stand, and when he wanted to put on a sub he had to get one whose feet were the same size as his own so that he would fit into his tracks."

"It is permissible for the foreman to tell any kind of stories he pleases, said the visitors, as he rose to go.

There was a hurt look about the foreman's eyes as he said good-bye.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Waudby returned to their home in Rochester, N. Y., on Wednesday, delighted with their two weeks in Washington. The unanimous indorsement of Mr. Waudby for Commissioner of Labor by the International Typographical Union meets with the equally unanimous indorsement of the membership of Columbia Union.

* * * *

James H. Platt, of the Job Room, received the sad news of the death of his brother, William Platt, at Seattle, Wash., last Friday, aged 56. Mr. Platt, who was a compositor in the G. P. O. many years ago, had been for several years a sufferer from heart trouble.

* * * *

There is considerable soreness among the membership at the action of the Star in entirely misrepresenting the facts regarding President Lynch and the convention and then failing to make the slightest acknowledgment of the fact after the incorrectness of its report was shown. A newspaper that refuses to correct its error willfully misrepresents.

* * * *

John B. Dickman, of the State Department Branch, found a Women's Auxiliary pin on the street after the convention adjourned which he will be glad to return to its owner.

A F. BLOOMER.

Fifth Division.

Stephen B. Tilley has been transferred to the State Department branch.

George Boone, somewhat indisposed, has been absent from work for several days.

William J. Bullis, H. C. Underwood, F. W. Follett, E. Heidingsfeld, and Griffith Evans are enjoying a vacation.

W. M. Hamilton has passed the critical time following an operation for appendicitis, and will soon be restored to perfect health.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Underwood went to Sabillasville, Md., for a couple of weeks. This "mountain resort" is the judge's favorite stopping place.

E. Heidingsfeld is making a pilgrimage to the international waterfalls. Before going, however, he first made a trip to Great Falls to prepare his mind for the reception of that wonderful sight at Niagara.

C. H. Roeder, Lee Hartley, F. M. Werneke, S. Th. Westdal, A. F. Martin, C. P. Boss, George Clark, and Dave Mackley were detailed from this division for service in the new building last Wednesday.

The Fifth Division base ball team has been reorganized under the leadership of Fred Berger. As will be remembered, the old team won the G. P. O. League pennon, not having lost a single game through the entire season.

Convention week, with its business and festivities, has come and gone, and and we may resume the even tenor of our way. Words of commendation are heard on all sides on the splendid treatment accorded the representatives of our craft.

RAN.

Bindery Notes.

Adam Sommers is sojourning at Atlantic City.

George Wright has resumed his usual luncheon diet.

The casing-in division is a prolific field for scrappers.

Billy Hyde has gone to Atlantic City fortified with a prayer book.

"Fatty" Fitz has furnished his house and laid in a supply of coal, but the lady has not yet arrived.

Frank McNally has lately been receiving some valuable pointers on arial navigation from Bush, his side partner.

Johnny Burns is particularly friendly to George Barnes these days. What are you afraid of, John?

The bindery "talent" refuse to "go on" unless a five or a ten is produced. The only exceptions are Spellbring and Weidman.

Patsy Finnegan returned from his leave in possession of some coin of the realm. The only excuse that can be offered is that this was his first full leave.

The stereotypers were not very well pleased with the way in which Professor McCarty threw them in the air. They will return the compliment when opportunity offers.

"Blokie" Beyler worked off a plugged dime in a pool on the Corbett-Jeffries fight the other day, but the winner of the pool immediately suspected "Blokie" and returned it to him.

Geo. Kirch, of the Union Building has returned from his trip to Detroit, whither he went to assist Otto Bloecker (also of the Union Building) into the sorrows and troubles of a married life.

John Fox, of the Union Building contingent, proposes visiting the scenes of his childhood, among the potteries and cranberry bogs of New Jersey, in a small hamlet the name of which we believe is Trenton.

John Burns has not been feeling well of late and is drinking the juice of the Citrus Limetta. The tree which bears this fruit grows in a warm climate, and John being a warm baby knows what is best to drink.

Adam Sommers has been having some difficulty in disposing of an old violin which was bequeathed to him by his great-grandfather. Between Ernest Herman and Professor McCarty he has been greatly harrassed, but Herman seems to be in the lead if he can only find "Buckskin Bill."

COWBOY.

The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen has decided to increase its defense fund to $300,000.

FOR THE BEST--
READY-TO-WEAR
—FOR—
Man, Woman and Child
AT THE MOST REASONABLE PRICES,
CONSULT—
Parker, Bridget & Co.,
Washington's Leading Outfitters, ...
Pa. Ave. and 9th St. N. W.

Union Made Cigars
OF THE FINEST QUALITY.
Pluck 5¢ | OFFTE'S BOUQUET 10¢
AFTER DINNER 5¢ | DEER HEAD 10¢
Henry T. Offterdinger, Manufacturer
504 Ninth St., N.W.

ARLINGTON BREWING CO.
ROSSLYN, VA.
BEER ALE PORTER
The Finest Productions of Skilled Union Labor. Union Label on Every Bottle and Keg of Our Goods.

In preparing for your vacation do not overlook the fact that one of our Blue Serge, Homespun, or Scotch Cheviot Sack Suits is indispensable if appearance and comfort is to be considered. We are showing a very large line of fabrics selected especially for outing purposes. Remember, we rank second to none in tailoring. Our garments have individuality and expression that stamps them as being "High-Grade." Get acquainted with our way of making clothes by ordering one of our Celebrated $25 Suits, made by Union Tailors.
Special sale of Trousers, $6.50 to Order.
T. E. Gilbert
IMPORTER AND TAILOR
818 F St. Northwest

Our Strictly One-Price Methods Insure Legitimate Reductions
Our Annual Mid-Summer Half-Price Clearance Sale
IS NOW IN FULL BLAST

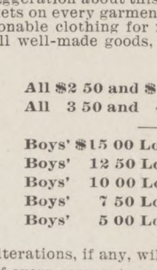
Twice a year—mid-summer and mid-winter—we make a clean sweep of all except solid blues and blacks Men's and Boy's Suits We do this in order to prevent any possibility of an accumulation of out-of-date patterns or styles, and we insure an absolute clearance by cutting prices CLEAN IN TWO. The sale this summer is more important than usual, as the long delayed warm weather left us with a larger stock on hand than we have had for many years. Thus you have a fuller and more complete assortment of patterns to select from at exactly half the proper prices. That you may be sure there is no exaggeration about this reduction we have left the original price tickets on every garment. The stock includes every variety of fashionable clothing for men and boys, in medium and light weights, all well-made goods, properly tailored and of correct cut.

Men's $ 7 50 Suits now.....	$3 75	All $2 50 and $3 Trousers...	$1 90
Men's 10 00 Suits now.....	5 00	All 3 50 and 4 Trousers....	2 90
Men's 12 50 Suits now.....	6 25
Men's 15 00 Suits now.....	7 50	Boys' $15 00 Long Pants Suits	$7 50
Men's 17 50 Suits now.....	8 75	Boys' 12 50 Long Pants Suits	6 25
Men's 20 00 Suits now.....	10 00	Boys' 10 00 Long Pants Suits	5 00
Men's 22 50 Suits now.....	11 25	Boys' 7 50 Long Pants Suits	3 75
Men's 25 00 Suits now.....	12 00	Boys' 5 00 Long Pants Suits	2 50

No Goods Charged at Sale Prices. Alterations, if any, will be charged at cost.
Our Guarantee back of every garment on sale.
THE BIEBER-KAUFMAN CO.
Masculine Outfitters from Childhood to Age
901-909 EIGHTH STREET S. E.

"Everyone knows how to find fault." No one has yet found fault with the
RELIABLE
The Gas Range for Summer Use
Washington Gas Light Co.
GAS APPLIANCE EXCHANGE

THE RIGGS NATIONAL BANK
Of Washington, D. C.
Capital - - - $1,000,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits, 1,000,000
Exchange on England, Ireland, France and Germany. Letters of credit available in all foreign parts. Bank Collections. Orders for investments. Stocks and Bonds.



Hewke, PHOTOGRAPHER
56 of the ex-delegates and committees patronized me for good work.
Studio.
430 7th St., N. W. Washington, D. C.

FURNISHED ROOMS
AT
The Orleans
1203 F STREET NORTHWEST
MRS. R. COMMELIN, Prop.

PRINTERS and Union Members.—For First-Class Meals. Eat at
VICTOR CAFE, 3 H St. N. W.
ALBION, Eleventh and E Sts. N. W.
ERIN, Cor. N. J. Ave. and D St. N. W.
U. S. LUNCH ROOM, 320 12th St. N. W.
ALBERT T. SCANLAND, Prop.
Open Day and Night. Best Service.

Steam Cleaning and Dye Works
(Formerly New York Dye House)
I do the most perfect Cleaning and Dyeing at most reasonable rates. Goods called for and returned. C. W. MARGRAF, Proprietor
Telephone 3483 Main
907 9th St. N. W., and 631 D St. N. W.

John Mitchell's Book
"ORGANIZED LABOR."

AGENTS WANTED!
Every phase of this tremendous problem discussed by the greatest labor leader in the world. Every Union man buys at sight; also employers and all reading people. Big terms; also $1500 in cash prizes for agents. Workers clearing $5.00 to $15.00 daily. We are the exclusive publishers. Address quick for terms and territory
American Book and Bible House, 146 N. Tenth St., Phila., Pa.

When You Are 70 Years Old
The Tribe of Ben Hur pays you one-tenth of the face value of your policy each year for 10 years. Ask about the accident clause.
HENRY E. CROUCH, Deputy, 424 Fourth St. N. E.
ALBERT P. E. DOYLE, Scribe, 21 O St. N. E.

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES
OF
Columbia Typographical Union,
NO. 101.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, 423 G ST. N. W.
Office Hours: 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.; 5 to 7 P. M.

OFFICERS.

JOE M. JOHNSON.....President
DAN C. VAUGHAN.....Vice-President
WM. M. GARRETT.....Secretary
JOHN R. BERG.....Treasurer
FRANK BATES.....Sergeant-at-Arms
N. C. STOOPS.....Doorkeeper

TRUSTEES—J. E. Bright, chairman; W. L. Gutelius, Chas. C. Thompson, Joe M. Johnson, and Wm. M. Garrett.

DELEGATES TO CENTRAL LABOR UNION—J. H. Babcock, chairman; J. B. Dickman, Hugh Everett, Theodore Gerber, and C. E. Dietrich.

DELEGATES TO ALLIED TRADES COUNCIL—E. E. Calhoon, chairman; T. F. Hall, and J. P. Garner.

AUDITORS—C. W. Radley, chairman; H. G. Brown, and J. W. Carter.

COMMITTEES.

BUSINESS—Zach T. Jenkins, chairman; C. B. Yater, M. J. Maher, T. C. Parsons, and R. W. Burnside.

NOMINATIONS—W. N. Brockwell, chairman; F. A. Kidd, H. O'Donnell, Frank M. Hatley, and R. E. Stenner.

LAWS—Chas. H. Ennis, chairman; Raymond Gery, and Dexter S. Hussey.

FINANCE—John A. Huston, chairman; J. M. McLaughlin, and R. F. Chisholm.

PRINTING—T. A. Bynum, chairman; Milo Shanks, and Ed. J. Hall.

GRIEVANCE—Clint O. Price, chairman; Chas. S. Gunn, Philip Nachman, David J. Snyder, and E. Y. Fisher.

ENTERTAINMENT—T. L. Jones, chairman; J. R. Purvis, T. J. Fitzwilliam, Miss Nellie Theaker, Miss Anna Wilson, B. E. Harrison, and W. J. Harris.

CONFERENCE—J. L. Holland, chairman; D. J. Hegarty, and W. B. Shaw.

LIBRARY—Clyde J. Sheriff, chairman; A. E. Ogg, and Harry Essex.

RELIEF—Joseph G. Stelle, chairman; Wm. S. Schinnerer and E. P. Cummins.

EIGHT-HOUR—F. C. Roberts, chairman; F. B. Crown, F. D. Seiffert, Jeff Newlon, and S. H. Willey.

MEMORIAL SERVICE—S. J. Gompers, chairman; Philip S. Steele, J. E. Goodkey, J. B. Dickman, and C. B. Yater.

AMOS J. CUMMINGS MEMORIAL—J. T. Rowe, chairman; Charles T. Graff, and T. A. Bynum.

CHAIRMEN.

First Division—R. L. Mabrey.
Second Division—W. N. Goldstein.
Third Division—Burr Williams.
Fourth Division—Charles H. Gove.
Fifth Division—Charles E. Dietrich.
Sixth Division—E. M. Nevils.
Job Room—J. K. Davison.
Record Clerks' Division—H. G. Brown
First Division, Night—Allen Cowles.
Night Proof Room—E. H. Thomas.
Specification Room—E. A. Hutchison.
Official Gazette—Jere Walsh.
Document Proof Room—Jas. R. Armstrong.
Treasury Division—W. Brice Coston.
Interior Division—C. K. Stribling.
State Division—J. B. Dickman.
Navy Department Division—Albert E. Ogg.
War Department Division—Wm. K. Miller.
Agricultural Division—Henry P. Slaughter.
Library Division—H. V. Bisbee.
Weather Bureau—L. H. Emmons.
Morning Post—J. H. Broderick.
Evening Star—Joseph C. Whyte.
Evening Times—T. C. Parsons.
Law Reporter—J. R. Johnson.
Globe Printing Co.—R. A. Wilson.
Judd & Detweiler's—A. B. Barringer.
Wilkens Printing Co.—T. N. Surguy.
Pearson's—T. F. Monahan.
National Publishing Co.—E. C. Owen.
McGill & Wallace's—J. M. Watts.
Byron S. Adams'—R. B. Boucher.
Army and Navy Register—C. H. Draeger.
General Postoffice—Joseph Williams.
Sudwarth's—F. R. Adams.

AROUND THE PRINTERIES.

Second Division.

None of the official deliberations of the convention were held in a brewery, at least.

Only two more short Saturdays—unless the Saturday half-holiday plan prevails.

Messrs. Morgan, Meritt, and Childress are due to return to work to-morrow.

Frank O. Sanders leaves this week for a trip to Mount Sterling, Ky., and Pennsylvania.

While the Arlington Brewery invitation included the Ladies' Auxiliary, it is not thought that they attended.

Wm. H. Bright and wife have returned from a trip to New York and Philadelphia, which they enjoyed very much.

From appearances, it seems some one must have neglected to yell "Low Bridge"! to Mr. Hall some time last Thursday night.

Wellington Franklin Simons returned to work Monday after spending all of his leave—with money in his pocket, he says. Wonder whose it is?

The "tin" soldier boys of the G. P. O. were worrying not a little about their ten days' pay until the Comptroller handed them his autograph.

Fred J. Nobles leaves for his home, Racine, Wis., this week, to spend his vacation. He will go by way of Albany, Buffalo, and the Lakes.

Comrade Phillips informs us that Comrade Tom Fitzgerald, formerly on the proof press in this room, has a new bouncing baby boy at his home.

A. M. Willingham has returned from his leave spent in Georgia. He was feeling badly when he left here, but is now completely restored to health.

W. J. Phillips leaves to-day for Newport, New Haven, and Boston. He is a delegate to the Spanish War Veterans' national convention at New Haven.

The handsome take measures, advertising the Boot and Shoe Workers' label, given out by Mr. Dickman at Sunday's meeting were greatly appreciated.

Now that the convention is over, and was a great boom to No. 101, let's quit criticising, forgive any fancied slights, swear off, and put our noses in the space box again.

Tommy Travis and family will spend two weeks at Indian Head, on the Potomac. He denies the rumor of his alley mates that he intends to visit Notley Hall while away.

Chas. S. Davis apparently does not lead a butterfly life, but he is always ready to take the life of a fine specimen. He caught a fine one Monday morning to add to his rare collection.

Mr. A. J. Reno and mother of St. Louis, are visiting Mr. E. C. Saltzman and family, at Brookland. Mr. Reno is a brother-in-law of Mr. Saltzman. He is employed in the Wabash ticket office at St. Louis.

Mr. Kidd deserves sympathy for being so rudely and prematurely thrust into a campaign which promises to be a hot one. At last Sunday's meeting he was called upon for a speech as "a prospective candidate for delegate next year."

T. Frank Hall, of the Second Division, entertained Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bramwood and Master Garner Bramwood at dinner Tuesday evening. Master Garner has attended four conventions previous to this one, as indicated by his card, which he hands to his friends.

Max Knoble, one of our Arkansas printers, has been recuperating for a couple of weeks, fishing in the streams around Washington. He looks as big and strong now as the blacksmith in "Robin Hood," who sings of the "Brown October ale," which Max likes so well—to hear.

W. Russell Branham requests that notice be given of his return from Georgia. He brought with him some objects which were curiosities to many of the boys, fresh figs just from the tree, some pomegranites, and green cotton bolls. He says cotton is a month behind time this year.

W. M. ("Micky") Camp leaves today for his home in northern Pennsylvania. He is going to fill up on real buttermilk, greens, and cornbread. The milk there is churned by dog power; sometimes a calf is used, and if a big churning a horse is required. Camp says none of the dairies use cat power. Cats furnish the requisites for more musical purposes.

J. W. L. Dillman laid off three days last week to show a lady relative of his around the city. Mr. Sowers thought something very unusal had happened, and asked if it was a boy or girl. Dillman told him it was a girl. That is the way the report in last week's notes got started—that a new girl baby had arrived at Mr. Dillman's house. Who is the joke on—Dillman or Sowers?

"In times of prosperity prepare for the other things"—Cycle. There is to be no civil-service examination for compositor in the G. P. O. this fall anywhere in the United States. An examination for promotions from the G. P. O. will be held next month. Is a smaller force to be required in the future? "A word to the wise is sufficient." While making a livelihood at one occupation fit yourself for some other.

The Second is pardonably proud of their delegate's work in the convention. He got two good resolutions through, and with a speech killed an objectionable resolution introduced by another delegate. One of his amendments to the laws was adopted over the adverse report of the committee, and another was tabled through a mistake of the Laws Committee, which said they thought the law already covered it. Meritt was no idol or ornament, but a worker.

President Roosevelt's address on "Decent Living and Clean Speech," which appeared in Monday's papers, is especially forcible and timely. He says honesty of purpose, patriotism to country, and courage to back up both of these traits make a good citizen; and that these qualifications can not be possessed by those who have foul tongues. The address is a powerful sermon in itself. Every printer would be benefited by reading it carefully. Too often men are proud of retailing their "sporty" exploits before young persons, who naturally have a desire to do likewise. No great man is vulgar of language. It is told of General Grant that once in a crowd of army officers one of them started to tell a smutty story, saying: "Are there any ladies present?" "No," said General Grant, "but there are some gentlemen present."

Hot Tamales and Chile at The Ranch, 507 F street n. w. Near Pension Office.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

ROOMS—Furnished and unfurnished; convenient to G. P. O.; rent reasonable. 51 Massachusetts avenue northwest.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

JUST EVERY-DAY LIFE.

A thirty-day vacation, bounded by the Metropolitan Museum of Art and Tolchester Beach, should be productive of scores of incidents for "every-day life." Of one of these, in which a Jewess, strikingly handsome, as all heroines are, my audience may, over in the future, read in more pretentious paragraphs.

Like a picture from the past came the face of H. W. J. Ham, acquiring fame and ducats via his lecture, "The Georgia Snolligoster." H. W. J. was of the trio furnishing fun for Cincinnati—Burnett with the Post, Griswold with the Saturday Night, and Ham, a name appropriate, with the Breakfast Table.

These convention echoes would be sadly deficient were not commendable mention made of Mrs. Gordon and her associates of the local Auxiliary.

Spanning the cycle of time were Messrs. Walker and Darnaby; in another group Nichols, McDowell, Faries, and Connelly; in another Grubbs, Jackson, Prescott, and on down the line—a veritable chronicle of a score of years in the life of the writer.

Miss Cecil Hall and Miss Carrie Cathcart, "two women from the West," are touring the East. The latter represented St. Joseph, Mo., and one of the salient features of the week was her presentation to President Lynch, at the Ebbitt parlors, of an elaborate hand-painted picture of an Indian, the work of Sylvester Grogg, her competitor in the race for delegate.

Delegate-elect George A. Steck, for many years secretary of Charleston, S. C., union, was overtaken by an attack of insanity since his election, and Alternate Bush took his place. Under careful sanitarium treatment his recovery is promised.

It's quite a fad now for femininity to make pillow cases and the like of badges. Four Baltimore ladies on the Tolchester trip in vain importuned the excursionists for the yellow and black insignia designating the visitor or the less lurid emblem of the ex-delegate. "Why, when the Elks were here," one of them confidently informed me, "we had badges to burn." "And I wanted that Capitol building for my belt buckle," another chimed in. But to the credit of the unionists be it said, neither bouquets nor blandishments could buy a badge.

Individuals with habitat as far removed as the Missouri and the Potomac speedily found an affiliation. A second's handclasp on the tail of a trolley at Mount Vernon widens into an hour on the next day, to a forenoon on the next, and a longer period of time on the day following. And why, the reader wonders, this monopoly? In that first brief moment was reached an understanding. Miss Martin, bubbling with imagery and ideality, could speak the language of Art, and Song, and Story, and her associate endeavored to stumble along the same road.

Cartoonist Berryman of the Post deserves substantial recognition for his masterly handling of the convention.

Mayhap I had grown to regard Mr. Waudby as the typical laborite; that his popularity was largely due to his ability as a "mixer." But in his considerate treatment, on the Baltimore excursion, of "the little woman in white," another, a nobler phase, stood revealed. The circling of a cloak to break the night wind, and the tilting of a hatbrim to shield the drooping eyelash, was tenderness personified.

And later I learned that the little woman—she with the actress cast of countenance—was an ideal partner; the several channels of endeavor of the husband became, without the urging, the task of the wife, a condition, to my mind, forming the most resplendent gem in the casket of life—the bearer in the toils and the sharer in the spoils.

Delegate Turnbull, of Superior, Wis., was telling me how one of his comrades from the "lake country," after climbing the hill at Arlington, when his gaze fell upon that long line of little mounds, "just filled up, wiped his eyes, and walked away."

George Lederer, of New York Casino fame, offers $500 for the best State song. How does this strike you?

There's a diadem shines in her motto,
This lesson it teaches to all;
United, the structure is strongest,
Divided, the structure will fall.

'Tis the land called the dark and the bloody;
The farmer, when sowing his grain,
Laid down the hoe and the harrow
And went chasing the Shawnee again.

Others, I see, work "Ajax" hours. The delegate from No. 240, C. Will Koch, "in his time plays many parts," notably the bells, drums, traps, xylophone, etc., in the Eleventh Avenue Opera House orchestra. When he "gets his busy done" he is foreman of the job department of the Evening Gazette, Altoona, Pa.

Every member of the I. T. U. should secure a copy of the Washington Post of August 10, pasting in their scrapbook the editorial "Hats Off to Printers."

Anyone with an idea or scheme for adding 500 subscribers to a magazine can send in to Calcutt & Macomber, New York, and receive $100 therefor.

The lessons to be learned from this assemblage of the crafts—this gigantic advertisement, if you will—are many. To the locals it means a blending and a binding anew of the social tie; to the visitor an education, both closet and clinical; to the merchant and manufacturer a "demonstration," to use a war term, of the upholding hand. Respect, I have always contended, was the banner-bearer for regard; so in placing in evidence hundreds of talented ladies and gentlemen from all sections of the Union we necessarily raise the standard of esteem in which the printer and his associates is held in the community.

H. S. SUTTON.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Hot Tamales and Chile at The Ranch, 507 F street n. w. Near Pension Office.

FOR RENT—Neatly furnished rooms; with or without board; free bath. 515 F street northwest.

The Textile Workers' Strike.

A committee from the Textile Workers in Philadelphia, who have been on strike for the past two months, visited this city during the week past and made a favorable impression wherever they were received. Messrs. Moran and Campbell appeared before the I. T. U. convention and presented the case of the Textile Workers in such a way that a substantial recognition of their cause resulted in an appropriation of $500 by the convention to the Textile Workers. Subsequently they appeared at the meeting of Columbia Typographical Union, No. 101, and presented their cause in such a true light that $100 was appropriated for the strikers in Philadelphia. The committee desired to impress on their hearers the fact that they desired moral support in order to show the manufacturers that they had the indorsement of the organized trades in the struggle now on in Philadelphia.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Jersey City has a novelty in the strike line. The union men formerly in the employ of Theodore Smith & Son, machinists, demand that wages be reduced from $3.75 to $3 per day. Mr. Smith said: "I will fight the union to a finish on this point if it costs me every cent I possess. A man should have an incentive to prove himself a better workman than another. No man shall stop me from paying more than the union rate so I may have capable men."

The "Man's Store."
Lots of Good Things in Furnishings.
Smallest Prices Ever Quoted.
Suits Exactly Half-Price

Keeping up a lively selling pace during this Half-Price Sale of Suits. Good picking still, but it's a bit better for big men.

$10.90 Suits..... $5.45
$12.85 Suits..... $6.45
$15.00 Suits..... $7.50
$16.50 Suits..... $8.25
$18.50 Suits..... $9.25
$20.00 Suits.....$10.00
$25.00 Suits.....$12.50

D. J. KAUFMAN, 1005-7 Pa. Ave.

The Savings possible at
S. Kann, Sons & Co.
8th St.—THE BUSY CORNER—Pa. Ave.
are such as may be counted in the pocket. At the same time styles and qualities are unexcelled.

Woodward & Lothrop,
DEPARTMENT STORE.
TENTH, ELEVENTH, AND F STS. N. W.

WHERE THE HALF-TONES ARE MADE
THE NATIONAL ENGRAVING COMPANY.
INCORPORATED.
14th St. and Pa. Ave. Phone 1679 Main.

J. E. BONINI'S
BUFFET AND CAFÉ,
727-729 N. Capitol Street.
MAERZEN BEER ON TAP.
A first-class Lunch Counter. Sea food in season. Union throughout.

Cole & Swan
Large assortment of Watches, Diamonds, and Jewelry (we make and repair anything in this line).
"Square Dealing" our motto.
21 H Street N. W.

Indian Head Trips | Marshall Hall

STR. CHARLES MACALESTER
EVERY THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY AT 6.30 P. M.
Appointments first-class. All amusements.
MARSHALL HALL:
Daily at 10 a. m., 2.30 and 6.30 p. m.
Sundays, 11 a. m., 2.30 and 6.30 p. m.
Fare (Round Trip), 25 Cents.
FOR MOUNT VERNON,
(Home and Tomb of Washington), Daily, 10 a. m. and 2.30 p. m. (Sundays excepted).

SAMUEL C. PALMER
Manufacturer of
Soda and Mineral Waters
IN FOUNTS, SYPHONS AND BOTTLES
SODA WATER SYRUPS
OF ALL FLAVORS
Phone West 190
Depot, 1066-8 32d Street N. W.

D. STRAUSS,
Clothier, Hatter and Furnisher
441 Seventh Street N. W.,
Washington, D. C.

Cabin John Bridge
MOST BEAUTIFUL PLEASURE RESORT IN AMERICA
A Wealth of Amusements
Band Concerts Every Evening and Sunday Afternoons
Beauty Health Pleasure
Union Men Only Engaged
TAKE METROPOLITAN CAR

THOMAS WALSH
Formerly "Steve" Caldwell's.
Whiskies and Cigars
Specialties: MELVALE AND SHERWOOD
COOL LAGER BEER ON DRAUGHT.
BILLIARDS AND POOL
Billiards, 40c. per hour. Pool, 2½c. per cue.
THOMAS WALSH
407 Tenth St. Northwest

E. F. PRICE & CO.
Strongest flat opening blank book made.
Ruling and Binding of every description.
A Specialty of FINE BANK WORK.
BOOKBINDERS 1108 E St. N. W.

G. P. O. BICYCLE REPAIR CO.
ARTHUR D. BENNETT
MANAGER
Wheels stored, cleaned, and repaired (per month)..... $1.00
Wheels stored and cleaned (per month)..... .75
Wheels stored (per month)..... .50
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty
Bicycle Sundries
Salesroom, 33 H St. N. W.

300 1-lb. Loaves to the Barrel.
Every Laboring Man
—requires pure, wholesome, nourishing food such as is made of—
Cream Blend Flour
It not only makes THE BEST Bread, Rolls, Cake and Pastry, but more of them than other brands—therefore it's the cheapest that money can buy.
Your Grocer will supply you.
B. B. EARNSHAW & BRO., Wholesalers,
1105, 1107, 1109 11th Street S. E.
1000 and 1002 M Street S. E.

T. HOLLANDER
Men's Furnishings
Hats and Shoes
COR. N. CAPITOL AND H STS.
Opposite Government Printing Office

DO YOU USE TOILET PAPER?
If so, investigate the service furnished by
R. P. Andrews & Co.,
INCORPORATED
627-629 LOUISIANA AVE. N. W.
THE WHOLESALE PAPER HOUSE
IT WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

HOTEL FRITZ REUTER
Rathskeller
and
Restaurant.
COR. PA. AVE. AND JOHN MARSHALL PLACE
Phone: East 388.

Telephone 3662-Y
AMREIN'S FAMOUS ICE CREAM
HAS NO EQUAL
One Dollar per Gallon
Stores, 1426 and 1810 7th St N. W.

B. F. WARNER
FINE WINES and LIQUORS
BLUE LABEL CIGARS
1219 E Street Northwest

FOR LUNCH
TRY THE
Pure Dairy Lunch
935 D Street Northwest

American Ice Co.
1437 Penna. Ave. N. W.

GEO. W. BARRY COAL CO.
Coal in any quantity at the right price and Wood also.
14-16 H N. E. One minute from G. P. O. Telephone East 234.

Manhattan Table Lunch, 12 to 1, 10c
ED. E. WALSH
All leading brands of
Whiskies, Wines and Cigars
309 G STREET NORTHWEST
Clark's Maryland Rye and Heurich's Beers a Specialty

THE UNION
SAVINGS BANK
BOND BUILDING
Cor. 14th St. and New York Ave. N.W.

Three Per Cent Interest
on Savings Accounts.

anch Deposit Agency at
T. A. ROVER'S STORE,
Cor. North Capitol and H Sts.
OPEN EVERY MONDAY AND TUESDAY
FROM 4 TO 5 P. M.

When in doubt buy at
HOUSE & HERRMANN,
FURNITURE, CARPETS,
DRAPERIES, ETC.
N. E. Corner Seventh and I Streets N. W.

Don't Buy a Hat
Without the Label. .
And See that It Is Sewed In.

Don't Patronize a Dealer Who Has Loose Labels on Hand and Offers to Put One in Your Hat.
LOOSE LABELS
In Retail Stores
ARE COUNTERFEITS.

The John B. Stetson Co., of Philadelphia, Pa., is a non-union concern.

Phone Main 2132
THE HUB
OUTFITTERS AND HATTERS
Penna. Avenue and 14th Street
C. H. REIZENSTEIN Washington, D. C.

J. GEORGE SMITH
(Formerly a member of the firm of R. P. Andrews & Co.)
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
PAPER AND STATIONERY
My old friends and patrons from J. C. Addison's time to the present will be welcome. I can supply all your needs at lowest prices consistent with quality.
626 E STREET NORTHWEST

EDWIN F. PRICE
(Late member of the firm of E. F. Price & Co.)
Bookbinder
Ruling and Binding of every description. Strongest Flat-Opening Blank Book Made. A Specialty of Fine Bank Work.
Darby Bldg., 506-508 Fourteenth St. N. W.

St. Asaph Commission Rooms,
Old Established and Reliable.
Trains leave Thirteen and one-half street and Pennsylvania avenue—Alexandria, Mt. Vernon, and Washington Railway—daily at 12.45, 1.05, 1.25, 2, 2.30, 3.02, and 3.30. Return .39, 4.24, 5.02, 5.58, and at various intervals.

The Hub Furniture Co.,
The Stores that Save You Money.
OUR MOTTO—The Best Values in Furniture and Carpets at the Lowest Prices.
Cash or Credit.
HUB FURNITURE CO.,
(Formerly Wash B. Williams)
Corner Seventh and D Streets N. W.

CELTIC CLUB WHISKY
Our Specialty. Never Changes. Once Tried You'll Always Use It. Take No Substitute.
Ports and Sherries for family use, Quarts, 50 and 75 cents. All makes of Beer. Leading brands of Cigars. Ales and Porters on draught the year round.
JOHN CONNOR
New Jersey Ave. and G Sts. N. W.

J. WILLIAM LEE,
Undertaker and
Livery, . . .
322 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

A. & P. BEST ELGIN BUTTER, 27 CENTS.
Finest Grades of Teas and Coffees.
Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company,
Cor. 7th and E.

CHESAPEAKE BEACH
Only Salt Water Resort Near Washington
MAMMOTH BOARD WALK
LINED WITH AMUSEMENTS
Finest Salt-water Bathing, Fishing, Crabbing, Sailing, Dancing.
HALEY'S BAND
See Schedule under Railroad Time Tables in all Daily Papers.

Union Directory.

TO SECRETARIES: Please notify this office of any change in officers' addresses, time or place of meeting. Corrections will be made quarterly.

American Federation of Labor—Headquarters, Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Sam'l Gompers, President. Frank Morrison, Secretary.

Allied Printing Trades Council meets last Thursday in the month at Typographical Temple. J. A. Wiedman, Secretary-Treasurer, 15 I street northeast.

Allied Label League meets every Friday night at 8 o'clock at 905 E street northwest. C. A. Pfau, Secretary, 905 E street northwest.

Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, Local No. 148, meets second and fourth Thursday evenings at 922 Pa. avenue northwest. Geo. Bakersmith, Secretary, 3315 Brightwood avenue northwest.

Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, Local Union No. 102, meets first and third Wednesdays at Loehl's Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. Wm. H. Whiting, Secretary, 639 K street southwest.

American Society Plate Engravers meets first Saturday in each month at Grand Army Hall. A. C. Ruebsam, Secretary, Bethesda, Montgomery County, Md.

Bakers Union, No. 118, meets first and third Saturday in each month at 430 Eighth street northwest. John G. Schmidt, Secretary and Business Agent, 333 I street s w.

Bakers' Drivers' L. U. No. 33, T. D. I. U. meets first and third Thursday evening of each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Thomas C. Fox, Secretary, 922 Fourth street northeast.

Bartenders' League Local No. 75, meets first and fourth Sunday of each month at 2 p. m. at Macabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. Jere F. McCarthy, Secretary, 1017 Maryland avenue southwest.

Beer Drivers' and Stablemen's Union, No. 234, meets first Sunday of each month at 314 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. A. D. Manger, Secretary, 209 Sixth street southwest.

Bookbinders' Union, No. 4, meets first Tuesday in each month at Typograhical Temple. James A. Stockman, Secretary, 735 North Capitol street.

Brewery Workers' Union, No. 118, meets second and last Sunday of the month at 314 Pennsylvania ave. southeast. A. D. Manger, Secretary, 209 Sixth street southwest.

Bricklayers' Union, No. 1, meets second and fourth Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Milford Spohn, Secretary, Typographical Temple.

Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators, and Paperhangers, Local Union, No. 368, meets every Friday night at 430 Eighth street northwest. G. J. Murray, Secretary, 1107 South Carolina avenue southeast.

Cab and Carriage Drivers' Union, No. 486, meets first and third Sundays, at Butler's Hall, 609 C street northwest. W. B. Nelson, Secretary, 922 I street northwest.

Carriage and Wagon Workers' International Union, Local No. 72, of Washington, D. C., meets first and third Fridays at 902 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. John H. Brinkman, Secretary, 1729 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Carpet Upholsterers, No. 85, U. I. U., meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at 516 Ninth street northwest. Geo. A. Pinckney, Secretary, 363 Pennsylvania ave. northwest.

Central Labor Union meets every Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Typographical Temple. Charles W. Winslow, Secretary, 425 G street northwest. Residence, 3206 Wisconsin avenue northwest.

Ceramic, Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers and Helpers' International Union, No. 2, meets first and third Thursdays at 609 C street northwest. W. F. Miller, Secretary, 1228 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Cigarmakers' Local Union, No. 110, meets every Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Bielgk's Hall, 737 Seventh street northwest. Henry B. Wissner, Secretary, 3143 Dumbarton avenue.

Columbia Lodge, No. 174, International Association of Machinists, meets every Wednesday night at McCauley's Hall, 209 Pennsylavenue southeast. E. L. Adams, Secretary, 600 Ninth street northeast.

Columbia Typographical Union meets third Sunday in each month in Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. W. M. Garrett, Secretary.

Council Allied Building Trades of Central Labor Union meets every Tuesday night at 610 G street notthwest. E. J. Ratigan, Secretary, Room 2, 626 Sixth street northwest.

Douglass Association of Steam Engineers, I. S. U. E., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of the month at 609 F street northwest. J. W. Webb, Secretary, 341 Maryland avenue southwest.

Electrotype Molders and Finishers' Union, No. 17, I. S. and E. U. Charles W. Dean, Secretary.

Federal Labor Union No. 8193, meets fourth Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Miss Emma A. Miller, Secretary, 1011 First street n. w.

Fire Department Employees. P. and B. Union No. 8846, meets every Wednesday morning at 11 a. m., at Union Veterans' Hall, 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. G. Achstetter, Secretary, 206 N. Y. ave. northwest.

Gas Workers' Union No. 10343, Samuel H. Walker, Secretary, 735 Thirteenth street s. e.

Glass Bottle Blowers' Association, Branch 68, Alexandria, Va., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Serepta Hall. Frank Michelbach, Secretary, 803 King street, Alexandria, Va.

Hospital Attendants' Protective Union No. 8097, meets first and fourth Saturday nights of each month at Masonic Hall, Anacostia, D. C. C. W. Teates, Secretary, 434 Jackson street, Anacostia, D. C.

Hodcarriers, Brick and Mortar Wheelers' Union No. 9468, meets first and third Monday evenings in each month at Cadets' Armory, 708 O street northwest. Dennis Brown, Secretary, 1237 Fourth street northwest.

Ice Wagon Drivers and Helpers, Local No. 430, meets first and third Tuesdays in each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest (third floor). William Donaldson, Secretary, 812 Seventh street southwest.

International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, Local Union No. 5, meets every Friday night at Seventh and N streets northwest. Charles E. Barbour, Secretary, 1212 Potomac street northwest.

International Association of Machinists, Headquarters, rooms 82-85 Corcoran Building Fifteenth and F streets northwest. James O'Connell, president; D. Douglass Wilson, vice-president and editor of the Journal; George Preston. Secretary-Treasurer.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.—Headquarters, Rooms 103-104 Corcoran Building. H. W. Sherman, Secretary.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 26, meets every Thursday night at Hotel Royal Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. S. F. Adams, Secretary, 724 Eighteenth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 148, meet every Monday night at 430 Eighth street northwest. H. B. Anderson, Secretary, 807 Eighth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, No. 257, meets every Friday evening at 719 Sixth street n. w. M. G. Bundick, Secretary, 1107 Tenth street n. w.

Interior Marble and Slate Cutters' and Setters' Association, No. 5, meets first and third Wednesday of each month at Arion Hall, 430 Eighth street northwest. George Edmonds, Secretary, 423 Queen street, Alexandria Va.

International Association of Marble Workers No. 33, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at 106 I street northwest. Lew Davis, Secretary, 106 I street northwest.

International Union of Steam Engineers—Local Union No. 99, meets every Wednesday evening at 419 Tenth street northwest. A. W. Leeke, Recording Secretary, Twelfth and B streets northwest.

International Brotherhood of Firemen, Local No. 63, meets every Tuesday night at J. F. Heare's Hall, 404 Eighth street northwest. Louis S. Crown, Secretary. 637 K street northeast.

International Alliance Stage Employees, Local No. 22, meets first and third Sundays of every month at 625 Louisiana avenue northwest. J. Shilling, Secretary, 1208 Bladensburg Road.

Iron Molders' Union, Local No. 215, meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at Masonic Hall, Fourth street and Pennsylvania avenue southeast. Joseph Stewart, Secretary, 3413 N street northwest.

I. U. S. E., Hoisting and Portable, Local 77, meets every Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, Heare's Hall, 404 Eighth street northwest. W. H. Radcliffe, Secretary, 812 Four-and-a-Half street southwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 239, meets first and third Wednesdays in each month at 737 Seventh st. northwest. Theo. A. Leckert, Secretary, 1210 Florida avenue northwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 305, meets first and third Monday evenings at 503 G street northwest (barber shop). Charles A. Thomas, Secretary, 817 E street northwest.

Journeymen Horseshoers' Union, No. 17, meets first and third Wednesday of each month at Costello's Hall, Sixth and G streets northwest. W. S. Lusby, Secretary, 708 Eighth street southwest.

Journeyman Tailors of America, No. 188, meets first and third Saturdays of each month at 8 o'clock p. m., Labor Bureau Hall. Ignatius Geraci, Secretary, 917½ E street northwest.

Journeyman Plumbers and Gas Fitters' Local Union, No. 5, meets second and fourth Tuesday evening of each month at Maccabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. A. E. Anderson, Secretary, 1312 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Journeymen Stone and Marble Cutters' Union, meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Irondall Hall. Harry Bouche, Secretary, 72 H street northeast.

Laundry Wagon Drivers No. 467, W. W. Foster, Secretary, 95 Myrtle street northwest

Mail Bag Repairers' Union, No. 10523, meets first and last Saturdays of every month at Stolpp's Hall 721 Sixth street northwest. L. W. Kearney, Secretary, 406 First st. n.w.

Mail Bag Workers' Union, 10504, meets every Saturday at 721 Sixth street northwest Miss A. Cross, Secretary, 321 Lincoln street, Anacostia, D. C.

Marble Mosaic and Granito Workers No. 8902, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at 1400 D street northwest. G. B. Cinotti, secretary.

Metal Trades Federation of North America, Room 134 Corcoran Bldg., James O'Connell, President. E. J. Lynch, Secretary.

Milk Wagon Drivers' Union, No. 349, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at 8 p. m., at Hotel Royal (second floor), Seventh and N streets northwest. W. T. Trittipoe 1359 U street northwest.

Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers' Helpers, Local Union, No. 12, meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Arion Hall, 430 Eighth street northwest. S. Becket, Secretary, 401 E Street southeast.

Musicians' Protective Union, No. 161. meets first and third Sundays at 2 p. m., at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Linden, Jr Secretary, 1364 E street southeast.

National Alliance Theatrical Stage Employes meets first and third Sunday in each month at southwest corner of Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, third floor. J. P. Shilling, Secretary, 1208 Bladensburg Road.

Negative Cutters Union, meets second Wednesday in each month at 921 F street northwest. Clarence W. Schroeder, Secretary, 640 E street southeast.

Oil Wagon Drivers, No. 296, meets second Wednesday of each month at Oppenheimer's Hall, 514 Ninth street northwest. A. J. Dixon, Secretary, 1234 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Operative Stonemasons' Union, No. 2, meets first and third Monday evenings at 609 C street northwest. James Lanigan, Secretary, 930 G street southwest.

Paperhangers' Local Union No. 420, B. of P., D., and P., meets every Wednesday evening, 625 Louisiana avenue, n. w. J. Franklin Page, Secretary.

Pattern Makers' League meets at Weller's Hall, Eighth and I streets southeast, first and third Wednesday. James B. McAlwee, Secretary, 907 E street southeast.

Photo-Engravers' Union, No. 17, meets first Monday in each month at 417 Eleventh street northwest. F. C. Betts, Secretary, Kensington, Md.

Printing Pressmen Union, No. 1, meets first Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. W. C. Deane, Secretary. 19 Grant Place.

Plate Printers Union, No. 2, meets at Maccabee Temple, Ninth street n. w., the fourth Tuesday in each month. J. P. Murphy, Secretary, 1416 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

Post-Office Clerks, No. 9834, meets the second Saturday of each month at Twelfth and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. B. Corridon, Secretary, 1733 North Capitol street.

Registered Drug Clerks' Union, District of Columbia, meets second and fourth Fridays at Jolly Fat Men's Hall, 933 D street northwest. Fred T. Hafelfinger, Secretary, 1110 Fourteenth street northwest.

Retail Clerks' Union, No. 262, meets second and fourth Mondays of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Joseph Moser, Recording Secretary, 624 I street northwest.

Retail Grocery Clerks' Union, No. 533, meets every Thursday evening at Society Temple, 5th and G streets N. W. Alfred Fuss, Secretary, 802 D street s. e.

Slate and Tile Roofers' Union, No. 10421, meets every Monday night at 922 F street northwest. J. C. Huddleson, Secretary, 2147 Pennsylvania avenue northwest,

Soda and Mineral Water Wagon Drivers, No. 372, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at Bessler's Hall, 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. P. Connor, Secretary, 1111 Sixth street southwest.

Steam Fitters, R. A. Lanis Association, L. B. No. 10, N. A., meets every Thursday night at 610 G street northwest. Thomas L. Hess. Secretary, 913 New York avenue northwest.

Steam and Hot Water Fitters' Helpers, Local Branch, No. 28, N. A., meets every Friday at 8 o'clock p. m., at 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Thomas F. Flanagan, Secretary, 38 G street northeast.

Stereotypers' Union, No. 19, of Washington D. C., meets second Monday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. D. J. Murray, Secretary, 35 R street northwest.

Stone Laborers' Union, No. 9013, meets first and third Friday of each month at Eleventh and Q streets northwest. Daniel Lahey, Secretary, 1003 A street southeast.

Telephone Operators, No. 9914, meets third Saturday of each month at Schmidt's Hall. 516 Ninth street northwest. Edna Earl Bobb, Secretary, 924 Pennsylvania avenue southeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, Local Union. No. 190, meet every Friday evening at the Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. C. H. Scherer, Secretary, 936 Fourth street northeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 884, meets every Monday night at 904 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Torney, Secretary, 141 Jefferson street, Anacostia D. C.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 1103, Mill and Bench Hands, meets every Friday at 8 p. m., at 514 Ninth street northwest. Peyton Wilkerson, Secretary, 816 G street southeast.

United Brotherhood of Leather Workers on Horse Goods, No. 87, meets every second and fourth Tuesday, 513 Twelfth street northwest. H. J. Laubach, Secretary. 72 H street northeast.

Upholsterers' Local Union, No. 58, meets second and fourth Thursdays of each month at 416 (fourth floor) Ninth street northwest. T. R. Bowie, Secretary, 1306 Riggs street northwest.

Washington Branch, Granite Cutters' National Union, meets every second and fourth Mondays in each month at 1204 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Wm. Silver, Secretary, 49 Massachusetts avenue northwest.

Washington Feeders and Assistants' Union, No. 42, meets the first Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street n. w. D. I. Leane, Secretary, 702 H street northeast.

Washington Lodge of Machinists, No. 193, meets every Thursday night at southwest corner of Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. Herbert Wyatt, Secretary, 111 Seventh street southeast.

Wood, Wire, and Metal Lathers' Local Union, No. 9, meets every Monday night at Hare's Hall. Eighth and D streets northwest. J. C. Maloney, Secretary, 124 G street n. w.

Columbia Union, No. 101.

The meeting of Columbia Typographical Union, No. 101, on last Sunday, was in the order of a reception to visiting officials of the I. T. U. and ex-delegates to the recent convention. After hearing from the delegation from the Textile Workers of Philadelphia, addresses were made by Secretary-Treasurer Bramwood, John W. Hays, of Minneapolis, George R. Foster, of Milwaukee, O. V. Shomo, of Little Rock, and F. N. Whitehead, of the entertainment committee.

In his address to the union Mr. Bramwood referred to the uniform courtesy extended to himself and family during his stay in the city, and expressed the hope that he might at some time in the future be able to show his appreciation for the many acts of kindness shown to himself and family.

John W. Hays, responding to a call for a few remarks, said that he had been complimented for work done by Mr. Hayes, of Cleveland, the chairman of the laws committee, and Mr. Hay, of Los Angeles, but had heard little of what he had done himself. He closed by stating that he knew the next convention would have to work hard to eclipse the entertainment provided by No. 101.

Mr. Foster made a happy address on his visit to this city, saying he was really sent on account of his health, but felt that after the siege he had put in here he would require some rest to regain what little health he had when he came here.

Mr. Shomo alluded to the fact that he was no stranger in the city, having left here but two years ago. He accounts for his presence by the fact that he became a worker in Little Rock Union, and in keeping with its traditions they had sent him as their representative.

After a few remarks from Chairman F. N. Whitehead, of the Entertainment Committee, and Frank Kidd, who had been called on by one of his admirers, as "one of the prospective candidates for delegate next year," and Mr. Kidd having denied the soft impeachment, the meeting adjourned.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

The Convention Trade Book.

The souvenir convention book, printed by the Wilkens Printing Company, is one of the evidences of the advance made in the past few years of the grade of fine printing that can now be secured in this city. It is doubtful whether any other establishment can excel the Wilkens Printing Company in work of the character and magnitude of the souvenir of the I. T. U. convention. From a typographical and artistic standpoint, it creates a standard that will be hard for competitors in that field to maintain. The committee of the union, who worked with the publishers deserve credit for their share of the work performed by them, and it should be accorded to them.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

The penalty for barbers not registering under the New York State laws who continue to carry on their business on and after August 16 is a fine of $10 or imprisonment for thirty days. The registration fee is $1. After August 16 unregistered barbers must pass an examination, for which a fee of $5 will be charged..

Representative Business Houses.
OF WASHINGTON, D. C.
The following wholesale and retail firms and professional men are friendly to Union Labor and are entitled to its patronage :

BANKS.
THE LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK, Safe Deposit Vaults, $2.50 up
CAPITAL LOAN GUARANTEE COMPANY, 602 F Street Northwest. Every one can borrow money without security.

BAKERS.
HOLMES & SONS, Celebrated Home-Made Pies and Milk Bread. First and E Streets N. W. Phone East 864.

BOOTS AND SHOES.
CROCKER'S SHOES, 939 Pennsylvania Ave. N. W.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.
DANIEL LOUGHRAN, 1347 Pennsylvania Ave.
LUCHS & BRO., Wholesalers. Phone E 755.

COACH FINDINGS.
J. B. KENDALL, 485-87 Missouri avenue N. W.

COAL TAR PRODUCTS AND PAPER.
E. B. WARREN & CO., 27th and H Sts. N. W.

CUTLERY AND SPORTING GOODS.
D. N. WALFORD, 477 and 909 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

DRY GOODS.
LANSBURGH & BROTHER, 420 to 426 7th St. N. W

DYER.
E. E. WHEATLEY, 1068 Jefferson Ave. N. W. Phone, West 117-Y.

ENGRAVERS.
THE MAURICE JOYCE ENGRAVING CO. Cuts and Illustrations. 418 11th street N. W

FIRE INSURANCE.
Insure with THE RIGGS FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.
FIREMEN'S INSURANCE COMPANY, Seventh St. and Louisiana Ave.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.
JULIUS LANSBURGH, Interocean Building, 512 Ninth St. N. W.

GROCERIES.
LITTLE & PAGE, "Good things to eat." 1210 F St. N.W
W. C. ERGOOD, "Good goods at Ergoods." Corner Ninth and H Streets Northwest.

GROCER AND COFFEE ROASTER.
SOMERSET R. WATERS. 1342 Seventh Street Northwest, Corner O.

HARDWARE AND TOOLS.
RUDOLPH, WEST & CO., 1332 New York avenue northwest.

HUDSON'S VARIETY STORE.
B. F. HUDSON, 423 Seventh Street Northwest.

HATTERS AND FURRIERS.
JAMES Y. DAVIS' SONS, 1201 Pennsylvania Ave.
A. H. BURDINE, Union Overalls, Hats, and Gloves. Seventh Street and Virginia avenue southwest.

LIME, SAND, GRAVEL, CEMENT.
NATIONAL MORTAR COMPANY, Office: Room 9, Ralston Bldg., 612 F St. N. W. Office telephone: East 688.

LUMBER AND MILL WORK.
THOMAS R. RILEY, 13th St. and Ohio Ave.
THE WASHINGTON WOOD WORKING CO., 12th and B Streets N. W. Telephone 2119-3.

MACHINISTS AND ENGINEERS.
FORSBERG & MURRAY, Pumps and Elevators. Engines and Boilers 8th and Water Sts. S. W.

MERCHANT TAILOR.
W. A. SLADEN, 419 East Capitol Street.

PHARMACISTS.
LOUIS F. BRADLEY, Prescription Druggist. 8th and E Sts. S. E

PHOTO-LITHOGRAPHERS.
THE NORRIS PETERS CO., 458 and 460 Pennsylvania avenue N. W
ANDREW B. GRAHAM Lithographer, Photo-Lithographer, and Half-Tones. 1230 Pa. Ave. Phones: 1031-M, 1679-M.

PIANO AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
E. E. DROOP & SONS, 925 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

PRINTING SUPPLIES.
NATIONAL PRINTER'S SUPPLY CO., Machine-made Rollers. 414 10th St. N. W.

RESTAURANT AND WINE ROOM.
JOHN M. BECKER, Opp. Navy Yard., Cor. 8th and Georgia Ave. S.E

SHOES.
DAVE WOLF. SHOES FOR EVERYBODY. 432 Seventh Street N. W.

SHAVING PARLORS
VINCENT R. CILENTO, 805 North Capitol Street.

TITLES TO REAL ESTATE.
LAWYERS' TITLE & GUARANTY INS. CO. 412 5th St. N. W.

UNION HEADQUARTERS.
ARION HALL, 430 Eighth Street N. W. Headquarters for organizations. Strictly union. JIM STEVENS, Proprietor.

WINES AND LIQUORS.
SAMUEL G. STEWART, Heurich Brewing Co's. beers and popular brands of whiskies. 1141 Seventh st. northwest between L and M.
WILLIAM DIETZ, 1203 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest
GEORGE W. DRIVER, 605 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

DO NOT WANT OUR PATRONAGE.

Following brands of cigars: Cinco, Cremo, George W. Childs, Henry George, Tom Moore, Robert Burns, and General Arthur.

The following firms have declared against the interest of Organized Labor and are not regarded as deserving their patronage :

NAME.	BUSINESS.	LOCATION.
Chevy Chase Railway and circle.	Street railway	Chevy Chase and Circle.
Keenan Bros	Gents' furnishers	Pa. ave. bet. 14th and 15th sts., and 523 Seventh st. n. w.
B. Solomon	Gents' furnisher	708 Seventh street n.w.
Rufus H. Darby	Printer	508 Fourteenth street n.w.
H. L. McQueen	Printer	1108 E street n.w.
N. Sickles (Nat'l Cigar Factory).	Cigar manufacturer	1011 Penna. avenue n.w.
E. Gundershiemer	Baker	516 Second street n.w. and stalls in Center Market.
Peter Grogan	Carpet dealer	817 to 823 Seventh street n.w.
John H. Fitzgerald	Horseshoer	443 Prather's alley n.w.
S. S Daish	Coal and wood	Florida ave. and Third st. n.e.
Wilbur F. Nash	Meat dealer	Center and O st. Markets.
C. E. Hencke	Electrician	711 G street n.w.
F. J. Wheelock	Electrician	1215 G street n. e.
James A. Bennett	Tinner	2008 H street n.w.
National Mosaic Company	Mosaics	207 Fourth st. n.w.
M. Minster	Gents' furnisher	1343 F st. n.w.
A. Minster	Gents' furnisher	499 and 501 Penna. ave. n. w.
Cyrus B. Reese	Employing steamfitter	1519 Fourteenth street n. w.
C. A. Schneider & Sons	Union Iron Works	212 Twelfth street n. w.
Minster & Paterson	Gents' furnishers	1109 Pennsylvania ave. n. w
The Famous	Gents' furnishings	437 Seventh street n. w.
Chas. A. Muddiman & Co	Gas fixtures	1204 G and 616 Twelfth st. n. w.
Conrad Becker	Trunks and harness	1328 F st. n. w.
Chapin & Sacks	Dealer in butter	924 Louisana ave. n. w.
Home Ice Company	Ice	Twelfth and V sts. n.w.
Emil Wagner	Restaurant	210 Ninth st. n. w.
W. E. Carney	Cigar manufacturer	921 G st. s. w.
Nat'l Roller & Ball Bearing Co.	Machinery	33rd and K sts, n. w.
L. Rosenberg	Clothing and shoes	911-913 Eighth st. s. e.
Corbin Thompson	Dairyman	Sharon Dairy, 324 B st. s. w.
S. D. Houck	Dealer in harness	301 Tenth street n. w.
M. Eisemann & Bro	Dry goods	1924-26 Pa. ava. and 806 7th n.w
Elite Steam Laundry	Laundry	1205 G street n.w.
Benjamin Schwartz	Gents' furnisher and tailor	337 Pa. ave. s. e.
Emrich Beef Co	Meat Dealers
John Coleman	Horseshoer	1300 36th street n. w.
Hecht & Co	Dry Goods, etc	517-519 Seventh street n. w
Charles Rauscher	Caterer	Conn. ave. and L st. n. w
Academy of Music	Theater	Ninth and D streets n. w.
Lafayette Square Theater	Theater	16th st. and Pa. ave. n. w.
E. H. Snyder & Co	Tailors	1111 Pa. ave n. w
Owen Owen	Tailor	423 Eleventh street n. w.
L. A. Downey	Tailor	433 Eleventh street n. w.
J. M. Stein & Co	Tailors	413 Eleventh street n. w
J. D. Burns & Co	Tailors	701 Ninth street n. w.
J. F. Gatchel	Tailor	604 Thirteenth street n. w.
G. Warfield Simpson	Tailor	1208 F street n. w.
E. H. Catlin & Co	Machinists	407 13½ street n. w.
Thomas Somerville & Sons	Steam Fitters' Supplies	816 Thirteenth street n. w.
Joseph Mathy	Stove dealer and tin worker	1918 Pennsylvania avenue.
William Meehan	Saloon	943 B street n. w.

Chesapeake Beach.

Visitors to this popular resort who desire to secure sail boats, rowing boats, or who may want to put in a few hours fishing, can be supplied by A. E. Beitzell, well known as a caterer to lovers of oysters and clams at his old stand in this city, Twenty-first street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. He will be found opposite the Bathing Beach.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

At Chicago the lithographers' association of the West has been formed with the purpose of the arbitration of difficulties with employers.

Bricklayers' Executive Committee.

The following is the list of members of the Executive Committee of Bricklayers' Union, No. 1: John G. Wolfe, chairman, 1023 New Jersey avenue; W. Cronin, 1415 Thirty-sixth street northwest; Samuel Haslett, 221 South Lee street, Alexandria, Va.; John Shanahan, 2352 Eighth street northwest; John McCarten, 1237 Maryland avenue northeast.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

The principal feature of the changes of wages in Great Britain during the past year was the decrease in wages in the coal mining industry.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICIAL ORGAN CENTRAL LABOR UNION, WASHINGTON BRANCH, AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Vol. VIII. No. 11. WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, AUGUST 27, 1903. Price, 3 Cents.

THE CENTRAL LABOR UNION

Attitude of Bookbinders' Union, No. 4, in the Miller Case Indorsed.

RATIGAN AMENDMENT TABLED

The Famous and Block & Co. Are Placed on the Fair List—Stationary Firemen's Contract Signed by the Brewers—Non-union Stage Employes at the Empire.

The regular weekly meeting of the Central Labor Union was held last Monday evening at Typographical Temple.

CREDENTIALS.

From Local Union No. 1651, Brotherhood of Carpenters, certifying E. A. Armecost and J. F. P. Magee.

From Local No. 533, R. C. I. P. A., certifying John D. Schamel, vice Albert Fuss.

From Local No. 188, Journeymen Tailors' Union, certifying W. E. Terry, vice M. Bloom.

From Local No. 190, Brotherhood of Carpenters, certifying George Crocker and H. Hollohan.

From Carpet Workers, No. 85, certifying F. P. Maguire, Wm. P. Cooney, Thomas Pearsol, and David Street.

From Local No. 87, I. U. S. E., certifying James J. McCracken, Charles Phillips, and Joseph Croft.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From James L. Kernan, relative to his interest in the Empire and Lafayette Square theaters. Referred to Stage Employes.

From Arlington Brewing Company, relative to action of Beer Drivers and Stablemen's Union, No. 234, in placing an embargo on one of their customers, and asking that the questions at issue be submitted to arbitration. Request granted.

From the Council of Allied Building Trades, inclosing communication from Painters' Union, No. 368, calling attention to R. A. Golden, caterer, Ninth and D streets northwest, having painting done by nonunion men. Referred to Grievance Committee.

From the Council of Allied Building Trades, inclosing communication from Stone Laborers' Union, No. 9013, asking that Jacob Viehmeyer, Ohio avenue and Fourteenth street, be placed on the unfair list. Referred to the Grievance Committee.

From the Council of Allied Building Trades, inclosing communication from Chr. Heurich Brewing Company, relative to men in employ of S. J. Prescott & Co., and stating that if this firm signs a Central Labor Union contract they will be considered fair. Referred to Grievance Committee.

From C. J. Pfau, secretary of the Allied Label League, asking, on the part of the League, a number in the order of business of the Central Labor Union. It was ruled that it would be necessary to amend the Constitution for the adoption of the request, and it was so ordered.

Secretary Pfau also called the attention of the Central Labor Union to the fact that the Allied Label League had indorsed the placing of Hecht & Co. and the Emrich Beef Company on the unfair list and would push the matter vigorously.

CALL OF UNIONS.

Carpet Upholsterers reported that Hecht & Co. were unfair to that organization.

Retail Clerks reported that The Famous and Block & Co. had signed their agreement, and asked that they be removed from the unfair list.

Stationary Firemen reported that all the breweries had signed contracts with their organization, and their men were all working eight hours.

Theatrical Stage Employes reported that the Empire was working nonunion men.

Committee on Labor Day excursion made a report on progress of its labors.

Bookbinders' Union, No. 4, offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Whereas, The principle of trades unionism is intended to raise the standard of living among the working classes; to instill into their hearts the blessings of free government; to educate them so that they might uphold the law and its representatives; to make them good citizens in time of peace and zealous patriots in time of war; and

Whereas, The Bookbinders' Union's charges against W. A. Miller proves that he has outrageously violated every moral, and, in two instances, criminal law; that he has broken every obligation to his union, and that he was tried and found guilty of flagrant non-unionism; and

Whereas, The union of the thirteen original States formed themselves into what has developed into the greatest country on earth, notwithstanding the scorns and scoffs of those that would not swear allegiance; and

Whereas, The trades-union movement is like unto the thirteen original States in that it has its enemies who scoff and refuse to be brought to see the many benefits that accrue to all classes of labor through a union and organization of their interest and forces; and

Whereas, The President of the United States has seen fit to reinstate W. A. Miller, who is an expelled member of a trades organization, notwithstanding the overwhelming evidence of his moral turpitude, and has also committed himself to the policy of the open shop; and

Whereas, The Bookbinders' Union, of Washington, D. C., has conservatively recognized the authority of the President in acceding to W. A. Miller's reinstatement and working with him pending final settlement of the case; and

Whereas, The charges have again been preferred in strict conformity to Federal law, and reasonable time has been given W. A. Miller to answer them; therefore be it

Resolved, That the order of the President can not be regarded in any but an unfriendly light; and be it

Further resolved, That organized labor throughout the country be urged to petition the President of the United States to modify his order of no discrimination and order W. A. Miller's dismissal from the Government service, to promote the efficiency of that service.

AMENDMENT.

The amendment submitted by Delegate Ratigan at the meeting of August 10 was taken up for consideration. It was to further amend Article XXXIV, authorizing the secretary "to notify each affiliated union" of the placing of a firm on the unfair list, "and any union refusing to indorse the action of the Central Labor Union within thirty days shall be dropped from the roster and all support denied them." An amendment was offered "that locals who refuse to concur in the placing of firms on the unfair list by the Central Labor Union, within thirty days, shall have no grievances considered until such time as they indorse the action of the central body." The whole matter was laid on the table.

Adjourned.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

A Tribute.

The following is a contributed article to the columns of the Washington Post, and appeared in that paper last Monday, over the signature of V. Fell, M. D.:

In a busy and varied life of eighty-four years, I have attended and participated in many conventions—political, social, religious, etc., but in none of them have I seen anything so nearly approaching the ideal, both in the dispatch of business and courtesy to each other, as was almost universally displayed in the recent printers' convention, in their intercourse with each other.

This was the more remarkable because questions of the most exciting character—lying at the foundation of their order—had to be met and acted upon. Indeed, had they not been as a body, not only intellectually, but morally educated, and esthetic in their natures, and fully masters of themselves, their great meeting would have been a failure, instead of the great success it has been. I was, therefore, well pleased (with others of your correspondents), at your courteous editorial welcome to these "gentlemen of the quill" on their arrival.

I have but one criticism to make on the convention. Their reading clerk, while obviously a refined and cultured gentleman, was woefully lacking for such a position in a vast hall, in both lungs and brass.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Union Printers' Home.

The report of Superintendent Deacon, of the Union Printers' Home, for the month of July shows an expenditure of $3,456.40. Of this amount table supplies had $1,179.90 charged against it. The average number of residents at the Home during the month was 116, and the average cost per resident, based on actual maintenance, was $27.58 per capita.

During the month of July nine residents were admitted, two died, and two vacated.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

The Theatrical Stage Employe.

Editors THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Much has been said as to the mechanical skill required of a theatrical stage employe, the opponents of their union going so far as to say and emphasize "that any idler could be brought into service to take their places and perform their work." Theatrical stage employes are always in demand in some section of the United States and Canada, and a wise provision of their international law provides for the sending of members from a city having trouble to another where fair conditions exist.

Experience in this as in other trades make master stage employes, with years of experience, become masters of their calling. For anyone foolish enough to controvert this natural deduction by the statement of any idler being an adept understudy to fill the part experienced stage employes take, perform the same services as these experienced mechanics, must appear to any person of knowledge as extremely nonsensical and ridiculous.

The modern or later-day productions of the theatrical business are built after models and drawings of well known architects, just the same as the method employed in the construction of buildings.

While persons make the claim of any idler being competent to perform stage employes work, road men with traveling theatrical productions call for and demand experienced mechanics to man their shows locally. When experienced men are not secured for manning large productions the amount of labor these traveling road men have to perform is double that when furnished inexperienced help as when skilled experienced help is secured. In a word, the road men needs must perform their own part of the labor for a production and the labor of the inexperienced crew. The International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes of the United States and Canada makes claim with established facts and figures to prove it, that they have on their membership rolls the longest experienced, most competent employes, who personally boast of respectibility, sobriety, competency, and learned skill—skill that they have had to pay dearly for in the past by laborious experience.

Of course there are always idlers who do not hesitate to take strikers places, as the opponents of our union from time to time aver, but the Alliance answers that these are "scabs," the lowest brutes in the human scale. The skilled, experienced, and learned stage employe is to-day, and always will be, in great demand.

J. A. G.

Labor Day Excursion.

The committee in charge of the Labor Day excursion have been zealously at work for the past two months making arrangements for the coming excursion to that popular resort, River View, on Labor Day.

The coming excursion promises to eclipse all past ones in point of numbers, and in the number and variety of events and the entertainment to be furnished on that occasion.

The Athletic Committee reported that the following events would take place and suitable prizes would be awarded the winners in each event:

One hundred yards dash—Open to members of the Central Labor Union only.
One hundred yards dash—Open to all.
One hundred yards dash—For boys of 14 years and under.
Sack race—Open to all.
One mile, heel-and-toe walking match—Open to members of Central Labor Union only.
Running high jump—For boys of 16 years of age and under.
Running high jump—Open to all.
Fifty yards dash—For girls 14 years and under.
Pole vault—Open to all.
Putting 16-pound shot—Championship.
Ladies' egg race, fifty yards—Open to all.
Three-legged race, fifty yards—Open to all.

Prof. Maurice F. Joyce, of Carroll Institute, will be referee in the athletic events.

The Master Builders Association, The Board of Trade, Business Men's Association, and the employing Contractors Association will be invited to participate in the outing on Labor Day.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Labor Notes.

Seattle is to have a union temple.

The journeymen tailors' union gained 137 new unions and 4,769 members during the past year.

On September 1 Rochester conductors and motormen will receive an advance of 1 cent an hour. The new schedule will remain in force until May 1, 1904.

The first general convention of the International Glove Workers' Union since its organization in Washington will be held in Gloversville, N. Y., about the middle of September.

The American Federation of Labor is receiving per capita tax on 1,457,593 members, and has $55,894.50 in the treasury for the defense fund. It has at the present time 1,161 commissioned organizers in the field.

At Worcester a labor union which will comprise women stenographers and typewriters is being organized to regulate hours of work and secure a shorter working day. The idea is being enthusiastically supported.

In the history of strikes, that of the villagers of Arnold, Daybrook, and Redhill, in Notts, Eng., who have gone out on strike against a raise in the price of beer, rum, and gin, has certainly never had a counterpart.

The American Federation of Labor is invading the strongholds of the American Labor Union in the West, and, it is said, is meeting with some success. All the miners in one county in Montana were enlisted under the Federation banner.

National Labor Commissioner Carroll D. Wright is authority for the statement that the actual strength of organized labor in the United States is close to 3,000,000, and that 18,000,000 people are actively employed in gainful occupations.

In Superior, Wis., three brothers have been elected presidents of as many unions. E. J. McKeague is president of the plasterers' union, P. J. McKeague is at the head of Typographical Union No. 163, and John T. McKeague is chief officer of the lathers' union.

The Knights of Labor are aiding the employers of New York in the fight against the unions which have not yet signed the arbitration plan. The Knights of Labor have chartered several organizations of men for the purpose of signing the compact and replacing the others.

St. Paul furriers are taking steps to organize an international union of the craft, and circular letters will be sent to all the furriers' unions in the United States and Canada asking their cooperation in the work. When a sufficient number of replies are received a convention will be called.

The bricklayers have won in the long-standing dispute between the bricklayers' union and the stonemasons' organization as to the right of the latter to exist without being under the jurisdiction of the bricklayers' national officers, which was referred to an arbitration board for settlement.

As an indication of the favorable sentiment of the subordinate unions of the Bricklayers' and Masons' International Union for affiliation with the A. F. of L., it is stated that the proposition was unanimously indorsed at a conference of the Ontario unions recently held at London, Ontario, which represented 95 per cent. of the organized bricklayers of Canada.

James E. Roderick, chief mine inspector of Pennsylvania, in his forthcoming report, will suggest levying a tax amounting to one-half cent a ton on all coal mined in the State for one year for the purpose of founding a hospital in which crippled and injured miners will be cared for. It is claimed that to levy this tax for a year would result in a fund of $750,000 for the purpose designated.

Hereafter every child applying for work in the State of Pennsylvania will be required to present a birth certificate as proof that he is more than 13 years old. The eradication of the evils of the child-labor system is the object aimed at. Pennsylvania has occupied the unenviable position of leader of the States in which children of tender years spend in labor time that should be devoted to education.

The Wisconsin Federation of Labor, at its recent convention, adopted a resolution urging its members and the working people "to organize their economic and political power, to the end that labor secure the full value of its product, the emancipation from wage slavery, and the establishment of a democratic industrial co-operative commonwealth." All of which sounds well, but the facts are that Wisconsin is one of the worst organized States in the country, and the workers in it as a consequence are about the poorest paid.

The American Federation of Labor represents 850,000 members, and the Knights of Labor 200,000; the Order of Railway Conductors has nearly 25,000 members; the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers number 34,000; the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen nearly 38,000; the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, 44,000 and there are other influential railway organizations. In the industrial work we have coal miners, machinists, carpenters, masons, metal workers of all kinds, and others. All of these organizations, acting in unison, have it in their power, for a time at least, to stop the wheels of commerce and bring distress and discomfort to many millions of the people of this country

M. P. Carrick, secretary of the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators, and Paperhangers, writing on the recent growth of the organization, says: "The growth of our organization in the last eighteen months has been phenomenal; in fact, we have surprised ourselves, not alone by our numerical increase, but by our various victories in the several sections of the country where unions of our brotherhood exist. We have organized 494 unions from January 31, 1902, to June 30, 1903, and have added to our membership in that time 33,000 men. Our capitation tax to the American Federation of Labor for the month of May, 1903, was $236.92. We have now passed the 60,000 mark, and the more we are hammered the stronger we grow."

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Parry Pulverized.

D. M. Parry gets it thus from Editor Sexton, of Indianapolis, his home town:

His name is not numbered among those who lead in educational or philanthropic works.

He has no prominence in religious or political movements.

He dare not aspire even to the position of ward councilman or school director.

People on charitable missions molest not Parry.

Movements seeking to beautify or develop his home city look in vain for aid from him.

No gathering of his fellow-citizens is addressed by him.

He is not called upon to welcome the coming or speed the parting guest.

His wealth attracts a few snobs and cringing sycophants, who "crook the pregnant hinges of the knee that thrift may follow fawning."

Outside of his immediate family he has not a sincere friend or well wisher in the town.

Even Senator Beveridge, who acted as his tool in defeating the eight-hour law and anti-injunction law, will not consort with him in public.

His presence seems to be a blight to human happiness.

He is pointed out as "the meanest man employing labor in the city."

His reputation is that of a man with a flint face and hardened heart.

An Appropriate Gift.

Mr. Geo. W. Howland, of the Navy Branch, G. P. O., presented Columbia Typographical Union, No. 101, at last meeting, with an old photo of the delegates to the convention in 1863 of the I. T. U. There were 34 delegates at that convention and Mr. Howland was present as a delegate. The union accepted the gift of Mr. Howland with a rising vote of thanks.

Chicago Typographical Union No. 16 will purchase ground and build a home of its own in the business district of the city.

ALLIED BUILDING TRADES.

New Quarters to Be Formally Opened Next Week.

The regular weekly meeting of the Council of Allied Building Trades was called to order by Chairman Wells at 8.15 p. m. last Tuesday.

Roll call disclosed the presence of 24 delegates from 17 unions.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Brotherhood of Carpenters, No. 884, relative to communication of August 7 on the subject of arbitration. Placed on file.

From Steam Fitters' Helpers, stating that they had agreed to arbitration plan. Placed on file.

From Carpenters' District Council, stating that they had placed S. J. Prescott & Co. on the unfair list.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Central Labor Union, that a delegate from Columbia Typographical Union, No. 101, had accused the secretary of "bamboozling" the Central Labor Union by bringing grievances to the Central Labor Union without fee.

Delegate from Hoisting Engineers asked if any communication had been received from Central Labor Union relative to violation of eight-hour law at the filtration plant, and was answered to the contrary.

ROLL CALL.

Stone Laborers asked the assistance of Business Agent at Dominican College.

Granite Cutters reported use of Mt. Arius' stone at Trinity College, and asked that the Executive Committee of Central Labor Union meet Executive Committee of Granite Cutters.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

Arbitration Board minutes read and filed.

NEW BUSINESS.

Moved and seconded that the secretary communicate with each local, asking them to place a fine on any member of their union patronizing a firm or individual placed on unfair list of Central Labor Union. Adopted.

Moved and seconded that the Council of Allied Building Trades indorse the action of Butchers' Workmen's Union, No. 148, in their struggle with the Retail Butchers' Association, and requests affiliated unions to refrain from patronizing retail butchers until their grievance is settled. Carried.

Moved and seconded that it is the sense of the Council of Allied Building Trades that organizations affiliated with the Council of Allied Building Trades be exempt from paying fee for bringing grievances to the Central Labor Union. Carried.

Hall Committee discharged, and the Chair appointed Delegates Ratigan, Wells, and Ryan.

Delegate Lahey, from committee to investigate the use of card bearing device of the Council of Allied Building Trades by Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' Helpers, made partial report and the matter was deferred one week.

Minutes of the Executive Board for August 24 read and non-concurred in.

Business Agent's report for the week accepted.

Adjourned.

PLEASURE VS. WORK.

Some fish for pleasure; others make
Their fishing quite a task.
These last their bait in tincans take,
The former use a flask.

—Philadelphia Press.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Bricklayers' Executive Committee.

The following is the list of members of the Executive Committee of Bricklayers' Union, No. 1: John G. Wolfe, chairman, 1023 New Jersey avenue; W. Cronin, 1415 Thirty-sixth street northwest; Samuel Haslett, 221 South Lee street, Alexandria, Va.; John Shanahan, 2352 Eighth street northwest; John McCarten, 1237 Maryland avenue northeast.

Chesapeake Beach.

Visitors to this popular resort who desire to secure sail boats, rowing boats, or who may want to put in a few hours fishing, can be supplied by A. E. Beitzell, well known as a caterer to lovers of oysters and clams at his old stand in this city, Twenty-first street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. He will be found opposite the Bathing Beach.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Official Organ Central Labor Union and Allied Building Trades, A. F. of L.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

The Trades Unionist Publishing Company

E. W. PATTON.....President
A. J. E. HUBBARD.....Vice-President
T. M. RING.....Secretary

Office: 441-443 G Street Northwest.

TELEPHONE EAST 15 Y.

SUBSCRIPTION

One year (in advance) - - - - $1.00
Six months (in advance) - - - - .50

Entered at the Post-Office, Washington, D. C. as Second-Class Matter.

THE TRADES UNIONIST is heartily and unqualifiedly indorsed by the Central Labor Union and the Allied Building Trades as well as by the various locals connected with the two central bodies.

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL WASHINGTON 2

Only Eight-Hour Union Office in Town.

"I would as soon think of doing business without clerks as without advertising.
—JOHN WANAMAKER.

Nothing, except the mint, can make money without advertising.
—GLADSTONE.

When you pay more for the rent of your business house than for advertising your business, you are pursuing a false policy. If you can do business, let it be known.
—FRANKLIN.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 27, 1903.

The Legal Status of Labor.

The Washington Post discusses the legal status of labor in a well-timed editorial on the recent decision of Judge RODGERS, of United States Circuit Court for the southern district of Missouri.

The Post follows out the decision from a logical standpoint and makes certain deductions, all of which would be in complete harmony if all judges would adhere to the rule of conduct laid down by the Missouri judge. But with the constant applications to the courts for decisions on the part of the employers of labor to curb the unions in their march of progress, it is apparent that a wide divergence of opinion is necessarily expressed by the judges appealed to in keeping with their individual impressions on questions of sociological import.

As the writer in the Post truly says, there will always be a wide divergence in the findings of Federal judges on the labor question until the Supreme Court of the United States passes upon the subject.

The editorial in the Post is as follows:

In the absence of any explicit decision on the subject by the United States Supreme Court, every judge in the nation is entitled to his opinion on the legal status of union labor, and accordingly the contribution of judicial decisions in this direction is large and varied. We have had, during the present year, orders from the courts prohibiting employers from discharging members of labor unions, other decisions enjoining labor unions from striking, with injunctions, restraining orders, and a very riot of opinions and pronouncements from the bench upon what laborers may and may not do. The latest decision on this subject comes from St. Louis, and is attracting the widest attention among unions and the employers of labor. Judge RODGERS, of the United States Circuit Court, decided in the St. Louis case that a contract was essential between employer and laborer, union or nonunion, in order to furnish either redress in case of a strike or lockout. The case was brought by a telegraph operator who sought to restrain the Western Union from discharging him because he was a member of the union. Judge RODGERS denied the application for the restraining order, and in doing so held that the company could discharge the man for being a member of a labor union, or for being a Mason, or an Elk, or a member of the Baptist Church, if it so elected. Nothing, he held, could protect the man in his employment except a contract with his employer. By the same token the employe could quit work at any time, in the absence of the contract, and the courts could not prevent him from so doing.

There have been so many conflicting decisions on this point that it is with hesitation that a layman dares entertain an opinion on the subject, yet the logic of Judge RODGERS' opinion is naturally attractive. It would seem to be perfectly proper for a laborer to refuse to work for a boss whose liver was chronically out of order, whose temper was universally bad. By the same method of reasoning a fastidious employer should have the right and feel at liberty to fire a clerk whose dress and personal habits served to keep trade from the establishment.

What sort of judicial tyranny would it be, for instance, that would prohibit CHAUNCEY DEPEW from discharging an employe who persisted in weeping at the DEPEW jokes, or that would prevent the employe from seeking relief from such punishment by hunting another job? Of what use would the proprietor of a big manufacturing institution be to a campaign committee if he could not discharge his men if they refused to vote the ticket he was supporting with his voice, his vote, and his cold cash? Why should not a man be allowed to discharge his confidential clerk for indulgence in drink and profanity as he would his butler for talking through his nose? Judge RODGERS' decision looks like mighty good sense, however poor it might be in law.

Judge RODGERS also decided that there could be no legal objection to the blacklist, nor to the boycott, in the absence of a contract. He held that it was the right and privilege of employes to refuse to work for a man who did not favor union labor, just as it was the employer's right to engage non-union labor if he so desired. Under this decision, and it appears to us as sound, union labor will do much better to wisely use its collective strength in dealing with employers than to waste time, energy, and money in asking the courts to grant them privileges that are denied to the employer.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM.

E. H. Thomas, of the Night Proof Room, during convention week received the sad news of the death of his brother, Jacob M. Thomas, at Council Bluffs, Iowa, on August 15. Mr. Thomas, who had a number of acquaintances in this city, was the first president of Bluff City Typographical Union, No. 203, which was organized twenty years ago, and was its delegate to the Kansas City convention in 1888. He was born at Mechanicsburg, Pa., and became a member of Lancaster Union in 1877. For a number of years he was a sufferer from locomotor ataxia, the final cause of his death. The funeral was attended by nearly every member of the union and by the camp of the Modern Woodmen of America, of which he was a member, both of which organizations sent beautiful floral pieces, that of the union representing "30," the Western signal that "all that is in." Mr. Thomas was 55 years old.

* * * *

Dr. H. H. Stromberger has removed his office to 109 I street northwest, where he will be found during the office hours usual among medical men—8 to 10, 12 to 2, and 5 to 7. Dr. Stromberger is gaining an enviable position in the medical world as a careful, conscientious, faithful practitioner, and as such sheds luster on the printer's profession from which he graduated as well as the medical profession into which he graduated. I am proud of our printer doctors; they are going to the top, as printers do in all professions.

* * * *

Yesterday (Wedesday), at 8 p. m., Mr. John J. Ottinger, of the Night Proof Room, Government Printing Office, and Miss Helene Forrest, of this city, were married by the Rev. D. W. Montgomery, of the Fifth Congregational Church. Mr. and Mrs. Ottinger will make a bridal tour covering Niagara Falls, Toronto, Buffalo, and Chicago, and will be at home at 824 I street northeast after September 15. The best wishes of their many friends go with them.

* * * *

The souvenir programme issued by the local stereotypers and electrotypers' unions for the second convention of the International Stereotypers and Electrotypers' Union, from the press of George E. Howard, is one of the handsomest specimens of printing ever executed in this city. The frontispiece is an excellent three-color reproduction of the celebrated painting, "The Woman or the Vase," and there are fine half-tone and other portraits of President Roosevelt, Public Printer Palmer, the District Commissioners, Superintendent Alexander Elliott and other officials of the Government Printing Office, and the officers and committeemen of the international and local unions. There are also splendid cuts of the Capitol, the White House, and other public buildings, and of the Washington Monument and many of the most noted statues of the city. The text comprises articles on "The International Stereotypers and Electrotypers' Union," by President James J. Freel; "History of Electrotypers, Molders, and Finishers' Union, No. 17, Washington, D. C.;" "Electrotyping," by Rodney L. Thixton; "History of Stereotypers' Union, No. 19," by W. S. Whitmore; "Stereotyping," by W. S. Whitmore; a brief history of stereotypers and electrotypers' unions; a sketch of the life of Superintendent Alexander Elliott; a short history of the Government Printing Office, with a brief description of the new and old buildings, accompanied by illustrations; a description of the Manila government printing office; short descriptive sketches of the public buildings, Goverment Departments, monuments, statues, and other objects of interest of Washington; and "From Our English Cousins," being an epitome of a speech made before the Stereotypers and Electrotypers Managers' and Overseers' Association of London. Electrotypers, No. 17, and Stereotypers, No. 19, have every reason to be proud of their souvenir, as they have of the manner in which they entertained the delegates and visitors to the convention.

* * * *

I. Walter Sharp not long ago told me of a trip he once made between Seattle and Spokane, Wash. "That was in the days," said he, "when the Knights of Labor were the whole thing, and as I had a K. of L. card and the railroad men were nearly all members of the order, I presented my card to the conductor of a freight train and told my little tale. I had a regular hobo for a partner, and the conductor said he would carry one of us in the caboose, but that the other would have to stow himself away in the train. All the box cars were sealed, and as I, in my generosity, had given my partner the caboose privilege, I skirmished some time before I found a place in which to hide. There was a thrashing machine loaded on a gondola, and I managed to squeeze myself into the fanning mill attached to it by getting between the paddles of the fan. It was raining like Old Harry, and a thrashing machine is not especially constructed to keep off the rain, so I was soon soaking wet. I stood it until we were about half way to Seattle, when, the train having stopped at a water tank, I unloaded myself and went and hunted up my partner. As he was not game enough to trade locations with me, we quit the train, but the next night we completed the journey. I have traveled in many ways, but that was the only trip in a thrashing machine."

* * * *

A friend of mine told me a story of Mr. Benedict during his last administration of the office. Among the clerks was one who did not share the general perturbation as to changed of force likely to be made, though of politics adverse to those of the party then in power. One afternoon he received one of the fatal little billet-doux commonly called in those days "a yellow envelope," though I believe they were always actually white. Hastening in to the Public Printer he said:

"I guess there was a mistake about this, Mr. Benedict."

"I don't believe there was, Mr. H."

"But this surely was not intended for me."

"Yes I think it was said the Public Printer."

"Why, you told some of my friends that you were going to retain some Republicans."

"So I did, Mr. H., and so I am," said Mr. Benedict, "but you are not one of them."

* * * *

One of the delegates to the recent convention related an incident of the last convention at Louisville. Col. W. H. Bailey was there, of course—what a flat thing a convention would be without him! It seems that during the war of the rebellion Colonel Bailey, in his then military capacity, had locked up a native bearing his identical name, and during the convention his namesake was a candidate for reelection as sheriff of that county. They met in a street car, and recognizing each other, had a very pleasant meeting, at the close of which the sheriff invited the colonel to go with him and visit the jail, which was declined with thanks.

"I think he wanted to get me into the jail and return the compliment for what occurred at our first meeting," said Colonel William Henry Bailey.

* * * *

Horace William Rounds, whom the older employes will remember as employed in the Government Printing Office in a clerical capacity during the time his father, Hon. Sterling P. Rounds, was Public Printer, died in Chicago, at the residence of his mother, on August 9, at the age of 41 years, of sarcoma, from which he had been a sufferer for several months. He was a widower, his wife having died eight months before him. He left three sons and one daughter, two of whom are living in De Kalb, Ill., where Mr. Rounds was for some time employed. The funeral was conducted by the Knights of Pythias and the interment was in Rose Hill Cemetery.

* * * *

That the Washington Post is the favorite newspaper of the thousands of employes of the Government Printing Office is due not alone to the fact that it is head and shoulders in advance of any other Washington paper in attractiveness and in all respects the best newspaper ever published at the capital, but also to the fact that it is the only one that is fair in its attitude toward organized labor and the only forum from which malicious and ignorant attacks upon unionism may be answered and resented. There is a depth of malice in most newspapers, coupled with purposed misrepresentation of everything pertaining to trades unionism, that makes the fair course pursued by the Post shine out in the fog of misinformation and intentional deceit like a statue of Liberty Enlightening the World.

* * * *

Ezra Gnat Heel, in his attack on organized labor in the people's page of the Monday issue of the Washington Post, affects an ignorance of the facts which no man could possess who has associated with union printers as much and drank as much of their whisky as he has. Misstatements from men who have had no opportunity to know better are measurably excusable, but that is not this case.

* * * *

Many whose hopes have been raised as to next year's delegateships will find that there is plenty of time for them to sour in the nine months until next election. But they can run and listen at things jingling.

A. F. BLOOMER.

Bindery Notes.

John Dwyer did the honors for quite a few on the excursion.

Irwin J. Esterly, of the Government Bindery, reported on Monday last for duty in the Union Building. Irwin, why this mysterious transfer?

John Burns felt the other day that the warm weather justified a Turkish bath, but when he came home and announced that he had done so it nearly created a domestic tragedy.

Charlie Conner is spending a few days at the well-known resort of Mrs. Brown's, at Atlantic City, where he is enjoying himself and incidentally—of course—breaking a few girls' hearts.

At Atlantic City it is said that Adam Sommers looks like a dream and wears a white suit and cap, with shoes to match. He buys a fresh red rose every day and can be seen daily at the "Dunlop."

Sam Wakefield, of the "scared hair," has finally settled down to business in the Union Building after his vacation of several days, and is again serving up that mysterious smile, so unfathomable to his friends.

George Barnes, who by some is regarded as the modern Apollo of the Bindery, is "singing very low" nowadays about the "roll" he carries. Burns thinks he must have been robbed because he never buys, according to John.

Dom. Fowler, who is sojourning by the sea at Atlantic City, enjoys his daily plunge in the surf, but he will never forget the delay that Jim Feeney caused him when he intercepted Fogarty in front of a well-known Swamp resort.

Louis Stolp is posing as a German prince and buys a new hat every day. He drinks imported beer, and in the morning his head swells up like a barrel. This, of course, all occurs at Atlantic City, because Louis is very circumspect at home.

Denny Buckley, of the Union Building Binders, says if he can "catch the mug" that cracked him on the "coco" with a wad of paper, that particular individual will get "cracked on the block with a hammer," so everyone employed near Denny has his eye on Denny's hammer and a great respect for their own "coco" (head).

PASTE.

Portland, Ore., plumbers receive $6 a day.

FOR THE BEST--
READY-TO-WEAR
—FOR—
Man, Woman and Child
AT THE MOST REASONABLE PRICES,
CONSULT—
Parker, Bridget & Co.,
Washington's Leading Outfitters, ...
Pa. Ave. and 9th St. N. W.

Union Made Cigars
OF THE FINEST QUALITY.
Pluck 5¢ | OFFTE'S BOUQUET 10¢
AFTER DINNER 5¢ | DEER HEAD 10¢
Henry T. Offterdinger, Manufacturer
504 Ninth St., N.W.

ARLINGTON BREWING CO.
ROSSLYN, VA.
BEER ALE PORTER
The Finest Productions of Skilled Union Labor. Union Label on Every Bottle and Keg of Our Goods.

The following Agreement between the Retail Liquor Dealers' Association, of Washington, D. C., and the Central Labor Union, affiliated with the A. F. of L., has been consummated and entered into by both organizations, and the same will take effect at once:

THIS AGREEMENT, made and entered into this 30th day of June, 1903, by and between a duly-constituted committee representing the Retail Liquor Dealers' Association, of Washington, D. C., party of the first part, and a like duly-constituted committee representing the Central Labor Union, of Washington, D. C., party of the second part—

WITNESSETH: That the party of the first part, for and in consideration of the provisions, stipulations, and covenants hereinafter contained, covenants and agrees with the party of the second part as follows, to wit:

FIRST. That the party of the first part covenants and agrees and does hereby covenant and agree, that it will employ Union labor exclusively of those crafts or callings now organized and allied with the Central Labor Union, or which may be hereafter organized and affiliated with said body, and will, as far as it is able, promote the interests of organized labor.

Second. That when employing help they will employ none but members of the Hotel and Restaurant Employes' International Alliance and Bartenders' International League of America.

THIRD. That when purchasing goods they will at all times give preference to those goods bearing the Union label, and will discriminate against and discourage the use of non-union made goods in clothing, hats, shirts, and all wearing apparel. That they will purchase Union hats, shirts, and all wearing apparel. That they will purchase Union-made cigars, and, as far as possible, exclusively use the same.

The party of the second part, for and in consideration of the provisions, stipulations, and conditions hereinbefore contained, covenants and agrees, and does hereby covenant and agree, that they will patronize none other but those saloons which employ Union labor and which display in their windows or over the bar the duly-authorized Union sign.

The parties of the first and second parts mutually covenant and agree, and do hereby covenant and agree, that no breach of any one of the covenants herein contained shall be construed as a waiver of the entire agreement.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have hereunto set their hands and seals the day and year first hereinbefore written.

E. J. RATIGAN,
JNO. HAMERSTROM,
CHAS. W. WINSLOW,
MILFORD SPOHN,
WILLIAM SILVER
Committee Central Labor Union.

E. L. JORDAN, Chairman;
MYRA FISHER,
THEO. G STONER,
JOHN J. MEEHAN,
FRED WAGNER,
Committee Liquor Dealers' Association.

[SEAL]

CHAS. W. WINSLOW,
Secretary Central Labor Union.

Our Strictly One-Price Methods Insure Legitimate Reductions

Our Annual Mid-Summer Half-Price Clearance Sale
IS NOW IN FULL BLAST

Twice a year—mid-summer and mid-winter—we make a clean sweep of all except solid blues and blacks Men's and Boy's Suits. We do this in order to prevent any possibility of an accumulation of out-of-date patterns or styles, and we insure an absolute clearance by cutting prices CLEAN IN TWO. The sale this summer is more important than usual, as the long d layed warm weather left us with a larger stock on hand than we have had for many years. Thus you have a fuller and more complete assortment of patterns to select from at exactly half the proper prices. That you may be sure there is no exaggeration about this reduction we have left the original price tickets on every garment. The stock includes every variety of fashionable clothing for men and boys, in medium and light weights, all well-made goods, properly tailored and of correct cut.

Men's $ 7 50 Suits now.....	$3 75	All $2 50 and $3 Trousers...	$1 90
Men's 10 00 Suits now.....	5 00	All 3 50 and 4 Trousers....	2 90
Men's 12 50 Suits now.....	6 25
Men's 15 00 Suits now.....	7 50	Boys' $15 00 Long Pants Suits	$7 50
Men's 17 50 Suits now.....	8 75	Boys' 12 50 Long Pants Suits	6 25
Men's 20 00 Suits now.....	10 00	Boys' 10 00 Long Pants Suits	5 00
Men's 22 50 Suits now.....	11 25	Boys' 7 50 Long Pants Suits	3 75
Men's 25 00 Suits now.....	12 00	Boys' 5 00 Long Pants Suits	2 50

No Goods Charged at Sale Prices. Alterations, if any, will be charged at cost.
Our Guarantee back of every garment on sale.

THE BIEBER-KAUFMAN CO.
Masculine Outfitters from Childhood to Age
901-909 EIGHTH STREET S. E.

In preparing for your vacation do not overlook the fact that one of our Blue Serge, Homespun, or Scotch Cheviot Sack Suits is indispensable if appearance and comfort is to be considered. We are showing a very large line of fabrics selected especially for outing purposes. Remember, we rank second to none in tailoring. Our garments have individuality and expression that stamps them as being "High-Grade." Get acquainted with our way of making clothes by ordering one of our Celebrated $25 Suits, made by Union Tailors.
Special sale of Trousers, $3.50 to Order.

T. E. Gilbert
IMPORTER AND TAILOR
818 F St. Northwest

PRINTERS and Union Members.—For First-Class Meals, Eat at
VICTOR CAFE, 3 H St. N. W.
ALBION, Eleventh and E Sts. N. W.
ERIN, Cor. N. J. Ave. and D St. N. W.
U. S. LUNCH ROOM, 320 12th St. N. W.
ALBERT T. SCANLAND, Prop.
Open Day and Night. Best Service.

"Everyone knows how to find fault." No one has yet found fault with the
RELIABLE
The Gas Range for Summer Use
Washington Gas Light Co.
GAS APPLIANCE EXCHANGE

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES
OF
Columbia Typographical Union,
No. 101.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, 423 G ST. N. W.
Office Hours: 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.; 5 to 7 P. M.

OFFICERS.

JOE M. JOHNSON.....President
DAN C. VAUGHAN.....Vice-President
WM. M. GARRETT.....Secretary
JOHN R. BERG.....Treasurer
FRANK BATES.....Sergeant-at-Arms
N. C. STOOPS.....Doorkeeper

TRUSTEES—J. E. Bright, chairman; W. L. Gutelius, Chas. C. Thompson, Joe M. Johnson, and Wm. M. Garrett.

DELEGATES TO CENTRAL LABOR UNION—J. H. Babcock, chairman; J. B. Dickman, Hugh Everett, Theodore Gerber, and C. E. Dietrich.

DELEGATES TO ALLIED TRADES COUNCIL—E. E. Calhoon, chairman; T. F. Hall, and J. P. Garner.

AUDITORS—C. W. Radley, chairman; H. G. Brown, and J. W. Carter.

COMMITTEES.

BUSINESS—Zach T. Jenkins, chairman; C. B. Yater, M. J. Maher, T. C. Parsons, and R. W. Burnside.

NOMINATIONS—W. N. Brockwell, chairman; F. A. Kidd, H. O'Donnell, Frank M. Hatley, and R. E. Stenner.

LAWS—Chas. H. Ennis, chairman; Raymond Gery, and Dexter S. Hussey.

FINANCE—John A. Huston, chairman; J. M. McLaughlin, and R. F. Chisholm.

PRINTING—T. A. Bynum, chairman; Milo Shanks, and Ed. J. Hall.

GRIEVANCE—Clint O. Price, chairman; Chas. S. Gunn, Philip Nachman, David J. Snyder, and E. Y. Fisher.

ENTERTAINMENT—T. L. Jones, chairman; J. R. Purvis, T. J. Fitzwilliam, Miss Nellie Theaker, Miss Anna Wilson, B. E. Harrison, and W. J. Harris.

CONFERENCE—J. L. Holland, chairman; D. J. Hegarty, and W. B. Shaw.

LIBRARY—Clyde J. Sheriff, chairman; A. E. Ogg, and Harry Essex.

RELIEF—Joseph G. Stelle, chairman; Wm. S. Schinnerer and E. P. Cummins.

EIGHT-HOUR—F C. Roberts, chairman; F. B. Crown, F. D. Seiffert, Jeff Newlon, and S. H. Willey.

MEMORIAL SERVICE—S. J. Gompers, chairman; Philip S. Steele, J. E. Goodkey, J. B. Dickman, and C. B. Yater.

AMOS J. CUMMINGS MEMORIAL—J. T. Rowe, chairman; Charles T. Graff, and T. A. Bynum.

CHAIRMEN.

First Division—R. L. Mabrey.
Second Division—W. N. Goldstein.
Third Division—Burr Williams.
Fourth Division—Charles H. Gove.
Fifth Division—Charles E. Dietrich.
Sixth Division—E. M. Nevils.
Job Room—J. K. Davison.
Record Clerks' Division—H. G. Brown
First Division, Night—Allen Cowles.
Night Proof Room—E. H. Thomas.
Specification Room—E. A. Hutchison.
Official Gazette—Jere Walsh.
Document Proof Room—Jas. R. Armstrong.
Treasury Division—W. Brice Coston.
Interior Division—C. K. Stribling.
State Division—J. B. Dickman.
Navy Department Division—Albert E. Ogg.
War Department Division—Wm. K. Miller.
Agricultural Division—Henry P. Slaughter.
Library Division—H. V. Bisbee.
Weather Bureau—L. H. Emmons.
Morning Post—J. H. Broderick.
Evening Star—Joseph C. Whyte.
Evening Times—T. C. Parsons.
Law Reporter—J. R. Johnson.
Globe Printing Co.—R. A. Wilson.
Judd & Detweiler's—A. B. Barringer.
Wilkens Printing Co.—T. N. Surguy.
Pearson's—T. F. Monahan.
National Publishing Co.—E. C. Owen.
McGill & Wallace's—J. M. Watts.
Byron S. Adams'—R. B. Boucher.
Army and Navy Register—C. H. Draeger.
General Postoffice—Joseph Williams.
Sudwarth's—F. R. Adams.

AROUND THE PRINTERIES.

Down Town.

R. K. Youngblood ("yb"), of the Wynkoop-Hallenbeck-Crawford Company, Albany, N. Y., passed through the city enroute to Albany, Tuesday, after a visit South.

Conrad A. Mueller, one of the Chicago delegates to the recent convention, was in the city last week, on return from a trip to New York and Philadelphia, following convention week.

Dr. A. E. Cowles, of the Bill Force, G. P. O., left to-day for a visit to Madison, Wis. While away the doctor will while away the time at some of the noted fishing resorts for which the Badger State is famous.

Hot Tamales and Chile at The Ranch, 507 F street n. w. Near Pension Office.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

If you are in need of a fall suit, T. E. Gilbert, 818 F street northwest, will be pleased to furnish you. The union label goes on his coats, and is an indication that the garment is well made.

The lovers of a good smoke were loud in their praise of the convention cigar placed at the disposal of the convention committee of the I. T. U. It was the handiwork of the popular cigarist Offterdinger, at 504 Ninth street, northwest, and was none other than the celebrated "Deer Head" brand.

The "A. B. C." beer, known far and wide as a strictly union product, is making great headway among all who indulge in light refreshments. Union men should insist on the man behind the bar serving this product, which not only bears the recommendation for purity of the Government chemist, but is satisfying in the extreme.

The Bartender's Union Club is rapidly forging to the front as a meeting place for the worker and business men looking for a few moments from the cares of life. Membership is nominal; the location is central; and the services excellent. Jere F. McCarthy, secretary, 905 E street northwest, can give any information desired as to membership.

ROOMS—Furnished and unfurnished; convenient to G. P. O.; rent reasonable. 51 Massachusetts avenue northwest.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Second Division.

F. T. Razey, goes to Toronto, Can., this week to visit his sister.

F. E. Warren leaves for Milwaukee this week. He will return by the lakes.

Messrs. Hallock, Holton, and Stevens are due to return from vacation this week.

T. A. McAloon goes on leave this week. His alley mates will have to look elsewhere for their baseball news and gossip for awhile.

Isaac D. Williamson, an old soldier of the civil war, and an ex-tourist printer of wide experience, will spend his leave in Chicago and other western towns.

J. W. L. Dillman is on a few days' vacation. No suspicions are aroused this time by his absence. His superior on the make-up bank goes on leave this week.

Joseph Warren Belcher, who has not yet served his probationary period, is making a very satisfactory chairman in the absence of Chairman Goldstein. Mr. Belcher was unanimously elected secretary of the chapel at the last election.

Andrew Karr Williamson, according to his friend and associate, Benjamin Abraham Wolfe, disagrees with Webster on the pronunciation of pho tog\ rapher, claiming that the Photographer's Union's decision is correct, viz: "photo-graph\-er."

One of the temporary trusties, who is not so warm if his name does indicate it, waltzed into alley 7 Tuesday and demanded a "chaw of sweet." To his astonishment he got a cold stare from every one in the alley, not an occupant of which chews tobacco.

Jefferson Davis Garland leaves this week for North Carolina to have mining operations commenced on his mica mine. Some printer capitalists are thinking of investing heavily. If the specimens pan out well, Mr. Garland has hopes of inducing Charles T. Graff, ex-delegate, to promote a company.

NEWS.

Hot Tamales and Chile at The Ranch, 507 F street n. w. Near Pension Office.

Fifth Division.

Carl Tegethoff was transferred to the Specification Division last week.

E. T. Partridge is following his favorite sport, that of angling, while on leave.

George Albertson went to Greenville, Mich., his former home, to spend his vacation.

After working but three or four days John Quinn is again on the sick list, this time with maleria.

Thomas C. Pursel, C. E. Partridge, William J. Irvine, Frank Lloyd, and R. E. King are enjoying their annual outing.

Instead of enjoying his vacation, Griffith Evans has developed a case of typhoid fever and is lying sick in Utica, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. R. King and children went to New York Wednesday of last week, and from there will go to Atlantic City.

Leo Rullman goes to Madison, Wis., this week to be absent six weeks. Mrs. Rullman preceded him to the Badger State.

L. P. Kenney returned to work last Saturday after an absence of some days. The boys had prepared a warm reception for him, but he took it so good-naturedly that it was somewhat disappointing to them.

Tom Burns is not a clerk in one of the departments, as was erroneously stated in his home paper. He is the right bower of Mr. Leavitt, and George Robey is, presumably, the left. At least they are trumps in the "Y" deck.

T. J. Rowe has returned to his duties at the case after having seen the last of the delegates reluctantly bidding adieu to the "City of Magnificent Distances." "Shad" has a weary look in his eye as a result of the arduous duties that devolved on him as a member of the entertainment committee, but the blessings that go with work well done will soon restore him to himself again.

E. T. Stephenson will take up the study of medicine the coming winter, a decision that undoubtedly grew out of his intimate connection with the medical fraternity when he lost his vermiform appendix several years ago. Clipping appendixes at a hundred a clip is more interesting than setting type at four per. His associates at the case wish him every success in his new resolve.

RAN.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Conventionalities.

"Sadie Maguire," in the Western Laborer, devotes three columns of his interesting paper, to impressions received during the recent I. T. U. convention. We reproduce a few of his bright paragraphs touching on some of our local members who were in evidence during the week of the convention:

Geo. W. Harvel, who used to be on the Bee in the early nineties, is in the Government Printing Office at Washington. He is doing well.

The daily papers gave fine space to the convention, the Post leading the procession; from four to twelve columns per day was the way they did it.

All the arrangements for the convention were well managed. Messrs. Whitehead, Berg, Patton, Bynum, Calhoon, and Vaughan being particularly attentive to the visitors.

Ira Ingalls is in Washington. He looks fine. In the early '90s he was thought to be a hopeless pirate. When he made himself known to me I insisted on his proving an alibi.

There were numerous attractions by the Washington men and women all week. In fact, the pace was so swift that it would take more space than we have to do justice to the jom.

F. N. Whitehead, chairman of the arrangements committee, handled the largest convention of the I. T. U. ever held like a veteran. His work will long be remembered by the visitors to the Washington convention.

The only local union in the I. T. U. owning its own building is Washington Union, No. 101. Former Industrial Commissioner John L. Kennedy was president of No. 101 when the Temple was built, was chairman of the building committee, and appointed the committee that carried the project to a successful end. The building and ground is now valued at $75,000. During the convention it was part of the week's attractions for the delegates and visitors. If there was a visitor at Washington last week who did not visit Typographical Temple, we know he missed a treat.

It was a remarkable convention for "hatchet burying." More old hatchets were buried at Washington than at any convention in ten years. It seemed to be in the air. I was an eye witness to several diggings. The one that attracted the most attention was the interment of a pair of dulled weapons by John L. Kennedy, of Washington, and Joseph A. Jackson, of St. Louis, after several hard battles during the last twelve years. This hatchet burying was made famous by the Washington Post's pen sketch of the two old warriors in the attidute of friendly discussion after peace had been declared.

Another record broken was the total elimination of the panhandling pirate. For the first time in the last fifteen years this well known character was cut out of the festivities. The Washington committee of arrangements gave this question some attention in advance of the convention and finally concluded to handle the matter without gloves. In keeping with this determination the police department were consulted and as a result there was not a panhandler around the convention or the Ebbitt House during the entire week. The Washington printers were congratulated for their cleverness in handling this matter, as it toned up the convention in a very pleasing manner.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

The Women's Auxiliary.

Women's Auxiliary, No. 13, of Columbia Union, No. 101, will hold their regular monthly meeting on Friday evening, August 28, at Typographical Temple. All members are urgently requested to be present.

FOR RENT—Neatly furnished rooms; with or without board; free bath. 515 F street northwest.

The "Man's Store."

Suits for a Half of Their Worth

It's a case of getting $2 for $1 on every suit you buy at this Half-Price Sale. Seeing is believing

$10.90 Suits.....$5.45
$15.00 Suits.....$7.50
$18.50 Suits.....$9.25
$20.00 Suits.....$10.00

D. J. KAUFMAN, 1005-7 Pa. Ave.

THE RIGGS NATIONAL BANK
Of Washington, D. C.
Capital - - - $1,000,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits, 1,000,000
Exchange on England, Ireland, France and Germany. Letters of credit available in all foreign parts. Bank Collections. Orders for investments. Stocks and Bonds.

FURNISHED ROOMS
AT
The Orleans
1203 F STREET NORTHWEST
MRS. R. COMMELIN, Prop.

MACKENZIE BROS.
WHOLESALE HATTERS
639 D Street Northwest
Ask your dealer for a Mackenzie Union-Made Hat.

HERE AND THERE.

That there are unconscious benefactors to mankind is proven by the remarks of a brother unionist from the Navy Yard. He says "When Saturday night comes, instead of walking down town to do my shopping, I can step into The Bieber-Kaufman Co.'s establishment and I can get better clothing, nobbier ties and furnishings, dressier shoes and hats at a lower price than can be found in the few avenue stores which handle as high a grade of goods, thus giving me time afterwards to stroll around the avenue, while you northeast and northwest fellows are hustling at shopping and paying higher prices for similar goods.

A union man could not ask for better treatment than is shown by Clark & Davenport in their rules governing their employes. While exacting, in a business way, extreme consideration is shown to all, and the clerks receive the same courtesy as the purchaser of their wares. Exclusively a union house, Mr. Clark, of this firm, says: "I employ union men, because I have room only for the highest skilled and most courteous employes obtainable, believing in the end that the increased pay-roll means larger sales and consequently increased revenues." Judging from the large arrivals of carpets and rugs for the fall trade which are now being displayed, this house must have confidence in its doctrine.

Mr. Henry E. Crouch, the genial deputy of the Tribe of Ben Hur, who is now at Bristol, Tenn., seeking health, dropped in the office of THE TRADES UNIONIST on his way South, and paid a glowing tribute to this paper as an advertising medium, reporting that he received numbers of requests for information, while he secured three applications for membership in the G. P. O., one in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, and one from the Navy Yard, all directly traceable to a $2 advertisement in THE TRADES UNIONIST. We take pardonable pride in saying that any firm who has a good article to sell, and who desires the trade of union people, can always count on results when advertising in a paper that is read.

George W. Barry, who probably disposes of more coal to G. P. O. employes than any other dealer in town, tells one on the "mean man" which is worth repeating. "In the days," he says, "when Washington was not so thickly settled, a certain individual now residing in Brookland, and to whom I yet supply coal, would let his chickens out of the coop to lay their customary egg, but as soon as that function was performed would drive them back again, shut out all the light, and endeavor to make the poor things think it was again night, so that when released toward evening they would lay another egg." George says this is true, but you will observe that the writer took the precaution to mention that he is a coal dealer.

This is indeed an opportune time for a live cracker-baking concern to enter this city with its product. For some time past, opposed by the unions (and there are 85 of them in the different trades here), the product of the National Biscuit Company is now under the ban of the Retail Grocers' Association. This association, augmented by such a powerful force as the different bodies comprising the Central Labor Union, can make it decidedly unprofitable for that concern to ship goods here. Austin Young & Co., of Chelsea, Mass., the makers of the celebrated dog biscuit, are reaching out for this trade in Washington, and as they make everything that is made by the trust and use the union label on every package leaving the establishment, it is hoped that union men will encourage the employers of union labor by calling for Austin Young & Co's. goods.

The Savings possible at
S. Kann, Sons & Co.
8th St.—THE BUSY CORNER—Pa. Ave.
are such as may be counted in the pocket. At the same time styles and qualities are unexcelled.

Woodward & Lothrop,
DEPARTMENT STORE.
TENTH, ELEVENTH, AND F STS. N. W.

WHERE THE HALF-TONES ARE MADE
THE NATIONAL ENGRAVING COMPANY.
INCORPORATED.
14th St. and Pa. Ave. Phone 1679 Main.

Hewke, PHOTOGRAPHER
56 of the ex-delegates and committees patronized me for good work.
Studio,
430 7th St., N. W. Washington, D. C.

J. E. BONINI'S
BUFFET AND CAFE,
727-729 N. Capitol Street.
MAERZEN BEER ON TAP.
A first-class Lunch Counter. Sea food in season. Union throughout.

Cole & Swan
Large assortment of Watches, Diamonds, and Jewelry (we make and repair anything in this line).
"Square Dealing" our motto.
21 H Street N. W.

Indian Head Trips | Marshall Hall
STR. CHARLES MACALESTER
EVERY THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY AT 6.30 P. M.
Appointments first-class. All amusements.
MARSHALL HALL:
Daily at 10 a. m., 2.30 and 6.30 p. m.
Sundays, 11 a. m., 2.30 and 6.30 p. m.
Fare (Round Trip), 25 Cents.
FOR MOUNT VERNON,
(Home and Tomb of Washington). Daily, 10 a. m. and 2.30 p. m. (Sundays excepted).

D. STRAUSS,
Clothier, Hatter and Furnisher
441 Seventh Street N. W.,
Washington, D. C.

Cabin John Bridge
MOST BEAUTIFUL PLEASURE RESORT IN AMERICA
A Wealth of Amusements
Band Concerts Every Evening and Sunday Afternoons
Beauty Health Pleasure
Union Men Only Engaged
TAKE METROPOLITAN CAR

If You Meet
with an accident depriving you of your limbs; Ben Hur (the no assessment insurance order) will pay you one-half the face value of your policy. Loss of eyesight entitles you to the same amount.
HENRY E. CROUCH, Deputy, 424 Fourth St. N. E.
ALBERT P. E. DOYLE, Scribe, 21 O St. N. E.

Steam Cleaning and Dye Works
(Formerly New York Dye House)
I do the most perfect Cleaning and Dyeing at most reasonable rates. Goods called for and returned. C. W. MARGRAF, Proprietor
Telephone 3483 Main
907 9th St. N. W., and 631 D St. N. W.

John Mitchell's Book

"ORGANIZED LABOR."
AGENTS WANTED!
Every phase of this tremendous problem discussed by the greatest labor leader in the world. Every Union man buys at sight; also employers and all reading people. Big terms; also $1500 in cash prizes for agents. Workers clearing $5.00 to $15.00 daily. We are the exclusive publishers. Address quick for terms and territory
American Book and Bible House, 146 N. Tenth St., Phila., Pa.

THOMAS WALSH
Formerly "Steve" Caldwell's.
Whiskies and Cigars
Specialties: MELVALE AND SHERWOOD
COOL LAGER BEER ON DRAUGHT.
BILLIARDS AND POOL
Billiards, 40c. per hour. Pool, 2½c. per cue.
THOMAS WALSH
407 Tenth St. Northwest

E. F. PRICE & CO.
Strongest flat opening blank book made.
Ruling and Binding of every description.
A Specialty of FINE BANK WORK.
BOOKBINDERS 1108 E St. N. W.

G. P. O. BICYCLE REPAIR CO.
ARTHUR D. BENNETT
MANAGER
Wheels stored, cleaned, and repaired (per month)..... $1.00
Wheels stored and cleaned (per month)..... .75
Wheels stored (per month)..... .50
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty
Bicycle Sundries
Salesroom, 33 H St. N. W.

300 1-lb. Loaves to the Barrel.
Every Laboring Man
—requires pure, wholesome, nourishing food such as is made of—
Cream Blend Flour
It not only makes THE BEST Bread, Rolls, Cake and Pastry, but more of them than other brands—therefore it's the cheapest that money can buy.
Your Grocer will supply you.
B. B. EARNSHAW & BRO., Wholesalers,
1105, 1107, 1109 11th Street S. E.
1000 and 1002 M Street S. E.

T. HOLLANDER
Men's Furnishings
Hats and Shoes
COR. N. CAPITOL AND H STS.
Opposite Government Printing Office

DO YOU USE TOILET PAPER?
If so, investigate the service furnished by
R. P. Andrews & Co.,
INCORPORATED
627-629 LOUISIANA AVE. N. W.
THE WHOLESALE PAPER HOUSE
IT WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

HOTEL FRITZ REUTER
Rathskeller and Restaurant.
COR. PA. AVE. AND JOHN MARSHALL PLACE
Phone: East 388.

Telephone 3662-Y
AMREIN'S
FAMOUS ICE CREAM
HAS NO EQUAL
One Dollar per Gallon
Stores, 1426 and 1810 7th St. N. W.

B. F. WARNER
FINE WINES and LIQUORS
BLUE LABEL CIGARS
1219 E Street Northwest

FOR LUNCH
TRY THE
Pure Dairy Lunch
935 D Street Northwest

American Ice Co.
1437 Penna. Ave. N. W.

GEO. W. BARRY COAL CO.
Coal in any quantity at the right price and Wood also.
14-16 H N. E. One minute from G. P. O. Telephone East 234.

Manhattan Table Lunch, 12 to 1, 10c
ED. E. WALSH
All leading brands of
Whiskies, Wines and Cigars
309 G STREET NORTHWEST
Clark's Maryland Rye and Heurich's Beers a Specialty

THE UNION
SAVINGS BANK
BOND BUILDING
Cor. 14th St. and New York Ave. N.W.

Three Per Cent Interest
on Savings Accounts.

anch Deposit Agency at
T. A. ROVER'S STORE,
Cor. North Capitol and H Sts.
OPEN EVERY MONDAY AND TUESDAY
FROM 4 TO 5 P. M.

When in doubt buy at
HOUSE & HERRMANN,
FURNITURE, CARPETS,
DRAPERIES, ETC.
N. E. Corner Seventh and I Streets N. W.

Don't Buy a Hat
Without the Label. .
And See that It Is Sewed In.

Don't Patronize a Dealer Who Has Loose Labels on Hand and Offers to Put One in Your Hat.
LOOSE LABELS
In Retail Stores
ARE COUNTERFEITS.

The John B. Stetson Co., of Philadelphia, Pa., is a non-union concern.

Phone Main 2132
THE HUB
OUTFITTERS AND HATTERS
Penna. Avenue and 14th Street
C. H. REIZENSTEIN Washington, D. C.

SAMUEL C. PALMER
Manufacturer of
Soda and Mineral Waters
IN FOUNTS, SYPHONS AND BOTTLES
SODA WATER SYRUPS
OF ALL FLAVORS
Phone West 190
Depot, 1066-8 32d Street N. W.

J. GEORGE SMITH
(Formerly a member of the firm of R. P. Andrews & Co.)
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
PAPER AND STATIONERY
My old friends and patrons from J. C. Addison's time to the present will be welcome. I can supply all your needs at lowest prices consistent with quality.
626 E STREET NORTHWEST

EDWIN F. PRICE
(Late member of the firm of E. F. Price & Co.)
Bookbinder
Ruling and Binding of every description. Strongest Flat-Opening Blank Book Made. A Specialty of Fine Bank Work.
Darby Bldg., 506-508 Fourteenth St. N. W.

St. Asaph Commission Rooms,
Old Established and Reliable.
Trains leave Thirteen and one-half street and Pennsylvania avenue—Alexandria, Mt. Vernon, and Washington Railway—daily at 12.45, 1.05, 1.25, 2, 2.30, 3.02, and 3.30. Return .39, 4.24, 5.02, 5.58, and at various intervals.

The Hub Furniture Co.,
The Stores that Save You Money.
OUR MOTTO—The Best Values in Furniture and Carpets at the Lowest Prices.
Cash or Credit.
HUB FURNITURE CO.,
(Formerly Wash B. Williams)
Corner Seventh and D Streets N. W.

CELTIC CLUB WHISKY
Our Specialty. Never Changes. Once Tried You'll Always Use It. Take No Substitute.
Ports and Sherries for family use, Quarts, 50 and 75 cents. All makes of Beer. Leading brands of Cigars. Ales and Porters on draught the year round.
JOHN CONNOR
New Jersey Ave. and G Sts. N. W.

J. WILLIAM LEE,
Undertaker and
Livery, . . .
322 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

CHESAPEAKE BEACH
Only Salt Water Resort Near Washington
MAMMOTH BOARD WALK
LINED WITH AMUSEMENTS
Finest Salt-water Bathing, Fishing, Crabbing, Sailing, Dancing.
HALEY'S BAND
See Schedule under Railroad Time Tables in all Daily Papers.

Union Directory.

TO SECRETARIES: Please notify this office of any change in officers' addresses, time or place of meeting. Corrections will be made quarterly.

American Federation of Labor—Headquarters, Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Sam'l Gompers, President. Frank Morrison, Secretary.

Allied Printing Trades Council meets last Thursday in the month at Typographical Temple. J. A. Wiedman, Secretary-Treasurer, 15 I street northeast.

Allied Label League meets every Friday night at 8 o'clock at 905 E street northwest. C. A. Pfau, Secretary, 905 E street northwest.

Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, Local No. 148, meets second and fourth Thursday evenings at 922 Pa. avenue northwest. Geo. Bakersmith, Secretary, 3315 Brightwood avenue northwest.

Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, Local Union No. 102, meets first and third Wednesdays at Loehl's Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. Wm. H. Whiting, Secretary, 639 K street southwest.

American Society Plate Engravers meets first Saturday in each month at Grand Army Hall. A. C. Ruebsam, Secretary, Bethesda, Montgomery County, Md.

Bakers Union, No. 118, meets first and third Saturday in each month at 430 Eighth street northwest. John G. Schmidt, Secretary and Business Agent, 333 I street s w.

Bakers' Drivers' L. U. No. 33, T. D. I. U. meets first and third Thursday evening of each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Thomas C. Fox, Secretary, 922 Fourth street northeast.

Bartenders' League Local No. 75, meets first and fourth Sunday of each month at 2 p. m. at Macabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. Jere F. McCarthy, Secretary, 1017 Maryland avenue southwest.

Beer Drivers' and Stablemen's Union, No. 234, meets first Sunday of each month at 314 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. A. D. Manger, Secretary, 209 Sixth street southwest.

Bookbinders' Union, No. 4, meets first Tuesday in each month at Typograhical Temple. James A. Stockman, Secretary, 735 North Capitol street.

Brewery Workers' Union, No. 118, meets second and last Sunday of the month at 314 Pennsylvania ave. southeast. A. D. Manger, Secretary, 209 Sixth street southwest.

Bricklayers' Union, No. 1, meets second and fourth Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Milford Spohn, Secretary, Typographical Temple.

Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators, and Paperhangers, Local Union, No. 368, meets every Friday night at 430 Eighth street northwest. G. J. Murray, Secretary, 1107 South Carolina avenue southeast.

Cab and Carriage Drivers' Union, No. 486, meets first and third Sundays, at Butler's Hall, 609 C street northwest. W. B. Nelson, Secretary, 922 I street northwest.

Carriage and Wagon Workers' International Union, Local No. 72, of Washington, D. C., meets first and third Fridays at 902 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. John H. Brinkman, Secretary, 1729 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Carpet Upholsterers, No. 85, U. I. U., meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at 516 Ninth street northwest. Geo. A. Pinckney, Secretary, 363 Pennsylvania ave. northwest.

Central Labor Union meets every Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Typographical Temple. Charles W. Winslow, Secretary, 425 G street northwest. Residence, 3206 Wisconsin avenue northwest.

Ceramic, Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers and Helpers' International Union, No. 2, meets first and third Thursdays at 609 C street northwest. W. F. Miller, Secretary, 1228 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Cigarmakers' Local Union, No. 110, meets every Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Bielgk's Hall, 737 Seventh street northwest. Henry B. Wissner, Secretary, 3143 Dumbarton avenue.

Columbia Lodge, No. 174, International Association of Machinists, meets every Wednesday night at McCauley's Hall, 209 Pennsylavenue southeast. E. L. Adams, Secretary, 600 Ninth street northeast.

Columbia Typographical Union meets third Sunday in each month in Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. W. M. Garrett, Secretary.

Council Allied Building Trades of Central Labor Union meets every Tuesday night at 610 G street notthwest. E. J. Ratigan, Secretary, Room 2, 626 Sixth street northwest.

Douglass Association of Steam Engineers, I. S. U. E., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of the month at 609 F street northwest. J. W. Webb, Secretary, 341 Maryland avenue southwest.

Electrotype Molders and Finishers' Union, No. 17, I. S. and E. U. Charles W. Dean, Secretary.

Federal Labor Union No. 8193, meets fourth Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Miss Emma A. Miller, Secretary, 1011 First street n. w.

Fire Department Employees P. and B. Union No. 8846, meets every Wednesday morning at 11 a. m., at Union Veterans' Hall, 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. G. Achstetter, Secretary, 206 N. Y. ave. northwest.

Gas Workers' Union No. 10343, Samuel H. Walker, Secretary, 735 Thirteenth street s. e.

Glass Bottle Blowers' Association, Branch 68, Alexandria, Va., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Serepta Hall. Frank Michelbach, Secretary, 803 King street, Alexandria, Va.

Grocery Clerks' Local, No. 533, meets every first and third Thursday of the month at Costello's Hall, cor. Sixth and G. n. w. John D. Schamel, rec. sec., 1540 N. Capitol street.

Hospital Attendants' Protective Union No. 8097, meets first and fourth Saturday nights of each month at Masonic Hall, Anacostia, D. C. C. W. Teates, Secretary, 434 Jackson street, Anacostia, D. C.

Hodcarriers, Brick and Mortar Wheelers' Union No. 9468, meets first and third Monday evenings in each month at Cadets' Armory, 708 O street northwest. Dennis Brown, Secretary, 1237 Fourth street northwest.

Ice Wagon Drivers and Helpers, Local No. 430, meets first and third Tuesdays in each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest (third floor). William Donaldson, Secretary, 812 Seventh street southwest.

International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers. Local Union No. 5, meets every Friday night at Seventh and N streets northwest. Charles E. Barbour, Secretary, 1212 Potomac street northwest.

International Association of Machinists, Headquarters, rooms 402-407 McGill Building, 908-914 G streets northwest. James O'Connell, president; D. Douglass Wilson, vice-president and editor of the Journal; George Preston, Secretary-Treasurer.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers,—Headquarters, Rooms 103-104 Corcoran Building. H. W. Sherman, Secretary.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 26, meets every Thursday night at Hotel Royal Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. S. F. Adams, Secretary, 724 Eighteenth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 148, meet every Monday night at 430 Eighth street northwest. H. B. Anderson, Secretary, 807 Eighth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, No. 257, meets every Friday evening at 719 Sixth street n. w. M. G. Bundick, Secretary, 1107 Tenth street n. w.

Interior Marble and Slate Cutters' and Setters' Association, No. 5, meets first and third Wednesday of each month at Arion Hall, 430 Eighth street northwest. George Edmonds, Secretary, 423 Queen street, Alexandria Va.

International Association of Marble Workers No. 33, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at 106 I street northwest. Lew Davis, Secretary, 106 I street northwest.

International Union of Steam Engineers—Local Union No. 99, meets every Wednesday evening at 419 Tenth street northwest. A. W. Leeke, Recording Secretary, Twelfth and B streets northwest.

International Brotherhood of Firemen, Local No. 63, meets every Tuesday night at J. F. Heare's Hall, 404 Eighth street northwest. Louis S. Crown, Secretary, 637 K street northeast.

International Alliance Stage Employees, Local No. 22, meets first and third Sundays of every month at 625 Louisiana avenue northwest. J. Shilling, Secretary, 1208 Bladensburg Road.

Iron Molders' Union, Local No. 215, meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at Masonic Hall, Fourth street and Pennsylvania avenue southeast. Joseph Stewart, Secretary, 3413 N street northwest.

I. U. S. E., Hoisting and Portable, Local 77, meets every Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, Heare's Hall, 404 Eighth street northwest. W. H. Radcliffe, Secretary, 812 Four-and-a-Half street southwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 239, meets first and third Wednesdays in each month at 737 Seventh st. northwest. Theo. A. Leckert, Secretary, 1210 Florida avenue northwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 305, meets first and third Monday evenings at 503 G street northwest (barber shop). Charles A. Thomas, Secretary, 817 E street northwest.

Journeymen Horseshoers' Union, No. 17, meets first and third Wednesday of each month at Costello's Hall, Sixth and G streets northwest. W. S. Lusby, Secretary, 708 Eighth street southwest.

Journeyman Tailors of America, No. 188, meets first and third Saturdays of each month at 8 o'clock p.m., Labor Bureau Hall. Ignatius Geraci, Secretary, 917½ E street northwest.

Journeyman Plumbers and Gas Fitters' Local Union, No. 5, meets second and fourth Tuesday evening of each month at Maccabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. A. E. Anderson, Secretary, 1312 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Journeymen Stone and Marble Cutters' Union, meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Irondall Hall, Harry Bouche, Secretary, 72 H street northeast.

Laundry Wagon Drivers No. 467, W. W. Foster, Secretary, 95 Myrtle street northwest

Mail Bag Repairers' Union, No. 10523, meets first and last Saturdays of every month at Stolpp's Hall 721 Sixth street northwest. L. W. Kearney, Secretary, 406 First st. n.w.

Mail Bag Workers' Union, 10504, meets every Saturday at 721 Sixth street northwest Miss A. Cross, Secretary, 321 Lincoln street, Anacostia, D. C.

Marble Mosaic and Granito Workers No. 8902, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at 1400 D street northwest. G. B. Cinotti, secretary.

Metal Trades Federation of North America, Room 134 Corcoran Bldg., James O'Connell, President. E. J. Lynch, Secretary.

Milk Wagon Drivers' Union, No. 349, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at 8 p. m., at Hotel Royal (second floor), Seventh and N streets northwest. W. T. Trittipoe 1359 U street northwest.

Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers' Helpers, Local Union, No. 12, meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Arion Hall, 430 Eighth street northwest. S. Becket, Secretary, 401 E Street southeast.

Musicians' Protective Union, No. 161 meets first and third Sundays at 2 p. m., at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Linden, jr Secretary, 1364 E street southeast.

National Alliance Theatrical Stage Employes meets first and third Sunday in each month at southwest corner of Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, third floor. J. P. Shilling, Secretary, 1208 Bladensburg Road.

Negative Cutters Union, meets second Wednesday in each month at 921 F street northwest. Clarence W. Schroeder, Secretary, 640 E street southeast.

Oil Wagon Drivers, No. 296, meets second Wednesday of each month at Oppenheimer's Hall, 514 Ninth street northwest. A. J. Dixon, Secretary, 1234 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Operative Stonemasons' Union, No. 2, meets first and third Monday evenings at 609 C street northwest. James Lanigan, Secretary, 930 G street southwest.

Paperhangers' Local Union No. 420, B. of P., D., and P., meets every Wednesday evening, 625 Louisiana avenue, n. w. J. Franklin Page, Secretary.

Pattern Makers' League meets at Weller's Hall, Eighth and I streets southeast, first and third Wednesday. James B. McAlwee, Secretary, 907 E street southeast.

Photo-Engravers' Union, No. 17, meets first Monday in each month at 417 Eleventh street northwest. F. C. Betts, Secretary, Kensington, Md.

Printing Pressmen Union, No. 1, meets first Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. W. C. Deane, Secretary, 19 Grant Place.

Plate Printers Union, No. 2, meets at Maccabee Temple, Ninth street n. w., the fourth Tuesday in each month. J. P. Murphy, Secretary, 1416 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

Post-Office Clerks, No. 9834, meets the second Saturday of each month at Twelfth and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. B. Corridon, Secretary, 1733 North Capitol street.

Registered Drug Clerks' Union, District of Columbia, meets second and fourth Fridays at Jolly Fat Men's Hall, 933 D street northwest. Fred T. Hafelfinger, Secretary, 1110 Fourteenth street northwest.

Retail Clerks' Union, No. 262, meets second and fourth Mondays of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Joseph Moser, Recording Secretary, 624 I street northwest.

Retail Grocery Clerks' Union, No. 533, meets every Thursday evening at Society Temple, 5th and G streets N. W. Alfred Fuss, Secretary, 802 D street s. e.

Slate and Tile Roofers' Union, No. 10421, meets every Monday night at 922 F street northwest. J. C. Huddleson, Secretary, 2147 Pennsylvania avenue northwest,

Soda and Mineral Water Wagon Drivers, No. 372, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at Bessler's Hall, 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. P. Connor, Secretary, 1111 Sixth street southwest.

Steam Fitters, R. A. Lanis Association, L. B. No. 10, N. A., meets every Thursday night at 610 G street northwest. Thomas L. Hess. Secretary, 913 New York avenue northwest.

Steam and Hot Water Fitters' Helpers, Local Branch, No. 28, N. A., meets every Friday at 8 o'clock p. m, at 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Thomas F. Flanagan, Secretary, 38 G street northeast.

Stereotypers' Union. No. 19, of Washington D. C., meets second Monday of each month at Typographical Temple. 423-425 G street northwest. D. J. Murray, Secretary, 35 R street northwest.

Stone Laborers' Union, No. 9013, meets first and third Friday of each month at Eleventh and Q streets northwest. Daniel Lahey, Secretary, 1003 A street southeast.

Telephone Operators, No. 9914, meets third Saturday of each month at Schmidt's Hall. 516 Ninth street northwest Edna Earl Bobb, Secretary, 924 Pennsylvania avenue southeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, Local Union, No. 190, meet every Friday evening at the Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. C. H. Scherer, Secretary, 936 Fourth street northeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 884, meets every Monday night at 904 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Torney, Secretary, 141 Jefferson street, Anacostia D. C.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 1103, Mill and Bench Hands, meets every Friday at 8 p. m., at 514 Ninth street northwest. Peyton Wilkerson, Secretary, 816 G street southeast.

United Brotherhood of Leather Workers on Horse Goods, No. 87, meets every second and fourth Tuesday, 513 Twelfth street northwest. H. J. Laubach, Secretary, 72 H street northeast.

Upholsterers' Local Union, No. 58, meets second and fourth Thursdays of each month at 416 (fourth floor) Ninth street northwest. T. R. Bowie, Secretary, 1306 Riggs street northwest.

Washington Branch, Granite Cutters' National Union, meets every second and fourth Mondays in each month at 1204 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Wm. Silver, Secretary, 49 Massachusetts avenue northwest.

Washington Feeders and Assistants' Union, No. 42, meets the first Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street n. w. D. I. Leane, Secretary, 702 H street northeast.

Washington Lodge of Machinists, No. 193, meets every Thursday night at southwest corner of Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. Herbert Wyatt, Secretary, 111 Seventh street southeast.

Wood, Wire, and Metal Lathers' Local Union, No. 9, meets every Monday night at Hare's Hall. Eighth and D streets northwest. J. C. Maloney, Secretary, 124 G street n. w.

ANOTHER VICTORY.

Four Laundries of Los Angeles Unionized in Every Department.

[Special Correspondence.]

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Aug. 18, 1903.

There can be no doubt that organized labor is becoming stronger and stronger even in Los Angeles, where the unions are being fought harder than in any other city in the United States. Under the leadership of the notorious Los Angeles Times, the Employers' Association is exerting every influence to disrupt the unions, but unionism goes marching on. Two years ago there was not a union laundry in Los Angeles. The girls employed in this class of work were treated in such an outrageous manner that finally patience ceased to be a virtue, and they went on strike. A co-operative laundry was started, and the Laundry Workers' Union began to grow. As a direct result of this brave stand, last week four of the largest laundries in this city signed a contract with the Council of Labor unionizing their establishments in every department—laundry workers, engineers, office help, wagon drivers, and all. This has proved a severe blow to the notorious Times and its would-be union-wrecking backers.

The fight that is being made against the Times is not alone the fight of the union men and women of Southern California. It has the indorsement of the American Federation of Labor and of the International Typographical Union. Once more every reader of the TRADES UNIONIST is requested to write a letter to each of the following advertisers in the unfair Los Angeles Times:

Royal Baking Powder Company, 100 Williams street, New York, N. Y.

Philo-Hay Specialties Company—Newark, N. J.

Castoria—The Centaur Company, 77 Murray street, New York, N. Y.

Cuticura—Potter Drug and Chemical Company, Boston, Mass.

Postum—Postum Cereal Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

Scott's Emulsion—Scott & Bowne, 409 Pearl street New York, N. Y.

Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate—D. Ghirardelli, San Francisco, Cal.

Write letters to the above firms, telling them it is useless to expect working men and women to patronize any advertiser in the union-hating Los Angeles Times.

Pointed Paragraphs.

Chicago News.]

Human rakes scrape very little together.

It costs more to neglect a duty than to perform it.

One bad turn deserves another revolution for the better.

Men seldom pay taxes on what they are reputed to be worth.

The average man thinks the average man is far below his level.

A man talks to amuse others and a woman talks to amuse herself.

Fortunate is the man whose friends are all good and his enemies all bad.

The man who wants the earth is the very one the earth can get along without.

Don't blame the hen if the egg is bad. It was all right when her responsibility ended.

Somehow the things we imagine would make us perfectly happy are always possessed by others.

Does your bartender wear one of these Blue Buttons?
If not, WHY NOT?
THIS CARD INDICATES A UNION BAR
Hotel and Restaurant Employes International Alliance
Bartenders International League of America
AFFILIATED WITH AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR
RECOGNIZES THIS BAR AS A UNION BAR AND WORTHY THE SUPPORT OF ORGANIZED LABOR

Representative Business Houses.
OF WASHINGTON, D. C.
The following wholesale and retail firms and professional men are friendly to Union Labor and are entitled to its patronage:

BANKS.
THE LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK, Safe Deposit Vaults, $2.50 up
CAPITAL LOAN GUARANTEE COMPANY, 602 F Street Northwest. Every one can borrow money without security.

BAKERS.
HOLMES & SONS, Celebrated Home-Made Pies and Milk Bread. First and E Streets N. W. Phone East 864.

BOOTS AND SHOES.
CROCKER'S SHOES, 939 Pennsylvania Ave. N. W.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.
DANIEL LOUGHRAN, 1347 Pennsylvania Ave.
LUCHS & BRO., Wholesalers. Phone E 755.

COACH FINDINGS.
J. B. KENDALL, 485-87 Missouri avenue N. W.

COAL TAR PRODUCTS AND PAPER.
E. B. WARREN & CO., 27th and H Sts. N. W.

CUTLERY AND SPORTING GOODS.
D. N. WALFORD, 477 and 909 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

DRY GOODS.
LANSBURGH & BROTHER, 420 to 426 7th St. N. W

DYER.
E. E. WHEATLEY, 1068 Jefferson Ave. N. W. Phone, West 117-Y.

ENGRAVERS.
THE MAURICE JOYCE ENGRAVING CO. Cuts and Illustrations. 418 11th street N. W

FIRE INSURANCE.
Insure with THE RIGGS FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.
FIREMEN'S INSURANCE COMPANY, Seventh St. and Louisiana Ave.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.
JULIUS LANSBURGH, Interocean Building, 512 Ninth St. N. W.

GROCERIES.
LITTLE & PAGE, "Good things to eat." 1210 F St. N.W
W. C. ERGOOD, "Good goods at Ergoods." Corner Ninth and H Streets Northwest.

GROCER AND COFFEE ROASTER.
SOMERSET R. WATERS. 1342 Seventh Street Northwest, Corner O.

HARDWARE AND TOOLS.
RUDOLPH, WEST & CO., 1332 New York avenue northwest.

HUDSON'S VARIETY STORE.
B. F. HUDSON, 423 Seventh Street Northwest.

HATTERS AND FURRIERS.
JAMES Y. DAVIS' SONS. 1201 Pennsylvania Ave.
A. H. BURDINE, Union Overalls, Hats, and Gloves. Seventh Street and Virginia avenue southwest.

LIME, SAND, GRAVEL, CEMENT.
NATIONAL MORTAR COMPANY. Office: Room 9, Ralston Bldg., 612 F St. N. W. Office telephone: East 688.

LUMBER AND MILL WORK.
THOMAS R. RILEY, 13th St. and Ohio Ave.
THE WASHINGTON WOOD WORKING CO., 12th and B Streets N. W. Telephone 2119-3.

MACHINISTS AND ENGINEERS.
FORSBERG & MURRAY. Pumps and Elevators. Engines and Boilers 8th and Water Sts. S. W.

MERCHANT TAILOR.
W. A. SLADEN, 419 East Capitol Street.

PHARMACISTS.
LOUIS F. BRADLEY, Prescription Druggist. 8th and E Sts. S. E

PHOTO-LITHOGRAPHERS.
THE NORRIS PETERS CO., 458 and 460 Pennsylvania avenue N. W
ANDREW B. GRAHAM Lithographer, Photo-Lithographer, and Half-Tones. 1230 Pa. Ave. Phones: 1031-M, 1679-M.

PIANO AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
E. E. DROOP & SONS, 925 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

PRINTING SUPPLIES.
NATIONAL PRINTER'S SUPPLY CO., Machine-made Rollers. 414 10th St. N. W.

RESTAURANT AND WINE ROOM.
JOHN M. BECKER, Opp. Navy Yard., Cor. 8th and Georgia Ave. S.E

SHOES.
DAVE WOLF, SHOES FOR EVERYBODY. 432 Seventh Street N. W.

SHAVING PARLORS
VINCENT R. CILENTO. 805 North Capitol Street.

TITLES TO REAL ESTATE.
LAWYERS' TITLE & GUARANTY INS. CO. 412 5th St. N. W.

UNION HEADQUARTERS.
ARION HALL, 430 Eighth Street N. W. Headquarters for organizations. Strictly union. JIM STEVENS, Proprietor.

WINES AND LIQUORS.
SAMUEL G. STEWART, Heurich Brewing Co's. beers and popular brands of whiskies. 1141 Seventh st. northwest between L and M.
WILLIAM DIETZ, 1203 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest
GEORGE W. DRIVER. 605 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

DO NOT WANT OUR PATRONAGE.

Following brands of cigars: Cinco, Cremo, George W. Childs, Henry George, Tom Moore, Robert Burns, and General Arthur.

The following firms have declared against the interest of Organized Labor and are not regarded as deserving their patronage:

NAME.	BUSINESS.	LOCATION.
Chevy Chase Railway and circle.	Street railway	Chevy Chase and Circle.
Keenan Bros	Gents' furnishers	Pa. ave. bet. 14th and 15th sts., and 523 Seventh st. n. w.
B. Solomon	Gents' furnisher	708 Seventh street n.w.
Rufus H. Darby	Printer	508 Fourteenth street n.w.
H. L. McQueen	Printer	1108 E street n.w.
N. Sickles (Nat'l Cigar Factory).	Cigar manufacturer	1011 Penna. avenue n.w.
E. Gundershiemer	Baker	516 Second street n.w. and stall in Center Market.
Peter Grogan	Carpet dealer	817 to 823 Seventh street n.w.
John H. Fitzgerald	Horseshoer	443 Prather's alley n.w.
S. S Daish	Coal and wood	Florida ave. and Third st. n.e.
Wilbur F. Nash	Meat dealer	Center and O st. Markets.
C. E. Hencke	Electrician	711 G street n.w.
F. J. Wheelock	Electrician	1215 G street n. w.
James A. Bennett	Tinner	2008 H street n.w.
National Mosaic Company	Mosaics	207 Fourth st. n.w.
M. Minster	Gents' furnisher	1343 F st. n.w.
A. Minster	Gents' furnisher	499 and 501 Penna. ave. n. w
Cyrus B. Reese	Employing steamfitter	1519 Fourteenth street n. w.
C. A. Schneider & Sons	Union Iron Works	212 Twelfth street n. w.
Minster & Paterson	Gents' furnishers	1109 Pennsylvania ave. n. w
Chas. A. Muddiman & Co	Gas fixtures	1204 G and 616 Twelfth st. n. w.
Conrad Becker	Trunks and harness	1328 F st. n. w.
Chapin & Sacks	Dealer in butter	924 Louisana ave. n. w.
Home Ice Company	Ice	Twelfth and V sts. n.w.
Emil Wagner	Restaurant	210 Ninth st. n. w.
W. E. Carney	Cigar manufacturer	921 G st. s. w.
Nat'l Roller & Ball Bearing Co.	Machinery	33rd and K sts. n. w.
L. Rosenberg	Clothing and shoes	911-913 Eighth st. s. e.
Corbin Thompson	Dairyman	Sharon Dairy, 324 B st. s. w.
S. D. Houck	Dealer in harness	301 Tenth street n. w.
M. Eisemann & Bro	Dry goods	1924-26 Pa. ava. and 806 7th n.w
Elite Steam Laundry	Laundry	1205 G street n.w.
Benjamin Schwartz	Gents' furnisher and tailor	337 Pa. ave. s. e.
Emrich Beef Co	Meat Dealers
John Coleman	Horseshoer	1300 36th street n. w.
Hecht & Co	Dry Goods, etc.	517-519 Seventh street n. w
Charles Rauscher	Caterer	Conn. ave. and L st. n. w
Academy of Music	Theater	Ninth and D streets n. w.
Lafayette Square Theater	Theater	16th st. and Pa. ave. n. w.
E. H. Snyder & Co	Tailors	1111 Pa. ave n. w
Owen Owen	Tailor	423 Eleventh street n. w.
L. A. Downey	Tailor	433 Eleventh street n. w
J. M. Stein & Co	Tailors	413 Eleventh street n. w
J. D. Burns & Co	Tailors	701 Ninth street n. w.
J. F. Gatchel	Tailor	604 Thirteenth street n. w.
G. Warfield Simpson	Tailor	1208 F street n. w
E. H. Catlin & Co	Machinists	407 13½ street n. w.
Thomas Somerville & Sons	Steam Fitters' Supplies	316 Thirteenth street n. w.
Joseph Mathy	Stove dealer and tin worker	1918 Pennsyvania avenue.
William Meehan	Saloon	943 B street n. w.
Robert Lowe	Stone yard and mill	113 Third street s. w.
H. Vonderheide	Saloonist	205½ Seventh street n. w.

The Typographical Union of Scotland has 4,000 members and $65,000 in its strong box.

When the war of the revolution began there were but thirty-seven papers published in America.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICIAL ORGAN CENTRAL LABOR UNION, WASHINGTON BRANCH, AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Vol. VIII. No. 12. WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1903. Price, 3 Cents.

A TRIP THROUGH THE G. P. O.

"Sadie Maguire" Defends Unions Connected with the Big Shop.

ARE NOT OPPOSED TO MACHINES

Up-to-Date Facilities—Labor-Saving Machinery Now in Use—Rapid Work a Feature of the Bindery—The Unions Invite Full Investigation.

The Council Bluffs Nonpareil recently printed an editorial charging the pressmen, printers, and bookbinders' unions with blocking the introduction of modern machinery and methods in the Government Printing Office at Washington. The writer was in Washington two weeks ago, and during his stay visited the great printing office three times, not, however with any idea of gathering any information for this article. We visited the old and new buildings, and we did not see one single instance where we could have made a change in the composing room management should the plant be turned over to us to be run as a private enterprise.

There are no type-setting machines in the composing rooms, but there will be whenever Uncle Sam gets ready to put them in. Secretary J. W. Bramwood said to the writer, in the presence of Mr. Thomas Bynum, a prominent member of Washington Union: "The Typographical Union can not and will not offer any objection to the introduction of the machines into the Government Printing Office." The Typographical Union could not consistently take any other position. In that conversation Mr. Bynum said: "The Typographical Union invites the most searching investigation of the manner in which the composing room is being managed. The union has nothing to fear."

The facilities in the composing room are as modern and up-to-date as the Rees Printing Company of Omaha—if not better.

In the press room we found presses that would make Rees' card press look like two bits. David Moran, one of the journeymen pressmen, was our guide. He call our attention to the improved bed on the cylinders that saved so much time in making ready from plates. He called our attention to a number of the latest presses that print both sides, cut, fold and wire stitch 30,000 speeches in pamphlet form per hour. It required the work of two laborers to take the finished work from the press and stack them in a cart that holds a half a wagon load.

We saw not less than ten cylinder presses with self-feeding attachments and we don't know of one such in Omaha or Council Bluffs. Incidentally I will say that from a remark dropped by one of the pressmen they are not popular with the men. They are there just the same, which proves the self-feeders were put in without asking the consent of the pressmen's union.

We saw a press turning out official cards that are used by the postoffice department. It is the only one of the kind in use and was built expressly for the Government. It has a capacity of from 400,000 to 600,000 cards printed on both sides per day. Under the old fashioned way of feeding them through a Gordon press at an average rate of 10,000 per day it would take many years to turn out what this press does in one day. There is scarcely another printing office in America that would have any use for such a press.

Surely the editor of the Nonpareil will not insist on his statement that the unions are preventing the introduction of labor-saving machinery in the Government Printing Office.

In the bindery we saw more kinds of machinery than ever before. The rooms were really crowded with various machines—in fact, we will venture to guess that there is a machine of some kind in that bindery for every two persons employed therein.

When we visited the Government Printing Office we had no idea the Nonpariel was making such extravagant statements. Had we known of its editorials we would have taken the pains to get the details of how Congressman Bourke Cockran had one speech set up seven times at Government expense before it was accepted by Mr. Cockran as reading the way he wanted it.

We hope Editor Beckman will go to Washington and investigate this question for himself. He has been misinformed on this question so far as improved machinery is concerned. This we know. We would not think of declaring that there are no evils in the Government Printing Office—nor would we say there are. We don't know. But we are especially proud to think the Typographical Union "invites the most searching investigation of its affairs in the Government Printing Office."

Allied Label League.

The regular weekly meeting of the Allied Label League was held last Friday evening at 905 E street northwest.

Thirty-five delegates were present, representing 20 unions.

A communication was read from Stage Alliance Employes, No. 22, asking that pickets be placed at the Academy of Music and Lafayette Square Theater. Request granted.

A communication was also read from Local 262, R. C. I. P. A., asking that delegates urge upon their unions the placing of a fine on any member purchasing goods at Hecht & Co. Request granted.

Under new business, Delegate Brahler moved to have a committee of three appointed to ascertain what stores carried union-label goods. The motion was adopted.

President Jere F. McCarthy was unanimously indorsed as a receptive candidate before the Central Labor Union for delegate to the convention of the American Federation of Labor, to be held at Boston in October.

Under the good and welfare of the League, President McCarthy made an address, extolling the members of the League for the good work already accomplished, and urged further action among their fellow-unionists in advocating the purchase only of union-made goods properly labeled and the insistence of the card or button on the clerk or other person where it should be shown as an evidence that the establishment is working under fair conditions. The president's address was heartily applauded.

The League then adjourned.

Personal Mention.

George Colquitt has left for Colorado Springs in search of health.

Willis Brown, of the job room, G. P. O., has built a beautiful cottage at Colonial Beach, which his family will occupy next summer.

Al Randall and wife are again at home after an outing spent in traveling and visiting points in Pennsylvania, New York, and Ohio.

Mrs. H. W. Templar, who has been sojourning the past summer at Wormleysburg, Pa., has returned to the city greatly improved in health.

Carrie Montrose, the accomplished short-story writer, who has recently occupied the public eye, is a sister of the Misses Olive and May Montrose, of the G. P. O.

J. F. McCormick returned from a two weeks' visit to his family, who are summering at Virginia Beach, looking as brown as a berry. "Mac" says fish were never known to be so plentiful.

R. A. Martin, of the night proofroom, has returned from his vacation spent at his attractive cottage near Colonial Beach, Va., reporting splendid fishing and vast improvements at that place.

Ed Burkholder, formerly of the G. P. O., has accepted a position on one of "Bob" Smythe's papers in Virginia. Mr. Burkholder is a close student and a bright writer, and the paper that secures his services is to be congratulated. His many friends wish him success in his undertaking.

Labor Day.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, will be the principal speaker at the Labor Day celebration at Indianapolis, Ind., next Monday, while Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, will make an address at Peoria, Ill., on the same day.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

LABOR UNIONS AS TYRANTS

New York Sun Makes a Discovery and Proceeds to Disclose It.

"GEORGE LACEY" A DISTURBER

The Musicians and the Marine Band—The Manila Printers Received a Dispensation to Learn the Filipino the Art of Printing. The Firm Stand Made by Col. Edwards.

The New York Sun recently had an article from its Washington correspondent that reflects rather harshly on the intelligence of the labor unions involved with the trades employed by the Government. The article follows:

The attacks which organized labor has been making on the Marine Band for several years past will probably be followed this winter by an effort to secure legislation by Congress to prevent the band from accepting engagements outside of its regular line of duty, and for which the members of the band receive pay from the parties employing them. The question came up before Congress at its last session, but a bill prohibiting the band from accepting such engagements failed of passage. The American Federation of Musicians, which is supported by the American Federation of Labor, will make another attempt this winter in the same direction.

Success along the lines proposed by the American Federation of Musicians, in the opinion of those interested in the Marine Band, means the ultimate destruction of the band or the lowering of the high standard which it has hitherto maintained to such an extent that it will no longer occupy first rank in the list of such organizations. For several years organized labor has been boycotting the theaters and hotels employing members of the Marine Band in their orchestras as well as amusement resorts where the Marine Band or portions of it are engaged, but so far this campaign has not been successful.

Lately, however, an attempt was made to prevent the band from appearing in the Elks parade in Baltimore, and, although it failed, a second attempt to prevent the band from participating in the Odd Fellows parade in Baltimore was successful.

The band applied for membership in the Federation of Labor, which was refused, and for a number of years it has been affiliated with the Knights of Labor, so that the opposition of the Federation of Musicians is not based on the ground that the members of the band are non-union men, but on the ground that, as they receive a salary from the Government, they should not compete with outside bands.

The salaries paid the members of the Marine Band is from $30 to $60 a month, and this amount, the members contend, is not sufficient to justify them in belonging to the band if they can not accept outside engagements, as many of them can earn from $30 to $50 a week with other bands.

Efforts on the part of labor unions to dictate to the officers of the War Department and of the Philippine Government have just come to light. A year or more ago, when it was decided to set up an immense printing establishment in Manila, the Bureau of Insular Affairs was called upon to furnish men to go to the Philippines and take charge of the work in the office.

The Civil Service Commission was called upon to furnish the necessary number of men who would accept these places, and twelve or more men were certified to Col. Clarence Edwards for appointment. They were all members of the Typographical Union. But this proved a stumbling block to a career in the Philippine service, as they decided that they were not to be employed as printers, but as instructors to the Filipinos, who would be put to work in the printing office as apprentices. Before accepting the places offered them they consulted with the officers of the union and were told by the labor leaders that they could not, under any circumstances, violate the rules of the union, which provide that there shall be but one apprentice to every ten journeymen in an office.

As a matter of fact the scheme of the organization of the Philippine Government Printing Office contemplated the establishment of a huge industrial school and the use of printers as instructors of natives. This to the applicants was a violation of the rule of the Typographical Union, and an effort was made to convince the officers of the War Department that this rule could not be violated. Not only did the applicants themselves insist upon their rights as union men, but an officer of the union of the name of Dougherty also urged upon the War Department that only union principles could prevail where union men are employed. Only the firm stand of Col. Edwards convinced the printers that they must go to Manila as any other persons employed by the Government and without any vestige of unionism with them.

The men wanted the places, and after another conference it was agreed among them that they would obtain indefinite leave of absence from the union while they endeavored to teach the Filipino how to set type and run type-setting machines, which it was proposed to introduce. Private advices have now been received here that one of the men, George Lacey, who was made foreman, has either been discharged or has resigned because of his connection with the Typographical Union.

Col. Edwards said this afternoon that he had received no advices from Manila on the subject, and that no official notice had come to the War Department that Lacey had been discharged. While none of the officers would say that he had heard of Lacey's trouble the impression among some of them is that he may have undertaken to organize a union among the native printers. This belief is strengthened by the fact that at the time of his appointment it was made a condition of his contract that there should be absolutely no effort made to impart any of the teachings of the union to the Filipino workmen.

The Woman's Auxiliary.

The Woman's Auxiliary held their regular monthly meeting last Friday evening. There was a fair attendance, notwithstanding the fact that it was very warm and threatening storm. All bills were ordered paid, there being several which were contracted during the convention.

One new member was admitted. There are several ladies who have expressed their desire to become members of the Auxiliary in the near future.

The officers and members of the Auxiliary desire to express their hearty appreciation for the entertainment afforded at the Ebbitt House reception, Saturday evening, August 8, by the following talent: The male quartet, composed of Messrs. Purvis, Jones, Finnegan, and Lineback; Miss Myrtle Jacoby, piano solo; Miss Kate Ellis, vocal solo; Miss Dorothy Wolf, vocal solo, Mrs. Thos. L. Jones, accompanist, and Mr. F. F. Weston, recitation. They wish to thank them, one and all, for their services.

The Auxiliary, by a rising vote, expressed their thanks to Columbia Union, No. 101, for the manner in which they had seconded every effort put forth by the Auxiliary, and for the generous manner in which the Auxiliary was treated during the convention.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

THE WESTERN UNION.

Text of the Commercial Telegraphers' Retaliatory Resolutions.

The following preamble and resolution was unanimously adopted by the Commercial Telegraphers' of America, at their recent convention in New York:

Whereas, The Western Union Telegraph Company has dismissed from its employ many efficient telegraphers throughout the United States because of their affiliation with the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America, and has endeavored in many reprehensible ways to destroy the said union; and

Whereas, The said union is being built up solely for the purpose of bettering the conditions of the telegraphers and thereby to improve the telegraph service rendered to the public;

Whereas, The American Federation of Labor has by resolution placed the Western Union Telegraph Company on its list of unfair employers; therefore be it

Resolved, That all fair-minded American trade unionists, workingmen, employers and manufacturers be, and they are hereby notified, of the despicable actions of the said Western Union Telegraph Company and its officers, and the public is most urgently requested to rebuke the said Western Union Telegraph Company in the most effective way possible.

The executive committee is hereby instructed to have this resolution published, printed and distributed throughout the United States and Canada.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

The American Federationist.

The September number of The American Federationist contains 275 pages of well-printed matter, from the press of The Law Reporter Company. The publication is a credit to the printers and the publishers. It contains articles from the pens of forty writers that lead in advanced thought in labor matters. President Gompers has several well-written editorials, written in his usual forceful style, while a number of leading representatives of the national and international unions have contributed articles bearing on trade matters. The Federationist can be secured for 10 cents per copy, or $1 per year.

ALLIED BUILDING TRADES.

Routine Business Transacted at Regular Meeting.

The regular weekly meeting of the Council of Allied Building Trades of the Central Labor Union was called to order by Chairman Wells at 8.15 o'clock on Tuesday evening.

Roll call disclosed the presence of 37 delegates from 20 unions.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved:

CREDENTIALS.

From Brotherhood of Carpenters, No. 190, certifying to Geo. P. Loeffler, vice William Martin, deceased.

From Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, No. 5, certifying to William E. Moran, vice W. R. Sullivan.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Painters' Union, No. 368, stating that nonunion painters were employed at Thirtieth and R streets northwest; also at the Portland Flats. Referred to Executive Committee.

From Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, stating that the firm of Samuel J. Prescott & Co. had adjusted the differences existing between that firm and their union and that they had removed their name from their unfair list, and asked the indorsement of the Council of their action. After considerable debate, the whole matter was laid on the table.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Delegate Ratigan reported from Central Labor Union, and called attention to Labor Day excursion.

By-Laws Committee reported progress.

Hall Committee reported progress, and recommended that the chairman and secretary-treasurer be directed to negotiate note for $200 to buy furniture. Report accepted and recommendation concurred in.

Delegate Silver, from committee to investigate use of device by parties not entitled to same, made partial report. After considerable discussion, the committee was instructed to present recommendations in writing at next meeting.

ROLL CALL.

Stone Laborers asked assistance of Business Agent at Dominican College.

Granite Cutters again called attention to the fact that Stone Masons were cutting granite.

Engineers asked that the Executive Committee take up the case of a nonunion engineer at Dominican College. Granted.

Hod Carriers stated that the arbitration board, under its present workings, was a menace to their organization, and asked that the secretary be instructed to ask for another call to be sent out as soon as possible. Also to request board of arbitration to formulate such rules for its government that when a quorum did not appear that both sides be notified within a reasonable time. It was so ordered.

Slate and Tile Roofers stated that their union had asked for an increase in wages to go into effect March 1, 1903. Referred to Executive Committee.

Delegates Malone and Sherman, who will leave for Salt Lake City this week, asked to be relieved from committee work until their return.

The hour of 9 o'clock at the next meeting was set aside to elect a representative on the board of arbitration, made vacant by the resignation of E. M. Van Ness.

Secretary instructed to present an amendment to section 31, Central Labor Union Constitution.

Adjourned.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Change of Base.

F. L. Ames, recently of the Frst Division, G. P. O., has returned to Norwich, N. Y., to take editorial charge of The Morning Sun and Chenango Telegraph. Mr. Ames left Norwich about eight months ago and came to Washington to take a position under the Government in the Government Printing Office. He received a very flattering offer from the new management of the above papers, and has returned to his old home.

Capt. Brian's Bereavement.

Capt. H. T. Brian, chief clerk in the Government Printing Office, received the sympathy of a large circle of friends in the death of his granddaughter, the daughter of Dr. Geo. H. Brian, which occurred on Tuesday last.

Labor Day Excursion.

All arrangements have been perfected for the Labor Day excursion to River View next Monday. The committee has received substantial support from the business men of the city in donations for prizes, and desire all the friends of the Central Labor Union to remember the donors on this occasion in dealing with them in the future.

The following is a list of the events, the prizes, and the names of the firms and individuals who were generous enough to aid in making the excursion a success:

First event—One hundred-yard race, open to members of the Central Labor Union only. First prize, gold cuff buttons, donated by Saks Optical Company; second prize, sweater, donated by Joseph Aurbach.

Second event—One hundred-yard race, open to all. First prize, Evening Star silver cup, donated by The Evening Star Newspaper Company; second prize, golf coat, donated by Saks & Co.

Third event—One hundred-yard race, open to boys under fourteen years of age. First prize, child's suit, donated by Victor E. Adler; second prize, sweater, to be donated by D. N. Walford.

Fourth event—Sack race, open to all. First prize, white vest, donated by Schwartz & Pelzman; second prize, one box of cigars, donated by Thomas Walsh.

Fifth event—One mile, heel and toe, walking match, open to members of Central Labor Union only. First prize, one pair of $5 shoes, donated by Major Richard Sylvester, chief of police; second prize, one box of cigars, donated by M. Hennessy.

Sixth event—Running high jump, for boys sixteen years of age and under. First prize, bicycle lamp, donated by E. P. Hazleton; second prize, umbrella, donated by Mrs. E. H. Haines.

Seventh event—Running high jump, open to all. First prize, pair of athletic shoes, donated by William Hahn & Co.; second prize, a fountain pen, donated by Swett & Co.

Eighth event—Fifty-yard race for girls fourteen years of age and under. First prize, trimmed hat, donated by King's Palace; second prize, lady's belt, donated by Lewis Kann.

Ninth event—Pole vault, open to all. First prize, silver cup, donated by N. Goldsmith & Son; second prize, merchandise, donated by R. Harris & Co.

Tenth event—Putting 16-pound shot for championship of the District, open to all. First prize, gold medal, donated by Frank K. Raymond; second prize, $5 dress suit case, donated by the Bieber-Kaufman Company.

Eleventh event—Egg race for ladies; fifty yards, open to all. First prize, gold medal, donated by Gen. George H. Harries; second prize, lady's engraved umbrella, donated by Reinhardt Silk House.

Twelfth event—Three-legged race, open to all. First prize, cigars, donated by D. Dowdy and L. J. Silverman; second prize, pair of yachting shoes, donated by B. Rich's & Sons, and an alarm clock, donated by A. Hutterly.

In the evening prize dancing contests will be held. The prizes for these features follow:

Prize waltz—(man) a box of cigars, donated by Luchs & Bro.; (lady) umbrella, donated by Lansburgh & Bro.; second prize (man), merchandise, donated by Chery & Moran; (lady) ornaments, donated by S. Kann, Sons & Co.

Fancy dancing—First prize, umbrella, donated by M. Goldenberg & Sons; second prize, pair of slippers, donated by Dave Wolf.

In addition to the above list of prizes, the committee is in receipt of the following donations: F. G. Smith & Co., music box; Mayer & Co., rocker; Commissioner West, fishing outfit.

The following business men have shown their interest in the success of the excursion by generous purchase of tickets: W. S. Knox, E. G. Schafer, Littlefield & Alvord, The Washington Post, and Frank Sebring.

Pointed Paragraphs.

[Chicago News.]

Eve was the originator of the peek-a-boo garment.

Love is blind to the best interests of the gas companies.

Rumor has caused many a good name to stick in the mud.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Official Organ Central Labor Union and Allied Building Trades, A. F. of L.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

The Trades Unionist Publishing Company

E. W. PATTON.....President
A. J. E. HUBBARD.....Vice-President
T. M. RING.....Secretary

Office: 441-443 G Street Northwest.

TELEPHONE EAST 15 Y.

SUBSCRIPTION

One year (in advance) - - - - $1.00
Six months (in advance) - - - - .50

Entered at the Post-Office, Washington, D. C. as Second-Class Matter.

THE TRADES UNIONIST is heartily and unqualifiedly indorsed by the Central Labor Union and the Allied Building Trades as well as by the various locals connected with the two central bodies.

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL WASHINGTON. 2

Only Eight-Hour Union Office in Town.

"I would as soon think of doing business without clerks as without advertising.
—JOHN WANAMAKER.

Nothing, except the mint, can make money without advertising.
—GLADSTONE.

When you pay more for the rent of your business house than for advertising your business, you are pursuing a false policy. If you can do business, let it be known.
—FRANKLIN.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1903

The Union Label.

There is no medium so powerful in the hands of organized labor than the label. There is no reason why the members of all unions should not take up the issue and insist on the label on all articles purchased by them. The creation of a demand for the label and the persistent work done by the unions in advocating it by the pioneers in its use, notably the cigarmakers and hatters, has placed these organizations in the vanguard of sister organizations in exemplifying progressive action and maintaining the strength of their respective organizations.

The garment workers' label is another example of what can be done by persistent work. That organization today is in a flourishing condition, due to the good work accomplished in pushing the label. So it is with a number of the other organizations that have taken up the fight for the label. The organization of the Allied Label League in this city has been a great factor in pushing the work of the label, and results will be shown when the League gets down to work on the business outlined by its efficient corps of officers. The League desires the hearty cooperation of all trades unionists in their endeavor to make the label a prerequisite for the sale of goods to trades unionists where it is known that a label is in existence controlling the product placed on the market.

Insist on the label.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM.

Joseph Gibson, of the Night Bill Force, sailed for Europe last Saturday on the steamer Kroonland. He will spend several weeks touring on the Continent and will probably visit the British Isles before his return. It is getting to be quite the thing for employes of the Government Printing Office to take a voyage across the ocean, and it is as easily within reach financially as some of the American sight-seeing tours.

* * * *

Mrs. William G. Glenn found a valuable lace handkerchief at the International Typographical Union convention reception at the Ebbitt House which she will be glad to restore to the owner. Mr. Glenn, who is employed in the Third Division of the G. P. O., will furnish information.

* * * *

C. W. Pafflow, of the Day Proof Room, writes many interesting letters for the people's page of the Washington Post on a variety of subjects. He is a clear, cogent writer on whatever subject he discusses, and his letters contribute much to what forms one of the Post's most valuable features. There are those who affect to sneer at these letters from the people, but to have an opportunity to give their side of controversies and their opinions on questions of the day is a boon that the thinking appreciate, and is often the only means the public have of getting all sides of questions. The sneering habit and the thinking habit do not often reside in the same individual, however.

* * * *

If we could convince the naturally suspicious-minded that we had no designs on the legislation or elections of the Union I should like to see the Ex-Delegates' Association made a permanent institution, at a nominal rate of dues, and give an entertainment of some kind once a year. This could take the shape of an excursion, a ball (and de Lord he know I don't dance), or a banquet (preferably the latter, for I do eat). We have entirely too few social functions among our membership, and I believe a better condition of things would be brought about and perhaps a more perfect brand of unionism be developed—one based on goodfellowship and regard for our own peculiar kind—if we met together socially and more frequently. What do you think about it?

* * * *

By the kindness of John R. McBride, of Specifications, I have before me a list of the officers and members of Columbia Typographical Union for March 18, 1871, a little over thirty-two years ago. George J. Webb was president; C. B. Hough, vice-president; C. F. Garrett, recording and corresponding secretary; C. M. Robinson, financial secretary; William R. McLean, treasurer; John W. Thomas, clerk, and Louis R. Fechtig, sergeant-at-arms, of whom Garrett, Robinson, and Thomas are still living. The following who were then members are still on the active roll:

C. P. Brown, James G. Boss, William S. Brooks, Charles W. Baker, S. T. Bates, H. T. Brian, J. E. Bright, Martin Barringer, Wallace Brewer, D. W. Beach, John R. Bradley, J. M. Craig, C. M. Cyphers, W. R. Chipley, H. L. Davison, W. B. Donaldson, C. W. Denham, C. Danenhower, Edward Eberbach, John E. Ellegood, J. M. Eggleston, W. C. Fechtig, B. A. Ford, A. S. Fennell, Daniel Grady, John A. Goodrick, H. W. Gray, C. F. Gilmore, W. A. Griswold, C. F. Garrett, T. W. Howard, W. A. Hartman, W. H. Hickman, G. W. Howland, Simeon Johnston, James Kane, E. H. Laws, E. N. Lansdale, G. A. R. McNeir, A. J. McGuiggan, William McFarlane, Samuel E. Mullan, O. F. Mattingly, W. W. Maloney, James M. Maloney, A. T. Maupin, J. P. Morse, A. P. Marston, W. W. McCullom, John R. McBride, J. H. O'Brien, J. W. Palmer, Morris Pigott, C. M. Robinson, W. R. Ramsey, F. A. Rhoderick, J. M. A. Spottswood, W. C. Sefton, J. L. Sinn, L. P. Sutor, W. H. Sweeney, M. V. B. Stevens, Oliver Shaw, J. A. Scott, E. L. Scott, Stanley Snodgrass, G. Harry Stone, Clayton Stanford, W. M. Stuart, W. H. Towers, H. C. Tarleton, R. B. Topham, Luther Woodward, R. H. White, Nicholas Watkins, and James L. Welty.

But there are many on the former roll and not on the later one who are not dead. Among these are Samuel W. Curriden, who is a business man of the city; Allen Coffin, who was practicing law up on Nantucket at last accounts; August Donath, who is a Pension Office clerk; Ed DeCaindry, who is working in Albany; J. H. L. Eager, who is a patent attorney, I think; M. C. Foss, who is a War Department clerk; E. T. Fletcher, who is business manager of the Post; Thomas Fealy, who is a groceryman; D. K. Hackman, who is a coal dealer; M. D. Helm, who is a dealer in printers' supplies in New York; J. J. Higgins, who is a G. P. O. clerk; Maurice Joyce, now a photolithographer; R. W. Kerr, a War Department clerk; W. Marden King, a watchman; W. A. Linton, another coal dealer: Glendour Medairy, who is in Lansing, Mich.; Ed Morgan, who is in Pittsburg; E. L. Marriott, who is in Baltimore; E. W. Oyster, a Department clerk; H. G. Otis, who is unmentionable; B. S. Platt, who is a Senate clerk; J. W. Sterner, who is one of the proprietors of the Patent Office; W. G. Spottswood, who is a Department clerk; T. S. Slentz, who is in the Hampton Soldiers' Home; T. B. Taylor, who is supposed to be in Cumberland, Md.; E. B. Tuttle, who was in Philadelphia at last accounts; E. H. Twombley, who is the big dog of the Equitable Building Association; Adelbert McLean, who is in Baltimore, if living, and Levi Nagle, a Department clerk.

* * * *

John D. Mets, of the Fifth Division, is lying in Sibley Hospital very sick with typhoid fever. A subscription is being taken up for his benefit, and it is said in his behalf that he never passed a subscription paper by nor gave less than 50 cents. Such a man is entitled to our most substantial sympathy.

* * * *

"Ex G. P. O. Employe" writes to me from Philadelphia to propound this question:

"Did Mr. Garfield, as Congressman, make the statement that the workingman could live on 13 cents a day when wages were reduced in the G. P. O. under the Vance bill?"

I never heard before that Mr. Garfield had said so on any occasion.

* * * *

A good, healthy "kick" is exhilarating even if there is not the slightest ground for it. A friend of mine filed one with me the other day.

"I think the convention," said he, "was about the biggest failure, the worst managed thing I ever saw pulled off."

"Do you have reference to the business done by the convention?" I asked.

"No, the way the entertainments were managed," said he.

"Tell me about it," said I. "I am looking for something hot to throw into the Entertainment Committee."

"Well, to begin," said he, "that excursion given by Baltimore Union. I wanted to go on that the worst way, but was told it was only for the select few—the delegates, ex-delegates, and visitors."

"I believe that is true. Baltimore did not think that the accommodations were sufficient for our entire union and her own, and so she limited the invitations, in doing which she cut out her own people to the same extent that she did ours. But nobody was turned down who went over. Besides, while everybody thinks that Baltimore heaped everlasting glory on herself on that day, if there were any shortcomings our committee was not to blame, for it did not come under their jurisdiction."

"Well, take the River View excursion. I know one man who could not get his dinner, even though he was willing to pay for it."

"That might easily have happened, with the great numbers who were there."

"And there was Ex-Delegates' day—but I won't say anything about that."

"No, don't," said I. "As the ex-delegates put up $10 each and took one day's entertainment on their own shoulders, which was equivalent to a gift of $1,000 to the Union, I hardly think they are a legitimate subject of criticism."

"Then there was the carriage ride and feed at Heurich's—I wanted to go to Heurich's, but was told I couldn't."

"Not everybody could go in the carriages," said I, "for there were not enough carriages procurable, but everybody was perfectly free to go to the brewery, for there were food and booze there enough for everybody."

"Well, I've been to a good many conventions, but I think this was the worst managed I ever saw—that's all that I have to say on the subject."

Thinking that he ought to have his say where everybody will hear it, I have set forth his "kick" for the benefit of present and future generations. But as the entertainment was really devised with a view to providing for the enjoyment of the visitors to the city, and they, to a man and woman, expressed the greatest delight with everything, I suppose the committee are willing to stand for the few homepeople "kicks" that have been registered.

* * * *

The Times has labored to show that the employes of the Government Printing Office took the oath of office prescribed by the authorities with great reluctance, in which there is not the slightest truth. It is not the labor organizations of this country that are the disloyal agents that are tending to subvert republican institutions, but other and wealthier aggregations which have the fullest sympathy of papers like the Times. No employe of the Government Printing Office could have the slightest objection to taking an obligation that every official of the Government takes, from the President of the United States down, and which has not been administered to them heretofore only because of the supposed unimportance of per diem employes in our system of government.

* * * *

Don't take the safety pins out of your delegatorial aspirations for several months yet. Expectations indulged nine months in advance have failed of fruition.

* * * *

I met Joe Silverberg, of the Library Branch, the other day.

"I hear you have a big deficit," he said.

"I—no, I have money in the bank," I replied.

"I mean the Convention Committee," said he.

"I was not a member of the Convention Committee," I answered. "But they have no deficit, I am told, but, on the contrary, have kept within the appropriation."

This shows that even people who work in the Library of Congress do not know everything.

* * * *

Somebody told me that there was an interview in the New York Sun of last Saturday with one "Lacey," supposed to be George A. Tracy, in San Francisco, about the Philippine government printing office, in which he stated that the army officers, who are in supreme control, were so much opposed to anything savoring of trades unionism that he had to give up the union or his job, and he preferred to sacrifice the job. Whether I have the right of the story or not, that is the history of army and navy officers. Regarding everybody as yellow dogs who do not hold commissions or powerful positions, they have an especial enmity for trades unions. A little while ago a cavalry colonel told us through the newspapers how he would ride down strikers with his troops if he were called on to quell a strike, with all the zest he would have in hunting wild beasts. The navy officers are equally zealous in showing their hatred and contempt for all who toil, and are much better fitted by education and instincts to guard and control convicts than free American citizens, having no more qualifications for managing navy-yards and similar works than they have for exploiting mines and getting out sawlogs and being entirely dependent upon the civilian superintendents and foremen for every practical detail. "But these people know how to handle the enlisted men of the army and navy," says an admirer. And they evidently think that workingmen are the same class as compose the enlisted men of the army and navy, to be treated in the same way and to be controlled by the same methods.

* * * *

R. M. Chesire, of the Second Division, is one of our "literary fellers," writing much entertaining matter for the city papers and syndicating in into the best papers of the country. It is not a new thing with him, however, for he is a writer of much experience and the range of his subjects is a wide one.

A. F. BLOOMER.

Treasury Division.

The bonds are running this month.

Ira Taylor and wife are spending a month at Lake Placid, Adirondack Mountains.

Miss Nellie Blair, of the press room, is on leave. She will be absent for fifteen days.

George Griffith, binder, and Joseph H. Byrnes, pressman, returned from leave this week.

Misses Grace L. Dubant and Mary E. Mangan, of the folding room, are taking their annual vacation.

Chester Hassel, who has been detailed here for several weeks running a ruling machine, returned to the main office last week.

Col. Wm. A. Whitney is taking his annual leave. The Colonel is sojourning in the mountains of West Virginia at Berkeley Springs.

Misses Ellen A. Featherstone, Annie F. Leonard, Lucy Morrison, and Bertie Martin returned from leave recently. All report a splendid time.

James Willis had his wheel stolen several days ago. He reported the matter to the police and the next day they recovered it and returned it to him. Lucky Jim.

The following compositors have returned from leave recently: Raymond E. Gery, H. J. Gaylor, C. M. Evans, B. F. Hasson, Theophilus McClure, and T. F. McKeon.

W. A. DeGroot is on thirty-days' leave. On account of the protracted illness of his wife he will probably remain at his home in Virginia. Mrs. DeGroot has been confined to her bed during the past six months.

SUBSTITUTE.

FOR THE BEST--
READY-TO-WEAR
—FOR—
Man, Woman and Child
AT THE MOST REASONABLE PRICES,
CONSULT—
Parker, Bridget & Co.,
Washington's Leading Outfitters, ...
Pa. Ave. and 9th St. N. W.

Union Made Cigars
OF THE FINEST QUALITY.
Pluck 5¢ | OFFTE'S BOUQUET 10¢
AFTER DINNER 5¢ | DEER HEAD 10¢
Henry T. Offterdinger, Manufacturer
504 Ninth St., N.W.

ARLINGTON BREWING CO.
ROSSLYN, VA.
BEER ALE PORTER
The Finest Productions of Skilled Union Labor. Union Label on Every Bottle and Keg of Our Goods.

The following Agreement between the Retail Liquor Dealers' Association, of Washington, D. C., and the Central Labor Union, affiliated with the A. F. of L., has been consummated and entered into by both organizations, and the same will take effect at once:

THIS AGREEMENT, made and entered into this 30th day of June, 1903, by and between a duly-constituted committee representing the Retail Liquor Dealers' Association, of Washington, D. C., party of the first part, and a like duly-constituted committee representing the Central Labor Union, of Washington, D. C., party of the second part—

WITNESSETH: That the party of the first part, for and in consideration of the provisions, stipulations, and covenants hereinafter contained, covenants and agrees with the party of the second part as follows, to wit:

FIRST. That the party of the first part covenants and agrees and does hereby covenant and agree, that it will employ Union labor exclusively of those crafts or callings now organized and allied with the Central Labor Union, or which may be hereafter organized and affiliated with said body, and will, as far as it is able, promote the interests of organized labor.

Second. That when employing help they will employ none but members of the Hotel and Restaurant Employes' International Alliance and Bartenders' International League of America.

THIRD. That when purchasing goods they will at all times give preference to those goods bearing the Union label, and will discriminate against and discourage the use of non-union made goods in clothing, hats, shirts, and all wearing apparel. That they will purchase Union hats, shirts, and all wearing apparel. That they will purchase Union-made cigars, and, as far as possible, exclusively use the same.

The party of the second part, for and in consideration of the provisions, stipulations, and conditions hereinbefore contained, covenants and agrees, and does hereby covenant and agree, that they will patronize none other but those saloons which employ Union labor and which display in their windows or over the bar the duly-authorized Union sign.

The parties of the first and second parts mutually covenant and agree, and do hereby covenant and agree, that no breach of any one of the covenants herein contained shall be construed as a waiver of the entire agreement.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have hereunto set their hands and seals the day and year first hereinbefore written.

E. J. RATIGAN,
JNO. HAMERSTROM,
CHAS. W. WINSLOW,
MILFORD SPOHN,
WILLIAM SILVER
Committee Central Labor Union.

E. L. JORDAN, Chairman;
MYRA FISHER,
THEO. G STONER,
JOHN J. MEEHAN,
FRED WAGNER,
Committee Liquor Dealers' Association.

[SEAL]

CHAS. W. WINSLOW,
Secretary Central Labor Union.

Our Strictly One-Price Methods Insure Legitimate Reductions

Our Annual Mid-Summer Half-Price Clearance Sale
IS NOW IN FULL BLAST

Twice a year—mid-summer and mid-winter—we make a clean sweep of all except solid blues and blacks Men's and Boy's Suits. We do this in order to prevent any possibility of an accumulation of out-of-date patterns or styles, and we insure an absolute clearance by cutting prices CLEAN IN TWO. The sale this summer is more important than usual, as the long delayed warm weather left us with a larger stock on hand than we have had for many years. Thus you have a fuller and more complete assortment of patterns to select from at exactly half the proper prices. That you may be sure there is no exaggeration about this reduction we have left the original price tickets on every garment. The stock includes every variety of fashionable clothing for men and boys, in medium and light weights, all well-made goods, properly tailored and of correct cut.

Men's $ 7 50 Suits now.....	$3 75	All $2 50 and $3 Trousers...	$1 90
Men's 10 00 Suits now.....	5 00	All 3 50 and 4 Trousers....	2 90
Men's 12 50 Suits now.....	6 25
Men's 15 00 Suits now.....	7 50	Boys' $15 00 Long Pants Suits	$7 50
Men's 17 50 Suits now.....	8 75	Boys' 12 50 Long Pants Suits	6 25
Men's 20 00 Suits now.....	10 00	Boys' 10 00 Long Pants Suits	5 00
Men's 22 50 Suits now.....	11 25	Boys' 7 50 Long Pants Suits	3 75
Men's 25 00 Suits now.....	12 00	Boys' 5 00 Long Pants Suits	2 50

No Goods Charged at Sale Prices. Alterations, if any, will be charged at cost.
Our Guarantee back of every garment on sale.

THE BIEBER-KAUFMAN CO.
Masculine Outfitters from Childhood to Age
901-909 EIGHTH STREET S. E.

Announcement

In announcing the arrival of my fabrics for this season, I desire to say that the selection comprises Styles that are Exclusive, and represent the production of mills at home and abroad.
I am showing an exceptionally large and well assorted line of Business suitings in Blacks, Blues, Fancy Cheviots, and Worsteds. My line of Trouserings is the largest and most complete that I have ever shown. I am very desirous of securing early orders before the line is broken, therefore advise immediate selection. Very respectfully,

T. E. GILBERT. Importer and Tailor
818 F Street Northwest
ONLY UNION TAILORS EMPLOYED.

PRINTERS and Union Members.—For First-Class Meals, Eat at
VICTOR CAFE, 3 H St. N. W.
ALBION, Eleventh and E Sts. N. W.
ERIN, Cor. N. J. Ave. and D St, N. W.
U. S. LUNCH ROOM, 320 12th St. N. W.
ALBERT T. SCANLAND, Prop.
Open Day and Night. Best Service.

"Everyone knows how to find fault." No one has yet found fault with the
RELIABLE
The Gas Range for Summer Use
Washington Gas Light Co.
GAS APPLIANCE EXCHANGE

Many of the good deeds men forget to do appear on tombstones.

It's as hard for some to suspect evil as it is for others to suspect good.

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES
OF
Columbia Typographical Union,
No. 101.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, 423 G ST. N. W.
Office Hours: 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.; 5 to 7 P. M.

OFFICERS.

JOE M. JOHNSON.....President
DAN C. VAUGHAN.....Vice-President
WM. M. GARRETT.....Secretary
JOHN R. BERG.....Treasurer
FRANK BATES.....Sergeant-at-Arms
N. C. STOOPS.....Doorkeeper

TRUSTEES—J. E. Bright, chairman; W. L. Gutelius, Chas. C. Thompson, Joe M. Johnson, and Wm. M. Garrett.

DELEGATES TO CENTRAL LABOR UNION—J. H. Babcock, chairman; J. B. Dickman, Hugh Everett, Theodore Gerber, and C. E. Dietrich.

DELEGATES TO ALLIED TRADES COUNCIL—E. E. Calhoon, chairman; T. F. Hall, and J. P. Garner.

AUDITORS—C. W. Radley, chairman; H. G. Brown, and J. W. Carter.

COMMITTEES.

BUSINESS—Zach T. Jenkins, chairman; C. B. Yater, M. J. Maher, T. C. Parsons, and R. W. Burnside.

NOMINATIONS—W. N. Brockwell, chairman; F. A. Kidd, H. O'Donnell, Frank M. Hatley, and R. E. Stenner.

LAWS—Chas. H. Ennis, chairman; Raymond Gery, and Dexter S. Hussey.

FINANCE—John A. Huston, chairman; J. M. McLaughlin, and R. F. Chisholm.

PRINTING—T. A. Bynum, chairman; Milo Shanks, and Ed. J. Hall.

GRIEVANCE—Clint O. Price, chairman; Chas. S. Gunn, Philip Nachman, David J. Snyder, and E. Y. Fisher.

ENTERTAINMENT—T. L. Jones, chairman; J. R. Purvis, T. J. Fitzwilliam, Miss Nellie Theaker, Miss Anna Wilson, B. E. Harrison, and W. J. Harris.

CONFERENCE—J. L. Holland, chairman; D. J. Hegarty, and W. B. Shaw.

LIBRARY—Clyde J. Sheriff, chairman; A. E. Ogg, and Harry Essex.

RELIEF—Joseph G. Stelle, chairman; Wm. S. Schinnerer and E. P. Cummins.

EIGHT-HOUR—F. C. Roberts, chairman; F. B. Crown, F. D. Seiffert, Jeff Newlon, and S. H. Willey.

MEMORIAL SERVICE—S. J. Gompers, chairman; Philip S. Steele, J. E. Goodkey, J. B. Dickman, and C. B. Yater.

AMOS J. CUMMINGS MEMORIAL—J. T. Rowe, chairman; Charles T. Graff, and T. A. Bynum.

CHAIRMEN.

First Division—R. L. Mabrey.
Second Division—W. N. Goldstein.
Third Division—Burr Williams.
Fourth Division—Charles H. Gove.
Fifth Division—Charles E. Dietrich.
Sixth Division—E. M. Nevils.
Job Room—J. K. Davison.
Record Clerks' Division—H. G. Brown
First Division, Night—Allen Cowles.
Night Proof Room—E. H. Thomas.
Specification Room—E. A. Hutchison.
Official Gazette—Jere Walsh.
Document Proof Room—Jas. R. Armstrong.
Treasury Division—W. Brice Coston.
Interior Division—C. K. Stribling.
State Division—J. B. Dickman.
Navy Department Division—Albert E. Ogg.
War Department Division—Wm. K. Miller.
Agricultural Division—Henry P. Slaughter.
Library Division—H. V. Bisbee.
Weather Bureau—L. H. Emmons.
Morning Post—J. H. Broderick.
Evening Star—Joseph C. Whyte.
Evening Times—T. C. Parsons.
Law Reporter—J. R. Johnson.
Globe Printing Co.—R. A. Wilson.
Judd & Detweiler's—A. B. Barringer.
Wilkens Printing Co.—T. N. Surguy.
Pearson's—T. F. Monahan.
National Publishing Co.—E. C. Owen.
McGill & Wallace's—J. M. Watts.
Byron S. Adams'—R. B. Boucher.
Army and Navy Register—C. H. Draeger.
General Postoffice—Joseph Williams.
Sudwarth's—F. R. Adams.

AROUND THE PRINTERIES.

Down Town.

Billy Seltzer, well known to the old-timers down town in the newspaper business, now of Philadelphia, was recently made foreman of the North American of that city.

The many friends of Chas. W. Winslow, the popular secretary of the Central Labor Union, will be pleased to learn that he is recovering from the heat stroke he received last week.

E. W. Patton, of THE TRADES UNIONIST, left to-day for a trip West, where he will attend the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Union Printers Home, at Colorado Springs, Colo.

C. I. Leonard ("Spike") has returned from Chicago, where he has been since last spring. Mr. Leonard reports the Washington contingent as all doing well, Chicago being a good summer town for printers.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

First Division.

Charles W. Henry will take in the Cape May trip on Saturday.

John B. Miller was transferred to the Interior Branch last Saturday.

W. A. Ball was reinstated last Monday and assigned to this room.

Louis C. Vogt has been transferred to the State Department Branch.

Charles Warren returned to work last Saturday, reporting having had one of the greatest vacations of his life. He visited River View, Wildwood, and was a permanent spectator at all games of the Church Baseball League.

V. B. Pinkston has returned from Coney Island much improved in health.

The friends of Mr. Thos. Waterman extend their sympathy in the death of his youngest child.

J. C. Shinnen has returned to work after spending a month at his home at Atlantic City, N. J.

Harry B. Judson, after a two-months' leave, has returned to work greatly improved in health.

It is with pleasure that I announce the candidacy of Vice-President Dan C. Vaughan for delegate honors next year.

The wife of Oscar Nelson, who has been very sick with pneumonla, is getting better slowly, but not yet out of danger.

Charles Groome, one of the crack shots of the District, is at Sea Girt shooting on the National Guard team. Good luck, Charles.

M. N. Serrano, writing from Atlantic City, says he is disgusted with the place, as you have got to wear an overcoat, and he left his at home.

Miss Blanche Keefe, of Syracuse, N. Y., has been visiting Edw. McCormick and sister. She was very much pleased with the many places which she visited during her stay.

Corporal Edwin Irey, of the United States Marine Corps, a son of Chas. W. Irey, of this division, started yesterday for the Philippine. He has been stationed at Brooklyn, N. Y., since the U. S. S. Iowa went out of commission. He had been connected with the Iowa during her cruise in southern waters.

Harry Templar says: "The Reliance ought to win as she had a Barr on board." He also tells about a terrible railroad accident, where three men were standing on the track and the Congressional Limited was coming down the line at an awful speed, when the men, seeing their danger, started off, and just as they thought they were safe the clock struck two.

CLOTILDE.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Second Division.

W. V. Parshall has been away now over sixty days. It is rumored that he intends to go into business at his home in Detroit.

T. Frank Hall is the only member of this chapel going on leave this week. He is going to take his family to the Eastern Sho'.

It has been rumored that since Chairman Goldstein's return he sees double, owing to a decision of his in regard to measuring some matter.

On Monday Mr. Belcher was relieved of the office of chairman by the regular chairman's return. The next day he was recompensed by receiving his permanent appointment.

A letter received from Clyde G. Hopkins last week, dated McEwen, Tenn., says he has regained his health and will return to work the 1st of October. "Sis" left here about March 1 last, broken down in health.

Mr. Razey informed this correspondent last week that he was going to Canada to spend his leave. (That is the country where Greene and Gaynor are now residing.) A member of this division saw him at Harper's Ferry Sunday.

Frank L. McUmber, of the Hawkeye State, went up into Pennsylvania to spend his leave with relatives. He had the misfortune to contract typhoid fever, and has been in Sibley Hospital over ten days. His speedy recovery is hoped for.

Captain Brian last week probably took acknowledgments of more people at one time to their oath of allegiance to the United States than any other civil officer ever did. Over 3,000 employes appeared before him and "swore or affirmed."

The sporty (?) element of the printers should read "Col. Monroe's Doctrine" in last Sunday's Post on "Gambling." He shows conclusively the utter folly of any one but a professional indulging in this pastime. The outsider who bets on the horse races or stock market pays 90 per cent of his money to the touts and bookies or to the brokers and gets no return. The race meet here always leaves a broken crowd, a suicide or attempted suicide or two, and numerous protracted sprees, followed by resignation and ruin.

We take off our hat in obeisance to Mrs. B. A. Wolfe. Benny brought this correspondent some delicious cheese straws, toothsome cocoanut cookies, and nice home made preserves last week which were made by his wife. No wonder Wolfe looks so sleek and fat.

Mr. Branham came to the office the other morning, looking as if he might have been walking the floor all night administering paregoric. His eyes were dull, his hair looked unkempt, his tie did not fit, the extreme end of his nether garment was waving in the breeze. Force of habit probably brought him to the office.

When we were all called up to swear to our allegiance to the Constitution last week, the question was freely asked, "How does the Constitution start?" Every one who gave an answer said, "When in the course of human events," etc., which is the beginning of the Declaration of Independence. Read up, gentlemen of the art preservative.

The committee appointed by this chapel to see that we got more tables to set seems to have a retroactive effect. Of late we set exclusively ichthyology, ethnology, geology, archæology, pathology, ornithology, etc., until we can hardly talk plain English. Messrs. T. Frank Hall, Col. H. F. J. Drake, and F. T. Razey are on the "Table Committee."

NEWS.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Fifth Division.

H. P. McKevitt was transferred to the Night Force last Thursday.

Walter V. Smith was reinstated last Thursday and is located at frame 43, this room.

John Openshaw is boilerman while Charles Danenhower and the boiler are absent on leave.

John Quinn, who was reported sick with malaria last week, returned to work several days ago.

Miss Christian MacNeil and Frank M. Sweet, both of Washington, will be married on the 16th inst. Frank works in the Third Division, but he is known by many in this room.

Mrs. Edw. E. Connor and daughter, who have been residing in Washington the past two weeks, returned to Baltimore, their home, the first of the week, and Ed will now resume his daily trips on the B. & O.

John D. Mets, jr., has been confined in the Sibley Hospital for many weeks, suffering with typhoid fever. His old associates of the Fifth will be pleased to know that he is convalescing and will soon be out again.

Dr. E. A. Abernethy, lately of the Agricultural Branch, but at one time a typo in this division, opened an office at First and I streets, Dr. Chadwick's old stand. "Doc." has our best wishes in his chosen profession.

☞R. E. King has no wife and children, as was stated in these columns last week. Mr. King still paddles his canoe alone. In other words, our King is without a kingdom. Your correspondent got pied up in his notes.

The latest labor-saving device is a brick-laying machine, invented by John Henry Knight, of Barfield, England, who claims that a set of (three) workmen can lay from 500 to 600 bricks an hour. The first man spreads a bed of mortar, the second lays the bricks simply side by side, leaving a small space between them, and the machine then gives them their correct position and thus does all the expert work by the third man simply turning the crank.

RAN.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Fish Are Biting.

A party of boys from the Bureau of Engraving and Printing returned from Chesapeake Beach last Sunday loaded down with fine specimens of the finny tribe. Fish are biting fine now and large numbers will journey there on Labor Day to enjoy the sport. A nice thing about Chesapeake Beach is the facilities afforded for picnicing—tables and plenty of water being provided for the free use of excursionists.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

The "Man's Store."

Suits for a Half of Their Worth

It's a case of getting $2 for $1 on every suit you buy at this Half-Price Sale. Seeing is believing

$10.90 Suits.....$5.45
$15.00 Suits.....$7.50
$18.50 Suits.....$9.25
$20.00 Suits.....$10.00

D. J. KAUFMAN, 1005-7 Pa. Ave.

Woodward & Lothrop,
DEPARTMENT STORE.
TENTH, ELEVENTH, AND F STS. N. W.

GIDDINGS & STEELE,
Exclusive
Floor Coverings
813 PENNSYLVANIA AVE. N.W.

HERE AND THERE.

While so many of the high-grade tailors of this city are waging a hopeless battle with the tailor's union, it is gratifying to laboring men to see a firm of the standing of T. E. Gilbert refuse to join forces with those houses who cater to the same class of trade in opposing the wage-earner's just demands. Mr. Gilbert said he would just as soon think of retiring from business as to send his garments to sweatshops and considers the union label a badge of honor. While he is now enjoying the cream of the union trade, this is not wholly due to the strike conditions, as his goods are sold on merit in conjunction with fair prices.

The old days of legitimate complaint that the manufacturers of union-made cigars were not putting the material into their products are now gone never to be resurrected. There is now no excuse for a union man to insult his mouth with a tenement-house-made cigar, as there are several brands of 5-cent blue label goods on the market which compare favorably with the 10-cent grade. As Columbia Union, at least, has a penalty of $5 on users of non-union cigars it is safe to predict that none of its 2,000 members patronize those brands which do not bear the blue label. If the balance of the 80 unions comprising the Central Labor Union would pass similar legislation the non-union product would be purchased with the same degree of confidence that the policeman shows when waiting at the saloon's side door.

And now comes the union-label suspender. A glance at the Labor Day issue of the American Federationist demonstrates that there is hardly an article of merchandise manufactured which does not bear the insignia of labor. Union men should instruct the members of their families in making purchases to insist on union-made articles, as this method will demonstrate in a forcible manner to the merchant that the consumer of his wares is eager to assist brother unionists in their battle for fair wage conditions, besides showing the strength of the labor movement in Washington, which is sadly underestimated by the average merchant.

A member of Columbia Union who is employed in the G. P. O. remarks that "the thirty-day leave of absence is a delusion and a snare." How many of the boys started away with the full thirty-day's pay in advance tucked snugly in their inside pockets failed, in their riotous disposal of their roll, to make provision for the two weary long weeks that expire before the insignificant appearing ten days' pay is handed to them to meet the deferred gas, milk and grocery bills, and the house rent which accumulated while away? The wise will select some good savings institution like the Union Savings Bank and make preparation in future to to avoid the aftermath of the annual vacation—the usual "hard-up" two months.

It is really a pleasure to spend a few moments in the sunny presence of a gentleman, and doubly so when the surroundings are as attractive as the display made by the hustling young firm of Giddings & Steele, located next to Parker Bridget & Co., on the avenue. Mr. Giddings, in conversation with the writer, says that he will have more floor coverings in the homes of union people this winter than any other house in the city, and bases his assertion on the ground of knowing what union people want to make their homes attractive, securing the article, and putting the price on it that puts it within reach of the workingman, while enabling the firm to employ union labor.

Pertinent Paragraphs.

New York Press.]

A Cincinnati milkman took poison recently and his doctor evened up old scores by pumping him out.

It's almost as hard for some men to live up to their reputations as it is for others to live theirs down.

It is easy to induce a friend to laugh at your jokes, but he doesn't always do it in a satisfactory manner.

The Savings possible at
S. Kann, Sons & Co.
8th St.-THE BUSY CORNER-Pa. Ave.
are such as may be counted in the pocket. At the same time styles and qualities are unexcelled.

WHERE THE HALF-TONES ARE MADE
THE NATIONAL ENGRAVING COMPANY.
INCORPORATED.
14th St. and Pa. Ave. Phone 1679 Main.

Hewke, PHOTOGRAPHER
56 of the ex-delegates and committees patronized me for good work.
Studio,
430 7th St., N. W. Washington, D. C.

J. E. BONINI'S
BUFFET AND CAFE,
727-729 N. Capitol Street.
MAERZEN BEER ON TAP.
A first-class Lunch Counter. Sea food in season. Union throughout.

Cole & Swan
Large assortment of Watches, Diamonds, and Jewelry (we make and repair anything in this line).
"Square Dealing" our motto.
21 H Street N. W.

D. STRAUSS,
Clothier, Hatter and Furnisher
441 Seventh Street N. W.,
Washington, D. C.

Cabin John Bridge
MOST BEAUTIFUL PLEASURE RESORT
IN AMERICA
A Wealth of Amusements
Band Concerts Every Evening and Sunday Afternoons
Beauty Health Pleasure
Union Men Only Engaged
TAKE METROPOLITAN CAR

THE RIGGS NATIONAL BANK
Of Washington, D. C.
Capital - - - $1,000,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits, 1,000,000
Exchange on England, Ireland, France and Germany. Letters of credit available in all foreign parts. Bank Collections. Orders for investments. Stocks and Bonds.

Steam Cleaning and Dye Works
(Formerly New York Dye House)
I do the most perfect Cleaning and Dyeing at most reasonable rates. Goods called for and returned.
C. W. MARGGRAF, Proprietor.
631 D Street, N. W.

GEO. W. BARRY COAL CO.
Coal in any quantity at the right price and Wood also.
14-16 H N.E. One minute from G. P. O. Telephone East 234.

For a Short While
The entire cost to join the Tribe of Ben Hur will be $2.50—$1.00 to the medical examiner and $1.50 for your certificate. A postal for further information.
HENRY E. CROUCH, Deputy, 424 Fourth St. N. E.
ALBERT P. E. DOYLE, Scribe, 21 O St. N. E.

FURNISHED ROOMS
AT
The Orleans
1203 F STREET NORTHWEST
MRS. R. COMMELIN, Prop.

MACKENZIE BROS.
WHOLESALE HATTERS
639 D Street Northwest
Ask your dealer for a Mackenzie Union-Made Hat.

M. S. JOHNSON,
Foreign and Domestic Woolens now ready for inspection
SUITS $25 UP. UNION SHOP.
1435 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

THOMAS WALSH
Formerly "Steve" Caldwell's.
Whiskies and Cigars
Specialties: MELVALE AND SHERWOOD
COOL LAGER BEER ON DRAUGHT.
BILLIARDS AND POOL
Billiards, 40c. per hour. Pool, 2½c. per cue.
THOMAS WALSH
407 Tenth St. Northwest

E. F. PRICE & CO.
Strongest flat opening blank book made.
Ruling and Binding of every description.
A Specialty of FINE BANK WORK.
BOOKBINDERS 1108 E St. N. W.

G. P. O. BICYCLE REPAIR CO.
ARTHUR D. BENNETT
MANAGER
Wheels stored, cleaned, and repaired (per month)..... $1.00
Wheels stored and cleaned (per month)..... .75
Wheels stored (per month)..... .50
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty
Bicycle Sundries
Salesroom, 33 H St. N. W.

☞300 1-lb. Loaves to the Barrel.
Every Laboring Man
—requires pure, wholesome, nourishing food such as is made of—
Cream Blend Flour
It not only makes THE BEST Bread, Rolls, Cake and Pastry, but more of them than other brands—therefore it's the cheapest that money can buy.
☞Your Grocer will supply you.
B. B. EARNSHAW & BRO.,
Wholesalers,
1105, 1107, 1109 11th Street S. E.
1000 and 1002 M Street S. E.

John Mitchell's Book
"ORGANIZED LABOR."

AGENTS WANTED!
Every phase of this tremendous problem discussed by the greatest labor leader in the world. Every Union man buys at sight; also employers and all reading people. Big terms; also $1500 in cash prizes for agents. Workers clearing $5.00 to $15.00 daily. We are the exclusive publishers. Address quick for terms and territory
American Book and Bible House, 146 N. Tenth St., Phila., Pa.

T. HOLLANDER
Men's Furnishings
Hats and Shoes
COR. N. CAPITOL AND H STS.
Opposite Government Printing Office

DO YOU USE TOILET PAPER?
If so, investigate the service furnished by
R. P. Andrews & Co.,
INCORPORATED
627-629 LOUISIANA AVE. N. W.
THE WHOLESALE PAPER HOUSE
IT WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

HOTEL FRITZ REUTER
Rathskeller
and
Restaurant.
COR. PA. AVE. AND JOHN MARSHALL PLACE
Phone: East 388.

Telephone 3662-Y
AMREIN'S
FAMOUS ICE CREAM
HAS NO EQUAL
One Dollar per Gallon
Stores, 1426 and 1810 7th St. N. W.

B. F. WARNER
FINE WINES and LIQUORS
BLUE LABEL CIGARS
1219 E Street Northwest

FOR LUNCH
TRY THE
Pure Dairy Lunch
935 D Street Northwest

American Ice Co.
1437 Penna. Ave. N. W.

THE UNION
SAVINGS BANK
BOND BUILDING
Cor. 14th St. and New York Ave. N.W.

Three Per Cent Interest
on Savings Accounts.

Branch Deposit Agency at
T. A. ROVER'S STORE,
Cor. North Capitol and H Sts.
OPEN EVERY MONDAY AND TUESDAY
FROM 4 TO 5 P. M.

When in doubt buy at
HOUSE & HERRMANN,
FURNITURE, CARPETS, DRAPERIES, ETC.
N. E. Corner Seventh and I Streets N. W.

Don't Buy a Hat
Without the Label. .
And See that It Is Sewed In.

Don't Patronize a Dealer Who Has Loose Labels on Hand and Offers to Put One in Your Hat.
LOOSE LABELS
In Retail Stores
ARE COUNTERFEITS.

The John B. Stetson Co., of Philadelphia, Pa., is a non-union concern.

Phone Main 2132
THE HUB
OUTFITTERS AND HATTERS
Penna. Avenue and 14th Street
C. H. REIZENSTEIN Washington, D. C.

J. GEORGE SMITH
(Formerly a member of the firm of R. P. Andrews & Co.)
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
PAPER AND STATIONERY
My old friends and patrons from J. C. Addison's time to the present will be welcome. I can supply all your needs at lowest prices consistent with quality.
626 E STREET NORTHWEST

EDWIN F. PRICE
(Late member of the firm of E. F. Price & Co.)
Bookbinder
Ruling and Binding of every description. Strongest Flat-Opening Blank Book Made. A Specialty of Fine Bank Work.
Darby Bldg., 506-508 Fourteenth St. N. W.

St. Asaph Commission Rooms,
Old Established and Reliable.
Trains leave Thirteen and one-half street and Pennsylvania avenue—Alexandria, Mt. Vernon, and Washington Railway—daily at 12.45, 1.05, 1.25, 2, 2.30, 3.02, and 3.30. Return .39, 4.24, 5.02, 5.58, and at various intervals.

The Hub Furniture Co.,
The Stores that Save You Money.
OUR MOTTO—The Best Values in Furniture and Carpets at the Lowest Prices.
Cash or Credit.
HUB FURNITURE CO.,
(Formerly Wash B. Williams)
Corner Seventh and D Streets N. W.

A. & P. BEST ELGIN BUTTER, 27 CENTS.
Finest Grades of Teas and Coffees.
Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company,
Cor. 7th and E.

CELTIC CLUB WHISKY
Our Specialty. Never Changes. Once Tried You'll Always Use It. Take No Substitute.
Ports and Sherries for family use, Quarts, 50 and 75 cents. All makes of Beer. Leading brands of Cigars. Ales and Porters on draught the year round.
JOHN CONNOR
New Jersey Ave. and G Sts. N. W.

J. WILLIAM LEE,
Undertaker and Livery, . . .
322 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

CHESAPEAKE BEACH
Only Salt Water Resort Near Washington
MAMMOTH BOARD WALK
LINED WITH AMUSEMENTS
Finest Salt-water Bathing, Fishing, Crabbing, Sailing, Dancing.
HALEY'S BAND
See Schedule under Railroad Time Tables in all Daily Papers.

Union Directory.

TO SECRETARIES: Please notify this office of any change in officers' addresses, time or place of meeting. Corrections will be made quarterly.

American Federation of Labor—Headquarters, Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Sam'l Gompers, President. Frank Morrison, Secretary.

Allied Printing Trades Council meets last Thursday in the month at Typographical Temple. J. A. Wiedman, Secretary-Treasurer, 15 I street northeast.

Allied Label League meets every Friday night at 8 o'clock at 905 E street northwest. C. A. Pfau, Secretary, 905 E street northwest.

Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, Local No. 148, meets second and fourth Thursday evenings at 922 Pa. avenue northwest. Geo. Bakersmith, Secretary, 3315 Brightwood avenue northwest.

Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, Local Union No. 102, meets first and third Wednesdays at Loehl's Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. Wm. H. Whiting, Secretary, 639 K street southwest.

American Society Plate Engravers meets first Saturday in each month at Grand Army Hall. A. C. Ruebsam, Secretary, Bethesda, Montgomery County, Md.

Bakers Union, No. 118, meets first and third Saturday in each month at 430 Eighth street northwest. John G. Schmidt, Secretary and Business Agent, 333 I street s w.

Bakers' Drivers' L. U. No. 33, T. D. I. U. meets first and third Thursday evening of each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Thomas C. Fox, Secretary, 922 Fourth street northeast.

Bartenders' League Local No. 75, meets first and fourth Sunday of each month at 2 p. m. at Macabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. Jere F. McCarthy, Secretary, 1017 Maryland avenue southwest.

Beer Drivers' and Stablemen's Union, No. 234, meets first Sunday of each month at 314 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. A. D. Manger, Secretary, 209 Sixth street southwest.

Bookbinders' Union, No. 4, meets first Tuesday in each month at Typographical Temple. James A. Stockman, Secretary, 735 North Capitol street.

Brewery Workers' Union, No. 118, meets second and last Sunday of the month at 314 Pennsylvania ave. southeast. A. D. Manger, Secretary, 209 Sixth street southwest.

Bricklayers' Union, No. 1, meets second and fourth Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Milford Spohn, Secretary, Typographical Temple.

Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators, and Paperhangers, Local Union, No. 368, meets every Friday night at 430 Eighth street northwest. G. J. Murray, Secretary, 1107 South Carolina avenue southeast.

Cab and Carriage Drivers' Union, No. 486, meets first and third Sundays, at Butler's Hall, 609 C street northwest. W. B. Nelson, Secretary, 922 I street northwest.

Carriage and Wagon Workers' International Union, Local No. 72, of Washington, D. C., meets every Thursday, at Loehl's Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. John H. Brinkman, Secretary, 1729 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Carpet Upholsterers, No. 85, U. I. U., meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at 516 Ninth street northwest. Geo. A. Pinckney, Secretary, 363 Pennsylvania ave. northwest.

Central Labor Union meets every Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Typographical Temple. Charles W. Winslow, Secretary, 425 G street northwest. Residence, 3206 Wisconsin avenue northwest.

Ceramic, Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers and Helpers' International Union, No. 2, meets first and third Thursdays at 609 C street northwest. W. F. Miller, Secretary, 1228 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Cigarmakers' Local Union, No. 110, meets every Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Bielgik's Hall, 737 Seventh street northwest. Henry B. Wissner, Secretary, 3143 Dumbarton avenue.

Columbia Lodge, No. 174, International Association of Machinists, meets every Wednesday night at McCauley's Hall, 209 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. E. L. Adams, Secretary, 600 Ninth street northeast.

Columbia Typographical Union meets third Sunday in each month in Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. W. M. Garrett, Secretary.

Council Allied Building Trades of Central Labor Union meets every Tuesday night at 610 G street notthwest. E. J. Ratigan, Secretary, Room 2, 626 Sixth street northwest.

Douglass Association of Steam Engineers, I. S. U. E., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of the month at 609 F street northwest. J. W. Webb, Secretary, 341 Maryland avenue southwest.

Electrotype Molders and Finishers' Union, No. 17, I. S. and E. U. Charles W. Dean, Secretary.

Federal Labor Union No. 8193, meets fourth Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Miss Emma A. Miller, Secretary, 1011 First street n. w.

Fire Department Employees. P. and B. Union No. 8846, meets every Wednesday morning at 11 a. m., at Union Veterans' Hall, 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. G. Achstetter, Secretary, 206 N. Y. ave. northwest.

Gas Workers' Union No. 10343, Samuel H. Walker, Secretary, 735 Thirteenth street s. e.

Glass Bottle Blowers' Association, Branch 68, Alexandria, Va., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Serepta Hall. Frank Michelbach, Secretary, 803 King street, Alexandria, Va.

Grocery Clerks' Local, No. 533, meets every first and third Thursday of the month at Costello's Hall, cor. Sixth and G. n. w. John D. Schamel, rec. sec., 1540 N. Capitol street.

Hospital Attendants' Protective Union No. 8097, meets first and fourth Saturday nights of each month at Masonic Hall, Anacostia, D. C. C. W. Teates, Secretary, 434 Jackson street, Anacostia, D. C.

Hodcarriers, Brick and Mortar Wheelers' Union No. 9468, meets first and third Monday evenings in each month at Cadets' Armory, 708 O street northwest. Dennis Brown, Secretary, 1237 Fourth street northwest.

Ice Wagon Drivers and Helpers, Local No. 430, meets first and third Tuesdays in each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest (third floor). William Donaldson, Secretary, 812 Seventh street southwest.

International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers. Local Union No. 5, meets every Friday night at Seventh and N streets northwest. Charles E. Barbour, Secretary, 1212 Potomac street northwest.

International Association of Machinists, Headquarters, rooms 402-407 McGill Building, 908-914 G streets northwest. James O'Connell, president; D. Douglass Wilson, vice-president and editor of the Journal; George Preston, Secretary-Treasurer.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.—Headquarters, Rooms 103-104 Corcoran Building. H. W. Sherman, Secretary.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 26, meets every Thursday night at Hotel Royal Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. S. F. Adams, Secretary, 724 Eighteenth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 148, meet every Monday night at 430 Eighth street northwest. H. B. Anderson, Secretary, 807 Eighth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, No. 257, meets every Friday evening at 719 Sixth street n. w. M. G. Bundick, Secretary, 1107 Tenth street n. w.

Interior Marble and Slate Cutters' and Setters' Association, No. 5, meets first and third Wednesday of each month at Arion Hall, 430 Eighth street northwest. George Edmonds, Secretary, 423 Queen street, Alexandria Va.

International Association of Marble Workers No. 33, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at 106 I street northwest. Lew Davis, Secretary, 106 I street northwest.

International Union of Steam Engineers— Local Union No. 99, meets every Wednesday evening at 419 Tenth street northwest. A. W. Leeke, Recording Secretary, Twelfth and B streets northwest.

International Brotherhood of Firemen, Local No. 63, meets every Tuesday night at J. F. Heare's Hall, 404 Eighth street northwest. Louis S. Crown, Secretary. 637 K street northeast.

International Alliance Stage Employees, Local No. 22, meets first and third Sundays of every month at 625 Louisiana avenue northwest. J. Shilling, Secretary, 1208 Bladensburg Road.

Iron Molders' Union, Local No. 215, meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at Masonic Hall, Fourth street and Pennsylvania avenue southeast. Joseph Stewart, Secretary, 3413 N street northwest.

I. U. S. E., Hoisting and Portable, Local 77, meets every Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, Heare's Hall, 404 Eighth street northwest. W. H. Radcliffe, Secretary, 812 Four-and-a-Half street southwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 239, meets first and third Wednesdays in each month at 737 Seventh st. northwest. Theo. A. Leckert, Secretary, 1210 Florida avenue northwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 305, meets first and third Monday evenings at 503 G street northwest (barber shop). Charles A. Thomas, Secretary, 817 E street northwest.

Journeymen Horseshoers' Union, No. 17, meets first and third Wednesday of each month at Costello's Hall, Sixth and G streets northwest. W. S. Lusby, Secretary, 708 Eighth street southwest.

Journeyman Tailors of America, No. 188, meets first and third Saturdays of each month at 8 o'clock p.m., Labor Bureau Hall. Ignatius Geraci, Secretary, 917½ E street northwest.

Journeyman Plumbers and Gas Fitters' Local Union, No. 5, meets second and fourth Tuesday evening of each month at Maccabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. A. E. Anderson, Secretary, 1312 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Journeymen Stone and Marble Cutters' Union, meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Irondall Hall. Harry Bouche, Secretary, 72 H street northeast.

Laundry Wagon Drivers No. 467, W. W. Foster, Secretary, 95 Myrtle street northwest

Mail Bag Repairers' Union, No. 10523, meets first and last Saturdays of every month at Stolpp's Hall 721 Sixth street northwest. L. W. Kearney, Secretary, 406 First st. n.w.

Mail Bag Workers' Union, 10504, meets every Saturday at 721 Sixth street northwest Miss A. Cross, Secretary, 321 Lincoln street, Anacostia, D. C.

Marble Mosaic and Granito Workers No. 8902, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at 1400 D street northwest. G. B. Cinotti, secretary.

Metal Trades Federation of North America, Room 134 Corcoran Bldg., James O'Connell, President. E. J. Lynch, Secretary.

Milk Wagon Drivers' Union, No. 349, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at 8 p. m., at Hotel Royal (second floor), Seventh and N streets northwest. W. T. Trittipoe 1359 U street northwest.

Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers' Helpers, Local Union, No. 12, meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Arion Hall, 430 Eighth street northwest. S. Becket, Secretary, 401 E Street southeast.

Musicians' Protective Union, No. 161. meets first and third Sundays at 2 p. m., at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Linden, Jr Secretary, 1364 E street southeast.

National Alliance Theatrical Stage Employes meets first and third Sunday in each month at southwest corner of Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, third floor. J. P. Shilling, Secretary, 1208 Bladensburg Road.

Negative Cutters Union, meets second Wednesday in each month at 921 F street northwest. Clarence W. Schroeder, Secretary, 640 E street southeast.

Oil Wagon Drivers, No. 296, meets second Wednesday of each month at Oppenheimer's Hall, 514 Ninth street northwest. A. J. Dixon, Secretary, 1234 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Operative Stonemasons' Union, No. 2, meets first and third Monday evenings at 609 C street northwest. James Lanigan, Secretary, 930 G street southwest.

Paperhangers' Local Union No. 420, B. of P., D., and P., meets every Wednesday evening, 625 Louisiana avenue, n. w. J. Franklin Page, Secretary.

Pattern Makers' League meets at Weller's Hall, Eighth and I streets southeast, first and third Wednesday. James B. McAlwee, Secretary, 907 E street southeast.

Photo-Engravers' Union, No. 17, meets first Monday in each month at 417 Eleventh street northwest. F. C. Betts, Secretary, Kensington, Md.

Printing Pressmen Union, No. 1, meets first Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. W. C. Deane, Secretary. 19 Grant Place.

Plate Printers Union, No. 2, meets at Maccabee Temple, Ninth street n. w., the fourth Tuesday in each month. J. P. Murphy, Secretary, 1416 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

Post-Office Clerks, No. 9834, meets the second Saturday of each month at Twelfth and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. B. Corridon, Secretary, 1733 North Capitol street.

Registered Drug Clerks' Union, District of Columbia, meets second and fourth Fridays at Jolly Fat Men's Hall, 933 D street northwest. Fred T. Hafelfinger, Secretary, 1110 Fourteenth street northwest.

Retail Clerks' Union, No. 262, meets second and fourth Mondays of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Joseph Moser, Recording Secretary, 624 I street northwest.

Retail Grocery Clerks' Union, No. 533, meets every Thursday evening at Society Temple, 5th and G streets N. W. Alfred Fuss, Secretary, 802 D street s. e.

Slate and Tile Roofers' Union, No. 10421, meets every Monday night at 922 F street northwest. J. C. Huddleson, Secretary, 2147 Pennsylvania avenue northwest,

Soda and Mineral Water Wagon Drivers, No. 372, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at Bessler's Hall, 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. P. Connor, Secretary, 1111 Sixth street southwest.

Steam Fitters, R. A. Lanis Association, L. B. No. 10, N. A., meets every Thursday night at 610 G street northwest. Thomas L. Hess, Secretary, 913 New York avenue northwest.

Steam and Hot Water Fitters' Helpers, Local Branch, No. 28, N. A., meets every Friday at 8 o'clock p. m., at 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Thomas F. Flanagan, Secretary, 38 G street northeast.

Stereotypers' Union. No. 19, of Washington D. C., meets second Monday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. D. J. Murray, Secretary, 35 R street northwest.

Stone Laborers' Union, No. 9013, meets first and third Friday of each month at Eleventh and Q streets northwest. Daniel Lahey, Secretary, 1003 A street southeast.

Telephone Operators, No. 9914, meets third Saturday of each month at Schmidt's Hall, 516 Ninth street northwest. Edna Earl Bobb, Secretary, 924 Pennsylvania avenue southeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, Local Union, No. 190, meet every Friday evening at the Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. C. H. Scherer, Secretary, 936 Fourth street northeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 884, meets every Monday night at 904 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Torney, Secretary, 141 Jefferson street, Anacostia D. C.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 1103, Mill and Bench Hands, meets every Friday at 8 p. m., at 514 Ninth street northwest. Peyton Wilkerson, Secretary, 816 G street southeast.

United Brotherhood of Leather Workers on Horse Goods, No. 87, meets every second and fourth Tuesday, 513 Twelfth street northwest. H. J. Laubach, Secretary. 72 H street northeast.

Upholsterers' Local Union, No. 58, meets second and fourth Thursdays of each month at 416 (fourth floor) Ninth street northwest. T. R. Bowie, Secretary, 1306 Riggs street northwest.

Washington Branch, Granite Cutters' National Union, meets every second and fourth Mondays in each month at 1204 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Wm. Silver, Secretary, 49 Massachusetts avenue northwest.

Washington Feeders and Assistants' Union, No. 42, meets the first Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street n. w. D. I. Leane, Secretary, 702 H street northeast.

Washington Lodge of Machinists, No. 193, meets every Thursday night at southwest corner of Tweifth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. Herbert Wyatt, Secretary, 111 Seventh street southeast.

Wood, Wire, and Metal Lathers' Local Union, No. 9, meets every Monday night at Hare's Hall. Eighth and D streets northwest. J. C. Maloney, Secretary, 124 G street n. w.

Bindery Notes.

Bob McLanahan has a new stomach plaster which he intends shortly to put on the market.

W. C. Connor has returned from Atlantic City and is exhibiting several novelties he secured at the famous resort.

Johnny Burns is very much concerned about the number of assessments lately levied. He has trouble keeping himself square.

Wilson Clark tells the boys that he enjoyed the ice cream prepared at Betterton much better than the article made in Baltimore.

"Cap" White's friends are becoming alarmed for fear he may fall into extravagant habits. He has taken a trip to Niagara Falls, where he is stopping at a stag hotel at which the rates are quoted at 50 cents a day!

Harry Figg does not know whether he is to be a widow or a widower after Wednesday, for on the evening of that day his old roommate, Al. Eshelman, is to be married. Al. has many friends among the boys in the Bindery and they all wish him all the good fortune he wishes himself.

Sam Childs has just returned from a month's leave and, like many more, tells of some curious experiences he had. He spent most of the time at Tilghman's Island, and he says he won a bottle of beer on a wager that he would not wheel a negro baby carriage about the hotel. A picture of himself and the pickaninny is exhibited by him with considerable pride.

PASTE.

Business Agents Affiliated with the Council of Allied Building Trades.

Headquarters, Room 2, 624 Sixth St., N. W.
E. J. Ratigan, Secretary. Tel. East 331 Y.

Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' No. 102:
Thomas F. Ryan, Room 2, 624 Sixth street northwest.

Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, No. 5:
Thomas E. Grove, Room 2, 624 Sixth street northwest.

Brotherhood Carpenters and Joiners:
Fred Neidemanski, 506 Sixth street northwest.

Hod Carriers Brick and Mortar Wheelers:
Sol. J. Childs, 1006 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Electrical Workers, No. 26:
George A. Malone, 48 L street northwest.

Painters, No. 368:
W. M. Lewis, 506 sixth street northwest.

Paperhangers, No. 420:
Harry J. Wells, 625 Louisiana avenue northwest.

Stone Laborers.
Daniel Lahey, 1003 Eighth street southeast.

Tile Layers, No. 2:
W. E. Thompson, Room 2, 624 Sixth street northwest.

Tile Layers Helpers, No. 12:
Howard Smoot, Room 2, 624 Sixth street northwest.

Machinists, Washington Lodge, No. 193:
Fred. Fletcher, Room 55, Traders National Bank Building, Pennsylvania avenue and Tenth streets northwest.

Bricklayers' Executive Committee.

The following is the list of members of the Executive Committee of Bricklayers' Union, No. 1: John G. Wolfe, chairman, 1023 New Jersey avenue; W. Cronin, 1415 Thirty-sixth street northwest; Samuel Haslett, 221 South Lee street, Alexandria, Va.; John Shanahan, 2352 Eighth street northwest; John McCarten, 1237 Maryland avenue northeast.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Representative Business Houses.
OF WASHINGTON, D. C.

The following wholesale and retail firms and professional men are friendly to Union Labor and are entitled to its patronage:

BANKS.
THE LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK, Safe Deposit Vaults, $2.50 up
CAPITAL LOAN GUARANTEE COMPANY, 602 F Street Northwest. Every one can borrow money without security.

BAKERS.
HOLMES & SONS, Celebrated Home-Made Pies and Milk Bread. First and E Streets N. W. Phone East 864.

BOOTS AND SHOES.
CROCKER'S SHOES, 939 Pennsylvania Ave. N. W.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.
DANIEL LOUGHRAN, 1347 Pennsylvania Ave.
LUCHS & BRO., Wholesalers. Phone E 755.

COACH FINDINGS.
J. B. KENDALL, 485-87 Missouri avenue N. W.

COAL TAR PRODUCTS AND PAPER.
E. B. WARREN & CO., 27th and H Sts. N. W.

CUTLERY AND SPORTING GOODS.
D. N. WALFORD, 477 and 909 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

DRY GOODS.
LANSBURGH & BROTHER, 420 to 426 7th St. N. W

DYER.
E. E. WHEATLEY, 1068 Jefferson Ave. N. W. Phone, West 117-Y.

ENGRAVERS.
THE MAURICE JOYCE ENGRAVING CO. Cuts and Illustrations. 418 11th street N. W

FIRE INSURANCE.
Insure with THE RIGGS FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.
FIREMEN'S INSURANCE COMPANY, Seventh St. and Louisiana Ave.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.
JULIUS LANSBURGH, Interocean Building, 512 Ninth St. N. W.

GROCERIES.
LITTLE & PAGE, "Good things to eat." 1210 F St. N.W
W. C. ERGOOD, "Good goods at Ergoods." Corner Ninth and H Streets Northwest.

GROCER AND COFFEE ROASTER.
SOMERSET R. WATERS, 1342 Seventh Street Northwest, Corner O.

HARDWARE AND TOOLS.
RUDOLPH, WEST & CO., 1332 New York avenue northwest.

HUDSON'S VARIETY STORE.
B. F. HUDSON, 423 Seventh Street Northwest.

HATTERS AND FURRIERS.
JAMES Y. DAVIS' SONS, 1201 Pennsylvania Ave.
A. H. BURDINE, Union Overalls, Hats, and Gloves. Seventh Street and Virginia avenue southwest.

LIME, SAND, GRAVEL, CEMENT.
NATIONAL MORTAR COMPANY, Office: Room 9, Ralston Bldg., 612 F St. N. W. Office telephone: East 688.

LUMBER AND MILL WORK.
THOMAS R. RILEY, 13th St. and Ohio Ave.
THE WASHINGTON WOOD WORKING CO., 12th and B Streets N. W. Telephone 2119-3.

MACHINISTS AND ENGINEERS.
FORSBERG & MURRAY, Pumps and Elevators. Engines and Boilers 8th and Water Sts. S. W.

MERCHANT TAILOR.
W. A. SLADEN, 419 East Capitol Street.

PHARMACISTS.
LOUIS F. BRADLEY, Prescription Druggist. 8th and E Sts. S. E

PHOTO-LITHOGRAPHERS.
THE NORRIS PETERS CO., 458 and 460 Pennsylvania avenue N. W
ANDREW B. GRAHAM Lithographer, Photo-Lithographer, and Half-Tones. 1230 Pa. Ave. Phones: 1031-M, 1679-M.

PIANO AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
E. E. DROOP & SONS, 925 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

PRINTING SUPPLIES.
NATIONAL PRINTER'S SUPPLY CO., Machine-made Rollers. 414 10th St. N. W.

RESTAURANT AND WINE ROOM.
JOHN M. BECKER, Opp. Navy Yard., Cor. 8th and Georgia Ave. S.E

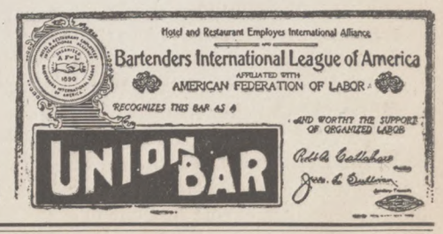
SHOES.
DAVE WOLF, SHOES FOR EVERYBODY. 432 Seventh Street N. W.

SHAVING PARLORS
VINCENT R. CILENTO, 805 North Capitol Street.

TITLES TO REAL ESTATE.
LAWYERS' TITLE & GUARANTY INS. CO. 412 5th St. N. W.

UNION HEADQUARTERS.
ARION HALL, 430 Eighth Street N. W. Headquarters for organizations. Strictly union. JIM STEVENS, Proprietor.

WINES AND LIQUORS.
SAMUEL G. STEWART, Heurich Brewing Co's. beers and popular brands of whiskies. 1141 Seventh st. northwest between L and M.
WILLIAM DIETZ, 1203 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest
GEORGE W. DRIVER, 605 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.



DO NOT WANT OUR PATRONAGE.

Following brands of cigars: Cinco, Cremo, George W. Childs, Henry George, Tom Moore, Robert Burns, and General Arthur.

The following firms have declared against the interest of Organized Labor and are not regarded as deserving their patronage:

NAME.	BUSINESS.	LOCATION.
Chevy Chase Railway and circle.	Street railway	Chevy Chase and Circle.
Keenan Bros	Gents' furnishers	Pa. ave. bet. 14th and 15th sts., and 523 Seventh st. n. w.
B. Solomon	Gents' furnisher	708 Seventh street n.w.
Rufus H. Darby	Printer	508 Fourteenth street n.w.
H. L. McQueen	Printer	1108 E street n.w.
N. Sickles (Nat'l Cigar Factory)	Cigar manufacturer	1011 Penna. avenue n.w.
E. Gundershiemer	Baker	516 Second street n.w. and stall in Center Market.
Peter Grogan	Carpet dealer	817 to 823 Seventh street n.w.
John H. Fitzgerald	Horseshoer	443 Prather's alley n.w.
S. S Daish	Coal and wood	Florida ave. and Third st. n.e.
Wilbur F. Nash	Meat dealer	Center and O st. Markets.
C. E. Hencke	Electrician	711 G street n.w.
F. J. Wheelock	Electrician	1215 G street n. e.
James A. Bennett	Tinner	2008 H street n.w.
National Mosaic Company	Mosaics	207 Fourth st. n.w.
M. Minster	Gents' furnisher	1343 F st. n.w.
A. Minster	Gents' furnisher	499 and 501 Penna. ave. n. w
Cyrus B. Reese	Employing steamfitter	1519 Fourteenth street n. w.
C. A. Schneider & Sons	Union Iron Works	212 Twelfth street n. w.
Minster & Paterson	Gents' furnishers	1109 Pennsylvania ave. n. w
Chas. A. Muddiman & Co	Gas fixtures	1204 G and 616 Twelfth st. n. w.
Conrad Becker	Trunks and harness	1328 F st. n. w.
Chapin & Sacks	Dealer in butter	924 Louisana ave. n. w.
Home Ice Company	Ice	Twelfth and V sts. n.w.
Emil Wagner	Restaurant	210 Ninth st. n. w.
W. E. Carney	Cigar manufacturer	921 G st. s. w.
Nat'l Roller & Ball Bearing Co.	Machinery	33rd and K sts. n. w.
L. Rosenberg	Clothing and shoes	911-913 Eighth st. s. e.
Corbin Thompson	Dairyman	Sharon Dairy, 324 B st s. w.
S. D. Houck	Dealer in harness	301 Tenth street n. w.
M. Eisemann & Bro	Dry goods	1924-26 Pa. ava. and 806 7th n.w
Elite Steam Laundry	Laundry	1205 G street n.w.
Benjamin Schwartz	Gents' furnisher and tailor	337 Pa. ave. s. e.
Emrich Beef Co	Meat Dealers
John Coleman	Horseshoer	1300 36th street n. w.
Hecht & Co	Dry Goods, etc	517-519 Seventh street n. w
Charles Rauscher	Caterer	Conn. ave. and L st. n. w
Academy of Music	Theater	Ninth and D streets n. w.
Lafayette Square Theater	Theater	16th st. and Pa. ave. n. w.
E. H. Snyder & Co	Tailors	1111 Pa. ave n. w
Owen Owen	Tailor	423 Eleventh street n. w.
L. A. Downey	Tailor	433 Eleventh street n. w.
J. M. Stein & Co	Tailors	413 Eleventh street n. w
J. D. Burns & Co	Tailors	701 Ninth street n. w.
J. F. Gatchel	Tailor	604 Thirteenth street n. w.
G. Warfield Simpson	Tailor	1208 F street n. w.
E. H. Catlin & Co	Machinists	407 13½ street n. w.
Thomas Somerville & Sons	Steam Fitters' Supplies	316 Thirteenth street n. w.
Joseph Mathy	Stove dealer and tin worker	1918 Pennsylvania avenue.
William Meehan	Saloon	943 B street n. w.
Robert Lowe	Stone yard and mill	113 Third street s. w.
H. Vonderheide	Saloonist	205½ Seventh street n. w.
John W. Jennings	Druggist	1142 Connecticut avenue n. w.

Does your bartender wear one of these Blue Buttons?
If not,
WHY NOT?
THIS CARD INDICATES A

Some wives worry because they imagine the other half of the outfit is in love with every dollfaced girl he happens to look at.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICIAL ORGAN CENTRAL LABOR UNION, WASHINGTON BRANCH, AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Vol. VIII. No. 14. WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1903. Price, 3 Cents.

THE CENTRAL LABOR UNION

General Responses to Resolutions In Miller Case Received.

UNION-LABEL TOBACCO FIGHT

Credentials Received—Communications—Arlington Brewing Company Sustained in Arbitration With Beer Drivers Union—Amendment Submitted.

The regular meeting of the Central Labor Union was called to order at 8.30 p. m. last Monday evening, Delegate Dietrich, of Columbia Typographical Union, being in the chair, in the absence of President Sherman.

The minutes of the meeting of August 31 were read and approved, no meeting having been held September 7, Labor Day.

CREDENTIALS.

From Brotherhood of Carpenters, No. 884, certifying that Andrew Green had been chosen as a delegate from that union, vice L. B. Morris. From Local No. 22, Theatrical Stage Employees, certifying Edward Kreig, vice E. A. Fleming. From Local No 368, Brotherhood of Painters, certifying A. C. Homan and E. King, vice Dan Lear and F. Sweeney.

From Brotherhood of Carpenters, No. 190, certifying W. W. Winfree, to act as delegate during the absence of G. Lubekirt, now under care of a physician.

From Local Union No. 10, National Union of Elevator Constructors, stating that, having recently organized, they desired affiliation with this body, and certified C. R. Alexander, C. J. Faulstick, R. R. Stockman, William Rosmussen, and B. Umhau as delegates to represent their organization. The organization and credentials were received.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From International Brick, Tile, and Terra Cotta Workers' Alliance, calling attention to the unfair attitude of certain firms in that trade. Placed on file.

From same organization, making an appeal for financial aid for 5,000 members of their organization now on strike in Pennsylvania and Ohio. Placed on file.

A copy of the proposed eight-hour bill and anti-injunction bill was read and referred to the Legislative Committee.

From Tobacco Workers' International Union, calling attention to the American and Continental Tobacco Trust, and furnishing a list of the brands of tobacco and cigarettes made by the trust with a request sent to use the same. They also desire that the blue label on tobacco be insisted upon when purchasing the same. Placed on file.

From Samuel Gompers, president of American Federation of Labor, asking for certain material to comprise exhibit for St. Louis Exposition. Placed on file.

From Frank Morrison, secretary of American Federation of Labor, calling attention to per capita tax payment before September 30. Placed on file.

From Table Knife Grinders' National Union, asking cooperation in discouraging the sale in this city of the products of certain unfair firms in that trade. Placed on file.

From Frank Morrison, secretary of American Federation of Labor, calling attention to request of Steel Cabinet Workers' Union, No. 7294, of Jamestown, N. Y., asking that two members of that union be notified that the firm they are doing work for in this city has locked out the members of their unions. Referred to Business Agent of Allied Council of Building Trades.

From General Organizer H. T. Eichelberger, of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, inclosing copy of agreement made with local firms in this city, and expressing the thanks of this organization for services rendered by Delegate Dietrich in bringing about a harmonious understanding of the recent trouble. Placed on file.

From Beer Drivers Union, No. 224, notifying the central body of a change in the recording secretary of that union. Placed on file.

From Council of Allied Building Trades, asking for loan of certain amount for use of new quarters of that body. Referred to Executive Committee.

From Council of Allied Building Trades, submitting an amendment to section 31, which was laid over for two meetings under the rule.

The amendment to the constitution, giving a number in the order of business to the Allied Label League was adopted, and placed after report of Allied Council Building Trades.

The committee appointed as a board of arbitration to consider disputes between Beer Drivers and Stablemen's Union and the Arlington Brewery, find that the union named exceeded its authority in taking the action it did in reference to a customer of the Arlington Brewery, and that the management of the brewery were justified in discharging the offending member of the union.

The report of the committee was accepted.

The following communications were received in response to resolutions adopted at meeting of August 24, and referred to Bookbinders' Union No. 4:

BRADFORD TRADES ASSEMBLY.
BRADFORD, PA., Sept. 2, 1903.

Secretary Central Labor Union:

DEAR SIR: Your communication of August 24 to hand. Bradford Trades Assembly has complied with your request and forwarded petition to the President, copy of which find inclosed.

Hoping you may be successful in this matter, I remain,
Fraternally yours,
F. E. ELLISON, Secretary.

CAMBRIDGE (MASS.) CENTRAL LABOR UNION.
BOSTON, MASS., Sept. 7, 1903.

Secretary Central Labor Union,
Washington, D. C.

DEAR SIR: At the meeting of Cambridge (Mass.) Central Labor Union (to which I am a delegate from Cambridge Typographical Union, No. 61), the communication from your body touching the Miller matter, and the desire to secure a fair decision from President Roosevelt, was received and acted upon favorably to your wish, and the local Central Labor Union secretary instructed to communicate the matter to the locals for their consideration.

I am personally very desirous that President Roosevelt shall be convinced of the "advisability" of practising business morality as taught and generally practised by trades unions.

Truly and fraternally yours,
A. C. PLATT.

[Copy.]

INDEPENDENCE (KANS.) CENTRAL LABOR UNION.
INDEPENDENCE, KANS., SEPT. 4, 1903.

To the President of the United States:

DEAR SIR:—The Central Labor Union of this city, at their last meeting, August 31, instructed me to express to you their disappointment in your decision to reinstate W. A. Miller, in the public printing office. We endorse the action taken by the Washington Unions, and their resolutions adopted August 24, 1903, and for the good of the public service we hereby respectfully request that you reconsider your previous action and dismiss said W. A. Miller from the public service entirely.

Respectfully yours,
MARTIN BIORN,
Secretary.

[Copy.]

BRADFORD TRADES ASSEMBLY.
BRADFORD, PA., Sept. 1, 1903.

To the President of the United States:

DEAR SIR: We, the members of the Bradford Trades Assembly, representing the different labor organizations in this district, do hereby petition you to modify your order of no discrimination, as conveyed in your letters to Secretary Cortelyou, and bearing dates of July 13-14, 1903; and also that you issue an order for the dismissal of W. A. Miller from the Government service so as to promote the efficiency of that service.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
BRADFORD TRADES ASSEMBLY,
F. E. ELLISON, Secretary.

TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL.
DANVILLE, ILL., Aug. 30, 1903.

Secretary Central Labor Union,
Washington, D. C.:

At a regular meeting of Trades and Labor Council of Danville, Ill., held on the above date, the resolutions adopted by the Central Labor Union of District of Columbia, in regard to the action of the President in reinstating W. A. Miller, the bookbinder, were indorsed by unanimous vote, and said indorsement ordered to be sent to the President, through Central Labor Union of District of Columbia.

J. M. MURRAY, President.
GEO. KUEMELER, Secretary.

CENTRAL LABOR COUNCIL.
WACO, Texas, Aug. 31, 1803.

Secretary Central Labor Union,
Washington, D. C.:

Your favor of August 24 was read before the council to-day.

Motion to send a copy of your communication to every union in this city carried.

Also motion carried and committee appointed to draft suitable resolutions to send to the President of the United States in support of your letter.

Yours fraternally,
A. H. B. CORNELIUSEN,
Secretary.

CENTRAL LABOR UNION.
CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Sept. 5, 1903.

Secretary Central Labor Union,
Washington, D. C.:

DEAR SIR AND BRO: At a regular meeting of our union your letter pertaining to the case of W. A. Miller was read and your position indorsed. I was ordered to comply with your request, also to send a copy of your letter to the local unions affiliated with this organization.

Trusting that the rightous cause will succeed in the end, I remain, fraternally yours,
E. SCHWARTZ,
Rec. Cor. Secretary.

WANTED—Five-room flat on Capitol Hill, west of Tenth street; must be reasonable. Address "Western," this office.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

ALLIED BUILDING TRADES.

Considerable Business Transacted at Its Regular Meeting.

The regular weekly meeting of the Council of Allied Building Trades of the Central Labor Union was called to order at Hall 3, Building Trades Halls, at the usual hour by Chairman Wells.

Roll call disclosed the presence of 25 delegates representing 22 local unions.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

CREDENTIALS.

From Carpenters and Joiners, No. 884, certifying to E. B. Newkirk and R. J. Brown.

From Painters' Union, No. 368, certifying to A. C. Homan.

The delegates were seated.

Credentials were received from Carpet Upholsterers' Union, No. 85, certifying to Messrs. Street, Pearsol, and Watts, and referred to a special committee consisting of W. E. Thompson, R. L. Johnson, and T. E. Grove, with instruction to investigate what claims Carpet Upholsterers have to representation in the section and report at next meeting.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Central Labor Union, stating that James Bennett, dealer in stoves and tinware had been taken from unfair list, and that H. Vonderheide, Robert Lowe, William Meehan, J. W. Jennings, and Eugene Tabscott had been declared as unfair. Action indorsed.

A committee from Central Labor Union relative to the unfair attitude of Academy of Music, and that some members of unions was patronizing same was read, and secretary instructed to request all affiliated locals to place fines on members patronizing any firm or individual unfair to Central Labor Union.

From Slate and Tile Roofers, stating that their union had notified their employes that their wages would be increased to four ($4) dollars per day, March 1, 1904. Referred to Executive Committee.

From Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' Union, No. 102, stating that their union had indorsed the arbitration form as adopted by the Employing Contractors Association and the Central Allied Building Trades. Filed.

A bill from Trades Unionist Publishing Company for $32 for printing was read and approved and referred to Central Labor Union for payment.

Delegate Daly reported introduction of amendment to constitution; also that the matter of obtaining loan had been referred to Executive Committee; that Labor Day Committee had made partial report, and urged an early settlement for tickets, as drawing for ticket prizes would take place October 2.

Executive Committee minutes of September 11 read and action approved. Committee to visit Employing Contractors' Association reported that they had done so, but that while the Employing Contractors' Association was friendly to the arbitration plan, this committee was not satisfied that all members of the associations connected with the Employers Association were doing as much as they might to further the plan, but that better results might be expected in the near future.

ROLL CALL OF UNIONS.

Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers asked that Board of Arbitration be again called, as no quorum was present at the last call and the work was going on. Granted.

Stone Laborers asked assistance of Business Agent on G. C. Esher job. Granted.

Hoisting Engineers stated that unlicensed engineer was at work at Trinity College. Referred to Business Agent.

Hod Carriers asked that their case be brought up at next meeting of Arbitration Board. Granted.

International Marble Workers asked for information about the conciliation agreements.

Carpenters, No. 190, stated that Connecticut Pie Company were employing nonunion men. Referred to Business Agent.

Paperhangers reported having effected a settlement with the Eastern Wall Paper Company, and asked that their name be removed from the unfair list. It was so ordered.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The credentials of Journeymen Stone and Marble Cutters were taken from the table, and after discussion action on same was deferred for thirty days.

NEW BUSINESS.

The secretary was directed to inform the Granite Cutters Union that their delegate had lost his influence and request that he be replaced.

There being no further business, the council adjourned at 11 20 p. m.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Socialism Defined.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

My genial friend, Bloomer, thinks that most of the people have "misty ideas of what Socialism is," and is not so sure of the proper meaning himself. He thinks he sees an inconsistency in many who oppose Socialism, and yet advocate sundry measures that involve the exercise by the Government of socialistic functions. If the exercise of such functions constituted Socialism, then governments through all past time have been socialistic. It would be impossible to conceive of what use a government could be that did not aim to conserve the common weal. Every organization, of whatever kind, whether a government, a trust, or a trades union, is an attempt to regulate and abridge individual ends and activities for the common good.

To call this Socialism is simply to blot out the distinctive meaning of words and make us all Socialists. That the Government has the paramount power to seek the common good by the socialization of all productive wealth, through proper constitutional methods, is not to be denied. The debate is not on the power, but on the wisdom of the exercise of such power, and whether it really would advance the designed end. The distinctive idea of Socialism is that the Government should own and operate all the means of production. Unless a man believes this he has no business to call himself a Socialist. The people of New Zealand, who are constantly referred to by Socialists as having adopted their principles, distinctly repudiate the claim. At the last election they had a Socialistic ticket in the field, which only polled about 3,000 votes. It is true they have adopted Government ownership of railroads and hold the lands and mines more subject to control in the interest of the common people than most other governments, but they do this for the sole purpose of giving a more equitable field to free competition. As long as a people permit individual land ownership, the accumulation of industrial wealth by the frugal and competent, profits on sales, and interest on money they can not be classified as Socialists. When these are abolished then we will begin to see the lurid light of Socialism.

Primarily I have written this for definition, as the subject itself is too great to handle in the limited space THE TRADES UNIONIST can afford; but in passing permit me to notice the baby logic by which Socialists usually attempt to propagate their theory. "If the Government does this, why can't it do that?" "If it furnishes water, why can't it furnish light and heat?" And if it furnishes the latter, why can't it furnish everything? These people always forget that it is the "last straw that breaks the camel's back. A government may do a foolish thing, and if it carry the folly to excess may still survive. It may do a wise thing; but if it imagines the application of any principle is unlimited it will rush to destruction. "Too far east is west." Too much of a good thing is an evil. Heat is beneficial up to a certain temperature; beyond it is injurious. Work within limits is beneficial to the system; in excess it breaks it down. Manure is good for the crops if properly applied; too much is worse than none. Reducing the hours of work often increases the output. To argue from this that stopping work altogether would increase the output to a maximum would parallel the logic of Socialists. Competition in excess is an evil; competition within limits is the essential condition of all progress. To conserve the general weal society must establish conditions that will give freedom to the individual. Socialism never has and never can call forth the best in man intellectually. Socialists aim to abolish a natural law—the survival of the fittest. They aim to make work, regardless of brains, the standard of recompense. Neither of these aims can ever be achieved. As Herbert Spencer says, "No power on earth; no communist's panaceas; no world-rectifying schemes of the humane; no theories of reform that men ever did broach or ever will broach can abate the operation of this law (natural selection) or diminish its consequent suffering one jot or tittle."

DAVID ECCLES.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

THE CUMMINGS MEMORIAL.

Columbia Union's Committee Getting Down to Work.

The report of the Cummings Memorial Committee to the International Typographical Union at its recent meeting was one of great interest to the entire membership. The report detailed the progress of the work, and made recommendations, with a view to accomplishing the object sought, namely, to erect a fitting memorial to the dead unionist and friend of labor Amos J. Cummings. The report of Committee on Union Printers' Home to the convention, considered on the sixth day, Saturday, August 15, indorsed the following recommendations of the Cummings Memorial Committee:

First. That there be placed on the grounds of the Union Printers' Home, at Colorado Springs, an appropriate monument of Colorado granite, with a tablet of marble or bronze, bearing a suitable inscription.

Second. That each subordinate union select a committee to interest the members in the undertaking, and to assist in raising the necessary funds by voluntary contributions.

With the purpose of carrying out the request embodied in the recommendations above quoted, President Joe M. Johnson, of Columbia Typographical Union, has appointed the undersigned a committee "to interest the members in the undertaking, and to assist in raising the necessary funds by voluntary contributions."

The Post chapel is first in the field with a completely organized Cummings memorial association, fully prepared to aid in carrying out the noble work which should enlist the sympathy and support of every lover of trades unionism and all who revere the memory of the deceased champion of the rights of labor—and especially the cause of the members of the typographical unions. Washington Union never sought the aid of Amos J. Cummings in vain. His voice and his pen were ever ready to advance the interests of the printers at the nation's capital, as well as throughout the United States. Hence the members of the chapel of the Washington Post can feel proud of the leadership in this movement.

It is the desire of the undersigned committee to interest the membership in every chapel of Columbia Union, and with a view of obtaining expressions of opinion as to the best method to enlist the support of the membership, the committee requests the discussion of the subject in communications to the committee and by correspondents of this paper.

To show that the movement has taken a broader scope than the erection of a tablet is shown by reference to the proceedings of the late convention and the columns of the Typographical Journal. The Committee on Union Printers' Home, besides indorsing the recommendations of the Cummings Memorial Committee, adopted this proviso, all of which was approved by the International Convention:

Provided, that special attention be paid by officers of subordinate unions to the recommendations contained in the last paragraph of said report—that all subordinate unions endeavor to raise the necessary funds for this memorial by voluntary contributions, or by appropriations from the local treasury; and provided further, that if within a period of one year a sum sufficient to build a library is received, the committee shall abandon the monument proposition and proceed to the erection of a Cummings library memorial.

It is hoped that such interest will be shown and such support enlisted as will insure from Columbia Union a large sum for this worthy cause. Already many unions have contributed, and let us not be behind in doing our share, and more, to establish a library building as a memorial, should that plan be adopted. The following expression of opinion by Home Trustee McCaffery, will be of interest to the membership of Columbia Union:

In view of the fact that some agitation is going on in favor of the erection of a Cummings memorial library building, the estimated cost of which would be $24,000, one-half of this amount to be taken out of the Home fund, which is now quite low, it may not be out of place for me to offer a few suggestions for your consideration in case this matter is seriously pressed at the forthcoming convention, or elsewhere. I do not believe the Home funds should be drawn upon for the purpose of maintaining buildings erected mainly for "display" when the ends sought to be attained can be secured in a more satisfactory manner. If additional library room is deemed necessary, and the membership feel like expending $24,000 for that purpose, why not use this money in a way that it will do the most good for those who need the assistance of the Home? A detached library building would be inconvenient for a majority of the inmates, and entirely useless to a goodly number, besides being costly to maintain. For the amount suggested ($24,000), I believe the north wing of the main building could be extended about fifty feet to the east, thus giving an increased amount of room in the basement, more than doubling the present size of the library and assembly room and increasing the accommodations of the two floors above to such an extent that thirty or forty more inmates could be admitted to the main building. The old and infirm members could then use the reading room and library at all times, without undergoing the rigors of inclement weather, which they could not do if a separate building was erected for this purpose. I believe an improvement at the Home along the lines indicated above would receive the indorsement of the membership in preference to what was suggested by some in the June issue of The Journal.

The undersigned committee ask for an earnest and hearty cooperation that will make our contribution, in the aggregate, second to none in the International jurisdiction. We can do it by agitation and collection. Let us begin the discussion now.

Fraternally,
T. J. ROWE,
C. T. GRAFF,
T. A. BYNUM,
Committee.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

The A. F. of L. Convention.

The next convention of the American Federation of Labor will be called to order in historic old Faneuil Hall, in Boston, on Monday November 9, 1903, at 10 o'clock a. m.

Delegates must be selected at least two weeks prior to convention and the organization represented must have per capita tax paid up to September 30, 1903.

The Executive Council will meet in this city on Monday, September 21, at headquarters, to pass upon such matters as may be referred to it, and to compile a report for the convention.

Hotel accommodations have been made for all delegates to the convention, and range from $1 to $3 per day, European, and $2.50 per day on American plan.

A special rate of one fare and one-third has been received on all railroads, the condition of which will be given later.

School Supplies

In great quantities and every variety at LIVERMORE'S, corner of First and H streets northwest.

Another Typesetting Machine.

Messrs. Bibau and Campe, of Hamburg, have invented a typesetting and casting machine, says the Buchdrucker Zeitung, that will set a variety of styles of type without interrupting the operation of the machine. The keyboard contains 96 keys, in six rows. Each key controls a matrix-reed which contains eight letter dies. This arrangement gives the machine a scope of eight different fonts of type. An enlarged application of this principle, it would seem, might be made to encompass an entire job office by lengthening the matrix-reed and increasing the number of dies on each reed ad libitum. The job printer might then sit in his chair and, by the manipulation of a shift key, bring into play any font of type or ornament desired.

Carpet Workers' Union, No. 85.

A large and interesting meeting of Carpet Workers' Union, No. 85, was held at their hall, at which several important matters were passed upon. A communication was read from the Central Labor Union placing several firms on the unfair list, among which was a notice of the Academy of Music being unfair. The union placed a fine of $5 upon any member or his family attending this theater.

The Women's Auxiliary.

The regular meeting of Women's Auxiliary, No. 13, of Columbia Typographical Union will be held Tuesday, September 29, at 8 o'clock, in Typographical Temple. It is expected that a plan for the further extension of the work of the Auxiliary will be submitted at this meeting, and all members and prospective members are earnestly requested to attend.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Official Organ Central Labor Union and Allied Building Trades, A. F. of L.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

The Trades Unionist Publishing Company

E. W. PATTON.....President
A. J. E. HUBBARD.....Vice-President
T. M. RING.....Secretary

Office: 441-443 G Street Northwest.

TELEPHONE EAST 15 Y.

SUBSCRIPTION

One year (in advance) - - - - $1.00
Six months (in advance) - - - - .50

Entered at the Post-Office, Washington, D. C. as Second-Class Matter.

THE TRADES UNIONIST is heartily and unqualifiedly indorsed by the Central Labor Union and the Allied Building Trades as well as by the various locals connected with the two central bodies.

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL WASHINGTON. 2

Only Eight-Hour Union Office in Town.

I would as soon think of doing business without clerks as without advertising.
—JOHN WANAMAKER.

Nothing, except the mint, can make money thout advertising.
—GLADSTONE.

When you pay more for the rent of your usiness house than for advertising your usiness, you are pursuing a false policy. If you can do business, let it be known.
—FRANKLIN.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1903.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM.

An amusing, yea, laughable, illustration is printed by the Scranton Correspondence School in its advertisement in the magazines of "Proofreading taught by mail," representing two men supposedly reading proof, in which both are leaning back and each holding in both hands a sheet of paper. If the character of proofreading which this school teaches is like that represented in the advertisements, I do not think real proofreaders have much to fear from the competition of the product of the school. If I thought it necessary I would take pleasure in setting forth how utterly impossible it is for proofreading to be taught by mail or in any other way than by practical application at the business, after a proper foundation has been laid by an apprenticeship at the art of printing. I am gradually acquiring the impression that the whole tribe of "correspondence schools" should be denied the use of the mails and fraud orders issued against them. Why not, when they are advertising to do that which a very slight knowledge will enable one to demonstrate is impossible for them to do? "Sweet are the uses of advertising," but it certainly is the fraud's own friend.

* * * *

The probabilities of the opposition of the Roman Catholic Church to organizations of workingmen and their "obligations" have been thrashed over and passed upon many times in the past, but never has that church given out official decisions on the subject that it has not decided that the workingman has a perfect right to organize and take action in his own defense. It has remained for some one to stir up trouble by presenting the case with deliberate deception in the hope of getting organized labor under the ban of the church, which cannot otherwise than result in failure and possibly may react upon the trouble makers by securing its unqualified indorsement of organized labor in all its efforts for the improvement of conditions. The president of the International Typographical Union is "a true son of the church" and will undoubtedly make such explanations to the two or three priests and dignitaries who have had their souls perturbed and issued dicta upon very insufficient information—if they have done so, for you cannot trust Associated Press reports implicitly when the truth regarding organized labor is concerned—as will enable them to thoroughly understand the matter, when they will undoubtedly reverse their position, if they have taken any.

* * * *

I know no better way of giving the machinists' answer to my paragraph regarding the automobile garages of this city last week than to publish the letter of their business agent, Mr. Pletcher, which I put in my column, though it is addressed to the editor of THE TRADES UNIONIST:

WASHINGTON LODGE, NO. 193, I. A. M.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., September 11, 1903.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

Being the proper person to do the missionary work referred to by you in your issue of September 10 relative to the employment of nonunion men and boys by the automobile storage and repair concerns of this city, I desire to thank you for your good intentions in calling the existing conditions, as you understand them, to my attention.

That the work is of a peculiar nature I will agree—so peculiar, in fact, that about six weeks ago I was requested by a local concern to furnish them with a man at a salary of $25 per week and was unable to deliver the goods. The automobile-repair business is one of the specialties of the machinist trade, just as the linotype business was prior to the A. F. of L. giving the I. T. U. jurisdiction over this branch. You are familiar enough with the linotype business to know the difficulties to be encountered by the average machinist in running up against one of these machines. The same applies to the repairing of automobiles

The garages of which you speak make no distinction in the storage and repair of vehicles, and a man, to fill the bill, must be familiar with the construction of electrical, gasoline, and steam machines.

We number among the membership of our local union several of the mechanics employed on this line of work and have now under consideration the application of two others, which goes to show that your statement to the effect that there "is not a semblance of a union among them" is incorrect, and while there is room for more missionary work, considerable has been accomplished.

The boys employed are learning this particular branch of the business, and, owing to their liability of being unable to master it through lack of mechanical ingenuity, or being employed by a mushroom firm and being thrown on their own responsibility or that of the union with an unfinished apprenticeship, and that apprenticeship not being calculated to fit them for work in any machine shop other than an automobile shop, they are not desirable members, nor will they be until such time as they shall master the business and command the price.

Yours, truly,
FRED PLETCHER,
Business Agent, I. A. M.

I stated the matter on the information I had, and I know that my informant was entirely unaware of the apparently successful efforts of the Machinists' Union to gain control of what must be necessarily in the future an increasing business. I congratulate the I. A. M. on having such an intelligent and energetic business agent as Mr. Pletcher, who, I feel sure from his letter, though without personal acquaintance with him, is not likely to "overlook any bets."

* * * *

I haven't printed one of Brockwell's stories in a good while, and I do not expect to live long enough to print all of them unless by some convulsion of nature the springs of his imagination should be dried up. So I think I will turn loose as much of one which he told the other evening as I was able to catch without the aid of a stenographer. It happened down in North Carolina, of course.

"I was working one day when a regular blue-black negro came in and, approaching me, said:

"'Boss, does you do printin' here?'

"'Oh, yes,' said I; 'what do you want to have printed?'

"He opened a carpetbag and took out a roll as big as my leg.

"'I wants to git dis printed,' he said.

"'What is it?' I asked.

"'It's a ritchnal,' he said. "It's de ritchnal of a s'ci'ty.'

"I referred him to the foreman, and as he put up the money we went to work on it—it came at a slack time and was a regular godsend. It was a 'ritchnal' all right, and as we were authorized to make grammatical and other changes for the purpose of improvement, it was not much like the original when we got done with it. It was the 'ritchnal' of the Royal Sons of King David, and after about every ten lines of dialogue there was an ode. There were two of us working on it, and we set the type, read the proof, and did everything connected with the work. The Royal Sons of King David was a bran new society, and the 'ritchnal' contained all the secret work, in which my partner and I soon perfected ourselves, and as we worked we merrily gave the signs and when meeting on the floor we took up the grips and passwords, so that we two were the very first persons to be proficient in the work of the Royal Sons of King David.

"Two or three years after that, I having been away in the meantime, I went into a colored shoemaker's shop to have a heel nailed on my shoe, and as I waited for the work to be done I overheard two colored men in a room back of the shop talking about the order. I had almost forgotten about the Royal Sons when their talk brought it back to my mind. As I could see them from where I sat, I began to throw signs at them. I began first with the hailing sign, which one of them caught, starting violently, and then I threw him the high sign. At this he called the other fellow's attention to me, and then I gave them the sign of distress. One of them came over to me.

"'Look here, boss, what does you know 'bout dem signs?' he asked.

"'I know all about them,' I answered. 'Don't you see I'm a member?'

"'Ain't no w'ite folks members,' said he. 'Whar'd you larn dem dere signs?'

"I began to laugh. It was the same negro who had ordered the 'ritchnal' printed.

"'Don't you remember me?' I asked. 'I'm the man who printed your ritual.'

"'Den you're do only w'ite man in de worl' dat know dat ritchnal,' said he.

"'No, there were two us,' said I, mentioning the other printer's nome.

"'No, you're de only one,' he said. 'De udder one is daid.'

"This was a fact. He had died while I was away.

"Those negroes then swore me that I wouldn't give away the secrets of their order, and I never have. In fact, I forgot them long ago."

* * * *

A dispatch fromt Manila the other day announced promotions all along the line in the Philippine government printing office with the exception of "Tommy" Kendall—an exception that I am unable to account for. I had a notion to interview Simon Pocher on the subject, but remembered that both Public Printer Leech and Mr. Kendall were friends of his and that it would probably be embarrassing to him to express an opinion until he could obtain more definite information, and so desisted.

* * * *

It will have a melancholy interest to a number of the "old timers" to know that Ash Riley is an inmate of St. Elizabeth's (Government Hospital for the Insane) and has been for the past three years. He is not insane in the ordinary sense, but is an epileptic, and during attacks of the dread malady has to be under restraint. He was sent there from the Danville (Ill.) Soldiers' Home. I visited him recently, and though I had not seen him in over thirty years I had little trouble in bringing myself to his recollection. Among those whom he mentioned as acquaintances in this city are Captain W. R. Ramsey, G. Harry Stone, Maj. John R. Rankin, and John A. Onyun, but there are doubtless dozens of others who have known Ash Riley somewhere in the West.

* * * *

It just occurs to me that though Richard N. Tarkington was elected a delegate to Washington last spring from Lebanon, Pa., and though that city is not more than half a dozen dollars' worth from this city, he did not put in an appearance nor make any explanation of his absence. His experience in this city, though brief, must have made him enough friends to make such a trip a pleasant one. I think I shall ask him about it.

* * * *

Mrs. E. S. Wild, wife of our "Pucky," has written another song—a drinking song this time—that promises to be popular, for it has a very catchy, taking air, and I believe it is her intention to publish it in the near future. The words are by that sterling poet, Mr. Bloomer, whose poems have done so much to make this world brighter and better.

* * * *

The recent promotion of Messrs. John W. Metzung and Bernard H. Lane to be clerks shows the wonderful perspicacity of the authorities in going to the Proof Room for clerks, but makes us wonder who among us is safe in his chosen life work. Both of these gentlemen are peculiarly adapted to clerical work, and one of the best guaranties of their usefulness in their new positions is the success which they achieved in their old ones.

* * * *

I didn't think much of the way Cos Rodier tortured my name in an innocent item in connection with myself and a pump in the Times last Saturday, bnt a man who would take up two "sticks" to say a three-line mean thing about Alec McKenzie, is liable to do anything when placed in position of authority.

* * * *

The man who does not read his Typographical Journal—and I am afraid there is a lot of him—makes the mistake of his life. He may think he has more important matters to attend to; but such a man is liable to be a very poor judge of what matters are important. In addition, the man who does not take and read at least one daily paper is unworthy to be associated with and a member of what is usually denominated the most intelligent of occupations. But we've got him among us, too.

* * * *

I want to compliment Walter Johns on his thrilling account of the killing of a swordfish and his discovery that deed-sea sailors use many terms common among printers. His article shows that besides possessing courage he has an observing mind.

* * * *

"Wah, Wah, where's your pa?"
"Pa has got some wood to saw."
"Sawing wood, eh?" "I should smile."
"Well, he's not sawing on the same old pile."
—Convention Echoes.

* * * *

The ladies of the Eastern Star of the District of Columbia will hold a fair at Masonic Temple October 19-31 to raise money for the establishment of the Eastern Star Home, to be an asylum for aged and needy Masons, their widows and orphans, and it is a charity which should appeal not only to every Mason but to the charitably disposed generally. Tickets are being sent out to the members of the order, so many of whom are numbered in our typographical ranks, and it will be not only a graceful and proper thing to retain and pay for these tickets, but to attend the fair as generally as possible. The ladies have recognized our institution by placing the union label on their tickets, which must further appeal to our good will. By the way, an otherwise great and good friend of mine invariably refuses to buy any ticket which bears the union label, "the badge of slavery" he calls it, which is a tacit indorsement of the law of our union forbidding our members buying tickets of any kind which do not bear the label.

* * * *

An obligation written by a Catholic, submitted to and indorsed by a Catholic archbishop and designed and devised to protect Catholic printers against the machinations of an anti-Catholic society (fancied or real), ought not to incur the prohibition of the Catholic priesthood, and I do not believe it will when its meaning and the circumstances and history of its origin are understood.

A. F. BLOOMER.

The Plate Printer.

The Plate Printer, a semi-monthly magazine, devoted to the interests of the plate printers of this city, is the latest advocate for public favor. Mr. E. L. Jordan, well known as a former employe of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, and now a prosperous business man, is editor and publisher of the new paper. Mr. Jordan is fully able to maintain the cause of the plate printers through the columns of his paper, as his deep interests in the affairs of the Plate Printers' Union at the time of the attempted introduction of steam presses on work that requires the highest skill on hand presses was an evidence throughout the time the matter stood Congressional inquiry. We wish the new paper a successful and prosperous career.

Labor Day Papers.

The Labor Day issues received among our exchanges gave abundant evidence of the enterprise shown by the labor press. The largest from a typographical point of view was the Cincinnati Chronicle. Brother Rist let himself out on the Labor Day number of his paper and deserves all that may accrue to him, for he is an earnest and consistent worker in the field of labor. Among other publications that deserve notice was the Florida Labor Journal, Minnesota Union Advocate, and the Rochester Labor Journal. They are all well edited and the editors on Labor Day in each instance, surpassed all previous efforts.

The International Bookbinder.

The August number of The International Bookbinder, was made a souvenir number to precede Labor Day. It was well received, and bears evidence of the care taken by its publisher to present to his readers articles of merit and interest. The illustrations in the souvenir number are well placed and the book is a credit to its publisher.

FOR THE BEST--
READY-TO-WEAR
—FOR—
Man, Woman and Child
AT THE MOST REASONABLE PRICES,
CONSULT—
Parker, Bridget & Co.,
Washington's Leading Outfitters, ...
Pa. Ave. and 9th St. N. W.

Union Made Cigars
OF THE FINEST QUALITY.
Pluck 5¢ | ARMY & NAVY 10¢
AFTER DINNER 5¢ | DEER HEAD 10¢
Henry T. Offterdinger, Manufacturer
504 Ninth St., N.W.

ARLINGTON BREWING CO.
ROSSLYN, VA.
BEER ALE PORTER
The Finest Productions of Skilled Union Labor. Union Label on Every Bottle and Keg of Our Goods.

The following Agreement between the Retail Liquor Dealers' Association, of Washington, D. C., and the Central Labor Union, affiliated with the A. F. of L., has been consummated and entered into by both organizations, and the same will take effect at once:

THIS AGREEMENT, made and entered into this 30th day of June, 1903, by and between a duly-constituted committee representing the Retail Liquor Dealers' Association, of Washington, D. C., party of the first part, and a like duly-constituted committee representing the Central Labor Union, of Washington, D. C., party of the second part—

WITNESSETH: That the party of the first part, for and in consideration of the provisions, stipulations, and covenants hereinafter contained, covenants and agrees with the party of the second part as follows, to wit:

FIRST. That the party of the first part covenants and agrees and does hereby covenant and agree, that it will employ Union labor exclusively of those crafts or callings now organized and allied with the Central Labor Union, or which may be hereafter organized and affiliated with said body, and will, as far as it is able, promote the interests of organized labor.

Second. That when employing help they will employ none but members of the Hotel and Restaurant Employes' International Alliance and Bartenders' International League of America.

THIRD. That when purchasing goods they will at all times give preference to those goods bearing the Union label, and will discriminate against and discourage the use of non-union made goods in clothing, hats, shirts, and all wearing apparel. That they will purchase Union hats, shirts, and all wearing apparel. That they will purchase Union-made cigars, and, as far as possible, exclusively use the same.

The party of the second part, for and in consideration of the provisions, stipulations, and conditions hereinbefore contained, covenants and agrees, and does hereby covenant and agree, that they will patronize none other but those saloons which employ Union labor and which display in their windows or over the bar the duly-authorized Union sign.

The parties of the first and second parts mutually covenant and agree, and do hereby covenant and agree, that no breach of any one of the covenants herein contained shall be construed as a waiver of the entire agreement.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have hereunto set their hands and seals the day and year first hereinbefore written.

E. J. RATIGAN,
JNO. HAMERSTROM,
CHAS. W. WINSLOW,
MILFORD SPOHN,
WILLIAM SILVER
Committee Central Labor Union.

E. L. JORDAN, Chairman;
MYRA FISHER,
THEO. G STONER,
JOHN J. MEEHAN,
FRED WAGNER,
Committee Liquor Dealers' Association.

[SEAL]

CHAS. W. WINSLOW,
Secretary Central Labor Union.

Our Strictly One-Price Methods Insure Legitimate Reductions

OUR FALL STYLES Are Arriving Daily

WE ARE BETTER PREPARED THAN EVER TO CATER TO YOUR WANTS.

Union Made and Fair Prices

THE BIEBER-KAUFMAN CO.
Masculine Outfitters from Childhood to Age
901-909 EIGHTH STREET S. E.

Announcement

In announcing the arrival of my fabrics for this season, I desire to say that the selection comprises Styles that are Exclusive, and represent the production of mills at home and abroad.
I am showing an exceptionally large and well assorted line of Business suitings in Blacks, Blues, Fancy Cheviots, and Worsteds. My line of Trouserings is the largest and most complete that I have ever shown. I am very desirous of securing early orders before the line is broken, therefore advise immediate selection. Very respectfully,

T. E. GILBERT, Importer and Tailor
818 F Street Northwest
ONLY UNION TAILORS EMPLOYED.

PRINTERS and Union Members.—For First-Class Meals, Eat at
VICTOR CAFE, 3 H St. N W.
ALBION, Eleventh and E Sts. N. W.
ERIN, Cor. N. J. Ave. and D St. N. W.
U. S. LUNCH ROOM, 320 12th St. N. W.
ALBERT T. SCANLAND, Prop.
Open Day and Night. Best Service.

"Everyone knows how to find fault." No one has yet found fault with the
RELIABLE
The Gas Range for Summer Use
Washington Gas Light Co.
GAS APPLIANCE EXCHANGE

Occasionally a steady stream of men may be seen going into a saloon, but the coming out stream is apt to be a trifle unsteady.

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES
OF
Columbia Typographical Union,
No. 101.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, 423 G ST. N. W.
Office Hours: 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.; 5 to 7 P. M.

OFFICERS.

JOE M. JOHNSON.....President
DAN C. VAUGHAN.....Vice-President
WM. M. GARRETT.....Secretary
JOHN R. BERG.....Treasurer
FRANK BATES.....Sergeant-at-Arms
N. C. STOOPS.....Doorkeeper

TRUSTEES—J. E. Bright, chairman; W. L. Gutelius, Chas. C. Thompson, Joe M. Johnson, and Wm. M. Garrett.

DELEGATES TO CENTRAL LABOR UNION—J. H. Babcock, chairman; J. B. Dickman, Hugh Everett, Theodore Gerber, and C. E. Dietrich.

DELEGATES TO ALLIED TRADES COUNCIL—E. E. Calhoon, chairman; T. F. Hall, and J. P. Garner.

AUDITORS—C. W. Radley, chairman; H. G. Brown, and J. W. Carter.

COMMITTEES.

BUSINESS—Zach T. Jenkins, chairman; C. B. Yater, M. J. Maher, T. C. Parsons, and R. W. Burnside.

NOMINATIONS—W. N. Brockwell, chairman; F. A. Kidd, H. O'Donnell, Frank M. Hatley, and R. E. Stenner.

LAWS—Chas. H. Ennis, chairman; Raymond Gery, and Dexter S. Hussey.

FINANCE—John A. Huston, chairman; J. M. McLaughlin, and R. F. Chisholm.

PRINTING—T. A. Bynum, chairman; Milo Shanks, and Ed. J. Hall.

GRIEVANCE—Clint O. Price, chairman; Chas. S. Gunn, Philip Nachman, David J. Snyder, and E. Y. Fisher.

ENTERTAINMENT—T. L. Jones, chairman; J. R. Purvis, T. J. Fitzwilliam, Miss Nellie Theaker, Miss Anna Wilson, B. E. Harrison, and W. J. Harris.

CONFERENCE—J. L. Holland, chairman; D. J. Hegarty, and W. B. Shaw.

LIBRARY—Clyde J. Sheriff, chairman; A. E. Ogg, and Harry Essex.

RELIEF—Joseph G. Stelle, chairman; Wm. S. Schinnerer and E. P. Cummins.

EIGHT-HOUR—F. C. Roberts, chairman; F. B. Crown, F. D. Seiffert, Jeff Newlon, and S. H. Willey.

MEMORIAL SERVICE—S. J. Gompers, chairman; Philip S. Steele, J. E. Goodkey, J. B. Dickman, and C. B. Yater.

AMOS J. CUMMINGS MEMORIAL—J. T. Rowe, chairman; Charles T. Graff, and T. A. Bynum.

CHAIRMEN.

First Division—R. L. Mabrey.
Second Division—W. N. Goldstein.
Third Division—Burr Williams.
Fourth Division—Charles H. Gove.
Fifth Division—Charles E. Dietrich.
Sixth Division—E. M. Nevils.
Job Room—J. K. Davison.
Record Clerks' Division—H. G. Brown
First Division, Night—Allen Cowles.
Night Proof Room—E. H. Thomas.
Specification Room—E. A. Hutchison.
Official Gazette—Jere Walsh.
Document Proof Room—Jas. R. Armstrong.
Treasury Division—W. Brice Coston.
Interior Division—C. K. Stribling.
State Division—J. B. Dickman.
Navy Department Division—Albert E. Ogg.
War Department Division—Wm. K. Miller.
Agricultural Division—Henry P. Slaughter.
Library Division—H. V. Bisbee.
Weather Bureau—L. H. Emmons.
Morning Post—J. H. Broderick.
Evening Star—Joseph C. Whyte.
Evening Times—T. C. Parsons.
Law Reporter—J. R. Johnson.
Globe Printing Co.—R. A. Wilson.
Judd & Detweiler's—A. B. Barringer.
Wilkens Printing Co.—T. N. Surguy.
Pearson's—T. F. Monahan.
National Publishing Co.—E. C. Owen.
McGill & Wallace's—J. M. Watts.
Byron S. Adams'—R. B. Boucher.
Army and Navy Register—C. H. Draeger.
General Postoffice—Joseph Williams.
Sudwarth's—F. R. Adams.

AROUND THE PRINTERIES.

First Division.

George Ellis is home suffering from insomnia.

George P. Dowell is off sick with malaria since Monday last.

Do not forget to send in all items of interest to our genial messenger.

Glenn W. Buckingham has been reinstated and assigned to this division.

Judge Mabrey has once more returned to work, accompanied by his trusty cane.

C. C. Conlee and R. S. Davidson were transferred from the Spess to this division.

T. Frank Morgan is announcing his candidacy for treasurer at the next election of the union.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bennett, of Madison, Wis., is here on a visit to their son, E. P. Bennett, of this division.

Abner C. Proctor went to work in this division last Monday, having been transferred from the Navy Branch.

Frank H. Rose will take fifteen days' leave for the purpose of seeing Washington and vicinity, commencing to-day.

T. F. Ellis, of the Third Division, announces his candidacy for delegate next year. Titus has been a hard worker for the union and deserves to be one of the four.

S. E. Bradley starts on leave to-day and will go to Boston by water, accompanied by his wife and children. On his return they will visit New York and Philadelphia.

There will be a meeting of the G. P. O. Bowling League on Monday, September 21, at 8 o'clock, at the Rathskeller, Eighth and E streets northwest. Every one interested in the formation of the league will kindly be present at the meeting.

Charles Groome, our crack shot, has returned from Sea Girt, having been on both teams that won the first prize in the Hazard Powder Company trophy and company's match.

O. B. Bellinger has returned from his leave, having visited all places of importance from Virginia Beach to Atlantic City. He did not enjoy the bathing, as he was subject to toothache every time the billows struck him.

M. N. Serrano is considered the champion walker of the room. While on his leave he walked 15 miles between the hours of 6 and 8 30 before breakfast, and stopped four times to take a drink. All accomplished at Atlantic City.

The correspondent of the Second Division is in error in saying that "Clotilde announces the first candidate for delegate next year," as I announced Charles Radley some time ago. Radley is in the run for keeps, and it won't be the First Division's fault if he is not elected. CLOTILDE.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Second Division.

"General" Lambert, of this division, now on detail as copyholder, goes on leave to-day.

Any one in this division having items of interest for publication will kindly hand them to slug 42.

During the absence of our regular make-up on leave, Mr. Haworth, of the First, came down and made up the Copyright Catalogue this week.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Sherman, Edgar Meritt secured for us much better conditions on the copyright distribution. A long-felt want was thus attained.

We acknowledge receipt from Titus F. Ellis of a copy of the St. Louis Union's handsome invitation to the convention to meet there in 1904. Mr. Ellis is a former St. Louis printer.

Frank L. McUmber has recovered from his attack of typhoid fever, and will return to work about October 1. He has whiskers on him like a Populist. His friends are glad to hear of his recovery.

Col. H. F. J. Drake and wife will go to New York by sea this week. The Colonel thinks a sea trip is the best way to take leave and build up one's system after a year's work. During his lifetime he has traveled on the ocean quite extensively.

Mr. Philip Steele, the last delegate candidate announced, is always seen at his seat in union meetings, and when his committee is called for he always reports something accomplished. He is a Christian gentleman, an aggressive but conservative union man, and a conscientious worker.

D. B. Stallings, formerly a printer here, but now an assistant editor in the Agricultural Department, was last Monday showing Dr. T. S. Palmer, of the Division of Biological Survey, how copy and proofs from their Department were handled down here.

Messrs. J. D. Williamson, George R. Merriam, F. R. McFadyen, J. D. Garland, F. E. Warren, and others returned from their leave this week. They were immediately sent in to "take the oath"—that is, the one to support the Constitution.

W. R. Johns' "Swordfish" story was read with much interest by E. N. Bunker, of this room, whose home is at Edgarton, Martha's Vineyard, Mass. He has been swordfishing on the same boat, the Admiral Dewey, and declares the story to be true to life.

The sudden death of Dr. A. J. Schafhirt on Monday morning was a shock to the G. P. O. employes. He knew as much about this office and those who work here as any outsider. He had been in the drug business near this corner since 1865. His family have our heartfelt sympathy in their great loss.

Among the promotions in the Philippine printing office we notice Edwin C. Jones, formerly foreman of this room, is now superintendent of instruction, at $2,500; J. A. Hoggsette, formerly of the Fifth Division, is foreman, at $2,000, and A. P. Ferl, who was a job hand at the Treasury, is assistant foreman, at $1,800.

Autumn is now upon us. The bay, river, and suburban resorts are closed; educational institutions of all kinds are beginning their terms; the theater season has begun; the dancing schools and halls are open. Which shall it be this winter—a season of frivolity, another wasted—or will you take up that long-deferred course of study? Think it over.

Tommy Travis says when Pard Julian was returning Monday night from a lodge meeting over in Anacostia that he mistook a young man walking in front of him for Tommy. Pard came down on his back with that heavy paw of his, nearly knocking the man down, and said, "Where are you going, Tommy?" The fellow turned around, caught his breath, and said, "None of your d—d business." It is supposed Pard bought then, if any place was open.

When Tommy McEneany arrived home from his work Thursday afternoon he found a new guest had preceded him about half an hour. He was the proud father of a girl baby. Theodore Gerber wrote him a postal of congratulations and well wishes. As Gerber says, "A full-blooded Dutchman writing to a full-blooded Irishman." Below is Gerber's card:

FRIEND THOMAS: Herzlichste Glueckwuensche anlaesslich des Ankunfts eines gesunden, munteren Toechterleins. Mutter und Toechterchen beste Gesundheit wuenschend, bleibe ich. Dein Friend, Theo Gerber.

As there seemed to be some objection to Mr. Childress's scheme of G. P. O. employes wearing uniforms and service stripes, he has offered another suggestion: Have all the First Division wear Van Dyke whiskers; the Second, mustaches; the Third, side whiskers or Galways; the Fourth, those long ones which come out from the neck under the chin, or Billy Goats; the Fifth, goatees, and the Specifications, beardless. Then if a Van Dyke was caught taking sorts out of the Galway or Goatee Division he could readily be informed on to the Van Dyke foreman.

Preachers admit there is a falling off in attendance upon religious worship. One of the causes is probably that vice is not sufficiently condemned and ostracized. This week the Western Electric Company, of Chicago (1,500 employes), Marshall Field & Co., several railroads entering the city, and other firms have notified their employes that "playing the races, all forms of gambling, immoral conduct, excessive use of liquor and cigarettes, will be punished by dismissal." These firms have found that such habits "cloud the intellect and impair the usefulness of the employes." If this plan would become general a better citizen and greater nation would result.

Titus F. Ellis, of the Third Division, is the latest candidate for delegate to announce himself. He is well known by the membership of Columbia Union, and needs no introduction. He says he would like to represent this union at St. Louis. He got his card in St. Louis and has never worked outside the two cities. When it was suggested to him that a great many candidates were announcing themselves, he said he "was not afraid of them; the more the merrier." There are nine already: John Berg, of the Record; Dan Vaughan, of the Proof Room; Philip Steele and C. W. Radley, of the First; T. Frank Hall, of the Second; Titus F. Ellis, of the Third; Joe M. Johnson, the present administration, and two lady candidates. NEWS.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Bindery Notes.

Visit Long Boag and have a look. He wears a pair of pants and vest made in one.

Keep watch on P. H. Riley, of the stamping room. It is reported he will marry soon.

Miss Fanny Levy, of the Union Building, called at the main office this week, and her many friends were pleased to see her.

John "Macaroni" Burns will set them up to the one who gives him the best excuse to make to his wife so he can make a hold-out on pay day.

Our friend, Joe Glenn, hopes we will have a new clock in the finishing room of the new building. Joe says he can never tell what time of day it is now.

John Fox, all besmeared with mud, his hair adorned with hay seed, and his pockets filled with cranberries and pieces of new pottery, came walking into Washington on Labor Day, from his home in Trenton, to take up once more his arduous duties in the Union Building.

Alex. Tosh, of the Union Building, has returned from his vacation, rosy, healthy, and smiling. The members of the "Bar?" are very glad to see the counselor return.

The cowboy's grafter seems to be very much disturbed on account of a recent transfer from that division. He still lingers around the foot of the fire escape, but without result.

Robert Stack is still investing in watered stock, and says he will refuse to work in the new building on account of the windows being so high. He is afraid of straining his rubber neck.

"Fatty" Fitz walks about these days with a very self-satisfied smile upon his very open countenance. The reason is plain. Fitz expects to take to himself a bride next month. It is reported that she is a Newburgh belle.

Charlie Welsh, the congenial and humorous "Dooley" of the finishing room, made his appearance on Tuesday morning with a new list of songs, marches, and jokes. Charlie would like to be an actor. He is going to put Weston in the shade. Cow Boy.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Labor Notes.

It is proposed to extend the New Zealand arbitration act to the other Australian colonies.

Officers of the amalgamated society of engineers, machinists, &c., say that that organization will soon be chartered by the American Labor Union. The A. F. of L. has several times refused this organization a charter, as it is a dual one.

President Cox, of International Coremakers' Union, has ordered the striking coremakers of St. Paul to return to work pending an inquiry into the demands of the men for more pay. A representative of the international will visit St. Paul shortly for this purpose.

Minneapolis bricklayers have won in the longstanding dispute between the bricklayers' and stonemasons organizations as to the right of the latter to exist without being under the jurisdiction of the bricklayers' national officers, which was referred to an arbitration board for settlement.

Columbus, Ohio, may soon be the center of the glass industry of the United States. For years Indiana has been among the leading States in the production of glass, but the failing of its gas fields has played havoc with its industry, and the factories are being moved as rapidly as possible.

Cigarmakers' unions are voting for an amendment to the international constitution permitting certain unions to accept applicants without the initiation fee for a period of three months; also for an amendment permitting cigarmakers from foreign countries who belong to their native unions to be admitted free of initiation fees.

A scheme of federation of all the international unions, the members of which are engaged in the building industry, is being planned by a number of international officers of building trades unions. It is a far-reaching plan, and if carried to a successful termination, will materially strengthen and solidify the building trades unions.

Union machinists at Newport News, Va., have voted to sever affiliation with the Central Trades and Labor Council. The latter organization recently admitted representatives of negro labor unions to its membership, despite the protests of the machinists' union, which is the strongest and the most influential labor body in the city.

Union mechanics and blacksmiths in the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe shops have been working secretly to unionize the workers. The leaders in the movement are preparing to present demands to the Santa Fe management for higher wages, and they hope to drive the non-union men from the shops before the demands are presented.

"The Man's Store."
THE NEW "M. S. M." FALL CLOTHING
Is something to enthuse over. The fit, the shape—the excellence in tailoring in this line of $16.50 Single and Double-Breasted Sack Suits will please you as much as it pleases us. Come and look—glad to try on anything you wish.

D. J. KAUFMAN, 1005-7 Pa. Ave.

Woodward & Lothrop,
DEPARTMENT STORE.
TENTH, ELEVENTH, AND F STS. N. W.

GIDDINGS & STEELE,
Exclusive Floor Coverings
813 PENNSYLVANIA AVE. N.W.

The Savings possible at
S. Kann, Sons & Co.
8th St.—THE BUSY CORNER—Pa. Ave.
are such as may be counted in the pocket. At the same time styles and qualities are unexcelled.

WHERE THE HALF-TONES ARE MADE
THE NATIONAL ENGRAVING COMPANY.
INCORPORATED.
14th St. and Pa. Ave. Phone 1679 Main.

Hewke, PHOTOGRAPHER
56 of the ex-delegates and committees patronized me for good work.
Studio,
430 7th St., N. W. Washington, D. C.

J. E. BONINI'S
BUFFET AND CAFÉ,
727-729 N. Capitol Street.
MAERZEN BEER ON TAP.
A first-class Lunch Counter. Sea food in season. Union throughout.

Cole & Swan
Large assortment of Watches, Diamonds, and Jewelry (we make and repair anything in this line). "Square Dealing" our motto.
21 H Street N. W.

D. STRAUSS,
Clothier, Hatter and Furnisher
441 Seventh Street N. W.,
Washington, D. C.

Cabin John Bridge
MOST BEAUTIFUL PLEASURE RESORT IN AMERICA
A Wealth of Amusements
Band Concerts Every Evening and Sunday Afternoons
Beauty Health Pleasure
Union Men Only Engaged
TAKE METROPOLITAN CAR

THE RIGGS NATIONAL BANK
Of Washington, D. C.
Capital - - - $1,000,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits, 1,000,000
Exchange on England, Ireland, France and Germany. Letters of credit available in all foreign parts. Bank Collections. Orders for investments. Stocks and Bonds.

You don't have to die to receive benefits from Ben-Hur (the no-assessment insurance order). Ask about the old age disability and accident features.
HENRY E. CROUCH, Deputy, 424 Fourth St. N. E.
ALBERT P. E. DOYLE, Scribe, 21 O St. N. E.

FURNISHED ROOMS
AT
The Orleans
1203 F STREET NORTHWEST
MRS. R. COMMELIN, Prop.

MACKENZIE BROS.
WHOLESALE HATTERS
639 D Street Northwest
Ask your dealer for a Mackenzie Union-Made Hat.

M. S. JOHNSON,
Foreign and Domestic Woolens now ready for inspection
SUITS $25 UP. UNION SHOP.
1435 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

RETAIL DRUG CLERKS, No. 240, AND THEIR FRIENDS DO NOT PATRONIZE
JOHN W. JENNINGS
DRUGGIST
1142 Connecticut Avenue
Now on Unfair List of Central Labor Union

THOMAS WALSH
Formerly "Steve" Caldwell's.
Whiskies and Cigars
Specialties: MELVALE AND SHERWOOD
COOL LAGER BEER ON DRAUGHT.
BILLIARDS AND POOL
Billiards, 40c. per hour. Pool, 2½c. per cue.
THOMAS WALSH
407 Tenth St. Northwest

E. F. PRICE & CO.
Strongest flat opening blank book made. Ruling and Binding of every description. A Specialty of FINE BANK WORK.
BOOKBINDERS 1108 E St. N. W.

G. P. O. BICYCLE REPAIR CO.
ARTHUR D. BENNETT
MANAGER
Wheels stored, cleaned, and repaired (per month)..... $1.00
Wheels stored and cleaned (per month)..... .75
Wheels stored (per month)..... .50
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty
Bicycle Sundries
Salesroom, 33 H St. N. W.

300 1-lb. Loaves to the Barrel.
Every Laboring Man
—requires pure, wholesome, nourishing food such as is made of—
Cream Blend Flour
It not only makes THE BEST Bread, Rolls, Cake and Pastry, but more of them than other brands—therefore it's the cheapest that money can buy.
Your Grocer will supply you.
B. B. EARNSHAW & BRO., Wholesalers,
1105, 1107, 1109 11th Street S. E.
1000 and 1002 M Street S. E.

T. HOLLANDER
Men's Furnishings
Hats and Shoes
COR. N. CAPITOL AND H STS.
Opposite Government Printing Office

DO YOU USE TOILET PAPER?
If so, investigate the service furnished by
R. P. Andrews & Co.,
INCORPORATED
627-629 LOUISIANA AVE. N. W.
THE WHOLESALE PAPER HOUSE
IT WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

HOTEL FRITZ REUTER
Rathskeller and Restaurant.
COR. PA. AVE. AND JOHN MARSHALL PLACE
Phone: East 388.

Telephone 3662-Y
AMREIN'S FAMOUS ICE CREAM
HAS NO EQUAL
One Dollar per Gallon
Stores, 1426 and 1810 7th St. N. W.

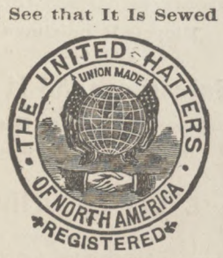
Steam Cleaning and Dye Works
(Formerly New York Dye House)
I do the most perfect Cleaning and Dyeing at most reasonable rates. Goods called for and returned.
C. W. MARGGRAF, Proprietor.
631 D Street, N. W.

GEO. W. BARRY COAL CO.
Coal in any quantity at the right price and Wood also.
14-16 H N. E. One minute from G. P. O. Telephone East 234.

B. F. WARNER
FINE WINES and LIQUORS
BLUE LABEL CIGARS
1219 E Street Northwest

FOR LUNCH
TRY THE
Pure Dairy Lunch
935 D Street Northwest

American Ice Co.
1437 Penna. Ave. N. W.



THE UNION
SAVINGS BANK
BOND BUILDING
Cor. 14th St. and New York Ave. N.W.

Three Per Cent Interest
on Savings Accounts.

Branch Deposit Agency at
T. A. ROVER'S STORE,
Cor. North Capitol and H Sts.
OPEN EVERY MONDAY AND TUESDAY
FROM 4 TO 5 P. M.

When in doubt buy at
HOUSE & HERRMANN,
FURNITURE, CARPETS, DRAPERIES, ETC.
N. E. Corner Seventh and I Streets N. W.

Don't Buy a Hat
Without the Label. .
And See that It Is Sewed In.

Don't Patronize a Dealer Who Has Loose Labels on Hand and Offers to Put One in Your Hat.
LOOSE LABELS
In Retail Stores
ARE COUNTERFEITS.
The John B. Stetson Co., of Philadelphia, Pa., is a non-union concern.

J. GEORGE SMITH
(Formerly a member of the firm of R. P. Andrews & Co.)
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
PAPER AND STATIONERY
My old friends and patrons from J. C. Addison's time to the present will be welcome. I can supply all your needs at lowest prices consistent with quality.
626 E STREET NORTHWEST

The Hub Furniture Co.,
The Stores that Save You Money.
OUR MOTTO—The Best Values in Furniture and Carpets at the Lowest Prices.
Cash or Credit.
HUB FURNITURE CO.,
(Formerly Wash B. Williams)
Corner Seventh and D Streets N. W.

A. & P. BEST ELGIN BUTTER, 27 CENTS.
Finest Grades of Teas and Coffees.
Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company,
Cor. 7th and E.

Carriages Furnished for All Occasions — Phone East 327-M
JOHN ELBERT
Undertaker and Embalmer
54 H STREET N. W.

EDWIN F. PRICE
(Late member of the firm of E. F. Price & Co.)
Bookbinder
Ruling and Binding of every description. Strongest Flat-Opening Blank Book Made. A Specialty of Fine Bank Work.
Darby Bldg., 506-508 Fourteenth St. N. W.

St. Asaph Commission Rooms,
Old Established and Reliable.
Trains leave Thirteen and one-half street and Pennsylvania avenue—Alexandria, Mt. Vernon, and Washington Railway—daily at 12.45, 1.05, 1.25, 2, 2.30, 3.02, and 3.30. Return .39, 4.24, 5.02, 5.58, and at various intervals.

CELTIC CLUB WHISKY
Our Specialty. Never Changes. Once Tried You'll Always Use It. Take No Substitute.
Ports and Sherries for family use, Quarts, 50 and 75 cents. All makes of Beer. Leading brands of Cigars. Ales and Porters on draught the year round.
JOHN CONNOR
New Jersey Ave. and G Sts. N. W.

J. WILLIAM LEE,
Undertaker and Livery, . . .
322 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

Union Directory.

TO SECRETARIES: Please notify this office of any change in officers' addresses, time or place of meeting. Corrections will be made quarterly.

American Federation of Labor—Headquarters, Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Sam'l Gompers, President. Frank Morrison, Secretary.

Allied Printing Trades Council meets last Thursday in the month at Typographical Temple. J. A. Wiedman, Secretary-Treasurer, 15 I street northeast.

Allied Label League meets every Friday night at 8 o'clock at 905 E street northwest. C. A. Pfau, Secretary, 905 E street northwest.

Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, Local No. 148, meets second and fourth Thursday evenings at 922 Pa. avenue northwest. Geo. Bakersmith, Secretary, 3315 Brightwood avenue northwest.

Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers. Local Union No. 102, meets first and third Wednesdays at Loehl's Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. Wm. H. Whiting, Secretary, 639 K street southwest.

American Society Plate Engravers meets first Saturday in each month at Grand Army Hall. A. C. Ruebsam, Secretary, Bethesda, Montgomery County, Md.

Bakers Union, No. 118, meets first and third Saturday in each month at 430 Eighth street northwest. John G. Schmidt, Secretary and Business Agent, 333 I street s w.

Bakers' Drivers' L. U. No. 33, T. D. I. U. meets first and third Thursday evening of each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Thomas C. Fox, Secretary, 922 Fourth street northeast.

Bartenders' League Local No. 75, meets first and fourth Sunday of each month at 2 p. m. at Macabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. Jere F. McCarthy, Secretary, 1017 Maryland avenue southwest.

Beer Drivers' and Stablemen's Union, No. 234, meets first Sunday of each month at 314 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. Walter T. Trittipoe, Secretary, 1346 Wallach Place northwest.

Bookbinders' Union, No. 4, meets first Tuesday in each month at Typograhical Temple. James A. Stockman, Secretary, 735 North Capitol street.

Brewery Workers' Union, No. 118, meets second and last Sunday of the month at 314 Pennsylvania ave. southeast. Frank Rom, Secretary, 818 New Hampshire ave. northwest.

Bricklayers' Union, No. 1, meets second and fourth Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Milford Spohn, Secretary, Typographical Temple.

Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators, and Paperhangers, Local Union, No. 368, meets every Friday night at 430 Eighth street northwest. G. J. Murray, Secretary, 1107 South Carolina avenue southeast.

Cab and Carriage Drivers' Union, No. 486, meets first and third Sundays, at Butler's Hall, 609 C street northwest. W. B. Nelson, Secretary, 922 I street northwest.

Carriage and Wagon Workers' International Union, Local No. 72, of Washington, D. C., meets every Thursday, at Loehl's Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. John H. Brinkman, Secretary, 1729 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Carpet Upholsterers, No. 85, U. I. U., meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at 516 Ninth street northwest. Geo. A. Pinckney, Secretary, 363 Pennsylvania ave. northwest.

Central Labor Union meets every Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Typographical Temple. Charles W. Winslow, Secretary, 425 G street northwest. Residence, 3206 Wisconsin avenue northwest.

Ceramic, Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers and Helpers' International Union, No. 2, meets first and third Thursdays at 609 C street northwest. W. F. Miller, Secretary, 1228 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Cigarmakers' Local Union, No. 110, meets every Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Bielgik's Hall, 737 Seventh street northwest. Henry B. Wissner, Secretary, 3143 Dumbarton avenue.

Columbia Lodge, No. 174, International Association of Machinists, meets every Wednesday night at McCauley's Hall, 209 Pennsylavenue southeast. E. L. Adams, Secretary, 600 Ninth street northeast.

Columbia Typographical Union meets third Sunday in each month in Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. W. M. Garrett, Secretary.

Council Allied Building Trades of Central Labor Union meets every Tuesday night at 610 G street notthwest. E. J. Ratigan, Secretary, Room 2, 626 Sixth street northwest.

Douglass Association of Steam Engineers, I. S. U. E., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of the month at 609 F street northwest. J. W. Webb, Secretary, 341 Maryland avenue southwest.

Electrotype Molders and Finishers' Union, No. 17, I. S. and E. U. Charles W. Dean, Secretary.

Federal Labor Union No. 8193, meets fourth Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Miss Emma A. Miller, Secretary, 1011 First street n. w.

Fire Department Employees, P. and B. Union No. 8846, meets every Wednesday morning at 11 a. m., at Union Veterans' Hall, 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. G. Achstetter, Secretary, 206 N. Y. ave. northwest.

Gas Workers' Union No. 10343, Samuel H. Walker, Secretary, 735 Thirteenth street s. e.

Glass Bottle Blowers' Association, Branch 68, Alexandria, Va., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Serepta Hall. Frank Michelbach, Secretary, 803 King street, Alexandria, Va.

Grocery Clerks' Local, No. 533, meets every first and third Thursday of the month at Costello's Hall, cor. Sixth and G. n. w. John D. Schamel, rec. sec., 1540 N. Capitol street.

Hospital Attendants' Protective Union No. 8097, meets first and fourth Saturday nights of each month at Masonic Hall, Anacostia, D. C. C. W. Teates, Secretary, 434 Jackson street, Anacostia, D. C.

Hodcarriers, Brick and Mortar Wheelers' Union No. 9468, meets first and third Monday evenings in each month at Cadets' Armory, 708 O street northwest. Dennis Brown, Secretary, 1237 Fourth street northwest.

Ice Wagon Drivers and Helpers, Local No. 430, meets first and third Tuesdays in each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest (third floor). William Donaldson, Secretary, 812 Seventh street southwest.

International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, Local Union No. 5, meets every Friday night at Seventh and N streets northwest. Charles E. Barbour, Secretary, 1212 Potomac street northwest.

International Association of Machinists, Headquarters, rooms 402-407 McGill Building, 908-914 G streets northwest. James O'Connell, president; D. Douglass Wilson, vice-president and editor of the Journal; George Preston, Secretary-Treasurer.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.—Headquarters, Rooms 103-104 Corcoran Building. H. W. Sherman, Secretary.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 26, meets every Thursday night at Hotel Royal Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. S. F. Adams, Secretary, 724 Eighteenth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 148, meet every Monday night at 430 Eighth street northwest. H. B. Anderson, Secretary, 807 Eighth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, No. 257, meets every Friday evening at 719 Sixth street n. w. M. G. Bundick, Secretary, 1107 Tenth street n. w.

Interior Marble and Slate Cutters' and Setters' Association, No. 5, meets first and third Wednesday of each month at Arion Hall, 430 Eighth street northwest. George Edmonds, Secretary, 423 Queen street, Alexandria Va.

International Association of Marble Workers No. 33, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at 106 I street northwest. Lew Davis, Secretary, 106 I street northwest.

International Union of Steam Engineers— Local Union No. 99, meets every Wednesday evening at 419 Tenth street northwest. A. W. Leeke, Recording Secretary, Twelfth and B streets northwest.

International Brotherhood of Firemen, Local No. 63, meets every Tuesday night at J. F. Beare's Hall, 404 Eighth street northwest. Louis S. Crown, Secretary, 637 K street northeast.

International Alliance Stage Employees, Local No. 22, meets first and third Sundays of every month at 625 Louisiana avenue northwest. J. Shilling, Secretary, 1208 Bladensburg Road.

Iron Molders' Union, Local No. 215, meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at Masonic Hall, Fourth street and Pennsylvania avenue southeast. Joseph Stewart, Secretary, 3413 N street northwest.

I. U. S. E., Hoisting and Portable, Local 77, meets every Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, Heare's Hall, 404 Eighth street northwest. W. H. Radcliffe, Secretary, 812 Four-and-a-Half street southwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 239, meets first and third Wednesdays in each month at 737 Seventh st. northwest. Theo. A. Leckert, Secretary, 1210 Florida avenue northwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 305, meets first and third Monday evenings at 503 G street northwest (barber shop). Charles A. Thomas, Secretary, 817 E street northwest.

Journeymen Horseshoers' Union, No. 17, meets first and third Wednesday of each month at Costello's Hall, Sixth and G streets northwest. W. S. Lusby, Secretary, 708 Eighth street southwest.

Journeyman Tailors of America, No. 188, meets first and third Saturdays of each month at 8 o'clock p m., Labor Bureau Hall. Ignatius Geraci, Secretary, 917½ E street northwest.

Journeyman Plumbers and Gas Fitters' Local Union, No. 5, meets second and fourth Tuesday evening of each month at Maccabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. A. E. Anderson, Secretary, 1312 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Journeymen Stone and Marble Cutters' Union, meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Irondall Hall. Harry Bouche, Secretary, 72 H street northeast.

Laundry Wagon Drivers No. 467, W. W. Foster. Secretary, 95 Myrtle street northwest

Mail Bag Repairers' Union, No. 10523, meets first and last Saturdays of every month at Stolpp's Hall 721 Sixth street northwest. L. W. Kearney, Secretary, 406 First st. n.w.

Mail Bag Workers' Union, 10504, meets every Saturday at 721 Sixth street northwest Miss A. Cross, Secretary, 321 Lincoln street, Anacostia, D. C.

Marble Mosaic and Granito Workers No. 8902, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at 1400 D street northwest. G. B. Cinotti, secretary.

Metal Trades Federation of North America, Room 134 Corcoran Bldg., James O'Connell, President. E. J. Lyn h, Secretary.

Milk Wagon Drivers' Union, No. 349, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at 8 p. m., at Hotel Royal (second floor), Seventh and N streets northwest. W. T. Trittipoe 1359 U street northwest.

Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers' Helpers, Local Union, No. 12, meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Arion Hall, 430 Eighth street northwest. S. Becket. Secretary, 401 E Street southeast.

Musicians' Protective Union, No. 161, meets first and third Sundays at 2 p. m., at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Linden, Jr Secretary, 1364 E street southeast.

National Alliance Theatrical Stage Employes meets first and third Sunday in each month at southwest corner of Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, third floor. J. P. Shilling, Secretary, 1208 Bladensburg Road.

Negative Cutters Union, meets second Wednesday in each month at 921 F street northwest. Clarence W. Schroeder, Secretary, 640 E street southeast.

Oil Wagon Drivers, No. 296, meets second Wednesday of each month at Oppenheimer's Hall, 514 Ninth street northwest. A. J. Dixon, Secretary, 1234 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Operative Stonemasons' Union, No. 2, meets first and third Monday evenings at 609 C street northwest. James Lanigan, Secretary, 930 G street southwest.

Paperhangers' Local Union No. 420, B. of P., D., and P., meets every Wednesday evening, 625 Louisiana avenue, n. w. J. Franklin Page, Secretary.

Pattern Makers' League meets at Weller's Hall, Eighth and I streets southeast, first and third Wednesday. James B. McAlwee, Secretary, 907 E street southeast.

Photo-Engravers' Union, No. 17, meets first Monday in each month at 417 Eleventh street northwest. F. C. Betts, Secretary, Kensington, Md.

Printing Pressmen Union, No. 1, meets first Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. W. C. Deane, Secretary. 19 Grant Place.

Plate Printers Union, No. 2, meets at Maccabee Temple, Ninth street n. w., the fourth Tuesday in each month. J. P. Murphy, Secretary, 1416 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

Post-Office Clerks, No. 9834, meets the second Saturday of each month at Twelfth and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. B. Corridon, Secretary, 1733 North Capitol street.

Registered Drug Clerks' Union, District of Columbia, meets second and fourth Fridays at Jolly Fat Men's Hall, 933 D street northwest. Fred T. Hafelfinger, Secretary, 1110 Fourteenth street northwest.

Retail Clerks' Union, No. 262, meets second and fourth Mondays of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Joseph Moser, Recording Secretary, 624 I street northwest.

Retail Grocery Clerks' Union, No. 533, meets every Thursday evening at Society Temple, 5th and G streets N. W. Alfred Fuss, Secretary, 802 D street s. e.

Slate and Tile Roofers' Union, No. 10421, meets every Monday night at 922 F street northwest. J. C. Huddleson, Secretary, 2147 Pennsylvania avenue northwest,

Soda and Mineral Water Wagon Drivers, No. 372, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at Bessler's Hall, 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. P. Connor, Secretary, 1111 Sixth street southwest.

Steam Fitters, R. A. Lanis Association, L. B. No. 10, N. A., meets every Thursday night at 610 G street northwest. Thomas L. Hess. Secretary, 913 New York avenue northwest.

Steam and Hot Water Fitters' Helpers, Local Branch, No. 28, N. A., meets every Friday at 8 o'clock p. m., at 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. H. Reichard, 315 Ninth street southeast.

Stereotypers' Union, No. 19, of Washington D. C., meets second Monday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. D. J. Murray, Secretary, 35 R street northwest.

Stone Laborers' Union, No. 9013, meets first and third Friday of each month at Eleventh and Q streets northwest. Daniel Lahey, Secretary, 1003 A street southeast.

Telephone Operators, No. 9914, meets third Saturday of each month at Schmidt's Hall, 516 Ninth street northwest. Edna Earl Bobb, Secretary, 924 Pennsylvania avenue southeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, Local Union, No. 190, meet every Friday evening at the Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. C. H. Scherer, Secretary, 936 Fourth street northeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 884, meets every Monday night at 904 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Torney, Secretary, 141 Jefferson street, Anacostia D. C.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 1103, Mill and Bench Hands, meets every Friday at 8 p. m., at 514 Ninth street northwest. Peyton Wilkerson, Secretary, 816 G street southeast.

United Brotherhood of Leather Workers on Horse Goods, No. 87, meets every second and fourth Tuesday, 513 Twelfth street northwest. H. J. Laubach, Secretary. 72 H street northeast.

Upholsterers' Local Union, No. 58, meets second and fourth Thursdays of each month at 416 (fourth floor) Ninth street northwest. T. R. Bowie, Secretary, 1306 Riggs street northwest.

Washington Branch, Granite Cutters' National Union, meets every second and fourth Mondays in each month at 1204 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Wm. Silver, Secretary, 49 Massachusetts avenue northwest.

Washington Feeders and Assistants' Union, No. 42, meets the first Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street n. w. D. I. Leane, Secretary, 702 H street northeast.

Washington Lodge of Machinists, No. 193, meets every Thursday night at southwest corner of Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. Herbert Wyatt, Secretary, 111 Seventh street southeast.

Wood, Wire, and Metal Lathers' Local Union, No. 9, meets every Monday night at Hare's Hall. Eighth and D streets northwest. J. C. Maloney, Secretary, 124 G street n. w.

LABOR DAY IN LOS ANGELES.

Police Attempt to Create a Disturbance at the Grounds After Parade.

[Special Correspondence.]

LOS ANGELES CAL., Sept., 8, 1903.

Labor Day in Los Angeles this year was the most remarkable demonstration ever witnessed in Southern California. The line of march covered thirty blocks, and the head of the procession had disbanded before the rear was in motion. It is useless to say the little gang comprising the Employers' Association, at the head of which is H. G. Otis, was thrown into a state of consternation at the splendid showing made by the hosts of organized labor. Practically every union in the city, and several organizations from the suburban town of San Pedro, were represented in the parade, a feature of which were the new unions in line, thirty-four having received charters since Labor Day, 1902. The judges of the parade were selected from the three daily papers of Los Angeles employing union labor, thus emphasizing the attitude of the infamous Times toward those who toil.

At the grounds in the afternoon what at first promised to be a serious difficulty was caused by a policeman dressed in plain clothing, who drew a revolver while making a petty arrest. The opinion is freely expressed that the policeman was acting under orders from the chief, a tool of Otis, and this belief is strengthened by the manner in which the Times devotes an entire page to the "union riot."

Naturally, the union men and women of Los Angeles are much pleased at the great showing they made, and are confident that ere another Labor day is at hand Otis will be forced to make peace with labor. Unionists everywhere can materially assist in bringing this about by writing letters to the following advertisers in the notorious Times:

Carrara Paint, 811 Carrara Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

"Santal Middy," E. Faugera, 26 North Williams street, New York, N. Y.

Royal Baking Powder Company, 100 Williams street, New York, N. Y.

Philo-Hay Specialties Company—Newark, N. J.

Castoria—The Centaur Company, 77 Murray street, New York, N. Y.

Cuticura—Potter Drug and Chemical Company, Boston, Mass.

Postum—Postum Cereal Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

Scott's Emulsion—Scott & Bowne, 409 Pearl street New York, N. Y.

Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate—D. Ghirardelli, San Francisco, Cal.

Tell these advertisers that organized labor does not look with favor upon any person or firm that is aiding labor's meanest enemy, the Los Angeles Times.

Business Agents Affiliated with the Council of Allied Building Trades.

Headquarters, Room 2, 624 Sixth St., N. W. E. J. Ratigan, Secretary. Tel. East 331 Y.

Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' No. 102:
Thomas F. Ryan, Room 2, 624 Sixth street northwest.

Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, No. 5:
Thomas E. Grove, Room 2, 624 Sixth street northwest.

Brotherhood Carpenters and Joiners:
Fred Neidemanski, 506 Sixth street northwest.

Hod Carriers Brick and Mortar Wheelers:
Sol. J. Childs, 1006 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Electrical Workers, No. 26:
George A. Malone, 48 L street northwest.

Painters, No. 368:
W. M. Lewis, 506 sixth street northwest.

Paperhangers, No. 420:
Harry J. Wells, 625 Louisiana avenue northwest.

Stone Laborers.
Daniel Lahey, 1003 Eighth street southeast.

Tile Layers, No. 2:
W. E. Thompson, Room 2, 624 Sixth street northwest.

Tile Layers Helpers, No. 12:
Howard Smoot, Room 2, 624 Sixth street northwest.

Machinists, Washington Lodge, No. 193:
Fred. Fletcher, Room 55, Traders National Bank Building, Pennsylvania avenue and Tenth streets northwest.

Bricklayers' Executive Committee.

The following is the list of members of the Executive Committee of Bricklayers' Union, No. 1: John G. Wolfe, chairman, 1023 New Jersey avenue; W. Cronin, 1415 Thirty-sixth street northwest; Samuel Haslett, 221 South Lee street, Alexandria, Va.; John Shanahan, 2352 Eighth street northwest; John McCarten, 1237 Maryland avenue northeast.

Representative Business Houses.
OF WASHINGTON, D. C.

The following wholesale and retail firms and professional men are friendly to Union Labor and are entitled to its patronage:

BANKS.
THE LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK, Safe Deposit Vaults, $2.50 up
CAPITAL LOAN GUARANTEE COMPANY, 602 F Street Northwest. Every one can borrow money without security.

BAKERS.
HOLMES & SON, Celebrated Home-Made Pies and Milk Bread. First and E Streets N. W. Phone East 864.

BOOTS AND SHOES.
CROCKER'S SHOES, 939 Pennsylvania Ave. N. W.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.
DANIEL LOUGHRAN, 1347 Pennsylvania Ave.
LUCHS & BRO., Wholesalers. Phone E 755.

COACH FINDINGS.
J. B. KENDALL, 485-87 Missouri avenue N. W.

COAL TAR PRODUCTS AND PAPER.
E. B. WARREN & CO., 27th and H Sts. N. W.

CUTLERY AND SPORTING GOODS.
D. N. WALFORD, 477 and 909 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

DRY GOODS.
LANSBURGH & BROTHER, 420 to 426 7th St. N. W

DYER.
E. E. WHEATLEY, 1068 Jefferson Ave. N. W. Phone, West 117-Y.

ENGRAVERS.
THE MAURICE JOYCE ENGRAVING CO. Cuts and Illustrations. 418 11th street N. W

FIRE INSURANCE.
Insure with THE RIGGS FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.
FIREMEN'S INSURANCE COMPANY, Seventh St. and Louisiana Ave.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.
JULIUS LANSBURGH, Interocean Building, 512 Ninth St. N. W.

GROCERIES.
LITTLE & PAGE, "Good things to eat." 1210 F St. N.W
W. C. ERGOOD, "Good goods at Ergoods." Corner Ninth and H Streets Northwest.

GROCER AND COFFEE ROASTER.
SOMERSET R. WATERS. 1342 Seventh Street Northwest, Corner O.

HARDWARE AND TOOLS.
RUDOLPH, WEST & CO., 1332 New York avenue northwest.

HUDSON'S VARIETY STORE.
B. F. HUDSON, 416 Seventh Street Northwest.

HATTERS AND FURRIERS.
JAMES Y. DAVIS' SONS, 1201 Pennsylvania Ave.
A. H. BURDINE, Union Overalls, Hats, and Gloves. Seventh Street and Virginia avenue southwest.

LIME, SAND, GRAVEL, CEMENT.
NATIONAL MORTAR COMPANY. Office: Room 9, Ralston Bldg., 612 F St. N. W. Office telephone: East 688.

LUMBER AND MILL WORK.
THOMAS R. RILEY, 13th St. and Ohio Ave.

MACHINISTS AND ENGINEERS.
FORSBERG & MURRAY. Pumps and Elevators. Engines and Boilers 8th and Water Sts. S. W.

MERCHANT TAILOR.
W. A. SLADEN, 419 East Capitol Street.

PHARMACISTS.
LOUIS F. BRADLEY, Prescription Druggist. 8th and E Sts. S. E

PHOTO-LITHOGRAPHERS.
THE NORRIS PETERS CO., 458 and 460 Pennsylvania avenue N. W
ANDREW B. GRAHAM Lithographer, Photo-Lithographer, and Half-Tones. 1230 Pa. Ave. Phones: 1031-M, 1679-M.

PIANO AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
E. E. DROOP & SONS, 925 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

PRINTING SUPPLIES.
NATIONAL PRINTER'S SUPPLY CO., Machine-made Rollers. 414 10th St. N. W.

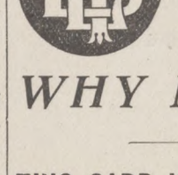
RESTAURANT AND WINE ROOM.
JOHN M. BECKER, Opp. Navy Yard., Cor. 8th and Georgia Ave. S.E

SHOES.
DAVE WOLF. SHOES FOR EVERYBODY. 432 Seventh Street N. W.

SHAVING PARLORS
VINCENT R. CILENTO, 805 North Capitol Street.

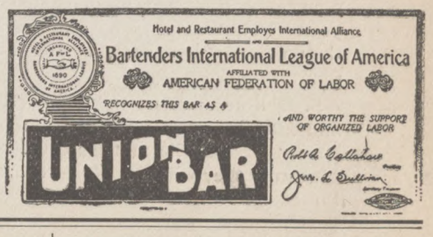
TITLES TO REAL ESTATE.
LAWYERS' TITLE & GUARANTY INS. CO. 412 5th St. N. W.

UNION HEADQUARTERS.
ARION HALL, 430 Eighth Street N. W. Headquarters for organizations. Strictly union. JIM STEVENS, Proprietor.



WINES AND LIQUORS.
SAMUEL G. STEWART, Heurich Brewing Co's. beers and popular brands of whiskies. 1141 Seventh st. northwest between L and M.
WILLIAM DIETZ, 1203 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest
GEORGE W. DRIVER, 605 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

DO NOT WANT OUR PATRONAGE.



Following brands of cigars: Cinco, Cremo, George W. Childs, Henry George, Tom Moore, Robert Burns, and General Arthur.

The following firms have declared against the interest of Organized Labor and are not regarded as deserving their patronage:

NAME.	BUSINESS.	LOCATION.
Chevy Chase Railway and circle.	Street railway	Chevy Chase and Circle.
Keenan Bros	Gents' furnishers	Pa. ave. bet. 14th and 15th sts., and 523 Seventh st. n. w.
B. Solomon	Gents' furnisher	708 Seventh street n.w.
Rufus H. Darby	Printer	508 Fourteenth street n.w.
H. L. McQueen	Printer	1108 E street n.w.
N. Sickles (Nat'l Cigar Factory).	Cigar manufacturer	1011 Penna. avenue n.w.
E. Gundershiemer	Baker	516 Second street n.w. and stall in Center Market.
Peter Grogan	Carpet dealer	817 to 823 Seventh street n.w.
John H. Fitzgerald	Horseshoer	443 Prather's alley n.w.
S. S Daish	Coal and wood	Florida ave. and Third st. n.e.
Wilbur F. Nash	Meat dealer	Center and O st. Markets.
C. E. Hencke	Electrician	711 G street n.w.
F. J. Wheelock	Electrician	1215 G street n. e.
National Mosaic Company	Mosaics	207 Fourth st. n.w.
M. Minster	Gents' furnisher	1343 F st. n.w.
A. Minster	Gents' furnisher	490 and 501 Penna. ave. n. w
Cyrus B. Reese	Employing steamfitter	1519 Fourteenth street n. w.
C. A. Schneider & Sons	Union Iron Works	212 Twelfth street n. w.
Minster & Paterson	Gents' furnishers	1109 Pennsylvania ave. n. w
Chas. A. Muddiman & Co	Gas fixtures	1204 G and 616 Twelfth st. n. w.
Conrad Becker	Trunks and harness	1328 F st. n. w.
Chapin & Sacks	Dealer in butter	924 Louisana ave. n. w.
Home Ice Company	Ice	Twelfth and V sts. n.w.
Emil Wagner	Restaurant	210 Ninth st. n. w.
W. E. Carney	Cigar manufacturer	921 G st. s. w.
Nat'l Roller & Ball Bearing Co.	Machinery	33rd and K sts. n. w.
L. Rosenberg	Clothing and shoes	911-913 Eighth st. s. e.
Corbin Thompson	Dairyman	Sharon Dairy, 324 B st. s. w.
S. D. Houck	Dealer in harness	301 Tenth street n. w.
M. Eisemann & Bro	Dry goods	1924-26 Pa. ava. and 806 7th n.w
Elite Steam Laundry	Laundry	1205 G street n.w.
Benjamin Schwartz	Gents' furnisher and tailor	337 Pa. ave. s. e.
Emrich Beef Co	Meat Dealers
John Coleman	Horseshoer	1300 36th street n. w.
Hecht & Co	Dry Goods, etc	517-519 Seventh street n. w
Charles Rauscher	Caterer	Conn. ave. and L st. n. w
Academy of Music	Theater	Ninth and D streets n. w.
Lafayette Square Theater	Theater	16th st. and Pa. ave. n. w.
E. H. Snyder & Co	Tailors	1111 Pa. ave n. w
Owen Owen	Tailor	423 Eleventh street n. w.
L. A. Downey	Tailor	433 Eleventh street n. w.
J. M. Stein & Co	Tailors	413 Eleventh street n. w
J. D. Burns & Co	Tailors	701 Ninth street n. w.
J. B. Gatchel	Tailor	604 Thirteenth street n. w.
G. Warfield Simpson	Tailor	1208 F street n. w.
E. H. Catlin & Co	Machinists	407 13½ street n. w.
Thomas Somerville & Sons	Steam Fitters' Supplies	316 Thirteenth street n. w.
Joseph Mathy	Stove dealer and tin worker.	1918 Pennsylvania avenue.
William Meehan	Saloon	943 B street n. w.
Robert Lowe	Stone yard and mill	113 Third street s. w.
H. Vonderheide	Saloonist	2054 Seventh street n. w.
John W. Jennings	Druggist	1142 Connecticut avenue n. w.
E. Tapscott	Contractor

Does your bartender wear one of these Blue Buttons?
If not, WHY NOT?
THIS CARD INDICATES A

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICIAL ORGAN CENTRAL LABOR UNION, WASHINGTON BRANCH, AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Vol. VIII. No. 15. WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1903. Price, 3 Cents.

THE CENTRAL LABOR UNION

Fight on the Unfair Academy of Music Being Waged Vigorously.

THE INGERSOLL WATCH UNFAIR

George Francis Train Congratulates Secretary Winslow—Journeymen Tailors Making Fight for Their Label—Resolutions on Miller Case Adopted.

The regular meeting of the Central Labor Union was called to order last Monday evening by Delegate Dietrich, of Columbia Typographical Union, acting secretary, when Delegate Cowan, of Columbia Lodge of Machinists, was called to the chair.

CREDENTIALS.

Credentials were received from the following unions and reported favorably by the Credentials Committee:

From Local No. 102, Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, certifying P. S. Murphy and T. Cummins.

From Local No. 368, Painters, certifying William Frazier, vice Jas. Pridgeon, resigned.

From Beer Drivers and Stablemen's Union, No. 234, certifying George P. Gauzhorn.

The credentials of Local Union No. 10, of National Union of Elevator Constructors, were ordered held up until that organization defines their trade and enter into a trade agreement.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Local No. 102, Sheet Metal Workers, stating that a fine of $5 will be placed on any member of that union patronizing the Academy of Music. Referred to Stage Alliance.

From Mail Bag Repairers, No. 10523, A. F. of L., indorsing the attitude of the central body in its fight on the Academy of Music. Referred to Stage Alliance.

From George Francis Train, congratulating the Central Labor Union on its stand taken in the Miller case.

From Local No. 188, Journeymen Tailors' Union, indorsing the placing of the Academy of Music on the unfair list, and placing a fine of $5 on any member of that union patronizing that theater. Referred to Stage Alliance.

From Local No. 188, Journeymen Tailors, urging the delegates to insist on the custom tailors' label on clothes ordered by them, and asking that a renewed effort be made to bring the seven tailoring establishments now on the unfair list to terms. Placed on file.

From Local No. 2, Plate Printers, through S. Edw. Beach, secretary of its label committee, asking for further information relative to the unfair list. Referred to the secretary.

From Local 8846, Fire Department Employes, stating that lack of interest in their organization makes it necessary for them to withdraw from the central body. Upon motion they were dropped from the rolls.

From Metal Polishers' Union, No. 37, Waterbury, Conn., calling attention to unfair attitude of Waterbury Clock Company, makers of the Ingersoll Dollar Watch, and asking that a committee visit dealers in this city to ask that said watch be withheld from sale. Referred to Label League.

From Boxmakers' Union, Batavia, N. Y., calling attention to the fact that the E. N. Rowell Company of that city, where a strike is in progress, were shipping boxes to this city, and asking the appointment of a committee to see the customer here and have him desist from buying from the unfair firm. Referred to Label League.

From Steam Fitters' Union, No. 10, stating that they had taken action placing a fine of $5 on any member of that union patronizing the Academy of Music prior to receiving the communication from the central body. Referred to Stage Alliance.

From Musicians' Protective Union, No. 161, stating that a fine of $2 will be placed on any member of that union patronizing the Academy of Music.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

The Executive Committee made a favorable report on request of a loan of $200 by the Council of Allied Building Trades. The report was concurred in.

CALL OF UNIONS.

Milk Wagon Drivers called attention to Corbin Thompson, of Sharon Dairy, being unfair.

Washington Lodge of Machinists asked assistance of Bricklayers' Union against National Roller and Ball Bearing Company.

Retail Clerks called attention to Hecht & Co. being on unfair list.

Grocery Clerks reported that they have adopted a button and want all friends of organized labor to look for it on entering a grocery. They also called attention to Emrich Beef Company being still on unfair list.

NEW BUSINESS.

The secretary was ordered to send out a certified list of all unfair firms to each local union affiliated with the Central Labor Union on the first of each month.

A resolution was prepared and sent to Delegate Winslow at Kansas City, in attendance on the convention of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, asking for indorsement of that convention in Central Labor Union action in Miller case.

The following resolution was adopted and ordered sent to President Roosevelt:

The Central Labor Union of Washington, D. C., earnestly requests that you modify your orders of July 13th and 14th to the Hon. George B. Cortelyou, in which you say there shall be no discrimination between union and non-union labor, and do further petition that W. A. Miller, assistant foreman of binding in the Government Printing Office, be dismissed to promote the efficiency of the service, on charges made by the Bookbinders' Union, which prove his unfitness for the duties of the public servant.

Passed.

Adjourned.

The Cummings Memorial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 20, 1903

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

I was pleased to peruse, in your last issue, the call from the Cummings Memorial Committee for suggestions that might stimulate the effort to which these three gentlemen propose to bend their efforts. I believe their invitation will be responded to promptly by deeds that speak louder than words, for if there is a Union in the land where the memory of Amos Cummings is revered, it is right here in Washington City. It has been many months since the beginning in this good work was made and there has been some disappointment that this Union of ours has not so far taken part in the labor of love and, I may add, decent regard for the memory of one who who was ever our champion in the place where a defender was sometimes needed most urgently, but when we remember how the thought and time of the membership was taken up for quite awhile in the preparations for the entertainment of the late national gathering of the craft, the inaction in this respect is readily accounted for.

This Union should contribute at least a thousand dollars. I know many of its members personally, and can truthfully say I know not one who will not consider it a privilege to contribute his or her share to the worthy object in view. All that is necessary to accomplish creditable results will be to suggest a feasible plan by which voluntary contributions can be collected. And that plan has already been laid before us by the good men and true who compose the Washington Post chapel. It was Major J. T. Herbert, who, at the Cincinnati convention, moved that the international body take steps to prove to the world that Union printers honor the memory of such as the printer-statesman whose pride it was at all times to carry a Union card. It was the same gentlemen who called into being the first Amos J. Cummings Memorial Association in our local jurisdiction. It is my belief that if the committee intrusted with this matter invite the chairmen of the different chapels to meet with them, invite Major Herbert to be present likewise in order to detail the manner in which his pioneer Memorial Association operates, they will find the most gratifying cooperation. The membership of Columbia Union has never failed to do the right thing at the right time heretofore, and I will take what risk there may be in predicting that they will do it now.

AUGUST DONATH.

FOR RENT—Nicely furnished rooms for gentlemen at 721 First street northwest; suitable for night employes.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

OLD-TIMERS HAD TO SWEAR

Employees of the G. P. O. Required To Take the Oath of Allegiance.

OLD MEMBERS OF THE UNION

The Old Obligation—List of Officers of Bookbinders' Society—Preamble of Columbia Typographical Society—Roster of Members of the Society.

"Most people," said Mr. John A. Perkins, of the bindery of the Government Printing Office, "are under the impression that an oath of office was never required of the employes of the Government Printing Office until recently, when, as a matter of fact, it was formerly demanded, though falling into disuse shortly after the civil war. Here is the original of the oath that I took when I first obtained employment in the office, at the date given in the document."

The instrument which Mr. Perkins submitted reads as follows:

I do solemnly swear that I will support, protect, and defend the Constitution and Government of the United States against all enemies, whether domestic or foreign, and that I will bear true faith, allegiance, and loyalty to the same, any ordinance, resolution, or law of any State convention or legislature to the contrary notwithstanding; and further, that I do this with a full determination, pledge, and purpose, without any mental reservation or evasion whatsoever; and, further, that I will well and faithfully perform all the duties which may be required of me by law. So help me God.

JOHN A. PERKINS.

District of Columbia,
County of Washington, ss:

Sworn and subscribed to before me, this 17th day of January, 1863.

GILBERT L. GIBERSON, J. P.

This, being administered during the war period, bore upon matters not now deemed necessary to be made a part of an official oath; otherwise it does not differ materially from that recently administered to the employes, which reads as follows:

I, —— ——, do solemnly — that I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion; and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God.

Mr. Perkins, who was an assistant foreman of the bindery during the administration of Public Printer Sterling P. Rounds, has a number of old documents pertaining to the workingmen's societies of the period of the civil war, among them the "Constitution and By-Laws of the Bookbinders' Society of the District of Columbia, adopted November, 1857;" "Constitution of the Columbia Typographical Society, with the By-Laws, Rules of Order, and Scale of Prices, together with lists of officers, honorary members, and members of the society, from its organization to December, 1866," and "Constitution of the Workingmen's Assembly of the District of Columbia," the latter bearing date 1867.

The preamble of the constitution and by-laws of the Bookbinders' Society reads as follows:

Experience having proved that the efforts of individuals, however determined they were, have been unavailing in maintaining an adequate rate of wages and the independence of those compelled to labor at the art of bookbinding; and in order to attain those desirable ends the cooperation of all the latter class is necessary; that a frequent meeting and interchange of opinion of all who work at the art of bookbinding is highly conducive to a thorough understanding of the right of the workman and the maintenance of a reasonable compensation for his labor; and believing that all who work at bookbinding in this city are benefited by the existence of this society and in justice bound to contribute their mite to defray its expenses, do enact, declare, and establish the following as our constitution and future rules of government.

There is reason for believing that section 7 of Article XIII of the constitution was long since repealed or became a dead letter. It reads as follows:

Whereas Members of Congress and public officers have caused persons to be employed in binderies of the city of Washington, and believing that said officers have caused said persons to be employed for their own interest and to the injury of our society and trade, we do hereby Resolve, That we will not work with any person so employed.

The officers of the Bookbinders' Society for 1858 were as follows: President, James O'Neale; vice-president, James W. Harrison; recording secretary, Robert H. Marcellus; financial secretary, Lewis G. Thomas; treasurer, Daniel McFarlan, who held the office until within less than a half dozen years; finance committee, William D. Tuley, Newton Heald, and George P. Goff. There were only 72 members.

The preamble to the constitution of the Columbia Typographical Society, formed in 1815, which became the present Columbia Typographical Union in 1867, reads:

Whereas experience has proved that the association of individuals and the formation of societies for purposes of benevolence and mutual assistance in honorable pursuits have seldom, if ever, failed to meet the sanction of both God and man; we, therefore, with these ends in view, and with the hope that our endeavors will, in like manner, merit the commendation of all good men, and draw down upon our undertakings the benign influence of our Creator, do unite and form ourselves as one body, for the mutual benefit of each and the promotion of our general welfare, binding ourselves one to the other in form and manner following.

Among those who were members of the Columbia Typographical Society in 1866 who are still actively employed in the printing business are the following, the figures following the names showing the year in which they became members of the society, respectively:

Thomas J. Alleger (1850), Frank A. Baxter (1866), James G. Boss (1865), William S. Brooks (1860), C. P. Brown (1849), Henry L. Davison (1859), William B. Donaldson (1854), Edward Eberbach (1865), John E. Ellegood (1865), Charles F. Gilmore (1864), John A. Goodrick (1857), Daniel Grady (1863), Elam M. Hack (1864), Edward H. Laws (1863), William W. McCullom (1865), William McFarlane (1863), A. J. McGuiggan (1851), G. A. R. McNeir (1856), William W. Maloney (1861), Thomas J. Mattingly (1849), O. F. Mattingly (1866), Samuel E. Mullan (1863), Levi H. Patterson (1866), Joseph W. Palmer (1860), J. M. A. Spottswood (1859), William H. Sweeny (1860), William H. Towers (1854), Nicholas Watkins (1861), Luther Woodward (1865), and Benjamin C. Wright (1850).

Among members yet living who have gone into other business or have left the city, or for other reasons have retired from the printing trade, are the following:

John N. Bovee (1866), Thomas W. Clark (1866), William A. De Caindry (1861), August Donath (1863), James H. L. Eager (1863), Alexander Elliott (1851), C. W. Eve (1861), William J. Frizzell (1860), B. W. Gillis (1862), John A. Griffin (1866), D. K. Hackman (1861), B. F. Hackman (1859), Maurice Joyce (1864), Glendour Medairy (1864), E. W. Oyster (1866), T. S. Slentz (1864), William G. Spottswood (1866), Jeremiah W. Sterner (1865), T. Buckey Taylor (1863), Percy B. S. Thayer (1863), John S. Tomlinson (1863), E. B. Tuttle (1866), Henry H. Twombly (1863), and James B. Williamson (1850).

The Workingmen's Assembly was an organization formed in 1867 of delegations from the various workingmen's societies for the purpose of securing a reduction of the working hours from ten to eight, and it probably died after accomplishing that object in Government establishments in 1868. The preamble to its constitution read as follows:

Whereas the reduction of the hours of labor from ten to eight is a large question, affecting many interests, and not to be secured but with effort, lapse of time, and close combination: Therefore, it is necessary to centralize organization. To this end we ordain the following constitution.

A. F. BLOOMER.

Personal Mention.

George A. Malone, of the Eletcrical Workers, has returned from the convention of the I. B. E. W., recently held at Salt Lake City, Utah.

John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, is in the city, in attendance on the meeting of the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor.

Charles W. Winslow, secretary of the Central Labor Union, has been attending the convention this week of the Bridge and Structural Workers at Kansas City, being a delegate from Local No. 5, of this city.

Jere F. McCarthy, the president of the Allied Label League, has been in Cincinnati during the week, attending a meeting of the Executive Board of the Hotel and Resturant Employes and Bartenders League of America.

Thayer—Crawford.

Miss Susie Crawford and Courtney C. Thayer, were married Monday at the bride's home. Miss Crawford was one of the most popular employes of Woodward & Lothrop and Mr. Thayer is employed in the Third Division of the Government Printing Office.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

ALLIED BUILDING TRADES.

Non-Union Tile Layers Reported at Work on Portner Flats.

The regular weekly meeting of the Council of Allied Building Trades of the Central Labor Union was called to order at the usual hour on Tuesday evening, Delegate Clark being called to preside in the absence of chairman Wells.

Roll call declared the presence of 41 delegates from 21 unions.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

CREDENTIALS.

Credentials were received from Glaziers Union, certifying W. W. Whyte, vice Max Stern, and from Machinists Lodge No. 193, certifying to Fred. Pletcher. The delegates were seated.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Communication from Master Builder's Association were read and laid over to new business.

The minutes of the Executive Committee were read and their action approved.

The Business Agent made a report of work covered by him during the week.

Delegate Lahey asked that the Business Agent report an interview with G. C. Esher, which had not been reported, and after a brief statement asked that the Business Agent be instructed to call Executive Committee to consider job if necessary. Granted.

The committee to investigate credentials from Carpet Upholsterers reported progress.

ROLL CALL.

Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers asked that secretary file charge against J. H. Nolan to Master Builders Association. Carried.

Stone Laborers stated that two men who had violated their obligation as officers of that union were now employed by Jacob Viehmeyer, and asked assistance of Granite Cutters and Business Agent. Referred to Business Agent.

Tile Layers reported that nonunion tile layers were at work on Portner Flats. Referred to Business Agent.

Delegates McVey, Daly, and Sheetz were appointed a committee to visit Lathers' Union and explain why their men could not go back to work on Woodleigh apartment house.

NEW BUSINESS.

Communications from Carpenters' District Council and Master Builders' Association were referred to the Executive Committee, that committee to take the matter up as soon as possible.

The committee appointed to visit Lathers' Union reported that they had visited that union and given them full satisfaction.

Adjourned.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

The Allied Label League.

The regular meeting of the Allied Label League was called to order on Friday evening last, with Delegate Miller in the chair, President J. McCarthy being out of the city.

Roll call showed 20 delegates present.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read, and after correction, were adopted.

Communication from Milk Drivers were read, asking the League to give them moral support in their fight against Corbin Thompson. Granted.

Grocery Clerks, Local No. 533, reported that the Emrich Beef Company are still unfair, and, as they kept their stores open all day on Labor Day, it goes to show that this firm thinks a grocery clerk does not need any rest on Labor Day, after working fourteen and sixteen hours a day; therefore they ask that a fine be placed on all members trading with said Emrich Beef Company. It was so ordered.

Retail Clerks No. 262, asked that all members refrain from trading at Hecht & Co. Granted.

Communications from Central Labor Union, asking that the action of the Central Labor Union in placing the Academy, Hecht & Co., Emrich Beef Company, and other firms on the unfair list be indorsed. Granted.

There being no further business, the League proceeded to adjourn in due form. Receipts, $9; expenditures, none.

Socialism and Trades Unions.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

Mr. Eccles' definitions of Socialism in the last issue of your paper were as near being correct as Mr. Birney's conception of trades unions in his articles in the Post. It would be difficult to crowd in more sentences expressing the antithesis of Socialism in a given space than did Mr. Eccles in the column article he penned. It is quite evident the gentleman has not made a study of Socialism, and to say the least it is presumptuous in him to pose as an exponent of the doctrine. When he attempts to criticise Socialism he writes as does every tyro. He criticises his idea of Socialism instead of the thing itself.

In the sentence, "The distinctive idea of Socialism is that the Government should own and operate all the means of production," Mr. Eccles came near expressing the Socialist teaching. The way he speaks of government all through his article is that it is something apart from the people. Socialists advocate a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. We now have a government of the people, and partly by the people (for we do not elect Federal judges, United States Senators, or the President by direct vote), while it never yet has been a government for the people. Under Socialism the people would be the government in the fullest sense of the word, as direct legislation would be operative in municipal as well as in national affairs.

Socialists affirm that inasmuch as labor produces all wealth, it should possess that which it creates. In order that this result can be achieved it is necessary that the means of production should be controlled by labor. Expert statisticians have proven that if every able-bodied man worked five hours a day at productive labor more would be produced than would be needed.

Equal opportunities for all and special privileges for none is what Socialists advocate; but that does not in the least follow that all will make the same use of their opportunities any more than they do now. This is the only kind of equality the Socialists champion. They know that individuals will always differ greatly physically, mentally, and morally.

It would take too much space to refute each misstatement of Mr. Eccles, so I am compelled to confine myself to general principles. I will conclude by observing that trades unions may be classed as a kindergarten in the economic school. They are organized to get a larger share of their earnings than the captialist is willing to concede, but the Socialists go a step farther and say that whatever labor creates should belong to labor.

Labor made the machinery of the world, and there is no better reason than that as a title to ownership.

Labor creates capital, but has none.

Labor garners the grain, but eats the chaff.

Labor builds palace trains and automobiles, but walks.

Labor builds labor-saving machinery, but labors harder than ever.

Labor builds schools and universities, but remains in ignorance.

Labor elects representatives, but has no representation.

Labor has the ballot, but doesn't know how to use it.

Labor makes streets and public highways, but is not allowed free assemblage upon them.

Labor has brains, ability, and the power to change and remedy all this, but is afraid of its own power.

J. H. SWERDFIGER.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Columbia Union Meeting.

Owing to failure to secure the minutes of the last meeting, a full report of the proceedings of the meeting of Columbia Union could not be obtained for this issue.

The union passed a resolution to place a fine of $5 on all members failing to secure a union label on clothing in order to aid the custom tailors in their struggle for recognition, and the secretary was instructed to issue a notice calling attention to this matter and also to enforce the nonunion cigar fine.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Official Organ Central Labor Union and Allied Building Trades, A. F. of L.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

The Trades Unionist Publishing Company

E. W. PATTON.....President
A. J. E. HUBBARD.....Vice-President
T. M. RING.....Secretary

Office: 441 443 G Street Northwest.

TELEPHONE EAST 15 Y.

SUBSCRIPTION

One year (in advance) - - - - $1.00
Six months (in advance) - - - - .50

Entered at the Post-Office, Washington, D. C. as Second-Class Matter.

THE TRADES UNIONIST is heartily and unqualifiedly indorsed by the Central Labor Union and the Allied Building Trades as well as by the various locals connected with the two central bodies.

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL WASHINGTON. 2

Only Eight-Hour Union Office in Town.

I would as soon think of doing business without clerks as without advertising.
—JOHN WANAMAKER.

Nothing, except the mint, can make money thout advertising.
—GLADSTONE.

When you pay more for the rent of your usiness house than for advertising your usiness, you are pursuing a false policy. If you can do business, let it be known.
—FRANKLIN.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1903.

THE Emperor William has fifty-four castles and none of them in the air.

OWING to unseasonable warmth, the oyster met with a cold reception this year.

THE Turk seems determined to prove that he is as unspeakable as he is talked about.

WONDER what Darius Green would think of Professor Langley's flying-machine?

PERHAPS the sick man of Europe is merely trying to cure himself by transfusion of blood.

TRUE to the characteristics of his class, D. M. Parry overworks his imagination overtime.

THE question of elastic currency doesn't bother the man who ties up his wad with a string.

UNCLE SAM has been good for quite a while now, and naturally thinks it's about time to "irrigate."

IT IS stated that there is a great demand abroad for American apples. Another encore for Uncle Sam.

IT IS asserted that Mary MacLane has got good. In fact, she never was as black as she helped the devil paint her.

IF HE wants to have his name changed to Sir Thomas Lifton he might fit out an expedition and lift the North Pole ahead of Peary.

THE college of journalism should teach its graduates how not to write sophomoric editorials on the labor question.

COMMANDER PEARY is a man of iron nerve, but no doubt it will give him a shock if he finds Baer's tag attached to the North Pole.

THE European concert seems to be sadly out of tune.—Washington Post.

Well, they can hardly be expected to chew the rag and keep time with it all at once.

IT IS to be hoped that the contemplated college of journalism will be instrumental in getting rid of the dinky paper cap of the "honest workingman" in Labor Day cartoons.

IT IS well to be a little bit suspicious of the politician who asseverates, and keeps on asseverating, so help him, that he has always "conceded" the right of labor to organize, or words to that effect.

DON'T be too severe with the multi-millionaire. He is only human after all, just as you are, and if you were subjected to his burdens and temptations you might become as trifling and worthless as he is.

UNSUCCESSFUL writers of fiction on their uppers should apply to D. M. Parry for employment. He would probably welcome a few more imaginative hired men about his private residence who can hear the hatching of desperate deeds behind bushes and see, amid the midnight shadows of the garden shrubbery, the flitting forms of bold bad abductors and other lawless emissaries of organized labor.

WHEN a man preaches to his neighbor about the moral satisfaction involved in earning his bread in the sweat of his brow, it does not necessarily follow that he is unwilling to earn his own bread in the sweat of some other fellow's brow.

AN AOUDAD broke its leg while gambling in Central Park the other day. The aoudad is the wild sheep of Barbary, and it is supposed that the specimen in question, being adolescent and unsophisticated, lost its presence of mind through proximity to Wall street.

ORGANIZED labor can afford to treat its candid and outspoken opponents with respect. It is those who prate about "the dignity of labor" and "the intelligence and conservatism of the American workingman," and in the same breath misrepresent and belittle the aims of labor organizations, who are the really dangerous enemies of labor. That is a wise old couplet which says:

"An open foe may prove a curse,
But a pretended friend is worse."

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM.

Just now, when coal is again becoming a consideration, is a good time to remember the cormorants who asked $15 to $20 a ton for coal last winter, and to keep in affectionate recollection the honest coal dealers who made no advance on the market price. You all know who both parties were, and if you do not, the information is easily obtained. Some of the aforesaid cormorants are advertising a small reduction under the regular price. As one of them boasted last winter, when warned that his extortion would be resented and remembered, "I'll advertise coal at 25 cents less than the regular market price and gain five customers for every one that I lose." Will you be one to help such a man to make his boast good? If a man offers coal for less than the regular figure, if you are disposed to help him in his "ratting," have your purchase reweighed, for the chances are that your cheap man will take out 10 pounds where he takes off a cent. But it is best not to patronize such a man at all.

* * * *

Another outrage on Dan Vaughan, and this time I did it. But I did it unwittingly, and Dan is not the man who is doing the kicking. I will not add insult to injury by saying that I looked over his head and did not see him at all, but I will confess that when I wrote the paragraph about the promotion the Messrs. Lane and Metzung to be clerks I did not know that Dan had also been promoted, and I wish here and now to be understood as applying all the complimentary things I said about Metzung, Lane, and proofreaders generally to my wise and capable little friend Dan Vaughan, who has never been tried in a position in which he did not make good. I do not know whether these promotions are permanent or not, but in any event they show that the management know where to go when in need of ability.

* * * *

A number of distinguished gentlemen have associated themselves together to publish a newspaper to be called The Capital, though having nothing to do with the paper of that name heretofore published here. It is to be a weekly, and the financial standing of its projectors is a guaranty of success so far as capital to conduct it until it gets on a paying basis is concerned. But I get awful tired of the hackneyed names that we use over and over in this District of Columbia. A few that should be barred by statute are "Capital," "Capitol," "Federal," "National," "Columbia," "Potomac," "District," "Mount Vernon," and "Arlington," not to mention "Analostan" and "Anacostia." Almost every institution we have bears one of these names—all honored names, to be sure, but losing their distinctiveness as names by such frequent use.

* * * *

A great deal of pleasure was mine as the result of reading my good friend David Eccles's definition of Socialism and the pleasure was the more intense that a paragraph of mine had caused it to be given to the world. I know there is a difference of opinion often as to what a man is, and even his own statement of the case may be erroneous, for while he may consider himself a gentleman and a scholar, others may describe him by a term distinctly implying a canine origin, and the same is probably true of isms. The owners and occupants of an ism may think their property is thus and so and that the tenets of their faith are of such and such a nature, but are they disinterested and therefore entirely trustworthy witnesses? Are people what they say they are, or are they what somebody else says they are? Admitting their probable bias in matters concerning themselves, are we to take it for granted that those attempting to define them are not swayed by prejudice or ill-will? I still feel misty about the matter. Won't you tell me more about it, Dave?

* * * *

A letter from J. W. Hays, of Minneapolis, announces that they have succeeded in getting a settlement of the trouble there that is entirely satisfactory. It will be remembered that a demand was made by the union for an increase of compensation by the newspaper employees and that the matter was referred to a board of arbitration, who, imagining that the whole scale was before them, instead of awarding the increase asked for, fixed longer hours at reduced pay. Naturally, the union would not stand for that, and as a result of the reopening of the case the machine men are put on a piece basis, the regular time hands are raised $2 a week, and the minimum time scale for subs is raised 75 cents per day for day work and 80 cents per night for night work, with price and a half for all time over 50 hours per week, the latter something they never had before. Matters seem to be permanently settled there to the satisfaction of everybody.

* * * *

What a dreadfully active man my friend Goodkey has got to be at union meetings! It is true he does not get all his propositions through, but he often holds the union spellbound with his eloquence. I really believe he would get more action for his money if he would join Percy Rhodes in making points of order.

* * * *

I was delighted to see a number of ladies at the last union meeting, among them Miss Laura Gordon and Miss Anna Wilson. They were apparently interested listeners to the proceedings and debates, though not participating themselves further than to vote. We have many lady members, and it is desirable that they should give their presence more frequently at the meetings.

* * * *

Chairman F. N. Whitehead made a verbal report on behalf of the Convention Committee last Sunday, showing that the entire expense of entertaining the International Typographical Union during the convention was less than $4,000—probably $200 or $300 less. This makes the per capita expense less than $2, as against $8 to $12 per capita spent by Milwaukee, Detroit, and other unions who have entertained the I. T. U. I hardly know what the kickers will find to kick about, though I believe provocation is not a necessary part of the equipment of the true kicker.

* * * *

On motion of Dan Vaughan last Sunday, the Union extended its thanks to the Ex-Delegates' Association for the really able entertainment provided the I. T. U. by that organization, and later on a vote of thanks to Baltimore Union for her magnificent entertainment of the same body was also passed unanimously. The Convention Committee had provided a bunch of thanks to be given to everybody when it presents its final report, but we couldn't wait.

* * * *

By a decisive vote the union refused to meddle with the Miller case, which was probably the best course to pursue. Our union believes in the Shakespearean doctrine, "Keep out of a fracas as long as you can, but if you do get in, fight likell."

* * * *

Griffith Evans, of the Fifth Division, has been having a severe siege with typhoid fever at some point up the Hudson River, the name of which I did not hear, but he is reported to be improving. Mr. Evans is a very capable tenor singer as well as a good fellow.

* * * *

John J. Straub, of Nashville, Tenn., a printer member of the Tennessee Legislature, was in the city last week in connection with the convention of the postal employes. From here he went to Sunbury, Pa., the home of his childhood, to see relatives and friends. Mr. Straub acknowledges that he got into politics at the instigation of "Cos" Rodier, but they seem on the most friendly terms notwithstanding.

* * * *

Either there is somebody else in this world with my exact name or somebody borrowed my name under which to request information on baseball topics from the "Connie Mack" editor of the Philadelphia Evening Telegraph I don't know that I have any particular objection to having my name made use of by anybody who imagines that it is worth anything to him, though it is a little humiliating to me to have questions asked over it that any Swampoodle ten-year old could answer.

* * * *

It is some sign of improvement when a man can believe what he pleases without being considered a d—d scoundrel. I don't say we have quite reached it, but we are getting there gradually.

* * * *

The Times announces a joint debate between President Roosevelt and Messrs. Samuel Gompers and John Mitchell on the question whether Miller shall be fired or not. When it comes off may I be there to hear; but I don't suppose I will be able to get a ticket. The Times has a great many "scoops" on the other papers, but most of 'em ain't so.

* * * *

The man who buys nonunion merchandise is as much an employer of "scab" labor as the man who pays the "scab" his wages. Few unionists think of it that way, and I can't say that I did myself until lately. (I put this last clause in to keep Gus Weyand from jumping on me about that "scab" necktie I unwittingly bought two years ago.)

* * * *

If my friend J. H. Swerdfiger will only take a fall out of my friend David Eccles for his disrespectful allusions to Socialism, my measure of happiness will be full, and if Eccles goes back at him, and he again comes back at Eccles, it will be fuller. I have always been better at stirring up "scraps" than at carrying them on myself. Both of these gentlemen are very able controversialists and just as willing as they are able.

* * * *

I get a little bewildered sometimes in referring to veterans of the war of the rebellion—individually, I mean—in regard to titles. There are so many "Majors" among them whom I am informed never held anything approaching that rank more nearly than sergeant major that when I want to mention a "truly" major I don't know what exact rank I should assign to him. It is probably annoying to a man who held such a rank to hear it applied to others who have no real right to it, and really is a cheapening of it as a mark of distinction. I want to do the right thing, boys, by the old veterans, but in failing to give a military title that has long been enjoyed, though wrongfully, I may wound some one's feelings, and by giving it I may incur the wrath of some rightful owner of the title. Now, what would you do?

* * * *

It would be a great convenience if a good restaurant (not a rum mill, but a restaurant) could be installed in the new Government Printing Office. Some of the Departments have them, and the Congressional Library has a regular cafe. Some of the large newspaper offices have eating houses "built in," so to speak, and, in fact they are almost a necessity where large numbers are employed in one building. The New York World for years has had a cafe attached to its composing room where anything to eat or drink can be procured, and I never heard that any one had ever abused the privileges and conveniences thereby afforded. But I will be satisfied if we can have an eating house alone where we can get a meal without traveling down and up the elevators. Especially is it desirable to the night forces.

* * * *

I hear there is to be a meeting of the Ex-Delegates' Association next Sunday, and if so the call will probably be printed in this paper. All the members should endeavor to get there, as the committee that had in charge the entertainment given by the association during the convention will make its report and the affairs of the association settled up. Then will be the time to decide whether we want to make it a permanent organization or not, as to which there are at least two opinions.

A. F. BLOOMER.

FOR THE BEST--
READY-TO-WEAR
—FOR—
Man, Woman and Child
AT THE MOST REASONABLE PRICES,
CONSULT—
Parker, Bridget & Co.,
Washington's Leading Outfitters, ...
Pa. Ave. and 9th St. N. W.

Union Made Cigars
OF THE FINEST QUALITY.
Pluck 5¢ | ARMY & NAVY 10¢
AFTER DINNER 5¢ | DEER HEAD 10¢
Henry T. Offterdinger, Manufacturer
504 Ninth St., N.W.

ARLINGTON BREWING CO.
ROSSLYN, VA.
BEER ALE PORTER
The Finest Productions of Skilled Union Labor. Union Label on Every Bottle and Keg of Our Goods.

The following Agreement between the Retail Liquor Dealers' Association, of Washington, D. C., and the Central Labor Union, affiliated with the A. F. of L., has been consummated and entered into by both organizations, and the same will take effect at once:

THIS AGREEMENT, made and entered into this 30th day of June, 1903, by and between a duly-constituted committee representing the Retail Liquor Dealers' Association, of Washington, D. C., party of the first part, and a like duly-constituted committee representing the Central Labor Union, of Washington, D. C., party of the second part—

WITNESSETH: That the party of the first part, for and in consideration of the provisions, stipulations, and covenants hereinafter contained, covenants and agrees with the party of the second part as follows, to wit:

FIRST. That the party of the first part covenants and agrees and does hereby covenant and agree, that it will employ Union labor exclusively of those crafts or callings now organized and allied with the Central Labor Union, or which may be hereafter organized and affiliated with said body, and will, as far as it is able, promote the interests of organized labor.

Second. That when employing help they will employ none but members of the Hotel and Restaurant Employes' International Alliance and Bartenders' International League of America.

THIRD. That when purchasing goods they will at all times give preference to those goods bearing the Union label, and will discriminate against and discourage the use of non-union made goods in clothing, hats, shirts, and all wearing apparel. That they will purchase Union hats, shirts, and all wearing apparel. That they will purchase Union-made cigars, and, as far as possible, exclusively use the same.

The party of the second part, for and in consideration of the provisions, stipulations, and conditions hereinbefore contained, covenants and agrees, and does hereby covenant and agree, that they will patronize none other but those saloons which employ Union labor and which display in their windows or over the bar the duly-authorized Union sign.

The parties of the first and second parts mutually covenant and agree, and do hereby covenant and agree, that no breach of any one of the covenants herein contained shall be construed as a waiver of the entire agreement.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have hereunto set their hands and seals the day and year first hereinbefore written.

E. J. RATIGAN,
JNO. HAMERSTROM,
CHAS. W. WINSLOW,
MILFORD SPOHN,
WILLIAM SILVER
Committee Central Labor Union.

E. L. JORDAN, Chairman;
MYRA FISHER,
THEO. G. STONER,
JOHN J. MEEHAN,
FRED WAGNER,
Committee Liquor Dealers' Association.

[SEAL]

CHAS. W. WINSLOW,
Secretary Central Labor Union.

Our Strictly One-Price Methods Insure Legitimate Reductions

OUR FALL STYLES
Are Arriving Daily

WE ARE BETTER PREPARED THAN EVER TO CATER TO YOUR WANTS.

Union Made
and Fair Prices

THE BIEBER-KAUFMAN CO.
Masculine Outfitters from Childhood to Age
901-909 EIGHTH STREET S. E.

Announcement

In announcing the arrival of my fabrics for this season, I desire to say that the selection comprises Styles that are Exclusive, and represent the production of mills at home and abroad.
I am showing an exceptionally large and well assorted line of Business suitings in Blacks, Blues, Fancy Cheviots, and Worsteds. My line of Trouserings is the largest and most complete that I have ever shown. I am very desirous of securing early orders before the line is broken, therefore advise immediate selection. Very respectfully,

T. E. GILBERT, Importer and Tailor
818 F Street Northwest
ONLY UNION TAILORS EMPLOYED.

PRINTERS and Union Members.—For First-Class Meals, Eat at VICTOR CAFE, 3 1 St. N W.
ALBION, Eleventh and E Sts. N. W.
ERIN, Cor. N. J. Ave. and D St. N. W.
U. S. LUNCH ROOM, 320 12th St. N. W.
ALBERT T. SCANLAND, Prop.
Open Day and Night. Best Service.

"Everyone knows how to find fault." No one has yet found fault with the
RELIABLE
The Gas Range for Summer Use
Washington Gas Light Co.
GAS APPLIANCE EXCHANGE

The man who would retain his friends should not fail to remember that there are a great many things he should forget.

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES
OF
Columbia Typographical Union,
No. 101.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, 423 G ST. N. W.
Office Hours: 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.; 5 to 7 P. M.

OFFICERS

JOE M. JOHNSON.....President
DAN C. VAUGHAN.....Vice-President
WM. M. GARRETT.....Secretary
JOHN R. BERG.....Treasurer
FRANK BATES.....Sergeant-at-Arms
N. C. STOOPS.....Doorkeeper

TRUSTEES—J. E. Bright, chairman; W. L. Gutelius, Chas. C. Thompson, Joe M. Johnson, and Wm. M. Garrett.

DELEGATES TO CENTRAL LABOR UNION—J. H. Babcock, chairman; J. B. Dickman, Hugh Everett, Theodore Gerber, and C. E. Dietrich.

DELEGATES TO ALLIED TRADES COUNCIL—E. E. Calhoon, chairman; T. F. Hall, and J. P. Garner.

AUDITORS—C. W. Radley, chairman; H. G. Brown, and J. W. Carter.

COMMITTEES.

BUSINESS—Zach T. Jenkins, chairman; C. B. Yater, M. J. Maher, T. C. Parsons, and R. W. Burnside.

NOMINATIONS—W. N. Brockwell, chairman; F. A. Kidd, H. O'Donnell, Frank M. Hatley, and R. E. Stenner.

LAWS—Chas. H. Ennis, chairman; Raymond Gery, and Dexter S. Hussey.

FINANCE—John A. Huston, chairman; J. M. McLaughlin, and R. F. Chisholm.

PRINTING—T. A. Bynum, chairman; Milo Shanks, and Ed. J. Hall.

GRIEVANCE—Clint O. Price, chairman; Chas. S. Gunn, Philip Nachman, David J. Snyder, and E. Y. Fisher.

ENTERTAINMENT—T. L. Jones, chairman; J. R. Purvis, T. J. Fitzwilliam, Miss Nellie Theaker, Miss Anna Wilson, B. E. Harrison, and W. J. Harris.

CONFERENCE—J. L. Holland, chairman; D. J. Hegarty, and W. B. Shaw.

LIBRARY—Clyde J. Sheriff, chairman; A. E. Ogg, and Harry Essex.

RELIEF—Joseph G. Stelle, chairman; Wm. S. Schinnerer and E. P. Cummins.

EIGHT-HOUR—F. C. Roberts, chairman; F. B. Crown, F. D. Seiffert, Jeff Newlon, and S. H. Willey.

MEMORIAL SERVICE—S. J. Gompers, chairman; Philip S. Steele, J. E. Goodkey, J. B. Dickman, and C. B. Yater.

AMOS J. CUMMINGS MEMORIAL—J. T. Rowe, chairman; Charles T. Graff, and T. A. Bynum.

CHAIRMEN.

First Division—R. L. Mabrey.
Second Division—W. N. Goldstein.
Third Division—Burr Williams.
Fourth Division—Charles H. Gove.
Fifth Division—Charles E. Dietrich.
Sixth Division—E. M Nevils.
Job Room—J. K. Davison.
Record Clerks' Division—H. G. Brown
First Division, Night—Allen Cowles.
Night Proof Room—E. H. Thomas.
Specification Room—E. A. Hutchison.
Official Gazette—Jere Walsh.
Document Proof Room—Jas. R. Armstrong.
Treasury Division—W. Brice Coston.
Interior Division—C. K. Stribling.
State Division—J. B. Dickman.
Navy Department Division—Albert E. Ogg.
War Department Division—Wm. K. Miller.
Agricultural Division—Henry P. Slaughter.
Library Division—H. V. Bisbee.
Weather Bureau—L. H. Emmons.
Morning Post—J. H. Broderick
Evening Star—Joseph C. Whyte.
Evening Times—T. C. Parsons.
Law Reporter—J. R. Johnson.
Globe Printing Co.—R. A. Wilson.
Judd & Detweiler's—A. B. Barringer.
Wilkens Printing Co.—T. N. Surguy.
Pearson's—T. F. Monahan.
National Publishing Co.—E. C. Owen.
McGill & Wallace's—J. M. Watts.
Byron S. Adams'—R. B. Boucher.
Army and Navy Register—C. H. Draeger.
General Postoffice—Joseph Williams.
Sudwarth's—F. R. Adams.

AROUND THE PRINTERIES.

Ex-Delegates, Attention!

A meeting of the Ex-Delegates' Association will be held next Sunday, September 27, at Typographical Temple, at 3 o'clock p. m. As the question of making the organization permanent will be considered, it is hoped that a full attendance will be present.

J. T. HERBERT,
Secretary.
WM. R. RAMSEY,
President.

First Division.

George C. Fubershaw was reinstated last Saturday.

There were no leaves of absence granted this week.

T. J. Arrington was transferred to this room from the Interior Branch Tuesday.

It is said that the First Division would move in the new building on Saturday.

Oliver Cromwell McCardell, of Missouri, was reinstated last Monday and assigned to this room.

Mrs. Pauline Debus, widow of John Debus, who died about a year ago, is here on a visit from St. Louis.

It is said that Tom Jones, chairman of the Entertainment Committee, will be a candidate for treasurer next year.

C. W. Herzinger, after a two-months' trip to his home in California, returned to work yesterday, looking as fine as a fiddle.

Messrs. Webb, Sturgis, and Howlin, of the Spess, are working in this division laying new type for the Specification Room.

Judge Mabrey says that his rheumatism is getting better and the only trouble he is experiencing now is to keep from walking pigeon toed.

In a letter received from F. F. Moore to Chairman Mabrey, he states that crops are worse than for years, but he does not regret resigning and starting the practice of law. CLOTILDE.

ONE OFF THE GRIDDLE FOR A GRIFFIN.

Not because I am a champion walker did I walk 15 miles, according to "Clotilde," but if I did, it was for two reasons: First, because it is hygienic and exhilarating; second, because I profited by "Clotilde's" experience.

"Clotilde" was spending his leave at Piney Point, and one day he got it into his noddle to invite some girls to take a ride, along the beach but as he did not have the price, nor was he the possessor of a carriage, he proceeded to borrow a doctor's horse and carriage while the doctor was not looking. On his return, he found a constable waiting for him, and "Clotilde" was lucky to be let off with the payment of costs, which the girls had to pay. Now, gushing, blushing, giddy "Clotilde," which is best, to walk 15 miles or take a ride and be arrested for "horse stealing?"

I may have stopped at four places for a drink, but, dear "Clotilde," I paid for what I got. How many times have you stopped in one place for four drinks when someone else paid for it? Be honest and tell the truth.

M. N. S.

Second Division.

R. M. Cheshire was off Tuesday suffering from neuralgia.

The lady aspirants for delegates should hold a primary and select one—if they hope to elect one.

Rumor is current that a well known and popular young man of this room, who is prominent in financial circles, is soon to become a benedict.

E. A. M. Lawson is still at home, nursing an injured leg, as the result of the Mt. Vernon accident—the same one in which Weaver was hurt.

All of the members of this chapel are anxiously looking forward to Mr. Hickman's return to work and sympathize sincerely with him in his present affliction.

W. J. Phillips was the only applicant for leave this week. He goes to New Haven as a delegate to the National Spanish War Veterans' convention September 28-30.

The stool committee now flocks to themselves, having condemned every other fellow-employe's stool. They are: Goldstein, Johnson, and the arch condemner—Julian.

Maj. G. Harry Stone, of the Specifications, has our sincere sympathy in the bereavement sustained by him last week in the loss of his estimable wife, Mrs. Alice B. Stone.

"Pard" Julian seems to be a coming man in this union. His chapel had him on the stool committee last week and the administration appointed him on a 15-minute committeeship Sunday.

"Influence," as well as ability, seems to obtain even in the Building Trades Council. In last week's report of this body a local union was notified to replace their delegate "because he had lost his influence."

Many printers are of the opinion that at least one of the wheel horses—the old stagers, men who have worked patiently in the union harness for years—should be rewarded with delegatorial honors this year.

It has been said Capt. W. R. Ramsey, foreman of Specifications, has expressed his determination to run for delegate next year. He will be a formidable opponent, as all Spess and ex Spess hands will be ardent supporters, as well as hosts of other friends.

This summer seems to be a dull one for chapel correspondents. Have all of them been on leave all summer? Even "R. A. N.," of the Fifth Division, has dropped out. The Post contributor is missed. The entertaining Spess scribe is conspicuous by his absence. Treasury notes are looked for in vain. The Agricultural Branch had items in one time, just before election only.

The "Man's Store."

The "College Sack," another good thing—made especially for this Birthday Sale—a smart three-button double breasted sack suit, with long gorge collar and new lapels. Black rough finished cheviot is the material—one of the best wearing fabrics in existence. A "Man's Store Make" Suit—and we're proud of it.

Special Price, $10.90

D. J. KAUFMAN, 1005-7 Pa. Ave.

"Cycle," "Adam Bugg," and H. S. Sutton, always entertaining writers, likewise are silent. We fear the circulation of the UNIONIST will suffer if these gentlemen do not wake up.

"Farmer" Wood was afraid he would have to buy a new stool, so just before the condemning committee came around he bought a stool from Soult. And lo! It was condemned. Now the foxy farmer can saw the legs off and use it for a milking stool on his farm.

After much excitement and many twitches of our purse strings the suspense is all over. W. B. Moses will furnish the new stools for the office at 75 cents each, which is 20 cents lower than the next highest bidder. Evidently this firm can figure profit closely.

Chapel Secretary Joseph W. Belcher returned to work Wednesday after a much needed rest consequent upon his arduous six months' probationary period and three months as a journeyman. He spent most of his vacation "seeing Washington" with his interesting family.

Frank Bates, the present genial and obliging sergeant-at-arms, is out for delegate this year. He intended to run last year, but was unfortunately placed with the down-town printers just before the nominations. He will poll a good vote as his friends are limited only by his acquaintance.

W. B. Moses & Son will not make more clear profit on the present stool contract than has 'Manuel Thomas, of the Fourth, in past years, whose occupation of rebuilding stools is now gone. 'Manuel is quite resourceful, however, and will be able to devise some other means of raising revenue.

J. F. McCormick said the other day it was a lucky day when he severed his active connection with the printing business. He is enthusiastic over his phenomenal success in the real estate business. Many thrifty printers have purchased houses through him. He has evidently found his calling.

An old time-slip of this division for January, 1896, was found at the desk the other day. Out of the 90 men then in this room, about 9 are dead; 15 are still in the division; 39 still in the office; 1 is a policeman, 1 is in the Philippines, 1 a clerk, 1 in Civil Service Bureau, and 6 are in various States of the Union.

At the chapel meeting held last Tuesday, in regard to purchasing new stools, a committee of three was appointed to examine all stools in the division and decide which ones were good enough to go into the new building. Only four passed muster. Every man bragged up the good traits of his particular "bench" and treated lightly its little weaknesses as if he was trading horses.

This is Odd-Fellow week for Baltimore, and incidentally for Washington. Many printers are participating. This order showed its fairness to union labor by refusing to have the Marine Band play for their parade. Capt. Dan V. Chisholm, of the proof room, will have charge of the drilling of two Washington lodges, which are competing for prizes. We predict success for them, as the Captain is a good drill master.

Two men who are always heard from in union meetings are reported as flirting with the candidacy for president, but nothing tangible has been given out to the eager voters, whenever probable aspirants for this office are spoken of. One man's name is always mentioned as being especially fitted for this position. He has long been a member of this union—and to be a member means to him to put his shoulder to the wheel and boost—as a typesetter, chairman, foreman, committeeman, delegate, he has always been the same—fair and square to all. Every associate becomes an admirer and friend. A man of good executive ability. No one better qualified could be found to fill the chair or make a better race than "Al." Bowen, as he is familiarly called.

Trustworthy rumor has it that a strong quartet of candidates will seek the office of treasurer next year. T. Frank Morgan, of the First, a bright young lawyer and a man of great energy and aggressiveness, was first to announce. J. E. Bright, also of the First, will be a strong candidate. He is well known and respected throughout the office and would make a model treasurer. Charley Holmes, whom everyone knows as ex-delegate, ex-foreman, ex-Weather-Bureau printer, ex-member of the Label Committee of both the local and International Union, and triple XXX fine in all work that pertains to unionism, is in the running. Last, but not least, is that sweet singer and prince of entertainers, Tom L. Jones, of the Third. And a sweet singer was elected delegate last time.

NEWS.

Woodward & Lothrop,
DEPARTMENT STORE.
TENTH, ELEVENTH, AND F STS. N. W.

If you want to Save Your Money with 5 per cent interest; or want to Buy A Home on monthly payments
Deal with
AMERICAN B. AND L. ASS'N
S. C. HOLMES, Prest.
H. V. Easterling, V-Prest.
F. H. Riordan, Treas. Andrew Wilson, Atty.
W. J. Frizzell, Secy.
Phone 2026 907 G STREET Open 9 to 5

Fifth Division.

Ed. Geyer begins a seventeen-days' rest Thursday.

Griffith Evans has not yet returned from his leave, being detained on account of illness.

Two laborers are kept busy at present moving the standing type from the "Y" to the new building.

Regular quarterly chapel meeting October 1 for the election of chairman and current business.

H. J. Smith has been called by telegram to Baltimore on account of the critical illness of his mother.

The sick list claims the names of William F. Ashley and George E. Brietenbach, who are improving at this writing.

Washington being rather slow on such an important occasion, E. Heidingsfeld hied himself to New York to celebrate the Jewish New Year.

W. S. Shinnerer and William Lewis, who have had temporary duty in the "Y," have been promoted as regulars in that desirable berth. Congratulations.

Fred Berger, our worthy messenger, has the sympathy of every one in the serious illness of his wife, who is in Sibley Hospital. All hope for her speedy recovery.

William M. Hamilton, who recently recovered from an operation for appendicitis, has returned to work, doing duty on the rule cases, while Frank Loyd, the regular rule man, is getting things in shape for the new building.

R. A. Nelgner, B. H. Pratt, Milton L. Leffler, George Albertson, Leo Rullmann, L. P. Kenney, and Ernest Le Grys are due to resume work this week after well-earned vacations. Simon Pocher is also on the return schedule.

M. A. Maloney, Dan Sansom, J. E. Sheehan, J. E. Hooper, S. F. McDonough, and Hugh Everett were transferred from the Spec. to the Fifth Division and have been assigned to the new building. Cheer up, boys; we'll all join you soon.

The stool question has been settled without bloodshed, and the several chapels are resuming a normal condition after the tense strain of the campaign. Moses happened to be on the right spot when the "light went out," and captured the order at a bid of six bits apiece. To borrow an alleymate's new stool is equally as criminal as borrowing his TRADES UNIONIST. So loosen up and buy one.

The rumor committee has it that the Fifth Division will change its name to the Fourth when we move over, and that the "Y" will be attached to the First. Two entire divisions will be domiciled across the way by the latter part of this week, and when the entire shop gets moved, then look out for rules! "Clean, be clean," will be the motto, doubled and twisted, and instead of a simple suspension for an infraction of the orders for neatness the penalty will be boiling oil, or "something just as good."

John D. Mets, jr., a former popular employe of this division, has just been discharged from an eight-weeks' siege at Sibley Hospital with typhoid fever, and is now located at 302 E street northwest, a physical wreck. He has been up against a hard streak since his removal from here last spring, and it is the intention of his friends to circulate a subscription for his benefit. To the few who are not acquainted with him, it can be said that no member of this chapel was more liberal and generous than Mr. Mets. Remember this, boys, when you put your names down.

TRIPOD.

A Cheap House on Easy Terms.

I can sell 629 Florida avenue northeast, 20 feet wide, nine rooms, bath, and cellar, furnace, for $4,500. Terms: $200 cash; balance, $39 per month, includes interest and taxes.

AUGUST DONATH,
1328 Eighth street northwest.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

The Savings possible at
S. Kann, Sons & Co.
8th St.—THE BUSY CORNER—Pa. Ave.
are such as may be counted in the pocket. At the same time styles and qualities are unexcelled.

WHERE THE HALF-TONES ARE MADE
THE NATIONAL ENGRAVING COMPANY.
INCORPORATED.
14th St. and Pa. Ave. Phone 1679 Main.

Hewke, PHOTOGRAPHER
56 of the ex-delegates and committees patronized me for good work.
Studio,
430 7th St., N. W. Washington, D. C.

J. E. BONINI'S
BUFFET AND CAFÉ,
727-729 N. Capitol Street.
MAERZEN BEER ON TAP.
A first-class Lunch Counter. Sea food in season. Union throughout.

Cole & Swan
Large assortment of Watches, Diamonds, and Jewelry (we make and repair anything in this line).
"Square Dealing" our motto.
21 H Street N. W.

D. STRAUSS,
Clothier, Hatter and Furnisher
441 Seventh Street N. W.,
Washington, D. C.

Cabin John Bridge
MOST BEAUTIFUL PLEASURE RESORT IN AMERICA
A Wealth of Amusements
Band Concerts Every Evening and Sunday Afternoons
Beauty Health Pleasure
Union Men Only Engaged
TAKE METROPOLITAN CAR

THE RIGGS NATIONAL BANK
Of Washington, D. C.
Capital - - - $1,000,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits, 1,000,000
Exchange on England, Ireland, France and Germany. Letters of credit available in all foreign parts. Bank Collections. Orders for investments. Stocks and Bonds.

Besides giving you
the best system of fraternal insurance ever devised, Ben-Hur provides monthly social entertainments, which are free to its members. Better inquire
HENRY E. CROUCH, Deputy, 424 Fourth St. N. E.
ALBERT P. E. DOYLE, Scribe, 21 O St. N. E.

FURNISHED ROOMS
AT
The Orleans
1203 F STREET NORTHWEST
MRS. R. COMMELIN, Prop.

MACKENZIE BROS.
WHOLESALE HATTERS
639 D Street Northwest
Ask your dealer for a Mackenzie Union-Made Hat.

M. S. JOHNSON,
Foreign and Domestic Woolens now ready for inspection
SUITS $25 UP. UNION SHOP.
1435 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

GIDDINGS & STEELE,
Exclusive
Floor Coverings
813 PENNSYLVANIA AVE. N.W.

ASTORIA BARBER SHOP
ARTHUR CHAIMS, Proprietor
Union Shop White Barbers
Hot and Cold Baths
303 G STREET NORTHWEST

THOMAS WALSH
Formerly "Steve" Caldwell's.
Whiskies and Cigars
Specialties: MELVALE AND SHERWOOD
COOL LAGER BEER ON DRAUGHT.
BILLIARDS AND POOL
Billiards, 40c. per hour. Pool, 2½c. per cue.
THOMAS WALSH
407 Tenth St. Northwest

E. F. PRICE & CO.
Strongest flat opening blank book made.
Ruling and Binding of every description.
A Specialty of FINE BANK WORK.
BOOKBINDERS 1108 E St. N. W.

G. P. O. BICYCLE REPAIR CO.
ARTHUR D. BENNETT
MANAGER
Wheels stored, cleaned, and repaired (per month)..... $1.00
Wheels stored and cleaned (per month)..... .75
Wheels stored (per month)..... .50
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty
Bicycle Sundries
Salesroom, 33 H St. N. W.

300 1-lb. Loaves to the Barrel.
Every Laboring Man
—requires pure, wholesome, nourishing food such as is made of—
Cream Blend Flour
It not only makes THE BEST Bread, Rolls, Cake and Pastry, but more of them than other brands—therefore it's the cheapest that money can buy.
Your Grocer will supply you.
B. B. EARNSHAW & BRO., Wholesalers,
1105, 1107, 1109 11th Street S. E.
1000 and 1002 M Street S. E.

T. HOLLANDER
Men's Furnishings
Hats and Shoes
COR. N. CAPITOL AND H STS.
Opposite Government Printing Office

DO YOU USE TOILET PAPER?
If so, investigate the service furnished by
R. P. Andrews & Co.,
INCORPORATED
627-629 LOUISIANA AVE. N. W.
THE WHOLESALE PAPER HOUSE
IT WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

HOTEL FRITZ REUTER
Rathskeller
and
Restaurant.
COR. PA. AVE. AND JOHN MARSHALL PLACE
Phone: East 388.

Telephone 3662-Y
AMREIN'S FAMOUS ICE CREAM
HAS NO EQUAL
One Dollar per Gallon
Stores, 1426 and 1810 7th St. N. W.

Steam Cleaning and Dye Works
(Formerly New York Dye House)
I do the most perfect Cleaning and Dyeing at most reasonable rates. Goods called for and returned.
C. W. MARGGRAF, Proprietor.
631 D Street, N. W.

GEO. W. BARRY COAL CO.
Coal in any quantity at the right price and Wood also.
14-16 H N. E. One minute from G. P. O. Telephone East 234.

B. F. WARNER
FINE WINES and LIQUORS
BLUE LABEL CIGARS
1219 E Street Northwest

FOR LUNCH
TRY THE
Pure Dairy Lunch
935 D Street Northwest

American Ice Co.
1437 Penna. Ave. N. W.

THE UNION
SAVINGS BANK
BOND BUILDING
Cor. 14th St. and New York Ave. N.W.

Three Per Cent Interest
on Savings Accounts.

Branch Deposit Agency at
T. A. ROVER'S STORE,
Cor. North Capitol and H Sts.
OPEN EVERY MONDAY AND TUESDAY
FROM 4 TO 5 P. M.

When in doubt buy at
HOUSE & HERRMANN,
FURNITURE, CARPETS, DRAPERIES, ETC.
N. E. Corner Seventh and I Streets N. W.

Don't Buy a Hat
Without the Label. .
And See that It Is Sewed In.

Don't Patronize a Dealer Who Has Loose Labels on Hand and Offers to Put One in Your Hat.
LOOSE LABELS
In Retail Stores
ARE COUNTERFEITS.
The John B. Stetson Co., of Philadelphia Pa., is a non-union concern.

J. GEORGE SMITH
(Formerly a member of the firm of R. P. Andrews & Co.)
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
PAPER AND STATIONERY
My old friends and patrons from J. C. Addison's time to the present will be welcome. I can supply all your needs at lowest prices consistent with quality.
626 E STREET NORTHWEST

The Hub Furniture Co.,
The Stores that Save You Money.
OUR MOTTO—The Best Values in Furniture and Carpets at the Lowest Prices.
Cash or Credit.
HUB FURNITURE CO.,
(Formerly Wash B. Williams)
Corner Seventh and D Streets N. W.

Carriages Furnished for All Occasions — Phone East 327-M
JOHN ELBERT
Undertaker and Embalmer
54 H STREET N. W.

EDWIN F. PRICE
(Late member of the firm of E. F. Price & Co.)
Bookbinder
Ruling and Binding of every description. Strongest Flat-Opening Blank Book Made. A Specialty of Fine Bank Work.
Darby Bldg., 506-508 Fourteenth St. N. W.

St. Asaph Commission Rooms,
Old Established and Reliable.
Trains leave Thirteen and one-half street and Pennsylvania avenue—Alexandria, Mt. Vernon, and Washington Railway—daily at 12.45, 1.05, 1.25, 2, 2.30, 3.02, and 3.30. Return .39, 4.24, 5.02, 5.58, and at various intervals.

CELTIC CLUB WHISKY
Our Specialty. Never Changes. Once Tried You'll Always Use It. Take No Substitute.
Ports and Sherries for family use, Quarts, 50 and 75 cents. All makes of Beer. Leading brands of Cigars. Ales and Porters on draught the year round.
JOHN CONNOR
New Jersey Ave. and G Sts. N. W.

J. WILLIAM LEE,
Undertaker and Livery, . . .
322 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

RETAIL DRUG CLERKS, No. 240, AND THEIR FRIENDS DO NOT PATRONIZE
JOHN W. JENNINGS
DRUGGIST
1142 Connecticut Avenue
Now on Unfair List of Central Labor Union

Union Directory.

TO SECRETARIES: Please notify this office of any change in officers' addresses, time or place of meeting. Corrections will be made quarterly.

American Federation of Labor—Headquarters, Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Sam'l Gompers, President. Frank Morrison, Secretary.

Allied Printing Trades Council meets last Thursday in the month at Typographical Temple. J. A. Wiedman, Secretary-Treasurer, 15 I street northeast.

Allied Label League meets every Friday night at 8 o'clock at 905 E street northwest. C. A. Pfau, Secretary, 905 E street northwest

Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, Local No. 148, meets second and fourth Thursday evenings at 922 Pa. avenue northwest. Geo. Bakersmith, Secretary, 3315 Brightwood avenue northwest.

Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, Local Union No. 102, meets first and third Wednesdays at Loehl's Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. D. C. Childress, Secretary. T. F. Ryan, Business Agent, Room 1, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 351 Y.

American Society Plate Engravers meets first Saturday in each month at Grand Army Hall. A. C. Ruebsam, Secretary, Bethesda, Montgomery County, Md.

Bakers Union, No. 118. meets first and third Saturday in each month at 430 Eighth street northwest. John G. Schmidt, Secretary and Business Agent, 333 I street s w.

Bakers' Drivers' L. U. No. 33, T. D. I. U. meets first and third Thursday evening of each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Thomas C. Fox, Secretary, 922 Fourth street northeast.

Bartenders' League Local No. 75, meets first and fourth Sunday of each month at 2 p. m. at Macabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. Jere F. McCarthy, Secretary, 1017 Maryland avenue southwest.

Beer Drivers' and Stablemen's Union, No. 234, meets first Sunday of each month at 314 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. Walter T. Trittipoe, Secretary, 1346 Wallach Place northwest.

Bookbinders' Union, No. 4, meets first Tuesday in each month at Typograhical Temple. James A. Stockman, Secretary, 735 North Capitol street.

Brewery Workers' Union, No. 118, meets second and last Sunday of the month at 314 Pennsylvania ave. southeast. Frank Rom, Secretary, 818 New Hampshire ave. northwest.

Bricklayers' Union, No. 1, meets second and fourth Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Milford Spohn, Secretary, Typographical Temple.

Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators, and Paperhangers, Local Union, No. 368, meets every Friday night at Painters' Hall, 506 Sixth street northwest. G. Jule Murray, Secretary, 1107 South Carolina avenue southeast. W. M. Lewis, Business Agent, 506 Sixth street northwest.

Cab and Carriage Drivers' Union, No. 486, meets first and third Sundays, at Butler's Hall, 609 C street northwest. W. B. Nelson, Secretary, 922 I street northwest.

Carriage and Wagon Workers' International Union, Local No. 72, of Washington, D. C., meets every Thursday, at Loehl's Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. John H. Brinkman, Secretary, 1729 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Carpet Upholsterers, No. 85, U. I. U., meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at 516 Ninth street northwest. Geo. A. Pinckney, Secretary, 363 Pennsylvania ave. northwest

Central Labor Union meets every Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Typographical Temple. Charles W. Winslow, Secretary, 425 G street northwest. Residence, 3206 Wisconsin avenue northwest.

Ceramic, Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers and Helpers' International Union, No. 2, meets first and third Thursdays at 609 C street northwest. H. A Hopkins, Secretary, 605 Eighth street northeast. W. E. Thompson, Business Agent, Room 1, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

Cigarmakers' Local Union, No. 110, meets every Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Bielgk's Hall, 737 Seventh street northwest. Henry B. Wissner, Secretary, 3143 Dumbarton avenue.

Columbia Lodge, No. 174, International Association of Machinists, meets every Wednesday night at McCauley's Hall, 209 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. E. L. Adams, Secretary, 600 Ninth street northeast.

Columbia Typographical Union meets third Sunday in each month in Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. W. M. Garrett, Secretary.

Council Allied Building Trades of Central Labor Union meets every Tuesday night at Hall 3, Building Trades Halls, 624 Sixth street northwest. E. J. Ratigan, Secretary and Business Agent. Room 2, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

Douglass Association of Steam Engineers, I. S. U. E., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of the month at 609 F street northwest. J. W. Webb, Secretary, 341 Maryland avenue southwest.

Electrotype Molders and Finishers' Union, No. 17, I. S. and E. U. Charles W. Dean, Secretary.

Federal Labor Union No. 8193, meets fourth Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Miss Emma A. Miller, Secretary, 1011 First street n. w.

Glass Bottle Blowers' Association, Branch 68, Alexandria, Va., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Serepta Hall. Frank Michelbach, Secretary, 803 King street, Alexandria, Va.

Grocery Clerks' Union, No. 533, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at Hall 3, Building Trades Halls, 624 Sixth street northwest. John D. Schamel, Secretary, 1540 North Capitol street. C. A. Pfau, Business Agent, Room 1, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

Hospital Attendants' Protective Union No. 8097, meets first and fourth Saturday nights of each month at Masonic Hall, Anacostia, D. C. C. W. Teates, Secretary, 434 Jackson street, Anacostia, D. C.

Hod Carriers and Building Laborers' Local Union No. 21, I. U. B. L., meets first and third Mondays of each month at Cadets' Armory, 708 O street northwest. Dennis Brown, Secretary, 1237 Fourth street northwest. Sol. J. Childs, Business Agent, 1006 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Ice Wagon Drivers and Helpers, Local No. 430, meets first and third Tuesdays in each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest (third floor). William Donaldson, Secretary, 812 Seventh street southwest.

International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, Local Union No. 5, meets every Friday night at Hall 1, Building Trades Halls, 610 G street northwest. F. M. Briggs, Secretary, 104 Third street northwest. Thos. E. Grove, Business Agent, Room 1, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

International Association of Machinists, Headquarters, rooms 402-407 McGill Building, 908-914 G streets northwest. James O'Connell, president; D. Douglass Wilson, vice-president and editor of the Journal; George Preston, Secretary-Treasurer.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.—Headquarters, Rooms 103-104 Corcoran Building. H. W. Sherman, Secretary.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 26, meets every Thursday night at Hall 2, Building Trades Halls, 610 G street northwest. S. F. Adams, Secretary, 724 Eighteenth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 148, meet every Monday night at 430 Eighth street northwest. H. B. Anderson, Secretary, 807 Eighth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, No. 257, meets every Friday evening at 719 Sixth street n. w. M. G. Bundick, Secretary, 1107 Tenth street n. w.

Interior Marble and Slate Cutters' and Setters' Association, No. 5, meets first and third Wednesday of each month at Arion Hall, 430 Eighth street northwest. J. M. Eliason, Secretary, 621 Maryland avenue southwest.

International Association of Marble Workers No. 33, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at 430 Eighth street northwest. Lew Davis, Secretary, 106 I street northwest.

International Union of Steam Engineers— Local Union No. 99, meets every Wednesday evening at 419 Tenth street northwest. A. W. Leeke, Recording Secretary, Twelfth and B streets northwest.

International Brotherhood of Firemen, Local No. 63, meets every Tuesday night at J. F. Beare's Hall, 404 Eighth street northwest. Louis S. Crown, Secretary. 637 K street northeast.

Iron Molders' Union, Local No. 215, meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at Masonic Hall, Fourth street and Pennsylvania avenue southeast. Joseph Stewart, Secretary, 3413 N street northwest.

I. U. S. E., Hoisting and Portable, Local 77, meets every Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock. Heare's Hall. 404 Eighth street northwest. W. H. Radcliffe, Secretary, 812 Four-and-a-Half street southwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 239, meets first and third Wednesdays in each month at 737 Seventh st. northwest. Theo. A. Leckert, Secretary, 1210 Florida avenue northwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 305, meets first and third Monday evenings at 503 G street northwest (barber shop). Charles A. Thomas, Secretary, 817 E street northwest.

Journeymen Horseshoers' Union, No. 17, meets first and third Wednesdays of each month at Hall 1, Building Trades Halls, 610 G street northwest. W. S. Lusby, Secretary, 708 Eighth street southeast.

Journeyman Tailors of America, No. 188, meets first and third Saturdays of each month at 8 o'clock p m., Labor Bureau Hall. Ignatius Geraci, Secretary, 917½ E street northwest.

Journeyman Plumbers and Gas Fitters' Local Union, No. 5, meets second and fourth Tuesday evening of each month at Maccabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. A. E. Anderson, Secretary, 1312 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Journeymen Stone and Marble Cutters' Union, meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Jonadab Hall, 623 Louisiana avenue northwest. Harry Bouche, Secretary, 72 H street northeast.

Laundry Wagon Drivers No. 467, W. W. Foster. Secretary, 95 Myrtle street northwest

Mail Bag Repairers' Union, No. 10523, meets first and last Saturdays of every month at Stolpp's Hall 721 Sixth street northwest. L. W. Kearney, Secretary, 406 First st. n.w.

Mail Bag Workers' Union, 10504, meets every Saturday at 721 Sixth street northwest Miss A. Cross, Secretary, 321 Lincoln street, Anacostia, D. C.

Metal Trades Federation of North America, Room 134 Corcoran Bldg., James O'Connell, President. E. J. Lynch, Secretary.

Milk Wagon Drivers' Union, No. 349, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at 8 p. m., at Hotel Royal (second floor), Seventh and N streets northwest. W. T. Trittipoe 1359 U street northwest.

Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers' Helpers, Local Union, No. 12, meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Hall 3, Building Trades Halls, 624 Sixth street northwest. Sam Jones, Secretary. Howard Smoot, Business Agent, Room 1, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

Musicians' Protective Union, No. 161 meets first and third Sundays at 2 p. m., at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Linden, jr Secretary, 1364 E street southeast.

National Alliance Theatrical Stage Employes meets first and third Sunday in each month at southwest corner of Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, third floor. J. P. Shilling, Secretary, 1208 Bladensburg Road.

Negative Cutters Union, meets second Wednesday in each month at 921 F street northwest. Clarence W. Schroeder, Secretary, 640 E street southeast.

Oil Wagon Drivers, No. 296, meets second Wednesday of each month at Oppenheimer's Hall, 514 Ninth street northwest. A. J. Dixon, Secretary, 1234 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Operative Stonemasons' Union, No. 2, meets first and third Monday evenings at 609 C street northwest. James Lanigan, Secretary, 930 G street southwest.

Paperhangers' Local Union No. 420, B. of P., D., and P., meets every Wednesday evening at Paperhangers' Headquarters, 625 Louisiana avenue northwest. J. Franklin Page, Secretary. Harry J. Wells, Business Agent.

Pattern Makers' League meets at Weller's Hall, Eighth and I streets southeast first and third Wednesday. James B. McAlwee, Secretary, 907 E street southeast.

Photo-Engravers' Union, No. 17, meets first Monday in each month at 417 Eleventh street northwest. F. C. Betts, Secretary, Kensington, Md.

Printing Pressmen Union, No. 1, meets first Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. W. C. Deane, Secretary, 19 Grant Place.

Plate Printers Union, No. 2, meets at Maccabee Temple, Ninth street n. w., the fourth Tuesday in each month. J. P. Murphy, Secretary, 1416 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

Post-Office Clerks, No. 9834, meets the second Saturday of each month at Twelfth and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. B. Corridon, Secretary, 1733 North Capitol street.

Registered Drug Clerks' Union, District of Columbia, meets second and fourth Fridays at Jolly Fat Men's Hall, 933 D street northwest. Fred T. Hafelfinger, Secretary, 1110 Fourteenth street northwest.

Retail Clerks' Union, No. 262, meets second and fourth Mondays of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Joseph Moser, Recording Secretary, 624 I street northwest.

Slate and Tile Roofers' Union, No. 12, I. U., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Room 6, Warder Building. J. C. Huddleson, Secretary, 2147 Pennsylvania avenue northwest,

Soda and Mineral Water Wagon Drivers, No. 372, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at Bessler's Hall, 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. P. Connor, Secretary, 1111 Sixth street southwest.

Steam Fitters, R. A. Lanis Association, L. B. No. 10, N. A., meets every Thursday night at Hall 1, Building Trades Halls, 610 G street northwest. Thomas L. Hess. Secretary, 913 New York avenue northwest.

Steam and Hot Water Fitters' Helpers, Local Branch, No. 28, N. A., meets every Friday night at Bessler's Hall, 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. H. Reichard, 315 Ninth street southeast.

Stereotypers' Union, No. 19, of Washington D. C., meets second Monday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. D. J. Murray, Secretary, 35 R street northwest.

Stone and Building Laborers' Union, No. 46, I. U. B. L., meets first and third Fridays of each month at Eleventh and Q streets northwest. Daniel Lahey, Secretary and Business Agent, Room 1, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

Telephone Operators, No. 9914, meets third Saturday of each month at Schmidt's Hall. 516 Ninth street northwest. Edna Earl Bobb, Secretary, 924 Pennsylvania avenue southeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, Local Union. No. 190, meet every Friday evening at Painters' Hall, 506 Sixth street northwest C. H. Scherer, Secretary, 936 Fourth street northeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 884, meets every Monday night at 904 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Torney, Secretary, 141 Jefferson street, Anacostia D. C.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 1103, Mill and Bench Hands, meets every Friday at 8 p. m., at 514 Ninth street northwest. Peyton Wilkerson, Secretary, 816 G street southeast.

United Brotherhood of Leather Workers on Horse Goods, No. 87, meets every second and fourth Tuesday, 513 Twelfth street northwest. H. J. Laubach, Secretary. 72 H street northeast.

Upholsterers' Local Union, No. 58, meets second and fourth Thursdays of each month at 416 (fourth floor) Ninth street northwest. T. R. Bowie, Secretary, 1306 Riggs street northwest.

Washington Branch, Granite Cutters' National Union, meets every second and fourth Mondays in each month at 1204 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Wm. Silver, Secretary, 49 Massachusetts avenue northwest.

Washington Feeders and Assistants' Union, No. 42, meets the first Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street n. w. D. I. Leane, Secretary, 702 H street northeast.

Washington Lodge of Machinists, No. 193, meets every Thursday night at southwest corner of Tweifth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. Herbert Wyatt, Secretary, 111 Seventh street southeast.

Wood, Wire, and Metal Lathers' Local Union, No. 9, meets every Tuesday night at Hall 1, Building Trades Halls. 610 G street northwest. J. C. Maloney, Secretary, 124 G street northwest.

Bindery Notes.

A general strike is on in the shops of H. Wolff and Smith & Hassler, New York; also in the National Publishing Company, Philadelphia.

The blank sewing room and the ruling room are now in their new quarters in the new building. The blank forwarding and finishing divisions will be next, and the new plant will have a complete and well-equipped bindery of its own.

A German refused to serve William Brady a refreshing drink, claiming he was under age, much to the amusement of his friends, who took sides with the German and congratulated him on knowing his business. Brady is thirty-five.

An excited fisherman was seen on the river last week baiting and throwing out his line. A sudden commotion, a jerk, and he landed one small fish, after sitting six hours in the hot sun. We hope Harry Paine will have better luck next time.

It is reported that little Jack Kennedy, who worked in the G. P. O. Bindery a number of years ago, was killed on the railroad in the far West. Jack was a very funny fellow, and was always playing jokes on his fellow-workmen. He was a native of Vermont.

There was great commotion in "Skyrocket" Downing's family one night last week. "Sky." was required, unexpectedly, to work three or four hours overtime, and his wife, not seeing him come home at the usual time, sent out a general alarm for him. She inquired at the police stations, at the Printing Office, and the Morgue, but failed to locate "Sky." When he finally arrived home it was only to find his wife on the verge of collapse. "Sky." stayed off the next day and took his wife to Chase's as a sort of mental recompense. He declares "No more night work for him."

Cow Boy.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Treasury Division.

Mrs. Annie R. Jewett is enjoying her annual vacation.

A. L. Randall is on the sick list. His friends hope to see him with us again soon.

H. D. Langdon is spending fifteen days' leave taking in short trips near the city.

Miss Christie S. Bayne is sojourning for a week or so in the mountains of Virginia.

H. L. Murray and family are spending twenty days at their old home near Altoona, Pa.

Miss Mary I. Morgan, temporary, was assigned to the press room as a feeder one day last week.

"Farmer" Thompson is on leave, spending his time on his farm in Virginia, harvesting crops.

Dr. W. J. Manning, who has been a maker-up here for the past ten years, was transferred to the night force.

John W. Martin is absent for thirty days visiting relatives and friends at his home in North Carolina, near Asheville.

Mrs. Susie C. Carlisle is spending a few weeks with relatives at Gaithersburg, Md., and in the Blue Ridge Mountains.

George O. Atkinson is on a month's leave. He and his wife are spending the time with relatives in New Hampshire and in the White Mountains.

SUBSCRIBER.

Sweet—McNeill.

Miss Christine McNeill and Frank M. Sweet, of the Job Room, were married at the home of the bride's mother, 302 Florida avenue northwest, Wednesday, September 16, 1903. Reception to friends was held from 8 to 10.30 p. m. The ceremony took place at 7 p. m. Many presents were received.

HALLS for rent at Building Trades Halls, 610 G street northwest and 624 Sixth street northwest. For terms apply at Room 2, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 33 Y.

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Representative Business Houses.
OF WASHINGTON, D. C.

The following wholesale and retail firms and professional men are friendly to Union Labor and are entitled to its patronage:

BANKS.
THE LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK,
Safe Deposit Vaults, $2.50 up
CAPITAL LOAN GUARANTEE COMPANY,
602 F Street Northwest.
Every one can borrow money without security.

BAKERS.
HOLMES & SON,
Celebrated Home-Made Pies and Milk Bread.
First and E Streets N. W. Phone East 864.

BOOTS AND SHOES.
CROCKER'S SHOES,
939 Pennsylvania Ave. N. W.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.
DANIEL LOUGHRAN,
1347 Pennsylvania Ave.
LUCHS & BRO.,
Wholesalers.
Phone E 755.

COACH FINDINGS.
J. B. KENDALL,
485-87 Missouri avenue N. W.

COAL TAR PRODUCTS AND PAPER.
E. B. WARREN & CO.,
27th and H Sts. N. W.

CUTLERY AND SPORTING GOODS.
D. N. WALFORD,
477 and 909 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

DRY GOODS.
LANSBURGH & BROTHER,
420 to 426 7th St. N. W

DYER.
E. E. WHEATLEY,
1068 Jefferson Ave. N. W. Phone, West 117-Y.

ENGRAVERS.
THE MAURICE JOYCE ENGRAVING CO.
Cuts and Illustrations. 418 11th street N. W

FIRE INSURANCE.
Insure with
THE RIGGS FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.
FIREMEN'S INSURANCE COMPANY,
Seventh St. and Louisiana Ave.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.
JULIUS LANSBURGH,
Interocean Building, 512 Ninth St. N. W.

GROCERIES.
LITTLE & PAGE,
"Good things to eat." 1210 F St. N.W
W. C. ERGOOD,
"Good goods at Ergoods."
Corner Ninth and H Streets Northwest.

GROCER AND COFFEE ROASTER.
SOMERSET R. WATERS.
1342 Seventh Street Northwest, Corner O.

HARDWARE AND TOOLS.
RUDOLPH, WEST & CO.,
1332 New York avenue northwest.

HUDSON'S VARIETY STORE.
B. F. HUDSON,
416 Seventh Street Northwest.

HATTERS AND FURRIERS.
JAMES Y. DAVIS' SONS,
1201 Pennsylvania Ave.
A. H. BURDINE,
Union Overalls, Hats, and Gloves
Seventh Street and Virginia avenue southwest.

LIME, SAND, GRAVEL, CEMENT.
NATIONAL MORTAR COMPANY,
Office: Room 9, Ralston Bldg., 612 F St. N. W.
Office telephone: East 688.

LUMBER AND MILL WORK.
THOMAS R. RILEY,
13th St. and Ohio Ave.

MACHINISTS AND ENGINEERS.
FORSBERG & MURRAY,
Pumps and Elevators. Engines and Boilers
8th and Water Sts. S. W.

MERCHANT TAILOR.
W. A. SLADEN,
419 East Capitol Street.

PHARMACISTS.
LOUIS F. BRADLEY,
Prescription Druggist. 8th and E Sts. S. E

PHOTO-LITHOGRAPHERS.
THE NORRIS PETERS CO.,
458 and 460 Pennsylvania avenue N. W
ANDREW B. GRAHAM
Lithographer, Photo-Lithographer, and Half-Tones. 1230 Pa. Ave. Phones: 1031-M, 1679-M.

PIANO AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
E. E. DROOP & SONS,
925 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

PRINTING SUPPLIES.
NATIONAL PRINTER'S SUPPLY CO.,
Machine-made Rollers. 414 10th St. N. W.

RESTAURANT AND WINE ROOM.
JOHN M. BECKER,
Opp. Navy Yard., Cor. 8th and Georgia Ave. S.E

SHOES.
DAVE WOLF.
SHOES FOR EVERYBODY.
432 Seventh Street N. W.

SHAVING PARLORS
VINCENT R. CILENTO,
805 North Capitol Street.

TITLES TO REAL ESTATE.
LAWYERS' TITLE & GUARANTY INS. CO.
412 5th St. N. W.

UNION HEADQUARTERS.
ARION HALL, 430 Eighth Street N. W.
Headquarters for organizations. Strictly union.
JIM STEVENS, Proprietor.

WINES AND LIQUORS.
SAMUEL G. STEWART,
Heurich Brewing Co's. beers and popular brands of whiskies. 1141 Seventh st. northwest between L and M.
WILLIAM DIETZ,
1203 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest
GEORGE W. DRIVER,
605 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

DO NOT WANT OUR PATRONAGE.

Following brands of cigars: Cinco, Cremo, George W. Childs, Henry George, Tom Moore, Robert Burns, and General Arthur.

The following firms have declared against the interest of Organized Labor and are not regarded as deserving their patronage:

NAME.	BUSINESS.	LOCATION.
Chevy Chase Railway and circle.	Street railway	Chevy Chase and Circle.
Keenan Bros	Gents' furnishers	Pa. ave. bet. 14th and 15th sts., and 523 Seventh st. n. w.
B. Solomon	Gents' furnisher	708 Seventh street n.w.
Rufus H. Darby	Printer	508 Fourteenth street n.w.
H. L. McQueen	Printer	1108 E street n.w.
N. Sickles (Nat'l Cigar Factory).	Cigar manufacturer	1011 Penna. avenue n.w.
E. Gundershiemer	Baker	516 Second street n.w. and stall in Center Market.
Peter Grogan	Carpet dealer.	817 to 823 Seventh street n.w.
John H. Fitzgerald	Horseshoer	443 Prather's alley n.w.
S. S Daish	Coal and wood	Florida ave. and Third st. n.e.
Wilbur F. Nash	Meat dealer	Center and O st. Markets.
C. E. Hencke	Electrician	711 G street n.w.
F. I. Wheelock	Electrician	1215 G street n. w.
National Mosaic Company	Mosaics	207 Fourth st. n.w.
M. Minster	Gents' furnisher	1343 F st. n.w.
A. Minster	Gents' furnisher	499 and 501 Penna. ave. n. w
Cyrus B. Reese	Employing steamfitter	1519 Fourteenth street n. w.
C. A. Schneider & Sons	Union Iron Works	212 Twelfth street n. w.
Minster & Paterson	Gents' furnishers	1109 Pennsylvania ave. n. w
Chas. A. Muddiman & Co	Gas fixtures	1204 G and 616 Twelfth st. n. w.
Conrad Becker	Trunks and harness	1328 F st. n. w.
Chapin & Sacks	Dealer in butter	924 Louisana ave. n. w.
Home Ice Company	Ice	Twelfth and V sts. n.w.
Emil Wagner	Restaurant	210 Ninth st. n. w.
W. E. Carney	Cigar manufacturer	921 G st. s. w.
Nat'l Roller & Ball Bearing Co.	Machinery	33rd and K sts. n. w.
L. Rosenberg	Clothing and shoes	911-913 Eighth st. s. e.
Corbin Thompson	Dairyman	Sharon Dairy, 324 B st. s. w.
S. D. Houck	Dealer in harness	301 Tenth street n. w.
M. Eisemann & Bro	Dry goods	1924-26 Pa. ava. and 806 7th n.w
Elite Steam Laundry	Laundry	1205 G street n.w.
Benjamin Schwartz	Gents' furnisher and tailor	337 Pa. ave. s. e.
Emrich Beef Co	Meat Dealers
John Coleman	Horseshoer	1300 36th street n. w.
Hecht & Co	Dry Goods, etc	517-519 Seventh street n. w
Charles Rauscher	Caterer	Conn. ave. and L st. n. w
Academy of Music	Theater	Ninth and D streets n. w.
Lafayette Square Theater	Theater	16th st. and Pa. ave. n. w.
E. H. Snyder & Co	Tailors	1111 Pa. ave n. w
Owen Owen	Tailor	423 Eleventh street n. w.
L. A. Downey	Tailor	433 Eleventh street n. w.
J. M. Stein & Co	Tailors	413 Eleventh street n. w
J. D. Burns & Co	Tailors	701 Ninth street n. w.
J. B. Gatchel	Tailor	604 Thirteenth street n. w.
G. Warfield Simpson	Tailor	1208 F street n. w.
E. H. Catlin & Co	Machinists	407 13½ street n. w.
Thomas Somerville & Sons	Steam Fitters' Supplies	816 Thirteenth street n. w.
Joseph Mathy	Stove dealer and tin worker.	1918 Pennsylvania avenue.
William Meehan	Saloon	943 B street n. w.
Robert Lowe	Stone yard and mill	113 Third street s. w.
H. Vonderheide	Saloonist	205½ Seventh street n. w.
John W. Jennings	Druggist	1142 Connecticut avenue n. w.
E. Tapscott	Contractor

Does your bartender wear one of these Blue Buttons?
If not, WHY NOT?
THIS CARD INDICATES A UNION BAR
Hotel and Restaurant Employes International Alliance
Bartenders International League of America
AFFILIATED WITH AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR
RECOGNIZES THIS BAR AS A UNION BAR AND WORTHY THE SUPPORT OF ORGANIZED LABOR

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10c

Clams and crabs. R. A. Driscoll's, N. Cap. and G sts. Overholt whisky, 10

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICIAL ORGAN CENTRAL LABOR UNION, WASHINGTON BRANCH, AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Vol. VIII. No. 16. WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1903. Price, 3 Cents.

THE CENTRAL LABOR UNION

The Fight on the Unfair Academy of Music Still Waxes Warmer.

DELEGATE SPRAGUE PRESIDED

Some More Union Drug Stores—The Butcher Workmen Ask for Aid in Securing Recognition—Delegate Roche Defines Position of Organized Labor in Miller Case.

The regular weekly meeting was called to order at Typographical Temple on Monday evening by Delegate Dietrich, acting secretary, Delegate Sprague, of Pressmen's Union, being called to the chair.

Minutes of previous meeting were read and adopted.

CREDENTIALS.

From Local Union No. 5, Journeymen Plumbers, certifying John M. Barrett, Charles McGowan, George L. Peeples, S. J. McCarthy, and William B. Eslin.

From Local Union No. 1021, Glaziers, certifying W. W. Wright, vice Samuel Levy, resigned.

From Local Union No. 368, Painters, certifying William Frazier, vice James Pridgeon.

From Local Union No. 77, Steam Engineers, certifying J. W. King, vice J. W. Croft.

From Pattern Makers' Association, certifying H. K. Prosser, T. L. Costigan, A. J. Berress, T. J. Broderick, and J. C. Umberger.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Local Union No. 190, Carpenters, in reference to unfair list of this body, stating that all the members of that union will make an effort to enforce the unfair firms to terms, particularly the Academy of Music. Referred to Theatrical Stage Alliance.

From Local Union No. 75, Bartenders' League, notifying the central body that R. M. Leonard, 1319 Seventh street northwest, was still unfair to the League, and ask that his case be referred to the Grievance Committee. Request granted.

From Local Union No. 240, Registered Drug Clerks, stating that a fine of $5 had been placed on all their members patronizing the Academy of Music. Also that the following stores had signed agreements with them and received union cards: C. W. Wagner, Fifth and L streets northwest; Charles Hawkins, Fourth street and Virginia avenue southeast; The Johnson Drug Company, limited, Brightwood avenue, and H. A. Yates, Seventh and M streets northwest.

From Local Union No. 332, Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, asking that a committee be appointed to visit employers and strengthen the union; also that J. T. Varnell & Son, Center Market, had discharged two of their employes on account of membership in the union, and calling attention to the fact that they are interested in the Columbia Towel Supply Company, furnishing towels and jackets to bartenders and barber shops. Referred to special committee.

From Local Union No. 1651, reporting that the District Council of Carpenters is recognized as the official head of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners; that a fine of $5 was to be imposed on any of their members patronizing the Academy of Music, and that through an error the name of E. W. Armistead was sent in as a delegate to the Central Labor Union instead of Thomas Ingleheart, who was the accredited representative, and asking that the error be rectified.

From Local Union No. 368, Painters, stating that a fine of $3 will be imposed on any member of that union patronizing the Academy of Music. Referred to Stage Alliance.

From Slate and Tile Roofers, No. 12, indorsing the placing of the Academy of Music on the unfair list. Referred to Stage Alliance.

From Grocery Clerks, No. 533, R. C. I. P. A., stating that a fine of $5 had been placed on any member patronizing the Academy of Music at the time it was declared unfair and that it was being strictly enforced. Referred to Stage Alliance.

From Local Union No. 884, stating that the District Council of Carpenters was recognized as the official head of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners in the city, and that a fine of $5 had been placed on any member patronizing the Academy of Music.

From Local Union No. 190, reporting that the District Council of Carpenters was recognized as the official head of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners in this city. Placed on file.

From Local No. 99, Steam Engineers, stating that a fine of $5 will be imposed on any of its members attending the Academy of Music. Referred to Stage Alliance.

From Trades and Labor Assembly of Alton, Ill., inclosing protest sent to President Roosevelt against reinstatement of W. A. Miller in the Government Printing Office. Referred to Bookbinders' Union, No. 4.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Grievance Committee reported that they had secured a contract from S. H. Maddox, employing carpenter. The report was received and the contract accepted.

CALL OF UNIONS.

Delegate Roche, from Bookbinders' Union, reported that he was of opinion that favorable action will be had shortly in the Miller case, and took occasion to deny that any political fight was made by organized labor against President Roosevelt; that all that was being done was the right of petition to take action on the case of Miller's reinstatement.

Carpenters, No. 1103, reported that W. B. Moses & Son were employing all members of their union and that the shop was fair.

Washington Lodge of Machinists reported that a conference had been held with the new union of Elevator Constructors on the question of trade jurisdiction, and the differences were in a fair way for settlement.

Plumbers requested that Muddiman & Co. be taken from the unfair list. Request granted.

Plumbers also requested that the question of jurisdiction of steam fitters be referred to a special committee. Request granted.

Allied Label League reported that the League was outlining a plan of action in advancing the sale of label goods in all stores.

Adjourned.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

ALLIED BUILDING TRADES.

An Interesting Business Meeting Held Tuesday Night.

The regular weekly meeting of the Council of Allied Building Trades of the Central Labor Union was called to order on Tuesday evening by Chairman Wells.

Roll call disclosed the presence of 33 delegates from 19 local unions.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

CREDENTIALS.

From Wood, Wire and Metal Lathers' Union, No. 9, certifying Mr. Reagan.

From Granite Cutters' Union, certifying to J. J. Crowley, Michael Buckley, and William Silver.

From Washington Lodge of Machinists, No. 193, certifying to W. S. Brubaker, vice H. K. Wood.

From the Plumbers and Gasfitters' Union, No. 5, U. A., certifying to John M. Barrett, E. J. O'Brien, and G. W. Rowe.

From Carpenters' Union, No. 884, certifying to Messrs. Brown and Newkirk.

From Tile Lavers' Helpers, No. 12, certifying to T. Hillary and G. Javins.

The credentials were received and the delegates seated.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Carpenters' Union, No. 884, and No. 190, stating that they recognized the Carpenters' District Council as the official head of the Brotherhood of Carpenters for the District of Columbia. Placed on file.

From Carpenters' Union, No. 884, asking the assistance of the Council in enforcing the Council card. Request granted.

From Carpenters' District Council, requesting that the Council withdraw all trades connected with Council from jobs of Richardson & Burgess, Duhey & Son, and Samuel J. Prescott & Co. Referred to unfinished business.

From Master Builders' Association, stating that they had appointed a conciliation committee. Placed on file.

From Master Builders' Association, inclosing communication from Council to them, and stating that such communication should reach them through Employing Contractors' Association. The secretary was directed to comply with the suggestion.

From Master Builders' Association, acknowledging receipt of the appointment of committee by Carpenters' District Council. Filed.

From Employing Contractors' Association on same lines. Filed.

From Carpenters' District Council, announcing appointment of committee to meet Master Builders' Association. Filed.

From Glaziers' Union, No. 1021, inclosing form of agreement to be submitted to employers, to go into effect October 18. Referred to Executive Committee.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEE.

Committee on Carpet Upholsterers reported in favor of admitting the Carpet Upholsterers. The report was concurred in and secretary directed to notify Carpet Upholsterers to appear at next meeting.

Minutes of Executive Committee of September 22 read and action approved.

Delegate Daly reported admission of Plumbers to Central Labor Union and the appointment of committee to investigate standing of the Steam Fitters in Central Labor Union.

Business Agent made report of work covered by him during the week. Accepted.

ROLL CALL.

Stone Laborers stated that they had been assured of the support of Stone Cutters on Esher's job and of the Granite Cutters on Veihmeyer job.

Tile Layers stated that their members were being discriminated against by prominent contractors. Referred to Business Agent.

Electrical Workers asked for information on the calling off Woodley apartment house. Business Agent replied by stating that he had filed charges against all members of unions who had returned to work.

Steam Fitters stated that non-union men were at work on the Colorado Building, and the power-house plant, and at St. Elizabeth's Insane Asylum, taking the places of members of the New York City Union who were on strike. Referred to Business Agent.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

Letters from Carpenters' District Council taken up and placed on file.

NEW BUSINESS.

Secretary was instructed to notify all members to be present at next meeting to consider the setting of a date when Council card should go into effect on all jobs.

Adjourned.

Winemakers Hold Out Chance for Big Reward.

An association of California vineyardists has been formed, to be known as the American Grape Acid Association, for the purpose of solving the problem of the production of cream of tartar from California grapes. Any person who can find out this secret will be paid $25,000, so says Andrea Sharboro. The association accordingly has deposited guarantees to pay the award.

Mr. Sharboro says that if any one should be successful in discovering the process for the utilization of California grapes to produce tartaric acid on a commercial basis such a process would be of inestimable value to California and to the United States. The United States is a very large importer of grape acids which are material for cream of tartar despite the fact that California is a very large producer of grapes. The present value of tartaric acid wholesale is 31 cents a pound.—San Francisco Call, August 15.

IT IS astonishing with what a thrill of fellow-feeling some employers extend a helping hand to the non-union victim of union tyranny—at wages from 10 to 50 per cent below the union scale.

MEMBERS of the Bakers' International Union will wear a lapel button with the motto, "For Day Work and Eight Hours." They prefer not to mix the doughs of day with the doze of night.

THE "OPEN SHOP" AN ISSUE

Executive Council of the A. F. of L. Defines Its Position.

CONFERENCE WITH PRESIDENT

The "Open Shop" Impracticable—A Clear Cut Statement of the Position of the A. F. of L.—Reduction in Wages Follows "Open Shop" Policy.

At the recent meeting of the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor several matters having a bearing on Congressional legislation and questions for administrative action were referred to the officers of the A. F. of L. for further report to the convention in Boston next November.

In accordance with the spirit of the action of the Council, the officers called on President Roosevelt last Tuesday and held a conference with him, placing the matters before him that called for administrative action.

After a two-hours' session with the President the delegation withdrew, having a full understanding of his position on the questions under discussion.

Following the conference with the President, the following carefully-prepared statement was given out for publication:

To Organized Labor of America, Greeting:

The Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor has recently addressed organized labor by circular on subjects including bills which will be introduced in the forthcoming session of Congress in the interest of the wage earners of our country, and which were committed to us by you through your representatives at the last A. F. of L. convention. Since then the Executive Council has held several sessions, and, of all legislative measures, the eight-hour and the anti-injunction bills have received our especial attention.

The eight-hour day, because of the wonderful improvement in the methods of wealth and production, by which the needs of man and the luxuries of life can be created in a work day of eight hours, we demand its enforcement, not only in private employment, but also on all work performed by or on behalf of the Government, whether the employment be direct, by contract, or by subcontract.

While we seek to avoid and avert strikes and industrial disputes, any attempt to cripple the right of labor as a last resort to strike in defense of our rights simply means labor's enslavement; for industrial tranquility by agreement through the methods of conciliation and fair arbitration is only possible and attainable when the workers are organized and have the liberty to exercise their constitutional rights.

The writ of injunction in its proper sphere is a right and protection. It was never designed for the purpose to which it is now put in industrial disputes. There is not now upon the statute books of any State, or upon the statute books of the Federal Government, a line upon which authority is given the courts for the issuance of injunctions such as have been issued in industrial disputes. It is not the use, but the abuse, by the courts of the writ of injunction against which we protest, which is in direct conflict with the rights guaranteed to our people by the Constitution of our country.

The men in the organized labor movement are law-abiding, faithful, and loyal citizens. They have no desire for immunity from the laws governing other citizens, but they most emphatically resent and protest against the actions of courts convicting men for acts which they have the legal right to perform, and then, too, without the right of a trial by a jury of their peers.

The American principle of equal justice before the law is being violated day after day. The relics of antiquated judicial tyranny are being revived by some judges, while others so misinterpret existing law as to thereby aim to financially ruin our unions and mulct our men out of their hard-earned savings, which they have endeavored to lay aside for their protection in middle or old age, when the employing class and society have no further use for their services.

All really educated and honest men realize and admit that a thorough organization of the working people, to render employment and means of sustenance less precarious, by securing them an equitable share of the fruits of their labor, is the most vital necessity of our time. Without such organization of labor in our present industrial era of wealth concentration, even a fair degree of industrial peace could not be maintained; the wage-worker's condition would be forced down to the lowest possible plane; their liberty would be crushed; their manhood and intelligence stunted, and the intellectual, industrial, commercial, and political standing of our country almost annihilated.

In spite of strikes here and there, organized labor has established and is establishing a greater degree of uninterrupted industrial peace by agreement with employers. Such agreement implies the organization of the working people in factory, shop, mill, or mine, for an organized body of workmen can only enter into an agreement with employers and faithfully abide by and carry into execution the terms of such agreement, when all the workingmen of an employer, at least in any given plant, are all members of the union.

The so-called "open shop" makes agreement with the employers impractical, if not impossible, for the union can not be responsible for the nonunionists, whose conduct often renders the terms of the agreement ineffective and nugatory. The agreement, or joint bargain, of organized labor with employers depends for its success not only upon the good will of the union and the employer toward each other, but that neither shall be subject to the irresponsibility or lack of intelligence of the nonunionist, or his failure to act in concert with and bear the equal responsibility of the unionist.

The right of the non-unionist to work when, where, and for what he pleases carries with it the logical right of the unionist to work or refuse to work when, where, and for what he pleases, and with whom he pleases.

To a nonunionist, despite that which his advocate may say for him, can not be attributed the virtue of helping his fellow-workmen or contributing toward the establishment of more rightful relations between workingmen and their employers. No force but that of persuasion and that of moral and intelligent influence should be exercised to convert the nonunionist to membership in our organization, but it is hurtful from every view point and to every enlightened interest to advocate the "open shop." As the immortal Lincoln said, "This country can not long remain half free and half slave," so say we that any establishment can not long remain or be successfully operated part union and part nonunion.

In connection with the meeting of the Executive Council, and by appointment a conference was held with the President of the United States for the purpose of discussing important labor legislation. The eight-hour bill was considered at length, the President stating that his mind had not changed on that form of legislation since he had favored it as governor of New York State, and, therefore, was favorable to the passage of the proposed act.

On the anti-injunction bill, in response to questions submitted, the President replied the subject would have his most careful and earnest attention.

Other important questions affecting legislation, as per decision of the last convention, were taken up and on behalf of the International Bookbinders' Union, the Miller case was discussed. The Executive Council brought to the President's attention the manner in which his decision had been quoted, and, in addition to the relationship of Mr. Miller to the Bookbinders' Union as brought forth in the charges against him, the "open shop" idea was carefully considered. Replying to statements on the subject, President Roosevelt set forth that in his decision he had nothing in mind but a strict compliance with Federal, including civil service law, and that he recognized a difference between employment by the government, circumscribed by those laws, and any other form of employment, and that his decision in the Miller case should not be understood to have any other effect or influence than affecting direct employment by the government in accordance therewith. He furthermore made plain that in any form of employment excepting that so circumscribed, he believed the full employment of union men was preferable either to non-union or "open shops."

In view of the publicity given this subject, the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor takes this opportunity to say that the trade union movement stands for a strictly union shop, experience having proved that where the "open shop" system has been tried, reduction in wages and profits have ensued, with general disaster to the industry practicing that system, and, therefore, declares that the best interests of the labor movement calls for the employment of union workers and discourages in every way, shape, and form the deteriorating effects which follow the recognition of the "open shop."

The toiling masses, and particularly the organized wage-earners, can not, must not, and will not surrender one jot of that which they have secured, must organize the yet unorganized, unite and federate those already organized to present a solid phalanx of the grand army of labor in earnest and emphatic protest against judicial usurpation or capitalistic invasion of our rights, attempted no matter by whom, or from whatsoever source.

The hope for right and justice hereafter, as well as the perpetuation of liberty, and our republican institutions, lies in organized labor. Therefore, with the consciousness of the justice and soundness of our position, we appeal to the judgment of all men, and particularly to the toilers of America, that they organize, unite, and federate without regard to trade, calling, nationality, locality, sex, politics, color, or religion.

The President's Decision.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

No one regrets more than I do the outcome of the "Miller case." No one feels more chagrined than I to contemplate the Government Printing Office as an open shop. But I certainly looked for this very thing when it was determined to place the office under civil service rules. If that was a benefit, if it was a shield against the wholesale discharges for political reasons that brought so much needless suffering to worthy craftsmen and their families in days gone by, the bitter must be taken with the sweet, for under existing law there is no relief from the danger that nonunion mechanics may be appointed. Our hope lies in the ability to convince those who belong in the latter category that it is politic, and I may as well add that it is decent, for those whose capital is the knowledge of a trade, to join a union just as quickly as they can find an opportunity.

However, what is now bad and unpalatable, will be made much worse if we permit the President's action in the case cited to cause us to blame him where no blame is deserved. I fail to see how, under his construction of the law that he has sworn to uphold, he could have acted other than he did. I have no idea that he has a good opinion of a man who befouls what should be his own nest; I have no idea he could respect one who who has endeavored to do harm to thousands of worthy men and women, but the law binds him as it binds every one in a country that is governed by law.

Organized labor will be foolish if it wantonly assails the President because of his action in the Miller business. Recent events have shown that it has no friends to spare. It has enemies in plenty, both those who fight in the open and the more dangerous sort who strike, as does the snake, in the grass. President Roosevelt believes that organized labor is a power for good. He has repeatedly shown it friendship that came from the heart. It would be wrong to repel such friendship, to force such a friend to become our enemy.

The "Miller case" is a closed incident so far as the President is concerned. But there will be other "cases" where the Chief Executive will go on record. Should organized labor force a fight upon him because of what has passed, how can we expect anything but resentment from one who has not so far been noted for excessive meekness? Let us be fair with him, if not from the nobler impulse to do right, then from policy and calculation. For myself, I regret that the President deemed it his duty to handle the "Miller case" as he did. But that he did so from a sincere sense of duty, I doubt not for one moment. Let us be fair with him. Let us not deal unjustly with him. Let us still believe in him as one who is a man all the way through, and who honors manhood in others, as he has given ample proof.

AUGUST DONATH.

THE OBSERVER.

At a recent meeting of one of the unions affiliated with the Central Labor Union, the question of fining users of non-union smoking and chewing tobacco was discussed, action being deferred on account of the appalling fact that the union product could be found in but few places in the city, even though the merits of several union brands were extolled in the highest terms. The question naturally arises to whose door can this unfortunate condition of affairs be traced? Here is a city of 300,000 inhabitants, with over 15,000 enrolled union workers, 90 per cent of whom it can be safely claimed are consumers one way or the other of tobacco. They are willing and eager to purchase a union tobacco that will bear favorable comparison with the non-union product. Here are also from 175 to 200 retail dealers of smoker's goods who are so anxious to see the tobacco trust downed that they are organizing an association with the paramount purpose of refusing to handle goods manufactured by the trust, and who in addition, more so than any other class of merchants, on account, no doubt, of the enormous consumption of their wares by the working element, are eager to put in any line called for by their patrons, claim that they do no know of the brands or where they can be procured. There are at least five brands of smoking and chewing tobacco bearing the union label, which have been tried and praised by a few who have secured a sample from one city or another, and yet the dealer who is willing to handle it can not do so because the consumer who is eager to purchase is unable to state where the goods can be procured, with the consequent result that the union, loath to deprive the wage-earner of his solace, it obliged to defer action and condone what it really desires to suppress.

The natural deduction is that the manufacturer of the union product can not supply the demand, and consequently does not need to advertise in the District of Columbia, with the result that when one of the Government employees travels to his home to vote or recreate, he calls for the non-union brand he has been accustomed to use, humiliating the District unions by his inadvertent admission that we are obliged to condone the non-union product. The opening is opportune and the field a splendid one for some hustling union manufacturer in this line to judiciously advertise his wares, reaping the same reward that the concern earned, who first stepped in during the union-label cigar movement, namely such a demand for his goods which though now outclassed by dozens of union brands, that they are found in the cases of every dealer in the District of Columbia.

BALL PLAYERS with glass arms live in hopes since the announcement that the Kaiser has been fitted up with "a wonderful new electro-mechanical left arm in place of his withered one."

THE attitude of our naval forces with reference to matters in the near East would seem to indicate that Uncle Sam is something of a pistol-toter, too.

THE membership of the United Garment Workers of America has increased from 3,000 to 60,000 in twelve years, thus demonstrating that a stitch in time saves more than nine.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER knows how to dispose of his business rivals when they become overfed and chesty. He believes in the good old maxim that oils well that ends swell.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Official Organ Central Labor Union and Allied Building Trades, A. F. of L.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

The Trades Unionist Publishing Company

E. W. PATTON.....President
A. J. E. HUBBARD.....Vice-President
T. M. RING.....Secretary

Office: 441-443 G Street Northwest.

TELEPHONE EAST 15 Y.

SUBSCRIPTION

One year (in advance) - - - - $1.00
Six months (in advance) - - - - .50

Entered at the Post-Office, Washington, D. C. as Second-Class Matter.

THE TRADES UNIONIST is heartily and unqualifiedly indorsed by the Central Labor Union and the Allied Building Trades as well as by the various locals connected with the two central bodies.

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL WASHINGTON. 2

Only Eight-Hour Union Office in Town.

I would as soon think of doing business without clerks as without advertising.
—JOHN WANAMAKER.

Nothing, except the mint, can make money without advertising.
—GLADSTONE.

When you pay more for the rent of your business house than for advertising your business, you are pursuing a false policy. If you can do business, let it be known.
—FRANKLIN.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 1. 1903.

PARKS should keep shady.

THE moth-eaten overcoat Joke is about ripe.

D. M. PARRY might heap coals of fire on the head of organized labor by establishing a few libraries.

IT IS about time for the world to stop standing aghast at the Macedonian atrocities and get a move on.

INCIDENT to the meeting of Congress an oratorical contest will be pulled off between Senator Morgan and the Nicaragua volcanoes.

ANDREW CARNEGIE has done so much good in the purchase of libraries as to feel pretty certain that he is booked for heaven.

HEY, RUBE! Organizers of the American Federation of Labor have been attended by success in their efforts to form Indiana farm hands into unions.

THE printers will all have new stools when they move into the Government Printing Office. Let us hope it will be a case of a new stool sets clean.

THE tailor sent for by the President before leaving Oyster Bay for Washington was astonished at the simplicity of his distinguished patron's sartorial requirements. In other words, before making a fit the tailor had one.

THOUSANDS of children in the manufacturing centers of the South are provided for by labor unions, which pay the amount per week of wages that they would earn in the mill on condition that they be taken out by the parents and sent to school. Thus again does unionism tyranically interfere with individual rights in its opposition to the open shop.

THERE is a movement on foot for the formation of a Pullman Porters' Union. The porters now average about $46 a month, and they propose to demand a fair salary and abolish the tipping system. This is a good illustration of the service which unionism renders society by making men independent, and therefore more self-reliant and trustworthy.

THE statement given out by the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor on the questions now before it, especially the one bearing on the "open shop," is one of the best documents that ever issued from general headquarters. It is clear cut and incisive, and leaves no doubt as to where the American Federation of Labor stands on the question.

After exercising an amount of patience and forbearance on the question that has filled the press of the country with a mass of misinformation as to the attitude of organized labor, and awaiting a final statement of President ROOSEVELT on the question, President GOMPERS and his co-workers in the Executive Council has given to the public a statement that challenges the admiration of publicists for its terseness and boldness in defining the position of the American Federation of Labor.

From the tenor of the statement given out by the Executive Council, which will be embodied in their report to the convention, to be held in November, at Boston, there is not the least doubt that the convention will approve the stand taken by the Executive Council.

THE arguments against the tyranny of organized labor in keeping willing and worthy workers out of employment have a wonderfully benign and Christian sound as they fall from the lips of a certain class of wealthy employers. The natural conclusion is that the supersensitive tendrils of their souls reach out in sympathy to all mankind. Man is made to mourn, and the non-unionist's mournfulness is especially touching. Accordingly, at the risk of business failure, they clasp him to their consolidated bosom in a wild and reckless paroxysm of philanthropy. They prove their consistency by paying him wages higher than are paid by employers of organized labor, and in other beneficent ways they make good the assertion that a man's a man for 'a that. And yet, strange to say, they have never printed a comparative table showing that the average wages of the non-unionist are higher than those of the unionist, and that consequently the condition of organized labor, as well as society in general, would be improved if the open shop were universal. It is a pity that these well-meaning philanthropists do not make some practical demonstration of what they claim. For trades organizations are becoming stronger and more numerous year by year and day by day; and in violent opposition to their beforementioned, would-be benefactors, the great majority of the more intelligent among the workingmen perversely insist that in union there is the strength that brings high wages and better conditions.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM.

Last Sunday the first meeting of the Ex-Delegates' Association since the I. T. U. convention was held at Typographical Temple, President William R. Ramsey in the chair, with Secretary John T. Herbert and Treasurer Charles W. Otis on deck and something over forty members present. The meeting was most harmonious and all business was dispatched to the satisfaction of all. The chairman of the entertainment committee, James H. Platt, made a detailed report of what that committee had done, and the finance committee reported that with all bills paid there was a balance of 51 cents in the treasury, which agreed astoundingly with the report of the treasurer. During the meeting F. N. Whitehead called Jimmy Platt out to tell him that there was a shortage in the finances amounting to $20, and before Jimmy caught his breath sufficiently to go back and demand an explanation the association had vote him a beautiful diamond-studded locket, engraved with the name of the association and that of Mr. Platt, the presentation of which covered him with confusion and made him forget the alleged shortage, though he responded neatly to Charlie Otis's presentation speech. All matters pertaining to the entertainment of the late convention having been satisfactorily closed up, it was moved that the association be made a permanent one, and after every one present had been asked to state his views on the question it was voted unanimously to continue the association, and a committee, consisting of Messrs. Tim Ring, August Donath, James H. Platt, F. N. Whitehead, and John T. Herbert, was appointed to revise the by-laws and fix up the programme for the permanent association. Several in the discussion of the matter expressed a fear that the association might be suspected of designs on the legislation and elections of the union, but it was finally agreed that the personnel of the association was a guaranty of the good faith and honesty of purpose of the members except in the minds of a suspicious few of the class who suggested to the poet the sentiment, "Though you be pure as snow and chaste as ice you shall not escape calomel." It was voted to return certain contributions of money made by gentlemen not members of the association, as not being needed, thanking them for their kindly offers. Resolutions of condolence with Maj. G. Harry Stone and Capt. William M. Meredith, members of the association, on their recent respective bereavements, were passed by a unanimous rising vote, as was a resolution of thanks to the officers of the association for their faithful and efficient service during the past year. The present officers and committees were continued until the committee on permanent organization shall make its report. The application of Frank S. Lerch for membership was received and he was elected. The association adjourned to meet at the call of the president.

This may not be a very consecutive report of the proceedings, but it covers all the business done that I can recollect.

* * * *

My words of commendation of the activity of my good friend Goodkey in union matters encouraged him to send me a brief review of his record in other cities, to the effect that he joined St. Louis Union in 1881, and he furnishes the name of a witness; went to Chicago in 1886 and served as a member of the Trades Assembly with Frank Kidd, Frank Morrison, Mike Madden, Judge Fullerton, and others, and ran for sergeant-at-arms of No. 16 in the World's Fair year convention of the I. T. U., but was defeated by Jim Rathgeber, now deceased; went to Louisville in 1895 and became a delegate to the Central Labor Union; was on the organization committee of that body; started the Garment Workers' Union; got conductors on all cars; helped to unionize the Courier-Journal and Times, and was on the scale committee of that union—after which he came to Washington. In view of this very honorable record I congratulate Columbia Union on what she has escaped or what she still has in store and coming to her, according to which may be the fact. Whenever you begin to run for things, Goody, you can count on my voice and pen.

* * * *

Though the Government Printing Office Veteran Club has been in existence for a year and a half, there are probably few readers of THE TRADES UNIONIST outside of its members who know of it. It was organized in January, 1902, and its officers are C. M. Robinson, president; H. F. J. Drake, vice-president; B. W. Bonney, secretary-treasurer, and Charles Warren, doorkeeper. The object of the Club, which is non-political and non-partisan, is to promote fraternity and good-fellowship among the members in such a manner as shall be determined by the Club from time to time. It is provided that the Club shall not be used for the purpose of furthering the promotion or advancement of any of its members employed in the Government Printing Office. The qualifications for membership are a good moral character, an honorable discharge from the army or navy for services rendered during the war of the rebellion from 1861 to 1865, and employment in the Government Printing Office at the time of election to membership, the admission fee being 50 cents and the monthly dues 10 cents. The stated meetings of the Club, at which varied and interesting programmes are presented, are held at Maccabee Temple, on Ninth street, on the third Saturday evening of each month. The Auxiliary, composed of the wives and daughters of members, attend these meetings and assist in entertaining. They will welcome all who are eligible to membership in either the Club or Auxiliary. The Club at present has over one hundred members.

* * * *

The various councils of the Royal Arcanum are busily engaged raising funds to endow a bed in some hospital for the use of any sick member of the order, whether a local or a sojourning brother. This is a noble charity, and those who are acquainted with the membership of this splendid institution have no doubt that they will carry the project forward to success.

* * * *

The action of the General Executive Board of the Knights of Labor at Pittsburg last week in assuming that President Roosevelt and organized labor have locked horns over the Miller matter and proposing Senator Mark Hanna as an arbitrator between them is one of the most ludicrous moves of that ridiculous cadaver that some years ago was able to make a stir in the world, but which now exists only in order to keep sundry gentlemen in their positions at the head of it. In its senility, as in its youth, it devotes most of its energies to interference with legitimate labor organizations.

* * * *

When Delegate Percy B. S. Thayer came to the convention from Boston he brought with him a copy of the Baltimore Sun of date August 14, 1845, that had been in the possession of his family since its issuance, which he presented to Delegate George P. Nichols, of Baltimore, who is an employe of the Sun. Mr. Nichols gave it to the editor of that paper, who wrote a very interesting editorial article reviewing the old paper and epitomizing from it the news of that day and the local events and advertisements, showing the wonderful changes that have taken place in the fifty-eight years.

* * * *

Probably every one has read of the recent death of Frank Litz, "the giant newsboy," as the papers dubbed him, though I never heard him so called when he sold papers around the G. P. O., applicable as the name was. Twelve or fifteen years ago he did an astonishing business selling papers in Swampoodle and everybody connected with the office knew him, at least by sight. He was a big, good-natured boy and a favorite with everybody

* * * *

Dr. De Witt C. Chadwick, of 1102 L street, and Miss C. A. R. Pechell were married this (Thursday) morning, at 10 o'clock, at the Church of the Holy Trinity, Elizabeth, N. J., by the Rev. J. R. Atkinson, Dr. Stephen D. Pool, of this city, serving as "best man." It is their intention to take the steamer at New York for Norfolk and Old Point, Va., immediately after the ceremony, returning to this city about the 8th of October, and they will be at home to their friends after November 1. The bride, who is an English girl and the niece of a baronet, was born at Aldershot, England, and is the daughter of the late Maj. E. R. C. Pechell, an English army officer. She lived for some months in this city and was a nurse in Sibley Hospital, and undoubtedly those who have been inmates of that splendid institution within the past year or so will remember her. Dr. Chadwick is known to practically every member of the union, formerly as compositor, then as a proofreader, and later as a phenomenally successful physician, and every one of them will wish him and his bride all the joy and happiness of which human beings are capable, and which they so richly deserve for their services in behalf of suffering humanity.

* * * *

At last the joyous time has come
And we have moved to our new home.
Let each one sing loud songs of praise
And keep on singing while he stays.
Let us all sing until retired
On gittin' rich or gittin' fired.

* * * *

The Rev. J. T. Durward, of Baraboo, Wis, suggests the following additional clause in the I. T. U. obligation, as "a concession to end the present controversy:"

And we further swear that our obedience to the law of God and to the civil law shall ever come before our obedience to any order of this union, which we swear to abandon if it should command unjust acts, and we swear that we recognize and shall ever recognize the right of the employer to hire non-union labor at his discretion, and the right of all men to belong to a union or not, as they choose, and to work for whatsoever wages they see fit.

This seems to give away everything that we have except our money, and under its operation we wouldn't have any of that in the future, or probably no more than enough to properly support our spiritual advisers. But we might try it, if somebody will offer the amendment.

* * * *

The newsmongers had great doings busy in connection with the removal to the new building, but I believe nothing more exciting happened than an exchange of divisions by Mr. Roberts and Mr. Bowen and a renumbering of some of the divisions.

A. F. BLOOMER.

Bricklayers' Executive Committee.

The following is the list of members of the Executive Committee of Bricklayers' Union, No. 1: John G. Wolfe, chairman, 1023 New Jersey avenue; W. Cronin, 1415 Thirty-sixth street northwest; Samuel Haslett, 221 South Lee street, Alexandria, Va.; John Shanahan, 2352 Eighth street northwest; John McCarten, 1237 Maryland avenue northeast.

FOR THE BEST--
READY-TO-WEAR
—FOR—
Man, Woman and Child
AT THE MOST REASONABLE PRICES,
CONSULT—
Parker, Bridget & Co.,
Washington's Leading Outfitters, ...
Pa. Ave. and 9th St. N. W.

Union Made Cigars
OF THE FINEST QUALITY.
Pluck 5¢ | ARMY & NAVY 10¢
AFTER DINNER 5¢ | DEER HEAD 10¢
Henry T. Offterdinger, Manufacturer
504 Ninth St., N.W.

ARLINGTON BREWING CO.
ROSSLYN, VA.
BEER ALE PORTER
The Finest Productions of Skilled Union Labor. Union Label on Every Bottle and Keg of Our Goods.

Our Strictly One-Price Methods Insure Legitimate Reductions
AWAY FROM THE HIGH RENT DISTRICT THAT'S WHY WE UNDERSELL
High-Grade Clothing At Price of Ordinary Kinds
Our Clothing is distinctly "New Yorkish." It possesses that hard to define "something" that a man usually looks for from a custom shop. Reason for this is—the vital points of making are hand worked.
We Are Style Makers
Suits, $7.50 to $25.00 Overcoats, $7.50 to $30.00
We are at your disposal—Fall Togs are ready
THE BIEBER-KAUFMAN CO.
Masculine Outfitters from Childhood to Age
901-909 EIGHTH STREET S. E.
Local Agents "Walk Over" Shoes

Announcement
In announcing the arrival of my fabrics for this season, I desire to say that the selection comprises Styles that are Exclusive, and represent the production of mills at home and abroad.
I am showing an exceptionally large and well assorted line of Business suitings in Blacks, Blues, Fancy Cheviots, and Worsteds. My line of Trouserings is the largest and most complete that I have ever shown. I am very desirous of securing early orders before the line is broken, therefore advise immediate selection. Very respectfully,
T. E. GILBERT, Importer and Tailor
818 F Street Northwest
ONLY UNION TAILORS EMPLOYED.

The Savings possible at
S. Kann, Sons & Co.
8th St.-THE BUSY CORNER-Pa. Ave.
are such as may be counted in the pocket. At the same time styles and qualities are unexcelled.

FURNISHED ROOMS
AT
The Orleans
1203 F STREET NORTHWEST
MRS. R. COMMELIN, Prop.

Besides giving you
the best system of fraternal insurance ever devised, Ben-Hur provides monthly social entertainments, which are free to its members. Better inquire
HENRY E. CROUCH, Deputy, 424 Fourth St. N. E.
ALBERT P. E. DOYLE, Scribe, 21 O St. N. E.

PRINTERS and Union Members.—For First-Class Meals, Eat at
VICTOR CAFE, 3 H St. N. W.
ALBION, Eleventh and E Sts. N. W.
ERIN, Cor. N. J. Ave. and D St. N. W.
U. S. LUNCH ROOM, 320 12th St. N. W.
ALBERT T. SCANLAND, Prop.
Open Day and Night. Best Service.

"Everyone knows how to find fault." No one has yet found fault with the
RELIABLE
The Gas Range for Summer Use
Washington Gas Light Co.
GAS APPLIANCE EXCHANGE

M. S. JOHNSON,
Foreign and Domestic Woolens now ready for inspection
SUITS $25 UP. UNION SHOP.
1435 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

GIDDINGS & STEELE,
Exclusive Floor Coverings
813 PENNSYLVANIA AVE. N.W.

SHAFFER
Florist
14th and Eye Sts. Phone 2416 Main
1711 Penna. Ave. Phone 1581 Main

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES
OF
Columbia Typographical Union,
No. 101.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, 423 G ST. N. W.
Office Hours: 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.; 5 to 7 P. M.

OFFICERS.

JOE M. JOHNSON.....President
DAN C. VAUGHAN.....Vice-President
WM. M. GARRETT.....Secretary
JOHN R. BERG.....Treasurer
FRANK BATES.....Sergeant-at-Arms
N. C. STOOPS.....Doorkeeper

TRUSTEES—J. E. Bright, chairman; W. L. Gutelius, Chas. C. Thompson, Joe M. Johnson, and Wm. M. Garrett.

DELEGATES TO CENTRAL LABOR UNION—J. H. Babcock, chairman; J. B. Dickman, Hugh Everett, Theodore Gerber, and C. E. Dietrich.

DELEGATES TO ALLIED TRADES COUNCIL—E. E. Calhoon, chairman; T. F. Hall, and J. P. Garner.

AUDITORS—C. W. Radley, chairman; H. G. Brown, and J. W. Carter.

COMMITTEES.

BUSINESS—Zach T. Jenkins, chairman; C. B. Yater, M. J. Maher, T. C. Parsons, and R. W. Burnside.

NOMINATIONS—W. N. Brockwell, chairman; F. A. Kidd, H. O'Donnell, Frank M. Hatley, and R. E. Stenner.

LAWS—Chas. H. Ennis, chairman; Raymond Gery, and Dexter S. Hussey.

FINANCE—John A. Huston, chairman; J. M. McLaughlin, and R. F. Chisholm.

PRINTING—T. A. Bynum, chairman; Milo Shanks, and Ed. J. Hall.

GRIEVANCE—Clint O. Price, chairman; Chas. S. Gunn, Philip Nachman, David J. Snyder, and E. Y. Fisher.

ENTERTAINMENT—T. L. Jones, chairman; J. R. Purvis, T. J. Fitzwilliam, Miss Nellie Theaker, Miss Anna Wilson, B. E. Harrison, and W. J. Harris.

CONFERENCE—J. L. Holland, chairman; D. J. Hegarty, and W. B. Shaw.

LIBRARY—Clyde J. Sheriff, chairman; A. E. Ogg, and Harry Essex.

RELIEF—Joseph G. Stelle, chairman; Wm. S. Schinnerer and E. P. Cummins.

EIGHT-HOUR—F C. Roberts, chairman; F. B. Crown, F. D. Seiffert, Jeff Newlon, and S. H. Willey.

MEMORIAL SERVICE—S. J. Gompers, chairman; Philip S. Steele, J. E. Goodkey, J. B. Dickman, and C. B. Yater.

AMOS J. CUMMINGS MEMORIAL—J. T. Rowe, chairman; Charles T. Graff, and T. A. Bynum.

CHAIRMEN.

First Division—W. R. Love.
Second Division—W. N. Goldstein.
Third Division—Burr Williams.
Fourth Division—Charles H. Gove.
Fifth Division—Charles E. Dietrich.
Sixth Division—E. M. Nevils.
Job Room—J. K. Davison.
Record Clerks' Division—H. G. Brown
First Division, Night—Allen Cowles.
Night Proof Room—E. H. Thomas.
Specification Room—H. F. Melick.
Official Gazette—Jere Walsh.
Document Proof Room—Jas. R. Armstrong.
Treasury Division—W. Brice Coston.
Interior Division—C. K. Stribling.
State Division—J. B. Dickman.
Navy Department Division—Albert E. Ogg.
War Department Division—Wm. K. Miller.
Agricultural Division—Henry P. Slaughter.
Library Division—H. V. Bisbee.
Weather Bureau—L. H. Emmons.
Morning Post—J. H. Broderick.
Evening Star—Joseph C. Whyte.
Evening Times—T. C. Parsons.
Law Reporter—J. R. Johnson.
Globe Printing Co.—R. A. Wilson.
Judd & Detweiler's—A. B. Barringer.
Wilkens Printing Co.—T. N. Surguy.
Pearson's—T. F. Monahan.
National Publishing Co.—E. C. Owen.
McGill & Wallace's—J. M. Watts.
Byron S. Adams'—R. B. Boucher.
Army and Navy Register—C. H. Draeger.
General Postoffice—Joseph Williams.
Sudwarth's—F. R. Adams.

AROUND THE PRINTERIES.

W. E. Shields is again in Denver, Colo., reading proof on the Times.

The session of Congress coming on will be considered a good proposition for the down town printer when the "extras" go on.

Chas. C. Thompson, foreman of the Post, has returned from Meadville, Pa., where he was called to attend the funeral of his sister.

H. F. Melick was elected chairman of the Specification chapel on the 1st instant, to succeed E. A. Hutchison, who declined re-election.

Charlie Stranhan, after a sojourn in the West, is again in the city. Mr. Stranhan spent most of his time while away in the city of St. Louis.

Andrew Tyree, the treasurer of Richmond (Va.) Typographical Union, is visiting friends in this city. Mr. Tyree is one of the "Old Guard," and was a delegate to the Birmingham convention.

The following, taken from the Wheeling (W. Va.), Telegraph, shows that F. C. ("Jack") Roberts is doing good service for the striking machinists:

Nearly 1,000 people attended the mass meeting which was held in Bellaire Saturday evening in the interest of the striking machinists. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Belmont Trades and Labor Assembly. Several local speakers made short addresses, all touching upon the machinists' trouble. F. C. Roberts, representing the machinists in their present trouble, was then introduced. The speaker began his remarks by explaining the benefit of unions, their origin and purposes, and when he drew a word picture of the evils and crime of child labor many women in the audience were moved to tears.

Nearly 5,000 men will be benefited if this strike is won. The machinists are fighting some of the largest steel mills in the country.

Try oyster pan roast, 10c. Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, North Capitol and G streets.

(New) Third Division.

M. V. B. Stevens was transferred to the Proof Room.

L. Woodward is now in the First Division, cut room, next to Richards.

Robert L. Doering returned from his leave Tuesday and started to work in the new office.

T. Frank Hall and wife celebrated their china wedding (twentieth) anniversary, Saturday, September 26.

A lunch room in the new building would be a great convenience to the occupants, besides profitable to the owners.

The chapel election Wednesday for the Third Division resulted: Chairman, Goldstein, 51, Goodkey, 4; secretary, Belcher, 33, Gerber, 19.

Mr. Flowers, of the Fourth Division, has returned from a visit to home folks in South Carolina and has matriculated in Columbian University Law School.

J. S. Garner accompanied his talented daughter to Baltimore Saturday, where she entered a competitive examination in violin playing for the Peabody Conservatory of Music.

Billy Love, of the first, at last defeated Judge Mabrey for chairman Wednesday. He may well feel proud of the victory, which was duly celebrated after office—all friends of each being invited to "step up."

J. W. Belcher, of Providence, R. I., hands in a clipping from a paper of that city, saying that the printers have at last compromised on a scale of wages of $16 per week of nine hours a day. The former price had been about $14. The union had asked for $16 and eight hours.

The new building is simply magnificent. The layout is perfect. There is plenty of room and light. The composing rooms are located as follows: Seventh, Job Room and Job Press Room; sixth, First and Second divisions, the Y and Proof Room; fifth, Third, Fourth, and Fifth divisions, and Record.

L. C. Richards, of the Accent Alley, is now domiciled in a spacious Superior, Black-Letter, Accent Division of his own now, next to Mr. Spottswood's new palatial office on the sixth floor. With him went Messrs. C. P. Brown, of the Titles; G. W. Newell, of the Display dis.; J. A. Phillips, of the Rule dis., and H. C. Shearer, of Objectionable dis.

W. J. Phillips, of Houston, Tex., the best known and most popular young man in this room, was married Saturday evening at 9 o'clock, to Miss Alma Edna Hazleton, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Hazleton, at the bride's residence, 615 Eighth street northeast. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Dysart, of the Chapel of the Good Shepherd. Mrs. W. W. Keck was matron of honor, and H. Newsom, of this division, was best man. The happy couple will spend a couple of weeks in New Haven, New York, Saratoga, and Albany, and be at home to their friends at 615 Eighth street northeast, after October 15. Among the many presents received was a handsome lamp, presented by his friends of this division, who all wish him and his charming bride a happy life.

NEWS.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

(New) Fourth Division.

From my notebook:

Monday—New foreman, Mr. Roberts.

Tuesday—New quarters, new building.

Wednesday—Rechristened, Fourth Division.

Thursday—The regular issue of THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Harry Major is confined with an attack of erysipelas.

That we are delighted with our new quarters is the least we can say.

Now that we have actually made the move the rumor committee can go way back and sit down.

E. P. Stanley, the Tom Thumb of our force, came in on a transfer from the Record Division a week ago.

L. D. Weeks is at the copy desk, Charley Gunn keeps time, R. A. Nelgner is at the bank, and William Hamilton supplies the rules.

One of the surprises of the week was the change of foremen, Mr. Bowen going over to the First and Mr. Roberts coming to this division,

George Healey was transferred to the Treasury Branch last Wednesday to a maker-up position. His friendly disposition and kind word will be missed in this room.

Geo. P. Nichols, of Baltimore Union, who ably represented that city in the last International convention, was shaking hands with friends in the Fifth (old building) on Monday last. He is a staunch union man and a hard worker for that cause.

The men of the "Y," the strippers, B. H. Pratt, E. F. Geyer, Frank Lloyd, Ed. Heidingsfeld, Col. Simon Pocher ("Heide" wouldn't go without him), and Fred Berger went to the First Division. Just what addition this room will have is not yet evident, though it is understood there will be a large increase in the force.

RAN.

Try oyster pan roast, 10c. Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, North Capitol and G streets.

Bindery Notes.

It is reported that 30 job forwarders will be appointed shortly.

Tom Kelly is spending fifteen days' leave at Reilly's Beach.

The officers of the Jonadabs are anxiously awaiting Professor Lang's application for membership.

"Shad" Burns is in mortal fear of appendicitis. Avoid the cause, Shad, and you will be immune.

Johnnie Burns must have worked another assessment gag, as he seems to have plenty of money after pay day.

Tom Burns was detected recently filing his teeth with sand paper. This is probably a trick he learned when he kept a dog hospital.

"Blokie" Beyler tried to work off a six-year-old story as a new one on your correspondent, but the latter was too foxy for him. In his anxiety to get one on Charlie Connor and Adam Sommers, "Blokie" delved into the dim and misty past.

Henry Hoiby and John McCarty spent a day fishing during the week, and their many friends are disappointed at the result. Before going they had promised to equitably distribute the "catch," but, owing to the cloudy condition of the water or the bad quality of the "bait, they did not get a nibble.

Cow Boy.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

A Card.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

My old friend "Pard" Bloomer's jab at me in last issue of your paper caused me much amusement, as I liken him unto others who used to do the same thing, namely, Frank Hollister, of the Eight-Hour Herald, of Chicago, and Jim Watson, of the New Era, of Louisville, Ky.

I was always "dreadfully" active in whatever union I belonged to.

I came under St. Louis, No. 8, jurisdiction in 1881, and several years later, when not yet 19 years old, was elected a full member. I was always active while there.

I came under Chicago, No. 16, jurisdiction in 1886; was a delegate to the Trades Assembly along with Frank Kidd, Frank Morrison, Billy Cohill, "Judge" Fullerton, Mike Madden, Billy Timblin, and others. I ran for sergeant-at-arms of the union the World's Fair year of the I. T. U. convention, but was defeated.

I came under Louisville, No. 10, jurisdiction in 1895, and represented it in the Central Labor Union; was on the organization committee of that body; got the garment workers organized, and succeeded in getting the Courier-Journal and Times to unionize their offices.

From Bloomer's remarks, one might be lead to believe that I was a countryman trying to edge in here, but the truth is I have had the nerve to do what I always thought best for the greatest number of members, regardless of consequences.

Believe me to be,
Your friend,
J. E. GOODKEY.

AFTER DINNER DILATIONS.

The signs of the times all indicate that labor's hardest battles are yet to be fought.

***

The strike of some of the anthracite coal operators carries with it a "public-be-damned" feature, but no demand for the militia.

***

It is noticed that when steel stock shows a downward tendency Mr. Carnegie does not work overtime planning how he may escape the disgrace of dying rich.

***

The road to wealth, which formerly lead over a mountain of difficulties and was marked by the footprints of poor boys, has been abandoned. The short cut is now by way of the tunnel.

***

Uncle Sam is very good to his boys (and girls) and that is why we have no hesitation in raising our good right hand and giving him our word that we will stay with him, and be glad of the job.

***

It is estimated that an equal distribution of Rockefeller's wealth would amount to $12.50 for each man, woman, and child in this country. John now has no real rival, and has the advantage of being divinely appointed.

***

There are people who just naturally like the excitement of war and yet are never lost for an excuse when it comes to a personal sacrifice; and there are people who profess union principles but show the white feather the moment those principles are put to the test.

***

The laborer produces the grist, carries it to the mill and totes it back for the privilege of a job and enough of the earth's substance to supply the vital forces which will enable him to produce more grists. If he has the audacity to ask more he is an anarchist.

***

There can be no danger that organized labor will go wrong since the politicians and newspapers representing sordid interests are so liberal with advice. We often wonder how the labor world would manage to get along if it were not for these booths of information, which vary in zeal and volunteer service only as their interests are affected by pro-election sentiment.

***

The recent shuffle which consigned Daniel W. Beach to the plate room with advance pay gave to W. L. Gutelius the position of timekeeper on Specifications with the pay of imposer. Mr. Beach goes back to the place from which he was displaced under Benedict and Mr. Gutelius by the change sacrifices an end frame. The concensus of opinion is that, considering all the circumstances, he got no more than he deserved.

***

The many friends of Mr. Walker Miller, of the State Branch, will be pained to learn of his recent bereavement in the loss of a daughter, at the interesting age of seven years. This is not the first visitation by death in Mr. Miller's immediate household, but follows closely upon another when a child of promise and tender years was taken. Sympathy will also go out to the wife and mother, who by reason of these hours of sorrow has been seriously broken in health.

***

In common with others, I was sorry when it became necessary for Mr. Hubbard to leave Washington for Colorado on account of impaired health; but it seems that opportunities have opened to him in the new field, and copies of the Labor News, of which he is publisher, bear evidence of continued zeal in the cause he has most at heart. With others, I share the hope that his health may be fully restored and that as an advocate he may yet experience the fulfillment of his highest hopes.

***

The last number of the Labor News contained, among other interesting features, the portraits of the Trustees and Superintendent of the Union Printers' Home at Colorado Springs, Colo. In this picture the Superintendent bears a striking resemblance to Senator Hanna, while E. W. Patton, of THE TRADES UNIONIST, who is standing near, may be said to represent the party standing "Pat," or against a change of methods in the present management of the Home.

CYCLE.

HALLS for rent at Building Trades Halls, 610 G street northwest and 624 Sixth street northwest. For terms apply at Room 2, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

The Gentle Filipino.

The following letter or petition was recently received by Public Printer Leech a few days before Labor Day and is explanatory in itself. It goes to show that the Filipino is becoming rapidly Americanized, more especially when they desire to be excused on account of Labor Day:

DEAR SIR: We respectfully write a letter to send to your office and we agree to request that we are the men who are working in the pressroom we should like to be excuse one day that we will not come to work for there will be a grand fiest of the Union Obrera on the 1st of next month and only that day which the Filipinos must be Contented as necessary as you also are on the First Monday of September.

THE FEEDERS.

In purchasing goods from advertisers in this paper, do not fail to mention the fact that you saw the advertisement in THE TRADES UNIONIST. It will accord you good treatment at the hand of the salesman, and incidentally help the paper.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

The "Man's Store."

The "College Sack," another good thing—made especially for this Birthday Sale—a smart three-button double breasted sack suit, with long gorge collar and new lapels. Black rough finished cheviot is the material—one of the best wearing fabrics in existence. A "Man's Store Make" Suit—and we're proud of it.

Special Price, $10.90

D. J. KAUFMAN, 1005-7 Pa. Ave.

Woodward & Lothrop,
DEPARTMENT STORE.
TENTH, ELEVENTH, AND F STS. N. W.

WHERE THE HALF-TONES ARE MADE
THE NATIONAL ENGRAVING COMPANY.
INCORPORATED.
14th St. and Pa. Ave. Phone 1679 Main.

Hewke, PHOTOGRAPHER
56 of the ex-delegates and committees patronized me for good work.
Studio,
430 7th St., N. W. Washington, D. C.

J. E. BONINI'S
BUFFET AND CAFÉ,
727-729 N. Capitol Street.
MAERZEN BEER ON TAP.
A first-class Lunch Counter. Sea food in season. Union throughout.

Phone East 644-A
DR. CARLETON VAUGHAN
Dentist
The Colcord, 310 East Capitol Street
Office Hours: 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.
Evenings: By Appointment

D. STRAUSS,
Clothier, Hatter and Furnisher
441 Seventh Street N. W.,
Washington, D. C.

If you want to Save Your Money with 5 per cent interest; or want to Buy A Home on monthly payments
Deal with
AMERICAN B. AND L. ASS'N
S. C. HOLMES, Prest.
H. V. Easterling, V-Prest.
F. H. Riordan, Treas. Andrew Wilson, Atty.
W. J. Frizzell, Secy.
Phone 2026 907 G STREET Open 9 to 5

THE RIGGS NATIONAL BANK
Of Washington, D. C.
Capital - - - $1,000,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits, 1,000,000
Exchange on England, Ireland, France and Germany. Letters of credit available in all foreign parts. Bank Collections. Orders for investments. Stocks and Bonds.

A. & P. BEST ELGIN BUTTER, 27 CENTS.
Finest Grades of Teas and Coffees.
Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company,
Cor. 7th and E.

SEABOARD
AIR LINE RAILWAY.
Offers the best service between Florida, the Southeast, or Southwest and Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and the East. Two daily through trains, with cafe dining cars and through Pullman sleepers.
Great inducements are offered to fruit growers and truckers in the Manatee country below the frost line in Florida. Send for a handsomely illustrated brochure.
EDWARD F. COST, Traffic Mgr.
CHAS. B. RYAN, Gen. Pass. Agt.
Portsmouth, Va.
W. E. CONKLYN, Gen. Agt. Pass. Dept.
1421 Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C.

THOMAS WALSH
Formerly "Steve" Caldwell's.
Whiskies and Cigars
Specialties: MELVALE AND SHERWOOD
COOL LAGER BEER ON DRAUGHT.
BILLIARDS AND POOL
Billiards, 40c. per hour. Pool, 2½c. per cue.
THOMAS WALSH
407 Tenth St. Northwest

E. F. PRICE & CO.
Strongest flat opening blank book made.
Ruling and Binding of every description.
A Specialty of FINE BANK WORK.
BOOKBINDERS 1108 E St. N. W.

G. P. O. BICYCLE REPAIR CO.
ARTHUR D. BENNETT
MANAGER
Wheels stored, cleaned, and repaired (per month)..... $1.00
Wheels stored and cleaned (per month)..... .75
Wheels stored (per month)..... .50
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty
Bicycle Sundries
Salesroom, 33 H St. N. W.

300 1-lb. Loaves to the Barrel.
Every Laboring Man
—requires pure, wholesome, nourishing food such as is made of—
Cream Blend Flour
It not only makes THE BEST Bread, Rolls, Cake and Pastry, but more of them than other brands—therefore it's the cheapest that money can buy.
Your Grocer will supply you.
B. B. EARNSHAW & BRO., Wholesalers,
1105, 1107, 1109 11th Street S. E.
1000 and 1002 M Street S. E.

Cole & Swan
Large assortment of Watches, Diamonds, and Jewelry (we make and repair anything in this line).
"Square Dealing" our motto.
21 H Street N. W.

T. HOLLANDER
Men's Furnishings
Hats and Shoes
COR. N. CAPITOL AND H STS.
Opposite Government Printing Office

DO YOU USE TOILET PAPER?
If so, investigate the service furnished by
R. P. Andrews & Co.,
INCORPORATED
627-629 LOUISIANA AVE. N. W.
THE WHOLESALE PAPER HOUSE
IT WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

HOTEL FRITZ REUTER
Rathskeller and Restaurant.
COR. PA. AVE. AND JOHN MARSHALL PLACE
Phone: East 388.

Telephone 3662-Y
AMREIN'S FAMOUS ICE CREAM
HAS NO EQUAL
One Dollar per Gallon
Stores, 1426 and 1810 7th St. N. W.

GEO. W. BARRY COAL CO.
Coal in any quantity at the right price and Wood also.
14-16 H N. E. One minute from G. P. O. Telephone East 234.

B. F. WARNER
FINE WINES and LIQUORS
BLUE LABEL CIGARS
1219 E Street Northwest

FOR LUNCH
TRY THE
Pure Dairy Lunch
935 D Street Northwest

American Ice Co.
1437 Penna. Ave. N. W.

THE UNION SAVINGS BANK
BOND BUILDING
Cor. 14th St. and New York Ave. N.W.

Three Per Cent Interest on Savings Accounts.

Branch Deposit Agency at T. A. ROVER'S STORE,
Cor. North Capitol and H Sts.
OPEN EVERY MONDAY AND TUESDAY FROM 4 TO 5 P. M.

When in doubt buy at
HOUSE & HERRMANN,
FURNITURE, CARPETS, DRAPERIES, ETC.
N. E. Corner Seventh and I Streets N. W.

Don't Buy a Hat Without the Label. .
And See that It Is Sewed In.

Don't Patronize a Dealer Who Has Loose Labels on Hand and Offers to Put One in Your Hat.
LOOSE LABELS
In Retail Stores
ARE COUNTERFEITS.
The John B. Stetson Co., of Philadelphia, Pa., is a non-union concern.

J. GEORGE SMITH
(Formerly a member of the firm of R. P. Andrews & Co.)
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
PAPER AND STATIONERY
My old friends and patrons from J. C. Addison's time to the present will be welcome. I can supply all your needs at lowest prices consistent with quality.
626 E STREET NORTHWEST

The Hub Furniture Co.,
The Stores that Save You Money.
OUR MOTTO—The Best Values in Furniture and Carpets at the Lowest Prices.
Cash or Credit.
HUB FURNITURE CO.,
(Formerly Wash B. Williams)
Corner Seventh and D Streets N. W.

Carriages Furnished for All Occasions — Phone East 327-M
JOHN ELBERT
Undertaker and Embalmer
54 H STREET N. W.

EDWIN F. PRICE
(Late member of the firm of E. F. Price & Co.)
Bookbinder
Ruling and Binding of every description. Strongest Flat-Opening Blank Book Made. A Specialty of Fine Bank Work.
Darby Bldg., 506-508 Fourteenth St. N. W.

St. Asaph Commission Rooms,
Old Established and Reliable.
Trains leave Thirteen and one-half street and Pennsylvania avenue—Alexandria, Mt. Vernon, and Washington Railway—daily at 12.45, 1.05, 1.25, 2, 2.30, 3.02, and 3.30. Return .39, 4.24, 5.02, 5.58, and at various intervals.

CELTIC CLUB WHISKY
Our Specialty. Never Changes. Once Tried You'll Always Use It. Take No Substitute.
Ports and Sherries for family use, Quarts, 50 and 75 cents. All makes of Beer. Leading brands of Cigars. Ales and Porters on draught the year round.
JOHN CONNOR
New Jersey Ave. and G Sts. N. W.

J. WILLIAM LEE,
Undertaker and Livery, . . .
322 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

RETAIL DRUG CLERKS, No. 240, AND THEIR FRIENDS DO NOT PATRONIZE
JOHN W. JENNINGS
DRUGGIST
1142 Connecticut Avenue
Now on Unfair List of Central Labor Union

COLUMBIA UNION MEETING

An Effort to Place Union on Record in Miller Case Defeated.

BALTIMORE UNION COMMENDED

Report of Grievance Committee—Delegates to the International Typographical Union Convention Report—Resolution Passed Thanking Ex-Delegates' Association.

The regular weekly meeting of Columbia Typographical Union was called to order promptly on Sunday September 20, at 2:20 p. m., President Johnson in the chair, and Secretary Garrett at the table.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

Bills amounting to $177.55 were read and approved.

Communications were read from the Textile Workers of Philadelphia, and the Woman's Auxiliary of this city, thanking the Union for favors extended.

The Central Labor Union submitted a list of business houses placed on unfair list by that body.

REPORT OF GRIEVANCE COMMITTEE.

The Grievance Committee reported concurrence in placing of E. H. Catlin & Co., and Thos. Somerville & Sons on unfair list by Central Labor Union, which was adopted.

They also reported that F. H. Weelock, electrician, having signed a contract with Central Labor Union, was taken from the unfair list. Approved.

On the question of placing the seven tailor firms now on the Central Labor Union unfair list on the unfair list, the union finally passed a resolution placing a fine of $5 on any member buying clothes where the label could not be obtained.

Reference being made to matter of Hecht & Co., being unfair, the officers of the union were directed that should a further conference with that firm fail to bring results, that the Columbia Union will publish Hecht & Co. as unfair.

The secretary was directed to prepare a circular giving a list of all firms on the unfair list of the union.

On application for admission to the Union Printers Home, George D. Colquitt was approved by the union.

The committee on down town scale were directed to arrange for a meeting with the Typothetæ, and report at next meeting of the union.

The delegates to the recent convention of the I. T. U. made a brief report covering the work of the convention, which was received, and a rising vote of thanks giving the delegates for the efficient manner in which they had represented the union.

The officers of the union were directed to secure a sufficient number of ballots and select a date for voting on questions submitted by the recent I. T. U. convention.

Mr. Goodkey asked that action on resolution of Garfield Memorial Hospital be deferred until next meeting.

Mr. Vaughan offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of Columbia Typographical Union, No. 101, be, and they are hereby, tendered to the Ex-Delegates' Association of Columbia Union for their generosity in assuming the responsibility and expense of entertaining, for one day, the delegates and visitors to the forty-ninth session of the International Typographical Union, thus relieving the Union of a very large percentage of the cost of entertaining the convention.

Resolved further, That the congratulations of Columbia Union be also extended to the Ex-Delegates' Association upon the splendid success achieved by them in their effort to make Ex-Delegates' Day one of the most entertaining and memorable features of the late convention.

Resolved further, That these resolutions be published in THE TRADES UNIONIST, and a copy be sent to the officers of the Ex-Delegates' Association.

Mr. Kreiter introduced a resolution passed by the Central Labor Union on the question at issue in the Government Printing Office regarding the reinstatement of W. A. Miller, which, on motion of Mr. Kidd, was indefinitely postponed.

The secretary stated that he had received several requests of former members to be placed upon a roll as an identification of their former membership in the union. The officers of the union were directed to submit a plan in reference to the matter.

Baltimore Union, No. 12, was accorded a vote of thanks for the able manner in which they entertained the guests of the union during convention week, after which the union adjourned.

The Claims of Socialism Analyzed.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

Friend Bloomer is still adroitly tentative in his opinions and refuses to be drawn out. In this he exhibits sagacity. Nevertheless, he loves a dialectic "scrap" and urges that valiant apostle of Socialism, Mr. Swerdfiger, to "take a fall" out of me. That Mr. Swerdfiger feels himself equal to the task is manifest in the supercilious swagger with which he enters the arena. Everybody is informed that I am a presumptuous "tyro" who knows nothing of the subject I write upon, and that I have made so many "misstatements" it would take "too much space" for him to specify any. Of course, these assertions being made with so much positiveness they must be accepted by the public on faith; for he speaks as one having authority and not like a common scribe.

Alas, that it should be so often true that proud man is "most ignorant of what he is most assured!" The man of information, who can perceive the soul of truth in things erroneous, is exceedingly guarded in his utterances, for he knows that often the breadth of a hair separates truth from error. That Mr. Swerdfiger is not a man of information is disclosed by his reckless statements. I do not mean to say that he is ignorant; for he is not. He is in a worse condition than mere ignorance. I would prefer to begin teaching the principles of economics to a Hottentot rather than a man with his head full of visionary schemes of reform and false postulates that he thinks have all the force of self-evident truths.

Scarcely one of his numerous allegations concerning labor is true. Labor does not produce all wealth, if by labor Mr. Swerdfiger means manual labor. Labor is not the prime cause of the value of any product. Society is not stratified into two classes, laborers and capitalists. The average citizen is both a laborer and a capitalist. The newsboy on the street, with his little bundle of papers, is a capitalist in embryo, and between him and a Carnegie there are all gradations. Most of our wealthy capitalists started from the small means their first labor procured. If capital in itself is accretive it is because there is a demand for it and it is relatively scarce. The more abundant it becomes the cheaper it grows. The value of labor, like that of capital, is controlled by the law of supply and demand. Mr. Swerdfiger, nor any other Socialist, can suggest how this law may be abrogated. If laborers don't own trains, machinery, grain, houses, etc., it is because they sold the labor put in these products to others and consumed the proceeds. It may seem a pity to Mr. Swedfiger that a man can not eat his cake and have it too; but such is cruel Nature. Perhaps if they had been more intelligent they could have secured a larger share of the joint product. This failure is the spur that drives them into combination and stimulates intelligence.

We are informed that "labor builds school-houses, but is ignorant; elects representatives, but has no representation; has the ballot, but don't know how to use it; garners grain and eats chaff," etc., and yet are afterwards assured that this same ignorant, stupid, and unrepresented labor "has the brains, ability, and power to change all this, but is afraid to." There may be a rational coherence in these mutually destructive statements, but I must leave Mr. Swerdfiger to work it out.

The education of laborers may be imperfect and their representation inadequate through lack of agreement; yet they are not without representation, as the work and complexion of every Congress will testify. And if they consume "chaff" it is that blown about by the windy vaporings of Socialists; for it is a matter of statistics that they are better housed and fed than at any previous time in the world's history. But as to radically changing the existing order, they have neither the brains, ability, nor moral cohesion to do it.

That a change for the better is continually going on is undoubted. Neither laborer nor capitalist is directing this change. It comes from the the clash and fusion of forces in the great cosmic process of evolution. All nature is reaching toward harmony, which, though never absolutely attainable, is constantly approximated. I share with the Socialist the faith that much of the wretchedness extant will some day disappear; but the forces that will effect this change are altogether too pokey and slow for the Socialist. He wants to fly before he can walk, and thinks he has discovered the subtle alchemy by which the nature of brutes may be transmitted into heaven-born altruism in a few short decades.

The ignorance of Eccles as to what Socialism teaches is perhaps pardonable when we come to consider that Socialists themselves are not able to agree on this head. Read the wrangle in their late convention at Berlin and the bitter accusations and recriminations hurled at each other's honesty. I have only aimed to point out the "distinctive feature" of Socialism, and Mr. Swerdfiger confesses that I "came near expressing it." If he thinks he can come any nearer let him try. We are compelled to accept this as a definition or render the word useless for descriptive purposes by making all men Socialists. Some Socialists expect to reach their ideal by sudden revolution; others, by rapid evolution, but all expect to get there in time, and the man who does not harbor this ideal is not a Socialist.

In the limited space left us turn to consider its theory of labor-value, expounded by Marx, Hyndman, Bebel, et al. If we look at the world as it is we find thousands of things that have an increasing value, and yet no extra labor has been added thereto. For a single example take old wine. If labor creates all value, where does the extra value come from? Thousands of things have accumulated labor put upon them and yet their value falls. How account for the phenomenon of decreased value with increased labor? If labor is the cause of value, what is the cause of the value of labor? Now, Mr. Bloomer has committed himself to this labor theory and thinks the product is valuable because there is labor in it. He tells us it is the only "honest, true standard of wages." If such is the case our present system is robbery, and the revolutionist is justified in telling the laborer he "has nothing to lose but his chains." Let us take up his illustration. Does the journeymen shoemaker take 50 cents worth of material and add $2.50 to it by his labor? What is to compensate the man who does the advertising, organizes the business, invests his capital, and pays taxes to keep the machinery of Government running? The policeman, the judge, the legislator, and the various administrative officers, together with the printer and hundreds of others all have a share in the making of that shoe, and somebody pays them. Who does it? Do you not see that even under Socialism the price of such essential services would have to be deducted from what the journeyman would get? And these taxes are now paid whether the manufacturer sells a shoe or not. He assumes all risk. The value of that shoe varies with the sagacity of the manufacturer in advertising and encouraging demand. With the argus eyes of personal interest he watches the currents of natural law and tries to outstrip competitors in meeting public wants. Where the investment is largest and the management shrewdest there the laborer usually finds his highest recompense. He is a laborer because he makes more than if he attempted to manufacture and sell his own shoes, getting all the profit. I anticipate the criticism that all this competition will be unnecessary under Socialism. We shall see.

The subject is too complex to condense in a single article. The misfortune with the Socialist is his superficial vision sees simplicity where the complexity of the problem is so great that it baffles the wisest.

I must conclude by saying it borders on the ridiculous to hear a man quoting the party shibboleths born of Lincoln and Jefferson as the distinctive demands of Socialism.

DAVID ECCLES.

JUST EVERY-DAY LIFE.

Sunday morning we of the night force bade bye-bye to the old First, that habitat of the "trusty," and the feeling incident thereto was akin to that experienced when walking through a graveyard. A drooping of the eyelid, and the deserted alleys of the old structure was peopled anew with a pulsing humanity.

Capable of wielding a power for good is the organization born on Sunday evening last, when, without a dissenting voice, it was decided by the ex-delegates to make their temporary organization a permanent one. The social feature will be made dominant, as often as once a year the membership and invited guests assembling at a repast where acquaintances and good fellowship will be pledged anew. These guests, I take it, will be members of the body legislatif on the Hill and those of the craft who have drifted into other pursuits. I trust a funeral benefit of, say, $100 will be among the features of the revised by-laws.

H. S. SUTTON.

Representative Business Houses.
OF WASHINGTON, D. C.
The following wholesale and retail firms and professional men are friendly to Union Labor and are entitled to its patronage:

BANKS.
THE LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK, Safe Deposit Vaults, $2.50 up
CAPITAL LOAN GUARANTEE COMPANY, 602 F Street Northwest. Every one can borrow money without security.

BAKERS.
HOLMES & SON, Celebrated Home-Made Pies and Milk Bread. First and E Streets N. W. Phone East 864.

BOOTS AND SHOES.
CROCKER'S SHOES, 939 Pennsylvania Ave. N. W.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.
DANIEL LOUGHRAN, 1347 Pennsylvania Ave.
LUCHS & BRO., Wholesalers. Phone E 755.

COACH FINDINGS.
J. B. KENDALL, 485-87 Missouri avenue N. W.

CUTLERY AND SPORTING GOODS.
D. N. WALFORD, 477 and 909 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

DRY GOODS.
LANSBURGH & BROTHER, 420 to 426 7th St. N. W

DYER.
E. E. WHEATLEY, 1068 Jefferson Ave. N. W. Phone, West 117-Y.

ENGRAVERS.
THE MAURICE JOYCE ENGRAVING CO. Cuts and Illustrations. 418 11th street N. W

FIRE INSURANCE.
Insure with THE RIGGS FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.
FIREMEN'S INSURANCE COMPANY, Seventh St. and Louisiana Ave.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.
JULIUS LANSBURGH, Interocean Building, 512 Ninth St. N. W.

GROCERIES.
LITTLE & PAGE, "Good things to eat." 1210 F St. N.W
W. C. ERGOOD, "Good goods at Ergoods." Corner Ninth and H Streets Northwest.

GROCER AND COFFEE ROASTER.
SOMERSET R. WATERS. 1342 Seventh Street Northwest, Corner O.

HARDWARE AND TOOLS.
RUDOLPH, WEST & CO., 1332 New York avenue northwest.

HUDSON'S VARIETY STORE.
B. F. HUDSON, 416 Seventh Street Northwest.

HATTERS AND FURRIERS.
JAMES Y. DAVIS' SONS. 1201 Pennsylvania Ave.
A. H. BURDINE, Union Overalls, Hats, and Gloves. Seventh Street and Virginia avenue southwest.

LIME, SAND, GRAVEL, CEMENT.
NATIONAL MORTAR COMPANY. Office: Room 9, Ralston Bldg., 612 F St. N. W. Office telephone: East 688.

LUMBER AND MILL WORK.
THOMAS R. RILEY. 13th St. and Ohio Ave.

MACHINISTS AND ENGINEERS,
FORSBERG & MURRAY. Pumps and Elevators. Engines and Boilers 8th and Water Sts. S. W.

PHARMACISTS.
LOUIS F. BRADLEY, Prescription Druggist. 8th and E Sts. S. E

PHOTO-LITHOGRAPHERS.
THE NORRIS PETERS CO., 458 and 460 Pennsylvania avenue N. W
ANDREW B. GRAHAM Lithographer, Photo-Lithographer, and Half-Tones. 1230 Pa. Ave. Phones: 1031-M, 1679-M.

PIANO AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
E. E. DROOP & SONS, 925 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

PRINTING SUPPLIES.
NATIONAL PRINTER'S SUPPLY CO., Machine-made Rollers. 414 10th St. N. W.

RESTAURANT AND WINE ROOM.
JOHN M. BECKER, Opp. Navy Yard., Cor. 8th and Georgia Ave. S.E

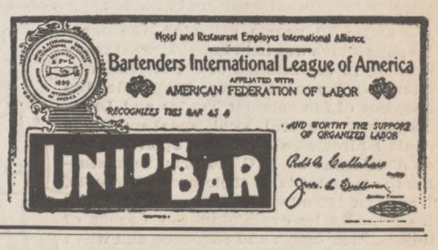
SHOES.
DAVE WOLF, SHOES FOR EVERYBODY. 432 Seventh Street N. W.

SHAVING PARLORS
VINCENT R. CILENTO, 805 North Capitol Street.

TITLES TO REAL ESTATE.
LAWYERS' TITLE & GUARANTY INS. CO. 412 5th St. N. W.

UNION HEADQUARTERS.
ARION HALL, 430 Eighth Street N. W. Headquarters for organizations. Strictly union. JIM STEVENS, Proprietor.

WINES AND LIQUORS.
SAMUEL G. STEWART, Heurich Brewing Co's. beers and popular brands of whiskies. 1141 Seventh st. northwest between L and M.
WILLIAM DIETZ, 1203 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest
GEORGE W. DRIVER. 605 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.



DO NOT WANT OUR PATRONAGE.

Following brands of cigars: Cinco, Cremo, George W. Childs, Henry George, Tom Moore, Robert Burns, and General Arthur.

The following firms have declared against the interest of Organized Labor and are not regarded as deserving their patronage:

NAME.	BUSINESS.	LOCATION.
Chevy Chase Railway and circle.	Street railway	Chevy Chase and Circle.
Keenan Bros	Gents' furnishers	Pa. ave. bet. 14th and 15th sts., and 523 Seventh st. n. w.
B. Solomon	Gents' furnisher	708 Seventh street n.w.
Rufus H. Darby	Printer	508 Fourteenth street n.w.
H. L. McQueen	Printer	1108 E street n.w.
N. Sickles (Nat'l Cigar Factory).	Cigar manufacturer	1011 Penna. avenue n.w.
E. Gundershiemer	Baker	516 Second street n.w. and stall in Center Market.
Peter Grogan	Carpet dealer	817 to 823 Seventh street n.w.
John H. Fitzgerald	Horseshoer	443 Prather's alley n.w.
S. S Daish	Coal and wood	Florida ave. and Third st. n.e.
Wilbur F. Nash	Meat dealer	Center and O st. Markets.
C. E. Hencke	Electrician	711 G street n.w.
National Mosaic Company	Mosaics	207 Fourth st. n.w.
M. Minster	Gents' furnisher	1343 F st. n.w.
A. Minster	Gents' furnisher	499 and 501 Penna. ave. n. w
Cyrus B. Reese	Employing steamfitter	1519 Fourteenth street n. w.
C. A. Schneider & Sons	Union Iron Works	212 Twelfth street n. w.
Minster & Paterson	Gents' furnishers	1109 Pennsylvania ave. n. w.
Conrad Becker	Trunks and harness	1328 F st. n. w.
Chapin & Sacks	Dealer in butter	924 Louisana ave. n. w.
Home Ice Company	Ice	Twelfth and V sts. n.w.
Emil Wagner	Restaurant	210 Ninth st. n. w.
W. E. Carney	Cigar manufacturer	921 G st. s. w.
Nat'l Roller & Ball Bearing Co.	Machinery	33rd and K sts. n. w.
L. Rosenberg	Clothing and shoes	911-913 Eighth st. s. e.
Corbin Thompson	Dairyman	Sharon Dairy, 324 B st. s. w.
S. D. Houck	Dealer in harness	301 Tenth street n. w.
M. Eisemann & Bro	Dry goods	1924-26 Pa. ava. and 806 7th n.w
Elite Steam Laundry	Laundry	1205 G street n.w.
Benjamin Schwartz	Gents' furnisher and tailor	337 Pa. ave. s. e.
Emrich Beef Co	Meat Dealers
John Coleman	Horseshoer	1300 36th street n. w.
Hecht & Co	Dry Goods, etc	517-519 Seventh street n. w
Charles Rauscher	Caterer	Conn. ave. and L st. n. w
Academy of Music	Theater	Ninth and D streets n. w.
Lafayette Square Theater	Theater	16th st. and Pa. ave. n. w.
E. H. Snyder & Co	Tailors	1111 Pa. ave n. w
Owen Owen	Tailor	423 Eleventh street n. w.
L. A. Downey	Tailor	433 Eleventh street n. w.
J. M. Stein & Co	Tailors	413 Eleventh street n. w.
J. D. Burns & Co	Tailors	701 Ninth street n. w.
J. F. Gatchel	Tailor	604 Thirteenth street n. w.
G. Warfield Simpson	Tailor	1208 F street n. w.
E. H. Catlin & Co	Machinists	407 13½ street n. w.
Thomas Somerville & Sons	Steam Fitters' Supplies	316 Thirteenth street n. w.
Joseph Mathy	Stove dealer and tin worker	1918 Pennsyvania avenue.
William Meehan	Saloon	943 B street n. w.
Robert Lowe	Stone yard and mill	113 Third street s. w.
H. Vonderheide	Saloonist	205½ Seventh street n. w.
John W. Jennings	Druggist	1142 Connecticut avenue n. w.
E. Tapscott	Contractor

Does your bartender wear one of these Blue Buttons?
If not, WHY NOT?
THIS CARD INDICATES A

Oysters in every style at R. A. Driscoll's, North Capitol and G streets. Overholt whisky, 10c.

Oysters in every style at R. A. Driscoll's, North Capitol and G streets. Overholt whisky, 10c.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICIAL ORGAN CENTRAL LABOR UNION, WASHINGTON BRANCH, AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Vol. VIII. No. 17. WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1903. Price, 3 Cents.

THE CENTRAL LABOR UNION

Again Reaffirms Its Position on the Question of the "Open Shop."

LABOR DAY PRIZES ANNOUNCED

H. Vonderheide Taken from Unfair List. Jurisdiction of Steam Fitters—Election of American Federation of Labor Delegate to Be Held on October 19.

The regular weekly meeting of the Central Labor Union was called to order by Vice President Lynch at the usual hour on Monday evening, Delegate Dietrich acting as secretary.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

On request from the Grievance Committee, the contract recently signed by F. H. Wheelock was referred to the Electrical Workers' Union.

The contract of Thos. F. Walsh was accepted.

CREDENTIALS.

From Bartenders' League, No. 75, certifying T. T. Brown, J. H. Riley, J. Oppenheimer, H. M. Sparrough, and F. F. McCarthy.

From Musicians, No. 161, certifying William S. Crown, L. R Boyd, E. C. Linden, jr., J. I. McWilliamson, and Joseph B. Caldwell.

From Press Feeders, No. 42, certifying Mrs. Alice M. Zook, Mrs. Annie M. Mills, Miss Margaret Carr, William Devine, and Daniel I. Leane.

From Bookbinders' Union, No. 4, certifying Jas. Fogerty, vice E. S. Fry.

From Marble Workers' Helpers, No. 33, certifying to A. B. Cole.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Chicago Federation of Labor, inclosing copy of open letter to the President on question of "open shop" in Government Printing Office.

From Carpet Workers' Union, No. 85, stating that a fine of $5 will be placed on any of their members patronizing the Academy of Music.

From Carpenters' District Council, calling attention to the fact that the Government is not paying union scale on work around the Treasury building. Referred to special committee.

From Amalgamated Rubber Workers' Union, calling attention of unfair attitude of the Monarch Rubber Boot and Shoe Company, of St. Louis, in locking out all union men in their employ, and asking that the sale of their goods be discouraged in this city. Referred to Allied Label League.

From Cedar Rapids Federation of Labor, inclosing copy of resolution adopted by that body in reference to "open shop" in Government Printing Office. Referred to the Bookbinders' Union.

From Convention Committee of Columbia Typographical Union, thanking the Central Labor Union for courtesies extended the visitors at the recent I. T. U. convention in this city. Placed on file.

From Upholsterers' Union, No. 58, stating that its members were cautioned not to patronize the Academy of Music while on the unfair list.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

The Labor Day Committee reported that the following prizes were drawn by the tickets numbered as follows: Music box, 2788; parlor rocker, 1074; belt, 3644; fishing rod, 4038; parlor rocker, 1995; belt, 4387; antique vase, 308; silk umbrella, 4415; belt, 4594; plush rocker, 4156; encyclopedia, 4547; piano stool, 2804; season ticket to Kernan's Theater, 2265; ladies' belt, 2985; parlor rocker, 2715.

Grievance Committee asked that H. Vonderheide, saloonist, 205½ Seventh street northwest, be taken from unfair list. Granted.

From James O'Connell, President of International Association of Machinists, inclosing copy of a circular issued by the National Metal Trades' Association, relating to the position of President Roosevelt on the "open shop" question. The circular is based on the following communication:

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., September 21, 1903.

MR. E. F. DE BRUL, Commissioner National Metal Trades' Association, Cincinnati, Ohio:

DEAR SIR: The unexampled gall that organized labor is again displaying through the action of the Central Labor body at Washington in denouncing the President for his course in the Miller case, and calling on organized labor the country over to bombard the President with petitions, it seems to me, calls for some action on the part of employers to counteract this move, for there can be no doubt that it is possible for organized labor, through the course it proposes to take, to wield some influence favorable to its demands, if unchallenged by the respectable elements that want fair play.

Does it not strike you that this Miller incident presents an opportunity for employer and non-unionist to go on record and deluge the President with letters indorsing his course. The National Metal Trades' Association ought to become active in this, as should every other similar body. A letter of commendation will go to the President signed by 100 of our non-union men, and I don't doubt that non-union men in every one of our members' shops will take similar action if the matter is brought to their attention. There is no question in my mind that the President's course is largely responsible for the reaction that has set in against the abuses of organized labor, and he ought to be encouraged, and the fact emphasized that the country is with him in this question.

Yours truly,

INDIANAPOLIS DROP FORGE CO.,

(Signed) Fred Barmickel,

Vice-President and General Manager.

The Council thereupon appointed a committee to draft a report on the matter, and the committee reported the following, which was adopted:

The Central Labor Union, of Washington, D. C., pledges fealty to organized labor above that of political party, and will maintain and defend the principles of trade unionism wherever and by whomsoever attacked, regardless of the interests of any faction or the political advancement of any individual. This body, therefore, heartily indorses the sentiment expressed in the recent address of a subcommittee of the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor, opposing the anti-trade-union policy of the "open shop."

The special committee on jurisdiction of steam fitters, having reported with a recommendation to await action of the A. F. of L. at next convention, on motion, the matter was referred back to the committee.

The Auditing Committee made its report for the quarter ending September 30, 1903, showing that receipts had been $247 and expenditures $186 50, leaving a balance of $118 70.

Delegate McCarthy moved that all vouchers, books, etc., of Labor Day Committee be turned over to the Auditing Committee. Carried.

CALL OF UNIONS.

Delegate McCarthy, from Bartenders' League, expressed the thanks of his organization for the support given the League in building up a strong organization in this city.

At this point J. F. Hickey, organizer for Hotel and Restaurant Employes' International League, was granted the privilege of the floor, and addressed the Council on the subject of organization in this city among the waiters.

Second Vice-President Squires, of the Retail Clerks' International Protective Association, addressed the Council on the renewed effort needed in behalf of union clerks.

Grocery Clerks called attention to Emrich Beef Company being still on unfair list, and asked delegates to have unions place a fine on members patronizing their stores.

NEW BUSINESS.

A motion being made that a special order be declared for nomination and election of a delegate to the A. F. of L. after reading of minutes at next meeting, an amendment prevailed making the time for such nomination and election at meeting of October 19.

Adjourned.

Oysters in every style at R. A. Driscoll's, North Capitol and G streets. Overholt whisky, 10c.

Returned From Convention.

Chas. W. Winslow, secretary of the Central Labor Union, has returned from the convention of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, at Kansas City, where he was representing Local No. 5. Mr. Winslow reports strenuous time during the two weeks session of the convention, and is proud of the fact that he was able to secure the affiliation of the International with the American Federation of Labor. He was chosen delegate to the A. F. of L. convention.

Mr. Winslow reports that while the convention divided on the question of admitting Local No. 2, of New York City, of which union Sam Parks is a member, and which had been suspended by President Buchanan, that press reports of the proceedings were inaccurate, the feeling of the delegates being one of determination to see the question settled harmoniously, which was finally accomplished.

AFTER-DINNER DILATIONS.

Parks and Parry are as near alike as any two P's.

***

The labor union is not on a visit, but has come to stay.

***

Labor should reserve the right to plan its own battles.

***

The positive man brings down the persimmons and the conservative man appropriates them.

***

Human nature is the same the world over, but there are spots where it yet needs humanizing.

***

There is a middle ground, where justice stands and the scales show a perfectly-even balance.

***

The ultra partisan labors under a great disadvantage when he attempts to make a plausible labor argument.

***

When capital strikes and demands greater profits it is called a "stroke," or something that belongs to good business methods.

***

The lower House of Congress is called the "popular" branch, and the people are thinking seriously of changing the other branch to correspond.

***

It is no longer of prime importance that a rich man should date his beginning as a ragged barefoot; indeed that form is now regarded as bordering on the vulgar.

***

The real contention is not whether labor should receive its just share of what it produces; but there is a slight difference of opinion as to what that share is.

***

The righteous cause gathers strength and favor by contact with opposing forces, as the bar of steel is given symmetry and worth by exposure to intense heat and under the eye of the skillful workman.

***

The first step is an interesting period of child life and is the beginning of self reliance. The first step of maturer years is too often marked by less caution, when follow failures, regrets, and never-ending sorrows.

***

The risks of capital are reckoned as more sacred than the risks of life and limb to those who delve and dig or ascend to dizzy heights and by skill and endurance overcome obstacles which yield large returns for the capitalistic masters.

***

When labor is so organized and unified that a real injustice will be met with that military precision which follows the command of "halt," and not a pick or click or sound is heard till the wrong is righted, then will there be a realization of the power and dignity of labor, and all so peaceful and unlike the plan which first enjoins and finally shoots men to death.

CYCLE.

Oysters in every style at R. A. Driscoll's, North Capitol and G streets. Overholt whisky, 10c.

Bindery Notes.

Harry Ashion visited the White House with a friend last week and is greatly elated over the fact he was allowed to sit in the President's chair.

James Kearney, bookbinder and live stock raiser, of Laurel, Md., instructed his colored laborer to take his shoes and have them soled, the laborer took them home and done the job himself and charged Jimmy one dollar. There is trouble ahead, for the spikes in the shoes hurt Jimmy's feet.

Bill Haslett and a friend went a-fishing in the C. & O. canal. Nothing doing, so Bill and his friend sold their bait for a peice of pie and a cold bottle. On his return home he dined on Seventh street, and was relieved of his lid while eating, and was seen walking home with his marble top exposed.

The "Grand Old Man" of the Union Building, Jackey Hodges, although past his "three score years and ten," has again fallen into the hands of Cupid. His latest inamorata is the famous Minnie Ha-ha; every time Minnie's name is mentioned, "Jackey" blushes clean to the roots of his hair. Ha ha! ha ha!!

Diamond Jack (John Fox), of the Union Building, takes great delight in flourishing a $375 diamond before the eyes of his fellow workmen, much to the disgust of "Diamond Bill" Barth, who, up to the time of the advent of "Diamond Jack," held the title of "The Diamond King" of the Union Building.

Dr. Dan Bush, of Miller's division, in the Government Binderv, paid what appeared to be a friendly visit to the Union Building on Thursday last. The true object of his call, however, developed when he reached "The Little Doctor," Bobby Hewlett. Dr. Hewlett had called in Dr. Bush for consultation on a case of serious illness of the Bindery cat.

Specification Notes.

It is the same old thing—at the lunch counters.

Avid Ek is in the list of inventors this week.

Now begins the clamor of the cold and hot-air fiends.

J. W. Carter, copy doler, has moved in from the country.

About the usual number will "go down" for night work.

We expect to soon be in our new quarters—the old First.

Leaves are pretty well exhausted; likewise the perquisites.

The new elevator man shows increased speed in hois.ing.

George E. Pitman returned Monday from a five-weeks' sickness.

Joseph W. Schmaling is absent in Mississippi in answer to message.

The straw hat has gone to the peg and the hirsute adornment reappeareth.

Timekeeper Gutelius makes the circuit in less time than it takes to set a row.

Jason Waterman has been assigned the position of reviser, vice J. P. Morse, resigned.

The Spess offers superior advantages to those engaged on perpetual motion problems.

E. G. (Shanty) Myers has been re-elected chairman of the "side show," this time by acclamation.

J. Ligon King, of the District National Guards, speaks in high praise of the New Havenites as entertainers.

Ivins Davis did not get back to the office on Monday owing to an injury to his back. He was trying to carry a tubful.

When again located in the Swamp and quite removed from the common herd, we uns will expect to be recognized as the "Senate side."

Messrs. Sturgis, Webb, Rogers, Putnam, Euler, Overman, and Burgess are laying cases and getting things in shape anent the time when the order comes to move.

FUDGE.

Allied Label League.

The regular weekly meeting of the League was called to order last Friday evening, President McCarthy in the chair.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

The credentials from Registered Drug Clerks' Association were received and the delegates seated.

Several communications from the Central Labor Union were received and referred to respective committees.

On roll call of unions, Registered Drug Clerks asked the League to aid in bringing John W. Jennings, 1142 Connecticut avenue northwest, to terms. The League pledged its support to the Drug Clerks in their fight on Jennings.

Retail Clerks reported that the last conference with Hecht & Co. had been fruitless, and asked that renewed efforts be made to make that firm come to time. They also asked that the Emrich Beef Company be remembered as unfair to the Retail Grocery Clerks.

The president asked the delegates to place the matter before their unions and have the firms named brought to time.

Under new business the League pledged its support to President McCarthy as a candidate for delegate to the A. F. of L. convention from the Central Labor Union, affirming that Mr. McCarthy deserves recognition for his untiring zeal and services rendered to all members of organized labor.

The Economic O. M. Club Indorses W. S. Waudby.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Economic O. M. Club, held October 6, 1903, the following resolutions indorsing Mr. W. S. Waudby, offered at the last meeting of the Club, were unanimously adopted:

Whereas the office of Commissioner of Labor seems to this club one which shotld be filled by a man satisfactory to those who labor, as expressed by them through their organizations; and

Whereas the majority of organized labor, through their international and national bodies and local unions, have indorsed Mr. William S. Waudby, of Rochester, N. Y., for appointment as Commissioner of Labor, to succeed the present incumbent on his approaching retirement; and

Whereas the labor organizations, in departing from their usual policy of refusing to indorse candidates for political preferment, justify themselves in making this recommendation because of the unsatisfactory character and impractical nature of labor statistics as collected under the present system, believing that Mr. Waudby would, if appointed to that office, faithfully, fearlessly, and truthfully publish, in such form as can be easily and clearly understood, facts and statistics showing the true condition of wage-earners, male and female, adults and children, in their daily occupations and homes; therefore,

Resolved, That the Economic O. M. Club, of Washington, D. C., do hereby indorse Mr. William S. Waudby, of Rochester, N. Y., for appointment to the office of Commissioner of Labor, and that they petition the President of the United States to make the appointment in recognition of the wishes of those whose labor produces the wealth of the country and whose valor protects and defends it and the lives of the people.

A spirited discussion to the President's stand on the "open shop" question resulted in the adoption of a resolution by the Club offering a prize of $10 for the best article on the "open shop," the sum of $1 to be inclosed with each article as a competition fee, the prize article to be published in the local press without signature. All papers must be in the hands of the secretary of the Club, J. W. Smith, 1002 Sixth street northwest, by the 20th of November, 1903.

JUST EVERY-DAY LIFE.

Though life upon "the outside" were a seething hell, one must needs, entering here, "shut the door." The furrows of sickness and sadness and sorrow must be buried beneath the mask of pleasantry. Before the echoes of the whistle have died, a "couple o' hot ones" come over from the next alley, and, as the fun-maker, they must be retorted in kind. Little opportunity for brooding or soliloquy, for, through the agency of the clock, here you are a pacemaker with Time, that essence of all contracts.

Passing, panorama-like, are a score of incidents indelibly stamped on memory's walls: My beating the telephone to the office one afternoon to jubilantly tell of the passage of the leave bill; standing on my feet twenty-four hours during Mr. Cleveland's Venezuelan affair, when Captain Brian said, "Don't give Maud another take;" a deputation from the folding room, with a gilded and beribboned horseshoe, wishing me well in the race for I. T. U. delegate, and I escaped instead of making them a speech; then the beauties of being a suburbanite—a four-mile dash, breakfastless, to fall in a heap in the middle of the room and be carried, feet first, into the hall. All vivid to the victim and more or less familiar to many of my readers.

H. S. SUTTON.

Labor Day Prizes.

The holders of coupons of Labor Day tickets are requested to see if their numbers are in the list drawn below. If the prizes are not called for within a reasonable time, a new drawing will take place.

The lucky numbers are as follows: 2788, music box; 1074, parlor rocker; 3644, belt; 4038, fishing rod; 1995, parlor rocker; 4387, belt; 308, antique vase; 4415, silk umbrella; 4594, belt; 4156, plush rocker; 4547, encyclopedia; 2804, piano stool; 2265, season ticket Kernan's; 2985, ladies' belt; 2715, rocker.

Albert P. E. Doyle, of THE TRADES UNIONIST, has a little boy at his house since Wednesday.

HALLS for rent at Building Trades Halls, 610 G street northwest and 624 Sixth street northwest. For terms apply at Room 2, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

ALLIED BUILDING TRADES.

The regular weekly meeting of the Council of Allied Building Trades of the Central Labor Union was called to order at the usual hour by the secretary. In the absence of Chairman Wells, who is sick, Delegate Silver was chosen to preside.

Roll call disclosed the presence of 48 delegates from 22 local unions.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

CREDENTIALS.

From Carpenters and Joiners, No. 190, certifying to W. W. Winfree.

From Carpet Workers' Union, No. 85, certifying to Messrs. Street, Pearsol, and Watts.

From International Marble and Slate Cutters and Setters, certifying to Wm. Moberly.

The delegates were seated.

Delegate Lahey asked for unanimous consent to have the trouble on Geo. C. Esher job heard. Granted.

The secretary was instructed to inform the Journeymen Stone and Marble Cutters' Union that the Council of Allied Building Trades approved the action of the Stone Laborers' Union in calling off their men and asking them to grant the Stone Laborers all assistance possible.

Regular business was then resumed.

Communication from the Employing Contractors' Association was read. The secretary stated he had answered letter and asked that his action be approved. It was so ordered, and letter placed on file.

The question of setting a date when the universal card of the Council be put in force, which had been made a special order at the previous meeting, was taken from the table, and after considerable discussion, Delegates Daly, Meitzer, Clark, and Thompson were appointed to act in conjunction with the delegates composing the Board of Arbitration, to visit the Employing Contractors' Association relative to the matter. Delegate Daly was called to the chair.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Delegate Ratigan reported from Central Labor Union.

By-law Committee and Hall Committee reported progress.

The secretary-treasurer submitted his financial statement for quarter ending September 30, 1903, and asked that a committee be appointed to examine books. Request complied with, and Chair appointed Delegates Street, Desmond, and Thompson.

Business Agent made report for the week, which was accepted.

ROLL CALL.

Stone Laborers asked support of Carpenters, Engineers, and Granite Cutterg on Esher job, who are not working direct for the Brennan Construction Company.

It was moved and carried that if the Business Agent found facts to warrant, he would request the members of the trades named to refrain from working.

Hod Carriers stated that their conciliation committee had met conciliation committee of Master Builders' Association, and reported progress.

Bridge and Structural Iron Workers stated that some of their employers were trying to induce their men to return to work on Woodley apartment house, but without success.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The secretary was directed to request the Central Labor Union to consider the advisability of abrogating the Portner contract.

The secretary was directed to investigate the report that the Metal Lathers had returned to work at the Woodley apartment house, contrary to the rules of the Council, and if found true to prefer charges to Council.

NEW BUSINESS.

The secretary was directed to have Central Labor Union extend invitation to Operative Plasterers' Union of this city to affiliate with Central Labor Union and Building Trades Council.

Adjourned.

Reelected.

Ellis G. Myers was reelected chairman of the Official Gazette by acclamation at the election in that chapel last Monday. Mr. Myers has given complete satisfaction in the office and enjoys the esteem of all members of that chapel.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Official Organ Central Labor Union and Allied Building Trades, A. F. of L.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

The Trades Unionist Publishing Company

E. W. PATTON.....President
A. J. E. HUBBARD.....Vice-President
T. M. RING.....Secretary

Office: 441 443 G Street Northwest.

TELEPHONE EAST 15 Y.

SUBSCRIPTION

One year (in advance) - - - - $1.00
Six months (in advance) - - - - .50

Entered at the Post-Office, Washington, D. C. as Second-Class Matter.

THE TRADES UNIONIST is heartily and unqualifiedly indorsed by the Central Labor Union and the Allied Building Trades as well as by the various locals connected with the two central bodies.

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL WASHINGTON 2

Only Eight-Hour Union Office in Town.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1903.

LAUGHTER is audible sunshine.

PESSIMISM is often the mask of envious mediocrity

THE Sick Man of Europe is not as sick as he is doctored.

RUSSIA still keeps one foot on the Turkey rug and the other eye on Manchuria.

TOO MANY employers find it hard to understand that money paid to an honest toiler is not a gift.

MEN would go wrong less frequently if they stopped to think how brief a time they have in which to go right.

ALTHOUGH the Macedonian escapes from Turkish tyranny, their character will still remain somewhat Turkish rugged.

AT last accounts General BIRNEY and EZRA NAT HILL were neck and neck in the race for the title of Unspeakable Turk of the Post's People's Page.

RUSSIA would be very sorry to be forced to profit through sanguinary readjustments in the Balkans. But she still knows how to wield the carving-knife.

THE workingman who thinks the mere fact of rolling up his sleeves when he goes to work adds luster to his citizenship is only fit to associate with the "purse proud aristocrat."

Work for the Workers.

Abolish all unions, take from the workers the right to organize, give full rein to the capitalistic class, and then witness the army of serfs begging piteously for enough of the master's service at a pittance barely sufficient to sustain life and prolong a miserable existence. It is only through the persistent work of organization and the enforcement of just claims that labor has succeeded thus far in winning recognition, and it is only by a succession of efforts that each skilled and unskilled worker may hope to realize the perfect fulfillment of his highest hopes. Even now those who refuse or fail to affiliate with organized labor are in a sense reaping a benefit by the gradation, as the lowest strata of society receives some benefit from the influence which comes from above, while yet they refuse to give credit or bear any of the burdens. The man who wantonly strikes a blow at organized labor, whether he be in place of command or a toiler in the ranks has contributed by that act to provoke an endless strife by refusing to recognize the equity and purposes which tend to higher ideals and a realization of man's highest hopes through the agency of those means which nature and a kind Providence has bestowed. With the more thorough organization of capital comes the greater necessity and duty of organized labor, and the events of each succeeding year and day and hour make more clear and emphatic the duty each owes to the other in the work each has to do.

If Not Trade Unionism—What?

The organization of business interests throughout the country, principally in the West, brought into being for the purpose of crushing the unions of the country and to advocate the "open shop," are gaining adherents daily. But if an employer of labor would stop and consider that he is taking in hand the same methods that the employe is using to advance his interests he will see the futility of his efforts in attempting to break down the unions.

If we look at the question from any side we can not but admit that the strides made in this country during the past twenty years in industrial lines are phenomenal and in a large measure due to the advanced thought expressed in trade unionism, as no industry has prospered where organized labor has not been in evidence, aiding and assisting the employer of large capital to establish a base upon which he can reckon his largest item of expense—the cost of labor. Without the knowledge he possesses of the cost of labor he would be at sea in estimating the cost of the work under construction. True, he may arbitrarily fix in his own mind what he would pay for his labor, but he is not estimating on anything stable, for the inference is that labor will go where it secures the highest wage. Without some tangible understanding the employer can not fix the cost of labor. All wages are based on the minimum scale set by the unions. The non-union man's wage rises and falls with the scale set by the union of his trade.

But if the trade union is to go, what will follow? Shall we go back to the period when it was confidently asserted that two-thirds of the ranks of the trade unions were imbued with the doctrine of anarchy and only needed a leader to bring chaos and destruction to a business house or establishment that would not meet with its terms? The conservatism exhibited by the leaders of the labor movement has had a far-reaching effect in the present generation of workers and the result is manifest in the advance made by the various organizations. If the entire list of unions were swept aside with one stroke there would arise another organization, molded on different lines, which would be a secret one, where to-day we have the open session; and the fight would be a bitter one, for it would have to be fought on different lines and carried on with measures as radical in the new organization as the present organization shows in its conservatism.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM.

Senator Stewart, of Nevada, in relating his interview with the President last week in regard to the "open shop" decision, said:

I told him that if he wins the fight he now has on his hands he will be immortal. If 3,000,000 of men are able to control 90,000,000 of people the death of the Republic is at hand.

One would hardly expect such a statement as this from a Senator of the United States—not even from Senator Stewart. To begin with, there are not 90,000,000 people in the United States, and if there were, deducting the rebellious 3,000,000 labor unionists would reduce the number to 87,000,000, and allowing each unionist a wife and two children would further reduce the number to 76,000,000 to be enslaved by the damnable conspirators. But much the greater part of the millions left are sympathizers with the trades unionists, as are all right-minded people—all who are opposed to any form of human slavery—as is evidenced in every great strike, and their sympathy is of such a strenuous nature as to occasionally lead them to commit acts of violence, which being charged to the strikers, put trades unionists in a wrong position sometimes and enable our enemies to charge that we seek to gain our objects by physical force. In a number of cases I have seen statements made that all who are not members of trades unions are opposed to them, but it is so far untrue that it is as nearly the opposite of the facts as it could be. The greater portion of the people of the United States are in hearty sympathy with trades unionism and all that it stands for—in fact, every man is who is not ignorant or dishonest; that is, ignorant as to what trades unionism means or too dishonest to be willing for workingmen to emancipate themselves from the slavery which unorganized labor always has to endure.

It is to be hoped that all nervous-minded people will possess their souls in peace and not throw fits in anticipation of the outrageous assaults likely to be committed on the people and property of the United States by trades unions, and that all timid unionists will be strong in their belief in the ability of organized labor to take care of itself. Unionism is going forward all the time, never backward, and we can as reasonably expect a return to chattel slavery as an abandonment of the principles and practices of trades unionism.

* * * *

Uncle Johnny Swerdfiger and Uncle Dave Eccles are beginning to get together all right in their joint debate on the question of Socialism, but I am inclined to deprecate their disposition to call each other ignorant, for neither one of them is deserving of such a charge—on the contrary, both are remarkably well-read men. It is true, they are but at the beginning of the debate, the threshold of the real question at issue, and up to now have been only sparring for an opening, but they will get busy soon. I hope each one will bear in mind that neither Uncle Johnny Swerdfiger nor Uncle Dave Eccles is the question before the house and that references to their peculiar habits of thought or idiosyncracies will throw no light on the real subject of debate. I am aware of human proneness to misstate the other fellow's argument and proceed to knock the onion sauce out of what he didn't say, and I—even I—not a party to the debate, but only the general manager, suffered some little at Uncle Dave's hands in that regard; but I don't mind it, for it is perfectly natural and I have learned to expect such things. In fact, I have been in controversies myself and know how necessary it is to do this sometimes. What I allude to—not that it makes any particular difference—is where he takes me up on my shoemaker proposition. What I said is:

The only honest, true standard of wages should be based on the value which the workman adds to the article upon which he is employed. If he takes 50 cents' worth of material and makes a pair of shoes worth $2.50, why should he not have the value which he has added to that leather, instead of the 19 cents that will enable him to live until he can make another pair of shoes?

Uncle Dave represents me as saying that he should have the difference between the cost of the material and the selling price of the shoes, and then proceeds to knock me silly with the other bills which he brings against that pair of shoes. I should have allowed these bills without a murmur. But, as I said, I don't mind that sort of thing, realizing how necessary it is in all discussions of large subjects, and shall rather invite it if it will add to the success and good humor of the debate. Uncle Johnny Swerdfiger went West recently, but I hope he will return in time to play his hand, and that nothing will be done which is likely to gum up the cards and delay the game.

* * * *

It would be a generous aud comfortable thing if Gen. George H. Harries, who, I know, has the warmest sympathy for his old associates in the Government Printing Office, would so arrange matters that they can have cars to go home in when they get done work at 3.30 and 4 o'clock in the morning, and from now on for the next eight months there will be several hundred of them to whom this would be a great convenience. The two lines which pass the office enable the employes to raech practically every part of the city, and that is where they live. Half hour cars between the hours when they now stop and start running would be very desirable, and they would accommodate quite a bunch of other people besides who have business out late or early. I am going to call General Harries' attention to it any way, and I think that a petition numerously signed would have a good effect.

* * * *

For two or three years I have been looking at the picture of Secretary Elihu Root (off and on) and wondering who it was among those whom I knew that it so much resembled. The other night it struck me. It is Cos Rodier. Of course I expect a whole lot of people who don't belong to the same church with Cos to get excited and more or less indignantly denv it, but the picture speaks for itself. The resemblance may stop there or it may continue, for I don't know Mr. Root very well, but they are both bright men, and I suspect that Cos comes nearer carrying out the President's ideas as expressed on the subject of race suicide than does the noted Cabinet minister, though my information on that point is not absolute.

* * * *

The legend over the gateway to the home at Colorado Springs reads: "Union Printers Home," without the apostrophe which denotes the possessive case, and so many printers have read proof on it that is likely to become an I. T. U. issue. I hope President Lynch will put the question on the next referendum ballot to be taken and let everybody have a crack at it. If the apostrophe does not belong there and in similar places, it has no office outside of dialect stories.

* * * *

Now that we have passed laws forbidding the purchase of clothing and cigars which do not bear the union label it is up to the dealers in label goods to advertise the facts. I am free to confess (and all of the rest of you who are as honest will make the same confession) that I do not know where to go to buy a suit of clothes with the union label sewed in the various garments. I would like to see the same law made with reference to chewing and smoking tobacco, and, for that matter, with regard to every manufactured article that we have occasion to buy.

* * * *

If a man ever earned preferment for position by faithful work in behalf of the Union, Jim Bright has earned the treasurership next year, if he wants it, and I have the best of reasons for believing that he does.

* * * *

Dr. De Witt C. Chadwick and his bride returned to the city from Old Point this morning. They will be at home to their friends at 1102 L street northwest after November 1.

* * * *

Mr. Goodkev's card in last week's paper delighted me beyond measure, for we are in need of just such fertile, virile, active minds as his to bring our union meetings out of the lethargic condition into which they have fallen. While his services in the Chicago Trades Assembly in association with Franks Morrison and Kidd is no great recommendation, I have all the confidence in him which I ever expressed in my brief mentions of his so far satisfactory work in this community.

* * * *

A letter from W. S. Waudby, who has been looking after the labor statistics of Albany and Troy, N. Y., says that Glens Falls will be the next object of his attentions. He states that he met George H. McCarthy in Troy, engaged in the insurance business and fat and prosperous. Mr. McCarthy used to work in this city, for a time on the old National Republican, and will be remembered by the old-timers.

* * * *

The most feasible scheme that I have yet heard of, and one that I believe is in operation in the Post chapel, is to form a chapel organization and contribute so much per week per capita to the Cummings memorial fund, only in the case of G. P. O. chapels the collections would have to be made every two weeks. Five cents per week is the amount suggested, and is one that would hurt nobody. This would raise a fund in a comparatively short time sufficient for the purposes desired and enable us to properly honor a man who never forgot his unionism in whatever position he was placed and was as solicitous for the welfare of typographical unions when a member of Congress as when holding cases on a newspaper.

* * * *

The Typographical Journal for October is a mammoth number of over 300 pages and contains, in addition to the regular magazine features, the reports of officers and full proceedings of the forty-ninth session of the I. T. U. In its literary features the Journal improves every month, the correspondence being especially full and interesting. The literary matter in the fore part of the book, "Note and Comment," "What We are Doing," the two pages comprising the "President's Page," "Women's Department," and every portion of the volume are interesting, and he who lays it aside without a thorough perusal makes a mistake by which he is the greatest loser. Among the longer articles "Wages and Disputes in Great Britain," by Henry M. James; "The District Government," by E. W. Oyster, of this city, and "Utopias, Past and Present," by George C. Cutting, of Boston, especially deserve reading. I am going to suggest to Editor Bramwood that he change in some way the reading of the line at the bottom of the title-page, "Official paper of the International Typographical Union of North America," for technically it is no longer a "paper" but a magazine. It was a "paper" originally, and possibly that wording is provided for by law, and then, again, it is possibly an oversight.

* * * *

When Secretary Garrett sends out his official notice of the passage of the law fining any member buying clothing without the union label I hope he will specify where union-label clothing may be bought. I have no means of knowing unless the facts are advertised in some way.

A. F. BLOOMER.

FOR THE BEST--
READY-TO-WEAR
—FOR—
Man, Woman and Child
AT THE MOST REASONABLE PRICES,
CONSULT—
Parker, Bridget & Co.,
Washington's Leading Outfitters, ...
Pa. Ave. and 9th St. N. W.

Union Made Cigars
OF THE FINEST QUALITY.
Pluck 5¢ | ARMY & NAVY 10¢
AFTER DINNER 5¢ | DEER HEAD 10¢
Henry T. Offterdinger, Manufacturer
504 Ninth St., N.W.

ARLINGTON BREWING CO.
ROSSLYN, VA.
BEER ALE PORTER
The Finest Productions of Skilled Union Labor. Union Label on Every Bottle and Keg of Our Goods.

Our Strictly One-Price Methods Insure Legitimate Reductions

AWAY FROM THE HIGH RENT DISTRICT
THAT'S WHY WE UNDERSELL

High-Grade Clothing
At Price of Ordinary Kinds

Our Clothing is distinctly "New Yorkish." It possesses that hard to define "something" that a man usually looks for from a custom shop. Reason for this is—the vital points of making are hand worked.

We Are Style Makers

Suits, $7.50 to $25.00 Overcoats, $7.50 to $30.00

We are at your disposal—Fall Togs are ready

THE BIEBER-KAUFMAN CO.
Masculine Outfitters from Childhood to Age
901-909 EIGHTH STREET S. E.

Local Agents "Walk Over" Shoes

Our Specialty
IS A BUSINESS SUIT FOR $25

We claim, and verify our assertion by producing the goods, that no other concern gives the same value in materials and workmanship for the price. Our Twenty-five Dollar Suits are made by the same Skilled Union Workmen that make our higher grade garments. Come in, look through our line and be convinced that this special is a winner. Respectfully,

T. E. GILBERT Importer and Tailor
818 F Street Northwest

Does your bartender wear one of these Blue Buttons?
If not,
WHY NOT?
THIS CARD INDICATES A
Hotel and Restaurant Employes International Alliance
Bartenders International League of America
AFFILIATED WITH AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR
RECOGNIZES THIS BAR AS A UNION BAR
AND WORTHY THE SUPPORT OF ORGANIZED LABOR

ASTORIA BARBER SHOP
ARTHUR CHAIMS, Proprietor
Union Shop White Barbers
Hot and Cold Baths
303 G STREET NORTHWEST

The Savings possible at
S. Kann, Sons & Co.
8th st.-THE BUSY CORNER-Pa. Ave.
are such as may be counted in the pocket. At the same time styles and qualities are unexcelled.

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES
OF
Columbia Typographical Union,
No. 101.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, 423 G ST. N. W.
Office Hours: 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.; 5 to 7 P. M.

OFFICERS.

JOE M. JOHNSON.....President
DAN C. VAUGHAN.....Vice-President
WM. M. GARRETT.....Secretary
JOHN R. BERG.....Treasurer
FRANK BATES.....Sergeant-at-Arms
N. C. STOOPS.....Doorkeeper

TRUSTEES—J. E. Bright, chairman; W. L. Gutelius, Chas. C. Thompson, Joe M. Johnson, and Wm. M. Garrett.

DELEGATES TO CENTRAL LABOR UNION—J. H. Babcock, chairman; J. B. Dickman, Hugh Everett, Theodore Gerber, and C. E. Dietrich.

DELEGATES TO ALLIED TRADES COUNCIL—E. E. Calhoon, chairman; T. F. Hall, and J. P. Garner.

AUDITORS—C. W. Radley, chairman; H. G. Brown, and J. W. Carter.

COMMITTEES.

BUSINESS—Zach T. Jenkins, chairman; C. B. Yater, M. J. Maher, T. C. Parsons, and R. W. Burnside.

NOMINATIONS—W. N. Brockwell, chairman; F. A. Kidd, H. O'Donnell, Frank M. Hatley, and R. E. Stenner.

LAWS—Chas. H. Ennis, chairman; Raymond Gery, and Dexter S. Hussey.

FINANCE—John A. Huston, chairman; J. M. McLaughlin, and R. F. Chisholm.

PRINTING—T. A. Bynum, chairman; Milo Shanks, and Ed. J. Hall.

GRIEVANCE—Clint O. Price, chairman; Chas. S. Gunn, Philip Nachman, David J. Snyder, and E. Y. Fisher.

ENTERTAINMENT—T. L. Jones, chairman; J. R. Purvis, T. J. Fitzwilliam, Miss Nellie Theaker, Miss Anna Wilson, B. E. Harrison, and W. J. Harris.

CONFERENCE—J. L. Holland, chairman; D. J. Hegarty, and W. B. Shaw.

LIBRARY—Clyde J. Sheriff, chairman; A. E. Ogg, and Harry Essex.

RELIEF—Joseph G. Stelle, chairman; Wm. S. Schinnerer and E. P. Cummins.

EIGHT-HOUR—F C. Roberts, chairman; F. B. Crown, F. D. Seiffert, Jeff Newlon, and S. H. Willey.

MEMORIAL SERVICE—S. J. Gompers, chairman; Philip S. Steele, J. E. Goodkey, J. B. Dickman, and C. B. Yater.

AMOS J. CUMMINGS MEMORIAL—J. T. Rowe, chairman; Charles T. Graff, and T. A. Bynum.

CHAIRMEN.

First Division—W. R. Love.
Second Division—D. J. Snyder.
Third Division—W. N. Goldstein.
Fourth Division—E. T. Stephenson,
Fifth Division—Charles H. Gove.
Sixth Division—E. M Nevils.
Job Room—J. K. Davison.
Record Clerks' Division—H. G. Brown
First Division, Night—Allen Cowles.
Night Proof Room—E. H. Thomas.
Specification Room—H. F. Melick.
Official Gazette—E. G. Myers.
Document Proof Room—Jas. R. Armstrong.
Treasury Division—W. Brice Coston.
Interior Division—C. K. Stribling.
State Division—J. B. Dickman.
Navy Department Division—Albert E. Ogg.
War Department Division—Wm. K. Miller.
Agricultural Division—Henry P. Slaughter.
Library Division—H. V. Bisbee.
Weather Bureau—L. H. Emmons.
Morning Post—J. H. Broderick.
Evening Star—Joseph C. Whyte.
Evening Times—T. C. Parsons.
Law Reporter—J. R. Johnson.
Globe Printing Co.—R. A. Wilson.
Judd & Detweiler's—A. B. Barringer.
Wilkens Printing Co.—T. N. Surguy.
Pearson's—T. F. Monahan.
National Publishing Co.—E. C. Owen.
McGill & Wallace's—J. M. Watts.
Byron S. Adams'—R. B. Boucher.
Army and Navy Register—C. H. Draeger.
General Postoffice—Joseph Williams.
Sudwarth's—F. R. Adams.

AROUND THE PRINTERIES.

First Division.

B. L. Stidham, of Texas, was reinstated last Monday.

Nearly all the boys who have been helping to move returned to the case.

E. Heidingsfeld will leave to-morrow for New York, to be gone until Tuesday.

The friends of Charles Purdy are hereby informed that he is still printing labels.

Harry Gunn and wife will leave to-morrow for Cincinnati, to be gone for one month.

Harry Major, our late postmaster, has been off sick with phlegmonous for the past two weeks.

James Bright wishes it to be distinctly understood that he will be a candidate for treasurer at the next election of the Union.

The sympathy of the room is extended to M. J. Lillard, who had the misfortune to lose his mother last Sunday at Houston, Tex.

Frank M. Lloyd has charge of the rule case in place of Geo. Dowell, who has been assigned to Mr. Bright's force of soubrettes.

C. P. Brown lost his brother last Friday, and the sympathy of the room is extended to him. L. C. Richards had charge of the title page while Mr. Brown was off.

We are so busy and attentive to work since we came over in the new building that when Dockstader's minstrels, with full brass band, went by, not a man ran across the room to look out.

We are at last in our new home and everything running as smoothly as can be expected. The force is made up of Al. Bowen, foreman; W. M. Leavitt, in charge of the "Y;" 18 makers-up, 8 imposers, and 144 compositors.

Quite a number of changes took place since our moving. Charles Leeds has charge of the time slip instead of Clem Harding; George R. Boone, the copy box; B. H. Pratt, postmaster, in place of Harry Major, and W. J. Dow, assistant foreman.

An imposing procession occurred last Monday when the last of the First Division property was brought over, which was our banner. The procession was led by the Sultan of Sulu (Henry Gray) carrying the banner, reinforced on either side by Chief Waller and Carter. Next came, sitting on a beautiful truck, bowing right and left, Winsome Winnie (Johnnie Burnside), protected by Secret Service men. For further particulars and pictures of the same see Messrs. McFarland and Garrette.

Booth Tucker, of the Salvation Army, will establish a large soup house for the poor down town this winter, and he asks that the old stools be given him, so that he can have some of them fixed up and then sell them, the proceeds to go toward defraying the expenses of his eating house. The First Division is almost unanimous in favor of such a course, and it is hoped that the rest of the chapels will do likewise, as they will have the satisfaction of knowing that they helped to feed some poor unfortunate.

An exciting race for chairman took place last week. R. L. Mabrey and W. R. Love were the starters. Judge claimed a handicap on account of his rheumatism, but the claim was not allowed, and at 2.30 they went to the post. Billy had some ballots printed, while the "Judge" relied on past performances. At 2.45 they were at the quarter, 3 at the half, 3.15 at the three-quarters, and at 4 Billy was 42 votes ahead. And thus, as the old saying goes, "He went to the well once too often," or perseverance brings reward.

CLOTILDE.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

Second Division.

Did you get a window frame?

Place your order for a stool before its stool late.

Slug 64 says "all seven of them" have started and will soon be with him.

Our clock is behind on its average this turn-in and should be put "on time."

If the pessimists will keep out of print and close the door of their faces the cause of unionism will be enhanced.

Pig's feet have been running for the past two weeks, and Billy Schmidt is always on the slate. He likes "fat."

Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Thayer were presented by the employes of this division with a Morris chair and rocker as wedding gifts.

"Denny" thought he caught his cold from an open window, but Doc. Trudgian said it was caused by drinking out of a damp tumbler.

Why don't "Pard" Bloomer give us a list of those rat coal dealers so we will know who to cut out the next time we buy a bushel of coal?

In the spirited controversy over Socialism between Messrs. Eccles and Swerdfiger the former apparently is ahead of the game. Try another round, gentlemen.

A school of instruction in unionism might be a good thing. The average union man, particularly if he is a novice, is not well equipped to withstand the fiery darts of the adversary.

One of our fellows yearns for the onions and garlics of Egypt, that is, he wishes he were back in the old building so he could flirt with the bindery girls as they pass "pro and con."

The chapel election in this division, held on Wednesday, was close and exciting, the result being as follows: D. J. Snyder, 36; "Deacon" Wright, 32; Will Morris, 22; scattering, 2. C. L. Nace was unanimously elected secretary.

The new building is all right, all right, and the improved system of ventilation is hailed with joy by the fresh-air devotees, but how long the other fellows will survive in an element so foreign to their nature remains to be seen.

I. D. Williamson, of New Mexico, received a Labor Day number of the Albuquerque (N. Mex.) Daily Citizen, in which was a write-up of the printers of the early days. In 1883 our T. Frank Hall was then foreman of the Journal, of that place. "Kid" Eckdall, now of the Philippines; Oscar Harold, a well-known swift; L. C. Hover, now of the Post; James Buchanan, of Kansas City; W. T. McCreicht, now editor of the Citizen, were compositors. Geo. Beach, a noted swift, of Galveston, Tex., came through on his way to Denver to enter a typesetting contest. Harold beat him 1,100 ems and McCreicht beat him 1,300. They averaged 14,885 ems (run of the hook, all fat barred), of bourgeois in this contest, two cases being necessary. Hall and some others won $25 each from Beach, who then returned to Galveston. Speaking of Oscar Harold reminds the writer of meeting him in St. Joe in 1890. W. J. (?) Billy O'Strander ("Micky Dugan") was running for delegate. He kept a keg of liquor in the job office where he worked and the gang brought their bottles up and got them filled. Harold went up with a quart bottle one time and "Mickey" asked him what he wanted with so much. "Oh, there are a dozen waiting for me," he said. The Herald and Gazette (morning papers) and the News (afternoon) were for the other candidate and would not put the roadsters on to work nor allow them to "carry the banner" in the offices as usual, so O'Strander just chartered a boarding house. The day before election printers from the surrounding towns were even brought in to vote for him. Jack Cross, well known in the West, managed the campaign for him. After he was elected by one vote he bought the contents of a saloon for the gang.

HAPPY HOOLIGAN.

Try oyster pan roast, 10c. Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, North Capitol and G streets.

Third Division.

Why are the cages in the various rooms not gilded?

Charles S. Davis is now custodian of the 6 and 8-point font, as well as of the lead and slug rack.

"General" Lambert returned from leave last week and was again assigned to the Proof Room.

C. C. Hipkins was off a week subbing for Secretary Garrett, who was taking a much-needed rest.

No leaves of absence were requested for this week. We will all settle down now for a winter's work.

J. W. Belcher is laid up with a bad cold, presumably contracted from working by an open window.

The picture of Sir Michael Herbert in the Star last week looked more like our Edgar B. Merritt than his own picture does.

Alley 10 is a much frequented one, for St. Aloysius' clock can be seen from there. No large clock has been placed in this room yet.

A printer from the job room was asked the other day where he lived. He said he was living in Bates street, but had a mansion in the skies.

Chaplain Hoyt A. Holton and Capt. W. J. Phillips returned to work Monday after attending the Spanish War Veterans' convention last week.

One hundred and eleven slugs are provided for in this room, which makes it second in size to the First Division at present, though fewer are working here than in any other room.

Mrs. W. F. Johnson, wife of our italic man, is enjoying an extended trip of about three months in the South and West. She will visit in Chattanooga, Nashville, and Indiana. The latter place is their old home.

Now that Mr. Phillips is no longer in the running, a good many other single men in this room seem to be willing to be "declared the most popular." There are 17 of them—25 per cent—and still marrying men are said to be scarce.

Ephriam H. Minnigh, who was a member of Columbia Typographical Society in 1859, and employed on the old Congressional Globe when it was printed on Pennsylvania avenue, died at Gettysburg on Saturday, September 26.

Max Knoble's seven-year-old boy was brutally kicked from a street car last Saturday by a conductor. After a persistent search Max was unable to locate the man. He was discharged by the railway company and a warrant sworn out for his arrest, but at last accounts he had not been found. Such inhuman conduct should be severely punished.

F. O. Landers has commenced a law course at Columbian University. W. L. Washburne intends to start to the same college a little later. Fred I. Nobles is beginning a course in pharmacy at one of the colleges. Warner L. Wilmeth is now a student at Columbian Law College. Max Knoble, Frank MacFadyen, and one or two others contemplate beginning courses of shorthand soon. Edgar Meritt, Will Soult, and "Doc" Scanlon are already graduates—the two former in law and the latter in dentistry.

NEWS.

Try oyster pan roast, 10c. Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, North Capitol and G streets.

Fourth Division.

Ed. Nash is enjoying a five days' vacation.

C. T. Harding returned to work on the 1st and assumed his duties as timekeeper, Charlie Gunn going on the bank.

L. L. Dixon and J. M. Thompson were reinstated last Thursday, and may be found on slugs 5 and 12 respectively.

A. T. Genau, for twelve years conductor on the H street line, now looks after the wants of the pressmen. That he can get along without a pocket full of change shows man's adaptability to his environment.

John Openshaw and G. E. Partridge manipulate the folio cases; C. E. Morton, assisted by Sefton, Nelgner, and Barnhart, has charge of the correcting alley, and W. H. Wright and N. H. Lytle look after the Nautical Almanac work.

Two new positions have been created since our advent in the new building, namely, slug man and font man. The sort font is directly under the control of Joe Fritz, and he keeps it under lock and key, thus lessening the chances for the type being pied. Thos. Pursel is slugman.

E. T. Stephenson was unanimously elected chairman on Thursday last for the present quarter. Charles Dietrich declined to accept a renomination. He served three successive terms in a very creditable and efficient manner, which the members of our chapel fully appreciated.

Our composing room, in conformity with the city of Washington, may be noted for its magnificent distances. Dan Sansom and his fellow workers of alley 1 may petition the Public Printer for an auto of diminutive size to aid them in their trips to the copy box. But the good ventilation that goes with a large room and a high ceiling is worth a little extra walking.

RAN.

The Delineator and Designer
for November now ready.
WM. H. LIVERMORE,
Phone East 824-D. 101 H street nw.

Return Thanks.

The members of the Peck Memorial Church desire to return thanks to the members of the Specification Branch of the Government Printing Office, for the manner in which they responded to the efforts of a member of the congregation in aiding to create a fund for the refurnishing of the church. Through the kindness of Capt. W. R. Ramsey quite a neat sum was obtained and the members of the church and its pastor desire to express their deep appreciation for the aid extended.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

The Universal Card.

The Council of Allied Building Trades of the Central Labor Union are going to enforce the universal card on all work on buildings in the near future.

Section 3, of Article IX, which refers to the card, reads as follows:

No workman will be permitted to work on any job who is not in possession of a Working Card bearing this seal or device, and where such a condition exists it shall be immediately reported to the Executive Committee of this Council and work shall proceed pending the action of said Executive Committee.

Columbia Union, No. 101.

ARRIVALS—SEPTEMBER.

Frank Stewart, Hindman Doxey, C. J. MacMurray, G. N. Proctor, H. Hutchinson, J. J. Wade, C. W. Straughan, Gus Kramer, Thos. B. Malone, and E. P. McDevitt.

DEPARTURES—SEPTEMBER.

James Webster, Charles A. Lucas, William F. Harris, W. S. Mackay, W. S. Crowdis, William T. Hall, H. M. Belmont, W. F. White, B. F. Preuss, W. W. Beales, William M. Wright, and J. E. Best.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

The "Man's Store."

Clothing That Makes Friends

Expect to be busy to-day. Haven't had a dull day this fall. We have the clothing that makes business—that makes reputation—that makes satisfaction—the "M. S. M." clothing.

YOUR FALL SUIT, $10.90 TO $35
YOUR OVERCOAT, $10.90 TO $40.

"Money's Worth or Money Back."

D. J. KAUFMAN, 1005-7 Pa. Ave.

Woodward & Lothrop,
DEPARTMENT STORE.
TENTH, ELEVENTH, AND F STS. N. W.

WHERE THE HALF-TONES ARE MADE
THE NATIONAL ENGRAVING COMPANY.
INCORPORATED.
14th St. and Pa. Ave. Phone 1679 Main.

Hewke, PHOTOGRAPHER
56 of the ex-delegates and committees patronized me for good work.
Studio,
430 7th St., N. W. Washington, D. C.

J. E. BONINI'S
BUFFET AND CAFÉ,
727-729 N. Capitol Street.
MAERZEN BEER ON TAP.
A first-class Lunch Counter. Sea food in season. Union throughout.

Phone East 644-A
DR. CARLETON VAUGHAN
Dentist
The Colcord, 310 East Capitol Street
Office Hours: 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Evenings: By Appointment

D. STRAUSS,
Clothier, Hatter and Furnisher
441 Seventh Street N. W.,
Washington, D. C.

If you want to Save Your Money with 5 per cent interest; or want to Buy A Home on monthly payments
Deal with
AMERICAN B. AND L. ASS'N
S. C. HOLMES, Prest.
H. V. Easterling, V-Prest.
F. H. Riordan, Treas. Andrew Wilson, Atty.
W. J. Frizzell, Secy.
Phone 2026 907 G STREET Open 9 to 5

THE RIGGS NATIONAL BANK
Of Washington, D. C.
Capital - - - $1,000,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits, 1,000,000
Exchange on England, Ireland, France and Germany. Letters of credit available in all foreign parts. Bank Collections. Orders for investments. Stocks and Bonds.

SEABOARD
AIR LINE RAILWAY.
Offers the best service between Florida, the Southeast, or Southwest and Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and the East. Two daily through trains, with cafe dining cars and through Pullman sleepers.
Great inducements are offered to fruit growers and truckers in the Manatee country below the frost line in Florida. Send for a handsomely illustrated brochure.
EDWARD F. COST, Traffic Mgr.
CHAS. B RYAN, Gen. Pass. Agt.
Portsmouth, Va.
W. E. CONKLYN, Gen. Agt. Pass. Dept.
1421 Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C.

GIDDINGS & STEELE,
Exclusive
Floor Coverings
813 PENNSYLVANIA AVE. N.W.

SHAFFER
Florist
14th and Eye Sts. Phone 2416 Main
1711 Penna. Ave. Phone 1581 Main

FURNISHED ROOMS
AT
The Orleans
1203 F STREET NORTHWEST
MRS. R. COMMELIN, Prop.

If You Meet
with an accident depriving you of your limbs; Ben Hur (the no assessment insurance order) will pay you one-half the face value of your policy. Loss of eyesight entitles you to the same amount.
HENRY E. CROUCH, Deputy, 424 Fourth St. N. E.
ALBERT P. E. DOYLE, Scribe, 21 O St. N. E.

PRINTERS and Union Members.—For First-Class Meals, Eat at
VICTOR CAFE, 3 H St. N W.
ALBION, Eleventh and E Sts. N. W.
ERIN, Cor. N. J. Ave. and D St. N. W.
U. S. LUNCH ROOM, 320 12th St. N. W.
ALBERT T. SCANLAND, Prop.
Open Day and Night. Best Service.

M. S. JOHNSON,
Foreign and Domestic Woolens now ready for inspection
SUITS $25 UP. UNION SHOP.
1435 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

THOMAS WALSH
Formerly "Steve" Caldwell's.
Whiskies and Cigars
Specialties: MELVALE AND SHERWOOD
COOL LAGER BEER ON DRAUGHT.
BILLIARDS AND POOL
Billiards, 40c. per hour. Pool, 2½c. per cue.
THOMAS WALSH
407 Tenth St. Northwest

E. F. PRICE & CO.
Strongest flat opening blank book made.
Ruling and Binding of every description.
A Specialty of FINE BANK WORK.
BOOKBINDERS 1108 E St. N. W.

G. P. O. BICYCLE REPAIR CO.
ARTHUR D. BENNETT
MANAGER
Wheels stored, cleaned, and repaired (per month)..... $1.00
Wheels stored and cleaned (per month)..... .75
Wheels stored (per month)..... .50
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty
Bicycle Sundries
Salesroom, 33 H St. N. W.

300 1-lb. Loaves to the Barrel.
Every Laboring Man
—requires pure, wholesome, nourishing food such as is made of—
Cream Blend Flour
It not only makes THE BEST Bread, Rolls, Cake and Pastry, but more of them than other brands—therefore it's the cheapest that money can buy.
Your Grocer will supply you.
B. B. EARNSHAW & BRO.,
Wholesalers,
1105, 1107, 1109 11th Street S. E.
1000 and 1002 M Street S. E.

Cole & Swan
Large assortment of Watches, Diamonds, and Jewelry (we make and repair anything in this line).
"Square Dealing" our motto.
21 H Street N. W.

T. HOLLANDER
Men's Furnishings
Hats and Shoes
COR. N. CAPITOL AND H STS.
Opposite Government Printing Office

DO YOU USE TOILET PAPER?
If so, investigate the service furnished by
R. P. Andrews & Co.,
INCORPORATED
627-629 LOUISIANA AVE. N. W.
THE WHOLESALE PAPER HOUSE
IT WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

HOTEL FRITZ REUTER
Rathskeller
and
Restaurant.
COR. PA. AVE. AND JOHN MARSHALL PLACE
Phone: East 388.

Telephone 3662-Y
AMREIN'S
FAMOUS ICE CREAM
HAS NO EQUAL
One Dollar per Gallon
Stores, 1426 and 1810 7th St. N. W.

GEO. W. BARRY COAL CO.
Coal in any quantity at the right price and Wood also.
14-16 H N. E. One minute from G. P. O. Telephone East 234.

B. F. WARNER
FINE WINES and LIQUORS
BLUE LABEL CIGARS
1219 E Street Northwest

FOR LUNCH
TRY THE
Pure Dairy Lunch
935 D Street Northwest

American Ice Co.
1437 Penna. Ave. N. W.

THE UNION
SAVINGS BANK
BOND BUILDING
Cor. 14th St. and New York Ave. N.W.

Three Per Cent Interest on Savings Accounts.

Branch Deposit Agency at T. A. ROVER'S STORE,
Cor. North Capitol and H Sts.
OPEN EVERY MONDAY AND TUESDAY FROM 4 TO 5 P. M.

When in doubt buy at HOUSE & HERRMANN,
FURNITURE, CARPETS, DRAPERIES, ETC.
N. E. Corner Seventh and I Streets N. W.

Don't Buy a Hat Without the Label. .
And See that It Is Sewed In.

Don't Patronize a Dealer Who Has Loose Labels on Hand and Offers to Put One in Your Hat.
LOOSE LABELS
In Retail Stores
ARE COUNTERFEITS.

The John B. Stetson Co., of Philadelphia. Pa., is a non-union concern.

J. GEORGE SMITH
(Formerly a member of the firm of R. P. Andrews & Co.)
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
PAPER AND STATIONERY
My old friends and patrons from J. C. Addison's time to the present will be welcome. I can supply all your needs at lowest prices consistent with quality.
626 E STREET NORTHWEST

The Hub Furniture Co., The Stores that Save You Money.
OUR MOTTO—The Best Values in Furniture and Carpets at the Lowest Prices.
Cash or Credit.
HUB FURNITURE CO.,
(Formerly Wash B. Williams)
Corner Seventh and D Streets N. W.

Carriages Furnished for All Occasions — Phone East 327-M
JOHN ELBERT
Undertaker and Embalmer
54 H STREET N. W.

"Everyone knows how to find fault." No one has yet found fault with the
RELIABLE
The Gas Range for Summer Use
Washington Gas Light Co.
GAS APPLIANCE EXCHANGE

St. Asaph Commission Rooms,
Old Established and Reliable.
Trains leave Thirteen and one-half street and Pennsylvania avenue—Alexandria, Mt. Vernon, and Washington Railway—daily at 12.45, 1.05, 1.25, 2, 2.30, 3.02, and 3.30. Return .39, 4.24, 5.02, 5.58, and at various intervals.

CELTIC CLUB WHISKY
Our Specialty. Never Changes. Once Tried You'll Always Use It. Take No Substitute.
Ports and Sherries for family use, Quarts, 50 and 75 cents. All makes of Beer. Leading brands of Cigars. Ales and Porters on draught the year round.
JOHN CONNOR
New Jersey Ave. and G Sts. N. W.

J. WILLIAM LEE,
Undertaker and Livery, . . .
322 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

RETAIL DRUG CLERKS, No. 240, AND THEIR FRIENDS DO NOT PATRONIZE
JOHN W. JENNINGS
DRUGGIST
1142 Connecticut Avenue
Now on Unfair List of Central Labor Union

REIGN OF LAWLESSNESS.

Murders, Burglaries, and Hold-Ups Rampant in Los Angeles.

[Special Correspondence.]

LOS ANGELES CAL., Sept. 28, 1903.

Every daily paper in Los Angeles, with the exception of the notorious Times, is demanding the removal of the chief of police. During the present year several cold-blooded murders have been committed, and in no instance has the perpetrator been apprehended. Passengers on street cars have been shot by robbers and pedestrians held up on the streets. Business houses have been burglarized and wagon loads of merchandise stolen. During the month of September twenty-five houses have been burglarized. Not one arrest has been made. While the decent papers of the city are denouncing the police department, the Times is actually filled with praise, stating that the fight against the police is confined to the labor unions. Unconsciously the Times has admitted that the police department is so busily engaged in trying to disrupt the unions that it has no time to arrest murderers, footpads and burglars. Union men have been arrested for speaking to non-union men at work, but evidently no attempt is made to arrest murderers. The Employers' Association, which is back of the Times and the police in fighting organized labor, finds itself in an awkward position, as the reign of lawlessness is injuring the city. To stand by the police means a black eye to the city, and to criticize the police practically a criticism of the Times, which directs every move of the chief of police. Meantime, murders, hold-ups and burglaries occur in quick succession. This is the record of the town that is controlled by men who pride themselves on being union-haters.

Union men and women everywhere can help their fellow-unionists in Southern California by writing one letter to each of the following advertisers in the notorious Los Angeles Times:

Carrara Paint, 811 Carrara Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.
"Santal Middy," E. Faugera, 26 North Williams street, New York, N. Y.
Royal Baking Powder Company, 100 Williams street, New York, N. Y.
Philo-Hay Specialties Company—Newark, N. J.
Castoria—The Centaur Company, 77 Murray street, New York, N. Y.
Cuticura—Potter Drug and Chemical Company, Boston, Mass.
Postum—Postum Cereal Company, Battle Creek, Mich.
Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.
Scott's Emulsion—Scott & Bowne, 409 Pearl street New York, N. Y.
Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate—D. Ghirardelli, San Francisco, Cal.

Tell these advertisers that organized labor does not look with favor upon any person or firm that is aiding labor's meanest enemy, the Los Angeles Times.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

What Is Socialism?

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

I am free to confess to being one of the many who have "misty" ideas as to what Socialism is, but as defined by Mr. David Eccles I am more befogged than ever. In attempting to bring their theories to reductio ad absurdum why doesn't he go a step or two farther and ask, "If the Government can send a letter across the continent for 2 cents, why can't it send one to the moon for 5? or if it can send a telegraphic dispatch to Europe, why can't it send one to Jupiter?" If "too far East is West," then it must follow that too far North is South, and searchers for the North Pole must be cautious or they will fetch up against the South Axis. "Too much of a good thing is an evil." This may have been your experience, David, but it was because you didn't have sense enough left to know when to stop. If a man accumulates $10,000, it is good, but if he adds $10,000 to it, it is an evil. That's what our friends (the Socialists) claim. One may go on like this forever, but such "baby logic" proves nothing and convinces nobody.

But "Socialists aim to abolish a natural law—the survival of the fittest." Now this is somewhat perturbing, and if it is true, I am done with them. This is a fine old law and has always stood by me. It means so much and covers so much ground. Whenever I get the worst of an argument as to the origin of species or the origin of anything else, I simply claim that the question resolves itself into "a survival of the fittest." This settles the whole matter and dumfounds my opponent.

But while this law may operate all right in an abstract sort of way, what concerns me most is how it will work if applied in a concrete and practical way. How will David and I and lots of other folks I know come out? In a physical sense, how can we stand as against the Jeffries, the Corbetts, and the Sandows? Surely we would have to get off the earth; and from an intellectual standpoint we are not fit to think as compared with the Huxleys, the Tyndalls, and the Spencers. Put into practical operation, half the people, half the houses, the trees, the theories, the isms—everything—would be swept away; and so we could go on "surviving" till there was only one of a kind left. Which shall that be? As far as "isms" are concerned, it might be Socialism. Who can be judge? Can you, David?

H. HARRALD.

The Sixth Clause and Mr. Birney.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

It has been but a short time since the reinstatement to his former position of a certain bookbinder named Miller. The newspapers with scare heads printed the trouble in the Government Printing Office, and the idea obtained that Miller was a printer, and from that the arraignment of the Typographical Union commenced. Among those who have jumped into the breach is a man named Birney, who, in a recent issue of a daily paper of this city, proceeded to put the whole affair on the rack. Not only what he had to say, but he came up with the verdict of others as well posted as himself. He demands that the Typographical Union come to the front and repudiate part of its obligation and stop its "baby act pleas." Perhaps the reason no one has explained this matter to Mr. Birney is because no one knew he was needing any information on this line, or any other; perhaps didn't know him. He belittles Secretary Garrett for not explaining what he don't understand, which is the sixth clause in the obligation, and which he says is the whole and only thing objectionable in the aforesaid obligations. He says to properly understand all these "apologies" and "prevarications" it is best to reproduce the entire obligation, which he does, with no criticism except the 6th clause, which is:

6. That my fidelity to the Union and my duty to the members thereof shall in no sense be interfered with by any allegiance that I may now or hereafter owe to any other organization, social, political, or religious, secret or otherwise.

When I took this obligation my "baby" mind didn't see all those things which Mr. Birney says are there. "Any other organization" means political party or religious society—the creation of men—for ends to be obtained only through their organization.

Mr. Birney must know that there are several of us, and that these "baby" intellects didn't announce this without careful and mature deliberation. Among us there are Catholics and Protestants, and would he have us tell him their ideas are not harmonious. There are Republicans, Democrats, Populists, and Solicialists among us. Does Mr. Birney not know that these are organizations and not harmonious as to results? It is international and politics can not enter. Mr. Birney seems to labor under the impression that politics and religion in an organized sense is supreme, and nothing but men pledged to treason and any kind of heresy could take this obligation.

If the obligation had read as he interprets it it would be "treason, if need be, or infidelity, either or both." No, Mr. Birney we don't mean that, we are a sample of free born citizens, and will not follow, but lead in this doctrine of freedom; and President Roosevelt knows that no other organization will turn out a larger proportion of men for our country than the printers.

In every section, side by side, Democrats and Republicans, Catholic and Protestants, men and women, we work without a schism, each demanding for the other the same wage for the same work. This is the analysis of the 6th clause in a nutshell.

Yes, we affirmed our allegiance to the Government willingly, but if that oath or affirmation had had inserted in it any political party platform and particular church dogma, or either, not a mother's son would have signed it. The G. P. O. would have gone out of business. Nothing hinders us in the exercise of our political or religious opinions, but this obligation is intended to and does bar politics and religion, as organizations or parties from the union, and are not permitted to enter under any circumstances; except in so far as our preamble sets forth, which any fair-minded person will say is just, benevolent, and patriotic. If the day ever comes when a political party or church organization dictates to the Typographical Union that day will be the beginning of the end; and to prevent anything of this kind this much discussed 6th clause was inserted. If the members of the union and its friends desire its perpetuity, let the 6th clause, or one embodying that idea, stand.

C. E. JONES.

Resignation of J. P. Morse.

The many friends of Mr. J. P. Morse, of the Specification Division, will be sorry to learn that he has severed his connection with the Government Printing Office, having tendered his resignation at the close of thirty-four years of continuous service. He entered Government employ in 1869, being appointed from Genesee County, New York, first going to the Document Room. In 1870 he was transferred to the Specification Division, and in 1872, when the bound or library volume was commenced, he was selected as the reviser, doing all the revising from the division, except the work set in nonpareil, for about fifteen years. The increase of the work during the time he has been employed on it may be seen from the fact that when he entered the division only twenty-eight skilled workmen were employed, while at hte present time about three hundred are required. The only men in the division who have been in continuous service as long as Mr. Morse are Messrs. Daniel Grady and Charles W. Baker.

Mr. Morse has been looking forward to retirement for some time, but hesitated on account of the many pleasant associations of the office. He was held in the highest esteem by all the employes, and his long and thorough acquaintance with the work enabled him to be of great service to them in "untangling" many of the knotty problems which are constantly arising on this work. We wish him many years yet of happy, active, useful life.

W. A. D.

Will Not Affiliate.

The Bricklayers and Masons' International Union, having submitted to a vote of all the local unions under its jurisdiction, a proposition to join the American Federation of Labor has received returns sufficient to warrant the defeat of the proposition. The vote taken on the proposition is as follows: Yea, 314; nay, 352. Three unions cast a tie vote. Total number of unions voting, 669; not voting 39; majority against proposition, 38.

Bricklayers' Executive Committee.

The following is the list of members of the Executive Committee of Bricklayers' Union, No. 1: John G. Wolfe, chairman, 1023 New Jersey avenue; W. Cronin, 1415 Thirty-sixth street northwest; Samuel Haslett, 221 South Lee street, Alexandria, Va.; John Shanahan, 2352 Eighth street northwest; John McCarten, 1237 Maryland avenue northeast.

In purchasing goods from advertisers in this paper, do not fail to mention the fact that you saw the advertisement in THE TRADES UNIONIST. It will accord you good treatment at the hand of the salesman, and incidentally help the paper.

Union Directory.

TO SECRETARIES: Please notify this office of any change in officers' addresses, time or place of meeting. Corrections will be made quarterly.

American Federation of Labor—Headquarters. Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Sam'l Gompers, President. Frank Morrison, Secretary.

Allied Printing Trades Council meets last Thursday in the month at Typographical Temple. J. A. Wiedman, Secretary-Treasurer, 15 I street northeast.

Allied Label League meets every Friday night at 8 o'clock at 905 E street northwest. C. A. Pfau, Secretary, 905 E street northwest

Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, Local No. 148, meets second and fourth Thursday evenings at 922 Pa. avenue northwest. Geo. Bakersmith, Secretary, 3315 Brightwood avenue northwest.

Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers. Local Union No. 102, meets first and third Wednesdays at Loehl's Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. D. C. Childress, Secretary. T. F. Ryan, Business Agent, Room 1, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

American Society Plate Engravers meets first Saturday in each month at Grand Army Hall. A. C. Ruebsam, Secretary, Bethesda, Montgomery County, Md.

Bakers Union, No. 118, meets first and third Saturday in each month at 430 Eighth street northwest. John G. Schmidt, Secretary and Business Agent, 333 I street s w.

Bakers' Drivers' L. U. No. 33, T. D. I. U. meets first and third Thursday evening of each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Thomas C. Fox, Secretary, 922 Fourth street northeast.

Bartenders' League Local No. 75, meets first and fourth Sunday of each month at 2 p. m. at Macabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. Jere F. McCarthy, Secretary, 1017 Maryland avenue southwest.

Beer Drivers' and Stablemen's Union, No. 234, meets first Sunday of each month at 314 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. Walter T. Trittipoe, Secretary, 1346 Wallach Place northwest.

Bookbinders' Union, No. 4, meets first Tuesday in each month at Typograhical Temple. James A. Stockman, Secretary, 735 North Capitol street.

Brewery Workers' Union, No. 118, meets second and last Sunday of the month at 314 Pennsylvania ave. southeast. Frank Rom, Secretary, 818 New Hampshire ave. northwest.

Representative Business Houses.
OF WASHINGTON, D. C.

The following wholesale and retail firms and professional men are friendly to Union Labor and are entitled to its patronage:

BANKS.
THE LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK, Safe Deposit Vaults. $2.50 up
CAPITAL LOAN GUARANTEE COMPANY, 602 F Street Northwest. Every one can borrow money without security.

BAKERS.
HOLMES & SON, Celebrated Home-Made Pies and Milk Bread. First and E Streets N. W. Phone East 864.

BOOTS AND SHOES.
CROCKER'S SHOES, 939 Pennsylvania Ave. N. W.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.
DANIEL LOUGHRAN, 1347 Pennsylvania Ave.
LUCHS & BRO., Wholesalers. Phone E 755.

COACH FINDINGS.
J. B. KENDALL, 485-87 Missouri avenue N. W.

CUTLERY AND SPORTING GOODS.
D. N. WALFORD, 477 and 909 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

DRY GOODS.
LANSBURGH & BROTHER, 420 to 426 7th St. N. W

DYER.
E. E. WHEATLEY, 1068 Jefferson Ave. N. W. Phone, West 117-Y.

ENGRAVERS.
THE MAURICE JOYCE ENGRAVING CO. Cuts and Illustrations. 418 11th street N. W

FIRE INSURANCE.
Insure with THE RIGGS FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.
FIREMEN'S INSURANCE COMPANY, Seventh St. and Louisiana Ave.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.
JULIUS LANSBURGH, Interocean Building, 512 Ninth St. N. W.

GROCERIES.
LITTLE & PAGE, "Good things to eat." 1210 F St. N.W
W. C. ERGOOD, "Good goods at Ergoods." Corner Ninth and H Streets Northwest.

GROCER AND COFFEE ROASTER.
SOMERSET R. WATERS. 1342 Seventh Street Northwest, Corner O.

HARDWARE AND TOOLS.
RUDOLPH, WEST & CO., 1332 New York avenue northwest.

HUDSON'S VARIETY STORE.
B. F. HUDSON, 416 Seventh Street Northwest.

HATTERS AND FURRIERS.
JAMES Y. DAVIS' SONS. 1201 Pennsylvania Ave.
A. H. BURDINE, Union Overalls, Hats, and Gloves. Seventh Street and Virginia avenue southwest.

LIME, SAND, GRAVEL, CEMENT.
NATIONAL MORTAR COMPANY, Office: Room 9, Ralston Bldg., 612 F St. N. W. Office telephone: East 688.

LUMBER AND MILL WORK.
THOMAS R. RILEY, 13th St. and Ohio Ave.

MACHINISTS AND ENGINEERS.
FORSBERG & MURRAY, Pumps and Elevators. Engines and Boilers 8th and Water Sts. S. W.

PHARMACISTS.
LOUIS F. BRADLEY, Prescription Druggist. 8th and E Sts. S. E

PHOTO-LITHOGRAPHERS.
THE NORRIS PETERS CO., 458 and 460 Pennsylvania avenue N. W
ANDREW B. GRAHAM Lithographer, Photo-Lithographer, and Half-Tones. 1230 Pa. Ave. Phones: 1031-M, 1679-M.

PIANO AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
E. E. DROOP & SONS, 925 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

PRINTING SUPPLIES.
NATIONAL PRINTER'S SUPPLY CO., Machine-made Rollers. 414 10th St. N. W.

RESTAURANT AND WINE ROOM.
JOHN M. BECKER, Opp. Navy Yard., Cor. 8th and Georgia Ave. S.E

SHOES.
DAVE WOLF. SHOES FOR EVERYBODY. 432 Seventh Street N. W.

SHAVING PARLORS
VINCENT R. CILENTO, 805 North Capitol Street.

TITLES TO REAL ESTATE.
LAWYERS' TITLE & GUARANTY INS. CO. 412 5th St. N. W.

WINES AND LIQUORS.
SAMUEL G. STEWART, Heurich Brewing Co's. beers and popular brands of whiskies. 1141 Seventh st. northwest between L and M.
GEORGE W. DRIVER, 605 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

DO NOT WANT OUR PATRONAGE.

Following brands of cigars: Cinco, Cremo, George W. Childs, Henry George, Tom Moore, Robert Burns, and General Arthur.

The following firms have declared against the interest of Organized Labor and are not regarded as deserving their patronage:

NAME.	BUSINESS.	LOCATION.
Chevy Chase Railway and circle.	Street railway	Chevy Chase and Circle.
Keenan Bros	Gents' furnishers	Pa. ave. bet. 14th and 15th sts., and 523 Seventh st. n. w.
B. Solomon	Gents' furnisher	708 Seventh street n.w.
Rufus H. Darby	Printer	508 Fourteenth street n.w.
H. L. McQueen	Printer	1108 E street n.w.
N. Sickles (Nat'l Cigar Factory).	Cigar manufacturer	1011 Penna. avenue n.w.
E. Gundershiemer	Baker	516 Second street n.w. and stall in Center Market.
Peter Grogan	Carpet dealer	817 to 823 Seventh street n.w.
John H. Fitzgerald	Horseshoer	443 Prather's alley n.w.
S. S Daish	Coal and wood	Florida ave. and Third st. n.e.
Wilbur F. Nash	Meat dealer	Center and O st. Markets.
C. E. Hencke	Electrician	711 G street n.w.
National Mosaic Company	Mosaics	207 Fourth st. n.w.
M. Minster	Gents' furnisher	1343 F st. n.w.
A. Minster	Gents' furnisher	499 and 501 Penna. ave. n. w
Cyrus B. Reese	Employing steamfitter	1519 Fourteenth street n. w.
C. A. Schneider & Sons	Union Iron Works	212 Twelfth street n. w.
Minster & Paterson	Gents' furnishers	1109 Pennsylvania ave. n. w
Conrad Becker	Trunks and harness	1328 F st. n. w.
Chapin & Sacks	Dealer in butter	924 Louisana ave. n. w.
Home Ice Company	Ice	Twelfth and V sts. n.w.
Emil Wagner	Restaurant	210 Ninth st. n. w.
W. E. Carney	Cigar manufacturer	921 G st. s. w.
Nat'l Roller & Ball Bearing Co.	Machinery	33rd and K sts. n. w.
L. Rosenberg	Clothing and shoes	911-913 Eighth st. s. e.
Corbin Thompson	Dairyman	Sharon Dairy, 324 B st. s. w.
S. D. Houck	Dealer in harness	301 Tenth street n. w.
M. Eisemann & Bro	Dry goods	1924-26 Pa. ava. and 806 7th n.w
Elite Steam Laundry	Laundry	1205 G street n.w.
Benjamin Schwartz	Gents' furnisher and tailor	337 Pa. ave. s. e.
Emrich Beef Co	Meat Dealers
John Coleman	Horseshoer	1300 36th street n. w.
Hecht & Co	Dry Goods, etc	517-519 Seventh street n. w
Charles Rauscher	Caterer	Conn. ave. and L st. n. w
Academy of Music	Theater	Ninth and D streets n. w.
Lafayette Square Theater	Theater	16th st. and Pa. ave. n. w.
E. H. Snyder & Co	Tailors	1111 Pa. ave n. w
Owen Owen	Tailor	423 Eleventh street n. w.
L. A. Downey	Tailor	433 Eleventh street n. w.
J. M. Stein & Co	Tailors	413 Eleventh street n. w
J. D. Burns & Co	Tailors	701 Ninth street n. w.
J. F. Gatchel	Tailor	604 Thirteenth street n. w.
G. Warfield Simpson	Tailor	1208 F street n. w.
E. H. Catlin & Co	Machinists	407 13½ street n. w.
Thomas Somerville & Sons	Steam Fitters' Supplies	816 Thirteenth street n. w.
Joseph Mathy	Stove dealer and tin worker	1918 Pennsyvania avenue.
William Meehan	Saloon	943 B street n. w.
Robert Lowe	Stone yard and mill	113 Third street s. w.
John W. Jennings	Druggist	1142 Connecticut avenue n. w.
E. Tapscott	Contractor

THE OBSERVER.

In a recent conversation on the subject of early closing with one of the leading merchants of Washington, he complained, with no little degree of truth, that so long as his own employer closed, the clerk considered that his work ended at 9 p. m. on Saturday, and while he was sorry to see others of his calling toiling after that hour his responsibility ceased. To some extent in the cases of the older clerks who are unable to stand the stress of a campaign this is true, but to the younger men no excuse can be offered that would justify them in pursuing such a course at this time. While the majority of the larger stores close their doors at that hour, there is no denying the fact that business is done in many places along Seventh street and the Avenue after closing time, thus placing the fair employer at a disadvantage, naturally making him disatisfied, and in the end bound to react against the clerk by causing the employer to adopt the methods of which there are plenty, whereby he can carry on business after hours and still close his establishment as agreed. It is the duty of every clerk to patrol the district where employers refuse to close at 9 p. m. and on Sunday, and acquaint their friends who insist upon shopping after that hour that they are injuring the clerk's cause. This should be kept up until the public are thoroughly educated to shopping early, and in a few months would result in the closing of every store in the business district, as no sane business man would keep his establishment open if there were no demand for his goods. Young men do your duty. Show your employer that the Clerk's Union is not only a benefactor to its members, but is ready to protect the interests of its employers.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICIAL ORGAN CENTRAL LABOR UNION, WASHINGTON BRANCH, AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Vol. VIII. No. 18. WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1903. Price, 3 Cents.

THE CENTRAL LABOR UNION

Five Nominations for Delegate to the A. F. of L. Made at Last Meeting.

CHAPIN & SACKS AGAIN FAIR

More Unions Take Action Against Academy of Music—Operative Plasterers Asked to Affiliate—Report of Contract Committee. Amendments to Constitution.

The regular meeting of the Central Labor Union was called to order at 8.30 p. m , on Monday evening, President Sherman in the chair.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

CREDENTIALS.

From Local No. 102, Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, certifying R. G. M. Ross, vice P. S. Murphy, resigned.

From Washington Branch, Granite Cutters, certifying J. J. Crowley, Geo. F. Smith, Michael F. Buckley, William Silver, and Hugh Reid.

From Local No. 5, Interior Marble and Slate Cutters, certifying to W. H. Mobly and J. Lewis.

A favorable report being received on the credentials presented, the delegates present were obligated and seated.

SPECIAL ORDER.

The special order of business being the nomination for delegate to A. F. of L. convention, it was taken up.

Delegate Frailey (Bookbinders) nominated Delegate E. J. Roche (Bookbinders).

Delegate Dietrich (Typographical Union) seconded nomination of E. J. Roche.

Delegate Ross (Sheet Metal Workers) nominated J. A. Daly (Sheet Metal Workers).

Delegate Caldwell (Musicians) nominated Delegate Cowan (Machinists).

Delegate Pletcher seconded nomination of Delegate Cowan.

Delegate Jere F. McCarthy (Bartenders' League) was nominated.

Delegate McCracken (Hoisting Engineers) was nominated.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Paperhangers' Union, No. 420, asking that A. P. Lang & Co., Fourteenth street and Rhode Island avenue northwest, be placed on the unfair list. Referred to Grievance Committee.

From "Jeremiah," a clipping in New York Herald, properly inclosed in mourning border, deploring the sad state of affairs in the country, due to growth of trusts, etc. Placed on file.

From Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 239, submitting new scale of wages for members of that union, which, being indorsed by the Contract Committee, was approved by the Council.

From Frank Morrison, secretary of American Federation of Labor, in reference to art metal work being done in this city by unfair firm. Referred to the Business Agent of Allied Building Trades Council.

From Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 239, stating that a fine of $2 will be placed on any member of that union patronizing the unfair Academy of Music. Placed on file.

From Brewery Workers' Union, No. 118, stating that a fine of $5 will be placed on any of its members patronizing the Academy of Music. Placed on file.

Prom Sweet, Orr & Co., calling attention to the fact that their house is worthy of consideration as advocates of everything avorable to union labor. Referred to Allied Label League.

From Local Union No. 430, Team Drivers, stating that a fine of $5 was placed on members of that union patronizing the Academy of Music.

From R. G. M. Ross, president of the United Protective League of Labor, commending the attitude of the Central Labor Union in relation to position taken on certain matters before it, and asking for appointment of a committee to meet him to formulate a plan of agreement looking to closer affiliation for benefit of all concerned. Placed on file.

From the Council of Allied Building Trades, asking that an invitation be extended to the Operative Plasterers' Union to affiliate with the Central Labor Union and the Council of Allied Building Trades. Request granted.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Contract Committee reported favorably on Barbers' Union scale.

The Contract Committee also reported on Varnell case. The report of the committee was accepted and the committee was instructed to obtain a contract with Varnell & Son. Failing to do so, they are to be placed on the unfair list.

Delegate Babcock was placed on Contract Committee to handle the Robert Portner matter.

CALL OF UNIONS.

Delegate Winslow, from Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, reported that the recent convention of the International Association had voted to affiliate with the American Federation of Labor.

Barbers called attention to new shop card.

Musicians called attention to new working card in possession of their members.

AMENDMENTS.

The following amendments were submitted for adoption and will be considered at the next meeting:

Add to section 34 the follow paragraphs:

"When any firm or individual is declared unfair by this body all affiliated organizations are required to indorse the same within thirty days from date of such action by the central body, and no grievance submitted by any organization failing to do so will be considered by this body until the requirement stated is complied with.

"It shall be the duty of the delegates to this body, having personal knowledge of the fact, to report to the secretary of the Central Labor Union the name of any member of an allied union who is known to patronize any firm or individual who is declared unfair by this body, and the secretary shall so notify the union to which such member belongs."

Create a new section in the constitution to read as follows:

"All bills must be submitted to the Auditing Committee and receive their indorsement before motion can be entertained for payment."

JUST EVERY-DAY LIFE.

Over in the old home town, Lexington, Ky., a number of years ago, some boys were playing in the little college lawn of Transylvania University. From her nursery window a red-headed baby gal—Louise Dudley, by name—cooed and clapped her hands in glee to see the lads at play. A few months since, while I was over in New York, one of those boys walked, amid plaudits, down the gangplank of an ocean liner—now Col. Leslie Bruce, the presiding genius of the American rifle team. A few days later the red-headed baby also walked down the gangplank of another steamer, the center of an admiring throng—now Mrs. Leslie Carter, sometimes called "the American Bernhardt."

H. S. SUTTON.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

The Labor Press.

President Gompers has the following to say concerning labor papers: "Were it not for the labor press the labor movement would not be what it is to-day, and any man who tries to injure a labor paper is a traitor to the cause. If you don't agree with the policy of the paper, go to the office and say so in a manly way, and don't go around throwing insinuations. Perhaps you are wrong and the paper is right. If the paper has made a mistake, you can depend upon it that a correction will cheerfully be printed. Corporations will give their organs loyal support and if labor is to be successful in securing justice, labor papers must be supported."

False Advertising.

There are now appearing in newspapers throughout the country advertisements inserted by the Employers' Association, of Los Angeles, Cal., for the purpose of procuring bricklayers, carpenters, and plasterers. The Association fears to describe truthfully the brand of men wanted and thus instead of honestly stating that non-union men are wanted use the descripiton "Independent bricklayers, carpenters, and plasterers," thereby hoping to evade the criminal consequences of making false statements in advertising for help.

And yet this is an official act of an "employers' union." Are they honest men? Do their contemporaries authorize such methods in their fight for the physical and moral welfare of the human race?

A Critic Answered.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

People who jump at conclusions without previous study usually have "misty ideas." It was scarcely necessary for Mr. Harrald to inform us that he is greatly "befogged." That is abundantly manifest. He wants to know why I did not supplement my argument against the Socialists' mode of reasoning by asking a lot of questions having no earthly relevancy to either their position or mine, such as, "Why the Government, if it can send a dispatch to Europe, can't send one to Jupiter," etc. In the first place, no attempt was made to define the sphere of Government; in the second, I am not in the habit of propounding fool questions. I was simply dealing with a general law, and pointing out limitations that make actions good or bad.

Nothing that Mr. Harrald has said really warrants notice; but lest there should be others similarly "befogged" I will elucidate further.

Nature, in all directions, is determined in its course by opposing forces. Wise, harmonious adjustment is a balancing of these forces. As the earth in its orbit is a mean between the force of gravity and centrifugal energy, so the path of social evolution is a balance between selfishness and altruism. Both of these propensities have their uses. Either in excess is bad. If selfishness acted alone maternal love and social organization would be impossible. On the other hand, an altruism unbalanced by self-regard leads to degeneracy and parasitism Experience only can determine the happy medium.

In my own experience I have often discovered that "too much of a good thing is an evil," and Mr. Harrald bluntly imforms me that was because I "did not have sense enough left to know when to stop." Exactly. But experience makes fools wiser, and I don't argue now like the Socialist that "what is good in part must be good in whole," and if the Government wisely can do some things for us it ought to do everything. However alluring this sophism may be to Mr. Harrald it no longer catches me, for I am just a bit afraid that without experience these good people "don't have sense enough left to know when to stop."

Every illustration Mr. Harrald draws but confirms the truth of my position. Whether an added $10,000 is good or bad depends upon the man and his surroundings. Vast wealth bequeathed to the lazy and sensual is always injurious; and though the standard is variable with different men, still the possibility remains of the best men having too much wealth either for their own good or the good of society. Solomon is reputed to have been wise, and had some experience in riches, and he records that great riches are "vanity." Even in affairs of love, that highest of all felicities, he seems not to have had "sense enough left to know when to stop," and mournfully whines, "Stay with me flagons, comfort me with apples, for I am sick of love."

I used the expression "too far East is West" as a metaphor, and still think it a good one. Traveling too far to the North will surely bring you South; but if you are after the North pole and "have sense enough left to know when to stop" you should "fetch up" there. I tell you it is a great thing in life to always have "sense enough left to know when to stop."

Mr. Harrald has a reverence for the survival of the fittest in an abstract way, but like Josh Billings in regard to giving the devil his due, he is anxious to know under such circumstances "what is to become of you and me." "How will David and I and lots of others come out?" Well, if we have sense enough left not to run up against Nature's buzz saw we may survive awhile yet. The world isn't peopled with Jeffries and Corbetts and Spencers and Huxleys, and it will be a long time before it will be. Carlisle says most of the population are fools. In such surroundings we ought to feel at home. As long as our conceit don't lead us to tackle the Jeffries and Spencers and wipe up the earth with them, they will complacently tolerate our pigmy presence and egotistic ignorance. This survival law we so much dread isn't so bad after all. It don't confine itself to one line of progress, but takes in all. Fitness in a social state includes morals. It is the immoral man who don't live out half his days; and if a Jeffries or a Corbett don't develop along this latter line their physical prowess won't save them. Mr. Harrald has completely inverted the order of evolution. We are not going from the heterogenous to the homogeneous, but vice versa. Difference, diversity, individuality is Nature's plan. We started with "one of a kind," but now have many kinds, and this complexity will increase. Even a pigmy may find a place in the coming order, and will be all right, provided he has sense enough left to keep his place. Socialism seeks to stop this differentiation and tries to have us as near alike as possible. In this I said it is fighting Nature and will be swept aside. An appeal to force on the part of these misguided fanatics can only mean their own destruction.

I hope I have now lifted some of the fog from Mr. Harrald's mind and that he will "have sense enough left to know when to stop."

Mr. Bloomer's attempt to hedge is no doubt the best that could be said under the circumstances, but he may discover as the discussion proceeds that he is still groping for a standard.

DAVID ECCLES.

Socialism the Boon of the Worker.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

Though Mr. Eccles pretends to be opposed to Socialism, he can not be oblivious to the fact that the trend of evolution of society has been toward associated or collective methods of production. Surely he would not be in favor of abolishing our present cooperative institutions and substitute private ownership and management of them. The fact is that production is already socialized by the trusts, and the choice will soon be between Plutocratic Socialism and Democratic Socialism.

The trades unions are trusts pure and simple, but so long as they keep out of politics and only look after their own poor and sick, capitalists need only smile at them, and give it to them in the neck when they become too manifestly independent. The inane policy of the American Federation of Labor in cringing, fawning, and supplicating for favors from legislative bodies, which they could take without asking, is enough to make even a horse laugh.

The fruits of industrial evolution are now reaped by a few. The trust is Socialism for the few at the expense of the many. What the Socialists would have is Socialism for all at the expense of none. The trust utilizes the methods of Socialism—cooperation, combination, and co-ordination—to get the best results from man and nature without the Socialist aim and spirit.

It is because I am intensely patriotic and have an abiding faith in the spirit and genius of the American people that I am confident that Socialist methods will continue to increase in this country more rapidly than in any other.

The opposition to progress, however, is almost as futile as was the opposition of laborers to the introduction of new machinery. The laborers were blind to the benefits of machinery, because they saw in it only an instrument of oppression, and their strength was wasted in an endeavor to return to the handicraft stage of production. The same is true to-day of the middle class. They are bending their energies toward the destruction of the trusts, not realizing that the trusts are the natural product of industrial evolution. The solution of the problem for both the laborers and the middle class is not in endeavoring to destroy machinery and the trusts, but in their collective ownership and control.

Mr. Eccles tries to deny that labor produces all wealth. It is easy to find exceptions to any rule, but the exceptions he finds but proves the rule. And his contention that labor is rewarded is contradicted by the census reports, which say that labor's share of the wealth produced is but 17 per cent. As to the recompense for labor, it is the laborer's sorrow to be paid in money only, but the joy of the artist is found in his art. Our competitive system tends to give a view of the question of recompense that is entirely too materialistic. There is a joy and satisfaction in intelligent labor performed entirely outside of and beyond material recompense.

The Government Printing Office, in which Mr. Eccles is employed, is Socialistic in its operation, in that the compositors all receive the same pay, while there is as much difference in aptitude, skill, and intelligence among the employes in the big printery as is to be found in any other trade or calling.

Just in proportion as industry is socialized and managed collectively, it becomes a blessing instead of a means of oppression and extortion. If the coal mines of Pennsylvania were owned and operated by the State, the miners would not be put on half time in order that the output would be limited so that the profit would not be reduced. But because the mines are owned by individuals, hundreds of poor families will have to suffer the coming winter in order that the coal barons may reap more profit on the coal the miners delved for them. A community that will tolerate such a method of being held up deserves no sympathy, and it is but just that they be made to suffer.

J. H. SWERDFIGER.

Allied Label League.

The regular weekly meeting of the Allied Label League was called to order last Friday evening, President McCarthy in the chair.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Communications received from the Central Labor Union, referring to trade conditions were referred to proper committees.

Brewery Workers reported that they are endeavoring to have their label adopted and are seeking the aid of the retail liquor dealers and bartenders.

Registered Drug Clerks reported that a vigorous fight is being made on J. W. Jennings, the Connecticut avenue druggist, and asked further aid in bringing him to terms.

Bakers reported that the National Biscuit Co. is making a special canvass of the city in the interest of their goods, and that certain grocers claim that employes of the Government Printing Office insist on buying the trust goods.

Adjourned.

To-day.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

To-day—Our country is enjoying the greatest prosperity in its history.

To-day—There is more money in circulation, per capita, among our people than ever known in this or any other country.

To-day—The children of the workingman attend school, frequent libraries. They are intelligent, and being educated that they may have the ability to perform such duties in life as the future may have in store for them.

To-day—Every trade has its union, and the members of these unions are the best educated, the most intelligent, and those possessing the greatest ability in the trade.

To-day—Workingmen have fewer hours for a day's labor, more hours for study and improvement, and more hours to enjoy the blessings of home.

To day—Break down the tradeunions; scatter the members. Let them ask for work as individuals, the man who employs them will do so on his own terms. The hours of labor will increase, the wages decrease, the children forced to leave school and enter mills and factories while in their infancy. The man with money, backed by the mighty power of his "dust," will be the great "I am" he aspires to be; the laboring man his cringing, abject slave, "who begs his leave to toil."

To-day—Trade unions might and could be disbanded in lands where monarchs reign, where fear, illiteracy, and base senility exists. But—

To-day—And as long as our Republic stands trade unions, organized and maintained for the betterment of the working classes, will exist. "The union must and shall be preserved."

To-day—It is our right and privilege to associate together, for in union there is strength. It was a union of thirteen colonies, organized for self protection and to demand rights denied them, that was the foundation of the grandest government, the home of the happiest, the best cared for, and the bravest people on earth.

To-day—Workingmen, it is a condition which confronts us, not a theory.

W.

A NOBLE UNDERTAKING.

Temporary Hospital For Use of Government Printing Office Projected.

The Women's Bindery Union, members of which are employed in the Government Printing Office, have maintained for the past three years, at their own expense, through the courtesy of the Public Printer, Hon. F. W. Palmer, a sick room for the use of the employes of the Bindery. They have received many commendations for the good accomplished in the time their worthy philantrophy has been carried on, the Bookbinder's Union having shown its appreciation of the efforts of the good women doing their work by aiding them in a financial way on more than one occasion.

That the efforts of the founders of this worthy work has been appreciated is evidenced by the gratitude expressed by the immediate members of the family of the patients that came under their care, in three cases a fatal termination of the illness having resulted, and the knowledge that in the supreme moment of trial that proper aid was forthcoming acted as a slight relief for the loss of the loved ones.

For an establishment like the Government Printing Office, it is essential to the well-being of every employee in that great bee hive of industry that the work begun by the Women's Bindery Union, in caring for the sick should be extended to greater proportions in taking possession of the handsome new building that will put under practically one roof over 2,800 employes. In this connection, the Executive Board of the Women's Bindery Union have presented to the Public Printer the following petition:

HON. FRANK W. PALMER, Public Printer:

DEAR SIR: About three years ago the Woman's Bindery Union petitioned you for a room in the office for the temporary accommodation of those suddenly taken ill at their work, and, after consultation with the several foremen, the petition was granted.

Now, that the scene of operations may soon be transferred to the new building, we respectfully renew our petition that a room or inclosure of some kind be designated there for the same purpose, in which those stricken with sudden illness or accident may be temporarily placed, away from the noise and bustle necessarily consequent upon the daily work of the office, where they may be in comparative quiet until removal.

There is no doubt that the Public Printer will act on this matter at his earliest opportunity, and the new quarters of the G. P. O. will be equipped with a complete room to give first aid to the injured and to care for those taken ill at work.

This enterprise is in keeping with similar ones in large establishments throughout the country, notably in department stores, where good work has been accomplished in caring for employes and visitors to the establishment.

Oysters in every style at R. A. Driscoll's, North Capitol and G streets. Overholt whisky, 10c.

Treasury Division.

James Willis is taking the remainder of his leave.

Mrs. Margaret Callanan is enjoying fifteen days' leave.

H. L. Murray was transferred to the day proof room about ten days ago.

Wm. H. Dickson was transferred to this division one day last week from the main office.

George H. Healey, formerly of the Fifth Division, has been transferred here as a maker-up.

John Mulroy was on the sick list last week. He resumed work Monday, but has not entirely recovered yet.

George O. Atkinson returned to work Monday after an absence of a month visiting relatives and friends in New Hampshire.

Miss Christie S. Bayne is with us again after an absence of several weeks on leave. She reports a good time and feels greatly benefited by her outing.

W. A. DeGroot has exhausted his leave and returned to work. His wife, who has been seriously ill for the past eight months, is still confined to her bed.

SUBSCRIBER.

Try oyster pan roast, 10c. Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, North Capitol and G streets.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Official Organ Central Labor Union and Allied Building Trades, A. F. of L.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

The Trades Unionist Publishing Company

E. W. PATTON.....President
A. J. E. HUBBARD.....Vice-President
T. M. RING.....Secretary

Office: 441-443 G Street Northwest.

TELEPHONE EAST 15 Y.

SUBSCRIPTION

One year (in advance) - - - - $1.00
Six months (in advance) - - - - .50

Entered at the Post-Office, Washington, D. C. as Second-Class Matter.

THE TRADES UNIONIST is heartily and unqualifiedly indorsed by the Central Labor Union and the Allied Building Trades as well as by the various locals connected with the two central bodies.

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL WASHINGTON. 2

Only Eight-Hour Union Office in Town.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1903.

THE song of the flood is, "Woodman spare that tree."

PERHAPS Venezuela would like to become the Sick Man of America.

WHAT a great graft PARRY'S billion dollar anti-trust fund would make!

JAPAN discovered that China was an easy mark, but she will not find Russia so Chinesey.

BULGARIA may be making a reckless bluff, and then again the cards may be to her liking.

WE would suggest as a motto for the anti union unions, "The laborer is worthy of his lower."

JAPAN would do well to heed the pugilistic maxim that a good big man is better than a good little man.

PERHAPS Russia may evacuate Manchuria by the time THE TRADES UNIONIST debating club has agreed on a definition of "socialism."

WE will have a pennant-winning baseball club next year; likewise an air ship that will fly, and Sir Thomas will doubtless come over and lift the cup.

JOSEPH E. MORCOMBE, the American newspaper man who is about to join the Sultan's school of journalism, will tell the truth for a consideration and shame the musical comedy devil.

IT is asserted that the Turk realizes that the Powers are not likely to interfere with him, owing to misunderstanding among themselves. Which shows that he is up to snuff as well as fond of tobacco.

IT should be insisted upon that there is no such thing as "the dignity of labor," although there is nothing more dignified than the laborer who does the best he can under adverse circumstances. There may be dignity in making labor less irksome by means of machinery and the skillful application of knowledge, as well as through organizations founded on mutually helpful and humane principles. But the man who is fooled into the belief that labor in itself dignifies him simply illustrates the degradation of labor.

MANY A TRUTH IN JEST.

The "open shop" subject has brought on a sad epidemic of open face among people whose opinion is of no particular value.

If the good church people who have allowed themselves to become agitated over the "printer's oath" administered by the union could hear a few of those used when he pies a line of rush take they would have something else to worry about.

The Georgia woman who recently started a lazy mule by twisting its tail also successfully demonstrated a quick and sure method of committing suicide that ought to commend itself to folks who are in need of something of the kind.

The telephone list posted in the new building contains this significant line:

13. Mr. Miller.

All else having failed, let us give the hoodoo number a chance.

The fact that Mr. Edgar Meritt bears a remarkable resemblance to the late Sir Michael Herbert should not lead our politicians into the error of thinking that he looks like a "dead one."

To a man on the roof it does not appear that the swearing-in process has had any other effect than to give the rumor committee a bad half hour and the man who knows it all another chance to talk.

While some doubt may exist as to the utility of the large square basin in one corner of each wash room of the new building, it will be safe to recommend it to the people who are too busy at home to give their feet the attention they need.

The most remarkable thing about the prospective candidates for delegate thus far mentioned is that they all meet with my approval. Which, while true, is highly unimportant.

Notwithstanding the heated remarks passing between Messrs. Kennedy and Waudby, I have it on good authority that a coolness still exists between them.

While the Eccles-Swerdfiger debate is interesting, there are a few of us on the fence wondering who said "sic 'em."

Why not also install a pneumatic-tube system for the benefit of those who are in a hurry to get out of the building when the whistle blows?

According to "Clotilde," Harry Major has been "sick with phlegmonous for the past two weeks." Sounds like a bad case of adjectivitis.

The death of the Panama Canal treaty ought to give Senator Morgan a chance to remark the few things that he has left unsaid.

If you are in doubt as to how this country of ours ought to be run, consult the Monday morning "knocker" page of the Post. The contributors to that delightful symposium of biliousness are amusing as well as instructive.

As a rule printers are not inclined to be proud, but since we have moved we are in a position to look down on the bookbinders.

Professor Langley's flying machine turned out to be more of a duck than a buzzard. Some one must have tampered with the incubator.

It being definitely settled that Mr. Hanna is for the President and the President is for Mr. Hanna, the citizens of this Republic may as well dismiss that worry from their minds and attend to the winter's coal supply.

The Philippine printery is having a little open-shop disturbance of its own, but the people involved seem to be doing very little talking for publication.

Mr. Oyster's persistent refusal to become reconciled to the present form of government in the District must be rather discouraging to the Commissioners as well as to the members of the late I. T. U. session who "indefinitely postponed" consideration of the matter.

AFTER-DINNER DILATIONS.

WEALTH CONTRASTED.

Mr. Morgan has his millions—
I haven't got a cent.
He has mansions built of marble—
I toil to pay my rent.
But I've more than Mr. Morgan
When the day of toil is o'er,
For I know true love is waiting
Just inside my cottage door.
I then hear what never greets him
Underneath his marble dome;
'Tis a baby's happy greeting:
"Hello, pop! Has 'oo t'um home?"

Rockefeller has full coffers—
But mine are empty quite.
He has private yachts and such things,
All mine are "out of sight."
But I've more than Rockefeller's
Wondrous wealth of gold commands;
I have dainty, wee caresses
From a baby's loving hands.
And when ev'ning stars are peeping
Overhead in heaven's dome
I can hear a childish welcome:
"Hello, pop! Has 'oo t'um home?"

Let them have their untold millions;
I envy not their store.
They are worth colossal fortunes—
I am worth a whole lot more.
For I have a grander pleasure
Than their hoarded wealth can buy;
'Tis the love light I see glisten
In my little darling's eye.
They can ride in private coaches
And can plow the ocean's foam—
But they never hear the welcome:
"Hello, pop! Has 'oo t'um home?"

—Will M. Maupin.

***

Labor and capital could go hand in hand and touch palms to better advantages if capital would remove its gloves.

***

If a man findeth a purse containing a considerable sum of money and doth not straightway seek the owner, the chances are that he will—forget it.

***

The lexicographers apparently have less trouble in defining socialism than those people who set out to discuss the subject without reference to its real meaning or purposes.

***

With every speculative venture capital takes the precaution to safeguard itself by clauses of unwarranted privilege, and, later on, if a flaw or disadvantage appears, it is promptly ironed out by a favorable construction of the courts.

***

People who don't know say the trade unions must go. We have no fault to find with these people, no more than with those who have the habit of periodically fixing the exact date when the world is to come to an end, since what they say don't go.

***

When Senator Stewart, of Nevada, was organizing the "Silver Knights" and laid himself down on the free-coinage altar as a willing sacrifice, there were people mean enough to say that he was actuated by selfish motives, while he all the while protested that his tears were for the "downtrodden" only. Finally something like a good sized aerolite dropped in the vicinity of the Senator's tent with discouraging results. Having given up the chase for a "fifty-cent dollar," he is now out for a fully equipped man at something like half pay.

CYCLE.

Proof Room Notes.

The thinking capacity of this room now consists of 88 brains on the day side, supplemented by 37 critics who think while common people sleep.

Rumor has it that the copy for the Surgeon-General's Catalogue is in hand now and that it will be set up in the Fourth Division. Messrs. Boernstein and Burklin are fortifying themselves for a session of strenuous activity.

The new proof room is commodious and comfortable, well ventilated, scrupulously clean and antiseptic, and with every convenience. Our chief has an apartment to himself, which looks more business-like than the old arrangement.

The communication of Mr. Whitmore in the Star is a matter of discussion. It is needless to say that the ground he takes is fallacious in the extreme and is pretty generally condemned as unworthy of notice. I have had my say on this score.

The foreign contingent—that is those who read in other languages than the English—have been grouped together, and are the subject of no little merriment. We have every tongue represented among these reconcentrados except Chink, and an almond-eyed celestial is not a remote possibility.

Speaking of communications, Brother Bloomer pushes a facile and graceful pen. His humor is not boisterous, but of that mild character that attracts and holds attention. He exposes the idiocy of Senator Stewart in fine shape. Or, I should rather say, Stewart's assumption that the reading public are idiots.

The pneumatic tubes, which are to carry proof matter back and forth by air pressure, are very suggestive to thirsty readers. They strikingly resemble the tubes in a big brewery. I should not be surprised to see some absent-minded reader one of these days take a glass and place it under the faucet and wait for results.

Messrs. Metzung, Lane, and Vaughan, who were detailed to the "front office" for clerical work some time ago returned to this room last week and resumed their respective stations. Mr. H L. Murray returned from the Treasury Branch, after an absence of several months, and resumed his former position as reviser. Mr. H. C. Hayne has been transferred to the night side.

Well, the grand army of workers in the art preservative have taken possession of the greatest and most complete Government Printing Office in the world, and every one is happy and proud of the magnificent institution. But I am sure that no one is happier over this event than our Public Printer, who has labored so long and faithfully to accomplish this grand result, and to whom the chief honor of it must he ascribed.

Brother Eccles' attack on Carl Marx's theory of value, through that shoemaker proposition, is very unique, and his onslaught on Mr. Swerdfiger on the ground that labor does not put the extra value on old wine is equally amusing. He might have added that it does not put the value on the minerals and metals locked up in the bowels of the earth. But I am drifting. This discussion has elicited an unusual degree of thought on these questions, and can not fail to be productive of good. Therefore I say, Let the good work go on.

CHAS. W. PAFFLOW.

Specification Notes.

We'll move, probably, about the 22nd.

We're anxious to see and try on our new dress.

It will seem a little queer to commence and quit with the whistle again.

Pretty near all the old soldiers went to the unveiling of the Sherman statue.

The presses, which now occupy a portion of the floor space in close and noisy proximity to the "Spess" composing room, will probably be assigned a place in the cellar when moving day comes. We are rather glad to get rid of the noise, but shall miss the smiles. However, we'll be near neighbors.

In the time this force has occupied the Union Building many friendships have been formed with the binders, who have for the same period occupied a portion of the fifth floor. There really is not much difference between a binder and a printer, and we quit the best of friends to join hands in any effort which may be of mutual or substantial benefit one to the other.

In anticipation of removal to new quarters, when a rearrangement will take place, there was a drawing for slugs on Tuesday, with the usual result that some were dissatisfied. Of course every one wanted a window frame, some would be as far apart as possible, and then there were others who wanted to be near together or "side partners" to satisfy a natural affinity, which not infrequently ripens into genuine friendship, when one or the other or both resign and for better or for worse become partners for life, and gradually add to their string, when again new slug numbers are called for.

There has been altogether too much gaiety of expression indulged in concerning the difficulties of style on Specifications, and the older hands are continually subjected to serious embarassment in endeavoring to correct wrong impressions by those who only judge of the work by hearsay or from a very brief experience. To show the absurd reasoning of one of these gentlemen, who complains both of the style and the difficulty experienced in getting up the average number of ems in a perscribed number of hours, I give a sample herewith and ask the intelligent compositor to name it if he discovers anything difficult in construction or that which would in any way impede the progress of one giving assiduous attention to the "average." The inventor, among other things, says:

The following compounds have proved especially suitable for this purpose; para amido-para-oxy-diphenylamin, para-amido-para-exy-phenyltolylamin, dimethyl-para-amido-para-oxydiphenylamin, dimethyl-para-amido-para-exyphenyltolylmin, para-amido-diphenylamin, para-amidomethyldiphenylamin, diamidodiphenylamin, diamido-para-oxydiphenylamin and dimethyl-diamidodiphenylamin.

There must be something radically wrong with the man who would find fault with that sort of copy.

FUDGE.

A Sweeping Injunction.

The Republican Publishing Co., of Hamilton, Ohio, has secured an injunction against Typographical Union, No. 293, enjoining them from boycotting, picketing, or otherwise interfering with the paper published by them or to boycott or interfere in any manner with advertisers in the paper. Every member of the union was cited to appear in court to answer to the order restraining the union.

FOR THE BEST--
READY-TO-WEAR
—FOR—
Man, Woman and Child
AT THE MOST REASONABLE PRICES,
CONSULT—
Parker, Bridget & Co.,
Washington's Leading Outfitters, ...
Pa. Ave. and 9th St. N. W.

Union Made Cigars
OF THE FINEST QUALITY.
Pluck 5¢ | ARMY & NAVY 10¢
AFTER DINNER 5¢ | DEER HEAD 10¢
Henry T. Offterdinger, Manufacturer
504 Ninth St., N.W.

ARLINGTON BREWING CO.
ROSSLYN, VA.
BEER ALE PORTER
The Finest Productions of Skilled Union Labor. Union Label on Every Bottle and Keg of Our Goods.

Have You Seen Our Posters?
Bill-boards this week and for the next three will display the advertisement of the Peck Clothing
SYRACUSE, N. Y.
Every garment bears
The Union Label
We are Local Agents
THE Bieber-Kaufman
COMPANY
Masculine Outfitters from Childhood to Old Age
901-909 EIGHTH ST. SOUTHEAST
Local Agents "Walk Over" Shoes, Union Made

Our Specialty
IS A BUSINESS SUIT FOR $25
We claim, and verify our assertion by producing the goods, that no other concern gives the same value in materials and workmanship for the price. Our Twenty-five Dollar Suits are made by the same Skilled Union Workmen that make our higher grade garments. Come in, look through our line and be convinced that this special is a winner. Respectfully,
T. E. GILBERT Importer and Tailor
818 F Street Northwest

Does your bartender wear one of these Blue Buttons?
If not,
WHY NOT?
THIS CARD INDICATES A
Hotel and Restaurant Employes International Alliance
Bartenders International League of America
AFFILIATED WITH AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR
RECOGNIZES THIS BAR AS A
UNION BAR
AND WORTHY THE SUPPORT OF ORGANIZED LABOR

The Savings possible at
S. Kann, Sons & Co.
8th St.-THE BUSY CORNER-Pa. Ave.
are such as may be counted in the pocket. At the same time styles and qualities are unexcelled.

Goods kept in repair one year free.
FIVE STRONG POINTS
No excuse for a Union man leaving this store dissatisfied. We not only have the Garment Workers' label but a force of Union clerks to handle the largest assortment of ready-to-wear tailoring displayed in the city. Others ask $12 for our $7 goods and $35 for garments sold here at $25.
Union Label
Quality
Quantity
Low Price
Union Clerks
I. E. BLOCK
THE FAMOUS
423 Seventh St. N. W.

Union Shop — Expert Massaging
Carl E. Wilson
Late of Palmer House Barber Shop, Chicago, Ill
Four Chair Shop
Cor. Fourth and G Sts. N. W.
GUS AMBERG, Foreman, Formerly New York City — Shoe Parlor, All Shines 5c

In purchasing goods from advertisers in this paper, do not fail to mention the fact that you saw the advertisement in THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES
OF
Columbia Typographical Union,
No. 101.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, 423 G ST. N. W.
Office Hours: 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.; 5 to 7 P. M.

OFFICERS.

JOE M. JOHNSON.....President
DAN C. VAUGHAN.....Vice-President
WM. M. GARRETT.....Secretary
JOHN R. BERG.....Treasurer
FRANK BATES.....Sergeant-at-Arms
N. C. STOOPS.....Doorkeeper

TRUSTEES—J. E. Bright, chairman; W. L. Gutelius, Chas. C. Thompson, Joe M. Johnson, and Wm. M. Garrett.

DELEGATES TO CENTRAL LABOR UNION—J. H. Babcock, chairman; J. B. Dickman, Hugh Everett, Theodore Gerber, and C. E. Dietrich.

DELEGATES TO ALLIED TRADES COUNCIL—E. E. Calhoon, chairman; T. F. Hall, and J. P. Garner.

AUDITORS—C. W. Radley, chairman; H. G. Brown, and J. W. Carter.

COMMITTEES.

BUSINESS—Zach T. Jenkins, chairman; C. B. Yater, M. J. Maher, T. C. Parsons, and R. W. Burnside.

NOMINATIONS—W. N. Brockwell, chairman; F. A. Kidd, H. O'Donnell, Frank M. Hatley, and R. E. Stenner.

LAWS—Chas. H. Ennis, chairman; Raymond Gery, and Dexter S. Hussey.

FINANCE—John A. Huston, chairman; J. M. McLaughlin, and R. F. Chisholm.

PRINTING—T. A. Bynum, chairman; Milo Shanks, and Ed. J. Hall.

GRIEVANCE—Clint O. Price, chairman; Chas. S. Gunn, Philip Nachman, David J. Snyder, and E. Y. Fisher.

ENTERTAINMENT—T. L. Jones, chairman; J. R. Purvis, T. J. Fitzwilliam, Miss Nellie Theaker, Miss Anna Wilson, B. E. Harrison, and W. J. Harris.

CONFERENCE—J. L. Holland, chairman; D. J. Hegarty, and W. B. Shaw.

LIBRARY—Clyde J. Sheriff, chairman; A. E. Ogg, and Harry Essex.

RELIEF—Joseph G. Stelle, chairman; Wm. S. Schinnerer and E. P. Cummins.

EIGHT-HOUR—F. C. Roberts, chairman; F. B. Crown, F. D. Seiffert, Jeff Newlon, and S. H. Willey.

MEMORIAL SERVICE—S. J. Gompers, chairman; Philip S. Steele, J. E. Goodkey, J. B. Dickman, and C. B. Yater.

AMOS J. CUMMINGS MEMORIAL—J. T. Rowe, chairman; Charles T. Graff, and T. A. Bynum.

CHAIRMEN.

First Division—W. R. Love.
Second Division—D. J. Snyder.
Third Division—W. N. Goldstein.
Fourth Division—E. T. Stephenson,
Fifth Division—Charles H. Gove.
Sixth Division—E. M. Nevils.
Job Room—J. K. Davison.
Record Clerks' Division—H. G. Brown
First Division, Night—Allen Cowles.
Night Proof Room—E. H. Thomas.
Specification Room—H. F. Melick.
Official Gazette—E. G. Myers.
Document Proof Room—Jas. R. Armstrong.
Treasury Division—W. Brice Coston.
Interior Division—C. K. Stribling.
State Division—J. B. Dickman.
Navy Department Division—Albert E. Ogg.
War Department Division—Wm. K. Miller.
Agricultural Division—Henry P. Slaughter.
Library Division—H. V. Bisbee.
Weather Bureau—L. H. Emmons.
Morning Post—J. H. Broderick.
Evening Star—Joseph C. Whyte.
Evening Times—T. C. Parsons.
Law Reporter—J. R. Johnson.
Globe Printing Co.—R. A. Wilson.
Judd & Detweiler's—A. B. Barringer.
Wilkens Printing Co.—T. N. Surguy.
Pearson's—T. F. Monahan.
National Publishing Co.—E. C. Owen.
McGill & Wallace's—J. M. Watts.
Byron S. Adams'—R. B. Boucher.
Army and Navy Register—C. H. Draeger.
General Postoffice—Joseph Williams.
Sudwarth's—F. R. Adams.

AROUND THE PRINTERIES.

First Division.

H. S. Taylor has been transferred to the Night Bill Force.

Charles W. Henry has gone on a 30 days' leave to Ohio to visit his old home.

H. W. Templar had the misfortune to lose his aunt at Harrisburg, Pa., who fell out of a fourth story window.

All persons having any items of importance will please give same to our messenger, T. H. Berger, or our chairman.

The many friends of Dr. Scanlon, who dropped dead last Sunday, were greatly shocked by his untimely death. Dr. Scanlon at one time worked in this room.

Alley 14 has been dubbed the "Soubrette Alley" on account of H. A. Nesbitt and R. C. Starr, Jr., being president and vice-president of the E Street Soubrette Circle.

Charles Chesterfield Barton and Miss Emma I. Wilson were married last Saturday. After a short trip to Niagara Falls and Atlantic City, they will return here, where they will be pleased to see their many friends.

W. E. Lewis, of the "Y," is considered the song bird of that room and may be heard any lunch hour, accompanied by W. S. Schinnerer, Charles Danenhower, and Fred Follett, singing "'Y' should the spirit of mortal be proud."

The sympathy of the room is extended to Geo. W. Schaffer, who lost his mother last week. Mr. Schaffer was on his way home from his leave when he received a telegram to return immediately. He has lost both mother and father in the past five months.

CLOTILDE.

Try oyster pan roast, 10c. Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, North Capitol and G streets.

Third Division.

Look up the pawn ticket for your overcoat. It is about time to get it out.

Harrison Reed (slug 56) and family go to Menosha, Wis., their home, this week to spend their vacation.

W. B. Johnson, president of the "sym," left Saturday for his home in Quitman, Ga., to spend three weeks' leave.

Brackets were put up Monday for fire extinguishers. They were at first thought to be for the long-hoped-for clock.

J. W. Belcher has been confined to his bed for ten days, threatened with pneumonia in the left lung, but is practically out of danger now.

Frank L. McUmber, who has been sick with typhoid fever about two months, had a slight set back, and does not expect to be out for a week or so yet.

With two symposiums closing their terms this week, money is very stiff and great financial activity prevails. "Robbing Peter to pay Paul" is a familiar expression.

M. J. Lillard distributed night slugs in this room last week as well as a number of rumors which were rather disquieting. We thought the night owls had been gotten rid of.

Most of the regular chapel correspondents seem to be represented again in THE TRADES UNIONIST, which makes it very readable. "Happy Hooligan" writes some entertaining, spicy short notes.

F. E. Warren informs us that Charley Leeds' father-in-law, Mr. Achenbach, died from a stroke of paralysis October 16 at Gettysburg, Pa. He was the oldest man in that town at the time of his death.

Messrs. William McEnaney and C. J. McMurray, who were discharged from the old Third, were reinstated in this (the new Third) division last Thursday. Both gentlemen promptly subscribed for THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Copper thin spaces are no longer needed in the Third. Goldy intends to get Jeff Garland, the mica magnate, to furnish us with mica spaces from his mine, which he says can be split so thin that they can only be distinguished by the light reflected by them.

Foreman Knapp, of the Times, is the first down-town candidate for delegate to be announced. The Times is about due to elect a delegate, having had none since McCormick and Siebold in 1897 and 1898. The Post has had two in succession since and the Star one.

We understand that all of the laundries have come together this time and the prices have gone up. Last year all of them did not join the trust and it failed. No coal famine for an excuse this year. Baltimore laundries would do well to solicit Washington patronage.

Old Boreas blows his cold north wind right against our windows. These revolving or swinging windows leave large cracks through which a strong draft enters—too strong for those working next to them. Some kind of weather strips should be attached.

The name of Franklin O. Sanders, who has started on a law course at Columbia University, appeared wrongly in these notes last week as Landers. In stature Frank is the smallest man in this room, being 5 feet 4 inches tall. He says he feels like a man, though, alongside of his friend Stanley, of the Fourth, who is only 5 feet high.

C. C. Hipkins was called away from the office suddenly on Monday of last week by the illness of his father, who died of apoplexy before he arrived. His father was 78 years of age and seemed in good health and spirits that morning when he started to work at his trade of coppersmith. He was the only one of his immediately family left—no brothers or sisters surviving.

A feeling of gloom was cast over this division Monday morning when the sad news of the sudden death of our fellow-workman, E. J. Scanlon, was announced. He was dressing, preparatory to going to early mass Sunday morning, when he succumbed to heart disease. He was in the full vigor of early manhood, 32 years of age, well equipped for a busy life, the master of a trade and a profession, the head of an interesting and happy family, and apparently in the best of health. All with whom he came in contact became his friends. He had complained of feeling badly of late, on account of walking up the many flights of stairs in the new building, which he did because of the uncertainty of the elevators. He had not been in this division long, having been transferred from the Spess, but every man took a heartfelt interest in the beautiful floral piece, shaped like a cross, which was presented by this room in loving token of their esteem. A strange coincidence is that the last line of his copy which he set up Saturday, and was still in his stick Monday morning, was: "The heart reposeth." Messrs. W. N. Goldstein and W. H. Bright acted as a committee from this room to see the body and family off at 3 p. m. Monday for Saratoga, his old home, where he will be buried. A wife and a son of 4 years survive him. They have the heartfelt sympathy of this chapel in their great loss.

NEWS.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

Fourth Division.

Tom B. Hoagland was given cases in this division last Monday.

John J. Murray and Hindman Doxey were reinstated last Tuesday.

Fred B. Clinton received an appointment as messenger in this room Monday.

H. B. Barnhart moved into a new flat on Tuesday put up especially for his benefit.

Dan Sansom, Lee Hartley, A. F. Martin, C. P. Boss, and M. L. Leffler were transferred to the Job Room last Tuesday.

G. E. Partridge was promoted to the position of maker-up last Monday—a loss to Dave Walton, but a gain to his assistant.

A subscription was passed for the benefit of Jeff D. Smith, who has been ill for a long time at his home in Hyattsville.

Ernest LeGrys returned to work last Saturday, after an absence of thirty days. He presented himself at the old building, where he discovered that the long expected had happened.

With apologies to the disciples of Shakespeare, I will spring a pun with the statement that it was so much of a boon to get into the new building that I did not notice the loss of another Boone (George) in the transfer to the First. Will Dow went to the nether regions about the same time.

The fire worshipers among us, of whom there seems to be a large number, were privileged with a specially interesting object of devotion last Saturday. A fire of unusual dimensions occurred in the northeast, and the upper floors of our new building lend themselves to good advantage for observation purposes.

This is an interesting paragraph from "Practical Journalism," by E. L. Shuman: "Almost a million people in the United States are supported, directly or indirectly, by the newspaper industry and the enterprises dependent upon it. Nearly 100,000 persons are employed on the 21,272 newspapers and other periodicals of the country, to whom are paid nearly $80,000,000 annually in wages. The last census shows the receipts of the newspaper publishers during 1900 to have been $175,000,000, of which $95,000,000 came from advertising and $80,000,000 from subscriptions. The aggregate number of copies of newspapers and other periodicals issued during the last census year was 8,000,000,000, nearly double the circulation of a decade previous. If printed in book form the newspapers and magazines issued in a single year in the United States would make a library of 4,000,000,000 copies as large as David Harum (or 12mo.)"

RAN.

Bindery Notes.

Tommy Songster and Bob Stack were absent on the Day of Atonement, but it is hoped that no one will make any mistake as to their religious views.

Bill Marshall had a narrow escape from the insane asylum a short time since. He was walking through the grounds, and when he attempted to leave was stopped by one of the watchmen, who made him secure a pass from the doctor in charge.

Ernest Meyer and Joe Stecker have become as annoying to their friends as the irrepressible organ grinder. They persist in humming and grunting together the threadworn song, "Tessie," and then have the effrontery to call it singing. Their primary object is to appear in public and spring it on the audience as a new production, with Joe as the author and Ernest in the roll of "Tessie."

Bill Dolby, a forwarder in the Union Building, contends that "wherever you see smoke, there must be fire," and that whenever there is evidence of fire at First street and New York avenue northeast he is going off, take his wheel and get there as soon as possible so as to look into the matter, and he don't care what anybody says about it, as he is buying that house and not the other "feller's."

"Pa," said little Clarence Welsh, as he sat on the front stoop eating chestnuts, to his father, Billie ("Shorty") Welsh (who, by the way, is employed at the bindery in the Union Building), "what is a pessimist?"

"A pessimist?" said "Shorty," removing a three-for-five from between his teeth with his left hand, while he pushed his right down into his trousers pocket to the elbow, and looking wise. "A pessimist, my son, is a man who isn't satisfied with the trouble that is coming to him, but insists on hunting more." And then the three-for-five found its way back into its owner's mouth, and "Shorty" looked up the street with a self-satisfied air.

There is a story going the rounds of the Bindery which has two sides. According to Johnny Burns, it goes like this: "I met 'Snakey' Holbrook with his little child on the corner, the other evening, and, knowing how seldom the youngster ever received any spending money, gave her a nickel. 'Snakey,' who is now on the water wagon, and was surrounded by his erstwhile 'boozing' friends, was unable to 'con' the latter into 'giving up' to the child, and took advantage of my generosity by taking the nickel from her and giving her a penny in exchange." "Snakey," however, has another story to tell. He says the only truth in Burns' statement is that Burns met him, accompanied by his child. He also avers that Burns gave the child a coin, but upon examination it proved to be a penny brightened up to look like a nickel. As both of these gentlemen have many friends in the Bindery, it is "up to" them to settle the momentous question, Was it a nickel or a penny?

Cow Boy.

Oysters in every style at R. A. Driscoll's, North Capitol and G streets. Overholt whisky, 10c.

The following item, taken from the Union Printers' Home column in The Labor News, of Colorado Springs, Colo., is of interest:

Camp Columbia No. 101, which was located on the hill about 100 feet south of the main gateway of the Home and close to its railings for the past four months (June 3 to October 3), was broken up last Saturday and its occupants have hied themselves to more agreeable quarters, moving to a neat cottage on Boulder street. Publisher A. J. E. Hubbard, of The Labor News, and his family, and their faithful dog, "Tramp" (this animal came to them soon after they had pitched their tents), experienced all kinds and conditions of weather—sun, rain, hail, snow, and wind—particularly winds—during their residence on the aforesaid hill, and the personal knowledge of the different phases of Colorado weather which they have acquired, if put in writing, would fill a large-sized book.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

The "Man's Store."

Clothing That Makes Friends

Expect to be busy to-day. Haven't had a dull day this fall. We have the clothing that makes business—that makes reputation—that makes satisfaction—the "M. S. M." clothing.

YOUR FALL SUIT, $10.90 TO $35
YOUR OVERCOAT, $10.90 TO $40.

"Money's Worth or Money Back."

D. J. KAUFMAN, 1005-7 Pa. Ave.

A. & P. BEST ELGIN BUTTER, 27 CENTS.

Finest Grades of Teas and Coffees.

Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, Cor. 7th and E.

The Drillery

Stenography, Typewriting, Bookkeeping, Telegraphy, Civil Service Preparation. Sessions daily, 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Phone Main 2508-M 1100 New York Ave. N. W.

Woodward & Lothrop,

DEPARTMENT STORE.

TENTH, ELEVENTH, AND F STS. N. W.

WHERE THE HALF-TONES ARE MADE
THE NATIONAL ENGRAVING COMPANY.
INCORPORATED.
14th St. and Pa. Ave. Phone 1679 Main.

Hewke, PHOTOGRAPHER

56 of the ex-delegates and committees patronized me for good work.
Studio,
430 7th St., N. W. Washington, D. C.

J. E. BONINI'S
BUFFET AND CAFÉ,
727-729 N. Capitol Street.
MAERZEN BEER ON TAP.
A first-class Lunch Counter. Sea food in season. Union throughout.

Phone East 644-A
DR. CARLETON VAUGHAN
Dentist
The Colcord, 310 East Capitol Street
Office Hours: 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Evenings: By Appointment

D. STRAUSS,
Clothier, Hatter and Furnisher
441 Seventh Street N. W.,
Washington, D. C.

If you want to Save Your Money with 5 per cent interest; or want to Buy A Home on monthly payments
Deal with
AMERICAN B. AND L. ASS'N
S. C. HOLMES, Prest.
H. V. Easterling, V-Prest.
F. H. Riordan, Treas. Andrew Wilson, Atty.
W. J. Frizzell, Secy.
Phone 2026 907 G STREET Open 9 to 5

THE RIGGS NATIONAL BANK
Of Washington, D. C.
Capital - - - $1,000,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits, 1,000,000
Exchange on England, Ireland, France and Germany. Letters of credit available in all foreign parts. Bank Collections. Orders for investments. Stocks and Bonds.

SEABOARD
AIR LINE RAILWAY.
Offers the best service between Florida, the Southeast, or Southwest and Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and the East. Two daily through trains, with cafe dining cars and through Pullman sleepers.
Great inducements are offered to fruit growers and truckers in the Manatee country below the frost line in Florida. Send for a handsomely illustrated brochure.
EDWARD F. COST, Traffic Mgr.
CHAS. B RYAN, Gen. Pass. Agt.
Portsmouth, Va.
W. E. CONKLYN, Gen. Agt. Pass. Dept.
1421 Pennsylvania. Avenue, Washington, D. C.

GIDDINGS & STEELE,
Exclusive
Floor Coverings
813 PENNSYLVANIA AVE. N.W.

SHAFFER
Florist
14th and Eye Sts. Phone 2416 Main
1711 Penna. Ave. Phone 1581 Main

FURNISHED ROOMS
AT
The Orleans
1203 F STREET NORTHWEST
MRS. R. COMMELIN, Prop.

If You Meet
with an accident depriving you of your limbs; Ben Hur (the no assessment insurance order) will pay you one-half the face value of your policy. Loss of eyesight entitles you to the same amount.
HENRY E. CROUCH, Deputy, 424 Fourth St. N. E.
ALBERT P. E. DOYLE, Scribe, 21 O St. N. E.

PRINTERS and Union Members.—For First-Class Meals, Eat at
VICTOR CAFE, 3 H St. N. W.
ALBION, Eleventh and E Sts. N. W.
ERIN, Cor. N. J. Ave. and D St. N. W.
U. S. LUNCH ROOM, 320 12th St. N. W.
ALBERT T. SCANLAND, Prop.
Open Day and Night. Best Service.

M. S. JOHNSON,
Foreign and Domestic Woolens now ready for inspection
SUITS $25 UP. UNION SHOP.
1435 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

THOMAS WALSH
Formerly "Steve" Caldwell's.
Whiskies and Cigars
Specialties: MELVALE AND SHERWOOD
COOL LAGER BEER ON DRAUGHT.
BILLIARDS AND POOL
Billiards, 40c. per hour. Pool, 2½c. per cue.
THOMAS WALSH
407 Tenth St. Northwest

E. F. PRICE & CO.
Strongest flat opening blank book made. Ruling and Binding of every description. A Specialty of FINE BANK WORK.
BOOKBINDERS 1108 E St. N. W.

G. P. O. BICYCLE REPAIR CO.
ARTHUR D. BENNETT
MANAGER
Wheels stored, cleaned, and repaired (per month)..... $1.00
Wheels stored and cleaned (per month)..... .75
Wheels stored (per month)..... .50
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty
Bicycle Sundries
Salesroom, 33 H St. N. W.

300 1-lb. Loaves to the Barrel.
Every Laboring Man
—requires pure, wholesome, nourishing food such as is made of—
Cream Blend Flour
It not only makes THE BEST Bread, Rolls, Cake and Pastry, but more of them than other brands—therefore it's the cheapest that money can buy.
Your Grocer will supply you.
B. B. EARNSHAW & BRO., Wholesalers,
1105, 1107, 1109 11th Street S. E.
1000 and 1002 M Street S. E.

Cole & Swan
Large assortment of Watches, Diamonds, and Jewelry (we make and repair anything in this line)
"Square Dealing" our motto.
21 H Street N. W.

T. HOLLANDER
Men's Furnishings
Hats and Shoes
COR. N. CAPITOL AND H STS.
Opposite Government Printing Office

DO YOU USE TOILET PAPER?
If so, investigate the service furnished by
R. P. Andrews & Co.,
INCORPORATED
627-629 LOUISIANA AVE. N. W.
THE WHOLESALE PAPER HOUSE
IT WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

HOTEL FRITZ REUTER
Rathskeller
and
Restaurant.
COR. PA. AVE. AND JOHN MARSHALL PLACE
Phone: East 388.

Telephone 3662-Y
AMREIN'S
FAMOUS ICE CREAM
HAS NO EQUAL
One Dollar per Gallon
Stores, 1426 and 1810 7th St. N. W.

GEO. W. BARRY COAL CO.
Coal in any quantity at the right price and Wood also.
14-16 H N. E. One minute from G. P. O. Telephone East 234.

B. F. WARNER
FINE WINES and LIQUORS
BLUE LABEL CIGARS
1219 E Street Northwest

FOR LUNCH
TRY THE
Pure Dairy Lunch
935 D Street Northwest

American Ice Co.
1437 Penna. Ave. N. W.

THE UNION SAVINGS BANK
BOND BUILDING
Cor. 14th St. and New York Ave. N.W.

Three Per Cent Interest on Savings Accounts.

Branch Deposit Agency at T. A. ROVER'S STORE,
Cor. North Capitol and H Sts.
OPEN EVERY MONDAY AND TUESDAY FROM 4 TO 5 P. M.

When in doubt buy at
HOUSE & HERRMANN,
FURNITURE, CARPETS, DRAPERIES, ETC.
N. E. Corner Seventh and I Streets N. W.

Don't Buy a Hat Without the Label. .
And See that It Is Sewed In.

Don t Patronize a Dealer Who Has Loose Labels on Hand and Offers to Put One in Your Hat.
LOOSE LABELS
In Retail Stores
ARE COUNTERFEITS.

The John B. Stetson Co., of Philadelphia, Pa., is a non-union concern.

J. GEORGE SMITH
(Formerly a member of the firm of R. P. Andrews & Co.)
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
PAPER AND STATIONERY
My old friends and patrons from J. C. Addison's time to the present will be welcome. I can supply all your needs at lowest prices consistent with quality.
626 E STREET NORTHWEST

The Hub Furniture Co.,
The Stores that Save You Money.
OUR MOTTO—The Best Values in Furniture and Carpets at the Lowest Prices.
Cash or Credit.
HUB FURNITURE CO.,
(Formerly Wash. B. Williams)
Corner Seventh and D Streets N. W.

Carriages Furnished for All Occasions — Phone East 327-M
JOHN ELBERT
Undertaker and Embalmer
54 H STREET N. W.

"Everyone knows how to find fault." No one has yet found fault with the
RELIABLE
The Gas Range for Summer Use
Washington Gas Light Co.
GAS APPLIANCE EXCHANGE

St. Asaph Commission Rooms,
Old Established and Reliable.
Trains leave Thirteen and one-half street and Pennsylvania avenue—Alexandria, Mt. Vernon, and Washington Railway—daily at 12.45, 1.05, 1.25, 2, 2.30, 3.02, and 3.30. Return .39, 4.24, 5.02, 5.58, and at various intervals.

CELTIC CLUB WHISKY
Our Specialty. Never Changes. Once Tried You'll Always Use It. Take No Substitute.
Ports and Sherries for family use, Quarts, 50 and 75 cents. All makes of Beer. Leading brands of Cigars. Ales and Porters on draught the year round.
JOHN CONNOR
New Jersey Ave. and G Sts. N. W.

J. WILLIAM LEE,
Undertaker and Livery, . . .
322 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

RETAIL DRUG CLERKS, No. 240, AND THEIR FRIENDS DO NOT PATRONIZE
JOHN W. JENNINGS
DRUGGIST
1142 Connecticut Avenue
Now on Unfair List of Central Labor Union

Union Directory.

TO SECRETARIES: Please notify this office of any change in officers' addresses, time or place of meeting. Corrections will be made quarterly.

American Federation of Labor—Headquarters, Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Sam'l Gompers, President, Frank Morrison, Secretary.

Allied Printing Trades Council meets last Thursday in the month at Typographical Temple. J. A. Wiedman, Secretary-Treasurer, 15 I street northeast.

Allied Label League meets every Friday night at 8 o'clock at 905 E street northwest. C. A. Pfau, Secretary, 905 E street northwest

Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, Local No. 148, meets second and fourth Thursday evenings at 922 Pa. avenue northwest. Geo. Bakersmith, Secretary, 3315 Brightwood avenue northwest.

Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, Local Union No. 102, meets first and third Wednesdays at Loehl's Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. D. C. Childress, Secretary. T. F. Ryan, Business Agent, Room 1, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

American Society Plate Engravers meets first Saturday in each month at Grand Army Hall. A. C. Ruebsam, Secretary, Bethesda, Montgomery County, Md.

Bakers Union, No. 118, meets first and third Saturday in each month at 430 Eighth street northwest. John G. Schmidt, Secretary and Business Agent, 333 I street s w.

Bakers' Drivers' L. U. No. 33, T. D. I. U. meets first and third Thursday evening of each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Thomas C. Fox, Secretary, 922 Fourth street northeast.

Bartenders' League Local No. 75, meets first and fourth Sunday of each month at 2 p. m. at Macabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. Jere F. McCarthy, Secretary, 1017 Maryland avenue southwest.

Beer Drivers' and Stablemen's Union, No. 234, meets first Sunday of each month at 314 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. Walter T. Trittipoe, Secretary, 1346 Wallach Place northwest.

Bookbinders' Union, No. 4, meets first Tuesday in each month at Typograhical Temple. James A. Stockman, Secretary, 735 North Capitol street.

Brewery Workers' Union, No. 118, meets second and last Sunday of the month at 314 Pennsylvania ave. southeast. Frank Rom, Secretary, 818 New Hampshire ave. northwest.

Bricklayers' Union, No. 1, meets second and fourth Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Milford Spohn, Secretary, Typographical Temple.

Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators, and Paperhangers, Local Union, No. 368, meets every Friday night at Painters' Hall, 506 Sixth street northwest. G. Jule Murray, Secretary, 1107 South Carolina avenue southeast. W. M. Lewis, Business Agent, 506 Sixth street northwest.

Cab and Carriage Drivers' Union, No. 486, meets first and third Sundays, at Butler's Hall, 609 C street northwest. W. B. Nelson, Secretary, 922 I street northwest.

Carriage and Wagon Workers' International Union, Local No. 72, of Washington, D. C., meets every Thursday, at Loehl's Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. John H. Brinkman, Secretary, 1729 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Carpet Upholsterers, No. 85, U. I. U., meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at 516 Ninth street northwest. Geo. A. Pinckney, Secretary, 363 Pennsylvania ave. northwest

Central Labor Union meets every Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Typographical Temple. Charles W. Winslow, Secretary, 425 G street northwest. Residence, 3206 Wisconsin avenue northwest.

Ceramic, Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers and Helpers' International Union, No. 2, meets first and third Thursdays at 609 C street northwest. H. A. Hopkins, Secretary, 605 Eighth street northeast. W. E. Thompson, Business Agent, Room 1, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

Cigarmakers' Local Union, No. 110, meets every Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Bielig's Hall, 737 Seventh street northwest. Henry B. Wissner, Secretary, 3143 Dumbarton avenue.

Columbia Lodge, No. 174, International Association of Machinists, meets every Wednesday night at McCauley's Hall, 209 Pennsylvavenue southeast. E. L. Adams, Secretary, 600 Ninth street northeast.

Columbia Typographical Union meets third Sunday in each month in Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. W. M. Garrett, Secretary.

Council Allied Building Trades of Central Labor Union meets every Tuesday night at Hall 3, Building Trades Halls, 624 Sixth street northwest. E. J. Ratigan, Secretary and Business Agent. Room 2, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

Douglass Association of Steam Engineers, I. S. U. E., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of the month at 609 F street northwest. J. W. Webb, Secretary, 341 Maryland avenue southwest.

Electrotype Molders and Finishers' Union, No. 17, I. S. and E. U. Charles W. Dean, Secretary.

Federal Labor Union No. 8193, meets fourth Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Miss Emma A. Miller, Secretary, 1011 First street n. w.

Glass Bottle Blowers' Association, Branch 68, Alexandria, Va., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Serepta Hall. Frank Michelbach, Secretary, 803 King street, Alexandria, Va.

Grocery Clerks' Union, No. 533, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at Hall 3, Building Trades Halls, 624 Sixth street northwest. John D. Schamel, Secretary, 1540 North Capitol street. C. A. Pfau, Business Agent, Room 1, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

Hospital Attendants' Protective Union No. 8097, meets first and fourth Saturday nights of each month at Masonic Hall, Anacostia, D. C. C. W. Teates, Secretary, 434 Jackson street, Anacostia, D. C.

Hod Carriers and Building Laborers' Local Union No. 21, I. U. B. L., meets first and third Mondays of each month at Cadets' Armory, 708 O street northwest. Dennis Brown, Secretary, 1237 Fourth street northwest. Sol. J. Childs, Business Agent, 1006 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Ice Wagon Drivers and Helpers, Local No. 430, meets first and third Tuesdays in each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest (third floor). William Donaldson, Secretary, 812 Seventh street southwest.

International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, Local Union No. 5, meets every Friday night at Hall 1, Building Trades Halls, 610 G street northwest. F. M. Briggs, Secretary, 104 Third street northwest. Thos. E. Grove, Business Agent, Room 1, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

International Association of Machinists, Headquarters, rooms 402-407 McGill Building, 908-914 G streets northwest. James O'Connell, president; D. Douglass Wilson, vice-president and editor of the Journal; George Preston, Secretary-Treasurer.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.—Headquarters, Rooms 103-104 Corcoran Building. H. W. Sherman, Secretary.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 26, meets every Thursday night at Hall 2, Building Trades Halls, 610 G street northwest. S. F. Adams, Secretary, 724 Eighteenth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 148, meet every Monday night at 430 Eighth street northwest. H. B. Anderson, Secretary, 807 Eighth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, No. 257, meets every Friday evening at 719 Sixth street n. w. M. G. Bundick, Secretary, 1107 Tenth street n. w.

Interior Marble and Slate Cutters' and Setters' Association, No. 5, meets first and third Wednesday of each month at Arion Hall, 430 Eighth street northwest. J. M. Eliason, Secretary, 621 Maryland avenue southwest.

International Association of Marble Workers No. 33, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at 430 Eighth street northwest. Lew Davis, Secretary, 106 I street northwest.

International Union of Steam Engineers— Local Union No. 99, meets every Wednesday evening at 419 Tenth street northwest. A. W. Leeke, Recording Secretary, Twelfth and B streets northwest.

International Brotherhood of Firemen, Local No. 63, meets every Tuesday night at J. F. Heare's Hall, 404 Eighth street northwest. Louis S. Crown, Secretary. 637 K street northeast.

Iron Molders' Union, Local No. 215, meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at Masonic Hall, Fourth street and Pennsylvania avenue southeast. Joseph Stewart, Secretary, 3413 N street northwest.

I. U. S. E., Hoisting and Portable, Local 77, meets every Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, Heare's Hall, 404 Eighth street northwest. W. H. Radcliffe, Secretary, 812 Four-and-a-Half street southwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 239, meets first and third Wednesdays in each month at 737 Seventh st. northwest. Theo. A. Leckert, Secretary, 1210 Florida avenue northwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 305, meets first and third Monday evenings at 503 G street northwest (barber shop). Charles A. Thomas, Secretary, 817 E street northwest.

Journeymen Horseshoers' Union, No. 17, meets first and third Wednesdays of each month at Hall 1, Building Trades Halls, 610 G street northwest. W. S. Lusby, Secretary, 708 Eighth street southeast.

Journeyman Tailors of America, No. 188, meets first and third Saturdays of each month at 8 o'clock p.m., Labor Bureau Hall. Ignatius Geraci, Secretary, 917½ E street northwest.

Journeyman Plumbers and Gas Fitters' Local Union, No. 5, meets second and fourth Tuesday evening of each month at Maccabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. A. E. Anderson, Secretary, 1312 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Journeymen Stone and Marble Cutters' Union, meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Jonadab Hall, 623 Louisiana avenue northwest. Harry Bouche, Secretary, 72 H street northeast.

Laundry Wagon Drivers No. 467, W. W. Foster, Secretary, 95 Myrtle street northwest

Mail Bag Repairers' Union, No. 10523, meets first and last Saturdays of every month at Stolpp's Hall 721 Sixth street northwest. L. W. Kearney, Secretary, 406 First st. n.w.

Mail Bag Workers' Union, 10504, meets every Saturday at 721 Sixth street northwest Miss A. Cross, Secretary, 321 Lincoln street, Anacostia, D. C.

Metal Trades Federation of North America, Room 134 Corcoran Bldg., James O'Connell, President. E. J. Lyn h, Secretary.

Milk Wagon Drivers' Union, No. 349, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at 8 p. m., at Hotel Royal (second floor), Seventh and N streets northwest. W. T. Trittipoe 1359 U street northwest.

Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers' Helpers, Local Union, No. 12, meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Hall 3, Building Trades Halls, 624 Sixth street northwest. Sam Jones, Secretary. Howard Smoot, Business Agent, Room 1, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

Musicians' Protective Union, No. 161, meets first and third Sundays at 2 p. m., at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Linden, Jr Secretary, 1364 E street southeast.

National Alliance Theatrical Stage Employes meets first and third Sunday in each month at southwest corner of Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, third floor. J. P. Shilling, Secretary, 1208 Bladensburg Road.

Negative Cutters Union, meets second Wednesday in each month at 921 F street northwest. Clarence W. Schroeder, Secretary, 640 E street southeast.

Oil Wagon Drivers, No. 296, meets second Wednesday of each month at Oppenheimer's Hall, 514 Ninth street northwest. A. J. Dixon, Secretary, 1234 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Operative Stonemasons' Union, No. 2, meets first and third Monday evenings at 609 C street northwest. James Lanigan, Secretary, 930 G street southwest.

Paperhangers' Local Union No. 420, B. of P., D., and P., meets every Wednesday evening at Paperhangers' Headquarters, 625 Louisiana avenue northwest. J. Franklin Page, Secretary. Harry J. Wells, Business Agent.

Pattern Makers' League meets at Weller's Hall, Eighth and I streets southeast, first and third Wednesday. James B. McAlwee, Secretary, 907 E street southeast.

Photo-Engravers' Union, No. 17, meets first Monday in each month at 417 Eleventh street northwest. F. C. Betts, Secretary, Kensington, Md.

Printing Pressmen Union, No. 1, meets first Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. W. C. Deane, Secretary. 19 Grant Place.

Plate Printers Union, No. 2, meets at Maccabee Temple, Ninth street n. w., the fourth Tuesday in each month. J. P. Murphy, Secretary, 1416 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

Post-Office Clerks, No. 9834, meets the second Saturday of each month at Twelfth and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. B. Corridon, Secretary, 1733 North Capitol street.

Registered Drug Clerks' Union, District of Columbia, meets second and fourth Fridays at Jolly Fat Men's Hall, 933 D street northwest. Fred T. Hafelfinger, Secretary, 1110 Fourteenth street northwest.

Retail Clerks' Union, No. 262, meets second and fourth Mondays of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Joseph Moser, Recording Secretary, 624 I street northwest.

Slate and Tile Roofers' Union, No. 12, I. U., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Room 6, Warder Building. J. C. Huddleson, Secretary, 2147 Pennsylvania avenue northwest,

Soda and Mineral Water Wagon Drivers, No. 372, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at Bessler's Hall, 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. P. Connor, Secretary, 1111 Sixth street southwest.

Steam Fitters, R. A. Lanis Association, L. B. No. 10, N. A., meets every Thursday night at Hall 1, Building Trades Halls, 610 G street northwest. Thomas L. Hess, Secretary, 913 New York avenue northwest.

Steam and Hot Water Fitters' Helpers, Local Branch, No. 28, N. A., meets every Friday night at Bessler's Hall, 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. H. Reichard, 315 Ninth street southeast.

Stereotypers' Union, No. 19, of Washington D. C., meets second Monday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. D. J. Murray, Secretary, 35 R street northwest.

Stone and Building Laborers' Union, No. 46 I. U. B. L., meets first and third Fridays of each month at Eleventh and Q streets northwest. Daniel Lahey, Secretary and Business Agent, Room 1, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

Telephone Operators, No. 9914, meets third Saturday of each month at Schmidt's Hall, 516 Ninth street northwest. Edna Earl Bobb, Secretary, 924 Pennsylvania avenue southeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, Local Union, No. 190, meet every Friday evening at Painters' Hall, 506 Sixth street northwest C. H. Scherer, Secretary, 936 Fourth street northeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 884, meets every Monday night at 904 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Torney, Secretary, 141 Jefferson street, Anacostia D. C.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 1103, Mill and Bench Hands, meets every Friday at 8 p. m., at 514 Ninth street northwest. Peyton Wilkerson, Secretary, 816 G street southeast.

United Brotherhood of Leather Workers on Horse Goods, No. 87, meets every second and fourth Tuesday, 513 Twelfth street northwest. H. J. Laubach, Secretary. 72 H street northeast.

Upholsterers' Local Union, No. 58, meets second and fourth Thursdays of each month at 416 (fourth floor) Ninth street northwest. F. Barker, Secretary, 834 Eleventh street n. e,

Washington Branch, Granite Cutters' National Union, meets every second and fourth Mondays in each month at 1204 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Wm. Silver, Secretary, 49 Massachusetts avenue northwest.

Washington Feeders and Assistants' Union, No. 42, meets the first Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street n. w. D. I. Leane, Secretary, 702 H street northeast.

Washington Lodge of Machinists, No. 193, meets every Thursday night at southwest corner of Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. Herbert Wyatt, Secretary, 111 Seventh street southeast.

Wood, Wire, and Metal Lathers' Local Union, No. 9, meets every Tuesday night at Hall 1, Building Trades Halls, 610 G street northwest. J. C. Maloney, Secretary, 124 G street northwest.

The Cummings Memorial.

Extracts from a communication of Hon. John M. Farquhar to the Typographical Journal are worthy of reproduction, in view of the fact that Columbia Union's membership contemplates action at an early date in the matter of organizing a movement to secure funds for the memorial. Mr. Farquhar, as an ex-President of the International Typographical Union and for many years a friend and associate of Amos J. Cummings, is deeply interested in the movement, which he so eloquently indorses in the following words, and which he points out as commendable for these reasons:

The appropriateness of the selected location for the memorial—the Union Printers' Home at Colorado Springs.

The purely voluntary method of securing the contributions. No tithing.

The unlimited invitation in the appeal: "Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give."

Surely there is not a printing office in this broad land wherein the name of Amos J. Cummings is unknown, and surely his name is co-existent with his fame as a union printer. Loving his craftsmen, and beloved by them; untiring in the advancement of their interests, whether in the local or national field of activities; a generous and unostentatious giver—yes, even prodigal in his charities, directed largely by the impulses of a loving heart; a toiler whose hands and brains took little rest; never proud by reason of social or political elevation, but treating the humblest and the greatest as equals; a dutiful son, a loving husband, a pure patriot, an aggressive trades-unionist, and a true friend of his fellow men—in a broad sense the life-work of Amos J. Cummings deserves national recognition, and in a craft sense the appeal for the erection of the proposed memorial ought to reach the heart-center of every union printer in the land. We need not multiply words of incitement in aid of the appeal, as the line of duty and honor and brotherly tribute is very plain. Our giving ought not to be only an outward function; it ought to be free and generous and heartfelt. It should be measured by delight and not by dollars.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

That Obligation.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

I noticed in the Star of recent date the appended article by W. S. Whitmore:

THE PRINTERS' OATH.

If there is nothing in that printers' obligation, and it is such a harmless little thing, why are the leaders in the union so tenacious in its defense and so earnest in their efforts to keep it in their ritual?

Let us analyze that oath a little bit.

* * * "that I will at all times abide by the decisions of the majority; * * * that my fidelity to the union and my duty to the members thereof shall in no case be interfered with or trenched upon by any allegiance that I may now or hereafter owe to any other organization, social, political or religious, secret or otherwise."

Now, is there one of those leaders who will declare that should the Federation of Labor, or any other labor "organization," by a "majority" vote decide to carry out their oft-repeated threats to defeat the President on account of his "open shop" decision in the Miller case, that that oath is not binding upon the individual members and means nothing? I guess not. It means exactly what it says. It means that you submit your political action to the decision of a majority of your union; that your obligation to your union supersedes your Masonic obligation or your obligation as an Odd Fellow, and that the interests of the union must have preference when they come in conflict, over your country, or even in the members of your own family.

Trade organizations have two weapons with which to enforce their edicts—the boycott and the franchise—and they use them to their fullest extent. By the use of these two weapons the printers defeated the New York Tribune and the New York Sun.

If anyone thinks that the oath has no bearing upon the church let any church organization attempt to build a church without employing union labor, and you will see how quickly they will boycott it. Bishop Scannell was right. "The oath is subversive of all Government, both civil and ecclesiastical." It is a foolish and extravagant obligation. Cut it out.

Since Mr. Whitmore has went out of his way to meddle into something which neither concerns him nor the union which he claims to represent I think it behooves some member of 101 to call him down. If I remember correctly this same Whitmore attempted to volunteer his advice in the Miller case, as president of The Electrotypers Union, (in an individual way) and was very properly and promptly snubbed. That did not, however, prevent him from getting the ear of a reporter of a local daily and airing his opinions in regard to the matter. If he was correctly quoted in that self-sought interview he made use of language which should be the basis of impeachment proceedings by the union which unfortunately elected him as their president and representative. He takes the stand that his party affiliations take the precedence of his union oath. Very likely it does, but it is also a well-known fact to the old employees of the Government Printing Office, that this same Whitmore wore the carpet out of the hallway in his efforts to be reinstated by Public Printer Benedict, and that he did finally succeed in getting a position under that gentleman's adminstration. So much for his party fealty.

There has been altogether too much said and printed in regard to this Miller affair, and, I am glad to say, mainly by such unaffected and meddlesome busybodies as this same Whitmore. The matter will be adjusted, I hope, at the proper time and in a way which will leave us none the loser. Whitmore's bid for notoriety looks very much to me like an attempt—to "sink a quill" in some direction.

Typographically yours,
SLUG BLANK.

The Franklin Society of Press Feeders went on strike in Chicago last week and in three days had practically won their strike. This is remarkable when it is considered that the Chicago feeders are not affiliated with the Pressmen's Union, and had to make a lone fight against the Typotheta.

HALLS for rent at Building Trades Halls, 610 G street northwest and 624 Sixth street northwest. For terms apply at Room 2, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

Representative Business Houses.
OF WASHINGTON, D. C.

The following wholesale and retail firms and professional men are friendly to Union Labor and are entitled to its patronage:

BANKS.
THE LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK, Safe Deposit Vaults. $2.50 up
CAPITAL LOAN GUARANTEE COMPANY, 602 F Street Northwest. Every one can borrow money without security.

BAKERS.
HOLMES & SON, Celebrated Home-Made Pies and Milk Bread. First and E Streets N. W. Phone East 864.

BOOTS AND SHOES.
CROCKER'S SHOES, 939 Pennsylvania Ave. N. W.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.
DANIEL LOUGHRAN, 1347 Pennsylvania Ave.
LUCHS & BRO., Wholesalers. Phone E 755.

COACH FINDINGS.
J. B. KENDALL, 485-87 Missouri avenue N. W.

CUTLERY AND SPORTING GOODS.
D. N. WALFORD, 477 and 909 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

DRY GOODS.
LANSBURGH & BROTHER, 420 to 426 7th St. N. W

DYER.
E. E. WHEATLEY, 1068 Jefferson Ave. N. W. Phone, West 117-Y.

ENGRAVERS.
THE MAURICE JOYCE ENGRAVING CO. Cuts and Illustrations. 418 11th street N. W

FIRE INSURANCE.
Insure with THE RIGGS FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.
FIREMEN'S INSURANCE COMPANY, Seventh St. and Louisiana Ave.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.
JULIUS LANSBURGH, Interocean Building, 512 Ninth St. N. W.

GROCERIES.
LITTLE & PAGE, "Good things to eat." 1210 F St. N.W
W. C. ERGOOD, "Good goods at Ergoods." Corner Ninth and H Streets Northwest.

GROCER AND COFFEE ROASTER.
SOMERSET R. WATERS. 1342 Seventh Street Northwest, Corner O.

HARDWARE AND TOOLS.
RUDOLPH, WEST & CO., 1332 New York avenue northwest.

HUDSON'S VARIETY STORE.
B. F. HUDSON, 416 Seventh Street Northwest.

HATTERS AND FURRIERS.
JAMES Y. DAVIS' SONS, 1201 Pennsylvania Ave.
A. H. BURDINE, Union Overalls, Hats, and Gloves. Seventh Street and Virginia avenue southwest.

LIME, SAND, GRAVEL, CEMENT.
NATIONAL MORTAR COMPANY. Office: Room 9, Ralston Bldg., 612 F St. N. W. Office telephone: East 688.

LUMBER AND MILL WORK.
THOMAS R. RILEY, 13th St. and Ohio Ave.

MACHINISTS AND ENGINEERS.
FORSBERG & MURRAY, Pumps and Elevators. Engines and Boilers 8th and Water Sts. S. W.

PHARMACISTS.
LOUIS F. BRADLEY, Prescription Druggist. 8th and E Sts. S. E

PHOTO-LITHOGRAPHERS.
THE NORRIS PETERS CO., 458 and 460 Pennsylvania avenue N. W
ANDREW B. GRAHAM Lithographer, Photo-Lithographer, and Half-Tones. 1230 Pa. Ave. Phones: 1031-M, 1679-M.

PIANO AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
E. E. DROOP & SONS, 925 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

PRINTING SUPPLIES.
NATIONAL PRINTER'S SUPPLY CO., Machine-made Rollers. 414 10th St. N. W.

RESTAURANT AND WINE ROOM.
JOHN M. BECKER, Opp. Navy Yard., Cor. 8th and Georgia Ave. S.E

SHOES.
DAVE WOLF. SHOES FOR EVERYBODY. 432 Seventh Street N. W.

SHAVING PARLORS
VINCENT R. CILENTO, 805 North Capitol Street.

TITLES TO REAL ESTATE.
LAWYERS' TITLE & GUARANTY INS. CO. 412 5th St. N. W.

WINES AND LIQUORS.
SAMUEL G. STEWART, Heurich Brewing Co's. beers and popular brands of whiskies. 1141 Seventh st. northwest between L and M.
GEORGE W. DRIVER, 605 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

DO NOT WANT OUR PATRONAGE.

Following brands of cigars: Cinco, Cremo, George W. Childs, Henry George, Tom Moore, Robert Burns, and General Arthur.

The following firms have declared against the interest of Organized Labor and are not regarded as deserving their patronage:

NAME.	BUSINESS.	LOCATION.
Chevy Chase Railway and circle.	Street railway	Chevy Chase and Circle.
Keenan Bros	Gents' furnishers	Pa. ave. bet. 14th and 15th sts, and 523 Seventh st. n. w.
B. Solomon	Gents' furnisher	708 Seventh street n.w.
Rufus H. Darby	Printer	508 Fourteenth street n.w.
H. L. McQueen	Printer	1108 E street n.w.
N. Sickles (Nat'l Cigar Factory).	Cigar manufacturer	1011 Penna. avenue n.w.
E. Gundershiemer	Baker	516 Second street n.w. and stall in Center Market.
Peter Grogan	Carpet dealer.	817 to 823 Seventh street n.w.
John H. Fitzgerald	Horseshoer	443 Prather's alley n.w.
S. S Daish	Coal and wood	Florida ave. and Third st. n.e.
Wilbur F. Nash	Meat dealer	Center and O st. Markets.
C. E. Hencke	Electrician	711 G street n.w.
National Mosaic Company	Mosaics	207 Fourth st. n.w.
M. Minster	Gents' furnisher	1343 F st. n.w.
A. Minster	Gents' furnisher	499 and 501 Penna. ave. n. w.
Cyrus B. Reese	Employing steamfitter	1519 Fourteenth street n. w.
C. A. Schneider & Sons	Union Iron Works	212 Twelfth street n. w.
Minster & Paterson	Gents' furnishers	1109 Pennsylvania ave. n. w.
Conrad Becker	Trunks and harness	1328 F st. n. w.
Home Ice Company	Ice	Twelfth and V sts. n.w.
Emil Wagner	Restaurant	210 Ninth st. n. w.
W. E. Carney	Cigar manufacturer	921 G st. s. w.
Nat'l Roller & Ball Bearing Co.	Machinery	33rd and K sts. n. w.
L. Rosenberg	Clothing and shoes	911-913 Eighth st. s. e.
Corbin Thompson	Dairyman	Sharon Dairy, 324 B st. s. w.
S. D. Houck	Dealer in harness	301 Tenth street n. w.
M. Eisemann & Bro	Dry goods	1924-26 Pa. ava. and 806 7th n.w.
Elite Steam Laundry	Laundry	1205 G street n.w.
Benjamin Schwartz	Gents' furnisher and tailor	337 Pa. ave. s. e.
Emrich Beef Co	Meat Dealers
John Coleman	Horseshoer	1300 36th street n. w.
Hecht & Co	Dry Goods, etc	517-519 Seventh street n. w
Charles Rauscher	Caterer	Conn. ave. and L st. n. w.
Academy of Music	Theater	Ninth and D streets n. w.
Lafayette Square Theater	Theater	16th st. and Pa. ave. n. w.
E. H. Snyder & Co	Tailors	1111 Pa. ave n. w
Owen Owen	Tailor	423 Eleventh street n. w.
L. A. Downey	Tailor	433 Eleventh street n. w.
J. M. Stein & Co	Tailors	413 Eleventh street n. w
J. D. Burns & Co	Tailors	701 Ninth street n. w.
J. B. Gatchel	Tailor	604 Thirteenth street n. w.
G. Warfield Simpson	Tailor	1208 F street n. w.
E. H. Catlin & Co	Machinists	407 13½ street n. w.
Thomas Somerville & Sons	Steam Fitters' Supplies	316 Thirteenth street n. w.
Joseph Mathy	Stove dealer and tin worker	1918 Pennsylvania avenue.
William Meehan	Saloon	943 B street n. w.
Robert Lowe	Stone yard and mill	113 Third street s. w.
John W. Jennings	Druggist	1142 Connecticut avenue n. w.
E. Tapscott	Contractor

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICIAL ORGAN CENTRAL LABOR UNION, WASHINGTON BRANCH, AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Vol. VIII. No. 19. WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1903. Price, 3 Cents.

THE CENTRAL LABOR UNION

Election of Delegate to Convention of A. F. of L. Proved Exciting.

E. J. ROCHE CHOSEN DELEGATE

Credentials Received—Elevator Constructors Seated—Election of Delegate Required Three Ballots—Delegate Roche's Election Made Unanimous.

The regular meeting of the Central Labor Union was called to order at the usual hour last Monday evening, President Sherman in the chair.

The election for delegate to the coming convention of the American Federation of Labor proved to be a drawing card, over 250 delegates being present at the meeting.

CREDENTIALS.

From Local Union No. 10, Elevator Constructors, certifying C. J. Faulstick, William Rasmussen, Roger Stockman, C. R. Allender, and B. Umhau.

From Local No. 368, Painters, certifying Herman Arnold, vice Homan.

From Bricklayers' Union, No. 1, certifying Milford Spohn, Dennis Ferry, John G. Wolfe, T. Costello, and Edward McCollom.

From Cigarmakers' Union, No. 110, certifying Peter Hahn, vice Jos. Hart.

From Local No. 28, Steam Fitters' Helpers, certifying Edward Hart, John Boyd, William Suddarth, and George E. Miller.

From Bookbinders' Union, No. 4, certifying Robert D. Barrett, delegate pro tempore, vice James Fogerty, absent from city.

From Barbers' Union, No. 305, certifying to Bernard Howard, Frederick Sabbs, and Charles Bowman.

From Local No. 1042, Wall Scrapers, certifying Robert Braxton, Jos. Givens, Percy A. Roy, William Howard, and Robert C. Powell.

From Local No. 586, Waiters' Alliance, certifying William Jamison, Jos. Sullivan, and Walter J. Carville, to fill vacancies.

Accompanying credentials of Elevator Constructors, No. 10, was a communication from Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation, quoting section 8, Article XII, in reference to acceptance by central bodies of credentials affiliated with American Federation of Labor.

The credentials were received and approved and delegates obligated.

The regular order of business being suspended, the Union entered into the election of a delegate to the American Federation of Labor.

The first ballot resulted:

Cowan	26
Daly	10
McCarthy	47
McCracken	9
Roche	81

Necessary to a choice, 97; no election. The name of J. A. Daly was withdrawn, and James J. McCracken was dropped.

A second ballot being taken, resulted:

Cowan	36
McCarthy	51
Roche	87

Necessary to a choice, 88; no election. The name of R. H. Cowan was dropped.

A third ballot being ordered, it resulted:

McCarthy	50
Roche	97

Delegate McCarthy moved that the election of Delegate Roche be made unanimous, which was seconded by Delegate Cowan. Delegate Roche was then declared the unanimous choice of the Union for delegate to A. F. of L. convention.

Adjourned.

Bricklayers' Executive Committee.

The following is the list of members of the Executive Committee of Bricklayers' Union, No. 1: John G. Wolfe, chairman, 1023 New Jersey avenue; W. Cronin, 1415 Thirty-sixth street northwest; Samuel Haslett, 221 South Lee street, Alexandria, Va.; John Shanahan, 2352 Eighth street northwest; John McCarten, 1237 Maryland avenue northeast.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

MILO SHANKS.

The subject of this sketch is well known as the Secretary of the Kentucky Republican Club, in which organization he has been an active worker, having filled the President's chair for a term. Mr. Shanks is foreman of the Second Division of the Government Printing Office, where he is a universal favorite on account of his genial disposition and the deep interest he takes in the men under his charge. He established the Library Branch printing office attached to the Congressional Library and was called to greater responsibilities after the work in that flourishing branch was fully installed. Mr. Shanks is a native of Richmond, Ky., where he has hosts of friends. He established the Pantagraph in that city, a paper that wields a potent influence in that section of Kentucky. To round out a career that has been one of activity, and Mr. Shanks is not yet in the thirties, he has taken to himself a wife, who was a Miss Annie L. Payne, and a member of a family well known in social circles in this city. The happy couple are now visiting Kentucky on their wedding trip and their many friends wish them many happy days and a life of prosperity.

Proof Room Notes.

J. M. McDonald, dentist, one of our messengers, has been transferred to the Record room.

Capt. C. J. C. Puckette has returned to work after a vacation of fifteen days spent quietly at home.

Mr. A. H. Chase is spending his vacation in the Buckeye State, amid the scenes of his boyhood.

Business is picking up, and invitations to join the night owls were extended on Monday. There was no lack of volunteers.

Rumor has it that there are a number of aspirants to the chairmanship of this chapel. Dr. Armstrong had better look to his fences.

R. J. Quigly has resigned his position as copy collator to become a stenographer in the Navy Department. C. T. Hess, a promising medical student, has been assigned to this vacancy.

I see from a letter written by Max Hayes, now in England, that the English workingman is not driven at "the pace that kills," and that, on the whole, he is as fairly off as we are. A statement like this from the ground and by a workingman is worth a barrel full of statistics.

While I am by no means a champion of the reduction of our local dues, I think the resolution introduced by Vice-President Vaughan last Sunday, relating to the appointment of a committee to look into the subject, is a wise and timely one. I trust the committee will investigate the financial condition of No. 101 thoroughly. The membership wishes to be informed on the subject.

A complete collection of the poems of John Henry Boner in a handsomely bound volume, recently published, found quite a number of purchasers in this room. What a pity it does not contain a full biographical sketch of this wonderful man. His life was an eventful and a sad one, and one could have told many a strange tale in this connection about the reconstruction period in his native State, in which he took such a prominent part. Copies of this work may be obtained through Charles W. Otis.

I have recently had occasion to take a close view of the interior of our new "print shop." Its vastness and the immensity of the work performed there is amazing and bewildering. But what most attracts attention is the wonderful machinery, the labor-saving methods and appliances, and the up-to-date processes employed here. It is by all odds vastly superior in every respect to any similiar institution in the world. A casual visit to this grand printing plant will dispel the false notion that the office is antiquated.

CHAS. W. PAFFLOW.

President Gompers on the Boycott.

I do not pretend to say that there has not ever been a union man who has raised his hand against another or against a non-union man, but the bludgeon attacks—violence, are not the weapons of trades unionism, and too frequently do we find it like the provoking agent employed in France during the last Napoleon's time to create disorder and to put it down as showing the great strength of his Government. So do we find that often the agents of some employers' association is at work among striking workmen, creating discord and trouble and strife and violence for which the organizations of labor must bear the brunt.

Boycott, yes; why, of course, we boycott, certainly. I take it that there are some ladies and gentlemen in this hall to-day who would disavow that they ever boycotted, but they did, all the same; and they do, socially, financially, and in a business way and in every way that is right, proper, and moral. We propose to stand by our friends, help our friends in preference to those who have always their hands raised against us.

Seaboard Florida Excursion.

For trains of November 11th the Seaboard Air Line will sell cheap excursion tickets to Sarasota, Fla. (The Manatee Country), good fifteen days. For full particulars, booklets on fruit culture, and trucking address, W. E. CONKLYN, General Agent, 1411 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Man.

New York Herald.]

Man is the noblest work of God
And woman, with a smirk
Or sigh, or tear or two, proceeds
To work God's noblest work.

CO-OPERATIVE COMPANIONS

System Employed in France Claimed to Be Far Superior to Ours.

ARTICLE BY J. W. SULLIVAN

A Distinctively Trade-Union Movement—The Law of Compensation—Slow Men Held Up by the Swift—Common Fund For Wages—Moral Benefits.

The Government Printing Office in France has 350 compositors. The Public Printer has little concern as to the politics or unionism of these employes, for they hire and discharge themselves. They work in a co-operative companionship, with stents and wages equal. Their non-political and perfectly fair methods are not unique in France. The City Printing Office of Paris with 80, and 34 Paris daily newspapers, with 700, union men are thus administered. In the National Typographical Union of France, which has a membership of 10,000, the system is followed by 1,500 compositors.

This co-operative companionship, or "chapel" copartnership, dates in France from 1880. It has since gained steadily. To mark its development and promote its growth, the Paris Typographical Union from time to time issues circulars and pamphlets on the subject. In 1896 the union announced that up to that time not one employing printer who had taken up with the companionship had returned to the old system. Since that time, however, the the line casting machine has caused it to lose ground in some offices while it has gained in others.

When the companionship is introduced in an office, the compositors as a collective unit contract with the employer to turn out his work at the outset for the same sum total as it previously cost him or perhaps for less. They give guarantees that, besides safeguarding his plant, they will complete all work on time and maintain the workmanship at a prescribed standard. The organization of the companionship being under control of the men themselves, they decide upon the number of regular and extra hands to be employed. They keep their own accounts. Hence the employer has no concern about his individual employes as to their loafing, incompetency, waste of material, or measurements of composition.

The companionship compositors decide whether they shall work by the piece or on a time scale. Piece rates are commonly preferred in book offices where the character of the work varies considerably, and where men slower then the average may be employed. The time system is invariably adopted on the daily newspapers. Under it every man is required to set on the average a stipulated number of lines per hour for seven hours. If a swift compositor exceeds the days stent, his surplus goes to the slow. If a slow man continually falls behindhand, he is dropped, as he would be, perhaps for less reason, by a foreman. The Paris union recommends a weekly instead of a daily stent, that a man may make up one day the shortage of another.

In each city the union has its own regulations for the government of companionships. The Paris union has a list of twenty-seven rules. Among them: Only union men can be members. The companionship must pay all union dues; provide necessary extra hands promptly; show its accounts to any one interested; determine the stent of work per hour; elect its make-ups, proofreaders, measurers, chairman, etc., and it must place on record at union headquarters its minutes and accounts. The companionship may expel a member only after trial by a committee and on a two-thirds vote. The union enforces the chapel's responsibilities to the employer.

A test of the companionship is in the production of the Official Journal, which corresponds to our Congressional Record. It has been set up under this system since 1881. For its administration only two officials, a director and a bookkeeper, paid by the companionship, are employed. The Paris union publishes its opinion that ten officials would be necessary if the Government did the work, so proverbially ineffective is public service in France. The Official Journal may one day be of sixteen pages and the next o thirty-two, sixty four eighty, or ninety-six. Just before the adjournment of the national legislature, ninety to one hundred compositors are employed on the Journal, beginning at 5.30 in the evening and finishing at 2 or 3 o'clock next morning. These companionship compositors manage to get out the paper on time, though none of them have passed a civil service examination.

The financial profits to the fifteen hundred French compositors in the various companionships, while considerable sink into insignificance when compared with their mental and moral benefits.

The mass of the members of a companionship all increase their earnings, as they throw into a common fund and divide equally the higher wages previously paid the foremen, make-ups, and others of the abolished shop aristocracy. The partnership strengthens the trades union, as no contract is made at less than the union scale, and when non-unionists try the system the fact of being organized at all is a stepping stone to unionism.

The mental benefits ensue from the opportunities given companions to learn every part of the work. The general interest incites the hands to try out one another in the various positions, thus increasing the number qualified to act as readers, make-ups and foremen. In this respect the most striking result has been to abolish the superstition that in routine labor managing talent is rare. The companionship members know that a martinet is not needed to protect their employer's interests or to bullyrag them into doing their duty.

The moral benefits are the greatest. The companionship is a true form of co-operation. Within itself it permits no man to make a profit off another. It establishes a just equality, imposes a democratic discipline and trains men in the rudimentary principles of economic equity. No foreman in charge can rush the force at a slave-driving pace to make a record for himself. No companionship member can seek security of place as the reward of subservence or influence, but must depend upon his own capability and faithfulness, proven in the presence of the group most interested. No employer can give to his relatives or dependents positions in which they may hide their incapacity. In the Government Printing Office in France companionship members would not know what was meant if asked who was their Member or Senator. It would be inconceivable to them that a national issue could grow out of the dismissal from among them of an obnoxious deputy assistant foreman.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

Agreement Among Tailors.

The Journeymen Tailors of America and the United Garment Workers have arrived at an agreement in which trade jurisdiction is defined.

The agreement provides that the Journeyman Tailors' Union of America shall have jurisdiction over the workmen engaged in making custom clothing for merchant tailors in the United States or Canada, either under the system of the regular old-line journeyman tailors or by the factory system in cases where the average price at which suits are sold in the United States is not less than $25 and in Canada not less than $18. The Garment Workers' organization will have jurisdiction over the workmen engaged in making custom clothing under the factory system for merchant tailors in the United States or Canada where the average price of suits is below that set forth in the above provision or ready-made clothing.

The Woman's Auxiliary.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held on Thursday evening, October 29, at Typographical Temple. A full attendance is urged. Members who have not yet paid their dues are requested to do so at this meeting. A neat application card has been printed, which will be furnished by members of the Auxiliary, or mailed to any address upon application.

COLUMBIA UNION MEETING

Consideration of Down-Town Scale Brought Out a Fair Crowd.

RETRENCHMENT RESOLUTIONS

The Convention Committee Makes Report—Amendments Offered to By-Laws—The Academy of Music Unfair—Memorial Committee Makes Its Report.

The regular monthly meeting of Columbia Typographical Union was called to order at 2.30 p. m. by President Johnson.

The minutes of the last stated meeting were read and approved.

The traveling cards deposited since last meeting were read and received.

Committee on Nominations having reported favorably on the admission of T. E. Smith and J. C. Martin to full membership and George W. Brandt for apprentice membership, a favorable ballot was cast for the candidates and they were elected and obligated.

The regular order of business was suspended to consider the report of the Special Committee on Book and Job Offices scale of prices.

The report being read and discussed at some length, the union deferred further action until Sunday, November 1, at 2.30 p. m.

A communication from the Business Agent of the Brotherhood of Carpenters, calling attention to a member of this union having let a contract for building a house to a nonunion contractor, was referred to the Grievance Committee.

The union then went on record as instructing its members when giving out contracts for work of any kind that the members use their best efforts to employ union labor.

A decision on the appeal of Joseph E. Goodkey against Columbia Typographical Union, No. 101, decided by President James M. Lynch, of the I. T. U., was read and placed on file.

The Business Committee submitted a report on the appeal of R. E. Beall, jr., against T. N. Surguy, chairman of the Wilkens Printing Company chapel, which sustained the chairman, and was adopted.

The Grievance Committee submitted a report on matters before it, which was considered, and a fine of $5 placed against any member patronizing the Academy of Music.

The Special Committee on Memorial Services reported progress and asked for an appropriation of $50, which was agreed to.

The Amos J. Cummings Memorial Committee submitted a report outlining a plan of action for creating a fund for the purpose of the memorial.

After considerable discussion the report of the committee was adopted.

The Committee on Arrangements for the I. T. U. convention submitted a partial report of its transactions, showing the entire expense of convention week to be $3,098.65, being within the amount appropriated by the union, and that the souvenir book shows a net profit of $1,115 45. A complete and final report will be made at the next meeting.

Mr. Simpson introduced a resolution asking for the cooperation of local unions in advancing the label of the printing trades, and instructing the secretary to send a copy of the resolution to all unions in this jurisdiction.

The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Vaughan introduced a resolution calling for the appointment of a committee to inquire into the feasibility of reducing the dues if it is found practicable after an examination of the books of the secretary, which was adopted.

An amendment governing the number of apprentices was laid over for consideration at next meeting.

An amendment referring to issuing of working cards was laid over for consideration at next meeting.

Oysters in every style at R. A. Driscoll's, North Capitol and G streets. Overholt whisky, 10c.

FOR RENT—Two furnished rooms to 2 or 4 gentlemen; steam heat, hot and cold water; bath and washroom next. Slug 42, Fifth Division.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Official Organ Central Labor Union and Allied Building Trades, A. F. of L.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

The Trades Unionist Publishing Company

E. W. PATTON.....President
A. J. E. HUBBARD.....Vice-President
T. M. RING.....Secretary

Office: 441-443 G Street Northwest.

TELEPHONE EAST 15 Y.

SUBSCRIPTION

One year (in advance) - - - - $1.00
Six months (in advance) - - - - .50

Entered at the Post-Office, Washington, D. C. as Second-Class Matter.

THE TRADES UNIONIST is heartily and unqualifiedly indorsed by the Central Labor Union and the Allied Building Trades as well as by the various locals connected with the two central bodies.

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL WASHINGTON. 2

Only Eight-Hour Union Office in Town.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1903.

BUT how about the multi-millionaire steel-trust get-rich-quick grafters?

THE backbone of summer is broken, but the spinal column of winter has not been stiffened up yet.

JOKES about our esteemed contemporary, the Congressional Record, are almost ripe enough to pick.

PERHAPS those who talk about the tyranny of labor organizations actually believe that in non-unionism there is strength.

THE sensible Government employe doesn't return from his vacation in the same condition as his annual leave—exhausted.

THE discussion of "socialism" has probably caused the explosion of more think boilers than anything else in the curriculum.

AFTER DOWIE has reformed New York he might visit the G. P. O. and have a heart to-heart interview with the lost sheep who failed to lift the plugs from their wash-bowls at quitting time.

THE man of narrow ideas is always in danger of making himself ridiculous when his brain gets overheated. For instance, the excited talk of some opponents of organized labor gives the impression that they really think the laborer is unworthy of his hire.

IT is often asserted that, owing to their special training, business capitalists are better adapted to the practical application of economic theories than the common citizen who rolls up his shirtsleeves when he goes to work. Yet facts do not always vindicate this view. The recent slump in common stock that was supposed to be lead-pipe-cinched by giants of finance indicates that even business men of wide and extraordinary experience are only human after all, and need just as much watching as the average citizen. Even though their grasp of economic problems may be firm and masterful, yet their moral hold may be as weak after all as that of the vulgar flim-flammer who sometimes get caught and goes to jail.

Correspondence Schools.

In the issue of September 17 of this paper, the following article appeared, from the pen of A. F. Bloomer:

An amusing, yea, laughable, illustration is printed by the Scranton correspondence school in its advertisement in the magazines of "Proofreading taught by mail," representing two men supposedly reading proof, in which both are leaning back and each holding in both hands a sheet of paper. If the character of proofreading which this school teaches is like that represented in the advertisements, I do not think real proofreaders have much to fear from the competition of the product of the school. If I thought it necessary I would take pleasure in setting forth how utterly impossible it is for proofreading to be taught by mail or in any other way than by practical application at the business, after a proper foundation has been laid by an apprenticeship at the art of printing. I am gradually acquiring the impression that the whole tribe of "correspondence schools" should be denied the use of the mails and fraud orders issued against them. Why not, when they are advertising to do that which a very slight knowledge will enable one to demonstrate is impossible for them to do? "Sweet are the uses of advertising," but it certainly is the fraud's own friend.

This paragraph brought forth the following communication from the secretary of the Central Labor Union at Scranton, Pa:

SCRANTON, PA., October 7, 1903.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

A representative of the International Correspondence School called on me to-day and showed me an editorial clipping from your paper of September 17, in which you attack them for advertising that they teach proofreading, along with the other branches. They deny that they make any such claim and feel that there has been a mistake made and that they will suffer thereby.

There is another school here called the Correspondence Institute of America, but I do not know if they make any pretentions of teaching proofreading or not. While I am not going to try and defend any one or the other in a wrong, I simply ask for the proofs of the charges, so that we may know here who are the ones meant by your article. The correspondence schools here are held in very high esteem by all our trade unionists, and there is no one employed about the institution in any of the printing trades or in the skilled departments but men with union cards of their various crafts. Knowing all this, and feeling sure that it is not your desire to do any one an injustice, I take the liberty to address you on the matter.

Hoping to hear from you on the matter, and with best personal wishes, I am,

Fraternally yours,

HUGH FRAYNE,
Organizer.

Without desiring to add anything to the controversy, we desire to say that as the International Correspondence School was not mentioned it is evident that the writer of the article did not reflect upon that institution. It is well known to all readers of magazines that the advertisement spoken of has been frequently seen for years past in various publications.

It is also within the memory of the writer that an order was issued by the postal authorities against one of the correspondence schools at Scranton, but from what we can learn it is evident that the International Correspondence School is the pioneer of their business and the other schools are weak imitators of its system. This statement may be combatted with the assertion that "they are fair to organized labor and pay the union scale." Even so, that does not make their scheme any better, and if an injustice is being done the general public it should be shown up in its true light.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM.

As many of my friends knew, I was hurriedly called away to Indian Territory on the 9th instant to the bedside of a dying brother—the only one I had living—and reached there in time to see him breathe his last and attend his funeral, but not, alas, in time to be recognized by him, for during the last week of his illness he was never conscious. He was serving his second term as mayor of the little coal-mining city of Lehigh, of perhaps 2,500 or 3,000 population, and such was the esteem in which he was held that every business house in the city closed and practically the whole population followed him to his narrow last resting place. From one so nearly related perhaps the tribute I am going to pay to his memory may sound in bad taste, but I will have to stand for that. In all the years of my life I have never known a juster man or one more ready to go to the relief of the distressed. If he knew of anyone in need, he first relieved his immediate necessities, without calling an investigation to see whether it was a worthy case, and if it chanced to be one of continuing need he interested others so that by combined effort permanent relief might be accomplished. Even a mangy, sick dog on the street, homeless and friendless, found a faithful friend in him and care and food until made well, when a home was provided for him. The needy were furnished with that of which they were in need, and employment was found for such as were able to work. There was not a man, woman, or child in Lehigh who had not sincere respect and friendship for "Dad" Bloomer, as they affectionately called him though but fifty years old at his death, and there is no man in that town whose passing away could make the desolate void in all hearts which the death of my brother, Ames Elliott Bloomer, has made.

* * * *

The eight-hour movement seems to have made greater progress in some or perhaps most trades than it has in the printing business, though we have had a fair degree of success in getting it adopted, as a circular sent out by President James M. Lynch shows. The efforts must be continued until no member of the I. T. U. works more than eight hours in one day, and all should be willing to contribute of their labor and means until that desirable result is accomplished. The coal miners have secured the eight-hour day almost universally and many other occupations have it also.

* * * *

A long and delightful letter—all of his letters are delightful—from Billy Wilkinson, of Austin, Tex., came during my recent absence, and as a number here know him I am going to epitomize it for their benefit. He begins by stating that the time and attention he is bestowing on a Jersey heifer he is raising had caused him to neglect his correspondence somewhat, which will give an idea of the bocolic life he is leading, after several years of as much of metropolitan life as Texas could furnish in her principal city of Galveston. His recital of the manner of his exit from the latter city is very enjoyable, but belongs not to the general public. It is sufficient to say that he left before becoming engaged in politics, an opportunity for which had been thrust at him, but turned down. He compliments me on some of my Typographical Journal "stuff," which, while it was very interesting to me, might start something if I were to copy it, and then proceeds to do some "roasting" on the same lines in a manner beyond my dwarfed vocabulary. The "booze, beefsteak, and bed brigade" call on him occasionally, and he is always pretty easy money for the panhandler, but he winced a little when one of them laid claim to his good offices on the ground that he had worked with him at Memphis before the war. "Wilky" is no spring chicken, but nobody worked with him in Memphis before the war—having reference, of course, to the war of the rebellion, and not the Spanish-American picnic. Suspecting that Mose Harris, who is now deputy collector of internal revenue at San Antonio, had given the fellow the steer, Billy doubled the allowance out of respect for real artistic gall. He states that Clarence Langan, formerly of the Fifth Division of the G. P. O., is living with his mother at Uvalde Canyon, near Austin, and is in very poor health. He winds up by asking me to compliment Charles O'Connell, of this city, on his poem, "The Gang of Other Days," in the last Typographical Journal, and Mr. O'C. will please consider that I have executed my commission, which I have done with a great deal of pleasure.

* * * *

I was asked so often about the Miller case while travelling that in self-defense I resorted to indirection and evasion.

"What are you fellows going to do about that Miller case."

"What case?"

"Why, that Miller case?"

"Oh, the Miller case. Why, that was settled long ago, but I forget just how they did settle it."

Or:

"You fellows are going to have a good deal of trouble about that man Miller, ain't you?"

"Miller—Miller—oh, you mean the bookbinder. No, I guess not. I haven't heard anything about it for months."

* * * *

I did not see a paper while I was gone that can compare with our Washington Post, and finding "feature" articles published before I started republished as "specials" in some of the Western papers made me more homesick for it than ever.

* * * *

Col. W. C. Talley, for many years a copyholder in the Job Room, I hear is very sick, suffering from a disloocated hip, the result of a fall, and he is quite old his chances of recovery are said to be very small. He had a brilliant army record and is a very genial old gentleman.

Since the above was written Colonel Talley has passed away, his death occurring on Tuesday and his funeral at 1 o'clock to-day (Thursday). He was a genial old gentleman who will be much missed by his many friends in the Government Printing Office and in the city generally.

* * * *

During my recent absence from the city a letter came to me from the Bieber-Kaufman Company, dealers in clothing, furnishings, hats, and shoes, 901-909 Eighth street southeast, referring to an article of mine in this paper of the week previous on the subject of union-label clothing and lamenting that dealers did not advertise that they were selling such clothing, saying that they had "billed the town" with advertisements of their union-label clothing, and calling my attention to the fact that they do advertise it. While I do not think that billboards are by any means the best mode of advertising, I am glad to see that this firm are taking steps to put the working public "next" and was gratified to see that their advertisement in last week's TRADES UNIONIST contained the same information.

* * * *

I received a letter from William E. Shields recently, stating that he is back on his old desk on the Denver Times, an afternoon paper, and had already gained 5 pounds in weight. He gives a thrilling description of the action of the State authorities in their attempts to destroy the Western Federation of Miners.

* * * *

From A. J. E. Hubbard's Colorado Springs Labor News I learn of the resignation of Adrian M. Jones from the foremanship of the Gazette, of that city, on account of the condition of his health, without any definite plans for the future except recuperation. Mr. Jones was formerly well known in Washington. George D. Colquitt, who recently went to Colorado from here for his health, has been admitted to the Union Printers' Home. Carlos B. Tomlin, another former Washington boy, is working on the Colorado Springs Telegraph. Mr. Hubbard is publishing a very newsy labor paper, which has every sign of prosperity.

* * * *

The Rochester (N. Y.) Labor News of last week contained a column and a half review of the report of Mrs. William S. Waudby to the Rochester Women's Auxiliary of the proceedings of the Women's International Auxiliary, which held its sessions here during the I. T. U. convention last August. It was a very complete report of all the proceedings and is a very interesting paper, showing Mrs. Waudby to have been a very capable representative and that she is a most intelligent as well as a very charming woman.

* * * *

Uncle Dave Eccles characterizes my calling him down for misquoting me as "an attempt to hedge," which is not at all objectionable, for it is very natural in people who are very strenuous in their opinions. Of course he knows that my "attempt to hedge" consisted of quoting exactly what I had said before, word for word; but he also knows that other people do not know that. But I am willing to bear "the slings and arrows of outrageous" misrepresentation in order that the discussion may go on. Sic him, Uncle Dave; jump him, Uncle Johnny.

* * * *

Among the marriage licenses issued last Tuesday was one to Milo Shanks and Annie L. Payne, and in the absence of direct information I will take it for granted that the "party of the first part" is the foreman of the Second Division (old Third) and wish him and his bride all happiness in their new relations. While on my recent sad journey to the West, in passing through Kentucky I made a traveler's acquaintance with ex-Congressman Davidson, of that State, who asked very kindly after Mr. Shanks, stating that Mr. S. was a former protege of his and giving him a very good reputation.

* * * *

Fred L. Hemmings, Esq., a prominent attorney of Lake City, Fla., was in this city last week shaking hands with old friends. Mr. Hemmings was formerly a compositor in the G. P. O., from which he resigned some two years ago to enter upon the practice of the law. He is now a partner in one of the most successful law firms in Florida and well satisfied with his prospects for the future.

* * * *

Ed Burkholder, who is now general factotem in the office of the Staunton (Va.) News, wrote to a friend here recently that everything is lovely with him and that he enjoys his new field of labor thoroughly.

A. F. BLOOMER.

FOR THE BEST--
READY-TO-WEAR
—FOR—
Man, Woman and Child
AT THE MOST REASONABLE PRICES,
CONSULT—
Parker, Bridget & Co.,
Washington's Leading Outfitters, ...
Pa. Ave. and 9th St. N. W.

Union Made Cigars
OF THE FINEST QUALITY.
Pluck 5¢ | ARMY & NAVY 10¢
AFTER DINNER 5¢ | DEER HEAD 10¢
Henry T. Offterdinger, Manufacturer
504 Ninth St., N.W.

ARLINGTON BREWING CO.
ROSSLYN, VA.
BEER ALE PORTER
The Finest Productions of Skilled Union Labor. Union Label on Every Bottle and Keg of Our Goods.

Have You Seen Our Posters?
Bill-boards this week and for the next three will display the advertisement of the Peck Clothing
SYRACUSE, N. Y.
Every garment bears
The Union Label
We are Local Agents
THE Bieber-Kaufman
COMPANY
Masculine Outfitters from Childhood to Old Age
901-909 EIGHTH ST. SOUTHEAST
Local Agents "Walk Over" Shoes, Union Made

Our Specialty
IS A BUSINESS SUIT FOR $25
We claim, and verify our assertion by producing the goods, that no other concern gives the same value in materials and workmanship for the price. Our Twenty-five Dollar Suits are made by the same Skilled Union Workmen that make our higher grade garments. Come in, look through our line and be convinced that this special is a winner. Respectfully,
T. E. GILBERT. Importer and Tailor
818 F Street Northwest

Does your bartender wear one of these Blue Buttons?
If not,
WHY NOT?
THIS CARD INDICATES A
Hotel and Restaurant Employes International Alliance
Bartenders International League of America
AFFILIATED WITH AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR
RECOGNIZES THIS BAR AS A
UNION BAR
AND WORTHY THE SUPPORT OF ORGANIZED LABOR

The Savings possible at
S. Kann, Sons & Co.
8th St.-THE BUSY CORNER-Pa. Ave.
are such as may be counted in the pocket. At the same time styles and qualities are unexcelled.

Goods kept in repair one year free.
FIVE STRONG POINTS
No excuse for a Union man leaving this store dissatisfied. We not only have the Garment Workers' label but a force of Union clerks to handle the largest assortment of ready-to-wear tailoring displayed in the city. Others ask $12 for our $7 goods and $20 for garments sold here at $12.
Union Label
Quality
Quantity
Low Price
Union Clerks
I. E. BLOCK
THE FAMOUS
423 Seventh St. N. W.

The Drillery
Stenography, Typewriting, Bookkeeping, Telegraphy, Civil Service Preparation. Sessions daily, 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.
Phone Main 2508-M 1100 New York Ave. N. W.

In purchasing goods from advertisers in this paper, do not fail to mention the fact that you saw the advertisement in THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES
OF
Columbia Typographical Union,
No. 101.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, 423 G ST. N. W.
Office Hours: 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.; 5 to 7 P. M.

OFFICERS.

JOE M. JOHNSON.....President
DAN C. VAUGHAN.....Vice-President
WM. M. GARRETT.....Secretary
JOHN R. BERG.....Treasurer
FRANK BATES.....Sergeant-at-Arms
N. C. STOOPS.....Doorkeeper

TRUSTEES—J. E. Bright, chairman; W. L. Gutelius, Chas. C. Thompson, Joe M. Johnson, and Wm. M. Garrett.

DELEGATES TO CENTRAL LABOR UNION—J. H. Babcock, chairman; J. B. Dickman, Hugh Everett, Theodore Gerber, and C. E. Dietrich.

DELEGATES TO ALLIED TRADES COUNCIL—E. E. Calhoon, chairman; T. F. Hall, and J. P. Garner.

AUDITORS—C. W. Radley, chairman; H. G. Brown, and J. W. Carter.

COMMITTEES.

BUSINESS—Zach T. Jenkins, chairman; C. B. Yater, M. J. Maher, T. C. Parsons, and R. W. Burnside.

NOMINATIONS—W. N. Brockwell, chairman; F. A. Kidd, H. O'Donnell, Frank M. Hatley, and R. E. Stenner.

LAWS—Chas. H. Ennis, chairman; Raymond Gery, and Dexter S. Hussey.

FINANCE—John A. Huston, chairman; J. M. McLaughlin, and R. F. Chisholm.

PRINTING—T. A. Bynum, chairman; Milo Shanks, and Ed. J. Hall.

GRIEVANCE—Clint O. Price, chairman; Chas. S. Gunn, Philip Nachman, David J. Snyder, and E. Y. Fisher.

ENTERTAINMENT—T. L. Jones, chairman; J. R. Purvis, T. J. Fitzwilliam, Miss Nellie Theaker, Miss Anna Wilson, B. E. Harrison, and W. J. Harris.

CONFERENCE—J. L. Holland, chairman; D. J. Hegarty, and W. B. Shaw.

LIBRARY—Clyde J. Sheriff, chairman; A. E. Ogg, and Harry Essex.

RELIEF—Joseph G. Stelle, chairman; Wm. S. Schinnerer and E. P. Cummins.

EIGHT-HOUR—F. C. Roberts, chairman; F. B. Crown, F. D. Seiffert, Jeff Newlon, and S. H. Willey.

MEMORIAL SERVICE—S. J. Gompers, chairman; Philip S. Steele, J. E. Goodkey, J. B. Dickman, and C. B. Yater.

AMOS J. CUMMINGS MEMORIAL—J. T. Rowe, chairman; Charles T. Graff, and T. A. Bynum.

CHAIRMEN.

First Division—W. R. Love.
Second Division—D. J. Snyder.
Third Division—W. N. Goldstein.
Fourth Division—E. T. Stephenson.
Fifth Division—Charles H. Gove.
Sixth Division—E. M Nevils.
Job Room—J. K. Davison.
Record Clerks' Division—H. G. Brown
First Division, Night—Allen Cowles.
Night Proof Room—E. H. Thomas.
Specification Room—F. H. Melick.
Official Gazette—E. G. Myers.
Document Proof Room—Jas. R. Armstrong.
Treasury Division—W. Brice Coston.
Interior Division—C. K. Stribling.
State Division—J. B. Dickman.
Navy Department Division—Albert E. Ogg.
War Department Division—Wm. K. Miller.
Agricultural Division—Henry P. Slaughter.
Library Division—H. V. Bisbee.
Weather Bureau—L. H. Emmons.
Morning Post—J. H. Broderick
Evening Star—Joseph C. Whyte.
Evening Times—T. C. Parsons.
Law Reporter—J. R. Johnson.
Globe Printing Co.—R. A. Wilson.
Judd & Detweiler's—A. B. Barringer.
Wilkens Printing Co.—T. N. Surguy.
Pearson's—T. F. Monahan.
National Publishing Co.—E. C. Owen.
McGill & Wallace's—J. M. Watts.
Byron S. Adams'—R. B. Boucher.
Army and Navy Register—C. H. Draeger.
General Postoffice—Joseph Williams.
Sudwarth's—F. R. Adams.

AROUND THE PRINTERIES.

Committee Meeting.

The committee having the revision of the book and job scale of Columbia Typographical Union in hand will hold a meeting at Typographical Temple next Sunday, October 25, at 3 p. m. to hear arguments for and against the report of the committee and to permit members to make any suggestion looking to a modification of the report of the committee. All members of the union interested in the matter are earnestly requested to be present.

Down Town.

Next month the ponies.

Hunting in Maryland after November 1—rabbits plentifull.

James Broadnax is confined in Sibley Hospital with typhoid fever.

Arrangements are being made this winter to have a pennant-winning baseball team.

Mr. A. F. Bloomer has returned from Lehigh, Ind. Ter., where he was called about two weeks ago to the bedside of his brother, whose illness terminated in death. Mr. Bloomer has the sympathy of his large circle of acquaintances in his bereavement.

Mr. Leech may be well satisfied with his quick work on the appropriation bill, for though the speed in composition was not phenomenal, the completion of the pamphlet was out of the ordinary. The workmen are certainly worthy of their hire in that shop at least. Would we had some of them here.—Manila Freedom.

First Division.

Gus Wisener and L. H. Bennett have been transferred to the night force.

R. S. Davidson has been promoted temporarily to Richards' division.

"Flattery is the yeast that causes a man to rise in his own estimation." Look out ye delegate aspirants.

"Breezy" Miller expects to leave us as soon as the night force is made up, as he has been tendered a position with that bunch.

E. M. Root, the genial and urbane custodian of the slugs, font, and quad cabinets, is rapidly earning the title of "Sunny Jim" on account of his happy disposition.

The following problem has been worrying the boys the past week: "Mary is 24 years old. Mary is twice as old as Ann was when Mary was as old as Ann is now. How old is Ann?

That was a mistake about Bob Starr being a soubrette. One has only to see that crop of whiskers to know that Bob isn't trying to make an impression on any one.

Overheard on New Jersey avenue last week:

"Where are you going, Moyer, with that satchel—home to vote?"

Moyer—"No, I'm going to work. That's my lunch."

They tell a good story on Dr. Radley. During his first year of study a hypothetical case was cited and he was asked how much medicine should be administered to the sufferer. "Doc." promptly said a teaspoonful, but in about a minute asked the professor to let him change the answer. The professor took out his watch and said: "My friend, your patient has been dead forty seconds."

George W. Edwards, in telling of his experience, said: "Yes, suh, I was on a steamboat near Cairo, Egypt, literally surrounded by millionaires, who were listening to one of my thrilling adventures, when an enormous anaconda, 63 feet long and with wings that spread almost 3 yards, arose from where it was perched and with a frightful flapping of wings flew directly toward the boat. The millionaires, realizing their danger, were panic-stricken. I called to them to cheer up, as I would save them. They immediately calmed down, as they knew their man. I flew to my stateroom, grabbed my rifle (at that time I was one of the best rifle shots in Europe, being champion of Cairo and Kelchumati), and started back. I raised my rifle, fired, and the anaconda dropped. But I had reckoned without one thing, and that was the commotion he would raise by his death struggle. The boat, a large steamer, was swamped and the river was full of yelling millionaires and heiresses. Gentlemen, you may not believe it, but I saved the lives of over 40 persons. You see I had promised to protect them and I did. Among the rescued one was a beautiful grass widow, who forced me to rescue her. Up to that time I had paid all my attention to the men, as I always tried to keep away from entanglements. But fate threw her in my way and she clung to me, imploring me to save her life and take her and her fortune in payment. Just as I was coming too I was arrested for shooting anacondas out of season, and they started with me to jail"—and "Little Eva" Edwards started down the room, looking apprehensively over his shoulder, as the foreman hove in sight.

CLOTILDE.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

Third Division.

H. W. Kitzmiller leaves Thursday for his home in Bryan, Ohio, to vote and to spend part of his leave.

Wellington Franklin Simons is taking liquid air, which he claims is making his stomach as good as new.

W. N. Goldstein, John Delahunty, C. J. MacMurray, and E. G. Nalle made flying trips to New York last week to register.

J. W. Belcher was cordially welcomed back to work Monday after a two-weeks' absence wrestling with a threatened case of pneumonia.

Yesterday the Civil Service Commission held an examination for the Philippine printing office. A large number of local printers availed themselves of it.

J. W. Childress and F. M. Claflin are now in the ring alley. Mr. Claflin has the happy faculty of remembering whatever he reads in the manual of style, which is a wonderful help.

The vote in this room to increase the per capita tax to 35 cents was close—29 for, 23 against. To increase the burial benefit without extra dues received two negative votes. Every other proposition carried by large majorities.

Fred Hemmings, a printer in the G. P. O. three years ago, and now a prosperous attorney of St. Charles, Fla., was looking over the new office last week and called on his law college chum, Ex-Delegate Edgar Meritt.

S. M. Simpson, formerly of this division, introduced a laudable resolution last Sunday, which was passed, viz., to request other unions to reciprocate by placing a fine on members for using printed matter without the union label.

Charles L. Davis now leaves his glasses at home occasionally, owing to the wonderful improvement in his sight lately. He has been using Dr. Foote's "eye sharpener," which strengthens eyes that have grown weak from increasing age.

Frank L. McUmber held quite a reception Tuesday morning receiving congratulations on his recovery from a twelve-weeks' siege of typhoid fever. Mc's relief society benefit of $10 a week paid his hospital expenses. He is going to belong to two of them next year, he says.

It is refreshing to occasionally see a man who is willing to step aside and assist a more unfortunate brother. Last Sunday Mr. Hussey, of the Times, exhibited an unselfishness which is uncommon, when he, a preferred machine man, made a plea for the time man's better condition and admitted that he and his kind had no right to better pay and conditions than any other printer who carried the same kind of card he did. Brothers, in this scale making do not forget your solemn obligation and do not forget those working under less favorable conditions. Let Columbia be an exception to the rule which prevails in other cities in letting the time or job man do the best he can.

NEWS.

Try oyster pan roast, 10c. Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, North Capitol and G streets.

Fourth Division.

Timekeeper Harding went to New York for several days last week, visiting his daughter. In his absence Mr. Weeks scored time.

A large number of the force was absent to be present at the unveiling of the Sherman statue last Thursday. The requests for leaves of absence was so great that Mr. King thought for a time that his grand stand ticket would be wasted.

The Cummings memorial committee, of which T. J. Rowe, of this division, is chairman, will make its first solicitation on the first pay day in November. The plan is to solicit eight 10 cent collections, distributed over as many months between now and the next International convention.

Like a faithful Æon of the Gnostics, Pete McCallum has risen to a plane one degree nearer to the Source of Life. Mac labored in this, the scientific, division of the G. P. O. for many years and if he proves as diligent in his new and higher sphere of action—the First Division—he may hope finally to return to that transcendent source from which all existence emanates.

A number of gentlemen in this division received a circular letter last Monday from a new concern in the stock market—something good. After offering consolation to those who have invested their hard-earned dollars in oil, copper and other stocks, the circular says: "The buyers of oil stock and other perishable commodities are like the foolish man that built his house upon the sands; the winds came and swept away his home. But more foolish indeed is he who learns nothing by experience. Blame not the winds nor rain for taking away the house built on the sand—but find a more substantial foundation to build upon next time. You never heard of a failure in mica."

The recent gathering of old soldiers in this city at the dedication of the Sherman statue reminds me that we have in this division a veteran whose record during the strenuous days of '61 to '65 is worthy of a passing notice. I allude to our friend Major Pursel, in charge of slugs and leads. He enlisted at the first call for troops and served throughout the entire war, taking part in twenty-seven battles. At the time of his enlistment he weighed 122 pounds, but closed his military career with an additional 40 to his credit. In all those years of struggle and hardship he never lost a day through sickness; in fact, he enjoyed better health then than since he laid aside the accouterments of war to follow the peaceful pursuits of an industrial life.

RAN.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

Specification Notes.

Wanted, a new office cat. None other need apply.

The mother of J. Ligon King narrowly escaped a most serious accident recently from gas explosion.

The oldest man on this force, both in years and service, is Mr. Daniel Grady, and the oldest woman is—

J. W. Schmaling, who was called suddenly to his home in Tennessee by reason of the death of his brother, returned Monday after an absence of five weeks.

As we have one more guess coming, we'll fix the date of moving at about Thursday of next week or week after, or some time between this and the 1st or thereabouts.

Miss Clarissa B. Regan began her annual leave last Thursday and took passage by boat on that date for New York City by water. She is accompanied by a sister.

Harry L. Colestock, of this room, is taking an evening course of study at the Columbia University, and has been selected by the faculty as theme critic of English. Mr. Colestock attended a course at Harvard the past summer.

Communication between Capt. Smoot and the ring alley was cut off on Monday by reason of the accident at Long Bridge, but the Captain showed up on Tuesday with his pockets full of chestnuts and in time to fill an engagement with the paymaster.

The wires are all down and people who have news to give out are keeping it to themselves, hence the briefness of these brieflets. Some people need a whole lot of boring and pumping to make them give up, and then—well, this is a dry old hole just now, as the oil men would say.

If we were to stay in the Union Building till Thanksgiving Day, that would be, in round numbers, just nine years. Taking a cursory view backward, we can now see where we have gone forward. Many of the rules governing the work at the beginning here were irksome, impracticable, and a real hindrance. These have been abolished, and so much has been accomplished "for the good of the service." Rules governing the distribution of "phat" have been established upon principles of equity and harmony, and now good-fellowship prevails from 8 a. m. to 4 30 p. m. If there is occasion for "knocking" it hasn't been of the visible sort since that memorable occasion when the Reed rules were applied and the mallet came down with a heavy thump amid the mingled plaudits and uproar and maledictions of the assemblage during one lunch hour, and just as the gong sounded for work.

FUDGE.

The Referendum Vote.

The vote taken on the I. T. U. propositions have not all been received by Secretary Garrett up to time of going to press, but it is assumed that this union has voted affirmatively on all propositions.

His Religion.

New York Herald.]

"So you attribute your success in business to your religion?"

"Yes, sir."

"What is your religion, may I ask?"

"Getting the best end of a bargain or having nothing to do with it."

The "Man's Store."
OUR FAMOUS $1.90 HATS
In All the Fashionable Blocks and Colorings.
Worth $2.50

D. J. K. $1 Dress Gloves.....89c
$1 50 White P. K. Vests.....$1.10
$15 Tan Covert Top-coats...$9.75
$15 3-but. D. B. Sack Suits..$12.85
$25 Cravenette Rain Coats..$18.50
D. J. KAUFMAN, 1005-7 Pa. Ave.

Woodward & Lothrop,
DEPARTMENT STORE.
TENTH, ELEVENTH, AND F STS. N. W.

WHERE THE HALF-TONES ARE MADE
THE NATIONAL ENGRAVING COMPANY.
INCORPORATED.
14th St. and Pa. Ave. Phone 1679 Main

Hewke, PHOTOGRAPHER
56 of the ex-delegates and committees patronized me for good work.
Studio,
430 7th St., N. W. Washington, D. C.

J. E. BONINI'S
BUFFET AND CAFÉ,
727-729 N. Capitol Street.
MAERZEN BEER ON TAP.
A first-class Lunch Counter. Sea food in season. Union throughout.

Phone East 644-A
DR. CARLETON VAUGHAN
Dentist
The Colcord, 310 East Capitol Street
Office Hours: 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.
Evenings: By Appointment

D. STRAUSS,
Clothier, Hatter and Furnisher
441 Seventh Street N. W.,
Washington, D. C.

If you want to Save Your Money with 5 per cent interest; or want to Buy A Home on monthly payments
Deal with
AMERICAN B. AND L. ASS'N
S. C. HOLMES, Prest.
H. V. Easterling, V-Prest.
F. H. Riordan, Treas. Andrew Wilson, Atty.
W. J. Frizzell, Secy.
Phone 2026 907 G STREET Open 9 to 5

THE RIGGS NATIONAL BANK
Of Washington, D. C.
Capital - - - $1,000,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits, 1,000,000
Exchange on England, Ireland, France and Germany. Letters of credit available in all foreign parts. Bank Collections. Orders for investments. Stocks and Bonds.

SEABOARD
AIR LINE RAILWAY.
Offers the best service between Florida, the Southeast, or Southwest and Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and the East. Two daily through trains, with cafe dining cars and through Pullman sleepers.
Great inducements are offered to fruit growers and truckers in the Manatee country below the frost line in Florida. Send for a handsomely illustrated brochure.
EDWARD F. COST, Traffic Mgr.
CHAS. B RYAN. Gen. Pass. Agt.
Portsmouth, Va.
W. E. CONKLYN, Gen. Agt. Pass. Dept.
1421 Pennsylvania. Avenue, Washington, D. C.

GIDDINGS & STEELE,
Exclusive
Floor Coverings
813 PENNSYLVANIA AVE. N.W.

SHAFFER
Florist
14th and Eye Sts. Phone 2416 Main
1711 Penna. Ave. Phone 1581 Main

FURNISHED ROOMS
AT
The Orleans
1203 F STREET NORTHWEST
MRS. R. COMMELIN, Prop.

If You Meet
with an accident depriving you of your limbs; Ben Hur (the no assessment insurance order) will pay you one-half the face value of your policy. Loss of eyesight entitles you to the same amount.
HENRY E. CROUCH, Deputy, 424 Fourth St. N. E.
ALBERT P. E. DOYLE, Scribe, 21 O St. N. E.

PRINTERS and Union Members.—For First-Class Meals, Eat at
VICTOR CAFE, 3 H St. N. W.
ALBION, Eleventh and E Sts. N. W.
ERIN, Cor. N. J. Ave. and D St. N. W.
U. S. LUNCH ROOM, 320 12th St. N. W.
ALBERT T. SCANLAND, Prop.
Open Day and Night. Best Service.

M. S. JOHNSON,
Foreign and Domestic Woolens now ready for inspection
SUITS $25 UP. UNION SHOP.
1435 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

Attention
If you want to be treated square and save $5.00 fine, call on M. LEVITAN, Civil and Military Tailor, for a fall suit.
Union Label in every Garment
1409 G ST. N. W.

Quality your security here.
CLARK & DAVENPORT
Examine our Large Stock of Furniture, Carpet, and Draperies before purchasing.
1200, 1202, 1204 F Street N. W.

THOMAS WALSH
Formerly "Steve" Caldwell's.
Whiskies and Cigars
Specialties: MELVALE AND SHERWOOD
COOL LAGER BEER ON DRAUGHT.
BILLIARDS AND POOL
Billiards, 40c. per hour. Pool, 2½c. per cue.
THOMAS WALSH
407 Tenth St. Northwest

E. F. PRICE & CO.
Strongest flat opening blank book made.
Ruling and Binding of every description.
A Specialty of FINE BANK WORK.
BOOKBINDERS 1108 E St. N. W.

G. P. O. BICYCLE REPAIR CO.
ARTHUR D. BENNETT
MANAGER
Wheels stored, cleaned, and repaired (per month)..... $1.00
Wheels stored and cleaned (per month)..... .75
Wheels stored (per month)..... .50
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty
Bicycle Sundries
Salesroom, 33 H St. N. W.

300 1-lb. Loaves to the Barrel.
Every Laboring Man
—requires pure, wholesome, nourishing food such as is made of—
Cream Blend Flour
It not only makes THE BEST Bread, Rolls, Cake and Pastry, but more of them than other brands—therefore it's the cheapest that money can buy.
Your Grocer will supply you.
B. B. EARNSHAW & BRO., Wholesalers,
1105, 1107, 1109 11th Street S. E.
1000 and 1002 M Street S. E.

Cole & Swan
Large assortment of Watches, Diamonds, and Jewelry (we make and repair anything in this line).
"Square Dealing" our motto.
21 H Street N. W.

T. HOLLANDER
Men's Furnishings
Hats and Shoes
COR. N. CAPITOL AND H STS.
Opposite Government Printing Office

DO YOU USE TOILET PAPER?
If so, investigate the service furnished by
R. P. Andrews & Co.,
INCORPORATED
627-629 LOUISIANA AVE. N. W.
THE WHOLESALE PAPER HOUSE
IT WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

HOTEL FRITZ REUTER
Rathskeller
and
Restaurant.
COR. PA. AVE. AND JOHN MARSHALL PLACE
Phone: East 388.

Telephone 3662-Y
AMREIN'S
FAMOUS ICE CREAM
HAS NO EQUAL
One Dollar per Gallon
Stores, 1426 and 1810 7th St. N. W.

GEO. W. BARRY COAL CO.
Coal in any quantity at the right price and Wood also.
14-16 H N. E. One minute from G. P. O. Telephone East 234.

B. F. WARNER
FINE WINES and LIQUORS
BLUE LABEL CIGARS
1219 E Street Northwest

FOR LUNCH
TRY THE
Pure Dairy Lunch
935 D Street Northwest

American Ice Co.
1437 Penna. Ave. N. W.

THE UNION
SAVINGS BANK
BOND BUILDING
Cor. 14th St. and New York Ave. N.W.

Three Per Cent Interest
on Savings Accounts.

Branch Deposit Agency at
T. A. ROVER'S STORE,
Cor. North Capitol and H Sts.
OPEN EVERY MONDAY AND TUESDAY
FROM 4 TO 5 P. M.

When in doubt buy at
HOUSE & HERRMANN,
FURNITURE, CARPETS, DRAPERIES, ETC.
N. E. Corner Seventh and I Streets N. W.

Don't Buy a Hat
Without the Label. .
And See that It Is Sewed In.

Don t Patronize a Dealer Who Has Loose Labels on Hand and Offers to Put One in Your Hat.
LOOSE LABELS
In Retail Stores
ARE COUNTERFEITS.

The John B. Stetson Co., of Philadelphia, Pa., is a non-union concern.

J. GEORGE SMITH
(Formerly a member of the firm of R. P. Andrews & Co.)
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
PAPER AND STATIONERY
My old friends and patrons from J. C. Addison's time to the present will be welcome. I can supply all your needs at lowest prices consistent with quality.
626 E STREET NORTHWEST

The Hub Furniture Co.,
The Stores that Save You Money.
OUR MOTTO—The Best Values in Furniture and Carpets at the Lowest Prices.
Cash or Credit.
HUB FURNITURE CO.,
(Formerly Wash B. Williams)
Corner Seventh and D Streets N. W.

Carriages Furnished for All Occasions
Phone East 327-M
JOHN ELBERT
Undertaker and Embalmer
54 H STREET N. W.

"Everyone knows how to find fault."
No one has yet found fault with the
RELIABLE
The Gas Range for Summer Use
Washington Gas Light Co.
GAS APPLIANCE EXCHANGE

St. Asaph Commission Rooms,
Old Established and Reliable.
Trains leave Thirteen and one-half street and Pennsylvania avenue—Alexandria, Mt. Vernon, and Washington Railway—daily at 12.45, 1.05, 1.25, 2, 2.30, 3.02, and 3.30. Return .39, 4.24, 5.02, 5.58, and at various intervals.

CELTIC CLUB WHISKY
Our Specialty. Never Changes. Once Tried You'll Always Use It. Take No Substitute.
Ports and Sherries for family use, Quarts, 50 and 75 cents. All makes of Beer. Leading brands of Cigars. Ales and Porters on draught the year round.
JOHN CONNOR
New Jersey Ave. and G Sts. N. W.

J. WILLIAM LEE,
Undertaker and
Livery, . . .
322 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

RETAIL DRUG CLERKS, No. 240, AND THEIR FRIENDS DO NOT PATRONIZE
JOHN W. JENNINGS
DRUGGIST
1142 Connecticut Avenue
Now on Unfair List of Central Labor Union

ALLIED BUILDING TRADES.

Business of Importance Transacted at the Last Meeting.

The regular weekly meeting of the Council of Allied Building Trades of the Central Labor Union was called to order at the usual hour by the secretary. In the absence of the chairman, Delegate Malone, of the Electrical Workers, was chosen to preside.

Roll call disclosed 38 delegates present from 22 local unions.

Minutes of meeting of October 13 read and approved.

CREDENTIALS.

From Hoisting Engineers, No. 75, certifying to Fred Day.

From Painters, No. 368, certifying to G. W. Seiben and Herman Arnold.

From Carpenters and Joiners, No. 884, certifying to Joseph Reilly.

From Carpenters and Joiners, No. 1651, certifying to Thomas E. Arnold.

Credentials were received and the delegates seated.

The credentials from Wall Scrapers' Union, No. 1042, were taken from the table and referred to committee, consisting of R. L. Johnson, C. B. Falbush, and W. M. Lewis, to investigate claims of the Wall Scrapers to admission to Council of Allied Building Trades.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Carpenters and Joiners, No. 190, stating that W. W. Winfree had been appointed to represent Local Union No. 190 from the Council of Allied Building Trades at the Central Labor Union. Filed.

From Employing Contractors' Association, relative to conciliation agreement. Filed.

From clerk of Board of Arbitration, containing decision relative to Woodley apartment house and John H. Nolan.

Also copy of resolution adopted at meeting held October 19, as follows:

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Board of Arbitration of the Employers' Association of the Building Trades and the Council of Allied Building Trades of the Central Labor Union that the form of agreement for the establishment of a Joint Conciliation Committee and Board of Arbitration approved by both parties does not contemplate the controlling of trades while working on jobs not controlled by parties affiliated with the Employers' Association of the Building Trades.

The resolution was approved and concurred in.

From Carpenters and Joiners, No. 190, asking for copy of letter received from Carpenters' District Council under date of October 7. Request granted.

From Carpenters' District Council, asking in what way they had dictated to Council of Allied Building Trades. Filed.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Central Labor Union Delegate Winslow reported admission to Central Labor Union of union of Elevator Constructors and Wall Scrapers and the election of E. J. Roche as delegate to A. F. of L. convention.

Delegate Malone reported from Board of Arbitration, and had read the resolution adopted at the meeting held October 19.

Delegate Winslow spoke in favor of the resolution and explained the meaning of it as adopted at the meeting. Delegates Desmond, McVey, and Clark also favored the resolution.

The secretary, on motion of Delegate Clark, was directed to notify the Employing Contractors' Association not to consider any business called to their attention unless brought there from the Council of Allied Building Trades of Central Labor Union; also to urge the Employing Contractors' Association to so change the present form of agreement entered into between the two associations so that its provisions would cover the subcontractor.

Considerable discussion was indulged in relative to the strike on Woodley apartment house, which resulted in a committee, consisting of Delegates McVey and Daly, being appointed to visit Wood, Wire and Metal Lathers' Union, and demanding that if any of their men be at work on said job that the union call them off.

ROLL CALL.

Stone Laborers asked the assistance of Business Agent with J. Viehmeyer.

Hod Carriers reported progress with Master Builders' Association.

Granite Cutters reported that application for granite cutters to work on Foundry Church had been made to their union, and as the job had been virtually completed without their men doing it they did not want the work now and would not furnish the men.

Engineers reported having placed a fine on one of their members who had returned to work at Woodley apartment house.

Bridge and Structural Iron Workers reported a national agreement for interchange of cards with Wood, Wire and Metal Lathers under certain conditions and that their union would live up to the rules of the Council of Allied Building Trades on any job that was declared a struck job.

Plumbers asked that their national title be printed on their working card. Granted.

Painters reported that two men were posing as contractors on job at Thirtieth and Q streets northwest who should be members of their union. Business Agent was directed to secure Central Labor Union contract.

Glaziers' Union asked assistance of Business Agent with Barber & Ross and T. R. Riley; also that an endeavor be made to secure Central Labor Union contract from both parties.

The Council then adjonrned.

"MANY A TRUTH IN JEST."

According to the Bureau of Education there are in the public high schools of this country over 13,700 pupils struggling with Greek. And yet the peanut and banan' ought to sell just as well in plain English.

The other day a negro strenuously objected to being arrrested by a man blacker than himself. What are we to do with a race that draws the color line on itself?

Things have come to a pretty pass in South Carolina when you can't shoot up an editor without being called on to waste a whole lot of valuable time in explanations.

Last week a Missouri editor was fined $500 for contempt of court, and for a similar offense a Porto Rican editor paid $100. Things begin to look mightily as if the profession is being rated as easy money.

As soon as the modern Elijah arrived in New York he discovered that the "laying on of hands" is no new doctrine in that festive burg. About the same time Mrs. Dowie missed $1,500 worth of diamonds.

The recent epidemic of Watsonism has moved Uncle Sam to nail down the little property he has left, and the bonding companies will do a land-office business for a while.

Label or no label, the best nine-seventy suit on the market will make even a gold eagle lock like thirty cents in change.

In his campaign for the Democratic Presidential nomination Mr. William R. Hearst has the unanimous and enthusiastic support of Mr. Hearst's newspapers.

Joe Leiter has again demonstrated his lack of business training by paying his debts.

In these days of pedagogics gone mad the correspondence schools must find it easy picking, if one may judge from the number now proclaiming their ability to equip five-dollar intellects for fifty dollar positions.

I have not the slightest desire to "butt in" (if I may use so expressive a phrase), but I wish the gentleman who thinks he is managing the "Socialism" debate would request the participants to refrain from the indiscriminate use of the contraction "don't" for both "do not" and "does not." This is a common enough error in speech, but should not occur in the literary efforts of printers, no matter how heated the discussion may become. The following is in every way a poorly constructed clause:

And if a Jeffries or a Corbett don't develop along this latter line their physical prowess won't save them.

Presumably my highly esteemed and erudite friend Eccles meant to say:

And if a Jeffries or a Corbett does not develop along this latter line his physical prowess will not save him.

While struggling with the problems of Socialism, gentlemen, and being led into what Matthew Arnold calls the "arduous paths of abstruse reasoning," let us not become so excited as to mutilate the English language.

Red devils are becoming a necessary adjunct to political campaigns, but the blue devils will continue to make their presence felt the "morning after."

Philadelphia now boasts of a pugilist who can not be knocked out with a baseball bat. Nature must have intended him for an umpire.

It takes all of some people's spare time seeing that their neighbors keep their unionism on straight.

According to the newspapers, the Mergenthaler will get us yet if we don't watch out.

Up to date the clothing dealers in town have not fallen over each other in their efforts to put in a stock of label goods.

Yes, we have moved into our palatial new quarters; and the ubiquitous cockroach came also.

If the truth were told it is not the terrible things threatening the Printing Office that worry us so much as the fear that we might get crowded off the pay roll during the excitement. This may sound like a joke, but it's not.

With a red hot municipal campaign in full blast and 3,000 Dowieites all talking at once, New York will be the hot-air center of the universe for a while.

During the latest battle between Japan and Russia several rapid-fire typewriters were put out of action.

AFTER-DINNER DILATIONS.

Nothing from Parry of late. Par-esis?

***

The standing candidate should sit down.

***

A correction: Senator Stewart, of Chevy Chasedc.

***

The walking delegate must go—where duty calls.

***

The course of evolution is forward, and revolutions never go backward.

***

Every sale of a cigar under the name of Henry George is a sale under false colors.

***

Dowie, the evangelist, went from Chicago to New York, or from bad to worse.

***

Winter is fast approaching, and not one word from Mr. Baer which would indicate his divinity in shaping our finish.

***

The "sacredness" of property rights has called attention to the sacredness of human rights.

***

Hats off! and a royal welcome to the prodigal scribe who returns to tell "Many a Truth in Jest" in a way that is hotter'n ginger, and no mistake.

***

There is plenty to be thankful for, and yet there will be the usual anxiety to see the President's proclamation, as an itemized bill is always of interest.

***

Lives of great men oft remind us
That by pinching ev'ry cent
We may hope to leave behind us
Cash enough to pay the rent.

***

Wall street has on exhibition some of the next smaller fish which were swallowed by the bigger ones in the recent stock flood. The real gag will come when the biggest begins on each other.

***

If it would relieve Mr. Carnegie of his present pecuniary embarrassment and he should want his library as an asset, a much-buncoed community would be only too willing to turn the thing over.

***

The signs of the times indicate that it would be the part of wisdom for the workers to immediately put their house in order by stopping all leaks and double quick in the direction of a suitable defense fund.

***

Capital is showing strenuous opposition to the "walking delegate," but not once has the offer been made to lessen his burdens by providing railroad passes, nor to this date has an automobile been placed at his disposal.

***

Uncle Sam's great workshop on the hill will soon be thrown wide "open" to the elect or to such as can show their working cards. Doorkeepers or those duly authorized will separate the sheep from the goats and those without cards will be directed to pass on. Questions of eligibility to membership will be considered and disposed of, and in many respects the shop will be conducted on lines similar to the great printery, which is always "open" to visitors.

CYCLE.

Oysters in every style at R. A. Driscoll's, North Capitol and G streets. Overholt whisky, 10c.

Representative Business Houses.
OF WASHINGTON, D. C.

The following wholesale and retail firms and professional men are friendly to Union Labor and are entitled to its patronage:

BANKS.
THE LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK, Safe Deposit Vaults, $2.50 up
CAPITAL LOAN GUARANTEE COMPANY, 602 F Street Northwest. Every one can borrow money without security.

BAKERS.
HOLMES & SON, Celebrated Home-Made Pies and Milk Bread. First and E Streets N. W. Phone East 864.

BOOTS AND SHOES.
CROCKER'S SHOES, 939 Pennsylvania Ave. N. W.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.
DANIEL LOUGHRAN, 1347 Pennsylvania Ave.
LUCHS & BRO., Wholesalers. Phone E 755.

COACH FINDINGS.
J. B. KENDALL, 485-87 Missouri avenue N. W.

CUTLERY AND SPORTING GOODS.
D. N. WALFORD, 625 and 909 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

DRY GOODS.
LANSBURGH & BROTHER, 420 to 426 7th St. N. W

DYER.
E. E. WHEATLEY, 1068 Jefferson Ave. N. W. Phone, West 117-Y.

ENGRAVERS.
THE MAURICE JOYCE ENGRAVING CO. Cuts and Illustrations. 418 11th street N. W

FIRE INSURANCE.
Insure with THE RIGGS FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.
FIREMEN'S INSURANCE COMPANY, Seventh St. and Louisiana Ave.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.
JULIUS LANSBURGH, Interocean Building, 512 Ninth St. N. W.

GROCERIES.
LITTLE & PAGE, "Good things to eat." 1210 F St. N.W
W. C. ERGOOD, "Good goods at Ergoods." Corner Ninth and H Streets Northwest.

GROCER AND COFFEE ROASTER.
SOMERSET R. WATERS. 1342 Seventh Street Northwest, Corner O.

HARDWARE AND TOOLS.
RUDOLPH, WEST & CO., 1332 New York avenue northwest.

HUDSON'S VARIETY STORE.
B. F. HUDSON, 416 Seventh Street Northwest.

HATTERS AND FURRIERS.
JAMES Y. DAVIS' SONS, 1201 Pennsylvania Ave.
A. H. BURDINE, Union Overalls, Hats, and Gloves. Seventh Street and Virginia avenue southwest.

LIME, SAND, GRAVEL, CEMENT.
NATIONAL MORTAR COMPANY, Office: Room 9, Ralston Bldg., 612 F St. N. W. Office telephone: East 688.

LUMBER AND MILL WORK.
THOMAS R. RILEY, 13th St. and Ohio Ave.

MACHINISTS AND ENGINEERS.
FORSBERG & MURRAY, Pumps and Elevators. Engines and Boilers 8th and Water Sts. S. W.

PHARMACISTS.
LOUIS F. BRADLEY, Prescription Druggist. 8th and E Sts. S. E

PHOTO-LITHOGRAPHERS.
THE NORRIS PETERS CO., 458 and 460 Pennsylvania avenue N. W
ANDREW B. GRAHAM Lithographer, Photo-Lithographer, and Half-Tones. 1230 Pa. Ave. Phones: 1031-M, 1679-M.

PIANO AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
E. E. DROOP & SONS, 925 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

PRINTING SUPPLIES.
NATIONAL PRINTER'S SUPPLY CO., Machine-made Rollers. 414 10th St. N. W.

RESTAURANT AND WINE ROOM.
JOHN M. BECKER, Opp. Navy Yard., Cor. 8th and Georgia Ave. S.E

SHOES.
DAVE WOLF. SHOES FOR EVERYBODY. 432 Seventh Street N. W.

SHAVING PARLORS
VINCENT R. CILENTO, 805 North Capitol Street.

TITLES TO REAL ESTATE.
LAWYERS' TITLE & GUARANTY INS. CO. 412 5th St. N. W.

WINES AND LIQUORS.
SAMUEL G. STEWART, Heurich Brewing Co's. beers and popular brands of whiskies. 1141 Seventh st. northwest between L and M.
GEORGE W. DRIVER, 605 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

DO NOT WANT OUR PATRONAGE.

Following brands of cigars: Cinco, Cremo, George W. Childs, Henry George, Tom Moore, Robert Burns, and General Arthur.

The following firms have declared against the interest of Organized Labor and are not regarded as deserving their patronage:

NAME.	BUSINESS.	LOCATION.
Chevy Chase Railway and circle.	Street railway	Chevy Chase and Circle.
Keenan Bros	Gents' furnishers	Pa. ave. bet. 14th and 15th sts., and 523 Seventh st. n. w.
B. Solomon	Gents' furnisher	708 Seventh street n. w.
Rufus H. Darby	Printer	508 Fourteenth street n. w.
H. L. McQueen	Printer	1108 E street n. w.
N. Sickles (Nat'l Cigar Factory).	Cigar manufacturer	1011 Penna. avenue n. w.
E. Gundershiemer	Baker	516 Second street n.w. and stalls in Center Market.
Peter Grogan	Carpet dealer	817 to 823 Seventh street n. w
John H. Fitzgerald	Horseshoer	443 Prather's alley n. w.
S. S Daish	Coal and wood	Florida ave. and Third st. n. e.
Wilbur F. Nash	Meat dealer	Center and O st. Markets.
C. E. Hencke	Electrician	711 G street n. w.
National Mosaic Company	Mosaics	207 Fourth st. n. w.
M. Minster	Gents' furnisher	1343 F st. n. w.
A. Minster	Gents' furnisher	499 and 501 Penna. ave. n. w.
Cyrus B. Reese	Employing steamfitter	1519 Fourteenth street n. w.
C. A. Schneider & Sons	Union Iron Works	212 Twelfth street n. w.
Minster & Paterson	Gents' furnishers	1109 Pennsylvania ave. n. w.
Conrad Becker	Trunks and harness	1328 F st. n. w.
Home Ice Company	Ice	Twelfth and V sts. n. w.
Emil Wagner	Restaurant	210 Ninth st. n. w.
W. E. Carney	Cigar manufacturer	921 G st. s. w.
Nat'l Roller & Ball Bearing Co.	Machinery	33rd and K sts. n. w.
L. Rosenberg	Clothing and shoes	911-913 Eighth st. s. e.
Corbin Thompson	Dairyman	Sharon Dairy, 324 B st. s. w.
S. D. Houck	Dealer in harness	301 Tenth street n. w.
M. Eisemann & Bro	Dry goods	1924-26 Pa. ave. and 806 7th n. w.
Elite Steam Laundry	Laundry	1205 G street n. w.
Benjamin Schwartz	Gents' furnisher and tailor	337 Pa. ave. s. e.
Emrich Beef Co	Meat Dealers
John Coleman	Horseshoer	1300 36th street n. w.
Hecht & Co	Dry Goods, etc	517-519 Seventh street n. w.
Charles Rauscher	Caterer	Conn. ave. and L st. n. w
Academy of Music	Theater	Ninth and D streets n. w.
Lafayette Square Theater	Theater	16th st. and Pa. ave. n. w.
E. H. Snyder & Co	Tailors	1111 Pa. ave n. w
Owen Owen	Tailor	423 Eleventh street n. w.
L. A. Downey	Tailor	433 Eleventh street n. w.
J. M. Stein & Co	Tailors	413 Eleventh street n. w
J. D. Burns & Co	Tailors	701 Ninth street n. w.
J. F. Gatchel	Tailor	604 Thirteenth street n. w.
G. Warfield Simpson	Tailor	1208 F street n. w.
E. H. Catlin & Co	Machinists	407 13½ street n. w.
Thomas Somerville & Sons	Steam Fitters' Supplies	816 Thirteenth street n. w.
Joseph Mathy	Stove dealer and tin worker	1918 Pennsyvania avenue.
William Meehan	Saloon	943 B street n. w.
Robert Lowe	Stone yard and mill	113 Third street s. w.
John W. Jennings	Druggist	1142 Connecticut avenue n. w.
E. Tapscott	Contractor

The Typefounders' Trade District Union, having failed to bring about a settlement of their differences with the employing typefounders, have called out their men in several of the largest foundries in the country. An official of the Keystone Type Foundry said: "We intend to run our shops ourselves and to listen to no dictation from unions. We do not care what faith or union a man belongs to, provided he is an able mechanic. We pay union wages to all. Many of the men who went out were unwilling to do so, but they had to quit or quit the union. We can get along without union men. Every leading foundry in the country has coalesced to fight the union's attempt at domination and we are going to do systematically."

Try oyster pan roast, 10c. Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, North Capitol and G streets.

The workers at the brickmaking plant of Alexander Burke, in Chicago, went on strike some time ago. Burke engaged non-union men and kept his plant going, making 80,000 bricks. Then he arrived at an agreement with the union men by which he discharged the outsiders, and granted the original demands. As a penalty for his employment of the non union men he agreed to pay the union men double price for putting the bricks in the kiln. The regular price for this work is fifty-three cents a thousand, and the proprietor is virtually fined fifty-three cents a thousand for all bricks made by non-union labor.—The Macon Press.

HALLS for rent at Building Trades Halls, 610 G street northwest and 624 Sixth street northwest. For terms apply at Room 2, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICIAL ORGAN CENTRAL LABOR UNION, WASHINGTON BRANCH, AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Vol. VIII. No. 20. WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1903. Price, 3 Cents.

THE CENTRAL LABOR UNION

Resolution Adopted Regarding Attitude Toward Hecht & Co.

AMENDMENT TO LAWS ADOPTED

Fight on Academy of Music Still Effective. R. M. Leonard, Saloonist, Declared Unfair—The Portner Case—Trade Autonomy Resolution Considered.

The regular weekly meeting of the Central Labor Union was called to order at 8.30 p. m., President Sherman in the chair.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

CREDENTIALS.

From Pipe Coverers' Union, No. 9425, A. F. of L., certifying to W. Muir and A. Newman.

From Federal Labor Union, No. 8193, A. F. of L., certifying to Misses Nettie Tolson, E. M. Marschalk, Catherine Costigan, Elizabeth J. Cooksey, and Lucille Locker.

From Plumbers' Union, No. 5, certifying H. B. Plum, vice Delegate McCarthy.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Box Makers' Union, No. 10249, Batavia, N. Y., calling attention to a firm in this city using unfair product of E. N. Rowell & Co. Referred to Allied Label League.

From Chapin & Sacks, butter, eggs, and cheese dealers, 924 Louisiana avenue, expressing pleasure that the Central Labor Union had ascertained its error in placing that firm on the unfair list, and assuring the Union of its intention to resume the cordial relations existing prior to the placing of the firm on the unfair list.

Interior Marble Workers, No. 5, calling attention to the fact that a firm of plumbers are having their men set marble on a school-house job in this city. Referred to Council of Allied Building Trades.

From W. D. Tennille, 709 Seventh street northwest, stating that he is handling a full line of union-made clothing. Spread upon the minutes.

From Allied Label League, asking that the secretary of the Central Labor Union notify all unions affiliated with that body who are directly interested in label work propaganda to join the League. Request complied with.

From Springfield (Mass.) Central Labor Union, inclosing tickets for a drawing in aid of employes of Smith & Wesson Gun Works, now locked out by that firm. Received and tickets purchased.

From Local No. 234, United Brewery Workmen, stating that that union has placed a fine of $5 on any member found patronizing the Academy of Music. Filed.

From Stereotypers' Union, No. 19, stating that a fine of $5 will be imposed on any member of that union found attending the Academy of Music while that house is on the unfair iist. Filed.

From the Economic O. M. Club, stating that a prize of $10 will be offered for best article on the "open shop." Filed.

From the Cambridge Typographical Union, No. 61, inclosing resolution adopted and transmitted to President Roosevelt on the Miller case. Referred to Bookbinders' Union, No. 4.

From Press Feeders' Union, No. 42, stating that a fine of $5 would be imposed on any of its members found patronizing the Academy of Music. Fled.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Grievance Committee presented a contract from H. Vonderheide and recommended that the same be accepted. Concurred in.

Grievance Committee also reported that R. M. Leonard, saloonist, 1319 Seventh street northwest, had failed to sign a Central Labor Union contract, and recommended that he be placed on the unfair list. Concurred in.

Contract Committee reported favorably an agreement of Beer Drivers and Stablemen's Union; also on Local Union, No. 99, I. U. S. E. Concurred in.

Contract Committe made its report on the Robert Portner contract, and were instructed to secure a Central Labor Union contract. Failing to do so, to report back to the Union the advisability of placing the above firm on the unfair list.

The Chair added Delegates R. H. Cowan and J. W. Houchen to the Grievance Committee.

CALL OF UNIONS.

Musicians called attention to several organizations employing nonunion musicians, and stated that unless the practice ceased the matter would be called to the attention of the Central Labor Union.

Painters stated that they had placed a fine on any of their members who patronize Golden's oyster house.

Plumbers requested a report from special committee having the plumbers and steam fitters' case in hand. The committee reported progress and requested plumbers and steam fitters to meet them at their next meeting.

Retail Clerks having reported that it was claimed that the Central Labor Union had not placed the firm of Hecht & Co. on the unfair list, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That after a fair and impartial investigation, Hecht & Co. were placed on the unfair list of the Central Labor Union, and the Central Labor Union maintains that Hecht & Co. are still unfair to organized labor.

Carpet Upholsterers reported that Grogan & Co. were the only firm in the city who were unfair to their organization.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The amendment presented at the meeting of October 15, referring to the manner of procedure in placing firms on the unfair list and the observance of same by affiliated unions, was adopted.

The amendment referring to the auditing of accounts was also adopted.

NEW BUSINESS.

Delegate Ratigan introduced the following resolution:

Resolved, That any grievance being presented to the Central Labor Union by any committee of the Central Labor Union be exempt from paying the fee of $5.

Laid over under the rules.

Delegate McCracken (Hoisting Engineers) introduced the following resolution:

Whereas the Central Labor Union of this city has for the past two years indorsed trade autonomy; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we reiterate said indorsement by instructing our delegate to the A. F. of L. convention this year to use all honorable means in his power to further the subject of trade autonomy.

Adopted.

Adjourned.

Seaboard Florida Excursion.

For trains of November 11th the Seaboard Air Line will sell cheap excursion tickets to Sarasota, Fla. (The Manatee Country), good fifteen days. For full particulars, booklets on fruit culture, and trucking address, W. E. CONKLYN, General Agent, 1411 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, Pa.

After a year of strikes the printing trades of Germany have agreed upon uniform wage scales for the entire country. The agreement is for six years, and all disputes are to be settled by arbitration, either side having the right to demand an umpire. Actual hours of labor shall not exceed eight.

Allied Label League.

The regular meeting of the League was called to order at 8 o'clock last Friday evening, with G. M. Miller in the chair.

The minutes of the last meeting were approved as read.

The special committee on Hecht & Co. reported progress.

Under new business it was reported that the firm of Mayer & Co., furniture and clothing, would willingly extend a line of credit to all union men on easy weekly payments; also the Hub Furniture Co.

A motion to communicate with the secretary of the Central Labor Union to ask all locals that have not as yet affiliated with the Allied Label League to do so at once was adopted; also to ask the Central Labor Union to publish a number of circulars showing the firms that are fair to organized labor.

The League wishes to thank the delegates to the Central Labor Union for the support given President McCarthy as their candidate to represent the Central Labor Union in the A. F. of L. convention.

AFTER-DINNER DILATIONS.

Now for the universal eight-hour work day.

***

What's in a name? Fairman may stand for all that is the very opposite.

***

The procession of titled ex's is assuming proportions such as will shortly necessitate an enlargment of the x-box.

***

Simultaneous with the bearing down of mercury comes a corresponding increase in the want and marriage license columns.

***

Life could be made so much more desirable for the printer by just relegating the comma to a place of innocuous desuetude.

***

The political grave robbers have established headquarters at Princeton, N. J., with branch offices in New York, St. Louis, and Chicago.

***

Those of us who are privileged to work under the eight hour system should not lose an opportunity to aid others in securing like conditions.

***

I notice a tendency by newspapers to drop the T. in Booker Washington's name, as if we had not seen trouble enough from throwing T overboard.

***

Eight hours for work, eight hours for recreation and improvement, and eight hours for sleep and rest would seem a very natural and proper adjustment.

***

Each heart throb marks
An atom of time.
Duty well done makes
The hours sublime.

***

John Smith is a candidate for State Treasurer of Pennsylvania on the Socialist ticket. Now if all the Smiths will attest their loyalty to the family name the secret will be out.

***

We set it down as an exhibition of faith in things to come when the suicide leaves a note behind stating that this is a cold world and that to his mind a change is desirable.

***

Uncle Andy Carnegie has backed his tallyho up under the shed, and now comes back to his adopted land to tell the poor boys what they should do if they hope to ride in automobiles.

***

The applicants for place increase in numbers with each reported flood disaster, when not infrequently whole families are swept "on to Washington," each bearing his tale of woe.

***

The time seems discouragingly remote as we contemplate a millenium which is to begin when capital no longer feels called upon to sit up late o'nights to plan and mature schemes to get as much labor as possible into a dollar.

***

It is one of the provisions of nature that relaxation and rest shall follow labor, as night follows day, by a law immutable. It is left with the workers to make the best terms possible in the economy of hours necessary for material development and at the same time preserve the reserve forces which are so essential and indispensable for social and intellectual advancement.

***

A wealthy man of Connecticut, named Bennett, made Mr. Bryan's acquaintance in 1896, and later in his will showed how much he thought of the Nebraskan by a bequest amounting to $50,000. It is an easy step from free silver to a free gift, and who would blame Mr. Bryan if he should accept what amounts to the same as one year's salary in the White House while the time he would have to devote to office seekers and cranks could be put into good advantage on his cherished Commoner? There are plenty of people who would be willing to exchange ups and downs with Mr. Bryan—one, for instance,

CYCLE.

Try oyster pan roast, 10c. Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, North Capitol and G streets.

HALLS for rent at Building Trades Halls, 610 G street northwest and 624 Sixth street northwest. For terms apply at Room 2, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

Bindery Notes.

John Hays has returned to his place in the Union Building, after a seven weeks attact of typhoid fever.

Barnes and Holbrook have received no invitation to "Shad" Burns oyster roast, and they are roasting Shad.

Wm. C. Connor has just returned from the Borough of Manhattan, and when asked how things look up there remarked there is one thing certain Dowie will not carry Greater New York this year.

Mr. George Malseed, a finisher in the Oxford bindery, Philadelphia, and his young wife paid a visit to the Union Building on Friday last. They placed themselves under the kind care of the congenial Jimmie Cogan, who ushered them rapidly through, introducing the Bindery boys to them in bunches, giving size, age, weight and pedigree of each bunch.

Albert Wolf, of the finishing room, Union Building, in good old Dutch fashion, took his family to see the parade on Thursday last. Al's family being a large one, became considerably mixed up in the crowd and it required the efforts of a half dozen policemen in assisting him to catch and count them, and even then Al. was a little uneasy for fear some of them had escaped and got away.

Mike Dunn, "the silver tongued orator," of Penick's Division, called on his "companions in arms" on Friday last. The fellows were glad to see him as "no man owns him," and he owns no man as "master." We know Mike to be a very temperate man, but from a very suspicious shape showing itself from under the left lapel of Mike's coat caused some to say it was medicine. Others remarked that it was a wash, or ointment, as Mike was troubled with rheumatism. However that may be, there was evidence of crumbs of cheese and crackers in Mike's mustache.

PASTE.

"Shad" Burns has a new servant girl, who, they say, is as black as twenty minutes past midnight on a dark night. "Shad" says the blacker they are the better he likes them.

One of the most noticeable equipages in the parade incident to the opening of the new driveway was that of Col. J. E. Duvall, of the D. C. N. G., who drove his celebrated stepper "Bugs."

About another month and the bookbinders will tackle the bookmakers at Bennings with the usual result—crow for the Thanksgiving dinner of the bookbinders; turkey for the bookmakers.

From present indications it would seem that the powers that be are trying to concentrate all of the eligible bookbinder candidates for the home across the Eastern Branch in the casing division.

J. F. Fitzpatrick ("Fatty Fitz"), of the casing division, was married to Miss Mary M. O'Brien, of Newburg, N. Y., at that place on Wedesday, October 14. After a wedding trip of about ten days they will be at home to their friends at 2023 First street northwest.

"Roaring Bill" Nevins entertained a friend from his home town (Somerville, Mass.) from Friday of last week until Monday night of this week, when the friend got up during the night while Bill was asleep and left. About $30 of Bill's money went with the friend. Bill is now on the water wagon, trying to make good the loss.

There appeared on one of the water coolers of the Bindery this week a notice, which, among other things, said: "The Economic O. M. Association will give a prize of $10 to the person writing the best article on the 'Open Shop,' the sum of $1 to accompany each article as a competition fee." Now, in my opinion, the Economic O. M. Association can give Dowie and the Post-Office grafters cards and spades in money making. For example, 500 competition fees at $1 per, is $500; one cash prize of $10 is $10; $10 from $500 is $490, earnings of the E. O. M. Ha! Ha! You never touched us!

BINDERY BOY.

Oysters in every style at R. A. Driscoll's, North Capitol and G streets. Overholt whisky, 10c.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

Specification Notes.

Sill's back and forth goes the paper.

Our candy kitchen, an infant industry, turns out a pretty fair article of "fudge."

Rumors are rife that quite a contingent of those who were dropped last spring will drop back this week. Letsopso.

Winter with its severities is coming, and the needs of the unfortunate poor should enlist not only our sympathy but our help.

As luck would have it, none of the Baltimore contingent employed on this force were caught in the windfall or trust bust of that city.

Louie Carroll's shoes fit him better now than the day after he walked in from Chesapeake Beach, having some way mislaid a return ticket.

"What Shall We Do with Our Wheels?" was the subject of a largely attended and enthusiastic caucus which assembled in this chapel last week, J. W. Carter, chairman.

A chorus of praise was sung by fellow craftsmen for the masterly and pleasing verse production of William Tipton Talbott, who came to the defense of the "knocker" in Monday's Post.

There are no casualties to report this week, although one man was tempo rarily overcome by an acute attack of increasing disinclination to labor, but rallied with the sounding of the gong.

Edward Mullery, who has many years of military service to his credit, a laborer on this force, is at present incapacitated by sickness, and the fear is expressed that the trouble may not be easily overcome, which occasions earnest solicitude by his many friends.

Sam English has named his new apartment house "Tioga," after his native county in Pennsylvania, a place of hallowed memories and where he registers that he may occasionally go home to sample their sweet cider, doughnuts, and mince pie, but ostensibly to vote.

We are rather proud of the fact that THE TRADES UNIONIST was first in the field and has consistently maintained its position as a strictly eight hour shop, and we could wish that others would follow suit. By the way, it affords the friends of organized labor great pleasure in pointing to THE TRADES UNIONIST as a most helpful and prosperous exponent of the labor movement.

Chas. A. Capell, of this room, has picked up some ten-to-one shots lately. The survey for the new depot brought his residence in line of obstruction and from this he realized a snug sum. Then he bought some more property and later found himself again in the way, and again and again was ousted with results which would not have a tendency to discourage him if he could have found a place where he might hope to get in the way some more. "Cap" is now rated A1 in the classified list of printer capitalists.

FUDGE.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

Mr. Eccles on Mr. Bloomer.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

I regret that "Pard" Bloomer fails to appreciate my effort to "deal gently with the erring," but insists on entering querulous demurrers. I am accused of misquoting. This cannot be, for I have made no attempt to quote. I tried to state his position from memory, and fail to see that the requoted sentence in any way invalidates my conclusion. He says if a man "takes 50 cents worth of material and makes a pair of shoes worth $2.50 why should he not have the value he has added to that leather?" If this does not mean that the worth of the shoes, as stated, is the full selling price, and that the man has added all the difference between 50 cents and $2 50 it means nothing. The causes for discount I enumerated together with the worth of the capital, were ignored. To attempt to include them now is to modify the statement in a way that I consider "hedging." Mere labor tells us nothing about value, and cannot be erected into a standard of worth. Outside of the law of supply and demand, I defy Mr. Bloomer, or any other man to tell us what in justice he should pay his washerwoman.

D. ECCLES.

ALLIED BUILDING TRADES.

The regular weekly meeting of the Council of Allied Building Trades of the Central Labor Union was called to order Tuesday last by Chairman Wells at 8.30 o'clock p. m.

Roll call disclosed the presence of 44 delegates from 24 local unions.

The minutes of meeting of October 20 were read and approved.

The minutes of the meeting of the Executive Committee held on October 24 and 27 were read and the action of the Executive Committee concurred in.

CREDENTIALS.

From Brotherhood of Carpenters, No. 190, certifying to H. S. Hallahan and J. T. Edwards.

From Pipe Coverers' Union, No. 9425, certifying to C. Herbert and C. Toomb.

From Plumbers and Gas Fitters, No. 5, U. A., certifying to A. W. Merriman.

From Local Union No. 10, Elevator Constructors, certifying to C. J. Faulstick, A. Boyington, and B. Umhau.

The credentials were received and the delegates seated.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Interior Marble and Slate Tile Cutters and Setters, stating that plumbers were doing their work on a certain school house. A copy of charges was ordered forwarded to Plumbers' Union.

From E C. Graham, Secretary Employing Contractors' Association, acknowledging receipt of letters from Secretary. Filed.

From W. D. Tennille calling attention to union goods which he was handling. Filed.

From Local Union No. 46, Hod Carriers and Building Laborers' Union of America, asking financial aid. Filed.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Committee to investigate claims of Wall Scrapers' Union for admittance to Council reported progress.

Hall Committee, By-Laws Committee, and Auditing Committee also reported progress.

The Business Agent made his report, which was accepted.

ROLL CALL.

Stone Laborers reported that G. C. Esher had paid his men at a less rate than the union scale, and asked that the Dominican House of Studies be declared a struck job. The request was, on motion, denied.

Hod Carriers stated that union hod carriers were being employed on the Heurich Brewing Company's ice house, and asked that the secretary be directed to communicate with the Employing Contractors' Association and ascertain the cause of delay in the conciliation committee of the Master Builders' Association meeting their committee; also that the Business Agent call on the George A. Fuller Company in their behalf. The request was granted.

Tile Layers asked if members of the Lathers' Union were working on the Woodley apartment house.

Delegates Desmond and Thompson were appointed a committee to visit the Lathers' Union and get a statement from them.

Painters stated that through the efforts of the Paperhangers and Glaziers they had unionized the job at Thirtieth and Q streets northwest.

NEW BUSINESS.

Delegate Reilly, of Carpenters, No. 884, asked if the constitution of the Council of Allied Building Trades was supreme where it interfered or differed with the constitution of local unions and which should be changed. The Chair stated that all local unions would be expected to live up to the constitution of the Council of Allied Building Trades until it was changed.

The following was introduced by Painters' Union, No. 368:

1. That the office of Business Agent of the Building Trades Section be abolished and instead there shall be created an Executive Committee, composed of Business Agents of affiliated locals, who shall, upon complaint of any local or locals having a grievance against any job or firm brought before the Section, as provided for in the By-Laws, take such action as will speedily make such job or firm fair to said local or locals having grievance or dispute with such job or firm; and further, that said Board of Business Agents or Executive Committee shall serve without compensation from the Section: Provided, That when such local or locals do not have a Business Agent they shall have representation on said board or committee with equal powers to vote or hold office.

2. The per capita tax upon members of locals affiliated with the Section shall be 10 cents per quarter.

Regular course.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Official Organ Central Labor Union and Allied Building Trades, A. F. of L.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

The Trades Unionist Publishing Company

E. W. PATTON.....President
A. J. E. HUBBARD.....Vice-President
T. M. RING.....Secretary

Office: 441-443 G Street Northwest.

TELEPHONE EAST 15 Y.

SUBSCRIPTION

One year (in advance) - - - - $1.00
Six months (in advance) - - - - .50

Entered at the Post-Office, Washington, D. C. as Second-Class Matter.

THE TRADES UNIONIST is heartily and unqualifiedly indorsed by the Central Labor Union and the Allied Building Trades as well as by the various locals connected with the two central bodies.

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL WASHINGTON. 2

Only Eight-Hour Union Office in Town.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1903.

THE coal joke is a has bin.

IT looks as if Chicago will have to restore the restorer.

THE hard facts of industrial progress seems to hurt PARRY'S intellectual corns.

SCHWAB is not much of a sentimentalist in business, but he is fond of figures—especially No. 1.

DOWIE might fill Madison Square Garden with a paying crowd by restoring political harmony in New York.

IT is not observable that political managers are getting in each other's way in their efforts to engage D. M. PARRY for service on the stump.

WE hope Canada will be ready to join in the universal chorus of geographic joy by the time PEARY flies the United States flag from the North Pole.

IT is quite natural that union men should question the conclusions of the man who is down on the organization of labor and thinks he is up on political economy.

D. M. PARRY is at least manly enough to fight in the open, and organized labor should accordingly allow a preferential tariff on the production of his think mill.

KEEP up the standard of living among the great mass of those who spend the money and the money standard will to a very great extent take care of itself.

IF Canada should cut loose from the mother country and quit "chawing," she can draw inspiration from the present situation and set her national hymn to ragtime.

KING EDWARD very sensibly refused to give an opinion on the tariff question. He is very well satisfied to hold up his end as figurehead and let his subjects do the figuring.

"PLAIN living and high thinking" are undoubtedly necessary to the true greatness of a republic, and high wages and good living mark the necessary preliminary step toward that end.

IF SAMUEL GOMPERS, or JOHN MITCHELL, or T. V. POWDERLY had shown as much selfish disregard for public interests as SCHWAB or MORGAN, what a warning cry would have gone up from the Open Shoppers.

THE rapid increase of labor organizations in numbers and power makes it especially important that they should be careful in the selection of those who represent them in an executive capacity. Public opinion is considerably influenced by the character of those officially connected with any cause. In the case of organized labor this is an especially important consideration. There is not a trades organization in the land, it is safe to say, which does not contain among its membership men of pleasing address as well as mental fitness to uphold the dignity of organized labor wherever their duties may happen to call them. In the face of the strengthening opposition to unionism, the selection of such men as leaders is not only important but absolutely essential.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM.

It was somewhat of a disappointment to me that neither Uncle Dave Eccles nor Uncle Johnny Swerdfiger gave us the advantage of his more profound study and deeper reading in last week's issue, and so we must count that a week lost. That was the result of the double volley of the week before, when both shot at once, which is not so effective; for, after reading one and being convinced of the correctness of his reasoning, to immediately take up the other and experience a complete revulsion of feeling is too wearing on the constitution. I would like to be a Socialist for an entire week, under conversion of the able arguments of Uncle Johnny Swerdfiger, before Uncle Dave Eccles comes in and makes me an equally rabid Individualist, and so remain for another week before I am again upset. In my capacity as manager I suppose I am measurably to blame; but it is impossible for even a manager to repress ardent natures and keep them always in proper subjection. I promise to try to keep the discussion orderly and more consecutive, so to speak, in future.

I desire to assure the brilliant and brainy author of the "Many a Truth in Jest" column, who does not want to "butt in," but does so, that I can not permit such criticisms in future as he indulges in, because the short cuts "don't," "can't," and "won't" are entirely allowable and are used almost universally in this day and generation except among the ponderous and grandiose, who make up in verbosity, painful correctness, and sleep-inducing heaviness what they lack in snap and brilliancy. If you are not afraid, Mister, get into the discussion on the merits of the question, but let the language of my disputents alone.

* * * *

Frank Lerch of the Post, had an interesting article in that paper last Sunday, entitled "Nippenose Valley: An Interesting and Historical Section of the Keystone State Named in Honor of a Famous Indian Chief," with illustrations, being a sketch of a portion of Pennsylvania in which Mr. Lerch was reared and one of the Indian chiefs who sold the Susquehanna River and lands adjoining to William Penn for "a parcel of English goods." It is a very interesting article and shows that Frank is as clever with his pen as he is in making speeches in the union.

* * * *

President James M. Lynch recently sent me some circulars of the Eight-Hour Series, inviting me to use my best efforts to aid the movement to make eight hours the universal day, to which I am glad to contribute in any manner within my power. Great progress has been made in this direction all over the country, and it only needs our combined efforts to make it the rule everywhere. Eight hours is as long as any man should work, and it is my firm belief that, day in and day out, a man can do as much work in eight hours as in ten or any larger number. So generally has eight hours been adopted in many other trades as the workday that we are almost behandhand in the procession from the fact that we have not yet succeeded in getting it adopted universally. I am sure that every member of Columbia Union employed in the Government Printing Office, where eight hours has been the workday for the past thirty-five years, will gladly contribute in any way in which he can to bring about this most desirable result.

* * * *

I received a letter from Ben Shannon the other day, in which, among other things, he states that he and Bob Smythe own the three leading papers in the three largest counties in Virginia, and, judging from what he does not say, everything is prosperous with them and business booming. Smythe and Shannon are two old G. P. O. boys of whose successful careers we all have reason to be proud.

* * * *

It is a gratification to read the chatty and interesting paragraphs that my friend, C. W. Pafflow, contributes to THE TRADES UNIONIST from the Day Proof Room. We of the Cascarets force have little opportunity to learn what is going on in the daytime except as it is given by the intelligent and public-spirited correspondents, and we especially appreciate Mr. Pafflow's good work.

* * * *

Quite a number of copies of the volume of poems of the late John Henry Boner, lately issued, have been sold in the Night Proof Room. Outside of the intrinsic merit of the poems, the fact that the proceeds go to the widow of Mr. Boner is enough to appeal to those who have any of the feelings for the necessities of others which should actuate every properly constituted man.

* * * *

From some letters I have received, I am not the only one who has engaged in the laudable but fruitless work of hunting down the Wahnetas.

* * * *

One week from next Monday Congress will convene in extraordinary session and the Record will be revived. In December it will be twenty-nine years since I did my first work on that paper, and I have been connected with it in some capacity almost ever since, in former years occasionally missing a session. When I first went to work on the Record, in December 1874, I held slug 3, with Uncle Jimmy Williams on my right and Florence ("Flip") Maloney on my left. M. D. Helm was foreman; Aven Pearson, assistant foreman; W. H. Hickman, bankman; Byron A. Ford, maker-up; Harry Gattrell, imposer, and "Bones" Noyes, A. T. Cavis, C. A. Waterman, Harvey G. Ellis, Dave McIntosh, John W. Thomas, and others, proofreaders and revisers. The paper was worked from the type in flat forms on cylinder presses, and a day's work for a compositor was from twelve to eighteen hours. We were paid once a month, and each one carried his "dupes" around with him for that length of time before turning them in. L. L. Burke, now a successful newspaper man in Illinois, kept his in a bureau drawer at home and when his wife found them, while "cleaning house," she decided that they were worthless and burned them up. On making affidavit to the amount they measured he was allowed for them. In those days many printers drank ardent spirits, and I remember one night when I could locate nineteen bottles of whisky, only I didn't want to do it. It was at this session that some one complained to the foreman that some other one had been drinking whisky out of the public water cup. "You find out who it is," said Mr. Helm, "and I'll fire him. I won't have anybody working on the Record who can't drink whisky out of a bottle." This is the ninth time I have told this story. I like to tell it. It was also at this session that R. D. Wicker (otherwise known as "Dudeweiler" and "Jane with Apple Butter on her Chin") asked the foreman if he should spell out or put in figures "several hundred thousand"—a joke that, though then far in decrepitude, is still made to work frequently. I have told this story several times also. During this session my good friend "Judge" Griggs used to break for the bank with both hands full of type and his mouth full of copy, singing out as he came up, "Fo'-fo'-fo' fo'ty-fo'—nemmine, nemmine, I see where I go at." All things considered, it was a great session, and at its conclusion everybody was fired except the "trusties."

A. F. BLOOMER.

"MANY A TRUTH IN JEST."

By all means let us send a delegatess to the next convention. We have done worse.

The easiest but by no means most popular way to reduce the dues would be to go back to $3.20 per.

If Horn the tailor looks anything like his cuts in last Sunday's Post he really ought to take something for it.

Since the strike of Chicago sausage makers the restaurant keepers of that city have been putting on less dog.

The spiritualists held a convention here last week, and between spirit rapping seances found time to do a little knocking on each other.

Modern warfare as conducted in the Far East is becoming dreadfuliy wearing on the vocal organs.

The Congressional Record is no joke to the people who wrestle with the manuscript of some of its valued contributors.

Things must be sadly out of joint when one man is harassed by the fear of dying rich while the rest of us struggle to keep up a little life insurance.

The shipbuilding trust simply got caught in deep water without a supply of life preservers on board.

During the coming session of Congress, with its inevitable Nicaragua Canal talkfest, we may expect the usual number of misguided comps to make extra work for themselves and the eagle-eyed sleuths of the proof room by spelling it "Nicaraugua."

The Salvation Army, whose War Cry carries at its head the motto: "Blood and fire," has invaded the mountain districts of Kentucky, where the countersign is "Firewater and blood."

Considerable strain on the elevators in the new building might have been avoided by designing the stairways so that the people whose time is limited could slide down the balustrade.

Every time a man rides down town on a street car without paying his fare he feels that he has struck another deadly blow at a soulless corporation and owes himself a ten-cent cigar.

Canada may as well control her emotions, for we expect to do some more to her as soon as we can get rid of that Philippine taste.

Pension Commissioner Ware has handed out a few more promotions to the faithful who read his poetry and forget to take their annual leave.

Recently 65 nonunion boilermakers at Beverly, Mass., struck for higher wages. Which means that they stopped hammering boilers long enough to knock on their pay.

At the rate we are boycotting it will soon be necessary to carry a "Lest we forget" memorandum to aid us in dodging $5 fines.

The "Clean! Be clean!" card has not yet caught the eye of all the busy people who convert their cuspidors into garbage receptacles.

What shall it profit a man to reduce his dues and get soaked with a monthly assessment?

Maud Ballington Booth's new book propounds the query: "After prison—what?" In most cases it is some more of the same.

After Henry Watterson's latest scorching arraignment of the Newport snobs Harry Lehr was with difficulty dissuaded from challenging him to a wrist-slapping match.

There is now a movement on foot to build a home for superannuated cats, which will receive the indorsement of boarders who have come to look with suspicion on rabbit stew.

It being definitely settled that laziness is caused by the hookworm, our scientists may get on a still hunt after the microbe to blame for the thirst that made John L. Sullivan famous.

Mr. Miller is up against a streak of hard luck. His claim for pay for the time he was separated from his job has been turned down by two comptrollers and the President is busy with other troubles just now.

Mr. Bryan's opinion of Mr. Cleveland, Mr. Cleveland's opinion of Mr. Bryan, and Mr. Hill's opinion of both would be a heap more interesting to a lot of people if there were something in the trough worth wrangling over.

A North Carolina preacher wrote a book on "Heaven and Hell," and it raised so much of the latter that he was compelled to withdraw it from publication.

Having brushed the dust off the dictionary and sorted up the cap "I" boxes, the Record force is now ready for the extra session.

Capital is what you have, a capitalist is the one who wants to get it away from you, and capitalization is the way he does it.

FOR THE BEST--
READY-TO-WEAR
—FOR—
Man, Woman and Child
AT THE MOST REASONABLE PRICES,
CONSULT—
Parker, Bridget & Co.,
Washington's Leading Outfitters, ...
Pa. Ave. and 9th St. N. W.

Union Made Cigars
OF THE FINEST QUALITY.
Pluck 5¢ | ARMY & NAVY 10¢
AFTER DINNER 5¢ | DEER HEAD 10¢
Henry T. Offterdinger, Manufacturer
504 Ninth St., N.W.

ARLINGTON BREWING CO.
ROSSLYN, VA.
BEER ALE PORTER
The Finest Productions of Skilled Union Labor. Union Label on Every Bottle and Keg of Our Goods.

THE BELVIDERE
One of the swellest
OVERCOATS
ever offered, shown in various lengths, detachable belt, extra broad shoulders, with full back, but draped correctly so as to give that ultra fashionable effect so often lacking in other makes.
We show this garment in many different fabrics and colorings. They are all lined with the best grade princess serge and satin sleeve lining, which is guaranteed by the makers, to wear two seasons—in fact, the best value ever offered at $12.50
THE
BIEBER-KAUFMAN CO.
Masculine Outfitters, Childhood to Old Age.
ONE PRICE MONEY BACK
901-909 EIGHTH ST. SOUTHEAST
"WALK-OVER" SHOES FOR MEN—UNION MADE.

Our Specialty
IS A BUSINESS SUIT FOR $25
We claim, and verify our assertion by producing the goods, that no other concern gives the same value in materials and workmanship for the price. Our Twenty-five Dollar Suits are made by the same Skilled Union Workmen that make our higher grade garments. Come in, look through our line and be convinced that this special is a winner. Respectfully,
T. E. GILBERT, Importer and Tailor
818 F Street Northwest

Does your bartender wear one of these Blue Buttons?
If not, WHY NOT?
THIS CARD INDICATES A
Hotel and Restaurant Employes International Alliance and Bartenders International League of America
AFFILIATED WITH AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR
RECOGNIZES THIS BAR AS A UNION BAR AND WORTHY THE SUPPORT OF ORGANIZED LABOR
Robt. A. Gallaher, Jno. L. Sullivan

The Savings possible at
S. Kann, Sons & Co.
8th St.—THE BUSY CORNER—Pa. Ave.
are such as may be counted in the pocket. At the same time styles and qualities are unexcelled.

Goods kept in repair one year free.
FIVE STRONG POINTS
No excuse for a Union man leaving this store dissatisfied. We not only have the Garment Workers' label but a force of Union clerks to handle the largest assortment of ready-to-wear tailoring displayed in the city. Others ask $12 for our $7 goods and $20 for garments sold here at $12.
Union Label
Quality
Quantity
Low Price
Union Clerks
I. E. BLOCK
THE FAMOUS
423 Seventh St. N. W.

The Drillery
Stenography, Typewriting, Bookkeeping, Telegraphy, Civil Service Preparation. Sessions daily, 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.
Phone Main 2508-M 1100 New York Ave. N. W.

In purchasing goods from advertisers in this paper, do not fail to mention the fact that you saw the advertisement in THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES
OF
Columbia Typographical Union,
No. 101.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, 423 G ST. N. W.
Office Hours: 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.; 5 to 7 P. M.

OFFICERS.

JOE M. JOHNSON.....President
DAN C. VAUGHAN.....Vice-President
WM. M. GARRETT.....Secretary
JOHN R. BERG.....Treasurer
FRANK BATES.....Sergeant-at-Arms
N. C. STOOPS.....Doorkeeper

TRUSTEES—J. E. Bright, chairman; W. L. Gutelius, Chas. C. Thompson, Joe M. Johnson, and Wm. M. Garrett.

DELEGATES TO CENTRAL LABOR UNION—J. H. Babcock, chairman; J. B. Dickman, Hugh Everett, Theodore Gerber, and C. E. Dietrich.

DELEGATES TO ALLIED TRADES COUNCIL—E. E. Calhoon, chairman; T. F. Hall, and J. P. Garner.

AUDITORS—C. W. Radley, chairman; H. G. Brown, and J. W. Carter.

COMMITTEES.

BUSINESS—Zach T. Jenkins, chairman; C. B. Yater, M. J. Maher, T. C. Parsons, and R. W. Burnside.

NOMINATIONS—W. N. Brockwell, chairman; F. A. Kidd, H. O'Donnell, Frank M. Hatley, and R. E. Stenner.

LAWS—Chas. H. Ennis, chairman; Raymond Gery, and Dexter S. Hussey.

FINANCE—John A. Huston, chairman; J. M. McLaughlin, and R. F. Chisholm.

PRINTING—T. A. Bynum, chairman; Milo Shanks, and Ed. J. Hall.

GRIEVANCE—Clint O. Price, chairman; Chas. S. Gunn, Philip Nachman, David J. Snyder, and E. Y. Fisher.

ENTERTAINMENT—T. L. Jones, chairman; J. R. Purvis, T. J. Fitzwilliam, Miss Nellie Theaker, Miss Anna Wilson, B. E. Harrison, and W. J. Harris.

CONFERENCE—J. L. Holland, chairman; D. J. Hegarty, and W. B. Shaw.

LIBRARY—Clyde J. Sheriff, chairman; A. E. Ogg, and Harry Essex.

RELIEF—Joseph G. Stelle, chairman; Wm. S. Schinnerer and E. P. Cummins.

EIGHT-HOUR—F. C. Roberts, chairman; F. B. Crown, F. D. Seiffert, Jeff Newlon, and S. H. Willey.

MEMORIAL SERVICE—S. J. Gompers, chairman; Philip S. Steele, J. E. Goodkey, J. B. Dickman, and C. B. Yater.

AMOS J. CUMMINGS MEMORIAL—J. T. Rowe, chairman; Charles T. Graff, and T. A. Bynum.

CHAIRMEN.

First Division—W. R. Love.
Second Division—D. J. Snyder.
Third Division—W. N. Goldstein.
Fourth Division—C. E. Dietrich.
Fifth Division—Charles H. Gove.
Sixth Division—E. M Nevils.
Job Room—J. K. Davison.
Record Clerks' Division—H. G. Brown
First Division, Night—Allen Cowles.
Night Proof Room—E. H. Thomas.
Specification Room—F. H. Melick.
Official Gazette—E. G. Myers.
Document Proof Room—Jas. R. Armstrong.
Treasury Division—W. Brice Coston.
Interior Division—C. K. Stribling.
State Division—J. B. Dickman.
Navy Department Division—Albert E. Ogg.
War Department Division—Wm. K. Miller.
Agricultural Division—Henry P. Slaughter.
Library Division—H. V. Bisbee.
Weather Bureau—L. H. Emmons.
Morning Post—J. H. Broderick
Evening Star—Joseph C. Whyte.
Evening Times—T. C. Parsons.
Law Reporter—J. R. Johnson.
Globe Printing Co.—R. A. Wilson.
Judd & Detweiler's—A. B. Barringer.
Wilkens Printing Co.—T. N. Surguy.
Pearson's—T. F. Monahan.
National Publishing Co.—E. C. Owen.
McGill & Wallace's—J. M. Watts.
Byron S. Adams'—R. B. Boucher.
Army and Navy Register—C. H. Draeger.
General Postoffice—Joseph Williams.
Sudwarth's—F. R. Adams.

AROUND THE PRINTERIES.

First Division.

P. S. Wallace has been transferred to the night force.

Messrs. Herzinger and Bodwell were transferred to the Treasury during the past week.

Elmer Schooley goes off on leave to day, and while off will visit the different Departments in the city.

B. H. Pratt is attending to the copy box for the next two weeks and L. P. Kenney is acting postmaster.

Foreman Bowen has gone off on a fifteen-days' leave, and during his absence George R. Boone is acting in his place.

Capt. M. Barringer starts for Ohio today, and while there he will use his American privilege by voting at the coming election.

Harry Templar had the misfortune to hurt his arm during the past week. Judge Mabrey acted as doctor and fixed up a mighty complicated case.

Capt. Jack Robinson, late of this division, but now of the Library Branch, has resigned from the National Guard, after having faithfully and honorably served ten years.

"No more crowding at the elevators; the rule will be enforced," was the order issued last Tuesday, and it is all right. If it does not cease somebody's head will be laying on the floor.

Judge Mabrey gives out the following problem and asks for consideration: "A man tries to shoot a squirrel on a tree. The squirrel keeps going around the tree as the man goes. When the man has gone around the tree has he gone around the squirrel?"

There will be a bowling contest tomorrow night at 7.30 o'clock between teams representing the First Division and last year's champions—Third Division (old Second). The First Division team will be composed of Richards, Bielaski, Ellis, Schinnerer, and Nachman. Everybody invited.

CLOTILDE.

Oysters in every style at R. A. Driscoll's, North Capitol and G streets. Overholt whisky, 10c.

Second Division.

Not much doing this week in the way of news, but more anon.

J. A. Heslet is acting as foreman during the absence of Mr. Shanks.

There are no squeaky slides in our new quarters, and everyone is thankful except Bill Schmidt.

The employes of this division unite in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Milo Shanks a long and happy married life.

There being no cold water on tap at washing-up time Tuesday night, all took the hot-water cure gracefully.

L. J. Runyan has returned from a two weeks' leave of absence, during which time he removed to his new house in South Brookland.

Curtains in the proof room exclude the gaze of the passer-by, and one must be content with an occasional glimpse of a comma-chaser.

A deathly stillness prevails in alley 10. William Schmidt is on his leave and G. F. Wilson has been transferred to the night force. "That's all."

It is reported that our friend Howard was married while on his leave, but not having the proof, we can not speak (or write) as one having authority.

The Second Division is in need of a lunch counter allee samee First Division. Now is the time to get in on the ground floor—beg pardon, the sixth floor.

To be or not to be (late); that is the question when an elevator balks. It is certainly tough luck to be on the outside and hear, at the same time, the whistle blow and the elevator man say, "That'll be all."

HAPPY HOOLIGAN.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

Fourth Division.

Joe Fritz is absent on a two-week's vacation.

E. T. Stephenson was transferred to the Treasury Branch Wednesday a week ago.

Dan Prosser is closing his leave account and incidentally looking for paw-paws, they say.

Wm. T. Hall was reinstated last Monday. Mr. Hall is so well known that he held a small reception that morning.

Griffith Evans, who was down with typhoid fever for several months while "up State" last summer, returned to work Monday.

Henry M. Presley was reinstated last Thursday and was assigned to this room. Though the divisions change slugs, Mr. Presley sticks to the Fourth.

Harry Major reported for duty last Monday after a long siege of sickness. He was glad to get back, and is at his old place, the copy desk. Mr. Weeks returned to the bank.

Owing to the loss of our chairman, Mr. Stephenson, a special meeting of the chapel was held Thursday noon a week ago and Charles Dietrich was elected to succeed him. Mr. Dietrich had no opposition.

Henry J. Frank went West Saturday to do his duty as an Ohio citizen and to renew old associations. He will be gone for two weeks. Mr. Frank was with us last winter and had a tussle with the numerous languages embodied in the work of the Bibliotheca of the Philippines. It was a revelation to him to know that he could set Spanish, French, German, etc. as well as English. This contract season coming on in May, his services were in demand in the storeroom, but he hopes to return to the case this winter.

Reference was made in these columns a week ago to one of our civil war veterans, Major Pursel. The only other member in this division is William A. Roberts. Mr. Roberts served throughout the entire war as a high private, and was a great deal of the time in General Grant's army during the campaign in which the Mississippi River was opened to commerce. He took part in many of the important battles of the war and was severely wounded. Mr. Roberts also has the distinction of being the father of this division since the death of Mr. Petrie.

RAN.

Try oyster pan roast, 10c. Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, North Capitol and G streets.

Proof Room Notes.

Our genial messenger, Peter B. Rust, after an absence of nearly three months, resumed his duties last Monday.

John W. Metzung has moved into a beautiful residence erected for him on Rhode Island avenue. His many friends wish him an abundance of happiness and prosperity in his new home.

I desire to express my sympathy with Mr. A. F. Bloomer in the loss of his brother, Ames Elliott Bloomer. I know the vanity of all proffered consolation in similar bereavements; and yet I know its value. The love and esteem in which the departed one was held by all who knew him is a silver lining in the dark cloud.

The host of friends of Capt. D. V. Chisholm are much gratified at the appreciation of his merits which has been shown him last Friday evening by the presentation of an elegant silver coffee urn by the Endowment Rank, I. O. O. F. The compliment was as merited as it was graceful, and the Captain estimates the gift with becoming pride and modesty.

My congratulations are due to my friend, Mr. Milo Shanks, on the event of his happy change into a husband. The bride, Miss Annie L. Payne, is a beautiful young lady and a favorite in social circles. The pair have flown to the blue-grass country, where they will enjoy for a season the delights of "my old Kentucky home." They will be "at home" at 136 A street northeast after November 15.

The tall and graceful form and the mingled expression of dignity and melancholy of John Henry Boner will long be remembered among us, where he worked for many years. The volume of his poems, recently published, ought to find a ready market among the printers and readers. Every one of us ought to have a copy. It is well worth the price, and then the widow, Mrs. Boner, is to be the principal beneficiary.

Anent the correspondence school controversy, it strikes me that it is exceedingly unjust to condemn all schools of that class because there are fakes among them. These are to be found in every branch of business, from the Rev. Mr. Dowie to the venders of rotten peanuts. But there are good preachers and good peanuts just the same. Correspondence schools are good, bad, and indifferent, and it is wrong to stamp all as frauds.

I want to express my gratification at reading in the Post of last Sunday an editorial, headed "Costly Leaders." It is a reply to a puerile screed wound off by the Nashville American on labor leaders. The Post exposes the silliness of the charge and shows that "dishonest leaders" do far more in politics, commerce, society, and other spheres than they do among the unions. It is a masterly argument and well worthy of reproduction by the labor press.

It affords me most particular pleasure to extend my heartiest felicitations to our colleague of the foreign contingent, Mr. Bernard H. Lane, on the occasion of his joining the noble army of benedicts. The wedding took place yesterday at the home of the bride, Miss Alice Johnson, of Ohio. Mr. Lane is an accomplished and scholarly gentleman, and his many friends join me in wishing him and his wife a long life of usefulness and plenty. Members of this chapel expressed their esteem by presenting the couple a beautiful wedding gift in the form of a vase.

Mr. Sullivan's article in last week's TRADES UNIONIST on the co-operative methods of the French union printers was both timely and instructive. Never before, perhaps, in its history has Europe witnessed such intense activity and determined effort on the part of the workers to improve their condition. They are banding together as never before, and on the highest principles of humanity. This spirit has spread even into autocratic Russia, where it is proceeding apace throughout that vast empire, in spite of the bloody trail which it leaves behind it. For some time past there has scarcely passed a day in the industrial centers that the Cossacks have not killed from 250 to 300 workers There can be no doubt of the outcome of this tremendous struggle. The working class is not going to be crushed.

CHAS. W. PAFFLOW.

JUST EVERY-DAY LIFE.

Two individuals died the past week worthy more than passing comment. H. S. Canfield put in ten of the forty-seven years of his life in the saddle, as a Texas Ranger, in pursuit of Indians and Mexicans on the frontier, one of his most notable productions in the book line being "Down by the Rio Grande." It was as the builder of the short story that the public knew him best. The October number of the 10 Story Book contains a skit from his pen, dealing with the comic side of the life of a hotel clerk, which contains a rare vein of humor. Mr. Canfield, while being treated at a Chicago sanitorium, committed suicide.

Samuel E. Morss, while at his desk in the Sentinel office, Indianapolis, fell from a window to the pavement below, and a bright light in the newspaper world went out. After making a success of the Fort Wayne Sentinel, he went to Kansas City, and in the face of such formidable opposition of the Times and the Journal, established the Star, which competent authorities today claim to be one of the best advertising mediums in Uncle Sam's dominions. Then, back to Hoosierdom, he continued the Indianapolis Sentinel a power in politics, later going as consul-general to Paris. Mr. Morss was fortunate in possessing a helpmeet who was a comrade and a confidant in his several undertakings. A reporter for the Sentinel's opposition sheet, green and gawky, attended a "sociable" in Fort Wayne. A lady met him at the door and made the sledding easy, giving the initials and aiding in the spelling of the names of those present, throwing in a "personal" or two for good measure. "Who's that lady had me in tow?" the reporter inquired of a young man at his elbow. "Why, that's Sam Morss's wife," was the reply. This particular reporter possessed a very retentive memory, and it is needless to say many a chicken went over the Sentinel's back fence in return for the graceful act.

H. S. SUTTON.

The People's Church.

Our readers will kindly notice the advertisement of the People's Church in another column. This is an innovation in the line of advertising, and it is hoped it will be productive of some good. Many of our readers are members of the People's Church, the printers having a warm spot for Dr. Kent, its pastor, for his advocacy at all times of the cause of organized labor.

The "Man's Store."
OUR FAMOUS $1.90 HATS
In All the Fashionable Blocks and Colorings.
Worth $2.50

D. J. K. $1 Dress Gloves.....89c
$1 50 White P. K. Vests.....$1.10
$15 Tan Covert Top-coats...$9.75
$15 3-but. D. B. Sack Suits..$12.85
$25 Cravenette Rain Coats..$18.50
D. J. KAUFMAN, 1005-7 Pa. Ave.

Union Shop Expert Massaging
Carl E. Wilson
Late of Palmer House Barber Shop, Chicago, Ill.
Four Chair Shop
Cor. Fourth and G Sts. N. W.
GUS AMBERG, Foreman, Formerly New York City
Shoe Parlor All Shines 5c

THE PEOPLE'S CHURCH
Invites you to attend its services.
This is a Church without a creed, extending its fellowship to all who believe in better social conditions, in justice, here and now.
Services Sunday at 11 15 a. m., in Typographical Temple, 423 G Street Northwest.
Pastor: Rev. ALEX. KENT, 26 F Street N. W.
Come and Bring Your Friends.

A. & P. BEST ELGIN BUTTER, 27 CENTS.
Finest Grades of Teas and Coffees.
Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, Cor. 7th and E.

Attention
If you want to be treated square and save $5.00 fine, call on M. LEVITAN, Civil and Military Tailor, for a fall suit.
Union Label in every Garment
1409 G ST. N. W.

Woodward & Lothrop,
DEPARTMENT STORE.
TENTH, ELEVENTH, AND F STS. N. W.

WHERE THE HALF-TONES ARE MADE
THE NATIONAL ENGRAVING COMPANY.
INCORPORATED.
14th St. and Pa. Ave. Phone 1679 Main

Hewke, PHOTOGRAPHER
56 of the ex-delegates and committees patronized me for good work.
Studio,
430 7th St., N. W. Washington, D. C.

J. E. BONINI'S
BUFFET AND CAFÉ,
727-729 N. Capitol Street.
MAERZEN BEER ON TAP.
A first-class Lunch Counter. Sea food in season. Union throughout.

Phone East 644-A
DR. CARLETON VAUGHAN
Dentist
The Colcord, 310 East Capitol Street
Office Hours: 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.
Evenings: By Appointment

If you want to Save Your Money with 5 per cent interest; or want to Buy A Home on monthly payments
Deal with
AMERICAN B. AND L. ASS'N
S. C. HOLMES, Prest.
H. V. Easterling, V-Prest.
F. H. Riordan, Treas. Andrew Wilson, Atty.
W. J. Frizzell, Secy.
Phone 2026 907 G STREET Open 9 to 5

THE RIGGS NATIONAL BANK
Of Washington, D. C.
Capital - - - $1,000,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits, 1,000,000
Exchange on England, Ireland, France and Germany. Letters of credit available in all foreign parts. Bank Collections. Orders for investments. Stocks and Bonds.

SEABOARD
AIR LINE RAILWAY
Offers the best service between Florida, the Southeast, or Southwest and Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and the East. Two daily through trains, with cafe dining cars and through Pullman sleepers.
Great inducements are offered to fruit growers and truckers in the Manatee country below the frost line in Florida. Send for a handsomely illustrated brochure.
EDWARD F. COST, Traffic Mgr.
CHAS. B. RYAN, Gen. Pass. Agt. Portsmouth, Va.
W. E. CONKLYN, Gen. Agt. Pass. Dept. 1421 Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C.

GIDDINGS & STEELE,
Exclusive Floor Coverings
813 PENNSYLVANIA AVE. N.W.

SHAFFER
Florist
14th and Eye Sts. Phone 2416 Main
1711 Pennsylvania Ave. Phone 1581 Main

FURNISHED ROOMS
AT
The Orleans
1203 F STREET NORTHWEST
MRS. R. COMMELIN, Prop.

If You Meet
with an accident depriving you of your limbs; Ben Hur (the no assessment insurance order) will pay you one-half the face value of your policy. Loss of eyesight entitles you to the same amount.
HENRY E. CROUCH, Deputy, 424 Fourth St. N. E.
ALBERT P. E. DOYLE, Scribe, 21 O St. N. E.

PRINTERS and Union Members.—For First-Class Meals, Eat at
VICTOR CAFE, 3 H St. N. W.
ALBION, Eleventh and E Sts. N. W.
ERIN, Cor. N. J. Ave. and D St. N. W.
U. S. LUNCH ROOM, 320 12th St. N. W.
ALBERT T. SCANLAND, Prop.
Open Day and Night. Best Service.

M. S. JOHNSON,
Foreign and Domestic Woolens now ready for inspection
SUITS $25 UP. UNION SHOP.
1435 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

Quality your security here.
CLARK & DAVENPORT
Examine our Large Stock of Furniture, Carpet, and Draperies before purchasing.
1200, 1202, 1204 F Street N. W.

THOMAS WALSH
Formerly "Steve" Caldwell's.
Whiskies and Cigars
Specialties: MELVALE AND SHERWOOD
COOL LAGER BEER ON DRAUGHT.
BILLIARDS AND POOL
Billiards, 40c. per hour. Pool, 2½c. per cue.
THOMAS WALSH
407 Tenth St. Northwest

E. F. PRICE & CO.
Strongest flat opening blank book made.
Ruling and Binding of every description.
A Specialty of FINE BANK WORK.
BOOKBINDERS 1108 E St. N. W.

G. P. O. BICYCLE REPAIR CO.
ARTHUR D. BENNETT
MANAGER
Wheels stored, cleaned, and repaired (per month)..... $1.00
Wheels stored and cleaned (per month)..... .75
Wheels stored (per month)..... .50
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty
Bicycle Sundries
Salesroom, 33 H St. N. W.

300 1-lb. Loaves to the Barrel.
Every Laboring Man
—requires pure, wholesome, nourishing food such as is made of—
Cream Blend Flour
It not only makes THE BEST Bread, Rolls, Cake and Pastry, but more of them than other brands—therefore it's the cheapest that money can buy.
Your Grocer will supply you.
B. B. EARNSHAW & BRO., Wholesalers,
1105, 1107, 1109 11th Street S. E.
1000 and 1002 M Street S. E.

Cole & Swan
Large assortment of Watches, Diamonds, and Jewelry (we make and repair anything in this line).
"Square Dealing" our motto.
21 H Street N. W.

T. HOLLANDER
Men's Furnishings
Hats and Shoes
COR. N. CAPITOL AND H STS.
Opposite Government Printing Office

DO YOU USE TOILET PAPER?
If so, investigate the service furnished by
R. P. Andrews & Co.,
INCORPORATED
627-629 LOUISIANA AVE. N. W.
THE WHOLESALE PAPER HOUSE
IT WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

HOTEL FRITZ REUTER
Rathskeller and Restaurant.
COR. PA. AVE. AND JOHN MARSHALL PLACE
Phone: East 388.

Telephone 3662-Y
AMREIN'S FAMOUS ICE CREAM
HAS NO EQUAL
One Dollar per Gallon
Stores, 1426 and 1810 7th St. N. W.

GEO. W. BARRY COAL CO.
Coal in any quantity at the right price and Wood also.
14-16 H N. E. One minute from G. P. O. Telephone East 234.

B. F. WARNER
FINE WINES and LIQUORS
BLUE LABEL CIGARS
1219 E Street Northwest

FOR LUNCH
TRY THE
Pure Dairy Lunch
935 D Street Northwest

American Ice Co.
1437 Penna. Ave. N. W.

THE UNION
SAVINGS BANK
BOND BUILDING
Cor. 14th St. and New York Ave. N.W.

Three Per Cent Interest
on Savings Accounts.

Branch Deposit Agency at
T. A. ROVER'S STORE,
Cor. North Capitol and H Sts.
OPEN EVERY MONDAY AND TUESDAY
FROM 4 TO 5 P. M.

When in doubt buy at
HOUSE & HERRMANN,
FURNITURE, CARPETS, DRAPERIES, ETC.
N. E. Corner Seventh and I Streets N. W.

Don't Buy a Hat
Without the Label. .
And See that It Is Sewed In.

Don t Patronize a Dealer Who Has Loose Labels on Hand and Offers to Put One in Your Hat.

LOOSE LABELS
In Retail Stores
ARE COUNTERFEITS.

The John B. Stetson Co., of Philadelphia. Pa., is a non-union concern.

J. GEORGE SMITH
(Formerly a member of the firm of R. P. Andrews & Co.)
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
PAPER AND STATIONERY
My old friends and patrons from J. C. Addison's time to the present will be welcome. I can supply all your needs at lowest prices consistent with quality.
626 E STREET NORTHWEST

The Hub Furniture Co.,
The Stores that Save You Money.
OUR MOTTO—The Best Values in Furniture and Carpets at the Lowest Prices.
Cash or Credit.
HUB FURNITURE CO.,
(Formerly Wash B. Williams)
Corner Seventh and D Streets N. W.

Carriages Furnished for All Occasions — Phone East 327-M
JOHN ELBERT
Undertaker and Embalmer
54 H STREET N. W.

"Everyone knows how to find fault."
No one has yet found fault with the
RELIABLE
The Gas Range for Summer Use
Washington Gas Light Co.
GAS APPLIANCE EXCHANGE

St. Asaph Commission Rooms,
Old Established and Reliable.
Trains leave Thirteen and one-half street and Pennsylvania avenue—Alexandria, Mt. Vernon, and Washington Railway—daily at 12.45, 1.05, 1.25, 2, 2.30, 3.02, and 3.30. Return .39, 4.24, 5.02, 5.58, and at various intervals.

CELTIC CLUB WHISKY
Our Specialty. Never Changes. Once Tried You'll Always Use It. Take No Substitute.
Ports and Sherries for family use, Quarts, 50 and 75 cents. All makes of Beer. Leading brands of Cigars. Ales and Porters on draught the year round.
JOHN CONNOR
New Jersey Ave. and G Sts. N. W.

J. WILLIAM LEE,
Undertaker and Livery, . . .
322 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

RETAIL DRUG CLERKS, No. 240, AND THEIR FRIENDS DO NOT PATRONIZE
JOHN W. JENNINGS
DRUGGIST
1142 Connecticut Avenue
Now on Unfair List of Central Labor Union

Union Directory.

TO SECRETARIES: Please notify this office of any change in officers' addresses, time or place of meeting. Corrections will be made quarterly.

American Federation of Labor—Headquarters, Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Sam'l Gompers, President. Frank Morrison, Secretary.

Allied Printing Trades Council meets last Thursday in the month at Typographical Temple. J. A. Wiedman, Secretary-Treasurer, 15 I street northeast.

Allied Label League meets every Friday night at 8 o'clock at 905 E street northwest. C. A. Pfau, Secretary, 905 E street northwest

Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, Local No. 148, meets second and fourth Thursday evenings at 922 Pa. avenue northwest. Geo. Bakersmith, Secretary, 3315 Brightwood avenue northwest.

Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, Local Union No. 102, meets first and third Wednesdays at Loehl's Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. D. C. Childress, Secretary. T. F. Ryan, Business Agent. Room 1, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

American Society Plate Engravers meets first Saturday in each month at Grand Army Hall. A. C. Ruebsam, Secretary, Bethesda, Montgomery County, Md.

Bakers Union, No. 118, meets first and third Saturday in each month at 430 Eighth street northwest. John G. Schmidt, Secretary and Business Agent, 333 I street s w.

Bakers' Drivers' L. U. No. 33, T. D. I. U. meets first and third Thursday evening of each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Thomas C. Fox, Secretary, 922 Fourth street northeast.

Bartenders' League Local No. 75, meets first and fourth Sunday of each month at 2 p. m. at Macabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. Jere F. McCarthy, Secretary, 1017 Maryland avenue southwest.

Beer Drivers' and Stablemen's Union, No. 234, meets first Sunday of each month at 314 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. Walter T. Trittipoe, Secretary, 1346 Wallach Place northwest.

Bookbinders' Union, No. 4, meets first Tuesday in each month at Typograhical Temple. James A. Stockman, Secretary, 735 North Capitol street.

Brewery Workers' Union, No. 118, meets second and last Sunday of the month at 314 Pennsylvania ave. southeast. Frank Rom, Secretary, 818 New Hampshire ave. northwest.

Bricklayers' Union, No. 1, meets second and fourth Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Milford Spohn, Secretary, Typographical Temple.

Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators, and Paperhangers, Local Union, No. 368, meets every Friday night at Painters' Hall, 506 Sixth street northwest. G. Jule Murray, Secretary, 1107 South Carolina avenue southeast. W. M. Lewis, Business Agent, 506 Sixth street northwest.

Cab and Carriage Drivers' Union, No. 486, meets first and third Sundays, at Butler's Hall, 609 C street northwest. W. B. Nelson, Secretary, 922 I street northwest.

Carriage and Wagon Workers' International Union, Local No. 72, of Washington, D. C., meets every Thursday at Loehl's Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. John H. Brinkman, Secretary, 1729 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Carpet Upholsterers, No. 85, U. I. U., meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at 516 Ninth street northwest. Geo. A. Pinckney, Secretary, 363 Pennsylvania ave. northwest

Central Labor Union meets every Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Typographical Temple. Charles W. Winslow, Secretary, 425 G street northwest. Residence, 3206 Wisconsin avenue northwest.

Ceramic, Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers and Helpers' International Union, No. 2, meets first and third Thursdays at 609 C street northwest. H. A Hopkins, Secretary, 605 Eighth street northeast. W. E. Thompson, Business Agent, Room 1, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

Cigarmakers' Local Union, No. 110, meets every Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Bielig's Hall, 737 Seventh street northwest. Henry B. Wissner, Secretary, 3143 Dumbarton avenue.

Columbia Lodge, No. 174, International Association of Machinists, meets every Wednesday night at McCauley's Hall, 209 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. E. L. Adams, Secretary, 600 Ninth street northeast.

Columbia Typographical Union meets third Sunday in each month in Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. W. M. Garrett, Secretary.

Council Allied Building Trades of Central Labor Union meets every Tuesday night at Hall 3, Building Trades Halls, 624 Sixth street northwest. E. J. Ratigan, Secretary and Business Agent. Room 2. 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

Douglass Association of Steam Engineers, I. S. U. E., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of the month at 609 F street northwest. J. W. Webb, Secretary, 341 Maryland avenue southwest.

Electrotype Molders and Finishers' Union, No. 17, I. S. and E. U. Charles W. Dean, Secretary.

Federal Labor Union No. 8193, meets fourth Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Miss Emma A. Miller, Secretary, 1011 First street n. w.

Glass Bottle Blowers' Association, Branch 68, Alexandria, Va., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Serepta Hall. Frank Michelbach, Secretary, 803 King street, Alexandria, Va.

Grocery Clerks' Union, No. 533, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at Hall 3, Building Trades Halls, 624 Sixth street northwest. John D. Schamel, Secretary, 1540 North Capitol street. C. A. Pfau, Business Agent, Room 1, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

Hospital Attendants' Protective Union No. 8097, meets first and fourth Saturday nights of each month at Masonic Hall, Anacostia, D. C. C. W. Teates, Secretary, 434 Jackson street, Anacostia, D. C.

Hod Carriers and Building Laborers' Local Union No. 21, I. U. B. L., meets first and third Mondays of each month at Cadets' Armory, 708 O street northwest. Dennis Brown, Secretary, 1237 Fourth street northwest. Sol. J. Childs, Business Agent, 1006 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Ice Wagon Drivers and Helpers, Local No. 430, meets first and third Tuesdays in each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest (third floor). William Donaldson, Secretary, 812 Seventh street southwest.

International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, Local Union No. 5, meets every Friday night at Hall 1, Building Trades Halls, 610 G street northwest. F. M. Briggs, Secretary, 104 Third street northwest. Thos. E. Grove, Business Agent, Room 1, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

International Association of Machinists, Headquarters, rooms 402-407 McGill Building, 908-914 G streets northwest. James O'Connell, president; D. Douglass Wilson, vice-president and editor of the Journal; George Preston, Secretary-Treasurer.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.—Headquarters, Rooms 103-104 Corcoran Building. H. W. Sherman, Secretary.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 26, meets every Thursday night at Hall 2, Building Trades Halls, 610 G street northwest. S. F. Adams, Secretary, 724 Eighteenth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 148, meet every Monday night at 430 Eighth street northwest. H. B. Anderson, Secretary, 807 Eighth street northwest.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, No. 257, meets every Friday evening at 719 Sixth street n. w. M. G. Bundick, Secretary, 1107 Tenth street n. w.

Interior Marble and Slate Cutters' and Setters' Association, No. 5, meets first and third Wednesday of each month at Arion Hall, 430 Eighth street northwest. J. M. Eliason, Secretary, 621 Maryland avenue southwest.

International Association of Marble Workers No. 33, meets first and third Thursdays of each month at 430 Eighth street northwest. Lew Davis, Secretary, 106 I street northwest.

International Union of Steam Engineers—Local Union No. 99, meets every Wednesday evening at 419 Tenth street northwest. A. W. Leeke, Recording Secretary, Twelfth and B streets northwest.

International Brotherhood of Firemen, Local No. 63, meets every Tuesday night at J. F. Heare's Hall, 404 Eighth street northwest. Louis S. Crown, Secretary. 637 K street northeast.

Iron Molders' Union, Local No. 215, meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at Masonic Hall, Fourth street and Pennsylvania avenue southeast. Joseph Stewart, Secretary, 3413 N street northwest.

I. U. S. E., Hoisting and Portable, Local 77, meets every Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, Heare's Hall. 404 Eighth street northwest. W. H. Radcliffe, Secretary, 812 Four-and-a-Half street southwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 239, meets first and third Wednesdays in each month at 737 Seventh st. northwest. Theo. A. Leckert, Secretary, 1210 Florida avenue northwest.

Journeymen Barbers' Union, No. 305, meets first and third Monday evenings at 503 G street northwest (barber shop). Charles A. Thomas, Secretary, 817 E street northwest.

Journeymen Horseshoers' Union, No. 17, meets first and third Wednesdays of each month at Hall 1, Building Trades Halls, 610 G street northwest. W. S. Lusby, Secretary, 708 Eighth street southeast.

Journeyman Tailors of America, No. 188, meets first and third Saturdays of each month at 8 o'clock p m., Labor Bureau Hall. Ignatius Geraci, Secretary, 917½ E street northwest.

Journeyman Plumbers and Gas Fitters' Local Union, No. 5, meets second and fourth Tuesday evening of each month at Maccabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. A. E. Anderson, Secretary, 1312 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Journeymen Stone and Marble Cutters' Union, meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Jonadab Hall, 623 Louisiana avenue northwest. Harry Bouche, Secretary, 72 H street northeast.

Laundry Wagon Drivers No. 467, W. W. Foster. Secretary, 95 Myrtle street northwest

Mail Bag Repairers' Union, No. 10523, meets first and last Saturdays of every month at Stolpp's Hall 721 Sixth street northwest. L. W. Kearney, Secretary, 406 First st. n.w.

Mail Bag Workers' Union, 10504, meets every Saturday at 721 Sixth street northwest Miss A. Cross, Secretary, 321 Lincoln street, Anacostia, D. C.

Metal Trades Federation of North America, Room 134 Corcoran Bldg., James O'Connell, President. E. J. Lynch, Secretary.

Milk Wagon Drivers' Union, No. 349, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at 8 p. m., at Hotel Royal (second floor), Seventh and N streets northwest. W. T. Trittipoe 1359 U street northwest.

Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers' Helpers, Local Union, No. 12, meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Hall 3. Building Trades Halls, 624 Sixth street northwest. Sam Jones, Secretary. Howard Smoot, Business Agent, Room 1, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

Musicians' Protective Union, No. 161, meets first and third Sundays at 2 p. m., at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Linden, Jr Secretary, 1364 E street southeast.

National Alliance Theatrical Stage Employes meets first and third Sunday in each month at southwest corner of Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, third floor. J. P. Shilling, Secretary, 1208 Bladensburg Road.

Negative Cutters Union, meets second Wednesday in each month at 921 F street northwest. Clarence W. Schroeder, Secretary, 640 E street southeast.

Oil Wagon Drivers, No. 296, meets second Wednesday of each month at Oppenheimer's Hall, 514 Ninth street northwest. A. J. Dixon, Secretary, 1234 Twenty-ninth street northwest.

Operative Stonemasons' Union, No. 2, meets first and third Monday evenings at 609 C street northwest. James Lanigan, Secretary, 930 G street southwest.

Paperhangers' Local Union No. 420, B. of P., D., and P., meets every Wednesday evening at Paperhangers' Headquarters, 625 Louisiana avenue northwest. J. Franklin Page, Secretary. Harry J. Wells, Business Agent.

Pattern Makers' League meets at Weller's Hall, Eighth and I streets southeast first and third Wednesday. James B. McAlwee, Secretary, 907 E street southeast.

Photo-Engravers' Union, No. 17, meets first Monday in each month at 417 Eleventh street northwest. F. C. Betts, Secretary, Kensington, Md.

Printing Pressmen Union, No. 1, meets first Saturday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. W. C. Deane, Secretary. 19 Grant Place.

Plate Printers Union, No. 2, meets at Maccabee Temple, Ninth street n. w., the fourth Tuesday in each month. J. P. Murphy, Secretary, 1416 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

Post-Office Clerks, No. 9834, meets the second Saturday of each month at Twelfth and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. B. Corridon, Secretary, 1733 North Capitol street.

Registered Drug Clerks' Union, District of Columbia, meets second and fourth Fridays at Jolly Fat Men's Hall, 933 D street northwest. Fred T. Hafelfinger, Secretary, 1907 Fourth street northwest.

Retail Clerks' Union, No. 262, meets second and fourth Mondays of each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Joseph Moser, Recording Secretary, 624 I street northwest.

Slate and Tile Roofers' Union, No. 12, I. U., meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Room 6, Warder Building. J. C. Huddleson, Secretary, 2147 Pennsylvania avenue northwest,

Soda and Mineral Water Wagon Drivers, No. 372, meets second and fourth Wednesdays at Bessler's Hall, 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. P. Connor, Secretary, 1111 Sixth street southwest.

Steam Fitters, R. A. Lanis Association, L. B. No. 10, N. A., meets every Thursday night at Hall 1, Building Trades Halls, 610 G street northwest Thomas L. Hess, Secretary, 913 New York avenue northwest.

Steam and Hot Water Fitters' Helpers, Local Branch, No. 28, N. A., meets every Friday night at Bessler's Hall, 922 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. H. Reichard, 315 Ninth street southeast.

Stereotypers' Union. No. 19, of Washington D. C., meets second Monday of each month at Typographical Temple, 423-425 G street northwest. D. J. Murray, Secretary, 35 R street northwest.

Stone and Building Laborers' Union, No. 46 I. U. B. L., meets first and third Fridays of each month at Eleventh and Q streets northwest. Daniel Lahey, Secretary and Business Agent, Room 1, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

Telephone Operators, No. 9914, meets third Saturday of each month at Schmidt's Hall. 516 Ninth street northwest. Edna Earl Bobb, Secretary, 924 Pennsylvania avenue southeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, Local Union. No. 190, meet every Friday evening at Painters' Hall, 506 Sixth street northwest C. H. Scherer, Secretary, 936 Fourth street northeast.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 884, meets every Monday night at 904 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. C. E. Torney, Secretary, 141 Jefferson street, Anacostia D. C.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 1103, Mill and Bench Hands, meets every Friday at 8 p. m., at 514 Ninth street northwest. Peyton Wilkerson, Secretary, 816 G street southeast.

United Brotherhood of Leather Workers on Horse Goods, No. 87, meets every second and fourth Tuesday, 513 Twelfth street northwest. H. J. Laubach, Secretary. 72 H street northeast.

Upholsterers' Local Union, No. 58, meets second and fourth Thursdays of each month at 416 (fourth floor) Ninth street northwest. F. Barker, Secretary, 834 Eleventh street n. e,

Washington Branch, Granite Cutters' National Union, meets every second and fourth Mondays in each month at 1204 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Wm. Silver, Secretary, 49 Massachusetts avenue northwest.

Washington Feeders and Assistants' Union, No. 42, meets the first Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street n. w. D. I. Leane, Secretary, 702 H street northeast.

Washington Lodge of Machinists, No. 193, meets every Thursday night at southwest corner of Tweifth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. J. Herbert Wyatt, Secretary, 111 Seventh street southeast.

Wood, Wire, and Metal Lathers' Local Union, No. 9, meets every Tuesday night at Hall 1, Building Trades Halls, 610 G street northwest. J. C. Maloney, Secretary, 124 G street northwest.

Third Division.

Did Warren lay off Tuesday to look for his watch—the Ingersoll—which he left hanging on the wall at the office?

John Delahunty will take a three-weeks' rest, and will incidentally help out the reformers in the New York City municipal election.

Henry Meade, of Louisville, Ky., was visiting at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Kate Newsom, and her son Hubert, of this division, during the past week.

The Spanish war veterans kill more imaginary Spaniards at their smokers and camp fires than they do on the target ranges these cold, windy days. Phillips was on the range Monday.

Wolfe says Cooke belongs to the Farmer's Alliance and that he overheard the passwords and saw him give the grip to Jeff Garland, which is: Grip—Grasp each other's thumb and say, "If I dig, I spade, I hoe, I'll be d—d."

Apropos of veterans, the civil war and Spanish veterans are not in it with the soldiers on the hook. When bank statements were running last week the members of a certain alley which is behind the breach of the copy box caught all the short pages. Now they object to the nickname assigned them.

Jack Childress scored the highest average for the Third.

They evidently hoped to have the luck we had last year by changing their name to Second.

The First Division have courageously asked this, the Third, to give them a trial next Friday night.

Last Friday night, October 23, the Second Division bowling team met down town with the avowed intention of making our division feel like it was second.

The following is the score for last Friday evening's game:

SECOND DIVISION.	1st.	2d.	3d.
McConnell	144	134	157
Allen	203	179	165
Beddow	150	144	135
Holt	130	133	207
Nachman	194	168	170
Total	821	758	834
THIRD DIVISION.
Saltzman	193	119	186
Sherman	164	142	186
Childress	167	182	160
McFadyen	161	152	176
McAllson	167	190	148
Total	852	785	856

NOTES.

Nice games.

Well, another scalp.

"Shorty" Smith was absent.

It is worth the money to see Allen strut.

Cheer up, Hank, the games are interesting, if you do lose.

Branham is just as good at the scoreboard as he is at bowling—bum.

Goldstein and Garner are great rooters. They were there with the goods.

Has Allen lost his nerve? He let his old rival Sherman, defeat him in the last game.

Nachman was substituted for Moores, who failed to show up. "Nach" did himself proud.

Sherman and Saltzman put up nice games, considering they have had no practice this season.

It is too bad the boys of the Second and Third don't pick a team and show the G. P. O. League team the art of handling a ten-pin ball. It can be done without much effort.

NEWS.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

The Barber is "Next."

Whoever thought the barber would be put out of business? The time of his displacement by labor-saving machinery is near at hand, however, at least according to the statement of the Utica (N. Y.) Journal that a well-known merchant of that city and an electric expert have devised a machine which will shave a man's face in a manner equal, if not superior, to the work of the barber.

Instead of "Shave sir?" It will be "M ow sir?" for the principal involved is similar to that of a lawn-mowing machine. Comparatively dull knives are used, the great speed obtained making sharp blades unnecessary. The machine proper consists of a disc two inches in diameter, to which on one end is added a handle about three and one-half inches long. On the disc are set several flexible blades about one-eighth of an inch wide, which are set to reach about one-hundredth of an inch below the aperture in the disc. From one to fifty knives may be used. The machine is run by a small electric motor, making from 1,000 to 2,000 revolutions per minute. The knives operate in a rotary manner and alternate with one another when a series of knives are used. A guard makes accidental cutting of the face absolutely impossible and prevents the knives from becoming misplaced. The motor which supplies the power weighs about one pound and occupies a very small space. It may be connected to an ordinary electric light socket in the manner of the ordinary rotary fans so commonly used.

The machine may be placed on the back of a chair or set on a table and will prove a great boon to travelling men and tourists. It is claimed that a boy can operate it and that it will take the place of ten barbers. It is possible with the machine to shave in one-tenth of the time consumed with a razor, besides being more effectual. The flexible knives make it possible to protect any wart or pimple on the face. An automatic lathering is being devised for use in connection with the shaver, although lather is said to be unnecessary to its successful operation.—Minnesota Union Advocate.

Representative Business Houses.
OF WASHINGTON, D. C.

The following wholesale and retail firms and professional men are friendly to Union Labor and are entitled to its patronage:

BANKS.
THE LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK, Safe Deposit Vaults, $2.50 up
CAPITAL LOAN GUARANTEE COMPANY, 602 F Street Northwest. Every one can borrow money without security.

BAKERS.
HOLMES & SON, Celebrated Home-Made Pies and Milk Bread. First and E Streets N. W. Phone East 864.

BOOTS AND SHOES.
CROCKER'S SHOES, 939 Pennsylvania Ave. N. W.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.
DANIEL LOUGHRAN, 1347 Pennsylvania Ave.
LUCHS & BRO., Wholesalers. Phone E 755.

COACH FINDINGS.
J. B. KENDALL, 485-87 Missouri avenue N. W.

CUTLERY AND SPORTING GOODS.
D. N. WALFORD, 625 and 909 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

DRY GOODS.
LANSBURGH & BROTHER, 420 to 426 7th St. N. W

DYER.
E. E. WHEATLEY, 1068 Jefferson Ave. N. W. Phone, West 117-Y.

ENGRAVERS.
THE MAURICE JOYCE ENGRAVING CO. Cuts and Illustrations. 418 11th street N. W

FIRE INSURANCE.
Insure with THE RIGGS FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY. FIREMEN'S INSURANCE COMPANY, Seventh St. and Louisiana Ave.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.
JULIUS LANSBURGH, Interocean Building, 512 Ninth St. N. W.

GAS FIXTURES, LAMPS, ETC.
C. A. MUDDIMAN & CO., 1204 G Street. 616 Twelfth Street. Phone 140.

GROCERIES.
LITTLE & PAGE, "Good things to eat." 1210 F St. N.W
W. C. ERGOOD, "Good goods at Ergoods." Corner Ninth and H Streets Northwest.

GROCER AND COFFEE ROASTER.
SOMERSET R. WATERS. 1342 Seventh Street Northwest, Corner O.

HARDWARE AND TOOLS.
RUDOLPH, WEST & CO., 1332 New York avenue northwest.

HUDSON'S VARIETY STORE.
B. F. HUDSON, 416 Seventh Street Northwest.

HATTERS AND FURRIERS.
JAMES Y. DAVIS' SONS, 1201 Pennsylvania Ave.
A. H. BURDINE, Union Overalls, Hats, and Gloves. Seventh Street and Virginia avenue southwest.

LIME, SAND, GRAVEL, CEMENT.
NATIONAL MORTAR COMPANY. Office: Room 9, Ralston Bldg., 612 F St. N. W. Office telephone: East 688.

LUMBER AND MILL WORK.
THOMAS R. RILEY, 13th St. and Ohio Ave.

MACHINISTS AND ENGINEERS,
FORSBERG & MURRAY, Pumps and Elevators. Engines and Boilers 8th and Water Sts. S. W.

PHARMACISTS.
LOUIS F. BRADLEY, Prescription Druggist. 8th and E Sts. S. E

PHOTO-LITHOGRAPHERS.
THE NORRIS PETERS CO., 458 and 460 Pennsylvania avenue N. W
ANDREW B. GRAHAM Lithographer, Photo-Lithographer, and Half-Tones. 1230 Pa. Ave. Phones: 1031-M, 1679-M

PIANO AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
E. E. DROOP & SONS, 925 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

PRINTING SUPPLIES.
NATIONAL PRINTER'S SUPPLY CO., Machine-made Rollers. 414 10th St. N. W.

RESTAURANT AND WINE ROOM.
JOHN M. BECKER, Opp. Navy Yard., Cor. 8th and Georgia Ave. S.E

SHAVING PARLORS
VINCENT R. CILENTO, 805 North Capitol Street.

TITLES TO REAL ESTATE.
LAWYERS' TITLE & GUARANTY INS. CO. 412 5th St. N. W.

WINES AND LIQUORS.
SAMUEL G. STEWART, Heurich Brewing Co's. beers and popular brands of whiskies. 1141 Seventh st. northwest between L and M.
GEORGE W. DRIVER, 605 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

DO NOT WANT OUR PATRONAGE.

Following brands of cigars: Cinco, Cremo, George W. Childs, Henry George, Tom Moore, Robert Burns, and General Arthur.

The following firms have declared against the interest of Organized Labor and are not regarded as deserving their patronage:

NAME.	BUSINESS.	LOCATION.
Chevy Chase Railway and circle.	Street railway	Chevy Chase and Circle.
Keenan Bros	Gents' furnishers	Pa. ave. bet. 14th and 15th sts., and 523 Seventh st. n. w.
B. Solomon	Gents' furnisher	708 Seventh street n. w.
Rufus H. Darby	Printer	508 Fourteenth street n. w.
H. L. McQueen	Printer	1108 E street n. w.
N. Sickles (Nat'l Cigar Factory).	Cigar manufacturer	1011 Penna. avenue n. w.
E. Gundershiemer	Baker	516 Second street n.w. and stalls in Center Market.
Peter Grogan	Carpet dealer	817 to 823 Seventh street n. w
John H. Fitzgerald	Horseshoer	443 Prather's alley n. w.
S. S Daish	Coal and wood	Florida ave. and Third st. n. e.
Wilbur F. Nash	Meat dealer	Center and O st. Markets.
C. E. Hencke	Electrician	711 G street n. w.
National Mosaic Company	Mosaics	207 Fourth st. n. w.
M. Minster	Gents' furnisher	1343 F st. n. w.
A. Minster	Gents' furnisher	499 and 501 Penna. ave. n. w.
Cyrus B. Reese	Employing steamfitter	1519 Fourteenth street n. w.
C. A. Schneider & Sons	Union Iron Works	212 Twelfth street n. w.
Minster & Paterson	Gents' furnishers	1109 Pennsylvania ave. n. w
Conrad Becker	Trunks and harness	1328 F st. n. w.
Home Ice Company	Ice	Twelfth and V sts n. w.
Emil Wagner	Restaurant	210 Ninth st. n. w.
W. E. Carney	Cigar manufacturer	921 G st. s. w.
Nat'l Roller & Ball Bearing Co.	Machinery	33rd and K sts. n. w.
L. Rosenberg	Clothing and shoes	911-913 Eighth st. s. e.
Corbin Thompson	Dairyman	Sharon Dairy, 324 B st s. w.
S. D. Houck	Dealer in harness	301 Tenth street n. w.
M. Eisemann & Bro	Dry goods	1924-26 Pa. ave. and 806 7th n.w.
Elite Steam Laundry	Laundry	1205 G street n. w.
Benjamin Schwartz	Gents' furnisher and tailor	337 Pa. ave. s. e.
Emrich Beef Co	Meat Dealers
John Coleman	Horseshoer	1300 36th street n. w.
Hecht & Co	Dry Goods, etc	517-519 Seventh street n. w.
Charles Rauscher	Caterer	Conn. ave. and L st. n. w
Academy of Music	Theater	Ninth and D streets n. w.
Lafayette Square Theater	Theater	16th st. and Pa. ave. n. w.
E. H. Snyder & Co	Tailors	1111 Pa. ave n. w
Owen Owen	Tailor	423 Eleventh street n. w.
L. A. Downey	Tailor	433 Eleventh street n. w.
J. M. Stein & Co	Tailors	413 Eleventh street n. w.
J. D. Burns & Co	Tailors	701 Ninth street n. w.
J. F Gatchell	Tailor	604 Thirteenth street n. w.
G. Warfield Simpson	Tailor	1208 F street n. w.
E. H. Catlin & Co	Machinists	407 13½ street n. w.
Thomas Somerville & Sons	Steam Fitters' Supplies	316 Thirteenth street n. w.
Joseph Mathy	Stove dealer and tin worker	1918 Pennsylvania avenue.
William Meehan	Saloon	943 B street n. w.
Robert Lowe	Stone yard and mill	113 Third street s. w.
John W. Jennings	Druggist	1142 Connecticut avenue n. w.
E. Tapscott	Contractor
R. M. Leonard	Saloonist	1319 Seventh street n. w.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICIAL ORGAN CENTRAL LABOR UNION, WASHINGTON BRANCH, AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Vol. VIII. No. 21. WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1903. Price, 3 Cents.

THE CENTRAL LABOR UNION

Report of Committee on Standing of Steam Fitters in Central Body.

CONVICT-LABOR MAIL CATCHER

Stationery Firemen Greivance with Heurich Brewery Co.—Stage Alliance Want Empire Theater and Kernan's Declared Unfair—Auditing Committee Report.

The regular weekly meeting of the Central Labor Union was called to order at 8.30 p. m., President Sherman in the chair.

CREDENTIALS.

From Wood, Wire, and Metal Lathers certifying J. Miller as a delegate from that body.

From Electrical Workers, No. 26, certifying John Rosser, vice S. F. Adams, resigned.

From Beer Drivers and Stablemen, No. 234, certifying Wm. Robert as a delegate from that union, vice George P. Ganzhorn, deceased.

From Furniture Finishers' Union, No. 1053, certifying A. B. Coleman, B. B. Dowden, and Edward Mackay.

The credentials were received and the delegates seated.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Local No. 22, Theatrical Stage Employes, asking that the Empire Theater and Kernan's be placed on the unfair list. Referred to the Grievance Committee.

From Upholsterers' Union, No. 58, stating that W. B. Moses & Sons were unfair in refusing to grant the 8-hour day, after tacitly agreeing to do so if other firms would grant the 8 hour day. Referred to the Executive Committee.

From H. A. Stemburgh, general secretary International Hod Carriers and Building Laborers' Union, asking that the grievance of the Building Laborers' Union in this city against the Fuller company and boss bricklayers be referred to the Grievance Committee. Granted.

From Local No. 93, Stationary Firemen, calling attention to failure on part of Chr. Heurich Brewing Co. to live up to a contract with that union and asking that that firm be placed on the unfair list. Referred to the Grievance Committee.

CALL OF UNIONS.

Meat Cutters stated that their men were called out of the firm of R. H. Jones & Co., Baltimore, Md., and requested that organized labor and its friends refrain from using the product coming from that house.

Painters reported that they had placed a fine on any member who patronized Hecht & Co.

Upholsterers requested immediate action on their case, and it was referred to the Executive Committee.

NEW BUSINESS.

Delegate Spohn introduced the following resolution, which was ordered spread upon the minutes, and referred to the delegate to the American Federation of Labor:

The Post-Office Department having recently let a contract for the supply of 3,000 catcher mail pouches to a firm employing convict labor, and as pouches made by such labor can be produced much cheaper than can be done by the the employers of other labor, thus in many instances being the lowest bidder and securing the contracts to the injury of honest labor—

Resolved, That the Central Labor Union, of Washington, D. C., request the Twenty-third Annual Convention of the American Federation of Labor to petition the Congress of the United States to amend the law applying to public contracts which will restrict the letting of such contracts only to the employers of honest labor.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

The Auditing Committee reported progress on auditing accounts of Excursion Committee of 1902, and recommended that the treasurer of the Excursion Committee turn over to the financial secretary the sum of $622.08 now in his hands. Concurred in.

Ex-Delegate Neidomanski was removed from special committee to visit Columbia Union relative to employment of carpenters, and Delegate Richardson appointed.

The Special Committee on Steam Fitters and Plumbers' case, submitted the following report:

WASHINGTON, D. C.,
October 30, 1900.

To the Officers and Members of the Central Labor Union:

Your committee appointed to investigate the standing of the Steam Fitters' Local Union, at the request of the Plumbers' Local Union, beg leave to submit the inclosed letters of Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, for your consideration.

Respectfully,
C. E. DIETRICH,
Chairman.
JERE F. MCCARTHY,
E. J. ROCHE.

WASHINGTON, D. C.,
October 12, 1903.

Mr. C. E. DIETRICH,
Chairman, Central Labor Union:

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER: Your favor of the 7th instant is at hand and contents noted.

In reply thereto I beg to say that the National Association of Steam and Hot Water Fitters and Helpers made application for charter. This was protested by the United Association of Plumbers, Gas Fitters, Steam Fitters, and Steam Fitters' Helpers, and the matter was referred to a committee of three, who were particularly interested in the National Association. The committee reported in favor of granting a conditional charter.

Repeated charges were made that the condition upon which the charter was issued had been violated by the National Association; investigations were had and the controversy sought to be adjusted frequently by the Executive Council, by committees of the Executive Council, by the Grievance Committees of the Conventions of the American Federation of Labor, and by several of the Conventions of the American Federation of Labor.

However, complaints against the National Association for violation of the condition continued and increased.

The New Orleans Convention of the American Federation of Labor held last November, decided that the matter in controversy between the two organizations should be referred to a committee, of which each organization should select two members, and the fifth to be selected by the President of the American Federation of Labor.

That committee met, but the four members failing to agree, the umpire was required to render decision and award. That award is as follows:

From the start it was noticeable that no mutual agreement would be reached. The United Association of Plumbers, Gas Fitters, Steam Fitters and Steam Fitters' Helpers was willing to settle all questions of dispute amicably, and again offered for a basis of settlement an agreement offered at a previous conference held in Chicago last September (and contained in the October number of the official organ of the United Association, a copy of which is mailed herewith, the same set forth on page 7 under the caption "Proposed Agreement for the U. A. and N. A." in eight articles.) The National Association would listen to no proposition unless it was given absolute control of all steamfitters, and this too in spite of the fact that by far the greater number of organized steamfitters and helpers are affiliated with the United Association. It was at noon, January 28, 1903, after several tie votes had been taken that the whole matter was left to the representatives of the A. F. of L. for a decision, to which both parties agreed to abide.

Section 2, Article II, of the Constitution of the A. F. of L., reads as follows:

The establishment of National and International Trade Unions, based upon a strict recognition of the autonomy of each trade, and the promotion and advancement of such bodies.

As stated in the beginning of this report, the testimony was voluminous, and on the point of outlaw treatment of each others members was without conflict. I will not review it, but will emphatically state to allow matters to continue as they are in this industry will prove disastrous not only the trade interested, but to the general labor movement as well.

Upon the evidence submitted in this controversy, and under the above quoted section of the Constitution, I am of the opinion that the interests of all parties concerned would be best conserved by the National Association accepting the proposed agreement of United Association as before indicated. The strict recognition of the autonomy of the trade of plumbing, gas, steam, hot water and pipe fitting should be flatly recognized.

Therefore I decide in favor of merging both organizations into one body.

The National Association refused to abide by the award, and the Executive Council, appealed to to enforce the same, rendered the following decision at its meeting held in Toronto, April 1903:

In the appeal of the National Association of Steam and Hot Water Fitters and Helpers against the decision rendered by Mr. Frank Rist, acting as umpire in the controversy between the National Association and the United Association of Plumbers, Gas Fitters, Steam Fitters, and Steam Fitters' Helpers, the Executive Council decides as follows:

"1. That the decision of Mr. Rist be and is sustained.

"2. That both the National Association and the United Association meet by representatives as soon as possible after notification of this decision for the purpose of carrying same into effect.

"3. That in the event of the National Association failing to comply with the decision and award by June 1, 1903, the conditional charter now held by the National Association be revoked.

"4. That the United Association concedes the most liberal terms to the National Association upon which it, in accordance with the decision of Mr. Rist, can merge into and become part of the United Association.

"5. Upon the agreement being reached for the fulfillment of the decision in this case, the charter now held by the National Association shall be returned to the officers of the American Federation of Labor."

The Executive Council tenders its good offices to both associations to aid in unification, as above set forth; and, if agreeable to both parties, will have a representative at the conference above referred to.

We were then advised that the National Association would hold a convention on June 1, 1903, and in order to give the Convention the opportunity to acquiesce in the decision, the Executive Council deferred the time for the enforcement of the decision, or the annulment of the charter, until June 15, 1903.

Under date of June 3, a communication was received from the Secretary of the National Association stating that he was authorized to say on behalf of his Association that they refused to abide by the award of the arbitrator or the decision of the Executive Council. The Eexcutive Council waited until the last moment of the time indicated, i. e., midnight June 15, 1903, and upon the following day, June 16, 1903, the charter of the National Association of Steam and Hot Water Fitters and Helpers was revoked.

The above may seem a long statement of the case, but it is the briefest that I could make it, in order for it to be fair and comprehensive.

With best wishes, I am,
Fraternally yours,
SAMUEL GOMPERS,
President American Federation of Labor.

WASHINGTON, D. C.,
October 20, 1903.

Mr. C. E. DIETRICH, Chairman,
Special Committee, Central Labor Union:

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER: Your favor of the 14th inst. is at hand and contents noted.

In reply I beg to refer you to Section 1 Article XII of the Constitution of the American Federation of Labor, which reads as as follows:

No Central Labor Union, or any other central body of delegates, shall admit to or retain in their councils any other body, National or International, hostile to any affiliated organization, or that has been suspended or expelled by, or not connected with, a National or International organization of their trade herein affiliated, under penalty of having their charter revoked for violation of their charter, subject to appeal to the next convention.

As President of the American Federation of Labor I have no power or authority to advise you other than in conformity with the Constitution of our organization.

With best wishes, I am,
Fraternally yours,
SAMUEL GOMPERS,
President American Federation of Labor.

The report was laid over for thirty days for action.

AFTER-DINNER DILATIONS.

From a casual glance at the election returns it would appear that Maryland has been Gormandized.

***

We can now see the propriety of issuing Thanksgiving proclamations in advance of the election.

***

Self interest is easily detected in those who are active only as the "main chance" is presented.

***

The annual departmental reports should be printed, of course, but it would be a terrible infliction if we were compelled to read them.

***

Those unfortunates who finally bring up at St. Elizabeth's seem to have it in their heads that the White House is sort of a depot or starting place.

***

These after-election explanations are so like those which follow a prize fight. The fellow who gets licked is never satisfied, and (com) furthermore (com) he lies if he says he is.

***

It grieves me much to say it, but the latest style of ladies' headgear seems to have been patterned after Prof. Langley's air-ship, save that with the air-ship there was more fuss than feathers.

***

Local trade conditions for the early winter months have a seemingly promising outlook, and it is confidently predicted that there will be no interruption by fire sales until the holiday season is well over.

***

We must not expect too much at once of the Congress soon to assemble. There is the new member, who will first have to be trained to the halter and otherwise made to know his place. At best he will "catch on" only gradually, and gradually become an expert in focusing and successfully landing a mouthful too long harbored, for to him a spittoon will seem a very contracted thing as compared with all outdoors, and then he will need to be shown through the place where the mysteries of hot and cold water and gas regulations will be explained, and finally, being assigned a hat-peg and seat, he will be turned over to himself to find his way out of the great building as best he may, without the aid of a guide, all of which will require time.

CYCLE.

Oysters in every style at R. A. Driscoll's, North Capitol and G streets. Overholt whisky, 10c.

"MANY A TRUTH IN JEST."

Sam Parks was not in the "square man" business for his health, but the warden of Sing Sing is going to see what a little real work will do for him.

The result of Tuesday's vote in New York was an overwhelming surprise to those who thought the old town would stand for two consecutive doses of Reform.

Hawaii's Delegate to the Fifty-eighth Congress is Jonah Kalauiauale. His first name may be a misnomer, but the other is a whale all right.

Several Presidential possibilities awoke Wednesday morning to find their boomlets nipped by a frost.

While Congress is considering the needs of Cuba it will be just as well for the young republic to avoid any unnecessary neck exposure.

Out Ohio way the voice from the bottom of the ruins sounds too much like Johnson.

Mr. John Wesley Gaines, of Tennessee, will be in town next week with a fresh supply of language.

To be sold out by a walking delegate is bad enough, but the dupes of Sam Parks have additional reason to kick because they went so cheap.

If Mr. Bloomer will do me the honor of giving my criticism of two weeks ago a more careful perusal, he will find that he has placed me—unintentionally, I am sure—in a false position before his multitudinous admiring readers. I entered no objection to the use of the contractions "don't," "can't," "won't," etc., which are in common use and sanctioned by the dictionaries. I registered a feeble remonstrance against the careless and improper use of "don't" for "does not," and the scholarly "Flotsam" man will agree with "me and Webster" that "doesn't" is preferable. However, if he doesn't care I don't know why I should, for it's none of my funeral, and I shan't meddle in it further, although I haven't much patience with intelligent people who can't or won't observe the rules of grammar. "Giddap!"

The police have captured a specimen of the genus crank who imagines himself the possessor of millions, the confidential adviser of Morgan, Vanderbilt, and Belmont, the slayer of Jesse James, Bob Ford, and 400 others, and the conqueror of Jeffries, Corbett, and Fitzsimmons. If he would now add to his collection the notion that he can read proof his garret would be pretty well occupied.

Brigadier-General Allen, chief of the Philippine constabulary, in commenting on the Filipinos as soldiers, says they will fight if properly paid, fed, disciplined, and led. Perhaps an occasional drink and a little coaxing would also have a good effect.

Since the advent of the automobile the fool killer is able to devote more of his time to the football season.

If Maryland Republican wishes have any effect, Booker T. Washington's next meal in the White House will give him a serious attack of indigestion.

Medical men have declared that we eat too much. This ought to promote a more contented feeling among people who can afford beefsteak only once a week.

Texas has a standing offer of $50,000 to any man who can provide a means of destroying the boll weevil, which this year has destroyed cotton valued at over fifty millions. In the meantime the planters can relieve their feelings by cussing out Mark Hanna.

The most deplorable feature of the "How Old Is Ann?" problem, which is rapidly driving so many to the already overcrowded foolish house, is the fact that the party who sprung it on the country was allowed to escape.

Perhaps if the union were properly managed it wouldn't be necessary to pay any dues at all. It's hard for some people to understand what becomes of the money anyway.

Dowie made the mistake of wasting valuable time in telling his family troubles. New Yorkers would rather hear how he managed to raise that lovely bunch of whiskers.

The receiver of the busted shipbuilding trust has pronounced the whole concern an "artistic swindle," and the small fry may console themselves with the reflection that in this case a lot of shrewd financiers slipped into the sucker class.

John Mitchell is reported to be suffering from appendicitis, but it is quite likely that some of the other "leaders" are giving him that pain.

Mrs. Bob Burdette has now stepped forth and denounced the "400" as an "excrescence on real society." That settles it. The bloated aristocrats will have to come off our visiting list.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

A BIT OF ALL SORTS.

The paragraph man on the Post is reported to be an ex-Missouri River pirate. He's a lulu, at that.

There are quite a number of the pouter-pigeon kind strutting around over the result of the elections.

The type-founders' strike is said to be the cause of the delay in transferring the Specification division to the Swamp.

Baltimore papers must have reaped a harvest off the late campaign, as all the political stuff went in the ad. columns.

Sam Parks, instead of being an Irishman, must be a canny Scot, to be able to accumulate all the money he did off his salary as walking delegate.

Ex-President W. B. Prescott's articles in the Inland Printer are so able and so interesting that it is a pity they don't appear in the Typographical Journal.

The Ex-Delegates have a great work before them in pressing the traditions of the trade. I ran across a party recently, employed it the office, who had never heard of "Swampoodle."

Don Alonzo Kick, the Spaniard employed at the Union Building, is said to be a fine musician, as well as posessing a magnificent tenor voice, which he uses for the benefit of the ladies whenever occasion offers.

I take it that the Specification correspondent in speaking of Mr. Daniel Grady as being the oldest man refers to length of service on the work, as it is well known that he was an apprentice under "Shanty" Myers.

A rumor prevails in circles printorial that Shelby Smith has unearthed more damaging evidence of the existence of the "Wahnetas" in some correspondence left by the late Billy Heck. Shelby ought to take something for his liver.

The secretary of the Anti-Eight-Hour Employers' Association is Marshall Cushing, who some ten years ago ran a printing office and published The Capital here. He paid a lot of his employes in notes which I guess most of them hold yet.

Billy Brockwell told me a story recently about the importance of one of these 53-per-men which is a good one—almost as good as one they tell on a fellow whom the foreman of one of the rooms left in charge for a half hour and who forgot the foreman ever came back.

I hear my friend Johnny Berg is going to make the race for St. Louis. I think he deserves the honor; and St. Louis is where he got Mrs. Berg, or she got him, which is immaterial. They are both good people, and as I hope to go there too I want to go in good company.

Anent the Philippine squabble, if the men who went there pledged themselves not to make any effort to estab a union, as claimed by some, they only got what was right when they were bounced. But I don't believe a number of them ever went there with such an understanding, but that the main trouble is caused by a bad case of big head.

Opinions differ. One party said to me recently: "I never expected to live long enough to work at my trade under conditions so pleasant as they are in the new building." Another: "It is the d——dst place for drafts I ever was in. You can't sit anywhere in the room in which I work but a draft will almost blow the buttons off your clothes." And there you are.

The Evening Star is a fair sample of the ad-writer school of display. If there is anything more amatuerish than the appearance of the ads. in "the Twinkler" I don't want to see it. They show no evidence of being erected by printers at all, and the use of borders and underscoring evidence about as much taste as that displayed by a school kid with a $2.50 do-your-own outfit.

President Roosevelt is right in declaring that membership in a trades union cannot be a necessary qualification for employment in the Government Printing Office. As a rule, however, an offense that will justify expulsion from membership in a trades union would also vitiate any claim the expelled member might have to Government employment.—Omaha Bee.

The people who are pushing the Postoffice investigation are doing a good deal of grandstand work, but I venture the prediction there will be very few, if any, convictions. I have seen a lot of the same work here, and lots of dirty work done against the best of people, but very few of the men ever got more than separated from their jobs. I know personally two men who have been dismissed by Mr. Payne who are no more guilty of any crime than he is, but they are marked as friends of some one else and they must go.

Mr. John D. Woods, of Columbus, Ohio, arrived in Appleton City Wednesday to look after business interests, and will be the guest of John Pippinger, a few miles southeast of the city, for several days. Mr. Wood is the owner of the farm on which Mr. Pippinger has been living for several years, the tract consisting of 280 acres. Mr. Woods has held the responsible position of pressman in the Government Printing Office at Washington for the past nine years, and is a most genial and sociable gentleman. — Appleton City (Mo.) Journal.

The appointment of E. T. Cressey, as superintendent of the reform school printing establishment reminds the Huronite of the way he was brought to the notice of Superintendent Young. Some six months ago, when it became known that there would be a vacancy in this department, Mr. Young advertised for a printer. In his quest for the right man he went to Sioux Falls and inquired of Mr. Saenger, of the firm of Brown & Saenger, saying: "Saenger, I want a superintendent for the 'print shop' at the reform school. I want a good printer, a man who does not chew, one who does not smoke, nor drink, nor swear; a printer who can lead the choir, conduct chapel exercises, or lead in a prayer meeting." "Well," replied Mr. Saenger, "there is but one such man in the United States, and he lives in Sioux Falls, and his name is E. T. Cressey." So Cressey got the job, not because he is much of a printer, nor much of a preacher, but because he can do both and lead in prayer.—Huron (S. D.) Huronite.

Trade unions have benevolent as well as militant features. They protect their members from capital. They also save their members from destitution.

The west side features of the bureau of charities is bounded by Chicago avenue, Twelfth street, the river, and the city limits. Its population is about 300,000. During the last two years the number of cases which have received attention from the bureau of charities in this district has been about 7,000. In only ten or eleven of these 7,000 cases was the indigent person a member of a trade union.

This in itself is illuminating. But go further. Analyze the ten or eleven trade union cases. In almost every instance the person concerned was either "not in good standing" with his union or else a member of an exceedingly new and exceedingly poor union.

If it were not for the way in which the trades unions of the United States support their members, through sickness and hard times, our charity societies would be much busier than they are. They are busy enough now. Which is better, trade union self-help or private and public poor relief?—Chicago Tribune.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Official Organ Central Labor Union and Allied Building Trades, A. F. of L.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

The Trades Unionist Publishing Company

E. W. PATTON.....President
A. J. E. HUBBARD.....Vice-President
T. M. RING.....Secretary

Office: 441-443 G Street Northwest.

TELEPHONE EAST 15 Y.

SUBSCRIPTION

One year (in advance) - - - - $1.00
Six months (in advance) - - - - .50

Entered at the Post-Office, Washington, D. C. as Second-Class Matter.

THE TRADES UNIONIST is heartily and unqualifiedly indorsed by the Central Labor Union and the Allied Building Trades as well as by the various locals connected with the two central bodies.

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL WASHINGTON. 2

Only Eight-Hour Union Office in Town.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1903.

THE Emergency Hospital needs doctoring.

IT seems that PARKS' swindle wasn't "artistic" enough.

GOOD morning! Have you read JOHN MITCHELL'S book?

THE Turk should be thankful this year that his wishbone is still safe.

THE man who started the inquiry about ANN'S age was probably an anarchist.

THERE is a movement on foot to organize all the milkwagon drivers in the United States.

IT is feared that this year's Thanksgiving joke crop has been injured by the joke weevil.

WHEN Congress meets, the Senate chamber will be, of course, decorated with Bride roses.

THE Washington Post exclaims, "Et tu, STEWART!" Thought it was "Et tu, two, STEWART!"

THREE members of the London Society of Compositors are standing for election to Parliament.

THERE has not been much doing in the Far East for several days, but the situation is still yeasty.

NOVEMBER 9 the thriving old farmer, Uncle Sam, will open his annual exhibit of big potatoes and many on the Hill.

THE Trades and Labor Council of Hamilton, Canada, will take part in the city elections in support of a ticket of its own.

MANY a man who was meek enough in poverty thinks that becoming a capitalist entitles him to the use of unlimited cap I's.

INASMUCH as SCRAPPER FITZSIMMONS is still in the scrapping business, it can not be said that he has gone to the scrap pile.

IT is to be hoped that there will be no premature explosions of slighted big guns when Next Speaker CANNON arms his committees.

IT is said that the printers are the most thoroughly organized craftsmen in Germany. Always did know how to mind their p's and q's.

THE Kansas City, Mo., labor unions will hereafter act as a political whole, and will indorse candidates friendly to unionism, or nominate tickets of their own in case of necessity.

IT would be interesting to know just what SCHWAB thinks about the PARKS' case. Perhaps it is his belief that PARKS got what he deserves. There are still too many people who can not help making a distinction between big and little swindlers and who practically subscribe to SAXE'S good old proverbial rhyme:

'Tis wrong to rob a hen-roost of a hen,
But stealing millions makes us gentlemen.

A VERY commendable practice is that of the Workingmen's Club, of Hartford, Conn., which gives receptions to which are invited capitalists as well as labor leaders. The resulting friendly intercourse and interchange of ideas has a tendency to break the ice of class exclusiveness, and is said to be in every way beneficial. It would be a good thing if such meetings could be established in Washington, where, during the winter months, men of national reputation could be secured to present all phases of the labor question.

IN the alliance of the Western Federation of Miners and the United Mine Workers of America the line of battle of organized labor will be greatly strengthened. The new organization will have a membership of about 1,000,000 miners in the United States. The alliance is made necessary because of the aggressive attitude of the Mine Owners' Association, which, at its meeting at Colorado Springs, recently, declared its intention to make the employers' movement national, and wipe unioinism off the face of the earth so far as the United States is concerned.

EVERY good union man should work for the eight-hour work-day every day in the year. One does not need to be a speech-maker or a husky hustler in order to advance this important movement. A quiet word in social intercourse is sometimes more effective than much eloquence. The occasions are frequent when the desirability of the short work-day is discussed, and it often happens that a little argument will do the work when some well-meaning individual is concerned who has given the subject little thought and has only had the employer's side presented to him. Public opinion is all powerful, and if every unionist would dare to be a Daniel and resolutely and dispassionately speak up for shorter hours, as well as other union principles, public opinion would soon do all the boycotting necessary, and ignorant and selfish employers would have to grant the reasonable demands of the employed.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM.

Last week I engaged in some reminiscences of the Record of nearly thirty years ago, and I could tell a few of the Bill Room of a period but a year or so later than that, as I worked the short session of 1876-77 on that class of work. There was no exclusive night force engaged on bills, as at the present time, but there were about fourteen men who set up the bills every day, staying as late into the night as was necessary to do it. One proofreader read all of them, except that perhaps at the beginning of a session of Congress he had an assistant until the "rush" was over. But they were sent to press with a single reading. A maker-up was in charge of the work, and I believe that he actually made up at times. At the time that I was on bills Warren Mitchell, who has been for many years in the clerical department, was in charge; and he was succeeded by Mark Woodward, who remained in charge, I believe until he died. In the fore part of the day we mended our cases, but after the bills began to run there was nothing to do but work. We always reported for duty at 8 a. m., and occasionally we got through as early as 9 p. m., but more frequently at 11 or 12—and they seemed conscientiously opposed to making us work after the latter hour, though the fact that the union scale required price and a half after that time is not believed to have had any quickening effect on consciences. If you had any business that required your attention in the evening it was to your interest to forget it, as I found on one occasion when I had an engagement and the tickets to take a young lady to the theatre. Among those whom I remember as working on bills at that time, although I can't pretend to remember all of them, were H. V. Bisbee, now of the Library Branch; W. E. Chase, now of the New York World proof room, and who afterward read the bills for a number of years; A. G. Allison, now at home in Waynesburg, Pa.; Charles S. Myers, now a book room foreman in Columbus, Ohio; R. B. ("Toppy") Topham, who was one of the "temporaries" last session; Wallace Brewer, who is still as young as ever, and others "too numerous to mention." I remember a game some one played on "Jos" Allison during distribution time one morning. Somebody dropped one of the pica slugs used in bills and it broke in two. Allison had been distributing and had set his handful down for some purpose, when Mr. Joker took away the good slug he had behind his type and put the broken one in its place, and when he again lifted his handful and took it in one hand the broken slug let the type rattle down into his case.

"Great balls of sauerkraut," he exclaimed, "who would have thought the weight of that type would break a pica slug?"

The joke was very successful, but the boys repeated it so often that it got to be a common nuisance and was broken up by a ukase.

* * * *

It is with intense grief that I observe that my friend Eccles persists in making my shoemaker demand pay for services which he did not render, such as insurance, interest on capital, advertising, dealers' profits, etc., when all that I claimed for him was the value that he had added to the leather. But if Mr. Eccles needs it in his business I will not complain. I thought I had stated the position I assume so clearly that no mistake could be made as to my meaning, but I have no desire to embarrass my friend in maintaining his position, and he is at liberty to make any use of my words which may help him in any way.

* * * *

I hear that E. E. Gessler, head proofreader of the Government Printing Office of the Philippines, and wife are coming to "the States" on a visit next May. I am told that both Mr. and Mrs. Gessler are delighted with the climate and all other appurtenances of the Philippines, but I will bet a new bonnet to a hairpin that if they come home on a visit they will never go back. Anybody want on?

* * * *

It is reported that Mr. Richard P. Evans, a prominent Mason, is about to begin the publication of a Masonic weekly paper. There is certainly a good field here for a good Masonic paper (and Mr. Evans has the ability to get up one), but it must cover its field and keep it covered. Namby-pamby, wishy-washy back-patters won't go; that has been proved.

* * * *

August Donath had an account of the Boston municipal printing plant in last Saturday's Star that makes one wish a similar enterprise could be inaugurated here, for it would undoubtedly be more satisfactory in every way than the present plan of letting the District printing out to the lowest bidder, resulting in a painful lack of uniformity in quality and appearance and occasionally being the means of sending the work out of town, when the taxpayers surely have the right to expect that money paid by them for printing shall be spent in the city in which it is collected. Let us have a District printing office.

* * * *

The papers stated the other day that among those smashed up in a railroad accident in Colorado was J. F. McGill, of Washington, D. C., which is surely our Jimmy McGill's name. I have not heard whether it is the same or not, but likely it was, for he has been at the Home for a year or so.

* * * *

Let us all do the right thing by the Amos Cummings memorial fund. Ten cents a pay day is too trifling a sum to make it an object for anyone to refuse to pay it, and the Cummings was so firm and valuable a friend of union printers that it is impossible to do him too much honor.

* * * *

Let us do everything in our power to help our brothers to get the eight-hour day, for none of us know how soon we may be "perusing around" the private shops looking for jobs ourselves, and it would go mighty hard with us to work more than eight hours a day.

Let us all go hustling
To bring eight hours about,
For the linotypes will ketch us
If we don't watch out.

* * * *

I have the honor of belonging to the three largest subordinate insurance lodges in the District—G. P. O. Council, National Union; Oriental Council, Royal Arcanum, and Mount Vernon Tent, Knights of the Maccabees. I figured that out all myself.

* * * *

Miss Florence Stevens, a noted violinist of this city, daughter of M. V. B. Stevens, whom everybody knows, was married on Wednesday of last week, to Mr. Channing Rudd.

* * * *

When all the correspondents are working, THE TRADES UNIONIST is a great paper, but when I have to do it all myself it is not so many. It is a noble and glorious work, boys; keep it up.

* * * *

Everybody's Magazine, which I took pleasure some months ago in commending for its literary excellence, had a nasty fling at trades unionism in its November number in making mention of the Miller case. It says that 95 per cent of the labor in the United States is non-union, which is probably true if everybody is included who does any kind of work. But it is equally true to say that very nearly as large a per cent of the skilled labor employed in cities and where great numbers of men are aggregated together is union. Of course there are very few unions in the villages and hamlets, in each of which there are more or less of skilled workmen, but these workmen are not to be considered as non-union men in the sense of being opposed to unions, but only because they have no opportunity of joining them. Nor are there unions (or not until very recently) among farm laborers, who constitute a very large portion of the labor of the United States, nor, to any great extent, among unskilled laborers, who constitute another very large per cent. I do not believe there is a city in the United States where the union labor is not nine-tenths of the skilled labor, and that is what counts. All these anti-union twaddlers would have one believe that all who are not members of unions are opposed to them, which is not more than 10 per cent of the truth. In the next article in Everybody's the editor "takes a throw" at the "captains of industry;" so it is hard to judge who meets his approbation besides himself.

* * * *

I advise those who have prematurely born delegatorial booms to keep them warmly clad for the next few months, for we are likely to have a severe winter. The modern practice seems to be to keep prematurely born children in incubators for a few months, and it might be advisable to do the same with premature booms.

A. F. BLOOMER.

Bindery Notes.

The chief grafter of the Cowboys refuses to draw the color line in the matter of drinks. He says all buyers look alike to him.

Dan Murphy does not care if the liquor dealers do cut off the free lunch so that he can get his jardenier filled for ten cents.

Thomas Songster objects to his name appearing as "Tommy." He should remember that this is a term of endearment and not of ridicule.

Jack Hambly seems much grieved since Miss Robinson stole away and got married. Jack now gets his tea from Miss Bailey. Poor Jack!

Bill Crenshaw, before going on his leave, was making inquiry as to the location of the Mills Hotel, New York. He expects to return with part of his leave money tucked away.

A great sigh of relief went up from Bill Haslett and Tom Kelly when they learned that the liquor dealers had abandoned the idea of discontinuing the free lunch. Bill was afraid he would have to go to boarding.

The annual feast of the "Roof Garden" men will be held at Bessler's Hotel, the eve of Thanksgiving. Bill Haslett and "Trouble" Cassidy are managers of the affair. In order to lend tone to the affair some of the boys from the Bindery proper will join with them. George Barnes has charge of this end of it.

PASTE.

Columbia Union, No. 101.

ARRIVALS—OCTOBER.

A. Zimmerman, J. M. Watts, A. K. Bosworth, A. F. Tiller, H. C. Dobbs, J. G. Erwin, S. D. Smith, John Kelso, Frank J. Sloan, John Curry, Wm. L. Clabby, W. L. Griffis, W. H. Crowther, W. S. Carpenter, John W. DeVries, Wm. Busey, G. R. Scott, N. C. McKenzie, J. H. Wheeler, C. B. Drake. P. M. Wallace, Chas. H. Rockwell, Wm. F Harris, Alfred Dietz, W. H. Harrison.

DEPARTURES—OCTOBER.

J. P. Cromwell, R. L. Meredith, Thad H. Stevens, C. G. Hopkins, M. D. Collins.

Bricklayers' Executive Committee.

John G. Wolfe, Chairman, 1023 New Jersey avenue northwest; William B. O'Conner, Secretary, 2353 Sherman avenue northwest; William Cronin, 1415 Thirty-sixth street northwest; Jos. Hutton, 809 F street southwest; E. F. McCollum, 4 I street northwest.

FOR THE BEST--
READY-TO-WEAR
—FOR—
Man, Woman and Child
AT THE MOST REASONABLE PRICES,
CONSULT—
Parker, Bridget & Co.,
Washington's Leading Outfitters, ...
Pa. Ave. and 9th St. N. W.

Union Made Cigars
OF THE FINEST QUALITY.
Pluck 5¢ | ARMY & NAVY 10¢
AFTER DINNER 5¢ | DEER HEAD 10¢
Henry T. Offterdinger, Manufacturer
504 Ninth St., N.W.

ARLINGTON BREWING CO.
ROSSLYN, VA.
BEER ALE PORTER
The Finest Productions of Skilled Union Labor. Union Label on Every Bottle and Keg of Our Goods.

THE BELVIDERE
One of the swellest
OVERCOATS
ever offered, shown in various lengths, detachable belt, extra broad shoulders, with full back, but draped correctly so as to give that ultra fashionable effect so often lacking in other makes.
We show this garment in many different fabrics and colorings. They are all lined with the best grade princess serge and satin sleeve lining, which is guaranteed by the makers, to wear two seasons—in fact, the best value ever offered at $12.50
THE
BIEBER-KAUFMAN CO.
Masculine Outfitters, Childhood to Old Age.
ONE PRICE MONEY BACK

901-909 EIGHTH ST. SOUTHEAST
"WALK-OVER" SHOES FOR MEN—UNION MADE.

Our Specialty
IS A BUSINESS SUIT FOR $25
We claim, and verify our assertion by producing the goods, that no other concern gives the same value in materials and workmanship for the price. Our Twenty-five Dollar Suits are made by the same Skilled Union Workmen that make our higher grade garments. Come in, look through our line and be convinced that this special is a winner. Respectfully,
T. E. GILBERT, Importer and Tailor
818 F Street Northwest

Does your bartender wear one of these Blue Buttons?
If not, WHY NOT?
THIS CARD INDICATES A UNION BAR
Hotel and Restaurant Employes International Alliance
Bartenders International League of America
AFFILIATED WITH AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR
RECOGNIZES THIS BAR AS A UNION BAR AND WORTHY THE SUPPORT OF ORGANIZED LABOR

The Savings possible at
S. Kann, Sons & Co.
8th St.—THE BUSY CORNER—Pa. Ave.
are such as may be counted in the pocket. At the same time styles and qualities are unexcelled.

Goods kept in repair one year free.
FIVE STRONG POINTS
No excuse for a Union man leaving this store dissatisfied. We not only have the Garment Workers' label but a force of Union clerks to handle the largest assortment of ready-to-wear tailoring displayed in the city. Others ask $12 for our $7 goods and $20 for garments sold here at $12.
Union Label
Quality
Quantity
Low Price
Union Clerks
I. E. BLOCK
THE FAMOUS
423 Seventh St. N. W.

The Drillery
Stenography, Typewriting, Bookkeeping, Telegraphy, Civil Service Preparation. Sessions daily, 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.
Phone Main 2508-M 1100 New York Ave. N. W

In purchasing goods from advertisers in this paper, do not fail to mention the fact that you saw the advertisement in THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES
OF
Columbia Typographical Union,
NO. 101.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, 423 G ST. N. W.
Office Hours: 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.; 5 to 7 P. M.

OFFICERS.

JOE M. JOHNSON.....President
DAN C. VAUGHAN.....Vice-President
WM. M. GARRETT.....Secretary
JOHN R. BERG.....Treasurer
FRANK BATES.....Sergeant-at-Arms
N. C. STOOPS.....Doorkeeper

TRUSTEES—J. E. Bright, chairman; W. L. Gutelius, Chas. C. Thompson, Joe M. Johnson, and Wm. M. Garrett.

DELEGATES TO CENTRAL LABOR UNION—J. H. Babcock, chairman; J. B. Dickman, Hugh Everett, Theodore Gerber, and C. E. Dietrich.

DELEGATES TO ALLIED TRADES COUNCIL—E. E. Calhoon, chairman; T. F. Hall, and J. P. Garner.

AUDITORS—C. W. Radley, chairman; H. G. Brown, and J. W. Carter.

COMMITTEES.

BUSINESS—Zach T. Jenkins, chairman; C. B. Yater, M. J. Maher, T. C. Parsons, and R. W. Burnside.

NOMINATIONS—W. N. Brockwell, chairman; F. A. Kidd, H. O'Donnell, Frank M. Hatley, and R. E. Stenner.

LAWS—Chas. H. Ennis, chairman; Raymond Gery, and Dexter S. Hussey.

FINANCE—John A. Huston, chairman; J. M. McLaughlin, and R. F. Chisholm.

PRINTING—T. A. Bynum, chairman; Milo Shanks, and Ed. J. Hall.

GRIEVANCE—Clint O. Price, chairman; Chas. S. Gunn, Philip Nachman, David J. Snyder, and E. Y. Fisher.

ENTERTAINMENT—T. L. Jones, chairman; J. R. Purvis, T. J. Fitzwilliam, Miss Nellie Theaker, Miss Anna Wilson, B. E. Harrison, and W. J. Harris.

CONFERENCE—J. L. Holland, chairman; D. J. Hegarty, and W. B. Shaw.

LIBRARY—Clyde J. Sheriff, chairman; A. E. Ogg, and Harry Essex.

RELIEF—Joseph G. Stelle, chairman; Wm. S. Schinnerer and E. P. Cummins.

EIGHT-HOUR—F. C. Roberts, chairman; F. B. Crown, F. D. Seiffert, Jeff Newlon, and S. H. Willey.

MEMORIAL SERVICE—S. J. Gompers, chairman; Philip S. Steele, J. E. Goodkey, J. B. Dickman, and C. B. Yater.

AMOS J. CUMMINGS MEMORIAL—J. T. Rowe, chairman; Charles T. Graff, and T. A. Bynum.

CHAIRMEN.

First Division—W. R. Love.
Second Division—D. J. Snyder.
Third Division—W. N. Goldstein.
Fourth Division—C. E. Dietrich.
Fifth Division—Charles H. Gove.
Sixth Division—E. M. Nevils.
Job Room—J. K. Davison.
Record Clerks' Division—H. G. Brown
First Division, Night—Allen Cowles.
Night Proof Room—E. H. Thomas.
Specification Room—F. H. Melick.
Official Gazette—E. G. Myers.
Document Proof Room—Jas. R. Armstrong.
Treasury Division—W. Brice Coston.
Interior Division—C. K. Stribling.
State Division—J. B. Dickman.
Navy Department Division—Albert E. Ogg.
War Department Division—Wm. K. Miller.
Agricultural Division—Henry P. Slaughter.
Library Division—H. V. Bisbee.
Weather Bureau—L. H. Emmons.
Morning Post—J. H. Broderick.
Evening Star—Joseph C. Whyte.
Evening Times—T. C. Parsons.
Law Reporter—J. R. Johnson.
Globe Printing Co.—R. A. Wilson.
Judd & Detweiler's—A. B. Barringer.
Wilkens Printing Co.—T. N. Surguy.
Pearson's—T. F. Monahan.
National Publishing Co.—E. C. Owen.
McGill & Wallace's—J. M. Watts.
Byron S. Adams'—R. B. Boucher.
Army and Navy Register—C. H. Draeger.
General Postoffice—Joseph Williams.
Sudwarth's—F. R. Adams.

AROUND THE PRINTERIES.

Third Division.

What has become of the stools is now the oft repeated question.

Mr. Ed H. Hall has been off several days. It is hoped that he is not seriously ill.

An inconsistency of our manual of style: ¾ reads three-fourths, but fore-quarters is insisted upon.

Delahunty, Goldstein, and McMurray were in New York Tuesday showing their fealty to party.

Max Knoble is an inveterate bass fisherman these days. He never eats fish, but enjoys the sport immensely.

F. M. Claflin laid off Thursday "to try and find some coal," as he said. As Wood went home on the train he watched along the track for him.

"Reflections of a Bachelor" in the daily press may cause that portion of mankind to ponder, but are these items of wisdom written by unmarried men?

Wolfe and Cooke went off together Thursday, Wolfe came back Monday with a stiff neck and sore shoulders. Has he been initiated in the Farmers' Alliance.

Last summer three Phillips were working in this room, and two more were detailed one day to help out on copyright. Now we have three Halls, but none for rent.

Mr. James A. McCarthy, a former employe in this division, and Mr. Willis L. Hall, an old hand in this office, received temporary appointments in this room Monday.

A contributor suggests a place of harmless disuse for the comma. Why not also use the hyphen at the end of a line in whatever portion of a divided word it may fall, instead of only at a syllable. Lines could then be spaced quicker and more uniformly, at least.

NEWS.

Try oyster pan roast, 10c. Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, North Capitol and G streets.

Take a course in Linotype Operating at the Washington Linotype School, 610 G street northwest. Two courses, $40 and $60. Wm. H. Stubbs (holder of speed record), instructor. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

Fourth Division.

S. F. McDonough was assigned to the Catalogue section last Monday.

W. A. Roberts and David Mackley are absent on leave. Mr. Mackley went to Ohio.

The new stools are here, and the contrast between them and Emanuel's odd productions is very apparent.

Frank J. Sloane, at one time on the rolls of this division, has taken the examination for the Philippine service.

W. H. Van Bibber's old friends were glad to welcome his return to this division. "Van" said that he lost but one pay day since he left us last spring, which shows that a good printer can always find work.

The following reinstatements and appointments were made recently: David Pollock, John C. Yates, Clarence Miller, W. J. White, Wm. B. Padgett, Richard B. Topham, John V. Smithson, Eugene F. Smith, Wm. H. Van Bibber, and Henry E. Haliday.

The Catalogue force, composed of John B. Miller, Nels P. Moyer, John J. Heron, Charles M. Warren, Frank E. Chapin, R. L. Mabrey, J. P. Garner, W. E. Cobb, S. C. Ellis, Geo. Johnson, Jr., Chas. E. Groome, Chas. Fiesse, and W. T. Heritage came down from the First Monday, as the Surg.-Gen. Cat. has been added to our collection of educational works—Coast and Geodetic, Geologicel Survey, and Nautical Almanac. Truly, the compositors of the Fourth Division have all the benefits of a university extension course or a Chautauqua circle.

Chas. H. Leighton numbered among the exhibitors at the Y. M. C. A. photograph exhibition recently held in Concord, N. H., his home, and won first prize. The Evening Monitor, of that city, said: "Mr. Leighton's collection easily outclassed any in the exhibition. He studies his subject and the best possible effect obtainable before he attempts to take the picture. His interior views of the Congressional Library are as near perfect as they can be made without the touch of the finished professional." He is a member of the Washington Camera Club, and his pictures at its annual exhibitions in the Corcoran Art Gallery are always rated among the best.

RAN.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

Proof Room Notes.

Mr. I. W. Sharp went a-fishing one day last week this is a fact.

"Rats" is a dangerous word to be used indiscriminately at a union meeting.

Mr. M. Wood, our genial clerk, has been enjoying his leave during part of last week.

W. C. Lambert, one of our very efficient copy-holders, has been placed on the pay roll of this room.

Mr. J. C. Wilson has been detailed to the Capitol for several days to compile copy for the Congressional Directory.

It is very evident that clergymen are not popular as arbitrators in labor disputes. There was a heap of wisdom in Mr. Kreiter's remarks on this subject.

E. S. Cornman, formerly employed in this room and now connected with the Agricultural Bureau, paid us a pleasant visit last Monday. He was accompainied by his brother, Colonel Cornman.

The printing trades of Germany have finally reached an agreement for six years upon a uniform wage scale and an 8 hour day. Disputes are to be arbitrated, either side having the right of an umpire.

When the average weekly wages of union printers in the downtown book offices is $7 now when the tide of prosperity is at its height, as was clearly brought out at the meeting last Sunday, what will they be when the ebb sets in?

Our room is now being supplied with a lot of new and magnificent furniture, embracing desks, files, stands, and other apparatus too numerous and complicated to be described. This department is now exquisite in its perfection.

The committee's report was somewhat mutilated by the committee of the whole, but that the membership of No. 101 thoroughly appreciates the splendid work of Messrs. Kidd, Parsons, and others on behalf of the book and job men goes without saying.

I hope that our elevators will not always be so contrary, but will harmonize with the ideal in the sweet by and by, when there will be no complaints and excuses for tardiness on account of waiting for an ascent or for being jammed up between heaven and earth in the shaft.

Brother Bloomer's style of writing is usually as clean as atmosphere; but he seems to have violated this rule in his last communication by using a word not intelligible outside of his immediate surroundings—"Cascarets." What is the point of resemblance or analogy? I pause for a reply.

Now that D—M Parry has organized his "free" slave labor association and Sam Parks is playing checkers with his nose behind the bars, not to mention the passing of Elijah II and the collapse of the steel trust, organized labor has a breathing spell and can begin to think about what should be done at the convention of the Federation at Boston.

The bust of Franklin over the entrance to the old building was put there by the printers, who paid for it by their contributions. The pedestal in the new building is ready and waiting to receive another bust of Saint Benjamin. Would it not be a graceful act for the printers to provide it, either of marble or bronze, and have it marked as their gift?

Anent the controversy on Socialism, I, too, hold that verbal and grammatical criticisms are out of place. For my part I desire basic and reliable information, and would like to see a controversy which brings this out. The time has come when all workers who lay claim to intelligence—and printers certainly do—must inform themselves on this question.

The following day readers have gone home for a good time, and while absent will take in the ballot box, and make their contribution to the end that ne quid respublica mali capiat: Pennsylvania—F. A. Hall, J. T. Huggins, W. R. Johns, jr., L. H. Patterson, and E. L. Russ. Ohio—H. D. Beach, S. D. Howells, and A. E. Surguy. New York—A. H. King. New Jersey—Wm. F. Reid.

FOR SALE—An Edison phonograph with Cortina's records and methods for self-study of Spanish. Also a number of American and foreign song cylinders. For particulars see the writer—

CHAS. W. PAFFLOW.

Specification Notes.

The green-eyed monster is prowling around these diggings.

Captain Ramsey went home to vote, and there were others.

The dead calm of this room was disturbed by a visit from Colonel Slack last week.

A dozen or so men of this force might make a living by singing, and then again they might not.

J. Ligon King, a born soldier, after ten years of faithful service has retired from the National Guard.

The best results from the wet sponge as a stool-cushion are obtained by saturating the sponge with ice-water.

Our fellow craftsman, Louie Carroll, received the sorrowful intelligence on Tuesday evening of the death of his youngest brother, at Pittsburg, Pa.

A compositor of this force lately bet a million dollars that the proofreader had marked in a word not in copy. He lost; but this is not the first case on record.

There was a rumor around that Billy Howlin picked up a $100-bill on F street last week when he was off; but it has been denied—not that he was off, but the pick up.

The question of moving day from the Union Building has resolved itself into a genuine guessing contest, with chances favoring those who wait till the order comes to start.

Sam Gompers took a day off last week, and Captain Smoot was seized with a desire to poetize the event. When Sam saw the effusion he came near going off again.

Mr. Jos. W. Palmer, a much respected employe on this force, has the sympathy of all in the bereavement which came to him last week by the death of his oldest daughter.

J. Walter Naylor has declared his independence of Uncle Sam and started a newspaper at Allentown, N. J. Mr. Naylor is a first-class printer and his friends here wish him the success he deserves.

J. B. Rogers chose the lucky number and secured the beautiful doily as a prize. He prefers that the event shall remain a secret, as he wants the thing to represent his extreme thoughtfulness and generosity at Christmas time.

The last census of this room by enumerator McBride shows that only a few have changed their place of residence within the past month. The notion which formerly prevailed, that it is cheaper to move than pay rent, is being gradually overcome.

Mr. T. H. Gosorn did not come to town Tuesday night to scan the election buletins. On the contrary he remained at home, and as an offset was presented with a little girl baby, which was surely better than all other returns he might be interested in. "Hooray!"

The articles for a "scrap" were agreed to last week between two extremely light weights on this force, but one of the principals must have gotten the impression that it was to be a foot race, judging from the time it took him to reach his home in Trinidad after 4:30.

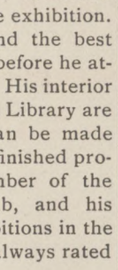
It is no fair shake for people to fortify their persons with felt-lined army blanket stuff filled in with weather-proof building material, and then expect others who dress just comfortably to be able to withstand equally those zephyrs which come down in double phalanx from the north pole with blizzard-like fury.

Oh where is that place, betwixt and between,
Where cranks are unknown and seldom are seen—
That's never too cold and never too hot?
Does any one know of just such a spot?

I have been shown a very remarkable piece of handiwork executed by Mr. Clarence K. Young, son of Scott K. Young, of this room, and who is employed at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. On a common-sized pin-head is engraved the alphabet and the word "Young"—in all thirty-one capital letters—which are plainly brought out by the aid of a magnifying glass. The inscription has been photographed and enlarged two hundred and fifty times its original size and made to cover a space about as large as a five-cent nickle piece. Mr. Young is an all-around engraver, except vignette work, and is regarded as an expert in his line.

FUDGE.

HALLS for rent at Building Trades Halls, 610 G street northwest and 624 Sixth street northwest. For terms apply at Room 2, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

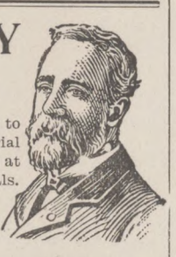


Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

The "Man's Store."

OUR FAMOUS $1.90 HATS

In All the Fashionable Blocks and Colorings.



Worth $2.50

D. J. K. $1 Dress Gloves.....89c
$1 50 White P. K. Vests.....$1.10
$15 Tan Covert Top-coats...$9.75
$15 3-but. D. B. Sack Suits..$12.85
$25 Cravenette Rain Coats..$18.50

D. J. KAUFMAN, 1005-7 Pa. Ave.

BUCKLEY
The Tailor

The man who knows how to build clothes asks for a trial order. His Banner Suit at $20 in the Latest Materials.

1334 F STREET N. W.
ON SECOND FLOOR

THE PEOPLE'S CHURCH

Invites you to attend its services.

This is a Church without a creed, extending its fellowship to all who believe in better social conditions, in justice, here and now.

Services Sunday at 11.15 a. m., in Typographical Temple, 423 G Street Northwest.

Pastor: Rev. ALEX. KENT, 26 F Street N. W.

Come and Bring Your Friends.

Attention

If you want to be treated square and save $5.00 fine, call on M. LEVITAN, Civil and Military Tailor, for a fall suit.

Union Label in every Garment

1409 G ST. N. W.

Woodward & Lothrop,

DEPARTMENT STORE.

TENTH, ELEVENTH, AND F STS. N. W.

WHERE THE HALF-TONES ARE MADE

THE NATIONAL ENGRAVING COMPANY.

INCORPORATED.

14th St. and Pa. Ave. Phone 1679 Main.

Hewke, PHOTOGRAPHER

56 of the ex-delegates and committees patronized me for good work.

Studio,
430 7th St., N. W. Washington, D. C.

J. E. BONINI'S

BUFFET AND CAFE,

727-729 N. Capitol Street.

MAERZEN BEER ON TAP.

A first-class Lunch Counter. Sea food in season. Union throughout.

Phone East 644-A

DR. CARLETON VAUGHAN
Dentist

The Colcord, 310 East Capitol Street

Office Hours: 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.
Evenings: By Appointment

If you want to Save Your Money with 5 per cent interest; or want to Buy A Home on monthly payments

Deal with

AMERICAN B. AND L. ASS'N

S. C. HOLMES, Prest.
H. V. Easterling, V-Prest.
F. H. Riordan, Treas. Andrew Wilson, Atty.
W. J. Frizzell, Secy.

Phone 2026 907 G STREET Open 9 to 5

THE RIGGS NATIONAL BANK
Of Washington, D. C.

Capital - - - $1,000,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits, 1,000,000

Exchange on England, Ireland, France and Germany. Letters of credit available in all foreign parts. Bank Collections. Orders for investments. Stocks and Bonds.

SEABOARD
AIR LINE RAILWAY

Offers the best service between Florida, the Southeast, or Southwest and Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and the East. Two daily through trains, with cafe dining cars and through Pullman sleepers.

Great inducements are offered to fruit growers and truckers in the Manatee country below the frost line in Florida. Send for a handsomely illustrated brochure.

EDWARD F. COST, Traffic Mgr.
CHAS. B. RYAN, Gen. Pass. Agt.
Portsmouth, Va.

W. E. CONKLYN, Gen. Agt. Pass. Dept.
1421 Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C.

GIDDINGS & STEELE,

Exclusive
Floor Coverings

813 PENNSYLVANIA AVE. N.W.

SHAFFER

Florist

14th and Eye Sts. Phone 2416 Main
1711 Penna. Ave. Phone 1581 Main

FURNISHED ROOMS
AT
The Orleans
1203 F STREET NORTHWEST

MRS. R. COMMELIN, Prop.

Is Your Wife

a member of the Tribe of Ben-Hur? Ask about a policy for her, costing but 19 cents per week, paying at age 30, $650; ten year annuity after age 70.

HENRY E. CROUCH, Deputy, 424 Fourth St. N. E.
ALBERT P. E. DOYLE, Scribe, 21 O St. N. E.

PRINTERS and Union Members.—For First-Class Meals, Eat at

VICTOR CAFE, 3 H St. N. W.
ALBION, Eleventh and E Sts. N. W.
ERIN, Cor. N. J. Ave. and D St. N. W.
U. S. LUNCH ROOM, 320 12th St. N. W.

ALBERT T. SCANLAND, Prop.

Open Day and Night. Best Service.

M. S. JOHNSON,

Foreign and Domestic Woolens now ready for inspection

SUITS $25 UP. UNION SHOP.

1435 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

Quality your security here.

CLARK & DAVENPORT

Examine our Large Stock of Furniture, Carpet, and Draperies before purchasing.

1200, 1202, 1204 F Street N. W.

THOMAS WALSH

Formerly "Steve" Caldwell's.

Whiskies and Cigars

Specialties: MELVALE AND SHERWOOD

COOL LAGER BEER ON DRAUGHT.

BILLIARDS AND POOL

Billiards, 40c. per hour. Pool, 2½c. per cue.

THOMAS WALSH

407 Tenth St. Northwest

E. F. PRICE & CO.

Strongest flat opening blank book made. Ruling and Binding of every description. A Specialty of FINE BANK WORK.

BOOKBINDERS 1108 E St. N. W.

G. P. O. BICYCLE REPAIR CO.

ARTHUR D. BENNETT
MANAGER

Wheels stored, cleaned, and repaired (per month)..... $1.00
Wheels stored and cleaned (per month).... .75
Wheels stored (per month)..... .50

Bicycle Repairing a Specialty
Bicycle Sundries

Salesroom, 33 H St. N. W.

300 1-lb. Loaves to the Barrel.

Every Laboring Man

—requires pure, wholesome, nourishing food such as is made of—

Cream Blend Flour

It not only makes THE BEST Bread, Rolls, Cake and Pastry, but more of them than other brands—therefore it's the cheapest that money can buy.

Your Grocer will supply you.

B. B. EARNSHAW & BRO., Wholesalers,
1105, 1107, 1109 11th Street S. E.
1000 and 1002 M Street S. E.

Cole & Swan

Large assortment of Watches, Diamonds, and Jewelry (we make and repair anything in this line). "Square Dealing" our motto.

21 H Street N. W.

T. HOLLANDER
Men's Furnishings
Hats and Shoes
COR. N. CAPITOL AND H STS.
Opposite Government Printing Office

DO YOU USE TOILET PAPER?

If so, investigate the service furnished by

R. P. Andrews & Co.,

INCORPORATED
627-629 LOUISIANA AVE. N. W.
THE WHOLESALE PAPER HOUSE
IT WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

HOTEL FRITZ REUTER
Rathskeller
and
Restaurant.
COR. PA. AVE. AND JOHN MARSHALL PLACE
Phone: East 388.

Telephone 3662-Y

AMREIN'S
FAMOUS ICE CREAM
HAS NO EQUAL
One Dollar per Gallon

Stores, 1426 and 1810 7th St. N. W.

GEO. W. BARRY COAL CO.

Coal in any quantity at the right price and Wood also.

14-16 H N. E. One minute from G. P. O. Telephone East 234.

B. F. WARNER

FINE WINES and LIQUORS
BLUE LABEL CIGARS

1219 E Street Northwest

FOR LUNCH
TRY THE
Pure Dairy Lunch
935 D Street Northwest

American Ice Co.

1437 Penna. Ave. N. W.

THE UNION
SAVINGS BANK
BOND BUILDING
Cor. 14th St. and New York Ave. N.W.

Three Per Cent Interest
on Savings Accounts.

Branch Deposit Agency at
T. A. ROVER'S STORE,
Cor. North Capitol and H Sts.
OPEN EVERY MONDAY AND TUESDAY
FROM 4 TO 5 P. M.

When in doubt buy at
HOUSE & HERRMANN,
FURNITURE, CARPETS, DRAPERIES, ETC.
N. E. Corner Seventh and I Streets N. W.

Don't Buy a Hat
Without the Label. .
And See that It Is Sewed In.

Don t Patronize a Dealer Who Has Loose Labels on Hand and Offers to Put One in Your Hat.
LOOSE LABELS
In Retail Stores
ARE COUNTERFEITS.

The John B. Stetson Co., of Philadelphia. Pa., is a non-union concern.

J. GEORGE SMITH
(Formerly a member of the firm of R. P. Andrews & Co.)
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
PAPER AND STATIONERY
My old friends and patrons from J. C. Addison's time to the present will be welcome. I can supply all your needs at lowest prices consistent with quality.
626 E STREET NORTHWEST

The Hub Furniture Co.,
The Stores that Save You Money.
OUR MOTTO—The Best Values in Furniture and Carpets at the Lowest Prices.
Cash or Credit.
HUB FURNITURE CO.,
(Formerly Wash B. Williams)
Corner Seventh and D Streets N. W.

Carrfages Furnished for All Occasions — Phone East 327-M
JOHN ELBERT
Undertaker and Embalmer
54 H STREET N. W.

"Everyone knows how to find fault." No one has yet found fault with the
RELIABLE
The Gas Range for Summer Use
Washington Gas Light Co.
GAS APPLIANCE EXCHANGE

St. Asaph Commission Rooms,
Old Established and Reliable.
Trains leave Thirteen and one-half street and Pennsylvania avenue—Alexandria, Mt. Vernon, and Washington Railway—daily at 12.45, 1.05, 1.25, 2, 2.30, 3.02, and 3.30. Return .39, 4.24, 5.02, 5.58, and at various intervals.

CELTIC CLUB WHISKY
Our Specialty. Never Changes. Once Tried You'll Always Use It. Take No Substitute.
Ports and Sherries for family use, Quarts, 50 and 75 cents. All makes of Beer. Leading brands of Cigars. Ales and Porters on draught the year round.
JOHN CONNOR
New Jersey Ave. and G Sts. N. W.

J. WILLIAM LEE,
Undertaker and Livery, . . .
322 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

RETAIL DRUG CLERKS, No. 240, AND THEIR FRIENDS DO NOT PATRONIZE
JOHN W. JENNINGS
DRUGGIST
1142 Connecticut Avenue
Now on Unfair List of Central Labor Union

Union Directory.

TO SECRETARIES: Please notify this office of any change in officers' addresses, time or place of meeting. Corrections will be made quarterly.

American Federation of Labor—Headquarters, Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Sam'l Gompers, President. Frank Morrison, Secretary.

Allied Printing Trades Council meets last Thursday in the month at Typographical Temple. J. A. Wiedman, Secretary-Treasurer, 15 I street northeast.

Allied Label League meets every Friday night at 8 o'clock at 905 E street northwest. C. A. Pfau, Secretary, 905 E street northwest.

Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, Local No. 148, meets second and fourth Thursday evenings at 922 Pa. avenue northwest. Geo. Bakersmith, Secretary, 3315 Brightwood avenue northwest.

Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, Local Union No. 102, meets first and third Wednesdays at Loehl's Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. D. C. Childress, Secretary. T. F. Ryan, Business Agent, Room I, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

American Society Plate Engravers meets first Saturday in each month at Grand Army Hall. A. C. Ruebsam, Secretary, Bethesda, Montgomery County, Md.

Bakers Union, No. 118, meets first and third Saturday in each month at 430 Eighth street northwest. John G. Schmidt, Secretary and Business Agent, 333 I street s w.

Bakers' Drivers' L. U. No. 33, T. D. I. U. meets first and third Thursday evening of each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Thomas C. Fox, Secretary, 922 Fourth street northeast.

Bartenders' League Local No. 75, meets first and fourth Sunday of each month at 2 p. m. at Macabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. Jere F. McCarthy, Secretary, 1017 Maryland avenue southwest.

Beer Drivers' and Stablemen's Union, No. 234, meets first Sunday of each month at 314 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. Walter T. Trittipoe, Secretary, 1346 Wallach Place northwest.

Bookbinders' Union, No. 4, meets first Tuesday in each month at Typograhical Temple. James A. Stockman, Secretary, 735 North Capitol street.

Brewery Workers' Union, No. 118, meets second and last Sunday of the month at 314 Pennsylvania ave. southeast. Frank Rom, Secretary, 818 New Hampshire ave. northwest.

Bricklayers' Union, No. 1, meets second and fourth Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Milford Spohn, Secretary, Typographical Temple.

Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators, and Paperhangers, Local Union, No. 368, meets every Friday night at Painters' Hall, 506 Sixth street northwest. G. Jule Murray, Secretary, 1107 South Carolina avenue southeast. W. M. Lewis, Business Agent, 506 Sixth street northwest.

Cab and Carriage Drivers' Union, No. 486, meets first and third Sundays, at Butler's Hall, 609 C street northwest. W. B. Nelson, Secretary, 922 I street northwest.

Carriage and Wagon Workers' International Union, Local No. 72, of Washington, D. C., meets every Thursday, at Loehl's Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. John H. Brinkman, Secretary, 1729 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Carpet Upholsterers, No. 85, U. I. U., meets first and third Tuesdays of each month at 516 Ninth street northwest. Geo. A. Pinckney, Secretary, 363 Pennsylvania ave. northwest

Central Labor Union meets every Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Typographical Temple. Charles W. Winslow, Secretary, 425 G street northwest. Residence, 3206 Wisconsin avenue northwest.

ALLIED BUILDING TRADES.

Lathers Discipline Men Who Stayed In On Woodley Apartment Job.

The regular weekly meeting of the Council of Allied Building Trades of the Central Labor Union was called to order at the usual hour by Chairman Wells.

Roll call disclosed the presence of thirty-five delegate from twenty-three local unions in attendance.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The credentials of the Wall Scrapers' Union, which had been in the hands of an investigating committee, were, on the adverse report of the committee, referred to the Paperhangers.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From E. C. Graham, secretary of Employing Contractors' Association, containing copies of communications passing between their organization and the Master Builders' Association, relative to the carpenters' difficulty. Read and placed on file. Report of a special committee of the Master Builders' Association relative to charges brought against John H. Nolan by the Central Allied Building Trades. Read and referred to Board of Arbitration, and secretary directed to notify the Employing Contractors' Association that the report is not satisfactory to the Central Allied Building Trades, inasmuch as it is contrary to the principles of the Board of Arbitration. From the same secretary, relative to grievance brought to Board of Arbitration by Joseph Richardson. Read and referred to Board of Arbitration Committee.

A bill from THE TRADE UNIONIST for $11.50 was presented for printing, was read, indorsed, and referred to Central Labor Union for payment.

The special committee appointed to visit Wood, Wire, and Metal Lathers, relative to members of their union refusing to come off Woodley apartment house when it was declared a struck job, reported having visited the Lathers' Union and were assured that the members mentioned would be disciplined. The report was accepted.

Business Agent made report for the week, which was accepted, and a vacation granted him to attend the convention of the American Federation of Labor.

The minutes of the meeting of the Executive Committee of November 2 were read and their action concurred in.

ROLL CALL.

Bridge and Structural Iron Workers stated that their union had entered into satisfactory agreement with the American Bridge Company.

Tile Layers stated that the rumors that overtures had been made to their union by the National Mosaic Company were false, and asked that a committee of three be appointed to call on said company. Agreed to, and the chair appointed delegates Winslow, Barrett, and Ryan.

Carpenters stated that the chairman of their District Council did not receive notification of the action of the Executive Committee until a very late hour.

Hod Carriers stated that one of the disputed points with the conciliation committee was that they strike out from their charter the words "Building Laborers," which they could not do.

Lathers stated that the two men under charges in their union for violation of Council of Allied Building Trades laws had been fined $50.00.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The secretary was directed to inform the Employing Contractors Association that the Brotherhood of Carpenters' Association are a part of the Council of Allied Building Trades and a party to the arbitration agreement.

Delegate Malone asked for information as to the calling off of men and was informed that the Business Agent of the council would call all men carrying cards.

Delegate Wells was appointed to act in the place of Business Agent during the latter's absence.

The amendment to the Constitution, introduced by Painters, No. 368, was read for the second time, and the secretary stated that according to the rules, after the third reading, if adopted, it would be referred to the referendum.

There being no further business, the council adjourned.

LINEMEN WIN STRIKE.

After a Five Months' Struggle, Victory Crowns the Union.

[Special Correspondence.]

LOS ANGELES CAL., Oct. 25, 1903.

On May 5, five months ago today, the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers declared a strike against the Sunset Telegraph and Telephone Company, which involved the entire territory from Vancouver, B. C., to El Paso, Texas. Today the men went back to work, the company having come to terms. In no city throughout the vast stretch of country was the fight so bitter as in Los Angeles, where the Employers' Association, aided and abetted by the notorious Times, exerted every effort to break the strike. Scabs were armed and encouraged to create disturbances, union men were arrested without provocation, and the vile Times daily branded the peaceable law-abiding unionists as hoodlums. But without avail. The men stood like a granite wall, and the result was inevitable. The splendid victory of the linemen has been the occasion of much rejoicing of the union men and women of Southern California, not only because of the good that will accrue to the sturdy unionists who remained true throughout the long struggle, but also because it means one more defeat for Otis and his coterie of union haters.

The Times has reason for its shrill denunciation of organized labor, as ad. after ad. is being withdrawn from its columns through the efforts of unionists everywhere. You can aid in this good work by writing one letter to each of the following advertisers in that notorious sheet:

Carrara Paint, 811 Carrara Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

"Santal Middy," E. Faugera, 26 North Williams street, New York, N. Y.

Royal Baking Powder Company, 100 Williams street, New York, N. Y.

Philo-Hay Specialties Company—Newark, N. J.

Castoria—The Centaur Company, 77 Murray street, New York, N. Y.

Cuticura—Potter Drug and Chemical Company, Boston, Mass.

Postum—Postum Cereal Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

Scott's Emulsion—Scott & Bowne, 409 Pearl street New York, N. Y.

Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate—D. Ghirardelli, San Francisco, Cal.

Tell these advertisers that organized labor does not look with favor upon any person or firm that is aiding labor's meanest enemy, the Los Angeles Times.

In purchasing goods from advertisers in this paper, do not fail to mention the fact that you saw the advertisement in THE TRADES UNIONIST. It will accord you good treatment at the hand of the salesman, and incidentally help the paper.

I. T. U. Referendum Vote.

The total vote on the propositions submitted to the membership of Columbia Typographical Union for ratification, was as follows: First proposition: For, 1,034; against, 90. Second proposition: For, 898; against, 229. Third proposition: For, 729; against, 371; Fourth proposition: For, 640; against, 504. Fifth proposition: For, 924; against, 81. Sixth proposition: For, 964; against, 101. Seventh proposition: For, 939; against, 81. Eighth proposition: For, 853; against, 206.

Seaboard Florida Excursion.

For trains of November 11th the Seaboard Air Line will sell cheap excursion tickets to Sarasota, Fla. (The Manatee Country), good fifteen days. For full particulars, booklets on fruit culture, and trucking address, W. E. CONKLYN, General Agent, 1411 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Mr. Joseph Moser, for three terms President and Secretary of the Retail Clerks' Union, No. 262, and a member of the C. L. U., most cordially invites his friends to call on him at GROSNER'S, 1013 Penna. ave. N.W., where he will be pleased to show them a complete line of Gent's Clothing, Furnishing, and Hats.

Mr. Moser is one of the best known workers in the labor world and is now employed in a strictly Union House.

Don't forget that.

Allied Label League.

The regular weekly meeting of the Allied Label League was called to order on Friday evening last by Vice-President Trittipoe in the absence of the president.

The minutes of the last meeting were approved as read.

Under roll call of unions the Clerks reported that the Emrich Beef Co. and Hecht & Co. are still unfair and do not deserve the patronage of organized labor.

Mr. Meyer Fisher, Vice-President of the Retail Liquor Dealers' Association, asked to be granted the floor. He asked for the general support of the League on their sign. A committee was appointed to bring the matter to the attention of members of the different unions in this city.

Oysters in every style at R. A. Driscoll's, North Capitol and G streets. Overholt whisky, 10c.

Postum Piracy.

It is alleged that Mr. Post, of "Postum" notoriety, who still persists in advertising his wares in the unfair Los Angles Times, was formerly in the employ of the Battle Creek (Mich.) Sanitarium. While so employed he acquired from that institution its formulas for preparing health foods, chief among which is that for making the cereal coffee known as "Caramel Cereal" for which the Sanitarium is famous. Becoming disaffected, he started into business for himself along the same line. "Postum Cereal" was the name under which he advertised the same substitute for coffee that he had learned to make under his former employer. His characteristic greed, however, impelled him to put up smaller packages and give the consumer less for his money. The friends of organized labor have now an opportunity of doing their cause and themselves a good turn by letting Post and his "Postum" severely alone, taking instead the more generous supply and superior quality of "Caramel Cereal." Remember this when next you talk to your grocer on the subject of coffee substitutes.

Try oyster pan roast, 10c. Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, North Capitol and G streets.

Chaplain for No. 101.

The invocation by a chaplain of divine blessing and guidance in the proceedings of typographical unions could not be objectionable. State and national legistative bodies have their chaplains. A nation is great only in so far as it is a God-fearing and worshipping nation. The same is so of organizations. Secret societies have their chaplains. Almost any assembly gives thanks to the Creator of all things and implores his blessing on their acts. The International Typographical Union conventions ask the Lord's blessing on their deliberations. Local unions, as a rule, seem to neglect this observance in their order of business. Such a practice would make men more sincere and thoughtful and broader-minded. It would be most appropriate for the printer's union—the most intelligent and conservative—to inaugurate this ceremony. Let No. 101 take the initiative and create a chaplain.

H. A. N.

Representative Business Houses.

OF WASHINGTON, D. C.

The following wholesale and retail firms and professional men are friendly to Union Labor and are entitled to its patronage:

BANKS.
THE LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK, Safe Deposit Vaults, $2.50 up
CAPITAL LOAN GUARANTEE COMPANY, 602 F Street Northwest. Every one can borrow money without security.

BAKERS.
HOLMES & SON, Celebrated Home-Made Pies and Milk Bread. First and E Streets N. W. Phone East 864.

BOOTS AND SHOES.
CROCKER'S SHOES, 939 Pennsylvania Ave. N. W.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.
DANIEL LOUGHRAN, 1347 Pennsylvania Ave.
LUCHS & BRO., Wholesalers. Phone E 755.

COACH FINDINGS.
J. B. KENDALL, 485-87 Missouri avenue N. W.

CUTLERY AND SPORTING GOODS.
D. N. WALFORD, 625 and 909 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

DRY GOODS.
LANSBURGH & BROTHER, 420 to 426 7th St. N. W

DYER.
E. E. WHEATLEY, 1068 Jefferson Ave. N. W. Phone, West 117-Y.

ENGRAVERS.
THE MAURICE JOYCE ENGRAVING CO. Cuts and Illustrations. 418 11th street N. W

FIRE INSURANCE.
Insure with THE RIGGS FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY. FIREMEN'S INSURANCE COMPANY, Seventh St. and Louisiana Ave.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.
JULIUS LANSBURGH, Interocean Building, 512 Ninth St. N. W.

GAS FIXTURES, LAMPS, ETC.
C. A. MUDDIMAN & CO., 1204 G Street. 616 Twelfth Street. Phone 140.

GROCERIES.
LITTLE & PAGE, "Good things to eat." 1210 F St. N.W
W. C. ERGOOD, "Good goods at Ergoods." Corner Ninth and H Streets Northwest.

GROCER AND COFFEE ROASTER.
SOMERSET R. WATERS. 1342 Seventh Street Northwest, Corner O.

HARDWARE AND TOOLS.
RUDOLPH, WEST & CO., 1332 New York avenue northwest.

HUDSON'S VARIETY STORE.
B. F. HUDSON, 416 Seventh Street Northwest.

HATTERS AND FURRIERS.
JAMES Y. DAVIS' SONS, 1201 Pennsylvania Ave.
A. H. BURDINE, Union Overalls, Hats, and Gloves. Seventh Street and Virginia avenue southwest.

LIME, SAND, GRAVEL, CEMENT.
NATIONAL MORTAR COMPANY, Office: Room 9, Ralston Bldg., 612 F St. N. W. Office telephone: East 688.

LUMBER AND MILL WORK.
THOMAS R. RILEY, 13th St. and Ohio Ave.

MACHINISTS AND ENGINEERS,
FORSBERG & MURRAY, Pumps and Elevators. Engines and Boilers 8th and Water Sts. S. W.

PHARMACISTS.
LOUIS F. BRADLEY, Prescription Druggist. 8th and E Sts. S. E

PHOTO-LITHOGRAPHERS.
THE NORRIS PETERS CO., 458 and 460 Pennsylvania avenue N. W
ANDREW B. GRAHAM Lithographer, Photo-Lithographer, and Half-Tones. 1230 Pa. Ave. Phones: 1031-M, 1679-M

PIANO AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
E. E. DROOP & SONS, 925 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

PRINTING SUPPLIES.
NATIONAL PRINTER'S SUPPLY CO., Machine-made Rollers. 414 10th St. N. W.

RESTAURANT AND WINE ROOM.
JOHN M. BECKER, Opp. Navy Yard., Cor. 8th and Georgia Ave. S.E

SHAVING PARLORS
VINCENT R. CILENTO, 805 North Capitol Street.

TITLES TO REAL ESTATE.
LAWYERS' TITLE & GUARANTY INS. CO. 412 5th St. N. W.

WINES AND LIQUORS.
SAMUEL G. STEWART, Heurich Brewing Co's. beers and popular brands of whiskies. 1141 Seventh st. northwest, between L and M.
GEORGE W. DRIVER, 605 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

DO NOT WANT OUR PATRONAGE.

Following brands of cigars: Cinco, Cremo, George W. Childs, Henry George, Tom Moore, Robert Burns, and General Arthur.

The following firms have declared against the interest of Organized Labor and are not regarded as deserving their patronage:

NAME.	BUSINESS.	LOCATION.
Chevy Chase Railway and circle.	Street railway	Chevy Chase and Circle.
Keenan Bros	Gents' furnishers	Pa. ave. bet. 14th and 15th sts., and 523 Seventh st. n. w.
B. Solomon	Gents' furnisher	708 Seventh street n. w.
Rufus H. Darby	Printer	508 Fourteenth street n. w.
H. L. McQueen	Printer	1108 E street n. w.
N. Sickles (Nat'l Cigar Factory).	Cigar manufacturer	1011 Penna. avenue n. w.
E. Gundershiemer	Baker	516 Second street n.w. and stalls in Center Market.
Peter Grogan	Carpet dealer.	817 to 823 Seventh street n. w.
John H. Fitzgerald	Horseshoer	443 Prather's alley n. w.
S. S Daish	Coal and wood	Florida ave. and Third st. n. e.
Wilbur F. Nash	Meat dealer	Center and O st. Markets.
C. E. Hencke	Electrician	711 G street n. w.
National Mosaic Company	Mosaics	207 Fourth st. n. w.
M. Minster	Gents' furnisher	1343 F st. n. w.
A. Minster	Gents' furnisher	499 and 501 Penna. ave. n. w.
Cyrus B. Reese	Employing steamfitter	1519 Fourteenth street n. w.
C. A. Schneider & Sons	Union Iron Works	212 Twelfth street n. w.
Minster & Paterson	Gents' furnishers	1109 Pennsylvania ave. n. w.
Conrad Becker	Trunks and harness	1328 F st. n. w.
Home Ice Company	Ice	Twelfth and V sts. n. w.
Emil Wagner	Restaurant	210 Ninth st. n. w.
W. E. Carney	Cigar manufacturer	921 G st. s. w.
Nat'l Roller & Ball Bearing Co.	Machinery	33rd and K sts. n. w.
L. Rosenberg	Clothing and shoes	911-913 Eighth st. s. e.
Corbin Thompson	Dairyman	Sharon Dairy, 324 B st. s. w.
S. D. Houck	Dealer in harness	301 Tenth street n. w.
M. Eisemann & Bro	Dry goods	1924-26 Pa. ave. and 806 7th n.w.
Elite Steam Laundry	Laundry	1205 G street n. w.
Benjamin Schwartz	Gents' furnisher and tailor	337 Pa. ave. s. e.
Emrich Beef Co	Meat Dealers
John Coleman	Horseshoer	1300 36th street n. w.
Hecht & Co	Dry Goods, etc	517-519 Seventh street n. w.
Charles Rauscher	Caterer	Conn. ave. and L st. n. w
Academy of Music	Theater	Ninth and D streets n. w.
Lafayette Square Theater	Theater	16th st. and Pa. ave. n. w.
E. H. Snyder & Co	Tailors	1111 Pa. ave n. w
Owen Owen	Tailor	423 Eleventh street n. w.
L. A. Downey	Tailor	433 Eleventh street n. w.
J. M. Stein & Co	Tailors	413 Eleventh street n. w.
J. D. Burns & Co	Tailors	701 Ninth street n. w.
J. F. Gatchel	Tailor	604 Thirteenth street n. w.
G. Warfield Simpson	Tailor	1208 F street n. w.
E. H. Catlin & Co	Machinists	407 13½ street n. w.
Thomas Somerville & Sons	Steam Fitters' Supplies	816 Thirteenth street n. w.
Joseph Mathy	Stove dealer and tin worker	1918 Pennsyvania avenue.
William Meehan	Saloon	943 B street n. w.
Robert Lowe	Stone yard and mill	113 Third street s. w.
John W. Jennings	Druggist	1142 Connecticut avenue n. w.
E. Tapscott	Contractor
R. M. Leonard	Saloonist	1319 Seventh street n. w.

A Critics's Reply.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

Why Mr. David Eccles takes up so much of the space of his medium to answer what "really does not warrant notice" he alone can tell. Evidently he takes me as seriously as he does himself. But his intentions seems to be good; merely trying to raise a fog.

He tries to console me with the assurance that if I am moral, and good, and do nothing to conflict with Nature's laws—"run against Nature's buzz saw," as he inaptly expresses it—I may survive with the rest of the pygmies, and that this survival law is not so bad after all. If Carlyle's opinion goes, this law is not worth a sixpence, and ought to be abolished.

Mr. Eccles, in a further attempt to define Socialism, plunges boldly into a didactic exposition of the operations of universal and physical laws, but how they are arrayed in opposition to industrial or social evolution or how these laws will be broken or in any way impaired by any of the changes which Socialists advocate he leaves his readers to determine.

If Mr. Eccles will let Nature take care of her own forces, and not try to draw analogies between them and essentially human traits, but get down to bed-rock facts and tell us just how Socialism will injure or destroy any good or useful thing, he will be more interesting. Do not charge Socialism with abolishing the law of "survival," "stopping differentiation," or turning evolution topsy-turvy. Socialism has enough work ahead of it without tackling such hard jobs.

H. HARRALD.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICIAL ORGAN CENTRAL LABOR UNION, WASHINGTON BRANCH, AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Vol. VIII. No. 23. WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1903. Price, 3 Cents.

THE CENTRAL LABOR UNION

The New National Theater Breaks Contract With Stage Employes.

UPHOLSTERER'S GRIEVANCE

The Firm of Barber & Ross Employing Non-Union Labor—Carpenters and Joiners' Resolution—Team Drivers and Brewery Workmen's Dispute Laid Over.

The regular weekly meeting of the Central Labor Union was called to order Monday night at 8 15 by Vice-President Lynch.

Delegate C. E. Dietrich, of Columbia Typographical Union, acting secretary.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

CREDENTIALS.

From Sanitary Wagon Drivers, Local No. 503, certifying J. C. Brewer, C. Rhone, J. Wracher, J. Howard, and J. Marshall as delegates.

From Beer Drivers and Stablemen, Local No. 234, certifying William Bittner and B. T. Birch in the place of A. T. Broaker and William Robert.

From Beer Drivers and Stablemen, Local No. 818, certifying to William Robert, A. T. Broacker, John Kraft, Adam Knudsen, and Dan McCoy as delegates.

From Cab and Carriage Wagon Drivers, Local No. 486, certifying Harry Beasly, Wm. B. Nelson, W. H. Grover, and P. Sherwin as delegates.

The credentials were accepted and the delegates seated except those of Beer Drivers and Stablemen, No. 818, and Beer Drivers and Stablemen, No. 234, in which case they were laid over until such time as the matter of trade jurisdiction between the International Brotherhood of Team Drivers and the International Brewery Workmen shall be settled to the satisfaction of the American Federation of Labor. It was further ordered that the two locals shall not antagonize each other pending settlement of their dispute.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The Theatrical Stage Employes stated that W. H. Rapley, of the National Theatre, has broken his contract made with the Central Body by employing non-union labor.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, Local No. 884, notifying the Central Body that they have levied a fine of five ($5) dollars upon any of their members patronizing Hecht & Co., and believe that they have made their fine more effective than ordinarily by offering a reward of one-half of the fine to the prosecutor.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, Local No. 1103, stated that Barber & Ross, Eleventh and G streets northwest, have in their shop, Thirteenth-and-a-half street and Ohio avenue, seven or eight men whom they are paying union wages and working union hours, and that said union has steadily endeavored, without result, to unionize these men and now ask the aid of the Central Body to destroy this menance to union labor.

Upholsterers, Local 58, notified the Central Body that the firm of Stump & Lyford have refused to make their shop a union one or grant their men an eight-hour work-day and asked that they therefore be declared unfair to organized labor.

ROLL CALL.

The following resolutions, submitted by Carpenters and Joiners, Local No. 884, were read and adopted:

To the Honorable Secretary of War:

It being known to us that the rate of wages for carpenters and joiners employed at their trades in and around the propogating gardens of the United States Government under the direct control of Colonel Symons is three ($3) dollars per diem; and it further appearing that the universal rate of wages in the City of Washington and District of Columbia for carpenters is three ($3.50) dollars fifty cents per diem; and it further appearing that certain bureaus under your control pay the aforesaid rate; and it further appearing that the aforesaid Colonel Symons employed certain carpenters at the rate of three ($3) dollars per diem; and it further appearing that a committee duly appointed from the Central Labor Union of the District of Columbia called upon Colonel Symons with the request that he increase the wage of the said carpenters under his employ from three ($3) dollars per diem to three ($3.50) dollars and fifty cents per diem; and it further appearing that he, the said Symons, finally agreed to take the matter under advisement and inform the said committee of his determination in the premises; and it further appearing that the said Colonel Symons did not do as agreed and did not communicate with the said Central Labor Union or the said Committee of the said Union; therefore be it

Resolved, By the Central Labor Union in meeting assembled, that the Secretary of War be, and hereby is, requested to issue the necessary orders directing the said Colonel Symons to pay the said men who were under his employment as carpenters from the month of May, A. D. 1903 up to the present date, the additional sum of fifty (50) cents per diem.

That a copy of these resolutions duly attested by the President and Secretary of the Central Labor Union and sealed with the seal of the said Central Labor Union, the same to be transmitted to the Honorable Elihu Root, Secretary of War.

Machinists called attention to continued unfair attitude of National Roller Bearing Co.

Stationary Firemen recommended that the grievance with Heurich Brewing Co. be referred back to Grievance Committee and the Central Body concurred in this recommendation.

Grocery Clerks stated that they have adopted "twelve hours and no Sunday work" as their time scale.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Grievance Committee reported that they were making progress in the case between Stationary Firemen and the Heurich Brewery and also in the case between Hod Carriers and the Fuller Co.

Report of committee were approved and adopted.

There being no further business on hand the body adjourned.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

Proof Room Notes.

Our happy brother Bernard H. Lane, whose marriage was recently celebrated, has finished the first installment of double-blessedness, yclept ye honey moone, and has returned to hard work.

We are all—and by all I mean the whole proof reading force—we are all glad to learn of the promotion of Mr. Fred A. Hall to the assistant foremanship of the Day Proof Room. Mr. Hall has well merited this distinction.

Every advantage seems to have its corresponding drawback, or, as it is popularly expressed, every rose has its thorn. Mr. J. E. Maynard, who was adjutant of the Spanish War Veterans, has been compelled to resign that position on account of his change from the day to the night proof room.

The national president of the German printers' union has recently addressed a circular letter to employing printers calling attention to the law requiring that their contracts with apprentices must be for a four-year term. He shows that this length of time is absolutely necessary to competency.

At a recent meeting of French printers in Nancy a resolution was passed bitterly arraigning the Impremerie Nationale for printing an edition de luxe of Victor Hugo's works in sixty volumes for a private publisher. This is a direct violation of a decree of 1823, which forbids the Government printing office from doing private work.

I have received notice that the Unity Club has got down to work again. Mr. L. H. Patterson, of the Day Proof Room, is the efficient president of the club. Its object is to promote literary pursuits and social intercourse. It has been in existence nearly thirty years and has a clean record. There was a lecture and entertainment at the Riggs House last Friday evening.

Bro. Babcock authorizes me to announce the revival of the debating society. Such clubs are old and approved institutions, and many distinguished men have received the best part of their education by their means. There is no better method of teaching a man to bring out what he knows and to give him self-confidence. And, besides, it stimulates reading and inquiry.

I think I should mention the loss by death of a valuable man in the community, who, though not a printer, was in a business closely allied to it and well known to many of us. I refer to the late Mr. O'Neal, who kept a second-hand book store on Seventh street. A man competent to conduct such a business is not to be picked up every day. Mr. O'Neal was a good judge of books, a kind-hearted man, genial and obliging. We shall miss him very much.

An employing printer of Citte di Castello, Italy, named Lapi, died recently. On opening his will it was found that he had bequeathed his entire printing plant to his employes, to be conducted by them on co-operative principles. In the first draft of his will, made some time before, he excluded a number of his men who had once gone on a strike, but he revoked this provision in his last will, and says that he had forgiven them and desires them to share equally with the others in his bequest.

The activity among the working people of Russia for better conditions and a living wage is unprecedented. The printers, are, of course, in the lead and are organizing various socities for mutual aid, including homes for their indigent and superannuated fellow-workers. It is saddening to read the pathetic messages of contributors of small sums—2 to 5 cents—to a fund for a printers' home near St. Petersburg. In the city of Moscow the influence of the printers' union has already resulted in a reduction of from one to three hours in a day's work, and an increase in wages from 20 to 30 per cent.

A change from day work to the owl force is not calculated to sharpen one's wits, at least for a time, and this partly accounts for the ommission of several names in my list of promotions to the Record proof room in my last communication. Here is the complete list of that force as now composed: J. H. Babcock, C. C. Barnes, A. F. Bloomer, C. B. Buchanan, M. E. Bullock, W. H. Covert, W. S. Hennen, H. H. Humble, C. B. Huse, O. D. Hyler, Z. La Pelle, A. H. Lyon, J. W. Miller, C. A. Morgan, J. Fred Orth, J. J. Ottinger, A. Reid, C. Stutsman, H. A. Watkins, P. W. Wiley, and J. A. Huston, assistant foreman.

CHAS. W. PAFFLOW.

Oysters in every style at R. A. Driscoll's, North Capitol and G streets. Overholt whisky, 10c.

Night Bill Force.

Horses, Horses, ad infin.

Eight hours' composition is the rule at present.

A. M. Willingham, of this force last year, came over Tuesday from the Third.

Only two letters of the alphabet not represented by the names of those on this force—E and X.

Chas. Wilhelm, an old bill hand, came down Monday from the Spess, and was assigned to the frame formerly occupied by Mr. Peffer.

The night bill force symposium was reorganized last Thursday night. The same officers were re-elected. Membership is now 105.

J. H. Brodnax, an experienced hand and perhaps the only gentleman from Arkansas on this force, is still sick, but reported out of danger.

The large subscription list of THE TRADES UNIONIST in each room is evidence that it is appreciated. Every division should be represented by a correspondent. Let some one volunteer in the Record, Fifth, and Second.

You will observe that Vice-President Piehoff and Treasurer McKnight, of the Nonpariel Mining and Developing Co., of Washington, D. C., capitalization $500,000, are in this division. After the races place your winnings with this company.

The Specification's correspondent nominates Philip Steele to fill the position of shaplain for No. 101, as suggested by "H. A. N." in THE TRADES UNIONIST. This would be most appropriate. Mr. Stelle frequently fills pulpits in the absence of regular pastors, and is a thoughtful Bible student.

A ROOKEY.

HALLS for rent at Building Trades Halls, 610 G street northwest and 624 Sixth street northwest. For terms apply at Room 2, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

Try oyster pan roast, 10c. Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, North Capitol and G streets.

THE A. F. OF L. CONVENTION

Valuable Time Wasted in Consideration of Minor Questions.

SOCIALISTS HAVE AN INNING

International Questions Should Receive Better Consideration—Substantial Sympathy For Colorado Miners—"Open Shop" Question Considered—Social Features.

BOSTON, MASS.,
November, 18, 1903.

It has been clearly demonstrated at this convention of the American Federation of Labor, that the present proportion of delegates makes an unwieldy assemblage, and with the continual growth of the organization there is no doubt that a further increase in membership will make it necessary to amend the laws reducing the proportion.

As it is now questions of grave importance to International Unions are held up to await the settlement of questions of a trivial nature in most cases, while questions of trade rights are relegated to the rear to come up in the closing hours of the convention when a great many of the delegates have left for their homes and leaves the question practically to be decided by the trades directly interested.

To an on-looker too much time is wasted on questions of minor importance to the unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, while questions of great moment are kept in committee until the closing hours of the convention, when it is hardly fair to suppose that the questions will receive due consideration.

The convention has been sitting eight days at this writing, and yet no question of importance to the International has been taken up for consideration. There are no less than six important questions involving trade rights to as many Internationals to be decided by this convention, in addition to the "open shop" question treated on in the report of the Executive Council. Those questions are of vital importance to the Internationals interested, and should receive due consideration, but it is more than reasonable to suppose that there will not be sufficient time in the remaining days of the session to give the questions involved the attention they deserve.

A resolution introduced by a delegate from St. Louis bearing on the "open shop" came up for consideration on the third day, the committee having reported a reference to a special committee having that matter in hand. It required all the tact and firmness on the part of President Gompers to hold the convention, a great many favoring immediate consideration. The matter was finally sent to the special committee.

A resolution of sympathy and an appropriation of $1,000 for the striking miners of the Colorado coal fields, who are affiliated with the Western Federation of Miners, was bitterly contested. The debate was prolonged and all tactics known to defeat a measure were indulged in, but the measure was finally adopted.

The Socialists in the convention came into prominence on the seventh day in considering the report of the committee on President Gompers' address. Delegate Max Hayes made the speech of the convention in defense of the position taken by Socialists in the trade union movement and made several telling points during his remarks.

A committee looking to the organization of insurance agents was defeated, it being claimed that as a class they are non-producers.

The social features of the convention have been varied and numerous. Every night has been taken up with receptions and smoke talks, Boston Typographical union taking a part in the program. On Friday evening last the book and job printers gave a smoke talk to the visiting delegates that was a huge success. On Monday night of this week the International Typographical Union delegation and visiting members of typographical unions were given a banquet at the Revere House that was an enjoyable affair. President James M. Lynch made an able response to the toast, "The I. T. U.," and President Gompers spoke for the American Federation of Labor.

The members of No. 13 have done all in their power to make visiting printers feel at home, and have succeeded in a great measure.

The convention proceedings have been followed closely by the visitors in the gallery and it has evoked a great deal of interest in this city.

Of all the delegates to the convention the most sought for in the hall is John Mitchell. His reputation has preceded him and he is being constantly pointed out wherever he goes.

Faneuil Hall, while a good place for the convention on account of its associations, has proven too small for the needs of the American Federation of Labor. Still if a union hall was available, it is doubtful whether the delegates would care to make the change.

T. M. R.

Oysters in every style at R. A. Driscoll's, North Capitol and G streets. Overholt whisky. 10c.

Senator Morgan's Views on Machines.

One of the Senators who takes more than a passing interest in the Government Printing Office and the welfare of its employes is the senior Senator from Alabama, John T. Morgan. He is supposed to devote his time to the greater affairs of state, but in doing that he frequently has occasion to observe the methods of the great printing establishment, and expresses himself as highly pleased with the promptness and excellence of execution there.

Speaking recently with one of the employes of the office, Mr. Morgan said:

"I regard Mr. Palmer as the best Public Printer we have had. He is a splendid organizer. He knows a good workman when he gets him, and has a splendid lot of assistants, from foremen to helpers.

"Mr. Palmer's salary is not what it should be. The responsibilities of his position, the great number of men under his direction, the amount of work he has to do makes it a shame that he receives no more than some of the superintendents of the daily newspapers, and not so much as some of the chiefs of less important bureaus of the Government. He should have more, and it would give me pleasure to vote it to him.

"Now that the new building is occupied the office should be rechristened and called 'The Government Printing House,' in conformity with its size and importantance, and the head of it should be known as the 'Director of Printing.'"

At this point the Senator asked about the use of machines in the Government Office. He put to his hearer the pointed question, "Do you want them there?" This question was parried with the reply that their introduction would probably throw some men out of employment. Mr. Morgan then spoke of the large cost of the machines, the expense of caring for them, the probability of resetting most of the Department proofs, the improbability of having tables set as they are now so excellently set, and summed up for himself that no saving appeared on the side of machines.

Here is one Senator so well satisfied with the work of the office and so mindful of the welfare of its employes from the highest to the lowest that the proposed introduction of machines will find little sympathy with him. Mr. Morgan has a habit of informing himself on all questions which are likely to come before the Senate, and this little conversation shows that he is ready for the proposition with the belief that the interests of the Government are safe in the hands of the workers so far as its printing is concerned.

The Morning After.

We air in reseat of a book called "The Morning After," which deals with jags and their consequences, and we air asked to review the same. Their ain't nothing new to us in this book, but its got some useful information for tenderfeet in it. The morning after ain't never troubled us none. If we air sober, we air sorry for it; if we ain't sober, we don't keer nothing 'bout nobody.—Hardeman Fress Press.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

ALLIED BUILDING TRADES.

Committee to Investigate Steamfitters Working in Unfair Snops.

The regular meeting of the Council of Allied Building Trades of the Central Labor Union was called to order at the usual hour, Tuesday, by Chairman Wells. In the absence of Secretary Ratigan, Delegate Lewis acted as Secretary.

Thirty-three delegates from thirty-one local unions answered to the roll call.

On motion, the regular order of business was suspended in order to give Mr. Williamson the floor for the purpose of asking why the strike on the apartment house, corner Fifteenth and L streets, had been ordered, and requesting that the Conncil reconsider its action in the case and allow the plumbing to be finished. The chair stated that the matter would be placed before the Council under the head of new business on roll call of unions.

The minutes of the previous meeting were then read and approved.

CREDENTIALS.

Credentials from Brotherhood of Painters, Local No. 368, certifying to Delegate King, vice Herman Arnold, removed, were received and delegate seated.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Executive Committe's report was read in case of Metal Latherers, which report was read and placed on file.

Report of the Arbitration Committee was then read and placed on file.

Business Agent reported no change in regard to strike.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Interior Marble and Slate Cutters; read and placed on file.

NEW BUSINESS.

On motion of Delegate Reilly the Arbitration Committee was directed to bring the Nolan case before the meeting for consideration, and the report not being satisfactory the case was referred back to the committee. The Secretary was instructed to notify Mr. Nolan of the scale of wages adopted by the different trades affiliated with the Building Trades Section.

On motion, the roll call of unions was suspended and the case of existing strikes taken up.

Delegate Barrett, of the Plumbers, called attention to the fact that Mr. Williamson was doing the plumbing on the apartment house located at Fifteenth and L streets, and that the plumbers are the main sufferers and that unless something is done by the Council, Plumbers' Union, Local No. 5, will be locked out by the Employing Plumbers. Plumbers also reported that steamfitters are at work in the unfair French shop, and requested the Council to order the steamfitters to withdraw therefrom. After considerable discussion the matter was referred to a special committee, composed of Delegates Barrett, Fanning, Ryan, and Malone, and the Secretary was instructed that if it was deemed necessary there be called, as soon as possible, a special meeting of the Council to consider the case.

The Secretary was also instructed to notify Mr. Williamson that a special committee had been appointed to investigate the case of Sidney & Duehay, and that, if necessary, a special meeting of the Council will be held to consider the case.

CALL OF UNIONS.

Delegate Sheets, of Machinists, reported that Thos. Summerville was on the unfair list, and asked the aid of the Council in their endeavors to unionize the firm.

Steam Fitters stated that they could not call out their men from the French shop until their meeting, November 19.

Electrical Workers and Painters reported that non-union men had taken their places in the cases were strikes existed.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

In purchasing goods from advertisers in this paper, do not fail to mention the fact that you saw the advertisement in THE TRADES UNIONIST. It will accord you good treatment at the hand of the salesman, and incidentally help the paper.

A lawyer's interest in a case depends upon the worth of his client.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Official Organ Central Labor Union and Allied Building Trades, A. F. of L.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

The Trades Unionist Publishing Company

E. W. PATTON.....President
A. J. E. HUBBARD.....Vice-President
T. M. RING.....Secretary

Office: 441-443 G Street Northwest.

TELEPHONE EAST 15 Y.

SUBSCRIPTION

One year (in advance) - - - - $1.00
Six months (in advance) - - - - .50

Entered at the Post-Office, Washington, D. C. as Second-Class Matter.

THE TRADES UNIONIST is heartily and unqualifiedly indorsed by the Central Labor Union and the Allied Building Trades as well as by the various locals connected with the two central bodies.

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL WASHINGTON. 2

Only Eight-Hour Union Office in Town.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1903.

INDIANAPOLIS is to have a labor temple.

THE latest international disease is Panamania.

THE Christmas gift-cigar joke will soon make us gay.

FARM laborers in Mexico receive from 18 to 20 cents a day.

THE workingman who neglects his employer's business neglects his own.

Canada — Corea — Columbia. The C's have some cause for complaint this season.

IT has been suggested that the negro be segregated. Why not segregate PARRY?

To judge from the Roxburghe wedding New York society is afflicted with the football habit.

ROCHESTER shoe-factory hands have been granted a reduction of their workday from 10 to 9 hours.

IT takes a mighty fierce slap to drive the Presidential bee away from such a tempting possibility as Senator HANNA.

IT is said that more than five hundred thousand persons depend upon street railways for support in the United States.

THE Minnesota State Federation of Labor contributes $100,000 to the assistance of the Minneapolis flour-mill strikers.

THE Harvester Trust will reduce its force 25 per cent, throwing 7,000 men out of employment at a saving of $4,000,000 a year.

THE broommakers of Milwaukee have received an advance of about 40 per cent on wages. Broomstraws show which way the wind blows.

THERE there is no conflict between capital and labor. But unfortunately the capitalist and the laborer are continually breaking the peace.

WILLIAM BUTLER YEATES, the genuine Irish poet who is now visiting America, says "Kipling had a soul to sell, and sold it to the devil."

THE polar bears think of establishing a republic. They have been told that Uncle Sam intends to guarantee the neutrality of the North Pole.

THE "knocker," under proper restraint, is of service to society. But he is an unmixed nuisance when he gets so hardened that he likes to be disliked.

AN organizati n of union singers is contemplated in New Haven. It is to be hoped that they will have great success in striking the "dough" note of the scale.

TORONTO bookbinders propose to demand an increase of wages and a shorter work-day at the expiration of the present agreement with the employers in June.

As an intellectual stimulus society can wrestle this winter with the question as to whether PHILIPPE BUNAU-VARILLA should be addressed as "Monsieur" or "Senor."

WHILE considering the advisability of a declaration of independence, Canada should remember that Uncle Sam doesn't permit infant Republics to get lost in the bullrushes.

THE member of a labor union who thinks of himself alone, and when he is prosperous forgets the necessity as well as the duty of helping to better the condition of those less fortunately situated, would be a PARRY if he were in PARRY'S place.

J. W. SLAYTON, a delegate to the twenty-third annual convention of the American Federation of Labor says that in the mills of the Steel Trust "no man can now find employment who can not pass a severe physical examination. The average output of work required of each man has been raised, so that only men of unusual skill and strength can retain their jobs."

THE "Progress and Labor" department of the New York Evening Journal prints a comparative table of wages paid by trusts, and calls attention to the fact that the nine men who stand at the head of the American Federation of Labor receive no more pay in a whole year than the Standard Oil Company's attorney, S. C. T. DODD, receives in a month. The aggregate per annum of the nine Federation officials referred to is $15,000, while that of nine trust officials is $800,000.

A Long-Felt Want.

The trades unions of Washington are prosperous and progressive, but in one respect they are behind those of some other cities. We have reference to the matter of education. For instance, next Sunday Baltimore Typographical Union, No. 12, inaugurates its annual course of free lectures on economic subjects. On that occasion, we are informed, Maj. RICHARD M. VENABLE, professor of general jurisprudence at the University of Maryland, will discuss the subject of "Trusts." Last winter the following subjects were reviewed: "Political Economy," "Socialism," "Trusts and Their Development," and "Taxation." Why would not such a course meet with popular approval in Washington and add to the prestige of the labor movement? As we have before suggested, it would be comparatively easy to secure the help of men of national prominence, and able men from the ranks of labor would be glad to contribute to the success of a Washington lyceum of organized labor.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM.

As there is a long session of Congress in front of us and many of the old members of the Columbia Union Debating Society are on the night forces, it has been suggested that the society be revived, in order to permit a renewal of the forensic display and profound discussions which in former years made the Typographical Temple heave and gasp with suppressed emotion from the concreted basement to the corrugated-steel ceiling, recollections of which come back to me like those of the ambitious days of youth and the first time I ever went to a circus. The advantage which the education of the debating society gave to its members is evident in the large number of them who have been elected to or defeated for office in the Union, not to mention the unsatisfied ambitions that are yet being nurtured and fondled in several undaunted hearts. Now, if you want a debating society, get together (after the races are over) and organize. I'll have none of it; I'm too busy. Besides, my itch for office has been scratched.

* * * *

I feel under the deepest obligations to chapel correspondents for kindly words written of my bantam in the Typographical Journal. Story-telling to appreciative listeners is a delightful recreation.

* * * *

The artistic or inartistic appearance of "ads" in the great newspapers in these days is neither to the credit nor discredit of "ad" hands, as a rule, for they are usually designed by that extraordinary product of modern business methods, the "ad writer," in whom artistic conceptions are rarely developed. The display lines are marked to go in certain types, and the taste of the compositor is brought into about as much play as is that of the man who sets paving stones or the other one who cords wood. He who can do the most of it is the best "ad" hand.

* * * *

William S. Brooks, who died last Thursday morning, will be much missed among his old associates of the Record, with which he was connected for so many years as imposer, being particularly efficient and faithful in a position that at times made heavy demands on him. He was ever good-natured, his happy disposition always finding a jolly word for every one, and if he had any malice in him he had a way of concealing the fact that prevented it from becoming a vice. He had served his apprenticeship in the office, had served his country as a sailor during the War of 1861 65, and was always a firm consistent union man. His disease was typhoid pneumonia, which, after a duration of about five weeks, carried him off, at the age of 63. His funeral was at St. Aloysius Church last Saturday morning, and was largely attended by the friends of his lifetime.

* * * *

There has been a good deal of jesting on the subject by various correspondents and many tentative nominations of lady members of Columbia Union for delegate to St. Louis have been made, but we have a real, bona fide lady candidate in the person of Miss Anna Wilson, of the Specifications Division, and she is going into the campaign with the intention of winning if she can. While as a rule our lady members do not take a very active part personally in the business of the Union, they are with us heart and soul, and those of them who have had duties delegated to them have always performed them to the entire satisfaction of the membership. Among these is Miss Wilson, who, besides, is one of the leading spirits in the Women's Auxiliary, that is such a valuable ally of the Union in many ways, and especially in the good work of seeing that the money earned by union printers is not expended for non-union-made goods. With a membership in the Union of over fifty, the ladies are entitled to recognition as potent factors in that organization, and what more graceful recognition of their value as unionists can be given than to elect one of their number as a delegate to St. Louis, and what argument can be made against it other than some big-fisted, brawny, tireless-jawed, round-shouldered, capacious-stomached man wants the job?

* * * *

Now that my friend Pafflow has become a Cascaret himself, he does not continue his inquiry as to the significance of the term. He realizes its meaning.

* * * *

There was considerable argument in the Union last Sunday concering the methods to be adopted of informing the membership of what business men are regarded as unfair to labor and unworthy of the patronage of workingmen, it being conceded that a large percentage of the membership do not attend Union meetings, and that the hall would not hold half of them if they did attend. The best method of keeping informed as to do the doings of the Union for those who do not attend meetings is to subscribe for and read THE TRADES UNIONIST, which always contains a full report of the proceedings. No man can expect to keep informed on what most vitally concerns him, namely, the business of the Union, who does not read the papers devoted to the craft, and he is a poor unionist who does not do so. As to fining members for buying of unfair dealers, I never did believe in that. If a man is a union man at heart, he will obey the commands and edicts of the Union, and if he is not, he is the kind of man who would enjoy sneaking into a scab store and buying surreptitiously. You can't fine skunks into smelling like ottar of roses.

* * * *

Not the least of the advantages of being employed in the G. P. O. is the privilege of belonging to one or a couple (I believe that they all limit membership to two) of the sick relief societies, of which there are five or six. None of us think we are in any danger of becoming seriously ill, of course, but every once in a while it happens, and then we go into the mud, for there are very few of us who can stand six weeks' illness (the length of the sick relief beneficial period) without getting hopelessly into debt—if we are able to do so—or asking to have the hat passed, which is always a humiliating thing, while one can accept his sick relief benefits with a good grace as something he has paid for. Now is the time to subscribe.

* * * *

The only object employers can have in insisting on the "open shop" is to have on hand a nucleus of scabs with which to keep going until a strike can be broken in time of disagreement. The "open shop" is the scab shop; there is no other definition of it. Trades unionists can make the worst scab shop in existence an "open shop" by permitting there members to go to work there, "under cover" if necessary. He has a poor idea of the decencies of life who puts the scab or willful non-unionist on a par in the scale of honesty and honor with union men. A traitor is a traitor, however much interested parties may indorse his treachery, and he who does not stand with his fellow-workers in the struggle for improved conditions and a fairer share of the products of labor is a traitor compared with whom a mere political traitor is a man of honor, the latter not being regarded as a criminal by international law.

* * * *

The beautiful testimonial of their sympathy sent by the employes of the Third Division to their late foreman, W. H. Hickman, who has for several months languished on a bed of sickness, is an evidence of the genuine affection in which they hold him. Chrysanthemums of every hue and size were arranged about his room, interspersed with carnations, while accompanying the flowers were bottles and jars of good things. The occasion was his sixty-second birthday.

* * * *

Alec Allison, who went from here a year or so ago to work in the Philippine Government Printing Office, is now a custom officer in charge of a district in northern Luzon, covering about 60 miles of coast line, and he has more than 100 subordinates under his control, a steam launch, and is having a L. O. Va. time generally—as I gather from a recent letter from him that I was permitted to read.

* * * *

The memorial services of Columbia Union will be held on Sunday, December 6, as reported by the committee placed in charge of the subject, at the Typographical Temple, for which occasion an orchestra, a vocal quartette, and speakers will be provided. It is a beautiful custom to thus meet in memory of those gone before, and I hope that it will be made a permanent feature of Columbia Union.

* * * *

I am sorry that the debate on the subject of Socialism has expired so ingloriously, probably without a convert either way, but I am sure that the readers of THE TRADES UNIONIST will not blame me. Notwithstanding all my efforts the Socialists will go on being pizen Socialists and the anti-Socialists will go on being rabid Individualists, the one side convinced that the other is composed of moral cutthroats and scoundrels, and the other side satisfied that the one side is composed of miserable visionaries who would rob their fellow-men if they had a chance. Naught has been accomplished, when I had my heart set on such an exposition of the case that at the end of it we would all be of one way of thinking. Thus are our dearest hopes dashed to the gronnd.

A. F. BLOOMER.

A NUT PARTY.

A nut party was held at the residence of a comp. recently, who sprung the following on the company before adjourning:

NUTS TO CRACK.

Walnut meat am good to eat,
Nigger-toe am fine,
A'monds dev am good in cake,
Filberts am divine.

Ches'nuts am de nuts to bake
Since good ole col'ny time,
An' butternuts—yum yumme—
Babe eats dem 'till she's blin'.

Shagbark nuts am hard to get,
But dem I wouldn't miss;
While 'can nuts come easier,
An' taste like Dinah's kiss.

But ob all de nuts dat grow on trees,
On bushes or on vine,
De gober am de bery bes'—
So give me dat fo' mine.

—A.

In purchasing goods from advertisers in this paper, do not fail to mention the fact that you saw the advertisement in THE TRADES UNIONIST.

FOR THE BEST--
READY-TO-WEAR
—FOR—
Man, Woman and Child
AT THE MOST REASONABLE PRICES,
CONSULT—
Parker, Bridget & Co.,
Washington's Leading Outfitters, ...
Pa. Ave. and 9th St. N. W.

Union Made Cigars
OF THE FINEST QUALITY.
Pluck 5¢ | ARMY & NAVY 10¢
AFTER DINNER 5¢ | DEER HEAD 10¢
Henry T. Offterdinger, Manufacturer
504 Ninth St., N.W.

WASHINGTON JOCKEY CLUB
RACE COURSE AT BENNINGS D.C.
RACING
Autumn Meeting
NOVEMBER 16 TO DECEMBER 5
SIX RACES DAILY
Electric cars and Pennsylvania R. R. direct to track

ARLINGTON BREWING CO.
ROSSLYN, VA.
BEER ALE PORTER
The Finest Productions of Skilled Union Labor. Union Label on Every Bottle and Keg of Our Goods.

THE BELVIDERE
One of the swellest
OVERCOATS
ever offered, shown in various lengths, detachable belt, extra broad shoulders, with full back, but draped correctly so as to give that ultra fashionable effect so often lacking in other makes.
We show this garment in many different fabrics and colorings. They are all lined with the best grade princess serge and satin sleeve lining, which is guaranteed by the makers, to wear two seasons—in fact, the best value ever offered at $12.50
THE
BIEBER-KAUFMAN CO.
Masculine Outfitters, Childhood to Old Age.
ONE PRICE MONEY BACK
901-909 EIGHTH ST. SOUTHEAST
"WALK-OVER" SHOES FOR MEN—UNION MADE.

Our Specialty
IS A BUSINESS SUIT FOR $25
We claim, and verify our assertion by producing the goods, that no other concern gives the same value in materials and workmanship for the price. Our Twenty-five Dollar Suits are made by the same Skilled Union Workmen that make our higher grade garments. Come in, look through our line and be convinced that this special is a winner. Respectfully,
T. E. GILBERT, Importer and Tailor
818 F Street Northwest

Does your bartender wear one of these Blue Buttons?
If not, WHY NOT?
THIS CARD INDICATES A
Hotel and Restaurant Employes International Alliance
Bartenders International League of America
AFFILIATED WITH AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR
RECOGNIZES THIS BAR AS A
UNION BAR
AND WORTHY THE SUPPORT OF ORGANIZED LABOR

BUCKLEY
The Tailor
The man who knows how to build clothes asks for a trial order. His Banner Suit at $20 in the Latest Materials.
1343 F STREET N. W.
ON SECOND FLOOR

Attention
If you want to be treated square and save $5.00 fine, call on M. LEVITAN, Civil and Military Tailor, for a fall suit.
Union Label in every Garment
1409 G ST. N. W.

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES
OF
Columbia Typographical Union,
No. 101.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, 423 G ST. N. W.
Office Hours: 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.; 5 to 7 P. M.

OFFICERS.

JOE M. JOHNSON.....President
DAN C. VAUGHAN.....Vice-President
WM. M. GARRETT.....Secretary
JOHN R. BERG.....Treasurer
FRANK BATES.....Sergeant-at-Arms
N. C. STOOPS.....Doorkeeper

TRUSTEES—J. E. Bright, chairman; W. L. Gutelius, Chas. C. Thompson, Joe M. Johnson, and Wm. M. Garrett.

DELEGATES TO CENTRAL LABOR UNION—J. H. Babcock, chairman; J. B. Dickman, Hugh Everett, Theodore Gerber, and C. E. Dietrich.

DELEGATES TO ALLIED TRADES COUNCIL—E. E. Calhoon, chairman; T. F. Hall, and J. P. Garner.

AUDITORS—C. W. Radley, chairman; H. G. Brown, and J. W. Carter.

COMMITTEES.

BUSINESS—Zach T. Jenkins, chairman; C. B. Yater, M. J. Maher, T. C. Parsons, and R. W. Burnside.

NOMINATIONS—W. N. Brockwell, chairman; F. A. Kidd, H. O'Donnell, Frank M. Hatley, and R. E. Stenner.

LAWS—Chas. H. Ennis, chairman; Raymond Gery, and Dexter S. Hussey.

FINANCE—John A. Huston, chairman; J. M. McLaughlin, and R. F. Chisholm.

PRINTING—T. A. Bynum, chairman; Milo Shanks, and Ed. J. Hall.

GRIEVANCE—Clint O. Price, chairman; Chas. S. Gunn, Philip Nachman, David J. Snyder, and E. Y. Fisher.

ENTERTAINMENT—T. L. Jones, chairman; J. R. Purvis, T. J. Fitzwilliam, Miss Nellie Theaker, Miss Anna Wilson, B. E. Harrison, and W. J. Harris.

CONFERENCE—J. L. Holland, chairman; D. J. Hegarty, and W. B. Shaw.

LIBRARY—Clyde J. Sheriff, chairman; A. E. Ogg, and Harry Essex.

RELIEF—Joseph G. Stelle, chairman; Wm. S. Schinnerer and E. P. Cummins.

EIGHT-HOUR—F C. Roberts, chairman; F. B. Crown, F. D. Seiffert, Jeff Newlon, and S. H. Willey.

MEMORIAL SERVICE—S. J. Gompers, chairman; Philip S. Steele, J. E. Goodkey, J. B. Dickman, and C. B. Yater.

AMOS J. CUMMINGS MEMORIAL—J. T. Rowe, chairman; Charles T. Graff, and T. A. Bynum.

CHAIRMEN.

First Division—W. R. Love.
Second Division—D. J. Snyder.
Third Division—W. N. Goldstein.
Fourth Division—C. E. Dietrich.
Fifth Division—Charles H. Gove.
Sixth Division—E. M. Nevils.
Job Room—J. K. Davison.
Record Clerks' Division—H. G. Brown
First Division, Night—Allen Cowles.
Night Proof Room—E. H. Thomas.
Specification Room—F. H. Melick.
Official Gazette—E. G. Myers.
Document Proof Room—Jas. R. Armstrong.
Treasury Division—W. Brice Coston.
Interior Division—C. K. Stribling.
State Division—J. B. Dickman.
Navy Department Division—Albert E. Ogg.
War Department Division—Wm. K. Miller.
Agricultural Division—Henry P. Slaughter.
Library Division—H. V. Bisbee.
Weather Bureau—L. H. Emmons.
Morning Post—J. H. Broderick
Evening Star—Joseph C. Whyte.
Evening Times—T. C. Parsons.
Law Reporter—J. R. Johnson.
Globe Printing Co.—R. A. Wilson.
Judd & Detweiler's—A. B. Barringer.
Wilkens Printing Co.—T. N. Surguy.
Pearson's—T. F. Monahan.
National Publishing Co.—E C. Owen.
McGill & Wallace's—J. M. Watts.
Byron S. Adams'—R. B. Boucher.
Army and Navy Register—C. H. Draeger.
General Postoffice—Joseph Williams.
Sudwarth's—F. R. Adams.

AROUND THE PRINTERIES.

Down Town.

How do you like the weather?

The Benning races are drawing large crowds.

The Post was forty-eight pages last Sunday.

Tom K. McNeir, of Annapolis, Md., is in town this week "looking them over."

Jerome Kendall, who served two years in the Government Printing Office at Manila, Philippine Islands, and who has been visiting his parents, at Ravenswood, W. Va., for the past two weeks returned to Washington last Sunday. Mr. Kendall has been reinstated in the G. P. O. and assigned to the First Division.

We are indebted to the Colorado Springs (Col.) Labor News for the following items:

Adrian M. Jones, late of the Gazette, left for Los Angeles, Cal., Sunday night.

J. H. Schoepf, I. T. U. delegate from Washington, D. C., to Syracuse, N. Y., but now located at Cincinnati, Ohio, was in our city last week, having brought his wife here for the benefit of her health.

Miss Sadie E. Foley, who has been living in this city since June, returned to Denver to-day, where she will spend the winter. While here she put in four months of camp life at "Camp Columbia, No, 101," on Knob Hill.

At the Union meeting last Sunday President Joe Johnson announced the resignation of Z. T. Jenkins as chairman of the Business Committee, the promotion of M. J. Maher, of the Star, to the chairmanship, and the addition of R. A. Julian to the committee. Mr. Jenkins accepted the chairmanship last spring with the distinct understanding that he would have to give it up at the assembling of Congress, because his duties require his presence at the office at 6 p. m. and he is therefore unable to attend the meetings of the committee. The Union loses the services of an able, cool, level-headed chairman by the resignation of Mr. Jenkins, but Mr. Maher will undoubtedly prove a worthy successor.

Nicely furnished parlor floor; rooms for gentlemen. 222 G street northwest.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

Third Division.

C. C. Hipkins is on leave.

W. D. Morgan is off sick.

Johnny Saunders is again with us.

Twelve temporary men are now on our rolls.

Johnson, our late italic man, is now on the regular list as Slug 43.

Miss Wilson will be a candidate for delegate and should be elested.

R. A. Julian has been appointed on the Business Committee of the Union.

Jas. E. Goodkey returned from a months' leave spent in Kentucky, where he went to vote.

Since the transfers to the night force noted in our last issue, the places of those transferred have been filled and six additional men have gone to work.

The genial old boy known to the craft from Maine to Texas as "Windy" Morgan went home sick Tuesday morning after working a short time. Let us hope it is nothing serious.

Everything is moving along smoothly and in a quiet, business-like way since our new foreman, Mr. Bass, took charge. Like the sailors on H. M. S. Pinafore, "We hope he'll find us clean, and attentive to our duty."

Hallock, of the time alley, came down Tuesday morning to report that there was smallpox in his house, and that he had been placed under quarantine with instructions to remain at home until the danger is over. Our sympathy goes out to Mr. Hallock, and we hope for his speedy release from his dangerous predicament.

The writer of these lines makes here his initial effort as a correspondent of this paper. He will strive to do injustice to none and to be fair to all, and asks his readers to remember that the fellows who write for these columns get their pay in the consciousness of doing their best. They also get cussed some, but that is the fate of those who strive for literary fame, we can't all be like Shakespeare or Simpson.

Mr. H. Newsom, former slug 42 of this Division and contributor to THE TRADES UNIONIST, and a "hot-air fiend" withal, relinquished his position as correspondent on being transferred to the Night Bill force. We shall miss his breezy remarks anent men and things; also his incessant demands on his neighbors to "close that window!" As Newsom put it, he came from the "southland," and he couldn't stand a draft (of air). Let it be remarked en passant, that if any air did get into the room, he could smell it if he couldn't see it. His friends hope that in his new location all will be warm and peaceful.

Ben A. Wolfe, of Houston, received a copy of the Ochiltree (Tex.) Star, last week, which is a wonder to behold. "Fiew," for few; "Ks. City;" "the-," with "ir" run over; "thor-" and "ns" run over; "seased;" "alass;" "we-" and "re" run over, are some of the peculiarities, and no dashes are used. If the columns are not full, they are just slugged out. An ad for the paper is displuyed in this proportion: "Subscribe FOR THE Star. 50c." Poor spelling, bad divisions, rotten punctuation and capitalization, no imposition, and awful display are some of the features. Ask Wolfe to let you see it. Here are some items: "We seen the smiling face of Bob Raymond in the burg the fore part of the week." "W. H, Stevens, the Villiage black smith has been off for a few days but is all OK. now and humering hot iron again." "The Gillian. Boys has just finished halling their bailed hay to W. H. Stevens, for his feed yard." "Every business Firme had ought to wake up and advertise," etc.

Monday, the 16th inst., was the sixty-second anniversary of the birth of W. H. Hickman, foreman of this division when it was known as the Second, in the old building. Mr. Hickman has been on leave of absence since the second day of July, but tangible testimony of the estimation in which he is held and the kindly feeling cherished toward him by the busy workers of this division was afforded by a testimony of remembrance tendered to him. The committee to whom was delegated the pleasant office of making a selection consisted of Messrs. R. M. Cheshire, Max J. Knoble, W. B. Johnson, R. A. Julian, H. F. J. Drake, and Chairman Wm. N. Goldstein. They decided upon an enormous bouquet of lovely chrysanthemums, sixty-two in number, betokening the annual mileposts of the recepient's life journey. In addition to this there was a large basket of tempting fruit, besides certain etceteras reputed to be mellow with age, but none the less appetizing and helpful to an invalid on that account. The presentation was made at the noon hour, the committee visiting Mr. Hickman's residence at that time being reinforced by Messrs. Kemon and Childress. Messrs. Bass and Sherman, who had also been designated, expressed their regrets at being unable to leave the office. Upon being thus assured of the unanimous wish on the part of the division that he be granted "many happy returns," Mr. Hickman was visibly affected, and it was some time before he could find words in which to express his thankful appreciation of the good wishes.

NEWS.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c

Treasury Division.

George O. Atkinson was transferred from this division to the Congressional Record last week.

E. T. Stephenson and Fred I. Nobles, of this division, are students at the Columbian University.

Mrs. Annie R. Jewett returned to work recently after an absence of some time on account of sickness.

Dr. W. J. Manning, who was for several years maker-up in this division, is now one of the imposers on the Night Bill Force.

Misses Augusta W. Russell and Annie Dillon were transferred here last week from the folding room of the main office.

Miss Frances R. Harkness, who has been employed here as a pressfeeder for quite a time, was dropped from the rolls last week, her time having expired.

Miss Mary I. Morgan, who has been with us a short while, is absent on account of critical illness. Her many friends here wish her a speedy recovery.

T. McMahon is spending his annual leave with his family at his old home in Columbus, Ohio. Mr. McMahon only gets home once a year, and all wish him a good time.

B. F. Hasson returned to work recently from a two weeks' trip spent among relatives and friends in Ohio. The weather was fine and Mr. Hasson reports a splendid time.

Benedict Kirsch returned to work recently from twenty days' leave. He and his wife spent the time with relatives and friends in Louisville, Ky. En route home they stopped off at Chattanooga, Tenn., and took in Lookout Mountain.

Miss Ellen A. Featherstone, a popular and attractive young lady of this division, who resides at Langdon, was agreeably surprised Saturday evening by a score or more of her friends, who assembled at her suburban home to celebrate her twenty-first birthday.

SUBSCRIBER.

Bindery Notes.

M. A. Quinn, who recently resigned, resumed work on Monday.

George A. O'Donnell, one of the old timers, came in again after an absence of about ten years.

Charlie Moore is selling tickets for a Jonadab entertainment. This is the organization in which you have three chances.

Tom Kelly has still the fire of youth about him. He appeared in the office the other day with a darling pair of canvas foot-wear.

Jake Faye, who was formerly a well-known dog fancier, has now opened a dancing school and it is rumored that he has kinks in his toes.

Little Willie Johnson was out when the Major called the other day and, sad to say, there was nothing doing in the refreshment line. Try again, Major.

Some of the ladies are greatly disturbed for fear their names will appear in this column. Don't fear, ladies, no name will be mentioned again unless accompanied by a photograph.

Berkeley and Conger went gunning the other day on Jim Kearney's farm at Laurel, Md., and though they were not very successful what they did shoot was found stored away in Berkeley's bag.

E. J. Roche, who is representing the Washington Central Labor Union at the A. F. of L. convention, introduced two resolutions which will doubtless be of great interest to his constituents. One was to secure a law of Congress prohibiting the making of United States mail bags in Trenton prison, and the other was recommending the placing of an educational clause in the immigration law.

Sam Wakefield, of the Union Building, surprised his friends by appearing suddenly before them with his hair in the style of a "Dunraven split." The comparisons from the fierce "scared hair" pompadour to the mild submissive Clarence curl, was at once noticeable. Don't lose the smile Sam or your identity will be entirely obliterated.

Fred Weber, of the Union Building, is somewhat concerned about his re-election to the Arbitration Committee for the coming year, as "Diamond Jack" (John Fox) bids fair to be "a rival worthy of foeman's steel." Most of the boys come up smiling, pledging "Jack" their votes as they are anxious to have him uncork his store of wisdom and show the committee "How an Arbitration Board ought to be run."

Harry Hobbs, of the Union Building, came in contact with a real live telephone on Monday last, and had a very miraculous escape. A friend called him up over the 'phone, and in the excitement "Hobby" stuck his ear into the transmitter, and at the same time attempted to swallow the receiver. The message intended for "Hobby's" head entered his stomach, and caused him great pain; but the foreman of the division, noticing "Hobby's" predicament, immediatels relieved the embarrassing situation.

The coming entertainment and ball, of Journeymen Bookbinders' Society, Local No. 4, of Washington, D. C., forecasts the coming event of the season. The arrangements are being consumated under the direction of a committee composed of Messrs. Kukart, Frailey, Taylor, Russell, Leonard, Welsh, Lowe, Duffy, Sivertsen, Burkhardt, Phillipps, Hambly, Flynn, and Warreson.

The committee have secured the finest talent obtainable.

After the entertainment and inviting and toothsome supper will be served under the direction of the Committee.

PASTE.

Try oyster pan roast, 10c. Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, North Capitol and G streets.

Union Shop Expert Massaging
Carl E. Wilson
Late of Palmer House Barber Shop, Chicago, Ill.
Four Chair Shop
Cor. Fourth and G Sts. N. W.
GUS AMBERG, Foreman — Formerly New York City
Shoe Parlor — All Shines 5c

The Savings possible at
S. Kann, Sons & Co.
8th St.—THE BUSY CORNER—Pa. Ave.
are such as may be counted in the pocket. At the same time styles and qualities are unexcelled.

The Drillery
Stenography, Typewriting, Bookkeeping, Telegraphy, Civil Service Preparation. Sessions daily, 9 a. m to 9 p. m.
Phone Main 2508-M — 1100 New York Ave. N. W

The "Man's Store."
Every other man in Washington is wearing a "Man's Store Make" Top-Coat or Rain Coat.
and those who don't wear them will wear them as soon as they find out how much better they are than any coats sold elsewhere for the same money.
A Stylish Little Top Coat for...$9.75
A Swagger Long Rain Coat for.$10.90
Busiest Season in Years in Suits.
D. J. KAUFMAN, 1005-7 Pa. Ave.

Woodward & Lothrop,
DEPARTMENT STORE.
TENTH, ELEVENTH, AND F STS. N. W.

THE PEOPLE'S CHURCH
Invites you to attend its services.
This is a Church without a creed, extending its fellowship to all who believe in better social conditions, in justice, here and now.
Services Sunday at 11.15 a. m., in Typographical Temple, 423 G Street Northwest.
Pastor: Rev. ALEX. KENT, 26 F Street N. W.
Come and Bring Your Friends.

WHERE THE HALF-TONES ARE MADE
THE NATIONAL ENGRAVING COMPANY.
INCORPORATED.
14th St. and Pa. Ave. Phone 1679 Main.

J. E. BONINI'S
BUFFET AND CAFÉ,
727-729 N. Capitol Street.
MAERZEN BEER ON TAP.
A first-class Lunch Counter. Sea food in season. Union throughout.

Phone East 644-A
DR. CARLETON VAUGHAN
Dentist
The Colcord, 310 East Capitol Street
Office Hours: 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.
Evenings: By Appointment

If you want to Save Your Money with 5 per cent interest; or want to Buy A Home on monthly payments
Deal with
AMERICAN B. AND L. ASS'N
S. C. HOLMES, Prest.
H. V. Easterling, V-Prest.
F. H. Riordan, Treas. Andrew Wilson, Atty.
W. J. Frizzell, Secy.
Phone 2026 — 907 G STREET — Open 9 to 5

THE RIGGS NATIONAL BANK
Of Washington, D. C.
Capital - - - $1,000,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits, 1,000,000
Exchange on England, Ireland, France and Germany. Letters of credit available in all foreign parts. Bank Collections. Orders for investments. Stocks and Bonds.

SEABOARD
AIR LINE RAILWAY
Offers the best service between Florida, the Southeast, or Southwest and Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and the East. Two daily through trains, with cafe dining cars and through Pullman sleepers.
Great inducements are offered to fruit growers and truckers in the Manatee country below the frost line in Florida. Send for a handsomely illustrated brochure.
EDWARD F. COST, Traffic Mgr.
CHAS. B. RYAN, Gen. Pass. Agt.
Portsmouth, Va.
W. E. CONKLYN, Gen. Agt. Pass. Dept.
1421 Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C.

GIDDINGS & STEELE,
Exclusive
Floor Coverings
813 PENNSYLVANIA AVE. N.W.

SHAFFER
Florist
14th and Eye Sts. Phone 2416 Main
1711 Pennsylvania Ave. Phone 1581 Main

PRINTERS and Union Members.—For First-Class Meals, Eat at
VICTOR CAFE, 3 H St. N. W.
ALBION, Eleventh and E Sts. N. W.
ERIN, Cor. N. J. Ave. and D St. N. W.
U. S. LUNCH ROOM, 320 12th St. N. W.
ALBERT T. SCANLAND, Prop.
Open Day and Night. Best Service.

M. S. JOHNSON,
MERCHANT TAILOR
Strictly Union Labor
1435 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.
Cor. Fifteenth St. (Corcoran Building)

A. & P. BEST ELGIN BUTTER, 27 CENTS.
Finest Grades of Teas and Coffees.
Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company,
Cor. 7th and E.

THOMAS WALSH
Formerly "Steve" Caldwell's.
Whiskies and Cigars
Specialties: MELVALE AND SHERWOOD
COOL LAGER BEER ON DRAUGHT.
BILLIARDS AND POOL
Billiards, 40c. per hour. Pool, 2½c. per cue.
THOMAS WALSH
407 Tenth St. Northwest

E. F. PRICE & CO.
Strongest flat opening blank book made.
Ruling and Binding of every description.
A Specialty of FINE BANK WORK.
BOOKBINDERS 1108 E St. N. W.

G. P. O. BICYCLE REPAIR CO.
ARTHUR D. BENNETT
MANAGER
Wheels stored, cleaned, and repaired (per month)..... $1.00
Wheels stored and cleaned (per month)..... .75
Wheels stored (per month)..... .50
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty
Bicycle Sundries
Salesroom, 33 H St. N. W.

300 1-lb. Loaves to the Barrel.
Every Laboring Man
—requires pure, wholesome, nourishing food such as is made of—
Cream Blend Flour
It not only makes THE BEST Bread, Rolls, Cake and Pastry, but more of them than other brands—therefore it's the cheapest that money can buy.
Your Grocer will supply you.
B. B. EARNSHAW & BRO., Wholesalers,
1105, 1107, 1109 11th Street S. E.
1000 and 1002 M Street S. E.

Cole & Swan
Large assortment of Watches, Diamonds, and Jewelry (we make and repair anything in this line).
"Square Dealing" our motto.
21 H Street N. W.

T. HOLLANDER
Men's Furnishings
Hats and Shoes
COR. N. CAPITOL AND H STS.
Opposite Government Printing Office

Is Your Wife
a member of the Tribe of Ben-Hur? Ask about a policy for her, costing but 19 cents per week, paying at age 30, $650; ten year annuity after age 70.
HENRY E. CROUCH, Deputy, 424 Fourth St. N. E.
ALBERT P. E. DOYLE, Scribe, 21 O St. N. E.

HOTEL FRITZ REUTER
Rathskeller and Restaurant.
COR. PA. AVE. AND JOHN MARSHALL PLACE
Phone: East 388.

Quality your security here.
CLARK & DAVENPORT
Examine our Large Stock of Furniture, Carpet and Draperies before purchasing.
1200, 1202, 1204 F Street N. W.

GEO. W. BARRY COAL CO.
Coal in any quantity at the right price and Wood also.
14-16 H N. E. One minute from G. P. O. Telephone East 234.

B. F. WARNER
FINE WINES and LIQUORS
BLUE LABEL CIGARS
1219 E Street Northwest

FOR LUNCH
TRY THE
Pure Dairy Lunch
935 D Street Northwest

DO YOU USE TOILET PAPER?
If so, investigate the service furnished by
R. P. Andrews & Co.,
INCORPORATED
627-629 LOUISIANA AVE. N. W.
THE WHOLESALE PAPER HOUSE
IT WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

THE UNION
SAVINGS BANK
BOND BUILDING
Cor. 14th St. and New York Ave. N.W.

Three Per Cent Interest
on Savings Accounts.

Branch Deposit Agency at
T. A. ROVER'S STORE,
Cor. North Capitol and H Sts.
OPEN EVERY MONDAY AND TUESDAY
FROM 4 TO 5 P. M.

When in doubt buy at
HOUSE & HERRMANN,
FURNITURE, CARPETS,
DRAPERIES, ETC.
N. E. Corner Seventh and I Streets N. W.

Don't Buy a Hat
Without the Label. .
And See that It Is Sewed In.

Don t Patronize a Dealer Who Has Loose Labels on Hand and Offers to Put One in Your Hat.
LOOSE LABELS
In Retail Stores
ARE COUNTERFEITS.
The John B. Stetson Co., of Philadelphia. Pa., is a non-union concern.

J. GEORGE SMITH
(Formerly a member of the firm of R. P. Andrews & Co.)
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
PAPER AND STATIONERY
My old friends and patrons from J. C. Addison's time to the present will be welcome. I can supply all your needs at lowest prices consistent with quality.
626 E STREET NORTHWEST

The Hub Furniture Co.,
The Stores that Save You Money.
OUR MOTTO—The Best Values in Furniture and Carpets at the Lowest Prices.
Cash or Credit.
HUB FURNITURE CO.,
(Formerly Wash B. Williams)
Corner Seventh and D Streets N. W.

Carriages Furnished for All Occasions — Phone East 327-M
JOHN ELBERT
Undertaker and Embalmer
54 H STREET N. W.

"Everyone knows how to find fault." No one has yet found fault with the
RELIABLE
The Gas Range for Summer Use
Washington Gas Light Co.
GAS APPLIANCE EXCHANGE

St. Asaph Commission Rooms,
Old Established and Reliable.
Trains leave Thirteen and one-half street and Pennsylvania avenue—Alexandria, Mt. Vernon, and Washington Railway—daily at 12.45, 1.05, 1.25, 2, 2.30, 3.02, and 3.30. Return .39, 4.24, 5.02, 5.58, and at various intervals.

CELTIC CLUB WHISKY
Our Specialty. Never Changes. Once Tried You'll Always Use It. Take No Substitute.
Ports and Sherries for family use, Quarts, 50 and 75 cents. All makes of Beer. Leading brands of Cigars. Ales and Porters on draught the year round.
JOHN CONNOR
New Jersey Ave. and G Sts. N. W.

J. WILLIAM LEE,
Undertaker and
Livery, . . .
322 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

RETAIL DRUG CLERKS, No. 240, AND THEIR FRIENDS DO NOT PATRONIZE
JOHN W. JENNINGS
DRUGGIST
1142 Connecticut Avenue
Now on Unfair List of Central Labor Union

Specification Notes.

W. A. Marschalk has returned from his new Kentucky home.

It is coming on to the time when even the ice man don't cut much ice.

The present issue will reach about 670 patents, outside of trade-marks and designs.

There are more kinds of people here with more kinds of sneezes than you'll find in any old snuff factory.

The promotion of Mr. Berg as foreman of the Record is regarded as a recognition of real merit.

Charles C. Koehl, messenger, has assumed the position of electrician, vice Fred W. Heneke, transferred to main office.

If the weather holds good and the teams can be spared and nothing happens to prevent it, we'll probably move Sunday.

George E. Pittman submitted to a surgical operation at Garfield Hospital last Saturday. We are glad to learn that he is now doing as well as could be expected.

Anticipating any delay of the work that might be occasioned by moving, and allowing for a holiday in sight, this force began a two nights' engagement and twelve-hour performance on Monday.

Miss Anna C. Wilson wishes it understood that she is in the race for delegate, and, indeed, has been for some time. If every kindly word were each a vote, she would now have enough and some to spare.

If any one should imagine that we're not busy let him seek the testimony of some of the new men recently transferred here, who at the end of three days of most strenuous service had not yet located the water-cooler.

The returns complete of those who subscribed to the Cummings' Memorial Fund in this chapel did not come up to the early estimates. About the best way after all to obtain volunteer contributions is by vote of the union.

The Fourth Division correspondent names David Pollock as one of the number transferred to this place, but as our friend has not yet shown up the presumption is that there was some mistake in the deal, and just as we thought we'd secured "a good hand."

Smalley, of the proof room, must have served on the election board at his home in Ohio, where he was so long detained, and when for some days it looked as if the exact Republican majority would not be determined before the usual time for spring plowing.

The Second Division correspondent, after using his sharp stick to prod some of the derelicts and giving them some good breezy samples, went back into his hole to laugh at the antics of those he had prodded. If you're alive, come out, and if you're not, say so.

We were all very sorry when Mr. Eccles decided to allow his valedictory to follow so closely upon his original purpose to combat the principles of Socialism. Just as he quit there was every prospect of a genuine revival in which Socialism would have gained immensely.

I rather suspect that those TRADE UNIONIST paragraphers referred to by your night bill force correspondent last week will consider themselves greatly complimented since favorable comparison is made with their work and that of The Washington Post paragrapher, who is everywhere regarded as a benefactor, in that he daily contributes to good digestion.

Some of those who were recently assigned to this force were never here before. When they declare that the style is something never before encountered by them and that it is actually "fierce," it simply corroborates what others have said, and we let it all pass, trusting that time will overcome their prejudices and make them so infatuated with the job that you couldn't drive them away with a club.

Very few are giving any considerable portion of their time trying to solve the problem of Ann's real age. The fact of the matter is we nearly all have our own 8-hour troubles, and besides, if we have any time to spare there are other and weightier question, such as the probable whereabouts of Dorsey Foutz, the race problem, the many-wives-Smoot controversy, and the Panama difficulty; and then it is pretty generally agreed that Ann's age is none of our blamed business anyhow.

Miss Clarissa B. Regan returned last Friday, having completed her annual leave, a greater portion of which was spent in New York City, which was reached by boat from Baltimore. This was her first view of the ocean and her first visit to the great metropolis, and yet her good opinion of St. Louis is unchanged, and for natural scenery she will not concede that anything out this way can compare with that vast stretch of country which lies west of the Mississippi.

We have the promise to the ear that beginning with our actual residence in the "Swamp" the Specification correspondence will be taken up by one whose writings have graced these columns in times past, and who, although a backslider, has never been counted as wholly lost or past redemption. The Specification force, in point of numbers, intelligence, and growing importance is a constituency of which any scribe may well be proud, and the established reputation of the prodigal elect is a sufficient guarantee that he will earn his money and that the interests of all will be looked after with intelligent and scroupulous care.

It is a step beyond the line of strict jurisdiction, but readers of these notes who seek to forget the perplexities of hours they put in during the week trying to solve the inventor's meaning of some knotty mechanical device would do well to turn their attention to the "Sunday Morning Talk by the Parson," in The Washington Post. The writer of these "tatks" may, or may not be a "parson," but it is no exaggeration to say that he covers more ground, or says more in the half-column space, which seems to be his fixed limit, than many clergymen are able to crowd into a sermon which calls for an hour's time in its delivery. It is much in little, and you will say so if you read it. There has been an attempt to decry the Sunday paper, but we must have the Post if we would have the sermon.

It will be nine years next Thursday since we moved from the old Printing Office to the Union Building. As we turn from these scenes to take up our place of former abode the retrospect is pleasing in many particulars, since long association here has resulted in more perfect friendships, which we hope will continue throughout the years to come. It may not seem out of place to refer at this time to those whose names have been added to the greater roster during the nine years, and whose demise was so much a matter of regret to each of us. The list is believed to be nearly complete, and is as follows: Henry Houghtaling, L. A. Gunder, Henry Webb, C.V. Juno, E. P. Evans, F T. Maloney, Amos Platt, T. B. Wood, Jacob Forney, Mrs. Wilson (nee Nellie Connell), John M. Test, W. E. Post, J. V. R. Towers, Arthur McNeely, John F. McDermot, Andrew Kiener, and James Shortall.

F. C. Roberts called Monday, and incidentally related some of his experiences in the vicinity of Wheeling, W. Va., where he has just concluded a three or four months' engagement as agent (or "walking delegate," if you choose,) of the American Federation of Labor in the settlement of some matters in controversy. We don't get it from Roberts himself, but those who know and are disposed to give him credit tell us that he is one of the most dilligent and successful men in the service, which means that being everywhere cordially received, both by employer and employe, he experiences little difficulty in bringing about a settlement alike honorable and satisfactory to both sides. On leaving Wheeling Mr. Roberts was presented with a beautiful gold fountain pen as a testimonial of good will and appreciation, and the newspapers of the town pelted him with notices decidedly complimentary.

FUDGE.

Take a course in Linotype Operating at the Washington Linotype School, 610 G street northwest. Two courses, $40 and $60. Wm. H. Stubbs (holder of speed record), instructor. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

The Horse—Here's to Him.

The Horse;—"Here's to that bundle of sentient nerves, with the heart of a woman, the eye of a gazelle, the courage of a gladiator, the docility of a slave, the proud carriage of a king, and the blind obedience of a soldier; the companion of the desert plain, that turns the moist furrows in the spring in order that all the world may have abundant harvest, that furnishes the sport of kings, that with blazing eye and distended nostril fearlessly leads our greatest generals through carnage and renown, whose blood furnishes one of the ingredients that go to make the ink in which all history is written, and who finally, in black trappings, pulls the humblest of us to the newly sodded threshold of eternity."—Rider and Driver.

The Advance of Labor.

"The Czar says that Russia is not ready for a Republic; that its people can not be organized. Put Roosevelt, or Cleveland, or Bryan at the head of twenty labor leaders whom I could select, and in one year they would organize the people of Russia and make them ready for self-government."

This tribute to the ability of some of the leaders of organized labor in the United States was paid by Louis Jackson, of New York, industrial commissioner of the Erie Railroad, in an address at a dinner of the Chicago Real Estate Board. Other speakers during the evening joined in his praise of union labor and union leaders.

Mr. Jackson's declaration of the power of labor leaders was prefaced by the following assertion:

"A few men at the head of the labor movement have organized a union of 1,000,000, and in time of national trouble they could organize as great an army for the national defense. To these men credit and reward is due.

"The factory bell of the big city should not ring before 8 a. m. Real estate men of the big cities should unite to this end. Then the laborer may have his little home in the suburb, will have time for his bath and his breakfast, and can get to his work in time. Then when he is asked to strike on a trivial issue he will consider his home and will be restrained from hasty action by the same influence that restrains the man who controls millions of invested capital."

Typos Select a World's Fair Day.

J. A. Jackson, President of the St. Louis Typographical Union, No. 8, and M. R. H. Witter, of the same union, and an ex-president of the International Typographical Union, called on Col. F. C. Culp, at St. Louis, recently, secretary of the committee on ceremonies of the fair, in regard to the selection of a day for the International Typographical Union at the World's Fair.

Wednesday, August 10, was selected, The day will come in the week in which the International Typographical Union is to hold its fiftieth annual convention.

President Jackson has appointed the following committee on arrangements for the entertainment of the visiting delegates to that convention, and also to arrange for the celebration of Typographical Union Day: M. R. H. Witter, chairman; Louis F. Fuchs, secretary; Jopseh A. Jackson, C. P. Connolly, Andrew Clark, Ed Springmeyer, Tom Costello, J. L. Claus, George B. Woods, O. P. Eads, jr., John H. Barnes, C. E. Robbins, M. W. Campbell, and George H. Buerkle.

Mr. Joseph Moser, for three terms President and Secretary of the Retail Clerks' Union, No. 262, and a member of the C. L. U., most cordially invites his friends to call on him at where he will be pleased to show them a complete line of Gent's Clothing, Furnishing, and Hats.

GROSNER'S, 1013 Penna. ave. N.W.,

Mr. Moser is one of the best known workers in the labor world and is now employed in a strictly Union House.

Don't forget that.

Pointed Paragraphs.

Chicago News.]

People seldom appreciate anything they can afford.

Love usually renders a man colorblind as to complexions.

Women seldom use religion as a cloak; it isn't fashionable enough.

If a play has a short run it usually means a long walk for the players.

Sometimes it is difficult to distinguish between contentment and laziness.

Some men trust to luck in this world, and some others are lucky to get trusted.

It's useless for some women to deny that they married for money after you see their husbands.

It isn't the shortcomings of a young man that the girl's father objects to; its his long stayings.

No true novelist allows his hero to patronize an elevator if the building is equipped with a fire escape.

A WAIL OF WOE.

Local Advertisers in the Los Angeles "Times" Are "Hollering Murder."

[Special Correspondence.]

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Nov. 12, 1903.—The Council of Labor is certainly making effective its boycott against the leading local advertisers in the Los Angeles Times. The latest wail of woe, printed in display type in the Times, which devotes a large portion of its space to denouncing labor organizations, is as follows:

"We are daily asked: 'Why do you allow the mailing of those lying cards, and not take action; certainly you are protected by law?" Yes, kind friends, we are protected. We have before us the legal opinion of the most eminent jurists in the United States, who gives it as his opinion that we can recover damages from individuals as well as unions. There arrived at our office three men who said: 'Take your advertisement out of the Times.' We said: 'This is a free country and we claim the right to advertise where we see returns for our money.' They said: 'You do as we say or we will have you boycotted.' The result you know. Boycott, abuse, villification, damnable lies, cartooning our dead, putting spying employes in our store—and all this because we advertise in the Times. But you ask why we are selected. The plan is simple. When we are conquered by abuse, or loss of trade, and go out of the Times, then the next large advertiser will be taken up, and then each one in succession, until every advertiser in the Times is withdrawn. We claim to be getting the hard knocks, but doing lots toward saving the other fellow."

Yes, you are getting "the hard knocks," and so long as you employ child labor, denounce labor organizations and advertise in the Los Angeles Times, you can expect no other treatment from the toilers.

Union men and women can continue the good work by encouraging the work of the various anti-Times committees throughout the United States and Canada.

Have you an anti-Times committee in your organization?

Representative Business Houses.
OF WASHINGTON, D. C.

The following wholesale and retail firms and professional men are friendly to Union Labor and are entitled to its patronage:

BANKS.
THE LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK, Safe Deposit Vaults, $2.50 up
CAPITAL LOAN GUARANTEE COMPANY, 602 F Street Northwest. Every one can borrow money without security.

BAKERS.
HOLMES & SON, Celebrated Home-Made Pies and Milk Bread. First and E Streets N. W. Phone East 864.

BOOTS AND SHOES.
CROCKER'S SHOES, 939 Pennsylvania Ave. N. W.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.
DANIEL LOUGHRAN, 1347 Pennsylvania Ave.
LUCHS & BRO., Wholesalers. Phone E 755.

COACH FINDINGS.
J. B. KENDALL, 485-87 Missouri avenue N. W.

CUTLERY AND SPORTING GOODS.
D. N. WALFORD, 625 and 909 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

DRY GOODS.
LANSBURGH & BROTHER, 420 to 426 7th St. N. W

DYER.
E. E. WHEATLEY, 1068 Jefferson Ave. N. W. Phone, West 117-Y.

ENGRAVERS.
THE MAURICE JOYCE ENGRAVING CO. Cuts and Illustrations. 418 11th street N. W

FIRE INSURANCE.
Insure with THE RIGGS FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY. FIREMEN'S INSURANCE COMPANY, Seventh St. and Louisiana Ave.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.
JULIUS LANSBURGH, Interocean Building, 512 Ninth St. N. W.

GAS FIXTURES, LAMPS, ETC.
C. A. MUDDIMAN & CO., 1204 G Street. 616 Twelfth Street. Phone 140.

GROCERIES.
LITTLE & PAGE, "Good things to eat." 1210 F St. N.W
W. C. ERGOOD, "Good goods at Ergoods." Corner Ninth and H Streets Northwest.

GROCER AND COFFEE ROASTER.
SOMERSET R. WATERS. 1342 Seventh Street Northwest, Corner O.

HARDWARE AND TOOLS.
RUDOLPH, WEST & CO., 1332 New York avenue northwest.

HUDSON'S VARIETY STORE.
B. F. HUDSON, 416 Seventh Street Northwest.

HATTERS AND FURRIERS.
JAMES Y. DAVIS' SONS, 1201 Pennsylvania Ave.
A. H. BURDINE, Union Overalls, Hats, and Gloves. Seventh Street and Virginia avenue southwest.

LIME, SAND, GRAVEL, CEMENT.
NATIONAL MORTAR COMPANY, Office: Room 9, Ralston Bldg., 612 F St. N. W. Office telephone: East 688.

LUMBER AND MILL WORK.
THOMAS R. RILEY, 13th St. and Ohio Ave.

MACHINISTS AND ENGINEERS,
FORSBERG & MURRAY, Pumps and Elevators. Engines and Boilers 8th and Water Sts. S. W.

PHARMACISTS.
LOUIS F. BRADLEY, Prescription Druggist. 8th and E Sts. S. E

PHOTO-LITHOGRAPHERS.
THE NORRIS PETERS CO., 458 and 460 Pennsylvania avenue N. W
ANDREW B. GRAHAM Lithographer, Photo-Lithographer, and Half-Tones. 1230 Pa. Ave. Phones: 1031-M, 1679-M

PIANO AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
E. E. DROOP & SONS, 925 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

PRINTING SUPPLIES.
NATIONAL PRINTER'S SUPPLY CO., Machine-made Rollers. 414 10th St. N. W.

RESTAURANT AND WINE ROOM.
JOHN M. BECKER, Opp. Navy Yard., Cor. 8th and Georgia Ave. S.E

SHAVING PARLORS
VINCENT R. CILENTO, 805 North Capitol Street.

TITLES TO REAL ESTATE.
LAWYERS' TITLE & GUARANTY INS. CO. 412 5th St. N. W.

WINES AND LIQUORS.
SAMUEL G. STEWART, Heurich Brewing Co's. beers and popular brands of whiskies. 1141 Seventh st. northwest, between L and M.
GEORGE W. DRIVER, 605 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

DO NOT WANT OUR PATRONAGE.

Following brands of cigars: Cinco, Cremo, George W. Childs, Henry George, Tom Moore, Robert Burns, and General Arthur.

The following firms have declared against the interest of Organized Labor and are not regarded as deserving their patronage:

NAME.	BUSINESS.	LOCATION.
Chevy Chase Railway and circle.	Street railway	Chevy Chase and Circle.
Keenan Bros	Gents' furnishers	Pa. ave. bet. 14th and 15th sts. and 523 Seventh st. n. w.
B. Solomon	Gents' furnisher	708 Seventh street n. w.
Rufus H. Darby	Printer	508 Fourteenth street n. w.
H. L. McQueen	Printer	1108 E street n. w.
N. Sickles (Nat'l Cigar Factory).	Cigar manufacturer	1011 Penna. avenue n. w.
E. Gundershiemer	Baker	516 Second street n.w. and stalls in Center Market.
Peter Grogan	Carpet dealer.	817 to 823 Seventh street n. w.
John H. Fitzgerald	Horseshoer	443 Prather's alley n. w.
S. S Daish	Coal and wood	Florida ave. and Third st. n.
Wilbur F. Nash	Meat dealer	Center and O st. Markets.
C. E. Hencke	Electrician	711 G street n. w.
National Mosaic Company	Mosaics	207 Fourth st. n. w.
M. Minster	Gents' furnisher	1343 F st. n. w.
A. Minster	Gents' furnisher	499 and 501 Penna. ave. n. w.
Cyrus B. Reese	Employing steamfitter	1519 Fourteenth street n. w.
C. A. Schneider & Sons	Union Iron Works	212 Twelfth street n. w.
Minster & Paterson	Gents' furnishers	1109 Pennsylvania ave. n. w.
Conrad Becker	Trunks and harness	1328 F st. n. w.
Home Ice Company	Ice	Twelfth and V sts. n. w.
Emil Wagner	Restaurant	210 Ninth st. n. w.
W. E. Carney	Cigar manufacturer	921 G st. n. w.
Nat'l Roller & Ball Bearing Co.	Machinery	33rd and K sts. n. w.
L. Rosenberg	Clothing and shoes.	911-913 Eighth st. s. e.
Corbin Thompson	Dairyman	Sharon Dairy, 324 B st. s. w.
S. D. Houck	Dealer in harness	301 Tenth street n. w.
M. Eisemann & Bro	Dry goods	1924-26 Pa. ave. and 806 7th n.w.
Elite Steam Laundry	Laundry	1205 G street n. w.
Benjamin Schwartz	Gents' furnisher and tailor	337 Pa. ave. s. e.
Emrich Beef Co	Meat Dealers
John Coleman	Horseshoer	1300 36th street n. w.
Hecht & Co	Dry Goods, etc.	517-519 Seventh street n. w.
Charles Rauscher	Caterer	Conn. ave. and L st. n. w
Academy of Music	Theater	Ninth and D streets n. w.
Lafayette Square Theater	Theater	16th st. and Pa. ave. n. w.
E. H. Snyder & Co	Tailors	1111 Pa. ave n. w.
Owen Owen	Tailor	423 Eleventh street n. w.
L. A. Downey	Tailor	433 Eleventh street n. w.
J. M. Stein & Co	Tailors	413 Eleventh street n. w.
J. D. Burns & Co	Tailors	701 Ninth street n. w.
J. F. Gatchel	Tailor	694 Thirteenth street n. w.
G. Warfield Simpson	Tailor	1208 F street n. w.
E. H. Catlin & Co	Machinists	407 13½ street n. w.
Thomas Somerville & Sons	Steam Fitters' Supplies	316 Thirteenth street n. w.
Joseph Mathv	Stove dealer and tin worker.	1918 Pennsyvania avenue.
William Meehan	Saloon	943 B street n. w.
Robert Lowe	Stone yard and mill	113 Third street s. w.
John W. Jennings	Druggist	1142 Connecticut avenue n. w.
E. Tapscott	Contractor
R. M. Leonard	Saloonist	1319 Seventh street n. w.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICIAL ORGAN CENTRAL LABOR UNION, WASHINGTON BRANCH, AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Vol. VIII. No. 24. WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1903. Price, 3 Cents.

THE CENTRAL LABOR UNION

Sheet Metal Workers Protest Against Work at Pension Bureau.

AMENDMENT TO CONSTITUTION

Several Unions Take Action Relative to Hecht & Co.—Contract Committee at Work on Several Firms—Amendment to the Constitution.

The regular weekly meeting of the Central Labor Union was called to order at 8 30 p. m., Vice President Lynch in the chair and Delegate Dietrich acting as secretary.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Bills for various items of expense referred to the auditing committee and ordered paid.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Journeymen Barber's Union, No. 235, stating that a fine of $5 will be placed on any member of that firm caught patronizing Hecht & Co.

From Bakery Wagon Drivers' Union, No. 33, stating that a fine will be imposed on any member of that union patronizing the Academy of Music or buying of Hecht & Co.

From Capital Lodge, No. 407, International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths, asking for information relative to affiliation with this body. Referred to secretary.

CALL OF UNIONS.

Columbia Lodge of Machinists reported that a fine of $2 would be imposed on any of their members found patronizing Hecht & Co.

Grocery Clerks called attention to unfair attitude of United Biscuit Co., and asked that their product be left severely alone.

Sheet Metal Workers stated that their union had entered a protest against unskilled labor being used in Bureau of Pensions on sheet metal work and asked indorsement of central body. It was ordered that the secretary lay the matter before the Secretary of the Interior.

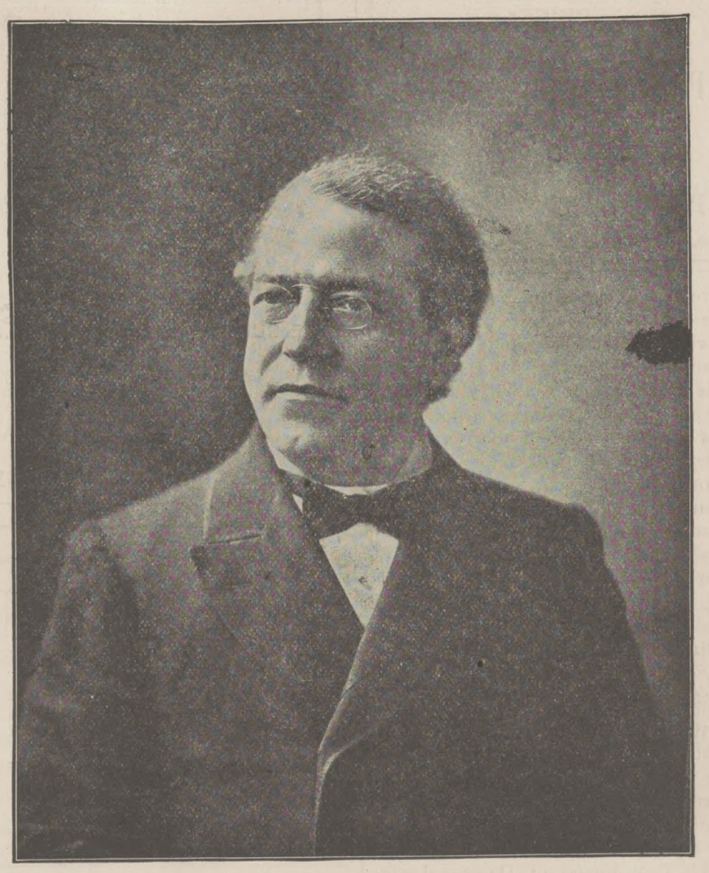
Sheet Metal Workers also called attention to their ball.

Theatrical Stage Employees called attention to unfair attitude of the several theaters on the unfair list.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Contract Committee reported that they had waited upon Chapin & Sacks Manufacturing Co., and had been unable to secure a Central Labor Union contract. They also reported that they had waited upon Mr. Rapley, of the National Theater, and had arranged for another conference.

The contract committee was directed to wait upon Chapin & Sacks Manufacturing Co. and secure a contract from them.



NEW BUSINESS.

Delegate Dickman submitted an amendment to the Constitution regarding representation, which was laid over under the rules. The amendment is as follows: Provided, That where three or more organizations have been chartered by an international or national union they shall form a council of that craft or calling, and the council shall elect five delegates, who shall represent the various unions of the council in the Central Labor Union, and to be their sole representatives of that trade or calling.

Adjourned.

A Mark of Esteem.

F. C. Roberts, a well-known member of Columbia Typographical Union, has returned to the city after an absence of nearly four months in West Virginia, where he has been doing service for the International Association of Machinists in the strike that has been in progress in the Ohio Valley for some time past. That Mr. Roberts was fully appreciated is evidenced by the reception given him on his departure, when he was presented with a handsome gold-handled fountain pen by the local lodge of machinists at Wheeling. Entering upon a struggle for the mastery between the employers and the I.A.M., Mr. Roberts made terms for a majority of the establishments near Wheeling and the trouble at that point is practically settled.

SAMUEL GOMPERS, Re-elected President American Federation of Labor.

THE A. F. OF L. CONVENTION

Gompers and Morrison Re-elected President and Secretary.

DECISIVE VOTE ON SOCIALISM

Miller Case Considered—Musicians and the Marine Band—Brewery Workers Denied Jurisdiction Over Engineers—Senators by Direct Vote Favored.

President Gompers and Secretary Morrison, of the American Federation of Labor, received a splendid indorsement at the hands of a convention that was the largest ever assembled since the formation of the American Federation of Labor twenty-three years ago.

It is an appropriate and fitting testimonial of the esteem in which they are held by their co-workers in the field of organized labor. The advance made by that great organization is largely due to the untiring zeal and energy displayed by these two officers in the performance of their duties in advancing the cause of labor throughout the country.

The eighth day of the convention brought out a flow of oratory occassioned by the report of the committee on resolutions on certain resolutions that indorsed the position of the Socialists in the labor movement.

It became necessary for President Gompers to order the galleries cleared on account of the interruption to the work of the convention by showing approval and disapproval on the part of the audience to the debate on hand.

Max Hayes being recognized by the chair, submitted the following as a substitute for the report of the committee on resolutions, which was adverse to the adoption of nine resolutions submitted by delegates, all bearing on Socialistic propositions:

"Resolved, Since wages can never be regarded as a full equivalent for labor's toil, this convention recommends that the workers use their political and economic influence along the lines of class interests to secure for labor the full product of its toil."

The chair ruled the substitute out of order, and an appeal being taken, the chair was sustained.

Debate was then had on the report of the committee on resolutions. Delegate Max Hayes made a strong plea for consideration of the resolutions by the convention. The debate was prolonged over until the ninth day of the convention, President Gompers closing the debate. In his closing remarks, President Gompers said:

"I want to tell you that I have studied your philosophy, read your economics, and not the meanest of them; studied your standard works, both in English and German; have not only read but studied them. I have heard your orators and watched the work of your movement the world over, the United States included. I have kept close watch on your doctrines for thirty years, have been closely associated with many of you, and know how you think and what you propose. I know, too, what you have up your sleeve.

"And I want to say that I am entirely at variance with your philosophy. I declare it to you, I am not only at variance with your doctrines, but your philosophy. Economically you are unsound, socially you are wrong, industrially you are an impossibility.

"I have abiding faith in the trades union movement and believe it must be the protector of the interests of labor to-day, and if emancipation is to come entirely some time it must be the trades unions that are going to do it."

The demonstration which followed the close of President Gompers' address continued several minutes.

On the vote being taken, the report of the committee was adopted—11,282 ayes; 2,185 nays.

A resolution was adopted to have the Executive Council consider the advisability of erecting a suitable office building in this city for headquarters.

A resolution requesting President Roosevelt to issue necessary orders to prevent competition of Marine Band with certain musicians was adopted.

The convention indorsed the Typefounders' strike, and pledged the moral support of the A. F. of L. in the struggle with the Trust founders.

The convention went on record in favor of woman suffrage and in the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people.

The committee on resolutions reported in favor of submitting testimony to the President of the United States against Miller and on the "open shop" question, and that if the charges brought against Miller are found to be true, either in whole or in part, a demand be made to the President for the dismissal of Miller from the Government service.

The committee's report being further amended by placing the convention on record as in favor of the union shops everywhere, the committee's report as amended was adopted.

The convention went on record as favoring the construction of an interoceanic canal with the employment of citizens of the United States instead of aliens.

The first question of trade jurisdiction came before the convention on the brewery workers claim to engineers in breweries. The convention decided against the brewery workers, going on record as favoring trade autonomy.

The convention, by agreement, took up the election of officers on the twelfth day.

President Gompers was placed in nomination for re-election by Delegate Kramer, who said, "that he was widely

[CONTINUED ON FOURTH PAGE]

FROM "CITY OF SUNSHINE"

A Recent Addition to "The Home" Writes an Interesting Letter.

STILL LOVES "THE OLD SWAMP"

Sunshine and Ozone—Washingtonians in Colorado—The Union Printers' Home a Grand Institution—No Limit as to Age Advised—Personal Mention.

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO.
November 18, 1903.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

With a promise from your many and able critics not to be to severe, I will try and give you a few lines from the "City of Sunshine," Colorado Springs, and I can state from experience that it well deserves this title, for old King Sol has shown with great force since I arrived here, with the exception of a very few days, and notwithstanding the fact that majestic Pike's Peak, which, from appearance, is only a few rods away, has insisted on wearing her cap of white at least nine months out of twelve, yet we even now have days warm enough for one to feel comfortable in his shirtsleeves in the little city below the Peak.

My trip from Washington, in company with E. W. Patton, who was making his final trip to the Springs as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Home, was one of much pleasure, and for the time being drove from my mind the well known fact (and those who are so fortunate as to have been there for any length of time must all agree) that dear old Washington and the "Swamp" are the only places worthy of mention on this mundane sphere—at least I think so now, and am frank to admit it.

The West, regarding its most beautiful mountain scenery, together with many miles of prairie land, sublime sunshine, and fresh, invigorating ozone, enjoys a national reputation, but——Colorado also has quite a supply of gold, coal, and other precious ores, but the underground "dog" at present refuses to "dig," unless the generous operators (?) come to terms, and if the trouble is not settled soon, it will put the State on the "bum" good and proper.

I severed my connection with the Government service and left there immediately, owing to my then fast decline in health, but wish to extend my appreciation to my many friends in the office and elsewhere for their most generous assistance in my behalf.

THE TRADES UNIONIST is a great paper, at least to us Washingtonians or "lungers," or "cons.," or whatever you choose to call us, who are colonized out here, and is read with great interest, ads and all.

I note many changes in the great print shop since my departure—reinstatements, removing from the old shop to the new, etc., and among the former I am pleased to see the names of several friends, Eugene Smith, David Pollock, et al., appearing. The boys in the G. P. O. think they have a hard taskmaster in Uncle Sam, but just "butt in" out here once and you will think he is "dead easy."

Among several Washingtonians who are "struck" on the climate out here and have decided to stay indefinitely are the following: Mr. A. J. E. Hubbard, formerly of THE TRADES UNIONIST, but now editor and proprietor of a neat little paper, run in the interest of organized labor, and known as the Labor News, and his wife; Carlos B. Tomlin, who recently finished his apprenticeship as a linotype operator on the Colorado Springs Telegraph, and yours truly, at present an inmate of the Home. Tomlin left the Springs a few days ago, ostensibly for Washington, but owing to the inclemency of Eastern weather, decided to anchor in Denver, where he expects to cause trouble for the intelligent compositor. "Kid" Shields is now shoving his pencil on the Denver News, and is spoken of as a prospective candidate for President of Denver union, and here's wishing him success, as he has filled that position in other unions with credit. Will Foley is an operator on the News, and has the reputation of being one of the swifts of said paper, as well as a good fellow. Miss Sadie Foley, who is well known in the G. P. O. pressroom, is also in Denver, and shows remarkable improvement in health since her arrival.

UNION PRINTERS HOME.

My ideas of this remarkable institution were very radical before I became enlightened on the subject, for I always imagined it to be a kind of hospital for imbeciles or drunkards, but I was most agreeably surprised to find entirely different condition of affairs, however, as it presents a magnificent appearance, both inward and outward, and the inmates, as a rule, are very refined and gentlemanly. The management is very thoroughly and efficiently conducted in the person of Mr Charles Deacon as superintendent and Mrs. Deacon as matron, each inmate receiving fair and impartial treatment, and at the same time allowed all privileges possible without injury to themselves or the institution. Last month's issue of the Typographical Journal contained an article bearing the signature of William Kennedy, of Chicago, agent for the Home, in which he gives his opinion of the object of the Home and the class and condition of inmates it should contain, and while a great many may share the same opinion, yet I do not believe it will meet with the approval of a majority of union printers throughout the country. He urges the drawing of an age limit, requiring applicants to be past the 50-year mark before being allowed admittance. Why not require that they shall all be octogenarians, and stipulate that they should have only one leg, one eye, and no arms at all before they are considered eligible? Of course, I quite agree with him regarding the assertion that "able-bodied young men should have more personal pride than to wish to receive the care and protection of the Home if they are physically able to earn a living or have any source of income," but I also think if the I. T. U. expects to maintain the Home they should make preparations for enlargement, because it is only a matter of time until the present quarters will be insufficient to accommodate them, as the pace set for the machine man is fast driving the weak ones into a state of ill-health, pulmonary troubles among them now becoming more prevalent than any other complaint, and this climate has undoubtedly given much relief to many of those who are here. I do not think even the 5 year limit law now in force a just one, because when a man joins the union he evidently has the interest of unionism at heart, and if he is so unfortunate as to become disabled early in life, he is all the more to be sympathized with and fully deserves all the assistance the union can give him, whether he has been a member one year or forty; but I will leave this subject for those more competent to discuss it than the writer.

The local union of this place will make a strong fight for the convention of 1905, and will produce very good arguments as to why that body should meet at Colorado Springs.

The sum of $49, realized from the game of baseball between Washington and Baltimore last summer for the benefit of the Home inmates has been received, and the rule of division applied as near as possible, each member drawing 35 and 40 cents, respectively, for which they return thanks to W. R. Love and the respective ball teams.

"Pard" Bloomer has many acquaintances, and many readers of his interesting items in THE TRADES UNIONIST, who are now domiciled in this institution, which is truly an honor to the I. T. U.

GEORGE D. COLQUITT.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c

Growth of the A. F. of L.

The following table, taken from Secretary Frank Morrison's official report, shows the financial growth of the American Federation of Labor from its inception, twenty-three years ago:

Year	Receipts.	Expense
1881	$174.95	$136.20
1882	125.00	252.25
1883	690.19	352.32
1884	336.22	365.07
1885	584.03	450.58
1886	474.11	510.63
1887	1,939.82	2,074.39
1888	4,512.55	3,933.67
1889	6,838.40	6,578.33
1890	23,849.74	21,070.57
1891	17,702.36	13,190.07
1892	17,834.51	18,324.69
1893	20,864.62	21,383.36
1894	15,346.43	17,302.08
1895	13,751.75	15,612.42
1896	16,290.18	15,452.95
1897	18,639.92	14,113.83
1898	18,894.15	19,197.17
1899	36,757.13	30,599.22
1900	71,125.82	68,373.39
1901	115,220.89	118,708.39
1902	154,498.21	119,086.74
1903	247,802.96	196,015.57

Columbia Union's Memorial Service

The committee from Columbia Typographical Union, No. 101, having in charge the memorial service for deceased members of the union, have made all arrangements for the service and prepared a program of exercises that will be impressive and suited to the occasion. As this will be the first service of its kind ever held by the Union the committee express the hope that all the members will endeavor to attend the service and show a mark of respect to the memory of departed members.

Owing to the limited seating capacity of the hall, none but adults will be admitted to the service.

The committee deserve credit for the able manner in which they have handled the work devolving upon them and there is no doubt but their services in this benificent work will be fully appreciated.

Try oyster pan roast, 10c. Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, North Capitol and G streets.

FRANK MORRISON, Re-elected Secretary American Federation of Labor

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Official Organ Central Labor Union and Allied Building Trades, A. F. of L.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

The Trades Unionist Publishing Company

E. W. PATTON.....President
A. J. E. HUBBARD.....Vice-President
T. M. RING.....Secretary

Office: 441-443 G Street Northwest.

TELEPHONE EAST 15 Y.

SUBSCRIPTION

One year (in advance) - - - - $1.00
Six months (in advance) - - - - .50

Entered at the Post-Office, Washington, D. C. as Second-Class Matter.

THE TRADES UNIONIST is heartily and unqualifiedly indorsed by the Central Labor Union and the Allied Building Trades as well as by the various locals connected with the two central bodies.

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL WASHINGTON. 2

Only Eight-Hour Union Office in Town.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1903.

THE prophetic goose-bone joke is in our midst.

POLITICS and trades-unionism will not mix.

To cut wages in two is to cut prosperity in two.

THE Trades and Labor Congress of Canada has 250,000 members.

DENMARK leads the old world in her percentage of workingmen in labor unions.

THERE are 139 women's labor unions in Great Britain with a total membership of 122,128.

THERE is so much to be said on both sides of every question that few questions have been settled.

AT the close of 1902 there were 1,183 trade unions in Great Britain with a total membership of 1,915,506.

THE Boot and Shoe Workers' International Union has increased 12,000 in membership during the past year.

IT IS said that Belgian co-operative societies have reduced the price of bread by one-half in the past two years.

PERHAPS Russia would suit PARRY better. Labor is unorganized in that country, and strikes are comparatively few.

AFTER a strike lasting a week the pressfeeders of Toledo, Ohio, have been granted an increase of 25 cents a day.

A RECENT football game ended in a riot. It has been our opinion for some time that more life should be injected into the game.

THE turkey doesn't necessarily feel safe as Thanksgiving approaches just because the farmer guarantee the neutrality of the barnyard.

THE Journeyman Stonecutters' Association, which recently voted against affiliation with the American Federation of Labor, will take another vote on the proposition.

IF CARRY NATION'S acting in "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" is equal to her performance off the stage the name of the play should be changed to "Seventeen Jags in a Barrel House."

ABOUT 4,000 employes of the South Metropolitan Gas Company of London, England, hold stock of the company to the value of nearly $600,000 They are all members of the Gas Workers' Union.

THERE was an engagement in the Philippines last week in which three hundred Moros were killed and the same number wounded. No Americans killed and only six wounded. Colombia take notice

IN 1902, 62,299 employes in Iowa were paid $26,660,004 in wages, or $430 each. What would have been the effect on prosperity if this sum, through a cut in wages or any other cause, had been reduced by, say, 25 per cent, or $6,665,001?

LEADERS of the German Socialist Party last year spent an aggregate of 51 years in prison and paid $4,200 in fines. They got even by taking the lead of the other half dozen or so parties in the German Empire and are still spellbinding as if the Kaiser was nothing more than a plain ordinary President of a Republic.

THE White House caller who asked for the payment of $200,000,000 simply illustrates the difference between the man of ordinary intellect and the great financier. Nearly every one has dreamed of riches which placed him several million dollars beyond the starvation point, but there is only an occasional heaven annointed genius who can profitably float his hallucinations in the shape of steel common.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM.

Meeting J. F. McCormick last Sunday, giving his family an outing in his "red devil," set me to thinking of the number of former employes of the G. P. O. who have been almost literally kicked into prosperity by being dismissed therefrom and thrown into a position where they had to show what there was in them, and I do not suppose that I know half of the instances.

The first one who comes to my mind is Dick Cronin, who set type for a number of years on Specifications so long ago that mighty few of his cotemporaries are living, and he himself has been dead a dozen or twenty years. On being "fired" he set up a cut-meat stand in the K Street Market and prosperity was his almost from the jump. When he died he owned a whole row of houses, besides other property—more than he would have accumulated had he stayed in the G. P. O. a hundred years.

Another one is Gen. George H. Harries, who was separated from the service in the first Benedict administration. He got a hustle on him, applied for work as a reporter on one of the city papers, showed from the drop of the flag that he was a newspaper man, was advanced, got into other things, acquired military rank, became vice-president of a street railroad, a member of the school board, secretary of the Board of Trade, and a few other things, all with salaries attached to them, and now he is one of the solid men of the city, without forgetting for a minute that he is a printer and without losing recollection of one of his old associates.

Then there is Dr. DeWitt C. Chadwick. True he was never "fired," but he suffered a reduction in position to which he would not consent, threw up what was left of his job, put up his shingle, and inside of a year he could not have afforded to swap incomes with a Congressman, and it has been growing ever since.

Another one is Charles W. Metzgar. Public Printer Benedict let him out about fifteen or sixteen years ago, and being unable to get reinstated he broke into "Newspaper Row" with such signal success that he has remained there when he might have returned to his former moorings, and the Congressional Directory shows him with a string of big newspapers following his name of which anybody might be proud, and which enable him to live better than a proofreader, judging from the quarter of the city in which he is domiciled.

And now we have John F. McCormick, less than one short year ago putting nicks next to his thumb, with an occasional flyer on a short horse as his only variations from the austerities of a G. P. O. printer's life, chasing around town in his red devil, with all sorts of clothes, putting on more dog than a vaudeville specialty artist, and all from selling real estate he does not own, buying houses that do not thereby become his property, lending money that he hasn't got, and collecting rents from tenants of houses of which he doesn't even own the keyhole.

But, notw thstanding I have thus shown that getting fired is the direct road to prosperity, I don't want any of it. I am a stand-patter.

* * * *

With the "Spess" located in the Swamp, after an absence of nine or ten years, business in that neighborhood will pick up, but I expect that if an honest man wants a drink any time after 4 30 p. m. he will have to go down town to get it or wait half an hour for his turn to come.

* * * *

Everybody's Magazine for December is terribly worried about the great amount of useless printing done at the Government Printing Office, but I am afraid that its wail would never reach the ears of the Solons of Congress who order this printing were it not for the assistance I am now giving it. I always strive to be helpful to my contemporaries.

* * * *

Sam Robinson, the Record messenger, is the oldest man on that reliable old rag in point of continuous service, being now in his twenty-third year, though there are others who were connected with it anterior to his time (myself among the number) who now have to do with it. The first Record messenger I remember was a yellow man named West (or "Wes" something or other), and he had a wagon to do his chasing in. Occasionally he had to drive a belated Senator or Member home in it after the b. S. or M. had got done reading proof on his speech. West was succeeded by big black Bill Winston, who died of consumption. Then Johnny Swiggard and Bob Noone took a throw at it. "Swiggins" later died of consumption also, but Bob, after being out in the cold, cold world for a long time, is now some sort of an electrical worker in the office. About this time Sam Robinson was discovered—some time in 1880—and later on Billy Madden was added to the force, and they are both at it yet. That is the history of the Record messengers as I recollect it.

* * * *

WHY STOPS THE MILL?

A little girl's arm was torn off in the —— Mill yesterday. She was caught in the belting, and the mill had to be stopped before she could be extracated.—Dispatch from a cotton mill town.

THE OWNER TO HIS SUPERINTENDENT.

Why stops the mill? Another brat?
Well, children are worth less than eggs.
Come, start up quick? What is it now?
They're always losing arms and legs.

An arm, eh? From the shoulder torn?
There's little chance to save her life?
So much the better! Who would want
A one-arm woman for a wife?

Sure when they're grown they must be wives!
Whence else comes children for my mill?
The father be employed instead?
You seem to be facetious, Bill!

For eighty cents a week no man
Will work; but he can children breed
And me them send, and thus can live!
Men's wages pay? Not I, indeed!

Start up the mill! I'll find the brats
As fast as you their bodies maim!
For those you kill I'll find you more;
There's very plenty whence these came!

* * * *

When I first knew "Spess" (and "none knew her but to love her") she occupied a little room off the old First Division room, about 20 by 40, in which about thirty compositors did all the work, being under charge of a man who ranked as a maker up—this was in 1874 '75—and I do not believe that she achieved the dignity of a foreman until she moved to the fourth floor, and then I think he was styled "assistant foreman in charge." This was some time in 1877, and John Eskew, well remembered by the old timers, was her first boss—all this as I remember it, for I don't want any of those old "Spess" jays calling me a liar and a horse thief. Now I am under the impression that she occupies pretty nearly all of the first floor of the old yellow ruin that used to be known as the Government Printing Office.

* * * *

I have received a copy of the Masonic Disciple, published weekly by Richard P. Evans, Esq., at the Stewart Building, corner of Sixth and D streets northwest, its publication day being Saturday. It is a sixteen page two-column paper, and it seems to cover its peculiar field very ably and well. As there about 6,000 Masons in the District of Colnmbia, there ought not to be any question as to its financial success, especially with as accomplished a gentleman and as well-known and profound a Mason as Mr. Evans at the head of it. The members of an institution ought to support amply a paper published in their interest, and they will undoubtedly do so when they learn what a good paper it is.

* * * *

Organized labor is still sending in its indorsements of William S. Waudby for Commissioner of Labor, and if that kind of "influence" has any influence at all it is impossible for him to fail to secure the appointment as soon as Commissioner Carroll D. Wright concludes some of the Bureau work that requires his own personal attention.

* * * *

Carlos B. Tomlin, who left here about a year ago for Colorado, for the benefit of his health, and who has been there ever since, returned to the city last Sunday night, much improved physically, and will probably remain with us. Recently he has been running a machine on a Colorado Springs paper. He says that George Colquitt is there, looking fine, and that A. J. E. Hubbard has built up quite a prosperous business with his labor paper. He made many visits to the Home and made the acquaintance of my old friends there, among them Billy Wade, John McKillop, O. B. Williams, and Ez Lewis, and he is loud in his praise of the splendid care Mrs. Deacon, the matron, takes of the old fellows, who run to her if they have a toothache or a painful corn, assured that they will receive not only her attention but her motherly sympathy. N. M. ("Buck") Adams, whom not a few in this bailiwick know, is now an inmate of the Home, but hopes to be soon able to go to work. Tomlin visited "Rube" Hardesty while in Colorado, and reports him as being in good health and as having increased his worldly wealth about 100 per cent during the four years since he went there, besides having a good paying paper at Fort Berthoud.

* * * *

John F. Birckhead, the Grand Tyler of the Grand Lodge of Masons of the District of Columbia and librarian of the Masonic Library, whom almost every Mason printer knew, died last Sunday of pneumonia, aged 59 years. He had been a Mason for thirty years and a Past Master of Dawson Lodge for twenty-five years.

* * * *

The Post last Monday had an interview with John L. Kennedy, the agent of the Merganthaler Company, regarding the installation of linotypes in the Government Printing Office. I do not suppose there is a man in the office, except a few of the class who used to be sure that you never can set type by machinery, who has doubted that sooner or later they will be used there, though a remark of mine to that effect two or three years ago caused sundry molasses gentlemen to threaten to take my card away for saying so. That the machines can do much of the work there in a sloppy, smudgy way no one doubts; but if they ever take the pains necessary to do it as well as it is done now it will not decrease the cost below hand work. Who can tell the hours that may have been spent bringing their specimen pages of bills, documents, and the Record to their present very respectable appearance? Let us not get frightened, boys and girls; they are not here yet.

Mr. Kennedy makes one suggestion that is very fair—that when the machines are introduced the hand compositors will be given the opportunity to learn them, and if the Union is in a position to take any stand in the matter it should be an insistence that the operators shall be chosen from the men employed in the office at the time of their introduction.

A. F. BLOOMER.

Promotions.

Mr. Theo. Hodes, who has for a number of years been assistant to Capt. W. R. Ramsey, foreman of Specifications in the Government Printing Office, has been placed in charge of the Official Gazette, which has been a part of the Specifications Division since its inception.

Mr. Geo. M. Ramsey, who has been employed in the press room of the Specification room, which has been under the jurisdiction of the foreman of the Specifications, Capt. W. R. Ramsey, has been given full charge of the press room. Mr. Ramsey has shown that he possesses the ability and efficiency for the position and it is another evidence that merit is fully recognized in his case.

In purchasing goods from advertisers in this paper, do not fail to mention the fact that you saw the advertisement in THE TRADES UNIONIST. It will accord you good treatment at the hand of the salesman, and incidentally help the paper.

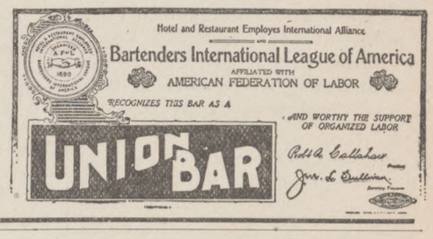
Bricklayers' Executive Committee.

John G. Wolfe, Chairman, 1023 New Jersey avenue northwest; William B. O'Conner, Secretary, 2353 Sherman avenue northwest; William Cronin, 1415 Thirty-sixth street northwest; Jos. Hutton, 809 F street southwest; E. F. McCollum, 4 I street northwest.

FOR THE BEST--
READY-TO-WEAR
—FOR—
Man, Woman and Child
AT THE MOST REASONABLE PRICES,
CONSULT—
Parker, Bridget & Co.,
Washington's Leading Outfitters, ...
Pa. Ave. and 9th St. N. W.

Union Made Cigars
OF THE FINEST QUALITY.
Pluck 5¢ | ARMY & NAVY 10¢
AFTER DINNER 5¢ | DEER HEAD 10¢
Henry T. Offterdinger, Manufacturer
504 Ninth St., N.W.

WASHINGTON JOCKEY CLUB
RACE COURSE AT BENNINGS D.C.
RACING
Autumn Meeting
NOVEMBER 16 TO DECEMBER 5
SIX RACES DAILY
Electric cars and Pennsylvania R. R. direct to track



ARLINGTON BREWING CO.
ROSSLYN, VA.
BEER ALE PORTER
The Finest Productions of Skilled Union Labor. Union Label on Every Bottle and Keg of Our Goods.

THE BELVIDERE
One of the swellest
OVERCOATS
ever offered, shown in various lengths, detachable belt, extra broad shoulders, with full back, but draped correctly so as to give that ultra fashionable effect so often lacking in other makes.
We show this garment in many different fabrics and colorings. They are all lined with the best grade princess serge and satin sleeve lining, which is guaranteed by the makers, to wear two seasons—in fact, the best value ever offered at $12.50
THE
BIEBER-KAUFMAN CO.
Masculine Outfitters, Childhood to Old Age.
ONE PRICE MONEY BACK
901-909 EIGHTH ST. SOUTHEAST
"WALK-OVER" SHOES FOR MEN—UNION MADE.

Our Specialty
IS A BUSINESS SUIT FOR $25
We claim, and verify our assertion by producing the goods, that no other concern gives the same value in materials and workmanship for the price. Our Twenty-five Dollar Suits are made by the same Skilled Union Workmen that make our higher grade garments. Come in, look through our line and be convinced that this special is a winner. Respectfully,
T. E. GILBERT, Importer and Tailor
818 F Street Northwest

Does your bartender wear one of these Blue Buttons?
If not, WHY NOT?
THIS CARD INDICATES A

BUCKLEY
The Tailor
The man who knows how to build clothes asks for a trial order. His Banner Suit at $20 in the Latest Materials.
1343 F STREET N. W.
ON SECOND FLOOR

Attention
If you want to be treated square and save $5.00 fine, call on M. LEVITAN, Civil and Military Tailor, for a fall suit.
Union Label in every Garment
1409 G ST. N. W.

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES
OF
Columbia Typographical Union,
No. 101.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, 423 G ST. N. W.
Office Hours: 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.; 5 to 7 P. M.

OFFICERS.

JOE M. JOHNSON.....President
DAN C. VAUGHAN.....Vice-President
WM. M. GARRETT.....Secretary
JOHN R. BERG.....Treasurer
FRANK BATES.....Sergeant-at-Arms
N. C. STOOPS.....Doorkeeper

TRUSTEES—J. E. Bright, chairman; W. L. Gutelius, Chas. C. Thompson, Joe M. Johnson, and Wm. M. Garrett.

DELEGATES TO CENTRAL LABOR UNION—J. H. Babcock, chairman; J. B. Dickman, Hugh Everett, Theodore Gerber, and C. E. Dietrich.

DELEGATES TO ALLIED TRADES COUNCIL—E. E. Calhoon, chairman; T. F. Hall, and J. P. Garner.

AUDITORS—C. W. Radley, chairman; H. G. Brown, and J. W. Carter.

COMMITTEES.

BUSINESS—M. J. Maher, chairman; C. B. Yater, T. C. Parsons, R. W. Burnside, and R. A. Julian.

NOMINATIONS—W. N. Brockwell, chairman F. A. Kidd, H. O'Donnell, Frank M. Hatley, and R. E. Stonner.

LAWS—Chas. H. Ennis, chairman; Raymond Gery, and Dexter S. Hussey.

FINANCE—John A. Huston, chairman; J. M. McLaughlin, and R. F. Chisholm.

PRINTING—T. A. Bynum, chairman; Milo Shanks, and Ed. J. Hall.

GRIEVANCE—Clint O. Price, chairman; Chas. S. Gunn, Philip Nachman, David J. Snyder, and E. Y. Fisher.

ENTERTAINMENT—T. L. Jones, chairman; J. R. Purvis, T. J. Fitzwilliam, Miss Nellie Theaker, Miss Anna Wilson, B. E. Harrison, and W. J. Harris.

CONFERENCE—J. L. Holland, chairman; D. J. Hegarty, and W. B. Shaw.

LIBRARY—Clyde J. Sheriff, chairman; A. E. Ogg, and Harry Essex.

RELIEF—Joseph G. Stelle, chairman; Wm. S. Schinnerer and E. P. Cummins.

EIGHT-HOUR—F. C. Roberts, chairman; F. B. Crown, F. D. Seiffert, Jeff Newlon, and S. H. Willey.

MEMORIAL SERVICE—S. J. Gompers, chairman; Philip S. Steele, J. E. Goodkey, J. B. Dickman, and C. B. Yater.

AMOS J. CUMMINGS MEMORIAL—J. T. Rowe, chairman; Charles T. Graff, and T. A. Bynum.

CHAIRMEN.

First Division—W. R. Love.
Second Division—D. J. Snyder.
Third Division—W. N. Goldstein.
Fourth Division—C. E. Dietrich.
Fifth Division—Charles H. Gove.
Sixth Division—E. M Nevils.
Job Room—J. K. Davison.
Record Clerks' Division—H. G. Brown
First Division, Night—Allen Cowles.
Night Proof Room—E. H. Thomas.
Specification Room—F. H. Melick.
Official Gazette—E. G. Myers.
Document Proof Room—Jas. R. Armstrong.
Treasury Division—W. Brice Coston.
Interior Division—C. K. Stribling.
State Division—J. B. Dickman.
Navy Department Division—Albert E. Ogg.
War Department Division—Wm. K. Miller.
Agricultural Division—Henry P. Slaughter.
Library Division—H. V. Bisbee.
Weather Bureau—L. H. Emmons.
Morning Post—J. H. Broderick
Evening Star—Joseph C. Whyte.
Evening Times—T. C. Parsons.
Law Reporter—J. R. Johnson.
Globe Printing Co.—R. A. Wilson.
Judd & Detweiler's—A. B. Barringer.
Wilkens Printing Co.—T. N. Surguy.
Pearson's—T. F. Monahan.
National Publishing Co.—E. C. Owen.
McGill & Wallace's—J. M. Watts.
Byron S. Adams'—R. B. Boucher.
Army and Navy Register—C. H. Draeger.
General Postoffice—Joseph Williams.
Sudwarth's—F. R. Adams.

AROUND THE PRINTERIES.

Notice.

The Woman's Auxiliary will hold their monthly meeting in the lodge room of Typographical Temple, Monday night, November 30, at 7.30 p. m. All members are requested to be in attendance as the nomination of officers for the ensuing year will take place.

Down Town.

Turkey, 22c. per.

J. W. McElhannon arrived in town last week.

"Dan" Webster is now an "ad" man on the Times.

C. C. Hipkins is a happy man—a new girl baby at his home.

R. D. Ivey has left the Post and is working on the Times.

Vic Sipos, of the Baltimore Herald, was in town this week. Benning.

Don't forget the Bookbinder's entertainment and ball, January 20, 1904.

The large crowds in attendance at Benning is evidence of the popularity of this race track.

Owing to the fact of going to press Wednesday this week, several correspondents are omitted.

William Ryan, well known in this city as the proprietor of Ryan's Inn some ten years ago, is the leading man at the Empire this week in "The Little Church Around the Corner." Johnny Ryan, a son, is also in the cast. Billy says he is still "King."

The committee considering the reduction of dues of members of Columbia Union meets at the Temple at 2 30 p. m. every Sunday. The sessions are open to any member of the organization who desires to address the committee or to present any communication.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

Oysters in every style at R. A. Driscoll's, North Capitol and G streets. Overholt whisky, 10c.

Specification Notes.

The branch bank at Rover's will save us lots of car fare.

About a dozen new ones undertook the task this week.

The elevator is a thing of the past, and "side notes" also.

We keep tab on passing hours by the ding-dong of St. Aloysius.

The slug numbers have been changed again, owing to divorce from the "Side Show."

There would seem to be sufficient blue men with clubs around here to insure order.

Here's where the timekeeper earns his money and has a just claim for mileage fees.

Secretary French is about ready to tell us what the "divy" will be in the Union Mutual.

The electricians have not completed their work, and we are in the dark as to when they will.

Some of the cold-air cranks have a cold, and the windows are performing their allotted function.

It is so old-fashioned like to go to work by the whistle, and it is a convenience to know just when to quit.

We will probably earn our Thanksgiving turkey right here, but when and where we'll eat it is another matter.

The people who occupied this room before us took everything as they went, except the drinking cups, which were chained.

We would hardly know where we are at only for the familiar sneeze of Capt. Smoot and the pasteboard wardrobes.

Our office cat is a little black pickaninny creation, apparently not old enough to distinguish between right and wrong.

It is worth all the thing is worth now to pace up to the proof-room in quest of rings, and we have almost lost track of the chairman.

When the fact is permanently established that there is not a window frame for everybody we may look for a drop in temperature.

We meet men here in the Swamp now we meet years ago and those we are glad have not turned in their last take, as we had feared.

We have received some formal calls from the new building experts, and some day we hope to be so unbusy as to be able to return them.

"Gus" Laing started to drive a nail into one of the posts for a place to hang his coat, but this was before he knew the post was of iron.

"All hands" are extended in congratulation to George Ramsey, as the recognized head of the "Spess" press-room, with added perquisite.

Your regular correspondent has intimated to me that he will not have time to gather and prepare the usual weekly grist, and this is why I "butt in."

We are altogether too busy this week to pay any attention to the races, but there is consolation in the reflection that what is the bookmakers loss is our gain.

From the noise overhead we are constrained to think that the Knocker's Club is holding daily sessions, and that the grievance is something out of the ordinary.

We have an intimation that tickets will soon be offered for a prize which would make a pretty Christmas present, or the winner would be lucky to secure it for "keeps;" besides the object is a most worthy one.

The lunch vender tagged us down here from the Union Building, and another one claiming priority has laid some tempting things before us, and still another across the street has added a course or two, "dark or light," as an incentive.

It is a long walk from one end of this room to the other, and it has been suggested that valuable time might be saved by providing each member of the force with roller-skates and automobiles for the truck hands. There are all sorts of fool suggestions, by the way.

The understanding is that Mr. Hodes has been given charge of the "Side Show" force. Mr. Ramsey continues as foreman of Specifications, though relieved of that particular feature which has special reference to claims, and which has grown proportionally with specifications proper, and which today has the largest chapel membership of any in the Government Printing Office.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c

Proof Room Notes.

Mr. Daniel O'Connell, of the Night Proof Room, returned to work last week after a vacation of fifteen days.

Carlos B. Tomlin, a well-known reader in the Government Printing Office, who has been absent about two years in the West on account of his health, has returned to the city.

Work in the office is at its full limit. A considerable number worked last Sunday and Sunday night. This is quite a lift at this season of thanksgiving, with turkey at 25 cents a pound.

Dr. H. T. Schildroth, of the Night Proof Room, a well-known practitioner of medicine in this city and in Illinois, has been awarded a renewal of his license to practice in the District, after a retirement of several years on account of ill-health.

There is a proposition before Congress to increase the salary of the Public Printer to $6,000, and I sincerely hope that it will prevail. Other officials of no higher rank and vastly less responsibility receive that much, and the head of the Government Printing Office is equally worthy.

I have received the first number of the Masonic Disciple, R. P. Evans, editor. It is a splendid addition to local journalism, and fills a really long-felt gap. I note, however, that it does not bear the label. How is this, Bro. Evans? Organized labor is largely represented in the Masonic order.

The Federation of Labor did wisely in taking up the "open shop" incident of the Government Printing Office. It is an issue of vital interest and involves the essence of what unions are fighting for. The question is a peculiar one, it being altogether different from a private or corporation employer, because of the civil-service laws. But I fail to see how the Federation could have taken any other ground than it did take.

Hysterical women, with nothing to do and who are chasing a "mission," are moving their cohorts against the army canteen. They know no more about drinking in the army than so many turkeys, and yet they are opposing the united opinion of the most experienced commanders, who certainly have the welfare of the army at heart. All printers will deeply sympathize with the Hon. Mr. Bartholdt, M. C., himself a printer, and one who knows, in his desperate struggle for the canteen against the feminine phulanx.

The re-election of Mr. Gompers to the Presidency of the American Federation of Labor by a vote of 5 to 1 over Kreft marks a new epoch in the history of organized labor and is a well merited testimonial of confidence in Mr. Gomper's efficiency as a leader. Nor is the vote received by Mr. Kreft less complimentary to that gentleman. It is gratifying to note that there was nothing of a personal character involved in the contest, but that it was strictly a difference on principle between the pure and conservative unionists on the one side and the Socialists on the other. The issues are now clear cut and the opposing parties are lined up for a fight to the finish.

I was greatly shocked to see that J. L. Kennedy, a man who has been honored by our union and who asserts great affection for working men, is now lobbying Congress to have linotype machines introduced in the Government Printing Office. He well knows the havoc such an innovation would make among the members of 101, and in an effort to mitigate his treacherous conduct he has interviewed himself in the press, wherein he adds insult to injury by presupposing the ignorance of his readers as to the consequences of the introduction of the iron printers. His arguments in favor of the machines are baseless and untenable, as every well-informed Congressman knows. The machines are well adapted to newspapers and other ephemeral publications wherein accuracy and exactness is only a secondary consideration. The Government, however, considers painstaking correctness of primary importance, and a machine is yet to be invented to do such work profitably. The writer has played the Merganthaler piano for two years and knows whereof he speaks when he asserts that the introduction of typesetting machines in the national printery will result in a loss to the Government in the long run and a deterioration in the quality of the output. I am glad to see that such is also the view of Senator Morgan.

CHAS. W. PAFFLOW.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

Pointed Paragraphs.

Chicago News.]

What children need is more models and fewer critics.

Only the man who understands women admits that he doesn't.

Some live men remind us of dead ones who forgot to get buried.

Heed the teachings of adversity if you would avoid a second lesson.

Many a good woman can see where she might have been better looking.

An act of heroism is but temporary, while an act of charity is everlasting.

It's impossible to convince a lazy man that there is such a thing as easy work.

A woman's education is never completed until she acquires the title of grandmother.

Awe is the feeling with which one woman regards another who wears imported gowns.

Fortunate is the man who doesn't have one-half the troubles that his neighbors think he has.

Get Busy and Keep Busy.

After Congress adjourns there are always idle printers in town. This can be done away with by learning to operate a linotype. Operators are always in demand. Call at the Linotype School, 610 G street northwest, and see the names of people you know who are earning big wages as operators.

The "Man's Store."

Every other man in Washington is wearing a "Man's Store Make" Top-Coat or Rain Coat.

and those who don't wear them will wear them as soon as they find out how much better they are than any coats sold elsewhere for the same money.
A Stylish Little Top Coat for...$9.75
A Swagger Long Rain Coat for..$10.90
Busiest Season in Years in Suits.

D. J. KAUFMAN, 1005-7 Pa. Ave.

Union Shop — Expert Massaging
Carl E. Wilson
Late of Palmer House Barber Shop, Chicago, Ill.
Four Chair Shop
Cor. Fourth and G Sts. N. W.
GUS AMBERG, Foreman, Formerly New York City — Shoe Parlor All Shines 5c

A Course in Linotype Operating

And you will be prepared for emergencies. Have you a situation now? If so, put in your extra hours learning to operate the "Iron Printer".
The Washington Linotype School has a course for day workers as well as for those who labor at night.
If you wish to care for your own machine, the best instructor in the town is here.
Mr. William Stubbs is in charge of the operating course.
Visit the School. You will be welcome.
610 G STREET
Washington

The Drillery
Stenography, Typewriting, Bookkeeping, Telegraphy, Civil Service Preparation. Sessions daily, 9 a. m to 9 p. m.
Phone Main 2508-M — 1100 New York Ave. N. W

Goods kept in repair one year free.
FIVE STRONG POINTS
No excuse for a Union man leaving this store dissatisfied. We not only have the Garment Workers' label but a force of Union clerks to handle the largest assortment of ready-to-wear tailoring displayed in the city. Others ask $12 for our $7 goods and $20 for garments sold here at $12.
Union Label
Quality
Quantity
Low Price
Union Clerks
I. E. BLOCK
THE FAMOUS
423 Seventh St. N. W.

When You Are 70 Years Old
The Tribe of Ben Hur pays you one-tenth of the face value of your policy each year for 10 years. Ask about the accident clause.
HENRY E. CROUCH, Deputy, 424 Fourth St. N. E.
ALBERT P. E. DOYLE, Scribe, 21 O St. N. E.

Woodward & Lothrop,
DEPARTMENT STORE.
TENTH, ELEVENTH, AND F STS. N. W.

THE PEOPLE'S CHURCH
Invites you to attend its services.
This is a Church without a creed, extending its fellowship to all who believe in better social conditions, in justice, here and now.
Services Sunday at 11 15 a. m., in Typographical Temple, 423 G Street Northwest.
Pastor: Rev. ALEX. KENT, 26 F Street N. W.
Come and Bring Your Friends.

WHERE THE HALF-TONES ARE MADE
THE NATIONAL ENGRAVING COMPANY.
INCORPORATED.
14th St. and Pa. Ave. Phone 1679 Main.

J. E. BONINI'S
BUFFET AND CAFE,
727-729 N. Capitol Street.
MAERZEN BEER ON TAP.
A first-class Lunch Counter. Sea food in season. Union throughout.

Phone East 644-A
DR. CARLETON VAUGHAN
Dentist
The Colcord, 310 East Capitol Street
Office Hours: 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. — Evenings: By Appointment

If you want to Save Your Money with 5 per cent interest; or want to Buy A Home on monthly payments
Deal with
AMERICAN B. AND L. ASS'N
S. C. HOLMES, Prest.
H. V. Easterling, V-Prest.
F. H. Riordan, Treas. Andrew Wilson, Atty.
W. J. Frizzell, Secy.
Phone 2026 — 907 G STREET — Open 9 to 5

THE RIGGS NATIONAL BANK
Of Washington, D. C.
Capital - - - $1,000,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits, 1,000,000
Exchange on England, Ireland, France and Germany. Letters of credit available in all foreign parts. Bank Collections. Orders for investments. Stocks and Bonds.

GIDDINGS & STEELE,
Exclusive Floor Coverings
813 PENNSYLVANIA AVE. N.W.

SHAFFER
Florist
14th and Eye Sts. Phone 2416 Main — 1711 Penna. Ave. Phone 1581 Main

PRINTERS and Union Members.—For First-Class Meals, Eat at
VICTOR CAFE, 3 H St. N. W.
ALBION, Eleventh and E Sts. N. W.
ERIN, Cor. N. J. Ave and D St. N. W.
U. S. LUNCH ROOM, 320 12th St. N. W.
ALBERT T. SCANLAND, Prop.
Open Day and Night. — Best Service.

The Savings possible at
S. Kann, Sons & Co.
8th St.—THE BUSY CORNER—Pa. Ave.
are such as may be counted in the pocket. At the same time styles and qualities are unexcelled.

SEABOARD
AIR LINE RAILWAY
Offers the best service between Florida, the Southeast, or Southwest and Washington, Baltimore, Phila elphia, New York and the East. Two daily through trains, with cafe dining cars and through Pullman sleepers.
Great inducements are offered to fruit growers and truckers in the Manatee country below the frost line in Florida. Send for a handsomely illustrated brochure.
EDWARD F. COST, Traffic Mgr.
CHAS. B RYAN, Gen Pass. Agt.
Portsmouth, Va.
W. E. CONKLYN, Gen. Agt. Pass. Dept.
1421 Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C.

THOMAS WALSH
Formerly "Steve" Caldwell's.
Whiskies and Cigars
Specialties: MELVALE AND SHERWOOD
COOL LAGER BEER ON DRAUGHT.
BILLIARDS AND POOL
Billiards, 40c. per hour. Pool, 2½c. per cue.
THOMAS WALSH
407 Tenth St. Northwest

E. F. PRICE & CO.
Strongest flat opening blank book made.
Ruling and Binding of every description.
A Specialty of FINE BANK WORK.
BOOKBINDERS — 1108 E St. N. W.

G. P. O. BICYCLE REPAIR CO.
ARTHUR D. BENNETT
MANAGER
Wheels stored, cleaned, and repaired (per month)..... $1.00
Wheels stored and cleaned (per month).... .75
Wheels stored (per month)..... .50
Bicycle Repairing a Specialty
Bicycle Sundries
Salesroom, 33 H St. N. W.

300 1-lb. Loaves to the Barrel.
Every Laboring Man
—requires pure, wholesome, nourishing food such as is made of—
Cream Blend Flour
It not only makes THE BEST Bread, Rolls, Cake and Pastry, but more of them than other brands—therefore it's the cheapest that money can buy.
Your Grocer will supply you.
B. B. EARNSHAW & BRO., Wholesalers,
1105, 1107, 1109 11th Street S. E.
1000 and 1002 M Street S. E.

Cole & Swan
Large assortment of Watches, Diamonds, and Jewelry (we make and repair anything in this line).
"Square Dealing" our motto.
21 H Street N. W.

T. HOLLANDER
Men's Furnishings
Hats and Shoes
COR. N. CAPITOL AND H STS.
Opposite Government Printing Office

M. S. JOHNSON,
MERCHANT TAILOR
Strictly Union Labor
1435 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.
Cor. Fifteenth St. (Corcoran Building)

HOTEL FRITZ REUTER
Rathskeller and Restaurant.
COR. PA. AVE. AND JOHN MARSHALL PLACE
Phone: East 388.

Quality your security here.
CLARK & DAVENPORT
Examine our Large Stock of Furniture, Carpet and Draperies before purchasing.
1200, 1202, 1204 F Street N. W.

GEO. W. BARRY COAL CO.
Coal in any quantity at the right price and Wood also.
14-16 H N. E. — One minute from G. P. O. Telephone East 234.

B. F. WARNER
FINE WINES and LIQUORS
BLUE LABEL CIGARS
1219 E Street Northwest

FOR LUNCH
TRY THE
Pure Dairy Lunch
935 D Street Northwest

DO YOU USE TOILET PAPER?
If so, investigate the service furnished by
R. P. Andrews & Co.,
INCORPORATED
627-629 LOUISIANA AVE. N. W.
THE WHOLESALE PAPER HOUSE
IT WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

THE UNION
SAVINGS BANK
BOND BUILDING
Cor. 14th St. and New York Ave. N.W.

Three Per Cent Interest
on Savings Accounts.

Branch Deposit Agency at
T. A. ROVER'S STORE,
Cor. North Capitol and H Sts.
OPEN EVERY MONDAY AND TUESDAY
FROM 4 TO 5 P. M.

When in doubt buy at
HOUSE & HERRMANN,
FURNITURE, CARPETS, DRAPERIES, ETC.
N. E. Corner Seventh and I Streets N. W.

Don't Buy a Hat
Without the Label. .
And See that It Is Sewed In.

Don t Patronize a Dealer Who Has Loose Labels on Hand and Offers to Put One in Your Hat.
LOOSE LABELS
In Retail Stores
ARE COUNTERFEITS.
The John B. Stetson Co., of Philadelphia. Pa., is a non-union concern.

J. GEORGE SMITH
(Formerly a member of the firm of R. P. Andrews & Co.)
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
PAPER AND STATIONERY
My old friends and patrons from J. C. Addison's time to the present will be welcome. I can supply all your needs at lowest prices consistent with quality.
626 E STREET NORTHWEST

The Hub Furniture Co.,
The Stores that Save You Money.
OUR MOTTO—The Best Values in Furniture and Carpets at the Lowest Prices.
Cash or Credit.
HUB FURNITURE CO.,
(Formerly Wash B. Williams)
Corner Seventh and D Streets N. W.

Carriages Furnished for All Occasions
Phone East 327-M
JOHN ELBERT
Undertaker and Embalmer
54 H STREET N. W.

"Everyone knows how to find fault." No one has yet found fault with the
RELIABLE
The Gas Range for Summer Use
Washington Gas Light Co.
GAS APPLIANCE EXCHANGE

St. Asaph Commission Rooms,
Old Established and Reliable.
Trains leave Thirteen and one-half street and Pennsylvania avenue—Alexandria, Mt. Vernon, and Washington Railway—daily at 12.45, 1.05, 1.25, 2, 2.30, 3.02, and 3.30. Return .39, 4.24, 5.02, 5.58, and at various intervals.

CELTIC CLUB WHISKY
Our Specialty. Never Changes. Once Tried You'll Always Use It. Take No Substitute.
Ports and Sherries for family use, Quarts, 50 and 75 cents. All makes of Beer. Leading brands of Cigars. Ales and Porters on draught the year round.
JOHN CONNOR
New Jersey Ave. and G Sts. N. W.

J. WILLIAM LEE,
Undertaker and Livery, . . .
322 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W.

RETAIL DRUG CLERKS, No. 240, AND THEIR FRIENDS DO NOT PATRONIZE
JOHN W. JENNINGS
DRUGGIST
1142 Connecticut Avenue
Now on Unfair List of Central Labor Union

Union Directory.

TO SECRETARIES: Please notify this office of any change in officers' addresses, time or place of meeting. Corrections will be made quarterly.

American Federation of Labor—Headquarters, Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Sam'l Gompers, President. Frank Morrison, Secretary.

Allied Printing Trades Council meets last Thursday in the month at Typographical Temple. J. A. Wiedman, Secretary-Treasurer, 15 I street northeast.

Allied Label League meets every Friday night at 8 o'clock at 905 E street northwest. C. A. Pfau, Secretary, 905 E street northwest

Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, Local No. 148, meets second and fourth Thursday evenings at 922 Pa. avenue northwest. Geo. Bakersmith, Secretary, 3315 Brightwood avenue northwest.

Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, Local Union No. 102, meets first and third Wednesdays at Loehl's Hall, Seventh and N streets northwest. D. C. Childress, Secretary. T. F. Ryan, Business Agent, Room 1, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

American Society Plate Engravers meets first Saturday in each month at Grand Army Hall. A. C. Ruebsam, Secretary, Bethesda, Montgomery County, Md.

Bakers Union, No. 118, meets first and third Saturday in each month at 430 Eighth street northwest. John G. Schmidt, Secretary and Business Agent, 333 I street s w.

Bakers' Drivers' L. U. No. 33, T. D. I. U. meets first and third Thursday evening of each month at 910 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Thomas C. Fox, Secretary, 922 Fourth street northeast.

Bartenders' League Local No. 75, meets first and fourth Sunday of each month at 2 p. m. at Macabee Temple, 513 Ninth street northwest. Jere F. McCarthy, Secretary, 1017 Maryland avenue southwest.

Beer Drivers' and Stablemen's Union, No. 234, meets first Sunday of each month at 314 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. Walter T. Trittipoe, Secretary, 1346 Wallach Place northwest.

Bookbinders' Union, No. 4, meets first Tuesday in each month at Typographical Temple. James A. Stockman, Secretary, 735 North Capitol street.

Brewery Workers' Union, No. 118, meets second and last Sunday of the month at 314 Pennsylvania ave. southeast. Frank Rom, Secretary, 818 New Hampshire ave. northwest.

Bricklayers' Union, No. 1, meets second and fourth Thursday in each month at Typographical Temple, 423 G street northwest. Milford Spohn, Secretary, Typographical Temple.

Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators, and Paperhangers, Local Union. No. 368, meets every Friday night at Painters' Hall, 506 Sixth street northwest. G. Jule Murray. Secretary, 1107 South Carolina avenue southeast. W. M. Lewis, Business Agent, 506 Sixth street northwest.

THE A. F. OF L. CONVENTION

[CONTINUED FROM FIRST PAGE]

known for the honesty and sincerity of his purpose and for his earnestness in the cause of labor."

Ernst Kreft, of Philadelphia, was placed in nomination for President by Delegate Debarry.

The result of the vote was: Gompers, 12,254; Kreft, 1,134.

The present officers were all re-elected and William Spencer, of United Association of Plumbers, was chosen as eighth vice-president, a new office.

On next place of meeting San Francisco was the choice of the convention.

AFTER-DINNER DILATIONS.

The more possessions we have the more printing there'll B. C?

***

Let us be thankful for what we have and organize that we may have more.

***

No smile is quite so bland as that of the trusty when he takes his first degree.

***

There is not much to be said in favor of the man who seeks favors for self which he would not gladly extend to others.

***

This is the map maker's busy season, and the geography of yesterday is out of date, all of which augurs well for the printer.

***

The number will be millions to millions added when labor is fully organized, and we are getting there at a rapid rate.

***

The union is of value to the membership in that it prescribes rules which allow no unfair advantage either in the task or its privileges.

***

Through organization the workers are nearer the universal 8-hour workday than on last Thanksgiving day. Let us be thankful for that.

***

The newspaper sleuths keep close onto Col. Bryan's heels, even now while he is in the "enemy's country," and just a commoner at that.

***

Carrie Nation paid a flying visit to Washington last week. In the few hours she was here she managed to get herself before the court and give up $25. rather than go to jail. Come again, Carrie. We need the money.

***

It is suspected that Mr. Parry, and others engaged in the scheme to disrupt the A. F. of L., had hoped that body would do something at its recent annual meeting to create dissensions in the ranks of labor and so contribute to the work which Mr. Parry has so ingloriously begun.

***

There is a diversity of opinion as to whether the time has yet arrived when organized labor may profitably take a hand in politics. It is pretty generally agreed that the cards are not running just right now to warrant a lone hand, but there can be no harm in an occasional practice game at such times and places as an object lesson is necessary.

***

Before we pack our grip and start out in quest of the north pole there is just one thing we would like to have settled, and that is whether in case we are successful the pole will be ours, or whether after it is located and the first planting is in some envious or evil-minded person, firm, or corporation will have the right to send a ship load of marines up there and take it from us. That's all.

***

Representatives of organized labor should be of the class who are wholly competent to assist in any work which calls for the very best service possible. If there ever was a time when it was profitable to delegate honors in excess of service rendered and when wall-flower decorations might be tolerated that time is past. The needs of the hour demand the very best service attainable.

***

Fanueil Hall, Boston, known as the "Cradle of Liberty," has been the scene of many stirring events, but its walls never echoed a loftier or nobler sentiment than during the recent sessions of the American Federation of Labor, when the purposes of that mighty organization were voiced by the President, Samuel Gompers, surrounded by a legion of earnest and loyal supporters. It was the place and the occasion when the inspiration of the courageous few who had lived at an earlier time descended to encourage those of to-day in their efforts to establish a higher industrial plane and a broader and grander civilization.

CYCLE.

Oysters in every style at R. A. Driscoll's, North Capitol and G streets. Overholt whisky. 10c.

Wicker and Our Bloomer.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 19, 1903.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

Our quandom friend of the 70's, Bro. A. F. Bloomer, in a recent issue of your excellent journal, flouts some and jests some, and during a portion of his drivel he confesses that his memory is fast failing him. I see that he omits the joke I had on him, and I guess it is as well that he did, for I never once thought about his being a lady's man when I penned those lines; and if he had reproduced my joke some of the fair sex might have seen it. He tries to make a point by saying: "I don't remember that he (meaning me) had a boarding-house." If the joke had been printed, all those friends of the "old days" would not be surprised at his not "remembering that I had a boarding-house." In fact, he confided to me next day that he "did not remember coming home with me!"

I hope Bro. Bloomer will not challenge me for this plain statement, but if he does, I shall be inclined to accept the challenge, for "honor's sake," for no Tarheel can afford to allow a glove to be dropped without his picking it up, and especially if the glove is worth anything and no one is looking. And should it come to this, I wish to name my friend, Charlie Cook, of the "North Carolina delegation," as my second, and if possible, my friend W. N. Brockwell, of the same delegation, my principal! If Brockwell fails me, call on Dave Andrews. He was never known to flicker. He reminds me of the Irishman's duck. Pat had been fighting chickens, and every bird he dropped in the pit was shortly hors du combat. In a fit of desperation he procured a duck, and dropping the bird down he exclaimed: "Now, thin, look at that burd. All h——l couldn't thrip 'im up!" And so it is with you fellows at the Capital—no fellow who has to go home to vote can "thrip David up."

Mr. Bloomer continues in his usual witty (?) strain: "It seems that a Tarheel does not have to pay poll tax after he is 50 years old—hence Wicker's jubilation." Yes, this is a fact. Our pension-roll has been reduced of late years, and our State is in a prosperous condition—two good crops of persimmonses "hand running"—and we can now afford to relieve the veterans of age as well as those of strife. Most all of our privates are now dead, but we can't miss any of the officers yet—I am even a "Colonel" myself and I never was in the army, kept a hotel, or bossed a lot of section hands on a railroad. It was simply conferred upon me by Divine right because every man down here who pretends to any dignity, is supposed to possess a title of some kind.

I should have taken cognizance of Mr. Bloomer ere this, but I am forced to work all day, and I have to set up at night to watch my rabbit guns. The boys—yes, the boys, confound 'em—"tote" off every trap they can lay their hands on.

In a former article in THE TRADES UNIONIST Bro. Bloomer, in speaking of "Old Times on the Record," mentions that he "could locate as many as twenty bottles any night." Now, I should not have believed Bro. Bloomer's memory would serve him so well, but it explains to me what was then a mystery to a young, unsophisticated Tarheel, viz: Why my "cruet" was so often empty! But in confidence he explained to me that "Jakes licker always did evaporate when kept in a warm room. I believed him then, but it is sad to loose faith in an old friend in one's old age.

I would like for THE TRADES UNIONIST to print Mr. Bloomer's picture, so that his many admirers could see whether this patriarch is gray headed—we can guess about the gray matter in his head—but we do so wish to see how he parts his hair. And I have no doubt but it would add greatly to the circulation of THE TRADES UNIONIST among the fair sex.

But seriously, friend Bloomer, I like you, and THE TRADES UNIONIST is made much brighter by your talent and energy. May you live long, and may our spirits meet in the great unknown, and you play the harp while I suck the honey.

R. A. WICKER.

The Allied Label League.

The regular meeting of the League was called to order at the usual hour on Friday evening, President McCarthy in the chair.

Minutes of the previous meeting approved as read.

Committee on Hecht & Co. reported progress.

Committee on Locals continued.

Letter from J. N. Breen laid on the table, as it did not have the seal attached.

Report from Central Labor Union read and all delegates asked to report back to their locals the request of the Grocery Clerks to see that they have the union button.

Delegates from Bartenders reported that they are going to give a ball on December 9.

Horseshoers asked to see that the union card was displayed in the shop.

Retail Clerks requested that all union men ask for a card from the clerk that waits on him and see that all goods bear the label.

Receipts of the evening, quite large; expenses, none.

Adjourned.

Try oyster pan roast, 10c. Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, North Capitol and G streets.

HALLS for rent at Building Trades Halls, 610 G street northwest and 624 Sixth street northwest. For terms apply at Room 2, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

WHO CAN LIBEL OTIS?

The Employers' Association About to Make a Desperate Move.

[Special Correspondence.]

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Nov. 19, 1903.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

At a special meeting of the Employers' Association, held last week, it was decided to raise a fund of $5,000 for the purpose of prosecuting Arthur A. Hay, special representative of the International Typographical Union, for criminal libel. Having received sufficient warning of this desperate move on the part of Harrison Gray Otis, of the Los Angeles Times, who is the chairman of the executive committee of the Employers' Association, the Anti-Times Committee has made arrangements to furnish the necessary bail and fight the case in the highest courts of the lands.

In one sense it is absolutely ludicrous to note this action of the gang of "Parrysites." In one breath they challange organized labor by screaming defiance, stating the "boycott is a boost," and in the next issue of the malodorous Times it insists that the unions are persecuting business men, and such lawlessness must be suppressed by Chief of Police Elton.

The specific charge to warrant the arrest of Mr. Hay is to be made on the grounds that that gentleman has criminally conspired with the local labor organizations to the end that a certain local advertiser in the Times has been boycotted by the Labor Council.

It is unnecessary to state that in a community where the mayor is as spineless as a jellyfish and the police department is the servile tool of the Employers' Association, the authorities will be more than pleased to do the bidding of their master, Otis.

Several arrests have recently been made on misdemeanor charges for publicly denouncing the methods of the Times at open-air meetings, the result having been the formation of the Free Speech League, which purposes to see to it that the Declaration of Independence is upheld.

Should some of the readers of THE TRADES UNIONIST chance to see a circular which is being mailed by the thousands, inviting working-people to come to Los Angeles, where, it is stated, wages are abnormally high and opportunities for advancement are greater than in any other section of the country, it would be prudent to investigate. The surplus of mechanics in Southern California is larger this winter than ever before, and people who have been lured to Los Angeles and vicinity by these circulars, emanating from the Employers' Association, have had reason to regret their action. The sole purpose of flooding this section with mechanics and unskilled laborers is to create an over-supply of wage-earners, thus reducing wages and attempting to disorganize the unions.

Anyhow, the local Anti-Times Committee is not losing any sleep over this last desperate move of the Employers' Association to send its members to the penetentiary for criminal libel, as it considers it a supreme stretch of imagination for anyone to libel the warrior bold of the Los Angeles Times.

Representative Business Houses.
OF WASHINGTON, D. C.

The following wholesale and retail firms and professional men are friendly to Union Labor and are entitled to its patronage:

BANKS.
THE LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK, Safe Deposit Vaults, $2.50 up
CAPITAL LOAN GUARANTEE COMPANY, 602 F Street Northwest. Every one can borrow money without security.

BAKERS.
HOLMES & SON, Celebrated Home-Made Pies and Milk Bread. First and E Streets N. W. Phone East 864.

BOOTS AND SHOES.
CROCKER'S SHOES, 939 Pennsylvania Ave. N. W.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.
DANIEL LOUGHRAN, 1347 Pennsylvania Ave.
LUCHS & BRO., Wholesalers. Phone E 755.

COACH FINDINGS.
J. B. KENDALL, 485-87 Missouri avenue N. W.

CUTLERY AND SPORTING GOODS.
D. N. WALFORD, 625 and 909 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

DRY GOODS.
LANSBURGH & BROTHER, 420 to 426 7th St. N. W

DYER.
E. E. WHEATLEY, 1068 Jefferson Ave. N. W. Phone, West 117-Y.

ENGRAVERS.
THE MAURICE JOYCE ENGRAVING CO. Cuts and Illustrations. 418 11th street N. W

FIRE INSURANCE.
Insure with THE RIGGS FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY. FIREMEN'S INSURANCE COMPANY, Seventh St. and Louisiana Ave.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.
JULIUS LANSBURGH, Interocean Building, 512 Ninth St. N. W.

GAS FIXTURES, LAMPS, ETC.
C. A. MUDDIMAN & CO., 1204 G Street. 616 Twelfth Street. Phone 140.

GROCERIES.
LITTLE & PAGE, "Good things to eat." 1210 F St. N.W
W. C. ERGOOD, "Good goods at Ergoods." Corner Ninth and H Streets Northwest.

GROCER AND COFFEE ROASTER.
SOMERSET R. WATERS, 1342 Seventh Street Northwest, Corner O.

HARDWARE AND TOOLS.
RUDOLPH, WEST & CO., 1332 New York avenue northwest.

HUDSON'S VARIETY STORE.
B. F. HUDSON, 416 Seventh Street Northwest.

HATTERS AND FURRIERS.
JAMES Y. DAVIS' SONS, 1201 Pennsylvania Ave.
A. H. BURDINE, Union Overalls, Hats, and Gloves. Seventh Street and Virginia avenue southwest.

LIME, SAND, GRAVEL, CEMENT.
NATIONAL MORTAR COMPANY, Office: Room 9, Ralston Bldg., 612 F St. N. W. Office telephone: East 688.

LUMBER AND MILL WORK.
THOMAS R. RILEY, 13th St. and Ohio Ave.

MACHINISTS AND ENGINEERS,
FORSBERG & MURRAY, Pumps and Elevators. Engines and Boilers 8th and Water Sts. S. W.

PHARMACISTS.
LOUIS F. BRADLEY, Prescription Druggist. 8th and E Sts. S. E

PHOTO-LITHOGRAPHERS.
THE NORRIS PETERS CO., 458 and 460 Pennsylvania avenue N. W
ANDREW B. GRAHAM Lithographer, Photo-Lithographer, and Half-Tones. 1230 Pa. Ave. Phones: 1031-M, 1679-M

PIANO AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
E. E. DROOP & SONS, 925 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

PRINTING SUPPLIES.
NATIONAL PRINTER'S SUPPLY CO., Machine-made Rollers. 414 10th St. N. W.

RESTAURANT AND WINE ROOM.
JOHN M. BECKER, Opp. Navy Yard., Cor. 8th and Georgia Ave. S.E

SHAVING PARLORS
VINCENT R. CILENTO, 805 North Capitol Street.

TITLES TO REAL ESTATE.
LAWYERS' TITLE & GUARANTY INS. CO. 412 5th St. N. W.

WINES AND LIQUORS.
SAMUEL G. STEWART, Heurich Brewing Co's. beers and popular brands of whiskies. 1141 Seventh st. northwest between L and M.
GEORGE W. DRIVER, 605 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

DO NOT WANT OUR PATRONAGE.

Following brands of cigars: Cinco, Cremo, George W. Childs, Henry George, Tom Moore, Robert Burns, and General Arthur.

The following firms have declared against the interest of Organized Labor and are not regarded as deserving their patronage:

NAME.	BUSINESS.	LOCATION.
Chevy Chase Railway and circle.	Street railway	Chevy Chase and Circle.
Keenan Bros	Gents' furnishers	Pa. ave. bet. 14th and 15th sts. and 523 Seventh st. n. w.
B. Solomon	Gents' furnisher	708 Seventh street n. w.
Rufus H. Darby	Printer	508 Fourteenth street n. w.
H. L. McQueen	Printer	1108 E street n. w.
N. Sickles (Nat'l Cigar Factory).	Cigar manufacturer	1011 Penna. avenue n. w.
E. Gundershiemer	Baker	516 Second street n.w. and stalls in Center Market.
Peter Grogan	Carpet dealer	817 to 823 Seventh street n. w.
John H. Fitzgerald	Horseshoer	443 Prather's alley n. w.
S. S Daish	Coal and wood	Florida ave. and Third st. n.
Wilbur F. Nash	Meat dealer	Center and O st. Markets.
C. E. Hencke	Electrician	711 G street n. w.
National Mosaic Company	Mosaics	207 Fourth st. n. w.
M. Minster	Gents' furnisher	1343 F st. n. w.
A. Minster	Gents' furnisher	499 and 501 Penna. ave. n. w.
Cyrus B. Reese	Employing steamfitter	1519 Fourteenth street n. w.
C. A. Schneider & Sons	Union Iron Works	212 Twelfth street n. w.
Minster & Paterson	Gents' furnishers	1109 Pennsylvania ave. n. w.
Conrad Becker	Trunks and harness	1328 F st. n. w.
Home Ice Company	Ice	Twelfth and V sts n. w.
Emil Wagner	Restaurant	210 Ninth st. n. w.
W. E. Carney	Cigar manufacturer	921 G st. s. w.
Nat'l Roller & Ball Bearing Co.	Machinery	33rd and K sts. n. w.
L. Rosenberg	Clothing and shoes	911-913 Eighth st. s. e.
Corbin Thompson	Dairyman	Sharon Dairy, 324 B st. s. w.
S. D. Houck	Dealer in harness	301 Tenth street n. w.
M. Eisemann & Bro	Dry goods	1924-26 Pa. ave. and 806 7th n.w.
Elite Steam Laundry	Laundry	1205 G street n. w.
Benjamin Schwartz	Gents' furnisher and tailor	337 Pa. ave. s. e.
Emrich Beef Co	Meat Dealers
John Coleman	Horseshoer	1300 36th street n. w.
Hecht & Co	Dry Goods, etc	517-519 Seventh street n. w.
Charles Rauscher	Caterer	Conn. ave. and L st. n. w
Academy of Music	Theater	Ninth and D streets n. w.
Lafayette Square Theater	Theater	16th st. and Pa. ave. n. w
E. H. Snyder & Co	Tailors	1111 Pa. ave n. w
Owen Owen	Tailor	423 Eleventh street n. w.
L. A. Downey	Tailor	433 Eleventh street n. w.
J. M. Stein & Co	Tailors	413 Eleventh street n. w
J. D. Burns & Co	Tailors	701 Ninth street n. w.
J. F. Gatchel	Tailor	604 Thirteenth street n. w.
G. Warfield Simpson	Tailor	1208 F street n. w.
E. H. Catlin & Co	Machinists	407 13½ street n. w.
Thomas Somerville & Sons	Steam Fitters' Supplies	316 Thirteenth street n. w.
Joseph Mathy	Stove dealer and tin worker	1918 Pennsyvania avenue.
William Meehan	Saloon	943 B street n. w.
Robert Lowe	Stone yard and mill	113 Third street s. w.
John W. Jennings	Druggist	1142 Connecticut avenue n. w.
E. Tapscott	Contractor
R. M. Leonard	Saloonist	1319 Seventh street n. w.

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

OFFICIAL ORGAN CENTRAL LABOR UNION, WASHINGTON BRANCH, AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Vol. VIII. No. 25. WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1903. Price, 3 Cents.

THE CENTRAL LABOR UNION

Employment of Non-Union Men on Terminal Station Charged.

SHORTEST SESSION ON RECORD

Painters Want R. A. Golden Declared Unfair—Bakers' Union Takes Action on the Academy of Music and Hecht & Co.—Stage Employees After Kernan and the Empire Theater.

The regular weekly meeting of the Central Labor Union was called to order at 8 p. m. on Monday evening, President Sherman in the chair and Secretary Winslow at the desk.

CREDENTIALS.

From Retail Clerks' Union, No. 562 certifying that George B. Squires was chosen to succeed S. Breslau as a delegate from that union.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Journeyman Bakers' Union, No. 118, stating that they had placed a fine of $5 on any member patronizing the Academy of Music or buying from Hecht & Co. Filed.

From Local 368, Painters, calling attention of unfair attitude of Golden's Oyster House to their union, and asking that action be taken in the matter. Referred to Grievance Committee.

From Bakers' Union, No. 118; Painters, No. 368; Columbia Lodge No. 174, I. A. M.; Ice Wagon Drivers and Helpers, No. 430, and Engineers' Union, No. 99, indorsing placing of R. M. Leonard, saloonist, on the unfair list.

CALL OF UNIONS.

Meat Cutters requested that where members of the unions or their families are making purchases to ask for the market card.

Stage Employees requested that if no action can be had in making Kernan's and Empire Theaters fair in forty-eight hours that they be placed on unfair list.

Granite Cutters requested that a special committee be appointed to wait on contractor for new terminal station relative to use of non-union labor. Granted. The chair appointed Delegates Spohn, Thompson, and Barrett.

COMMITTEE REPORT.

Contract Committee made partial report on Chapin & Sacks matter and requested further time. Granted.

Bill submitted from Council of Allied Building Trades was sent back for further correction.

Adjourned.

Specification Notes.

The "Side Show" proofroom is a vast improvement and convenience to all concerned.

New sticks were issued Monday. They were welcomed, for good spacing was almost impossible with the old.

It won't be very long before the "Spess" will be set in new type. The long primer now in use is very old and "bottled."

We now have sufficient room, light, frames, cases, number of lunch-women, old stools, printers—and noise overhead! O joy!

The bookbinders and their assistants, as well as the ladies of the folding room of the Union Building, are now domiciled in the old building.

The Specification proofroom is situated in the old section of the Third Division, and Major Dodge now has plenty of room, and is correspondingly happy.

Each alley has been properly labelled—a great improvement over the Union Building system, and of much benefit to both the office and men, as it is a time-saver.

Extra work is not frowned on—even by the "new man" nowadays, for Christmas is coming, and we all have use for the few odd dollars made working overtime and Sundays.

We certainly miss Capt. D. W. Hopkins, the accommodating old soldier who is the doorkeeper in the Union Building. Things would seem more natural and homelike to have him with us again. Good luck to you, Captain, wherever you may sojourn.

Each frame has an electric light now instead of every other one. By the way, the G. P. O. electricians are a very competent and painstaking class of workmen, and for some time have been working twelve hours per day in their endeavor to meet the electrical requirements of the new and old buildings.

We miss the pleasing association of the ladies of our press room, for they are no longer in close promixity, but banished to the lower regions of the old building, where the presses are located. It was the only instance in which the happy family ties were broken in "Spess" circles, and with genuine regret on all sides.

There is talk of running a trolley line from "Spess" headquarters in the "Northeast" to the proofroom in the "Northwest," via the Side Show route. It will be liberally patronized provided the cars are not of the "combination" sort, a la H street. They are the worst ever inflicted on a long-suffering and patient public.

Here is a list of the last assignment of "incurables" handed me by Keeper of the Records Gutelius: Thomas J. Galvin, J. M. Thompson, W. T. Sherrad, David T. Lloyd, J. H. Swerdfiger, John A. Massey, jr., Geo. E. Clark, Geo. C. Furbershaw, Glenn W. Buckingham, John C. Keelan, Edgar B. Meritt, Wm. Y. Clarke, J. A. McCarthy, E. G. Nalle, Stephen B. Tilley.

The sympathy of the Specification Division is earnestly extended to Mrs. Clara L. Bennett in this, her hour of sore bereavement. Last Thursday her little seven-year-old son, Ivan Rush Bennett, departed this life after a severe illness of complicated rheumatism, and Friday his little body was interred in Glenwood Cemetery. Ivan was a remarkably bright and studious little fellow, and was rightfully his fond mother's pride and joy.

Some of the new recruits look upon their detail in this division as necessary to the public service—the proper understanding. Others think they are oppressed. This is wrong. About 200 printers of the G. P. O. have to work continuously for eight hours on this most particular publication. Why not you as well as the other fellow? Take your detail like men—and women. Remember there are a great many printers on the outside who would consider themselves very fortunate to succeed you.

The following well-deserved promotions were ordered recently by Foreman Ramsey: J. S. Ziegler, from copy editor to assistant foreman; Jessie F. Dumble, from compositor to reader; J. H. Lowrey, copy holder to reader; Edmund Shaw, copy holder to reader; H. W. Whittaker, compositor to reader; Ed. R. French, imposer to maker-up; George M. Ramsey, imposer to maker-up; C. J. Duffy, compositor to imposer; Jerry Walsh, compositor to imposer; George H. Stone, compositor to copy holder.

Col. W. R. Burgess, owing to his soft, sweet, and correct pronunciation of "Spess" lore, is often detailed to hold copy in the "brainery," and while his associates "on the floor" do not exactly begrudge our genial and popular Major Dodge his valuable services, still, along about 2 o'clock, when the "sticks" become particularly heavy with devices, cams, rotaries, apd appliances of all sorts, and the galleys fairly groan with trouble for the "new man," and most particularly the time when the third glass of sweet milk at lunch time is making some of us drowsy, we miss the gallant Colonel's awakening song of "Jersey," and its thunderous chorus of "Hooray! Hooray! Hooray!" by the girls and boys.

Our late comrade of the stick and rule, George E. Pittman, quietly and peacefully breathed his last on earth Thursday, November 26, at 11.55 p. m., in Garfield Hospital, after a long and painful illness. The news of his death came to us in the nature of a shock, and universal regret was expressed at his untimely end. Mr. Pittman formerly resided in Richmond, Va., where he was employed on the Richmond Dispatch for a number of years. Removing to Washington a few years ago and receiving an appointment in the Government Printing Office he married a Miss Annie W. Epper, also of Richmond, who survives him. Mr. Pittman was a Christian gentleman, of a quiet and dignified temperament, and was endowed with many good qualities that endeared him to all alike. He was a most capable printer and a loyal craftsman. The employes of this division contributed a beautiful wreath of flowers that entirely covered the casket during the funeral services, which took place in this city last Saturday.

J. LIGON KING.

Night Bill Force.

Did Purvis show you his rabbit foot puzzle?

The irrepressible "Funny" Roberts was appointed to this division. He was assigned an overflow frame in the Y as a floater.

Rather a cold world this seems to some as they return from Benning these chilly evenings on the open cars with their empty purses.

Ben Reid, the obliging "Doc." bankman, fell on the slick floor and sprained his ankle, which pained him for several days, but caused no loss of time.

Frank McCormick, a former bill hand for many sessions, now a phenomenally successfully real estate dealer, can be seen any day flying around the streets in his "red devil."

While the terrific slamming of the iron elevator shutter is a little disquieting to nervous persons, yet it announces the approach of the milk man, pie boy, and last, but not least, the incomparable lunch woman.

The "Y" is used only by this force as a slippery passage way to the wash room, a place to boil coffee and a haven for a few "floaters." "Funny" Roberts says it needs organizing, and as he is a professional he should see to it.

C. W. Ingalls, of Chicago, who was on this force last year has a temporary appointment again this session. He has moved his family here and resides at 625 Florida avenue northeast. He has one brother in the First Division and one in the navy-yard.

As Charley Yeakle went up the room the other night, a compositor who knew neither of them, asked if that was "Blood" Thornton. Friends of each now wonder who was complimented. Charley is not the proud possessor of near as much avoirdupois as Thornton. Still, he is no feather weight.

At a chapel meeting Saturday night the following committee was appointed to co-operate with other committees in an endeavor to have the street cars run all night for the convenience of night workers and others: R. P. Piehoff, Chas. P. Peake, G. G. Wilson, James B. Knapp, and T. E. McCardell.

The most popular lunch-hour attraction is the checker game between Messrs. Unger and Hutchison, who play strictly according to the book. "Glasgow," "the slip," "laird and lassie," are some of the terms heard. Even "Maud S.," a man renowned in literature and other attainments, is a close observer.

The plan of subscription for the Typographical Journal as a body has met with the utmost approval. Over half of this union's membership now subscribe for their local trade newspaper, and the other half get the news from their neighbor's paper or by word of mouth. Why not subscribe for THE TRADES UNIONIST as a body? No doubt as favorable a subscription price could be arranged as with the Journal.

The three great stars of the bill force which shine with undiminshed luster from year to year—the triumvirate, which is like the heart of a great animal, that is constantly supplied and relieved with the flow of bills in the numerous veins and arteries of the whole body—the engine which keeps all the various parts in motion is Chris Auracher, 'Gene Andrew, and Dennis Sheehan, the expert makers-up and proof pressman.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c.

HALLS for rent at Building Trades Halls, 610 G street northwest and 624 Sixth street northwest. For terms apply at Room 2, 624 Sixth street northwest. Telephone East 331 Y.

Try oyster pan roast, 10c. Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, North Capitol and G streets.

THE IRON PRINTER.

Its Utility Maintained Even on Government Publications.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

A few years ago a rustling American made a short trip to Europe. On his return he said: "I was in Paris two weeks and saw everything." His remark is somewhat similar to that of one of your correspondents, who advances the statement that machines can not do the work of compositors in the Government Printing Office, backing up his opinion by saying he has had two years' experience with the keyboard and knows whereof he speaks.

In his case a little knowledge is a dangerous thing. Whether the machines are to be introduced soon or not is hardly worth while considering, but one thing should be clearly understood by this time—that machines can and do accomplish book composition. It will do the compositors in the "Swamp" no good to close their eyes and refuse to believe this.

More than seven years ago the West Publishing Company at St. Paul, Minn., introduced machine composition. This concern as a starter publishes the decisions of all the appellate courts of the United States, and in addition puts out school books and other works of the most technical and intricate character. If these are ephemeral publications, then Government documents must be very light literature indeed. Under the bluffs of the Mississippi, in natural stone vaults, the West people have stored hundreds of thousands of electrotype plates of their publications, and the stock is being increased every day. When the machines were introduced hundreds of tons of body type were discarded. Surely no concern could desire accuracy or clearness of print than this. Yet as a business proposition machine composition was introduced and is retained.

The ephemerality of publications bearing the Devinne imprint is questionable. Hand composition to some extent is still done in that establishment, but machines are now at work there. Mr. Devinne is quite well informed as to the most effective methods of producing good typography, and his adoption of the machine should go a long way in disputing the assertion that machine composition is available only for daily newspapers and other ephemeral publications. Munsey's Magazine, the Cosmopolitan, and others better or less known, are now machine set. If the work is good enough for them it certainly ought to be able to satisfy the Government.

It is argued very strongly that machines can not set the intricate Government work satisfactorily and economically. An experienced compositor, with proper material can do this work by hand. This same compositor with the added experience on the machine, and with the corresponding appliances, will produce just as good results, and more in quantity. At present a machine is on the market from which four faces of type can be secured by the operator without leaving his seat. It requires less time to change from roman to italic than for the hand compositor to go from his frame to the italic case. Likewise a change from 10-point to 6-point type, or vice versa, can be made in less time than the change of cases on a frame; while a change in measure can be made in less time than it takes to adjust a composing stick to a new measure.

As for tabular work, there are two methods of handling it. The lines can be cast either straight across the table, the rules being sectional on each line, or the stub can be set across, and then the figures cast on slugs running down the column, each single column of figures being a line. When the latter plan is adopted the brass rules can be inserted just as at present with hand composition, and the appearance is as good as could be desired.

When it comes to cost there is a great difference. Body type never runs less than 30 cents a pound, generally much more. It is expensive in labor to lay cases also, which must be added to cost of type. More money must be paid for composition, and still more for distribution. If the matter is kept standing, as tons of type are kept alive at the Government Printing Office, it ties up an enormous amount of money. Metal for the machine costs about 6 cents a pound; there is no expense of laying cases; the composition costs less; for the same amount of money at least five times the quantity of matter could be kept alive for the same investment, and above all there is comparatively no expense in distribution. Such is a true statement of affairs with regard to machine composition.

It is not with a desire to boom the machine and hasten its introduction in the Government Printing Office that these facts are given. People working there, however, should be told the truth plainly. Realizing what all acknowledge is sure to come, the best thing is to properly meet changed conditions. Without delay steps should be taken by the Union to have investigated the producing capacity of the Linotype, Monotype, Monoline, Graphophite, Simplex, or any other successful machine, to the end that a standard of competency under certain stated conditions may be agreed upon; also a scale of wages and hours arranged for operators, learners and machine tenders.

In this connection, also, it will be well for the compositors to consider the new places that are bound to be made by the machines, which will naturally be filled by men on the cases now. The bank force will necessarily be increased by men to lead out and to make changes in lines in corrections. With the decrease in cost of composition will come an increase in volume of product, involving the addition of more men to the proofroom. While the machine question may be a great bugaboo to the compositor who doesn't know the thing, its terrors disappear when these other matters are considered.

In conclusion, however, the best plan is, learn to be an operator.

WILLIS L. HALL.

Machines in the G. P. O.

EDITORS THE TRADES UNIONIST:

It is really amusing to read the different eomments upon what can and can not be done on the Merganthaler machine, but when one reads the uncalled for criticism of "a man who has been honored by our Union * * *" by your correspondent from the proofroom who "knows whereof he speaks," (?) it commences to irritate.

The gentleman—Charles W. Pafflow by name—claims to have "played the Mergenthaler piano for two years," and yet is firmly convinced that where good work is demanded no machine has as yet been invented to profitably take the place of hand composition.

To convince the gentlema n against his will would accomplish nothing, but if he desires to be enlightened on the subject, I have no doubt by making his wants known through your valuable paper, he can learn of numerous places where first-class work can and is being done on the Mergenthaler.

I would suggest that those people who are willing to admit that they could not do good work on the machine might be placed in an embarrassing position in the event of the iron typesetters being installed in the G. P. O., as numerous operators are ready to guarantee that they can do first-class as well as intricate work, and the Public Printer might put the latter in the former's place.

Even though "accuracy and exactness is only a secondary consideration" on newspapers, should Mr. Pafflow desire to "make good" on a machine down town, after admitting that with two years' experience on a machine he has not acquired the art of doing first-class work, he had better first take a course at some good school.

OPERATOR.

The Duehay & Sons Strike.

The Building Trades Council, at its meeting on Tuesday night, considered the position of the Plumbers' Union, Marble Workers' Union, and Marble Workers' Helpers Union in going back to work on the Schneider and Duehay & Son's building, where a strike had been declared by the building trades. The committee having the matter in hand were ordered to report at the meeting of the Building Trades Council next Tuesday night, when final action will be taken in the matter.

ALLIED BUILDING TRADES.

Meeting of November 24.

The regular meeting of the Council of Allied Building Trades was called to order on Tuesday evening, Delegate Desmond in the chair, and Delegate Wells acting as secretary.

Roll call developed the presence of 32 delegates from 23 local unions.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

CREDENTIALS.

From Carpenters' Union, No. 884, certifying R. K. Revell.

Credentials from Interior Marble Workers were received certifying to J. Lewis, V. Hart, and W. Burgess. The secretary was directed to notify Local No. 5 that three delegates are all that is allowed in the Council.

The Acting Business Agent, H. J. Wells, then read charges against Plumbers' Union, No. 5, and Interior Marble Workers and Helpers, which were referred to a committee for investigation.

CALL OF UNIONS.

Tin Sheet and Metal Workers reported that work was being done by nonunion men at Pension Bureau. They requested that a communication be sent from the Council to the Secretary of the Interior relative to the matter.

Hoisting Engineers delegate requested the secretary to notify No. 77 of the absence of two of its delegates.

Plumbers stated that after investigating the unfair jobs, and finding other trades at work, they called a special meeting and ordered their men back on the jobs.

Tile Layers reported that they were not notified that the Grant street job was unfair and that the Council had not declared it unfair.

Electrical Workers stated that if the employing contractor had violated their agreement they would call their men out.

Steam Fitters reported that no union steam fitters are at work in Mr. French's shop, and they requested that they be permitted to go back to work on the Woodley apartment house and the Fifteenth and L streets flat.

Carpenters reported that they would receive no strike benefits between November, 1903, and May, 1904.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Committee appointed to investigate struck jobs stated that they did not meet, and after considerable discussion the committee was discharged.

Auditing Committee stated that they would have to await the return of the secretary before they could make report.

NEW BUSINESS.

Delegate Allison, of Steam Fitters, asked that the request of the Steam Fitters be taken up.

Delegate Reilly asked if such a request should not come from a local union in writing, with the seal of the union attached. He then moved that the request of the delegate be considered as officially from the union. Carried.

Delegate Wells moved that the request of Steam Fitters to go back to work on struck jobs be denied. Carried.

Steam Fitters stated that the action taken by the Council would probably force them out of the Council.

Stone Laborers reported that unless the card was enforced they would not take out the new quarterly card.

A motion to instruct Delegate Wells to render an itemized bill for services as acting Business Agent was made, but a substitute being made for the original motion that he be allowed the regular salary of Business Agent, it was so ordered.

A rising vote of thanks was extended to Delegate Wells for his services to the Council.

Adjourned.

Get Busy and Keep Busy.

After Congress adjourns there are always idle printers in town. This can be done away with by learning to operate a linotype. Operators are always in demand. Call at the Linotype School, 610 G street northwest, and see the names of people you know who are earning big wages as operators.

Ladies' dining rooms. R. A. Driscoll, N. Cap. and G. Oyster pan roast, 10c

THE TRADES UNIONIST.

Official Organ Central Labor Union and Allied Building Trades, A. F. of L.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

The Trades Unionist Publishing Company

E. W. PATTON.....President
A. J. E. HUBBARD.....Vice-President
